DR. C. J. ELLEN LAID TO REST THIS MORNING

Funeral Conducted From the Memorial Baptist Church at 11 O'clock

Funeral services for Dr. C. J. Ellen were conducted from Memorial Baptist church this morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, pastor of the church, assisted by W. H. Moore of Kinston. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

The final rites were largely attended despite an incessant drizzle which started during the early hours and continued all the morning. Hundreds of friends from this and other sections of the state gathered to pay tribute to the beloved leader of the religious, business and professional realm, and a wealth of flowers attested the high esteem in which he was held.

Dr. Ellen, who had been in bad health over a period of several weeks, died suddenly Saturday morning about eleven o'clock while in the office of Dr. Joseph Dixon in the National Bank building at Five Points. He had gone to Dr. Dixon's office to receive treatment, and was preparing to lie down for an electric massage, when he collapsed and died instantly.

Although in bad health, Dr. Ellen an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, had continued to observe partial office hours in order to care for the large numbers of patients coming under his supervision, and his sudden death came as a distinct shock to the city and community.

Funeral bearers were:
Active: Dr. Joe Smith, R. W. Gorman, S. N. Graham, J. H. Boyd Jr., C. C. Tyson, W. D. Pruitt, M. K. Blount, J. S. Ficklen, T. R. Moore, C. C. Coppedge.

Honorary pall bearers consisted of members of the Pitt County Medical Society, the Greenville Rotary club, Baraca Class of the Memorial Baptist church and the following:

K. F. Futral, M. H. White, B. B. Sugg, G. J. Woodward, A. J. Moore, J. L. Moore, J. L. Little, P. J. Forbes, Charlie James, W. H. Woodard, W. S. Moye, C. O. H. Laughoughouse, Raleigh, C. Dr. E. T. Dickerson, Wilson, N. C.; R. G. Fitzgerald, J. L. Kilgo, J. Key Brown, Walter Jones, R. M. Garrett, E. J. Garrett, L. H. Burlingame, H. L. Hodges, Robert Greene, W. Z. Morton, E. G. Flanagan, John Hodges, Newell G. Bartlett, Kinston, N. C.; J. C. Lanier, F. G. James, Ralph C. Deal, J. N. Hart, Charlie Benton, Wilson, N. C.; Walter Benton, Wilson, N. C.; Dr. J. G. Raby, Tarboro, N. C.; P. M. Albermarle, N. C.; A. M. Moseley, B. W. Moseley, J. B. James, W. A. Darden, D. S. Spain, R. J. Slay, R. L. Humber, J. J. Summerell, Dr. H. B. Ivey, Goldsboro, N. C.; W. J. Boyd, Ayden, N. C.; Dr. Will Parker, Elizabeth City, N. C.; Frank Patrick, E. W. Harvey.

Dr. Ellen was born in Nash county, August 12, 1866, the son of Hon. Cicero F. and Pattie (Lancaster) Ellen. He was a graduate of Mars Hill college and the Medical College of Virginia. He was a veteran of the World War, having received the commission of captain in 1917.

He was chairman of the board of Deacons of the Memorial Baptist church, teacher of the Men's Baraca Class. He was a former president of the Pitt county Medical society, a member of the Second District Medical society, the North Carolina Medical society, and a fellow of the American Medical association.

He was also a former president of the Greenville Building and Loan Association, the Greenville Rotary club, the old Pitt County Chamber of Commerce and the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of the Country club and the American Legion.

He is survived by his wife and three children, Bruce Parker, Cicero Jasper Jr., and Martha Lancaster Ellen.

Demands Probe of Detective Bureau

Evanston, Ill., Jan. 13.—(AP)—R. V. Robinson has demanded an investigation of the entire detective bureau following an experience which, a physician told him, had shortened his life by ten years.

Robinson charged he was taken for a ride, bound, gagged and held prisoner four hours, and that at the end his captors turned him loose and told him it was all a joke. His captors, he said, were masked, but that before he was freed the men removed their face coverings. He identified three members of the detective bureau, including a sergeant, as his abductors.

The matter is being investigated by the civil service commission.

Pres. Hoover Transmits Congress Report Of Law Enforcement Body

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Three days before the tenth anniversary of prohibition, President Hoover today submitted to Congress an array of opinions and recommendations for strengthening enforcement which brought that question into even greater relief than any of the recent controversies that have surrounded it.

In the main, these recommendations, prepared by the Law Enforcement Commission, Attorney General Mitchell and Secretary Mellon, were as follows:

Reorganization of the federal court structure so as to give relief from congestion.

Concentration of responsibility in detection and prosecution of prohibition violations.

Consolidation of the various agencies engaged in prevention of the smuggling of liquor, narcotics, other merchandise and aliens over the American frontiers.

Provision of adequate court and prosecuting machinery.

Expansion of federal prisons and reorganization of parole and other practices.

The message follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

In my previous message I have requested the attention of the Congress to the urgent situation which has grown up in the matter of enforcement of Federal criminal laws.

After exhaustive examination of the subject, the commission, the officials of the department of justice and the treasury department unite in the conclusion that increasing enactment of Federal criminal laws over the past twenty years, as to which violation of the prohibition laws comprises rather more than one half of the total arrests, has finally culminated in a burden upon the Federal courts of a character for which they are ill-designed, and in many cases entirely beyond their capacity.

The result is to delay civil causes, and of even more importance, the defeat of both justice and law enforcement. Moreover, experience shows division of authority, responsibility and lack of fundamental organization in Federal enforcement agencies and oftentimes results in ineffective action.

While some sections of the American people may disagree upon the merits of some of the questions involved every responsible citizen supports the fundamental principle that the law of the land must be enforced.

The development of the facts shows the necessity for certain important and evident administrative reforms in the enforcement and judicial machinery, concrete proposals for which are available from government departments. They are in the main:

1. Reorganization of the Federal court structure so as to give relief from congestion.

2. Concentration of responsibility in detection and prosecution of prohibition violations.

3. Consolidation of the various agencies engaged in prevention of smuggling of liquor, narcotics, other merchandise and aliens over our frontiers.

4. Provision of adequate court and prosecuting officials.

5. Expansion of Federal prisons and reorganization of parole and other practices.

Specific legislation for the District of Columbia.

I append hereto a preliminary and a supplementary report from the commission on law observance and enforcement, relating to several of these and other questions. I particularly call attention to their recommended plan for reducing congestion in the Federal courts by giving court commissioners enlarged powers in minor criminal cases. Their discussion of the workable and the constitutionality of the plan, which is concurred in by the eminent jurists upon the commission and others whose advice they have sought, is set out in more detail in the supplementary report. I also append memorandums from the attorney general and the secretary of the treasury upon several phases of these problems.

I believe the administrative changes mentioned above will contribute to cure many abuses. Beyond these immediate questions are others which reach deeply into the whole question of the growth of crime and the enforcement of the laws. The causes of crime, the character of criminal laws, the benefits and liabilities that flow from them, the abuses which arise under them, the method by which enforcement and judicial personnel is secured, the judicial procedure, the respective responsibility of the Federal and state governments to these problems, all require further most exhaustive consideration and investigation, which will require time and earnest research as to the facts and forces in action before sound opinions can be arrived at upon them.

FIVE KILLED IN COLLISION NEAR DILLON

Cotton Mill Superintendent, Wife, Two Children and Another Die in Wreck

Dillon, S. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Five persons are dead today and a sixth is expected to die as a result of a head-on collision between two automobiles seven miles from here on the Dillon-Latta highway last night.

The dead are: J. G. McDonald, cotton mill superintendent, Hamer, S. C.; Mrs. McDonald, their two children, Virginia and Betty, and Mrs. McDonald's brother, Oscar Horn.

Little hope is held for the recovery of a third child, Mildred McDonald. Her death is expected momentarily in a Florence, S. C., hospital.

Laval Osteen, 21, of Dillon, driver of the car with which the McDonald machine collided, is in a serious condition in a Florence hospital. He sustained a fractured skull.

Ada Williams Alford and Hallie Cook, girl companions of Osteen, were slightly injured in the crash. They are at their homes here. Hoyt Braswell, the fourth occupant of Osteen's car, escaped injury.

Betty, the youngest McDonald child, was killed outright in the collision. The others died shortly after reaching the hospital in Florence.

The wreck is said to have occurred when McDonald's automobile skidded on the highway and crashed into Osteen's car. McDonald was enroute to Dillon while Osteen was proceeding toward Latta. Both machines were practically demolished.

SALESMAN FATALY INJURED IN WRECK

Fayetteville, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A. R. Wade, Jr., 30, Fayetteville traveling salesman, died in a hospital here this morning of injuries sustained in a head-on automobile collision near Fuquay Springs, last night.

NAVAL FLIER PREPARES TO MAKE FLIGHT

Apollo Soucek to Attempt to Recapture World Altitude Record Soon

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The navy's high flying lieutenant, Apollo Soucek, with a new hand-made, hand operated auxiliary lung to help him breathe when he spirals upward more than 40,000 feet above the earth, is all ready for an attempt to recapture the world's altitude record.

He said today he might start on a record hop. "The first good day that comes."

He will use the same Wright Apache that he flew 39,150 feet high for the world's land record last May—a month before he transformed the Apache into a seaplane and broke the record for that type of craft.

It is this plane he has equipped with the breathing apparatus which he designed when he realized that he had to have some way of getting oxygen into his lungs up where the air pressure is so low that, without mechanical assistance, he would, willy-nilly, exhale constantly without ever being able to inhale. He thinks it is all he needs to exceed the mark, 41,760 feet, that the German Willie Newhofer reached last summer.

The new breathing apparatus consists of three bottles for "bone-dry" oxygen, a two-hour supply. A system of copper pipes and rubber tubing, and an "exhaust" tube that is closed with the pilot's hand at regular intervals to stop the flow of oxygen from the lungs outward.

Fitting over the pilot's stick, the exhaust tube is attached to a casting enclosing the supply tubes running through the dashboard to the oxygen supply bottles, in back of the fuselage.

"It worked perfectly at 37,000 feet," said Lieut. Soucek, "but that is not high enough to tell whether it will work up above 40,000."

BEGIN PLANS FOR BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Local Baptists Arrange for Entertainment of Church Host Here in March

Members of the steering committee having charge of local arrangements for the centennial celebration of the State Baptist Convention to be held at Memorial Baptist church during the month of March, met yesterday and outlined tentative plans for entertaining the thousand or more guests expected to be in attendance during the two days the celebration is in progress.

Although no details of the plans were made public, it was understood that virtually all arrangements would be completed during the latter part of the month, when the program is expected to be made public.

Dr. Poteat, of Wake Forest College, is in charge of plans for the convention, and it was also understood that he and his members would be ready to report sometime this month or the early part of February.

The celebration will be one of the outstanding events in the life of North Carolina Baptists. It will be the first time they have attempted to celebrate a birthday, and they have a record covering the long span of one hundred years to consider when the celebration actually gets under way. That record is a colorful one, filled as it is with brilliant pages of progress in all fields of endeavor, and the affair is looked forward to with more than usual interest by members of the denomination throughout the south.

Men high in the life of the denomination will occupy the stage from day to day, and they will attempt to summarize some of the activities that have enabled the church to take such an important part in spreading the gospel to many parts of the world. The future program will also be given some consideration, it was stated.

The convention was organized in Greenville during the month of March one hundred years ago, on the present site of the Memorial Baptist church and in what was then known as the Missionary Baptist church. The handful of distinguished men and women who attended that first convention have grown into several thousands, and the host which will flock to the city to join in the great birthday party for the convention.

Decision to hold the celebration here was reached at the last general session of the convention at Shelby when Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, representing the local congregation, attended the convention on invitation to come to Greenville to mark its hundredth anniversary. It was voted to hold an adjourned meeting here in March, and it was this single act that put in motion the extensive plans at present under way in behalf of the celebration.

Superior Court Begins Two-Week Sitting in City

A two weeks' term of Pitt county Superior court, for the trial of civil and criminal cases, convened in this city this morning with Judge Thomas Johnson, of Lumberton, presiding. There are several civil actions of more or less importance to come up for hearing this week and the criminal calendar which had not been completed Saturday is expected to contain numbers of important cases.

May Need Red Flannels.
London.—The well dressed American diplomat in London, during the five power naval conference, perhaps will need flannel underwear. The conference will be held during London's chilliest season. There is no steam heat in St. James' Palace, where the conference sessions will take place, fireplaces being the means of heating.

Says Citizens Must Quit Drinking Before Country Becomes Dry

Gastonia, N. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—In his charge to the grand jury of Gaston county Superior court at its opening session here today, Judge J. H. Clement said "prohibition never will be enforced until the bankers, the lawyers and doctors, the so-called good citizens, quit drinking."

FLOOD WATERS FORCE PEOPLE TO QUIT HOME

Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi Hard-Hit by Heavy Rainfall

Memphis, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Continued rainfall together with the prospect of a considerable inflow from melting snow in the upper reaches of the Mississippi today increased apprehension regarding high water in the lower valley.

From the Ohio river to Vicksburg, Miss., streams were to be rising some hours, several hundred families in Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi had been forced to leave their homes and business and was affected in at least two villages.

Forecasts of colder weather and clearing skies which allayed concern in the valley several days ago had failed to materialize today.

The situation by states:
Kentucky: Green river and lower Ohio past flood stage, flooding lands near Cynthiana. Mississippi rising at Cairo and flooding lands near Hickman. Many highways impassable.

Missouri: Small streams in southeast corner out of banks, flooding lowlands. Mississippi nearing flood stage at New Madrid.

Tennessee: Mississippi rising rapidly at Memphis, many islands inundated and river increasing pressure on levees. Ohio river broke through levees near Dyersburg, endangering lives of 30 families, rescued by boats. Much bottom land along Wolf and Ohio rivers inundated. Highways damaged and some impassable.

Arkansas: Streets in Bay and Lumberton villages on St. Francis river flooded. Lake City, an important town, threatened from old break in St. Francis. Families forced from homes in upper Black, White and St. Francis basins. Gache river flowing over Memphis-Little Rock highway and other roads damaged. Drainage canals near Truman swollen and flooding farm lands. Big Lake above flood stage and levees being patrolled with several towns much valuable land nearby in danger. None of the important rivers at flood stage in lower reaches, although White river is rising rapidly at Clarendon and no rest in sight.

Mississippi: Coldwater river broke through levee near Greenshaw, forcing several negro families to flee in boats inundating valuable lands. Water still standing on streets of town of Coldwater. All rivers continue to rise.

Geneva, Switzerland, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The 58th session of the council of the League of Nations opened here today with special police safeguards provided by the Swiss authorities because of reports of anti-Fascist plots to bomb the Italian delegation.

The sessions began with an eulogy of Dr. Gustav Stresemann, the late German statesman, by Foreign Minister Zaleski of Poland who presided.

Despite the rumors of anti-Fascist plots, Dino Grandi, the Italian foreign minister, and spokesman for Premier Mussolini, sat calmly between Foreign Minister Briand of France, and Dr. Von Schubert.

Because of restrictions on the distribution of tickets to the public which was part of the program of special safeguards, half the seats in the council chambers were empty.

Moreover it was clear that the importance of the approaching London naval conference tended to overshadow interest in the present session. Because of the London conference Foreign Minister Briand and Foreign Secretary Henderson of Great Britain are expected to leave Geneva Wednesday or Thursday.

A Swiss citizen who, with all visitors to the league secretariat, was subjected to close scrutiny outside the building this morning was found to possess a small revolver and a supply of blank cartridges. His arrest caused some stir especially as he was alleged to have declared he intended to get into the league council chamber and to fire his weapon in order to attract attention.

Baptists Meet in S. C.
Columbia, S. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Baptist General Board of South Carolina, began a three-day meeting here today to discuss raising money called for in 1930 church budget adopted at the recent meeting of the state body in Spartanburg.

The budget calls for expenditure of $355,000 in 1930, 45 per cent for south-wide causes and 55 per cent for state work.

Kinston, N. C. (AP)—B. Frank Bursell, 55, former Kinston police chief, is dead at his home here.

Hoover Says Presidency Affords Opportunity To Speed March of Humanity

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover finds in the presidency an "opportunity for speeding the orderly march of a great people" and "in the inspiration of that moving host" such compensation as is vouchsafed to him.

This was set forth by the chief executive in a letter to Dr. W. O. Thompson president emeritus of Ohio State university, in which Mr. Hoover told something of the pleasing and unpleasant features of the language of those who for partisan reasons are working for his downfall.

Their "daily toil is mixing mud pies," he said of those who seek to embarrass the president by giving publication to untruths and again he referred to them as "haberdashers" generously providing him with "mental hair shirts."

"Somewhere lately I said that every man has a few mental hair shirts and that presidents' differ only by their larger wardrobe," he wrote, "for certain individuals, newspaper associations and institutions officiate as haberdashers in this regard with a high generosity which guarantees both humility and urbanity."

Nevertheless, the chief executive drew immense satisfaction from what he termed "the majority" that regardless of party affiliations, is anxious that he be successful in his administration of the nation's affairs.

Dr. Thompson had sent the president a message of New Year greeting, in which he incorporated "a bit of council growing out of a half century of observation."

This was that the chief executive should not be misled or disheartened by partisans working for his failure and by those who seek to obscure the truth by the dissemination of falsehood.

"The human flood which flows through the White House," the president replied, "shows all the dark colorings and the foam that you mention, but it is brightened more than you think by the majority who, regardless of party, genuinely wish to help the president succeed in his task. Of course, it is true that malice is sometimes the road to newspaper headlines, and there will always be partisans desirous that the president should fall even if their stratagems injure the country or whose daily toil is to mix mud pies. But if these blots were other than exceptions, this nation would not have swept to a mightier and mightier destiny every year since the independence."

He asserted that the "discovery and profulgation of the truth" was "a vital question of public action." We can and must, he said, "greatly increase the production of truth and we must know the truth before the grave interest of 120,000,000 people is involved in government policies." And the truth, he added, is hard to discover.

"It must be distilled through the common judgment of skilled men and women from accurately and patiently collected facts and knowledge of the essence of wisdom," Mr. Hoover continued. "The materials themselves are also hard to come by; it takes patience, especially as our many inventions have forever banished the simple life. In the meantime, a vast clamor of half truths and untruths and injured facts will always fill the air and intoxicate people's emotions."

"The president himself cannot pretend to know or to have the time for detailed investigation into every one of the hundreds of subjects in a great people. But the fine minds of our citizens are available and can be utilized for the search."

The chief executive went on to link his creation of numerous investigative commissions with this search for the truth, and indicated at the same time that the establishment of "more and more" of them might be expected. They are, he said, "one of the sound processes for the search, production and distribution of the truth" and a means of spreading co-operation with the government "among our best citizens."

In addition, Mr. Hoover expressed the view that of the three sections of Lincoln's great formula, the third—"government by the people"—was the most important.

LEAGUE OPENS THIRD DEATH SESSIONS AT SWITZERLAND PARROT FEVER

Special Police Protection Provided Because of Reported Bomb Plot

Geneva, Switzerland, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The 58th session of the council of the League of Nations opened here today with special police safeguards provided by the Swiss authorities because of reports of anti-Fascist plots to bomb the Italian delegation.

Four Persons Hurt, Several Missing and Hundreds Marooned by Snowfall

San Francisco, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Winter swooped down upon the far west during the week-end, leaving in its wake today six persons dead, four critically hurt, several missing and hundreds marooned by snow.

Bitter cold accounted for three of the deaths—two in Arizona and one in Washington. Heavy snow fell in many places in California. Fresno received its first appreciable snow in 20 years, and San Francisco its first measurable fall in 8 years. The hill country of Southern California received its heaviest snow in 25 years.

In Arizona, two men were found frozen to death three miles from their stalled automobile near the summit of Mingo Mountain of the Jerome-Prescott highway. Several other persons were reported missing.

Washington counted two fatalities. In Seattle, a man was killed and six others injured, four critically, in a collision between a bob-sled and an automobile.

At Walla Walla the body of an unidentified man, presumably frozen to death, was found in a Snake river cabin.

California likewise reported two fatalities. Hiram Shearer, 73, city marshal of Nevada City, died from a fractured skull received while directing traffic. He was struck by a coasting sled.

In Los Angeles, Morris Feldman, his vision obscured by rain, drove his automobile in front of a Pacific electric train on Foothill boulevard and was killed.

Virtually the whole state of California was swept by snow, rain and hail. Snow fell in places where it seldom is seen as the storm king played havoc with motorists, and marooned hundreds in winter resorts.

In the Sierra foothills, 300 automobiles were abandoned between San Andreas and Angels Camp, while their occupants estimated to number in excess of 1,300, sought refuge from the falling snow and bitter wind in farm houses.

In the Los Angeles district, similar conditions prevailed. Scores of motorists were snowbound in Caon Pass, while 500 residents of winter resorts in the San Bernardino mountains were held to their cabins. Drifts twenty feet deep were reported blocking the roads in some places.

Sheriff's deputies led a posse into the San Bernardino mountains to search for Richard Crawford, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Crawford, of San Bernardino, who became separated from a group of Boy Scouts on a hiking expedition. Fears for the boy's safety were acute because snow was drifted high in the area where he was last seen.

The worst blizzard in years blocked highways in all directions in northern Arizona. Snow was four feet deep at Williams this morning and still was falling. Hundreds of motorists were stalled at Williams and other towns in that area.

Labor Federation Faced by Several Leading Questions

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 13.—(AP)—After a week end recess members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor today had before them a discussion of the most important labor questions to be taken up at their mid-winter convention.

Virtually all of the minor convention has been disposed of since the conference opened last Wednesday. Problems to be considered are child labor, injunction and convict labor legislation, unemployment and the displacement of workmen by machinery.

The council also is to give attention to the federations campaign to organize labor throughout the south Headquarters are being set up in Birmingham, and President Green plans to deliver a address there on January 20 in which he will sound the keynote of the drive and outline a general policy to be pursued.

Fayetteville Bank
Fails to Open Doors
Fayetteville, N. C. Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Lafayette Bank and Trust company here failed to open its doors for business this morning.

A statement signed by John B. Tolar, president, and posted on the door of the banking house, advised depositors that due to heavy withdrawals the bank had been turned over to the State Bank Examiner, D. M. Darden.

The institution had $50,000 capital stock. It was organized in 1919.

PLAYS BY TONY SARG'S MARIONETTES: TUESDAY

In Tony Sarg's Marionette shows the miniature stage and doll actors seem to grow to life size, and those in the audience forget that the agile, talking, beings on the stage are only dolls, after all, and that the brains behind the scenes are in the heads of the puppeteers, who pull the four or five hundred strings, speak the lines, sing the songs, and let the puppets take the honors.

The marvelous dolls will be seen at East Carolina Teachers College twice on Tuesday, January 14. Eight puppeteers will pull the strings for "The Bremen Band" and "The Stolen Princess" and other tricks in the afternoon, at 3:30, and for a score or more of characters in "Rip Van Winkle" in the evening, at 8:30. "Rip Van Winkle" has been revived and re-vamped from all the story and stage versions of the favorite folk tale. Rip himself is a reminder of Joe Jefferson, but "My Dog Svhneider" has taken the name "Washington Irving gives him of 'Wolf,' and is the most human dog ever seen on a stage. Even moving picture tricks are brought in for the phantom ship of the quaint little Dutchman. In the scene before the inn Nicholas Vedder puffs a pipe, while most of the characters pass by, among them a sailor with a parrot. The mountain scenes are excellent, and even a treasure cave is introduced. Only New York audiences have had a chance to see this until the beginning of the southern tour, and the New York papers have given flattering attention to the performances at the Punch and Judy Theatre during the holiday season.

In the playlet "The Bremen Band" animals and robbers are the leading actors, and in "The Stolen Princess" there are reminders of the Arabian Nights tales. At the matinee in addition to these there will be a number of trick features that will put the puppets through their paces and show what can be done with them.

KING'S DAUGHTERS TO CELEBRATE FOUNDER'S DAY

EVERYONE URGED TO BUY SEASON TICKETS FOR THE COLLEGE ENTERTAINMENTS

The people of Greenville are urged to support the entertainments scheduled at the college for the winter and spring terms. We are fortunate indeed to have such splendid programs brought to us by the college.

For the first time in the history of the town, we are to have Grand Opera, and the other numbers are deserving of our interest and support. Even if times are hard, the prices asked for the season tickets are within the reach of most of us and we should show the program committee of the college that we are ready to support them in bringing high type entertainments to our town.

No town in Eastern Carolina has programs that can even compare with these the college brings us. A great many tickets are being sold in nearby towns, and our own people are urged to show their loyalty to the college by attending these entertainments. Season tickets for the whole season are only $3.00.

Missions School Opens Tonight at the M. E. Church

Beginning this evening at 7:30 the Church School of Missions at Jarvis Memorial M. E. church will open and continue through each evening this week closing Friday evening. There will be three classes: One for the men, taught by Rev. E. L. Hillman, using the text "The Church and the World Parish"; by Elmer T. Clark; the women's class taught by Mrs. W. C. Vincent, text, "The Church and the World Parish"; by Clark; and a class for the young people, taught by Mrs. W. E. Hooker, using "The Story of Missions," by Edwin E. White. Great good will come out of these classes if you will give your support by attending them and sharing the spirit of the class. Come every night if you can, but if that is not convenient, come as many nights as you can. It is no compulsory to buy a book, or even read the book, but you will find it more interesting if you read the book and join in the discussions. However, there will be no requirements made. The women will note that this class will take the place of their spring mission study class in the Missionary Society, and I'm sure will be glad to rally to its support. And parents, urge the importance of the young people studying together the lesson in sharing the world friendship which will grow out of the young people's class discussions.

Salvation Army Campaign Workers to Meet Tuesday

TO WELCOME MR. AND MRS. SADLER

The congregation of the Eighth Street Christian church will entertain all friends at a musical tonight at 8:15 o'clock. At the conclusion of the program a Love Feast will be held in the Sunday School auditorium. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone who would like to have a part in this courtesy which is being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Sadler, who recently returned to make Greenville their home as he takes up the work as pastor of the church.

Two Bombs Explode At Attorney's Home

Chicago, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Two bombs, one at the rear and one at the front, exploded simultaneously at the home of Guy C. Guerine, village attorney of Melrose Park, a suburb, early today. Guerine and Mrs. Guerine were at home, but escaped injury.

Investigate Man's Death. Alken, S. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Sheriff Howard and Coroner Tarver left here this morning for Ellenton to conduct an inquest into the death of Dewey Dixon, who, they said, was killed last night by Mrs. Dollie Chaveous when Dixon and her husband, "Boss" Chaveous, were fighting outside the Chaveous filling station. Officers said they had received reports that Dixon was slashing Chaveous with a knife when Mrs. Chaveous intervened and shot him with a gun.

BELVOIR NEWS

Mrs. Della Perry, of Wilson, N. C. is visiting Mrs. T. E. Parker this week.

J. A. Tyson and Will Buntan, of Oak City, were Belvoir visitors on Thursday.

There is more moving in and moving out in this section than ever before. There are so many newcomers it will be time to move again before we can get acquainted with each other.

Miss Ella Fleming, one of our teachers, is back at school after having been absent since Friday owing to the death of her mother.

C. D. Ward, our ex-principal, visited at the teacherage Sunday night.

Miss Siddell, our county supervisor, visited the school, Thursday.

Mrs. C. L. Parker is sick at her home with influenza.

Mrs. Sophie Tyson left Sunday to be at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Martha Hurst, near Grimesland, who was very ill with pneumonia. We were very sorry to learn that Mrs. Hurst died Sunday.

Mrs. A. L. Thigpen and daughters, Martha and Aldah, went to Greenville Tuesday.

C. L. Parker and R. J. Little went to Greenville Tuesday.

"Rat" Harris and family have moved from here to Leggett.

Miss Ethel Small, of Raleigh, came home Friday to spend the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Small.

Bell Arthur News

The most successful meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Arthur High School was held Tuesday, January 16. A larger attendance than on any previous meeting attested the growing interest of the members.

All were disappointed because Miss Siedel, the county supervisor, was not present with some one from the Teachers College, who was expected to talk to us on thrift.

However, Mrs. Elbert Moye, Jr., our president, made a very interesting talk along this line, presenting some practical ideas.

Two beautiful vocal numbers, "Carolina Rose" and "Drifting Back to Dreamland," were rendered by Miss Virginia Reel and Mr. Clifton Crawford. Little Miss Blois Crawford then sang.

The prize for best attendance of parents was won by the fourth and fifth grades, Mrs. Phillips, teacher.

The serving of delightful refreshments by the social committee, gave the finishing touch to a most enjoyable evening.

We, the teachers and officers of this association, earnestly desire the attendance of every parent who has a child in this school and of all others who are interested, and that includes every citizen.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, February 17. We promise you something of benefit to all who may come and an hour of social enjoyment.

The school building now has electric lights. The dormitory also has lights and a telephone.

WARDEN ASKS AID TO STOP FOREST FIRES

Greatest Per Cent of Forest Loss in Pitt is Believed Caused by Brush Burning

By J. R. SMITH (Forest Fire Warden, Pitt County)

Pitt County needs productive forest to maintain its prosperity but it can not have them while woods-burning continues. Woods fires in Pitt County can be stopped because almost all of them are caused by man. The woods burner drags down business and undermines the general welfare. He causes land to suffer and idle acres to multiply. He destroys young forest which would be a valuable asset to land owners. The total area of Pitt County to be protected is 249,600 and the total forest area is 139,097. Fifty-five percent is forest in the spring of 1929 3,478 acres burned 1.3 percent of protected area. Spring is generally recognized as being our worst season—the time of year when it is possible for fires to burn over large areas. However, the spring fire season of 1929 had less acreage burned than the previous year. We shall strive through the co-operation of the people and the wardens of the county to reduce the acreage even more this year.

Pitt County has a great many fires caused by brush burners who allow fires to get away. There is a certain amount of logging and lumbering which is going on; this contributes also towards the fires that occur in the county. The Norfolk and Southern and Atlantic Coast Line trains traverse the county; both keeps its right of way in very good condition so it is seldom that railroad fires occur. Both are occasionally responsible for other fires are started by hunters. Some smokers and warming fires. Some land owners feel that it is hopeless to try to keep fires from their land. So they become advocates of spring and fall burnings. Yet often these protection burners make a bad situation worse by permitting their own fires to spread beyond their own land. An individual has the right to burn his own land, provided he confines the fire to his own property; but he is grievously at fault, unfair to his neighbors and unkind to the welfare of his community when he permits the fire to spread to the land of others.

The statistics show at the close of the fiscal year of 1928-29, 75 fires occurred in Pitt County. Twenty-eight percent were caused by brush burning. Thirty-six percent of fires were unknown origin, which the department believes a great percent was caused by brush burning and grass in open land. The county is organized in 35 districts each district has district wardens and deputies. There are approximately 170 men in the Forest Service of Pitt County. The Department of Conservation and Development eagerly asks the co-operation of each individual to help conserve the forest of Pitt County.

STRIKERS ON TRIAL TODAY AT GASTONIA

Bills of Indictment Presented Against Fourteen Men in the Wiggins Case

Gastonia, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Bills of indictment against the fourteen men on charges in connection with the death of Mrs. Ella May Wiggins a union textile worker, were presented to the grand jury.

The bills charge the men with murder, assault with intent to kill and of forming a mob.

The grand jury retired and immediately began its deliberations. When the grand jury retired, the petit jury of 12 was sworn in and the court began consideration of other cases on the docket. Witnesses in the Wiggins trial were instructed to remain in the court room, subject to the call of the grand jury.

Court attaches said they did not expect the grand jury to return a true bill until tomorrow. The jury cannot split the three indictments. It finds that the defendants turned Mrs. Wiggins and others back on the highway, it must return a true bill including all charges. Judge Clement pointed out.

Members of the grand jury are: M. S. Garrison, Belmont, farmer; W. M. Craig, Gastonia, mattress manufacturer; B. G. Davis, Dallas, farmer; A. V. Killian, Mt. Holly, farmer; Ed A. Carson, Gastonia, farmer; W. H. Patrick, Gastonia, banker; Jewett McArthur, Gastonia, farmer; J. R. Lutz, Bessemer City, grocer; M. R. Dixon, Gastonia, farmer; W. P. Gibbons, Gastonia, transfer man; C. L. Schrum, Gastonia, merchant; Lamar Smith, Gastonia, laborer; D. M. Bean, Cherryville, merchant; D. E. Lineberger, High Shoals, farmer; and Clarence O. Thornburg, Dallas, merchant.

It also provides machinery through which the work of the Federal Farm Board under the agricultural marketing act can be carried out in regard to cotton. In addition to its general merchandising operations the new association can operate as a stabilization corporation if, as and when such operations are approved by the Federal Farm Board.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

CONSECA LED LEAGUE WITH BAT LAST YEAR

Chicago, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Lew Fonseca, whose major league baseball career apparently was over when he was shipped to the minors by the Philadelphia Nationals four years ago, was the leading batsman of the American League last season. Fonseca, playing first base for the Cleveland Indians, won the league batting title with the lowest average since Ty Cobb's 1914 championship mark. Fonseca batted 556 times in 148 games, hitting safely 209 times for an average of .369, ten points under Leon Cobb's 1914 average.

Al Simmons, outfielder of the world champion Philadelphia Athletics, was runner-up to Fonseca, with an average of .365, and Henry Manush, St. Louis Browns outfielder, was third with .355. Manush finished second to Goslin in 1928. Goslin made a disappointing showing, failing to finish in the 300 class.

Others in the leading ten were Jimmy Foxx, Philadelphia, .354; Tony Lazzeri, New York, .354; Bob Fothergill, Detroit, .350; Earl Combs, New York, .345; Babe Ruth, New York, .345; Harry Hellmann, Detroit, .344; and Dale Alexander, Detroit, .343.

For the third consecutive season, exactly 50 American League players hit 300 or better. Of this number, 15 were in their first year in the major leagues, with Dale Alexander's 343, topping the first year men.

The team batting championship was won by Detroit, which finished the campaign with a mark of .299.

Urges Congregation to Be Heralds of King

In his sermon last evening at the Memorial Baptist church, Rev. A. W. Fleischmann urged his hearers to use John the Baptist as an example to follow in being a Herald of the King, using as his text Matthew 3:2 which quotes John as saying, "Repent ye, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand."

He spoke of John as the great herald of the Messiah and the connecting link between the Old Testament prophets and the Christian Apostles, his father and mother belonging to the priestly tribe. He was of heroic build, strong in spirit, a man sent from God and his life was a short brilliant romance ending in his pathetic tragedy.

The pastor told his congregation that the king whose heralds he was broken by a ringing call, the call of one sure of his message and ready and willing to deliver it. His words penetrated every heart that heard it. His fame reached Judea and the region about Jordan and all the people came seeking him. John denounced their sins and did not hesitate to call them a "generation of vipers." He told the Pharisees they were no longer to boast their descent from Abraham, but to humble themselves.

The pastor urged his hearers to be true heralds of the King, as ready and willing as John to say: "Behold the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world," and added that only by exemplifying this great man, can we of today be true followers of Jesus Christ.

Laurence Heads Virginia Carolinas Typographical Body

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—R. R. Laurence, of Winston-Salem, was elected president of the Virginia-Carolinas Typographical conference at the body's semi-annual meeting here last night.

Notice to all persons claiming any interest in the subject matter in this action.

North Carolina, Pitt County. In the Superior Court. Town of Greenville vs. J. L. Harris and wife, Mrs. J. L. Harris. The above named defendants and all other persons claiming any interest in the subject matter thereof will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the Superior Court of Pitt County, North Carolina, to foreclose certain certificates of tax sales and liens for taxes held by Pitt County against certain tracts or lots of land in the Town of Greenville, Pitt County, described as follows:

One lot and residence on Myrtle avenue, in the town of Greenville. Owned or formerly owned by J. L. Harris and Mrs. J. L. Harris, or being listed for taxation in this name for 1927, and other years, shown in complaint filed in said action. And all of whom will further take notice that they are required to appear before the Clerk of the Superior Court, at his office in the Court House in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, and present and defend their respective claims within six months from date hereof, or be forever barred from any and all interest therein or claims in or to the proceeds from a sale thereof. This the 11th day of Jan., 1930. J. P. HARRINGTON, Clerk Superior Court.

... in a magician it's SKILL!

... in a cigarette it's TASTE!

Chesterfield

SUCH POPULARITY MUST BE DESERVED

IT takes more than cleverness to make a good cigarette. Taste is either there, or it isn't; deception plays no part.

We put taste first, in making Chesterfield. Tobaccos are chosen and blended for mildness, for aroma, for tobacco flavor; taste is always what counts.

And Chesterfield's huge popularity seems to prove that the same thing counts with smokers as with us—

"TASTE above everything"

MILD, yes... and yet THEY SATISFY
