ARMS PARLEY WILL MEASURE NAVAL POWER

Question of How to Measure the Naval Strength of Nations Sent to Committee

London, Jan. 30.—(AP) The entire question of how to measure naval power—whether by total tons, or by tons in separate categories—a problem which has vexed naval limitation negotiations for years, was put today in the hands of a special committee by the London naval conference.

This plan of treatment was adopted on the motion of Secretary Stimson, American delegation head, at a session of the conference presided over by a general willingness to compromise, but marked nevertheless by plain retractions of diverse national viewpoints.

The secretary of state's proposal was accepted unanimously although Italy gave notice that she felt her claim for parity with France should have precedence and that she would accept the decisions regarding limitation methods only on condition that she have a day in court later.

The Italian dissent was presented in pungent phrases by Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister, known by everyone to speak the full determination of Premier Mussolini. He declared that while the whole party question might be left aside, Italy was willing that the physical terms of limiting navies be considered.

In the end, therefore, Secretary Stimson's motion had a unanimous vote. The French compromise plan was presented by Andre Tardieu, the arranger he proposed permitting shifting to a limited extent of tonnage from one class to another to satisfy national needs within the total tonnage allowed. No mention was made of exact figures.

Hugh S. Gibson, American ambassador to Brussels and veteran of the abortive Geneva conference, told the conferees the United States had always stood for definite limits in each category, but rather than stand in the way of negotiations ready to consider the French compromise.

Under Secretary Stimson's proposal the original plan of a steering committee of two delegates from each country was scrapped. In private discussions the preponderance of British representation on such a committee had been raised sharply, in view of the presence here of representatives of all the dominions.

The committee members now actually will be named by leaders of the delegations and operate through them to reach a unanimous agreement necessary for any conference action. It was not considered likely that any of the delegates would serve on the committee, which probably would be made of a definite number of advisers. After the plenary session adjourned, the view that the conference now was in measurable distance of a solution to the old problem of global or total tonnage limitation of war craft versus stricter limitation by categories.

Explosion Wrecks Absorption Plant; One Man Killed

Fresno, Cal., Jan. 30.—(AP)—An explosion today wrecked the new $500,000 absorption plant of the Petroleum Securities company in Kettleman Hills oil field, south of here, killing one man and apparently trapping four others in the flaming ruins, at least two other men were injured.

An explosion in a tank within the works started the fire. The flames spread as burning oil from the tank splattered through the plant. Rescuers started into the ruins after the first blast but he explosion of a second tank drove them back, preventing them from recovering the body of Charles L. Phillips, foreman of the plant crew, who was killed outright.

Fire fighters said bodies of the four missing men apparently were in the ruins. Intense heat prevented fire fighters from operating. Three other tanks in the plant were abandoned to the flames because it was impossible to approach the burning plant.

CAROLINAS IN GRIP OF SNOW AND ICE SIEGE

Most of the Two States Reported Covered by Blanket of White

Charlotte, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The Carolinas were in the grip of the winter's most severe assault today. In the wake of tumbling temperatures yesterday, snow and sleet fell over most of the two states; bringing a white blanket that measured as much as nine inches in some sections.

Relief was in sight, however, S. S. Schworm, meteorologist in charge of the weather bureau at Charlotte, predicted clearing skies today with continued cold today and tonight. Warmer weather was promised for tomorrow.

The high winds that characterized the wintry attack yesterday continued today. Everywhere, with the exception of the Atlantic seaboard, reports of the worst storm of the season filtered in.

In Piedmont and western Carolina cities, crews of workmen were rushed to the rescue at daybreak to try to clear some of the flaky debris (lyfore automobile) traffic became heavy. This however, was only partially successful for the wind whirled the dry, powdery snow back again over the cleaned spots.

Automobiles found difficulty in the cities but over the country highways were stalled by deep drifts. The heaviest fall was reported in western North Carolina. Asheville had eight and one-half inches. Orangeburg, S. C., reported the first snow since 1918, with the thermometer in the lower twenties. Anderson had the heaviest snow, since 1918 while Greenville, S. C., reported more than six inches. Union, S. C., reported four inches of snow and Columbia three.

Hickory, N. C. reported a nine-inch fall and a 19-degree temperature. Greensboro had a low reading of 19 degrees and a six and one-half inch fall. A street car slipped off its tracks as one of the freak accidents in Greensboro. Fayetteville, Salisbury, Gastonia, Rocky Mount and Henderson all had accounts of heavy snows and low temperatures. Seven automobiles were stalled by drifts between Salisbury and Statesville. Durham reported partially paralyzed traffic because of drifts.

At Wilmington, rain fell during the night, freezing as it touched the ground. The mercury touched 39 degrees. New Bern had a heavy sleet but by morning it had melted. The temperature at New Bern was at a 40 degree mark.

BORAH ASKS EXONERATION OF HERBERT

Senator Asks Commissioner Doran to Absolve Dry Administrator of Montana

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—After another conference with his informant in the government department, Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, today wrote a letter to Prohibition Commissioner Doran and demanded that John F. J. Herbert, dry administrator for Montana and Idaho either be publicly exonerated of the reported charges against him or removed from that district.

It was disclosed today by Senator Borah that the man who made the report to him on Herbert's record was Frank S. Flynn. Flynn is in the legal department of the prohibition bureau here. Borah said he was under the impression Flynn was an agent of the department of justice but when he made this statement, Attorney General Mitchell challenged.

Last night Flynn returned to the Idahoan's office and reaffirmed his previous declaration against Herbert. After a severe cross-examination, Borah said he was convinced that Flynn knew what he was talking about and for that reason he had written Doran.

Assistant Secretary Lowman, of the treasury, in charge of prohibition enforcement, has defended Herbert against the charges reported by Borah and also by Senator Wheeler, of Montana.

House Committee Favors Transfer Of Prohibition To Department Of Justice

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The first legislation to carry out the Hoover program for reorganizing prohibition enforcement formally was placed before Congress today. Acting with dispatch, the House Expenditures committee by unanimous consent approved the Williamson bill to transfer the prohibition enforcement unit from the treasury to the justice department.

It is expected before night fall or the first thing tomorrow, Chairman Williamson of the committee, will either introduce a resolution asking its early consideration by the House or will personally appear before the House Rules committee and urge such action. The rules committee determines the order in which bills shall be taken up on the floor.

Chairman Snell of the Rules committee; Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the House Republican chief, and other House leaders have indicated every effort will be made to expedite action on bills to carry out the Hoover program which was framed by the law enforcement commission.

Consideration of the Williamson bill was marked by a number of sharp verbal scraps in committee. Several amendments were adopted before the committee approved it.

Other House committees have before them bills to carry out different phases—the proposing United States commissioners be given the power to try certain dry law violators being in the hands of the judiciary committee. This committee also has decided to begin hearings February 12, on several resolutions asking repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

The administration has thrown its full weight behind the Williamson bill. The transfer of the prohibition bureau was recommended by President Hoover and subsequently endorsed by Secretary Mellon of the treasury and Attorney General Mitchell, the two cabinet officers directly interested in the change of jurisdiction over the unit.

In the Senate, legislation is pending before that chamber's judiciary committee to authorize such a transfer. So far it has not been acted upon.

WETS PREPARE FOR ASSAULT ON DRY LAWS

Congressional Opponents to Prohibition Begin An Intensive Campaign

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Congressional wets are busy planning an intensive assault upon the citadel of prohibition to be launched in open hearings before the House judiciary committee on measures proposing that the eighteenth amendment be repealed.

The anti-prohibitionists are frankly gratified at the prospect of a thorough investigation of conditions under the dry laws. They are preparing to take full advantage of this opportunity for which they have clamored for many months.

A spectacular battle, reminiscent of the inquiry conducted a few years ago by a Senate committee under Reed of Missouri, is expected to result, as the drys, too, are making their preparations and intend to present a vigorous defense.

Wet strategy is expected to resolve into a concentration of effort upon the one or two measures thought more likely to be approved by the committee. Representative Linthicum of Maryland, a Democrat, chairman of the unofficial House wet organization, is inclined to favor a resolution by Representative Sabath, Democrat, Illinois, as the one that should be vigorously pushed.

This measure proposes an amendment to the eighteenth amendment, under which Congress would be empowered to govern the manufacture, transportation and sale of liquors under government permits and in packages.

Another proposal highly favored by the wets is that of Representative Mary T. Norton, Democrat, of New Jersey, for national referendum on the question of repealing the eighteenth amendment.

The hearings are to begin on Feb. 12. The full judiciary committee will look into proposals for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Measures modifying the existing laws will be considered by a subcommittee under the leadership of Representative Dyer, Republican of Missouri, himself a wet and the author of a measure to permit beverages with an alcoholic content of 2.75 per cent.

BOMB WRECKS BUILDING AT CHICAGO, ILL.

Several Injured As Blast Drives People From Homes on the East Side

Chicago, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The most powerful bomb explosion Chicago police have ever had any experience with wrecked a one-story brick building occupied by a wholesale grocery house last night.

A considerable section of the north side heard and felt the explosion. Eight persons were injured. Several families were driven from their homes into the near zero night. The property damage was estimated at $100,000.

The building stood at 2154 Southport avenue and was occupied by John F. Cullotta and Company, wholesale grocers. Cullotta saved police two letters, each demanding $5,000 in cash under threat of death. The letters were written in Italian. Witnesses said the explosion was so terrific that the building seemed to rise several feet in the air then crumble. Buildings for two blocks around were damaged. Passengers on a street car half a block distant and patients in the Alexian Brothers hospital two blocks away were alarmed.

The bombing was the fifth within a 30-hour period, not including an unsuccessful attempt to kill Pat Roche, special investigator for the state's attorney by placing a bomb in his automobile.

Cullotta received the second of the threatening letters yesterday and turned both over to police. Two officers were guarding his home, several miles away, when the bomb destroyed the store. Police explained that the letters indicated an attempt would be made against Cullotta's life rather than the store.

Two persons most seriously injured were George Stanciu and William Petraska who were in a restaurant across the street. Stanciu was struck on the head by flying dishes. Jars of fruit hurled from a shelf and the fall of a glass top from a pie case accounted for Petraska's injuries.

Prices of Cotton Break to New Low Level at New York

New York, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Prices of cotton futures broke $1 to $1.50 a bale to new low levels for the season during the early trading on the New York Cotton Exchange today under one of the heaviest selling movements experienced in many months.

There was a general disposition to liquidate cotton which had been held since last fall in the hope that the farm board would sustain values and confidence appeared to have been badly shattered.

After reaching 16.1-2 cents a pound for the May future, the market encountered some support from trade buying, but the undertone was nervous. March fell to 16.32 cents a pound compared with 16.56, the Wednesday close, while May broke to 16.51 against 16.81 yesterday's final price.

PITT COUNTY COVERED BY ICE BLANKET

Community Visited by Snow and Sleet Yesterday and Today; No Accidents

Driven by a strong wind that whistled down out of the north, winter descended upon Pitt county yesterday and last night, and today a blanket of ice covered most of the countryside. Although the weather man gave out predictions of fair with rising temperatures for tomorrow, overcast skies failed to indicate any such relief for today.

Automobiles and pedestrians encountered much difficulty getting about the city during the morning hours, but sidewalks were cleared speedily, especially in the business district, and traffic for the pedestrians was made much safer. The automobiles continued to skid about the streets all day but if there were any accidents they had not been reported this afternoon.

Winter started its assault yesterday morning with a puny offering of snow. This continued intermittently until about four o'clock in the afternoon when the flakes became larger and descended rapidly enough to cover the ground in short order. This was followed by hoisting snow and sleet during the most of the night, and when Greenville awoke this morning the sleet was still falling, although the volume was not as great as during the night.

Tiny flakes of snow mingled with sleet about 10 o'clock this morning but after that time the precipitation ceased altogether, giving out hope that the assault was over. However, overcast skies continued and the older prognosticators who are listened to very attentively around drug stores, apparently expected anything from the elements during the afternoon.

It is the first time that Greenville and Pitt county have been covered by a blanket of ice in several years, and with the temperature just cold enough to prevent melting, countless numbers of children converted streets in the residential district into veritable skating rinks.

Tugboat Safe After Thrilling Battle At Sea

Southport, N. C., Jan. 30.—(AP)—The tugboat Stone No. 6 was safe in port here today after a thrilling battle with heavy seas on a trip down the coast from Morehead City. Shortly after it set out yesterday three barges it had in tow were torn loose by mountainous waves and drifted in sight here. Anxiety was then felt for the safety of five men aboard the tugboat and two who had been on the barges.

A search was started, and early in the day while Coast Guardsmen were still scouring the coast line for the missing men the craft pulled into port with all seven of the men safe aboard.

TWO MEN ARE SHOT TO DEATH BY GANGSTERS

Johnny Genaro, Noted Criminal, Also Shot Down By Enemies Last Night

Chicago, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Two men, both employes of the Checker Cab company, were shot to death early today at the intersection of Farwell and Ridge avenues in the Rogers Park district.

One of the men killed was a cab driver. His identity was not established early today. The other was Barney J. Mitchell, treasurer of the company.

Rogers Park police had little information as to the cause or manner of the shooting. Labor trouble was suggested as a possible cause. There has been no recent flare-up of taxicab warfare such as from time to time has occurred between drivers for rival cab companies.

The cab in which the two men were found dead was owned by Frank Anders. Police believed him to be the man found slumped over the wheel.

Mitchell was in the cab. Eight bullets had been fired into his body. H. W. Porter and T. Fisher Guyon of Evanston, who were driving north, discovered the cab with its cargo of dead. A block south, they told police, a touring car of expensive make, sped by them at high speed. Police believe it carried the assassins.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Johnny Genaro's enemies found him last night, and shot him. If he survives the eight bullet wounds their guns pumped into his body, it will be something hospital physicians believe almost impossible.

Genaro, known as a gangster, questioned in the Moran gang massacre investigation, and once named as a kidnapper of pulp watchers in tumultuous primary election day in 1928, was shot by two men.

They ambushed him at Wentworth and 23rd street, as he walked from a club toward his parked automobile. Without a word they opened fire. One bullet entered his body just above the heart, another the left side, a third the groin, a fourth the abdomen and a fifth his right arm.

When they took him to the operating table, Genaro said: "Dad, I'm full of holes like a cheese." He placed his hand over his heart, "but the hole right here is the one that counts."

Genaro himself said he was dying. He asked for a priest. A detective asked who shot him. "Ask me another," said Genaro. "You know, don't you?" the officer persisted. "Sure," answered Genaro. "Two guys that wore pants and hats and coats. Write that down and don't bother me."

A committee of the students later handed a gold plaque to count of Hochberg, her fiance, who was present, in recognition of his sportsmanlike qualities. Count Hochberg is second son of the prince of Ples, a small German principality, and is 25 years old. His engagement to Princess Ileana has been rumored occasionally for several months, but reportedly was delayed while some way was sought which would allow the princess upon her marriage to keep her title of princess. Princess Ileana visited America with her mother in 1926.

Madrid, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Heavily armed police patrolled the streets of Madrid today prepared to curb Republican manifestations and demonstrations by students and others opposed to the new premier-designate, Lieut. Gen. Damaso Berenguer.

Possibly in view of the elaborate occasions the city was quieter any time since resignation of General Primo De Rivera, whose years' Spanish dictatorship.

From 1892 to 1898 she studied Maria Loewe-Destinn, whose name she adopted. In 1899 she joined the Royal Opera company in Berlin and in 1901 sang the part of Senta at Bayreuth.

She appeared first as Senta in the "Flying Dutchman" and as Nedda in "Pagliacci" at Covent Garden in 1908, later creating the title role in Puccini's "Madam Butterfly," later "Eugene Onegin." She took out her first citizenship papers in the United States shortly before America's entrance into the World War. In 1923 she married a Captain Halbach, Czech aviator, who was much younger than herself. Her voice was a soprano of extraordinary range.

New York Gambler Killed From Ambush

New York, Jan. 29.—(AP)—The name of Charles (Red) Donnelly, 50, was added today to the long list of gang leaders who have been slain in the fight for control of the waterfront in the Red Hook district of Brooklyn.

He was ambushed and shot twice in the head by gunmen hidden behind a checker's shanty on the pier of the Colombian line.

Two weeks ago Detective William Erosman, whose business it is to know the doings on the waterfront, said that Donnelly was a member of the "Five Families" gang.

"I've been hearing things Red," the detective told the stevedore crew, "you had better lay off. Its in the cards that they'll get you sometime."

Bresnan said Donnelly answered swimming with a laugh. He was watching the ship loaders from whom he extracted tribute yesterday when a messenger approached him and said: "You're wanted down on the pier."

Donnelly strolled toward the pier head. As he passed the checker's booth there were two shots. Loaded with nearby found him dead. The killers had disappeared.

That was one of many of his predecessors. Donnelly's reign was short. Eighteen months ago he was arraigned in homicide court, charged with the slaying of his immediate predecessor, Eddie Martin. It was the fifth time he had faced a murder charge and, as in the previous case, it was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Chorus Beauty Commits Suicide At New York City

New York, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Miss Storey, one-time London barmaid who became chorus girl, was found dead yesterday with a needle in her purse. Police found her death as a suicide. She was 21 years old.

Her body clad in black lace pajamas, was found lying across a bed in the studio apartment of Raymond F. Holland, a land sculptor, in East 38th Street. A jar of gas was open and the apartment was filled with gas.

Holland found the body when he returned to the apartment after an absence of two weeks spent in a sanitarium for treatment for a nervous disorder. He said he had learned the use of his apartment to Miss Storey before leaving.

Miss Storey, who in private life was Mrs. Robert E. Foster, wife of an English actor, was discovered by Andre Charlot, producer of Charlot's revue, working as a bar maid in a "pub" near London. Struck by her beauty, he engaged her for his chorus and brought her to this country in 1924.

In 1925 she was a member of Regfield's Follies company, then appeared in "Yours Truly," "Rita", Earl Carroll's "Vivettes", and Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on the stomach, is absorbed into a blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after a cold. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

THE BEST WAY TO WORLD PEACE
 From the way Will Rogers reports the progress of the London disarmament conference it would appear that it has fallen into the rut of commission and committee appointments so typical of the present administration of our government with little or nothing being accomplished beyond passing the buck on to some commission that in turn passes it along to somebody else.

Here's what Bill had to say about it yesterday:
 "Well, the conference met today and appointed a commission to meet tomorrow and appoint a delegation who will eventually appoint a sub-committee to draw up ways and means of finding out what to start with first."
 All these disarmament conferences, the Kellogg Peace Pact and similar moves are fine gestures, but America really wants a delegation who will eventually take the proper and surest course by entering the League of Nations?

PRACTICAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT PREVENTION.
 Statistics showing that the daily average Iowa street and road accident casualty rate is one killed and 40 seriously injured, induced the state to start a campaign against reckless drivers.
 The remedy will have to be found by engineers as well as by policemen. Sheriff Cress of Mason City, is trying out a novel method of police control. He continued to arrest the worst offenders and in addition he stopped the best drivers and decorated them with a red card complimenting them on their regard for others.

He had to do a lot of quick explaining to tourists who could not understand why they were stopped by an officer with a red tag in his hand. Many a driver proudly showed away that red tag more anxious in living up to it than he would have been if the judge had soaked him with fine.
 A plan of this character consistently carried out could undoubtedly do a lot to curb auto accidents and keep reckless drivers off the road.

ABOUT TOWN
 The county men who leave home with a knack of carving envious glances for themselves in their own fields of labor.
 Recently Greenville people have heard much of these boys, and yesterday they read with pride the appointment of W. L. Rawls, Baltimore attorney, to decide the boundary dispute between New Jersey and Delaware.

 The appointment was made through the Supreme court and was described as a very rare occurrence.
 Mr. Rawls is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rawls, who lived here years ago and moved to Baltimore. The father was one of the two organizers of the first bank in Greenville, and was prominently identified with the business and financial life of the then straggling village.
 Greenville people are always glad to hear of the achievements of her sons who go out into the world to make a name for themselves. As one man said recently, "All we have to do is to let them step over the threshold and they prove a credit to the town and county in which they were reared."

Members of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion are determined to add many new members during the present state-wide membership drive. Launching the campaign here Wednesday night, Commandr Dave Moore urged the boys to go to it and endeavor to double the membership during the next few days.
 The drive is not confined to any single district, but embraces the entire state. Every post has been called upon by Commander Freeman to do its dead level best to round-up as many former service men as possible in order that they may add their influence to the Legion.

There are thousands of ex-service men who have not joined the Legion, but they will get that opportunity this week as members of the various posts go out to bring them into the fold. The Legion is accomplishing a wonderful work, but how much more it could do with the combined strength of all the men who fought that great war in behalf of a mightier and better civilization of a mightier and better civilization.

 As Col. Langston expressed it during his recent visit to Greenville, "The Legion holds the destiny of the nation in its hand," and its membership should include the name of every man who fought in the name of the salvation of the present generation and the generations to come."

The Pitt County Department of Agriculture has started its campaign to promote more interest in the "Live-at-Home" movement, and from Friday on through the month of February, the possibilities of this plan of living will be presented to all persons.
 Committees to carry on the campaign were appointed at the meeting here during the early part of the week and they will be assisted by local and district agents. That this movement will have a far-reaching effect can not be questioned. But the problem lies in getting the farmers sufficiently interested to give the plan a trial.
 By adopting the program as enunciated by the Department of Agriculture there is no reason on earth why the average farmer should not emerge in better shape at the end of another harvest season, despite the prices received for main crops.

Suppose, for instance, the majority of growers had produced the things they consume at home this year? Does it not stand to reason that they would find living conditions much better at this time? It has been proven beyond dispute in other communities, and there is no reason to believe it would not prove just as applicable and beneficial to this great agricultural section.

SICKLY DURING MIDDLE LIFE
Lady Says She Had Better Health After She Had Taken Cardui.

Fletcher, N. C.—"I was in bad health during the forty-fifth year of my life; was very nervous and couldn't sleep at night," writes Mrs. James Davenport, of this place.
 "I was very much troubled with heaviness in my head, and was so weak I could not be up much of the time.
 "Every now and then I had hot flashes and was so dizzy I could not walk. I was very uncomfortable. I read of Cardui; had also had it highly recommended to me by friends. I can truly say it helped me to gain strength.
 "I commenced taking Cardui last July, and continued its use until I had taken eleven bottles. I am much stronger now and am enjoying better health than I have had for some time."
 Thousands of other women have told how Cardui helped them to build up their health.
 Cardui is extracted from herbs having high medicinal value, and contains nothing harmful or injurious. This well-known medicine may be just what you need.

OPEN FORUM
CHAINED AND DUMB
 "Where there is no vision the people perish."—Proverbs.
 There is quite a bit of writing in the local and state papers just now about the next-to-famine conditions in this rain-devastated section of the south, or rather, North Carolina. Some urging Red Cross activities in this immediate section, and others bragging that we have a little privation but not beyond our ability to take care of locally. The hungry, jobless, distraught individual is not he one who is doing the bragging, however. All are advising the farmers what to plant, and the farmer himself, who has the over-taxed, incomeless land on his hands; sorely needing finances to provide for those dependent upon him and to carry on to another harvest period, is all at sea as to how to plan another crop year.
 Finances come first, and then what to plant to bring the desired results. He knows that most of his would-be advisers never planted a crop, and if they did they probably made a failure. He knows too that there is not a man living who can advise him certainly what to do. He knows that if those easy chair advisory farmers were to try farming this year and follow their own advice what a devil of a pickle they would be in from beginning to end. And he is sure of one other thing, and that is that there is not a single farm product of which there is not a huge over-production seemingly at the time of marketing. Consequently the generous All Powerful Trusts take what he has, which is perishable and can't be kept by him, at their own prices—regardless of what his costs or overhead expenses may be in producing.
 I can't farm. Can't even run a little back lot garden economically enough to get out the value of the money I put in it. Therefore it is not my purpose in this little article to advise the farmers or their well-intentioned would-be advisers. I shall leave those splendid fellows out on the farms, whom I know to be well trained in farming and business, to run their farms and dependent farmers as best they can under existing conditions. But I want to talk some things over with the people of Greenville. Let's stop and think a little, and see if we can't do something just a little more constructive than the giving of alms, and make a habit of what we do rather than go at it spasmodically. There are several causes back of Greenville's present unhappy condition. All of this condition didn't just happen. It is a result of our combined habits as a community. We are chained and dumb. We are producing nothing, have no weekly payrolls, and what little money we get depending upon the prosperity of the farmers around us, we spend with sappers, to whom we say cordially, "Our Greenville, Yours, If You Come." They've come and it's theirs.

 Example, and a big one too: There is being constructed at present a big public library building in Greenville, which will cost the taxpayers of this town $10,000 each year from now on to maintain in personnel alone, to say nothing of what it will cost to equip it and keep it equipped, and not a cent of the $50,000 being put into this building is being spent with Greenville architects, contractors and building supply men, so far as I have been able to ascertain. We have splendid contractors and building supply men, and plumbers here, all sadly in need of business. And when they are completely routed out of business by outsiders, who are going to supply the funds for your welfare department? This building business is not an isolated case. We send out of town for nearly everything we need, while we have home grown men here in business, who can supply our every need, at a profit to themselves, often cheaper than the outsider can do it. Everything he has invested here, and he should at least be given the opportunity to make his living here. Why had we so much rather trade with an outsider, a stranger, than the man whom we know and meet in the lodge, in the club, in the church, in the home, and in the stores every day, when we are every one independent upon one another for our community life and prosperity?
 All I have in the way of property is in Greenville and Pitt county, and I can truthfully say that can be said by only a few, that all I spend is spent with Greenville and Pitt county resident business men, whose patronage I am dependent upon. Do these business men reciprocate? you ask. Not by a jugfull, but that makes no difference. One can only lead effectually by example. Every church and social betterment organization in our community of Greenville, today is suffering from this lack of vision, and we perish. Think it over and help yourself by helping your neighbor—systematically in a business way, to make a living. It is he who will visit you, and nurse you if needs be, when you are sick and help bury you when you are dead, and not the man who has come to Our (?) Greenville over-night and sapped his profit, and spends the proceeds out of the county. If we will make this a

TWO GAMES TO BE PLAYED BY LOCAL CAGERS

Having at last struck their stride in taking the husky W. C. I. outfit into camp this week, the Greenville cagers will enter one of their hardest games of the season, with Roanoke Rapids, tomorrow night in the best shape of the year, so far.

The visitors are always a formidable aggregation, and play a fast game with clever teamwork, for they begin to play in teams at the sixth grade, but Greenville will have more real confidence in her own ability, and no over confident spirit. The basketball team has won ten out of ten how last season's football team, expected to be trailed by a long Roanoke Rapids string, rose to the occasion and played a better game than they knew how, to record a scoreless tie. That was with all the dope against them, and tomorrow's game will also be.

In addition, since mid-year examinations will be over, it is quite possible that one or two new faces will appear in the local lineup, calculated to make it a stronger offensive machine.

During the same evening, the Greenville girls will play the Wilson high girls, who are rated as one of the strongest sextettes in their circuit, if not, at the present moment, the leading team, being so the best of our knowledge, so far undefeated. This clash will show as much clever play as the boys' game, and speed of footwork as the boys' game, and complete an especially attractive bill. The first game will be called at 7:30, and should be witnessed by a large and enthusiastic "after-examination" crowd.

The week-end is also slated to contain two more basketball games, these coming on Saturday night between the Greenville sophomores boys and girls and the first teams of Fountain high school. The invaders have two of the leading teams in the Pitt County League and will bring an advantage in experience and weight to the fray.

Last Saturday night the Fountain girls swamped the Greenville freshmen, but that is no criterion as to the result this week. The first game will be called at 7:30, sharp.

Italian Giant Is Ready to Meet French-Canadian

Chicago, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The current curiosity of the heavyweight ranks, Primo Carnera, the Italian giant, today was about ready for his first western appearance, against Elbear Rioux, 209-pound French-Canadian, tomorrow night at the Chicago Stadium.

Only a light gymnasium session remained on Primo's training program. Rioux also finished up the heavy part of his preparation yesterday. Although the customers will go to the stadium to see Carnera knock Rioux flat, the latter is not so concerned and has urged all not to be surprised if he not only stays the distance, but outpoints the Italian.

Only slightly secondary in interest will be the 10-round return engagement between Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. Y., negro lightweight, and King Tut, Minneapolis puncher, who fought a vicious draw in their last meeting at the Chicago Coliseum.

STILL HOPEFUL OF BATTLE BETWEEN RISO-CAMPOLO

New York, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Madison Square Garden officials still are hopeful for staging a battle between Johnny Risko and Victorio Campolo February 7 despite the surprising decision of the New York State Athletic commission that Risko is too small to meet the giant Argentine. They will ask the commission to reconsider the decision at its next meeting Friday.

Meanwhile they are going ahead with the rest of the card for that date. Charley Belanger, Canadian light heavyweight, was matched with Joe Sekyra of Dayton yesterday.

for the ten-round semi-final bout Joe Banovic, Binghamton, N. Y., and Henry Lamar, Washington, were brought together for another ten rounds.

JACK ELDER SHINES IN NEWARK RACES

Newark, N. J., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Jack Elder, hero of many exploits in football and track for Notre Dame, has today defeated for the first time this season, but he did not allow the taste to linger.

Making his second appearance of the eastern indoor season at the St. Joseph's Catholic club games here last night, Elder lost the first race of the Rupert F. Mills Memorial spring series to Jimmy Pappas, former Princeton star now wearing the colors of the Newark A. C. Pappas won the 50-yard event, but Elder came back to win at 60 and 70 yards and capture the series prize.

Phil Edwards defeated Ray Conger of Illinois A. C. in the 1,000-yard event by 15 yards.

ODDS AGAINST CLEAN SLATE IN GRID RACE

Atlanta, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Although five teams have passed the halfway mark in the southern conference basketball campaign without testing defeat, the odds against any of them finishing the race with a clean slate.

Alabama, leading the circuit with five victories and with only one really strong foe ahead, seems to have the best chance of completing the season unscathed. The other four—Washington and Lee, Kentucky, Sewanee and Georgia—must bowl over several formidable opponents.

One and perhaps two of the favored quintets will pass out of the select circle this week-end. Kentucky matches strength with Tennessee at Knoxville Friday night and the chances are that the volunteer marksmen will be more accurate than they were in the previous tilt which Kentucky won 23-20.

Should Kentucky turn back Tennessee it will find the unbeaten Georgia squad blocking the way at Athens Saturday night. One team is sure to fall here.

The Generals of Washington and Lee probably have the hardest schedule ahead. The Lexington cagers face Kentucky and Sewanee of the undefeated five; Maryland twice, North Carolina, Virginia, Duke, and V. P. I. twice. Two of these squads—Maryland and Duke—are among the strongest in the loop.

Continue Search for Lost Fliers In Ice of Siberia

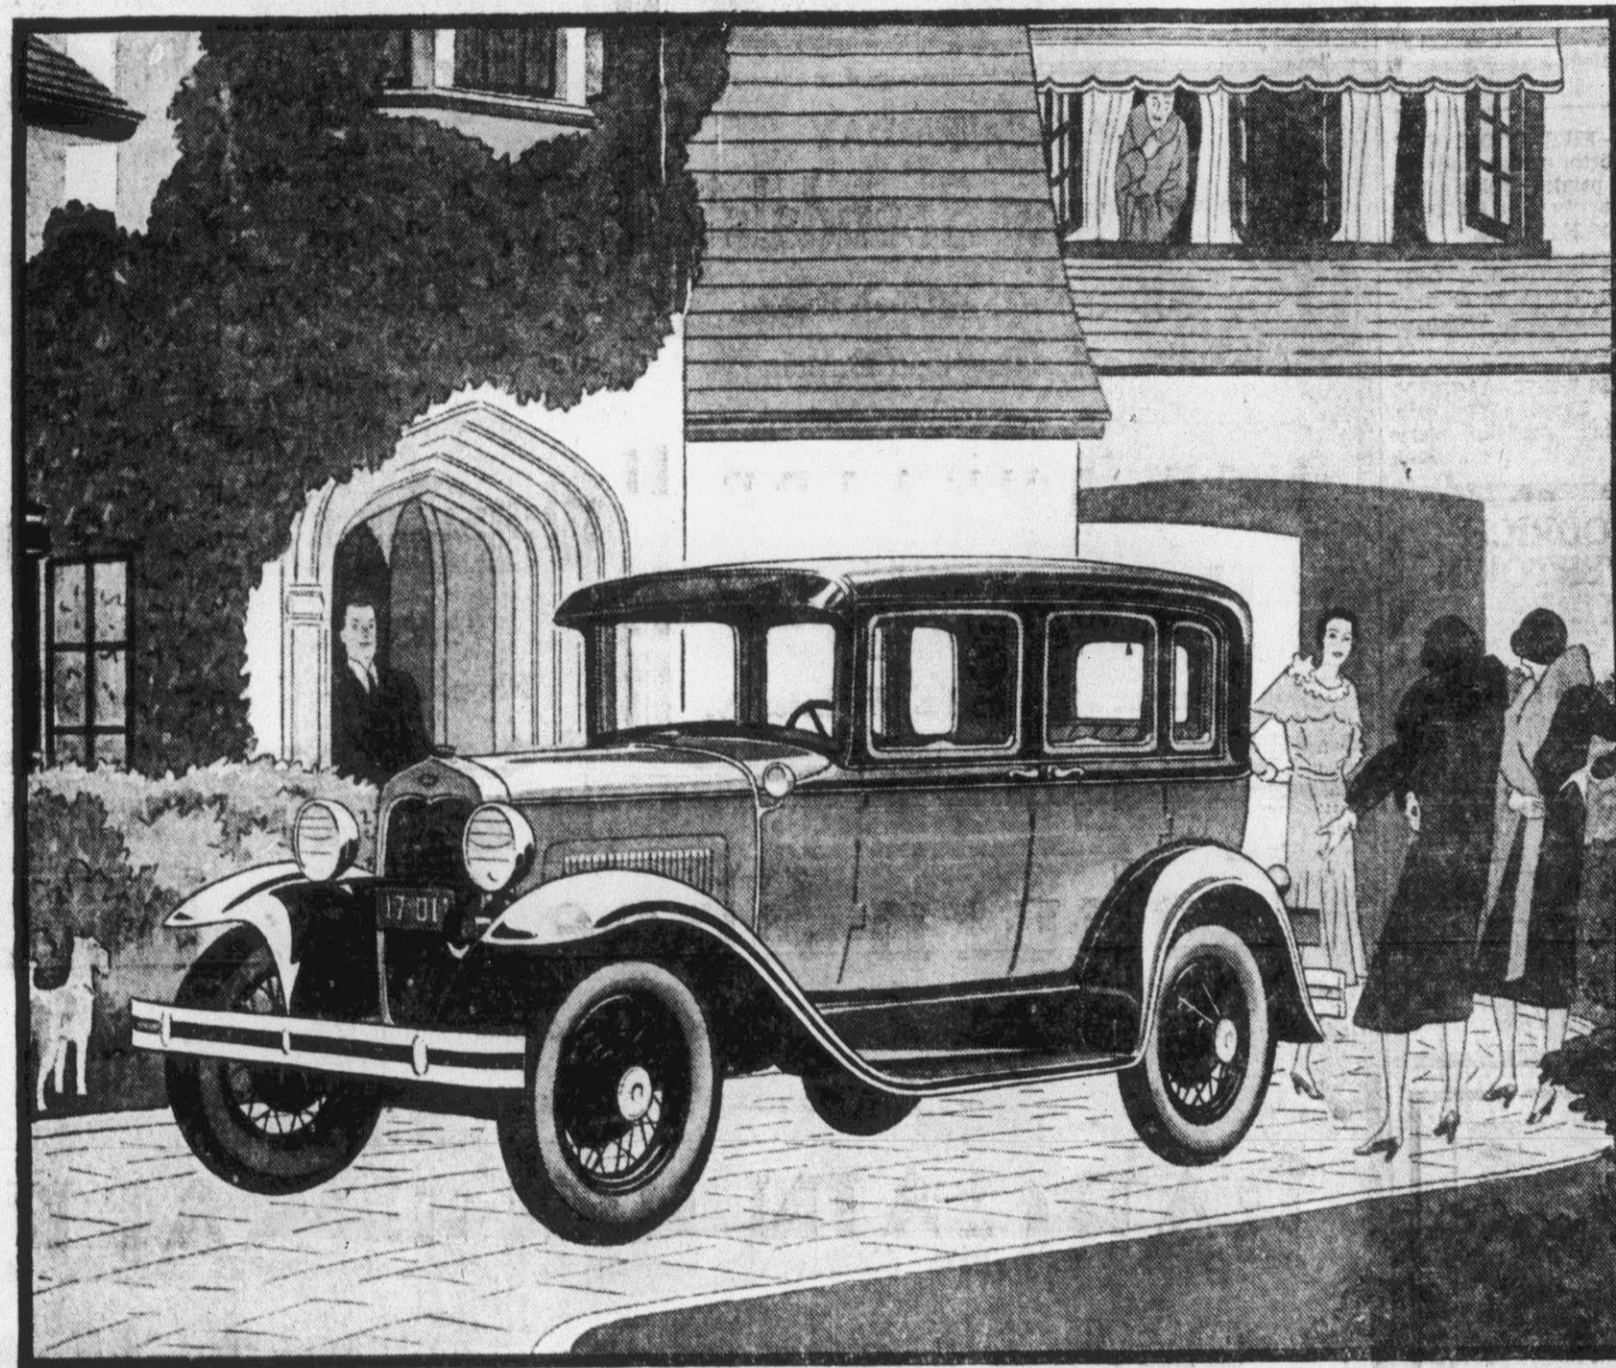

Nome, Alaska, Jan. 29.—(AP)—In a bleak lagoon 90 miles southeast of North Cape, Siberia, searchers today still were digging into the ice-like snow in an effort to find the bodies of Pilot Carl Ben Eielson and his mechanic, Earl Borland, whose plane crashed in a storm November 9, while flying to the trading ship Nanuk, icebound at North Cape.

The plane, badly wrecked and nearly buried in a snowdrift, was found by pilots Joe Crosson and Harold Gilliam last Saturday while on an aerial scouting trip from the Nanuk.

BOMB WRECKS CLUB HOUSE IN CALIFORNIA

Disorders Continue Among Filipinos and Whites As Result of Race Riot

Stockton, Cal., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A bomb exploded on the porch of the Filipino center, a club house here early today, tore out the front of the building, threw down of Filipinos out of their beds and precipitated further disorders among a population already made nervous by the recent race rioting in central California cities.

The blast carried away the front of the building and shattered windows of dwellings within a block's radius. No one, however, was reported seriously injured.

The bomb was hurled, apparently from a speeding automobile. Chas. Woodrow, a street car motorist, said he was a "large blue sedan" sped by the club an instant before the blast occurred.

The center, a remodeled mansion in a poorer residential section in the southern part of the city.

Police asserted the bombing was a recrudescence of anti-Filipino disturbances in San Francisco, San Jose and Watsonville, where whites who regard the 1 landers as the cause of much unemployment in the state, have subjected them to numerous attacks.

A Filipino shot to death, a white man stabbed and many Filipinos beaten have constituted the casualties so far. In Watsonville whites began aggressions because white women were employed as entertainers by a Filipino social club at Palm Beach, near there.

Almost simultaneously with the explosion this morning, came reports that several riots had started, the "riots" turned out to be fist fights between Filipinos and whites.

Officials said they had the situation in hand but admitted they were worried. They pointed out that this city has a Filipino population of 15,000, said to be the largest in California. There Filipino labor contractors have headquarters and supply the delta farming region with workers.

Stockton also is a center for white transient labor and this win-

Why Few Are Fat

Excess fat has been disappearing fast in late years. So fast that excess fat is the exception now. You see that in every circle.

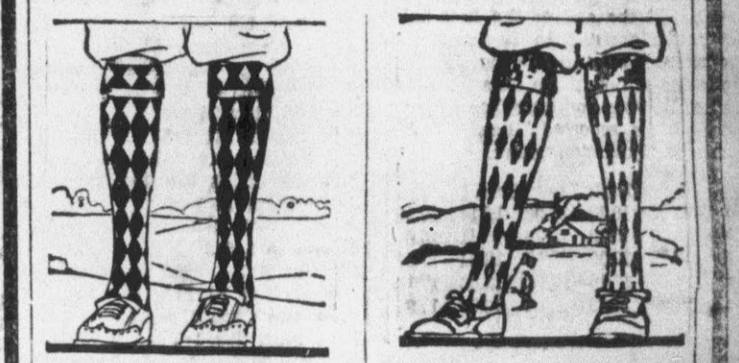

That change is largely due to the discovery that excess fat is largely the result of a gland weakness. A gland whose secretion helps turn food to fuel. So modern physicians, in treating obesity, seek to combat this cause.

Their method is to "diet" in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Now almost everyone has slender friends to show them the results.

Go do what they did—try Marmola. All druggists supply it at $1 a box, and a book in each box tells you how and why it acts.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Cotton declined 3 to 5 points at the opening today under a continuation of yesterday's selling movement. Active liquidation of yesterday's selling including Liverpool and the continent. Stop orders were uncovered on the decline which extended to 16 1/2 for May, during the easy trading when active months generally showed net losses of 13 to 30 points. Present crop positions were relatively weak.

As May approached the 16 1/2 cent mark, demand improved and tapered off to some extent. Rallyes of several points followed and the market at the end of the first half hour was about 8 to 10 points up from the lowest on the more active positions although the tone was still rather nervous and unsettled. Liverpool cables reported heavy and General liquidation there.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 30.—(AP)—With Russia reported as underselling North America and as offering wheat from Baltic as well as Black Sea ports, wheat values here collapsed anew today. Fresh low price records for the season were reached on Chicago wheat future deliveries and on corn as well. The descent of prices was especially rapid in the late dealings, the market smashing down more than 2c a bushel in the final 15 minutes, and closing at the extreme bottom level of the day and of the season as well.

Rye led the price breaks here closing in some cases as much as 1 1/2c a bushel loss for the day. Wheat closed steady, 2c to 2 7/8c lower than yesterday's finish, with corn varying from 1-4c decline to 1-4c advance; oats unchanged to 1-8c up, and provisions unchanged to 1/2c down.

STOCK MARKET

By STANLEY W. FRENOSIL
 New York, Jan. 30.—(AP)—As stock prices made further recovery in today's market under the stimulus of favorable trade and earnings reports. While pools continued to supply much of the activity, the broadening demand for stocks indicated an increase in public participation, particularly in some of the seasoned dividend paying issues. Trading showed a further expansion in volume, with the ticker frequently running 10 minutes or more behind the market.

Failure of the Bank of England to cut its discount rate today was construed as an indication that no change would be made in the New York Federal Reserve rate this afternoon, although the drop in the Bank of France rate today was regarded as paving the way for an early reduction in the London rate which has been held up by the fear of further gold exports from England to France. Call money again dropped from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent despite the preparation of banks to meet nearly half a billion dollars in interest and dividend payments around the first of the month.

Cils and Coppers were the only important groups that failed to participate extensively in the upswing, buying of the former being held in check by the uncertainties over the price situation while the group was affected by reports of a further curtailment of operations which are now said to be only about 50 per cent of last year's peak activity.

Although current traffic and earnings reports have been making extremely unfavorable comparisons with a year ago, the railroad shares nevertheless attracted a good following. Atchafalaya and New York and Harlem each advanced 3 points and New York Central, Union Pacific, New Haven and Nickel Plate climbed 2 points or more. New York Central "rights" expire tomorrow, and today was the last day on which they could be traded in the regular way as tomorrow's transactions must be for cash.

U. S. Steel crossed 183 to a new high on the current recovery and then ran into some profit taking. Crucible, Gulf States and Newton steels advanced 2 points or more. Renewed weakness developed in International Telephone, which sold down more than 3 points. Simons and United Aircraft also were heavy, the latter named touching a new low.

A further break of $1.50 a bale, or more, in cotton futures to new low levels for the season features the commodity markets.

Minister Shoots Two Persons and Attempts Suicide
 Mendota, Ill., Jan. 30.—(AP)—The Rev. J. A. Wilson, 60-year-old Methodist pastor, was held today for the shooting of two persons and a subsequent unsuccessful attempt to kill himself.

Neither Amos Elliott, church janitor, nor Elliott's wife was seriously wounded. With Wilson they were taken to a hospital, but a night under the care of doctors made possible their discharge today.

The pastor, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, went to the Elliott home last night and demanded the return of a certain letter. The minister believed Elliott was using it to injure him among members of his congregation.

Police understood the letter was written by the minister to a woman member of the church, but that it was innocent in itself.

Upon Wilson's demand, the janitor surrendered the letter. A moment later, Mrs. Wilson said, Elliott suddenly grabbed for the letter. Police information was that the pastor drew a revolver, firing first at Elliott and then at Mrs. Elliott. Each was grazed by a bullet.

BIG PART OF SOUTH VISITED BY SNOW MAN

Bright Sunshine in Many Sections Causes Mercury to Climb; Snow Melts

Atlanta, Jan. 30.—(AP)—A bright sun today sent the mercury climbing and began melting away an extensive mantle of snow that swathed a large section of the south from the Mississippi river to the Atlantic seaboard.

Winter's latest thrust was destined to be of short duration, the weather bureau indicated, as clearing skies and ascending temperatures were predicted for the entire area by tomorrow night.

A final dig will be taken at the southeastern states tonight, however, with freezing temperatures extending nearly to the coast.

The snow falling yesterday and last night spread a mantle across north Mississippi, north Alabama, eastern Tennessee, north Georgia, Virginia and North Carolina.

South Georgia communities were treated to a glimpse of falling snow today, but it lasted only a short time and in most sections melted as fast as it fell.

Temperatures as a whole were far above recent minimums, with the minimum ranging from a reading of 14 at Louisville to a balmy 64 at Miami. Fla.; minimums at other points included Nashville 16, Atlanta 24, Jacksonville 36, New Orleans 32, Mobile 30, Birmingham 20, Charleston, S. C., 30, Raleigh, N. C., 29, Asheville 20, and Wilmington 30.

There were numerous minor traffic accidents in the snow covered belts, but no casualties either from cold or accidents were reported.

Off Wilmington, N. C., rough seas buffeted a tug boat carrying seven men, for twelve hours before the craft reached a village south of that city. Three negro fishermen were believed to have drowned when their schooner capsized off the Mississippi coast. The boat was located but no trace of the crew was found.

With twelve victories dangling impressively for their belts, the Stanley boys departed to Clover, S. C., for a game en route, they crossed roads thirteen times. Reaching Clover, a black cat crossed the highway in front of them. They were first on the court and halted practice to watch the Clover lads dash out, each wearing a four-leaf clover on his shirt.

Nobody was surprised when Stanley's winning streak was abruptly terminated by a score of 30 to 28.
