A bloody axe, found in a ditch by the filling station, apparently was slain some time Friday night.

American Delegates To London Conference Want To Limit All Warships

By BYRON PRICE (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The basic considerations which are to guide American diplomacy at the London naval conference, now definitely established after weeks of preparation, are directed unwaveringly toward the original ideal of a treaty signed by all five of the great sea powers, limiting every type of warship.

President Hoover's final consultations with the American delegates who leave next Thursday for London, are taking into account the obstacles which have arisen since the pre-conference discussions began, but in no case are these obstacles recognized as insurmountable.

In its present quite definite form, the plan to be followed by the delegation looks hopefully toward the French signature of the proposed treaty, despite indications from Paris that she is hesitant to take so positive a commitment.

Discovery that statements are being made at least to limit construction in the near future is taken here as a most promising sign after the recent strong pronouncement of the French national policy. The Americans will go to London holding the faith that it will be possible to translate this promise into actual treaty terms.

The American plan also foresees a way of adjusting the cruiser demands of Japan on a basis satisfactory to all concerned, and it almost takes for granted that the troublesome details of parity between the United States and Great Britain can be reduced to terms regarded as mutually acceptable.

Neither President Hoover nor the members of the delegation have gone the length of supposing, however, that they can draw up before hand a scheme of procedure guaranteed to meet all difficulties. The plan of the delegation is flexible enough to permit constant adjustment to the changing contour of the negotiations. The delegates will communicate freely with the White House as the conference proceeds, and Mr. Hoover himself will remain in a position to guide instantly the important decisions of American policy.

Such parting guidance as the President can give at the present stage will be imparted to the delegation tomorrow at a White House breakfast. Then, accompanied by its advisers, the delegation will leave Washington on Thursday morning on a special train for New York and will sail that afternoon on the steamer George Washington.

That will mean three days in London before the conference meets two weeks from tomorrow—a period Secretary Stimson as head of the delegation, proposed to turn to advantage in personal consultation with the representatives of Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy.

Formally opening the negotiations for the United States at the first session on January 21, Mr. Stimson will speak in general terms of the great expectations of his government for naval limitation and the advancement of peace. He will expound no diplomatic bombshell, as Secretary Hughes did in opening the Washington conference in 1921. Instead, he will counsel a patient examination of the whole field of possibilities before an effort is made to draft definite agreements.

In this particular section the question of credit extension has proven one of the greatest problems, and the address of the expert, it was stated, it looked forward to with more than passing interest.

University Co-Ed Disappears in S. C.

Aiken, S. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Word was received here today that Miss Marie Wise, University of South Carolina co-ed who disappeared from her home here Saturday night, had been located at Henderson, N. C.

Aiken, S. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Continued search for Miss Marie Wise, 17-year-old co-ed of the University of South Carolina, who disappeared from her home here early Saturday night, had failed to bring to light whereabouts of the girl early today. Relatives and friends expressed belief that she left home of her own accord, chafing under orders of her physician.

Miss Wise had been studying journalism at the university when a breakdown of her health necessitated treatment at a hospital at Asheville, N. C. She had recently returned home from Asheville with orders to take particular care of her health.

While her mother, Mrs. S. A. Wise of Aiken, was in another part of the house Saturday evening the girl left her home. No one has been located who has seen her since.

Police in this and other states have been furnished with a description of Miss Wise and are aiding in the search for her.

Wyoming Town Fined for Being Cruel to Cows

Afton, Wyo., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Way out here in the once wild and woolly west where the word "cowpunchers" was originated—and for good reason—they now convict and fine either towns for cruelty to a cow.

Afton was first victim of this new conscience of the cattle country. The city was convicted on complaint of A. Porter Clark, veterinary surgeon, who named as defendants "the city of Afton; Gene Williamson, city marshal, and taxpayers and voters of the city of Afton."

Clark testified that Williamson impounded stray cows and kept them as long as 16 hours without feeding, watering or milking them.

Justice of the Peace Herman Hyde levied a fine of $10 against the municipality and assessed $2.50 court costs.

SADLER BEGINS PASTORATE OF LOCAL CHURCH

Minister Delivered Opening Sermons at Church of Christ Here Yesterday

Rev. Lee S. Sadler began his pastorate of the Eighth Street Church of Christ by preaching at both morning and evening services yesterday. Each service was attended by capacity congregations, and special musical programs were rendered by the choir.

Yesterday morning Mr. Sadler spoke on the subject, "Feeding the Multitudes," in which he brought out many facts in connection with the period of depression prevailing in this section of the state. Last night he used as his subject, "The Steadfastness of God."

It was announced that next Sunday morning Mr. Sadler would preach on the subject, "Why I Came Back to Greenville," in which he will set forth some of his reasons for accepting for the third time the pastorate of the Greenville church.

Mr. Sadler came to Greenville from the Christian church at Farmville. He served the Virginia conference for a period of four years, and was regarded as one of the most forceful speakers of the denomination in that state.

His return to Greenville was greeted with more than usual interest by the entire citizenship and members of various denominations of the city attended the services yesterday.

Pacific Northwest in Grip of Winter

Portland, Ore., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Swept over the Cascade mountains from the east by a cold wind, rain and snow today combined to give the Pacific Northwest the first taste of real winter and in southern Oregon tore down miles of telegraph and telephone lines, interrupted rail and stage traffic and spread a blanket of snow over the highlands.

Southern Washington cities reported a complete change of weather. Springlike weather prevailed in Walla Walla, and the Yakima valley. Saturday, but overnight changed to wintry conditions, which held over to today.

Reports from California and other Southern states indicated the storm held sway there also, although in lighter forms. Snow was predicted over Idaho, Oregon and Washington, while California was promised fair and colder weather.

LABOR HEADS OPEN CONFAB AT CHARLOTTE

William Green Says Organized Labor Is Coming South With Open Friendship

Charlotte, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Labor is coming south in its proposed organization campaign with an outstretched "hand of friendship," William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared in the keynote address of the southern labor conference here today.

Speaking before an audience which included presidents of seven of the southern state federations of labor, national labor officials and almost 250 delegates from the length and breadth of the south, he pleaded for a "change to see if we can't help conditions in the south."

"We believe," he said, "that if we are permitted to function in the south, we could develop co-operation and understanding between employers and employees."

"We come with a hand of friendship. We bear no weapons, we have no mailed fist. We appeal to employers to give us a chance to see if we can't help conditions in the south."

Later, however, in making an appeal for "teamwork" on the part of the southern labor organizations, he declared "we want to show that this is no mere gesture but a crusade on behalf of a great movement."

The aims of the American Federation of Labor, he said, are: First, to organize the workers of the south if they wish to organize; and second, as a result of such an organization to establish a collective relationship between those who manage factories and the workers.

War Department Asks For $435,231,000 to Carry on Program During Year 1931

Washington, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Lacking definite conclusions from President Hoover's economical survey of the war department, the House appropriations committee today reported the supply bill for the fiscal year 1931 for that executive branch, calling for an expenditure of $435,231,000, an increase of $42,000 over the current fiscal year.

With the idea that economies may be effected through the survey, however, the committee wrote into the bill a provision that would prevent the usage of any of the money appropriated for any other purpose in the event that President Hoover decides upon curtailment of the activities provided for in the measure.

Although carrying an increased appropriation, the supply bill is $2,767,000 less than the budget estimates. It sets aside $337,058,000 for military purposes, an increase of $8,019,000 over the current year, and $117,173,000 for non-military activities, including the Panama Canal, a decrease of $5,577,000 as compared with 1930.

For the pay of the army $133,557,000 was set aside, but the entire outlay for the finance department amounts to $135,968,000. This will provide for a regular army personnel of 12,000 commissioned officers; 1,038 warrant officers; 118,750 enlisted men; 6,500 Philippine Scouts.

LEAF MARKET WILL RE-OPEN HERE TUESDAY

After remaining closed several days in celebration of the holiday season, the Greenville tobacco market will re-open tomorrow morning to receive the remainder of the crop of this section of the state.

It was stated that first sales would be held at Forbes & Morton's, Joyner's and Moye and Juett's warehouses.

Three sets of buyers will be on the floors of the various warehouses during the three weeks the market will be open, and all of the large buying concerns will be fully represented.

K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, said this morning that the closing date of the market had been fixed for Friday, January 24th. It was stated sometime ago that the market in all probability would close January 21st, but it was decided to continue the remainder of the week and thereby give the farmers more time to bring their offerings to market.

Mr. Cobb urged that farmers get busy and do everything possible to market the remainder of their crop during the next three weeks. While the bulk of the crop has already been disposed of, he said there yet remained a considerable amount of tobacco to be marketed and that he hoped the growers would speed up and sell as early as possible.

Flames Destroy N. Y. Mansion of Tobacco Magnate

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Nothing but walls were standing today of the $200,000 mansion occupied by the family of George W. Hill, president of the American Tobacco Company.

Catching fire from a Christmas tree about which Mr. Hill's two children, Percival, 6, and Mary, 7, were playing last night, the home was destroyed with its valuable art objects and furnishings.

Mrs. Dora Pond, the housekeeper, rescued the children, while other servants formed a bucket brigade and attempted to fight the flames which communicated rapidly from the Christmas tree to curtains and hangings.

At the same time, Judge Hayes continued until Saturday hearing of a contempt motion against Charles Martin, confessed Danville bootlegger and the government's star witness against Funk and Dowdy.

In order to save them the expense of another trip here, the government placed two more witnesses on the Dowdy case on the stand when court opened today.

Chief of Police J. H. Martin of Danville and W. T. Shelton, Danville, state prohibition inspector, testified that Dowdy was generally known as a "big bootlegger" and that at varying times he maintained a fleet of from seven to ten cars.

NAVAL CONFAB IN LIMELIGHT OF CONGRESS

Body Returns to Work On Capitol Hill Today With Many Issues Waiting

By WALTER CHAMBLIN (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Its eyes directed to the elections next November, the second session of the seventy-first Congress returned to Capitol Hill today to find the London naval conference rivaling the tariff, prohibition and other domestic issues for its attention.

The recess over the holiday season had failed to clarify the complex situation confronting it and, in one respect, the problems had been multiplied by the unheralded flare-up over the wet and dry issue which was initiated on Christmas Eve by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, a stalwart in the ranks of the dries.

The first work at hand today found the Senate ready to proceed with the tariff bill which just one year ago tomorrow had its birth in the ways and means committee of the House. The controversial wool schedule was the exact subject at hand.

In the House miscellaneous bills on the calendar had the legislative right of way but interest also was directed to the report of the appropriations committee of the annual army supply measure, carrying funds for the regular army and the best of non-military activities, such as the rivers and harbors and flood control projects, that come within the jurisdiction of the War Department.

Beyond these questions, however, lay the forthcoming elections, in which all of the House and one-third of the Senate must be chosen. The elections will get underway before many months with primary campaigns in several states and these always serve as a lively prelude to the campaigns to come in the late summer and early fall.

The London naval conference, for which members of the American delegation will leave in a few days, aroused interest at both sides of the capitol. Whatever agreement may be reached at the parley ultimately must come before the Senate for approval, and if appropriate or the curtailment of funds already authorized should become involved, the House will be called upon for its action.

Senate leaders have decided the tariff will have preference in that chamber and this is expected to occupy much time. Once the measure is acted upon it must be returned to the House which body will ask for the appointment of a conference committee and this group, as it has in the case of previous tariff legislation, must thresh over the rates in controversy between the two houses.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Pitt County held in this city on the first Monday in December, the following persons were drawn for service as jurors in the civil term of Pitt County Superior court which will convene in this city next Monday morning:

W. M. Edwards, A. H. Cox, R. D. Stokes, Ayden township; R. S. Burnett, H. L. Harris, W. O. Grimes, W. A. House, W. R. James, Bethel township; J. V. Harrell, C. C. Meeks, Belvoir township; Charlie McArthur, Remy Hemy Beaver Dam township; Chas. F. Hardee, W. P. Paramore, G. H. Rouse, B. S. Buck, J. M. Hodges, Chiefted township; J. E. Brinson, J. K. Briley, Carolina township; J. R. Little, J. W. Duke, Falkland township; W. C. Tyson, Jno. F. Bynum, Fernville township; B. C. Sevens, J. B. Congleton, Earl Briley, A. O. Clark, L. E. Highsmith, J. N. Williams, Greenville township; J. N. Overton, Peachtree township; James Dudley, J. E. Buck, Swift Creek township; A. L. McLawhorn, C. F. Little, B. H. Worthington, Winterville township.

Investigate Death Woman Missionary

Nairobi, Kenya Colony, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Kenya Colony police today pressed investigation of the death of Miss Hulda Stumpf, American missionary whose body was found in a house of the Africa Inland Mission Station at Kijabe, 50 miles away. She is believed to have been murdered.

There was evidence the woman had been assaulted. Authorities said she apparently had suffocated after the attack. They believe her assailant to have been a native. Search for him in nearby villages has been instituted.

Frederick Lanning, business manager of the Africa Inland Mission in New York, said Miss Stumpf had done secretarial work for the director of the Kijabe Mission. He said he had known her personally and that she was a valuable and efficient worker.

"She was last home on furlough in 1925," he said. "I am unable to say just what part of the United States she came from although I believe she had a sister in Florida. I am almost sure she was not over 33 years of age."

Seek Cause of Burlington Fire

Burlington, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Fire department officials today sought the cause of an early morning blaze which yesterday destroyed the Smith-Morrow apartment building here, endangering the lives of many persons who narrowly escaped from the building. The loss, estimated at $150,000, was partly covered by insurance.

The fire originated in the basement to the building, but fire department officials were uncertain as to its cause. The flames for a time threatened nearby buildings, but were checked by effective work of the local fire department, aided by the Graham and O'Connell companies.

Shires to Attempt to Clear Himself With Fight Heads

Chicago, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The only interest Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires had in the boxing business today was to clear himself of charges of having participated in a fixed fight and attempting to fix another.

The Great One, with a yearning to sign a contract to play first base for the White Sox and withdraw from boxing, awaited a summons from the Illinois State Athletic commission to give a explanation of charges that Deylerous Daly of Cleveland, had "taken a dive" for his in Shires' first professional fight at the White City arena December 9.

Already under the ban of the Michigan Boxing commission and the National Boxing association, pending investigation of a charge that a representative of his had attempted to fix his schedule engagement with one Battling Criss, at Detroit last week, the Great One's misery was increased by a claim purported to have been made by Daly that the latter had taken a dive.

The latter charge was made by Daly, according to an interview printed in the Ohio State Journal of Columbus, O., yesterday. Daly, the story said had "gone into the tank" for Shires, because he feared being "taken for a ride" if he failed to yield to a request made by a Shires representative.

Promoter Jim Mulken, Shires, and Eddie Mead, of Cleveland, who brought Daly to Chicago for the fight, all vigorously denied knowing anything about attempts to fix the bout.

Shires agreed that Daly had taken a dive, but insisted it was not voluntary, having been induced by a stout fight to the chin.

"I never imagined I'd be willing to fight again for nothing," Shires said, "But if I ever meet Daly or Gerry or whatever his name is, I'll slap him down without mercy and there won't be any admision charge."

THINKS 1930 WILL PROVE BIG BALL YEAR

By JOHN A. HEYDLER (President National League)

New York, Jan. 6.—It is too early in the year to review the teams in our league for the 1930 pennant race, and it is too early to predict what kind of a season we may expect.

But judging from the growth and progress of the game the past three years and the general strong trend of the public to all sports, I am impelled to predict that 1930 will prove another great year for baseball in general and the National League in particular.

It is a fact that the attendance in our league championship games the past three years totalled 15,000,000. During the three years prior to this period our attendance was about 12,000,000.

Now last season for the first time in about a decade our race was over by about September 1. I do not anticipate such a runaway by any club this year. Both the Boston and Cincinnati clubs will present a much stronger front at the start of the next race. Both teams will have new managers who have proved their capacity to develop and lead first division teams.

The Philadelphia team only developed its real strength toward the end of last season. This club should prove a feature of the 1930 pennant race. So here are three second division teams upon which we can count to put up a real battle with the contenders from the start.

A better balanced league means a closer race, keener competition and as a natural result greater interest and attendance all over the circuit. It looks to me now as though we should have the best balanced league for 1930 in major league history, and therefore we have every reason to look forward with confidence to another great year.

Save Old Tree. Shreveport, N. J.—With the help of ice cream a 161-year-old tree has been saved from destruction. Seven women entertained three workmen on a warm day and induced them to use spools instead of axes. In the meantime, their husbands used cratery on the town fathers.

DUKE TO OPEN COURT SEASON WITH VIRGINIA

Durham, Jan. 6.—Virginia may be faced with a veteran squad of basketball players when Duke opens the season against the Virginia squad at Charlottesville Wednesday night.

Coach Eddie Cameron has a complete outfit of experienced men ready for play. Croson, center and Rogers, forward, are second year men, while Councillor, forward, and Captain Farley and Werber, guards, are third year men.

This outfit has functioned nicely for Coach Cameron in pre-season games with "Y" teams. They scored almost at will. Croson, and Rogers and Wereroet were the main figures in the scoring attack while Farley and Councillor worked the ball into the enemy's territory in shooting distance.

The Blue Devils are facing no easy schedule. Loyola of Chicago is the big intersectional game to be played on February 13. The Chitcagans didn't lose a game last season. All of the state teams will be met twice and Maryland, Navy and Virginia will be played.

The Duke team consists of little men, pivoted around the six foot-four-inch center, Croson. They depend more on speed and a deceptive attack than on over head play. All of the work leading up to the on shooting is done on the floor. Councillor and Werber usually lead the floor attack.

After the Virginia game Wednesday night, the Devils will play Maryland at College Park, Thursday night and Navy at Annapolis Saturday.

... on the skis it's BALANCE!

... in a cigarette it's TASTE!

It is a curious fact that the best-tasting cigarette is the one in which no single taste quality is too evident. Over-mildness, for example—or over-richness—shows lack of "balance" just as plainly as harshness or bitterness.

On this basis, test Chesterfield. Aroma, smoothness, satisfying goodness, flavor, mildness, all present—but none emphasized at the expense of others. The one goal is taste—better taste, balanced taste—

TONY SARG'S MARIONETTES AT COLLEGE JANUARY 14th

The winter series of entertainments offered by East Carolina Teachers College will open with Tony Sarg's Marionettes on January 14. The February attraction will be one of the greatest entertainments Greenville has ever had, an evening of Grand Opera. The March attraction will be Count Von Luckner, "The Sea Devil."

During the season there will also be a concert by a college J. C. club. The season ticket that will soon be placed on sale will include the four entertainments.

Two of the four entertainments will be a Tony Sarg's Marionettes and an evening performance. At the matinee plays will be presented, one a witty Grimm story that has been adapted, "The Bremen Band," at times called "The Musicians of Bremen," or the "Traveling Musicians," and the other a fairy tale somewhat like those from the "Arabian Nights," the "Stolen Princess."

Two plays have been chosen so that the very small children will not get tired following a long plot and yet older people will enjoy them.

"Rip Van Winkle" is the play for the evening, in two acts and seven scenes, following the Washington Irving version of the folk story, in which more than twenty characters appear. It takes 500 strings to operate the puppets in this. Each year Tony Sarg has worked out puppet plays and has carried his art forward with each play, from the first simple dialogue and action scenes to marvels of complicated plays.

One of his first successes was "Rip Van Winkle" and now he comes back with the old favorite greatly improved and enlarged. New York audiences were enthusiastic about the performances in New York during the holidays, when they opened their season. They have just left New York for the southern tour, so Greenville will have a chance to see them very soon after the opening of the season.

Urges Protection of Poultry Industry

The value of the poultry products produced in North Carolina in 1929 is said to be $37,500,000 and for this reason the industry should have every possible protection.

"Diseases are the greatest impediment and drawback to the welfare of poultry production in this State and prevent on is one of the best methods of meeting and combatting this menace," says R. S. Dearstyne, associate poultryman at State College.

"To prevent poultry diseases, however, the grower must have a knowledge of their seasonal occurrence, at what age the fowls are susceptible to the various maladies and what steps must be taken to 'break up an outbreak should one occur."

There is a definitely outlined seasonal zone in which the more common poultry diseases may be anticipated. For instance, respiratory diseases, such as roup, canker and pneumonia occur from late autumn to late spring, especially during rainy seasons when sudden changes of temperature occur. Fox is prevalent during this same time. Typhoid and cholera are more prevalent during late winter and early autumn. White diarrhea may be expected from the time of hatching to the second week of the chick's life. Acute coccidiosis may occur at six weeks of age and from then on during the next three months of the chicks life.

Mr. Dearstyne says that in case of an outbreak of any type of disease, the affected birds should be removed from the flock. The house should be cleaned and sprayed; all drinking vessels cleaned and disinfected and for a period of at least one week, a germicide should be kept in the drinking water. This policy of isolation should be practiced whether the sickness exists on a large or small scale. One droopy, depressed bird may be the starting point of a disease outbreak which might involve the entire flock.

THINK SAFETY
 If our terrible accident record is to be lowered Americans must learn to think in terms of accident prevention. In the home, in industry and in the automobile the majority of accidents occur not only because someone is careless, but because someone fails to automatically do the right thing in an emergency.

It is a noteworthy fact that the great decrease made in recent years in the industrial accident record has been the result of an attitude of mind that makes safety an essential, integral part of any industrial operation. Executives think in terms of safety, exactly as they think in terms of profits or production.

In many of the schools of the nation children, through the medium of graphic interesting lessons, with an appeal to the imagination, are being taught accident prevention. They are shown that safety should be a major factor in any act. As a result, a coming generation will have a subconscious, automatic grasp of the accident problem that will save countless lives in future years. The work has already borne fine fruit in that the death and injury rate among children in schools where safety is part of the curricula, is constantly decreasing.

Adult Americans can all take a lesson in safety from the schools where their children are being educated and from the great employing industries. It is said that no one has a sound grasp of a foreign language until he can think in it; in exactly the same way no one grasps the accident problem until safety is a constant factor in his mental processes.

ABOUT TOWN
 Now that the creamery route from Fountain, Farmville and Greenville has become an actuality, the farmers of this county should get busy and see what they can do in the way of increasing their earnings through this medium. It has been proven beyond doubt that the farmers of this section must get away from the one and two crop idea, and there is no better time to begin than now. The dairying project furnishes one of the best means of providing a new source of revenue and of helping relieve the period of depression occurring in this section from time to time during the year. While there are only a few persons furnishing dairy products for the creamery route, there is no reason on earth why the number should not be increased until it constitutes a majority of the most prominent growers in the county. It matters not what you may have been doing in past year, Mr. Farmer, make it a point to give this creamery movement a try-out and then watch your financial condition increase from year to year.

 Mayor Lanier is of the opinion that the best thing for the people of this community to do during this period of depression is to get down to work and quit complaining.
 The suggestion, as we see it, is a good one and if followed ought to mean much to the people of Greenville in coming months.
 Some people seem to take pride in complaining about conditions instead of using their influence in bettering the situation, and these same people are going to be the ones who will be found complaining when the section actually recovers from depression and gets back to normal.
 The man that is able to forget circumstances at this time and attempts to work out his salvation is going to be the one to come out at the big end of the horn in the future. So trim your sails for the future, Mr. Citizen, and be one of the optimistic who is looking to the future for improvement and nothing else.

Members of the Greenville Merchants Association will be addressed by a credit expert on the 22nd of this month.
 As this is one of the most important matters affecting merchants in all sections of the country at this time it is natural to presume that the speaker will be listened to with more than passing interest.
 Credit conditions will undergo quite a change in this section within the next several weeks, and it is well for the merchants to give the problem the consideration of which it is so deserving before actually going into the matter.

Greenville, like many other towns in Eastern North Carolina, has a number of big credit merchants, and it is absolutely necessary that these men adopt plans looking to their protection during the coming months. Any information which they gain upon the subject will stand them in good stead and enable them to come through with colors flying.
 It is not known exactly what subject the speaker will use upon his visit here but it is a settled fact that anything he has to say in connection with the credit situation will be received with interest.

During the Christmas holidays Greenville merchants showed more than passing interest in the decorating of display windows, and the result was that we had some of the best decorated stores in years.
 This effort, however, should not be confined alone to the holiday season. The well-decorated display window is an invaluable asset to the small town merchant as well as those in the larger cities, and it is our opinion that the man who gives proper attention to his windows will be the one to realize the largest volume of business.
 The writer has bought on the strength of window displays many a time. He has seen things on display that appealed to him and then went into the store and bought them. This goes to prove that the window display is a means of advertising that brings good results, and we would urge our merchants to give more attention to the matter in the future.

The Greenville tobacco market will re-open tomorrow and farmers are urged to rush the remainder of their crop to market during the two weeks or more the market is open.
 The market will care for the farmers' offerings in the same efficient way it always has and all big companies will have representatives on the floors of the warehouses to buy liberally of the remaining crop.
 While the bulk of the crop has been sold, there yet remains quite a bit of tobacco to be marketed, and the farmers would do well to get busy and bring it in for sale at the earliest date possible.
 While the closing date has not been definitely fixed, it is the consensus of opinion that the season will end on the 21st of the month. This will allow something over two weeks to dispose of the rest of the tobacco, proving conclusively that it is going to be necessary for the farmers to act rapidly.

Get busy, Mr. Farmer, and market the remainder of your offerings while you have the opportunity.

Sycamore Hill Baptist Church Unveils Organ
 The new organ recently purchased by the Sycamore Hill Baptist church, colored congregation, was unveiled with appropriate services last night. Aside from a special sermon by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Niamo, Sunday morning, the church continued to celebrate the installation of the new organ with interesting services last night at which time E. G. Flanagan, one of Pitt county's representatives in the Legislature made an interesting talk.
 Mr. Flanagan, who several months ago was confined as result of a critical illness, thanked the congregation for the prayer offered up for him at that time, and then he stressed the progress made by the colored race from the standpoint of education.
 Prof. Epps, principal of colored schools, spoke of the generosity of Mr. Flanagan in his dealings with the colored race, and cited some of his achievements in behalf of the community. He called upon the colored people to live at home and to put forth extra effort for greater development during 1930.

Other speakers of the evening were Rev. J. A. Niamo and Station Clark. Several numbers were rendered by the Social Service quartet.
 The campaign was launched by the Sycamore Hill Baptist church in 1920, and Mr. Flanagan was the first contributor with a check for $100.

Rome Opens Arms Wide to Receive Belgian Princess
 Rome, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Rome has opened wide her arms to Marie Jose, Princess of Belgium who on Wednesday will marry the Italian Crown Prince, Humbert.
 The 23-year-old princess arrived yesterday by special train with her parents and brothers from Brussels. Hundreds of thousands of Romans along the route cheered as she was driven with her betrothed from Central railway station to the Quirinal palace.
 At the palace she, her father, King Albert, her mother, Queen Elizabeth, the Italian royalties, and Prince Humbert came twice to a balcony in response to tribute of the crowd. The princess and Prince Humbert later came three more times and bowed before the tumult of their welcome was stifled.
 Below them the crowd jammed so that women grew hysterical and others fainted. Once they broke through a cordon of infantry and an officer drawing his sword to order his men to reform accidentally cut one of the spectators.
 Arrival of the wedding party fell on Benigna Eve—Eve of Epiphany—which in some respects in the Italian equivalent of the American Christmas Eve. Normal crowding of the streets for that occasion was surpassed many times over by the masses which turned out to see the woman who some day may be Italy's queen.
 These Romans saw a smiling girl with curly chestnut hair and a radiant healthy complexion for which her courtwomen are noted. She wore a white hat, a white moire dress trimmed with white fox fur, and over it a fur bordered beige coat. There was a magnificent string of pearls about her neck, and she carried a bouquet of white lilies.

Storm Halts Search for Missing Fliers
 Fairbanks, Alaska, Jan. 6.—(AP)—With the loss of another plane and three men to add to their worries, the searchers for Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, whose plane disappeared November 9, today were held at a standstill by adverse fortune and fierce Arctic storms.
 Three powerful cabin planes, rushed here from Seattle and put at the disposal of Arctic-hardened Canadian pilots, were down — one wrecked, one apparently lost and the other weather bound at Uluato, halfway point between here and Nome.

The missing plane was one of two that left here Saturday for Nome. Arriving over the mouth of the Koyuk river, at the head of Norton Bay, the two planes ran into blinding blizzards. One, piloted by Matt Niemenen, with Maj. H. C. Deckard and Mechanic Sammy McCauley as passengers, retraced its course to Nulato. The other, piloted by Pat Reid and carrying Mechanics William Hughes and Jim Hutchinson, failed to land at either Nome or Nulato.
 The third of the big cabin planes was smashed up in an attempt to take off for Nome several days ago. Eielson and Borland disappeared while flying from Teller to the trading ship Nanuk, frozen in the ice near North Cape.

Claiming Ambition Ruined Happiness, New Yorker Suicides
 New York, Jan. 6.—(AP)—All night long Frank J. Danaher, 26, sat in the dark hallway of a Bronx tenement building. One by one he smoked his cigarettes and slowly gulped liquor from a bottle at his side as he nervously fingered a pistol in his pocket.
 Just at dawn, a milkman driving his rumbling wagon through the street, heard the faint report of a pistol. A few minutes later he stumbled over Danaher's body in the hallway.
 When Mrs. Danaher awoke in their apartment not far away, her husband was missing but he had left a note on the dresser. A single revolver bullet weighed the scrap of paper upon which was scrawled a single line:
 "Ambition is the ruination of happiness."

Greensboro Woman Believes Skeleton That of her Son
 Greensboro, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Firm in the opinion that the human skeleton found near Reidsville Friday is that of her son, Roy Johnson, 16, Mrs. J. W. Diamond, of this city, left early today for Reidsville to see if complete identification could be made.
 According to telephone messages from Reidsville today Sheriff T. S. Gardner, of Rockingham county, has been called to Wentworth, the county seat, and it was said further efforts toward identification of the skeleton would be postponed until his return sometime later today.
 Mrs. Diamond, accompanied by her husband, left by automobile for Reidsville.
 Roy Johnson, Mrs. Diamond's son, by a first marriage, was employed for sometime in a tobacco factory in Reidsville, his mother told police. He left work one afternoon, saying he was coming to Greensboro to visit his mother. Relatives have not heard from him since.
 A coroner's jury on examining the skeleton found marks on the skull indicating death was caused by violence. A number of articles found with the skeleton have been identified as having belonged to Johnson, officers said. Police of Greensboro and Reidsville are cooperating with Rockingham county officers in an effort to clear up the mystery.

New Beauty

FOR THE NEW FORD

THE NEW FORD COUPE

Flowing grace of line gives style and distinction to new, roomy Ford bodies. Now on display at dealers' showrooms

THE NEW FORD CARS, shown last Tuesday for the first time, have been enthusiastically received throughout the country. Everywhere it is realized that now, more than ever, the new Ford is a "value far above the price."

One of the distinguishing features of the new Ford bodies is the carefully planned harmony of every detail of design. From the new deep radiator to the tip of the curving rear fender there is an unbroken sweep of line—a flowing grace of contour heretofore thought possible only in an expensive automobile.

LOOKING at the new Ford you are impressed instantly by its smart style and compact, substantial sturdiness. For there is about it a certain character or personality which sets it apart and gives it a fresh and lasting beauty. You will take a real pride in this beauty just as you find a real thrill in the alert, capable performance of the car.

All of the new Ford bodies are finished in a variety of colors, with new striping and new streamline moulding. Interiors have more leg room. Closed cars have adjustable front seats. The smaller wheels, with larger tires, bring the car closer to the road, with a consequent gain in riding comfort and safety.

An additional feature of importance is the Rustless Steel used for the radiator shell, head lamps, hub caps, cowl finish strip and tail lamp.

This Rustless Steel will retain its bright, gleaming luster throughout the life of the car. It will not corrode, rust or tarnish in any kind of weather. Its brilliance is permanent. There is no plate to wear off, crack or scale, for it is the same bright metal all the way through.

The use of this Rustless Steel on the new Ford is a reflection of the enduring quality that has been built into every part of the car.

At today's low prices the new Ford is unquestionably an outstanding value. Check it over feature by feature and you will see that it brings you everything you want or need in a modern automobile:—beauty of line and color . . . safety . . . comfort . . . speed . . . power . . . quick acceleration . . . ease of control . . . economy of operation . . . low up-keep cost . . . typical Ford reliability and long life.

POOR HEALTH FORCES TAFT TO QUIT WORK

Chief Justice to Go Away for a Rest; May Recuperate at Asheville

Washington, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Chief Justice Taft has been forced by a weakened physical condition to abruptly end his court work and go away for a rest.

The chief justice is in a highly nervous condition caused by a recurrence of bladder trouble which he suffered about six years ago, which then yielded to treatment.

His condition has caused worry within the inner court circles for some time. Last summer, while in a weakened physical condition due to the discharge of his exacting official duties the chief justice went to Cincinnati to visit his brother, Charles P. Taft, and overtaxed himself.

He exhausted himself in visiting various places of his childhood in the city, and returned to Washington in such a weakened condition that he was forced to enter a hospital. After treatment there, he went to his summer home at Murray Bay, Quebec, where his condition showed improvement.

Mr. Taft is 72 years old. He has been working hard at his task of the head of the Supreme court, however. It is understood that justice Van Devanter will take over his routine duties during his absence in North Carolina.

The chief justice has been watching his own health very closely for several years. He has placed himself upon a strict diet and has so arranged his household as to make it unnecessary for him to expend undue energy in going about.

Mr. Taft returned to Washington last fall after suffering an accident at Murray Bay, which irritated his general nervous condition. He was able, however, to attend the conference of Circuit Court Judges to examine the condition of business in Federal courts throughout the country, and was able to attend all sessions of the court up to recess in December.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.) CREOMULSION FOR THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON
