GIRL FLIERS FORCED DOWN IN CALIFORNIA

Endurance Flight Is Postponed When Gasoline Supply Gives Out

Metropolitan Airport, Los Angeles, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Bobbie Trout, New York, and Elinor Smith, New York, girl fliers seeking to establish a new fueling endurance flight record landed their plane here at 2:55 A. M. today, when their gasoline supply gave out.

Sponsors of the flight said the plane was ordered down when the fueling plane was unable to make contact in the dark with the endurance ship, and it was deemed unwise to make a second attempt.

The fliers said another start would be made Thursday morning.

The fliers today were disappointed because they were unable to stay in the air throughout the night, but were optimistic that their next effort would be more successful.

"Everything was going smoothly," Miss Smith said, "and we had experienced no trouble or inconvenience. The motor performed perfectly, and only our inability to refuel forced us to land."

The plane was refueled at 5:20 P. M. yesterday and it was believed that the 240 gallons of gasoline transferred at that time would last through the night. The supply ran out very early this morning, and a call for more fuel was made shortly after 2 A. M.

The girl fliers took off at 8:29 A. M. yesterday after two previous unsuccessful attempts to get into the air for an attempt on the 420-hour, 21-minute and 58-second record endurance flight record held by Dale Jackson and Forest Hoggan of St. Louis, Mo. The first attempt made last Saturday and the second attempt Sunday were called off due to difficulties in refueling.

While no noticeable dent was made in the present men's record, the time of 15 hours and 26 minutes established by Miss Trout and Miss Smith when their flight ended stands as the unofficial women's refueling endurance flight record. No previous refueling flight has been attempted by women.

This Divorce Action Started Against Hill

Livingston, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Another divorce action, the third in the stormy marital career of Walter Hill, young son of the late James J. Hill, railroad magnate, was recorded in district court here today.

In the divorce suit Mrs. Hill sought to obtain $5,000 temporary alimony, $5,000 monthly permanent alimony, $25,000 attorney's fees, and $75,000 set aside from the huge Hill estate for pending settlement of the suit.

Although papers in the case immediately were withdrawn from the court files and Mrs. Hill's attorneys refused to divulge their contents, James F. O'Connor, attorney for the Hill interest, declared they would not pass unchallenged.

Among the grounds known to be pleaded in the complaint was that Mrs. Hill's "attitude toward liquor made life unbearable" to the plaintiff.

With the filing of the divorce complaint it appeared the third remains of the son of James Hill, known for his work in the north-west as "the empire builder", was ended. Walter Hill married Mildred Hill, a woman characterized by Phyllis Zugridd, the theatrical producer, as "a perfect American beauty," just ten minutes after he obtained a divorce from his second wife, Pauline, Gillison Hill. That was on May 18, 1927.

Mrs. Hill's father is W. Earl Richardson, Saskatchewan financier.

Marshall Man to Go On Trial for Murder Wednesday

Marshall, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The trial of "Wild Bill" Anderson, who is charged with the murder of a 7-year-old Marshall youth, William Brown, probably will begin in Judge Superior court Wednesday morning.

Infant Brides Rushed to Altar to Forestall Law

London, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The Daily Express in a dispatch from Bombay today said infant brides were being rushed to the altar by the hundreds in some parts of India to forestall the law prohibiting child marriage which becomes effective next April.

Several child marriages have been solemnized in Bombay the last few days while in Surat it was estimated 2,000 such marriages have occurred recently. Brides and bridegrooms of between five and twelve years have been a common sight. Even marriages between babies have been arranged.

LIGHT SALES CONTINUE ON LEAF MARKET

Market to Suspend for Thanksgiving Following Completion of Sales Wed.

The Greenville tobacco market will close for the Thanksgiving holidays following completion of sales Wednesday afternoon, according to information given out this morning by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales. The market will reopen for business next Monday morning and there will be no more holidays until Christmas season.

A report of the supervisor of sales indicated that the market sold yesterday a total of 761,122 pounds of tobacco for $137,565.41 at a general price average of $20.70 per hundred pounds.

Sales were described as light today on account of the rain which started last night and continued during the day.

Offerings throughout the week have been of an inferior quality, this report of the supervisor indicated, and this played an important part in the general price average.

George Getz Hurt By Baby Elephant

Chicago, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Hunting Central Africa brought nothing more serious than narrow escapes to George Getz, Jr., son of the coal company millionaire, but an encounter last night with a "rampant" baby elephant placed him in a hospital.

Mr. Getz was examining the young pachyderm and contemplated purchasing it for his father's zoo at Holland, Mich. The animal suddenly lunged and pinned the big game hunter against a wall, breaking his left arm in two places.

"I don't know what I did to make the little fellow angry," he said.

Labor Organizer Denies That He Ever Advocated Violence During Strikes

Marion, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Alfred Hoffman, labor organizer, denied from the witness stand today that he had ever advocated violence during textile strikes here. He was the second defendant to take the stand in the trial of he and three strikers charged with rioting and resisting officers.

Two character witnesses preceded the 29-year-old labor leader to the stand. He denied he had been present at the afternoon of August 30 when the state charges, he and a group of strikers prevented Sheriff C. P. Adkins from returning to a mill house furniture of a worker the sheriff said strikers moved into a highway.

"Have you ever advocated violence?" defense counsel asked.

"No, sir," Hoffman replied. "I advised the people to stay within the bounds of the law."

Hoffman is on trial with Lawrence Hogan, Del Lewis and Wes Fowler, local labor leaders.

Sheriff Adkins was offered the privilege of using the union platform to address union members if he so desired. He denied he had been present at the afternoon of August 30 when the state charges, he and a group of strikers prevented Sheriff C. P. Adkins from returning to a mill house furniture of a worker the sheriff said strikers moved into a highway.

Textile labor disorders here followed strikes called in the two Clinchfield mills and the Marion Manufacturing Company mill by the United Textile Workers of America, for which Hoffman is an organizer. Contentions of the state center around the afternoon of August 30, when, it charges, a roadway leading to the Clinchfield village was blocked and officers and militiamen were attacked.

HENDERSON BANKER SET FREE TODAY

R. B. Crowder Has Sentence Commuted to a Minimum of Two Years

Raleigh, Nov. 26.—(AP)—R. B. Crowder, Henderson banker, convicted in April 1928 of embezzlement and sentenced to serve three to five years in state prison today had his sentence commuted to a minimum of two years and four months and a maximum of five years. The commutation granted Crowder immediate freedom.

Crowder, convicted of embezzlement of funds of the defunct Farmers Merchants Bank of Henderson, was tried twice. He was convicted at the first trial and given a sentence of 20 years but on appeal the supreme court granted a new trial. His second trial resulted in the sentence in April 1928.

Crowder was paroled on grounds of good behavior and excellent service rendered at state's prison in whole-hearted manner.

Nine paroles and another commutation were granted late yesterday and today in addition to that of Crowder, Gov. O. Max Gardner announced today.

Lena Woodard, convicted in September 1927 in Johnston county of violation of the state banking laws and sentenced to serve three to five years, was the other prisoner granted a commutation, which was also equivalent to immediate freedom.

The paroles granted were to: Weldon Britt, Robeson county, sentenced in 1925 to serve 18 months for bigamy; Clarence Gordon, convicted in Randolph county in April 1927 of breaking and entering and larceny and sentenced to serve five years; Frank Lemon, Rockingham county man sentenced in April 1929 to serve two to five years for horse-breaking and larceny; Al Dorsey, convicted in Swain county in October 1928 of second degree murder and sentenced to eight years; Merritt Adkins, Yancey County man convicted in March 1927 of manslaughter and given five to seven years; Duck Finch, Halifax county man sentenced in January 1929 to serve 18 months for state-breaking; W. D. Perkins, convicted in Bladen county in March 1929 and sentenced to 15 months for violation of the prohibition laws; Earl (Red) Jewell, convicted in January 1926 in Buncombe county for larceny and receiving and sentenced to nine years; and Virgil Harris, convicted in Haywood county in November 1928 and sentenced to five years for larceny of an automobile.

MULL NAMED AS SUCCESSOR TO TOWNSEND

Dunn Mar Resigns As Executive Counsel After Ten Months' Service

Raleigh, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Drafted by Governor O. Max Gardner to fill the post of executive counsel created by the 1929 legislature, Judge N. A. Townsend, of Dunn, has resigned after 10 months tenure of the office.

O. M. Mull, of Shelby, close friend and business associate of the Governor, has accepted the office.

Judge Townsend plans to return to the law practice which he left, as he asserted at the time he accepted the position tendered by the Governor, only temporarily.

Mr. Mull, as chairman of the Democratic state executive committee, managed Governor Gardner's campaign in last fall's gubernatorial race. He is Cleveland county's representative in the House of Representatives of the last General Assembly and was chairman of the finance committee.

Judge Townsend acted as Governor Gardner's representative at various negotiations between mill men and employers during textile strikes.

"I do not think the value and justification of Judge Townsend's services can be over-estimated," said Governor Gardner in announcing he had accepted Judge Townsend's resignation. "He has handled many delicate and difficult situations with remarkable tact, patience and devotion to duty; and my administration owes a large measure of whatever success may have attended its efforts at working out many difficult problems to his untiring efforts and ability. He leaves with the sincere appreciation and deep regret of my entire official family."

He denied any connection with the alleged mob action on August 10 when he denied Adkins and his deputies charged they were prevented from serving eviction notices on strikers occupying mill-owned houses.

When questioned about his connection with the alleged violence on August 19 when the state charges a crowd of unionists prevented the workers from entering the Clinchfield mill, Hoffman said, "I did all I could at the request of Judge Townsend."

Judge N. A. Townsend was present in Marion on numerous occasions during the strikes as a representative of Gov. O. Max Gardner.

Pres. Hoover Satisfied With Outcome Of Effort To Improve U. S. Business

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—President Hoover today reviewed the accomplishments of his campaign for stable business conditions and expanded industrial activities and found much that was encouraging.

From all sections of the country and from virtually all phases of commercial enterprise have come almost unanimous assurances of hearty support and co-operation in the chief executive's endeavor to prevent the recent decline in security prices from adversely affecting the general structure of the nation's business.

The administration itself has announced plans for a $180,000,000 reduction in taxes, an increase of $175,000,000 in appropriations for federal building and a budget of ocean mail carrying contracts which is expected to fill the country's ships with new construction in less than half a year.

From industrial leaders, the heads of great railroads and telephone and telegraph companies and the governors of many states, Mr. Hoover has received estimates of construction expenditures for 1930, of both a private and governmental nature, well in excess of similar disbursements in the present year.

In addition, the President has effected an agreement between the leaders of industrial corporations employing millions of workers and the spokesmen of organized labor, under which no programs of wage reductions will be instituted and no new campaigns for increased wages be begun until the present situation is passed.

The chief executive brought his series of conferences with representative groups to a close yesterday with a meeting of officials of the leading farm organizations, and simultaneously announcement was made of replies from the governors of nearly half of the states in the Union in response to Mr. Hoover's request that they give his program their full support. At the same time plans for awarding ocean mail contracts totaling approximately $10,000,000 were announced.

Out of the farm conference came a statement, sponsored by Secretary Hyde of the agriculture department, that the farm leaders had pledged Mr. Hoover their support and in addition had asked that the federal credit agencies act together immediately in making loans to farmers available at low interest rates.

Present conditions were felt to be propitious for such action, the statement continued, and the opinion was expressed that "the savings which might thus be made to agriculture by the lower interest rates would immediately be reflected back into the markets through the purchase of necessary equipment and supplies for the farm."

LOCAL FIRM ESTABLISHES FINE RECORD

Audit of State Commission Shows Home Building and Loan Has High Rank

Auditors of the State Insurance Commission visited Greenville recently for their regular periodical examination of Building & Loan associations and their report of the condition of the Home Building & Loan Association appears in the advertising columns of this paper today.

The report showed that the association is in the best possible condition. Undivided profits of the institution were listed at $82,958.93, while net on hand was at $36,424.74. Total assets were estimated at $1,000,000.

A letter from the commission accompanied the report of the auditors. It praised the progress of the association and commended the officers for the efficient manner in which affairs of the association had been handled.

The Association has aided in the erection of hundreds of homes in this community, and today ranks with the strongest building and loan organizations of the state. Due to exceptionally efficient management, profits of the association enabled it to mature shares in 32 weeks, which is below the average of the building and loan associations of the state.

From the standpoint of size and efficiency of the Home Building & Loan Association ranks with the 25 highest in the state.

The following figures, setting forth the resources from 1904 to 1929, reflect the rapid growth which the association has made:

1906, $10,340.57; 1912, $76,657.89; 1918, $130,139.74; 1920, $403,317.45; 1925, $731,795.09; and 1929, they were given as $1,084,577.43.

Two Hurt in Blast Aboard British Ship

Glasgow, Scotland, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Two members of the crew of the tanker British Chemist, were in a hospital near here today suffering from bad burns after a triple explosion on their ship last night. The vessel was lying in its berth at Greenmouth with a cargo of 10,000 tons of crude oil, all not yet unloaded, when a ship at an adjoining wharf took fire. The fire spread to the tanker and with the first explosion six of the crew jumped overboard. The second and third explosions caught two remaining members and burned them badly. Persons aboard Greenmouth had narrow escapes from injury as wreckage was flung into the streets by the explosions.

About 60 feet of the starboard side of the tanker was blown away.

LONE BANDIT WRECKS TRAIN FOR ROBBERY

Forty Passengers of Union Pacific Limited Robbed Near Cheyenne, Wyo.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Approximately 40 passengers of the Union Pacific Portland Limited were robbed three miles east of here last night by a youthful robber who wrecked the train by pulling spikes from the rails and then singlehandedly made a thorough-going trip through the train, taking cash and jewelry from passengers. Six of the train's eight cars were derailed, and five toppled against an embankment, but no one was seriously injured.

Railroad officials said the robber took amounts ranging from 35 cents to $150 from passengers, but an estimate of the total amount he obtained was impossible. Many passengers continued their journeys on westbound trains after being brought here on a special train.

Unlike the notorious Bill Carlisle, last of the West's widely known train bandits, who once terrorized with a toy gas pistol, the robber passengers of a Union Pacific train last night flourished a heavy revolver and sped his work by jabbing it viciously into the ribs of slow-moving victims.

Passengers said he was about 22 years old, and had a "very thin face, light brown eyes and a deep and very rough voice." He wore overalls.

It was held likely that the robbery was committed for spite, as the bandit was quoted by several passengers as saying, "I've got a wife and two kids at home and the railroad won't give me work."

Railroad officials pointed out, however, that the Portland Limited is not a mail train and that the robber may have planned to hold up train number five, which preceded the limited and carried mail to the Pacific Northwest.

They believe it was chance that saved number five from being wrecked as it passed over the same section of track only 20 minutes later.

Passengers agreed that the man appeared anxious to get away as he hurried his work. "I've got a wife and two kids at home and the railroad won't give me work," he offered him and made no threats in order to obtain more. Several passengers reported he took only a part of their money.

Sheriff G. S. Remsy of Laramie county and a squad of deputies left for the scene of the robbery and wreck immediately upon receiving word of the robbery and began an intensive search of the surrounding section.

Says Night Riders Have Created Reign of Terror in Mountains of Arkansas

Mountain View, Ark., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Sheriff Sam Johnson, of Boone county, declared today that a "reign of terror" had been created in the St. James community in order to seal the lips of citizens regarding a series of crimes by a band of night riders that culminated in the torturing and burning alive of a young farm laborer.

"Every one who knew anything about the slaying of Connie Frank and an attack on his sweetheart was terrorized by a band of men who threatened any one who gave information to us," he said. "But so a note thrown outside the jail by Ross Younger, a brother of Bill C. Younger, one of the men under indictment, we might never have uncovered information about the slaying of the sheriff's aide."

"In his note Younger said he knew all about the slaying and unless his brothers and others he implicated in it obtained his release on bail on the night riding charge against him, he would tell all he knew."

Bill Younger, the father of five children, and Hubert Hester are in jail at Newport; Herman Greenway and Alex Fulke is in custody of a mountain officer. All are charged with first degree murder and armed robbery and face statutory charges.

Four other men are sought also on first degree murder charges for the Franklin slaying, Sheriff Johnson said.

The girl's account of the torturing, mutilation and then burning alive of her sweetheart, was substantiated by a written statement by a dead boy.

Both were quoted by Sheriff Johnson as saying a band of men accosted the girl and Franklin on a lonely mountain road the night of last March 10. Franklin was beaten and tortured, she said, and after he faints from the pain he then, thinking him dead, built a fire of logs and placed his body on it.

Name Was Golden And He Accepted $50 Opportunity

Chicago, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The golden opportunity knocked once for John Golden—and once was enough.

"My name's Golden," he said, answering a want ad offering a restaurant for sale. "What kind of an opportunity are you offering?"

"It's a golden opportunity," replied Bernard Fogel, the owner. "Find out for yourself by looking after the cash register for a while."

The opportunity may still be there but it's no longer golden—John answered the knock, opened the till and calmly walked out with $50.

FIFTEEN MEN ESCAPE FROM CONVICT CAMP

Negro Prisoners Sawed Way to Liberty Through Cage Floor. Still At Large

Fifteen negro prisoners who escaped from the Pitt County convict camp Sunday night were still at large today. Sheriff's officers, however, assisted by officers of many surrounding towns and cities of this section, were keeping a keen watchout and it was believed the majority of the men would be rounded up within the next several hours.

The delivery was made with a hacksaw with which the prisoners sawed an opening in the floor of the cage in which they were confined. No guard was on duty at the time, but the alarm was spread by three other prisoners in the cage who were unable to take part in the wholesale delivery.

It was stated at the sheriff's office that most of the prisoners were serving short terms of from three to eighteen months.

Two of the men who did not take part in the escape were said to have been incapacitated by illness. One was a cripple and the other was "talking" sufficiently to cause him to desire to remain within the confines of his prison. The third man had served most of his term, it was said, and decided to stick it out until his time was up.

How the prisoners secured the saw remained a mystery, but an investigation is under way, which officers believe, will throw some light on the situation.

Two Killed in Stampede During Fire in New York

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The bodies of two men were recovered today from the ruins of a subway construction shack at Long Island City where 200 men stampeded last night when fire swept the structure.

Twenty-two men were injured. The men, engaged in digging a tunnel under New Eighth Avenue subway line with Brooklyn, were changing their clothing in the locker room preparing to go to work on the midnight shift, when the fire was discovered.

The flames spread rapidly through the lower floor of the building and men made a rush for the two stairways leading down from the second floor where the locker room was located.

The stairways were so low, however, that the men had to stoop to run down them and the first men fell and rolled to the bottom. Others stumbled over them and soon the stairways were choked.

Finding that exit blocked, others leaped from the windows and many suffered broken bones and sprains in the fifteen-foot drop. Eventually the tangled mass of men on the stairways was unraveled and the remaining men made their way to safety.

Floods Produce Devastation in Parts Portugal

Esborn, Portugal, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Widespread devastation has been caused in northern Portugal by floods and has spread misery and unemployment to an alarming extent. One farmer lost his wife when he jumped into a flooded river to save a child and his body was swept away.

The rapid evacuation of the flooded districts saved thousands of lives at Ponte de Barca. Bridges, roads, mills and factories were destroyed or damaged and traffic was held up. The Valzeque river exceeded its record level.

The plight of hundreds of families who fled in night clothes is serious since thousands of tons of supplies were carried away in the floods. Many who were trapped in their homes were rescued with great difficulty by means of planks and ropes.

NEW JURY IS COMPLETED IN M'MANUS CASE

Completion of Jury Follows Ordering of M'Namus Case

Criminal Courts Building, New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The "new" jury to try George McManus for the murder of Arnold Rothstein, was completed today with the selection of Edmund A. Shotwell, an auto salesman, to take the place of Eugene Riker, excused because of illness.

The jury, eleven of whom were heard over from the one which heard the first two days of evidence last week, then were sworn and the way was cleared for the reading to the new juror of the evidence already given.

A mistrial was declared by Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., presiding when court convened this morning because of lack of a full jury box.

The evidence already given comprising that of five gambler associates of Rothstein and McManus chiefly concern a stud poker game at which Rothstein lost $219,000 and McManus $51,000.

The game was held two months prior to the shooting, November 4, of last year, of Rothstein in the Park Central Hotel. Their testimony and that of Miss Marguerite Hubbell of Montreal, who heard an explosion in the Park Central the night the state alleges Rothstein was wounded there, and Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner, were the other two witnesses last week.

The reading of the transcript will be completed today and new witnesses called to the stand beginning tomorrow morning.

Before declaring a mistrial this morning, Judge Nott cleared jury no. 9, Norris Smith, from any wrong doing in connection with his alleged discussion of the case with certain reporters in a Greenwich village "spook-house."

Judge Nott said that both state and defense counsel had accepted Judge Smith's explanation of the indictment and decided that he had not impaired his qualifications as a juror. The judge also warned reporters present from attempting to speak with jurors, either in the court room or the corridors of the criminal courts building. Any evasion of this order, he said, would lead to the barring of the offending newspaper reporters from the courtroom.

MAKE EFFORT TO END CIVIL WAR IN CHINA

Factional Leaders to Throw Their Entire Strength Against the Russian Invaders

Advices from Hankow reporting a lull in the fighting on China's newest civil war fronts in Honan and Hupoh provinces added weight today to Nanking dispatches indicating that factional leaders were negotiating to end internal strife in order to combine their forces to resist Russian troops invading Manchuria.

A Hankow dispatch said that while authorities there had not issued any statement on the subject, it generally was believed the Nationalist government had reached an agreement with the rebellious Kuominchun or "people's army," because the fighting had subsided in all fronts and the Kuominchun forces were withdrawing westward in both Honan and Hupoh.

Closely following this came a dispatch from Nanking stating that apparently authentic reports said negotiations were proceeding among outstanding military and civil leaders of various factions throughout China seeking to end the present internal struggles and looking toward a combination for forces to resist "Soviet attacks."

At the same time Japanese sources in Shanghai reported that Foreign Minister C. T. Wang of the Nationalist government had telegraphed Moscow officials asking that negotiations between China and Russia concerning the Manchurian railway controversy be reopened.

Dispatches on the Manchurian situation indicated that invading Russian forces were in control of territory east of the Kiangnan mountains. Soviet tanks and artillery aided in the capture of Kahlar late Sunday in an engagement causing losses estimated at 12,000. The Chinese were reported to be retreating without resistance, even falling to halt at Buchatu, 150 miles from Kahlar. Troops and civilians fled by every possible means, living off the country as they retreated.

Canton, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Wireless dispatches from Wuchow stated that the Nationalist army airplane squadron raided and bombed that city and the nearby Kwangsi border this afternoon, killing many persons, terrorizing the populace and inflicting serious property damage.

The reported bombings of Wuchow seemingly indicated that the purported nation-wide movements looking toward suspension of internal strife in China has not spread to the troubled Kwangsi area.

A body of Kwangsi troops known as the "Ironsides" division separated from the Nationalist army and cooperating with Kwangsi opponents of the Nanking government, began a march toward Canton recently. In the dispatches indicating a truce had been effected on the civil war fronts in the north no mention was made of peace overtures in Kwangsi, although it has stated that the movement for cessation of internal hostilities was nation-wide.

Leading Nationalist generals and their staffs from the Hupoh and Honan fronts arrived here today for a conference, indicating that fighting between Nationalist and Kuominchun forces in both areas had ceased.

Seven New Fires Rage in Oregon

Grants Pass, Ore., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Seven serious new fires raged in forests of southwestern Oregon today. The Gold Beach fire, reported to have been controlled, was said to have broken out anew.

Communication with most fire fronts was being maintained by runners, flames having destroyed telegraph and telephone lines. Reports from most fronts were meagre but indicated conditions were serious.

James Billingslea, district forest supervisor, was on a survey trip. Before he left Billingslea declared reports of losses indicated fire conditions may have reached a critical stage.

All available men were being recruited here and rushed to various fire fronts.

Reports from Ashland indicated that a forest fire which has been raging in Bear Canyon in the Siskiyou mountains still was out of control. Highway maintenance crews were endeavoring to prevent the blaze from leaping the highway and destroying additional virgin timber.

The upper regions of the Siskiyou at this time of year are normally blanketed with snow. There is virtually none at present. Fire fighters were handicapped however, by freezing temperatures.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE CHILLY VISITOR

(By Mary Graham Bonner)

The visitor came walking through the field, and as he came the grass began to blow and the air grew very much colder.

As he saw the Little Black Clock he waved and the Little Black Clock waved back. Then John and Peggy waved.

As the visitor came near, carrying a suitcase in each hand, he said, "Hello."

Just saying that one word seemed to send a gust of chilly air right through them.

The Little Black Clock asked him to sit down. He was tall and thin. His clothes looked rather blown and untidy as if they were not completely dry and had never been pressed.

From his hat were feathers that looked like they might have been made of frost, and at the edges of his cuffs were trimmings that reminded Peggy and Jim of small, thin icicles.

"Hello," he said again. John and Peggy said "Hello," too.

"It was nice of you to ask me to stop here for a bit, and take a rest before continuing my journey," he said to the Little Black Clock. "It's a nice morning, isn't it?" he asked.

The children knew from this that the Little Black Clock had turned the time back to the morning.

"I have to come to get everything ready for my family," the visitor went on. "You know how people choose some one to go ahead and open up a house that has been closed for a season, or some one has to open up a school after the holidays—well, I'm somewhat like that. Only I'm very, very different."

"Goodness," said the Little Black Clock, "You will certainly puzzle John and Peggy. Won't you explain yourself more clearly?"

"Surely," came the answer. And he did.

Tomorrow—"A Chilly Story."

Express Desires of Japanese At Arms Conference. Tokyo, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Several Japanese newspapers today published details that are generally considered to represent the government's desires for the London naval conference in January.

Three chief principles of the Japanese program said to be actual reduction instead of limitation of armaments, a 10-10-7 ratio for auxiliary ships, and opposition to the abolition of, or drastic reduction in, submarine strength.

Other points include a demand for parity in submarines with Great Britain and the United States on the basis of 80,000 tons, with a maximum unit of 2,000, submarines under 600 tons would be exempted from limitation.

Japan would like to have 70 per cent of the American strength in eight-inch gun cruisers, to limit capital ships to 25,000 tons displacement and 14-inch guns, to restrict aircraft carriers to 20,000 tons, and to fix the age limit of capital ships at 25 years, of cruisers at 20 years, destroyers at 16 years and of submarines at 1 years.

LADY HEATH MUST PAY HER OWN CLOTHING BILL. London, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Sir James Heath will not have to pay at least one clothing bill of his wife, Lady Heath, noted British air woman who is now in the United States.

In an action against the husband and wife by a London dressmaker to recover 239 pounds for clothing, the court today gave judgment against Lady Heath with costs, Sir James, however, won his case against paying the bill, receiving judgment with costs.

In giving judgment Justice Talbot said that he was clearly of the opinion that Sir James had not given his wife authority to pledge his credit and that he had made ample provision for her. Sir James recently advertised in London newspapers that he would not be responsible for further debts contracted by Lady Heath.

ROTES HEAR NUMBERS BY ARMY BAND

Members of U. S. Musical Organization Guests of Local Club Last Night

Members of the Greenville Rotary club assembled in regular weekly session last night heard several musical selections rendered by members of the United States Army Band, who gave two concerts at the East Carolina Teachers college in this city yesterday.

The Rotes also heard Captain Stannard, director of the band, give an interesting description of his organization's visit to Europe and the wonderful reception which they received in all countries. He declared that they attempted to create a spirit of friendship and understanding everywhere they went, and that they were always treated with the utmost hospitality. They were received by royalty while in Spain.

Captain Stannard was introduced by Mr. Capell, of Washington, manager of the musical organization. Mr. Capell said Captain Stannard had received citations from South American countries for the introduction of South American music in America.

Prior to the introduction, Mr. Capell, told of the formation of the band by General Pershing. He said the general realized the need of such a musical organization so that this nation might keep pace with other nations who have taken considerable pride in national musical organizations over a period of many years. He said the members of the band were the pick of all the combined musicians of the army, and represented the best of talent.

Captain Stannard was introduced by Carl Adams, chairman of the program committee.

Mr. Ludwitz, a graduate of several European conservatories, rendered a flute solo, accompanied by Mr. Capell. Sergeant Raymond, trombone artist, and Mr. Ludwitz, gave a trombone and flute duet. This was followed by two trombone solos by Sergeant Raymond.

Aside from the regular program the Rotarians enjoyed a delightful turkey supper and the singing of club songs. President F. C. Harding presided.

Army Balloonists Claim New Record. Little Rock, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Four army balloonists today claimed a record for number of men making an emergency parachute jump as the result of a flight in which a gale carried their free balloon so high that it burst in the thin air, compelling the entire crew to jump at 6,200 feet.

The men were Lieuts. John Carro, E. M. Fogelsonger and J. W. McCurlev, and Sergt. Mansfield of Fort Sill.

They had taken off from Post Field for a training cruise and were caught by a brisk wind which carried them rapidly 50 miles across country at the same time whisking them about the 6,000-foot level. As the air surrounding the bag became thinner the 2,000 feet of hydrogen inside pressed outward until it burst the rigging.

Evacuation of the basket was "according to regulations," said the report of Lieutenant Carro.

LESS NERVOUS, SLEPT BETTER

Texas Lady Was Weak and Restless Until She Took Cardui.

Italy, Texas.—Mrs. Rhoda Holley, of this place, says: "I was very much run-down. At night I suffered from sleeplessness, and I was restless and nervous. My joints ached."

"I was very weak and at times could scarcely leave my bed. My work was a drag. Some days I could do nothing at all."

"My mother asked me why I did not try Cardui, which she had read about. I thought that was a good idea, and began taking it at once. I soon began to feel better."

"The improvement in my health was noticeable after I had been taking Cardui about a week. I was less nervous and I slept better. I was so grateful that I continued it for some time. I took several bottles and think it is a fine medicine. I gained after taking it, both in health and strength."

"Thousands of women have written to tell how they have obtained relief through the use of Cardui. Having helped so many others, Cardui should help you, too."

Samley Hardee, one of the oldest residents of Greenville, died at his home on Pitt street last night. He was about 80 years of age and well-known among old residents of the city.

Hardee had been in ill health for several months, and his condition was so critical recently that his death was not unexpected.

FOOTBALL GAME TO BE PLAYED TOMORROW AFTERNOON

The last football game of the local season will be played at the Greenville High School stadium tomorrow afternoon at 3:15. Washington will oppose the opposition for the in-clad high school warriors.

These two teams have met once before this season and on that occasion neither team was able to walk up a victory, the game ending in a 6-6 tie. Washington was satisfied with that score and either was Greenville, so the post-season game was arranged. It would draw a large crowd.

So far this season Greenville has won two games, tied two, and lost three, in the conference race. Outside of the conference they have lost to Elizabeth City and to Tarboro. Considering the fact that when the season started there were only two men on the squad from last year's team, and the rest were absolutely green, this is a mighty good record for the season.

The game tomorrow will be the best game that has been in Greenville for a long time. Several players on both teams will make their last appearance for their team, and naturally they will give everything to beat their hated rivals in the last game of the season. The game was arranged especially to give the Greenville fans an opportunity to come out to the last game of the season and show the boys that they are backed to the limit by the townspeople. Season tickets will not be good at this game.

UNITED STATES ARMY BAND GIVES TWO CONCERTS IN GREENVILLE

Capt. Stannard and his United States Army Band took possession of Greenville yesterday, with the two concerts at East Carolina teachers College, meeting with the Greenville High School Band, and at the Rotary Club last night. Capt. Stannard said that there was usually a limit to human endurance but we put him to the test yesterday as he was kept busy from the moment he arrived until nearly eleven o'clock, but when it was all over, he said he had enjoyed every minute of it, was charmed with the town and his audiences, and would like to stay longer or come again.

Each of the two programs fitted in well with the occasion, the afternoon program having simpler selections with more emphatic themes, some of which were military and some of which were soft and lovely.

The opening number at the matinee was Tschakowsky's "March Slav," and in the evening the Peruvian Elegia, "Lament and Consolation," by Valie-Riestra. The second number each time was a descriptive selection. In the afternoon it was "Scene in a Persian Garden" by Keteby, giving the camel-drivers, the beggars, jugglers, snake charmers, and other oriental characters, with the beautiful princess and the Caliph, making a lovely fairy tale, with the instruments coming in separately on different themes. In the evening, an oriental fantasy "In a Chinese Temple Garden" was of the same type, but more vigorous, with the beating of the gongs added, but with a love theme and the singing of the birds brought in.

One number by Capt. Stannard was on each program; in the afternoon "The National Vaudeville Artists" and in the evening a march, "The Washington Evening Star." The potpourri of "Victor Herbert Favorites" in the afternoon gave the children familiar bits. The closing number in one was a grand fantasia giving "The Evolution of Dixie" and on the other "The Year 1812," Tschakowsky's description of Napoleon's march upon Moscow.

The numbers conducted by Capt. Darcy both times were very popular, and he was called back time and again. In the evening it was the symphonic prelude "The Tower of Gold." The favorite encore was the "Dance of the Doll." The two numbers from Latin America "El Condor Pasa," a "Cachua and Huayno," two styles of songs found among the Incas in South America and "Danzo Yaqui," a Mexican dance, were among the favorites in the evening, as were the one from Panama and the one from Spain in the afternoon.

Variations on a folk melody, which was "Maryland, My Maryland," used to demonstrate the instruments, one kind after another taking up the theme, with all the men playing that instrument standing as they played. In the afternoon two marches were played which Capt. Stannard used for demonstrating purposes, explaining the instruments to the children.

The saxophone and the xylophone solos were exceedingly popular and Mr. Hostetter, the saxophone soloist and Mr. Baumann, the xylophone player, were called back time and again.

The band was very generous with encores, playing both familiar and unfamiliar numbers. One of the delightful surprises was the playing of our own state song, "Carolina," when the chief marshal, Miss Christine Hall, marched down the aisle with the state flag and placed it opposite the national flag.

In the afternoon the members of the high school band were the guests of the band and of the college. The Confederate soldiers had been invited to attend as guests and some of them availed themselves of the opportunity to hear the Army band.

The band goes from here to Raleigh, where they will give two afternoon concerts in the Hugh Morison High School. From there they will go to Washington in time for the annual serenade at the White House on Thanksgiving Day.

The people of Greenville, the American Legion and the civic organizations, the Rotary Club the Kiwanis, and the Merchants Association all joined in the celebration and helped make the visit of "Pershing's Own" a success.

ABOUT TOWN

Greenville Boy Scouts made their "Charity Bundle Day" drive this afternoon. If they failed to visit your home to receive your bundle, you are requested to call telephone 488, and notify those in charge of the campaign.
This is one of the most intensive drives for old clothing Greenville has ever seen before and no doubt will result in the raising of at least two or three tons of warm wearing apparel for the poor people of the community.
The Scouts were especially anxious to raise four tons so that they might claim the honor of raising as much clothing as any other city in this part of the State, but whether they would be able to do so in such a brief time remained doubtful.
However, it is an assured fact that the campaign will be staged in whirlwind style and will result in the collection of several hundred bundles for distribution by the County Welfare department.
Mr. Futrell, head of the Welfare department, says he has numbers of destitute families in need of clothing this winter, and that collected by the Scouts will help him fill the need.
It is a wonderful thing these youths are doing for suffering humanity, and it is to be hoped they will keep the purpose ever in mind and be ready to render similar service whenever required.

A VALUABLE ASSET.

In the statement of the Home Building and Loan Association made public today, citizens of this community have occasion to be proud of the institution. Since its beginning less than a quarter of a century ago the resources of this association have climbed from a few thousand dollars to well over the million mark. In these twenty-three years the association has aided many hundreds of persons of our community in financing the building of their homes and is now continuing this work at the rate of close to a hundred homes a year. Such associations are a valuable asset to any community and Greenville people should feel proud that this local concern is ranked among the first twenty-five in the whole state.

THANK YOU, HE BELONGS TO US.

We can't blame Greensboro for wanting to claim Glenn Robeson, but we don't expect to sit still and let them take him away from us entirely. It is true, as it so happened that Greensboro was the birthplace of this celebrated football star, but for many years Greenville has been his home and his football training prior to entering college, was received on the local high school squads. As the Greensboro News says, however, there is now enough of Glenn, when it comes to football, to split between two cities, so we are willing to lend him to Greensboro for its banquet.

Here is what the Greensboro News thinks of Robeson:
This city can well feel proud of its contribution to football teams within the state this season. There is a surprise coming, but it can wait until we tell off old stanchions like Wyrick, Koenig, Mans, Brown and Lipscomb, all of the Tar Heel eleven, and Gus Tebell has been getting good results from Gardner and Davani at State. We thought this included the front runners, but the truth will out one way and another. Fact is, Glenn Robeson, Jimmy DeHart's sweet halfback, while now a Greenville citizen, was born here at home, Arlington street to be exact. We do not claim that Glenn picked up his football during the three years he lived here, but he got it somewhere and enough of it to split between the cities involved. This boy was given special press notices early in the season by Duke folk because of his ability to snap passes. We saw him play his first real game last Saturday against State and he lived up to them. He also proved that he is a powerful driving back on tackle plays, and he caught one pass behind his back, upside down and cross eyed, that could have been missed, but he held it and took it for a touchdown. When the city holds that banquet for her varsity football players, put the boy's name in the pot.

Champion Home Canner.
Chicago—The champion home canner is Mrs. Mary Hyvas of Keenan, Wis. Her entry of a quart of peas won prizes of $1,000 and $250 in a national contest. Fifty years old she puts up more than 600 quarts of food annually.

civilization has made since the first Thanksgiving service was held. Despite lean times that come to each section from year to year, we are still the citizens of one of the greatest nations and earth, and should never fail to be thankful for the ministering angel that watches over our destiny day and night during the years.

OPEN FORUM

MY MOTHER'S PRAYER.
Mr. John R. Voorhees, Grand Sachem of Tammany, says his mother taught him to pray at night:
"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep;
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord, my soul to take."
As the future is not mentioned in the prayer, he has added:
"Should I live for another day,
I pray the Lord, to guide my way."

My mother taught her children the above prayer, before retiring at night, but as soon as we were awake in the morning, she taught us to kneel by our bedside and pray:
"Now I awake to see the light,
'Tis God has kept me through the night,
To Him I lift my voice and pray,
That He will keep me through this day."

NOTRE DAME TO PLAY ARMY ON SATURDAY

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Nov. 26.—A number of fine eastern football rivalries will be renewed this week. Most of them will be played on Thanksgiving Day, but one of the most important—Army and Notre Dame—will be decided on Saturday.

Of traditional meetings, the Cornell-Thanksgiving duel on Thanksgiving is the oldest. With the exception of the war year of 1918 the two teams have battled annually since 1893. Penn has won 26 of the games. Cornell won seven and two were tied. Cornell hopes on Thursday to gain its first victory over Penn since 1923.

Pittsburgh's unbeaten and united Panthers, meeting Penn State for the 25th consecutive year on Thanksgiving Day should gain its 17th victory in the series. Penn State has beaten Pitt only seven times since 1904.

The Thanksgiving battle between Syracuse and Columbia is the ninth in a series began in 1901. Columbia has only one victory and a tie to show against Syracuse's six triumphs. Syracuse is favored this year.

Colgate seems to pack enough punch to avenge a number of defeats Brown has pinned on the Maroons' record since 1917. Of the nine previous games, Brown won five; Colgate one and three were tied. Another Turkey Day battle that between W. and J. and the West Virginia Mountaineers finds the Presidents favored.

Notre Dame will be after its 11th victory over the Army when these rivals of 16 years' standing get together in the outstanding game of the week on Saturday. Knute Rockne's Ramblers have won 10 of the 15 previous meetings! The Army four with one tie. Notre Dame, unbeaten and united, will be favored. The Ramblers, however, will be handicapped by the absence of Rockne who is ill. Any Moynihan, star center, who suffered a broken leg in the Northwestern game last Saturday.

The other four outstanding Saturday games are more or less tossups. Carnegie Tech and New York University, each have been beaten twice by strong opponents but the Tech men look a trifle stronger. Dartmouth, even without Al Marsters, figures to pack more punch than the Navy which has experienced a disappointing season. Any edge that may exist between Boston College and Holy Cross on the one hand, and Temple and Villa Nova on the other, lies in the eye of the beholder.

A poultry census in Chosen, formerly known as Korea, revealed 6,135,950 chickens.

MANY FANS TO WITNESS GRID GRAND FINALE

By DILLON L. GRAHAM, Associated Press Staff Writer
Atlanta, Nov. 26.—More than a quarter million gridiron fans are expected to witness the grand finale of the south's football season on Thanksgiving day as southern teams clash on battle fronts as far flung as the map of Dixie.

Although a few games are carded for later dates they will serve as an anti-climax since fifteen conference teams and the majority of the other southern teams ring down the curtain on the Thursday holiday.

Unless extremely cold or wet weather serves to cut down the attendance, some 150,000 spectators will view the half dozen major traditional encounters, two of them having championship bearing, and another hundred thousand or more will be on hand for the remaining conference, Southern Interscholastic Athletic Association and prep school engagements.

The North Carolina—Virginia battle at Chapel Hill appears likely to draw the biggest gate. More than 30,000 persons being expected at the annual tilt between the Tar-Heels and Cavaliers.

Baton Rouge officials plan entertainment for a crowd of between 25,000 and 30,000 for Louisiana State's attempt to conquer the undefeated Tulane Green Wave and eliminate the Greenies from title consideration.

Some 20,000 persons will fill the stadium at Stoll Field in Lexington to see the Kentucky Wildcats endeavor to halt the mad rush of the Tennessee Volunteers, who share championship aspirations with Tulane.

The Vanderbilt-Sewanee game at Nashville, bringing together the oldest adversaries of the south, probably will attract close to 20,000 and almost that number will crowd Grant Field in Atlanta for the thirteenth battle between the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets and the Auburn Tigers.

The Florida Alligators playing the final of a six game series with the Generals of Washington and Lee, will swing into action before 20,000 or more persons at Fairfield Stadium at Jacksonville.

The kicks and passes exchanged by Georgia and Alabama will thrill some 20,000 in Birmingham, while the annual feud between Virginia Military Institute and Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Roanoke will be witnessed by at least 15,000.

Chattanooga will be host to 10,000 or more as Oglethorpe and the University of Chattanooga come to grips in a battle which probably will outdraw any of the other Southern Interscholastic Athletic Association games.

Other conference, association and miscellaneous combats will be played before crowds of 3,000 to 10,000.

SPORTS SLANTS

Only two more opponents stand between Tennessee and a third successive unbeaten season under the coaching direction of Major Bob Neyland, old Army star. In this span, the Volunteers have not journeyed above the Mason and Dixon line, but so far as Dixie is concerned, they have piled up one of the greatest records of all time.

This year, Tennessee has beaten Alabama and Vanderbilt, putting both out of the southern conference race, although the Volunteer schedule otherwise has not been very exacting. But if the Vols can get past Kentucky, and "Shipwreck" Kelly on Thanksgiving day, as well as South Carolina on December 7, there will be no outfit except Tulane in a position to dispute Tennessee's place at the top.

Unless he resigns from the service, this will be Major Neyland's last year at Knoxville, for he is due to be transferred under the same system that obliges West Point to shift head coaches every four years. But if Tennessee can offer any inducements for him to remain, on the strength of the Vols' brilliant record, they probably will be forthcoming.

Knute Rockne is now one up on his Southern California coaching rival, Howard Jones. In 1921, Jones coached the Iowa team that beat the Hoosiers, 10 to 7. Five years later, the Jones-Rockne duel was renewed, and in four straight games Notre Dame has won three decisions, each by a single point, to offset the Trojan victory of 1928 by a score of 27 to 14. Jones can get whatever satisfaction there is in the fact that in five games his teams have scored 67 points to 54 for Notre Dame.

Up around West Point, bustling with the reports of scouts and the buzz of preparation for Notre Dame there is the distinct conviction that Army has at least one bid drive left and that it may materialize against the Rockne Ramblers.

What is perhaps the best team of the Biff Jones coaching regime has been pursued this season by a jinx. The Cadets were tied by Harvard after Red Cagle apparently had put the game on ice. The following week they saw Albie Booth personally arouse the Ells and wipe out a 13 point lead in jig time. At Champaign, two extraordinary breaks helped Illinois to win.

Cagle is a more dangerous all-around scoring threat than any ball carrier on the Notre Dame team, than to even the score with the Ramblers after experiencing defeat by close margins in two of his last three duels with Rockne.

Says Jealousy Was Motive for Arkansas Murder

Mountain View, Ark., Nov. 26.—(A)—Sheriff Sam Johnson, who has five men in jails and seeks to arrest four others on murder charges, said today that jealousy was the motive for the burning alive of a farm hand and an attack upon his 16 year old sweetheart as they were on their way to be married near here last March.

The sheriff said the friendship of the girl and the youth, Connie Franklin, who he described as being "mentally backward", was resented.

"They first tried to kid Franklin about the girl and falling in this attempted to run him out of the country", the officer declared. Franklin, according to authorities, was accosted by a band of men, tortured and mutilated until he fainted and then placed on a pyre fashioned of logs and burned.

The men held are Alex Fluks, 26; Herman Greenway, 25; Joe White; Bill C. Younger, 24 and Hubert Hester, 23. A special term of circuit court has been called for December 16th.

Daniels Speaks at Annual Pilgrimage to St. Thomas Episcopal Church at Bath

Bath, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Josephus Daniels, speaking here today at the annual Episcopal pilgrimage gathering at St. Thomas church, said that one of the first duties of those interested in preserving North Carolina history and restoring its shrines is to put an end to myths.

Mr. Daniels, who is president of the association for the preservation of St. Thomas church, the church being 228 years old, related as one of the myths about Bath that of the visit of George Whitefield, the Methodist evangelist who visited here in 1738. The story goes, Mr. Daniels said, that Whitefield was so inhospitably received that he shook the dust off his feet against the place and declared that Bath would never grow. And, though for almost a century there was talk here of the "Whitefield curse" there was, not the slightest foundation either for the story of inhospitality or of the curse.

"The reason Bath did not grow is because the Assembly fixed Washington as the seat of the country and the court house and jail were built there," Mr. Daniels said. "There is nearly always such an explanation for myths if you get down to the rock bottom."

Mr. Daniels undertook to show that the lion in the path of the Episcopal church before the revolution was that it was hampered by reason of state establishment, injured during the war because it was known as the Anglican church and that after the revolution the bulk of the people regarded it as pro-English. When these fetters were thrown off the church entered upon its career of ever increasing usefulness. Even in the war of the revolution its devotees kept alive the faith and rebuked upon firm foundations. High tribute was paid to the self-sacrificing ministers in the early days, whose foundations are strong and sure for the greater edifice that has been buidied by a great communion.

"As one born in the capital of this county, on the banks of the Pamlico, which flows by this holy edifice, and as one who, though not of the communion which built St. Thomas and has preserved it in the centuries, is sincerely interested in the restoration of this church, I count it an honor to be privileged to come here today," Mr. Daniels said, in concluding his address.

"It is a pleasure and a patriotic duty to join with others in the earnest appeal for co-operation of all interested in handing down to posterity those churches and other memorials which have been Ebenezer in our state's religious and civil development.

"St. Thomas is the oldest and therefore makes first claim to the patriotic societies and patriotic people of the state. This not to one communion alone but to all, to restore St. Thomas to its ancient dignity and distinction. Bishop Darts and other broad-minded men of his church have the vision of St. Thomas becoming a Christian shrine, where, in this quiet and holy sanctuary weary men and busy men may pause to pray and seek spiritual satisfaction. It is hoped also it will be the centre of a new Christian patriotism, not alone for those of the church which built and has preserved it, but for all men and women who may in the years to come wish to gather here either to worship or to plan for the enlargement of God's kingdom."

Six Men Sought for Bank Robbery of Jefferson, Wis.

Watertown, Wis., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Six men with police records in middle west and eastern cities were sought throughout the country today on a blanket warrant charging them with the $352,000 robbery of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Jefferson, Wis., November 7.

Two of them are wanted for hold-up and murder in Toledo, Ohio, and third is a former St. Louis gangster. All are believed to be in hiding since a quiet search by surety company detectives has failed to find them in their old haunts.

Those named are: Gus Winkler, St. Louis gangster; Robert Carey, St. Louis, and Phillip Anderson, Lexington, Ky., wanted in connection with the holdup of an American Express truck in Toledo and the slaying of a policeman; Fred Oetz, alias Fred von Esch, Chicago; John Carl Conley, New York, and Herman Tipton, alias Herman Tons, of Kentucky.

Their identifications were established some days ago when Jefferson Citizens Bank officials picked their pictures out of a large number as the men who engineered the robbery with such dispatch that authorities could not trail them in their flight.

Neglect by the six men to cover up a few details of the visit they are said to have made to Jefferson while planning the holdup started investigators on their trail.

Winkler and Anderson are believed to have been the leaders of the band with Anderson playing the leading role as "the gander." It was he, police said, who forgot to close a phone booth door when he put in a long distance call from Jefferson. When this call was traced it led to a woman whose association with him was known to police.
