ITALIAN KING PAYS VISIT TO POPE PIUS XI

Monarch, Accompanied by Queen Helena, Two Officials and Array of Courtiers

Rome, Dec. 5.—(AP)—King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena paid their long awaited visit to Pope Pius XI this morning. In so doing they made history, being the first sovereigns of united Italy to enter the Vatican, which only recently ceased to be a place of self-imposed imprisonment for the pontiff.

The king and queen were accompanied by Vatican City by Minister of Foreign Affairs Dino Grandi, Count De Vecchi, Italian ambassador to the Holy See, and an imposing retinue of courtiers.

Their majesties and his holiness met in the Vatican throne room. They were alone there; doors were closed and guarded, and what they said no one yet knows. The sovereigns carried precious gifts for presentation to the pontiff.

But, their conversation, whatever it was, marked the tacit approval of both to the treaties signed at the Lateran palace last February 11 to end the 60-year-old so-called "Roman question."

Hundreds of thousands of Italians from all parts of the country saw the royal processions through Rome's closed automobiles. There was a deep disappointment because the visit was not made in carriages of state as had been planned. The automobiles were accompanied only by an escort of cyclist police; the imposing military display usual to royal processions was absent.

Houses along the route flew the Italian and Papal flag and white streamers. The king was dressed in his full uniform as a general, wearing the order of Annunziata. Queen Helena wore a black veil, over a black gown, with long sleeves and high neck. She wore no jewelry.

The procession entered Vatican City at the arch of Charlemagne, where the Piazza Santa Maria begins. There it was met by Prince Massimo, Papal postmaster general, Comandante Serlini, general of Vatican City, Comandante Bescari, secretary general of the city, and Comandante de Mandato, head of the armed corps under the jurisdiction of the governor.

A Squadron of Papal gendarmes heralded the arrival of the sovereigns with trumpets and the Papal gendarmes played the royal march for the first time in history. Outside the Camera, a detachment of Swiss Guards in full uniform.

In the courtyard of San Damaso a group of Vatican dignitaries received the sovereigns. While the Papal guard presented arms, Prince Alessandro Ruffini, grand-master of the Sacred Hospice, greeted the king and the queen to the right.

Accompanied by the Papal retinue the royal pair ascended the glass stairs from the courtyard to Clementine Hall, where another group of ecclesiastics received them. The two parties then went through a series of rooms known as the rooms of the tapestries to the Papal anti-chamber.

Apprised of the arrival of the royal party, the Pope entered the throne room from his private library. The door to the throne room opened and the king and the queen entered, in alone.

The Pope was walking toward the door. The king and the queen walked forward. They met half-way across the room. The king and the queen bent and kissed the Pope's hand. The Pope raised the sovereigns. The Pope doled the sovereigns. The Pope doled the sovereigns.

The dignitaries of church and state conversed in whisper or did not at all. They could visualize the relative position of the three personages within. Beside the Papal throne two chairs had been placed, one on each side. The king sat on the right, the queen on the left.

Such the door opened and the little group outside marched in. The king presented to the Pope the Minister of Foreign Affairs Grandi and the other members of his court.

The audience over, the Pope walked part of the way to the door with the king and the queen.

After a visit to St. Peter's the royal party returned to the Quirinal Palace.

After leaving the Pontifical apartments, their majesties went with their party to the office of Cardinal Gasparri, Papal secretary of state, who with Mussolini was given most credit for bringing about the settlement of the Roman Question. MRS. BRYSON

Says Workmen Have Pistols Ready to Use

Waterbury, Conn., Dec. 5.—(AP)—"Textile workers in the south have pistols, every one of them, and these guns will come in handy at a future date when the workers will use them in the right way," said Fred Beal, Communist organizer, at a meeting in the Lithuanian hall here last night.

Beal charged the United Textile Workers, a branch of the American Federation of Labor, with "betraying" the textile workers of Charlotte, in 1919 and 1920.

Beal also charged a "frame-up" in the first Gastonia trial, when one of the jurors suddenly went insane. He claimed the presence of a dummy of O. F. Adorholt, murdered chief of police, caused the jurors break-down.

He asserted that the "bosses hired thugs and gunmen" gave them badges and these gunmen "shot down Ella May Wiggins in cold blood" during the strike called April 2 of this year.

UPRISING IN CHINA STILL IN PROGRESS

Situation Described as Serious as Troop Movement Continues to Increase

Nanking, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The capital of the Nationalist government awakes this morning to learn that the disorders which started at Pukow Tuesday with the mutiny of a portion of the twenty-fourth division had developed into a serious situation interpreted as a powerful movement against the government and against the downfall of President Chiang Kai-Shek.

As the result of overnight developments the uprising now is admitted by all quarters to be serious. Chiang, who is head of the Nationalist military forces as well as president, ordered portions of three divisions at Nanking to cross the Yangtze river and undertake to subjugate the mutineers.

Movement of the loyal troops was begun at once and approximately 15,000 men already have crossed. Others are waiting to move.

About 25,000 troops are available here. Apparently authentic reports from the mutineers said their operations were growing. Unverified reports had the insurgents in control of the Tientsin-Pukow railway from Tientsin 35 miles north of Pukow to Nanchang 125 miles further to the north, giving the rebels over 125 miles of line and paralyzing traffic.

It is now believed that an entire body of 30,000 men formerly with the Koominchun or "People's Army" but which last year was incorporated into the Nationalist military forces, is involved in the disorders.

Hankow, China, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The British river gunboats Aphid and Ladybird were fired on in the Yangtze today in the vicinity of Ichang where Nationalist and Maudslowi troops are reported to have clashed. No casualties were reported. The British gunboat Bee left hurriedly for Ichang last evening.

Reports were received in Hankow today that the troops which recently revolted in South Hunan and southwestern Hunan engaged government forces near Ichang and that fighting is progressing.

Hanna Named As U. S. Minister to Nicaragua Today

Washington, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The name of Matthew E. Hanna, of Ohio, to be American Minister to Nicaragua, was sent to the Senate today along with the names of six others selected for diplomatic posts in the Western Hemisphere.

All seven of the men selected by President Hoover are regarded as being intimately acquainted with the customs and language of the Latin American countries. The others were Julius G. Lay, of the District of Columbia, to be minister at Honduras; Post Wheeler, of Washington state, to Paraguay; R. T. Davis, of Missouri to Panama; Charles B. Curtis, of New York, to the Dominican Republic; Evan E. Young, of South Dakota, to Bolivia, and H. E. Arthur Schoenfeld, of the District of Columbia, to Costa Rica.

It was announced simultaneously that the ministry at Ecuador would be filled soon with another trained Spanish speaker diplomat, and that ministers and ambassadors at all other Latin American posts would remain in office for the time being.

CAMPAIGN FOR THE POOR OFF TO FINE START

Cash Contributions Amounting to $18.00 Received by Merchants Association

Washington, Dec. 5.—(AP)—President Hoover today singled out the "good old word-work" as the keynote for American business during the months ahead.

This view, given personally, was heard by hundreds of leaders of the business world, representing all ramifications of the country's industrial structure, who went in session today to initiate a study of the nation's business conditions.

The gathering, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, began work shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The president was the first speaker. After him a number of other high government officials and industrial leaders delivered addresses.

This group included Secretary Lamont of the commerce department, his first assistant, Julius Klein; Julius Barnes, Chairman of the board of the Chamber of Commerce, and the president of that organization, William Butterworth. Additional speakers were Will H. Hays, head of the motion picture industry; F. S. Snyder, chairman of the board of the institute of American meat packers, and a number of others.

Mr. Hoover told his audience, which assembled in the Chamber of Commerce building fronting Lafayette Square opposite the white house, that they had been called together and invited to create a "temporary organization for the purpose of systematically spreading into industry measures to counteract the effect of the recent panic in the stock market."

The president said that the large effect of the situation had been to create undue pessimism, fear, uncertainty and hesitation in business, adding:

"These emotions, being emotions, if they had been allowed to run their course would, by feeding on themselves create difficulties. The American mind is prone to revert to previous occasions when we were much less able to organize to meet such situations."

Such conditions, he asserted, can not be cured merely with words. The cure "for such storms is action," he added, and the cure for unemployment "is to find jobs."

After the president concluded a number of addresses were made by other high government officials.

Secretary Lamont said in his opinion the recent credit shift had been the most colossal in history and that the way in which American business withstood it had justified the confidence immediately displayed after the disturbance.

He asserted there should be no hesitation on the part of the public to buy securities at their present level. An easier money market, he added, had released millions of dollars from speculative use which business now will be able to use in construction and expansion.

THINKS AMERICA, FRANCE AND BRITAIN SHOULD LOOK AFTER THEIR OWN AFFAIRS

Moscow, Dec. 5.—(AP)—America, France and Great Britain would much better turn their minds to activities in South America, warships in Chinese waters, and armies in colonial countries that to obstruction of Sino-Russian negotiations in the opinion of Maxim Litvinoff, acting commissar for foreign affairs for the Soviet Union.

In the largest hall in the Kremlin today the Russian foreign minister addressed the central executive committee of the Communist party—the main governing body in the U. S. S. R.—explaining and justifying the Soviet attitude toward the present situation.

His speech was interspersed with occasional bits of sarcasm which brought ripples of laughter from his hearers; particularly was this the case when he said Panama had joined the countries in reminding Russia of the Kellogg pact. He suggested that Panama look into whether the pact safeguards its own existence from the hands of predatory neighbors.

In general the address was similar to the notes sent America, France, and Great Britain Tuesday. In these it was stated that the Soviet could not consider their remainder of the Kellogg pact obligations as a friendly act, and that no nation or nations, were empowered as protectors of the pact. The note to America had an added paragraph expressing amazement at America's deeming it politic to offer advice to a nation with which it has no relations.

He emphasized that the declaration of the United States and other countries to Russia was considered by the Soviet government as unjustified interference in Russian affairs.

"The Soviet Union, unlike other countries, rejected extra territorial rights and privileges in China," he said, "and it would seem strange why, under this circumstance, the Nanking and Mukden governments took the path of violence with provocations toward Soviet Russia."

It is explained by the simple fact that the start and further encouragement of actions of the Nanking government originated from the Imperialistic camp. The Chinese generals threw the challenge of the Soviet Government only because they were backed by the imperialistic powers and conscious of the Soviet union's desire for peace.

Therefore, the powers encouraging the actions of Nanking should carry the collective responsibility for the Chinese-Russian conflict."

M. Litvinoff referred to activities of the Red army, saying that continued assaults and provocations by the Chinese had forced the Soviet soldiers to take drastic measures which would not only drive the Chinese from the Soviet border but also would destroy white guard or counter-revolutionary bands located further inland.

The commissar questioned the right of the United States and other signatories of the Kellogg

President Singles Out Word Work As Keynote For American Business

ROLL CALL WAS FINE SUCCESS IN THIS COUNTY

More Members Added to Red Cross Than Any Other Drive in Three Years

The annual Red Cross Roll Call recently conducted in Pitt County was one of the most successful in three years, according to information given out today by Mrs. J. L. Hassell, chairman of the Pitt County Roll Call Drive.

The report indicated that 250 new members were added to the local organization, which was more than in any other drive in three years.

Fifty per cent of the money collected here was sent to the National headquarters at Washington, but the remainder was kept for relief work to be conducted under supervision of the local organization.

The report indicated that the Pitt County Chapter had been providing for a family of seven since the middle of last October. The father of this family is in a hospital, and he is being provided for also.

The chapter will also carry cheer and happiness to two needy families during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Hassell expressed appreciation of the hearty support given by Pitt County people during the drive. She expressed special thanks to the people of Whiteville who have never failed to come across happily during the Roll Call campaign.

The local chapter was recently asked to contribute to the sufferers at Elizabethtown. They sent clothing for thirteen men and a similar number of women.

M'MANUS CASE DISMISSED AT NEW YORK CITY

Jury Finds Alleged Slayer of Rothstein Not Guilty by Order of Judge Nott

New York, Dec. 5.—(AP)—General sessions Judge Charles N. Nott Jr., today dismissed the case of George A. McManus, charged with the murder of Arnold Rothstein.

By order of the court, the jury, without leaving the courtroom, rendered a verdict of acquittal.

Before directing the verdict, Judge Nott commented severely upon what he termed "the obvious hostility" of the state's witnesses, and said he sympathized with the district attorney.

"The law of circumstantial evidence is clear and simple, however, he said. "It is not sufficient to prove that a man might have committed a crime, it is necessary to prove that a man might have committed a crime, it is necessary to prove that he must have done so."

The judge added that in his opinion that had not been done in the McManus case.

Under the direct verdict, McManus can never be brought to trial again on that charge—that he conspired to death his gambler associate a year ago last November 4.

McManus, as soon as the jury was dismissed and the judge had left the bench, rushed to his wife, who was sitting two rows back among the spectators and kissed her as she flung her arms around his neck, weeping.

A crowd of his friends and his five brothers gathered around him then, and he was busy shaking hands. He did not lose his composure but refused to give any statement on the case other than to say:

"I am going to get my bearing's first. I want to get out to see my mother and probably stay in seclusion the rest of the day. I will talk to you boys tomorrow morning."

MR. SHEPPARD PLEASED WITH LIBRARY PLANS

Donor of $50,000 for New Structure Praises Committee for Their Efforts

Plans for the $50,000 Sheppard Memorial library to be erected in this city, have met with the hearty approval of Mr. Harper D. Sheppard, of Hanover, Pa., donor of the money with which to erect the beautiful structure.

Writing to members of the building committee after carefully going over the plans submitted to him, Mr. Sheppard declared "he was more than pleased with the architectural type of the building, and that he did not have any idea that a building of such magnitude and quality could be built within the limit of his gift."

Members of the building committee stated today that bids would be advertised in the near future and that the contract would be awarded immediately afterward. It was believed that actual construction work would get under way within the next few weeks.

The building is to be a memorial to the father of Mr. Sheppard, who was a native of Pitt County, and for many years connected with the county in an official capacity.

The letters in part follow: "The library plans received today and we are more than pleased with them. In fact, we think they are wonderful, and you seem to have the making of a magnificent building. We did not have any idea that a building of such magnitude and quality could be built within your limits and if you can, we will take off our hats to you, as we could not do it up here."

"While we do not know anything about library arrangements, it looks to us to be very complete in every way and considerate of all needs of the community."

"We are particularly pleased with your arrangements of having the Stack Room so complete in itself and the front building devoted entirely to the activities of the Library."

"We noted with pleasure the Boy's Activity Room in the basement with its outside entrance which is a fine and necessary thing."

"The general scheme of the first floor is very pleasing with the Children's Room on one side and the Adult's Reading Room on the other."

"The Assembly Room on the second floor with little Stage and Reading Room is a mighty nice thing, as well as the separate Club and Lecture Room for other community activities."

"The Historical Room will gradually become a more important part of the Library as time goes on and is something that most communities do not have and all need as it serves a place to put their things of historical value which too often lost or destroyed."

"The front of the building is particularly pleasing and indeed should make a beautiful appearance. We note that it has plenty of elevation which we thought was essential to the general appearance."

Two Held for Probe in Death of Man

Statesville, Dec. 5.—(AP)—George Hilton, 25, Mooreville filine station operator and "Jack" Hilton, 30, said to be hostess at a road house near Charlotte, were held in the Iredell county jail here today for questioning in connection with the death of Hubert Sherrill, 27, member of a prominent Iredell county family. Sherrill was mysteriously slain on July 10 last on the outskirts of Mooreville.

Sherrill, J. L. Sherrill of Iredell county, an uncle of the dead man, declined to give the basis for the arrests.

Sherrill was found shot to death in his car beside the Statesville road. It was at first believed to be a case of suicide. Relatives refused to believe he had killed himself. At the coroner's inquest it was brought out that the man had received a number of threatening letters warning him to cease paying attention to a young woman in Mooreville.

LITTLE HOPE HELD OUT FOR DR. DAWSON

Grifton Man Received Broken Neck in Automobile Crash Last Tuesday Night

Dr. W. W. Dawson, prominent physician of Grifton, Pitt county, and member of the County Board of Commissioners, was confined in a Kingston hospital today suffering from a fractured vertebra which he sustained in an automobile wreck on a mile from Grifton Tuesday night. His condition was described as critical and little hope was entertained for his recovery.

Dr. Dawson was found in an unconscious condition in bed at his home at an early hour yesterday morning, and was immediately rushed to the Kingston hospital for medical attention. Physicians were at first unable to determine the cause of the unconscious state of the injured man, but an X-ray examination yesterday afternoon showed that he had suffered a fractured vertebra.

The automobile crash occurred about a mile from Dr. Dawson's home. The automobile in which the physician was riding was almost completely demolished when it collided with a telephone pole. Dr. Dawson left the wrecked car and walked to his home and retired apparently not realizing that he had been hurt.

Later during the night his wife's attention was attracted by his heavy breathing. She attempted to rouse him, but discovered that he was unconscious. A Grifton doctor was called in but his ministrations failed to revive the unconscious man and he was immediately rushed to Kingston for medical attention.

At a loss to determine the cause of Dr. Dawson's condition, Kingston doctors resorted to X-ray examinations and discovered that his neck had been broken by the impact of the car against the telephone pole. Full particulars of the wreck and his injuries had not been decided, although it was believed that his neck was broken when the car crashed against the pole.

Dr. Dawson is one of the best known men in the county. He served the county Board of Commissioners as its chairman over a period of many years, and is at present one of the most active members of the organization.

In the recent fight to reduce taxes on land, he took a conspicuous part, speaking in several parts of the State, and also going before the legislature to present his plea. He was considered an expert on affairs of government in this county and also was counsel played an important role in the solving of various problems vitally affecting the life of the section.

In addition, Dr. Dawson was one of the wealthiest citizens of the Grifton community. Aside from being interested in numbers of enterprises in the town itself, he was a large landowner and confined much of his time to the operation of his farms.

He was in active practice of his profession and enjoyed a wide patronage in the community where he has resided the major part of his life.

The gale swept across Ireland in full force, pushed over trees and small buildings and Wales, Cornwall and Devonshire, and then hit London district.

At Islington ten persons had a narrow escape when part of a house collapsed. Brick walls were blown down and trees were uprooted.

Searpents on the eastern and the southern coasts reported a heavy sea. At Hulltrawlers returned to port in battered condition.

BIG PART OF U. S. BUDGET GOES TO WARS

Approximately 72 Cents of Every $1.00 Devoted to Past and Future Wars

Washington, Dec. 5.—(AP)—President Hoover today gave the public his federal "budget at a glance" for those who have not the time to wade through the staggering compilation of figures which accompanies his budget message to Congress.

The statement of today showed that approximately 72 cents of every dollar to be spent by the federal government during the next fiscal year must go to pay for past wars and preparedness for any that may occur in the future.

Eight cents of every dollar will be spent to keep the actual machinery of the government functioning; thirteen cents will be devoted to the social aids and subsidies, and the remaining seven cents to maintaining the government's fiscal affairs.

Of the $3,830,445,281 which Congress has been asked to appropriate for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, the sum of $2,733,219,283 must be provided to payment of principal and interest on the public debt, incurred to prosecute war, outlays for pensions, hospitalization and other expenses incurred on behalf of veterans of former wars and for national defense—the army, navy, marine corps and national guard.

All of the government's extensive activities, whether it be the public health, Indian affairs, aid to labor and agriculture or the far-flung public building program will consume only thirteen per cent of the federal outlay. The total recommended for all these activities is only somewhat in excess of half a billion dollars.

The statement of "government expenditures at a glance" was prepared for President Hoover so that the country could receive an intimate glimpse of where the taxpayers' money goes. The statement, naturally, is confined to federal expenditures and does not take into consideration outlays by states and municipalities.

The total recommended to be spent next year is somewhat under that for the present fiscal year, not counting any appropriations that may be made to carry on the work of the Federal Farm Board. The proportion of expenditures, however, is approximately the same for the various groups.

In comparison with total sum recommended, the comparatively insignificant outlay of $300,307,899 is for the executive, legislative and judicial branches, fiscal administration and control of banks, foreign relations, administrations of territories and dependencies, civil pensions, to assume the huge post office deficit and for kindred activities.

In contrast to the nearly two and three-quarters billion dollars for past and possible wars, only approximately $14,500,000 may be spent for education, $16,500,000 for agriculture (exclusive of the new farm relief fund); $16,500,000 for aids to labor; $15,000,000 for aids to industry and trade and $57,300,000 for aiding up the merchant marine. The sum of $240,000,000 for public buildings throughout the country is the largest single item outside of those for outlays pertaining to national defense, the public debt and veterans expenses.

The Tregate managed to get a rocket line to the island yesterday, taking off three of the survivors. The remaining 21 were removed today, according to the message from the rescue ship.

SUNDOWN STORIES

Watering the Elephants

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
The elephants were reaching out and gathering drinks of water from tiny clouds. And now some little boys were holding out buckets as the planes passed through several larger clouds.

"They're going to be let in free this afternoon for helping with the elephants," the Little Black Clock said.

"Is there going to be a circus performance in the air?" John asked.

"Certainly. Want to see it?" "Do we? Oh, Little Black Clock! I should say we do," John exclaimed.

"I thought you might. I have it all arranged. But we want to see the rest of the parade first."

So John and Peggy sat in their plane, which stayed perfectly still up in the air, and they watched the first air circus parade pass by.

The circus parade was splendid. The planes which carried the performers, the animals and the band were painted bright red, and pictures of the wild creatures were painted upon the wings. Some of the planes were so large and so open that they could see the beautiful colored lines as they bowed and waved their hands.

As the parade flew along the people who were watching from other planes clapped and shouted with delight.

At the very end of the parade was a plane in which there was something that sounded exactly like a calliope.

"It's a real circus!" John told the Little Black Clock.

NOVEMBER GOOD MONTH FOR PUBLIC LIBRARY

Much good work was done at the Greenville Public Library during November. The average daily circulation of books grew steadily and much reference work was done. The renewed interest was due in part to the observance of Children's Book Week. Mrs. E. F. Arnold and Mrs. W. H. Woodard, representing the Literary Department of the Woman's Club, were quite active during Book Week. They helped with special decorations at the library, and arranged for publicity concerning the events as they were planned. This department has also placed The Mentor on the magazine table.

MRS. BEST HOSTESS TO SANS SOUCI CLUB

The Sans Souci Club was entertained by Mrs. W. L. Best on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Evans street. The music room, where the guests were received, was decorated in red, which gave the Christmas color and seemed to put the members in holiday mood.

After the usual business preliminaries, the members were asked to make their annual purchase of Red Cross seals. The president announced that the usual Christmas donation would be given at the next meeting, at which time the members would decide upon some particular form of Christmas cheer.

Mrs. F. M. Weston was in charge of the literary program of the afternoon and read an interesting and authentic account of "Superstitions." In this paper was traced the origin of our present day wedding customs, the sources of our barbaric custom of wearing black at funerals, the origin of our ancient fear of ghosts, our uncanny fear of broken mirrors, and many other superstitions in that dim past when the physical universe was an unknown mystery.

At the conclusion of the literary program, Mrs. Herbert Waldrop, accompanied by Mrs. Marvin Blount, sang for the club several lovely old songs, after which the hostess served delicious refreshments.

The club was pleased to have as guests Mrs. C. S. Bowen, Mrs. Andrew Moore and Mrs. Picklesimer. —Reported.

Dinner Party.

Winterville, N. C., Dec. 4.—On Tuesday evening, Dec. 3rd, the faculty of the Winterville High School entertained with a lovely dinner party in honor of Miss Beth Carroll, a former member of the faculty, and a bride-elect of the month.

Covers were laid for fourteen and the dining room and table appointments were suggestive of the Thanksgiving season. In the center of the table was a large pumpkin pie. At the conclusion of the dinner, Miss Carroll was asked to cut the crust and see how she liked the pie. She found a most beautiful array of linen gifts from the members of the faculty. The guests then returned to the living room and enjoyed a delightful radio concert.

MRS. HOOKER ENTERTAINS MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Missionary Society of the Christian church was entertained by Mrs. Travis Hooker on Monday afternoon. In spite of the disagreeable weather a large number of the members answered to roll call.

The house was decorated with Christmas candles and greens, and the songs of the Holy season were used in the regular program. The regular business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. R. L. Smith.

After the business meeting, Miss Goodwin, Dean of Religious Education at the college, spoke of her experiences in Korea as a missionary. The human side of the life of a missionary was attractively pictured and Korea's great humanity was pictured as waiting for the Light. The personal element injected by the presence of a real live mission-

Dupree-Barnhill.

Parents-Teachers Meet.

Winterville, N. C., Dec. 5.—The success of a meeting does not always depend on a large crowd. This was clearly manifested at the December meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Winterville which met Tuesday evening at 7:30. For several reasons the attendance was much smaller than usual, but those present were so warmly enthusiastic that the low temperature outside was evidently forgotten.

The meeting was opened by singing that beautiful old Christmas hymn, "O, Come All Ye Faithful," followed by a short prayer led by O. H. Jackson. The minutes of the November meeting were read and approved. In the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. M. A. Woodard gave a report of the treasury. This was very gratifying, taking in consideration the present financial strain.

Mrs. John R. Carroll, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported that the play "Here Comes Arabella" which was put on Nov. 15, was quite a success. She extended thanks to the public for their hearty co-operation.

Supt. Conley said that the visitation day put on some time ago, was not what he had hoped it to be because there would be another date set for this some time later.

There was an interesting round-table discussion at the lunch break at school. The association asked Mrs. R. E. Davenport, the president, to appoint a committee to work with the faculty in solving this problem.

Mrs. Laurie Ellis then presented the program for the evening, the subject of which was "Parental Education?" by Rev. M. A. Woodard. Following this was a general discussion as to whether we, as a local organization, should begin the study of this subject. We unanimously agreed to do this, beginning at our next meeting, with the book "The Drifting Home."

The attendance awards were as follows: High school, Miss Colson; grammar grades, Miss Evum; primary department, Mrs. Dempsey.

We then adjourned to meet again Tuesday evening after the first Sunday in the new year.

During his stay in the Philippines, members of the Philippine legislature and the treasury department of the government, doctors, university professors, etc., and more than a hundred from this class are now in America attending college.

All who can should hear this gift of man.

GIVE HER A DIAMOND CHRISTMAS

"Diamonds to Measure"

It is an odd thing, but many people seem to think that the word "Carat" indicates the size of a diamond.

The fact is that the "Carat" is a symbol of weight and not of measurement—and is subdivided into "points," 100 to a carat.

Of course, the element of size does enter in to some extent. A 2 Carat Diamond will be larger than a 1 Carat, just as a 2 pound package of sugar will be more bulky than a 1 pound package—but the analogy is not a safe or perfect guide.

Here's why, some Diamonds are cut for size only. Depth and symmetry are sacrificed for surface showing. Then you have a stone of large area but small weight.

When carried to the extreme—which is not uncommon—Diamonds of this type are known as "Fish-Eyes." The Fish-Eye Diamond makes a big show, but lacks BRILLIANCE, DEPTH AND VALUE.

Over a quarter of a century of honorable Diamond dealing here in GREENVILLE is our passport to your CONFIDENCE. And to show you that we practice reciprocity—

We shall be pleased to extend the convenience of a "Partial Pay Plan."

May we mention the fact that we carry the largest and most complete stock of fine stones in Eastern Carolina. May we have the pleasure of showing you? Values that defeat competition.

ABOUT TOWN

The serious injury of Dr. W. W. Dawson, of Grifton, will be received with profound regret throughout the entire county.

As member of the County Board of Commissioners for many years, Dr. Dawson has played an important part in the government of the county. He is considered one of the best informed men in this section of affairs of the county, and always has used this information to advance the interest of his fellow men.

In the campaign several months ago to bring about general tax reduction the Grifton man played a conspicuous role. He not only wielded influence in the section in which he resides, but he visited the State capital from time to time and used his influence in convincing the legislature of the need of relieving the landowners of their heavy burden.

The campaign to carry cheer into the home of the poor people of the community during the holiday season has gotten away to a good start, according to reports from the office of the secretary of the Merchants Association.

The first list of "opportunities" was carried in the columns of this paper yesterday. The public should be able to gain some impression concerning the serious situation prevailing among our poor people through the reading of the list. It sets forth the fact that numbers of families are actually in distress and are already suffering from the effects of cold and near-starvation.

Large families with no means of support are asking for help from the Merchants Association, and unless they receive some aid they will experience little of the good will and happiness existing during the holiday season. These unfortunate deserve the best you can give, so see that you are one of the many hundreds of loyal citizens to subscribe liberally to this drive in behalf of humanity.

If you haven't any money to give, why not look through your wardrobe and see if you do not have some old clothing that would cover the tiny bodies of children whose fathers are afflicted and unable to work.

Go down into your pockets and help in this cause. It will make your holidays pass away more pleasantly knowing that you have actually done something worthwhile.

How about those Red Cross Christmas seals?

In a few days you will be mailing out packages to friends and relatives in various sections of the country, and you will need something with which to seal them.

Why not use the Red Cross seal? Millions of other men and women in every walk of life are using them, realizing as they do that the money spent for the seals goes to a cause as great as the cause of life itself—the cause of suffering humanity. Funds derived from seal sales will be spent in an effort to reduce the ravages of tuberculosis in all sections of the country, and carry relief to hundreds of men and women now fighting an uphill battle against the disease.

You will be able to buy other seals, but your money will not be spent in the cause of suffering humanity. When you spend so that your money does double duty.

The time has come for the public to cast about for something to give for Christmas presents.

Millions of suggestions will be open to them, but there is nothing more appropriate for men and women than something to read during the cold winter months to come.

The Daily Reflector furnishes complete accounts of all the most important happenings of the nation. You could not send a friend or relative a more acceptable gift, especially some Greenville or Pitt county person who is residing in another community.

If you are undecided about what to send, why not let the subscription department of this paper solve your problem for you?

Greenville merchants are not only catering to people at home during the holiday season approaching, but to shoppers in many other communities in this part of the State.

It will pay the thrifty shopper to come to Greenville and inspect the stocks of local merchants before doing their Christmas buying. The stocks have never been more complete, and prices are in keeping with the pocketbooks of people in all walks of life.

If you live many miles from the city, make it a point to inspect stocks of Greenville merchants before doing your shopping, and rest assured of getting the best to be had at prices that will enable you to pay the cost of transportation.

FIDDLERS' CONVENTION,
Stokes School
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, AT 8 P. M.
All Musicians and Public Invited.

Just sixteen more shopping days before Christmas, so if you haven't already started it is high time you were getting busy. One of the best and quickest ways to do your Christmas shopping is to read the advertisements in The Reflector, decide on the articles you desire and then go purchase them without delay before the stocks of merchandise have been picked over.

The Live-At-Home movement being sponsored by Governor Gardner, should be practiced throughout our state. With the exception of a few articles North Carolina can produce everything it needs to eat and the sooner our people realize this and begin to live at home, the sooner we will have real prosperity in our state.

If you have not already contributed to the Christmas Cheer fund we urge you to do so. There are numbers of families in our community that will have no Christmas this year without outside aid. Help make these people happy at Christmas time. To do so will bring you greater happiness.

MR. HOOVER'S WORK. The special session was Mr. Hoover's own commitment, made in the midst of the political campaign. He specified the purposes to which it should address itself, even laying down the principle he believed should guide its tariff deliberations. But he let the deliberations get out of hand. They wandered far away from the principle he laid down. Partly disorganization set in, resulting in three groups at loggerheads.

There were no laurels for Mr. Hoover in this spectacle. His own prestige as well as the prestige of his party was injured. The need for leadership cried aloud and was unanswered until many even of his own partisans questioned whether, with all his gifts, he had the ability to handle Congress.—Newark News.

DUKE BACKS PRIMED FOR HEEL BATTLE

Durham, Dec. 5.—Duke has twice as many backs available for the Carolina game this year. Last year there were five men ready for backfield duty. Saturday Duke has ten, each ready for a good afternoon's performance.

The starting lineup, however is as much in doubt now as it was at the start of the week's practice. But one man of the backfield array is certain of a starting job. He is Sam Buie at left half.

Either Kid Brewer or Ock Godfrey will start at full. The coaches don't know yet who it will be. There is a possibility that both men may be in the backfield at the same time.

For right half Flop Beaver, Bill Murray and Glen Roberson are available.

Rosky has been the starting quarterback in every game this year but his illness the first of this week leaves some uncertainty about that position.

Other backs who are ready for the call are Taft Russ, Pat Rochelle and M. T. Plyler. Russ is Buie's understudy and is a good passer. Rochelle was a fullback last year but this season has been played in various backfield positions. Plyler is a halfback.

Of the squad of ten backs the best open field runners this season have been Buie, Roberson, and Murray, with Russ Beaver also doing some good work. Brewer and Godfrey have been used as line-smashers. Buie and Beaver have done the punting.

The backfield forces, with the possible exception of Rosky, are in fine trim but that doesn't mean that frequent shifts necessarily will be made. Coach DeHart may pick a backfield and leave it in for the length of the game, though in previous games he has changed the men about often. Rosky has played more minutes than any other back.

ELEVEN TAR HEELS TO END FOOTBALL CAREERS SAT.

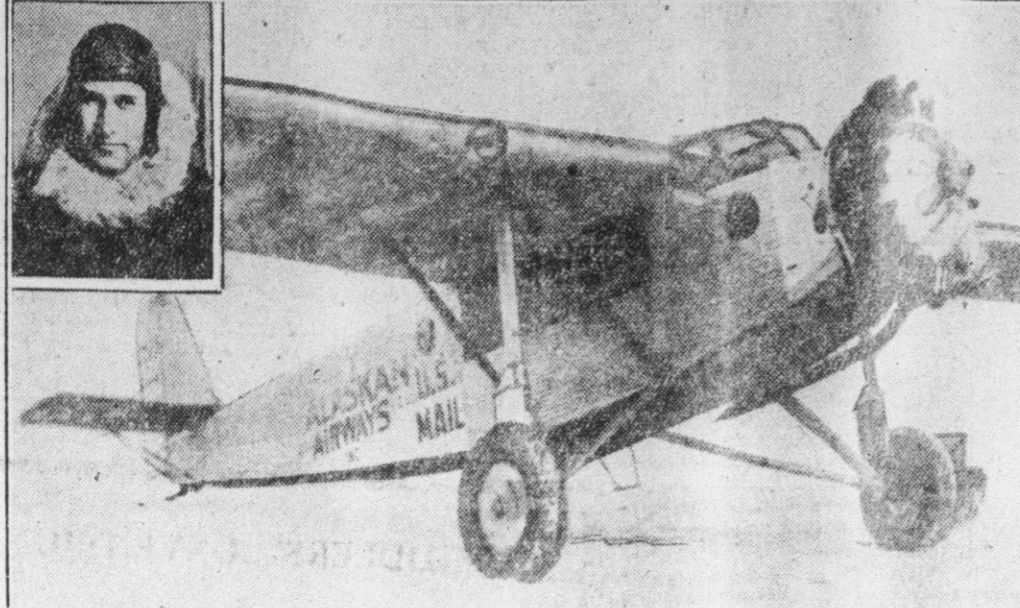

Chapel Hill, Dec. 5.—Eleven Tar Heels will be singing their swan song when Carolina and Duke stage the 14th chapter of their ancient gridiron rivalry in Durham Saturday. Holt and Fenner, ends; Koenig, Adkins and Harper, tackles; Captain Farris and Bud Eskew, guards; Ward and Jackson, halfbacks; and Spaulding and Harden, fullbacks, will be the Carolina stars fighting to end fine careers in a blaze of glory.

CAROLINA AND DUKE TEAMS AVERAGE ABOUT THE SAME

Chapel Hill, Dec. 5.—Carolina and Duke promise to stack up closely so far as weight goes in Saturday's battle at Durham. The Tar Heels have a slight edge in the line, but this is offset by a corresponding Duke edge in backfield weights. All told, the eleven that Duke and Carolina put in the field in their Thanksgiving Day games were not quite 40 pounds different.

SPORTS SLANTS

Football fame and fate seems to be about as fickle as anything else in sport. Consider the case of Georgia Tech. The Golden Tornado of 1928 that has slumped down this fall to the proportions of a mild breeze.

When Captain Peter Pund led his forces off the field at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, last New Year's Day, victors in one of the most remarkable of all intercollegiate games, Georgia Tech was King of the gridiron. The Tornado finished with one of the few unbeaten records of the season, numbering Notre Dame among its victims for the first time. There was not much dispute to Tech's claim to the national football title.

Now Coach Alexander's boys face their old rival, Georgia, in the final game after a disastrous campaign. There haven't been any nibs or cries of distress for "Alex," as fine a sportsman as there is in the coaching brigade, but it was one of the big shocks of 1929 to have Tech drop five games after so brilliant a campaign the year before. After an early season setback at the hands of North Carolina, sounding the warning, Tech lost four in a row to Tulane, Notre Dame, Vanderbilt and Alabama. Only Florida averted the major opponents, was beaten by the Tech outfit that still possessed threats in such backs as Thomason and Mizell, even though the loss of most of the 1928 line, by graduation or injuries, were keenly felt.

The injury jinx struck the great "The near-great without special favor in the football season now being wrapped up in debate and statistics.

Two of the east's greatest All-Masters of Dartmouth and Albie Beach of Yale had their brilliant stars take necessities toward the close after each had hit the heights in the memorable duel at New Haven. Masters was abruptly put out of action by a pine injury suffered in the Yale game. Both sprang a "char" horse that was surrounded by considerable mystery, following the Maryland game. The four

ADKINS TO END CAREER BEFORE HOME FOLKS

Chapel Hill, Dec. 5.—Fenton Adkins, giant Tar Heel tackle, will close out a fine football career in his native town when Tar Heel and Blue Devil clash in Durham Saturday.

A broken leg removed Hank Brudder, Northwestern backfield ace, from the fray early in the season. It was a coincidence that against Northwestern, Notre Dame's fighting center, Big Tim Moynihan, made a similar injury that kept him from finishing the season against West Point. Fate was particularly unkind to Moynihan, big and likable, the "team fester," but a reckless, aggressive type of player apt to run the risk of just such an injury as he suffered. Big Tim nevertheless takes his place along with such other fine centers of Notre Dame as Adam Walsh and Bud Boeringer.

Stanford was handicapped much of the season by injuries to such outstanding players as Walt Heinecke, center, and the hard-hitting Herb Fleischbacker. These two had about as much to do with wrecking the Army as any members of the Cardinal array last year and it will be no particular good news to West Point to know that they both will be in a first class shape for the return game at Palo Alto on Dec. 28.

RALEIGH RAISES FUND FOR BASEBALL

Raleigh, Dec. 5.—(AP)—One-fourth of the $4,000 to be subscribed by Raleigh citizens to match an equal amount to be furnished by the Detroit team of the American league for operation of a Piedmont league baseball team here, has been raised. The baseball committee of the chamber of commerce has announced. The committee will make a personal canvass of Raleigh within the next week to attempt to get the other $3,600 and assure Raleigh's return to the Piedmont circuit.

DUKE AND CAROLINA CAPTS. BOTH FROM CHARLOTTE

Chapel Hill, Dec. 5.—Carolina and Duke both here here for captains, and, odd enough, both claim Charlotte as their home town. Ray Farris leads the Tar Heels from left guard and Kistler will lead the Blue Devils from left tackle. It may be a good thing the old teammates will be on opposite sides of the line when the old rivals line up for their annual clash in Durham.

HOLT AND FENNER TO END CAREERS IN DUKE GAME

Chapel Hill, Dec. 5.—North Carolina will be presenting one of the most consistently good pair of ends in the south for the serious consideration of the all-state pickers when the Tar Heels and Blue Devils clash in Durham. Don Holt and Julian Fenner have consistently kept the end gains of Tar Heel feet to 10 yards and less a game. Both stand 6 feet or better and weigh 180, and both have three years of experience to their credit.

Says Nation Looking To Industry And Commerce To Carry On Prosperity

Washington, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The "brass tacks of the present business problem" has arrived, Assistant Secretary Klein of the commerce department said today, and that only sound which really counts now is "the clang of shovels and of cash register bells."

Addressing the assemblage of business leaders called together by the United States Chamber of Commerce as part of the Hoover business stabilization campaign, Klein warned of a skepticism as to the value of "committees, and resolutions and badges and all the paraphernalia of conference" and asserted that the nation is looking to industry and commerce for action.

He called for frank consideration of the business needs of the nation, determination of where unbalanced spots in the general economic organization of the country are, if any exist, and prompt action to set up reserves which will readjust the industrial and commercial balance.

He urged an extension of the field of business research as a means of renewed vitalization and acceleration of business currents, a wise and considered expansion of export trade which should by no means take on the aspect of "a dumping campaign", and action to cure some of the inherent ills of the American distribution system by the elimination of waste.

Summing up present conditions, Klein said that "admittedly" the situation in some industries is not as satisfactory as it should be, although he declared the general economic structure of the nation to be sound and substantial.

"Agriculture, our basic industry, is broadly speaking, 'sound' he said. "Transportation, both on land and water, is active and efficient. Mining and most of our major manufacturing industries are likewise predominantly healthy. Our fiscal and banking situation is sound and money is now available at reasonable rates."

"Prices continue to be steady with a little downward trend in inventories are likewise low and without any indication of any serious congestion, except in one or two lines where the situation is worthy of some careful study. Finally, management and labor were never before upon such a high plane of efficiency."

"Without belittling the many tragic aspects of the losses of both professional and amateur speculators in the recent break—and each of these groups has suffered heavily—there are numerous reassuring elements in the outlook for the coming months. Dividend and interest payments in December will total almost $700,000,000, an increase of more than twenty per cent over December of last year, an impressive evidence of the power of our earning capacity."

"Unquestionably a large proportion of this vast fund will find its way into prudent reproductive investments—not speculative ventures. Then, too, the amazing total of Christmas savings, not less than $600,000,000 and probably more, means that our Christmas trees will have about the usual share of tinsel and electric lights and little crepe."

Carolina Coal Mine Declared Hazardous, Can't Get Insurance

Raleigh, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The coal mine owned by the Carolina Coal and by-products company, and in which states prisoners were worked during the McLean administration and until Gen. O. Max Gardner had them withdrawn a few months ago, is so hazardous that Dan C. Boney, state insurance commissioner, said it would be unfair to require any insurance company to carry its workmen's compensation risk and no company will accept it voluntarily.

The condition became known when Dewey Dorsett, member of the state industrial commission, announced yesterday that the mine owning company had been conditionally fined $3150 for failure to comply with the compensation law. Commissioner Dorsett wrote into his report that the company had endeavored to secure insurance but that no company would take the liability.

Mr. Dorsett recently heard a case against the company in connection with the death of Dan A. Moore, mine worker who was killed last August. A verdict of $10.80 a week for 350 weeks plus a $3,150 fine was handed down by Mr. Dorsett, but it was stipulated the fine would be remitted if the company paid the compensation in a lump sum of $3,221.90 to the widow and children of the dead man.

The coal company can either become a self-insurer under the terms of the law or reject its provisions, now that it cannot get insurance in a regular company.

Says America to Lead the World in Traffic of the Air

Washington, Dec. 5.—(AP)—A forecast that it is only a question of time until the United States will leave the world in air passenger traffic was made today in the annual report of the national advisory committee for aeronautics, submitted to Congress by President Hoover.

America is producing the requisite technical knowledge, the report said, "to improve the safety and efficiency of aircraft as to bring this about without direct cash subsidies, and for the further reason that the nation's great area will make an important factor of the time to be saved by air travel."

The country was shown to be leading in several phases of aviation aircraft of other nations in some respects, but lagging definitely behind in many developments.
