LITTLE HOPE FOR RECOVERY OF MR. TAFT

Doctors Report Former Chief Justice in Serious Condition After Examination

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The condition of William Howard Taft was described by his physicians today as extremely serious.

After an hour's examination, doctors Thomas A. Clayton and Francis R. Hagner, said there was some doubt that the retired chief justice would recover.

From a formal bulletin the physician said:

For some years Chief Justice Taft has had a very high blood pressure associated with general arteriosclerosis and myocarditis.

Together with these conditions he has had a chronic cystitis. He has no fever and suffers no pain.

His present serious condition is the result of general arterio-sclerotic changes.

Dr. Hagner explained that this condition represented a general breakdown of the circulatory system.

After issuing the statement at 1:15 P. M. the physicians left the Taft household but planned to return early in the afternoon.

It was indicated by the physicians that Mr. Taft would not be moved to a hospital as everything that could be done for him was available at his home.

Taft, whose failing health forced him to retire from the chief justiceship of the United States, returned to the capital at 7:05 A. M. today from Asheville, North Carolina, where he has spent the last three weeks in an effort to regain his strength.

Dr. Francis Hagner, personal physician to Mr. Taft, said the former president was a sick man but as far as "we can tell he is in no immediate danger."

Taft's car was sidetracked in the station so that he could remain in his berth as long as he desired. It was planned then to take him to his home.

The former chief justice was accompanied by Mrs. Taft, Dr. Hagner, and a nurse, Miss Gertrude Manifold. He spent a fairly restful night.

Before the train reached Washington, Dr. Hagner went into the drawing room occupied by Mr. Taft and was greeted by a cheerful smile from his patient. He did not talk, however, and there was no conversation.

Dr. Hagner said the eminent jurist was eager to return home, where the former chief justice first reached Asheville, his physician said, he seemed to improve but lately his condition had become worse.

It was felt, he added, that he would have a better chance for improvement at his home than elsewhere.

Whether he will be removed later to a hospital will be determined by his condition.

Dr. Hagner said Mr. Taft had expressed great pleasure on hearing of the appointment yesterday of Charles Evans Hughes to succeed him as chief justice.

"That's fine," his physician quoted him as saying on being informed that Mr. Hughes had been named.

Fifteen minutes after the train arrived from Asheville, Mr. Taft was still in his berth and Dr. Hagner said that he would remain as long as he wished.

Mr. Taft several weeks ago suffered a recurrence of bladder trouble and his condition was aggravated by a trip made to Cincinnati to attend the funeral of his brother.

About a half hour after his car had reached the station it was moved from the subway tracks used by Southern roads to the tracks of Northern and Western roads which are on the ground level. The weak man then was carried off.

Seated in a chair, Mr. Taft was picked up by three porters and taken to the platform where he sat for a minute before the three men carried him down the steps.

The former chief justice reached out as he was being carried down and seized the hand rails on the car and clung to them until Dr. Hagner reached up and took his hands and held them in his own.

Two Constables Held for Highway Robbery in Miss

Blytheville, Ark., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Two deputy constables of Mississippi county were being held for action by the grand jury here today on charges of highway robbery.

Raymond Hodge and Fred Ellis were identified at a preliminary hearing yesterday by Alvin Davis and Sanford Queen, Ripley, Tenn., farmers, as the men, posing as revenue officers, who stopped their truck on a highway near here and ordered them back to Tennessee after taking their money.

French and British Plans to Limit Naval Tonnage Before Naval Conference

London, Feb. 4.—(AP)—French and British plans for limiting naval tonnage were scrutinized closely at a two-hour session of the national delegations of the five-power naval conference sitting as a committee of the whole at St. James' palace this forenoon.

The heads of the delegations did not participate in the meeting, but held a session of their own in another part of the palace. The general session took up the proposals of the two nations paragraph by paragraph, a spokesman for each nation contributing to the discussions. Examination of the proposals will be continued at a later date.

With First Lord of the Admiralty Alexander in the chair, the conference took the French proposal as a basis for discussion. Alexander then submitted the British counter proposal. It was understood the discussion which followed was only of broad and explanatory nature.

Rene Massigli, speaking for the French, laid emphasis on the publicity feature of the French scheme, that is, the obligation to give notice of transfer from one category of warship to another one year before construction.

Ambassador Hugh L. Gibson, voicing the American viewpoint, suggested that light cruisers and destroyers should not be lumped together as they would be under the French plan. The Italian delegate, Sariani, stated his country's position, favoring the general global system of limiting tonnage as contrasted with limitation by categories, which is favored by America, Great Britain and Japan.

Admiral Takarabe, Japanese admiralty head, was an attentive listener as the experts dealt with the various points but he had no suggestion of his own to offer.

A British spokesman described the morning's discussion as frank and hopeful. He declared difficulties were not so great as might have appeared on the surface.

Difficulties, he said, undoubtedly would exist but the more they were discussed the more amenable they tended to become. The reservation which had been made—and the spokesman called attention that all countries had made certain reservations—were normal reservations such as would be expected in such situations.

After the meeting of the heads of the delegations in another section of the palace an official communique was issued which said good results in preparing the way for agreement were being obtained from private conversations among the delegations. It was said these private conversations will continue.

PROBE OF TWO DEATHS MOVED TO CHICAGO

Broker Questioned in Connection With Death of Mrs. Dreyfuss at Capital

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The investigations into the death of Mrs. Aurelia Fisher Dreyfuss in Washington last fall, and the slaying several years ago of Dorothy "Dot" King, New York show girl, was shunted temporarily, at least, to Chicago today.

James E. Dowd, former head of a Chicago brokerage firm, ostensibly asked to the state's attorney's office to answer questions concerning recent bucket shop raids in which he was a witness, was questioned in the hope that he might be able to supply information that would assist in the Dreyfuss investigation.

Mrs. Dreyfuss died in a fall from the balcony of a Washington Yacht club last fall and Edmund J. McBrien, who was held pending an investigation, was exonerated of blame. At the request of relatives of Mrs. Dreyfuss, the case has been reopened.

Arnold H. Harris, council for said a picture showing his client, McBrien and Mrs. Dreyfuss, taken at a Long Island summer resort, led investigators to question Dowd.

The King slaying entered into the Dreyfuss investigation after it was learned that Mrs. Dreyfuss had established an alibi for a suspect during the King inquiry, attorney Harris said.

Attorney Harris said Dowd "though he had information that would startle the public if it became known, but he declined to answer all questions put to him pending advice from me."

GUNS BLAZE DEFIANCE AT POLICE ORDER

Another Victim Dropped at Chicago as Cops Declare Crime Must Be Stopped

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—William Healy crawled from an alley on the south side at 1-A. M. today, two guns were writing with lead their answer to the statements of police and state's attorney that the new outbreak of crime "must be stopped."

Healy, probably fatally wounded, was taken to the People's hospital where Johnny Genaro, another recent gang gun victim, lies in a critical condition from bullet wounds. It was the same hospital, too, that treated Healy five years ago when he was brought in suffering from two knife wounds, also in the back.

As was the case five years ago, Healy today refused to name his assailants. He maintained his silence even in the face of surgeon's statements that he had only a few hours to live. Mrs. Healy was summoned, and she called a priest, but though the last rites of the church were administered, Healy kept his mouth shut.

Loud curses and the roar of an automobile arouse persons living near the scene of the attack. The pistol shots followed and a motor car sped away.

Eight hours earlier, State's Attorney John A. Swanson, and Police Commissioner William Russell had held a lengthy conference, brought about by four gang killings in as many days, and several recent bombings.

"I called for a conference," said the state's attorney, "because conditions have become positively alarming in this city. It became apparent with the assassinations we have been having in the last few days, the bold and open manner in which they were done, the sudden apparent increase in bombing, that something drastic must be done to stop these things."

The prosecutor said the commissioner and himself had evolved a drastic means of meeting the situation and one which we believe will have the desired effect on ending this terrorism."

Neither the state's attorney nor the police commissioner would say what the plans was. "Suffice to say," declared the commissioner, "the police are taking strong measures."

Detectives reported no progress in their investigations of four gang murders of the past week—the slayings of Barry Mitchell, call company executive, and Glenn Jackson, call delivery man, the murder of Julius Rosenberm, the "breadwinner" in the gang world, and the slaying to death early Sunday of Joseph Cada "the duke." Officers were seeking to connect the latter two crimes, and were looking for an unnamed blonde woman whose face Cada slapped at a cabaret shortly before he was killed.

Herbert was staunchly defended by Doran and also by Assistant Secretary Lowman who said he was a capable and efficient officer.

Dallas Man Under Bond for Attack on Police Chief

Dallas, N. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Charged with attacking Police Chief W. H. Greeg and breaking his leg, Carroll Clemmer of Dallas was bound over to Superior court on $3,000 bond at a hearing here last night.

The alleged assault of Chief Greeg occurred last Saturday. The chief, who weighs 296 pounds, undertook to arrest Clemmer. Clemmer hit the chief once, sending him backward over a pile of soft drink crates and breaking his leg.

Officers were called from Gastonia to arrest Clemmer.

Chicago Parents Call Strike On School Children

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A "strike" of 300 students of the new Burbank junior high school was called today by the children's parents.

The parents met last night and agreed to keep their children from school until the Board of Education changes its ruling by which the children are obliged to cross 16 railroad tracks to reach the school house.

The children affected are those ordered transferred from the over to the Burbank school.

NEXT MOVE UP TO SENATORS IN "DRY" ROW

Borah and Wheeler Expected to Act in Appointment of J. F. Herbert

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The next move in the wordy battle over the appointment of J. F. J. Herbert as prohibition administrator for Montana and Idaho, today apparently was up to Senators Borah and Wheeler.

Herbert was in Washington, having been summoned here by Prohibition Commissioner Doran, after Borah and Wheeler had in strong language assailed Herbert's transfer from Baltimore to the west, and criticized Herbert himself.

Doran made it plain, however, that no charges were pending against him, asserting that his record was clear.

In the meantime, announcement was made by Doran that Frank Flynn, attached to the prohibition bureau, who gave the two western senators information on which they based attacks on Herbert, had been dropped from the service.

The prohibition commissioner said Flynn had been ordered to report to Baltimore, that he had not done so, and that in consequence his name had been removed from the government's payroll.

Flynn admitted he gave Borah derogatory information about Herbert, former prohibition administrator at Baltimore, after Borah had said he received his information from a Department of Justice agent.

Attorney General Mitchell denied that the agents had inquired into Herbert's conduct and it developed then that Flynn furnished the data, Borah being at the time under the impression that he worked for the justice department.

Herbert was reported to be planning to resign on the charges against him. Senator Borah said the Senate floor that if information he had received about the prohibition administrator was correct, Herbert should be in the penitentiary instead of directing law enforcement officers.

Herbert was staunchly defended by Doran and also by Assistant Secretary Lowman who said he was a capable and efficient officer.

Garment Workers Strike at N. Y.

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Heavy guards of police and detectives patrolled the garment district today as a strike of 35,000 members of the International Ladies Garment Workers union went into effect.

Union officials promised that the general walkout of trade members, aimed at sweatshop conditions would be orderly.

Police said that they would not interfere in the strike activities unless the law was violated.

Hughes Chosen Successor To Taft As Chief Justice Of U. S. Supreme Court

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Charles Evans Hughes is expected to assume the office of Chief Justice of the United States as soon as his nomination is confirmed by the Senate and he has had an opportunity to sever his connections with the court of international justice.

Confirmation of the nomination is expected by the Senate as soon as it is received from the judiciary committee. This committee's next regular meeting is Monday. There was some talk today of a special committee meeting but this had not been decided.

Chairman Norris of the committee has heard of no opposition to Mr. Hughes and a unanimous report is anticipated.

The Supreme court now is in recess. It will reconvene February 24. This will give ample time for action upon the nomination.

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Charles Evans Hughes, one of the foremost of the nation's jurists and statesmen, is to be the next Chief Justice of the United States.

He will succeed William Howard Taft, who broken in health by arduous years in the public service, has been forced to resign and devote his entire attention to the betterment of his physical condition.

In spite of Mr. Hughes, acknowledged talents, all Washington was surprised last night to learn of his appointment. His nomination was sent to the Senate by President Hoover just as dusk was falling.

A few hours previous Mr. Taft's resignation had been announced and the interim had been filled with speculation as to his successor in the course of which Mr. Hughes, name went unmentioned.

But in the meanwhile, the President had been busy with the long distance telephone. He reached Mr. Hughes in New York, offered him the appointment and obtained an immediate acceptance. With a radiant smile, the appointee later told newspapermen that he would accept the post as the greatest opportunity for service that ever had come his way.

Thus, has a mighty turn of events caught up these two distinguished Americans, whose names are written large in the history of their nation. For one it brought the end of a career that led him through the two loftiest offices of the American government. To the other it bore the beginning of a new and greater chapter in a career already brilliant.

While Mr. Taft is the only man in history to serve as president and chief justice, Hughes missed the former by an extremely small margin. Opposing Woodrow Wilson in the campaign of 1916, he failed of election.

CASTLE TELLS JAPANESE OF U. S. SPIRIT

American Ambassador Says Japan Will Not Have to Sacrifice At London

Tokyo, Feb. 4.—(AP)—William P. Castle, Jr., United States ambassador to Japan, said today that "whatever may be accomplished at the London naval conference, I am sure that nobody will suggest to Japan any sacrifice endangering its national security or challenging its preponderant naval strength in the Orient."

Making his first public utterance in Japan in an address at a dinner of the American-Japan society in his honor, the new ambassador said:

"It is a wonderful thing to be a representative in Japan of a nation desiring nothing but friendship. I know of no two nations whose interests more thoroughly coincide than those of Japan and America."

"Just as we believe that the influence of the United States on the American continent is a guarantee of peace, so we believe that the power of Japan in the orient is a power due to the vigor and forward-looking nature of its government and people, which leads to order, progress and peace in the western Pacific."

Continuing, Ambassador Castle said:

"President Hoover did not send me to Japan to insist upon the American viewpoint in such controversies as may arise in London. He sent me in order that there might be someone in Tokyo able fully and frankly to express his ideas."

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 4.—(AP)—A coroner's jury has decided that Mrs. Ruth Olsen, 27, died at a local hospital here January 29 as the result of a towel, 16 by 26 inches, being left in her body after an operation, January 26.

The attending physicians, Dr. H. E. Chatham and Dr. A. M. Rawford, were exonerated by the jury. Miss M. Rivey, a nurse, testified that she did not count the towels, as she thought they never were used internally.

The jury recommended prosecution of no one.

BEGINS PLAN TO WITHDRAW FROM HAITI

President to Appoint Committee to Study This Very Important Question

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—President Hoover said today he would immediately appoint a commission of five or seven persons to study the question of when and how the American government would withdraw from Haiti.

The president reiterated the statement he made recently that he had no desire for the United States to be represented abroad by marine.

He said the question was when and how the United States might withdraw from the island republic.

"Now that the Senate and House have approved the appropriation for a thorough inquiry into our problems in Haiti," said President Hoover, "I shall appoint a commission at once to undertake it. I hope to be able to announce this personnel within a week."

"The primary question which is to be investigated is when and how we are to withdraw from Haiti. The second question is what shall we do in the meantime. Certainly we shall withdraw our marine and officials sometime. There are some people who wish for us to scuttle overnight. I am informed that every group in Haiti considers that such action would result in disaster to the Haitian people. On the other hand, our treaty of 1915, under which our force are present in that country, in the main expires in 1936 or six years hence. We have no mandate to continue the present relationship after that date."

"As I have stated before, I have no desire for representation of the American Government abroad through our military forces. We entered Haiti in 1915 for reasons arising from chaotic and distressing conditions, a consequence of a long period of civil wars and disorganization."

"We are assured by treaty the obligation to assist the republic of Haiti in the restoration of order."

"We need now a new and definite policy looking forward to the expiration of our treaties."

Madman Kills Four Persons In Australia

Towtville, Queensland, Australia, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A short reign of terror on an Australian palm island native settlement twenty miles from here in which three persons met violent death at the hands of a madman was revealed today when two Aborigines reached Rollingsstone with distress messages.

"They reported that R. M. Curry, superintendent of the island, went mad and shot his two children, two comrades, and subsequently killed himself. The message brought by the natives said:

"We are in sore straits, our rations are exhausted. The house and office of the superintendent and active superintendent have been burned."

"Dr. C. Maitland Patterson was shot through the thigh, and the madman wounded seriously in the neck. Immediate relief is required."

A launch with a medical officer, police and provisions left for the scene and returned shortly with Dr. Patterson and the madman, both of whom were in a serious condition. They had also with them the body of Superintendent Curry, who, it was alleged, ran amuck Sunday and shot several persons after setting fire to several buildings.

He then left for a nearby island but returned and was shot dead by a native. In the ruins of his house were found the bodies of his son and daughter. It was believed Curry was worried over certain charges that he was mal-treating the natives among whom he had spent his life.

Young Musician From Asheville Charms Rich Man

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—For a youthful musician, whose talents have won his admiration, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., has greater rewards than the customary dimes.

Twice within three days he sat attentively on the front seat at piano recitals given by Miss Helen Pugh, of Asheville, N. C. after the second concert he presented her with a large basket of red roses. No mention was made of dimes.

Each time Mr. Rockefeller refused to sit in a seat reserved for him in the middle of the hall, insisting on a front row chair so he could "watch her fingers."

A Brahms' lullaby seemed to please him more than any of Miss Pugh's numbers. With his face resting on one hand and his eyes closed, he beat time with his fingers on the printed program.

TWO MEMBERS OF JAPANESE ROYALTY WED

Youngest Brother of Emperor Exchanges Wedding Vows With Princess Tokugawa

By GLENN BABB
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Tokyo, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Using a ritual handed down from an age time-dating Japanese written history, Prince Taamatsu, youngest brother of the Emperor and Princess Kishiko Tokugawa, granddaughter of the last Shogun, exchanged marriage vows this morning before the Kashiokokoro, sanctuary of the sun goddess, Amaterasu, in the imperial palace.

Dressed in the costumes of the ancient court, of the Mikados, the young couple bowed before the sacred mirror, symbol of the soul of the Japanese nation, in token of their pledges of faith and drank cups of sake, or rice wine, previously sanctified.

The marriage joins a grandson of Emperor Meiji, to whom full reigning power was restored in 1890 to a granddaughter of the fourteenth and last of the Tokugawa Shoguns, whose renunciation of the actual rule carried on by his ancestors since 1603, marked the end of the feudal age in Japan and the beginning of modern history for the empire.

After the ceremony at the palace Prince and Princess Takamatsu drove in a brilliantly caparisoned carriage, escorted by troops of the imperial bodyguards and cavalry, to the mansion in the southern section of the capital which will be their home. Crowds lined the route in the soft winter sunshine of the cloudless morning. The couple, still wearing their wedding robes, sat side by side, rather timidly acknowledging the homage of the crowds. Princess Kikuko, a lovely picture of youthful dignity and charm in the brilliant billowing, scarlet robes, a small coronet on her head emphasizing her exquisite features, was like a beautiful porcelain figurine.

In April the young "Prince of the Sea," 25 years old, and his 18-year-old bride leave for a wedding journey unprecedented in the annals of the ruling house. They will be the first couple of the immediate imperial family ever to travel abroad together and a 4 year's tour will circle the globe. They will not be

This mission completed, Takamatsu and his bride will assume a semi-incognito status for a year's travel in Europe and America, although the status of imperial prince and princess may be resumed on the occasions of probable visits to President Hoover and the heads of European states.

Leeds and His Divorced Wife Still Friends

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—An affectionate meeting of William B. Leeds, Jr., and his divorced wife, the former Princess Xenia of Russia at which they insisted they intended to remain good friends, was described in today's New York American. They met in the Leeds Greenwich Village residence, issued a statement, kissed and parted calling each other "Billy" and "Tommy".

After writing the statement in the Leeds town house in Washington Square, Mr. Leeds and his former wife parted with kisses and climbed over washtubs in the basement to leave by a rear window to avoid reporters and cameramen.

Leeds counsel arrived. He entered via a cellar window, as had the couple and the American's reporter before him. The lawyer was given the task of completing the statement.

"That's a wonderful kid, all right," Leeds remarked to the reporter when his former wife had left. "The American says that the respondent in the divorce papers was designed only as 'Jane Doe.'"

Lindy Observes 28th Birthday By Flight Plan

Lebec, Calif., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh observed his 28th birthday anniversary by planning another flight in the glider which he piloted yesterday. He landed safely near here after it had lost an aileron in midair. Whether he would make the next flight today depended upon weather conditions.

Laughing like a school boy at the conclusion of a particularly successful wrack, the Flying Colonel, having safely landed the frail, crippled craft in a mountain valley, was highly pleased rather than dismayed at the incident which had brought the hearts of his watchers into their throats.

Lindbergh was launched into the air in a last flight preparatory to an attempt planned by Hawley Bowles, the sailplane's builder, to establish a new world gliding record, and had reached an altitude of 300 feet when the aileron the left wing broke loose and fluttered to the ground.

The colonel's head jerked sharply to side as the aileron, an essential part of the control apparatus, broke free, and hoarse shouts from the little throng of mechanics, newspapermen and photographers were not necessary to warn him of his danger.

He attempted no immediate landing, however, but sailed serenely on, dipping gracefully over the hills, finally to disappear into a valley. Whether he had fallen, or landed safely, the anxious group of watchers could not tell.

When observers reached him after running frantically to the spot of his landing, the colonel was standing beside the undamaged craft on a little knoll, laughing heartily.

"THE BARBER OF SEVILLE" AT COLLEGE TONIGHT

"The Barber of Seville" will be presented this evening at 8:30 in the campus building of East Carolina Teachers College, by the Festival Opera Company.

The cyclorama that will furnish the background and the stage equipment is brought by the company. This opera requires simple stage setting, so it can be easily managed. There is no orchestra and a pianist takes the place of the orchestra in playing the accompaniment. The opera is produced in English, with the singing in English and the dialogue spoken, and not sung, and in English also. The arias, the serenade, and the other songs are sung by the principals in the cast, and the same kinds of voices as singing it on the Metropolitan stage.

While this is a comic opera, and not tragedy, the strong plot, the fine music that works up to a climax, and the other things that go into the making of the operas are all here, and in sharp contrast to the light operas and the musical comedies that have a lot of catchy songs strung together with a slight thread of plot and with no sequence in the music. Holders of season tickets are entitled to the very best seats available at the time they make their reservations, and for no extra cost. There have been a number of calls for seats from people in other towns.

Elopers to Get Cordial Welcome From Parents

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—When Margaret Couzens—now Mrs. William Jeffries Chewing—returns to Washington and introduces her husband to her father the enormously wealthy senator from Michigan, they will receive a cordial welcome. Parental displeasure at his daughter's elopement with the 26-year-old bank clerk, whom the senator had never met, has changed to admiration for the girl's pluck in choosing to avoid the tedious round of social activity incident to an official Washington wedding.

"She took me at my word," the senator said, "when many times in the past I expressed my distaste for the details of big weddings." He went on to say that Margaret, or Margot as she is known to her friends, had been quick to remind him of this attitude when she told him of her marriage by long distance telephone.

Margaret is nineteen and her disinclination for society life had led her to avoid the customary debut party. She had consented before her marriage, however, to a ball on February 12, which, while not so designated, was to have been, in a sense, her coming out party.

Her marriage has not changed the plans for the dance, but Washington society is laughingly saying that the party is to be young Mr. Chewing's debut, rather than Margaret's. He will be presented to hundreds of friends of the family at that time.

ASK THAT HICKORY CASE BE GIVEN TO REFEREE

Charlotte, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Attorneys for W. J. Shufford, receiver for the Y. and B. corporation, formerly a dairying and food merchandising corporation here, today asked Judge J. H. Clements in Mecklenburg County Superior court, to turn the question of action to recover a total of $684,000 from stockholders of the company to a referee. Attorneys this morning were reading pleadings in the case. The defense had not yet indicated whether the motion would be resisted.

The receiver has filed a large number of suits against the stockholders of the concern, alleging they are liable to some extent for the debts of the corporations.

RINGLING'S YACHT SINKS IN FLORIDA

Sarasota, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—John Ringling's yacht, the Zephus, sank just outside the harbor here today.

A party of 15 was reported aboard All escaped in lifeboats, according to early reports received here. One man was said to have received a broken arm.

The party was said to have included friends of Mr. Ringling who had started on a cruise to Miami. Mr. Ringling was not aboard.

The hull of the yacht sprang a leak, it was reported here. Only the bow of the boat remains above the water.

Several Arrests In Liquor Raids

Orofino, Idaho, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Idaho's third major liquor raid of recent months seemed nearly ended today as outposts of the Federal army of undercover agents began reporting back to headquarters, thirty three persons had been arrested on charges of sale and possession of liquor, and possession of equipment for manufacture of liquor.

A four year investigation by the Utah department of agriculture showed that a 243 per cent profit per year was made on a sow.

Syndicate Loses Millions Trying to Corner Rye

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The Tribune said today that a New England syndicate, with nearly ten million bushels of rye stored in Chicago elevators, had failed in an attempt to corner the market, with a resultant loss of several millions of dollars. Officials of the Chicago Board of Trade, including President John A. Bunnell, regarded the reports of a corner rather lightly.

However, Bunnell admitted that in December all members of the board were ordered to report their individual standings in rye trades, which he said was a precaution against obvious existing long interests.

besides the cash rye, purchased at prices from $1.15 a bushel and up, the pool also is long on contracts for ten million bushels more, mostly for March and May delivery, the newspaper said. Futures for these two months are about 20 cents off from the high of the past two weeks.

Large buying orders for rye originating in Providence, R. I., gave an inkling to the local trade that a corner was being attempted. The approximate 20,000,000 bushels in cash and longs owned by the pool gave them half of the average rye crop of the country, which is between 40 and 45 million bushels, the Tribune said.

One of the principals of the syndicate was said to be a young heir to a $25,000,000 fortune.

Soviet Russia Plans to Adopt Standard Living

Moscow, Feb. 4.—(AP)—With an eye to establishing complete equality among its citizenry and of halting the dawn of pure Communism the Soviet government is now considering adoption of standardized low-priced dresses and shoes for the masses as well as a uniform type of houses, furniture, best and even standard forms of food.

Under this system all members of Russian society will be reduced to a common level and there will be no ground for anyone to complain that his neighbor is better clothed, housed, or fed than himself.

Under the system there obviously will be no place for women who seek style and distinction in their clothes. Already there is a movement afoot to abolish feminine dress goods by the yard and to substitute simple standardized costumes for women.

Hunt Wolves By Plane at Chicago

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The fact that real wolves are howling at the edge of the big city of Chicago is a circumstance of note in itself; the fact that they are being hunted down by airplane is another.

A posse of 185 huntsmen had no luck the other day when they traipsed across terrain in the vicinity of Mundelein. They found plenty of wolf tracks but no wolves. Yesterday Lewis A. Mills, whose livestock as well as that on the estate of Samuel Insull adjoining had suffered from wolf forays, took steps to stop the depredations. More properly, he took wings, engaged a plane and making his first airplane flight in a search for a way to get wolves.

It worked. The plane drove from cover three wolves. A ground posse got two of them and the third escaped, wounded.

The Rutherford County Bank and Trust company, at Rutherfordon, with resources of over a million dollars, and its two branches at Spindale and Union Mills, were closed.

THE LIFE SAVING CAMPAIGN

Accident prevention is not something that can be applied from without. It is within the personal jurisdiction of every citizen. During the past decade the accident record in industry has been greatly decreased. Part of this is due, of course, to mechanical safeguards. But the greater part of the credit must go to the fact that industrial executives, through education and example, have given workers a knowledge of the accident problem that makes them avoid and remove hazards.

We would have practically no automobile accidents if all drivers were competent, careful and law-abiding. It is the reckless or careless driver who is responsible for the 21,000 deaths caused annually by automobile in this country. At the present time the progressive schools of the nation are adopting accident prevention courses as part of their curricula. A sense of personal responsibility for accidents is instilled into the child to develop the "life saving" instinct. Adult Americans should benefit from the safety training the schools give their children and understand that accident prevention is more a personal than a legislative accomplishment.

FIRE AND PARROTS.

It is difficult to think of a more horrible way to die than by fire. It was once pointed out by a great scholar that the progress of civilization is made only over the dead bodies of pioneers. So, too, the progress in fire prevention and protection seems to wait for horrible catastrophes to arouse consciousness of the fire danger. In 1929 the dead hand of fire snuffed out many lives. In an editorial of January 7, 1930, the New York Herald Tribune pointed out that the public concern over the so-called parrot fever was quite out of proportion to the seriousness of the problem. Suppose a dozen people in the United States had really died of Psittacosis, or parrot fever; there are at least twice as many deaths due to fire each day and only those actively working to prevent fire seem to worry about the appalling loss. Attention is directed to just eight recent fires that caused serious loss of life: Fire in Russian motion picture theatre caused death of 120 persons; in a hotel at Amarillo, Texas, 5; in Cleveland Clinic, 124; in explosion and fire in Eastman Hospital, Canton, China, 80; in fire test at Gillingham, England, 15; in cabaret in Detroit, 11 men and 9 women were burned or trampled to death; in fire in paper box company, Baltimore, 4 women died; in New Year's Eve fire in motion picture theatre in Paisley, Scotland, 72 children were trampled or smothered to death.

In the United States, fire takes an annual toll of 10,000 lives and $500,000,000 in property losses, according to National Board of Fire Underwriters.

ABOUT TOWN

Work in connection with the construction of the Shepard Memorial Library is progressing nicely at this time and within a few days the brickwork will rise above the surface of the earth, giving concrete evidence of the walls to house one of the most modern arranged libraries in this part of the state. Construction work was held up the last several days on account of the unfavorable weather conditions, but with the advent of fair weather, it is hoped to make rapid progress in the future. The library will be one of the most handsome structures in this part of the country and will provide for the needs of Greenville people for many years to come. It will not only be a library, but a center of public activities, in which every citizen should be intensely interested. It will be a center of community growth and the development—the pride of the hearts of young and old alike. Greenville will be proud of the building, and will bless the name of the man who made it possible and him in whose honor it is dedicated.

The Pitt County Post of the American Legion will respond to the request of Commander Freeman to continue their membership drive through tomorrow. It is the purpose of the state commander to exceed if possible the membership of the state organization at the end of the last fiscal year, and he believes it will be possible to do so by continuing the drive until every former service man can be solicited. The drive opened last Wednesday, and it was thought the work could be completed by the latter part of the week, but snow came and prevented the various committees from functioning as they should. Even with the inclement weather, however, the Pitt County Post, added over a half hundred new members, and finished ten short of the total membership last year. It was an accomplishment the boys were proud of and it enabled them to carry on through Wednesday of this week hoping to add the required ten members to place them on an equal with the old mark. The Pitt organization is one of the most active in the state, and with this enlarged enrollment the future bids fair to see more brilliant work than ever before. The future holds forth great opportunity for service, and it is hoped every service man will take advantage of it.

Are you doing your part by your home community? Many a man thinks he is when he is not. This fact has been proved day in and day out until it no longer affords room for argument. Some think that just because they live from day to day and do the things that come their way there is nothing else to do. But not so. There are many responsibilities resting upon every citizen, and they require more than just taking part in the usual transactions in a regular way of business. The things that actually count come about in the way of community development. What are you doing in this connection? Are you attempting to improve your environment and helping the outside world get a keener realization of the possibilities of your locality? Right here is where the majority of people fail to live up to the things demanded of the one hundred per cent citizen. And right here is where Greenville and Pitt county people must shine during the next several months if this section continues to go forward in the future as in the past. We can't sit down and engage in and repining simply because things do not look as bright as they used to. The present cloud is bound to have a silvery lining and when it begins to turn Pitt county will be just as great as it ever was. Try and measure up to the standard of the real citizen by brightening up your spot in society with words of cheer and encouragement and deeds that give weight to what you have to say. Do you get the Reflector? This paper keeps the public fully informed regarding the many changes occurring over the world from day to day. For instance take the resignation of Chief Justice Taft. HUGHES CHOSEN SUCCESSOR TO TAFT AS CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE UNITED STATES

there is a wide divergence between the two. Taft brought to the supreme bench his cheerful philosophies and his famous chuckle. His studious nature and industrious habits were hidden behind his jovial manner. Frequently he relieved the tedium of protracted legal disputes with one of his characteristic witticisms.

With Hughes, the student of affairs and the austerity of intellect are predominant. The public knows him as a stern, industrious, gifted statesman and jurist, always impeccably groomed, the "perfect picture of a statesman." His close associates know this side of the man, too; but they know him, as well, as genial and affable in his daily contacts.

Hughes' career began in New York, where his legal abilities brought early prominence and an opportunity for the Republican mayoralty nomination in 1905. This, he declined. Two years later he became governor of the state and in 1909 he began a second term, but resigned in 1910 to accept appointment as an associate justice of the supreme court. This came from Taft, then president.

The Republican national convention at Chicago nominated him for the presidency on June 10, 1916, and he resigned from the supreme bench on the same day. After his defeat at the polls he returned to private practice, but again entered the public service in 1921 to become secretary of state in the Harding cabinet. In this capacity he was the principal American delegate to the naval arms conference of 1921 and astounded the world with his demands for extensive reduction of sea forces. He continued in the cabinet after Harding's death and withdrew at the beginning of President Coolidge's second term in 1925. His international prominence brought him appointment to the arbitration court of the Hague, by Coolidge in 1926, and two years later election by the council and assembly of the League of Nations. In addition, he served as chairman of the American delegation to the sixth Pan-American conference in Havana in 1928.

Otherwise, the last few years have been spent in private legal practice, which has brought him many times before the bar of the supreme court, where he several times found his legal talent pitted against those of another defeated candidate for the presidency, John W. Davis, the Democrat nominee in 1924.

Taft began and ended his career in the judiciary. His first public office was as judge of the superior court at Cincinnati, to which he was appointed in 1887. In 1890, he became solicitor general of the United States and two years later was appointed federal circuit judge for the sixth judicial circuit.

After the Spanish-American war when America was first faced with the problem of the Philippines, he served as a member of a commission appointed to study the question and in 1901 he was appointed the first civil governor of the Islands.

Early in 1904, President Roosevelt brought him to Washington to become secretary of war. In 1908 he was nominated for the presidency by the Republican national convention and elected in the ensuing balloting.

He sought re-election in 1912, opposing Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt, who had bolted the Republican ticket and formed an independent party. Wilson was elected, Roosevelt was second in the voting and Taft third. He was appointed Chief Justice of the United States on June 30, 1921 by President Harding. In this office he worked assiduously, preparing his opinion in long hand, and fighting off the encroachments of failing health.

Get Used to "Through" London—When you get your party on the telephone what "you are through". That's what the operator says to indicate the connection is made. American girls with the naval delegation have become accustomed to it; they no longer think it means the conversation has ended.

Greek Gambler Proves Puzzle to the Riviera

Nice, France, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Though the Riviera is usually bored by stories about gamblers and gambling stories, Marcel Kahn, 35, Greek, has stirred its imagination.

Virtually a newcomer, Kahn now is known as one of the greatest baccarat dealers of continental gambling history. He is dark and slim, with a face like a hawk and has the fingers of a woman. Kahn is an inscrutable person to the groups of society people who tried to eat into his stack of thousand-franc notes.

Because he is the heaviest gambler the Riviera has known since the war, the Casinos are forced to stand his eccentricities. Evening dress is compulsory in the baccarat room but Kahn nightly appears in a blue suit and yellow shoes, wearing a bright red tie.

When he buys the bank he buys it "open" with the sky the limit usually putting $100,000 in front of him to start the ball rolling. He never has been known to utter a word from the time he enters the casino until he leaves in the morning. Winning $105,000 as he did the other night, or losing $90,000 as he did a few days before, his expression never changes.

Those who have watched his play continuously estimate that he is about $500,000 to the good. Just who Kahn is no one seems to know. He arrived unheralded, bought an open bank, and has been running it ever since. Reports have it that he is the head of a newly-formed syndicate which eventually aims to put the famous Cannes-Deauville group out of business. Some believe he is running the bank alone—something never before attempted here.

SAYS UNITED STATES STILL RETAINS ITS ANGLO-SAXON SOUL

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The United States still retains "its Anglo-Saxon soul", despite the contention that the nation is a "melting pot", Right Rev. F. L. Deane, Episcopal Bishop of Aberdeen, Scotland, told professional men last night.

"We joke about America and Americans at times, but that's because we feel we are privileged because of our friendship", he stated in his address last night. "We love your ambassador at London because he smokes a pipe upside down and because he always sees picturesque language. He has captured the heart of England."

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion.

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper figure, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Every one knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

NORTH BOASTS HALF DOZEN STRONG TEAMS

Atlanta, Feb. 4.—(AP)—It appears that the upper section of the southern conference, which has produced championship cage teams during six of the past eight years, will be favored again this season as the sixteen loop teams chosen for tournament play start the elimination process here late this month.

The southern division of the conference has but two teams which have shown championship calibre thus far in the campaign, while the northern sector boasts at least a half dozen strong quintets.

Alabama, leading the circuit, now with six victories, and Georgia loom forth as the best bets of the southern half. Clemson and Tulane have won fifty per cent of their games or better, while the remainder of the squads have been on the short end of the score in most of their games.

Washington and Lee, Kentucky, Duke and Tennessee have impressive records, while North Carolina State and Maryland are only a step behind.

Two of these squads—Duke and North Carolina State—were finalists last year with the Raleigh Red Terrors finally winning the flag.

The tournament will be held at the auditorium here on February 28 and March 1, 3 and 4. Entries will be received up until the week prior to the event and the conference committee will select the 16 contenders on the basis of their conference records.

A battle of giant centers was one of the features of the recent Duke-North Carolina basketball game which the Blue Devils from Durham won 36-14.

"Puny" Harper of Carolina and Joe Cronin of Duke, both measuring six feet and six inches, waged a great defensive fight for more than three quarters of the contest before the Blue Devil pivot man slipped away to sink two field goals and make off with the honors. Cronin also bagged three foul shots, while Harper went scoreless.

The Duke Blue Devils are setting a fast pace in the Big Five cage loop in North Carolina. Eddie Cameron's speedy quintet has whipped North Carolina, Wake Forest and North Carolina State to grasp the unchallenged leadership.

Probe Knockout By Italian Giant

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—With the presence of one of the principals, Primo Carners himself, unavailable, the investigation into the circumstances leading up to and surrounding the Italian Goliath's 47-second knockout of Elizer Rioux, at the Chicago Stadium last Friday night, was before the Illinois State Athletic Commission today.

Primo spoke his piece before the commission at a special meeting of the commission last Saturday, but was not on hand for rebuttal—any—today as he was in the East preparing for his meeting with James "Battling" Owen, at Newark, N. J., Thursday night.

The investigation was ordered by Frederick Gardner, member of the commission, after Rioux, French-Canadian heavyweight, failed to survive the first round in his share of Primo's Chicago debut. The purses of both fighters, around $16,000 for Carners and $3,000 for Rioux, were held up by order of the commission, to be held in escrow until the commission is convinced the contest was "genuine."

Members of the commission made no flat charges that anything was wrong, but the more than 17,000 spectators at the fight, seemed to be of the opinion that Rioux had been too eager to remain on the canvas. Along with Rioux, and his representative, Charles Turner; Dave Barry, referee; W. A. Battye, and E. L. Cook, the judges and Walter Friedman, a member of Carners' retinue who remained behind for the hearing, were to be questioned by the commission this afternoon.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

The National Boxing Association, bent upon the task of picking up the wrestling pieces and putting them together under uniform control, has discovered that it will take more than a brand new set of rules and regulations to pin this elusive sport to the mat.

The N. B. A., in fact, already has been tormented for a couple of falls in its effort to bring some order out of chaos. First, the Illinois Athletic Commission abruptly put the lid down on wrestling altogether, after plans for a heavyweight championship tournament, fell through. Secondly, the Rhode Island State Athletic Commission has withdrawn in a huff from the N. B. A., because of the outspoken objections of its chairman, Edward C. Foster, to the wrestling policy pursued by the president of the N. B. A., Stanley Isaacs of Cincinnati.

Foster makes the charge that the N. B. A. "has lent itself to being a matchmaking and promotional body for the clique of wrestlers controlled by such men as Ed White of Chicago, Ray Fabianna of Philadelphia and Al Haft of Columbus and Cincinnati."

If so, the N. B. A. has been singularly unsuccessful. As Ed Wray points out in the St. Louis Post Dispatch, the only "normal" entry received so far for the so-called "championship tournament" is that of John Peske; as a result of which "the other eligibles—Gus Sonnenberg, Dick Shikat, Roy Stell and Jim Londe—may wake up on February 2 to read that the N. B. A., which includes 32 states, has named John Peske world catch as catch can champion."

Cliques of wrestling promoters, sometimes operating regular circuits in the East, West and South for their performers or pachyderms, have controlled wrestling for some time. The situation is much the same as that in boxing except that the ring cliques now have much more of the grand manner, with the 600 millionaires of Madison Square Garden fortified by resources and connections virtually dominating the fistie racket.

The "Western Slique" long has been powerful in wrestling, exploiting a succession of heavyweight stars from the days of Frank Gotch down through Stecher, Caddock, Wayne Munn and Ed (Strangler) Lewis. The "Boston Clique" obtained ascendancy when Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg threw Lewis for the championship, injecting the "flying tackle" hold and a few variety of collegiate color into the mat sport. Sonnenberg is the title holder, in direct line of succession, but Dick Shikat is recognized as the champion by New York and Pennsylvania, thereby establishing another clique of interests. The N. B. A. has succeeded, at least, in putting the spotlight on the shortcomings of wrestling. So complex, however, is the situation that there is little likelihood for the time being of any effective national regulation. The answer is that things are too profitable otherwise.

Losers to Clash in Winter Grid War

Chapel Hill, Feb. 4.—Two football underdogs are scheduled to lock horns in Kenan Stadium here Wednesday afternoon when the teams that lost in the first two practice games of the winter series will be given a chance to redeem themselves. The game will be called at 4 o'clock.

"Georgia Tech" and "Virginia" will be the performers. "Tech" lost last week's opening engagement to "Tennessee" by a 6-0 count on a field that at that particular moment was being swept by a snow-storm.

Virginia lost its opening engagement to "Georgia" on Saturday by another 6-0 count on a Kenan field that was snowbound.

The two underdogs will be both fighting to avoid the cellar position when they clash on Wednesday.

"Virginia" should present the backfield punch, what with varsity halfbacks Magner and Slusser on its roster, but all in all, the odds look even, and the prospects seem for a touch scrap.

"Tech" will present as its chief backfield threats varsity quarterback Wyrick; Jackson, hard-driving halfback from last year's frosh; Suggs, plunging fullback from the 1928 freshmen; and Huston, reserve halfback last year.

The "Yellow Jackets" should have the odds in the line. Fysal and Blackwood at the guards are both fighting lettermen. So also "Red" Parsley at right end, Nichols, the other end; Sharkey and Collins, tackles; and Allen, center, were the cream of the freshmen last season.

Rex Enright, freshman coach, is mentor for the "Tech" squad, and Head Coach Chuck Collins is tutoring the "Virginia" team. Coach Collins is also head strategist for the "Georgia" outfit.

RISKO TO GET SHOT AT CAMPOLO AT MIAMI

Cleveland, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Johnny Risko, the Cleveland baker boy, is going to have his chance at the giant Argentine heavyweight Vittorio Campolo, after all.

Ruled too little by the New York boxing commission to fight the mammoth South American in that state, the 196 pound Clevelander has signed to battle him as a ten round semi-final to the Jack Sharkey Phil Scott engagement at Miami February 27.

Overworked during the spiritualists' campaign in Scandinavia was said to have weakened his heart so a walk of 100 yards left him breathless.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Cotton opened today at a decline of 8 to 15 points today under overnight selling orders and further liquidation prompted by the relatively easy showing of Liverpool houses with foreign connections also seemed to have selling orders and the initial pressure was sufficient to send most of the active months into new low ground for the movement, with March selling at 16.80 and July at 16.27.

This decline was checked by trade buying and covering and the market steadied up sharply as soon as the early offerings were absorbed, with March advancing to 16.09 and July to 16.53, or 12 to 15 points net higher. There was still more or less nervousness, however, and prices reacted partially before the end of the first half hour.

STOCK MARKET

By STANLEY W. PRENOSIL
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Prices of the main body of stocks moved higher in today's session of the New York Stock Exchange, but weak spots cropped out now and then, giving the market the appearance of irregularity.

Trading showed a marked falling off in volume, but this may have been due in part to power trouble which temporarily halted the operation of thousands of tickers in New York and some of the other eastern cities.

Cutting of the German Reichsbank's rediscount rate from 6 1/2 to 6 per cent, following a cut from 3 1/2 to 3 in the bank of France rate last week, is believed to have increased the possibility of lower Bank of England and New York Federal Reserve rediscount rates. Call money renewed unchanged at 4 1/2 per cent with the demand for Federal Reserve funds indicating the absence of any larger supply of funds available in New York.

Wall Street also found encouragement in the decline in stock exchange member borrowings last month, and the sharp drop in securities loans shown in the weekly federal reserve condition statement. A number of excellent 1929 earnings reports made their appearance during the day, Pressed Steel Car, and Remington Rand, making unusually favorable comparisons with the year before.

U. S. Steel Common, the leader of the recent advance, continued to encounter rather strong selling resistance, selling as low as 10 1/2, rallying to 13, and then falling back below 12 again. Heavy buying of Radio, which crossed 38, indicated the part retreat of an over crowded short interest. General Motors and Chrysler, which are believed to harbor a large short interest, also were in brisk demand.

Rails continued to give a good demonstration of group strength despite the disappointing character of recent traffic and earnings reports, and the request for a withdrawal of merger application. By the Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio, Wabash and Delaware and Hudson railroads. New York and Harlem, which soared 105 points last week, and dropped 26 yesterday, rallied 20 points again today. Hocking Valley advanced 9 to a new high for the year at 47. Atchison, Chesapeake and Ohio, Great Northern preferred, Pittsburgh & West Virginia, St. Paul preferred, Lehigh Valley and New Haven sold 2 to 3 points higher.

Heavy selling of Gillette Safety Razor, which broke 5 points to 97 1/2, the lowest price in more than a year, featured the early afternoon trading. The stock subsequently crossed par. National Cash Register declined 2 points.

Columbia Gas was heavily bought, advancing nearly 5 points while Columbian Carbon, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Houston Oil and Worthington Pump sold 3 to 4 points higher.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—As an antidote to Chicago crime news the following item may be of interest: Of 250,000 interviewed in the canvass being conducted by the Chicago Church Federation, 50 per cent are church members and 90 per cent have a religious preference.

TO INAUGURATE SYSTEM MODELED AFTER YALE
Sallybury, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Catawba College is making plans to inaugurate a system modeled after the Yale plan to insure amateur standing of its athletes.

All students who take part in Athletics will be required to sign a statement showing what previous athletic experience they have had, what money they are receiving from other than members of their immediate family, what colleges they have played with previously and what money they have ever received for athletic services.

This must be sworn to before a notary public.

College authorities say they are taking this step to stave off any charges of professionalism that might arise from the college's enlarged athletic program which includes the addition to the coaching staff of Charlie Moran, former Centre College coach, and George Chinn, Centre College tackle.

BILIOUS COLOR AND BAD TASTE

Black-Draught Proved Just the Medicine Needed, Says North Carolina Lady.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I used to suffer from spells of constipation when my system would get all out of order," says Mrs. C. B. Dunnagan, 423 Cleveland Avenue, this city. "I would wake up in the morning dull and aching, and would not feel like doing my work. At times, I would have bilious headaches. My color would be as yellow paper. I would have a bad taste in my mouth.

"There was a girl staying with me at that time who kept after me to take Black-Draught. Finally, she gave me some that she had on hand. I found it to be the very thing for me. A few doses of the tea seemed to have cleaned out my system and made me feel fine.

"Since then, I have kept it in my house almost all the time. I've been using Black-Draught, whenever I need a laxative, for the last ten years, and I find that it answers the purpose. I have recommended Black-Draught to many of my friends for I know it to be a good medicine."
