SAYS WHEELUS SHOT WOMAN AT GASTONIA

Cripple Identifies the Slayer of Mrs. Wiggins at Charlotte Trial Today

Charlotte, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Julius Fowler, a cripple who used crutches to get to the witness chair, today identified Horace Wheelus, Gastonia textile mill worker, as the man who shot Mrs. Ella May Wiggins.

Testifying in Mecklenburg Superior court here Fowler a prosecution witness said Wheelus rested a revolver over his left arm and fired into the truck.

He said the woman who had been in Gastonia in an unsuccessful effort to attend an advertised Communist meeting, fell, crying, "Oh, Lord, I'm shot," the witness said.

"I helped pick her up," Fowler said, "and Wheelus and some others came up and searched us."

Wheelus and four other Gastonia men on trial on a charge of murder of Mrs. Wiggins, who was killed September 14. The case was moved here on a change of venue.

Fowler had previously testified about being followed by a mob from Gastonia and of the wreck between the truck in which he was riding and an automobile which suddenly halted in front.

The mob members, he said, had pistols, shotguns and rifles. He testified that Wheelus was "pretty well full and staggering."

On cross examination, Fowler admitted he had attempted to dodge the draft in 1917, and that he had slapped his wife and had been charged with non-support.

During his testimony, the first effort to inject the Communist issue was made when A. L. Bulwinkle, chief counsel for the defense, asked Fowler if the Gastonia tent colony where striking workers lived was not supported by Communists. Judge J. H. Clement ruled the question out on an objection by the prosecution.

The testimony of another witness, W. O. Bradley, Dallas, C. C. banker, on the witness stand this morning differed from testimony given at a previous hearing, according to A. C. Jones, defense attorney.

Repeated questions as to what was said at the previous hearing brought denials from the witness.

"If the past record says this, then the record is wrong," Attorney Jones asked time after time.

"It must be," was the customary reply.

The defense also attempted to show that George Inzerfelt, who was recalled to the witness stand this morning had changed his testimony.

West Helena, Ark., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Sheriff's deputies, summoned after a school girls' quarrel had accused this town of 3,500 paroled the streets of West Helena today.

Residents attending a mass meeting yesterday protested the resignation of George Cromwell as superintendent of schools which Cromwell said had been caused by threats upon his life by Lawrence Brown, father of two young girls who were disciplined after a dispute with another girl.

Brown, according to Sheriff J. C. Barlow, threatened Cromwell's life, unless the latter disciplined the third girl. Cromwell declined to act against the other pupil.

Sheriff Barlow said he deemed it advisable to have his deputies on duty to protect Brown against possible violence of the citizenry and to prevent Brown carrying out his alleged threats against Cromwell.

Brown pleaded insanity in 1927 when on trial for first degree murder. He is out on parole from the state hospital for nervous diseases at Little Rock. He previously had been tried for two other killings.

Says Republicans To Be Kept Out of N. C. Primary

Raleigh, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Josiah W. Bailey, opponent of United States Senator F. M. Simmons for the North Carolina Democratic Senatorial nomination, asserts that "Republicans" will be kept out of the party's primary this year.

Bailey made the assertion in a statement he issued yesterday in connection with the opening of his campaign headquarters in this city. He did not explain whether he intended an effort would be made to bar from the Democratic party all those who voted Republican in the last Presidential election.

Says Power Commission Solicitor Accepts $700 For a "False" Affidavit

New York, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Richard H. Jones, a director of Tidewater Oil Corporation of New Jersey, was killed today from a fall from his eighth floor apartment on Park avenue. Police listed the case as a suicide, and said Jones jumped to his death after striking his wife on the head with an electric lamp.

Employees of the apartment house heard the body strike the courtyard and called the police. An ambulance surgeon was called and pronounced Jones dead. The surgeon attended Mrs. Jones for lacerations of the scalp and she remained in her apartment.

Mr. Jones, who was 35 years old, was graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., in 1916 and was a member of the Army and Navy Club Washington, and the Engineers' Club, Mrs. Jones is the former Louise H. Conkey.

Lindbergh Awaits Favorable Winds for Glider Flight
San Diego, Calif., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Finding air currents unsuitable for sustained glider flights, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today awaited "real winds" before continuing with his sail plane experiments off Point Loma, near here. The flying colonel made one brief flight yesterday, but returned to Los Angeles last night to await reports of more favorable weather.

The flight marked the christening of the "Anne Lindbergh" a newly built Bowles sail plane named in honor of Mrs. Lindbergh. The colonel took off from Mount Soledad between San Diego and La Jolla in the previously untried glider and for 20 or 25 minutes kept it aloft in varying winds. He landed on a sandy beach approximately 15 miles from his starting point.

During the flight he successfully piloted the tiny plane along the rugged shore line, and expertly skirted several high bluffs and peaks along the route. He expressed considerable elation over the length of his glide, which was the longest he has made since taking up his motorless plane experiments.

BANKER PAYS $40,000 FOR HIS FREEDOM

Officers Search for "Master Minds" Behind Kidnapping Ring in Illinois

St. Louis, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Officers of two states today searched for the master minds of a daring kidnaping ring which abducted Charles W. Pershall, wealthy Granite City, Ill., chain grocer and banker, within two blocks of his home last week, held him captive two days and released him on payment of a sum reputed to be $40,000.

It was the second gang playing the ransom racket as a means of livelihood to be uncovered here within a week. The other, described by police as the "gas house mob" was broken up through 12 arrests which followed a raid on a St. Louis county resort and the rescue of Jacob Hoffman, a bookmaker, from his underground "home."

Three others, all bookmakers and gamblers, have been kidnapped since January and their donation for personal freedom was said to have totaled $73,000.

Pershall's release was engineered by George O. Blockburger, Granite City bondsman and real estate agent, who declared he was an unwilling go-between. First denying any knowledge of the ransom racket Blockburger finally confessed to detectives he had paid $40,000, raised by members of Pershall's family, for the banker's freedom. Pershall was said to have been blindfolded, through the placing of cotton over his eyes and held in place by adhesive tape, during the 48 hours he was held prisoner.

F. E. Bonner, Commission Secretary, Continues Testimony Before I. C. Probe of Power Commission's Activity

Washington, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Charges and counter-charges that have marked the Senate Interstate Commerce committee's investigation of the Federal Power commission continued today with F. E. Bonner, commission secretary, charging that Charles A. Russell, commission solicitor, had made a "false affidavit" to obtain $700 just before he became the commission counsel.

Russell in testimony before the committee last week asserted that Bonner countenanced irregularities and favored the "power interests." The commission secretary declared today that Russell's charges were false and continuing his attack the counsel said he "is a dishonest debtor."

Bonner added that Russell was under investigation by the government.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, interrupted: "If you discharged every one in government who doesn't pay his debts, you wouldn't have many working."

He added that he "of course" believed a man should pay his "just debts" but he did not believe that debts should be cause for the government to discharge anyone.

Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, asked Bonner if he could give any "official act" in which Russell failed to serve the public. The witness presented several letters which condemned Russell personally.

The "false affidavit" Bonner referred to was one made by Russell when he left the Interstate Commerce committee, where he was an attorney.

The affidavit said that Russell was "separating himself from the civil service," Bonner testified, adding that he did this in order to receive the $700 from the government's retirement fund.

At the beginning of the hearing today a memorandum was introduced which showed that more than $27,000,000 in valuation accounts of companies seeking power permits had been questioned by commission accountants.

SAYS HUSTON MADE SHOALS PARTY PLANK

Gray Declares G. O. P. Chairman Prepared Planks in Platforms of Both Parties

Washington, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Testimony that Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican National committee, had assisted in preparing proposed Muscle Shoals planks for the Democratic and Republican national platforms in 1928 was heard today by the Senate Labor committee.

At that time, Huston was president of the Tennessee River Improvement association, which has opposed government operation of Muscle Shoals and supported the bid of the American Cynamid company to buy the plant and operate it.

Questioned by Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, Chester H. Gray, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau federation, testified that he and J. W. Worthington, chairman of the Tennessee River Improvement association, had prepared resolutions on Muscle Shoals after Worthington had conferred with Huston.

Gray said it was agreed that the board of directors of the American Farm Bureau federation, should send a delegation to the town conventions with the resolutions.

The witness also testified that after the conventions Worthington had outlined a program to Huston for Hoover to carry Tennessee.

Gray added that he was worried about what the two candidates might say about Muscle Shoals in their campaign speeches but was "particularly" worried about the Democratic candidate, Alfred E. Smith.

Woman Murderer Declared Insane at Charlotte, N. C.

Charlotte, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A coroner's jury here today found that Beverly Payne, 5, came to his death last Friday by strangulation at the hands of Mrs. Sarah C. Ashe, who at the time was insane.

Mrs. Ashe is the boy's grandmother. Coroner Frank Hoavis announced at the conclusion of the inquest that immediate steps would be taken to get the 57-year-old woman in an institution for the criminally insane.

The boy was killed last Friday at the home of Dr. John R. Ashe, Charlotte specialist, son-in-law of Mrs. Sarah Ashe. A servant discovered the boy dead and Mrs. Ashe in an unconscious condition, a towel knotted around her neck.

Farm Relief Bill Passed By the Senate

Washington, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The 7,000,000 seed loan appropriation for farmers in storm-stricken areas was passed by the Senate today and sent to President Hoover.

The Senate quickly accepted the amendments made by the House and on motion of Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, it was dispatched to the White House. The President has indicated he would approve it.

The appropriation would be extended to farmers who have suffered damage from storms in Florida, Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Oklahoma, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, New Mexico and Missouri.

NEW PREMIER CHAMPION OF LOWER TAXES

Camille Chautemps Opens Fight for a Vote of Confidence in Chamber Deputies

Paris, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Camille Chautemps, new French premier, today opened his fight before the Chamber of Deputies for a vote of confidence presenting his ministerial declaration which immediately drew heavy fire from the opposition.

There is no amateur who has the remotest knowledge of the legislative processes of Congress, who couldn't have told the President that he was setting up a straw man merely for the purpose of knocking him down.

When the vote to be taken by the Chamber depends the life of the new ministry and the question of how soon a new French delegation can be sent to the London naval conference which is now marking time in anticipation of the French return.

The premier in his ministerial declaration took over Tardieu's naval policy and his economic construction program but promised lower taxes. He specifically asked the vote of confidence in order that Foreign Minister Briand and the French naval delegation might proceed to London tomorrow.

Paul Reynaud of the social democratic action party, started the onslaught against the new cabinet, accusing Chautemps of "stealing" Tardieu's program. He argued that it had only been the desire for power on the part of the Left that had caused the overthrow of the Tardieu government by the narrow margin of five votes.

The attack did not only come from the Right, however, for the Communists too are invariably in the opposition, announced that their group, ten strong, would vote against Chautemps.

The first legislative act of the Chautemps government while the fate of the cabinet was still hanging in the balance was the introduction of a bill calling for credit of $50,000 for "the construction and purchase of homes for French emigrants in Rio Janeiro and Washington."

Young Man Fatally Injured When Tree Falls Upon Him

Billy Ray Brewer, 22 died Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock as result of injuries sustained last Tuesday when a tree that he and his brother were sawing down near their home in Belvoir township, fell upon him.

The two boys were cutting barn wood for use this summer and had got down a large pine tree that lodged in the forks of another tree. As is the usual custom, another tree was cut against this leaning tree to throw it to the ground, and when this was done the butt end of the second tree jumped backwards, striking young Brewer in his left side, knocking him to the ground and landed upon him. With the aid of his brother pried the tree from his young man's body, and removed him to his home. His condition grew worse and Sunday morning he was brought to the local hospital where he died shortly afterwards.

Funeral services were conducted from his late home yesterday at 2 o'clock by Rev. M. A. Woodard, of Winterville. Burial followed in the family burying ground.

He is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brewer, six brothers and two sisters.

CLASS SCORES MR. HOOVER'S ECONOMY PLEA

Senator Says President Setting Up Straw Man Merely to Knock Down

Washington, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Renewing his attack on President Hoover's statement that appropriations must be held to a minimum if a balanced budget was to be retained, Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, said in the Senate today that it "was an inexcusable attempt to excite the resentment of the country against Congress."

"I say it and I say it deliberately," asserted the Virginia Senator, who was secretary of the treasury under President Wilson, "that nothing more shameful has ever emanated from the White House within my 30 years of service in Congress."

Senator Glass referred to the statement issued yesterday through Walter Newton, one of the President's secretaries, after Mr. Hoover had conferred with Republican leaders in Congress. The statement listed proposed appropriations totaling more than $1,500,000,000.

Reading from newspaper headlines saying that a tremendous deficit would be created if these appropriations were enacted, Glass continued:

"There is no amateur who has the remotest knowledge of the legislative processes of Congress, who couldn't have told the President that he was setting up a straw man merely for the purpose of knocking him down."

City Of Santo Domingo Quiet Today Following Revolutionary Outbreak

Los Angeles, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The death of a 16-year-old high school student, blinding of a 17-year-old girl and the serious illness of two others in the Metropolitan area were laid to poison liquor today.

Police began a search for "a 19-year-old bootlegger" as the result of the story of the five youngsters who survived a joy ride and drinking party in an automobile truck here Sunday night. The sixth member of the party, Donald Alsworth, 16, died in the truck before a hospital could be reached.

Charles Post, and Paul Phelps, each 17, who were in the party, were taken to a hospital in a serious condition. The others who went on the joy ride, Lyle Said, 17, Annabelle Miller, 15, and Evelyn Cameron, 15, said they did not partake of the liquor. They were held at juvenile hall to aid in the search for the "boy bootlegger."

At Newark, a suburb, Marie Bent, 17, was found staggering from a house and muttering, "He drugged me but I got away." L. T. Eubanks, 19-year-old high school student and schoolmate of Miss Bent, was accused by her of having given her the drink. She was stricken blind and physicians said her sight might be permanently impaired.

A felony charge was lodged against Eubanks.

Hobo Author Defendant In Divorce Suit

Las Vegas, Nevada, Feb. 25.—(AP)—James A. "Jim" Tully, red haired "hobo author" was the defendant in a divorce suit today, charged with extreme cruelty and threatening his wife, Mrs. Margaret Myers Tully, "with great bodily harm."

Mrs. Tully, who recently established her residence here, filed the divorce suit yesterday, alleging that Tully quarreled with her in the presence of guests, and told her he wished she would leave him.

In 1929 Mrs. Tully's complaint said her husband threatened her "with great bodily harm" and said that if she did not leave him he would go to the South Sea Islands.

The Revolt Continues, However, in Northern Part of the Republic; The President Spends Night in Fortress Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The city of Santo Domingo was quiet today, after yesterday's local disturbances but a revolutionary movement in the northern part of the Republic still confronted President Horacio Vasquez and his government.

President and Vice President Dr. Jose D. Alfonsea passed the night in the Santo Domingo fortress, the commander of which remained loyal to the government. Madam Vasquez, wife of the president took refuge in the American legation.

President Vasquez, whose term of office expires in May, has not resigned but it was understood that Vice-President Alfonsea has resigned his post in the face of the opposition.

Colonel Joseph Fegan, commanding the Haitian National Guard forces in Northern Haiti, today reported the arrival of Commander Bisset, retired naval officer, from the city of Santo Domingo by way of Santiago and Monte Cristi.

The uprising was reported to have been led by a former leader named Estrella supported by Gen. Trujillo, commanding the Dominican Guardia, concerted movement in the principal cities beginning on the night of February 23.

In all cities except Puerto Plata, the guardia disarmed the local police and distributed arms to the revolters. They met little opposition. Two persons were killed and several wounded in Santiago and motor vehicles were commandeered to transport the insurgents to the capital.

An unconfirmed report was to the effect that President Vasquez, held in Fort Ozama while his family took refuge at the American Legation, was given one day to abdicate in favor of a provisional president to be elected.

It also was reported that business men at Santiago had requested American intervention.

Colonel Gonzalez, commanding the guardia forces in Santo Domingo was reported to have been killed while the two sons of the Chief Executive Urges Public to Throw Their Influence Behind Administration In Effort to Curtail Expenditures Other Than Those Contemplated by Budget; Says Demands for Spending Made Outside Congress

Washington, Feb. 25.—(AP)—President Hoover in what he described as an appeal to the "people back home" today urged that they throw their influence behind the administration in an effort to curtail expenditures other than those contemplated by budget recommendations.

Expanding a statement issued at the White House after a breakfast conference yesterday between the chief executive and Congressional leaders, Mr. Hoover said that only a small per cent of the proposals to spend money was originating from members of Congress.

On the other hand it was his opinion that the proposals were arising from groups all over the country. Many of the causes, he said, eventually should be undertaken and many no doubt would be undertaken sometime in future years.

"I hope," Mr. Hoover said, "that the people at home will realize that the government cannot undertake every worthy social, economic, military and naval expansion, increased pension systems, or public improvements projects, and will support the members of Congress in their co-operation with the administration to hold down these new proposals for additional expenditures."

"We have enough resources," he said, "to take care of the budget and such necessities as marginal cases of disability among veterans and the speeding up of public works that we have undertaken. This is no time for general expansion of public expenditures."

About the time for Mr. Hoover's announcement from the White House, Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, today renewed his attack from Capitol Hill on the White House statement of expenditures issued yesterday.

The Virginian said it was plain that the president had set up a "straw man" to knock down. He accused the chief executive of trying to place the blame for expenditures upon Congress.

In the White House statement which drew the Senator's fire a warning was issued to the leaders of the House and Senate that after contemplated budget expenditures were met there would be about $50,000,000 available for appropriations for other purposes.

Further, the White House made clear that if all the proposals pending in Congress to spend money—amounting roughly to $1,725,000,000 were passed it would be necessary to increase taxes by approximately 40 per cent.

Interpreting the President's views several congressional leaders said in their opinion each dollar spent over the budget recommendation would have to be met by a dollar additional tax.

The attack by Glass today followed up a similar attack by the Virginian made late yesterday. It also was in line with an attack emanating from the House side of the Capitol from Representative Joan Garner of Texas, the Democratic leader in the chamber.

Boat Fired Upon By Unknown Party; One Man Killed

Alvon, Santa Catalina Island, Cal., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Captain Tom Lobosoff, of the fishing boat Taiyo, put into port here last night and recounted a story of being fired upon by a mysterious assailant at San Nicholas Island, a barren bit of land 40 miles west of here. One member of his 13-man crew was slain and the other probably fatally wounded.

The skipper said his boat was inched in a cove on the island and he and Steve Somerabko, of Lancaster, Cal., and John Heise, of San Pedro, Cal., were below deck when they heard a disturbance on shore. He said Somerabko went out to reconnoiter and was shot to death. Heise then went out and was critically wounded.

Captain Lobosoff said he crept onto the deck to get glimpse of the assailants, but was unable to see anybody.

URGES ACTION OF LEGION IN ALL SECTIONS

National Commander Asks Concerted Membership Drive During the Week

O. L. Boderramer, National Commander of the American Legion, has issued an appeal to the various posts throughout the country to make every effort to increase their membership during the observance of "Past Commanders' week."

Members of the local Legion Post said today they were doing everything possible to carry out the wishes of the national commander and would wage a determined campaign throughout the week.

The letter from the national commander, mailed out to all posts follows:

To the service men of Greenville and Pitt County:

Learning that Pitt County Post No. 39 of the American Legion has prepared to do its share, or more, in strengthening the Legion's ranks at this time when membership indicates the sincerity of the service men of the World War in what the Legion is trying to do, nationally, I am taking this opportunity of appealing to you to help.

Some veterans do not realize the vital importance of their support to the national organization, especially in the Legion's program for national legislation. The American Legion is chartered by Congress. The Legion must make an annual report to Congress, and each week, the Legion membership is transmitted to the national capital to be available for the information of Representatives and Senators, if it is desired by them.

Following the neglect of Congress last winter in passing the Rogers bill, which provided for the proper care of 5,543 mentally ill comrades who are confined in over-crowded state institutions, the Legion publicly announced, at the beginning of the present session of Congress, that its membership would be an indication of the earnestness of veterans in the Legion's request for additional government hospital facilities. Advance, 1930 member, ship broke all preceding records. The measure, appropriating $15,950,000 was passed just before Christmas, when some leaders in Congress had said such early action was impossible. But the sincerity of the veterans of America was unmistakable, and Congress took notice that the veterans of America are behind the Legion's efforts on behalf of the disabled.

Yet, that measure represents less than half of what the Legion is asking for the disabled at this session. It requires from two to three years, after an appropriation is made by Congress, before the disabled receive any benefits in the way of additional hospital facilities. Every veteran, who subscribes to this Legion program of service through his membership at this time, is adding needed strength to the hands of the Legion leaders who are doing everything in their power to obtain a fair and just treatment for the men who paid the heaviest for the World War. Such veterans, who thus add their strength to the Legion's program, are doing their share also in showing Congress that the service men of the World War are determined that any future war shall be fought on the principle of "equal service" for all and special profit to none; a study of which principle is provided in the Reed-Wainwright resolution which the Legion is urging Congress to adopt at this session.

West Greenville School Observed Live at Home Week

All teachers and children are very enthusiastic over the "live-at-home" program and some mighty good work has been done. This has been proven in that many families have bought cows since we have started this work. Many have started gardens that have never had them before. Some children have planted gardens for themselves at home, and every grade has a garden at school.

All school work has been correlated around this one subject as much as possible. All primary grades have been busy on posters and booklets for the state contests. Miss Pickren's 2nd grade is working on a project that is well under way and will be reported later. Miss Norman's third-A grade is making a very interesting moving picture. They also have plans made for their garden. Miss Lee's third-B grade has been following a very unique "live at home" outline. They have planned a vegetable garden and strawberry patch. The following poem was written by a 3-3 pupil:

We will plant potatoes. And watch them grow. We will plant tomatoes. And wee dinem with a hoe. Both first grades have been working along the same line. Miss Fullilove's grade has planted vegetable seed and a strawberry patch. Mrs. Gardner's first grade has followed a most interesting outline, some of which I will give you here:

1. Children were taught who the Governor Carolina is.
2. Open discussion of the meaning of "live-at-home" and what foods a family could raise in a garden at home to cut expenses of the family.
3. Out of this discussion grew the desire to use part of our school flower garden for a small vegetable garden.

The following chart was composed by the children: "Governor Gardner's Live-At-Home Week." This is live-at-home week. We want to plant a garden. We would like to plant tomatoes. We would like to plant radishes. We would like to plant onions. We would like to plant beets.

1. A movie named "The King of Foods" was shown to the children in the first grade room. In this movie the children were taken to a dairy to see the cows milked. Then they saw the milk delivered. And they also saw pictures of healthy, playful children, who had milk to drink. They also saw pictures of sluggish girls and boys who didn't get milk to drink.
2. They also learned that there are ten important things that the cows give us: Namely, milk, butter, cream, steak, glue, tallow, bone for fertilizer, horn for combs, leather for shoes, hair to use in making plastering.

3. The children afterwards composed a chart to be printed and left in the room. This chart was named "The Cow," and told of the various things they had learned about the cow.
3. They drew pictures of the cow and the things that the cow gives us. The best pictures were put up in the room.

1. Children were taught the meaning of "poultry."
2. An open discussion followed—the price of eggs and chickens were discussed and the children got an idea what it would mean to the expense of running the family if every family could have a few chickens of their own.
3. The children then composed rhymes, and decided to print the following one for the room:

The Chicken
"The chickens walk on legs. And they give us eggs. We like chicken stew. We like fried chicken too."

1. An open discussion of the kinds of meat the hog gives us:
2. The children were anxious to try their hand at rhymes and composed several real good ones on pig:
3. Three of the boys on Friday told the class that their fathers had given them pigs or at least one pig each to raise. Several children living in town at the present, said they wished their fathers would move to the country so they could have pigs and chickens.
1. We again discussed what it would mean to each family in cutting expenses, if each family had even a small garden. A good many children said their parents were planning to have gardens.
2. The following rhyme was selected as the best for the day: "We like to eat vegetables every day. So we can play and play. We very well know. Vegetables will make us grow."
3. The children were given pictures of the way they would like to have our own little garden look in the spring.
4. Several children had bought seeds for the school garden. We had been keeping a penny box all during the year so we decided to buy the best seed needed with the money we have from the school seed supply.
5. We worked in our garden on

YOU MIGHT TRY THIS SOME TIME

Friday afternoon, getting in readiness for our seeds.

Mrs. Charles Murphy has given us strawberry plants for our garden, and has helped us plant them. If you don't believe first grade youngsters are interested in this "live-at-home" idea just come out to see us in the spring and come to see our onions, strawberries, beets, tomatoes, and radish. They are the most enthusiastic little people you ever saw about their garden.

6. During their language and music they have learned poems and songs about cows, pigs and chickens. The charts composed each day have been printed and are hanging in their room. These charts are used for reading and phonics also as a review of which our "live-at-home" program is meaning to us.

Miss Foley's 4th grade has been working on a booklet for the state contest. They have planned a vegetable garden and a strawberry patch. The 5th and 6th grades are working on the "essay" for the state contest.

Moderation! THE FRIEND that prolongs your youth

"Coming" events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*
By refraining from over-indulgence

Men who would keep that trim, proper form, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quick "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Playmakers Will Be Here Tonight

This is the evening for the Carolina Playmakers to appear at East Carolina Teachers College, at eight thirty, in the Campus Building. They are travelling in their own bus and carry their own equipment, arriving in time to get up their cyclorama and scenery for the first play before the hour for the doors to open.

Tickets will be sold at the door and all are at one price, which means there are no reserved seats. The plan of having the public and the college girls seated in alternate rows has been resumed, so the public can count on having a great many desirable seats open for them.

Season ticket holders who arrive before the curtain goes up are entitled to seats among those that will be held for them. They should remember that this attraction, which was added recently, is included in their season ticket.

Dr. Frederick Koch, the creator of the Playmaker movement in North Carolina and one of the leaders throughout the country, who is well known in this section, is scheduled to make a talk on explanation or interpretation between the first and second plays. People who have seen the Playmakers always look forward to this part of the program as much as they do to the plays themselves.

Miss Gorrell and her little orchestra will play between the second and third plays.

Rumors of theatre parties from neighboring towns have reached here. As the weather is good, there will doubtless be a fine representation from the various towns in this section.

The three one-act plays to be presented are "The No 'Count Boy", "Job's Kinfolks" and "Magnolia's Man."

Spring Cleaning Gets Under Way At the City Hall

With the swish of paint brushes predominating all other sounds, "spring cleaning" actually got under way at the city hall this morning. The interior of the structure will be given an entirely new coating of paint, and when the work is finished every office will present a far more satisfactory and inviting appearance than formerly.

Spring may not be here exactly, but the city officials did not await the advent of the season on the calendar to do their cleaning, but went about it while the unseasonable weather furnished the inspiration.

A TIME FOR ACTION

The following letter written by Rev. Collin N. Hughes to the News and Observer and published by that paper on Saturday, with editorial comment, is a true explanation of conditions as they exist and is a clear presentation of a grave situation in which a large number of our property holders now find themselves.

Like the Observer, we believe that "If there is any real statesmanship in North Carolina, here is a supreme call for it."

The tax situation in North Carolina is such that justice and the rights of real property owners cannot continue to be ignored and we reprint Rev. Mr. Hughes' letter in the hope that it will create in the minds and hearts of our statesmen a determined will to see that this great wrong is set aright:

Mr. Hughes' letter is as follows:

During the month of January I received from the sheriff of Wake county a card giving notice of my county and State taxes then—and still—overdue. On the same card was the further notice that the tax was subject to a penalty of one per cent a month for every month it should remain unpaid after February 1, and that if still unpaid after May 1 the property taxed would be advertised for sale.

In reply to my question, if the penalizing for deferred payment was not a thing of recent date, the sheriff wrote: "We have not had this penalty for the past few years, but the last Legislature passed a State-wide law to this effect."

The exaction of this penalty may,
 in theory at least, seem reasonable and right. But plainly, there was in the passing of the law the underlying assumption that when people don't pay their taxes promptly it is because they won't, and that the application of the lash will bring them up to time. Such an assumption is by no means evidently true.
 It is quite probable that, in the case of many, failure to pay on time is not because they won't, but because they can't. In my own case, I wrote the sheriff that if the whole penalty of 4 per cent were imposed at once, I simply couldn't pay at the present time. It is charitable,
 I think, to believe that others are in situations similar to mine.

The fact that the State allows some latitude of time before enforcing payment seems a concession in favor of the taxpayer; but when it then proceeds to penalize him for using the indulgence it grants, the very grace that it seemed to proffer with one hand it takes away with the other.

Right now the situation of the poorer class of real estate owners in Henderson and Buncombe counties, many of whom have had their property either sold or advertised for sale, is pitiful, and, in my judgment, calamitous. I am told that like conditions exist all over the State. This so widely prevalent condition of real estate owners has convinced many that real estate is now long been bearing an unjust part of the burden of taxation.

I am well aware that the whole business of levying and collecting taxes has ever been a complicated and difficult matter, so many perplexing things have to be taken into consideration. Not the least perplexing of these are, on the one hand, the determination of the degree of importance of the objects that ask support from taxation and on the other hand, the meanness and dishonesty of many of the taxpayers. But this question of the unfair taxation of real estate is now to the fore, and I trust that those who have put it there will not suffer it to be thrust aside till it has been settled and settled right.

Practically all my tax is on real estate in Wake and Henderson counties—much the most highly appraised part of it in the city of Raleigh. For the last six or seven years the tax on the Raleigh property has been nothing short of oppressive. With other real estate owners who bear a like burden, I am asking, "Is it fair?"

I do not claim to be competent to answer the question, but I do wish openly to discuss it. To do that, I know of no better way than to present my own case as one in point. First, to look at it from the general point of view: In a preliminary report of the Internal Revenue Bureau for the year ending August 31, 1929, as quoted in the New York Times of February 3, this statement is made: "The average net income (that is for the whole United States) was $5,078.93, the average amount of tax liability $281.97."

My net income for the calendar year 1929 was probably less than $2,000, my whole State, county and town tax was a fraction more than $300. I pay tax on real estate only.
 So it appears to me my net income was but little over a third of the average, my tax liability was almost 7 per cent more than the average.

But to go into detail: My house and lot in Raleigh represent all that I saved from 28 years' work and the home and some 40 acres of land left me by my father's will. This meagre remnant from my patri-mony and 28 years of what I'm sure my friends would agree was diligent and useful work, was invested in a home for my wife and daughters. Very well—on that pittance of saving from the best years of my life I have been paying since 1918 taxes for the most part steady-ly increasing, regardless of what my income might be. When my income, from whatever unavoidable cause, becomes so small that I cannot take care of those dependent on me and pay these taxes, too, my house and lot must be exposed for sale, and, if sold, virtually confiscated. For everybody knows that real estate sold for taxes, unless under peculiarly favorable circumstances, will bring but an insignificant fraction of its true value. And so I would be deprived not only of my family's home, but of what is now a large part of my necessary livelihood.

I do not pretend to know enough of the whole subject of taxation to see distinctly just wherein the injustice of this state of things lies; but I am convinced that any system of taxation under which such condition is likely to be the outcome must be inherently unjust.

In writing this letter I have disregarded what some may think an indelicacy in thus frankly discussing my own case. But I disclaim utterly any purpose or desire of seeking even the least sympathy. If such result as I have described is just and right, then let it go; I do not want sympathy. I am trying to fix attention on what not only I but many believe to be a thoroughly unfair distribution of taxes, and, incidentally, perhaps, to provoke the questions whether our present burden of taxation is not unjustifi-ably heavy on the great majority of people; second, whether the demand of those interests maintained by taxation and that clamor continually for more help and more help are of sufficient worth to the State to compensate for the virtual confiscation of the homes of so many of its citizens.

I have chosen to present my own case in this discussion for what seem to me three sufficient reasons:
 (1) There's no convincing argument ever in presenting a hypothetical case; it must be an actual case to carry any weight. (2) My own case is the only one with which I am thoroughly familiar, or which I am at liberty to present. (3) Instead of supposing my own case peculiar,
 I believe it to be typical of thousands of other cases, and I accept gladly the possible chance of being thought indelicate in the interest of a multitude of my fellow citizens whom I believe to be pressed down with a weight too heavy for them to bear and that they ought not to bear.

ABOUT TOWN

This is known as "Past Commanders" week with the various American Legion posts throughout North Carolina, and the boys who fought that the world might be saved from the heel of German autocracy will do their utmost to recognize the men who played an important part in the early life of the organization.

Aside from this, the Legionnaires will go after the former soldiers in the state-wide campaign conducted last month. It is hoped to increase the total membership from something over 11,000 to over 17,000.
 The latter figure is the goal set for this week, and the various posts are going to be compelled to "step out" if they reach the mark.

Commander Dave Moore of the Pitt County Legion has promised to co-operate in every way possible and has committees busy attempting to round up the boys who are not taking a part in the Legion activities.

The Legion is playing a wonderful part in the life of the former service men and it is the duty of every man who took part in the World War to rally around the organization and help it to continue to minister to the needs of the boys who came back maimed and broken for life. It is a duty demanded of them as honest-to-goodness citizens and it is not believed many will fall short of their obligations.

It is a matter of much gratification to note activities among the colored schools in connection with the live-at-home movement recently enunciated and encouraged by O. Max Gardner. The schools in Greenville have not only taken an active interest in the program, but right recently gave an exhibition of what they did while live-at-home week was in progress.

It is just as important for the colored people to adopt habits of thrift as it is the white people, and you get both races pulling in the same direction and much good should result.

Prof. C. M. Epps, principal of the colored schools, is doing his utmost to bring to attention of the students and sound principles behind the live-at-home movement.
 The program given several days ago indicates that his efforts are meeting with pronounced success. May he continue to preach the doctrine of thrift until it is felt in every school of the country, and every student realizes what it actually means to this great agricultural section in which we live.

Greenville Boy Scouts are gradually forging to the front as one of the leading organizations of the section.

The different troops of the city are cooperating in every way possible to make the town and community a better place in which to live and it is believed their efforts are having a direct effect upon the lives of the younger boys of the city.

The Scouts have a wonderful future before them and if they will only live up to the high ideals taught by the organization, then we have nothing to fear concerning the future of the nation.

The Scout oath is an inspiration in itself. Every Boy Scout should not only see that he lives up to the oath, but he should also make it his business to give full expressions to his ideals while dealing with others.

It is not the purpose of the Boy Scout movement to create "goodbody" boys, as some youths seem to believe, but to build them into strong, manly youngsters who in the future may take over the responsibilities of the world with both body and mind able to carry the load.

Greenville people should encourage the boys in their work, and urge them to do their best under all circumstances, fully realizing that the best effort is usually rewarded by the best in return.

State Baptist plan to stage a regular jubilee when they come together here the latter part of March to celebrate the hundredth anniversary of the founding of the State Baptist convention. It will be the only kind of celebration of this kind in the history of the convention, and the entire two-day session will be devoted to a recital of the achievements of the of the body over the hundred year period.

There are many big speakers on the program, but probably the most outstanding is Governor O. Max Gardner who is to speak of the hundreds years of service of the denomination. Mr. Gardner, as everybody knows, is an eloquent speaker, and he is expected to be one of the big drawing cards of the first day's session.

Greenville is planning to entertain the invading hosts in true Greenville style, and the entertainment committee is already busy providing accommodations for the thousand or more people expected to be in attendance. The convention is of especial interest to local people by reason of the fact that it was organized in a hundred years ago. Organization took place in the old Missionary Baptist church, which later became the Memorial Baptist.

The local church building has been completely renovated so that it will show up its best during the birthday celebration, and by the opening day of the convention everything will be spick and span, ready for a recital of church history.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 7 1/2 points today on the firmer showing of Liverpool and reports that March notices had been issued against only 40,900 bales. Prices slipped a few points right after the start under near month liquidation, but offerings seemed to be quite readily absorbed by the trade and the market stiffened up again on the demand from this source and covering.

At the end of the first half hour, active months were 14 to 17 points net higher with March selling at 14.94; May at 15.24 and October at 15.68. A belief that yesterday's sharp break had improved the technical position of the market and that the March notices were likely to be stopped by the trade at about the prevailing differences, probably led to the covering.

Liverpool cables said liquidation had been absorbed by trade calling and reactionary buying that market. Open High Low Close P. GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Sudden changes in buying plans of the Federal Farm Board Cooperative Grain organization led to swift, big new breaks in grain prices late today. March delivery of wheat in Chicago fell below $1.00 a bushel for the first time in years, and sold as low as 83 1/2c. Other future deliveries of wheat, all deliveries of corn, and oats also tumbled to new low-price records. Trading in grain took immense proportions and sharp rallies ensued as the day drew to an end.

Much of the new buying rush that lifted wheat prices at the last was on account of authoritatively voiced opinions that bearish developments had now been discounted in full. Wheat closed extremely nervous and irregular, ranging 5-8c decline to an advance of 1-2c.

Table with columns for High, Low, Close and rows for WHEAT, CORN, OATS, RYE, LARD, BELLIES.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A fresh collapse in wheat and cotton prices to new low levels for the season, coupled with a sharp break in rubber futures, unsettled the stock market again today, after an early interval of strength which was featured by a brisk demand for the public utilities and a selected assortment of specialties. Early gains of 1 to 3 points were quickly cut down or wiped out, and by early afternoon the general market was reactionary, losses of 1 to 5 points being scattered over a broad list.

A firm opening of the commodity markets provided the background for the early recovery in stocks, with buying also influenced by a series of favorable dividend and earnings reports. The break in March wheat to 81 a bushel, or nearly 4 cents below Monday's close, together with the decline of about $1.50 a bale in May cotton which sold below 1 cent a pound for the first time this year, started a renewal of selling pressure against stocks.

Wall Street apparently was paying more attention to the commodity tickers than it has at any time in recent years, many speculators temporarily switching their activities to the grain and cotton markets in an effort to catch the swings. Commission houses reported a large increase in new accounts in their commodity departments, particularly on the part of so-called amateur speculators.

Some early selling in steel shares was based on unconfirmed reports that the recovery in the industry had been checked and that a slight falling off in operations was likely although few traders expect a decline of long duration.

Renounces Bequest New York—Mrs. Elinor W. Moore has refused a gift of $1,145,531 in order that it may be available for a school. She was bequeathed most of the estate of her sister, Miss Annie Clarkson, for life. Upon Mrs. Moore's death, the will provided, the money should go to Thomas S. Clarkson Memorial College of Technology at Potsdam, N. Y., founded by aunts of the sisters in memory of a brother. Mrs. Moore renounced the bequest so that the college could have the money at once for new buildings.

Seventh Candidate for Gov. Alabama Against Klan Rule

Camden, Ala., Feb. 25.—(AP)—A seventh candidate for Governor of Alabama, B. M. Miller, of Camden, former State Supreme Court Justice, was in the field today with an announced platform carrying the "anti-Klan rule" and "chain store regulation" planks.

In a statement Miller said both of Alabama's United States Senators are Klansmen and declared "the time has arrived for a re-establishment of a government of the people, by the people and for all the people and not as we have now in Alabama, a government by and for Ku Klux Klan."

He said members of the Klan and their friends control the State Legislature and that Governor Bibb Graves and "nearly all of the state officials nominated in the Democratic primary in August, 1926 and elected the following November were Klansmen."

He added that "the jury commissioners in many, if not all, of the counties of the state appointed under this administration, are Klansmen."

Miller said he approved of the action of the State Democratic executive committee in barring the "bolters" of the 1928 Presidential ticket as candidates in the coming primary. He advocated regulation of chain stores by a graduated system of taxation based on the number of stores operated.

Washington, Feb. 24.—(AP)—While the American government is keenly interested in developments in Santo Domingo there was no indication today that it was preparing to dispatch Marines.

What position might be taken later in the event the disturbances should grow in magnitude was not indicated.

The interest of the United States in the republic bears directly on a treaty negotiated in 1907 and re-stated in 1924. Under this pact the American president has authority to appoint a general receiver on Dominican customs whose duty it is to take charge of the collection of revenues there and to render a strict accounting that creditor nations may be paid large debts which have accumulated over a period of years.

At the present time William E. Pummison is the general receiver.
