STILL SEARCH FOR ASSAILANT OF WHITE GIRL

Posse Scours District Around Reidsville in Effort to Take Alleged Negro Criminal

Reidsville, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The posse seeking Robert Carter, believed to be the negro who attacked Macy Baynes, 22-year-old Reidsville factory mill worker, yesterday, found part of the negro's clothing in a woods two miles from here today and put bloodhounds on a fresh trail.

Officers expressed belief Carter had been surrounded in the woods and said they expected his capture momentarily. Hampered by rain, the posse continued its search, but shortly after the attack yesterday morning, all last night.

Sam Robinson, negro, a friend of Carter, was arrested yesterday and is being held in jail here. He led searchers to a negro house where Carter was hiding yesterday, but when officers entered the house Carter escaped through a rear door. Leaders of the posse fired at him, but their shots apparently went wild.

Reidsville and Rockingham county have offered a reward of $500 for Carter's capture.

Suspicion centered upon Carter after finding of his automobile near where the girl was attacked. The car had been struck with a club, riddled across a vacant lot, attacked and left in a semi-conscious state. Her groans attracted fellow workers who called police.

Miss Baynes was reported improved this morning although still in a nervous state.

While the search for Carter was pressed last night the Reidsville company of the 129th Infantry, National Guard, assembled at the armory and was held in readiness to protect the jail in case of Carter's capture. The National Guardsmen returned to their homes this morning when feeling against the negro had subsided.

Sixty-Four Cadets Discharged From the Naval Academy

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Sixty-four cadets, including Alonzo Parham, negro, of Chicago, were honorably discharged from the United States military academy today because of failure to pass mid-term academic examinations. Major General William R. Smith, superintendent, announced.

Examinations were held for 137 cadets who were deficient in one or more subjects, General Smith said. Forty-eight of those who failed to pass were members of the plebs or freshman class and the remainder were sophomores.

All of the Cadets who were discharged also failed to pass the written general review held early in December, he said. They were then given another opportunity to remain in the Military Academy by taking a final examination which if passed put them in good standing.

Seventy-three were successful. Cadet Parham was appointed to the Academy by Congressman DePriest, of Chicago.

New York Banker Killed in Fall From 9th-Story Window

New York, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Herbert Spencer Martin, 47 years old, a vice-president of S. W. Straus and Company, investment bankers, early today either fell or jumped to his death from a window of his ninth floor apartment in Park avenue.

His body was found in the rear courtyard by a house employe and a passerby who heard the thud as the body struck the ground. Mr. Martin also was a vice-president of the Ambassador Hotels Corporation.

Mrs. Martin, the former Madeline Straus, daughter of the banker, told police her husband had suffered a nervous breakdown a year and a half ago and that they had planned to sail today for Europe to consult nerve specialists.

Laurinburg, N. C., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Major Norton, young Scotland man, was charged today with having shot to death his wife, leaving their five-months old baby motherless.

Powers Gather at London To Discuss Reduction of Naval Armament of World

London, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The foremost statesmen of the world are fast gathering in London for what, convening on week from today, probably will be the most momentous meeting of its kind ever held in the British capital—the five-power naval limitation conference.

Given success, the confab may result in additional guarantees of security for the powers of the world and relief from much of its huge burden of military taxation. Given failure, observers envisage possible admittance races and international suspicions which may easily bring on threats of war.

The delegation from Japan already is here, the Italian and French delegations will arrive shortly, and the American delegation headed by Colonel Henry L. Stimson, American secretary of state, reaches London Friday from Plymouth, the George Washington on which they have made the trip from New York.

Formal opening of the conference takes place next Tuesday in the Royal Chamber of the House of Lords with an address by King George. Meanwhile preliminary conversations, given their precedent in the Dawes-MacDonald and MacDonal-Hoover meetings of last summer and fall, already have got into full swing and should reach even greater momentum before the formal convening.

Japanese-British conversations started in earnest last Thursday with each intent on outlining before the conference their government's attitude toward the various technical details which are to be thrashed out in the formal conference. Reijiro Wakatsuki, admiral Takaraba, and Ambassador Mat-

SIX PERSONS DIE IN BLAST AT COAL MINE

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Belief that an explosion which claimed six lives in the Peerless-Cahaba Coal Company's mine near Straven, 40 miles southwest of here late yesterday was caused by sparks from a miner's saw was expressed today by survivors.

The dead: Arthur Lawley, Coleman Davis, Solon Brantley and Robert Vernon, all white, and Bill Lanier and Mack McCain, negroes. Jim Chesser, the seventh man trapped by the blast made his way to the mine opening and was in a serious condition today at a hospital.

W. B. Hillhouse and Frank Cash, mine inspector, are conducting an inquiry. Two others working nearby also made their way to safety.

Andrew Mills, who with I. L. Gould about 150 feet from the scene of the blast, said the seven men were cutting rock away with a saw and that it was probable that sparks from the saw ignited gas in the mine.

The blast occurred about 1,000 feet below the fine entrance.

Other miners at work on the second level heard the blast but did not stop working.

Rescue crews were organized immediately and the bodies of the victims were removed a short time before mine inspectors arrived from Birmingham. Hillhouse reported the explosion was localized on one face of the workings and that the spread apparently was checked by rock dust.

The mine, under normal conditions employs between 200 and 350 men but only about 20 were in the workings at the time of the explosion, being idle because of a broken tow chain on the mine cars.

Candidate for Senate To Be Present at the Jackson Day Dinner March 15th

Raleigh, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Josiah W. Bailey, Democratic candidate for the senatorial nomination next June, today formally accepted the invitation to attend the Jackson Day dinner of the young Democrats here March 15.

Tyre C. Taylor, chairman of the young Democrats organization, said that he understood indirectly that Senator F. M. Simmons planned to attend the dinner but that he had not received a formal answer.

Mr. Bailey, in his letter of acceptance, said in part:

"I wish highly to commend the movement represented by your organization. We must take the state out of the Republican national column at the first opportunity. We must prepare to carry North Carolina against Hoover, Republicanism and hard times. We must win back every senatorial district and every county that we have lost and we must restore the ninth and tenth districts to the Democratic congressional column.

"Such organizations as yours are precisely what we need in accomplishing these great objectives.

"The present primary contests, of course, ought not to divide the Democratic party, but ought to unite it. We fight our differences in the primary only for the purpose of uniting against the Republicans in the election.

"A primary or a contest within the party ought not to mean division. It ought to mean unity. The truth is we ought to be able to carry on our primary contests earnestly and vigorously, but in good humor, remembering all the time that we are Democrats, and are seeking to find the will of the majority and follow it."

ROTARY CLUB PAYS TRIBUTE TO DR. ELLEN

Last Night's Session of Club Turned Into Memorial Service for Late Member

Last night's meeting of the Greenville Rotary club was turned into a memorial service in honor of Dr. C. J. Ellen, local eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, who died suddenly last Saturday morning.

Dr. Ellen was a charter member and first president of the club, and had maintained a perfect attendance record since organization of the club more than ten years ago.

Immediately after supper the following visitors were introduced to the club: W. H. Horne, J. C. Galloway, Rotarians John Bragaw, Bill Cartch, C. R. Richardson, of Washington, and Mr. Coy, representing the Salvation army, who urged the Rotarians to support the budget campaign to be launched in this city tomorrow by the Salvation army.

Following remarks by the visitors the memorial service began. Tributes were paid Dr. Ellen by President F. C. Harding, J. E. Winslow, A. W. Fleischmann, and Dr. K. B. Pace. Each of the speakers spoke of the Christian life of Dr. Ellen and his practice of Rotary ideals in his every day life, and expressed sadness at his passing and appreciation of the memory of his good work.

The final speaker was Judge Thomas Johnson, of Lumberton, who is presiding over the present session of Pitt County Superior court. Judge Johnson was introduced by Senator M. K. Blount, who briefly reviewed the service which Judge Johnson had rendered as a member of the State Senate as a representative from his county, acting as president pro-tem of the Senate and co-author of the school bill adopted by the last General Assembly. He likewise called attention to the fact that numbers of Judge Johnson's friends throughout the state were urging his candidacy for the governorship of the state, and he presented Judge Johnson to the club as the future Governor of North Carolina.

In his opening remarks, Judge Johnson, while thanking Senator Blount for his kind remarks, stated that the trend of the meeting was toward office-seeking and paid tribute to the late Dr. Ellen who was a boyhood friend, a college chum and a classmate.

He said a man's life was not judged by the things he left behind in a material way, but that he was remembered mainly because of the things he did in making the world a better place in which to live. He declared Dr. Ellen was that type of man and that his influence would continue to live and sweeten the lives of those with whom he was associated from time to time during his lifetime of service to humankind.

SAYS CAPITAL LOBBYISTS IN GRAFT GAME

Senator Caraway Declares Activities Are Nothing in the World But Simple Graft

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Activities of Washington lobbyists were described in the Senate today as "graft" by Chairman Caraway of the Senate Lobby Committee.

Caraway made this assertion in presenting to the Senate a report of the committee's investigation in presenting to the Senate a report of the committee's investigation into the activities of sugar interests on the pending tariff bill.

"I hope that responsible business men will cease paying tribute to these lobbyists, these grafters in the District of Columbia who have nothing to sell" Caraway said.

"The whole matter is nothing but simple graft", he continued. "It's worse than that because it plays upon the public and undermines the confidence of the American people in the integrity of their government."

The report which Caraway presented said that advocates and opponents of a high tariff had spent more than $400,000 during consideration of the tariff bill and it absolved President Hoover of any impropriety in connection with any efforts he might have made to bring the sugar interest together to work out a sliding scale plan for sugar duties.

E. R. Pickrell of the General Dye Stuff corporation of New York denied before the committee that he had used the office of Senator King, Democrat, Utah, as headquarters during consideration of the tariff bill.

Questioned by Senator Robinson, of Indiana, the only regular Republican on the Lobby committee, Pickrell said he had written two or three letters in Kings office.

The Indiana Senator asked Pickrell if he had made an appointment to meet Rank K. Beal, a newspaperman in Kings office.

Pickrell said he made an appointment but was unable to keep it because he was called back suddenly to New York.

The witness said he could not recall the nature of the business, but added it was not caused by the newspaper stories that he was using Kings office.

Piano Tuner Finds Rich Vein of Gold Near Town of Troy

Charlotte, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The Charlotte Observer said today that F. J. Gallery, Charlotte piano tuner, has discovered a rich vein of gold near Troy, Montgomery county.

The farm of J. P. Saunders was given as the location of the find, which, the Observer's story said, was believed to be a mother lode of the precious metal.

The story also said J. W. Foullis, of the Clark Gold and Copper Mining Company, of Arizona, had pronounced the vein one of the best prospects he had ever seen in the south.

Farmers Of Pitt County Preparing For Next Crop; Nobody Reported Starving

"There were over a hundred farmers in my office yesterday and not one of them looked like he was starving," declared E. P. Arnold, director of the Pitt County Farm Department, speaking of conditions existing in the agricultural realm at this time.

Mr. Arnold said that each of his visitors displayed an active interest in plans for the next crop, and it was apparent they would give more thought to the "live-at-home" plan enunciated sometime ago by Governor O. Max Gardner.

"The fact is," the farm department head said, "the majority of growers of this county are down at work at this time. They are working harder than they ever worked before, attempting to forget the period of depression that followed the crop shortage. There is more actual work in progress on the farm than I ever saw before, and I believe this will be one of the big years for the county."

Mr. Arnold is one of the many well-informed men of Pitt county who does not believe that conditions are as black as they have been painted by writers of state papers, sitting away off in some far removed community, and speaking from the standpoint of information gathered from a few of the calamity howlers they come in contact with. He realizes that there are isolated instances of hardship and suffering, but these are not representative of the entire section and can be cared for by Pitt county people themselves.

But getting back to the way farmers are working, Mr. Arnold's opinion is supported by no less an authority than Jay Summerell, who returned the latter part of last week from a trip through North and South Carolina.

"I never saw so much work on the farms in my life," Mr. Summerell declared. "Planters in both states are taking advantage of the warm weather they have had the last two weeks, and I believe they are away ahead of their work for this time of the season."

Mr. Summerell is interested in the welfare of the growers because he resides in one of the greatest agricultural regions of the country, and the success of the farming industry largely determines the success of his own business as it does thousands of other business men. He said he was surprised at the unusual scene of activity and thought it meant that the farmers of the two Carolinas were planning to work out their own salvation without giving thought to any aid from other sources.

Mr. Arnold keeps in constant touch with the farmers of Pitt county, because he is their chief adviser and co-operates with them in an effort to increase the revenue on products of the farm. Right at this time, he said, the farmers were turning their attention to new sources of making more money, and that they would not be solely dependent upon the main crops in a few years. Hog and poultry raising, combined with dairying, is going to play a big part in the future life of the farmer of this section, and when this reaches normal production "hard times" in Pitt county will live in memory only.

He urged growers to continue to work hard and give more attention to live at home experiments, and expressed belief that there should be little room for fear about the outcome.

PROPOSES NEW RATE SCALE ON AIRPLANE MAIL

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The entire rate scale and airmail system of the postoffice department would be changed by recommendations outlined here today by Postmaster General Brown.

For the first time, the postmaster general gave his "yardstick" of airmail compensation which would supplant a system in which one carrier receives as low as 8 cents, and another as high as $3 a round.

Numerous conferences between postal authorities and air mail contractors have been held during the past few months in Washington with a view to working out a rate "yardstick."

Under the system suggested today by Brown, the post office department would concentrate its essential aid on essential routes, "those that have been traveled by oil team, pony express, railroad, and auto", and would use planes as it now uses trains, at fixed rates per mile for definite weight spaces.

Declaring Cleveland "an appropriate place to take an inventory of aviation of today, and to hazard a guess for the future," the postmaster general sketched the growth of the air mail to its present status:

"Two hundred planes and 250 expert pilots engaged; 25 contractors over the regular routes aggregating 14,368 miles, flying approximately 40,500 miles each 24 hours, about 60 per cent of which is flown at night."

The postmaster general told of the accompanying acceleration in the commercial flying business, and its apparent serious results.

"The public poured its hundreds of millions of dollars into the aviation industry," he said. "Factories sprang up and air lines were inaugurated, some in accord with the best practice, others less well considered. But the experience of all in 1929 was substantially the same. With a paying load of only 16 to 40 percent of capacity, all closed the year with operating deficits so great the very life of the passenger transport industry today is in the balance."

HOUSE BEGINS FIRST ACTION ON DRY ISSUE

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The first concrete move to carry out the recommendations of President Hoover and the law enforcement commission for a realignment of prohibition forces came today with the introduction by Chairman Williamson of the House expeditions committee of the administration bill to provide for the transfer of the dry unit from the Treasury department to the Department of Justice.

He said that the measure would be arranged on the measure soon with a view to reporting out the bill in the near future.

Speaker Longworth had referred to the expenditures committee that phase of the recommendations of the President Hoover and the National Enforcement Commission dealing with the proposed transfer.

Williamson said his bill "is in line with the recommendation of the President."

"If enacted into law," he said in explaining the measure, "all that part of the bureau now in the Treasury department having to do with the enforcement of the prohibition act, including the field service, will be transferred to the Department of Justice."

The measure sets out the duties imposed upon the attorney general in the enforcement of the prohibition act, in addition to conferring upon him all the rights, privileges and powers now conferred on the secretary of the treasury.

He is charged with investigation of violations of the act, as well as with violations of the internal revenue laws, the apprehension and prosecution of offenders, the seizure and enforcement of all forfeitures under the acts.

The bill specifies that the attorney general and the secretary of the treasury shall jointly prescribe all regulations under this act and the form of application, bonds, permits, records and reports under the law.

Robber Leaves Rule Book But Gets $293 Cash

Chicago, Jan. 14.—(AP)—A rule book for robbers was left behind last night by one of that trade, but he took Henry Solomon's $293.

The robber sat at Solomon's lunch counter and ordered milk. What he orders is really irrelevant, but it gives an idea of what the 1930 robber is drinking.

As he drank he pulled from his pocket a book which he perused with solemn mien. He would take a swallow of milk and then concentrate on the book. Mr. Solomon watched him, curiously.

Suddenly the milk drinker came to a passage that seemed to interest him. He concentrated more than ever; then leaping from his seat; flashed a menacing knife and ordered Solomon to hand over his money.

When the robber had duly executed not Solomon but his mission and departed with $293 of lunchroom receipts, Solomon picked up the note-book which lay open on the counter. He read:

"Deliciousness, robbery of, with knife or pistol."

—And called the police.

FLOOD WATER CONTINUES TO RISE IN OHIO

Serious Situation Impends as Swollen Streams Continue to Rise Today

Cleveland, O., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Serious flood situation impends in Ohio today as many rivers already swollen far above normal, continued to rise. Rain, which has fallen almost constantly for more than a week, was falling again today in most parts of the state.

The greatest flood menace was at Youngstown, where if the Horning river goes five inches higher it will force the shutdown of many steel mills. The Horning was at six feet, nine inches above normal today, having risen two inches since midnight.

Lowlands at Warren were under deeper water today as the Tuscarora river reached a height 52 1/2 inches above the Warren dam. It was still rising. Row boats were used in some sections of Massillon today to take children to school and men to work when numerous houses were surrounded by water one to two feet deep. The Tuscarora had overflowed its banks there and was rising an inch an hour. Six streets were closed to traffic. One of them was four feet under water.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Weather bureau forecasts of flood stages along the St. Francis river in Arkansas and along the White river near Clarendon, Ark., were broadcast today as the rainfall of the past week continued in the lower Mississippi Valley.

Farm lands in Kentucky, Arkansas and Tennessee already have been inundated by rain, swollen streams and several hundred families have been forced to quit their homes.

Big Lake in Arkansas still is rising, said bags have been sent there from the United States engineers offices here and the levees are being patrolled. These levees guard valuable land and many towns.

Farm lands are under one to five feet of water in the Truman, Ark., area with the St. Francis and all drainage ditches still rising. Some of the ditches are from three to five miles wide. The village of Claunch was flooded yesterday and water is more than two feet deep on the main street. The neighboring villages of Bay and Lunsford also are under water and Lake City is threatened.

In the Newport area on the White river in the same state there is much inundated land. The Cache river is flooding in the Basfield territory.

Families in the upper reaches of the White, St. Francis and Black rivers in Arkansas have deserted their homes with no crest in sight.

Indianapolis, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Additional rainfall over a large portion of Indiana early this morning was expected to send the already swollen streams of the state still further out of their banks.

Thousands of acres of low lands are under water today in the lower Wabash and White river valleys. The flooded area will probably be greatly extended as a result of the precipitation this morning.

The rise in the streams has been gradual and this has enabled persons living along the streams to move to higher ground. The high waters, however, have caused much damage to highways and to farm lands.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—(AP)—A rule book for robbers was left behind last night by one of that trade, but he took Henry Solomon's $293.

The robber sat at Solomon's lunch counter and ordered milk. What he orders is really irrelevant, but it gives an idea of what the 1930 robber is drinking.

As he drank he pulled from his pocket a book which he perused with solemn mien. He would take a swallow of milk and then concentrate on the book. Mr. Solomon watched him, curiously.

Suddenly the milk drinker came to a passage that seemed to interest him. He concentrated more than ever; then leaping from his seat; flashed a menacing knife and ordered Solomon to hand over his money.

When the robber had duly executed not Solomon but his mission and departed with $293 of lunchroom receipts, Solomon picked up the note-book which lay open on the counter. He read:

"Deliciousness, robbery of, with knife or pistol."

—And called the police.

ADVERTISING AND PROSPERITY

Commenting on the recent statement of Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers' Record, that advertising and prosperity go hand in hand, the Florida Times-Union rightly says that "the liberal advertiser is the man who is making his products the year in and out; the casual advertiser gets only occasional attention."

Especially at this time when some of our business men are inclined to view advertising as an unnecessary expense rather than one of the best investments in selling their wares, we consider Editor Edmonds' statement and the Times-Union comment as most timely, and reprint it herewith in the hope that our business men will study carefully the facts set forth:

Under a headline which suggests the combination of advertising and prosperity, newspapers are discussing a recent statement made by Richard H. Edmonds, the distinguished editor of the Manufacturers' Record. Mr. Edmonds addressed his communication to Dr. Julius Klein of the Department of Commerce, but it was not intended for personal appreciation only. Broad and comprehensive advertising is deemed the very best way to develop a spirit of optimism and bring about general prosperity. This idea is very clearly expressed in the letter, and it was intended that the suggestions be broadcast. Mr. Edmonds writes for the people; his words are accepted by a multitude as sincere and the conclusion of authority on subjects entered.

In the course of his letter, Mr. Edmonds says: "The moment the retail merchants of a town begin to lessen their advertising they cause a spirit of pessimism to prevail throughout the community, and thus lessen their own prosperity. The moment a great business concern, whether it be manufacturing automobiles or machinery, or any other line of goods, decides to lessen its advertising it makes certain the creation of a spirit of pessimism on the part of business interests. "Let me say that in advocating advertising as a creator of prosperity and of business, I can do so from an unselfish standpoint, fully realizing after fifty years of newspaper work that broad advertising stimulates the thought of the people, stimulates their optimism and creates prosperity. "It is needless to say that the marvelous growth of the Pacific coast has been due to the comprehensive plans and the liberal expenditures of the business people and the transportation interests of that section. They have made the Pacific coast what it is by pouring out money freely to set forth its advantages. Similar results have followed in the South wherever the transportation interests and the communities themselves have carried on persistent, aggressive liberal advertising. Every dollar wisely expended in this way yields a larger profit than dollars invested in any other way. "When large business interests begin, by reason of somewhat lessened business or by fear of the future, to reduce their advertising instead of enlarging it, they begin immediately to sow the seeds of distrust, which bring forth a harvest of depression. Specific instances are given by the editor of the Record to show that anything that is for sale or proposed as investment, or recommended as a fad, favor or habit becomes popular as the advertising continues, and fades from view utterly when a campaign begun is dropped or allowed to lag. No one can doubt the efficiency of the advertising which the west coast of the United States has enjoyed in the past ten or twenty years. The advertisers had vision, and they have put out money and energy in quantity. They also keep right at it. If the western coast people allowed their enthusiasm to flag it would be felt in a month and be serious in a year. "At the present moment," says Mr. Edmonds, "when President Hoover is trying to stimulate the entire business forces of the country with a spirit of optimism, justified by the boundless resources of this country, you cannot, I think, do a greater good to strengthen his hands and to bring to the country the prosperity so much desired than in every way possible to stress the importance of advertising as a business creator." He is convinced that firms and corporations which have reduced their advertising activities and pared down the appropriations for such publicity are making a great mistake. "Like the President, I have longed to see poverty lessened and employment created," he says, "and this can only be accomplished by the increase of employment. A very large percentage of the business people of the country now understand that it not only "pays to advertise," but also that the world looks on and failing to find the announcement of something that had come to be well known, decides that it has been abandoned or discontinued. The liberal advertiser is the man who is making his products the year in and year out; the casual advertiser gets only the occasional attention.

their crop to market before the closing date. That the majority will heed the advice is certain, but there will be some to wait until the last minute and then attempt to do what they should have done days before. It is always the case and it is not expected this year will be any different. The farmers should not delay this important matter. Delay can not bring about any good results at this season of the year, and a little speed at least would enable the warehousemen to clean up and get ready for the closing days earlier than under ordinary circumstances. Greenville merchants in a few days will begin laying in a complete stock of spring wearing apparel and people in this great trade territory should visit the city and see what has been provided for their inspection. The values this spring will be as extensive as ever, and the man or woman who fails to look over the various stocks will miss an opportunity of getting some of the finest values direct from the big style centers. Before doing your buying, Mr. Shopper, make Greenville a visit and in that way assure yourself of getting the best to be had at prices in keeping with the best of them.

ABOUT TOWN

J. R. Smith, forest fire warden of Pitt county, has issued an appeal to the public asking aid in his effort to reduce the annual loss resulting from forest fires.

This is an appeal that should receive the instant consideration of the landowner, the man who actually suffers when fire sweeps through his woodland burning down thousands of dollars' worth of valuable timber.

Most of the damage in this county is attributed to brush fires, Mr. Smith says. These fires are started by farmers attempting to clear off their lands preparatory to the planting season. The fires usually occur during the months of January, February and March, and farmers should begin an organized movement to prevent any costly conflagrations this year.

Of course we have forest fire wardens in all sections of the county, but these men are not able to cope with the situation alone. They must receive help, and that help must come from the men who actually suffer when fire sweeps across our valuable woodlands.

If you are a landowner, why not resolve to assist the forest fire wardens in this attempt to preserve the timberlands, and in this way open up a more direct way of realizing more money from properties than in past years. It can be done, but forest fires must be eliminated first.

The Welfare department through the various agencies of the city and county is doing a wonderful work among the poor people of the county, according to a local man who visits various communities from time to time. "I had no idea the scope of the activities among the poor until I began covering so much territory," he declared. "I have known of numbers of poor people who received aid within a few hours after being reported to the Welfare department assisted by the Social Service Council, carried relief into hundreds of homes where there would have been no Christmas cheer without this aid."

There are people who say that such departments do not pay. They are people who stand off at a distance and do not know what they are talking about. Could they follow members of the Welfare department just for one month they would be convinced that such services are indispensable to any community, and especially at a time when it is difficult even for middle class people to keep the wolf from the door.

The Welfare department and other charitable organizations are doing a splendid work, and the good people of Pitt county have lots of things to be thankful for in the high tide of service.

Improperly adjusted automobile lights form the basis of most of the wrecks occurring in the southland at this time. This is so especially in the rural localities where cars are operated along the public highways with any kind of lights just so the driver gets where he is going.

Figuring the number of improperly adjusted lights one meets on the road within a distance of a hundred miles or more, it may be considered short of a miracle that more lives are not lost. It is impossible for a driver approaching from an opposite direction to see the road due to the blinding light of the car ahead, and it is nothing but the hand of providence that prevents him from being dashed into eternity.

This is one of the big problems confronting the highway police of this state. And it is to be hoped they will continue a relentless warfare against bad lights until this danger has been virtually eliminated. It can be done and when it is traffic conditions will become greatly improved.

The tobacco market will be open two more weeks before closing for the holidays and farmers have been urged to rush the remainder of their crop to market before the closing date. That the majority will heed the advice is certain, but there will be some to wait until the last minute and then attempt to do what they should have done days before. It is always the case and it is not expected this year will be any different. The farmers should not delay this important matter. Delay can not bring about any good results at this season of the year, and a little speed at least would enable the warehousemen to clean up and get ready for the closing days earlier than under ordinary circumstances. Sargon's Fame Spreads Over Entire World

People of This Country Sending Famous Medicine to Relatives and Friends in England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Canal Zone, Norway, Sweden, Cuba and Many Other Distant Lands.

If you had found a medicine that was of such benefit to you that you would go to the trouble of sending it to relatives and friends in distant countries, you would have to be convinced in your own mind that it possessed real merit, wouldn't you?

That's just what thousands of people throughout the United States have been doing with Sargon. From all over America and wherever Sargon has been introduced, thousands of letters have been received from grateful users telling of the gratifying results that have been accomplished by this celebrated medicine.

THOUSANDS EXPRESS GRATITUDE On November 27th, a letter dated November 23rd, was received at the Sargon offices advising that in one week one drug firm alone had received orders for Sargon to be shipped to Cavite, Philippine Islands; Coca-Solo, Canal Zone; Belebroke, Ireland; and Paris, France.

Only recently a well-known resident of Denver, Colorado, who had been restored to health by Sargon, sent a full treatment to London, England, to his sister, who is the wife of an executive of one of the greatest retail drug firms in the British Empire.

During the past month there appeared in the Toronto papers the statement of a well-known World War veteran whose health had been greatly impaired while in the service, who stated among other things, that he owed his restoration to health to two bottles of Sargon sent him by a friend in Minneapolis.

LETTERS RECEIVED FROM THE NORTHWEST From the Northwest, many letters of this kind have been received advising that users of Sargon are sending it to relatives back in their old countries of Norway and Sweden.

Many such letters and endorsements have been received from men of prominence, including former governors, business and professional men, mayors, state and county officials, and even ministers of the Gospel have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell what Sargon has done for them.

These are only a few of thousands of such cases and not a day nor a week passes that does not bring hundreds of statements from the people concerning the good this medicine is doing, and reciting case after case that would convince the most skeptical.

Sargon's fame is built on actual results—not empty promises, and only those who have put it to the test know its real powers. Sargon's aim is not mere temporary relief, but new and abundant health. No wonder it is now called the medicine with a million friends. Sargon may be obtained in Greenville at Warren Drug Co.

THE SPIRIT OF YOUTH
carry on—Avoid that future shadow
AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*
By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion
Avoid the snags along the common-sense path to fitness and fashion. Don't let over-indulgence deprive you of the tantalizing contour of the modern figure. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately—when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky Strike instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain the graceful, modern figure with its captivating curves.
Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.
"Coming events cast their shadows before"
"IT'S TOASTED"
*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

"RIP VAN WINKLE" TO BE PRESENTED BY TONY SARG'S MARIONETTES TONIGHT

"Rip Van Winkle" is the play to be presented by Tony Sarg's Marionettes this evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Campus building of East Carolina Teachers College.

They are brought straight here from New York City, where they had a most successful holiday season at the Punch and Judy Theatre. There are eight people with the marionettes, the brains and voices of the marvelous talking dolls.

The revival of "Rip Van Winkle" which was one of the earlier successes of Tony Sarg, shows what has been done in the past few years with the unique art. There are a number in the cast, aside from the main characters, such as the villagers who come to the inn, the musicians, and the crew of queerdemen with Hendrik Hudson. The landlord of the inn smokes his pipe, a rabbit jumps across the stage, and various tricks arouse the interest and wonder of the audience. Wolf, the dog, is one of the most interesting and intelligent of the cast.

The next entertainment will be on February 4, the first evening of grand opera ever offered by the college, and perhaps the first in this section, "The Barber of Seville," by the Festival Opera Company. In March, Count Von Luckner, "The Sea Devil," will be the attraction. A concert by a college glee club will be among the attractions, and it is probably that an extra attraction will be offered. Arrangements of these will be made later. The season ticket admits to whatever will be offered and is good for both matinee and evening performances.

Scientists Report Arsenic and Meteors

Ithaca, N. Y., Jan. 14.—(AP)—The finding of arsenic and germanium in meteors at Cornell University was made public today.

A report to the American Astronomical society tells how a super sensitive method of analyzing with light reveals these two elements in a half a dozen meteors that fell from outer space in the last century. Arsenic has been suspected previously. Germanium, a rare, grayish-white metal chemically resembling tin and silicon, was unknown in meteors.

Their findings revives the old speculation that somewhere in space world's exist which are like the earth. Astronomers find that none of the sun's family of planets, including Mars present exactly the same conditions as earth for maintaining life.

Some meteors come from the regions about the sun but astronomers have identified others as visitors from the immensely vaster outer space, regions so distant that no present telescope can disclose planets in them if they exist. But the possibility that under the averages of chance other worlds exist out there is suggested by the staggering numbers of other suns which astronomers say occupy this outer area.

In only the nearby portion of space called the Galactic system, according to Sir James Jeans, British astronomer, estimates have been made that there may be from 30,000 millions to 300,000 millions of stars, which are suns of varying sizes.

CIVIL COURT BEGINS WORK IN THIS CITY

Judge Thomas Johnson, of Lumberton, Presiding Over Two Weeks' Court

A two weeks' term of Pitt county Superior court, for the trial of civil and criminal cases, convened in this city yesterday morning with Judge Thomas L. Johnson, of Lumberton, presiding. The calendars for both terms contain several cases of more or less interest to the people of this section and a considerable number are expected to be disposed of from day to day.

This is the first time Judge Johnson has presided over a term of court in Pitt county. He is a prominent attorney of Lumberton, and sometime ago was appointed a special judge in the western district. Judge M. V. Barnhill, of Rocky Mount, was scheduled to preside over this term, but he and Judge Johnson exchanged assignments, which resulted in Judge Barnhill going to the western district.

Judge Johnson has played an important part in the political life of the state over a period of several years, having represented his county in the senate during two terms. He was president pro-tem of the last senate and played a conspicuous role in the passage of legislation affecting the entire state.

He is considered one of the most efficient of the special judges serving in the state at this time, and his coming to Greenville has been greeted with interest by members of the bar and the citizenship generally.

The first case taken up for consideration yesterday morning was that of V. C. and Emma Cannon against B. T. Cannon, prominent tobaccoist of Greenville. The action involves dispute over a piece of land in Ayden township which the defendant was attempting to sell under mortgage. The plaintiffs obtained restraining order sometime ago preventing sale of the property until it could be aired in court.

It was indicated the case would consume the entire session today, and probably would reach the jury sometime tomorrow morning. It is one of the most stubbornly contested issues of the present term, and a considerable amount of evidence is being presented on both sides.

Five Victims of Auto Mishaps to Be Buried Today

Laurinburg, N. C., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Five freshly dug graves in a single family plot in Hillside cemetery here this afternoon will receive the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McDonald, of Hamer, S. C., and three children, who were killed in a head-on collision of automobiles near Dillon, S. C., Sunday.

Six persons died in the tragedy. The sixth victim, Mildred McDonald, five, succumbed late yesterday. Oscar Horn, brother of Mrs. McDonald, who died shortly after the wreck Sunday, will be buried at Ludowici, Ga., his home.

All the victims were riding in the McDonald car. Laval Osteen, driver of the machine which collided with the death car, is in a critical condition in a Florence, S. C., hospital.

Winter Continues to Sweep Over West

San Francisco, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Snow, rain and extreme cold continued today to hold the far west in the grip of a rigorous winter but California was promised temporary relief from the freezing temperatures.

In the northwest states a continuance of sub-normal temperatures was expected, with snow falling in southern Oregon and mountainous sections of Washington and Idaho. Nevada and the extreme northern regions of California also were promised more snow.

Spinal Meningitis Breaks Out in N. C. 1 Death Reported

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Cerebro spinal meningitis has broken out in North Carolina and caused the death of one person.

Five cases of the disease in Greenville county, 16 miles from Creedmoor, were reported last night by Dr. H. A. Taylor, epidemiologist of the State Board of Health, who had just returned from an investigation.

Four of the cases were in a negro family, one member of which has succumbed to the disease. The other case is that of a white boy.

Dr. Taylor said the disease was contagious and drastic steps were being taken to stamp it out in the state before it gained any more headway.

Spinal Meningitis Causes Schools to Close at Phoenix

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Schools and theatres in Safford and Solomonville, in southeastern Arizona were closed today as the result of a report by the State Board of Health that ten new cases of spinal meningitis had developed in that section. The report indicated that 25 cases of the disease developed in the state in the week ending January 11.

The death yesterday in Safford of Dudley Williams, 18, stepson of William Kelly, editor of the Graham County Guardian, brought to five the total fatalities in that community in the last three weeks.

JURY STILL AT WORK ON STRIKE CASE

Twenty-Five Witnesses Examined by the Grand Jury in Wiggins Case

Gastonia, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Twenty-five of the 43 witnesses on its list had been examined by the Gaston county grand jury considering bills of indictment against 14 men charged with conspiracy and murder in connection with the fatal shooting last September of Ella May Wiggins, Bessemer City textile worker, when court recessed this afternoon.

The bills of indictment were presented by Solicitor John G. Carpenter yesterday morning.

W. H. Patrick, local bank cashier and foreman of the jury, said that it was probable that the jury would report late today.

Meanwhile, the regular superior court term, presided over by Judge J. H. Clement, is proceeding with the docket. Attorney General Dennis G. Brummitt, sent here by Governor O. Max Gardner to aid in the prosecution in event true bills are returned, is quietly working on the case. He has not indicated whether he will ask for a change of venue if any of the defendants are indicted. Solicitor Carpenter has said that he will not.

Mrs. Wiggins, Bessemer City National Textile Union worker, was shot to death September 14 as she with a group of other textile workers sought to attend a scheduled labor meeting at South Carolina.

A grand jury at the October term of court failed to indict any one for her death.

The fourteen defendants however were bound to superior court in November when Judge Pender A. McElroy, sent here by Governor Gardner to sit as a committing magistrate, found probable cause.

Solicitor Carpenter planned to begin trial of the 14 men by tomorrow in event the recent grand jury presentation acted affirmatively upon his bill.

PRES. HOOVER ABSOLVED BY LOBBY BODY

Find No Evidence of Impropriety in Connection With Sugar Interests

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—President Hoover was absolved today by the Senate lobby investigation committee of any impropriety in connection with negotiations of Cuban and American sugar interests charged against the chief executive in testimony before that group.

Reporting to the Senate, the committee asserted in addition to a "reprehensible" effort had been made to stir up Latin American antagonism against the United States by "those opposing an increased tariff on sugar."

It listed the total expenditures of those for and against such an increase at more than $40,000, with $175,000, to $200,000 spent by the former and $200,000 to $225,000 disbursed by the latter.

With reference to testimony that President Hoover had sought to bring about an agreement among the sugar interests on a sliding scale of sugar duties for incorporation in the pending tariff bill, the committee found no impropriety.

"It is quite likely," the report said, "that representatives of both the contending forces waited on the President to incline him favorably toward their views, respectively, and the sliding scale solution having been proposed, he suggested that they get together in an effort to work out some plan, and in that connection informed them that he would have inquiry made into the practicability of the idea by experts of the departments."

"In any event," the report added, "it appears from the testimony that he did cause such inquiry to be made. In all this your committee finds no impropriety nor anything open to censure or criticism."

Referring to the employment of Edwin P. Shattuck, New York attorney, by H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba Company, to advocate a low sugar duty, the report said:

"It is undeniable that those securing his services labored under the belief that he was an intimate friend of the President of the United States, with whom he came into contact while serving with the sugar equalization board. At least Lakin, in a voluminous correspondence, again and again asserted that he, Shattuck, sustained the closest relations to the President, had access to him at all times and was in frequent consultation with him on the sugar tariff."

"Shattuck denied that he had ever talked with the President about the tariff or that he ever told anyone he did," the report continued, "anyway, that consideration led Lakin to advise his principals that Shattuck should be paid at least $75,000, though he modestly stated that, though nothing had been paid him, he expected something like $25,000."

Concerning General Enoch Crowder, former American ambassador to Cuba, the report said:

"Gen. E. H. Crowder labored in unison with Lakin and Shattuck, his employment apparently coming from Cuban sugar interests acting through President Machado, to whom he, as well as Lakin and Shattuck, reported."

COTTON MARKET

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today, unchanged on a decline of 6 points. Active months show net losses of 6 to 9 points under liquidation or realizing and some local selling promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables. A little southern sell was also reported, but the trade again appeared to be buying and after selling off to 17.46 for March and 17.69 for May, the market steadied on covering and commission house buying. Trading was moderately active at the end of the first half hour, with prices showing recoveries to about yesterday's closing quotations.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Wheat prices showed a notable upward trend here most of the time today. Expressions from Federal Farm Board sources pointing to action toward curtailment of domestic spring wheat acreage was largely responsible. Strength of northwestern wheat markets today counted also as an evident strengthening influence in Chicago.

Wheat closed firm 1-2 to 7-8 above yesterday's finish; corn closed unchanged to 3-4 off; oats a shade to 1-4 to 3-8 up, and provisions showing 20 to 37 cents gain.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The stock market made further recovery today on a slightly increased volume of trading. Buying orders were distributed over a fairly broad list, but the stock, public utilities, amusements, and electrical manufacturing issues gave the best demonstration of group strength. Copper, oil and motor were rather sluggish, and the buying movement in the rails subsided, at least temporarily.

There were a few unfavorable developments in the day's business news. Preliminary estimates indicated another sharp increase in the crude oil production last week, and the American Bureau of Metal Statistics reported an increase of 44,400 tons in the surplus stocks of refined copper last month.

Fixing of the price at which United States Steel Corporation employs may purchase common stock on the installment plan at $169 a share, or just a couple of dollars below the recent market quotation, was regarded as a favorable omen by bull traders. Operators for the advance also were encouraged by the fact that recent attempts to hammer down prices failed to bring about any appreciable liquidation of long stock, and were invariably accompanied by dullness of trading.

Call money renewed unchanged at 4 1/2 per cent with the demand slack and indications that the rate would be maintained until after the completion of the mid-month settlements. The time money and commercial paper markets were quiet with no change in rates.

Reports of a further upturn in steel shares. U. S. Steel common sold as high as 172 1/2 and Republic and Superior Steels and Colorado Fuel recorded early gains of 2 points or more.

In the public utility group, the demand centered largely in American Telephone, American Power & Light, Consolidated Gas and Stone & Webster.

A flurry of buying took place in the amusement issues in the early afternoon. Radio, Radio-Keith-Orpheum, Lewis, Columbia Graphophone, Warner Bros. Pictures and Fox Film all were marked up a point or more. Among the score or more issues to sell 2 points or more above yesterday's final quotations were American Can, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Air Reduction, American Tobacco B, Underwood Elliott Fisher and Simmons.

A few high priced specialties, including J. I. Case, Vulcan Detinning, New York & Harlem and Columbian Carbon, were marked up 3 1/2 to 6 points. Western Union preferred dropped 4 1/2 points. Congress Cigar 3, Northern Pacific 13-4 and Montgomery-Ward 1.

ATHLETICS AND BROWNS LEAD LEAGUE

Chicago, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The world's champion Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Browns had the tightest defenses of all American League clubs in 1929, official fielding averages disclosed today.

The Athletics accepted 5,684 each compiling a grand season's average of .975 on three points higher than the leading mark recorded by Washington in 1928 and two points less than the all-time major league record established by the New York Yankees in 1923.

Detroit, leader in team hitting, was last in team fielding, making 242 errors for an average of .961. New York was third with a .971 average. Chicago fourth with .970, and Washington and Cleveland tied for fifth and sixth with .968. Boston, with a .965 mark was seventh. Only one player, Willie Kamm of the Chicago White Sox, retained his fielding championship. Kamm defended his third base post at a .973 clip, accepting 491 chances and making but 11 errors in 145 games. In 1928, he fielded .977.

Joe Judge, Washington veteran, led the first baseman. He played in 142 games, made 1,323 putouts and 88 assists and only six errors for an average of .996. Lew Fonseca of Cleveland and New American League batting champion, was second to Judge with a .995 average.

Charles Gehring, Detroit's youthful second baseman, was the best defensive player of the year around the keystone station. He had 404 putouts, 501 assists and but 23 errors in 154 games for a .975 mark. Gehring also participated in 93 double plays. John Hodapp of Cleveland had an average of .977 but he competed in only 72 games.

Shortstops were unusually mediocre on defense in 1929, the averages revealed, with Joe Boley of the Athletics the best in the field with a .963 average, the same mark that with which Joe Sewell of Cleveland, led the field in 1928. Boley played in only 88 games but reached his best form late in the season, and played brilliantly in the world series. The Philadelphia veteran's record was 161 putouts, 229 assists, and 15 errors. Leo Durocher was second with a .958 average.

Al Simmons of the Athletics and Fred Schulte of the Browns tied for first place among the outfielders with .929 averages. In 112 games in centerfield, Schulte accepted 373 chances while Simmons had 368 in 142 games in left field.

Five triple plays were executed throughout the season, two by the Yankees and one each by St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit. Willie Kamm of the White Sox, completed a triple play by pulling the hidden ball trick for the third time in his major league career.

Tunney Recovers From Operation

New York, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Gene Tunney, former world's heavyweight champion, was recovering in Presbyterian Hospital today from an operation performed by Dr. George Winthrop Fish yesterday.

The operation, a minor one for the removal of a stone that had formed at the entrance to Tunney's right kidney, was announced as "entirely successful". Tunney was in the operating room just 25 minutes.

Surgeons had feared that it might be necessary to take out the kidney itself but the operation proved to be much simpler than had been anticipated and the obstruction, a stone about the size of a bean, was removed without difficulty.

The retired champion's condition was announced as satisfactory. He probably will remain at the hospital for about three weeks. Mrs. Tunney, the former Polly Lauder, occupies an adjoining room so that she can be close to her husband during his convalescence.

On his recent arrival in New York after a long honeymoon in Italy, Tunney said that seasickness had knocked him out for four days and had resulted in a touch of intestinal influenza. He suffered several later attacks and surgeons decided an operation was necessary.

An exploratory operation was performed last Wednesday but the obstruction could not be dislodged.

Starting Blocks Are Recommended

New York, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Recommendation that the use of starting blocks be approved for intercollegiate competition in 1931, provided the international amateur athletic federation passes favorably on them, will be presented to the annual convention of the intercollegiate A. A. A. by the executive committee.

At a meeting yesterday, the committee decided on a proposed rule change, to be adopted in 1931 if the international federation approves the use of starting blocks in May. It reads:

"Starting blocks may be used in races held under the rules of the I. C. A. A. A. If starting blocks are used they shall be of such size and shape that the lower edge shall be flush with the track and the upper edge shall not be higher than four inches therefrom. In using the blocks at least some part of both shoes of the runner shall touch the ground. No device of any kind shall be used for support or gripping purposes for the hands other than corks or similar grips to be carried in the hands during the race."

The committee recommended the elimination of the hurdles in the cross country championship race, on the grounds that it is a sufficiently hard test without them, and passed on other proposals that the distance be shortened to three miles for the varsity and 2 miles for the freshmen.

"STRANGLER" WINS OVER THE FLYING TACKLE

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, today held a victory over the flying tackle with which Gus Sonnenberg deprived him of his world wrestling title. After losing a fall to Howard Cantonwine, of Iowa, who used the footbale attack, Lewis evaded several other tackles and took the deciding two falls with a headlock and free use of rabbit punches.

Negro Students Vote to Strike at Capital City

Raleigh, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Negro students of Shaw university here held a short-lived strike today, returning to classes in the afternoon after about 60 per cent of the students stayed away from morning recitations.

The students voted to go back to classes and await further developments from the college administrative council in regard to the list of "grievances" presented Dr. J. L. Peacock, president, last night.

The administrative council was scheduled to meet this afternoon to consider the grievances which listed several ways in which the students believed the faculty was taking away their rightful "liberty."

Raleigh, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Students of Shaw university, negro institution, were prepared today to "walk-out" on authorities of the school.

A "strike" was voted last night as a protest against alleged hindrances put by the university authorities in the way of collegiate athletics. The students claim the administration last fall broke football contracts with other negro schools, thus causing Shaw to be barred from intercollegiate athletic association.

The students also said they had other causes for grievance and would not attend any more classes until an agreement had been reached.

THINKS FORD SHOULD GO TO COTTON PROBE

Former Stock Exchange Head Also Says Rosenwald Should Be There

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Arthur Marsh, former president of the New York Cotton Exchange, suggested today before a Senate sub-committee investigating cotton exchanges, that Henry Ford and Julius Rosenwald, of Sears & Roebuck and Company, be called to tell how the condition of the cotton farmer of the south could be improved.

The proposal was a preliminary to an attack on methods used by the concerns of which Ford and Rosenwald are heads. Marsh said that Ford was an outstanding exponent of high wages for labor but that his buyers were "remorseless" in using every "possible expediency" to drive down the price of cotton fabrics, used by Ford's plants in large quantities.

The witness also told the sub-committee that buyers of Sears & Roebuck and Company, Montgomery Ward and Company, and Woolworth's who use one fifth of the cotton goods manufactured, were the "most remorseless drivers down" of cotton prices.

He added that in an effort to meet competition of the chain stores, independent dry goods stores had organized buying syndicates with great purchasing power.

"All are combined," he said, "to throw the risk of price back on that poor devil (the cotton farmer) who cannot help himself."

Charge Against Mill Organizer Dropped Today

Gastonia, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Charges of murder against C. D. Saylor, organizer for the National Textile Workers union, in connection with the slaying of Chief of Police O. F. Aderholt, here last June were dropped with leave in city court today.

The case was dropped after repeated efforts to locate Robert Allen, textile worker, and the principal witness against Saylor, had failed. Saylor was released from jail after the nol prosee had been taken.

Aderholt was killed by a shot fired from darkness at the headquarters here of the National Textile Workers Union. With other officers he had gone to the headquarters to investigate reports of disorder there.

Allen made an affidavit that Saylor told him he had fired at Aderholt that night, and the union organizer was subsequently arrested.

Seven union members were tried and convicted of second degree murder in connection with the killing of Aderholt.

HEADACHE AND BAD BREATH

These Symptoms Often Go
Away Following the Use of Theford's Black-Draught.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I have been using Theford's Black-Draught for twenty-five years," says Mrs. Lydia E. Kerley, of 519 West Seventh Street, this city. "I try never to be without it in my home, because I find that a pinch will ease the headache."

"I take Black-Draught when I am bilious or have indigestion. I have found that much of the trouble of this kind comes from constipation. Black-Draught is the best medicine I have ever found to prevent it."

"It is the only medicine I can take and keep on with my work. "One of my children was troubled with bad breath, and I gave her Black-Draught. She got over it right away."

"I favor Black-Draught, because it seems to drive the poison out of the system in a natural way. When you take Theford's Black-Draught, the digestive organs are helped in a healthful, easy way, and normal elimination is restored without the sickening effects that characterize the use of powerful mineral drugs."
