NATION PREPARES TO PAY HIGHEST HONORS TO WILLIAM H. TAFT

Former President And Chief Justice Of Supreme Court To Be Laid To Rest At Arlington Cemetery Tomorrow; Highest Of Government Officials, Led By President Hoover, Will Attend Services

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—The body of William Howard Taft lay today in the still serenity of his home while a great nation prepared to confer upon him its highest honors.

A profusion of floral tributes, bright blossoms of spring, crowded the lower chambers of the house of death and testified to the respect and affection of the people for the genial, friendly man who alone has served in the two highest offices of the government.

The quietude of the pleasant old house on Wyoming avenue was unbroken save for the occasional arrival of solicitous friends bringing expressions of sympathy to Mrs. Taft or of messengers with more flowers and notes of condolence from the great of this and other nations.

From the White House to the most far-flung outpost of the military and naval services, flags stood at half staff. Congress met only to adopt resolutions of sorrow and then adjourn as a mark of respect for the former President and Chief Justice.

With impressive services of dignified simplicity, the nation tomorrow will heap its honors upon the memory of Mr. Taft. For three hours, the body will lie in state beneath the massive rotunda of the capitol. Funeral services at All Souls' Unitarian church, where Mr. Taft worshipped for many years, and interment in a wooded slope of the Arlington National cemetery, will follow.

A caisson will bear the body from the Taft home to the capitol escorted by a squadron of cavalry.

The members of the Supreme Court over which Mr. Taft presided for a decade will form an honorary escort and eight non-commissioned officers from the army, navy and marine corps will act as pall bearers.

Both great and lowly will file slowly past the bier under the great dome of the capitol. The body will lie on an historic catafalque upon which rested four former Presidents—Abraham Lincoln, James A. Garfield, William McKinley and Warren G. Harding—when they were similarly honored.

The funeral services, simple ceremonies of thirty minutes duration, will be conducted by the family pastor, the Rev. Ulysses G. B. Pierce. They will consist of prayer, two hymns—"Lead Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me"—Scripture reading and the reading of two poems, "The Happy Warrior," by William Wordsworth and Alfred Tennyson's "Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington." There will be no eulogy.

The highest of the government, led by President Hoover, will attend the church services. The Senate and House will be represented by delegations of twenty. The members of the supreme court, the cabinet and the diplomatic corps will be present.

A military escort will accompany the body to the cemetery, where Mr. Taft will be laid to rest among the distinguished dead of the nation's history. It was his expressed wish that he be buried at Arlington. For this honor he was eligible through his having held the post of secretary of war, as well as having served as commander-in-chief of the army and navy and as President. He is the first President to be buried at the National cemetery.

The place of interment was chosen yesterday by Mrs. Taft and their three children, Mrs. Helen Taft Manning and Charles P. and Robert A. Taft. Slipping quietly away from the Wyoming avenue home, they drove to the cemetery and selected the burial plot.

The two sons of Mr. Taft joined their mother and sister yesterday, coming on from Cincinnati as soon as word of their father's death reached them. Mrs. Manning had been in the city almost continuously for several weeks.

Throughout the day, friend's messages and floral tributes were continually arriving. President and Mrs. Hoover sent a huge basket of tulips, crocuses and yellow spring blooms. The congregation with which Mr. Taft had worshipped sent a large basket of lilies. The callers included the socially and officially prominent and members of the diplomatic corps, bringing messages of sorrow from their governments.

Congress Scans Plans To Speed Up 7,000,000,000 Program of Construction

Senatorial Committee Will Initiate Investigation Into Unemployment Conditions In Hearings On Bills To Establish Employment Agencies

Washington, March 10.—(AP)—Congressional leaders today scanned the plans by Secretary Lamont for "speeding up" a $7,000,000,000 program for public and private construction in 1930 as a means of lessening unemployment.

Within two days a Senatorial committee will initiate an investigation of these same unemployment conditions in hearings on bills to establish federal employment agencies and to set up an advance employment planning program.

The commerce secretary last night detailed a gigantic expansion of work by the federal, state, municipal and private industrial organizations, and reported a proposed expenditure of more than one billion dollars for public works in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio alone.

Public utilities will spend $3,500,000,000, he said, and have already pushed their program to such an extent that construction expenditures for the first quarter of the present year present a 12 per cent increase over the same period of 1929.

The call sent out for an acceleration of federal construction expenditures has already been acted upon, the secretary continued, adding that bids on ten of the larger public building projects, involving an outlay of $7,000, would be opened this month, and that the army and navy program of housing, flood control and dock construction likewise was advancing.

He asserted highway work also was "being speeded up throughout the country in order that there may be no avoidable delays in pushing operations as soon as weather conditions permit."

Scores Die In Fire At Movie Show

Seoul, Korea, March 10.—(AP)—One hundred and four persons were killed and more than 100 injured today in a fire which broke out at a motion picture show at the Chinkai naval base in southern Korea. Most of the victims were Japanese naval men and their wives and children.

The film burst into flames during a special motion picture exhibition at Shinkai celebrating the 25th anniversary of the battle of Mukden during the Russo-Japanese war.

The casualties were mostly among naval men and their families.

The show was being held in a warehouse at the naval base in observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the capture by the Japanese of Mukden in the Russo-Japanese war. The anniversary was celebrated throughout the empire today.

The film, which ignited and caused the fire, was a patriotic reproduction of scenes in the Russo-Japanese conflict. About 600 persons were in the building when the film burst into flames and fired the structure.

Most of those who perished were trapped in the building. The blaze broke out at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and raged for two hours.

The majority of the victims were small children. Flames for a time threatened to spread to an ammunition magazine. The Blue-Jacket fire fighters barely managed to prevent this.

KIDNAP RING BROKEN UP IN CHICAGO, ILL.

Seven Members Held For Court Action After Identification By Victim

Chicago, March 10.—(AP)—A band of extortionists that plied its trade of kidnap and torture from New York to Chicago was believed broken today because of an ex-wife's tip that her former husband, a wealthy insurance company head, would be an "easy victim."

The "easy victim," Theodore Kopelman, faced a string of prisoners at the county jail yesterday and positively identified six men as the ones who held him captive in a lonely lake resort cottage and threatened him with searing irons until he payed ransom.

Kopelman then picked out among those rounded up in connection with the gang, his divorced wife, now the sweetheart of one of the ring leaders.

In addition to the seven leaders, seven men and another woman are held at witnesses and two more are being sought.

Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, said the ring's operations netted a yearly average of $35,000 for each member, while one of the men he said, had confessed his share last year was $75,000. He said the operations of the ring were carried on throughout the east.

In the east, Roche said, he believed the ring was connected with the kidnaping of labor leaders, racketeers, actors and others during the past two years. Through fear of reprisal, he said, none of those who paid ransom would identify their abductors.

The investigator said he knew of six other torture-kidnapings which he positively attributes to the ring now under arrest and that he had reports of 25 others where the methods were similar.

In the east the only abduction which reached public notice was that of William J. Lyons, president of the Building Trades Council of Newark, N. J., who paid a gang of torturers a large sum for freedom—he had been burned with hot

The gang's base in Chicago, Roche said, as long as it confined its operations to men who feared to go to police. They made their mistake when they kidnaped Kopelman, Feb. 28, held him prisoner a day in a bungalow at Camp Lake, Wis., another day in a Chicago apartment and finally freed him after he had paid $4,000 and given a check for $1,000.

Strange Kind Of Paralysis Strickens 96

Johnson City, Tenn., March 10.—(AP)—A total of 96 cases of a strange paralysis had been reported to county physicians in three East Tennessee counties today, 68 cases being reported in Washington county alone, by Dr. S. S. Moody, county health officer. Dr. W. W. King, Carter county physician, reported 24 cases and four were reported from Union county.

All of those afflicted are adult males, except a woman, wife of one of the men suffering from the disease.

Dr. Moody said the history in a large per cent of the Washington county cases shows liquor of questionable quality had been drunk by the patient, but that no conclusions could be reached as to that being the probable cause of the disease.

The county physicians and private physicians treating those afflicted said they had been unable to determine the cause of the disease or to find a treatment to which it responded.

In each case, the physicians said, the victims reported first suffering from a cold, then sore throat and from two to three days after contracting the cold, that they felt a numbness in their lower lips.

To Re-broadcast Conversation With Richard Byrd

New York, March 10.—(AP)—Through WGY, WEAF, WJZ, and forty additional stations scattered from coast to coast, the National Broadcasting company, will re-broadcast tomorrow morning at 7:30 a conversation between Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, at Dunedin, N. Z., and Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, who will be in Schenectady.

The conversation between the explorer and Mr. Ochs, carried on across 10,000 miles of space, will be picked up on short wave lengths by WGY under the direction of radio engineers of the General Electric company.

It will be brought by land wire to New York and then re-broadcast by WEAF and WJZ over a national hookup. Radio engineers in Schenectady and in New Zealand have been conducting tests for the last six weeks in anticipation of the broadcast.

Begin State-wide Search For Missing U. N. C. Student

Chapel Hill, March 10.—(AP)—Morgan P. Moore, 17, of Asheville, a freshman in the University of North Carolina, disappeared from the University campus 10 days ago and university officials and members of his family have instituted a state-wide search for him, it was learned today.

University officials expressed fear that the youth had become mentally unbalanced. His instructors he said was of a solitary, erratic disposition and frequently was subject to moods of despondency.

Four negroes have reported that they saw a youth answering the description of Moore last Wednesday on the highway between Chapel Hill and Raleigh. It is also known that he recently applied for a position with a chain store in Charlotte.

Moore is of slender build, has dark hair and brown eyes. He is six feet in height, weighs 130 pounds and when last seen he wore a blue serge suit.

HARNETT WILL DO AWAY WITH THE PRIMARY

Democrats To Select Candidates County Offices At Convention April 16.

Raleigh, March 10.—(AP)—The Raleigh Times will say this afternoon in a story from Lillington by a staff correspondent that Harnett county Democrats plan to hold a county convention April 16 for the purpose of naming Democratic candidates for county offices and that no Democratic primary is wanted in the county contests.

Harnett Democratic candidates have been selected by primary since the passage of the primary law in 1913.

The Harnett Democratic executive committee met Saturday afternoon and decided to do away with the primary system and instead to hold a county-wide mass meeting of Democratic voters and select the candidates, the correspondent says.

Party leaders in the county, the correspondent says, told him that the convention idea was adopted to do away with any friction which might be caused due to the race between Senator F. M. Simmons and J. W. Bailey in the June primary.

"Practically all" of the already announced Democratic candidates were reported to have agreed to abide by the findings of the convention. However, O. P. Shell of Dunn, a candidate for the House of Representatives, said he would have nothing to do with the convention but would enter the primary, the correspondent says.

Every Democrat attending the county convention will go as a delegate, the correspondent was told but each township will be limited to a certain number of votes, based on the number of Democratic votes cast in each township in the gubernatorial race of 1928.

Republicans won Harnett county in 1928 and the Democrats are determined to get back in office this year.

Grand Jury To Consider Action Against Picketing In Elizabethton Strike

Court To Meet Thursday To Consider Successor To Sheriff Moreland, Resigned; Officials At Textile Mills Still Deny Existence Of Strike

Elizabethton, Tenn., March 10.—(AP)—With the sheriff's office involved in a tangled controversy, a grand jury was called into special session here today to consider possible action against picketers who have stoned and stopped vehicles bearing textile mill employees since the local of the United Textile Workers issued a strike call a week ago.

Judge W. C. O'Brien has announced that the Carter county court will meet Thursday to select a successor to Sheriff J. M. Moreland. The sheriff has made several statements, one of which repudiated a resignation tendered Saturday, but last night he was quoted as saying he would retire from office today.

He first accused Judge O'Brien and District Attorney General Ben Allen of "trickery" in accepting a resignation Saturday which was dated March 10. They said Moreland, himself as well as officials and lawyers, was surprised by the disclosure of the date on the document. No one would accept the responsibility for having so dated it.

Moreland yesterday exercised at least technical supervision of the county deputies, who he charged, would have been required to "shoot down" pickets had he followed the instructions of those, according to his version, who are trying to force me out.

Officials of the American Embury and Glanstoff mills have denied the existence of a strike, describing the situation as a demonstration of unemployed. The strike call was issued, union officials said, in protest against operation of a "stretch-out" system and alleged discrimination against union members.

Discoverer Of The Antarctic Regions Is Given Rousing Welcome Upon Arrival At Dunedin, New Zealand; Says Party Surveyed 280,000 Miles Of Hitherto Unmapped Country

Dunedin, N. Z., March 10.—(AP)—American explorer, and the members of his Antarctic expedition returned to Dunedin today after spending more than a year in the scientific exploration of the frozen regions at the bottom of the world. All Dunedin turned out to greet the discoverer of the Antarctic region which he named Marie Byrd Land in honor of his wife. This discovery was rated by Byrd as the most important achievement of the expedition. His death-defying flight to the South Pole evoked just two sentences of comment.

Asked how it felt to fly over the South Pole, Byrd said: "Very much like flying over the North Pole, except the North Pole was bumpier."

Byrd is the only man who has flown over both poles. He spared over the South Pole November 29, 1929, in the trimotored monoplane Floyd Bennett, piloted by Bernard B. Boland, and accompanied by Capt. Ashley McKinley, aerial surveyor, and Harold I. June, radio operator. The flight was made over the hazardous heights from Little America, Byrd's base.

On May 9, 1926, Byrd flew out of Spitzbergen, circled the North Pole and returned. Among his other adventures was a trans-Atlantic flight which ended when his plane became lost in fog and finally came down at the water's edge off the coast of France.

Tumultuous enthusiasm held sway as the expedition, borne by the barque City of New York and the steamer Eleanor Bolling, entered the Harbor of Dunedin. Dunedin was the last city to bid Byrd goodbye when he set out for the Antarctic in December, 1928.

Thousands of persons lined the waterfront to witness the return. Bands played "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The Conquering Hero." Scores of small craft scurried out and escorted the two ships to their docks.

Byrd's comment on the accomplishment of the expedition was brief. He said: "Surely the South Pole flight was not more important than the flight during which we discovered the new land to the east, on the other side of the Ross Dependency. This I have named Marie Byrd Land."

"The six scientists with us worked seriously and the results should prove very useful. We surveyed 280,000 square miles of hitherto unmapped country."

Dunedin, often called the "Pearl City of New Zealand," has in other times cheered intrepid explorers who preceded Admiral Byrd into the ice floes that long held fast the secrets of the South Pole—an unknown region of continental size.

To these explorers, including Roald Amundsen, Admiral Byrd paid tribute. "They had difficulties to overcome," he said, "many more than we. These gallant men did not cease after seeing the many things they had to overcome. Because of avian-gero and our dogs we did not undergo the difficulties and hardships of those pioneers. They deserve our utmost respect."

"We got used to the cold and our houses were warm enough. The monotony was the worst thing we had to encounter."

Other members of the expedition were reticent about their achievements. The explorers will remain here about ten days and then will sail for New York via the Panama Canal.

Rear Admiral Byrd and his party—left to right—were Commander Byrd, left; Larsen on the whaler; Larsen October 10, 1928. On December 2 they sailed from Dunedin, New Zealand, for the Antarctic, but to set their feet upon land again for fifteen months and eight days.

On December 25 the expedition arrived at the ice barrier, and on January 6—in the middle of the South polar summer—a permanent base was established on the Bay of Whales at Little America.

It was nearly eleven months before Commander Byrd and three companions started for the South Pole on November 28, dodging mountain ranges as they fought their way above the huge Antarctic plateau. At 8:55 a. m. November 29, Commander Byrd wireless that he was directly over the pole. He then returned to his base with barely enough gas left to carry him there.

FOOD AND TAXES.

There was one township in Wilkes County in 1928 that did not have a single delinquent taxpayer, according to announcement made by the University of North Carolina, News Letter. Such a condition was made possible because the people of that township believed in and practiced raising their home supplies first of all, and to be sure it is an example that could well be copied by the people of our section.

Declaring that by practicing such a system of farming Eastern North Carolina could soon become the richest farming section of the entire nation, the News Letter says:

"Brushy Mountain township, Wilkes County, did not have a single delinquent taxpayer in 1928. It is reported that this is a record for Wilkes county, and possibly for the state.

"The interesting point is that Brushy Mountain township is a famous food and fruit growing section, located in a region that comes very near living at home. No non-food crop is grown in the county. The farmers raise their home needs first, and produce such surplus fruits, food crops, and livestock products as they can market. If the farmers of eastern and southern North Carolina would grow their unexcelled cash crops on the live-at-home basis practiced in Wilkes county there would be little heard about their inability to pay taxes. They would in ten years become the richest farmers in the Nation, for they would be able to bank a large part of the enormous receipts from their two great cash crops."

ABOUT TOWN

Better support of athletics of the Greenville high school was being urged today by members of citizens who have been following the activities of the organization with considerable interest the last several years. Because of poor attendance at the games this season, the association has gone into a hole financially and it is going to be necessary for the public to rally vigorously during the coming baseball season if the boys wind up the season with an even balance of the ledger.

Both boys and girls have finished a splendid brand of sport during the year, and it is to be hoped persons who have not been attending the games will do so during the spring and in that way help the youngsters see their way out of the predicament caused by financial shortage.

"Greenville is good enough for me," declared a citizen the other day, referring to numbers of people who make a habit of going to New York and other large cities to do their buying.

"I have lived here all my life and have yet to see the time Greenville stores were unable to supply me with what I wanted. I am of the opinion that our merchants compare favorably with those of the larger cities, and while their stocks may not be as expensive, what they do have is of the most select lines and right up to the minute.

"Don't talk to me about going somewhere else to buy. I am going to do my shopping at home like I always did because I know that my money stays here for investment in our own enterprises."

The pilgrimage of North Carolina Baptists to Greenville the latter part of this month to celebrate the one hundredth birthday of the State Baptist convention is going to be one of the most important events in the life of the denomination.

Realizing this fact, Memorial Baptists are planning an entertainment program that will be in keeping with the importance of the occasion and send every one of the thousand or more delegates back home with a good taste in his mouth.

Greenville has always had the reputation of entertaining delegations in big style, and this time the program will be as elaborate as ever if not more so. Baptists are proud of the fact that the State Convention had its inception in this city, and they look back with pride upon the splendid achievements of the last hundred years.

There will be many high lights in connection with the convention. There will be no other than Governor O. Max Gardner. Governor Gardner knows what the denomination has done for the religious upbuilding of the state and that he will do their record justice in his address goes without saying. The people are urged to do everything possible to make the stay of the delegates as pleasant as possible so that they will return to their homes happy in the fact that they attended the anniversary exercises and had the opportunity of partaking of some real Pitt county hospitality.

People with any kind of work to be done have been urged to get in touch with the Pitt County Welfare Department as this agency has plenty of applicants to fill the bill.

Director K. T. Futrell issued a statement Saturday afternoon calling on the public to help him, provide employment for the people appealing to him for work. He said these men and women were not particular about the kind of jobs offered them. All they want, he declared, is a way to make money to keep the wolf away from their doors. Of course, the Welfare department is providing for the poor through the commissary on Dickerson avenue, but these dependants had much rather be at work earning their own living without accepting their livelihood from the public.

Should you have work of any kind, why not call up Mr. Futrell and let him know about it. He would have you a man or woman at your door much quicker than you could search around and find one. Try the plan and in that way help relieve the unemployment situation.

HOOKS PRESENTS FACTS ON FARM RELIEF LEGISLATION

Dear Mr. Editor: What has become of the $7,000,000 loan seed bill that they raise so much racket about it, as I see it. The Senate matter, and am going to tell the people of Pitt county the truth about it, and see it. The Senate passed the bill on January 17. The Republican leaders in the House held it up and it was not passed in that body until February 24. President Hoover did not sign same until March 3, on which date it became a law. But the money had to be secured in an appropriation bill. Well, the House has already passed seven of the great appropriation bills, and all of them are now waiting for the Senate to act on them. The farmers can't get the seed loan fund until the Senate adds this $7,000,000 on one of the appropriation bills, and now the Republican leaders say they will not let the Senate do so until they have passed the tariff bill. According to news, paper reports it may be several weeks before the Senate furnishes the money for the seed loan bill. It will then be too late.

We have a Congressman from this district, Lindsay C. Warren, who always tells the people the truth, and that is the reason why they have confidence in him. Mr. Warren was one of the most active men in Congress to try to pass this legislation for southern farmers, but it seems he knew the situation better than anyone when he told the people that the Republicans were doing all in their power to block and defeat this legislation. While others were trying to play politics and pretend they were great friends of the farmer, Congressman Warren refused to mislead the people. It has now been up to the great Senate since March 3 to furnish this money. I now ask the question, why don't the Senate act? Some men up in Washington and in Pitt county are trying to capitalize the unfortunate plight of the farmer, and they have failed to do it. Personally, I thank Mr. Warren for his interest and work. He is the kind of man that will never resort to deception. Never has there been in the Congress of the United States a truer or more loyal representation, than Hon. Lindsay C. Warren, and the people of the First District honor him and appreciate his work. Sincerely,

Avden, N. C.

Training School P. T. A. Meets.

The children in Miss Rainwater's fifth grade a very interesting program at the meeting of the P. T. A. of the Training School last Wednesday. The play was given again in the college auditorium on the following day for the college students.

This program was an outgrowth of a study of the Scandinavian countries—the people and customs—and was the result of the work in geography, literature, language, music and art during the last few weeks. The children wrote the first act of the play themselves. This showed two American children visiting a Norwegian home. The Norwegian children have some of their friends dressed in Swedish and Danish costumes. They danced many of their folk songs for the visitors.

The second act was a dramatization of the myth—Death of Balder the Beautiful. The deep interest and appreciation of the children for this story was shown in the splendid way they interpreted the spirit of the characters. The attractive costumes were planned by the children themselves and showed much ingenuity and skill.

It would be difficult to list all the values gained by the children in working out this program, but the fine spirit of interest and cooperation existing among these boys and girls while working together was very evident. Also as a result of this work the children have a more sympathetic understanding of and appreciation for the children and literature of the Scandinavian countries.

GOOD PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN BY DUKE MUSICAL CLUB

In Duke's three musical clubs there is a personnel of 57 performers, all of whom will appear in the entertainment at East Carolina Teachers College on next Saturday evening, March 15. J. Foster Barnes is director of the singers and G. E. Leitch, Jr., is in charge of the two instrumental organizations—the jazz orchestra and the symphony.

The versatility of the Duke men is one of the causes of their great success as entertainers. They attract large audiences and everybody finds something to his taste, for the program ranges all the way from high class music, such as that of Wagner and Schubert, played by the finest college orchestra in the south, to light jazz tunes played by the jazz orchestra. They have regular glee club numbers, solos and quartettes among their songs.

The glee club will go to Europe in the summer and are booked for concerts in eight countries. They will have on their program here several numbers they will sing on their European tour.

Local Shriners To Give Movie In Near Future

A moving picture entitled "An Even Chance" will be presented at White's theatre in the near future under auspices of the Shriners of this community. The picture will be shown free of charge and will run continuously.

The film was produced by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Company of Culver City, Calif., for the purpose of presenting the work of the Shriners' Hospitals for Crippled Children. The Shrine maintains 15 hospitals and mobile units at various parts of the continent with a total capacity of over 700 beds. During the last few years over 15,000 crippled children have been treated, a great many of them being restored to normal health and physical effectiveness.

A number of the best-known movie stars of Hollywood co-operated in the production of the film. The Shriners is played by Chappell Dossett, who played the role of the "shanghaied parson" in "The Flood Ship." Mr. Dossett lived for many years in Italy and while there took an active part in the work of Scottish Rite Freemasonry for which he received the honor of the 32nd degree from the Italian Supreme Council. He also helped direct the Italian scenes of "Ben Hur."

The crippled boy is played by Philippe de Lacy, one of the best-known boy stars, who has won success in "Beau Geste," "The Magic Garden," and other well-known plays. The character of the mother is enacted by Dorothy Cumming, whose characterization of the Madonna in Cecil de Mille's "King of Kings" is one of the greatest triumphs of the screen.

The little girl sweetheart is played by Joyce Goad, known as the Million Dollar Baby and recently chosen by D. W. Griffith for a leading part in his new film, entitled "Drum of Love." Other famous actors who take part in the film are Marc MacDermott and Frank Hagney.

Critics agree that "An Even Chance" presents a gripping story and is one of the greatest short pictures ever produced.

The film is being shown before all the temples of the Shrine on the continent and this campaign is being wholly financed by Allen H. Ratterree, a Shriner of Los Angeles, Calif., as a contribution to the philanthropy for crippled children.

Upper Tar River To Be "Snagged" In Near Future

Washington, D. C., March 10.—Congressman Lindsay Warren announced today that he had been informed by the Chief Engineer that he had authorized an allotment, which will be available in a short while, for snagging operations in the upper Tar river, above Rocky Mount. The river in that section has not been cleaned out in many years, and it is felt that the work will render some relief from excessive floods, which in recent years have created great damage. Approximately $16,500 will be expended under the direction of the District Engineer, Major W. A. Snow.

Congressman Warren was also notified that Major Snow's supplemental report on the flood control of Tar river had been received, and would be acted upon by the Board of Engineers in about a month. The original report of Major Snow was unfavorable but Mr. Warren secured a re-hearing at Rocky Mount on January 24th. Well informed citizens believe that permanent relief from floods on Tar River can only be accomplished by a well considered system of flood control, which will cost several million dollars. Mr. Warren states that the damage in Nash, Edgecombe, and Pitt is increasing every year, and federal relief is imperative. Congress passed his bill three years ago for an investigation of the floods of the Roanoke and Tar rivers. A favorable report was received for the Roanoke, and he is working to place the Tar river on the same status.

Chick New Pyjamas For Lounging

Lounging Pajamas are becoming more and more important. The tuck-in blouse is very smart. Trousers are wide, very often giving the effect of a full flaring skirt. Coats are mostly made in three-quarter lengths, although shorter ones are seen. Pajamas fill a place that they never have before been allowed to fill. They're modern, very chic, yet feminine in that they follow the lines of the new silhouette. Lovely color combinations, significant of spring, accentuate the beauty of these pajamas. Why not show you?

After Spit is a horrid word, but it is worse on the end of your cigar

Dinner

... the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency ... join it. Smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

Of course the spitter earns your disgust ... his filthy habit is revolting. Why not feel the same way about the old-fashioned cigar ... the cigar rolled by dirty fingers and tipped with spit? Remember, more than half of all cigars made in this country are still made by hand, and therefore subject to the risk of spit!

Certified Cremo protects you against this abomination! Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods developed by the United States Government during the war. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit! Try a Certified Cremo—see how wonderfully good it is! Made of the choicest, tenderest leaves that the crop affords, we claim Certified Cremo's quality is tastier than that of any other cigar. Don't let its 5c price stand in your way. Your physician has in mind a cigar like Certified Cremo when he recommends a mild smoke in place of heavy brands.

Crush-proof ... immaculate ... foil-wrapped ... Certified Cremo is the kind of cigar the late Vice-President Marshall undoubtedly was thinking of when he said: "What this country needs is a good 5c cigar!"

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, March 10.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 3 points to a decline of 6 points today. Relatively steady Liverpool cables failed to bring in much buying at the start, while there may have been some selling on reports that fertilizer tag sales for February showed an increase of 313 per cent over last year, although they were 27 per cent smaller than in February, 1928.

Prices eased off to 14.11 for May, 14.45 for October under the initial offerings, making net declines of about 8 to 9 points but this dip brought in covering and trade buying and the market firmed up shortly after the opening. May advanced to 14.38 and October to 14.69 with the general list showing net gains of about 10 to 18 points at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported continental and Bombay buying in that market but said that buyers of cotton cloths and yarns were cautious and that decline in cotton was checking business in Manchester.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 10.—(AP)—Further piling up of the United States wheat visible supply, with no export outlet in sight and wheat values average a good deal lower today. The Liverpool wheat market was quoted nearly as low as Chicago, normal differences on account of freight rates being virtually wiped out. Reports of lack of moisture in parts of Kansas and Texas and of high winds in parts of Nebraska and Kansas failed to check the general downward trend of prices.
