LARGE CROWD AT SERVICES FOR SCOUTS

Rev. Lee Sadler Spoke On 'Margins of Life' at Union Services Last Evening

One of the largest and most attentive audiences in the history of Boy Scouting in Greenville gathered at the local Methodist church last night to pay tribute to the local organization and the ideas for which it stands. The service was presided over by the local pastor, Rev. Lee Sadler, who, in his most able manner, is devoting his untiring efforts along with other members of the citizens committee in the building of our local organization. The service opened with several musical numbers by a special male quartet and choir followed by the reading of the well known but always interesting scripture lesson from the sixth chapter of Luke. Following a special number by the male quartet, Prof. Deal, in a few well chosen words, introduced Rev. Lee Sadler of the local Christian church, who, without imposing upon the time of his large congregation with undue formality stepped forward to his subject "The Margins of Life."

Dr. Sadler brought the urgent appeal of the scripture lesson to his attentive hearers in several practical ways through incidents of life, going first to an inspiration received during his recent visit to the city of Cleveland where, during a few moments of recess from the conference to which he had gone, he walked down along the great lake water front and viewed the long "waterway" constructed there by the city at an enormous expense, then coming back in his dramatic way made the application to the Scouts and entire audience, urging them to build great "breakers" in their own lives, not that they may need them at this time, but to build them against the time when the winds may rise and whip the waters of life into a raging storm.

Pointing again to examples of "Margins" or preparedness, as the Scouts term it, Dr. Sadler led the minds of his listeners back to the city of Rome, where he himself stood during the hot, dry and dusty month of July and pictured there in what same city in the same month many years ago Paul, that noble missionary of God, writing to Timothy and requesting his cloak, do apparently a foolish thing to do at that time of year, yet he was saying "margin" against the "old months" that were to follow. Then again he pointed to the scene, shut up in his laboratory when he might be out in the world doing pleasant things, and yet the long years of work and study he is saying away "margin" that some day will bring him before the world with some epoch-making discovery. Passing unheeded the possibility of some misunderstanding as to his sponsoring the accumulation of wealth or worldly goods Dr. Sadler urged the Scouts on to a life of "Thrill," directing his hearers to the fact that since the beginning of time it has been one of the most elemental instincts of the race to accumulate property—to own something of their own and also to the fact that a man is a better citizen when he has laid away something for a rainy day.

Touching again upon one of the fundamentals of Boy Scouting he brought before the boys very impressively the need of a "physical" reserve, built up through years of clean moral living and stored in their bodies, which are nothing less than the Temples of God, against the day that may come to any of us which will need all available vitality. Coming to the close of his sermon in a quite but most impressive tone of voice Dr. Sadler urged the Scouts and others of his congregation to not only lay away these margins but to look well to that most important of all margins—That Margin of the Divine Within Our Souls—without which all other margins may be washed away, event as the sands of the shore.

Farmer Shoots Three Children, And Kills Self

Covington, Ga., Feb. 10.—(AP) Roger Smith, 40, farmer, today shot his three children wounded two of them fatally and then killed himself. The children were taken to an Atlanta hospital where two of them died.

Sheriff B. L. Johnson, to whom a report of the tragedy was made, was unable to assign a cause for Smith's act. At the Atlanta hospital, it was said the third child had little chance to recover.

The children, two boys and a girl, were aged 11, 9, and 7 respectively.

FOUR MEMBERS RUM TRAFFIC TAKEN IN PITT

Federal Officers Also Take Two Stills and Material in Raids in Belvoir Township

Federal officers swooped down over Pitt county last night and captured four members of the illicit whiskey traffic, two stills, two mules and carts, two gallons of whiskey and 2,500 gallons of beer. It was indicated today that further arrests were expected during the next several hours.

Those arrested, all of whom were colored, were: Frank Williams, Alex Reese, Willie Reese and Moses Jones. They were given preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Thomas E. Beaman here this morning and sent to jail in default of $500 bond each.

The raid occurred in Belvoir township shortly after the midnight hour last night and took the distillers completely by surprise. The negroes were placed under arrest without the slightest show of resistance.

The stills were in operation and the men had just driven up with a load of material with the mules and carts when they were taken in custody by the officers.

Five federal officers participated in the raid. They were: B. C. Flechum, H. S. Barbary, A. C. Hawkins, R. S. Morton and W. S. Morrow.

It was the first raid staged here by federal officers since last fall when numbers of members of the traffic were rounded up in one of the most extensive drives against the whiskey traffic in years. Commissioner Beaman said other arrests were expected momentarily as a result of the activities of the officers during the last several hours.

Federal authorities stated today that Murray Whitford, wanted in this city for violation of the prohibition law, had been returned to Greenville to face trial next Friday morning. He was arrested recently at Marion, S. C., upon information furnished by officers here.

Probe Beating of Student at State

Raleigh, Feb. 10.—(AP)—North Carolina State college officials today were investigating the story of Charles Kellenberger, Jr., a sophomore, that he was beaten severely by five masked men who entered his dormitory room.

Meanwhile, the youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kellenberger, of Greensboro, was at the home of his parents with serious injuries. He has bruises about the face and body and, his physician said, is possibly injured internally.

Kellenberger, whose story of the attack was published today, said he was asleep when the masked men entered his room early Saturday morning. They jumped on him, he said, and beat him, one of the intruders striking him with a blackjack and knocking him unconscious.

When he regained consciousness, he said, he drove in his father's automobile which he had at the college to his home.

SAYS RELIEF BILL FACING HARD FIGHT

Senator Simmons Declares Somebody in House Trying to Kill $6,000,000 Issue

Somebody in the House of Representatives of the United States is trying to kill the bill that would provide $6,000,000 for the relief of distressed farmers of the southeast, in the opinion of Senator F. M. Simmons, writing to Judge F. M. Wooten, of Greenville.

While every effort is being made by proponents of the bill to bring about its passage, Senator Simmons expressed belief that they were faced with considerable delay and that even in event of passage it would come too late to be of any great value to the farmers in financing the present crop.

The letter in its entirety follows: Washington, D. C. February 8, 1930.

My Dear Mr. Wooten: Your telegram was received. The President, according to his promise, adjusted the matter so that the Budget Bureau raised its recommendation from $3,000,000, to $6,000,000. However, a suggestion has been made to the House Committee, which is now under consideration, looking toward increasing the amount to $12,000,000 and making it of national-wide application. We are resisting this, upon the ground that $12,000,000 spread over the entire country would be too small and that the amount each section would get would be inadequate. We are insisting furthermore that, if there should be appropriated the $12,000,000 for the country at large, that they segregate the amounts to be allowed each section so that our section would have the $9,000,000 originally proposed. We are doing all we can toward this end.

It looks like there is somebody in the House who is trying by redirection to kill this legislation.

I am afraid the intermediate Credit Bank at Columbia is not in a condition to be as liberal in lending in our section as we have desired, and that their conditions are so drastic that we will not be able to get from them an adequate amount, even where a loan is granted by them. I am going to have a conference with the Federal Farm Bureau early next week, with a view to getting them to permit our section to utilize the Baltimore Intermediate Credit Bank instead of the Columbia Bank. This was done a few years ago for a while at my instance. The Baltimore Bank is by much the better condition to help us than the Columbia Bank, and I am sure, from what I have recently learned, that they would be very much more liberal with us.

Faithfully yours,
F. M. SIMMONS.

Mrs. Jackson Dies At Winterville

Mrs. Alice Jackson, 67, widow of the late Shadrach Jackson of Ayden died this morning at the home of her niece, Mrs. W. M. Carroll, at Winterville, where she had made her home for the last nine years.

Man Escapes From Insane Institution and Gets Married

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian H. Willem registered at a hotel Friday afternoon, and Willem, who is 47 years old, ordered a bridal dinner for 200 and guests, paying cash for it. He and his bride, age 18, were the only arrivals, however, and Willem invited every one in the hotel lobby to participate. He also provided cigars for all who entered the hotel.

Yesterday while the Willems entertained a number of new acquaintances in their rooms, guards of the Southern Indiana Hospital for the Insane entered and removed the groom to the institution. Willem had escaped Friday morning, joining his bride to be, and with the aid of a taxicab driver obtained the marriage license.

Mrs. Willem, formerly Miss Gertrude Shrewsbury, dishwasher at the institution, said she still loved her husband and would attempt to have him released.

Mr. McCaskill died at his home here yesterday following a heart attack with which he was stricken Friday.

Largest Rum Conspiracy In Life Of Prohibition Discovered At Chicago

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Today's Herald and Examiner declared that "the biggest liquor conspiracy in the history of prohibition enforcement" had been uncovered by Federal agents, and that more than 150 persons are involved.

A ring, or syndicate, operating from coast to coast and with headquarters in Chicago "has made millions of dollars and has flooded the United States with millions of gallons of spurious hooch," the newspaper said.

"And most astounding of all" the account continues, "the United States government has supplied every drop of the liquor."

The Federal investigation has been under way since last July, the Herald and Examiner said, and involves the withdrawal and diversion of industrial alcohol.

Agents under direction of Alexander Jamieson, chief of agents in this district, discovered evidence of a conspiracy for the diversion of denatured alcohol from legitimate commercial usages to bootleggers. The denatured alcohol, by chemical process, was made the basis of a considerable portion of bootleg liquor offered for sale in this country.

The agents did not pretend to have traced more than one fifth of the total of alcohol thus diverted, but they definitely traced diversion of 4,000,000 gallons of such alcohol in Chicago, and half that much in New York. At $10 a gallon that represents a business of $60,000,000 in two cities. A gallon of alcohol, the newspaper pointed out, is equivalent to more than two gallons of whiskey, gin or brandy.

Seizure of a carload of denatured alcohol last summer started the Federal agents on the track of the alleged conspiracy. That alcohol was shipped by the Dee Drug company of New York and was consigned to A. Sobren, Chicago.

The agents, according to the newspaper, learned that Sobren was a chemist who came to this country several years ago from France, failed to prosper at the manufacture of perfume and then, in 1923, suddenly was credited with having discovered a formula for extracting the essential oils from hair tonics, perfumes and such articles of trade which contain alcohol.

Shortly afterward the A. Sobren and company was opened. The Southern Disinfectant company, the Chicago Essential Oil and Chemical company and the Chatelat products company also came into existence. Numerous firms suddenly appeared as perfumery plants, obtaining permits for the withdrawal of alcohol from government-licensing stations.

As the government pictures it, the Herald and Examiner said, the alcohol was mixed with "essential oils" supplied by one of the Chicago companies, and the resultant product was sold to certain druggists as hair tonics, and so forth. The product would then be sold by the druggist to bootleggers who, equipped with knowledge of the process for extracting the alcohol, were able to manufacture liquor.

In cases where the government, becoming suspicious, might trace shipments, the agents were told by the druggists that the tonics had already been sold.

The government also investigated the New York end of the original alcohol shipment and found Benjamin I. Dvornan president of the Dee Drug company. A man of the same name left in Chicago in 1927, the newspaper said, following a six months' sentence for gray law violation. Other leads carried the agents to Kansas City, Los Angeles, San Francisco and other cities.

NOMINATION OF HUGHES SENT TO THE SENATE

Judiciary Committee Makes Favorable Report On The New Chief Justice

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The nomination of Charles Evans Hughes, to be Chief Justice, was reported favorably to the Senate today by the Senate Judiciary Committee by a vote of 10 to 2.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, the chairman of the committee, and Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, voted against the favorable report of Hughes.

The nomination will go before the Senate immediately.

Early confirmation was looked for, although Norris and Blaine are expected to voice their view before a vote is taken in that chamber.

Hughes was nominated for the Chief Justiceship of the United States, to succeed William Howard Taft, who tendered his resignation a week ago because of ill health.

President Hoover lost but little time in selecting Mr. Hughes for the post, announcing the appointment a few hours after Taft's resignation had been tendered.

Mr. Hughes served on the Supreme Court as an Associate Justice more than a decade ago, resigning to accept the Republican Presidential nomination in 1916.

Until the committee action there had been no indication of opposition to Mr. Hughes for the post.

His selection met with widespread approval in Congressional circles. Many members of the House and Senate issued statements endorsing the decision of the Chief Justice.

Unusually enough Mr. Hughes was chosen to succeed the man who years before had appointed him an Associate Justiceship of the court.

Senator Norris said he would report the nomination to the Senate as soon as possible. He added that he had no intention of waging a contest to block confirmation in view of the apparent overwhelming majority for Hughes.

Not all of the committee was present at the session which was devoted largely to the reading of a long letter of protest to Hughes' nomination from Henry L. Doherty, New York attorney.

Discussing his opposition to Hughes after the committee meeting, Norris said:

"I have a very high regard for Mr. Hughes and it is very embarrassing to vote against him. His qualifications for the place are admitted but I think we are setting a very bad and dangerous precedent. He resigned from the Supreme Court to run for President.

"I have no fault to find with that. He tried his luck in that race and was defeated. Now the President puts him back on the bench with a promotion. That kind of practice will injure the effectiveness of the Supreme Court and the respect in which it is held. The court will become a football of politics. Judges will mix up with politicians. They will make decisions along political lines. They will run for office and if they fail they will come back and get a promotion.

PRES. HOOVER BEIGNS FISHING AT LONG KEY

Chief Executive Cast First Line From the "Goofus Boy" This Morning

Long Key, Fla., Feb. 10.—(AP)—President Hoover today began the seven days of fishing that will make his first vacation since he assumed office 11 months ago.

Accompanied by Justice Harlan, Chief Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, Mark Sullivan, writer and newspaperman, and Dr. Vernon Kellogg, the Chief Executive whirred out the first of his angling vacation from the stern of the "Goofus Boy" about the middle of the morning. The quartet embarked in the little fishing craft shortly after they had completed breakfast aboard the "Saunterer" in which was chartered from Jeremiah Milbank for the trip.

The "Goofus Boy" pulled away from the "Saunterer" which had anchored about a mile off Long Key in the Gulf of Mexico and passed around the island to the Atlantic Ocean and the prolific banks of the area.

Other members of the Hoover party remained aboard the Saunterer and the Kilkenny, Department of Commerce yacht which is also being used in connection with the trip.

The anglers faced sullen weather during the day, and at times encountered short, light showers.

The Chief Executive and Mrs. Hoover, accompanied by Justice Harlan F. Stone of the United States Supreme Court, and Mrs. Stone, Mark Sullivan, writer and newspaperman, and Mrs. Sullivan and Dr. Vernon Kellogg, had breakfast aboard the houseboat with Jeremiah Milbank, of New York and Mr. Milbank, from whom the craft had been chartered.

Lawrence Richey, one of the President's secretaries, and Mr. Richey, Dr. Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, and the secretary staff brought from the White House went aboard the Department of Commerce boat "The Kilkenny," which will be near the "Saunterer" as it cruises through the flats and reefs where the President will fish.

Both vessels prepared to put off immediately. Two coast guard cutters were at anchor near the two house boats.

Before the "Saunterer" sailed Mr. and Mrs. Milbank came ashore. The only member of the President's immediate party who did not go to sea was Captain Allen Buchanan, the Chief Executive's naval aide. He said he didn't need any sea duty just at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover apparently were not tired by their long train journey and both greeted the crews of the two boats by shaking hands all around. Mrs. Hoover called each sailor by name and asked particularly for one or two members of the "Kilkenny" crew. She accompanied Mr. Hoover on several fishing trips aboard "The Kilkenny" when he was Secretary of Commerce.

A small crowd, composed almost entirely of fishermen down from the north greeted the President as he came out of his car. Beyond an exchange of greetings there was no ceremonies and Mr. Hoover went immediately to the Saunterer. Photographers and moving picture men recorded the hundred yard walk in complete detail. When the boat was reached he stood at the head of the gangplank for a moment to pose.

"Get along and let's get through with this," he said. Mrs. Hoover and the remainder of the party went below.

Woman Killed By Liquor Runners

Los Angeles, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Believed to have been "taken for a ride" and slain by a gang of rum runners, the body of Mrs. Billie Payne, 33, was at the morgue here today while police searched for the owner of a stained handkerchief bearing the initial "H" and regarded as the best clue to the murder.

Mrs. Payne's body was found early yesterday on the Long Beach-Los Angeles highway by James Allen, of Long Beach. Parts of the woman's clothing and jewelry had been scattered along the highway for a quarter of a mile before her beaten body was thrown from a speeding automobile.

The woman's skull had been fractured three times by heavy blows and one arm was torn off.

SEEK SPEEDY WORK ON THE TARIFF ISSUE

Leaders of All Factions Join in Appeal for Speed in Senate Today

Washington, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Leaders of all factions joined in an appeal in the Senate today for speedy disposition of the tariff bill which has been before that body since September 5.

Asserting the "country is anxiously awaiting action," Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, said the Senate should not adjourn on Lincoln's birthday but should meet every day until this bill is passed.

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, agreed the bill should be expedited and appealed to senators to attend sessions to prevent "frequent unnecessary roll calls" and to refrain from discussion of irrelevant matters.

For the Republican Independents, Senator McMaster, of South Dakota, said the measure should be speeded up, but added that if the Republican old guard had not defeated the Birch resolution last June to limit the revision to agriculture rates, the bill would have been out of the way by Christmas.

Agriculture has joined hands with labor in opposing the tariff bill as rewritten by the Senate.

An open letter from representatives of seven of the leading farm organizations of the country was in the hands of members of the Senate today charging them with forgetting the "objective for which tariff readjustment was begun."

Only a few days ago a similar open letter came from the tariff group of the American Federation of Labor, arguing that the slashes in rates on manufactured articles threatened the well-being of working men in a group of industries. The letter warned them an election was approaching.

The letter from the farm organizations presented excerpts from the acceptance speech of President Hoover and said that members of "general farm organizations and co-operators who had been called here by the situation that has arisen have noticed that the objective for which tariff adjustment

"This forgetfulness," the communication added, "was illustrated by the defeat of the rates which were requested by a combined agriculture on sugar, blackstrap molasses, casing, hides and the fats and oils."

Drs. Sawyer and Brown Take Over Dr. Ellen's Office

It is with pleasure that we announce that Dr. Charles J. Sawyer, formerly of Windsor, and Dr. W. M. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of this city, have taken over the office of the late Dr. C. J. Ellen and will be associated in the practice of eye, ear, nose and throat specialty.

It will be recalled that Dr. Sawyer recently came to Greenville with the idea of taking over the office and practice of the late Dr. Ellen but withdrew when he learned that others had already been negotiating for them.

Greenville is indeed fortunate to secure the services of Dr. Sawyer. Friends have expressed their gratification at his coming. Those who know him speak of him as a physician and surgeon of great ability and a man of delightful personality. In Windsor and surrounding district where he has practiced his profession for more than twenty years he is held in high esteem.

Dr. and Mrs. Sawyer are members of the Episcopal church. Both have been active in church work, and Mrs. Sawyer has been especially prominent in the affairs of the Woman's Club.

Dr. Sawyer graduated from the Maryland School of Medicine and College of Physicians and Surgeons at Baltimore. He prepared for his special work at the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary. He did post graduate work at Cornell University and Harvard.

Dr. Brown, who is well known in the city, studied medicine at the Medical College of Virginia at Richmond, and has just recently completed his internship at the Lucas County Hospital, Toledo, Ohio. He is a grandson of the late Dr. W. M. B. Brown.

POULTRY SALE UNDER WAY IN PITT COUNTY

Two Shipments Recently Netted Farmers Approximately $3,000

Pitt county poultry raisers have completed their second co-operative shipment of the year and the sale netted them approximately $1,600, according to information given out at the office of the County Farm Department today.

It was stated that there was about 8,200 pounds of poultry contained in the shipment which was sold on the Philadelphia market.

The first sale of the year was made several days ago and netted the growers something like $1,500.

Another sale will be made next week and the growers are expected to derive about as much cash as they received from each of the first two assignments of the year.

Shipments of poultry are made during the late fall and spring at this time, but E. F. Arnold, director of the Farm Department, said he hoped to be able to sell all the year around in the course of a few years when the industry becomes more extensive.

The raising of poultry for co-operative shipments has received much interest from farmers of the various communities during the last few years, and prominent agricultural leaders are hopeful the industry will be greatly increased in future years as the people begin to realize the profit to be derived from the sales.

HENRY MARTIN EMPLOYED AS SAN. OFFICER

Whole-Time Sanitary Officer to Begin Work in Greenville Immediately

Mayor J. C. Lanier announced this morning that Henry Martin had been appointed to the office of whole-time sanitary inspector of the city of Greenville.

Martin, the mayor said, was chosen from 43 applicants who filed their applications during the last three days. He will begin work immediately under direction of the State Sanitary Inspector who is conducting a five months' campaign in Pitt county, and who has offered his services in the training of inspectors for the various towns of the county.

The decision to employ a whole-time inspector was reached at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen last Thursday night. Representatives of the County Health Department appeared before the board and told of the need of improving the system of handling the sanitary situation and urged the appointment of an all-time inspector to work in conjunction with the department in its effort to improve health conditions.

Members of the board were of the opinion that they should be able to employ an inspector and let him handle the situation in an organized way at the same price they had been paying for this work and from which they had not gotten desired results.

The board placed the matter in the hands of Mayor J. C. Lanier with instructions to hire a man immediately and let him receive training under the State inspector and in that way familiarize himself with the work in this field.

Martin is well known in Greenville, having been connected with the tobacco industry over a period of several years. He will have full police authority to enable him to enforce the sanitary laws, and the public has been asked to co-operate with him in every way possible. He will not make inspections of dairies and slaughter houses, this work having been left in the hands of Dr. Alex Viola.

Lance Officials See Bright Future

Mr. S. A. Van Every, president of the Lance Packing Company, in a talk before salesmen and officials of the company Saturday night painted a very bright picture for the ensuing year. Mr. Van Every explained how the lowered rediscount rate of the federal banks and the loan arranged by the government for the farmers would effect Eastern North Carolina very favorably.

Mr. C. E. Taylor, manager of the Eastern North Carolina branch with headquarters in Greenville, welcomed the officials. In a short talk Mr. Taylor explained the purpose of the meeting and said that hereafter it would be a regular affair.

The sales manager, Mr. J. H. Bostick, spoke on business of the company in particular and said that a very nice percentage of increase had been made in January of this year over the same period last year. He also talked very favorably of the future.

Short talks were made by Mr. H. Elmo Savage, of the Rocky Mount territory, Mr. B. F. Bullard of the Greenville location, Mr. M. B. Lanston of New Bern, Mr. T. M. Rogers of Goldsboro, Mr. C. L. Wright of the Weldon-Emporia, Va. territory, and Mr. J. C. Bilkard, of the Suffolk territory. Without a single exception all reports were very encouraging for the near future.

The meeting was preceded by an enjoyable oyster feed at the Yum Yum Barbecue Palace.

HYSTERIA SHOULD BE AVOIDED.

While everyone realizes the situation and the basis for general protest at high taxes, there are certain facts that we should keep in mind. And most important of all we should avoid hysteria. Taxes represent the citizen's obligation to his county and State. It is an obligation that cannot be nullified or legislated out of existence. The county cannot repudiate its debts. If property taxes are lowered—and we think they should be—the difference must be made up somewhere else.

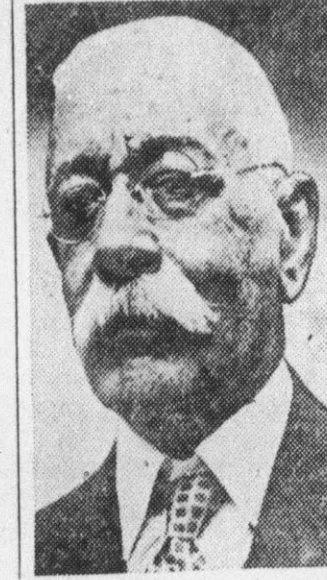

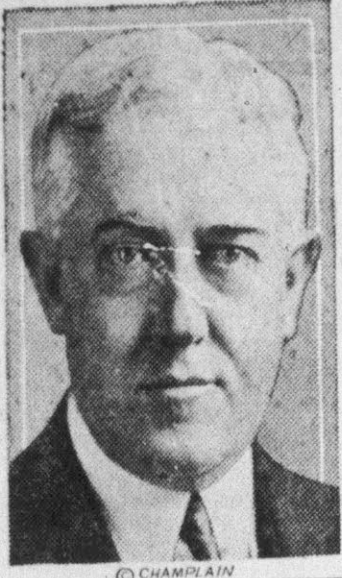

It is a time for constructive thinking. Perhaps there is an emergency that warrants drastic action. But we should not be stampeded into error or undue haste. If the State's credit could be employed to forestall positive injustice and disaster for landowners that might be warrantable and wise, or it might not. If by paring down budgets tax rates can be lowered that may be wise. But we should not deceive ourselves into believing that taxes can be reduced by a mere gesture.

Sentiment generally seems to be crystallizing around the idea of a sales tax as a possible means of relieving real property. There is no doubt that such a tax is sound in principle and thoroughly democratic. Under the present arrangement there are many citizens making practically no contribution toward the cost of government and public benefits who are amply able to do so. These people have average incomes, live well and enjoy all the privileges and benefits that taxes make possible, but they pay very little toward the support of the government. It is only when they begin to accumulate capital or invest in real property, that the State lays a hand upon them and demands tribute. Thus thrift and enterprise are penalized and discouraged.

The system is at fault somewhere and it is surely initiative and blocking progress. In finding a remedy we should make sure that the same mistake is not made again. Real property is overvalued and over-taxed. This represents injustice and relief should be just as speedy as possible.—Laurinburg Exchange.

Sent Back to Angels Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The connection of pitcher August Walsh with the Chicago Cubs, which started after the 1929 season closed, already is ended. Walsh was obtained from the Los Angeles club of the coast league early this winter, and has been transferred back to the Angels.

ABOUT TOWN

How to report the income tax return of a minor is a subject of frequent inquiry. The revenue act specifically provides that every individual that has a net income of $1,500 or over, or $3,500 or over depending upon his marital status, shall file a return. However, whether the minor has been emancipated—allowed control of his income—but his parents and the source of the minor's income are material factors in determining how the income shall be taxed. Most minors are unemancipated. In such instances, the parent has the legal right to the minor's earnings and must include them in his return.

A minor living in the home of his parent may be emancipated. If the minor pays his board and otherwise supports himself, there is an implied emancipation. The same rule governs if the minor is carrying on a business for himself, and the parent exercises no control over his earnings. Emancipation may be implied, generally or limited. However, generally, and in the absence of proof to the contrary, a parent is assumed to have the legal right to the earnings of his minor child, and the minor's earnings are taxable income to the parent.

On the other hand, any income to an unemancipated minor not analogous to earnings, such as interest, dividends, rents, royalties, etc., from a bonafide trust fund or from property possessed by the minor, are not to be included in the parent's return. Instead such income must be reported on a separate return of the minor and be taxed to him as in the case of an individual. The return is to be filed either by the minor, or his parent, or by the trustee of a trust fund in behalf of the minor.

Members of the Ministerial Association are conducting a religious survey of Greenville preparatory to an evangelistic campaign during the month of April. The public has been asked to cooperate in every way possible so that the census may be complete. It is absolutely imperative that the survey cover every neighborhood if the religious campaign during the spring is to bring the desired results.

Persons in every part of the city are urged to answer the questions of those in charge of the survey, and in that way assist the association in its effort to compile the most complete record in history of the city.

People in all sections of the county have been urged to cooperate with the State Sanitary Inspector who will be in the county for the next five or six months trying to improve the sanitary condition of the various communities. This is the first time the State Inspector has visited the county in five years, and he will not come again in a similar number of years, so it is up to all towns to assist him in every way possible in making each place a more desirable place to live. While each of the towns has been endeavoring to keep as clean as possible, the programs of sanitation have been conducted in such a way that little results were obtained. Success in this field like all others demands organized effort, a complete knowledge of state and city laws as they pertain to sanitation, and last but not least, a man in charge who knows what he is doing. Should each town be able to appoint some individual to work in conjunction with the state official there is little doubt but that the future would be filled with more achievement. Greenville has taken this step and it is to be hoped other towns will do likewise, and let the State official assist in giving each of the inspectors a thorough working knowledge of what is required in this life of activity.

The fund now being raised for community relief continues to grow from day to day, but the sum is still far inadequate to take care of the situation.

Persons who have not contributed are urged to do so immediately in order that the committee in charge of the campaign may know exactly how much how much money it will have to carry on its work.

Splendid results are being obtained from operation of the commissary on Dickinson avenue, and contributions both in cash, clothing and fuel have been liberal. Still, there is a pressing need for more funds and the sooner the amount is increased the sooner the committee will be able to take care of the situation.

ALABAMA AND W. & L. HOLD TO CAGE LEAD

Atlanta, Feb. 10. — (AP) — The chance are that Alabama and Washington and Lee leaders in the Southern Conference basketball race, will retain their positions during the next week.
 Alabama, topping the circuit with eight victories, has only Georgia Tech to dispute of, while Washington and Lee, sharing the lead with the Tusculoosa eagles in percentage but one behind from the standpoint of games won, meet Maryland and Virginia.

The Wednesday night battle marks the first meeting of the Tech and Alabama squads by the record of the two teams would indicate a victory for Alabama, while Washington and Lee previously has beaten Virginia and Maryland. Thirty games, 23 of which are between conference opponents, are listed on this week's cage card.
 Last week's results eliminated Sewanee from the select circle and left only Alabama and Washington and Lee unbeaten.
 Both Alabama and Washington and Lee won three games last week. Alabama beat Louisiana State and then whipped Tennessee while the Lexington Generals spanked Maryland, Virginia and Sewanee.
 Sewanee fell before Tennessee and then went on to beat Virginia Polytechnic and Virginia Military Institute before falling again before Washington and Lee Saturday night.
 Kentucky held to its third place rating by whipping both Clemson and Georgia Tech. Tennessee remained in the forefront by beating Vanderbilt.
 Duke turned back North Carolina State's 1929 champions Saturday night for the second time this season. The Raleigh Red Terrors previously had beaten Georgia 28-24, North Carolina beat Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Virginia but lost to Maryland and Washington and Lee.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD
 (Associated Press Sports Editor)
 The Middle West, hot center with centering the main football weeks last season, is setting the pace for the college basketball pack.
 The inter-sectional returns so far show that Loyola of Chicago and Butler took the measure of Montana State, Rocky Mountain champions; Kansas of the Big Six triumphed California; and Creighton of Iowa handed out the only setback suffered so far by Syracuse, top-team on the Eastern courts.

Speaking of the wrestling racket, William S. Forman in the Chicago Daily News narrates:
 "In this locality wrestling for years has been controlled by Billy Sandow, head of the Western trust. For a long time one of his Chicago lieutenants was Ed White, now described by General Clinan as the head of the Eastern trust — which controls the Pennsylvania but not by Himeis as the heavyweight champion of the world. . . . Ed White figured in one of the historic incidents of the wrestling racket. He became involved in a quarrel with the rest of the gang and decided to show them up.
 "White had a wealth of inside information on the trust's operations. . . . so he put a mask on a wrestler named John Friberg and billed him as the anti-trust 'masked marvel' who positively would never take the mask off until thrown in honest competition. The trust promptly picked up the gauntlet. They instructed Bill Hookuff to go in there and tear the mask off that guy. The battle was held in a northside theatre. It was a square match and attracted a lot of attention. . . . After a brief but bitter struggle Hookuff pinned Friberg to the mat and removed the mask. Whereupon Mr. White walked to the front of the state and said:
 "Gentlemen, I want to say something about wrestling and I think you will agree that that is one thing I know something about. I want to say that you have witnessed tonight the first square wrestling match that has been held in Chicago in 20 years."

George Simpson undertakes an ambitious indoor program as the fore-runner of his last season of varsity competition in the Scarlet and Gray colors of Ohio State.
 The Buckeye Bullet, within the week of February 15-22, will compete on the boards at Evanston, Ill., New York, Toronto and Champaign, Ill., in a series of races that will pit him against some of the fastest men on the continent. His opponents in the New York Athletic Club's meet in Madison Square Garden February 15, will be hand-picked and he may encounter the Olympic champion, Percy Williams, at Toronto, February 20, in the Canadian indoor championships.

 Simpson has done sensational work on the cinders in the past two years, reaching his peak at Chicago last June when he raced to a new world record of 9:2-5 seconds for the century, using the starting blocks that have subsequently caused so much rumpus. He also equalled the furious mark of 20:3-5 seconds and his chief aim outdoors this year is to crack this mark as a farewell varsity gesture.

We Repeat Spit is a horrid word, but it is worse on the end of your cigar

... the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency ... join it. Smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

The man who spits in public places is no worse an offender against public decency than the workman who rolls cigars with dirty fingers and tips the ends with spit.
 Why punish the one and yet tolerate the filthy practice of the other? Smoke a cigar made in the most modern, spotless clean manner . . .
Certified Cremo. Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods developed by the United States Government during the war. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit!
 Try a Certified Cremo—see how wonderfully good it is! Made of the choicest, tenderest leaves that the crop affords, we claim Certified Cremo's quality is tastier than that of any other cigar. Don't let its 5c price stand in your way. Certified Cremo is the kind of cigar your physician has in mind when he recommends a mild smoke in place of heavy brands.
 Crush-proof . . . immaculate . . . foil-wrapped . . . Certified Cremo is the kind of cigar the late Vice-President Marshall undoubtedly had in mind when he said, "What this country needs is a good 5c cigar!"

WINTERVILLE BOYS HAVE A GOOD WEEK

Winterville, Feb. 10.—On Tuesday night of last week Winterville played Greenville high school and winning with the score 25 to 21. Wednesday afternoon they played Stokes, on Stokes court, and brought the victory home with a score of 59 to 16. Thursday afternoon they played Belvoir, on the Belvoir court, returning home with the victory of 9 to 3.

After all the hard work they had the hard day before, Friday afternoon they had a double-header with two strong teams, Walsontonbury and Falkland. The boys were tired from hard struggles they had already been through, but with courage and faith they started the game, each paying for the game and not to "fear".
 The first game that was played was with Falkland. Team "B" played this game with their head set on "victory". They played a good game, and with that "simple twist of the wrist" the forwards rolled the score to a 24 to 7 victory. Aglesby and R. Cox forwards, Forber and Jackson guards, A. McLawhorn center, and Williams sub, made the locals team.
 Then came the "whole cheese" Walsontonbury and team "A". Gee! What an exciting time it was to watch them pass that "ole apple" around the court. Since team "B" won their game they could not afford to break the weeks record by losing, so the more they thought of it the harder they fought. J. Worthington showed unusual are of losing the ball through the goal, while the others showed the same by feeding him the ball.
 J. Worthington and Craft forwards, McLawhorn and C. Worthington guards, E. Worthington center, and Speight sub made up that fast working team. J. Worthington and Craft were leading scorers for the locals while F. Fields lead the visitors.
 The boys played hard and to keep the "B's" from worrying them to death they left the court with a star added to their crown, a victory of 29 to 16.
 Falkland showed good sportsmanship while Walsontonbury seemed to be somewhat worried over the over-whelmed score.

Criticism: Fashionable Weddings
 New York—Fashionable weddings are criticized by the Rev. Dr. Caleb R. Steison, Episcopal rector of Trinity church. Writing in a church publication he says they are often vulgar display of wealth; the chure his so decorated with palms and trees and flowers that it resembles a flower show and it is made difficult to realize that a religious service is taking place.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today at a net advance of six to 11 points on a continuance of the covering movement responsible for Saturday's rally while there was some further trade buying and commission house demand promoted by the fairly steady showing of Liverpool.

The advance met some further liquidation but it seemed to be quite readily absorbed with May getting up to 15.67 and October to 17 points net higher during the early trading. This bulge met real selling by recent buyers. But the market was steady and within 6 to 7 points of the best at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables said that covering and Bombay buying had been supplied by realizing in the market there and that Manchester trade was slow in developing with only a small turnover in cotton goods.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Influenced by announcement of 3,811,000 bushels decrease of the United States wheat supply, total of the Chicago wheat market showed considerable firmness today. Especially during the late transactions, wheat prices tended upward, notwithstanding that export demand for wheat from North America remained slow. Much notice was taken that the falling-off in domestic visible stocks of wheat was more than 1,500,000 bushels greater than the shrinkage at this time last year.

Wheat closed strong 3-4 to 11-14c a bushel higher than Saturday's finish. Corn closed 3-8 to 7-8c advance, oats 1-4 to 3-8c up, and provisions 5c to 12c down.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The stock market alternately blew hot and cold today with neither "bulls" nor "bears" able to gain any decided advantage. A rally of about an hour's duration was followed by a renewal of selling pressure against some of the recently speculative favorites, particularly in the merchandising groups, but the general market stiffened again in the early afternoon when fresh buying operations developed in Radio and some of the public utility shares.

One of the most interesting trade developments of the day was the publication of the monthly tonnage report by the United States Steel Corporation, showing a gain of 51,517 tons in unfilled orders. This was the fifth consecutive increase in bookings, although it was below some of the earlier estimates. U. S. Steel common, which sold as high as 183 3-4 during the morning, sold down to 181 3-8 shortly after the figures were published.

The day's earnings reports were mixed in character. Gillette Safety Razor reported a decline of about $2,750,000 in net income for 1929, due largely to readjustments necessary in connection with the introduction of the new razor. Jersey Central Railroad income for 1929 fell more than $1,000,000 below the previous year.

U. S. Hoffman Machinery and Miller Rubber also made unfavorable comparisons. The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. reported net profit of $19,864,374 from which $1,250,000 was deducted as a reserve for contingencies, which compares with $13,327,840 in the previous year with no deductions.

New Jersey Central and New York & Harlem each broke 10 points. J. I. Case, Johns Manville, American Tobacco B, Sears Roebuck, Safeway Stores and Columbia Carbon sold down 3 to 4 points. Among the many stocks down two points or more were Montgomery Ward, American Water Wrks, Fox Film, American Can and Union Pacific.

Radio, which is believed to harbor a large short interest, was heavily bought in the early afternoon, crossing 42 for a gain of more than 2 points. Columbia Graphophone advanced in sympathy. Auburn Auto jumped 13 points in light trading and Brooklyn Union Gas Eastman Kodak, Peoples Gas, Norfolk & Western, Western Union and Underwood-Bush each broke three to five points higher.

MAN HELD FOR KILLING GIRL IN MICHIGAN

Body of Girl Dismembered and Then Buried in Woods; Found Saturday

Muskegon, Mich., Feb. 10.—(AP)—Arrested at his father's instigation, Forest Weaver, 28, was in jail today, the confessed slayer of Gladys Echardt, 20. He shot her, dismembered her body and buried it in the woods. It was found Saturday night.

Weaver, whose eccentricities had caused his family apprehension for some time, was slated for a quick sentencing unless his sanity was questioned by authorities. Recently he had worn a "ten gallon" hat and dressed to appear as a cowboy. He also posed as a deputy sheriff or federal prohibition agent.

Gladys Echardt had been married four years to Ronald Echardt, but was separated from him last spring. Weaver became acquainted with her a month ago. Friday afternoon Weaver and the young woman went to the woods near his home to take pictures of children skiing. Weaver's brother, George, 18, saw them go to the woods but did not see Mrs. Echardt return.

Saturday George followed their tracks and discovered the grave. He notified Muskegon officers, who went to the woods and discovered the mutilated body about midnight Saturday night. Weaver's father, J. O. Weaver, Muskegon city maintenance foreman, told the officers to "arrest my oldest son."

Forest Weaver was arrested early Sunday and readily admitted the slaying. "I killed her because I loved her," he said.

"I wanted her to live with me. She had received a letter from another man. We argued. I lost my head and shot her four times. I tried to carry the body, but fell down with it on top of me. Then I covered the body with a coat and went to the house and obtained a shovel and an axe. I chopped up her body and put it in a hole. I don't know why I chopped up the body, unless it was for excitement."

Weaver still was carrying the .44-Caliber revolver with which he shot Mrs. Echardt when he was arrested. The revolver has a single notch in the handle. He talked freely about the slaying and appeared to show no remorse.

One Hundred Years of Service

ON February 10, 1830, a little company of progressive people in Petersburg, Virginia, obtained from the General Assembly of Virginia a charter for the construction of a railroad from Petersburg "to some convenient point on the North Carolina line."

When completed it reached from Petersburg to Blakely, Va., one and a half miles below the falls of the Roanoke River, a total distance of 59 miles.

Not much of a railroad by modern standards! But an undertaking of some magnitude for those times; and one that, its advocates foresaw, would revolutionize industry and commerce.

They were empire builders, those pioneers of the Petersburg Railroad, who had unbending faith in the future of the South and in the success of the new enterprise. But as great as was their faith they could hardly have envisaged the changes that were to come.

Built as a local enterprise to increase trade, the Petersburg Railroad became in a few years a link in the "great mail" route between North and South and, with more than one hundred other roads, was later welded into the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company.

Today what was formerly the Petersburg Railroad is an essential part of a system comprising 5153 miles of railroad in Southeast Virginia, the Eastern Carolinas, Georgia, Florida and Southeast Alabama.

Over the heavy steel rails that long ago replaced the strap-iron track of the Petersburg Railroad, there moves a vast and varied traffic.

From North to South—from South to North—the great trains thunder past. Luxurious mile-a-minute passenger trains, each costing as much as the entire original cost of the Petersburg Road. Swift freight trains, laden with valuable cargoes.

Every train essential to the commerce of the nation. Every train a tribute to the vision of the founders, and of the men who followed after.

The Atlantic Coast Line of today has been a century in the making. It looks to the future with the same confidence as did that President of the Petersburg Railroad who wrote: "of the final success of such a line, no one can doubt who is the least acquainted with the immense intercourse of the country and with the great value of time in conducting its business."
