PREDICT FAST WORK ON PLAN TO CUT TAXES

Chairman Hawley Thinks House Will Authorize $160,000,000 Next Month

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Chairman Hawley of the house ways and means committee, predicted today the house would adopt a resolution to authorize the $160,000,000 tax reduction on 1929 incomes before the end of the first week of the regular session.

The resolution, Hawley said, would be introduced Monday and he would call Tuesday a meeting of the ways and means committee. Hearings, he added, probably would be held in view of the approval of the reduction by the administration and leaders of both parties in both houses.

In the event the house would agree to consider the resolution Wednesday, under unanimous consent, without waiting for the committee report, it probably would be approved that day, he said. Otherwise, it would be brought up Thursday for action.

Senate leaders have announced that an effort would be made to expedite passage in that chamber. Hawley's statement today was more optimistic for early action than his utterance at the time the tax cut proposal was announced by Secretary Mellon. The ways and means chairman then predicted the house would dispose of it shortly before taking the Christmas recess. If his latest prediction materializes the Senate will be given an opportunity to act before going home to hang up stockings.

Huge leaders expect but little difficulty in putting the resolution through. It proposes only one form of taxation on a one per cent cut in the rate on corporation and individual incomes, the leaders believe there will be but slight disposition on the part of members to indulge in protracted debate.

The house leadership indicated that if this should develop they would enforce the drastic rules of that chamber which shut off discussion and provide a parliamentary sheet cut for an early vote.

Several Injured In Auto Mishaps At Chapel Hill

Raleigh, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Captain Charles D. Farmer of the state highway patrol today said that four persons were being held under bail following accidents occurring in connection with the heavy traffic at Chapel Hill yesterday and that five persons had to be taken to the Watts hospital in Durham as a result of injuries but that no reports of any serious injuries had been received.

Old Lady Luck herself must have smiled upon the visitors to the state fair. Captain Farmer added, saying that there was a great deal of whiskey drinking by persons who attended the game.

Of the four held under bond two were charged with operating a car while intoxicated, one was charged with drunkenness and the fourth with careless and reckless driving.

Captain Farmer with five of his lieutenants and 15 motorcycle patrolmen directed the traffic at the game. Captain Farmer estimated the $10,000 or more cars carried fans to the contest to make the greatest concentration of traffic on one objective in North Carolina.

Commander Byrd Begins Flight to the South Pole; Will Report Progress

New York, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The New York Times, the St. Louis Post Dispatch and the newspapers affiliated with them in publishing reports from Commander Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition today announced that Commander Byrd started from his base Little America in the Ant-Arctic at 3:29 o'clock yesterday afternoon (10:29 p. m. New York time) on a 1,600 mile flight to the South Pole and back.

Commander Byrd, who is flying with Bert Balchen as pilot, with Harold June as radio operator and Captain Ashley C. McKinley as photographer in the big tri-motored airplane he took to the Antarctic, expects to be in direct communication throughout the flight with the New York Times radio station in New York as well as with his base, and will report his progress as he goes. If all is well with him, he should return to his base before twenty-four hours have elapsed.

Planning to carry the stars and stripes to the bottom of the world by air as he already has carried them to the top, Commander Richard E. Byrd set out on Thanksgiving day to fly across the South Pole just as summer approached the west-fried Antarctic continent.

The flight recalled his own flight in May, 1926, in the tri-motored Fokker airplane, the Miss Josephine Ford, from King's Bay, Spitzbergen, across the North Pole and return in 15 hours and 30 minutes. The round trip was 16,000 miles. A trip in Arctic springtime about the same distance as the flight on which he is engaged today over icy wastes and mountains.

He was the first to fly to the North Pole and the only one to fly across it in a heavier than air machine. Two dirigibles, the Norge and the Italia, cruised later above the pole, which was discovered April 6, 1909, by Admiral Robert E. Peary, American, in a sledge expedition.

Commander Byrd is the first to attempt the flight above the South Pole although both he and Captain Sir George Hubert Wilkins previously last year used airplanes in flights over Antarctic area. The South Pole was reached first by Roald Amundsen, Norwegian, Dec. 14, 1911, and a few days later by Captain Robert F. Scott, British, both using overland methods of travel.

Floyd Bennett, who died April 25, 1928 while attempting to rescue the crew of the trans-Atlantic plane Bremen from Greenland Island, was Commander Byrd's pilot on his North Pole flight.

They took off from their base at King's Bay at 12:50 a. m. on Sunday, May 9, 1926, flew to the pole, circled it several times to check their observations and then flew back, landing at the base at 4:20 p. m.

Continuous sunlit and absence of fog, which made accurate observations for navigation possible, attended the flight.

Commander Byrd with a party of 54 left New York, on April 6, 1926 in the steamer Chantier on his polar expedition, which was sponsored by Edsel Ford and others. Two planes, the Josephine Ford, Christened in honor of Edsel Ford's daughter, a smaller Curtiss plane furnished the aviation equipment of the expedition.

The flight was the first air trip to the North Pole and Commander Byrd and Bennett were the first men to reach it since it was discovered by Captain Robert E. Peary April 6, 1909.

The services were largely attended despite the fact hundreds of people left the city on hunting trips and to attend football games, and the program proved decidedly inspirational and in keeping with the spirit of the day.

A choir composed of members of various city churches rendered several selections under direction of Miss Eugenia Thomas, director of public school music at the East Carolina Teachers college. Mrs. J. Knott Proctor sang a solo number. The services were presided over by Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The Scripture lesson was read by Rev. J. J. Barnes, of the Christian church. A free-will offering was taken for the various orphanages of the state.

Mr. Beaman began his sermon by reciting the first observation of Thanksgiving day. He said the first occasion of this kind occurred following the discovery of America when Columbus returned to Spain and offered thanks for the voyage that carried him safely across the stormy Atlantic to a new found land.

He then told of the observance at Plymouth Rock when the Pilgrim Fathers spent three days in feasting and prayer as an expression of thanks for their harvest and safety from the thousands of dangers that beset them upon every hand.

After that memorable occasion the Continental Congress many years later set aside the day as one of thanksgiving for the entire nation. And since that time, the American people have suspended activities with the coming of the time in November in order to return thanks for the harvest which they received during the year.

The speaker declared he had many things to be thankful for, but principally, the fact that he was an American. This is a land of boundless opportunities for service, he declared, and any man under the American flag has all the chance in the world of doing a worthwhile life.

He urged his hearers to ever be thankful for the blessings which God bestowed upon them from year to year, and in that way make themselves more worthy of continued mercies.

THANKSGIVING UNION SERVICE DRAWS CROWD

Rev. Thomas Beaman Delivered Sermon at Annual Service Yesterday

Declaring that the American people have lots of things to be thankful for, Rev. Thomas W. Beaman, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church, delivered the sermon at the annual Thanksgiving union services held at Immanuel Baptist church yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The speaker carefully outlined incidents leading up to the observance of Thanksgiving reason by the American people and said the occasion was one that should be observed by every person appreciative of the many blessings bestowed upon them from year to year.

The services were largely attended despite the fact hundreds of people left the city on hunting trips and to attend football games, and the program proved decidedly inspirational and in keeping with the spirit of the day.

A choir composed of members of various city churches rendered several selections under direction of Miss Eugenia Thomas, director of public school music at the East Carolina Teachers college. Mrs. J. Women Fliers Forced Down At Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—(AP) The second attempt of Bobbie Trout of Los Angeles and Elinor Smith of New York to establish a new record for endurance flight here failed today when lack of fuel forced them to land their plane at 3:45 a. m. They had been in the air 42 hours and 5 minutes.

It was their second attempt within a week to better the record of 420 hours, 21 minutes, 58 seconds held by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien of St. Louis. The 42 hours and 5 minutes, is a record for women, however, they are the first women fliers to make a refueling endurance flight.

The girls fliers made a perfect landing, and they were feeling fine after two days and nearly two nights in the air. Both expressed keen disappointment to renish their gasoline supply before dark last night.

"The breaks have all been against us," Miss Trout said, "and although we are disappointed, we are not discouraged. Our plane performed splendidly, and we're both feeling fine. We most certainly expect to try again."

Flight officials announced that the motor of the endurance plane would be given an overhauling today, and that present plans are for the girls to take off tomorrow for a third attempt to set a record.

QUIET TIME IN THIS CITY THANKSGIVING

Only Sounding of the Fire Alarm Yesterday Afternoon Broke Serenity of Day

Only the sounding of a fire alarm, accompanied by the scream of fire truck sirens, broke the peace and calm pervading Greenville during the city's observance of Thanksgiving. It was one of the quietest holidays the city has experienced in years. If there was any disturbance other than the sounding of the fire alarm, it had not been reported to city or county departments today.

The usual number of automobile and hunting accidents were conspicuous for their paucity. There might have been a few minor car accidents, but they were not important enough to report to any department for investigation, therefore it was assumed that the city and county too, got by with a clean slate.

The fire alarm came at a time when the city was preparing to partake of its annual Thanksgiving supper—of turkey, cranberry sauce, and pumpkin pie left over from the dinner hour—and a wild scramble ensued as a majority of the citizenship attempted to reach the scene of the alarm on west Fourth street. Some even got ahead of the fire trucks, but they were forced to sidetrack as the thundering trucks came down the street with sirens screaming at full blast.

The fire wasn't much of a thing for so much excitement, but it was a fire, and the firemen extinguished it in a minute or so and returned to the fire station like they did after any other fire. The fire was at the home of Mr. Parkinson, and was said to have been caused by a short circuit in electric light wires. Damage was estimated at about $20.00.

Mr. Helstead, who is from Lebanon, S. D., said bandits were prevalent throughout the countryside. The Rev. Ulrich Kreutzen of the Franciscan Mission at Wachucah, who was captured by bandits several weeks ago, again has written to his mission saying his captors were demanding 6,000 Mexican dollars ransom for his release.

Deny Motion to Strike Out Stud Poker Evidence In McManus Murder Case

New York, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The defense of George A. McManus made its first offensive move today in his trial for the murder of Arnold Rothstein. James D. C. Murray presented a motion to strike out irrelevant testimony adduced regarding the big stud poker game when the state alleges arose the motive for the killing. The motion was denied.

The state said it would prove a motive from these witnesses," Murray said. "No motive has been proven and I ask that the testimony given by these witnesses be stricken out as irrelevant."

Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., said it was a matter for the jury to decide and overruled. Murray's motion was made as "Nigger Nat" Raymond, little olive-skinned, smartly dressed gambler from the Pacific Coast, finished his testimony as the first witness of the day.

Raymond described himself as a "speculator" on sporting events and testified he won $219,000 from Rothstein at the poker game but had never been able to collect it. He asked Rothstein for a note the night of the game, he said, but when the other gamblers laughed, he said, he realized he had "made a faux pas" and withdrew the request.

Begin Move for Ending Russo-Chinese Trouble Over Eastern Railroad

The Russian-Chinese controversy over the Chinese eastern railway for the present has shifted from war-like activities in Manchuria to a verbal bombardment between Moscow and Nanking as the exact status of negotiations looking toward a settlement.

Out of the intense confusion of denials, counter-denials, charges and counter charges, the following facts emerged: Nanking emphatically denied that Manchuria was negotiating independently for a settlement with the Soviet government.

The Nationalist foreign office insisted that it had sent a note to a Sino-Russian joint commission to investigate border conditions and for withdrawal of troops by both sides to at least thirty miles from the frontier.

In event of rejection "the nationalist government will be prepared to meet Soviet moves accordingly." Moscow insisted that negotiations with Mukden were going forward and charged that Nanking, to thwart these, was seeking intervention by the powers.

Izvestia, official Soviet organ, declared that the "Imperialists" were seeking to intervene in order to "stretch out an arm to the Chinese Eastern railway." Meanwhile Washington, which has been in communication with either powers to determine if anything could be done, awaited the outcome of the Nanking note to Moscow.

The attitude of the state department, appeared to be that China and Russia should be given every opportunity to settle the differences between them before the other powers take action. Thus far the League of Nations has received no official appeal from the nationalist government to take a hand in the controversy.

The British North China Daily was at Shanghai quoted Russian agency reports that negotiations between Moscow and Mukden had begun at Harbin "on express authority of both Nanking and Mukden authorities."

The railway town of Bachatu, 250 from the border, was again reported bombarded by Soviet planes but no other fighting seems to have taken place during the past few days.

Moscow, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Izvestia, official government organ, today declared that the nationalist government at Nanking was trying to prevent an independent settlement of the Chinese Eastern railway controversy between Russia and the Manchurian authorities and reiterated previous charges that "imperialists" were trying to get a hold on the railway.

Commenting on the attitude of the Nanking government, toward the reported independent negotiations between Mukden and Moscow, Izvestia says: "Immediately upon learning that the Manchurian army was unable to withstand the resistance of the Red army, Nanking's agents in foreign capitals began to weave a net of intrigues aimed to involve the other powers take action."

Woman Missionary Freed by Bandits

Franklin, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. Oscar Helstead, American missionary who was kidnapped by bandits yesterday at her home in Sinyeh, southwest Honan province was released last night and returned to the Lutheran Mission at Sinyeh.

Mrs. Helstead, who is from Lebanon, S. D., said bandits were prevalent throughout the countryside. The Rev. Ulrich Kreutzen of the Franciscan Mission at Wachucah, who was captured by bandits several weeks ago, again has written to his mission saying his captors were demanding 6,000 Mexican dollars ransom for his release.

Below Zero Weather Predicted for West

Chicago, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Below zero weather was the prophecy ventured for tonight by the weather man as most of the middle west snuggled to work this morning in the biting cold. Temperatures as low as two degrees above zero were recorded here early today, and the northwest wind made it seem even colder.

Duluth, Minn., had 14 below as its Thanksgiving day weather and there were severe snowstorms in central Illinois, parts of Iowa and South Dakota. A policy of gradually extending tobacco production has been adopted by Spain, through royal decree.

SAYS UNION NOT BIGGER THAN STATE

Prosecution Resumes Attack in Strikers' Trial at Marion Today

Marion, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Organized labor was described today by Attorney G. F. Washburn in resuming the arguments for the prosecution in the trial of Alfred Hoffman, organizer of the United Textile Workers of America, and three of his local associates on charges of rioting and resisting officers last August 30.

"We have the legal right to call a strike of milkmen and starve babies to death, or to call a strike of railroad workers and halt transportation, or to call a strike of miners and freeze people to death."

"But," he continued, "the American Federation of Labor, or the United Textile Workers, is not bigger than the State of North Carolina even if they think they are, nor do they have the right to pull a man's furniture from his home."

Hoffman, Lawrence Hogan, Del Lewis, and Wes Fowler are charged with rioting and resisting officers in connection with an attempt of officers to restore the furniture of an alleged strike breaker in the Clinchfield mill village, after a crowd of union pickets and strikers were said to have removed it.

Mr. Washburn described the crowd in the village during the alleged riot as "a milling, cursing mob that threw sticks and stones and brick bats."

Declaring that "everything was done around Marion until Hoffman came here," Mr. Washburn accused the textile leader of "preaching lawlessness, rioting, violence and bloodshed to Marion mill workers."

Five hours of argument remained when court convened at 9:30 a. m. today, after a Thanksgiving recess. In consequence the case is not expected to reach the jury until late this afternoon.

Mr. Charles Hutchins, of Burnsville, was first defense speaker today. He referred to the five private attorneys assisting Solicitor Will Pless, Jr., as "mill paid attorneys of the bloody prosecution which is fighting Hoffman because he represents the only friend of the American laboring man—the American Federation of Labor."

Mr. Hutchins praised the work of the Federation in fighting communism and pointed to its war record. He accused Sheriff Oscar F. Adkins, one of the officers the men are charged with resisting, with working for the mills against his own people. Mr. Hutchins also referred to the riot October 2 in which six strikers were killed, allegedly by deputy sheriffs.

"The creation danger to the dignity of the state is abuse of the law by officers of the law," Mr. Hutchins continued. "Testimony shows that Constable B. L. Robbins, another officer the defendants are charged with resisting, kicking and seriously injured a 16-year-old girl picket."

W. T. Morgan, Marion attorney, continued the prosecution argument. "The statement that 'the cotton mills have a right to use their property as they wish as you have a right to use your farms.' The jury pickets of nine farmers, one carpenter, one furniture worker, and a chain store manager."

Mr. Morgan said the issue in the trial was "whether we shall have the law enforced or mob rule." He also said that any man had the "personal liberty" to work for whom he wished.

Mr. Morgan devoted much time to the part of the testimony about the union pickets having called the alleged strike breakers "scabs" and "other names. He repeated the epithets several times and defined them in detail. He said the purpose of the pickets was to convert those who opposed them with sticks."

Mr. Morgan's argument concluded in a rousing session. A torney Thomas A. Jones, of Asheville, will conclude for the defense and Solicitor Pless for the state in the afternoon session.

Byrd Not Surprised At Brother's Flight to the South Pole

Byrd Not Surprised At Brother's Flight to the South Pole

Byrd, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Gov. Harry Byrd of Virginia said here today that he was not surprised to learn that his brother, Commander Richard E. Byrd, had hopped off from his base, Little America, in the Antarctic, for a flight to the South Pole and return.

Governor Byrd said that he knew that his brother was contemplating the flight at about this time but that he had no knowledge of his departure until notified by Associated Press dispatches.

Commander Byrd said the family had received personal messages from his brother within the past week but that they contained no reference to a date having been set for the flight. The governor attended the North Carolina-Virginia football game at Chapel Hill. Governor Byrd came to Raleigh by air and returned to Richmond by the same mode of travel this morning.

SAYS SIMMONS LOSING OUT IN 1ST DISTRICT

Pasquotank Man Says Senator Will Have Trouble In Winning Next Election

Raleigh, Nov. 29.—(AP)—J. Kenyon Wilson, representative in the North Carolina General Assembly from Pasquotank county for the last three sessions of the legislature, predicted while here today that Senator F. M. Simmons will have trouble in carrying the first congressional district of the State next year if a strong candidate opposes him.

Raleigh, these days, is buzzing with senatorial political gossip. W. P. Stacy, chief justice of the State Supreme court; J. W. Bailey, Raleigh attorney; and Willis J. Brogden, associated justice of the Supreme court, are being mentioned in supposedly well-informed circles as the most likely men to make the race against Senator Simmons. None of the three men however, will definitely affirm or deny intention to center the lists.

Mr. Wilson, who was offered the position of assistant director of the budget by Gov. O. Max Gardner, called attention to the fact that Governor Alfred E. Smith polled a heavy vote in the first district last year and expressed belief that this indicated the Democrats in his home district refused to follow the lead of Senator Simmons in his Anti-Smith fight.

Hunting Accidents Claim Two Lives in the Southland

Atlanta, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Thanksgiving day hunting accidents in the south wrote a casualty list of two dead and five wounded. A single shot inflicted wounds upon three brothers.

Mervin Hooks, 14, was shot to death near Tallapoosa, Ga., by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of Grady Edgar, George Thornton, 24, of Montgomery, Ala., reached to lift his shotgun from its resting place beside a tree, and stumbled, struck the weapon and fired it. He died of wounds in the head.

Virgil Bell, 8, dropped his father's squirrel hunting gun at Vanderport, Ark., and the weapon went off probably fatally wounding his brother, Harry, sending a part of the charge into another brother, Champ, and wounding himself in the leg.

Wilbur E. Folsom, 17, and W. E. Hayes, 13, suffered slight wounds in the accidental discharge of hunting guns near Augusta and Atlanta, Ga., respectively.

Bandits Rob Pie Concern of $18,000

Chicago, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Seven men entered the office of the Case and Martin pie company Thanksgiving day, broke open the safe and escaped with approximately $18,000. The bandits rounded up the eight employees in the plant, tied their hands and feet together and placed sacks over their heads. One of the gang apparently had a police record. His mask slipped and one of the employees caught a glimpse of his face.

MISS DAVIS HOSTESS TO END OF CENTURY CLUB

The End of the Century Club held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the administration building at the college, with Miss Davis as hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. L. C. Arthur, and business disposed of.

The program was in charge of Mrs. J. L. Fleming and the subject "The Latest in Music."

Miss Mamie E. Jenkins of the college faculty, gave a sketch of Pacerevski. This was particularly interesting to the club as he is to give a recital here during the winter.

Miss Jenkins spoke of him as a Polish pianist and diplomat. After the outbreak of the world war in 1914, he worked for the cause of Polish independence, helping to formulate the peace treaty. In 1919 he became premier and minister for foreign affairs for six months, and in this capacity signed the treaty of Versailles. This sketch was followed by a musical one of Pacerevski's own compositions, played by Mrs. Hearne.

An interesting and instructive outline of the Pulitzer Prize Book, the American Orchestra and Theodore Thomas was also given by Mrs. C. W. Hearne.

The guests of the afternoon were Mesdames Jeter, Bradsher and Miss Morris. After refreshments were served by the hostess, the club adjourned to meet December 10, with Mrs. E. B. Ficklen.

Man Kills Wife And Then Self

Chicago, Nov. 29.—(AP)—There were two motives offered today to explain the Thanksgiving day double tragedy in the Gold Coast apartment of the James Barrett Pauleys, ill health and market losses.

Pauley shot his wife as she sat weeping a cross word puzzle. He then entered the bathroom and killed himself with the same revolver.

Both had been in ill health for some time, and there was evidence that they had suffered heavy losses in the stock market. There was nothing, however, to indicate that murder and suicide had been contemplated, and police today were still trying to find out what particular incident prompted Pauley to act just at the time the couple were preparing to attend a Thanksgiving Day dinner at the home of friends.

Pauley's physician said the middle aged company executive was seriously ill several months ago. The doctor did not believe, however, that the present state of Pauley's health was such as to lead him to seek release by death.

Like-wise, a cursory examination of the Pauleys' stock accounts did not indicate that the losses had been ruinous, even though they were considerable.

Byrd's Expedition Brings International Question to Front

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Mander Richard E. Byrd's aerial expedition into the frigid wastes of the Antarctic has brought up an international question which, in time, may require diplomatic negotiation by the London and Washington governments.

The question is that of national title to the land in the South Polar region, much of which is claimed by Great Britain on the ground of discovery and previous exploration.

For the time being America is avoiding a discussion of the issue.

A little more than a year ago, the London government dispatched a note to the United States setting forth that the various governments of the British commonwealth were watching the progress of the Byrd expedition closely because of their own interest in the territory involved.

A statement of British policy in the Antarctic, evolved at the Imperial conference of 1926, was enclosed, which defined the areas to which Great Britain claims title.

The not lay in the State Department files for a full year, lacking two days, and on November 15, last, an answer was sent to London acknowledging its receipt and expressing regret at the tardiness of the reply.

In addition, the American note said that since the British statement of policy had been transmitted solely for the information of the Washington government, there was no need for any comment "at this time." Thus, consideration of the question of Antarctic territorial rights was postponed.

The British statement claimed title to the outlying part of coast land not included in the Falkland dependencies, Enderby Land, Kemp Land, Queen Mary Land, Wilkes Land, King George V. Land, and Oates Land.

South England Is Flooded By Big Rainfall

London, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Storms which yesterday struck the English Channel today developed into a 24-hour rainfall for all of South

England. Many roads and fields in South Wales, the midlands, and western and southern counties were flooded and made impassable. Some fishermen said it has been the wettest November ever known in this wet country.

Fog and gale forced the steamer Goletta ashore near Wexford. But its position was not dangerous and it was expected to float it with high tide. Several barges were in difficulties yesterday near Deal on the south-east coast and ten men were rescued from a trawler in the heavy weather at Newton Hall, Kincardineshire, Scotland. No loss of life thus far has been recorded.

RURAL LIFE OF SOUTH HAS FINE FUTURE

Investigation Shows Country Has All Conditions to Prosperous Life

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The investigations of the bureau of reclamation in the south have shown that this section of the country has all the conditions for an attractive and prosperous rural life.

In his annual report today, Commissioner Mead of the reclamation service, lists these material conditions as long growing seasons, adequate rainfall, soils which are adequately fertilized, land flat or gently rolling where injury from frost can be easily controlled. In addition it has fine transportation facilities and nearness to the largest cities of the country.

The south needs, Dr. Mead said, planned and organized rural communities which will be little worlds to themselves, co-operating not only to make the best use of their own farms but to broaden their markets and effect economies in sales by combined efforts and resources.

There are many sections, he said, which should be hopeful and prosperous which have a declining and decadent rural life. This is wholly due to economic and human conditions which can and should be improved.

The lessons of the demonstration farm and extension service, now supplied by valuable agricultural agencies operating in the south, Dr. Mead said, go unheeded by the tenant farmer living on a low income with a dead social existence and following much the same practices as those around them.

Little has been done by the bureau in connection with the investigation of the planned group settlement in the south under an appropriation of $15,000 carried by the act of March 7, 1928. A preliminary survey of a tract of land near Artesia, N. C., and river tracts suggested by state authorities of Florida located in Jefferson, Union, Volusia, Hardee and Broward counties has been made.

A bill authorizing the creation of organized rural communities in the south was introduced in Congress last year. A favorable report was given the bill by the Senate committee on reclamation and irrigation on June 3, but no further action was taken.

Dr. Mead reported that a study of the economic and social conditions in the south had been made by Dr. E. C. Branson, of the University of North Carolina and published by the bureau.

Student of Earth Disturbances Dead At Capital City

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Father Francis A. Torndorf, director of the Georgetown University Seismological Observatory, and widely known as a student of earth disturbances, died here today.

His death came unexpectedly. He appeared at a dinner with other priests and college officials as usual last night but this morning when he failed to appear, associates went to his room to find him dead in bed. He apparently had succumbed to a heart attack during the night. Torndorf was one of the foremost seismologists of the world.

One of his most notable pieces of work was placing of the Japanese earthquake of 1923 many hours before the world at large heard about this major catastrophe.

RELIEVED HER BAD HEADACHES

Kentucky Lady Suffered If She Traveled or Worked Too Hard.

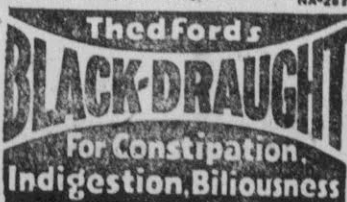

Science Hill, Ky.—"My husband and I both use Black-Draught, and have for about ten or twelve years," says Mrs. W. M. Foster, of this place.

"I used to have very severe, sick headaches, especially if I took a trip, or worked too hard. These headaches would last about two days and nights, leaving me nervous and weak for some days.

"I found that if I would begin taking Black-Draught—a few doses—I would get relief in a few hours. "Black-Draught" seemed to act so well, relieving me of the bloated and uncomfortable feeling after meals.

"I cannot say enough for Black-Draught. It relieves constipation, and is an all-around good medicine."

Theford's Black-Draught has been found to relieve sick headache in thousands of cases that were due to constipation or biliousness. Containing no mineral drugs, Black-Draught acts gently, helping the organs to drive out the poisons and regain a normal state of healthy activity.

Bodies of Dead U. S. Soldiers Reach New York

New York, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The bodies of 75 American soldiers who embarked for the World War while the nation sang "The Yanks are Coming," and kept rendezvous with death where sluggish rivers creep toward the Arctic Circle, came back to the homeland today—to half-mast flats, a 17-gun salute, and slow funeral music.

The bodies, recovered from five fronts in the Russian province of Archangel, were those of men who fell in 1918-19, while serving with the allied contingent sent to guard supplies at Archangel, and prevent the Germans from establishing a submarine-base on the Delta of the Dvina river after collapse of the Russian government.

Detroit, honoring in particular members of the 339th Infantry, "Detroit's own," the state of Michigan, from which most of the men enlisted, New York State, and New York City through the Federal government in tribute.

Representatives of various civic and patriotic organizations boarded the steamship President Roosevelt at quarantine after her arrival with the bodies. Wreaths were laid on the flag-draped metallic coffin of one of the 24 unidentified dead selected at random to represent the whole group.

Union Organizer Freed Under Bond

Charlotte, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Joseph Harrison, Passaic, N. J., national textile workers union organizer under sentence of 17 to 20 years in prison was released from the county jail today on $5,000 cash bond pending appeal. With five other union leaders and members he was convicted in October of the murder of O. F. Aderholt, chief of police of Gastonia, during a strike disturbance.

Only two of the six are still in jail. These are Clarence Miller, New York Communist educator, and George W. Carter, Passaic, N. J., both under sentence of 17 to 20 years. Fred Erwing Beal, who organized the strike at the Loral mill in Gastonia; Louis McLaughlin, W. M. McGinnis and K. Y. Hendricks already had been released.

With the release of Harrison it was announced by Attorney J. Frank Flowers that he had been retained by the American Civil Liberties union to file suit for damages against 14 men held recently in connection with the death of Mrs. Ella May Wiggins in a riot Sept. 14. The suit would be one behalf of the dead woman's children.

BERG TO CAPTAIN IDAHO
Pocatello, Idaho, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Howard Berg, husky half-back, will captain the 1930 University of Idaho football team. He was elected at the university club dinner here last night. Berg was one of the mainstays on his team this year.

NEW FOOTBALL HISTORY MADE IN CAROLINAS

SPORTS SLANTS

Starting blocks have come to stay as a distinct advancement in track equipment, if the overwhelming sentiment of college coaches and officials has anything to do with it, and it probably has. The older guard of the Amateur Athletic union has declined for the time being to go so far as the National Collegiate A. A. in unqualifiedly adopting the foot blocks for sprinters and hurdlers but the A. A. U. reactionaries though it may seem at times, believes firmly in the advantage of using the blocks.

Like the tenth-second watches, however, the blocks have arisen as a bugaboo to the record-breakers, such as George Simpson of Ohio State, because of the fact that International athletic authorities have been slow to accept innovations in practice and equipment. The I. A. A. F. did not accept the tenth-second watch until it was too late to put Charles Paddock's 100-yard record of 9.5-10 on the books. The same ruling powers may not adopt the starting blocks, or sanction their use, in time to certify the record of 9.5-10 made by Simpson at Chicago last June.

split on the subject but a majority do not regard the blocks as necessarily productive of faster sprinting time. So long as the runner covers 100 yards solely under his own power, it hardly seems reasonable that the getaway from blocks, on a level with the ground, will inspire any more speed than the charge out of holes dug in the cinders.

"As I see it," said George Bresnahan, Iowa track coach, "the chief advantages are that the use of blocks standardizes the starting, avoids the hazards of having holes made in the track and speeds up the meet."

On the other hand, Lawson Robertson, Olympic head coach, believes the blocks give a distinct advantage permitting a longer starting stride, and Charlie Paddock regards them as good for at least a yard advantage at the outset of a race.

It's an interesting debate and likely will go on until the International A. A. F. meets in Berlin next May to do something about it. Already the American advocates of the blocks have shipped samples abroad for foreign delegates to test and examine.

St. Louis, with its huge new arena seating 21,000 and big enough to envelop Madison Square Garden so far as interior dimensions go, is bidding strongly for a place in the fistic spotlight. The Missouri metropolis failed in an effort to land the amateur fistic plumb of the year, the 1930 National A. A. U. championships, which were awarded to Boston again, but is rapidly taking rank with other big centers in fistic prominence.

Co-eds have invaded every male stronghold at the University of Missouri except the study of medicine.

Yesterday's games gone into the record, will also settle down to practice for a December 7 game in the Duke Stadium. Despite their licking by Davidson, the Blue Devils could get a tie for the state title by whipping the Tar Heels.

Duke and North Carolina, with

TULANE WINS GAME FROM LOUISIANANS

Atlanta, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Sweeping aside all opposition and climaxing their drive with a 21 to 0 victory over their old rival, Louisiana State, Tulane's Green Warriors today had realized their hopes of completing the season undefeated and laying a strong claim to the southern conference gridiron championship.

The teams which the Greenies vanquished included Georgia Tech, Auburn, Georgia, Mississippi Aggies, Sewanee, Louisiana State of the conference and the Texas Aggies and two minor state opponents.

Tennessee, until yesterday a co-holder with Tulane of the conference leadership, dropped from the ranks of the mighty by virtue of a 6 to 6 tie with the Kentucky Wildcats. Tennessee previously had captured five straight conference battles.

Duke also is undefeated within the conference but the Blue Devils have played only two games with circle members and have but one open program. Duke dropped a close 13 to 12 decision to Davidson yesterday.

The North Carolina Tar Heels ran riot at Chapel Hill to give the Virginia Cavaliers the soundest whipping in all their thirty four years of rivalry. The score was 41 to 7.

Harry Mehre's Georgia Bulldogs opened another surprise package at Birmingham to turn back the favored Crimson Tide of Alabama 12 to 0. The Bulldogs checked every effort put forward by the Tuscaloosa clan and even the mighty Tony Holm could do but little damage.

Turning their heavy artillery on Virginia Poly, the Cadets of Virginia Military Institute sent a heavy barrage into the Blacksburg machine and wound up with a 14 to 0 victory and the state championship tucked safely away.

The Commodores of Vanderbilt triumphed over the Sewanee Tigers 26 to 6. A fleet halfback, Paul McGaughey, scored all of Vanderbilt's four touchdowns.

The Florida Alligators, with a Sophomore halfback Luke Dorsett, leading the way, were victorious over the Generals of Washington and Lee 25 to 7 for the sixth consecutive year.

Auburn's Tigers threw a scare into the camp of the Georgia Tech engineers in their thirtieth meeting but finally succumbed before the superior play of the Atlanta team 19 to 6.

The Mississippi Aggies and the University of Mississippi ended their state championship battle in a 7 to 7 draw.

After a shaky start, the old liners of Maryland came back strong to thrash John Hopkins 39 to 6. Clemson had a close call at the hands of Furman. The Bengals won 7 to 6, a successful kick after touchdown being their margin of victory.

The Chattanooga Moccasins, last year's southern intercollegiate athletic association rulers, continued their march to another championship by putting the skids under the Oglethorpe Petrels 16 to 6 in the feature attraction of the junior southern organization.

The Moccasins have won six games, while the Citadel, which won over Wofford 7 to 0 yesterday, has five victories. Spring Hill won its fourth triumph by beating Union of Tennessee 40 to 0, and Centre brought its total of victories to four by wallowing Georgetown of Kentucky 15 to 0.

Ward Increases Scoring Lead

Galloping Jimmy Ward's pair of touchdown jaunts against Virginia yesterday shot him further into the individual scoring race in North Carolina while his Tar Heel team prepared to set an all-time scoring record for the State.

Ward's 12 points ran his total up to 66, a margin of 1 point over Pete William's 41 points against the Cavaliers put the team total to 298, an average of 331-9 points a game.

Yank Spaulding, Ward's team mate, threatened William's standing with a four-point gain, bringing his total to 50 points. Williams has 53, but Elon has concluded its season while Spaulding may be additional scoring chances against Duke next week.

Cheek of Guilford, leaped up among the 10 leading scorers by registering all his team's 13 points against Lynchburg. The day's performance ran his total to 34.

The only change Thanksgiving brought in team scoring standing as Catawba's vault of the idle High Point Panthers. The Indians reached a total of 53 points to 46 for High Point.

Gets on Social Register

New York—Elinor Norwegian girl, who immigrated recently and got a job as cranberry maid, is in the social register, for a year at least.

The latest issue notes that Miss Adelaide Ingebretsen was married to William W. Wilcox, Jr., at Oyster Bay Nov. 6. Wilcox, Sr., steel magnate has forgiven the elopers and presented them a house on his estate. The register omits Mr. and Mrs. James J. Tunney, whose marriage it noted last year. It mentions Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

MINISTER SUCCEUMS TO ATTACK OF INDIGESTION

Bridgeport, Conn. 29.—(AP)—The Rev. Charles Mercer Hall, rector of Trinity Episcopal church and son-in-law of the late Judge A. B. Parker, Democratic candidate for president in 1904, is dead here after an attack of acute indigestion on Thanksgiving day. He was born in New York sixty five years ago.

He was ordained in 1881, served in Asheville, N. C., for eleven years and was for eighteen years in charge of Kingston, N. Y., parish. He had been acting as diocesan missionary in Dallas, Texas.

He is survived by his wife, Berna Parker Hall and two children, Alton Parker Hall, of Fairfield, and Mrs. Theodore Oxholm of Staten Island, N. Y.

Hopes for World Peace

Southampton, England, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Prior to sailing on the Leviathan today for New York, Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state said: "I have great hopes of world peace and for the five power naval conference to be held in London."

"Such things however cannot be accomplished in a hurry; they must evolve gradually."

Camels have always welcomed comparison with any other cigarette because the true test of value is the pleasure to be found in smoking.

The most important thing for smokers to know is that genuine cigarette quality must begin with the selection of tobaccos. Nothing can take the place of quality tobacco. Thus the extraordinary goodness of Camels begins with the choicest tobaccos grown and these are blended with expert skill to achieve the mildness and surpassing fragrance of this great cigarette. It is this genuineness of quality which smokers appreciate when they have passed the experimental stage and know real smoking pleasure.

CLARK AND GORHAM TRACTS
On Old Greenville-Tarboro Road, Greenville Township,

AT AUCTION

Wed. Dec. 4th At 11:00 A. M.

TERMS: 15 Per Cent Cash, Balance in Ten Years.

This valuable farm, consisting of 1,350 acres, with dwellings and the necessary stables, barns, and pack houses to give each tract sufficient buildings and barns, has been subdivided into small farms and will be sold at public auction.

Farm lands, in the past few years have been selling at low prices and, for the most part, should be bought at this time.

An editorial in the Pennsylvania Farmer says: "Good farm land can be bought now for fewer dollars per acre than when livestock, dairy products, and poultry products were worth only one-third as much as they command now. It can be bought for fewer dollars per acre than when grains were worth half their current price. The purchase can be financed now at less cost than then. If these things are true, why isn't good land a good buy? It is, for the right man—the man who knows how to use land, who is industrious and careful, who wants a home of his own enough to work and sacrifice for it, who has a wife with the same ideas about it. To such persons good land is a sound investment right now. For such persons it will make money, not only by operation, but by increase in market value."

SUNDOWN STORIES

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER.

THE TURKEYS

"Gobble, gobble, gobble, gobble," came the sounds. "Are we going to see some turkeys?" asked John and Peggy, as they went off with the Little Black Clock.

"Yes," said the Little Black Clock, "and I've turned the three back several weeks. We will listen to what they have to say, but we will stay a little distance off so they will not be shy before us."

The Little Black Clock led Peggy and John near a barnyard where many turkeys were strutting about. "We're being gloriously fed these days," one of the turkeys remarked.

"They are so good to us," said another turkey. "Don't be foolish," said an old grandfather turkey; "they are not being good to you."

"They are feeding you up so you'll be fat and tender for Thanksgiving Day. They'll eat you." "Gobble, gobble, gobble," said all the turkeys. "They will eat us."

"They will eat you on the day in which they give thanks," said the old grandfather turkey. The turkeys thought about it for a little while.

Then they all said, "Gobble, gobble, gobble," once again, and the first turkey spoke once more: "Let them eat us on Thanksgiving Day if they wish. They have been giving us a fine lot of meals. Let us be thankful too, that we're not eaten on any ordinary Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, but on Thanksgiving Day—a most important day."

"Gobble, gobble, gobble, we all agree," said the others.

A SECOND DINNER
"Come along to the banquet," said the Little Black Clock.

"Hurry, it will be waiting for us," John and Peggy followed the Little Black Clock as he led them to a most gorgeous banquet hall. Never had they seen such a place. It was so large and it had a fine long table set with all sorts of delicious things to eat.

"I've turned the time back only a day," said the Little Black Clock; "but now you will be able to have a second Thanksgiving dinner."

Never had John and Peggy known anything like this before, but they certainly thought it was a rare and splendid treat. They all of a sudden looked at the good things to eat on the table and felt very hungry. No other guests were at the table. The places were set for three. John and Peggy and the Little Black Clock sat down.

And do you want to know what they had to eat? They had celery soup; and celery and nuts and fruit were upon the table all the time, too. They had the most delicious turkey with dressing and gravy, sweet potatoes and squash and cranberry jelly, pumpkin pie for dessert.

The Little Black Clock talked to them while they ate. He told them of his early days as a clock when he kept the ordinary time.

"I've had two helpings of things before," Peggy said, "but I've never had two real Thanksgiving dinners before like this."

"You're a peach, Little Black Clock," said John enthusiastically. He felt full and happy.

"Well, not exactly that! But I know what you mean and I'm enormously pleased at the compliment—enormously."

overwhelming demand for the new-processed "STANDARD" Gasoline . . . thousands of motorists prove for themselves the superiority of this wonderful HIGH-TEST gasoline . . .

It's barely four weeks since we announced the new-processed "Standard" Gasoline. But in these four weeks thousands of motorists have bought AND TESTED this extraordinary fuel. They have written to us. They have talked to our pump men. They have even telephoned their local dealers.

They called its performance record "startling"—"the best yet"—"wonderful in traffic for women drivers"—"it pass everything on the road"—"a new lease of life for the old 1923 model"—"fine for cold mornings"—and so on.

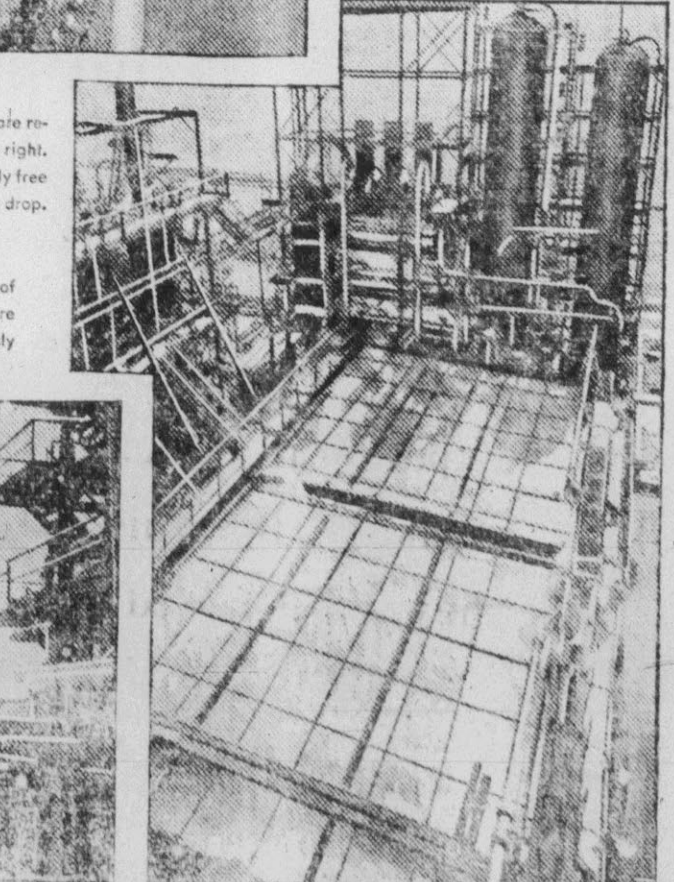

ACRES AND ACRES of giant-sized separators—running at full speed to give a higher yield of better, purer gasoline from the same amount of charging stocks. This is why new-processed "Standard" Gasoline sells at no extra price.

NO LIQUID DROPS. The outlet control on every "Standard" refinery storage tank is raised well above the ground to prevent the last few gallons in the tank from reaching your motor. Every precaution is used to preserve "Standard" purity.

CRACKING OUT "IMPURITIES." The heavier oil is removed in the great separator systems shown at the right. New-processed "Standard" Gasoline is absolutely free from all foreign elements. Every drop is a power drop.

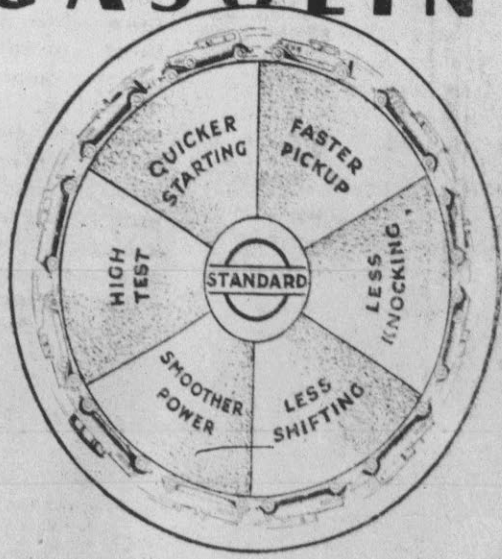

CAREFULLY GUARDED is every step in the refining of new-processed "Standard" Gasoline. "Central men" are stationed everywhere throughout the plant continuously checking, day and night.

To meet the increasing demands of our enthusiastic and loyal friends, we have speeded up at the refinery. Speeded up our service at the pumps. Tried to make even more perfect than before our entire scheme of operations.

And in case you have not been fortunate enough to test for yourself this really superior gasoline, and watch it deliver the goods under any or all road and weather conditions, we ask you to do it today.

On sale everywhere. At no advance in price. At all "Standard" pumps.
