TWO MEMBERS S. C. ASSEMBLY DIE IN WRECK

Another Member of State Legislature Seriously Injured in Auto Collision.

Orangeburg, S. C., Feb. 8.—(AP)—State Senator W. Claude Martin, of Orangeburg, was killed instantly and State Senator William S. Legare, of Charleston, was injured fatally late yesterday in an automobile collision a few miles from here.

Representative J. R. Smith, Jr., who was riding with the Senators, was seriously injured. The accident occurred when the automobile in which the three legislators were returning to their home for the week-end collided with another machine at Wolfton, Senator Martin was dead when residents of the village reached the wreck. Senator Legare died in a hospital here a little later.

After the collision, the automobile occupied by the legislators burst into flames and was destroyed. As far as could be learned, the other machine in its occupants, whose names were not known, escaped injury.

Mr. Martin, aged 50, had been a member of the Senate since 1925. Previously he had served two terms in the House. He was educated at Wolford and the University of South Carolina.

Senator Legare, who was only 29, was educated at Davidson college and the University of South Carolina. He was serving his first term in the Senate.

Senator Martin and Legare were the second and third state legislators to be killed this year in highway accidents. Representative Tracee E. Pore, of Dillon county, was fatally injured in a highway crash a week ago.

The three legislators went on their way home for the week-end in the roadster, driven by Senator Legare, collided with a light coupe belonging to William Fair, of Orangeburg, near Wolfton. Mr. Legare's car turned over four times after the impact and threw its occupants into the road. Fair was not injured. Senator Legare's car caught fire but the flames were quickly extinguished.

Senator Martin was dead when aid arrived. His head had been crushed by the impact. Senator Legare and Representative Smith were removed to a hospital here and the Senator died about two hours later of internal injuries.

Find Another Plan To Put Money In Chicago's Pocket

Chicago, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Another day—another plan to put money into Chicago's moneyless pockets.

Herbert C. Miller, New York investment banker said to be interested in purchasing tax warrants, held the handle of the newest hopper of hope. After a lengthy conference with city controller George Schmidt, Heller said he would present a definite proposition today relative to purchasing the city's entire block of $27,000,000 in 1930 tax anticipation warrants.

Such a sale has been declared illegal by the Corporation counsel, the opinion holding that the "City Council will be justified in selling tax warrants in good faith to the highest and best bidder, even though the bid will not net par."

Heller's plan only widened the breach between the city government and the Citizens' Relief Committee headed by Elias H. Strawn.

Not only this, but the county government has waged a menacing threat against the Strawn committee with a warning that unless aid is forthcoming from the rescue group by the first of next week, the county will proceed with its original plan of paying employees and creditors in tax anticipation warrants.

Payment in scrip has been frowned upon by the Strawn committee.

Continue Probe Of Shooting Of Mexican President

Mexico City, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Emilio Portes Gil, minister of interior and temporary head of the government, in a brief announcement today said that Daniel Flores, who Wednesday shot and wounded President Ortiz Rubio, had been placed at the disposal of the Mexican attorney general Aguilar Y. Maya.

He and police chief Mijares Palacios will continue the investigation of the attempt against the President's life. Senior Protos Gil said Aguilar would make a public statement next week giving the results of his inquiry. Previously it had been said conduct of the investigation was to remain in the hands of the military.

Condition of President Ortiz Rubio was said to be constantly improving.

Knoxville Man Is Nominated To I. C. Commission

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—President Hoover today nominated Hugh M. Tate of Knoxville, Tenn., to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Tate is a Republican. A vacancy on the commission was created by expiration of the term of Richard V. Taylor, of Alabama.

Mr. Hoover previously appointed Robert M. Jones, of Knoxville, to this post but after the Senate delayed his confirmation, the Tennesseean withdrew.

Tate is a lawyer and a former chancellor of the Tennessee state court.

The commission at present has a membership of five Republicans and five Democrats.

THREE MORE LIVES LOST AT COAL MINE

Boulder Crushes Life Out of Three Members of Searching Party in Utah Mine.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Grin death once more has stalked through the portals of the Standard Coal Company's mine at Standardville, Utah, where a score were killed Thursday by an explosion and poisonous gas, adding the names of three rescue workers to the list of dead.

The three men, searching the inner workings for C. H. Brady, Frank James and Todie Wimber, missing since the explosion Thursday night, were killed instantly late last night when a huge boulder, loosened by the terrific blast which socked the mountainside, fell on them.

Bodies of the men were recovered and rescue workers temporarily abandoned their efforts to locate the three missing workmen, who were believed to have been killed by the monoxide gas which flooded the slopes of the mine after the blast.

The men killed by the falling rock were John R. Loman, 24, of New Mexico; Clarence E. Smith, 36, Grand Falls, Mont., and Walton Henderson, 18, of Standardville.

They were members of a "fresh air" crew and were endeavoring to ventilate one of the gas filled slopes when the huge rock fell on them.

Funeral arrangements for the 17 workmen taken from the mine were being made today. The bodies, taken from the mine one by one, were sent to an undertaking establishment at Price, Utah, and the row of coffins recalled to many a similar disaster in the Carbon county mining district in 1924 which cost the lives of nearly 200 men.

Of the 29 in the Standardville mine at the time of the explosion the toll today stood at 17 known dead, with bodies recovered, and three missing, with no hope held for their safety.

Most of the men killed had families but surrounding mining communities responded quickly with offers of assistance and none of the miners' dependents were in want. For the most part the widows, mothers and children bore their grief in silence.

Complet Body To Study Haiti

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The problem of when and how the United States shall withdraw from the island republic of Haiti was laid today squarely in the hands of a commission selected by President Hoover.

The group which will leave late this month for Haiti to formulate the future policy of this country with a republic will be headed by W. Cameron Forbes, of Massachusetts, a former Governor-General of the Philippines. Another member of the commission who has wide experience in Latin American affairs is Henry P. Fletcher, of Pennsylvania, former Ambassador to Rome.

The other members are Elie Velina, of Rhode Island, a student of Haitian affairs, James Kerney, editor of the Trenton, New Jersey, Times, and William Allen White, editor of the Emporia, Kansas, Gazette.

CHIEF OF POLICE FREED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 8.—(AP)—J. B. Whit, chief of police at Jacksonville, charged with selling 282 quarts of confiscated liquor, was found not guilty by a federal jury, which returned a sealed verdict last night. The verdict was not opened until 10 a. m., today.

The government contended that Chief of Police White sold the liquor through a window of the New Smyrna jail.

FRENCH PLAN STATEMENT ON NAVAL ISSUE

Conference Circles Concerned Over Attitude of France and Italy

London, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Andre Tardieu, French Premier, was reported generally today in naval conference circles to be considering making a statement in which needs and aspirations would be expressed. It would compare with the statements of Secretary Stimson and Premier MacDonald of the past two days.

London, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Naval conference circles today viewed with some concern the attitude of France and Italy toward statements of Secretary Stimson and Premier MacDonald setting forth British and American views on naval limitation—views which are strikingly near agreement.

It was open to question, in general opinion whether the two statements of national aims advanced the procedure toward reaching of the naval needs of the five powers into a compact satisfactory agreement or endangered final adjudication of differences with the two Mediterranean powers.

Italy, through Dino Grandi, foreign minister and delegation head, diplomatically expressed satisfaction with the British and American pronouncements on the ground that they hastened the conference work by getting down to figures.

The French, however, were extremely tactful. Andre Tardieu, French Premier, leaving for Paris for the week-end, was reported to have been greatly displeased with the contents of the two announcements and the methods displayed in making them.

The statement of Prime Minister MacDonald, issued as it was late yesterday on top of Colonel Stimson's pronouncement the day before apparently caused considerable surprise, although undoubtedly the Prime Minister had talked with Colonel Stimson before issuing it.

Mr. MacDonald proposed, principally, a battleship holiday until 1936 with the hope that the monster sea forts ultimately will be abolished along with the submarine. He voted with the Americans by insisting that if submarines are not abolished immediately, they be "humanized" and limited.

TAFT STILL SHOWS SIGNS OF IMPROVING

Bulletin By Physician Says He Is Resting Comfortably.

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—William Howard Taft continued today to show recuperative powers and his condition had improved to such an extent that his brother, Horace D. Taft, decided this morning to return to the Taft School at Watertown, Connecticut, of which he is head master.

The physicians of Mr. Taft, Drs. Thomas A. Clayton and Francis R. Hagner, in a bulletin issued at 11:30 a. m., said:

"The Chief Justice continues to improve, and is very comfortable."

Besides this official announcement it was said earlier that Mr. Taft had spent another restful night but that his physicians had warned against too much optimism as they still regarded their patient as an ill man.

Horace Taft said he was confident his brother was in no immediate danger and for this reason he felt his presence here was no longer necessary.

Natives Fight For Chance To Go To Prison

Adelaide, Australia, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The natives of Central Australia are fighting for a chance to go to prison.

The drought which is making all Central Australia a hungry thirsty land has made living such a precarious business that the black fellows are eager to get to prison where they are assured of food water and clothing.

The Resident Magistrate of the territory reported that natives arrested for cattle-stealing or cattle-rearing again the moment they are appearing in the hope of being arrested again. They will confess to anything to regain admission to the institutions which they apparently regard as more beneficial than corrective.

Deposits In State Banks Increased $11,000,000 In 1929, Says Bank Examiner

Raleigh, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Resources of North Carolina state banks reached their highest point December 31, 1929 when they totalled $41,759,696.55, John Mitchell, state bank examiner, announced today.

The total resources of state banks December 31, 1928 was $327,662,875.76, an increase in 1929 of $14,087,820.79.

During 1929 deposits in state banks increased $11,000,000.

Dr. Mitchell called attention in his report of the condition of state banks as of December 31, 1929, however, that several large national banks converted to the state system during the year.

In order to compare the condition of state banks for a period when there were no conversions he used the 90 day period from October 4, to December 31.

During the period total resources showed an increase of $500,000. Deposits increased $21,000,000. Borrowed money decreased $21,500,000. Cash and due from banks increased $11,000,000. Investments in stocks and bonds increased $2,000,000.

"During the comparable period of 1928," Mr. Mitchell said, "when agricultural conditions were more favorable than at the present time, the resources of state banks showed an increase of $3,500,000 from October 4 to December 31, 1928, while in the period October 4 to December 31, 1929, they showed an increase of $500,000."

December 31, 1928 North Carolina Banks had on deposit $259,000,000 against which they held primary and secondary reserves consisting of cash, due from banks, stocks and bonds, amounting to $89,820,000, or 34 per cent.

December 31, 1929 deposits amounted to $280,000,000 against which similar reserves amounting to $102,850,000, or 36 per cent were held.

"These figures," Mr. Mitchell said, "disclose both a growth and strengthening of reserve position over that occupied a year ago."

In addition to figures quoted above, Mr. Harris said, state banks held trust assets amounting to $97,714,821.76 and 45 industrial banks had resources in excess of $20,000,000.

The Chief Executive will be accompanied south by Mrs. Hoover, and a group of fishing companions which will include Dr. Joel P. Boone, the White House physician, Vernon Kellogg, Justice Harlan F. Stone and Mark Sullivan.

Immediately upon reaching Long Key, Hoover plans to board the "President" saunterer from which he fished last year shortly before his inauguration. The craft has been chartered from Jeremiah Milbank of New York.

If present plans are carried out, Mr. Hoover will spend the day on Long Key twice a day for the mail and to bring any news of the expedition.

The excursion will afford the Chief Executive the first opportunity he has to indulge in his favorite sport for some time. Until recently he made regular week-end trips to his fishing camp in Virginia, but under the state laws fishing is forbidden there during this season of the year. Only a week or so ago, he declared to accept special permission the state legislature offered to tender him through legislation.

WINTERVILLE SCHOOL CHILDREN VISIT REFLECTOR

Several students from the Winterville high school visited the Reflector office yesterday and were given an opportunity of observing the operations of a modern daily newspaper plant. The children were shown through the business, editorial and mechanical departments and were astonished at the rapidity of the electric typewriters bringing in news from all parts of the world and the complicated typesetting machines.

Husbands Need More Care

New York—Dr. Bruno Rosselli, a bachelor and a member of the faculty of Vassar, a woman's college, believes that too hours which American women devote to bridge and clubs could be better given to the care of their husbands. He so told a convention of women's clubs in a debate with Fannie Hurst.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM THE TWO CAROLINAS

Winston-Salem, N. C.—(AP)—The body of F. L. Platt, 30, missing since Thursday, has been found in the municipal lake near here. He is believed to have drowned in trying to retrieve a duck he shot.

Rockingham, N. C.—(AP)—An addition to the Hamm Pickett Mill No. 2, consisting of 3,400 spindles and 100 looms, has been started here.

Marshall, N. C.—(AP)—Cornelius Higgins, 55, surrendered here after being sought several days in connection with the death of his 23-year-old nephew, John Higgins.

Statesville, N. C.—(AP)—Cash prizes totaling $75 has been offered by the Statesville Kiwanis club to stimulate better methods of farming.

Sumter, S. C.—(AP)—The Sumter Brick Works has received an order for 2,000,000 bricks.

Cheraw, S. C.—(AP)—Parnell Meehan, convicted of bribery, has been sentenced to serve 12 months on the chain gang or pay a fine of $1,000.

BANDITS LOOT MANY CHINESE TERRITORIES

Several Foreign Missionaries Reported Kidnapped During Reign of Terror

Shanghai, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Many foreign missionaries have been kidnapped recently by bandits who with military organizations are terrorizing the populace of several provinces of China. Roaming undeterred by government forces, thousands of bandits are looting the countryside and besieging cities.

Bandits in Kiangsi province, who in recent weeks kidnapped several missionaries, continue their activities, looting and terrorizing the countryside. Three Finnish women missionaries were kidnapped Thursday from Kian, important city of Central Kiangsi, their whereabouts being unknown.

Similar desperadoes of northern Kwangtung province also are harassing the populace and abducting missionaries in the hope of obtaining ransom money.

A dispatch from Swatow, in Kwangtung, said that bandits continued to hold three German missionaries westward of the city. Captives for several weeks, their fate is not known. An American missionary in that area, who was kidnapped Thursday from Soochow, within fifty miles of Shanghai, was released today, according to government officials.

President Hoover To Go To Florida On Fishing Trip

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Eager to get away for a fishing trip off the Florida coast, President Hoover conferred today with congressional and executive department chiefs preparatory to his week's absence from the capital.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican Senate leader, was a breakfast guest and informed the President of the legislative situation at the capital where he reported the Senate would be busy all next week as usual on the tariff.

Senate leaders have hopes of an early disposition of this long pending measure but they do not believe it can be done next week. So, Senator Watson informed the President that he need look for no major legislation from the capital before his return.

The President is anxious for confirmation of the nomination of Charles Evans Hughes as Chief Justice succeeding William Howard Taft. The Senate Judiciary committee will consider the nomination Monday and there is every indication of immediate Senate approval.

Cops Continue To Enforce Quarantine At Texas College

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 8.—(AP)—Occupying the usual position of a patient and rather impatient over it, Dr. James R. Drain, president of the Texas Chiropractic college here today began the third day of his imprisonment in the college under guard of two policemen enforcing smallpox quarantine over the college building.

City health authorities closed the school Thursday when Dr. Drain's secretary was stricken with smallpox.

From the sidelines the plight of the doctor looked more like an endurance contest than a quarantine.

Dr. W. King, city health director, said the chiropractor would have to submit to vaccination before he could leave the building. Dr. Drain retorted by ordering the policemen off the college premises, forcing them to keep guard from the sidewalk.

Dr. Drain said he slept with his shoes on Thursday night before a fire in his office. Asked what he did for food he said, "Oh, I have some city guards out here and I spent them for some food. They brought me oysters and crackers. I feel I am the city's patient and I'm expecting the city to feed me and look after me."

NIGHT CLUB ORDERED PADLOCKED AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The Club Royal, a popular loop night club, has been ordered padlocked for one year by Federal Judge James Wilkerson for violation of the prohibition law.

Twenty-three other places, including cafes, drug stores and a 24-hour building also were padlocked by Judge Wilkerson yesterday.

The raid on the Club Royal was made when Texas Guinan was hostess and the prohibition agents were cheered under the hostess' direction as they moved among the diners.

Bernstein Is Named Minister to Albania

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—President Hoover today nominated Herman Bernstein, New York, to be Minister to Albania.

Bernstein was born in Russia on September 21, 1876. He is a widely known author and translator, having translated a number of the foremost Russian authors including Gorky and Tolstol.

He has been a contributing editor of the Jewish Tribune, the American Jewish weekly, for the last several years.

THREE BARRED FROM DEALING ON STOCK MART

New Yorkers Charged With Manipulating Pool For Profit of $6,000,000

New York, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Charged with manipulating a pool in advance Rumley stock for a profit of $6,000,000, three men were under temporary injunction today restraining them from further dealings in stocks and securities.

The injunction which is against Abner S. Werblin, Leonard J. Rollnick of New York and William L. Jarvis of Boston was obtained by the State Bureau, charged that early last year Rollnick and Jarvis agreed to finance the purchase of stock of the Advance-Rumley Company, manufacturers of farm implements, and that Werblin agreed to act as pool manager.

Under this agreement Werblin purchased and sold large blocks of the stock through many brokers on the Stock Exchange in his own name and in the name of Rollnick. All of the accounts were carried in the name of Rollnick and Jarvis.

Washington said that the public was induced to buy Advance-Rumley stock through misleading statements regarding its earnings and prospects, carried in the Financial Dealer-Criterion, Inc., a lister sheet issued in Boston and controlled by Rollnick and Jarvis.

The charges cite the rise of Advance-Rumley stock last spring when the preferred reached $119 a share and the common $104 7/8, then dropped with heavy losses to small investors.

Five Armories Burn in Paris

Paris, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Five big armories burned to the ground and hundreds of oxygen tanks roared like big guns at the Vincennes Arsenal on the eastern edge of Paris today. Not a single powder magazine exploded although fire was all around them.

The loss was estimated at $3,000,000 but may be much greater as buildings collapsed on artillery stocks.

Despite the bombardment which lasted from late last night into the forenoon the only casualty was a fireman who was slightly gassed.

Troops cleared inhabitants from a wide area around the arsenal as a precaution against an explosion in the powder magazines.

Belleville, N. J., Feb. 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Harriet Conley, 64-year-old housewife was beaten in her home and garrotted to death with a towel twisted about an umbrella last night by a robber who escaped with jewelry valued at $1,000.

William Fakler, 21, of Newark, was described by Police Chief Michael Flynn and other officers as a surprise. He is detained on a burglary charge.

Mrs. Conley was believed by medical and police officials to have been slain after she stirred on a couch on which she was ransacking the apartment. Four wounds on the woman's head were apparently inflicted with the butt of a pistol. County Physician Harrison S. Martland said, death was caused by strangulation.

When Marjorie Davis, 16, granddaughter of the dead woman, discovered the body the towel was still wrapped around the victim's neck. The umbrella had been left in the loop, toilet-rod-wise.

BAD MEN TOLD TO GET OUT OF CHICAGO, ILL.

Police Begin Extensive Drive to Reduce Crime Wave Sweeping Over City.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Wholesale war on the Chicago bad men has started today.

The first skirmish of the new conflict was financed from the private purse of police commissioner William Russell, for the city has no money. The commissioner provided funds for the purchase of 25 tickets to Jack Dempsey's boxing show last night, picking his best sluts to attend.

Boxing matches are magnets that lure the "big shots" of the beer racket and gang world for their usual haunts. Commissioner Russell ordered his detectives to pick up every man they recognized as in any way connected with Chicago gang and gun life.

Several arrests were made, but the prisoners were released after being told by Chief Egan of the detective bureau to get out of town. Those arrested included Benjamin Buddy Jacobson, formerly allied with the Morris Eller political interests but now himself a candidate for ward committee; David (Cock Eye) Mulligan, proprietor of the lately padlocked Epicure club, and his brother, Sam; George Kreis, manager of the C. and O. restaurant on North Clark, scene of three gang shootings; and Izzy azarus, who has been questioned from time to time concerning gambling rackets.

"Pick up everyone you know as a gangster or gang hanger-on," Commissioner Russell ordered. "Hereafter we'll hold them until their release is forced by habeas corpus proceedings. We'll keep on arresting them. Lawyers and habeas corpus proceedings cost them money, you know."

Another broom to sweep the city of its hoodlum horde was being fashioned by the Chicago Association of Commerce. The membership of the "Courage Committee," to consist of six men, was to be announced today with Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Association, as its head.

The "Courage Committee" will take up "immediately" the matter of "rescuing" the city from gangster rule. Col. Randolph said, members, it was explained, are to be men of known courage unafraid of the consequences of a determined war on organized criminals.

How the committee would proceed was not clear.

Serve Capiases On 250 Persons In Liquor Case

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 8.—(AP)—Federal and county authorities today were serving capiases on 250 persons named in indictments, returned yesterday by a special grand jury in United States court and a Montgomery county grand jury in connection with prohibition law violations in Montgomery and the middle districts of Alabama.

The federal grand jury, called into special session by Judge William I. Grubb, of Birmingham, a member of President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission, at the request of Grady Reynolds, United States district attorney, returned true bills against 232 persons for alleged liquor law violations.

The Montgomery county grand jury returned indictments against 18 persons charged with prohibition violations. Identity of the persons named in the indictments were withheld pending arrest.

One indictment contained the names of 33 persons, charged with conspiring to violate the prohibition law.

Aged Woman Dies At Hand of Thief

THIS IS BOY SCOUT WEEK.

Union services will be held in the Methodist church tomorrow night as part of the observance of Boy Scout week here and it is to be hoped that every citizen possible will attend the services in order that the boys might know and see that our people believe in them and their movement and are strictly behind them in their work.

The Boy Scout organization has shown a wonderful growth during the twenty years of its existence and the work it has and is accomplishing in the way of developing better men and citizens of our boys means much to every community in which the organization exists.

Here is the Scout Oath and the Scout Law which we urge every one of our grown-ups to read and study carefully in order that they might realize more fully the principles of the organization and what it means to the future of our country:

The Scout Oath

On My Honor I will do my best:

- 1. To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law;
2. To help other people at all times;
3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.
The Scout Law
1. A Scout is Trustworthy.
-A scout's honor is to be trusted. If he were to violate his honor by telling a lie, or by cheating, or by not doing exactly a given task, when trusted on his honor, he may be directed to hand over his scout badge.

A Scout is Loyal.

He is loyal to all to whom loyalty is due; his scout leader, his home, and parents and country.

A Scout is Helpful.

He must, at any time be prepared to save life, help injured persons, and share the home duties. He must do at least one good turn to somebody every day.

A Scout is Friendly.

He is a friend to all and a brother to every other scout.

A Scout is Courteous.

He is polite to all, especially to women, children, old people, and the weak and helpless. He must not take pay for being helpful or courteous.

A Scout is Kind.

He is a friend to animals. He will not kill nor hurt any living creature needlessly, but will strive to save and protect all harmless life.

A Scout is Obedient.

He obeys his parents, scoutmaster, patrol leader, and all other duly constituted authorities.

8. A Scout is Cheerful.—He smiles whenever he can. His obedience to orders is prompt and cheery. He never shirks nor grumbles at hardships.

9. A Scout is Thrifty.—He does not wantonly destroy property. He works faithfully, wastes nothing, and makes the best of his opportunities. He saves his money so that he may pay his own way, be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects. He may work for pay but must not receive tips for courtesies or good turns.

10. A Scout is Brave.—He has the courage to face danger in spite of fear and to stand up for the right against the coaxings of friends or the jeers or threats of enemies, and defeat does not down him.

11. A Scout is Clean.—He keeps clean in body and thought; stands for clean speech, clean sport, clean habits, and travels with a clean crowd.

12. A Scout is Reverent.—He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties, and respects convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.

A MAN'S WORTH.

By ERNEST FREMONT TITTLE. (Minister, First Methodist Episcopal Church, Evanston, Ill.)

In a world where quantity is preferred to quality, money becomes the first criterion of value. Big money; big men. Little money; little man. People who have money are commonly looked up to and envied even by those so-called plain people who pretend to make fun of them.

Even by the hoi polloi, college professors are sometimes despised because they fail to make much money. A psychological situation develops in which a man's worth is held to be very nearly identical with the size of his purse.

The result is a feverish attempt on the part of a multitude of people to make money, to become rich or at least to appear rich—rich enough, at any rate to wear silk stockings and a fur coat. In the midst of it all, spiritual values are, of course, lost sight of.

Our generation, like every other, needs to read, mark and inwardly digest that saying of Jesus: "A man's life does not consist in the number of things he possesses."

ABOUT TOWN

Recognizing that single persons, by reason of the care and support of others, are entitled to consideration, the law provides that the "head of a family" shall be allowed the same personal exemption granted a married person, $3,500. The head of a family is defined by regulation relating to the income tax as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependents individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation."

Several factors are involved in determining whether a taxpayer is to be thus classified. In maintaining the home and providing for the dependent individual or individuals, the taxpayer's right to exercise family control must be based on some moral or legal obligation. The element of either legal or financial dependency must exist. A taxpayer who has minor children is legally liable for their support. If he supports and exercises family control over them, even though they have an income of their own sufficient for their support and maintenance, he is classified as head of a family. If he does not support them, however, but does exercise family control, the common home being maintained, he cannot be classified as the head of the family.

If by reason of illness or absence on account of business the taxpayer and dependents are separated, the common home being maintained and the taxpayer furnishing the support, the exemption as head of a family is allowed. Moreover, if a taxpayer does not maintain a common home but the dependents are at school or boarding with relatives, or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption is still allowed. If, however, without necessity, the dependent continuously makes his home elsewhere, his benefactor is not the head of a family.

For income tax purposes, there can be only one head of a family. The exemption cannot be divided.

The Board of Aldermen did the right thing when they decided to employ a whole-time sanitary inspector.

Such an officer to supervise the sanitary conditions of the city should be able to accomplish far better results through systematic surveys than through the old unorganized way of handling the situation.

Then, too, the new officer will have the advantage of being trained under direction of the State Sanitary officer who is in the county at this time making a survey of conditions that will extend over a period of five or six months. This should enable even an experienced worker to prepare himself for duties in this field of endeavor and place him in position to render the city splendid service.

The city spent over $2,900 for sanitary work last year, but only minor results were obtained. It is like Mayor Lanier stated, "Just like firing a gun into the dark expecting to hit a mark."

The sanitary inspector should not only be able to improve the health conditions of the city, but also to boost the city's treasury through connection of additional homes to the sewerage system. This one feature alone should be instrumental in defraying the officer's salary for a considerable time as well as boosting the longevity of the sections affected.

The aldermen have taken a step in the right direction, and good results should be obtained.

Greenville is getting ready to handle 90,000,000 pounds of tobacco. At least, improvements now contemplated will give the market sufficient capacity to handle this amount each season without being handicapped to any extent.

Tobaccoists are already outlining plans for improvements. The first announcement in this direction came yesterday in the purchase of the Gorman tobacco factory by McGowan & Cannon, which is to be added to the firm's warehouse, greatly increasing their floor space for the next season.

Two changes of note have already been announced in the leasing of warehouses, showing that the tobaccoists are really planning to get down to business in real earnest in their ambition to better the 71,000,000 pound goal set season before last.

There is no reason on earth why Greenville should not become a greater tobacco selling center than it is. Situated in the greatest tobacco producing county in the world, this market ought to easily set a record the greatest markets will find hard to overcome.

That a better record is in the offing cannot be questioned and activities of local tobaccoists at this time forecast great things for the future.

The city of Greenville responded to the call for aid from the emergency relief committee by contributing $250.

This sum will do much toward carrying relief to the destitute families of the community whose condition has been greatly improved recently as result of the establishment of the relief commissary on Dickinson avenue.

Funds donated to the committee will go to the upkeep of the commissary, enabling the committee to replenish the stores of food, clothing and fuel for the poor people and to really be able to render real service during this, one of the most critical periods in the history of the section.

Public contributions to the fund should be as liberal as possible so that the demands of the poor at all times. Every case is investigated by the County Welfare Department and all goods distributed through the commissary goes to a good cause.

If you have not given to this cause why not do so at once and in that way assure yourself of doing something in behalf of humanity.

ANOTHER SON OF WALSH CRASHES BIG LEAGUE

New York, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Another son of Big Ed Walsh has crashed the major leagues in the hope of emulating the pitching feats of his father.

Robert E. Walsh, 22 years old, six feet four inches in height and tipping the beam at 205 pounds, has been signed by the New York Yankees. His brother, Ed Walsh, Jr., already is pitching for the Chicago White Sox. Both boys landed in the big leagues direct from the University of Notre Dame.

Ed Walsh, Sr. now is a scout for the White Sox.

The relay team will race in competition with LaFayette, Rutgers, and New York City college teams.

DUKE READY TO STRIKE AT RED TERRORS

Charlotte, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The Duke Blue Devils prepared today to descend upon the N. C. State Red Terrors at Raleigh tonight in an effort to remove one of their most stubborn obstacles to top honors in the big five basketball race. Duke already has beaten State, 35 to 31, this season but the Devils must repeat to hold on to their big five leadership. They have four straight victories and no defeats to their credits, but a reverse tonight would let the big five lead fall to Davidson, also undefeated this season in the North Carolina loop.

Monday will come the decisive struggle between Duke and Davidson at Charlotte. The result tonight and Monday will have a vital bearing on the championship. Judging from the showing the Wildcats made this week on a foray into Virginia, they are primed to give the Blue Devils a stiff battle Monday.

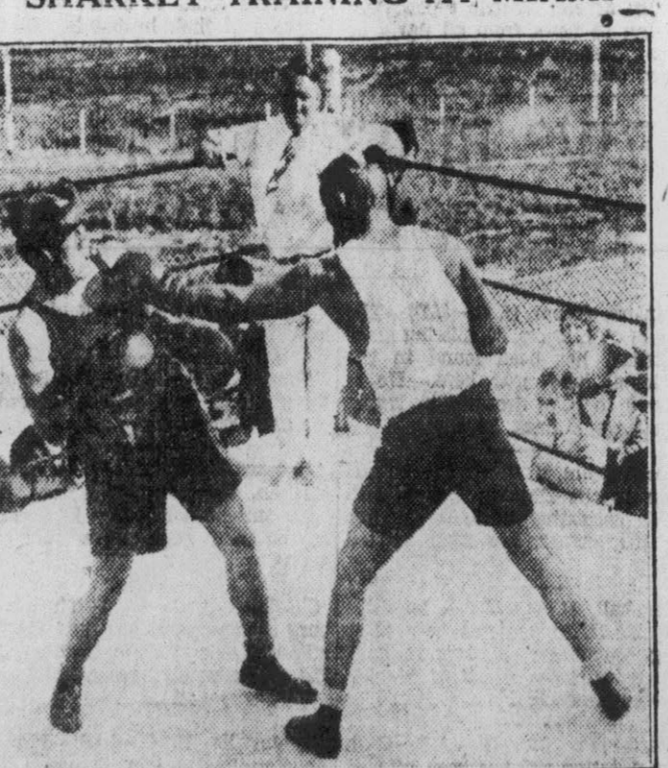

The Presbyterians last night swamped V. P. I., 38 to 20, at Blacksburg, Va. This victory followed decisive triumphs over Roanoke College and V. M. I. The North Carolina Tar Heels swung back in their old-time form last night to lick Virginia, 40 to 37, in a fiercely fought extra-period match at Charlottesville. The night before the Tar Heels bowled, 39 to 24, to Washington and Lee Generals, but Wednesday night they beat V. P. I., 30 to 21.

High Point today claimed leadership in the North Carolina big six on strength of 42 to 29 victory over Atlantic Christian College last night at High Point. Catawba beat Guilford, 40 to 24, at Salisbury in another little six match.

Local Sophomores Beat Farmville

Last night the Farmville High School Juniors traveled to Greenville to try conclusions with the underclassmen of G. H. S. During the first half the local freshmen played an uphill game against the Farmville lads, the half ending with a count of 10 to 2 against the home talent. Morgan scored the only tally for Greenville.

After the intermission the Greenville boys took the floor to play an aggressive, skillful game, in which they kept possession of the ball for most of the time, slipping a fast one through the Farmville guards for an occasional two point tally. Farmville managed to score but a lone field goal by Dixon and a foul by Forbes in the half. Meanwhile clever pass work enabled the Sophs to tally one each by Dail and King, and a crib shot by Turnage evened the score. With but a few seconds to play, Dail threw a long pass to Woolard under the goal, who shot just in time to elude his guard and, as a fitting climax, the whistle blew.

Carter Named A Director of Brooklyn Club

New York, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Peace and harmony, perforce, ruled the Brooklyn National League club today with Walter P. (Dutch) Carter, famous Yale pitcher of 35 years ago, sitting in the driver's seat.

Appointed by John A. Heydler, president of the National League, as fifth director of the Brooklyn club, Carter holds the balance of power since the other four directorships are evenly distributed among members of the so-called Robinson and McKeever factions, whose warfare was ended the other day by official decree of the National league.

The other members of the board are Frank B. York and S. W. McKeever, representing one faction, and Joseph Gilleaudeau and Harry DeMott, representatives of the Ebbets heirs and have backed Wilbert F. Robinson in his battle against McKeever ever since Charles H. Ebbets, owner of the club, died in 1924.

Under the terms of the peace agreement, York was chosen as president for two years, succeeding Robinson while the latter was re-engeaged as manager for two years.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE

GOT RID OF INDIGESTION

Georgia Man Suffered Until He Took Black-Draught On Mother's Advice. Athens, Ga.—"I am a user of Black-Draught and consider it a splendid medicine," says Mr. M. E. Adams, 157 Barrett Street, this city. "It is fine for biliousness. I am glad to recommend it. "I was suffering from indigestion and gas pains in my stomach. I would smother and would hurt between my shoulders. I would bloat and have such a fullness in my breast—feeling like a long breath would help me a lot. "My mother had used Black-Draught and advised me to try it. As I was so uncomfortable, I took it. Taking a small dose after meals soon relieved me, and from then until now I have been a steady customer. Black-Draught has kept me in good shape."

Theodore's Black-Draught has been in use since 1835, with constantly increasing popularity because of the good it has done the men, women and children who have taken it. Composed of selected medicinal herbs and roots, finely powdered, easy to take. No disagreeable after-effects.

hit 51 homers in 1929 to help convince the Pittsburgh Pirates he will be as good an investment as Paul Waner, who came East to make good in his first season.

Ott, Klein and Foxx have youth, strength, natural batting eyes and the lively ball in their favor. It would be expecting too much of them to develop the showmanship or the individuality of the one and only Ruth but each can hit with just as much earnestness and verve as the Babe.

Klein, because his total of home runs set a new national league record in his first full season as a regular, is perhaps the most interesting addition to the clouting circus. At an advanced stage of the race last season Klein actually was collecting home runs at a faster clip than Ruth was doing at the same period of his record year of 1927. Up to August 1, Chuck had knocked 33 out of the park. He did not collect his 34th until August 30, thereby disposing of any chance he had to menace the Bambino's remarkable achievement.

There were eleven men altogether in the national league last season who hit more than 20 home runs, five with 30 or more and three with 40 or more, four with 30 or over and one, Ruth with 46. It may be observed, therefore, that while the American League furnished the cradle for the home run era and the Babe, the National League now supplies the playground for a new generation of longrange sluggers. It will be interesting to note this year what her decision to take "the shine" off the official ball will reduce the National's home run rampage.

tempted until the Senate ordered Julius Caesar's head put upon the coins struck in his honor. These heads are often excellent likenesses, are very beautiful and even now stand out in bold relief when in an ordinary state of preservation.

After Julius Caesar, the Emperor or Governor who had struck the coins of Imperial Rome, ordered his own name inscribed, with the legend usually adding some explanatory particulars, mostly abbreviated. The exact date of these coins can often be traced from the event, the coin was meant to commemorate, by its inscription or type, from the title of the ruler or the year of his consulate or tribunate power.

Mr. Giovannioli's collection consists of five bronze coins which can be partially described as follows:

1—On the obverse side is Nero's head, (reigned 55-68 A. D.); on the reverse a mediator holding a shield; two capital letters, S. C., (in Latin Senate; Consul), denotes the fact that this coin could be issued only with the authority of the Senate.

2—Dimiziano, (Domitian 3, ruled between 71 and 92 A. D.) On one side is an hercule, seated and holding an object, the design of which cannot be determined, nor can the inscription be recognized.

3—Adriano, (Adrian 108-119 A. D.) A female figure holds a torch in one hand and a palm in the other.

4—Annia Faustina, (222 A. D.) This coin about the size of an American dime, has a portrait of an Empress on one side and on the other two female figures facing each other. Empress Anna Faustina resigned only a few months and her coins are very rare.

5—Justinian, Empire of Orient (527 A. D.). This, said by Mr. Giovannioli to be one of the most interesting coins in existence, is in a very good state of preservation. The letters are plain and can be easily read. On one side is a crowned head and a small cross with Hebrew and Greek inscriptions. The reverse bears a large K in its center, which in the Greek language is 20. Then follow the Roman numeral X (10) The Latin word Anno, (year), is conspicuous. Beneath this word is the letters, con, abbreviation for Constantinople, the city from which this particular coin was issued.

The writer is neither an expert coin collector nor a numismatist, and so the terms, figures and abbreviations used in describing this collection are not interpreted from a student's viewpoint but purely from that of an amateur.

LIVE-AT-HOME WEEK TO BE CELEBRATED IN GREENVILLE SCHOOLS

In keeping with Governor Gardner's live-at-home program, the teachers of the Greenville city schools have made definite plans to observe Live-at-Home Week which is to be celebrated throughout the State, beginning next Monday. The topics for the various days next week are as follows:

Monday—Daily Food for the Family.
Tuesday—"Importance of the Cow."
Wednesday—"Importance of Poultry."
Thursday—"Importance of the Hog."
Friday—"Importance of the Garden."

As part of the regular class room activity the schools of the city will compete in the essay and poster contest. The following prizes are offered:

1. Essay Contest—Grade 3 and above. Individual prize. For best essay on some phase of live-at-home idea. Limits of essay 300 to 1,500 words.
Prize: Loving Cup—News and Observer.

2. Essay Contest—Grades 5 to 8. Individual prize. For best essay on some phase of live-at-home idea. Limits of essay, 500 to 1,000 words.
American Legion Prize—$25.00 in gold.

3. Poster or Booklet Contest—Grades 1 to 4. Grade or room prize. For grade or room preparing best poster or booklet on some phase of live-at-home idea.

Cash prizes—North Carolina Education Association—(a) First Prize $25.00; (b) Second Prize, $15.00; (c) Third Prize, $10.00.

In connection with their class room activities the children of the city schools will plant and cultivate miniature gardens. These gardens will not be projected for the purpose of raising great quantities of food stuff, but for the purpose of making the children realize the importance of gardens.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The meeting of the Woman's Club Thursday afternoon was one of the most interesting meetings of the club year. Two new members were admitted. Miss Jessie Moye, sponsor for the Junior Woman's Club was present and gave a report of the work of that organization. The corresponding secretary was instructed to write a letter of thanks to Mr. Harper D. Sheppard for the beautiful library building which he has given to the city of Greenville. The club members expressed themselves as especially grateful since they have been working so long to build up a really good library for the city.

The chairman of the Garden Club announced a special reading course at the library which will interest all flower-lovers. This is a splendid time and opportunity to get information about the lovely things you want growing around your house in the spring and summer.

Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, chairman, Mrs. W. E. Hooker and Mrs. W. H. Woolard were selected as nominating committee and asked to have the slate ready for the March meeting. The Woman's Club has been made responsible for committees serving at the commissary. Mrs. Moore thanked the club members for their readiness in serving on these committees, and expressed appreciation of the hearty co-operation of the King's Daughters in this work.

The chairman of the American Home Department gave a beautiful demonstration of puffs. These may be secured from any of the club members.

A message was brought to the club members from the state president, Mrs. Marie Land. It was interesting to learn that North Carolina is leading the nation in the general Federation Foundation fund subscriptions.

Also that North Carolina has been selected by the General Federation for a home safety survey. —Reported.

Red Men Stage Social.

Withlacoochee Tribe No. 35, Improved Order Red Men, held their regular social last Friday night. The meetings are largely attended. The old reliable members with their smiles and extended hand of fraternity and words of encouragement are to be seen at each meeting.

Red Men's Hall is a very busy place, especially on the first Friday evening of each month. We would consider it a very poor attendance if there were less than 75, and we are never surprised when the number is more than 100.

A short business meeting was held, during which the brothers were permitted to say something for the good of the order. Brother D. Stalling, Prophet of the tribe, was called and, as usual, made his four-word speech: "When do we eat?"

The principal speaker was Rev. D. A. Windham of this city, whose address was on "Redemption." He told us how tradition traces its history back one hundred and sixty years—more than a decade prior to the birth of the republic of the United States. He considered fraternalism one of the many expressions of the social instinct which was born in man after God's decree in the beginning that "It is not well for man to dwell alone."

The Improved Order of Red Men, Mr. Windham explained, is one of the four largest fraternal beneficial orders, having its birth on American soil. Brother M. L. Jackson won the prize in the drawing put on by L. S. Spence who took part in the social fun program.

Then the members were turned over to the mercies of the social committee, but at last report no member of our organization has died since said meeting took place, therefore, I have come to the conclusion the social committee did not hold many grievances against their brothers; but, all joking aside, this committee composed of W. E. Tucker, A. H. Windham and A. J. Stocks, showed the rest of the boys they could arrange a feed as was whispered around that their wives trained them early, probably that is why they were put on said committee.

A good sociable evening was enjoyed by all. We have a good entertainment committee and they arrange something for all to enjoy. —Reported.

OLD ROMAN COINS SENT TO PITT MAN

Father of Farmville Man Sends Coins Unearthed on Farm Near Rome.

By EYA HORTON SHACKLEFORD
Farmville, Feb. 8.—Some of the earliest and supposedly rarest coins of ancient Rome were delivered recently to S. Giovannioli, musician, composer and former citizen of Rome, who is at present engaged in directing the Farmville High School orchestra.

These coins, unearthed by Mr. Giovannioli's father, and found on his farm about 15 miles from Rome, were brought to this county by a friend of the family, and are in a remarkable state of preservation, considering the centuries which they have spent underground. Inscriptions, figures and other marks can be easily read and interpreted.

To the novice, who does not understand or appreciate rare coins, they mean little, having no buying power, but the collector, who studies and hoards coins, would eagerly search for identifying marks, to him they would either be old friends with familiar faces, or strangers with whom he would yearn to become acquainted and know intimately.

The study of numismatics reveals many fields of research and its value in establishing dates of certain important events in the history of the world cannot be estimated.

Barter, which was the first form of trading, was found to be so inconvenient, that nearly all of the ancient nations soon made use of some medium by which goods could be sold and exchanged, and metal was early used in this way by barbarians and savages. The metals of currency has ever consisted chiefly of gold, silver, copper, or bronze, though aluminum, nickel, pewter, brass and various alloys have been used.

The primitive methods of striking coins and the development of mints are very interesting studies and are recommended to those who find pleasure in reviewing the fine arts of ancient times.

In the study of this subject it was enlightening to find that coins, with few exceptions, have always been impressed on both sides, and are also for the most part circular—or of true coin shape. The principal side or obverse, has ever been that on which the Sovereign's image or chief emblem of the country is placed. The other side, reverse, generally pictures the arms or emblems of the state, or the symbol chosen for the differentiation of that special piece, the value of the piece, and the name of the country is also often shown on this side.

Old coins portray the faith of their users, as well as their customs and habits, and they are not only interesting and valuable in regard to their historical and scientific worth, but the drawing, sculptural and design of the die-sinker are of utmost importance in the study of art.

The coins of the Roman Empire for years bore the head of some deity supposed to govern the people and give success to their armies, and in the study of old coins one soon realizes how very real were these characters of ancient mythology to the pagan worshippers of that day.

No personal portraits were attempted until the Senate ordered Julius Caesar's head put upon the coins struck in his honor. These heads are often excellent likenesses, are very beautiful and even now stand out in bold relief when in an ordinary state of preservation.

After Julius Caesar, the Emperor or Governor who had struck the coins of Imperial Rome, ordered his own name inscribed, with the legend usually adding some explanatory particulars, mostly abbreviated. The exact date of these coins can often be traced from the event, the coin was meant to commemorate, by its inscription or type, from the title of the ruler or the year of his consulate or tribunate power.

Mr. Giovannioli's collection consists of five bronze coins which can be partially described as follows:

1—On the obverse side is Nero's head, (reigned 55-68 A. D.); on the reverse a mediator holding a shield; two capital letters, S. C., (in Latin Senate; Consul), denotes the fact that this coin could be issued only with the authority of the Senate.

2—Dimiziano, (Domitian 3, ruled between 71 and 92 A. D.) On one side is an hercule, seated and holding an object, the design of which cannot be determined, nor can the inscription be recognized.

3—Adriano, (Adrian 108-119 A. D.) A female figure holds a torch in one hand and a palm in the other.

4—Annia Faustina, (222 A. D.) This coin about the size of an American dime, has a portrait of an Empress on one side and on the other two female figures facing each other. Empress Anna Faustina resigned only a few months and her coins are very rare.

5—Justinian, Empire of Orient (527 A. D.). This, said by Mr. Giovannioli to be one of the most interesting coins in existence, is in a very good state of preservation. The letters are plain and can be easily read. On one side is a crowned head and a small cross with Hebrew and Greek inscriptions. The reverse bears a large K in its center, which in the Greek language is 20. Then follow the Roman numeral X (10) The Latin word Anno, (year), is conspicuous. Beneath this word is the letters, con, abbreviation for Constantinople, the city from which this particular coin was issued.

The writer is neither an expert coin collector nor a numismatist, and so the terms, figures and abbreviations used in describing this collection are not interpreted from a student's viewpoint but purely from that of an amateur.

Lions Charity Ball Proves Big Success

The Greenville Lions Club raised approximately $125 for the community relief fund through a charity ball given last night in the ballroom of the Woman's Club, corner Third and Greene streets.

Aside from helping increase the amount of money being used for relief work among the poor, the Lions succeeded in providing one of the most delightful social affairs of the winter season. The dance was attended by a hundred or more couples.

The building had been attractively decorated for the occasion and music was furnished by Paul Hinman's orchestra of Wilson.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Cotton opened irregularly today at a decline of 8 points to an advance of 9 points with near months relatively easy under liquidation brought in by the severe decline of yesterday, while later deliveries probably felt the influence of relatively steady Liverpool cables and a firmer technical position.

After the initial offerings had been absorbed, old crop positions firmed up, with the general list selling about 20 to 25 points net higher on active covering which seemed to be combined with some trade and possibly some investment buying.

May contracts sold up to 15.56 and October to 16.05 but prices were 3 or 4 points off from the best at the end of the first half hour as the bulges appeared to be meeting some further liquidation.

Liverpool did not fully meet yesterday's local decline and liquidation here had been absorbed by trade calling in covering out that Manchester was depressed with business restricted.

Cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 129,000 bales as against 132,000 last year at U. S. ports.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 8.—(AP)—With the Federal Farm Board scheduled to meet Monday to consider organizing a stabilization corporation, the wheat market here tended upward at the last today. A majority of traders leaned to the view that the proposed new auxiliary of the farm board would be quickly created, and that for at least the time being the effect would be bullish. Weather conditions over domestic winter wheat territory were also being watched sharply, and had a tendency to bring about week-end buying to even up accounts.

Wheat closed irregular at 1-3c net decline to 1-4c advance, compared with yesterday's finish; corn closed 1-8 to 1-4 to 1-2 up; oats a shade lower to 3-8 higher, and provisions showing 2 to 7 gain.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The stock market turned strong just before the close today when a brisk demand developed for the railroad, public utility, amusement and tobacco shares, many of which were marked up 1 to 8 1/2 points. Early declines of 1 to 3 points in many other issues were cut down, or wiped out.

There was nothing in the day's news to explain the sudden reversal in speculative sentiment. Weekly trade reviews were rather cautious in tone, and there were intimations of a slowing up in some of the industries which have been showing sharp recovery since the middle of January, particularly steel. Weekly market reviews, however, leaned to the opinion that the recent reduction in interest rates would stimulate business, particularly the building (construction) lines which have been helped up by the high rates for mortgage money.

Union Pacific assumed the leadership of the railroad group, soaring 8 1/2 points. Boston & Maine was marked up 7 1/2, Canadian Pacific 4 3/8, Lackawanna 3 1/4 and Missouri Pacific common, Delaware & Hudson, Chesapeake & Ohio and Louisville & Nashville advanced 2 to 3 points.

Stones & Webster ran up 7 points, Western Union 2 1/2 and Pacific Lighting 2. American Tobacco common ran up 4 3/4 points and the B stock 3 3/4, with gains of 2 to 2 1/2 in Reynolds Tobacco B, Porto Rican Tobacco and General Cigar.

Warner Bros. Pictures, in which a new pool recently was organized, was the feature of the amusement group, crossing 60 for the first time this year. Paramount Famous Lasky and Radio-Kelth-Orpheum also were in brisk demand.

The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 1,600,000 shares.

Three Countries Oppose America in N. York Rates

New York, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Canada, Poland and Switzerland all will send athletes into action against United States rivals at the annual Milrose A. A. games in Madison Square Garden tonight.

In the sprints Canada sends Johnny Fitzpatrick and Leigh Miller to compete with Jack Elder of Notre Dame and Cy Island, Texas Christian football stars, and Chet Bowman, Newark A. C. Jimmy Daley, Holy Cross, and Howard Kries, of Cleveland A. C.

Stanislav Petkiewicz of Poland, will be seen in the two mile race, and out race Dr. Paul Martin, of Switzerland, in a half mile run.

Four great runners will match strides in the "Millrose 600." Pete Bowen, of Pittsburgh, national quarter mile champion; Bernie Coffey, Holy Cross star; Phil Edwards, of New York University, and Eddie Roll, former College runner, now competing for the Newark A. C.

Ray Carter, Illinois A. C. middle distance flash, will run against Joe Sivak, of Butler University, Orval Martin, of Purdue, and J. E. Montgomery, of Penn. in the 1000 yard Wanamaker mile. The high jump has drawn a crack field and in the pole vault, Fred Sturdy, former Yale vaulter, now with the Los Angeles A. C., will attempt to set a new world's record. He already has done 14 feet.

Debutante Engaged — Washington — Anglo-American alliance: Miss Betty Thorpe, debutante daughter of Colonel and Mrs. George C. Thorpe, is engaged to Arthur J. Pack, secretary of the British embassy.

RUBIO WOUNDED BY ASSASSIN

Two hours after he had been sworn in as president of Mexico, Pascual Ortiz Rubio was wounded in the jaw by one of six bullets fired by a youthful assassin. One bullet grazed the face of Senora Ortiz Rubio, wife of the president.

Rio Janeiro, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Government police were engaged today in a roundup of suspicious characters in this capital, believing a shooting affray in the state of Minas Gerais in which the Vice President, Mello Vianna, was wounded might be the result of a widespread plot.

The Vice President was shot in the neck and in the head, but his three wounds were not considered serious. A special train carrying him and fourteen other wounded from Montes Carlos, where the shooting occurred, arrived at Belo Horizonte, and the Vice President, much improved, was taken to his home. Five persons were killed in the affray.

Minas Gerais in the stronghold of the Brazilian opposition whose Presidential candidate is Getulio Vargas. The state is a hotbed of Vargas sentiment and there has been frequent talk of Federal intervention in its administration during the past few weeks.

Conflicting reports were received of the nature of the fight, were received here. One version said the shooting started in a banquet hall after a violent political discussion. The liberal party issued a statement casting reflection on the reliability of government information concerning the affair because of censorship.

Two members were admitted to membership in the club. They were Jim Vorsey and Jim Gurley. J. Frank Farrington delivered the address of induction in which he stressed the importance of the club and the members' duty to render a higher service to the community.

Two solo members were rendered by Mrs. Lulu Ruffin acting as accompaniment.

The fireworks actually got under way when the program was turned over to Senator Blount, who had arranged several stunts that provoked much laughter. Two quartets, the first a mixed and the second composed entirely of men, brought down the house with two numbers that were new to the club.

The singers were introduced as experts in their line who had made extensive preparations for the evening's program. Members of each group had a difficult time raising a tune, and a much more difficult time carrying it after it had been raised.

The introduction of the speaker of the evening probably came in for more oratorical effort than any other single event of the club has staged in years. Four speakers attempted to make the introduction, but each was forced to sit down before he had completed his speech because his time was up. During the last speech a telephone at the table of Secretary C. B. Rowlett began to tinkle, and the wives got a "low down" on the activities of their husbands as they pertained to other members of the fair sex.

R. C. Deal, lieutenant-governor of the district, spoke for two minutes. His talk sparkled with wit and humor. Several ladies holding lucky numbers were awarded prizes and baskets of flowers.

The tables were tastefully decorated with baskets of cut flowers, and at the plate of each guest was a favor in the way of a paper hat which, when donned, gave the assemblage a picturesque setting.

The Kiwanians had arranged a unique plan of getting away from their wives after they reached the club building. It all came about through a harmless-looking envelope which a lady was presented with while going down the receiving line. In the envelope was the name of the lady's partner for the evening, and that is how so many men found their way in the company of some other man's wife during the two hours required to put on the program across.

Lindbergh Camp Tehachapi Mountains, Cal., Feb. 8.—(AP)—Forestalled by unfavorable wind conditions in attempts to make anything except very short flights, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today temporarily deserted his experimental glider camp here.

After a disappointing experience just before midnight last night when his boyish enthusiasts over an anticipated extensive night flight was dashed at the last minute by an unfavorable weather report, Lindbergh packed up and returned to Los Angeles.

He intimated that he would make no further glider tests here for an indefinite period, but ordered that the camp be maintained in readiness for use in the event favorable wind conditions developed.

Lindbergh today planned to put his new low-winged monoplane speed ship, custom built for him and Mrs. Lindbergh at Burbank, Cal., through its pace in department of commerce license tests. Later his associates here believe he may scout around for a more favorable glider proving ground if conditions here do not improve.

Rhineland to "Stand Pat" On Nevada Divorce

Las Vegas, Nevada, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Leonard Kip Rhineland today awaited a reply to the ultimatum issued through his attorney to his former wife, Alice Jones Rhineland, whom he recently divorced in Nevada.

Rhineland served notice here yesterday that he intended to "stand pat" on his Nevada divorce, and will unless Mrs. Rhineland withdraws her separate maintenance suit now pending in the New York courts, discontinue the allowance of approximately $220 per month she is now receiving from him.

Mrs. Rhineland has declined to acknowledge the Nevada decree. Several years ago Rhineland lost an annulment suit in New York when Mrs. Rhineland succeeded in establishing that he knew before their marriage that she was the daughter of a New Rochelle, N. Y. negro cabman.

Harley A. Harmon, counsel for Rhineland, announced he had written to Mrs. Rhineland's attorney in New Rochelle placing Rhineland's final offer of a money settlement before them, and expressing his willingness to confer regarding it provided the New York litigation is discontinued.
