NAVAL PARLEY MARKING TIME UNTIL MONDAY

Private Consultations By Small Groups to Take Place Over the Week-End

London, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The five-power naval conference passed today from its preparatory period into that anxious season of patient effort which long has been foreseen as indispensable to real results. With all formalities, even the setting of the newly constituted "big-five", or heads of the delegations, suspended until Monday, the delegates were occupied with a succession of private consultations in small varying groups. Many prepared to get out of London for the week-end.

The Franco-Italian differences and the French disagreement with the Anglo-American views in several directions continued at the forefront of these conversations, although as a whole they touched nearly every important topic involved in the skein of conference diplomacy.

The Americans, British, Japanese, French and Italians all are expected to find themselves deeply engrossed in a continuing cycle of similar informal discussions for a long period before any final result becomes apparent.

General tone today of all public utterances was one of optimism and even privately the delegates expressed satisfaction at their progress; this far although of course it was far too early to make any positive forecast.

Andre Tardieu, premier of France, who many believe might come to London with little hope of a five-power agreement, was among those yielding complete confidence in the outcome. In a trio of speeches last night—one at the welcoming banquet at Guild Hall, one broadcast to America—he gave renewed assurance that France is as anxious as any other power for success of the conference.

There was no question but that Colonel Henry L. Stimson, American secretary of state, was highly pleased with two major developments during the preliminary exchanges. One of these was the decision yesterday to avoid setting up technical committees and the other was the manner in which the conference leaders had been able to put political considerations ahead for discussion before details of naval strength are even respecting committees.

The decision reached at the first meeting of the "big five" name given by precedents to a sort of committee extraordinary composed of the heads of the five delegations, Colonel Stimson, Premier MacDonald, Mr. Wakatsuki M. Tardieu, and Signor Grandi gathering at 10 Downing Street late yesterday agreed that no committee of experts be created but that each delegation make its decisions for itself.

The "big five" will act as referee and the main inter-delegation point of contact. By this course the conference hopes to profit by the unfortunate experience of the abortive Geneva conference of 1927 when the United States, Great Britain and Japan sought unsuccessfully to limit auxiliary craft.

In that conference a committee of Admirals of the various powers was the principal means of daily exchanges between the delegations. Both Colonel Stimson and President Hoover are known to feel such a method would not have been desirable in London, and that the principal reefs of the negotiations should be kept instead in the hands of the ranking statesmen.

The same way the Americans have been anxious to put diplomatic instead of purely naval questions forward at the outset of discussions here. It was felt that if the statesmen could agree on a satisfactory basis of international relationship application of proper naval proportion to that basis would not be difficult.

Aged Woman Dies in Green County; Burial Today
Mrs. Susan Parker, 73, died at her home in Green county yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. She had been in ill health for about one month and death was not unexpected.
Funeral services were conducted from her late home this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. J. C. Moyer and burial was made in the L. S. Hardee burial ground near Snow Hill.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Clara Sugg, Mrs. F. B. Eason, of Snow Hill, Mrs. J. E. Thomas, of Hookerton, and a son, W. J. Parker of Ayden.

Ray Stokes Case Goes to the Jury

Case of Ray Stokes, E. E. McWhorn and Duron Corbett, young white men of the Ayden community, charged with robbery of freight cars of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, was received by the jury in the criminal term of Pitt county Superior court shortly after the noon hour today. The case was taken up about the noon hour yesterday.

Stokes, recently extradited from South Carolina, was charged with larceny of an automobile and jumping bond in addition to the freight car robbery. He submitted shortly after the trial opened. McWhorn and Corbett, however, pleaded not guilty and this resulted in the introduction of a considerable amount of evidence by both the State and defense.

The jury had not reported a verdict in the case at three o'clock this afternoon.

NEGRESS HELD FOR STABBING MANTO DEATH

Dora Green Held in Jail Charged With Killing Douglas Williams

Dora Green, negress, residing on Bonner's Lane of this city, was held in jail today charged with the slaying of Douglas Williams, colored, during an altercation occurring at the woman's home last Wednesday night. It was indicated that she might go on trial in the criminal term of Superior court this afternoon, but this fact had not been definitely decided upon at the noon hour owing to the congested condition of the docket.

Fatally stabbed with a fork during an alleged attack upon the woman, Williams succumbed to his injuries last night. Unable to determine whether the man came to his death as result of the wound, Coroner Williams following an investigation ordered that an autopsy be held over the body to ascertain the cause of death. The autopsy brought out the fact that the prongs of the fork had penetrated Williams' heart and lung, actually resulting in his death.

The woman, mother of several children, was immediately placed under arrest and lodged in jail to await court action. Williams and the woman are said to have quarreled most of Wednesday afternoon over a letter which he had received from a northern city, and which aroused the woman's jealousy. It was said that when Williams sat down to answer the letter, the woman interfered, resulting in a counter attack by the man. The negress is alleged to have brought the fork into play in an attempt to defend herself, burying its prongs deep into the chest of her assailant.

Before he died, Williams is said to have told a friend that the letter regarded his departure from Greenville to some point up north and that his plans to leave had aroused the woman's jealousy and anger.

A. O. Beddard Dead At Winterville; Was Laid to Rest Today

A. O. Beddard, well known citizen of Winterville died suddenly at his home yesterday afternoon. Although he had been in declining health over a period of several months, death came as a distinct shock to the community where he had resided the most of his life. He was 53 years of age.

Funeral services were conducted from his late home this afternoon and burial was made in the Winterville cemetery.

Mr. Beddard for many years was engaged in the merchandise business in Winterville, but during the last several months ill health forced him to retire from active service. However, he was appointed a magistrate some time ago, and since that time had served in this capacity.

He is survived by his wife, three sons and two daughters.

LEIGON POST TO AID FUND FOR THE POOR

State Commander Freeman to Speak at 'Roundup' Campaign Here Next Week

Pitt County Post No. 39 held its regular monthly meeting this week at which time they enjoyed a delightful oyster roast given in the Armory Building on Cotanche street. The hosts on this occasion were Legionnaires J. H. Waldrop, K. B. Pace, Matt R. Long, Raleigh B. Lee, and James L. Evans.

A short business session was held immediately following the feed and several matters of importance were brought before the membership after the reading of the minutes of the December meeting by Adjutant J. S. Elliott.

Commander Moore called attention to the campaign for funds to buy food, fuel and clothing for the poor and needy of Greenville and vicinity, and his remarks were followed by short talks by J. B. Kitrell and J. H. Waldrop, both members of the committee appointed by the Social Service Club to carry on this campaign work. Quite a few pledges were made to this worthy cause and the members as a whole promised its united support.

Attention was called to the statewide "Round-Up" campaign to be carried on next week by State Commander George K. Freeman. This is the first time any State Department has ever made definite plans to hold simultaneous meetings in each and every Post in the state. Under the program arranged every Post in the State will hold a meeting next Tuesday evening, January 28th, at eight o'clock. This meeting will be open not only to members of the Legion and all ex-service men, but to the public as a whole, and the people of Greenville and Pitt county are cordially invited and urged to attend this meeting, which will be held in the Greenville High School Auditorium on East Fifth street. The speaker assigned to Greenville to address this meeting is Col. John D. Langston, of Goldsboro, who is well and favorably known to Greenville people.

He spoke here some years ago to a large audience at the East Carolina Teachers College. During the last political campaign he was in a three-cornered fight for Lieutenant Governor. For many years he has practiced law in the city of Goldsboro, and at present is a member of the law firm of Langston, Allen and Taylor.

A committee consisting of W. H. Rogers, Jr., J. H. Waldrop and J. B. Kitrell, was appointed to arrange for the meeting next Tuesday night. The use of the High School auditorium was tendered by Supt. J. H. Rose and accepted by the committee. Further announcements about this meeting, the real purpose of which is to enlist every eligible ex-service man in the ranks of the Legion, will be given out in Monday's issue of The Reflector by members of the committee and officers of the local Post.

The usual free will offering was made for the buddies at each meeting and turned over to the local auxiliary Chapter to be sent to Oteen.

FAUBEL GIVES TESTIMONY AT LOBBY PROBE

Secretary of Tariff League, Describes Activities of His Organization

Washington, Jan. 24.—(AP)—After asserting that the activities of the Senate lobby committee "seemed so useless a proceeding," Arthur L. Faubel, secretary of the American Tariff League surprised the committee today with the assertion that the Senate should take a subordinate position to the House of Representatives as in the English system of government.

Faubel's criticism of the committee and his views on government grew out of a question by a committee member whether the league was a lobby organization. Replying that it was a matter of indifference "to us whether we are known as a lobbying organization or not," Faubel said the attitude of the country's newspapers had disappointed the actions of the committee.

J. L. Kilgo Elected Head Tobacco Board of Trade At Annual Meeting Here

J. L. Kilgo, manager of the local plant of Liggett-Myers Tobacco company, is the new president of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade. He succeeds J. S. Ficklen, president of the Ficklen Tobacco company, who served as head of the Board of Trade for a period of three years.

Mr. Kilgo's election to the high office of his profession occurred at the annual meeting of the Board of Trade held at the Rotary building last night, at which time both the past and future of the tobacco industry was discussed from almost every angle imaginable. The session was largely attended and there was much speech-making which helped to dispel the cloud which has hung over the community the last several months as result of the tobacco crop shortage and subsequent financial stringency and unemployment. Each speaker saw better days ahead, and expressed himself in an optimistic vein concerning the bright future of the market and the ultimate recovery from the unprecedented condition resulting from the crop failure.

However, it was left to K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, to present the tobaccoists with concrete facts showing that the market had been able to establish a record from the standpoint of prices, if not volume. Mr. Cobb said that the last report issued by the Department of Agriculture showed that Greenville market led the state in prices with an average of $18.80 against the state average of $18.30.

He did not have anything to complain about in their failure to reach the seventy-one million pounds record set last season. In fact, he said that they should be proud of the fifty million pounds sold this season because there were only four other markets in the world that sold this much tobacco.

Like many others who spoke during the evening, the supervisor of sales expressed opinion that the market had set an exceptionally fine record, considering the fact that the actual crop shortage existed in their home territory. The bulk of the tobacco handled here came from other districts, and was brought to market by numbers of growers who had never sold here before.

It was the consensus of opinion that the market would sell at least eighty million pounds of tobacco this season and that they needed five million buyers to make this possible. The need for additional buyers was stressed by many of the speakers, and it was indicated that a concerted movement would be gotten under way in the near future to make this a reality.

Prior to discussing the performance of the tobaccoists to Pitt County Ficklen discuss the critical situation existing in the county as result of the crop shortage and unemployment situation, and then through individual subscription raised the sum of $765.60 to be turned over to the Social Service Council to help relieve the condition.

Mr. Ficklen carefully outlined action taken by the various charitable organizations to provide food, clothing and fuel for the suffering people, and was followed by B. B. Sugg, who also graphically described the deprivation and want among people who walked the street day after day without finding employment. He said many of these men had families depending upon them, and that they would suffer untold hardships unless the public gave liberally to their cause.

It was indicated that the "free will offering" taken last night would be supplemented by at least a thousand dollars by tobaccoists who were not present at the meeting, and that the total contribution before the campaign was over would approximate something like $2,000.

At suggestion of H. A. Bost, it was unanimously decided to give the remainder of the bountiful spread of turkey supper served during the evening to the relief commissary to be distributed among the poor.

In retiring as president, Mr. Ficklen expressed his appreciation of the splendid spirit of co-operation given him by the various committees during his three years of service. He said that the last few years would not have been possible without the service rendered by each department.

He said the past year had been a hard one on the industry, but that the future held forth just as many possibilities for growth and development as the past, and urged his co-workers (1) buck the line hard and that recovery from the present situation would prove only of a temporary nature. His parting injunction was "to get up and hit 'em again," an old phrase used by a football coach during his college days, and if everybody did that, he declared he had no fear about the future of the Greenville market.

RELIEF FUND STILL GROWS IN THIS CITY

Considerable Amount Contributed to the Fund for the Poor Last Several Hours

Contributions to the fund being raised for the people suffering from the crop shortage and unemployment of this community continued to increase today, and the report of the Social Service Council this afternoon showed that the total amount had been increased by several hundred dollars.

The public was urged to continue to give liberally to the cause and aid in caring for the numbers of families reported to be suffering from lack of food, clothing and fuel.

The commissary established on Diskinson avenue through the Social Service Council is meeting the demands of the poor as rapidly as possible and the more money subscribed, the longer it will be able to render service.

Contributions should be made to C. B. Rowlett, secretary of the Merchants Association, or J. H. Waldrop, at the Greenville Banking and Trust company.

The following contributions were reported today:
W. M. Scalls, $20.00; W. P. Moore, $10.00; J. W. Foley, $5.00; W. S. Fleming, $5.00; E. W. Hellen, $2.00; Wm. McDonald, $5.00; C. W. Shuff, $15.00; W. H. Ward, $2.00; P. H. Cannon, $2.00; R. MEXICO CALLS HER LEGATION OUT OF RUSSIA

Action Taken as Protest Against Communist Activity Against Mexico

Mexico City, Jan. 24.—(AP)—The entire staff of the Mexican legation at Moscow has been ordered by the Mexican government to leave Soviet Russia as a protest against Communist activity against the Mexico City regime both at home and abroad.

Political circles expect the action to result in recall by the Soviet of the Russian minister in this capital. A. M. Makar. The Mexican government thus far has made no move to oblige him to leave the capital; he remained at the legation last night and refused to make any statement.

A statement by Genaro Estrada, foreign minister, revealed that the Mexican minister at Moscow had been ordered to leave several days ago and that the charge d'affaires and all others in the embassy personnel yesterday were directed to quit the Russian capital "as an act of protest."

Discovery of an alleged Filipino pamphlet called "The Torch" to which was attributed the statement that "Filipinos have as much right to American girls as Americans," was reported to peace officers.

Pool halls and similar places of amusement here were closed at 5 o'clock last night by order of city officials. Members of the American Legion joined peace officers in preserving order.

Two Planes Sent to Aid in Search for Missing Man

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—Congressman Lindsay Warren was today notified by the Navy Department that early this morning they had dispatched two seaplanes from the naval base at Norfolk, Va., to aid in the search for Thomas McMullan, prominent citizen of Hertford, who has been lost on Albemarle Sound several days. Mr. Warren was appealed to by the mayor of Hertford, and the family of Mr. McMullan.

LIONS TO GIVE CHARITY BALL FOR THE POOR

Proceeds of Dance to Be Turned Over to Relief of Suffering in This Section

A Charity Ball will be given by the Lions club in this city February 7th to aid in the movement now under way to carry relief to the people suffering from unemployment in this community. The entire proceeds of the ball will be turned over to the Social Service Council, and the club will defray all expenses incurred in connection with the dance.

This decision was reached at the regular meeting of the club held at the Yum Yum Barbecue Palace, across the river from this city, last night, at which time members of the club enjoyed a delightful barbecue and brunswick stew supper and heard an interesting talk by Judge Thomas L. Johnson, who is presiding over the criminal term of Pitt County Superior court.

Judge Johnson spoke on the subject, "Assets of North Carolina and the Future," and brought out many facts in this connection. Referring to the recent labor troubles, he said that more attention to patriotism to the state and government would have a tendency of relieving the situation.

Judge Johnson, who is holding his first term of court in Pitt county, complimented the citizenship upon the spirit of progress evidenced on every side. He declared that the opportunities for service were just as great in the future as in the past and urged his hearers to use their influence in making good of every opportunity.

Complete plans for the Charity Ball were not outlined at the meeting, but it was stated that they would be completed in the next few days and given due publicity. An effort will be made to give the affair as much prominence as possible in order that a big sum of money may be raised for relief of the poor.

Former Greenville Resident Dies in Ann Arbor, Mich.

Word was received here yesterday of the death of James Brownlow Yellowley, Jr., which occurred at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, Mich., October 22, 1929. Mr. Yellowley was born and reared in Greenville where he has many friends who will regret to learn of his passing.

He was born September 12, 1881. Yellowley was the nephew of Yellowley. He was the nephew of Col. E. C. Yellowley, long a distinguished and well-loved citizen of Greenville. Mr. Yellowley was a direct descendant of Robert Bruce, first King of Scotland, and of the noted Fontaine and Maury families. He was also a great-grandson of Patrick Henry on his maternal side.

Mr. Yellowley studied in the schools of North Carolina and Mississippi, completing his education at the University of Mississippi and at Oxford, where he made a brilliant record.

In 1913 he was married to Miss Margaret McCall of Louisiana, who survive him. For many years, he was connected with the Illinois Central Railroad and was one of the most popular officials on the system. At the time of his death, he was holding the position of train master. His health failed two years ago due to overwork, his death following last October.

Mr. Yellowley was buried at Jackson, Miss., with Bishop William Mercer Green, Coadjutor of the Diocese of Mississippi, officiating, assisted by Dr. Walter B. Capers, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church of Jackson.

BYRD'S PARTY NOT FACED BY LACK OF FOOD

Although Cut Off By Ice Barriers, Explorers Not Worried By Food Shortage

Oslo, Norway, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Replying to a request through the United States minister for Norwegian whalers to assist the Byrd expedition in the Antarctic, the Norwegian government today informed the American government it would do its best.

The Norwegian reply said the government had approached the whalers association which had expressed the opinion that the ice barrier cutting off Byrd's camp from open water and his supply ships, will break up as it has done in previous years.

New York, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Captain H. H. Admley, personal representative of Admiral Richard E. Byrd, in a statement published today, said that although an ice pack barred ships of the expedition from reaching the base on the Antarctic ice barrier, Admiral Byrd and his men faced no immediate food shortage.

The statement, published in the New York Times, which is sponsoring the expedition with associated newspapers, said: "While it is true that the expedition is not fully equipped to spend another winter in the Antarctic, there is no immediate shortage of the food supply. There is ample fuel for heat and for operation of the radio. The men are not reduced rations. There is no immediate prospect that they will be. They are well clothed, comfortably housed."

"In extreme circumstances an adequate supply of whale, seal, penguin will sustain life—but those who might have to rely upon such a diet over a prolonged period would scarcely count it a pleasant experience."

"It is believed that, through the kindly offices of the State Department which has instructed the American ambassador at London and the American minister at Oslo to seek the co-operation of the whaling companies whose vessels are now fishing in the Ross area, a navigable passage to the Bay of Whales will be discovered or, if necessary, forced."

"The period of greatest separation of the ice in the Ross area is in February. It is possible, therefore, that the present impenetrable condition of the pack of ice may be so altered within the next ten days that Admiral Byrd's vessels will be able to proceed south under their own power to his base on the ice barrier."

"Admiral Byrd's present position is exactly that of a cool, wise commander taking preliminary precautions for the safety of a numerous and important expedition."

"His friends await the outcome with confidence and without fear." Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the noted Arctic explorer, expressed the opinion that the Byrd expedition had a three to one chance to come out of the Antarctic this year, but added that being caught by pack ice was so frequent an experience of Arctic and Antarctic explorers that it might be regarded almost as a normal experience.

He said pack ice has caught one-half of the expeditions that have penetrated the frozen regions near the poles.

There was no cause for alarm, he said, even if the expedition found itself marooned on the ice barrier until next year, adding that while it might be a bitter disappointment to the men anxious to get home, it would afford an opportunity for further scientific observation.

Former Greenville Man Died Thursday

James E. Moore, former resident of this county, died in a Los Angeles hospital yesterday morning as a result of cerebral meningitis from which he had been critically ill for several days.

The body will be brought to this county for burial but funeral arrangements will depend upon the date of arrival here and will be announced later.

Besides his wife, the deceased is survived by a sister, Mrs. J. W. James of Greenville township, and a brother, B. D. Moore, of Stokes.

Athletic Hysteria Shifting.

IT'S OUR JOB.

Contributions so far to the community relief fund have been very generous on the part of many of our citizens, but if we are to do this job of caring for our unfortunate people as it should be done, still more funds are going to be needed. If you are able to contribute to this work and have not already done so, make our your check now to J. H. Waldrop, treasurer Community Relief Fund, and sent it in. Fuel, clothing, provisions and supplies will be just as acceptable as the cash, so if you cannot contribute cash to the fund but have something else that you can give, send it to the relief commissary at once or advise some member of the committee and the articles will be called for. We can easily take care of our situation here if all our citizens will do their part. It is our obligation. Let's meet it now.

ENTITLED TO MORE THAN HOG AND HOMINY.

The people who live at home are entitled to more than hog any hominy and it is up to the General Assembly to see that they get more by lowering the present tax rates that are well nigh confiscatory.

It is the school and road taxes that are pressing too hard on the lands of the State in every county. If the public schools are State institutions, then let the State bear the greater part of the burden. — Tarboro Southerner.

ABOUT TOWN

"We have seen similar conditions before, but we always got by through strict economy." G. P. Good, of Goldsboro, member of the Good System Industrial banks, told members of the Greenville Merchants Association here the other night.

The veteran banker told of the panic of 1907 when scrip was issued in place of money by different banks of the country, and said that they got by that year although they had a mighty hard pull. He also called attention to conditions of 1907 and 1920, both hard years in a financial way, and stressed the fact that our people survived the periods and came out all right through hard work and careful attention to business.

"Times are hard," Mr. Hood admitted, "but careful attention to credits and sound business judgment will enable the section to pull out in good style."

"This section has been hard hit by crop shortages," J. R. Turnage, Ayden, told Greenville business men on a recent visit to the city, but I think we should be able to cover within the next year." Mr. Turnage also expressed opinion that credit had been too cheap for everybody, and that members should be a liability to any community, and Pitt county must get away from it during its period of recovery from the present depressed conditions. "Merchants of this section have been thinking too much in terms of volume in past years, and not enough of safety," he declared. "When they reverse this I am of the firm opinion that recovery will be speedy."

The credit files of the Greenville Merchants Association should prove of inestimable value to the merchants in the future.

With a complete file at their command, the merchants should be able to tell who pays and who does not within the space of a very short time, and if they abide by the files the "floating" credit customer who is nothing more than a human parasite, should be done away with almost completely within the space of a few months.

Production of credit is one of the most important problems confronting the business men of Eastern Carolina at this time and the sooner they adopt certain protective measures the sooner they may expect to be able to weather storms of the financial world.

Pitt county farmers are in for additional revenue this month in the sale of poultry through the Farm Department. Such sales have brought the farmers a considerable sum of money this year, and should do much towards helping them pass through the period of depression caused by the crop shortage. In a short time there will be more chickens for sale, and then hogs, and the receipts will be greatly increased.

This is one of the first steps in the live-at-home program enunciated by the farm department several months ago, and should gain momentum as the farmers begin to realize the good results to be obtained.

"Live-at-home programs no doubt will receive far greater attention in this country during the present year than ever before, and the long run the average farmer will find himself on the road to prosperity.

Greenville tobaccoists had an opportunity of discussing local conditions as they pertain to the tobacco industry at the annual meeting of the Board of Trade last night, and they didn't fail to take advantage of it. That good results will obtain from the discussions, cannot be doubted in the slightest sense of the word.

It was generally agreed that the season closing today has been a hard one and that the market suffered from lack of volume, but the tobaccoists are not discouraged. They have seen hard years before and are looking to the future for a reversal of the clouds.

Members of the Board of Trade have played an important part in development of the industry, and they will continue to plan for improvements during the coming year with a view of keeping the market in the forefront of the greatest industry of the locality.

Radio fans again had an opportunity of hearing something about Greenville and Pitt county last night when for the third time during the last month or so, C. B. Rowlett, secretary of the Merchants Association, told of the resources and possibilities of the community.

These talks not only prove a source of interest to people who know little about this great bright leaf tobacco region, but also to the people here at home. They prove to us that Greenville actually is one of the most thriving and prosperous young cities of the state and is rapidly forging to the front in the field of finance and industry. These programs are good advertisements for the city and should be continued from time to time until the country served by the broadcasting station is more fully acquainted with us.

New Wrinkles for Batchelors Found in N. Y.

New York, Jan. 24.—(AP)—New wrinkles in bachelorhood luxury are in the apartment of William S. Paly, 27-year-old president of the Columbia Broadcasting system. His new six-room Park avenue penthouse apartment was furnished at an estimated cost of 10,000 a room.

In a barroom a system of chromatic lighting permits the harmonizing of cocktails and illumination. In bed, without raising his head, he can tune in on the radio, turn on any combination of lights and reach any one of several hundred books.

The apartment, has a piano concealed in a wall except for its keyboard, a silver balcony, an aluminum

LOST 68 LBS. DURING SIEGE

"I honestly believe Sargon saved my life. I had to resign from the Asheville police department because I was down and out physically. My weight dropped from 207 pounds to

JOSEPH N. HYDER.

139. I was sent home from duty several times and spent four weeks in a hospital. My digestion was so bad that absolutely nothing agreed with me. I had to take a handful of salts every night for constipation. I had awful pains in my head and back. I had my teeth extracted, my eyes examined, and took one treatment after another but never did get better until I got hold of Sargon. Five bottles made me feel like a new man from head to foot. I've gained 13 pounds already and haven't a sign of my former troubles left. My friends are amazed at the change in me, and as long as I live I'll never stop praising this wonderful medicine." — Joseph N. Hyder, 63 Cumberland Ave., Asheville.

Sargon may be obtained in Greenville at Warren Drug Company.—(Adv.)

Fields to Meet Dundee Tonight

Chicago, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Jackie Fields, ruler of the world's welterweights, tonight will renew his feud with the Dundee family of Baltimore, in a 10-round bout with Vince Dundee at the Chicago Stadium. It will be the second meeting between the pair in Chicago and Fields who gained a hair-line decision over the brother of the former champion, was out to score a knockout. Fileds, however, will be at a disadvantage in the weights, coming in at about 147 pounds, the division limit while Dundee probably will weigh around 135 at fight time, making the bout a non-little affair. In spite of the weight difference, and the fact that Dundee gave him a great battle in Chicago earlier in the year, Fields was an overnight 8 to 5 choice with hew takes. In the semi-final bout, Tony Herrera, Fort Worth, Tex., lightweight, will meet Irish Jackie Plisington, of New York, in a return engagement.

A CENTURY of helping American Farmers MAKE BETTER CROPS

The coming year rounds out an even century since the first use of Chilean Nitrate of Soda in the United States.

Andrew Jackson, famous "Old Hickory", of Tennessee, was President of the United States in 1830 when the first cargo of this nitrogen fertilizer arrived by sailing vessel from far-off Chile. That was years before we had the telephone, the telegraph.

TO-DAY—On sheer merit alone... strictly on the basis of the good it has done, Chilean Nitrate to-day is the standard nitrogen fertilizer. Last year more than 800,000 farmers used it to make more money from their crops. Every cotton champion in the South... and every corn champion... made his winning crop with Chilean Nitrate.

For nearly half a century, Experiment Stations have proved the value of Chilean Nitrate. In Pennsylvania, for instance, experiments have been conducted continuously since 1881! The success obtained by farmers who use it, leads many more each year to follow their example. Chilean Nitrate pays back its small cost many times over.

Do not confuse Chilean Nitrate with other fertilizers. It is the world's only natural nitrogen. Not synthetic, but the real thing, mined and refined in Chile and nowhere else. It will pay you to insist on Chilean Nitrate. It is quick-acting food for almost every crop that grows... proved by 100 years of use.

Rev. R. W. Prevost, of Elizabeth City, will occupy the pulpit in the Immanuel Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. While here he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Willard.

MISSIONARY TO PREACH AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. A. A. Talbot, a missionary of the Southern Presbyterian church and on furlough in this country at present, will preach at the church here on Sunday morning, and in the evening will give an illustrated lecture with lantern slides of the missionary work in China, where he and his wife have been missionaries for some years.

Mr. Talbot comes to begin the annual week of prayer and self-denial for the great foreign missionary cause. This week is observed each year in every church of the south, and all of the organizations of the church are expected to present the work in their meetings.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will hold a mission study class all day Monday at the home of Mrs. S. M. Crisp, on Fourth street.

Fidelis Class Meets.

The Fidelis Class of the Memorial Baptist church had its regular meeting on Thursday night. We met with Miss Pink Wanning on Third street. After several games and contests which were enjoyed by all, we had a short business meeting.

We enjoyed the delicious sweets that were served by Miss Pink's sisters. Many of our members were absent. Girls, we missed you so. Be sure you come to Sunday school Sunday.

Dr. W. I. Wooten left last night for New York, where he will take a six months' course in surgery.

"Disposing of Mary."

The following young people of the town are characters in the play written by Mrs. E. T. Robeson and to be given in the college auditorium Tuesday night at 8:30.

Miss Mary H. Greene, member of the college faculty, takes the part of Mary; Miss Hennie Long, the flapper wife, and Harry Brown her husband; Miss Rose Hadley, the business woman; Frank Edwards, Mary's older brother and Susan's husband.

This play is to be sent to Chapel Hill in February to compete with about ten others. The play, coached by Miss Emma Hooper of the college faculty, promises to be a success and Greenville should be very proud of its author, Mrs. Robeson.

Miss Bett Dixon will add to the program with some of her best dances and music will be furnished by the college orchestra under Miss Gorrell.

The proceeds will go to the Greenville Public Library and the welfare work of Pitt county.

"THE BARBER OF SEVILLE" TO BE PRESENTED AT THE COLLEGE, FEBRUARY 4th

Opera in English, by the Festival Opera Company, in their production of "The Barber of Seville" will give people of this section a chance to understand what is going on as the singers sing their songs, speak their lines in the dialogue, and act out the romance and flash out the witticisms, on the evening of February 4, at East Carolina Teachers College.

The amusing points in the comic opera and the romantic happy-ending love story never fail to interest an audience that watches and listens to this entertaining opera by Rossini, and the audience cannot fail to get it when it is in English.

A coloratura soprano, with a voice of great beauty and power, a basso-baritone of splendid physique as well as fine voice, a tenor hero, and a baritone Figaro, the barber, make a remarkable combination of voices and characters that insure both musical and dramatic success.

Melvina Passmore is the heroine and the star soprano, Rhys Fees Morgan is the Welsh tenor, hero-lover. Henri Scott is the bass-baritone.

Baptists to Hold Missions School Here Next Week

Throughout the week January 26 to 31 a church school of missions will be conducted at Memorial Baptist church. Classes will be conducted each afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for children in the Sunbeams, Girls' Auxiliary, and Royal Ambassador groups. These classes include children from four to 12 years inclusive.

Miss Alva Lawrence, our state young peoples' leader, will direct this work assisted by some of our local women. It is our pleasure to have Miss Lawrence with us for the first time since she assumed her duties as young peoples' leader. We want to welcome her to Greenville with an enthusiastic group of children and young folks. Miss Lawrence will also conduct a class for young people, 17-24 years, in the evening, using the book, "Pioneers of Good Will."

The school will convene each evening at 7 p. m., when Miss Emma Leachman will present studies in the book, "Look Unto the Fields." This book is just fresh from the press and Miss Leachman has recently visited our fields of activity in the southland. Therefore she will bring a thought provoking, inspiring message concerning this Kingdom task. Men and women will be most cordially welcomed in these classes. It is a distinct privilege for the Baptists of Greenville to have Miss Emma Leachman, field work of the Home Mission Board with them.

Memorial Baptist church extends a cordial invitation to every Baptist in our city to participate in this school of missions and gain the enthusiasm that will be derived therefrom.

Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, the pastor, will be in charge of the school. In conjunction with the work carried on here, extension work will be carried on each afternoon throughout Pitt county, reaching our Baptist churches in their various localities. Meetings will be held in Fountain, Farmville, Bethel, Ayden, in Pitt county, and Washington, in Beaufort county.

Hood System Bank to Move Into New Quarters Today

The Hood System Bank, which has been located on Dickinson avenue the last few years, will move to the W. E. Hooker building, on Evans street, below Five Points, at the close of business today.

The building, formerly occupied by the office of the Greenville Gas Company, has been completely remodeled, new fixtures installed, and will take care of the growth of the institution for the next several years.

The Hood Bank has experienced healthy growth since its establishment here several years ago, and in its annual statement issued a few days ago, showed splendid increase of last year's business.

Holdforth New Manager At the Charles Store

Mr. J. G. Holdforth, of Raleigh, has arrived in Greenville to become manager of the Charles Store on Evans street. He succeeded Mr. N. N. Scott, who has been transferred to Graham. Mr. Holdforth is a native of England, having come to this country two years ago.

IS PROVING THE MOST POPULAR CLUB EVER ORGANIZED IN OUR CITY

Is Your Name On This Honor Roll?

These 1,000 public spirited citizens of Greenville by putting only $2.50 each in a safe, high interest bearing investment, will make available an additional $130,000.00 annually for home building in Greenville for a period of six and a half years.

Can you conceive of a finer civic SERVICE—one that can be performed at so little sacrifice and with actual profit to the individual?

JUDGE ALBION DUNN
Attorney at Law.

Says:
May I congratulate you on your eminent success. My experiences have been that Building and Loan shares are the safest and most satisfactory way of saving money regularly and with your resources and your reserve fund, and your capable management, there cannot be any question as to the safety and soundness of your association. Please accept my good wishes for your continued growth and success, which really means a greater and better home city for all of us.

HON. J. C. LANIER
Mayor of Greenville.

Says:
Any movement which tends to bring all of our people in closer touch with the Home Building and Loan Association, is to be highly commended. To my mind this association is doing a splendid work, making home owners out of renters. My advice is to join the Million Dollar Club and watch Greenville grow.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today unchanged to an advance of 3 points on trade buying and covering, but offerings increased right after the call and prices worked a point or two below yesterday's closing figures before the end of the first half hour. A little southern selling was reported, while there was near month liquidation which was absorbed by trade interests who bought March against sales of later deliveries.

Liverpool made a fairly steady showing but was too early in line with expectations based on the New York close of yesterday to be a factor in the early trading and there seemed to be nothing in the early market to stimulate trading interest. March sold up to 17.30 at the start and reacted to 17.26.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 24.—(AU)—Despite transient rallies, the Chicago wheat market displayed a weakness most of the time today, influenced a good deal by downturns in prices at Winnipeg and Liverpool. No export wheat, no sales of any consequence from either Canada or the United States. Indications of enlarged country offerings of corn pushed the corn future deliveries market down to the new all around low price of the season.

Wheat closed 1c to 13-8c a bushel under yesterday's close, corn 13-8 to 13-4@17-8c down, oats 3-8c to 3-4c off, and provisions showing 7c to 6c advance.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Heavy week-end profit taking and a renewal of short selling impeded the recovery of stock prices today after scores of issues had been marked up 1 to nearly 9 points in the early trading. The early afternoon selling movement carried several issues 1 to 4 points below their earlier high levels. Trading showed a marked expansion in volume, sales in the first two hours running more than half a million shares above those of the same period yesterday.

General Electric (old stock) jumped 8 1-2 points, Atlas Powder and Warren Bros. each sold 6 1-2 points higher, J. I. Case extended its gain to 5 1-2 points and Brooklyn Union Gas, Advance Rumely common and preferred, Eastman Kodak, Jersey Central, Otis Elevator, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Auburn Auto, Columbian Carbon, Westinghouse Electric and Western Union were among the many issues to sell 3 to 5 points higher.

There were still a few soft spots scattered throughout the list. American Beet Sugar, Foundation Co., and National Biscuit (old stock) dropped 2 to 2 1-2 points.

Call money again dropped from 4 1-2 to 4 per cent. The Chicago Federal Reserve Bank announced no change in its 4 1-2 per cent discount rate.
