DOZEN LIVES CLAIMED BY COLD IN WEST

One Person Also Reported Dead in East As Result of Frigid Weather

Chicago, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Bitter cold, made worse by a penetrating northeast wind, set new November sub-zero marks throughout the middle west today.

Eleven deaths were attributed to the cold. Thousands of cases of pneumonia and suffering required attention. Business and traffic were paralyzed. Lake shipping, with ranges worth millions, huddled in the exclusion of harbors, facing the prospect of becoming ice-locked for the winter.

In the Chicago area temperatures of eight below zero were recorded in many places. Sub zero was the rule rather than the exception throughout the middle west. In many places, especially in the Great Lakes region, the wind carried snow, although the fall was generally light. Seven deaths in Chicago were blamed on the extreme cold. There were two deaths in Ohio, one in Wisconsin and one in Indiana.

On the Great Lakes it is the "rambling season," as they call it; this period when regular insurance rates expire. Tomorrow the rates jump, making the problem of shipping a serious one for owners of craft laden with merchandise, grain and coal valued in the millions. A small fleet of ships, hung with ice was waiting out the storm at the west harbor today. Other craft were at Whitefish Point and at Houghton.

Several points in the northwest where temperatures in the minus fifties were reported yesterday, had experienced a moderation today, although the territory remained so cold as to be usual of this time of year.

New York, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The entire east, for the first time this season, was in the grip of a sub-freezing temperature today.

In New York City the thermometer dropped to 29 degrees above zero last night, the coldest of the season. A 38-mile northwest wind added to the discomfort and logging houses patronized by the unemployed were jammed to capacity.

One death was recorded, a woman in Staten Island freezing to death in her back yard after she apparently had fainted while taking out some ashes.

Freezing temperatures were general in New York state, New England, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Two inches of snow fell at Malone, N. Y., and the temperature dropped to 4 degrees above zero. Buffalo experienced its coldest Nov. 29 in 38 years with a temperature of 11 degrees above zero.

In Pennsylvania, the lowest Nov. temperature on record was accompanied in many places by snow flurries. At Pittsburgh the thermometer dropped to 9 above zero. At Hazelton it was one degree lower.

Atlanta, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Bitter winds carried temperatures below the freezing point today as the second cold snap of the season reached the southland. Clear skies prevailed generally, but a thin blanket of snow enveloped parts of Kentucky and Virginia.

The wintry weather was expected to penetrate the Gulf Coast, but relief for the entire south was in prospect by tomorrow. Only minor traffic mishaps had been reported and there were no known casualties.

Kentucky felt the full force of the cold's icy breath. The thermometer reading at Louisville was less than ten degrees above zero late last night, and was dropping slowly early today. Western North Carolina and Tennessee were prepared for low marks between 10 and 20 degrees below the mercury would reverse its course.

Temperatures ranged between 25 and 35 along the Atlantic Coast as far south as the Carolinas. Savannah reported comparatively mild weather in the low forties while Louisiana and Mississippi enjoyed similar conditions. The average in North Georgia, however, early today was about 25 degrees.

In northern Alabama and Tennessee a stiff northwest wind had brought a minimum in the low twenties.

The heaviest snow in Virginia was three inches at Bristol. The flakes also covered mountain tops in Kentucky and flurries of snow were experienced in other sections of Virginia.

Cold Claims One Life

Chicago, Nov. 29.—(AP)—The sub-zero weather claimed its first life in Racine, Wis., today. The frozen body of Nick Smolinski, 45, was found in a field in a sparsely settled section of the city.

Strikers Convicted Of Riot Charge At Marion And Sentenced To Jail

Marion, N. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Alfred Hoffman, union organizer, and Lawrence Hogan, Del Lewis and Wes Fowler, strikers from local cotton mills today were convicted by a jury in McDowell Superior court of rioting. They were acquitted of charges of resisting officers.

Hoffman was fined $1,000 and sentenced to one month in jail; and Fowler, Hogan and Lewis were each given six months on the chain gang. The charges against Hoffman and the three strikers grew out of efforts of strikers at the Clinchfield and Marion Manufacturing company mills here to prevent a non-union worker moving into the Clinchfield mill village. The trouble occurred on August 30.

Sheriff O. F. Adkins and other officers testified that the furniture of a non-union worker had been moved out of the house into which he had moved when starting to work at the mill and officers had been prevented from returning it. As a result of the demonstration troops which had been billeted in Marion as a precaution, were called to the village and remained on duty for some time.

The case had been on trial more than a week. It went to the jury at 5:30 o'clock last night. The verdict was reported at 9:25 o'clock this morning.

Hoffman has led several strikes in textile mills of the south within the last year. Some months ago he was kidnapped in Elizabethtown, Tenn., and taken to Asheville. Soon after this he went to Marion.

Hogan is a student at Brookwood Labor college, Ketchikan, N. Y. The jury's verdict carried a recommendation of mercy. Judge G. V. Cooper, presiding, overruled motions of the defense that the verdict be set aside, asserting that he thought that "the evidence fully sustained the verdict."

Attorney Thomas M. Jones for the defense pointing out the jury recommendation suggested only fines. He said Hoffman was in ill health and that Fowler was crippled and in ill-health. Lewis, he said, formerly was an inmate of the State Hospital for the Insane.

Judge Cooper after asserting that the evidence sustained the verdict said that the governmental policy of North Carolina was as favorable to labor as any in the country. He also cited Chief Justice Taft's opinion that there could be no such thing as "peaceful picketing."

The judge said that in his opinion the charge in this trial was "too light" and that most states had made rioting a greater crime than a misdemeanor. "It is amazing to this court that in view of favorable North Carolina labor laws, anyone should disobey the law and resort to violence." The sentence he was about to impose, he said, was "in no conflict with the right of labor to organize."

The defense gave notice of appeal and bonds were fixed at $2,000 each.

GERMANY TO CAST VOTE ON YOUNG PLAN

Nationalist Bill for Rejection of Plan Defeated in Reichstag Today

Berlin, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The Nationalist bill for rejection of the Young plan was defeated in the Reichstag today and the measure will now be referred to a referendum by the German people on Dec. 22.

The first of the four sections of the proposed law "against enslavement of the German people" was defeated and the second section was voted down by acclamation.

The terms of the bill, about which much controversy has centered, were as follows:

(1)—The German government shall notify all foreign powers immediately and solemnly that the enforced acknowledgment of war guilt in the treaty of Versailles is contrary to historical truth, is based on false premises and is not binding in international law.

(2)—The German government shall use all endeavors to secure the annulment of the war guilt acknowledgment contained in article 231 and articles 429 and 430 of the treaty of Versailles. It shall also undertake to secure the immediate and unconditional evacuation of the occupied German territories without any remaining control commissions, independently of the acceptance or the rejection of the League convention.

(3)—No further financial burdens or obligations based on the war guilt acknowledgment shall be assumed, inclusive of those arising from the recommendations of the Paris reparations experts.

(4)—Chancellor and ministers or representatives of the Reich who lend their signatures to agreements contrary to the provisions of paragraph 3 shall render themselves liable to prosecution for high treason.

A fifth paragraph simply said that the law entered into force at the moment of its proclamation.

In order to present this bill to the Reichstag it was necessary for the Nationalist to obtain 4,000,000 of the electorate at the last presidential election. As it was only with great difficulty that the nationalists succeeded in getting the necessary 4,000,000 signatures, it is generally believed that it will be quite impossible for the bill to obtain a majority in a plebiscite under the country.

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Washington today marveled at Commander Richard E. Byrd's hazardous and successful flight over the icy wastelands of the South Pole and extolled the courage and adventurous enthusiasm of the still-young explorer.

From all sides came expressions of amazement at the extraordinary success of the exploit, praise for the valor of Commander Byrd and his associates and optimistic predictions of the scientific value of the flight.

President Hoover lost no time in transmitting his congratulations to Byrd, far away at his base in Little America. Through the New York Times, the chief executive sent a radio message telling the leader of the expedition of the "university's pleasure" of the American people that his goal had been reached.

"We are proud of your courage and your leadership," Mr. Hoover said. "We are glad of proof that the spirit of great adventure still lives. Our thoughts of appreciation include also your companions in the flight and your colleagues whose careful and devoted preparation have contributed to your great success."

Meanwhile, some thought was given to possible international complications that may arise over the question of national title to the lands over which Commander Byrd flew. Great Britain claims much territory in the Antarctic region on the ground of previous discovery and exploration.

When the present expedition was still in the making, the London government dispatched a note to the United States, telling of its interest in the project because of the land to which it claims title. An enclosure outlined the territory involved. In replying a few weeks ago, the state department acknowledged receipt of the note, but avoided any discussion of the question of ownership of land.

The congratulations of the national geographic society were sent to Commander Byrd by its President, Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor. The flight, he said, adds "another illustrious achievement" to Byrd's "unparalleled record in aerial exploration." The society, he added, is "highly proud" of having had a part in supporting the expedition.

Commits Suicide Because Brother Was Put in Jail

Chicago, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The wages of sin, as the case of the two brothers Feldstein so tragically illustrates, is death. It was Milton Feldstein; and the sin for which he paid with his life was his brother's—Lester's. Milton shot himself yesterday because he could not bear to tell his mother that his brother was in jail for selling jewelry that didn't belong to him.

"I'm in jail," Lester telephoned him. "You know, some of that jewelry we got on credit for our store—the store father left us two years ago—Well, I needed money, so I pawned it. I meant to pay it back, but now the people we bought it from had me arrested. Get together $3,500 and I can redeem it, and, Mit, you tell mother. She's sick, you know, and I—well, I just can't tell her."

Neither could Milton. He shot himself. Police had to tell Mrs. Feldstein. There was nothing this mother could do about one son, but all through she was she began today the battle to save the other.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS ABOUT FARM ACTIVITY

Speakers Present the Farm Problems During 'Farmers' Night' Program

Last night was "Farmers' Night" at the Greenville Kiwanis club, and club members had an opportunity of hearing something about the agricultural development of the county. The program was in charge of W. H. Woodard, vice-president of the Greenville Banking and Trust company, and President Ralph Deid.

In addition to the regular program, the Kiwanians enjoyed a delightful turkey supper and the singing of club songs.

The speakers of the evening were John Carroll, of Winterville, John T. Thorne, of Farmville, and J. J. Galloway, of Grimesland.

All three of the speakers are prominently identified with the farming life of the locality, and they told the Kiwanians many things of interest in connection with need of more attention to the home, believing that this should be instrumental in relieving the hard times existing in this section at certain periods of the year.

Spends Most of His Life In Jail and Likes It, Too

Chicago, Nov. 30.—(AP)—There is nothing quite like a nice, warm, penitentiary, says George Ferguson, who has spent 32 years of his 80 years in first one, then another.

Advised that he was to be released from Joliet penitentiary, Ferguson wrote to the warden at the Auburn, N. Y., prison, stating that while serving a term there under an assumed name he violated his parole. Auburn officers met him at the Joliet prison gates yesterday and Ferguson expressed genuine pleasure at seeing them.

"I've lost contact with life outside," he said. "I wouldn't know what to do if I were free. You've a nice place at Auburn; but I won't knock Joliet. It's nice, too."

Denies Negotiations For Settlement Of Dispute Between China and Japan

Nanking, China, Nov. 30.—(AP)—C. T. Wang, foreign minister of the Nanking central Chinese government, today denied emphatically that direct negotiations were proceeding between China and Russia for settlement of the military problem grown up around the Chinese Eastern Railway in Manchuria.

Commenting upon reports from Geneva that Dr. C. C. Wu, representing the Nanking government at the League of Nations, had had official messages from Nanking of opening of negotiations, the Nanking foreign minister said: "We telegraphed Dr. Wu at Geneva that we had sent Moscow our proposals as published Thursday. Apparently Dr. Wu interpreted that we had reached the stage of direct negotiations. His view is erroneous."

Byrd Makes Successful Flight To South Pole; Voyage Without Mishap

New York, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The New York Times, the St. Louis Dispatch and newspapers affiliated with them in publishing reports from Commander Richard E. Byrd's expedition, announced today that Commander Byrd had returned to his base, "Little America," after a successful flight across the South Pole in which he surveyed much adjacent territory.

The flight was without mishap and everything worked well. The Times announced it had been directed by President Hoover to forward through its wireless station the following message to Commander Byrd:

"Commander Richard E. Byrd, 'Little America.' 'I know that I speak for the American people when I express their universal pleasure at your successful flight over the South Pole. We are proud of your courage and your leadership. We are glad of proof that the spirit of great adventure still lives. Our thoughts of appreciation include also your companions in the flight and your colleagues whose careful and devoted preparation have contributed to your great success.'"

Byrd's three big feats: May 9, 1925, flew to the North Pole and back to King's Bay, Spitzbergen in the airplane Moss, Spitbergen Ford.

June 29, 1927—Crossed the Atlantic in the airplane America from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., to Ver-Sur-Mer, France.

Nov. 29, 1929—Flew from the edge of the Antarctic ice barrier to the South Pole and back in the airplane Floyd Bennett.

By the Associated Press
Commander Richard E. Byrd, safely back at his base, Little America, from a flight to the South Pole, today holds the unique distinction of being the only man to fly over both poles of the earth.

By bending to the use of his courage and skill the tools supplied by modern mechanical and scientific progress, he achieved within three and one-half years what no other polar explorer has accomplished in a life time, visits to the top and bottom of the globe. In flying to the South Pole he did in less than a day what had previously taken more than three months to accomplish. The Antarctic flight was beset with

Market Disposed of Over Million Pounds Before Closing for Thanksgiving

The Greenville tobacco market sold 1,329,868 pounds of tobacco during the three days prior to suspension of sales for the Thanksgiving holidays, according to information given out today by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales. The market paid out $255,184.99. The general average price was given at $19.29.

The report of the supervisor also showed that sales for the season reached the 46,108,394 pound mark. The market paid out for the season a total of $8,836,429 and the general average price was given at $19.16.

The market sold more tobacco than any other market in this belt between Thanksgiving and Christmas last season, and tobacconists today prepared for the handling of large offerings when the market reopens next Monday morning.

A considerable part of the crop yet remains to be sold, and from now until Christmas is expected to witness fairly heavy sales.

British Steamer Sends Out S. O. S.

San Francisco, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The Radio Marine corporation of this city heard an SOS call at 5:25 a. m. today from the British steamer Norwich City, the vessel gave its position as 800 miles north northwest of Honolulu. The message stated only that the ship was in distress.

The Norwich City is an oil driven freighter of 5,587 tons gross. She was built by W. Gray and company, Wharfedale in 1911 for the Reardon Smith line. The ship has a length of 397 feet.

The Norwich City arrived at Mombombourne November 2, and is believed to be bound for Seattle.

RECOMMENDS REVISION OF COTTON RATE

Proposal for Freight Rate Change in the South Presented to I. C. C. Today

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Revised freight rates on cotton through out the south were recommended to the Interstate Commerce commission today by Examiner G. H. Mattingly.

Only slight changes would be made in the southeastern rates under the findings of the examiner. In the southwest the revisions would be more numerous and the present group rates now existing in the section would be generally abolished and mileage rates prescribed. The examiner's recommendations would permit, however, certain groupings in the southwest section.

The report said present rates for local distribution and for movement beyond by water was unduly prejudicial to Mobile and prejudicial to New Orleans and the Texas ports. The differences were greater, the report said, than they would be if the maximum reasonable rates proposed were applied to all ports. Mattingly held there was no reason why through rates at New Orleans should not apply similarly at Mobile.

Establishment of joint rates via rail and water from the southeast to eastern destinations and a new set of schedules for water and rail movement of compressed cotton from the southwest through Mobile was asked by Mobile and these recommendations were incorporated in the examiner's findings.

He also upheld the complaint of Mobile in regard to transit arrangements as compared with New Orleans and recommended that the commission find that failure of the railroads to serve both ports with equal transit arrangements on the southwestern cotton results in undue preference to the Louisiana port.

The investigation had its inception in complaints filed by co-operative cotton growers associations of Arkansas, North Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Arizona, and South Carolina, all members of the American Cotton Growers exchange.

They contended that rates on cotton moving by rail or partly by rail and water from shipping points within those states were unreasonable and asked a flat reduction of at least 20 percent later the complaints were amended to include charges that the relation of the rates on cotton to the rates on all other freight traffic resulted in undue prejudice and disadvantage to cotton in favor of other freight traffic. The demand for the 20 percent reduction was then abandoned.

Mississippi and Oklahoma asked relief under the Hoch-Smith act which gives the commission power to prescribe lower rates where economic depression is held to exist. The examiner and Dr. C. S. Morgan, the commission's economist, held that no depression requiring such a reduction was shown to exist.

Death Removes Threat On Life, Man Returns Home

Johnson City, Tenn., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Death having removed a threat against his life, Ale Artrip was home again today, thirty years, he said, after he fled from the vicinity of Cumberland mountains of Virginia upon freeing himself from a pile of burning logs assembled for his funeral pyre.

Recalling his flight the need mountaineer said Hunt Hall, who is said to have confessed the slaying of Artrip on his death bed, struck him with an axe, robbed him and then left him unconscious in the fire. But he revived in time to escape the flames, according to his story, and left the country not to return as long as Hall lived.

That was in the late nineties. Several years later a human skeleton was found and identified as that of Artrip. Twenty years after he had fled, Hall made his confession and died. Artrip did not hear of Hall's passing until ten years later, meantime making his home in Kentucky and West Virginia.

The gray-haired and long-forgotten man returned to his home on Thanksgiving day, saying news of Hall's death had just reached him, that the man he saw.

James D. C. Murray, defense counsel, brought out that Mrs. Putnam, a widow, had been registered at the hotel with a "Mr. Putnam," whom she said was a man she was engaged to marry. She said he was not at the hotel the night of the shooting.

She still was on the stand under cross-examination when court adjourned until Monday morning.

NAVIGATION IMPROVEMENT IN PROSPECT

Report of Secretary of War Shows Continued Development Is Planned

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Continued improvement of rivers and harbors for navigation was promised today in the annual report of the Secretary of War which asserted that this makes possible the "use and expansion of our most economical form of transportation."

Holding that the rivers and harbors program constitutes "one of the commanding civil activities of the federal government" the report added that the results already attained "have had far-reaching effect on the progress and commercial prosperity of the nation."

Since 1920 Congress had adopted a policy of appropriating a lump sum for rivers and harbors work, leaving to the Secretary of War and the chief of engineers the task of deciding the rate of work and the amount to be spent annually on each approved project.

"This policy has proved decidedly beneficial," the report said. "It permits the War Department to push to early completion the more important works. At the same time by withholding expenditures upon channels lacking in economic benefit, the War Department is enabled to avoid waste of funds upon waterways which because of changed conditions, do not warrant, at present, further expenditure."

Rapid progress is being made, the report said, on the intra-coastal waterway between Atlantic and Gulf ports.

"The Cape Cod Canal," it was explained, "has been in operation as a free waterway since March 31, 1923. The Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, purchased in 1919, has been open to traffic as a sea level canal since 1927. The department has made progress in the detailed economic studies of the New York Bay-Delaware river section. The section from Norfolk, Va., to Beaufort, N. C., has been 90 per cent completed, furnishing transportation facilities for a large area in the sounds of North Carolina not provided with rail facilities."

From Beaufort, N. C. to Cape Fear river a 12 feet channel was authorized by the river and harbor act of 1927 and construction work commenced during this year and is four and one-half per cent completed. Surveys have been made for the section from Cape Fear river, N. C., to St. Johns River, Fla., to replace existing shallow draft channels and a recommendation was submitted to Congress June 29, 1923, calling for the construction of an eight-foot channel between Cape Fear River and Charleston, S. C.

"Progress had been made toward acquisition of rights of way on the section from Jacksonville to Miami, authorized by act of 1927, and work will be started when the conditions of local cooperation have been met."

Construction of Wilson Dam at Muscle Shoals, Ala., has been practically completed, the report said, at a cost of $45,894,404.

"Pending disposition of the Muscle Shoals properties, the sale of power from the hydroelectric plant was continued during the fiscal year under temporary agreements which would not interfere with any action Congress might see fit to take," the report added. "The total receipts from sale of power to June 30, 1929, were $4,639,608 and total operating expenses $750,814."

St. Andrews Society Observes Birthday

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Two hundred years ago a group of 34 men, mostly Scotsmen, met in the colonial metropolis of this city and formed what is now the oldest, and one of the most exclusive, social and charitable organizations in South Carolina—the St. Andrews Society of Charleston. It is the oldest St. Andrews Society in America.

Today, on St. Andrews Day, 200 members of the organization, those who carry on the work started by the original thirty-four, celebrated the 200th anniversary of the founding of the organization. Addresses by various notables along with other features were to mark the day.

The exact day in 1729 when the society was formed is lost in the obscurity of the centuries, for many of the records of the society were destroyed in the wars, fires and other disasters that have visited the city. However, it has been definitely established that the society was formed in 1729, probably on November 30, and that the organization was perfected on St. Andrews' Day the next year.

Charleston was little more than half a century old when the society was formed. Its proceedings reflect the days when Charleston was the social and political center of South Carolina if not the south. The purpose was mainly charitable but the anniversary gatherings, especially, soon became important social occasions. The rules recite that these meetings were to be held "in order to cultivate and maintain a good understanding and acquaintance with one another."

In 1811 the society decided to build its own hall and occupied it in 1815. The building on Broad street, was burned in 1851.

The revolutionary war and the war between the states reduced the resources and activities of the society. But in time its restoration was completed and today it has 200 members—the limit set by the rules—and a waiting list.

THANKSGIVING HISTORY

(By Mary Graham Bonner)

"Oh, what a dreadful cold it is," said John to the Little Black Clock.

"Yes, turned the time back to 1630," explained the Little Black Clock, "and this is the Mayflower you're on."

"The one on which the Pilgrims crossed?" John's sister, Peggy, asked.

"Yes, they're on this boat. They are too busy exploring the coast to notice us. I turned the time back to the twenty-first of November when they first came to the coast—and now I'll move it slowly forward a little so you can see them as they decide to choose to land on the New England coast instead of the New Jersey coast as they had first planned."

And so John and Peggy saw the Mayflower as it actually landed on the Plymouth coast—they saw the small band of Pilgrims get off the boat, they saw the cold, wild, rough coast of New England, and they were thrilled beyond all words at seeing these settlers arriving to make their homes in a new, new land.

As the Little Black Clock took them back home from their trip on the Mayflower he told them a little of Thanksgiving history.

"It was in 1789 that George Washington named Thursday, the 26th of November, as a day in which to give thanks for the blessings of the year.

"It was Abraham Lincoln who picked out the last Thursday in November as a day of general thanksgiving.

"But we've seen so much history and heard so much history this evening that we'll be quite weary if we don't get back and have a rest soon," John said as they turned toward home.

"Don't forget! I'll meet you Monday evening! I'm making plans in my head now," said the Clock.

MRS. LINDSAY SAVAGE ENTERTAINS

Complimentary to Mesdames Glenn, Whittle and Evans.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Lindsay Savage delightfully entertained at bridge at her home in College View. The affair was in honor of her house guest, Mrs. Stuart Evans, of Hemp, N. C., and Mesdames James D. Glenn and W. M. Whittle, of Martinsville, Va., guests of Mrs. E. T. Robeson. In keeping with the Thanksgiving season and approaching Yuletide season, the home was attractively decorated with autumn leaves and holly. High score prize, salad recipes, was awarded Mrs. Whittle, and the low score prize, bath salts, fell to Miss Hennie Whitchard. North Carolina pottery was presented to Mesdames Glenn and Whittle and an embroidered towel to Mrs. Evans.

After a number of spirited games the hostess, assisted by Mesdames John Clark and Whit Harris, served a tempting salad course with coffee.

Fourteen Aircraft Seek Safety Stamp

A dozen airplanes and two autogiros are at Mitchell field seeking to answer that question in tests in the air craft competition sponsored by the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics.

A prize of $100,000 goes to the craft which meets all the requirements and scores the greatest number of points by exceeding the minimum conditions. Awards of $10,000 each will go to the next five craft which will give the best performances.

Nine conditions of safety must be met by the winning aircraft. What is wanted is a plane which will land at a lower speed than the average plane; take off more quickly and climb faster; make flatter and steeper glides, and remain under control at all speeds and altitudes, even though the pilot, owing to weather conditions, is unable to maintain an even keel.

Various means of meeting these conditions are employed by the 14 aircraft entered. Some represent radical departures from conventional design.

Wing slots and wing flaps, variable camber and variable area wings, wings of variable incidence, and just simple aerodynamic stability are employed to meet the conditions of the contest.

Among the unusual departures in design is the monoplane of Vincent J. Burnelli, with wings which may be extended or contracted at the end to vary the area—a problem which has intrigued aeronautical engineers for years. The camber, or curve, of the wings also may be changed.

Another plane of radical design is the Ford-Leigh biplane, the upper wings of which may be moved like the alerons of the conventional plane.

Then there are two autogiros, one of English and one of American manufacture. Their lifting power comes from automatically whirling blades above the fuselage. Their climb is steep and their descent is almost vertical.

Twenty-seven craft were entered in the safety competition, but 13 were either withdrawn or failed to meet conditions.

Barbers Fined for Violating Sanitary Laws. J. P. Smith and Stator Clark, colored barbers of this city, were fined $5.15 each in a hearing before Magistrate Ray Tyson yesterday, charged with violating sanitary precautions of the State Barber Law. They were indicted by L. G. Whitley, state sanitary inspector, following an investigation of the barber shop in which the negroes are employed.

They were charged with violating Sections 3, 4, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 of the state laws, providing for certain sanitary features in connection with tonsorial work.

Fire Destroys Resort in Mass. Hull, Mass., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Much of Nantasket beach was in ruins today. Fire yesterday swept the resort, just outside Boston harbor, destroying five excursion steamers and adjoining waterfront properties. The damage was estimated at $2,000,000.

Firemen were summoned to battle the blaze which started in a ticket booth on the resort pier. Two firemen and a policeman were injured.

Embers, fanned by a 40 mile wind, swept through several hotels, small beach buildings and the state bath house. Blazes were started three quarters of a mile away on the roofs of a dozen cottages and the church of St. Mary of the Assumption. The church steeple was damaged.

Known to thousands of tourists, the five steamboats, the Mary Child, Nantasket, Rose Standish, Betty Alden and Old Colony which were moored at the pier caught fire and were destroyed successively. A low tide and the absence of tugs prevented towing them to safety. They were valued at $350,000 apiece.

Fletcher, N. C.—"I was in bad health during the forty-fifth year of my life; was very nervous and couldn't sleep at night," writes Mrs. James Davenport, of this place. "I was very much troubled with heaviness in my head, and was so weak I could not be up much of the time."

"Every now and then I had hot flashes and was so dizzy I could not walk. I was very uncomfortable. "I read of Cardui; had also had it highly recommended to me by friends. I can truly say it helped me to gain strength."

"I commenced taking Cardui last July, and continued its use until I had taken eleven bottles. I am much stronger now and am enjoying better health than I have had for some time."

Thousands of other women have told how Cardui helped them to build up their health. Cardui is extracted from herbs having high medicinal value, and contains nothing harmful or injurious. This well-known medicine may be just what you need.

Probe Airplane Wreck at Capital

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Naval authorities today asked Washington residents to look for fragments of an aeroplane around their premises, hoping to obtain further clues as to the cause of the crash last week of a Bristol Bulldog plane piloted by Lieutenant George Cuddihy, who was killed.

A part of an aileron board has been found in a street more than a mile away from where the plane came to earth at the Anacostia Air station. This was returned to the naval authorities, and identified as part of Cuddihy's ship. The incident led Commander A. H. Douglas, of the station, to issue the request. Structural failure is believed to be the cause of the accident and a special board of inquiry is investigating.

Ford to Receive Car. Detroit—Henry Ford is to receive a gift, and it will be an automobile. It is one of his own models in which Alvah Wanderwell, lecturer and explorer, and her husband Walter Wanderwell, wandered seven years through 43 countries. At times it was greased with crushed bananas and elephant fat. The Wanderwells bought it second hand for $50.

Dog Faithful to Last. Cobalt, Ont.—Boxer is a shaggy sheep dog, faithful to his master even unto death. At the Ahultain mine, eight miles from Cowanda, he was found stretched across the body of Joseph Fletcher, veteran prospector and caretaker, to keep him warm. Fletcher died a few hours later of pneumonia.

Wishes to thank all of these who had Thanksgiving-Dinner with us and wish to say that in the future our service will be better, as we were short of help and will try to give better service. Please call again. Thanking you all—Respectfully—Mrs. J. R. Askew and Mrs. W. G. Rush.

"TAMING OF THE SHREW" TO BE AT THE COLLEGE. Miss Nettina Strobach of the University of North Carolina is expected on the campus of East Carolina Teachers College Monday to resume her work as coach for the Senior play, "The Taming of the Shrew." This drama is the most comical farce of all Shakespeare's plays and is always pleasing to an audience. It has been on the New York stage constantly and now is appearing as a talkie, starring Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford.

"The Taming of the Shrew" is being given both in modern and Elizabethan costumes on the stage today. The class of '30 decided that the drama was best cast in its own period, so the costumes for the presentation will be entirely Elizabethan in character. Miss Strobach is well acquainted with Shakespearean times and will do all in her power to make the play a success.

THE CHURCH.

By The Rev. William F. Sunday D. D. (Editor of Vision, Religious Magazine).

The church has failed to combat effectively the competition which it is still facing from other interests not anticipated.

If the Christian church is to survive amid the changing turbulent currents of modern thought, it is necessary that the message of Christianity be translated into terms that modern youth can understand, and understanding carry forward.

Just as modern industry, commerce and science need vision, so also the modern church needs it. In its eternal truths and precepts lies its safety.

They are precepts beyond controversy, truths upon which the church can make its challenge and its sure defense.

A SUGGESTION TO OTHERS

The Roxboro Courier notes that the People's Bank of that place has sponsored a movement which has brought in 29 head of registered calves and heifers. These registered pure-bred heifers and calves will insure better cattle. Every bank in the cotton and tobacco sections should follow this good example. In his address at Belhaven Governor Gardner advised the introduction of pure bred sires as the sure course for a farm saver when cotton and tobacco slump. It means more milk and more milk means stronger and healthier children.—News & Observer.

ABOUT TOWN

Have you bought yours? From now until Christmas members of the Woman's club will offer the tiny seals for sale hoping to raise as much money as possible for the relief of tuberculosis sufferers throughout the country.

Similar sales will be conducted in other cities of the nation, and thousands of Christmas packages will bear the tiny seals, carrying as they do their message of one of the greatest causes of the day—the cause of suffering humanity.

It matters not how much you have been called upon to give this year, you can not afford to turn down this opportunity of contributing your part to the campaign for the relief of tuberculosis sufferers. You must realize the terrible inroads which the disease is making in different parts of the country despite the best that can be done on the part of medical men to prevent it, and are willing to do your part in furthering the work.

Greenville people have never failed to respond to a campaign of this kind and it is a safe bet every stamp allotted to this city will be disposed of by the ending of the holiday season.

Remember that the little seals on letters and packages convey silent messages of your spirit of liberality, firm.

Envoy To China

Nelson Truesler Johnson, former assistant secretary of state in charge of far eastern affairs, who succeeds John V. A. MacMurray as minister to China.

therefore, buy until you feel that you have done your part.

Do your bit in making Greenville the most beautiful city in Eastern North Carolina during the holiday season by lending your co-operation to the plan to decorate the business and residential sections. The campaign has already gotten away to a good start in the business district and the next several days will see thousands of additional lights make their appearance on streets and in store windows. The merchants are going to vie with one another in an effort to produce the best decorations and the result should be a scene of splendor indeed.

What we really want to see more than anything else, however, is an elaborately decorated residential district. This can not be accomplished except through the united support of those interested in the beautification of the home. Well lighted Christmas trees should transform the residential sections and do much towards instilling the spirit of the Yule-tide into the hearts of the populace.

If you helped in the decorating last year, why not redouble your effort this year. Decorate yourself, and then interest your neighbor next door in doing the same thing. Proper enthusiasm should produce splendid results, and that is exactly what members of the Merchants Association Christmas Decorating committee are after.

Greenville and Pitt county passed through the Thanksgiving holidays as quietly as any other section of the State.

We were very fortunate in not having any automobile or hunting accidents, and that arrests by city and county officers were at a minimum. It bespeaks great things for the community, and shows that our people were impelled by a true spirit of thanksgiving.

Considering the accidents reported from other sections of the country, Pitt county did herself proud by passing through the holidays without injury or violent death. It is a distinction the entire citizenship could be proud of.

Christmas shopping will get under way in real earnest with the coming of the first of December, and people in this section of the State are given a cordial invitation to come to Greenville and view the splendid offerings of local merchants.

Stocks have been elaborate in the past years, but nothing to compare with the present season. Merchants have bought extensively of gifts for the holiday season and the collection at this time is undoubtedly the finest ever assembled here.

It will pay you to visit the city during the holiday season to inspect the stocks though you may live many miles away. The saving will more than pay the expense of travel, and you will return home with the satisfaction of knowing that you got exactly what you wanted.

Make it a point to visit the city before Christmas and take advantage of the thousands of bargains the merchants have bought for your inspection.

The starting of King Winter is here at last. You will want something to furnish entertainment during the cold nights to follow, so why not let us have your subscription for the Daily Reflector?

This paper receives full leased wire reports from all sections of the world every day, eight hours to the day, and you will be able to pass off perusing accounts of the various happenings.

Think the matter over and let us get the paper started to you before the holiday season. Or if you have some friend, why not send a year's subscription as a Christmas gift?

THIRTEEN DEGREES AT SALISBURY Salisbury, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Citizens of Salisbury shivered last night from a temperature of 13 degrees, it was reported officially here this morning.

Today the sky is clear, with slight breezes blowing. The drop in temperature was sudden, the mercury falling from 40 to 13 during the night.

Farmers Sell Your TOBACCO IN GREENVILLE

Sales were somewhat lighter last week, totaling 3,663,962 pounds for an average price of $21.18 per hundred.

We are selling tobacco daily from practically every county in Eastern Carolina and the farmers say it is paying them to sell in Greenville, even though some of them travel at least 125 miles.

Those in position to absolutely know, say we are highest market and have keener buying competition than any market in the East.

Since Last Season—

Three of the warehouses have made large additions, which gives the market increased floor space of about two acres. Some of the factories have made enlargements to their buildings, installing additional redrying facilities and other equipment. The Greenville tobacco market is decidedly in better position to handle, daily, larger quantities of tobacco than ever before.

Tobacco Warehouses—

Greenville tobacco market has nine (9) large and modern brick warehouses with close to 14 acres floor space, sufficient to accommodate 2,225,000 lbs. of tobacco daily. These warehouses are managed by men of years of experience.

Buyers and Factories—

Greenville tobacco market has four (4) sets of buyers, representing all the important companies in the world, using bright tobacco. Nine (9) larger and modern tobacco factories are located here, additions having been made to several of them since last season, while one new plant has been built.

Roads and Locations—

Greenville tobacco market is located in the heart of Eastern North Carolina. Seven fine hard surfaced roads lead into Greenville. Tobacco growers living 125 miles from Greenville tobacco market sell their tobacco in Greenville and return home same day.

COLD WEATHER FOR FOOTBALL GAME AT N. Y.

New York, Nov. 30.—(AP)—By far the coldest weather of the season in New York prevailed today for the big game at the Yankee Stadium between the Notre Dame and Army football teams.

Grid Officials Fail to Comment On New System

New York, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Football officials and coaches assembled in New York for the annual Notre Dame-Army game were reluctant to comment to any great extent today upon the merits of the new Warner scoring system, tried out here yesterday.

In a game between Brooklyn City College and Long Island University eliminating the point after touchdown and counting each first down as one point, Long Island defeated Brooklyn City by 22 to 11 to win the championship of the New York Metropolitan Conference.

Another feature of the Warner system is that, at the start of the second half, the ball is played from the spot where it rested at the close of the first. With Long Island leading by 18 to 11, Brooklyn City got a big break through this innovation as the first half closed with the ball in Brooklyn's possession on Long Island's three-yard line.

McEver Wins Gridiron Scoring Title of South

By DILLON L. GRAHAM Associated Press Staff Writer Atlanta, Nov. 30.—Running up 97 in eight football games, Gene McEver, Tennessee's swarthy half-back, apparently has won the individual scoring title of the south.

With but a few games remaining there is little likelihood that he will be overhauled. He has made sixteen touchdowns, negotiated one point after touchdown and has yet another game in which to boost his mark as the Volunteers play South Carolina December 7.

Billy Baker of Tulane led short in his final bid for the title Thursday. The Louisiana State Tiger kept him away from their goal but could not halt a couple of his kicks after touchdown and he closed the year with 95 points.

However, against conference opponents alone, Baker leads McEver, the Green Demon has 77 points, with the Knoxville touchdown manufacturer ten points behind.

State Prison Paid $150,000 On Auto License Plates

Raleigh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—State's prison has been paid $150,000 to date this year by the State Revenue Department as part payment for the 1,200,000 automobile license plates being made there, George Ross, P. D., superintendent of state's prison, said today.

The revenue department which handles distribution of the plates, which will go on sale here and at 42 branch offices December 15, yesterday paid Mr. Ross $200,000, to bring the total paid to $500,000.

The appropriation for the 1929 General Assembly for license was only $42,000, figured on a single plate basis or a total of 600,000 plates, but in the closing days of the legislative act was passed calling for front and rear plates, or 1,200,000 plates, and the bill will be about $60,000. The other $100,000 due will probably be paid by the revenue department from its emergency and contingency fund.

This is the first time state's prison has made the license plates, manufacturing them at $50 per thousand. The bid last year by a commercial firm was $50.03, the lowest ever obtained by the state.

WHEATHER AT MALONE, NEW YORK

Malone, N. Y., Nov. 30.—(AP)—The thermometer registered eight degrees below zero last night at Owl's Head, ten miles south of here, while in the city it reached minimum of zero by seven o'clock this morning had risen only two degrees.

A snow storm, assuming almost blizzard proportions, was sweeping toward this town from the southwest today.

Cool mines in Illinois produced 59,928,100 tons of soft coal last year.

Al Singer Stops Seminole Indian

New York, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Al Singer, lightweight idol of the Bronx, has consolidated his position as a leading contender for Sammy Mandell's 133-pound crown.

Singer unloosed a barrage of rights and lefts to stop Pete Nebo, courageous Seminole Indian from Key West, Fla., in the fourth round of their ten round bout at Madison Square Garden last night.

The Bronx flash, a deadly hitter with his right hand, was content to outbox Nebo through the first three rounds. The Indian, a rushing, tearing sort of a fighter, ploughed ever onward in the face of one left jab after another. Finally in the fourth round, Nebo got home two solid blows to the head. Enraged, Singer whipped home a straight right to the head that made Nebo's knees sag. Two more left hooks sent Nebo back into a neutral corner. Here Singer belted him with a drumfire of rights and lefts. Finally the referee stepped in, stopped the struggle and awarded Singer the fight on a technical knockout.

Baseball Farm Considered At Raleigh Today

Raleigh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—A special meeting of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce was held today to consider a proposition of the special baseball committee which was said to be ready to state that a major league baseball club is ready to operate a Piedmont league farm at Raleigh "under conditions."

Several weeks ago William C. Brantman, president of the Piedmont league, asked the local Chamber of Commerce to interest itself in returning baseball to Raleigh and at the recent league meeting in Greensboro the Salisbury franchise was offered Raleigh.

Details of the "provisions" and the name of the club were not announced, but it was understood it was an American league club and that one of the "provisions" included co-operation by the city in financing the team here.

Carnegie Freshman Frozen to Death

Pittsburgh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Clad only in pajamas, Paul Ott, 19, of Baltimore, a freshman at Carnegie Institute of Technology, was found dead early today on the Welsh hill, where he roomed. Police said they believed he was frozen to death.

With the mercury registering six above zero in the Pittsburgh district this morning, two other deaths were attributed to the cold. An unidentified man was found in the doorway of a rooming house in the "Hill" district, and Peter Istvan, 45, Munhall, believed blinded by the cold wind, stepped in front of a train and was killed.

Several Injured In Explosion At New York City

New York, Nov. 30.—(AP)—An explosion from an undetermined cause, today wrecked one of the buildings at the plant of the unexcited fireworks company, at Grandview, Staten Island, injuring several persons. The building caught fire but firemen, called out on three alarms, prevented the blaze from spreading.

A stiff wind was blowing across the island and the extra alarms of fire were turned in as a precautionary measure. Firemen were handicapped by the intense cold, the thermometer standing well below the freezing point.

NOTRE DAME AND ARMY WILL BATTLE IN NEW YORK

Notre Dame's hard and well fought gridiron battles will be brought to a close when it meets the Army in New York November 30. Cagle, the Army's ace, will seriously threaten the brilliant record of the Irish, but Carrideo, Notre Dame's field general, will be no less a menace to the cadets.

SPORTS SLANTS

The all-American football frenzy is on in full blast, with the candidates being sifted, weighed and tested for admission to the roll of gridiron honor.

Pickings of the eleven best players from coast to coast, and border to gulf has become one of the biggest of the annual headaches but it is still being tackled fearlessly by the experts.

Just as a beginning, for purposes of preliminary debate, here are some of the main contenders in the All-American race:

Ends—Donchess of Pittsburgh, Fessler of Ohio State, Smith of Georgia, Tappan of Southern California, and Baker of Northwestern.

Tackles—Wakeman of Cornell, Vincent of Yale, Perry of West Point, Nagurski of Minnesota, Slight of Purdue, Brown of Texas, Douds of Washington and Jefferson, Twomey of Notre Dame, Radcliff of Marquette, and Grand of New York University.

Guards—Schwarz of California, Bodinger of Tulane, Steele of Florida, Montgomery and DiMedio of Pittsburgh, Greene of Yale, Gordon of Illinois, Cannon and Law of Notre Dame, Barrager of Southern California, Poe of Michigan, and Roberts of Iowa.

Quarterbacks—Masters of Dartmouth, Saunders and Duffell of Southern California, Carideo of Notre Dame, Pharrar of Minnesota, Clark of Colorado College, Wood of Harvard, and Wiken of Baylor.

Halfbacks—Cagle of the Army, Elder of Notre Dame, Uansa of Pittsburgh, McEver of Tennessee, Banker of Tulane, Lem of California, Brazil of Detroit, Welch and Harrison of Purdue, Welch and Kelly of Glasgow of Iowa, Kelly of Kentucky, Stewart of St. Mary's, and Leard of Texas Christian.

Fullbacks—Partison of Pittsburgh, Nagurski of Minnesota, Holm of Alabama, Yumovich of Purdue, Pemery of Utah, Hinkle of Bucknell, and Burghorn of Northwestern.

Despite the generally recognized superiority of the United States in international polo, it is noteworthy that the British lead in the number of high-goal players. Of the talent with a rating of 7 goals or better, Britain has 25, the U. S. A. 29 and Argentina 7.

Tommy Hitchcock, the American ace, shares the maximum or 10-goal rating with Lewis Lacy of the Armentis, Winston Guest, the former Yale star, is the only American among six 9-goal players. The others are the Indian Nawab of Mohal and four Britons—Major Atkinson, Captain "Pat" Rank, John A. E. Trail and Wang-Commaned Wise.

On the handicap ratings, Hitchcock could muster a 30-goal team as compared with an American maximum of 35, composed of Hitchcock, Guest, young Earl Hoppings, Eric Pedley or Ayerell Hariman, vs the Yankee riders galloped roughshod over the last British challengers, in 1927.

You hear a lot about Notre Dame spirit, manifested by courageous exploits on the field by emotional influence, and, above all, by a victorious tradition.

Widows of Dead Man Face Each Other in Court

Mexico City, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The two widows of General Montes Vidal, Mexican big game army officer, faced each other in court yesterday where one, Senora Maria Teresa Landa de Vidal, is being tried for his murder.

The first wife, whom General Vidal never divorced, took the witness stand and was asked to tell her feelings toward the second wife who had replaced her in her husband's affections.

"I do not hate her," she said, glaring directly at the pretty young second wife, who was Miss Mexico at the Galveston beauty contest recently.

She said she had lived happily with General Vidal in the state of Vera Cruz until he met the second wife about a year ago. She then disappeared. She learned finally he was in Mexico City and had married again. She followed him to the capital and filed the charges of bigamy, which brought the case into the Mexico City court.

It was upon reading an account of the filing of the charges that the young second wife took the witness stand and killed him.

"He was the only man I ever loved," she told interviewers. "If they do not convict me I shall become a Nun for I never want to marry again."

MARKETS

COTTON MARKET

New York, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 3 points to a decline of 1 point today. Trading was very quiet, but a little southern selling and liquidation was absorbed by trade or commission house buying and covering which probably was promoted by reports of very cold weather in the south.

After selling at 17.37 at the start, January dropped back to 17.33, but steady a pa point or two. With the general market steady and within a point or so either way of yesterday's closing quotations at the end of the first hour.

Liverpool was slightly lower than due on the New York close of yesterday. Cable advices said that continental buying and trade calling had been supplied by hedging and realizing in that market.

The amount of cotton on ship-board awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 191,000 bales against 207,000 last year.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Quick right-about-face action of the wheat market in the late dealings today lifted prices to more than 7c a bushel above quotations current on Tuesday. Earlier today the wheat market tended downward as a result largely of month-end liquidating sales. During the last part of the day, however, sellers of wheat became scarce, and with predictions of a small, possibly not more than 500,000 bushels, the market rose rapidly.

Wheat closed strong 2 1/3 to 2 7/8 net higher. Corn closed 5-8 to 1 1/8 up; oats at 3-8 to 1-2 to 7-8 advance, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

Weather Outlook for Coming Week

North and Middle Atlantic States: Snow over the north and snow or rain over the south portion Monday or Tuesday, then mostly fair except probably rain over south and rain or snow over north portion about Friday. The temperature will be below normal the greater part of the week, but it will rise Monday and probably Tuesday and again Thursday or Friday.

South Atlantic States: Rain is probable Monday or Tuesday, then generally fair except possible rain about Friday. Rising temperatures Monday and probably Tuesday, colder Wednesday and warmer by Friday.

Ohio Valley and Tennessee—Snow or rain over the south and snow over north portion Monday, probably mostly fair except possible rain over south and rain or snow over north portion about Thursday; warmer Monday, colder Tuesday, warmer by Thursday and colder again the end of the week. The temperature will average below normal.

SLIGHT EARTHQUAKES
ROCK CALIFORNIA
Riverside, Cal., Nov. 30.—(AP)—Earthquakes of slight intensity rocked a large portion of southern California last night, but no damage was reported. Three distinct tremors were felt in the Imperial valley. San Bernardino and the foothills of Pasadena and Los Angeles, Calexico on the Mexican side of the border, also felt the disturbance.

Cold at Greensboro
Greensboro, Nov. 30.—(AP)—This city experienced the coldest November temperature on record last night when the mercury dropped to 10 degrees above zero.

The United States Weather Bureau at the Greensboro airport reported a high of 38 and a low of 19 degrees for the 24 hour period ending at 6 a. m. today. Today the weather was moderating, and the sun was shining brightly.

BANKER KILLED WHILE FIGHTING FOREST FIRE

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Samuel T. Westman, 67, president of the City Savings Bank and Trust company, was killed late last night in a fall over a 45 foot embankment as he and his three children were fighting a small forest fire on his estate near here. He was a native of San Antonio, Texas, and once lived in Greenville county, S. C.

Dick Hunter to Give Parachute Jump Here Again

Dick Hunter, noted parachute jumper, will make his second appearance in this city tomorrow. Accompanied by two pilots and a similar number of planes will reach Greenville tomorrow morning, and in the afternoon the aerial artist will make a parachute jump from an altitude of several thousand feet, performing what is generally known among airmen as "the deary jump."

The exhibition will take place at the old Mat Long flying field, near the East Carolina Teachers college during the middle of the afternoon.

Manitoba Gripped By Winter Weather

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 30.—(AP)—With an icy northwest wind sweeping the prairies, mid-winter weather held sway in Manitoba today.

A temperature of 5 degrees below zero was recorded at Winnipeg last night, which however, was somewhat of a relief after that of Thursday night when the thermometer registered 19 below.

To the west of the Manitoba border, Saskatchewan and Alberta had more reasonable weather with temperatures of 16 to 34 degrees above zero.

A northwest gale that swept over the Great Lakes drove again carriers and freighters to seek haven in sheltered ports. Eleven ships, 7 grain boats and 4 package freighters, were overdue at Fort William, some for as long as three days. Most of the ships are without wireless, however, and marine men expressed the belief that they all were safely in sheltered harbors.

Another Hitch in Raleigh Plane Case

Raleigh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Another hitch developed today in the fight of Wake county and North Carolina for the return to this state of Dr. J. E. Owen of Asheville and Eckford Hodson, employees of the Eastern Air Express charged with theft of an airplane here early in November.

Lloyd Tilley, assistant clerk of Wake Superior court, said this morning that it appeared likely that the second extradition hearing in the case, set for Monday before Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt in Albany, N. Y., would be moved to December 9 or 11.

Counsel for the defendants, now under bond, have asked a continuance until December 11 and George Gordon Battle, who will represent North Carolina, has agreed that the date be changed to December 11 as he will be in Florida on business all that day.

Final setting of the date will be made at Greensboro. Mr. Tilley said, as he expects to talk to Mr. Battle over long distance telephone.

Two Small Boys Burned to Death

Pittsburgh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Two small boys were burned to death today in a fire which destroyed the home of Frederick Williams, on Duquesne Heights. Only one of the bodies, burned beyond recognition, was recovered.

Williams succeeded in rescuing his two small daughters, but all were severely burned.

Clubs having a total membership of more than 2,000 were added to the Indiana state federation in the last 90 years.

Mull to Retain Chairmanship of State Democrats

Raleigh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Odus M. Mull, appointed as executive counsel by Governor Gardner to succeed Judge N. A. Townsend, resigned, intends to retain his post as chairman of the State Democratic committee. It was learned here today.

Mr. Mull, a prominent Sheiby lawyer, life-long friend and close political associate of the Governor, will succeed to the post of executive counsel December 15, when Judge Townsend's resignation becomes effective. He has been in Raleigh for the past few days conferring with the Governor and Judge Townsend as to his new duties.

Judge Townsend resigned, as he had announced he would do when he took over the position, to return to his law practice.

Six Men Paroled by Gov. Gardner

Raleigh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Gov. O. Max Gardner today paroled six men, three of them serving sentences of more than 23 years.

In four of the six cases in which paroles were granted the trial judge and trial judge or one of the two made recommendations of clemency. Four of the prisoners are white men and two are negroes.

Golden Baker, negro, convicted in May 1920 of second degree murder and sentenced in Wilson county to serve 30 years was one of the long termers.

Henry Jones, white, convicted in the Spring of 1921 in Hyde county of second degree murder, serving 30 years; was another of the men serving the longest terms.

William Lewis, negro, serving 23 to 30 years for murder, was paroled on the basis of his excellent record and services rendered the state while a prisoner. The record of the man was the basis of the parole and that alone. Lewis was convicted in New Hanover county in September 1914.

John A. Bush of Caldwell county, white man serving 10 to 12 years for second degree murder having been convicted in August 1922, was among those paroled and the other two were: Sam Swan, a white man of Buncombe county, serving 18 months from conviction in December 1928 for temporary larceny of an automobile, and Charles Barbour, white man of Greensboro convicted in city court there in March 1929 of abandonment and non-support and sentenced to two years.

To Ask Boarding Home for Children

Raleigh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The State Board of Charities and public welfare will ask legislature of 1931 for an appropriation to establish a system of boarding homes to care for dependent, problem children. It is stated in the issue of Public Welfare Progress released today. The bulletin states that Virginia, South Carolina, Alabama and many of the northern states have systems of boarding homes.

The article cites many instances of need for such a system.

A boarding home isn't a complicated sort of new institution, the article says. It is merely a private home that is used to board one or more children for a period of time. The best boarding mother, it states, takes the children into her home and gives them the same attention she would give her own.

Contagious Diseases On Decrease in N.C.

Raleigh, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Contagious disease in North Carolina showed a decrease this week, compared with the previous week, the State Board of Health announced today. Whooping cough cases this week dropped to 163 from 217 last week. Scarlet fever cases this week numbered 94 as to 101 last week, and typhoid fever 7 compared to 8. Diphtheria cases were 112 this week against 148 last week. Small Pox showed an increase of two cases with six this week and four last. There were no cases of measles reported this week and nine last week.

Keeping Nation's Airways Lighted Is Arduous Job

Washington.—(AP)—Take it from Captain F. C. Hingsburg, chief of the department of commerce airways division, lighting the nation's airways is an arduous task.

"There have been places," he says, "where our men literally have had to cut their way through to a location selected for a beacon on some mountain top."

"When one flies over the western section of the Transcontinental Air section route a beacon flashes by every six minutes, but on the ground it would take a person two days to make the 10-mile trip between some of the lights because of the topography."

"The beacons, throwing a 2,000,000 candlepower beam around the horizon from a 51-foot steel tower, are placed every 10 miles along the airways. At every third beacon, an emergency landing field. In the mountainous country some of these emergency fields are far from habitation."

Captain Hingsburg told of the Pleasant Valley emergency field between the East and Sonoma ranges in Nevada.

"It is 60 miles by mountain trail from the nearest town, Winnemucca," he said. "There is no commercial power available to operate the beacon and we generate our own. A caretaker and his family live at the field and supplies are taken into the valley every six months. In winter the field is completely isolated by snow-blocked trails."

There are many similar places.

For some caretakers cannot be obtained. If no commercial electric power is available, automatic acetylene lights every four miles replace the electric beacons.

At the end of this year, the department of commerce estimates, 12,500 of the 35,000 miles of airways will have been lighted.

HELD FOR INVESTIGATION
Denver, Colo., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Denver police were convinced today that Clifford Stevenson, 23, arrested on Wednesday night, was in no way connected with the wrecking and robbery of the Union Pacific's Portland Limited near Cheyenne Monday night.

Although freed of suspicion as regards the train robbery, Stevenson was held for further investigation. He had a .45 caliber pistol in his possession when he was arrested, police said.

Sunken Freighter Fleated

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 29.—(AP)—The Italian freighter Escambia, which sank in 32 feet of water at a dock here Wednesday night was floated and ready to proceed to Genoa, Italy, with its cargo of lumber. Damage to the freighter was said to be slight.

Prince a Diplomat

London.—The Prince of Wales seems to be quite a diplomat. In Britain amateur boxers must be clothed above the waist. Simponre fighting in trunks simply isn't done. Primo Carnera, Italian professional heavyweight, didn't understand that when he appeared at a charity show under amateur rules. He refused to fight hampered until the Prince, one of the spectators, sent him some sort of a message, and thereby embarrassment was avoided. For socially prominent women were present.

AT AUCTION

Wed. Dec. 4th At 11:00 A. M.

TERMS: 15 Per Cent Cash, Balance in Ten Years.

This valuable farm, consisting of 1,350 acres, with dwellings and the necessary stables, barns, and pack houses to give each tract sufficient buildings and barns, has been subdivided into small farms and will be sold at public auction.

Farm lands, in the past few years have been selling at low prices and, for the most part, should be bought at this time.

An editorial in the Pennsylvania Farmer says: "Good farm land can be bought now for fewer dollars per acre than when livestock, dairy products, and poultry products were worth only one-third as much as they command now. It can be bought for fewer dollars per acre than when grains were worth half their current price. The purchase can be financed now at less cost than then. If these things are true, why isn't good land a good buy? It is, for the right man—the man who knows how to use land, who is industrious and careful, who wants a home of his own enough to work and sacrifice for it, who has a wife with the same ideas about it. To such persons good land is a sound investment right now. For such persons it will make money, not only by operation, but by increase in market value."
