23 DIE IN UTAH MINE BLAST

SAYS DECISION TO CUT SUBS IS DEFINITE ONE

Secretary Stimson Is Gratified at Negotiations at London Naval Parley

London, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Both the American and British delegations to the London naval conference regard the position taken at yesterday's plenary session regarding submarines as representing a definite decision to restrict the use of submarines against merchant ships.

The statement of Secretary Stimson that he regarded yesterday's work as a significant achievement for the conference attracted widespread interest in view of the fact that submarine problems were referred to a committee for study without the plenary session expressing a formal view by vote.

During a conference with newspapermen last night the secretary said in part:

Concerning the plenary meeting I want to call your attention to the fact that there has been a definite decision by the naval conference today. Not a tentative one—a definite one.

"The five powers agreed to restrict the use of the submarine against merchant ships to the same rules which are applied to surface vessels.

"I want to say about that, that I regard that single incident as worth the visit of the American delegation here in London. That marks a step forward in a matter that our country once went to war about."

The secretary also said that impetus had been given for the movement for the eventual abolition of submarines.

Newspaper men this morning fired a volley of questions at the British spokesman concerning Secretary Stimson's pronouncement and were informed that the British delegation gave unequivocal adherence to the secretary's interpretation of yesterday's events.

The American delegation met this morning to work out the details of the white. Another development was the decision to stand firmly on their position that the unlimited categories, namely cruisers, destroyers and submarines, must be settled before the battleship problem finally is attacked.

It was confirmed that the French had presented tentative figures for the fleet tonnage desired by France these figures furnished a basis for practical progress in the committee which is drawing up a formula for combining global and category methods of measuring navies. A report of this committee is expected this afternoon.

Continue Probe of Attack Upon College Student

Raleigh, Feb. 12.—(AP)—No new gang attacks on sleeping students at State College have been reported since Saturday but college officials are continuing their investigation of the attack on Charles Kellenberger, Jr., of Greensboro.

Kellenberger reported that he was attacked by five masked men and was beaten into unconsciousness with a blackjack. The latest theory in connection with the case is that Kellenberger resisted an attempt to cut his hair.

Yesterday an editor of the Technician, student publication, received an unsigned letter from a writer purported to have been one of the men who entered Kellenberger's room. The letter asserted that Kellenberger's hair was cut by the intruders but that none in the party carried a blackjack.

Since the Kellenberger incident came to light Sunday at Greensboro, after the boy had gone to his home, it was developed that there had been five gang hair cuttings this semester and that there were seven last fall.

One of the students who suffered the loss of his hair last fall reported that he was struck in the head with a blunt instrument in the hands of one of the intruders and while unconscious his hair was cut.

Several Killed During Mutiny of Native Riflemen

Indo China, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Five French officers were killed, five were wounded, five Annamite troops were killed and six wounded in a mutiny of native riflemen at Yenbay, in Red River, 60 miles from here. Riflemen, aided by a number of civilian residents, tried to rush the camp, severe fighting occurring when the French loyal garrison attempted to repulse them.

The riflemen accompanied by 2000 Tonkin revolutionaries, all allegedly inspired by foreign revolutionary agitation.

Several hundred of the mutineers were killed and the remainder fled to the mountains.

The mutiny broke out on Sunday night and continued through Monday morning.

The French garrison was repulsed and the mutineers fled to the mountains.

More Than Two Thousand Gangsters Are Rounded Up In Chicago Crime War

Chicago, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The "mouthpiece" replaced the "rat" today as gangsters, cornered by an effective statute against carrying concealed weapons.

Should Gov. Louis L. Emmerson call a special session of the legislature this spring to consider tax changes, Col. Randolph planned to appeal to the chief executive to include revision of the criminal code on the calendar.

The gang chiefs have retreated to their hideouts but the police dragnet today still scooped up hundreds of alleged hoodlums, racketeers, gunmen.

Early today, the arrests of the law's offensive opened last Sunday, had mounted to more than 2,000, with more promised. Of this number, however, only 33 were found carrying guns.

The secret committee, composed of civic leaders, has suggested a habitual crime code, such as the Baumes Act in New York, and an effective statute against carrying concealed weapons.

THIEVES MAKE $50 HAUL AT GAS STATION

Robbers Use Axes to Batter Way Into the Johnson Filling Station and Make Haul

Using three axes with which to batter their way through the front door, robbers entered the J. C. Johnson Filling Station on the other side of Tar river last night and obtained goods estimated at $50.00 or more, according to information given out this morning at the office of S. A. Whitehurst, sheriff of Pitt county.

Although officers are reported to have tracked the thieves a considerable distance from the scene of the robbery they had been unable to make any arrest up to the noon hour today. However, it was stated that the three axes presented a working clue, and with the instruments as evidence the investigation was continued during the afternoon in the hope of bringing the culprits to justice.

After gaining entrance to the building, the thieves appropriated every variety of goods imaginable. It was thought they were in quest of money, but failing to find any, made away with every article carried in the filling station store. These included such things as tire patches, tobacco and other forms of merchandise.

Officers said they tracked the thieves to the home of a white man living a considerable distance from the filling station, and that the man identified the axes as some which had been stolen from him. Two sons are also said to have verified the identification, but they did not know when the axes were taken nor who took them.

Failing to gain entrance except through the door, the robbers wielded the axes with telling effect, breaking the lock and splintering the door with the force of the blows. It was one of the boldest and most daring robberies reported in this section in some time and officers hoped to be able to round up the responsible parties before tonight.

Other members of the president's party, however, put out in small boats to continue their sport. Word was brought from the Saunterer by Lawrence Richey, one of the president's secretaries, that Mr. Hoover also planned to anchor off Long Key in the Atlantic ocean shortly after noon and renew his efforts to land another sail fish as he caught an hour after he began fishing on Monday morning.

The president has been keeping in close touch with the naval arms conference, it was indicated yesterday and today by the activity of Captain Allen Buchanan, his naval aide, who was in telephone communication with the navy department in Washington at least twice yesterday. No information concerning the problems he was discussing could be obtained.

One of the reasons Mr. Hoover decided to remain aboard the Saunterer during the forepart of the day was that the sail fish seemed to be biting with more frequency and regularity after 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Fenner Fields is Buried at Homestead

Farmville, Feb. 12.—Mrs. Fenner Fields was formerly Miss Almada died early Monday morning at her home after an attack of double pneumonia. Funeral services were conducted this afternoon by Rev. S. Tandy, Christian minister of Farmville, and interment was made in the burial grounds nearby. Mrs. Fields was formerly Miss Almada Sutton, of Lenoir county. She leaves several children among whom is an infant of four days.

New Bern, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Blanche Barnes, 9, died early this morning as a result of burns received yesterday when her clothing caught fire.

She was playing with other children near a fire in the yard. Her clothing, with the exception of her shoes and stockings, was completely burned off.

Mount Airy.—(AP)—A negro and a white man were being taken to court. The negro made a break for liberty but when officers shot he fell to the ground moaning. He was unhurt.

New Bern, N. C.—(AP)—Oil drilling will be started in this section soon. An unnamed company has secured 32,000 acres of land.

Continue Plans for Mass Meeting Friday Evening

Plans continued today for the mass meeting to be held in the court house Friday night to discuss the agricultural situation and pending legislation looking to Congressional relief.

At this meeting, if it is deemed advisable, a committee will be chosen to go to Washington and impress upon the Congressional representatives from this state the importance of the passage of the Smith bill which would provide $6,000,000 for relief of the distressed farmers of five southeastern states.

The meeting is the result of correspondence from Senator F. M. Simmons in which he said the measure was facing delay and possible failure through opposition which has had just recently developed in the House.

PRES. HOOVER GIVES BIG FISH A DAY OF REST

Devotes Morning Hours to Going Through Considerable Volume of Mail

Long Key, Fla., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Refreshed and rested already by two days of excellent fishing in the waters of the Atlantic off the Florida Keys, President Hoover exercised the presidential prerogative of changing his mind and didn't go fishing this morning as he had planned.

Instead he stayed aboard the houseboat Saunterer and devoted his attention to the first batch of mail he has received since he left Washington Saturday night. The mail was brought to him in a special pouch from Miami, having arrived at the latter point yesterday morning by air mail.

Other members of the president's party, however, put out in small boats to continue their sport. Word was brought from the Saunterer by Lawrence Richey, one of the president's secretaries, that Mr. Hoover also planned to anchor off Long Key in the Atlantic ocean shortly after noon and renew his efforts to land another sail fish as he caught an hour after he began fishing on Monday morning.

Chairman Graham Sums Up Failure Of Prohibition At Opening Of The Hearing For Repeal Of "Dry Law"

Firemen Still Fighting Fire In Scuttled Liner

Blaze Aboard Muenchen Cost Two Lives and Damage of $3,000,000; Traffic Resumed Through Hudson River Tube This Morning

New York, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Heeled over against the pier with her stern resting in the mud, the crack North German Lloyd liner Muenchen lay today a heat-blistered hulk in her Hudson river slip at the foot of Morton street, off Greenwich Village. The fire cost two lives and caused $3,000,000 damage.

Two engine companies were still pumping water into the hold of the ship in their efforts to extinguish the smoldering fire and permit them to search for the body of Gustav Francke, third electrician of the liner, who was believed to have been trapped in the vessel and burned to death.

In addition to Francke, a fireman lost his life when he was blown from a fireboat into the water by the force of one of the explosions. The uptown Hudson river tube, through which the Hudson and Manhattan railroad company operates subway trains between New York and Hoboken and Jersey City, N. J., was reopened for traffic at 6 A. M. today, in time to accommodate the morning rush of commuters to New York.

The tube had been closed shortly after 1 P. M. yesterday as a precautionary measure, because the burning ship rested in the mud 30 feet above the top of the tunnel and officials feared another heavy explosion abroad the ship might damage the tube.

All but two engine companies were withdrawn today.

SEVERAL HELD IN HUGE RUM CONSPIRACY

Twenty-Five Indicted for Transporting Liquor From Canada Into United States

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Twenty-five persons were under indictment here today in what the government alleges was a huge conspiracy to transport liquor from Canada to northwest cities of the United States by mule pack trains.

The conspiracy, the government charged, had resulted in thousands of dollars worth of liquor being smuggled into the United States.

Three rum rings, accused of using pack trains to bring in the liquor, were said to have resorted to camouflage to ride the long lines of plodding, liquor-laden animals, and at times to have driven the mules over United States forestry service trails.

So systematized were the widespread operations of the three rum rings that a "traffic manager" was employed to route the many pack trains from Canada to secluded places opposite the sparsely settled and mountainous Okanogan country in North Central Washington.

Government agents said the "traffic manager" also watched the weather and when it snowed sent white mules along the trails, the animals blending with the whiteness of the landscape. When the ground was bare bay animals carried the liquor.

An old time packer who knew how to use the "diamond hitch" in strapping pouchlike containers, onto the saddles, was employed to load the mules, the Federal agents said.

When the pack trains were overtaken by government officers, the rum runners surrendered without offering resistance.

The government will charge 51 overt acts against the defendants, most of whom were in custody, or at liberty on bonds ranging from $2,000 to $3,000.

Member of the House Judiciary Committee Says Enforcement Has Left a Train of Consequences Most Deploable and Depressing to Every Patriot; Over Thousand Deaths Result in Enforcement in Ten Years

Washington, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The long awaited hearing on resolutions proposing outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and various forms of modification of that amendment opened today before the House judiciary committee with Chairman Graham announcing at the outset that this amendment and the prohibition enforcement, law "have been tested for ten years without satisfactory results."

Graham prefaced his statement by saying he desired to explain his own position on prohibition, one of the liveliest on capitol hill.

More than 200 men and women gathered in the House caucus room listened intently to the Pennsylvania. Nearly half of the audience was composed of women.

The room had begun to fill early. The chamber was selected because it is much larger than the regular committee room.

Representative Mary T. Norton, Democrat of New Jersey author of one of the pending resolutions, sat in the front row.

Miss M. Louise Gross, chairman of the women's committee for the repeal of the 18th amendment, and Mrs. David H. Martin, secretary, both of New York, also were on hand prepared to testify.

Graham was interrupted by a burst of applause when he said that no law can be enforced that is destructive of right and individual liberty. He was loudly applauded as he concluded.

The chairman said that both the wets and the dries would be given equal opportunity to present their views.

He said he had not considered placing any limit on how long the hearings would run.

Representative Hickey, Indiana, a Republican member of the committee, insisted that a time limit be set.

Washington, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Chairman Graham of the House Judiciary committee opened the hearing today before that group on resolutions to repeal the 18th Amendment with the statement that "the 18th Amendment and the enforcement law have been tested for ten years without satisfactory results."

"Enforcement has left a trail of consequences most deplorable and depressing to every patriot" Graham declared. "Killings amounting to over 1,360 have resulted in the last ten years from enforcement."

"One hundred and fifty one citizens were killed by prohibition officers and sixty-four agents killed by citizens. In one year there were 77,351 arrests for violations, alleged or real."

"During the first year under prohibition there were 29,000 cases instituted, and during the last fiscal year there were close to 70,000."

"Demand for more prisons has been made and new ones ordered, which it is said will not give relief from overcrowding except for a period of five years or possibly ten. Prison population has jumped four per cent per 100,000 in the last five years."

"When we add corruption, bribery, demoralization of the citizenry, disrespect for law, bootlegging and kindred offenses, does not such a picture call for the fair, dispassionate judgment of men and women, to come together and reason over what remedy can be devised to abate this sad condition."

Chairman Graham said no law could ever be enforced that was destructive of right and individual liberty.

"You may create a guerrilla warfare and conditions reeking with murder, bribery, corruption, violations or evasion and disrespect for all law," Graham said. "Every law to be capable of being enforced without such a train of consequences must not be inconsistent with the mind of the people of the country as being right and must not be destructive of individual liberty."

Chairman Graham prefaced his statement by saying that seven resolutions each containing a proposition to amend the Constitution were introduced in the House by seven different members and referred to the judiciary committee by (Continued on page four)

DILL ENGAGES IN ATTACK ON C. E. HUGHES

Senator Declares the Chief Justice Nominee Is Champion of Property Rights

Washington, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, joined in the attack against the confirmation of Charles Evans Hughes as Chief Justice of the United States today as debate on the nomination was resumed in the Senate.

Senator Dill called attention to the birthday of Abraham Lincoln and added "what a coincidence that the Senate should spend the birthday of the greatest champion of human rights since Jesus Christ walked the earth in consideration of the greatest champion of property rights as a nominee for Chief Justice of the United States."

"Masses of our people are finding it difficult to earn a livelihood and to lay aside a little for old age," continued the Washington senator. "The views of Mr. Hughes on economic questions are just as important as his legal ability. The court is building up a body of law, not enacted by Congress, going right into the life of the people and permitting the corporations to pick the pockets of the man on the street."

UNITED ACTION NEEDED.

The mass meeting at the court house Friday night for the purpose of getting some united action on the part of our citizens in petitioning Congress for the immediate passage of pending emergency legislation looking to the relief of the financial stress among farmers of this section is of vital importance and it is to be hoped that the attendance will not only be large, but will be representative as well. Already a measure for the appropriation of six millions of dollars for six Southern States, including our own, has been passed by the Senate but there has been some delay in the House and immediate passage is essential if the appropriation is to be of real benefit to the farmers in the way of enabling them to plan for this year's crops. We believe that if our needs along this line are properly presented in Washington at this time, action on the pending legislation will be the result and it is for this reason that the mass meeting has been called. If you are interested in helping get this relief for depressed agriculture in our section attend the mass meeting and help put it across.

TWO SIDES.

There are two sides to every question. This is just as true in advertising as in an argument. In advertising there is the side of the advertiser and the side of the public. From the viewpoint of the advertiser in the newspaper, advertising is a means of increasing his volume of business. Commercial development has made advertising as necessary to retail business as customers. Without customers the advertiser could not remain in business, so he advertises to attract customers.

The other side of the question is that of the public. To the public newspaper advertising means the bringing of the store show cases to the office and living room. It is a service extended to the public by the advertiser, because it aids the customer in ascertaining where that which is wanted can be purchased at the most advantageous price. Newspaper advertising has abolished shop-searching. To save time for the shopper lengthens his day.

So although there are two sides to newspaper advertising, there is no disagreement between the two. Finding that advertising serves the public as well as business the merchant has two reasons instead of one for advertising, and the customer learns that the most progressive merchants are the most extensive advertisers, so there is a double attraction. By the nature of business, if advertising didn't help the buying public it could not help the advertiser.

ABOUT TOWN

It is most gratifying to note the amount of interest being exhibited in "Live-at-Home Week" by the people of the county, and especially by the various schools.

The Live-at-Home idea embodies certain principles of thrift which the progressive community cannot get away from, and the sooner the fact is realized, the sooner this section of the county will recover from the depression which has been felt since the last planting season.

The thrift idea has been studied in the city schools during the week. The students have been presented with certain information regarding the resources of Pitt county. They have been told of the crop values of the county, of how many cows there are per capita population, and the students are probably more familiar with conditions existing in their section than they have ever been before.

This dissemination of information concerning our own locality should certainly have the desired results. It will show people exactly what we have and what we need to place us upon the high road to prosperity, and the longer the gospel of thrift is preached, the sooner this old section is going to get back to normal and take its rightful place among the thriving counties of the state and nation.

Much interest is attached to the mass meeting to be conducted at the court house in this city Friday night by reason of the serious bearing which it will have upon the community.

The meeting is being called specifically for the purpose to determine whether or not our people are sufficiently interested in the $6,000,000 relief fund now awaiting action in Congress, and if it will be necessary to send representatives to Washington to impress upon the members of Congress the need of this aid.

There can be no doubt about the serious situation confronting the farmers of the five states in the southeast. They have been hard hit by rain and subsequent crop failures and it is nothing but right that they should receive some aid from the government. Nobody is asking Congress to give them anything. All that is required is a sufficient loan to produce the next crop, and that in itself should be sufficient to put the majority of farmers in far better condition than they are today.

Regardless of the sentiment that may crystallize at the mass meeting, if there is any prospect of the measure meeting with delay or failure, a representation of citizens should go to Washington and tell our representatives what we want them to do and see that they do it to the dot. Delay or indecision should not be tolerated. If, as Senator Simmons charges, there is evidence of opposition in the house it should be overcome by arguments in favor of the bill, and this argument should be presented by the men representing this great farming section—the five states involved.

Contributions to the relief fund are continuing in a very pleasing manner, and indications point to Pitt county and Greenville being able to take care of the situation in really fine style.

The latest contribution came from teachers of the public schools of Greenville. They donated about $200 to the fund, bringing the total to a neat sum.

This is one of the most important campaigns Pitt county people have had an opportunity of contributing to quite awhile, and it is hoped the public will do everything possible to give aid in that way help keep the commissary well supplied with the things needed by the indigent population.

It has been a long time since there was so much actual want in evidence in this section of the state, but the situation can be greatly relieved by generous giving by those able to do so.

If you have not contributed to this fund, make it a point to do so at once and in that way show the world that you still have faith in yourself and the ability of the community to overcome a condition presenting the greatest emergency in years.

an enviable place in the list of the business world. Not long ago a state officer made the statement that the Greenville Merchants Association was one of the outstanding business organizations in the east, and he predicted that its growth would be substantial and steady in future years. The association has done a wonderful work for the community the last several years, and it has prospered as the city has prospered and will continue to prosper as long as its work proves as outstanding as it has the last few years.

Hack Wilson Is Acquitted of Assault Charge

Chicago, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Lewis "Hack" Wilson, fighting cock of the Chicago Cubs, is free at last from all the troubles his swinging fists have stirred up on and off the baseball field.

The final case against him was decided in his favor yesterday by a Superior Court jury, which acquitted him of charges of assaulting Edward Young, a Chicago milkman, and rejected Young's suit for $20,000 damages.

Fanned by seven witnesses, Wilson won his case in short order against the milkman, who charged that the pudgy Cub outfielder beat him severely during the Cub-St. Louis game, June 21, 1923. The jury deliberated only 25 minutes.

Young testified he went to the game and joined other fans in booing Wilson for falling to get a hit. Toward the end of the game, he said, Wilson vaulted into the box seats, knocked him down and then threw him over a seat.

Wilson admitted starting after Young with intent to silence his taunts, but denied striking him. "The vile names he shouted at me were unbearable and my fighting blood naturally reached a boiling point," Wilson said. "But I did not hit him."

Wilson's witnesses corroborated his testimony.

SPORTS SLANTS

"Do you think Babe Ruth, failing to get the salary he wants, would go to Gene Tunney and retire from baseball?" asks W. E. S.

Not so long as the Babe can toddle up to the plate. The Babe has never been a serious holdout. He is neither foolish nor wealthy enough to quit the game, rather than take a two-year contract at $75,000.

There is not much basis for Ruth's claim he can quit baseball with a $25,000 annual income assured him. The Babe would find a very rapid decline in his earning powers without the aid of his daily appearance on the diamond. Out of baseball, he quickly would become just another corpulent athlete. Jack Dempsey can tell him something about this angle.

There is no parallel between Ruth and Tunney. The former heavyweight champion never liked the boxing racket, except as a means to an end. Once financially clear, Tunney did not hesitate to hang up his gloves for good. Ruth, on the other hand, lives baseball. He is smart enough now to get all he can out of it but he has no more idea of quitting than he has of challenging Bobby Jones for the open golf championship.

The Scott-Sharkey match is the first international heavyweight battle of importance to be held in Florida since Jim Corbett, then world's champion, knocked out Charley Mitchell of England at Jacksonville in 1894.

Scott and Sharkey, working on percentage, each may draw down from $75,000 to $100,000 for ten rounds or less at Miami. Corbett and Mitchell fought for a purse of $20,000, winner to take all.

The American won on a knock-out in the third round of a fight marked by unusual display of bitterness. Mitchell kept Corbett waiting in the ring until the latter became chilled, also enraged. In the second round, Corbett hit Mitchell as the Englishman was coming up from a knockdown. At the end of the round, Mitchell suddenly walked over to Corbett's corner and belted the American behind the ear, whereupon they slugged each other merrily until pried apart. A right-hander to the jaw put Mitchell out "could" in the third round.

Robins Buy Infielders. New York, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Robins have made their first important move toward their team by buying two star infielders, Gordon Slade and Neal Finn, from the Mission Club of the Pacific Coast League. The Robins paid $85,000 in cash and a player to be named later for the youngsters, it was learned yesterday. Finn is the shortstop and Slade the second baseman of a combination famed for making double plays.

STATE LICKS UNIVERSITY CAGE OUTFIT

Charlotte, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The count now stands one-all between N. C. State and North Carolina for the Big Five basketball season.

State beat North Carolina, 28 to 26, last night at Chapel Hill to avenge a 27 to 25 defeat at the hands of the Tar Heels earlier in the season. The two teams waged a desperate battle, a sensational Wolf Pack rally in the second half overcoming a Tar Heel lead and bagging the match.

While these two Big Five teams were fighting it out among themselves, two other members of the North Carolina loop invaded South Carolina and met with varying success.

Duke trimmed the University of South Carolina, 33 to 26 at Columbia, but Wake Forest did not do so well in its match with Furman at Greenville.

The Deacon outfit shared the fate of every other team that has tackled the Purple Hurricane this season and suffered defeat. The score was 43 to 14.

The fact that Coach Dizzy McLeod and Ernest Southern one of the Hurricane mainstays, were sick in bed did not deter the South Carolina brethren a severe licking without using a single substitute.

The Lenoir-Rhyne Bears helped their standing last night by defeating Catawba, 30 to 12, at Hickory. High Point, playing at home, eked out a 30 to 29 victory over Guilford in an extra-period game.

Games listed for tonight include a match between Davidson, Big Five runner-up, and Wake Forest, tail-ender, at Davidson.

The subject of study for the afternoon was Oscar Wilde, the Irish dramatist, "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Wilde was discussed by Mrs. D. M. Clark. This is a social satire based on absurd complications arising from endless employment of assumed names. The play is written in French style, the beauty of the writing causing it to live.

MOOSE PUT ON FINE PROGRAM LAST EVENING

Several Talks, Songs and Prize Fight Feature Open Night of Local Lodge

An entertainment of more than usual interest featured the monthly open meeting of the local lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose held in the Pythian Hall on Evans street last night.

L. S. Spence had charge of the program and made a timely talk in which he stressed the principles of the order in relation to the Live-at-Home program which is being carried to every part of the state this week.

Dictator John R. Barker responded with a brief talk on the purposes of the organization, and especially as it related to Mooseheart Home for widows and orphans of members of the Moose lodge and Moosehaven Home for disabled Moose and their wives.

J. C. Gaskins, Chief of Police Preston Pierce, D. M. Sellers, A. A. Ellwanger and several others made short talks.

Several selections were rendered by a quartet composed of E. S. Williams, W. W. Lee, D. M. Sellers and Mr. Story.

The five-round boxing contest was put on by L. S. Parkerson and the contestants were Tommy Snow, introduced as "Batting Tiger" and Ned Dishwasher, known to the boxing fraternity as "Young Jack Johnson."

Dr. Ira Landrith to Speak in City February 19th

"Young people are tractable, impressionable, and they would rather be right than wrong."

"All prejudice is the child of sin and ignorance."

"The crime of partisanship has been making a political issue of world peace, a partisan football of the broken heart of humanity."

"Typical of the strong and epigrammatic addresses of Dr. Ira Landrith are these quotations. Dr. Landrith, citizenship superintendent of the International Society of Christian Endeavor, one of the best known public speakers of America, will speak at the Presbyterian church, here on the evening of February 19th under the auspices of the Northeastern Christian Endeavor Union."

A native of Texas, Dr. Landrith is home in any part of the United States, following 25 years of supreme activity on the platform and in the van of progressive movements. He was formerly president of Ward-Belmont College and in 1916 was a candidate for the vice-presidency of the United States.

For the past few years much of his time has been devoted to writings and addresses in promotion of the Christian Endeavor movement, which he regards as the distinctive Christian youth movement for all nations and branches of the Christian church.

Dr. Landrith was trained for the law, but in early manhood entered the ministry. He has since been a writer, an educator, an editor, and a distinguished and capable Christian statesman known best in his campaigns for civic righteousness.

The Kansas City Gazette-Globe recently described him in these terms: "A platform man, Dr. Landrith is unsurpassed. His style merges the elusive plantation melody quietly permeating as the moonlight and the scent of magnolia with the lightning fire of a soul that braves flames out against injustice, whether it be individual or national."

Watch Your Beer: New York, Feb. 12.—(P)—Patrons who take their own liquor into hotels, restaurants and night clubs are threatened with arrest by Major Maurice Campbell prohibition administrator.

Coupled with his announcement of a new policy of enforcement action against individuals, Major Campbell, issued a warning to proprietors and managers that they must not serve accessories, glasses, ginger ale, mineral water, and ice to patrons of public dining rooms who bring liquor.

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT NEAR JURY STAGE: Los Angeles, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Dolores Salazar's suit against Ferdinand Pinney "Dinny" Earle, artist, for $80,000 damages for alleged breach of a pre-nuptial contract will go to the jury tomorrow. Counsel for both sides presented their closing arguments to the jury yesterday after which court adjourned until Thursday.

BULL CHASES BALL OFFICIALS FROM PARK: Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 12.—(AP)—To President Robert G. Awin and Manager Jack Steele of the Little Rock southern association baseball club undoubtedly goes the distinction of being the first officials to be chased from a baseball park in 1930.

A young bull in the role of umpire disputed their decision to suspend Whittington park as a possible sight of the travelers spring training camp and promptly chased them from the grounds.

The purpose also, he said, was for the committee if it deemed them meritorious to have them reported back to the House. Their adoption would necessitate a two-thirds vote in each branch of the Congress.

After that he explained three fourths of the states must concur in the action of Congress.

Should Congress reject a resolution proposing revision of the constitution, Graham added, it then would not be submitted to the States. In the event an amendment to the Constitution should be submitted to the States, he said it could be approved by the state legislature or by a convention convened in each state if so directed by Congress.

"The convention method, which would require delegates to be elected on the issue of amendment, would furnish the opportunity for a referendum so much desired and asked for," he said. "This method of ratification would furnish the only way a referendum can ever be had under the law."

"There was widespread request for hearings from proponents and the friends of the resolutions; hence a hearing has been ordered. In the existing state of the public mind a hearing upon the matters could not be denied without infringing the rights of American citizens to petition and be heard by the Congress upon redressing a wrong or bettering a condition."

"This hearing will not interfere with President Hoover's crime commission, but rather be in aid thereof."

"The Eighteenth Amendment and the enforcement law has been tested for ten years, without satisfactory results. Enforcement has been tested for ten years, without satisfactory results. Enforcement has been tested for ten years, without satisfactory results."

Funeral services for James, who came to Sylvia from Cherokee county, will be held at 4 o'clock Wednesday at his home in East Sylvia. Interment will be in Dillard cemetery, near Sylvia.
