ARMS CONFERENCE OPENS AT LONDON

KING GEORGE OF ENGLAND
SPEAKS AT FIRST SESSION OF FIVE-POWER DELEGATES

First Meeting Formally Opened With Impressive Dignity in Royal Gallery of Palace of Westminster; Representatives of Each Nation Express Readiness for Common Sacrifice in Interest of the World

By BYRON PRICE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
London, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Sounding a call in words heard round the world, the five great naval powers consecrated themselves anew to peace today at the opening session of their long-awaited conference on the further limitations of armaments on the sea.

Their first meeting was opened formally with impressive dignity in the royal gallery of the Palace of Westminster by King George who bespoke success in ending competition in building ships of war. The nations each in turn declared in eloquent phrases their readiness for common sacrifice in the common interest.

No diplomatic bombshell disturbed the solemn quietude of the session for every national pronouncement was couched in general terms and in a tone of utmost harmony. When the formal opening address which was broadcast by a world wide hookup, had been completed, the conference adjourned to reconvene Thursday morning at ten o'clock in St. James' Palace. Tomorrow the delegates will spend an informal discussion to clear the way for Thursday's meeting which will be private.

"I believe that you to whom your governments have entrusted the high mission of continuing the task begun at Washington," said King George, "are animated with single-minded intentions of working not with any selfish and exclusively nationalistic purpose but with noble inspiration to the resolve to remove once for all this particular obstacle from the path of ordered and civilized progress."

In order that King George had sounded the note of naval limitation and the removal of "The evil results of wasteful competition in naval armaments," and had departed from the resplendent conference chamber in the Palace of Westminster, the spokesman of Great Britain, United States and other nations bespoke hopeful predictions. How far these prophecies may be fulfilled only the more informal later sessions can tell, but at least a harmonious beginning had been accomplished.

Ramsay MacDonald, Great Britain's Labor prime minister, long time advocate of peace and one of the moving spirits in the creation of the conference, spoke in eloquent phrase of the British empire's desire for amity on the sea.

Then followed Henry L. Stimson, American secretary of state and trusted envoy of President Hoover in his crusade for ending naval competition; Andre Tardieu, brilliant head of the French cabinet; Foreign Minister Dino Grandi who sits at the right hand of Premier Mussolini; and Reijiro Wakatsuki, one of the outstanding figures of the Japanese empire.

Their addresses were almost paraphrases of one another so well had the ground been prepared to avoid injection at the outset of the conference of any note of discord or militant nationalism. The small selected gathering listened with rapt attention without disturbing the peace and quiet of the occasion. His Majesty drove from Buckingham Palace to Westminster unattended, and without even a military guard watching his route. He was attired in simple morning costume, with, however, the frock coat instead of the cutaway.

The company of delegates and advisers wore formal morning dress, even admirals, by agreement, appearing in sober long-tailed coats and striped trousers. Members of the House of Parliament in full dress coats and knee breeches, with gold duplicates of the great seal of the empire on their bosoms, and gold buckles capping patent leather pumps, acted as ushers.

Inside the hall the delegates were seated about the rim of the "U"-shaped table, the French, Canadians and Americans at the right of the king and the British, Irish, (Continued on Page Four)

President Hoover
Listens in on the London Parley

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—President Hoover rose at five o'clock this morning to listen in by radio on the proceedings of the opening session of the London conference on naval limitations.

Gathered around the radio set with him as the words of King George came strongly and clearly in opening the conference were Attorney General Mitchell, Justice Stone of the Supreme Court, Dr. Joel Boone, White House physician, and Lawrence Richey and Walter Newton, two of the President's secretaries.

Three Sailors
Burned in Blast
On Board Ship

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Three sailors were confined in hospital quarters today severely burned in an explosion believed to have been caused by an acetylene torch on board the U. S. S. Talbot.

The three men are D. D. Phillips, engine room second class; T. R. Mullin, seaman, second class, and A. Martinovich, gunner's mate, third class. All were working below decks with a torch when the explosion occurred.

The Talbot is a destroyer being placed in commission to replace the U. S. S. Marcus. The three men were members of the Marcus crew.

Negro Shot In
The Capture of Liquor Runner

Miami, Fla., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Overhauling a rum laden speed boat after a three mile chase on the Miami river early today coast guardsmen shot a negro member of the crew and seized approximately 100 sacks of liquor. Two companions who the negro said were white men, escaped.

Leon Sanders, 28, the negro, was shot in the thigh by Coast Guardsman Harry A. Jackson. Fernandez, 40, of picket boat No. 9031 as he attempted to flee after the rum runner had nosed into the river bank. He was taken to a hospital.

Begin Concerted Action
For Relief of Poor Here;
Commissary Opened Today

A commissary to provide relief for the suffering people of the community has been opened in the Flanagan building, opposite the Norfolk & Southern railway station, on Dickinson avenue, as result of action taken at a meeting of the Social Service Council and member of various organizations of the city held in the office of the Merchants Association yesterday afternoon.

The commissary is in charge of Dr. R. L. Carr, who is assisted by members of the various women's organizations of the city. Its object is to furnish food, clothing and fuel for needy persons of the community, and it will be supported by funds derived through gifts to the Social Service Council, the central relief organization of the city.

The meeting yesterday at which the commissary became an actuality was one of the most enthusiastic gatherings of the kind ever held in the city before. Men high in the financial, business and religious life of the city spoke in eloquent terms regarding the situation brought about in this community through crop failures and the unemployment situation and declared that some action was necessary to provide for the many people who are suffering from dire distress and want.

A considerable sum of money was raised during the meeting, and it was said that the campaign to raise funds would be continued until a sufficient amount of money had been raised to care for the situation. The quota was placed at $7,000, but some doubt was expressed as to whether this would be sufficient to carry the work to a successful conclusion. E. G. Flanagan, who so generously threw open the Dickinson avenue building for use as a commissary, was appointed chairman of the campaign, with the following assistants: J. B. Kittrell, B. B. Sugg, J. S. Ficklen, Mayor J. C. Lanier, and J. H. Waldrop, treasurer.

All relief through the commissary must come through requisitions from the welfare department. K. T. Futrell, director of the welfare department, will investigate each case and will issue requisitions according to the needs.

J. J. White, president of the Social Service Council, presided over the session, and expressed gratification at the splendid spirit of co-operation existing during the meeting. He said today that he felt the first concerted step had been taken for relief of the emergency and believed that the public would contribute liberally to the movement launched in behalf of suffering humanity.

Contributions should be made to the Merchants Association or to J. H. Waldrop. The following have made contribution to the fund: E. G. Flanagan, $300; James S. Ficklen, $100; Cash, $50; J. G. Clark, $50; H. A. White & Sons, $50; Social Service Dept. Methodist Church, $50; Episcopal Church, $25; J. C. Lanier, $25; R. G. Fitzgerald, $25; J. B. Kittrell, 25 cords wood; J. E. Winslow, 10 cords wood; W. H. Woolard, $50; Rotary Club, cash contribution of over $200 and numerous gifts, consisting of wood, clothing, milk, food, etc.

THREE PERSONS
SENTENCED IN
COURT HERESeveral Other Cases
Disposed of During Opening Session of Criminal Court

Following selection of a six months' grand jury and the charge by Judge Thomas L. Johnson, of Lumberton, the criminal term of Pitt County Superior Court got down to business in real earnest yesterday morning, and as a consequence court records today showed that quite a number of cases had been disposed of.

Virtually all of the cases heard yesterday were of a minor nature and required little time in disposing of. There are approximately two hundred cases on docket for the term.

Charles Wilkes and Harvey Hall, colored, charged with forgery, were sentenced to 8 nor more than 12 months in the penitentiary.

Jesse Bass, colored, charged with stealing jewelry from Wilson's Jewelry store on Dickinson avenue, drew a sentence of from two to three years in the penitentiary. The negro was arrested by local officers within a short time after the theft was committed.

Whit Hyman, colored, charged with the larceny of tobacco, obtained his release upon payment of cost and the amount of the stolen tobacco.

Dewey Elks, of Grimesland, charged with possession of whiskey, had judgment suspended upon payment of cost.

Elijah Mills, charged with assault, had judgment suspended on payment of cost. Jim Hardee, involved in the same case, was found not guilty.

Sandy Williams, colored, paid $25.00 and cost for having whiskey in his possession.

The following true bills were returned by the grand jury: George and Art Newton and Grant Hines, larceny. Hebrity Smith forgery. James Ellis, larceny. Lizzie Dudley and Malissa Pittman, larceny. Whit Hyman, larceny. Clifton Mills and Lucille Powell, larceny.

Negro Lynched in Mexico

Mexico City, Jan. 20.—(AP)—A dispatch from Cuernavaca to El Universal Grafico today said that Jose Fernandez had been lynched at Yatepec in the state of Morelos for cannibalism. Agrarians charged that Fernandez, a negro, had devoured two small girls. An enraged mob caught him and lynched him.

Out Illiteracy in Cotton Mill Area

Spartanburg, S. C., Jan. 21.—Margaret Clem, 12, of the Wofford Cotton mills is a stalwart worker in the ranks that are waging an intensive campaign to stamp out illiteracy in the state. Margaret, who is a pupil in the sixth grade of the Wofford graded schools, has organized a class of seven adults and is teaching them to write their names and occupations.

RAY STOKES TO
CITY THURSDAYAyden Sign Painter
Returned to Greenville
From Jail in South Carolina.

Ray Stokes, Ayden sign painter, was confined in the Pitt county jail in this city today, following his return from South Carolina to face charges of robbing freight cars and the theft of an automobile from Miss Estelle Green and jumping a $250 bond. Stokes arrived in Greenville last night in custody of Sheriff Sam Whitehurst and a detective representing the railroad. He was released by the South Carolina authorities upon requisition papers issued by the governor of North Carolina last Saturday.

Stokes, it was said today, will probably go on trial next Thursday in the criminal term of Pitt county Superior court. The case is set for that date, but there was some speculation whether it would be reached at that time owing to the congested condition of the docket.

Stokes was released by the South Carolina authorities, but not because they wanted to do so. He was wanted at Lake City, it was said, for robbing freight cars and three filling stations aside from a number of other minor offenses. It was stated that a brother was being held at Florence in connection with the crimes.

Stokes came to grief at Lake City several weeks ago when he attempted to sell the automobile stolen from Miss Estelle Green of this city. Suspicious of how Stokes came into possession of the car, the Lake City garage owners wired Greenville regarding the car, and in reply were told to have Stokes held by the police.

Pitt county officers went to South Carolina the next day to return Stokes to Greenville to await trial, but South Carolina officers refused to give up their man because of the number of crimes he had committed in that state. Pitt county officers returned home without their man and it looked like the case would be dropped where it was. But the next two or three days saw a request go to the governor asking for the return of Stokes. Governor Gardner accordingly issued requisition papers upon South Carolina, and they were duly honored when presented by local officers.

BAD WEATHER KEEPS
TAFT INDOORS

Asheville, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Lowering skies and a damp chill outdoors kept the Chief Justice Taft in his rooms at Grove Park Inn this morning. Mr. Taft has been going for auto rides twice daily since his arrival here a week ago but the prospect for rain may force him to remain indoors today. He appears to be cheerful and rested and is said to have improved since leaving Washington.

Lady Heath In Divorce Action

Reno, Nev., Jan. 21.—(AP)—That Lady Mary Heath, famous British aviatrix, may be forced to accept a default divorce decree, which in some states and in some countries is not recognized as a legal decree, seemed a possibility today when her attorney was informed that Sir James Heath, who is in London, had refused to be served.

Lady Heath filed suit here yesterday alleging that her husband had threatened to deny the paternity of a child should one be born to her and alleged that he employed her former lawyer for the purpose of exacting from him through threats to discharge him statements that were defamatory to her good character and name.

PREMIER SAYS
CONFIDENCE IS
WORLD NEEDMacDonald Declares
Faith Must Dominate
Negotiations At the Arms Parley

London, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The text of Premier MacDonald's speech before the naval conference today follows:

"The gracious speech to which we have just listened both conveys to you the hearty welcome of this country and also expressed the hope which the people of every nation share that our labors here may be crowned with success.

"It is peculiarly appropriate and is the cause of the most ardent satisfaction to use that this should be the occasion of his Majesty's first public speech since his recent illness and I venture to offer to him in your name our most hearty thanks and congratulations.

"Every country today—wealthy and poverty-stricken alike—feels the burden of arms, dreads their competitive development, doubts the value of the security they give and would like to escape from their influence and power. And yet, as has been shown again and again the difficulties in the way are manifold. All, however, come principally from one source—a lack of confidence.

"The spirit of doubt whispers 'there will be some states which will refuse to carry out its obligations to the community of peaceful states; the machinery of arbitration will break down somewhere and somehow; do what we may a situation will arise one day when a deadlock of some kind will have to be faced and there will be but one remaining method—a fight.'

"Thus a habit of mind nurtured by the experience of many generations controls our thinking and our actions, casts a shiver of hesitancy over all our peace efforts and prevents a great change in our attitude toward militarism as a means of national security. As a matter of fact the generations of experience which fear uses to pin us in spellbound fastnesses of militarism ought by their failures to enlighten us so that we break the spell and seek for peace and security by other means.

"That will come—how marvelous—how it has been! How easy it is to regard the progress of states when an old habit can be enlisted to fight enlightened reason. The whole world, it may be said with almost literal accuracy is turning its eyes upon us today. It expects that we shall deliberate and negotiate on the assumption that having put our names to pacts of peace we mean to respect our signatures. It prays that we shall not only relieve it of burdens but establish it still more securely in the ways of peace.

"It begs us to give public opinion a chance and to lift our program out of the narrower scrutiny of the technical experts and to put it on to the broader field of the creative statesmen. Above all it demands from us an agreement to stop competition which recently has begun to show itself both in the types and the number of ships. If we are not careful we shall be once more involved in feverish competition (Continued on Page Four)

Begin Organizing
Southern Labor

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor today embarked upon a campaign to organize workers of the south outlined by William Green, its president. Approximately fifty organizers already are operating out of the southern headquarters, Green said, in an address last night which formally inaugurated the drive.

Green left here following his address for Nashville, where he will speak tonight. From there he will make a tour of the Carolinas, thence to Arkansas.

Liquor Exports
To United States
Show Decrease

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Government figures, published today show that $20,787,100 worth of alcoholic beverages were exported from Canada to the United States during 1929.

This figure is approximately $2,500,000 less than the value of liquor exports to the United States in 1928. Total liquor exports from Canada in 1929 were $29,599,929.

Live-At-Home Plan Still Proves Profitable To The Farmers Of Pitt County

The live-at-home program, which has been sponsored by the Pitt County Board of Agriculture and the county agent for the past three years, continues to prove profitable to the farmers who have seen fit to put same into practice.

At present there are eight carloads of surplus hogs on feed in Pitt county for the Richmond market, and this week cash will be paid for the surplus poultry of these farmers at Ayden January 22; at Greenville January 23; at Bethel and Farmville January 24. The amount of cream collected by the cream route increases each week and it is expected that between 1,000 and 1,500 pounds will be collected this month.

The introduction of these activities into the farm program in Pitt county gives the farmers profitable employment during slack periods and at the same time provides food for home consumption.

Plans are being made to place a renewed emphasis on the live-at-home program through the month of February by conducting public meetings in each township in the county, at which time the field crop committee of Pitt county and the extension forces of State college will give farmers definite information as to how much acreage should be devoted to food crops for each animal maintained on the farm and for additional animals the farmers may anticipate including in the farm program. The farmers are not being urged at this time to add any additional units of livestock unless they have home-grown feed with which to care for same, but are being urged to provide in their farm program sufficient food crops to take care of additional hogs, cows, and poultry which are to be added to the farm during fall months.

In addition to this phase of the live-at-home program, the Home Demonstration clubs in the county, under the leadership of Miss Ethel Nice, home demonstration agent, are advocating more and better gardens and stressing the importance of the necessity of providing as far as possible food consumed in their homes. The following live-at-home meetings will be sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs of the following communities: Winterville, 7:30 p. m., January 31; Arthur, 7:30 a. m., February 3; Ayden, 7:30 p. m., February 4; and Grimesland, 7:30 p. m., February 7. Other meetings will be announced later.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM THE TWO CAROLINAS

Raleigh.—(AP)—Ninety-four of the students in North Carolina public schools are enrolled in the first grade, state school figures show.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—(AP)—"Stonewall Jackson" was arrested here on a charge of beating a board bill. He was taxed with the costs.

Chester, S. C.—(AP)—Three people, George D. Pearson, A. G. Pickering and Mrs. Queen Shuler, were arrested near here yesterday and charged with transporting whiskey by Deputy Sheriff J. J. Wallace.

GREENVILLE TO BE ON THE AIR
AGAIN JAN. 23

Greenville will be on the air again next Thursday evening.

A program will be furnished from the broadcasting station at Raleigh under auspices of the local Merchants Association. It will consist of an address by C. B. Rowlett, secretary, dealing with the resources and possibilities of Greenville, the principal shopping center of Eastern Carolina, and a musical program of exceptional merit.

The musical program will be furnished by Mrs. J. H. Waldrop, "sweetheart" of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion" and Rev. R. F. Pittman, of Ayden. They will be accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Tyson, Jr. and Mrs. R. F. Pittman. Both Mrs. Waldrop and Mr. Pittman have won considerable recognition as soloists in this section of the state, and their program over the radio is heralded with much interest by the people of Greenville.

This is the third program that the Merchants Association has furnished over the broadcasting station at Raleigh, and it will be of greater interest than all others, it was stated by those in charge. The program will continue for a period of twenty minutes.

Mr. Rowlett will speak on the subject of Greenville and Pitt county and as heretofore will present numerous facts in connection with the wonderful opportunities offered by the fertile soil of the "greatest tobacco producing county in the world." It will be a speech that will offer a peculiar appeal to the persons looking for a desirable place to locate, and is expected to be heard by approximately a half million radio owners served by the Raleigh station.

A preliminary investigation, road officials said, indicated that the engine and all but four of the 12 cars of the New Orleans to Cincinnati train left the rails upon running into an open switch.

Three of six pullmans and the diner remained on the track. The "J. W. Braxwell of Montgomery, an assistant attorney-general of Alabama, was injured slightly.

Stimson Wins
London Secretary Stimson's views have prevailed in his first open difference of opinion with anybody since he came to the navy. He has won a golf match. He beat his aide, Arthur W. Page, one up. The secretary was clever at the first tee. He got a handicap of a stroke a hole.

SAYS EFFORT
AT NAVAL CUT
IS NOT FINALSec. Stimson Tells the London Conference
Disarmament Grows
by Regular Process

London, Jan. 21.—(AP)—A declaration that the present effort at final limitation is not regarded as final was made here today by Henry L. Stimson, the American Secretary of State, in his address at the opening of the naval conference in the royal gallery of the House of Lords. "Naval limitation is a continuous process," he said. "We regard disarmament as a goal to be reached by successive steps, by frequent revision and improvement. A solution reached today, however perfect, may not respond to conditions at a later date."

The chairman of the American delegation added that he and his colleagues were ready to remain in London until the problems were solved, until the opportunities were grasped and until the world was given an agreement that would carry it happily on to the time when the nations could meet again in the same spirit to look over the situation anew.

"We are profoundly impressed and moved by the significance of the speeches we have just heard," he said, "the cordial and hospitable welcome extended us by his majesty the king and the wise analysis of our problems which has been so movingly presented by the prime minister. I am so convinced that all members of this conference share the lofty idealism that has been expressed in the two preceding speeches that I look forward with confident hope to the success of our labors. I deem it an auspicious event that our first meeting at this conference in which there must be a spirit of understanding and co-operation should take place in the House of Parliament which have for Americans a deep significance as the cradle of our jurisprudence and of our fundamental ideas of human liberty."

"The use of international conferences of this sort for the purpose of limiting and reducing armaments is a recent development in world affairs, so recent that a number of our colleagues at this table participated in the labors of the Washington conference, the first of the series of efforts devoted to this great end. That conference was, a first step on the long road of international endeavor in limitation and reduction upon which the world has started. We may well feel that this beginning was a momentous event in the history of the human race; we may derive a legitimate gratification from the knowledge that we have lived in days when for the first time human thoughts and desires for disarmament reached practical and tangible expression.

"I feel it is important to emphasize the fact that we do not look upon this effort toward disarmament as final. Naval limitation is a continuous process. We regard disarmament as a goal to be reached by successive steps, by frequent revision and improvement.

"Human affairs are not static, but are moving and we believe improvement (Continued on Page Four)

Charlotte, N. C.

Charlotte, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The plant of the Southern Cotton Oil Company here was destroyed by fire today entailing a damage estimated at $200,000.

The building, a large wooden structure 300 by 100 feet in size, contained tons and tons of cotton seed meal, hulls, seeds and bags which fed the flames that quickly devoured the plant.

Five companies of fire-fighters responded to the alarm, which was first received at headquarters at 4:07 a. m., when workers in a downtown office building telephoned they had seen flames in the vicinity of the plant.

Two men working in the plant were not aware of the fire until they saw the flames from the reflection outside. The fire apparently started on the roof and gained headway before the workers saw it.

CARE OF OUR NEEDY CASES.

With relief work to take care of our needy families during the balance of the winter months when suffering is most severe and many people out of employment, now organized on a business-like basis our situation here can be taken care of very well locally if our people who are able to help, and the great majority are in that position, are willing to do their part. While our community as a whole is not on starvation, we have probably a larger number of people in and around our city in real need than ever before and it is up to our citizens to see that they are cared for.

In the past our relief work has been carried on in more or less a haphazard way with several organizations in the field and the work in many cases overlapping, while others went unnoticed. Under the plan inaugurated yesterday every dollar or every article contributed to the relief fund will go one hundred per cent for relief, and it is the desire and intention of those in charge that no person in our community should go hungry or suffer from cold. In order that this might be accomplished it is going to take something like $5,000 or more to get us past the cold weather period and we appeal to our citizens to contribute to the fund as liberally as possible. Clothing, fuel, provisions or cash will help to relieve the present suffering in our community, and if every one of our citizens, who is able, will give to the fund the situation can be relieved.

These suffering people in our midst are our obligation and we can take care of them if you will do your part. It is your christian and civic duty to help out in this emergency. Don't fail to do your duty.

ABOUT

Frank T. Caldwell, field secretary of the National Retail Credit association will address members of the Greenville Merchants association at a meeting to be held in the city tomorrow night. The address is looked forward to with more than usual interest by members of the association in that it deals with credit conditions, and credit at this time is of paramount importance to every man doing business in this state.

As Greenville is the only city in Eastern Carolina to be visited by the credit expert, the Merchants Association has invited leading business men from other sections in order that they, too, may take advantage of the advice of the speaker of the day.

Mr. Caldwell is recognized as one of the best authorities upon credit problems in the United States, and the information which he imparts to the local audience should prove of inestimable value.

Hallett Ward, former congressman from this district, told the people of this county what they should do about reduction of taxes in an address delivered at the court house in this city yesterday.

Expressing the opinion that the average man and woman were too indifferent to the tax burden which they have been carrying over a period of many years, Mr. Ward declared they would never be able to accomplish anything unless they begin to assert their constitutional rights.

"Grumbling will not get you anywhere," the veteran lawyer and statesman declared, "and the thing for you to do is to begin talking tax reduction until you get some relief."

Mr. Ward failed to cite any particular thing upon which the tax burden should be placed after it is lifted from the land. His purpose apparently was to arouse the people to the importance of relieving the situation and then to provide some means for the desired relief.

Of course, there are numbers of ways to transfer the burden and after the fight has been carried to many parts of the state, it is possible the legislators will find some of them. Millions of dollars could be raised through the taxation of luxuries and public utility corporations, and when this has been done the situation will be greatly relieved.

The second six-months' grand jury in the history of Pitt county went to work in the criminal term of Pitt County Superior court yesterday, and from now on they will have an opportunity of rendering a distinct service to the locality.

The grand jury has an opportunity of rendering a particularly fine service at each term of court and it is to be hoped they will keep this fact ever before them in handling the various matters coming before their attention.

A grand jury can either improve the condition of a county, or it can let things continue along in the same old rut in the way of law enforcement, and the greater the vision of the members of that body, the more distinct the service they can render the community.

The opportunity of service was never greater than at this time, and it is to be hoped this new jury will go to work and show the people it is rendering a service truly to be appreciated.

Judge Johnson presided over his first term of criminal court in Pitt county yesterday and he impressed members of the grand jury and court attendants with his knowledge of the law in his charge to the grand jury.

He did not stress any particular law, but set forth in a comprehensive way, the various laws that would come before attention of the jury during his six months term of service.

The presiding judge of a criminal court can either create a desire of service on the part of a jury or he can leave them in a spirit of apathy, indifferent as to the type of service they render. Judge Johnson injected spirit into his charge that held the attention of his hearers until the final word had been uttered, and that he enabled them to realize the responsibility resting upon them, we have not the slightest doubt.

The charge was described as one of the most forceful and informative heard here in many a day, and indicated that the presiding official is truly worthy of the high post he has been selected to fill.

Fox Denies That
He Speculated
In Wall Street

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—William Fox, motion picture magnate, in a statement published today denied that he had speculated in Wall Street with funds of the Fox Film Corporation.

His denial was in answer to charges in a suit for an equity receivership for the corporation filed by Mrs. Susie Dryden Kuser of Bernardsville, N. J., one of the principal stockholders.

He also denied that he had received a salary of $150,000 a year from the Fox Film Corporation, voted him by "dummy and rubber stamp directors" as charged in Mrs. Kuser's application.

Mrs. Kuser, who controls approximately 20 per cent of the voting stock, charged in her application that Fox carried a number of speculative accounts both in his own name and in those of his wife and relatives and that in connection with them he employed funds of the corporation. She also charged that Fox contracted to purchase English motion picture properties for 25 times their actual earnings, and that he purchased 444,000 shares of Loew's Inc. at $125 when the stock was selling in the open market for $70, an over payment of $55,000,000.

Fox in his statement said the price paid for Loew stock was actually $105 per share. "While this was a good price," the statement adds, "although the stock is now earning at the rate of $10 a share, it is worth far more to the Fox company than the sum paid, the saving from consolidation of the companies in eliminating duplication and overhead charges is estimated to be worth about $17,000,000 to the consolidated company."

Mrs. Kuser's suit is the second application for a receivership filed against the Fox Film Corporation with three days. The other was filed Saturday by Mrs. M. G. Gast of Rutherford, N. J., in behalf of holders of class "A" or non-voting stock.

Charlotte Minister to Lead Duke Series

Durham, Jan. 21.—Rev. G. Ray Jordan, pastor of Dillworth Methodist church, Charlotte, will lead the annual series of religious services at Duke University during the week of February 9-15. Student organizations on the campus, including the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., and the University chorus, are making plans to co-operate to assure the success of the series.

J. Foster Barnes, director of the Duke Glee club and of social and religious activities, will be in charge of the music during the week. The University chorus is expected to be augmented by others who will take part in special musical programs.

The first service of the series will be held at 5 o'clock on Sunday, February 9, and will take the place of the regular monthly university services. Throughout the week services will be held twice daily, at 10:20 o'clock in the morning and 7 o'clock in the evening.

Rev. Mr. Johnson is one of the popular young ministers of the Western North Carolina conference. He was graduated from Duke in 1917 and afterwards studied at Emory university and Yale university. He has since held pastorates in Black Mountain, Greensboro, and Charlotte. He led the annual series at Emory university last year, and was heard by large audiences.

Department to Study Cotton

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Cotton as it affects business in southwestern states is to be studied by the Department of Commerce in its commercial survey of the Gulf Southwest.

In making the announcement the department said that the relation of cotton and its by-products to the prosperity and buying power of Texas, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and western Tennessee will be determined, with attention also directed to factors entering into the production of the crop and the actual cash income produced.

The department also plans to inquire into the manner of financing the cotton growers, agricultural conditions and marketing.

Other phases of the commercial structure of the Gulf Southwest which are already being surveyed are dry goods distribution, wholesale and retail hardware distribution, and production and distribution of petroleum and its products.

Dinner Robber
Taken at Miami

Miami, Fla., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Stanley Pryzbyl, 27, said to be the last of five masked bandits who participated in the $300,000 Carson pre-nuptial dinner robbery in Buffalo, N. Y., November 14, was arrested in an apartment here today by deputy sheriffs and private detectives after a hunt that led through the Eastern Seaboard.

Pryzbyl and a woman companion, who detectives say is Ethel Mason, of Buffalo, were arrested as they entered his apartment early today.

"There must be some mistake, gentlemen," the man said as he faced the pistols of Chief Deputy Sheriff D. C. Coleman and Deputy E. H. Venna, of Dade county.

When he was taken to the county jail, however, Coleman said Pryzbyl admitted his identity.

He is being held on robbery charges while arrangements for his return to Buffalo.

Booth's Property
Ordered Given to
Salvation Army

London, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Executors of the late General Bramwell Booth, former Salvation Army head, were ordered today by the chancery court to turn over to General Higgins, who now heads the Salvation Army, Army property valued at 1,000,000 pounds ($5,000,000).

The property which had been sequestered by the Booth family pending outcome of the litigation which General Higgins started because of General Booth's depositions of Salvation Army assets as a family trust, consists mainly of real estate, buildings, halls and shelters. American Salvation Army property which is administered by a vested board of five trustees is not affected.

The Truth
About Fat

Science has found that excess fat is largely due to a weakened gland. Now physicians the world over, in treating obesity, combat that major cause. Starvation is not advised.

The chief factors they use are embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. In late years, excess fat has been fast disappearing, as everybody knows.

The method and formula are explained in every box of Marmola. As you gain new slenderness, beauty and vim, you know why. Go try the method which has done so much. Watch the amazing results. All druggists supply Marmola at $1 a box.

Be moderate
AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOWAVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Fashion revels in the soft, enchanting curves of the modern figure. Don't sacrifice that graceful contour by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When tempted to treat yourself too well, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the modern, alluringly-rounded figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Every one knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

GREENVILLE TO GET FIRST GRAND OPERA ON FEBRUARY 14th

Two weeks from now, on February 4, Greenville will have its first evening of grand opera, which promises to be the high-water mark in the history of entertainments in this section.

The opera "The Barber of Seville," the most amusing of all the operas admitted to the grand opera stage, with a romantic story of the "happy-ever-afterwards" kind, will be sung in English, on the stage of the Campus building of East Carolina Teachers College. The Festival Opera Company brings its own stage equipment.

In the cast are three stars of wide reputation in opera circles, both in American and European opera companies, and these have excellent support, as all have fine voices and are good actors. Melvina Passmore is a coloratura soprano, with a voice of great beauty and volume. She is an American girl, who first made her reputation in opera in this country, in Boston, Chicago, and Cincinnati opera companies, then sang in various capitals in Europe, and returned to new triumphs in America.

Henri Scott is considered the greatest singer that Philadelphia has produced since Bismph. He is another American born singer who reversed the usual order by making his reputation in this country and later making a European reputation and then returned to this country. He has been especially active in his efforts to bring opera in English to the people.

Rhys-Rees Morgan is a tenor from Wales who comes from the Royal Grand Opera Company, in Covent Garden, London. He was a great favorite of Patti's when he was quite young and through her gained audience with the king of England.

MRS. J. B. SPILMAN SPEAKER AT Y. W. SERVICE AT COLLEGE SUNDAY NIGHT

Using the word "Counterfeit" as her subject, Mrs. J. B. Spilman gave a very practical and interesting talk to the college student body at their regular Y. W. Service Sunday evening.

Mrs. Spilman told the girls there was much genuine abiding helpful womanhood among them but growing and flourishing side by side are disseminating counterfeit talk that lay for unwary feet many a fatal snare. She called our attention to the fact that the only cure, Jesus ever pronounced while here on earth was against a "counterfeit" fig tree. There it stood, with its branches outstretched toward the sky, absorbing night by night the rain and dew. The birds of Heaven found rest and security in its branches and a passerby would recline under its grateful shade. Yet the years passed by and no fruit was gathered from its deceptive boughs. "Nothing but leaves," No wonder as Jesus passed this chamber of the earth He cursed it and it died.

Just as surely as that tree turn its shorn and tattered branches to an unsympathizing sky will we receive that curse unless our lives count for something. She spoke of the counterfeit religion, the counterfeit love, and the counterfeit friendship, urging the girls to take Jesus as their friend. One that could not be wrested from them however many the storms and tempest that would sweep from them other friends, adding that we "hold fast to that which is good" and abstain from every appearance of evil which stains man and defiles every life into which it is welcomed and abides.

At the close of the talk, the quartette from the Memorial Baptist church composed of W. W. Lee, W. T. Lipscomb, Sam Allen and E. E. Rawl, very beautifully and effectively sang, "What Will You Do With Jesus?"

ROBBERS FAIL TO GET ANYTHING AT BARBER SHOP

Robbers entered the colored barber shop on Evans street last night but failed to take anything. It was stated following a check-up today. Entrance was made from the rear of the building. After opening the cash register and individual drawers used by the barbers for making change, and failing to find any cash, the robbers left without disturbing any supplies.

New Blue Sky Law Passed by Council At Goldsboro, N. C.

Goldsboro, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Blue Sunday in Goldsboro is going to be a turquoise blue instead of a deep navy color, according to the vote of the board of aldermen who last night passed a new "blue law" and repealed the old one which, recently revived, brought a number of arrests.

Under the new law newsstands which formerly had to close for church hours may sell their wares at all hours. The drug stores which were permitted by the old law to sell naught but medicine on Sunday are now permitted to sell anything in stock except during church hours. Filling stations must remain closed under penalty of a $20 fine.

Two Negroes Held for the Slaying of Duplin Woman

Raleigh, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Two negroes, David Lock and Dave Brockington, were held in the state prison today as suspects in the slaying of Mrs. Stephen English, who was beaten to death with a fire poker at her home near Wallace Saturday night after an attempt had been made to attack her.

Lock, a Wilmington negro, was brought here yesterday from Kenansville, Duplin county seat, a few hours before members of a mob, said to have been seeking him, gathered at the Duplin county jail. The mob was reported to have formed at Tin City in the neighborhood where Mrs. English lived and to have traveled by automobile last night to the county jail. When the men discovered the negro had been removed to the state prison, they dispersed. Brockington was brought to the state prison Sunday shortly after his arrest at a lumber camp in Lenoir county. Lock was arrested in Wilmington Sunday. Officers said he confessed the slaying but later repudiated his confession.

TO CONTINUE CAMPAIGN FOR LOCAL 'ARMY'

Only About 1-3 of the Salvation Army's Budget Was Raised in Recent Campaign

Only about one-third of the Salvation Army's budget of $4,000 was raised during the recent campaign in this city, according to information given out today by C. B. Rowlett, chairman.

In view of this fact, the chairman stated that efforts would be continued to raise the remainder of the amount in order that the organization may be able to continue its work among the poor people of the locality.

Mr. Rowlett said the Salvation Army was exerting every influence to help meet the emergency in this section caused by short crops and lack of employment, but that activities would be greatly curtailed without generous subscriptions to the budget campaign.

Persons who have not given to the Salvation Army drive were to do so immediately in order that the workers may go out into the by-ways and hedges of the community and carry relief to the hundreds of people reported to be suffering from the pangs of hunger and cold.

The situation among the poor has been described as acute by welfare workers, and it was said that the workers of the Salvation Army could do a wonderful work among the suffering people if they were given the necessary public support. The situation among the poor element is worse than it has been before in years and only through the most diligent work of the various charitable organizations is the city going to be able to meet demands of the occasion.

Court of Honor Meets.

Monday night, Jan. 20, the Boy Scout Court of Honor met at the Rotary club. The Court of Honor consisted of W. H. Rogers, Jr., F. C. Harding and Dr. R. H. Wright, examined and awarded Scouts Tom Wilson and Carey Warren second class badges, Scouts Philip and Hugh Winslow and Tom Wilson were awarded merit badges for fireman'ship. These merit badges were presented to the court by Dr. M. B. Massey, chairman of the Boy Scouts. These merit badges were the first to be awarded this year. Herbert Stuckey, Boy Scout Executive, was present at the meeting and extended the Greenville Scouts and invitation to visit the Wilson Scouts' new heated swimming pool.

Many Scouts were present at the Court of Honor and each expressed a desire to be able to go before the court that meets again March 17 at the Rotary home.

Week of Feb. 10th, Live at Home Week

Raleigh, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The week beginning February 10 has been designated by Gov. O. Max Gardner as "Live at Home" week in public schools throughout North Carolina.

After a conference with state school officials, the governor yesterday announced plans to take the "Live at Home" program to the 800,000 school children of the state. Every public school teacher, rural or city, will be asked, the governor said, "to devote a short period daily in their regular school work during the week of February 10 to stimulating their children to find out for themselves about the agricultural conditions and needs of their own communities and sections."

Speedy Relief for Sore Throat

This Doctor's Prescription Requires No Gargling. No lozenges or it is necessary to gargle and choke with nasty tasting medicines to relieve sore throat. Now you can get almost instant relief with one swallow of a doctor's prescription. This prescription was refined so often and became so popular that the druggist who originally filled it decided to put it up under the name Thoxine and make it available to every one.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that it relieves almost instantly, yet contains nothing harmful. It is pleasant tasting, and safe for the whole family, and is guaranteed to relieve sore throats or coughs in 15 minutes or money back. Just ask for Thoxine, 35c., 60c., and $1.00. Bunting Store At Bethel Badly Damaged by Fire

The Z. V. Bunting store at Bethel was badly damaged by fire last night according to information reaching this city today, but the total amount of damage had not been determined.

The fire was discovered by the night policeman about one o'clock. The flames had gained considerable headway, but were brought under control by heroic effort on the part of the Bethel fire brigade.

The building is located in the heart of the business district and within a few doors of the hotel. Smoke pouring from the burning building frightened guests at the hotel and numbers fled from the building with a few personal effects gathered in their hasty exit.

The stock of the store was badly damaged by water, but the total amount of the loss had not been determined today owing to the absence of Mr. Bunting who was out of the city at the time of the fire.

Bar To Meet at Chicago

Asheville, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The Annual convention of the American Bar Association will be held in Chicago August 20, 21 and 22. It was announced today.

The convention city and date were fixed by the executive committee at a meeting here yesterday afternoon.

Fire Department Called Out Three Times This Week

The local fire department has been called out three times since last Sunday morning, but only in one instance were the firemen required to bring hose into play in an effort to subdue the fire demon.

The department was called to the old Roy Batchelor home on Tent's street about 8:30 Sunday morning to extinguish a blaze that had gained considerable headway through the roof of the building. The flames were quickly brought under control, but the roof and interior of the structure were badly damaged by water, as was the furniture. The origin and loss were unimportant.

An escaping valve at the Imperial Tobacco company plant caused the fire alarm to go in Saturday night, and although the department quickly responded, they found no fire to fight.

Last night a short circuit of an electric light wire in the home of Mrs. R. W. King corner Washington street, caused damage estimated at about $25.00.

Kid of Custard's Regiment Dead

Plane to Aid In Search for Missing Man

Hertford, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The seaplane "Kingfisher," owned by Philip E. Taft, of Elizabeth City, weather conditions permitting, was prepared today to join the search for Tom McMullan, prominent Hertford man, missing since Saturday.

Mr. McMullan, traveling in a small motor boat, set out alone Saturday on a hunting trip in the wild, semi-wilderness territory along the upper Perquimans river. Up to today, he had not been heard from, although scores of persons in small river vessels, and afoot had searched for him.

Railway System is Home. Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y.—On the top floor of Otto H. Kahn's country mansion is a miniature railway system with station, switches and everything, occupying three rooms. There are two keys to the suite. The housekeeper has one. The other is held by Roger Wolfe Kahn, musician and aviator, who often spends hours running his railroad as he has for years.

Two Killed At Railway Crossing Near Asheville

Asheville, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Two Asheville men today had been added to the list of railway crossing victims in this state.

M. T. Askew, West Asheville salesman, and G. C. Howell, Enka cafe proprietor, were killed when a truck in which they were riding collided with a Southern train at Sulphur Springs crossing on the outskirts of this city.

Howell, a native of Burnsville, leaves his widow and six children. His widow and two children survive Askew.

Film Director Weds Scenario Writer

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 21.—(AP)—George W. Hill, film director, and Francis Marion Thompson, scenario writer, were married Saturday in Phoenix, Ariz., friends learned today. The couple announced their marriage upon return last night from the Arizona city.

Hill and Mrs. Thompson met here 17 years ago through the late Jack London, novelist, who was a close friend of the bride's family and Hill. Mrs. Hill is the widow of Fred C. Thompson, screen actor, who died two years ago.

Woman Totes Gun. Newport, R. I.—Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Church, lone chateleine of a large estate, totes a gun. She has received permission from the police of the adjoining town of Middletown, in which her estate is located. She told the police she desired to carry a weapon for protection when returning home at night. Since her divorce last March Mrs. Church has lived on her estate most of the year.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 4 points to a decline of 1 point. The more active positions were higher in response to relatively more steady cables. The bulge to 17.36 for March and 17.71 for July met some realizing, however, and the market sagged off a few points during the early trading with the active month, ruling about unchanged to 2 points lower at the end of the first half an hour.

Liverpool cables reported continental buying, covering and calling supplied by realizing in that market and said there were scattered cloth sales for India with more demand from Africa. Houses with foreign trade connections were credited with selling the late months here early but the trade was a buyer of near months.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Reports that the movement of wheat in Argentina is beginning to wane helped to bring about a decided upturn in wheat prices here late today. There were also late estimates that about 650,000 bushels of United States hard winter wheat had been bought today for export by way of the Gulf of Mexico. Notice was taken too, that bids are to be opened here shortly for 21,000 barrels of flour for Army use.

STOCK MARKET

By STANLEY W. PRESIDENT
New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The stock market was still moving within a narrow trading range today, and showing little indication of a pronounced trend in prices. After an irregular opening, prices dipped moderately when selling pressure was renewed against some of the popular industrials and specialties, but good buying supports appeared and by early afternoon there was a preponderance of net gains.

Trading continued in light volume, less than a million shares changing hands in the first two hours. Trade news was rather colorless in character. Preliminary estimates indicated a drop of more than 20,000 barrels in the daily average of crude oil production last week, with a sharp reduction in prices.

A receiver was appointed for the Kolster Radio company, shares of which were heavily bought last year on the prospects of the manufacture of home television sets. Wall Street heard that the terms of the Republic steel merger would be announced within a day or two.

Call money again dropped from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent with the supply plentiful and the demand light. There were no changes in other monetary rates. London dispatches indicate that there is a 50-50 chance of the Bank of England reducing its discount rate tomorrow, and a change in the New York Federal reserve rate is expected soon afterward.

Reports that cigar prices in the Chicago district had been increased to 15 cents a package by the leading chain store organizations stimulated the demand for the tobacco stocks. Schutte common, which sold as low as 3 1/2 last year, and the preferred jumped 25 points to 75, which contrasts with a low of 30 last year. United Cigar stores common advanced 13 1/2 and the preferred 31 1/2.

Food stocks also were in good demand on the theory that those issues would be likely to suffer the least in any business depression. Selective buying developed in the rail groups on the report of the Atlantic shippers conference that freight movement in the first quarter was likely to exceed that of the corresponding period last year.

Radio was under fairly constant pressure, but held within a couple of points of last night's closing price.

Four Killed by Snowslide
Sonora, Cal., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Four men were killed yesterday by a snowslide in the mountains 12 miles from here. There were repairs a power house when the slide engulfed them.

Spray Man Dies at Oteen
Asheville, Jan. 21.—(AP)—David Dixon Robertson, 34, a native of Spray, N. C., died at the government hospital at Oteen after an illness of three years.

Cotton Spinning Shows Decrease
Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The cotton spinning industry showed decreased activity during December. The census bureau today announced the average number of spindles operated during the month was 495,190, or at 82 1/2 per cent capacity on a single shift basis, compared with 34,839,028 or 100 per cent in November and 34,930,682 or 99 1/2 per cent in December a year ago.

Spinning Spindles in Place
December 31 totaled 34,585,204 of which 29,069,510 were operated at some time during the month, compared with 34,538,134 and 29,649,294 for November and 35,264,046 and 30,622,172 for December a year ago.

Active Spindle Hours for December totaled 6,769,332,181 or an average of 196 hours per spindle in place, compared with 7,811,606,790 and 226 for November and 7,710,948,023 and 219 for December a year ago.

Former Sheriff Held for Murder At Greenville, S. C.

Greenville, S. C., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Former Sheriff Carlos A. Rector was taken to the Greenville county jail today charged with murder of Sheriff Sam D. Willis.

The former sheriff's arrest came as an unexpected sequel to declaring a mistrial yesterday of the case against J. Harmon Moore, one of Rector's deputies, who also was charged with murder of Sheriff Willis. The mistrial was caused because a juror had been too loquacious.

Bail hearing will be held Saturday when Rector will seek to be released from jail. Solicitor J. G. Leatherwood announced new evidence connecting Rector with the shooting of the sheriff in June, 1927, had been unearthed during the trial of Moore.

The solicitor also presented to Judge W. H. Townsend yesterday prior to the time the mistrial was declared an affidavit in which the wife of the foreman of the grand jury declared Rector had tried to get her husband information about the trial.

No action was taken by Judge Townsend in the alleged effort at jury tampering.

Severe Cold Wave Continues in West

Kansas City, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Severe cold continued and in some cases was intensified in the Rocky Mountain region and the southwest today, as a general disturbance which brought a heavy snowfall swept toward the east and south.

The cold was unbroken for the most part in the Rocky mountains as that area entered the sixteenth day of frigid temperatures. Wyoming and Colorado last night received a new blanket of snow. Sub-zero temperatures generally prevailed in Montana, Basin, Mont., reported a mark of 32 degrees below zero.

Scattered snow flurries fell over the southwest. Parts of Oklahoma, Eastern Missouri and Arkansas reported snow.

In Kansas City the mercury slumped to 4 degrees below zero early today. A minimum of from 6 to 10 degrees below zero was predicted for tonight.

Select Jury in Trial of Judge

Austin, Tex., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Formalities out of the way, attorneys in the murder trial of John W. Braddy, prominent member of the Texas bar and former jurist, today engaged in the tedious task of selection of jurors.

Because of the prominence of Braddy, accused of stabbing Miss P. H. Highsmith, 28-year-old capital stenographer, it is expected several days will be consumed in finding 12 jurors acceptable to both the state and defense.

Miss Highsmith was killed November 9 in front of her home, a few minutes after she had parted from Frank Graham, Jr., Texas university student, with whom she had spent the evening. Braddy, who is 39 years old, is said to have been interested in the young stenographer for several years.

Questioning of veniremen indicated that the state would seek the death penalty.

The fact that the defense had added two additional physicians to its list of witnesses was believed to mean a temporary insanity might be a defense plea.

DISCUSS UTAH-IDAHO LEAGUE IN CALIFORNIA

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball league, meeting here, announced the sale of Merton Nelson, Missions club right handed pitcher to Detroit of the American League.

Several of the directors were asked to consider proposals to back teams for a Utah-Idaho league, a Class D organization, in Salt Lake City, Ogden, Pocatello and Twin Falls.

Wade Killefer, president of the San Francisco Missions, announced the sale of Nelson to Detroit for an unannounced cash consideration and two players who will be sent to the Missions by Detroit this spring.

Cary Mays, former New York Giant pitcher, now a free agent, was on hand seeking to hook up with a coast team for the forthcoming season.

Sammy Bohne, former Cincinnati Red infielder, now with Minneapolis in the American association, attended the meeting. It was reported that he was interested in efforts to purchase the Seattle club.

STATE WINS TWO GAMES IN VIRGINIA INVASION

Charlottesville, Jan. 21.—The North Carolina State Red Terrors returned today from their Virginia invasion with two victories and a defeat to their credit for the trip.

The Terrors bested the V. M. I. Cadets last night at Lexington, Va., 29 to 22. Friday they beat V. P. I. But Saturday dropped their game with Washington and Lee.

The fast floor work of Captain Johnson, guard, and the sharp shooting of Haar and Woodward were big factors in State's victory last night.

Saturday, the Terrors will play the Duke Blue Devils at Durham for leadership for the time being at least in the North Carolina Big Five. On the same day, Wake Forest will meet North Carolina in Raleigh.

PREMIER SAYS CONFIDENCE IS THE NEED OF WORLD

such as heralded the outbreak of the war in 1914.

"At the same time if the conference and its work are to be judged justly some appreciation must be shown of the nature of its task. Since 1919 the securing of peace has occupied much of the attention of nations and very considerable progress has been made.

"The League of Nations steadily builds up its authority and in various clauses of its covenant provides mutual security to welders and menaces to evildoers among nations.

"The peace pact signed in Paris in 1928, which though lacking in machinery except that which the covenant supplies for members of the League of Nations is nevertheless a mighty moral bulwark against war—and we must never underestimate the effectiveness of moral bulwarks with no bayonets nor bloodshed behind them.

"The entry of the United States into the permanent court of international justice, the growing confidence in the court, and the increasing number of nations who have signed the optional clause mark definite and I believe irrevocable steps in the displacement of military power by judicial process in the settlement of international disputes.

"Public servants like us will fail in our duty if we do not diminish military power in proportion to the increase of this political security. On the other hand no one can say that an absolute security for peace and justice yet has been found.

"There are risks on whichever side one leans; but I take it that the practical view is that political securities must determine the amount of military preparations; that excessive military preparation is not only a waste of national resources but a weakening of political security; that military preparation which any one nation feels to be necessary at any given moment must be determined to a considerable degree by the military preparations of other nations so that no nation is free except by international agreement to pursue the policy of disarmament beyond certain rigidly defined limits. Steps toward disarmament must be international agreements (whatever language is used for figures inserted) must recognize the sense of menace from military nations.

"This conference has therefore to value the securities now afforded to nations by the political guarantees I have referred to and agree mutually upon how far they can, on the assumption of a continuing peace, reduce armaments.

"I dare to affirm that in the naval programs of the leading naval powers there is a margin between real security needs and actual or projected strengths, and the world expects this conference to eliminate that margin.

"It will both smooth and shorten our work perhaps if we would assume two things in our discussions. The first is that we have different needs imposed upon us by geographical position, world responsibility and points of attack in event of war.

Conferences have broken down because there has been an unwillingness or an inability to understand that this is so; that therefore one can used in ships for one purpose is totally a different thing from one used in ships for another purpose.

"I know that plan of 'need' can be stretched almost to infinity and that in it lurks danger but if peace is in our hearts and reduction of armaments in our minds the substance of what constitutes our 'need' can be fairly admitted by each of us as regards the other and can be satisfied in the form and provisions of an agreement, and the conference will be a conspicuous success.

Dice May Be Loaded
Washington—Anybody who has difficulty throwing seven or eleven or five sixes or anything like that might take a tip from Senator Smoot. Senator Harrison was curious about the reason for a certain 50 per cent tariff. "I think," replied "Senator Smoot, that the American can play better with American dice than he can with foreign dice, but the foreign dice may be loaded."

ASK SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE TO CONSIDER TAX CUT
Asheville, Jan. 21.—(AP)—More than 600 members of the newly formed Buncombe County Club for property tax relief have joined in the request to Governor O. Max Gardner that a special session of the Legislature be called to devise ways and means of relieving the excessive burdens on property. The action was taken at a mass meeting Monday night.

KING GEORGE OF ENGLAND SPEAKS AT FIRST SESSION OF FIVE POWER DELEGATES

Italians, Japanese, New Zealanders and South African at his left. Nearly half the space in the little room was taken up by the newspapermen who numbered more than 300. The presence of Lord Dawson of Penn. His Majesty's physician, on a seat back of the delegator table was accepted as a mere precaution in the event of some mishap to the sovereign.

King George remained in the conference hall only long enough to hear his speech translated into French, the official diplomatic language of Europe, and then made his departure. Outside Westminster he raised his hat in acknowledgment of cheers from the handful of people who remained in front.

In the few minutes between his arrival and departure the fog lifted sufficiently to permit somewhat greater visibility. After lunch at Buckingham, the sovereign departed for Sandringham to join Queen Mary.

Ramsay MacDonald was at his best as an orator when he made his address. With the musical tone of an artist he held his hearers in charmed attention.

The initial pronouncement of the American and British governments, embodying the principles which most largely guide and basic decisions of the conference were separated by but a brief interim while the interpreters repeated the Prime Minister's address in French.

Colonel Stimson, speaking for the United States pronounced slowly the phrases of his carefully prepared address, reading dispassionately from the manuscript which he held in his left hand.

Colonel Ralston for Canada spoke without a manuscript. With his hands at his side he made his point by turning from side to side and speaking to individuals around the table. Each of the British commonwealths added its word to the general chorus of conciliation.

Andre Tardieu, French premier, read his speech with tumbling rapidity from manuscript prepared by his native tongue. He spoke without pause and with only occasional turning of his full round face from side to side.

Hal's youthful statesman Dino Grandi, foreign minister, took the floor, spoke in the Japanese commonwealth spokesmen. Rejiro Wakatsuki, head of the Japanese delegation, followed Senator Grandi, and was the last of the major naval powers delegates to speak.

It was understood that the Japanese delegation had been asked by Prime Minister MacDonald to come to Downing street later in the day, indicating that the free conference negotiations would continue then.

ing. A solution reached today, however perfect, may not respond to conditions at a later date. We sincerely hope that the increased feeling of security may enable still more drastic reduction in the future. For that reason we feel that the sound and obvious course is to reach such agreements as it may be possible now, with the knowledge that they are open to revision at appropriate periods.

following the practical and common sense path. We believe that any solution which we can make of this problem will be a tangible contribution to the success of the wider problem of general disarmament. There is a relationship between the land, sea and air force which constitute national defense. We believe that a limitation of any of these will contribute to an enlightened limitation of the others.

"While the greatest contribution my country can make to the general cause of disarmament is in naval matters, still it must not be forgotten that our ultimate aim is a general solution of the disarmament problem and a consequent lessening of the risks of war. For that reason, however great the achievements of this conference in regard to the naval problem, our zeal in the general cause of disarmament and our efforts to contribute to the success of our future endeavors in other fields will continue unabated.

"We have endeavored to study the particular problems and difficulties of the other nations as well as our own. We have come here to try to find a solution acceptable to all, of benefit to all, and of benefit to the peace and stability of the world. There are many problems we know, but each problem before us seems to us far outweighed by opportunity to serve civilization. We are ready to stay here until the problems are solved, until the opportunities are grasped and until we can give to the world an agreement that will carry us happily on to the time when we meet again in the same spirit to look over the situation anew.

"Mr. Chairman, we have had relations with members of each delegation here which have given us the assurance of the good will, patience and wisdom which they will contribute to the success of our endeavors. We assure you on our part that we are prepared to cooperate in the fullest measure, to do our utmost to appreciate the difficulties of others, and to continue such work as long as may be necessary to achieve our purpose. Our people demand of us a success; they recognize the disaster that a failure of this conference would bring to their dearest hopes, and they are determined that we shall succeed."

TO TALK FORMATION OF LONE STAR LEAGUE
Dallas, ex., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Club owners of the Texas league have been asked to attend a special meeting here Saturday to discuss and formulate plans for a proposed cooperative league to be known as the East Texas or Lone Star Baseball league. Fred McJunkin, of the Dallas club, said it is proposed to reorganize either the East Texas or Lone Star class D league, with club in the Texas league working with business men in the cities interested.

MISSISSIPPI LADY SAYS SHE TOOK CARDUI AND FELT STRONGER, BETTER.
Jackson, Miss.—"A few years ago, I found that I was very weak, and that nothing I ate seemed to give me any strength," says Mrs. R. B. Douglas, of 704 Congress Street, this city.

"I suffered intense pain in my head and back. At times, I would have to hold on to something to steady myself, so as to do my little work. I was worried about my condition.

"My mother told me that I should take some Cardui. After taking two bottles, I felt stronger, but I kept on taking Cardui until my head and back quit hurting. I took six bottles in all, and have never quit praising Cardui since then."

"Thousands of other women, who had been in a run-down, suffering condition, have reported that after taking Cardui their health was better.

"The medicinal value of the herbs from which Cardui is extracted has been well-known in the history of medicine for more than six hundred years. Get a bottle, today."

Reports Increase In Employment

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—President Hoover said today that the department of labor had reported for the first time since the stock market crash that the tide of employment had changed in the right direction.

The chief executive said reports for the last week showed that employment was on the increase and substantially so.

There has been a distinct increase in employment all over the country within the last ten days, President Hoover asserted. "The tide of employment all over the country has changed in the right direction."
