AMERICA AND JAPAN REACH AGREEMENT AT LONDON CONFERENCE

Action, However, Said To Be Dependent Upon Confirmation From Home Authorities; Final Details Believed To Have Been Discussed Today Between Ambassador Matsudaira And Senator Reed Of United States

London, March 14.—(AP)—The American and Japanese naval delegations were said in well-informed quarters this afternoon to have achieved an agreement which is only dependent on confirmation from home authorities.

Sensor Reed and Ambassador Matsudaira, two old friends who have been threshing out the complicated difficulties between the two countries, met again this morning and observers were led to believe they had discussed final details.

The big task which they are reported to have all accomplished included settlement of the Japanese claim for a 70 per cent cruiser ratio. This has been the outstanding stumbling block since the beginning of negotiations.

The impression obtains in well-informed circles that the United States, Great Britain and Japan have been trying to rush through their agreements so as to get set for a possible three-power pact in the event France and Italy could not participate.

The Japanese demands were the last outstanding questions to be settled among these three powers. Just what settlement is projected was not indicated, but well-informed persons believed it included concessions on both sides.

Observers say that if this agreement has been achieved it is not only one of the outstanding features of the conference but is of paramount importance at this moment.

This is so because it would permit of a three-power agreement between the United States, Great Britain and Japan if the conference failed to settle the French question and the Franco-Italian problem.

London, March 14.—(AP)—Secretary of State Stimson, who shared the task of pulling the naval conference to the brink of deadlock, yesterday, today was assuming an even more important role.

A meeting between the secretary and Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy this afternoon topped the list of renewed conversations. The Italian foreign minister later will see Foreign Minister Briand of France.

From all directions pressure was being brought to bear on the Franco-Italian deadlock. The British Prime Minister yesterday held the conference off the brink of a precipice, not as head of the British delegation but as chairman of the conference charged with keeping the machinery going. Today Secretary Stimson was hard at work on the negotiations.

Today's talks may have a fateful bearing on the situation although no official meetings of the delegations have been arranged.

Prime Minister MacDonald will go to Chequers this afternoon and tomorrow will attend the annual British-Scottish Rugby game in London. Sunday has been set aside for an important conference with Premier Tardieu of France at which the British and French statesmen will revise the whole conference position.

The renewed lease of the conference was signalized today by the appointment of a new technical committee to study what changes may be required in the rules under the Washington treaty for scrapping old ships.

Death Saves Convict From Return To Jail

Brawley, Cal., March 14.—(AP)—Death has saved Walter Sinclair, 42, alias Joe McFarland, escaped convict, from being returned to the Ohio state penitentiary at Columbus.

Sinclair, arrested here yesterday upon information received from Ohio officers, was shot and killed by police as he made a dash for freedom from the Brawley city jail.

Senate Refuses To Again Consider Action Denying Increased Tobacco Tariff

Senate Informed Postmasterships Are Sold In S. C.

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—The assertion that postmasterships were being sold by Republican officials in South Carolina with the knowledge of the Postmaster General, Brown, was made in the Senate today by Senator Blaise, Democrat, S. C.

Blaise said the Postmaster General "continues to send nominations to this Senate when he knows that they have been paid for."

He spoke after Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, had notified the Senate that tomorrow he would submit to the Senate a final report on the investigation of patronage conditions in southern states by the postoffice committee.

Demanding to know why Blaise had not placed his charge before the investigating committee, Brookhart promised to go over the evidence of Blaise and if warranted, to reopen the inquiry.

"I didn't bring it to the committee's attention," said Blaise, "because if it has done anything I don't know it. I want action and I am going to get it."

LATHAM HEADS PHYSICIANS OF THIS DISTRICT

New Bern Doctor Elected President Of Eighth District Medical Society Here

Dr. Joseph E. Latham, of New Bern, was elected president at a meeting of the Second District Medical Society held at the High School building in this city last night. He succeeds Dr. M. T. Frizzelle, of Ayden, who presided during the session. Dr. Duval Jones, of New Bern was elected to the office of secretary.

The meeting last night was one of the most interesting in months and was attended by seventy-five or more members from the eight counties comprising the society's membership. Supper was served in the cafeteria of the high school building.

The doctors were welcomed to Greenville by Mayor J. C. Lanier, the response being made by Dr. C. O. Laughinghouse, of Raleigh, secretary of the State Board of Health.

Papers dealing with various subjects of interest to the organization were read by Dr. Sidbury, of Wilmington, Dr. Paul Whitaker, of Kingston, Dr. Stone, of Greenville, and Dr. J. E. Latham, of New Bern. The session was described as one of the best in months.

Broker Killed By Fall

Chicago, March 14.—(AP)—Frank D. Ketcham, 55, a stock broker, fell or leaped to his death early today from the eleventh floor of the Alhambra House, a North Michigan avenue hotel.

Ketcham was a widower, and wealthy. A son, Tutthill Ketcham, a broker, of Winnetka, North Shore suburb, survives.

Youth's Legs Broken When Struck By Car

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—Walter Johnson, Jr., 14-year-old son of the manager of the Washington baseball club, had both legs broken last night when he was struck by an automobile.

Young Johnson was skating near his home at the time of the accident. The driver who hit him said he did not see the youth because he was blinded by the lights of an approaching automobile.

OIL SCANDAL TESTIMONY IN DOHENY TRIAL

Developments In Sensational Investigation Heard By Jury During Today

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—Testimony that drew the country's attention in 1924 when the Senate oil committee was investigating the oil scandals was heard today by the jury in the bribery trial of Edward L. Doheny, the prosecution reading into the record Doheny's story before the committee of the $100,000 which he claims he loaned to Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the Interior.

The scene in the courtroom was in sharp contrast to that before the Senate committee. Doheny sat quietly and relaxed today as the reading of the testimony continued, but in 1924 after the committee pressed him about differences in testimony about the note that Fall gave him in return for the $100,000 which the Government contends was a bribe he burst out:

"Are you trying to get me to admit I lied about it?"

The prosecution also placed before the jury today the testimony before the Senate oil committee of the late Edwin Denby, former secretary of the navy, in which he admitted that he knew nothing of the details of the Elk Hills lease which he signed.

The Government planned also to read today Fall's explanation that he got the $100,000 from Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, an explanation which was later proved to be untrue.

Fall admitted that he got the money from Doheny but insisted that it was a loan. The secretary of the Interior in the Harding administration was convicted last October of receiving a bribe from Doheny.

Uncle Sam's Purse Rather Slim Today

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—Uncle Sam's pocketbook today looked like that of the average person's just before pay day. Instead of the usual balance of millions, there was only $665,231.04.

But tomorrow is Government pay day. The March 15 income tax payments, now flooding in, will be the first of the week. The Government then will shoot into the hundreds of millions.

Because the income tax payments are so near at hand, the treasury this week has permitted the balance to run at the low level.

Political Pot Begins To Simmer Quite Freely In Pitt; Four Candidates Out

William J. Bundy Announces Candidacy For Legislature, And Sheriff Whitehurst Seeks Renomination; Tucker And Flanagan Came Out First Of Week

The political pot in Pitt county began simmering quite freely today with the announcement of two more candidates for legislative and county offices. This brought the total number of the candidates for the week to four, two of whom aspire to legislative offices and two to the office of sheriff of Pitt county.

The two announcements today came from W. J. Bundy, candidate for a seat in the House of Representatives of the North Carolina Legislature, and Sheriff Sam Whitehurst, who is seeking renomination for the office of sheriff.

The other two candidates filing earlier during the week were E. G. Flanagan, Pitt County Representative in the Legislature, and Wyatt Tucker, of Farmville, who is running for the office of sheriff.

In making his announcement today, Mr. Bundy declared that if elected he would do all in his power to bring about a better tax situation.

Sheriff Whitehurst, jokingly remarked that the reason he is wearing a cap these days, is because his hat is in the ring. He promised the same high type of service that has featured his administration the last two terms, and asked support on the strength of his record.

Mr. Flanagan, who has represented Pitt county in the House for two terms has provided himself a platform promising to do his utmost to relieve the tax burden on farm lands and real estate. He

Kills Wife And Brother And Himself

Johnson City, Tenn., March 14.—(AP)—An East Tennessee farmer, his wife and her brother-in-law were dead today, victims of a tragedy which followed the filing of a divorce suit by the wife.

Fred Range, 40, killed his wife, fatally shot John Dempsey, wounded Mrs. Dempsey, and then committed suicide yesterday. Range, followed his wife to the Dempsey home a few hours after he had been served with a notice of his wife's suit.

He shot her to death in the kitchen. Then he went into the bedroom and, after seriously wounding Mrs. Dempsey, proceeded to the yard and shot Dempsey. The latter died in a hospital here early today and Mrs. Dempsey is in a serious condition.

After the shooting Range walked to his own home and officers found him in the attic. "Don't shoot," he said, then fired a bullet from his pistol into his head. He died several hours later.

One of Range's farm hands told officers that Range had said he planned to kill his two boys, Alfred, 13, and John D., 7. The boys said he had threatened them upon his return home, but that they had hidden from him.

Mrs. Range and Mrs. Dempsey were sisters.

SAYS NEW YORK GROWS BETTER WITH DRY LAW

Chaplain Of Tombs Prison Gives Vivid Description Of Life In Metropolis

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—"Little Old New York," as they frequently refer to it on Manhattan Island, today ended the picture of the House judiciary committee's prohibition hearing and one who has seen much of the ne'er do wells who drift along with the rest of the millions testified it was his opinion that as America's first city has grown bigger, it also has grown better.

The lights along the "great white way" may sparkle just as brightly as a decade ago, but in the opinion of John Callahan, the chaplain at the Tombs prison, an amazing change has taken place. He told the committee it was a change for the better and he attributed it to prohibition.

"I hope to God the dry law will stay on the books and be more consistently enforced," were the words he left in the committee record to combat the previous testimony by the anti-prohibition group, that since enactment of the 18th amendment crime has increased and conditions grown worse.

Often referred to as the "Bishop of the Bowery," Mr. Callahan said the dry law had brought "great good" to the Bowery district where he said ten years ago there had been 45 saloons. Now, he said, conditions had changed. Twenty-five years as director of the Hadley Rescue Mission has given the chaplain much opportunity for observation of those who do not walk on Fifth Avenue in fashionable clothes and he said that he knew many men who ten years ago had lived "without hope," who now had homes, families, radios and automobiles. Again, he attributed this change to prohibition.

Callahan was the second witness of the day. Before him Raymond Robins, Chicago social worker, likewise had endorsed the 18th amendment and made the assertion that Alfred E. Smith had been defeated as Democratic Presidential nominee because of his stand for prohibition.

When Smith signed a bill repealing the New York State prohibition enforcement act, Robins asserted, he became the country's chief nullifier under the flag. He argued that Smith's being a member of the Catholic faith had won him many votes as it lost.

The third witness was John R. McIntyre, superintendent of the Whosever Gospel Mission of Germantown, Pa. He also spoke in support of the dry law. He said the work of the mission showed a change for the better under prohibition, and that it was no longer necessary to pick up drunken men from the streets and try and build them into self-respecting citizens.

The committee also heard Ralph H. White, of New Haven, research secretary of the fact finding committee on law enforcement in Connecticut who testified that students in his schools and colleges had reduced their drinking since prohibition.

Kinston Theatre Wrecked By Fire

Kinston, March 14.—Fire early today destroyed the Grand theatre. Kinston's largest showhouse. The loss was estimated at $80,000.

Originating in the projecting room, the flames spread rapidly and firemen found it impossible to check the fire. After battling for an hour and a half, the firemen literally flooded out the blaze.

Confesses Wounding Two Men In Robbery

Jacksonville, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Judy Jordan of Chicago, engaged in a gun battle with officers at police headquarters here early today and was subdued with the aid of tear gas bombs, later confessed, according to authorities, he and his companion, Jack Jackson, wounded two men in a robbery near Daytona Beach last night.

Jordan contradicted an earlier statement that he and Jackson were from New York and knew nothing of a filming station robbery in which George Kuhn and his son, Andrew, were shot.

Jordan and Jackson were arrested last night on a highway entering the city. At police headquarters Jordan produced a gun and fired several times in an effort to escape. Officers returned the fire but he was trapped between two buildings and recaptured. No one was injured.

The two men were taken to Daytona Beach this morning by officers from that city.

Famous Co-Discoverer Of Cancer Extract On Visit To Relatives Here

Senate Candidate

William V. Hodges of Denver, former national treasurer of republican party, is candidate for republican nomination for United States senator in Colorado.

Dr. John D. Humber, Of San Francisco, Calif., Visits Parents Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Humber, After Appearing Before Senate Committee At Washington; Gives Graphic Story Of Treatment Of 1,350 Cancer Cases In California

Dr. John D. Humber, of San Francisco, Calif., co-discoverer of the cancer extract that has aroused the interest of the medical world, was back home today, visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Humber, corner Fifth and Washington streets. Dr. Humber came down last night from Washington City where he and Dr. Coffey, co-discoverer of the cancer treatment, appeared before a Senate committee yesterday relative to the Harris resolution for correlation of facts for federal aid in cancer control.

Dr. Humber will leave tomorrow for New York where he and Dr. Coffey are scheduled to hold a conference with prominent medical experts regarding health work and especially the treatment of cancer. They will go from New York to Chicago where another conference dealing with the cancer problem will be held.

The discovery of the cancer extract has aroused the interest of physicians and surgeons in all parts of the world, and the co-discoverers will be busy for months holding conferences with members of the medical profession, explaining the nature of the work and the remarkable results which have been obtained in the clinics in California.

Sitting in his old home today, the young surgeon from the staff of the Pacific General Hospital at San Francisco, gave a graphic but guarded report of the research work now under way at the various clinics in California, and expressed the hope that the extract would in the near future be placed at the service of thousands of cancer sufferers in various parts of the country.

Dr. Humber said the work was being carried on only in California at this time, in order that they might be able to give personal attention and observation to the hundreds of cases coming under their supervision from day to day. He said they were treating only cases which had been given up as hopeless by the medical profession and that results so far had been gratifying. Improvement has been noted in many cases after the first injection of the extract and the patients are entirely relieved of pain.

He described the desperate circumstances of some of the patients, given up to die from the ravages of the most malignant form of cancer. Many of them came to the clinics intent upon suicide—with guns in their pockets to carry out this purpose—to find complete relief for their pain-racked bodies from the first injection of the serum.

Dr. Humber said research work in connection with the treatment of cancer had been going on for over a period of many years. He said they worked upon the theory that the human body in such cases needed an extract that would act as a stabilizer of tissue growth and they found that the extract taken from the cortical substance of the suprarenal gland caused a sloughing off of the cancerous tissues, and aided the human system to recover the stabilization necessary to combat the ravages of the cancer.

He said there were 1,350 cases under their care in the various California clinics at this time, and that the hospitals of San Francisco and Los Angeles were crowded to capacity. These patients are being kept under constant observation so that the progress of the cases may be noted from time to time. He expressed hope of being able to open other clinics in the West, and at New Orleans some time in the future, but was unable to say when such plans would materialize.

Dr. Humber said that they did not claim a permanent cure for cancer owing to the fact that the work is now in an experimental stage, and would remain there until something definite had been determined in the cases now under observation. Not a penny has been charged for administering the extract he declared, as present work is being carried on merely for the purpose of ascertaining the effect of the extract on the cancerous tissues.

He said a prerequisite demanded (Continued on page four)

HUSTON AGAIN TESTIFIES AT LOBBY PROBE

Says Pres. Hoover Has Committed Himself To No Plan Regarding Muscle Shoals

Washington, March 14.—(AP)—Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee testified today before the Senate lobby committee that he did not believe President Hoover "has ever felt just the first offer had been made for Muscle Shoals."

Questioned by the lobby committee for the third day concerning his activities in connection with the Muscle Shoals legislation, Huston said President Hoover "has committed himself to no plan."

Huston added that he believed the Henry Ford offer for Muscle Shoals was a "wonderful opportunity for the Government," while Hoover believed it could be improved. He said the same was true of the proposal of the American Cyanamid offer to lease Muscle Shoals which now is before Congress for consideration. Huston is a former president of the Tennessee River Improvement Association which has advocated acceptance of the Cyanamid bid.

Questioned by Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, Huston said he did not believe the Government could successfully operate the $100,000,000 power and nitrate plant.

He said the equipment now was out of date and would have to be rejuvenated and that if it were scrapped a Congressional investigation would result.

Huston added it would be difficult for an "honest man" to overcome the handicaps.

"The reputation of any honest man is endangered when he goes before an investigating committee," he asserted.

"It is only endangered when his record is not clean," interrupted Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin.

"That sort of man is not an honest man," Huston declared.

Huston testified that he had solicited money from the Union Carbide Company for the Tennessee Association and that the Union Carbide had contributed $36,100. If the Cyanamid bid is accepted the Carbide Company is to get a part of the power generated at the Shoals.

To Give His Blood In An Attempt To Save Child's Life

Mexico City, March 14.—(AP)—Thomas Arnold Robinson, American son-in-law of General Plutarco Elias Calles, former Mexican President, will give his blood today in an attempt to save the life of the baby daughter of his brother, in-law, Rodolfo Calles. The infant is in a grave anemic state.

Robinson's blood was tested and approved and the transfusion will be undertaken during the day. His wife is the former Ernestina Del Elias Calles.

The Musical Club To Appear In City Tomorrow Evening

Tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock the campus building of the East Teachers college, the Duke Club will give an entertainment. It is one of the best of the season and a sign of that door is all that is missing. There is no ticket.

The orchestra, the symphony and the jazz orchestra will give a program of interest. The versatility of the musicians has them to be in great demand. Other features, they have a drama, a clever comedy and a synopsis of the director of the club, who takes the leading part in the play. The club will make Greenville its last appearance before leaving for Europe and will tour in eight countries. The symphony orchestra is one of the very top of college orchestras in the south. The Duke Club, "Jelly Lebewitz" and the Duke Orchestra are the only orchestra of its kind in the South. The Duke Club will give a reception to the Duke Club after the program.

Local Debaters Visit The State Tax Department

The affirmative and negative debating teams of the Greenville High School, consisting of Misses Mary Beth Carr, Nancy Lee Summerville, Margaret McGinnis and Pete Byrum, spent the day in Raleigh yesterday in the offices of the North Carolina Tax Commission for the purpose of studying the tax problem in North Carolina. The evening before the coming state debate has to do with the proposed amendment to the Constitution which would allow the Legislature to classify property for taxation with special emphasis on the intangibles.

The time spent yesterday was very worth while in that Dr. Fred Harrison of the Tax Commission and Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell gave the group several hours of their time in going over the arguments for and against the amendments and also gave the debaters new material to work with. Miss J. H. Rose accompanied the debaters to Raleigh and arranged for the interview.

The state-wide debate will be held on Friday, April 4. The local high school will debate with Washington and New Bern.

State To Consider Tebell Resignation

Raleigh, March 14.—(AP)—The senate committee of the board of trustees of N. C. State college will tomorrow morning at 11 to consider the resignation of Gus Tebell, head coach in football and basketball, which was tendered to Dr. E. C. Brooks, president, several days ago.

Tebell, it has been announced, has accepted an offer from the University of Virginia to coach basketball and baseball and assist in foot-

Jelly Lebewitz, director of Duke Symphony and University Club orchestras.

Starting next September. The athletic committee tomorrow expected to urge Coach Tebell to resign.

If he will not reconsider, local officials are expected to go to the college and make an appeal for his resignation.

Members of the college committee expected to go to the college to see Tebell's successor. Members of the college committee expected to go to the college to see Tebell's successor.

The committee will also take up matters pertaining to athletics at its meeting tomorrow. Southern branch of the University of California is being rebuilt on a 400-acre campus at a cost of $10,000,000.

Old Fort Jessup, in western Louisiana, has been made a park.

Order of the Mystic Shrine

The Order of the Mystic Shrine, which has been held to be the playground of the city and it has long been known for its purpose of fun and amusement. Those who are fortunate enough to witness the showing of the Shrine have been directly $2.00 per year for the purpose of the local Shriner, will decide that the Shrine is one of the most out-landish in the city.

Two years ago the Shrine of North Carolina has built and now have in operation 11 hospitals and 4 mobile units, with a total capacity of 750 beds. During this period over 15,000 children have been treated, all of them being benefited and large numbers of them brought back to healthy, happy, normal childhood. The doors of this hospital were open to all who were in need of medical attention. The only requirement for admission was that the patient be a member of the Shrine. Each member of the Shrine has assessed directly $2.00 per year for hospitals to Greenville is located at the corner of 5th and 6th streets. It has a capacity of 50 beds and has been in operation since 1927.

The public will have a rare opportunity to get first-hand information about this great charitable work if they will take the trouble to go to White's Theatre next Sunday afternoon and see his picture.

Mrs. Rawl Club Hostess.

Mrs. E. E. Rawl charmingly entertained her bridge club Thursday afternoon at her home on Pitt street. Quantities of jonquills were effectively used for decorations.

Following a number of interesting progressions, Mrs. C. M. Warren was awarded an attractive bread basket for high score.

Mrs. Rawl, assisted by her mother Mrs. Lella Little, and her son, Matt Phillips, served a tempting salad course, carrying out the St. Patrick's idea. Mrs. C. B. Rowlett, Mrs. B. A. Tyson, Jr., Mrs. R. D. Harrington and Miss Gore were guests.

At the conclusion of the game the hostess served a delightful salad course with iced tea.

The guests of the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Longwell, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mayo, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Furell, Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Whitehurst, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. McWhorter, Mr. and Mrs. Z. V. Bunting, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bunting, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Andrews, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bullock, Mesdames L. M. Jones, Harvey Manning, Jasper House and S. G. Bunting; Misses Mabel Barnhill, Harriet Pollard and Thelma Bunting.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Richardson, of Dover; and Mr. Sam T. Carson, Miss Pray Hadley, Mrs. Colma Carson Moore and Mr. Foster Young, of Greenville.

Cottage Prayer Meeting Tonight.

We call the attention of members of Memorial Baptist Church to the cottage prayer meeting to be held tonight at 7:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Strand, 413 West Fifth street. Our meetings have been increasing our fellowship and interest in one another. Come, let us pray together for a great spiritual awakening in Greenville.

High School Pupils Present Opera.

Yesterday afternoon the pupils of Greenville High School presented the musical comedy "Pickles" for the school pupils of the city, who received it enthusiastically. It will be given its final performance tonight at 8 o'clock when the people of Greenville are invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

A tremendous amount of work is represented in such a production, including as it does, not only a large amount of choral singing and solo work, but also comic and dramatic dialog and dance numbers. The labor of costuming and making up a cast of sixty and the setting of a stage adds about as much more. All the stage settings have been cleverly arranged by teachers and pupils of the high school.

Miss Ora Schindler, whose department has begun and carried through the project, deserves great credit for the excellence of the production. She has been ably seconded by Mrs. B. C. Pickles and Miss Lorraine Hunter, and assisted by Mrs. Eugene T. Robeson and the High School orchestra.

Cast of Characters

Vicarious Burgers: Heber Coward Tolar, Jack Nobles, Billy Norman, Jimmy Wilson, Rufus Henderson.

After several spirited progressions Mrs. E. E. Andrews, Jr., and Mr. A. M. McWhorter proved to be the most successful players among the club members and were awarded both sets and a deck of cards, respectively. Mrs. Dan Richardson served a lovely hand made handkerchief as a prize for visitors, while Mr. Foster Young held gentlemen's high score and received cigarettes. A dainty hand made handkerchief was given Mrs. V. N. Whitehurst as consolation.

At the conclusion of the game the hostess served a delightful salad course with iced tea.

Tomorrow is the last day
or filing your 1929 income tax report. If you haven't sent yours in, you better get busy now in order to avoid the penalty for failure to report on time.

THE BEST WAY TO GET TAX RELIEF.

With announcement of nominations for the various public offices already being made and with the primary just a little more than two months off, it is time for citizens in general to begin to decide just what are the most important issues before us at this time and the fitness of the various candidates to carry out these policies.

No doubt the question of taxes is uppermost in the mind of the average citizen
at this time, and the best way to assure an equitable tax reform that will bring relief to the overburdened landowners is to send to the legislature from every county men who will and can aid
in bringing about this reform. As we see it, one of the greatest injustices in our present tax system is that part of the law that exempts from taxation stocks and bonds on foreign corporations and the first step in the tax reform should be the repeal of this portion of our present laws.

Personally, we expect to now that any legislative candidate for whom we cast
our vote stands for this reform, and if every voter in every county in the state will to likewise this unjust portion of our present tax system will be removed. Make the candidate for whom you vote assure you that he stands for this and other tax reforms that will bring about more just tax system.

ABOUT
TOWN

Baseball season will soon be here and Greenville people will have an opportunity of seeing the high school boys in action in the Northeastern Athletic conference.

The city will not have any league
this season, and it is important that those desiring to see some of the national sport should take a peep
at the high school boys while in action.

The Athletic Association of the high school has had a hard road ahead in a financial way since organization, but if the public would give it better support the condition would be greatly improved.

You can help in this way by turning out to the ball games and in that way lending both moral and financial support.

With two candidates already in the field for state and county offices it begins to look like the political battle in Pitt county is going to be carried on in an interesting way.

The prime issue of the campaign
this year is reduction of taxes and aid to the farmer, and a suggestion of this character no doubt will be found in most of the platforms.
It is generally considered that something must be done to relieve land taxes and if all the platforms of the various candidates from this and other sections of the state are carried out, then the legislature is going to recound with many
a speech in this connection.
Here is ample room for some of the boys to show true statesmanship, and if they can devise some popular means of lowering taxes and at the same time maintain the high efficiency of state and county government they will have served the state nobly.

"They don't have to do it unless they want to but it is advisable for farmers of this section to try out the live-at-home plan for the new year," a well-known agriculturalist told a representative of this paper today.

If there ever was a time when his section needed to get away from the one and two crop idea, it is now and the advice of the man
alluded to above seems very timely.
The live-at-home movement has been preached in all parts of the state this year, and while many farmers will give it a fair trial others will not. This is not giving the movement proper consideration.
The majority of the growers should try the plan and in that way derive some personal benefit from it.
Others are going to try to raise enough stuff to enable them to live at home despite the trend of market prices, and if they are successful they will have much to be thankful for. On the other hand, the man that followed the old plan
of farming may be left out in the rain to struggle along as of old until another harvest season rolls around.

Governor O. Max Gardner will be unable to attend the Centennial celebration of the North Carolina Baptist State convention to be held in this city on the 26th and 27th of this month, but his place will be filled by Hon. J. M. Broughton, of Raleigh, the local committee has been advised.

While the inability of Governor
Gardner to attend the celebration
is to be regretted, it is gratifying to note that such a well known figure has been appointed to fill his place. Mr. Broughton is a speaker of considerable ability and it is certain he will bring a stirring message dealing with the hundred years of services of the convention.

The local committee has also been advised that it will be impossible for Governor Pollard, of Virginia, to attend and while nobody has been named in his place, it is a well established fact that the state will be well represented.

Dr. H. Frederick Jones, of Balti-

will play host to the most distinguished gathering of ministers and

WHY A GRADUATED LAND TAX

Every man or family should own
his home, and it can never be done by taxing land as we have been doing it.

A graduated land tax would be a help on no body, but does large profits to the masses. The present method of taxing land tends to be a landed estate, to which in times passed there was little objection, but now, because of a tendency to speculation, is becoming a recognized evil; and unless something is done soon to limit one's real estate holdings so that the land may get back into the possession of the masses, presently we shall see our farming done by corporations, and those who claim to be farmers and croppers now, will then be common laborers in the fields of new masters.

Real estate is a splendid basis of credit. To this the speculator wishes. Therefore, he owns the land. This fellow may not be a farmer at all, but because of the credit
value of land, he is ready to bid for any piece of dirt that is offered for sale, and he does this in opposition to the soil tiller. Result: Because of the feeble buying power of the small farmer, or cropper, the speculator, or land grabber possibly gets the land. And now many are the acres that are on the block in these times! Joint Land Banks and Stock Companies are taking over the lands of our farmers who are harrassed by debt, interest and taxes. And now the poor old hopper is without credit and almost friendless!

Soil tillers, attention! Do you want a little farm all your own,
where you are boss and not the credit man in some supply store?
Your remedy, if you please, is the graduated land tax. You have the votes. Do your stuff!

NEW PLANET MAY BE BIG AS JUPITER

Discovery Of Long Sought Heavenly Body Creates Stir Among Scientists

Flagstaff, Ariz., March 14.—(AP)—Discovery of a new world, probably larger than the earth, brought to mathematical astronomy today its second achievement of the kind. The new and nameless planet, whose actual presence in trans-Neptunian space was first detected last January 25 by an astronomy-loving farmer boy from Kansas, who was heralded yesterday by an announcement here yesterday by Dr. V. M. Slipher, of the Lowell Observatory.

A strange "blotch of light," on a photographic negative, registered by an extremely delicate instrument at the observatory, led to the discovery. The speck of light was noticed by Clyde Tombaugh, the young student of astronomy, and this led to detection of the heavenly body, bringing the known number of major planets in the Solar system to nine.

The location of the new body on January 21 was fixed at three hours Greenwich time, seven seconds west from Delta Geminorum with Low, ell; predicted longitude. It is approximately forty-five times farther from the earth than the sun, and is "at least as smaller than the earth." Like Neptune, it cannot be seen with the naked eye.

Astronomically, the discovery is regarded as the greatest achievement since the location of Neptune, the eighth primary planet of the Solar system, in 1846. The task now remains to determine its size, exact distance from the earth, its orbit and other planetary characteristics.

The discovery was accomplished much in the same manner as the finding of Neptune in 1846. Tombaugh, a student scientist from Kansas, came to the observatory a year ago and has been working with the new Lawrence Lowell telescope, exposing and examining the planets under the direction of senior members of the staff.

"While I was peering through the comparator at a plate something new flickered before my eyes," Tombaugh said. "At first I thought it simply an illusion, but I looked at some more of the plates and finally realized that I had stumbled onto an important discovery. After an examination, the senior members of the staff were soon convinced that we were viewing the trans-Neptunian planet."

Two years before his death, Dr. Percival Lowell, founder of the local observatory, announced calculations on the trans-Neptunian planet and, although he ever had seen it, his computations indicated that such a body must exist.

Whether or not the new planet is inhabited is a matter for further calculations, but scientists agree that it may be as large as Jupiter, the greatest of the planets, which is 1,200 times the size of the earth.

Strips Title Of Doctor From Big Plastic Surgeon

Chicago, March 14.—(AP)—The State of Illinois has stripped the title of "Doctor" from Henry J. Schireson, self-styled "greatest of plastic surgeons."

An order revoking his license, signed yesterday by Michael F. Walsh, director of education and registration, culminated charges brought by Miss Sybil Holland that Schireson induced her to submit to an operation "to straighten her bow legs." As a result of the operation it was necessary to amputate both legs.

Dr. M. L. Harris, president of the American Medical Association, headed the state medical committee which heard the charges against Schireson.

Among other things, Dr. Harris reported it found that Miss Holland did not have bow legs; that Schireson was not of good character; that he had been the owner of a "quack institute" and had twice served prison terms for quackery.

Among the celebrities Schireson listed as patients were Fannie Brice, "Peaches" Browning, Truly Shattuck and Sophie Tucker.

Won At Cards But Lost To Cops

Chicago, March 14.—(AP)—Leading half of an ace of hearts, Calvin Hallan took 13 cars and $470, but lost the deal to police.

In a touching ceremony last spring, Hallan signified his affection for Peggy O'Neill by tearing up an ace of hearts, gave her half of it and saying "that's half of my heart. When I give you the other half you'll know that you have my love forever and ever."

Shortly afterward in a darkened movie, Miss O'Neill signified her affection by slipping into Hallan's pocket an envelope and whispering "it's something I might lose. You keep it safe for me."

The next time she heard from Hallan he was in Los Angeles. He sent the other half of the ace of hearts and wrote: "I can never tell you how sorry I am about carrying away what you told me to keep safe. If you forgive me, send a whole ace of hearts as a sign."

She sent not only the ace but every other heart in the deck as well. And their reunion was arranged to be staged in a Chicago hotel lobby.

Yesterday at the appointed time he walked in, saw her, opened his arms, and was surrounded by three policemen.

"Look him up," said the girl, "and the charge is theft. There was $470 in that envelope I gave him."

Hamilton Murder Case Opens In Wake

Raleigh, March 14.—(AP)—Testimony in the trial of Dorsey St. Clair Hamilton, former Norfolk, Va., painting contractor, charged with the murder of his wife, started in Wake County Superior court here today.

A jury to hear the evidence was selected yesterday after three hours examination of veniremen.

Last month the case was tried and resulted in a mistrial.

Hamilton contends that in a period of temporary insanity he shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Annie Howard Hamilton, while she was at the home of a kinsman, and then attempted to take his own life.

Immediately after the crime a jury declared Hamilton insane and he was confined in the state hospital for about two years before he was adjudged sane again and returned to the Wake county jail to face trial for murder.

The state contends that Hamilton deliberately planned the murder of his wife and afterwards, in fear, tried to take his own life.

W. M. U. Favors Meredith Support

Elizabeth City, March 14.—(AP)—The Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina was on record today unanimously in favor of "perpetual maintenance and support of Meredith college as a separate institution for Christian education for women under the auspices of the Baptist State convention."

This stand was taken in a resolution passed last night at the closing session of the Union's state convention.

Rumor of a proposal to move Meredith from Raleigh to Wake Forest had reached the ears of W. M. U. leaders. The result was that the resolution for maintenance of the college "a separate institution" was unanimously adopted by the convention.

"Wholehearted and unreserved sympathy with the aims and purposes of Meredith" were expressed in the resolution.

CLEVELAND TO PUT OUT STRONG TEAM

By RALPH WHEATLEY
New Orleans, March 14.—(AP)—
The Cleveland Indians are on the march, and their whoops will be heard up around the top of the 1930 season closes.

Roger Peckinpaugh is whipping a powerful squad into shape at Heinemann park. While they may not have enough power to fend off the Athletics and the Yankees, they will be giving somebody a tussle for the flying banners
when winter comes.

The Indians are fortunate in having the backbone of their team made up of men old in baseball but young in years. In addition they have a promising bunch of rookies itching to step into the shoes of the regulars. Out of the squad of forty-two big, stout men, thirty may be considered well beyond the raw state.

Last year the Indians finished in third place and were playing ball
like demons when the season ended. If it were possible, and it hardly is, for the Indians to hit at the start of this season their stride of the last month of the 1929 season
they would go rough shod over anything in sight.

There will not be any drastic changes in this season's lineup over last. Charlie Jamieson may be forced to function as utility outfielder as his 37 years have placed him in the twilight of baseball. It will be hard for him to hold his regular post against such men as Bib Falk, Earl Averill and Dick Porter.

The Indians had the fright of their lives when it looked as if scarlet fever would keep Lewis Fonseca off the first base. But all is hunkydory now as word came from California that Fonseca was up and about and was even taking light training on the coast and would be fit for the start of the season.

The Indians would have been in a sad plight if they had lost this man, who led the American league in batting honors last season and snapped into it on first base as naturally as the well-known duck takes to water. They were drilling Henry Bonura and Alex Hooks for the job but they showed nothing to make merry over, particularly in comparison with Fonseca.

The ankle-twitching shortstop billet is creating lots of excitement as three lads, Carl Lind, Ray Gardner and John Goldman are out for it. Lind is making a drive to get back regular after being routed off
second base by Urban Hodapp when he got sick. Hodapp has second clinched about as much as Joe Sewell has third.

Luke Sewell and Glenn Myatt as usual will carry the hot behind the bat.

The pitching staff is something to behold. Only one of them stands under six feet and only one of them is in the thirties. They are twelve veritable giants, eight righthanders and four southpaws, with Fenwick the top hand but with Hudlin, Miller, Holloway and Shaute not far below. Others with more than passing ability are Clinton Brown, Milburn Eoffner, Mel Harder, and Peter Jabonowski.

With such strength it stands to reason that in a season or two, if not this season, the Indians will make a serious stab for the high flag.

HOW about your next CORN CROP?

THERE is a way to make it the best crop you ever grew. No magic. No mystery. Simply fertilize it with Chilean Nitrate of Soda. That is the way corn champions produce those winning crops.

North Carolina Farmer Says:

"If I couldn't get Chilean Nitrate of Soda, I think I'd just stop farming and go do something else. It certainly grows fine corn for me."

L. C. Hines, Goldsboro, N. C.

Mr. Hines top dresses his corn with Chilean Nitrate.

Chilean Nitrate is not synthetic. It is natural—the world's only natural nitrate fertilizer. As a side dressing on corn it increases the yield . . . often doubles it. Larger ears. More ears to the stalk. Prevents "firing" too.

Between them Glenn Wright,
shortstop and captain, and Coach Otto Miller, have proved that the Brooklyn Robins will win the National league pennant this year.

Wright, commenting on the team's chances, declared the Robins' fielding and hitting would be as good if not better than any team in the league. His only doubts concerned the pitchers, whereupon Miller, the pitching expert, immediately spoke up and said the Robin hurlers would be even stronger than usual and that prediction, if realized, means quite some pitching.

When the Dollars All Pull Together—

Dollars that are hooked up wrong
are apt to go off in different directions
when they come to a fork in the road.
Must be harnessed right and driven right, if they are going to pull together.

But when they do pull together,
what a load they can swing!

Cows are like dollars. And people are like cows. And communities are the same. Five good cows taken together will give an even quantity and an even high quality of milk the year round—something one good cow can't do alone. So five good dairy farms will keep things going in a community much better than one good dairy farm, each benefitting by the good work and high qualities of the other.

Then you come to five communities, or counties—then five States—then to a widespread picture of the dairy territory covered by the operations of Southern Dairies.

This is, an organization intelligently promoting the dairy-product industry of the South, to the great betterment financially of every community in which it is operating. Its constant effort is to keep up an even supply and even demand, an even grade of excellence and even progress,
throughout its field.

It systematizes the production and sale of milk, cream and ice cream,
butter, buttermilk and cottage
cheese, producing a steady income
for dairy farmers and dairy workers,
for the plant workers and supply merchants of each community—in each case to be distributed and re-distributed among the business men and workers of the community.

It is by this hooking up of individuals, groups, communities and States that it is making the cow-power dollars pull all together—all for one and one for all.

SLANTS

Lugene Atwell Blue, the able first baseman of the St. Louis Browns who is built like Red Grange and as dynamic on the diamond as the redhead was on the gridiron, sat in on a discussion of fast falls in the lobby of the Monterey Hotel at West Palm Beach.

"Lefty Grove unquestionably has the fastest ball of any pitcher in the American league," said Lu, who can speak with authority after ten years of facing the best boxmen in the circuit.

"Walberg is fast and so is Barnshaw, among the right-handers, but neither has quite the zip that Grove can put on the ball. The ace of the A's, in addition, has great control for a southpaw. Walberg has a better curve than Grove."

The subject turned to Walter Johnson, who probably had the fastest ball of them all.

"I battled against Johnson eight or nine years ago when I believe he still was faster than anyone in the league and faster even than Grove is now," declared Eue. But Cobb, Speaker and the fellows who had known him in his prime, told me I should have seen Johnson when he was good. If they were right, I'm glad I didn't have that to worry about. He was too good for me when they said he was about through."

Winter sports, where winter has been successful, have had their fling and so far a sliver of the northern sector is concerned, the University of New Hampshire still rules the roost, as intercollegiate champion. The boys of this rugged New England school skated and slid off with three of the four big meets held at Dartmouth, Murray Bay and on their own snow-clad ground. Dartmouth captured the first honors at Lake Placid.

Notre Dame had its "Four Horsemen" but New Hampshire skated into the picture this winter with its "Four Icemen," who cleaned up in a very big way. At the Dartmouth and New Hampshire winter carnivals, the two Mailman brothers—Harry and Eugene—of Worcester, along with Arthur Burns of Manchester and Malcolm Chase of Dover, N. H., finished army-in-army for first place in the quarter.

mile as well as two-mile races.

The University of Washington not only turns out rowers, with growing talent then any other university supporting rowing but most of the racing shell come from the ship and export hand of George Forck at Seattle. George's spirit and appliances goes with the Hukies in any race. East or West, but he is impartial as a craftsman.

Four khs just finished nine shells for the eight-oared competition, six of which—built for Cornell, California, Wisconsin, Navy, Syracuse and Washington—will be assembled again for the Poughkeepsie regatta in June on the Hudson river.

Newark, N. J.—Able Bain, Newark, outpointed Babe McCorgary, Oklahoma City, (10).

Winter Haven, Fla., March 10—(AP)—The Phillies continued their baseball roll today with two regulars still missing, Captain Fresco Thompson, second basemen and Chuck Klein, outfielder and leading National league hitter last year.

Paco Robles, Cal., March 10—(AP)—As the Pittsburgh Pirates regulars and Yankees lined up today to break the tie of a victory apiece, Manager Jewel Ens wore a broad smile over the situation at third base. The old-time form Pie Traynor displayed in stopping hot smashes during yesterday's shutout triumph of the regulars, removed any doubts Ens might have held as to Traynor's condition.

Fire Destroys Chemical Plant

Everett, Mass., March 14—(AP)—Fire, accompanied by frequent explosions, early today destroyed the Merrimack Chemical company plant at South-Everett with a loss of $500,000. Firemen from eight cities fought the flames. Six were overcome and 100 others were affected by submarine fumes.

Seven buildings, three and four story wooden structures, together with much equipment, were burned. A number of cars in the repair yards of the Boston Elevated System also were destroyed when the fire spread. A stiff wind carried the smoke and fumes toward the heart of the city and 300 families were ordered to leave their tenements.

The fire started in the Lacquer building of the plant and spread rapidly. The first alarm was sounded at 1:15 a. m. and the flames were brought under control at 2:30 a. m.

During the war the plant was used for the manufacture of T. N. T.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 10—(AP)—Frank O'Rourke, veteran St. Louis Browns infielder, revealed in a charity ball game yesterday he could play short as well as third or second where he has played the past few years. It came about when O'Rourke, filled in for the missing Ralph Kress.

COTTON MARKET

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, March 14.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 3 points to a decline of 3 points. There may have been a little selling on the relatively easy late showing of Liverpool but the offerings were light and the market showed a fairly steady undertone, although prices worked off a few points further, during the early trading.

At the end of the first half hour May was selling around 14.54, and the new October 14.64 with active months generally showing net loss, of about 3 to 8 points.

The report of the Census Bureau showing domestic consumption of 495,204 bales for February against 577,235 for January and 594,720 for February, last year, was a shade above the forecast, but the difference was not sufficient to have much effect on the market.

Liverpool cables reported Continental buying supplied by hedging, but said there were fair sales of piece goods to India and an improved turnover in yarns.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 14.—(AP)—Persistent increase of adverse crop reports owing to generally dry weather southwest and west did much to rally wheat prices today toward the last. Some improvement of export call for North American wheat was also a late stimulating factor, estimates being that 750,000 bushels had been purchased today for Europe and that some demand for United States hard winter wheat was in evidence. Threats of a railroad tie-up in Argentina and of political delays to wheat shipments from India were a subject of comment, and there were advices that for the first time since last fall the North American Barley and Rye have been bought for export.

Wheat closed irregular, ranging from 13.8c off to 11.8c up compared with yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to 3-4c higher, oats at 3-8c decline to 1-8c advance, and provisions varying from 3c setback to a rise of 2-5c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 14.—(AP)—A further relaxation in credit conditions, arising from the reduction in the New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent, and the heavy accumulation of funds here in anticipation of March 15 tax payments, furnished the impetus for another broad advance in prices in today's stock market. A sprinkling of issues, including a few high priced specialties, showed conspicuous weakness. Trading was in fairly heavy volume.

Call money renewed at 3 1/2 per cent for the first time since January 25, 1928, and then dropped to 3 per cent, the lowest official rate in nearly four years. Outside funds were available as low as 2 3/4 per cent despite some calling of loans by out-of-town banks. Time money rates eased in sympathy, and some dealers again reduced bankers' acceptances 1-8 of 1 per cent, the fifth similar cut in the last fortnight.

While Wall Street's first reaction to the lower money rates was bullish, some observers placed a bearish interpretation on the change, pointing out that the lower rates were caused by the relatively low commercial demand for funds and the necessity of providing some stimulus to business. Efforts of bearish professionals to unsettle the market, however, met with strong resistance. Judging by the borrowing demand for stocks, the short interest in some of the leading speculative issues has reached large proportions.

Police Seek To Rescue Man Held By Kidnappers

Albany Park, N. J., March 14.—(AP)—Police today were working to effect the rescue of Samuel Barrow, wealthy New York real estate operator, from kidnappers, who seized him near his home at Interlaken, N. J.

Motive for the kidnapping, which occurred Wednesday night, was not apparent, as no demand for ransom has been made and Barrow's wife and associates said they knew of no enemies he had.

Barrow was waylaid as he walked toward his home from the Allenhurst station by three men who sprang upon him from the roadside shrubbery. After a struggle he was subdued and lifted into an automobile driven by a fourth man. Arthur Kelly, another commuter, told police he was walking behind Barrow and witnessed the attack and abduction. He said before he could attempt to give aid, the victim had been knocked down by a blow on the head, and thrust into the car which was driven rapidly away. Kelly said he obtained the license number of the car.

Although the kidnapping was reported to police at once, the victim was not identified as Barrow until yesterday, when Mrs. Barrow told police her husband had failed to reach home Wednesday night.

Herman Goodstein, a partner with Barrow in the Barsam Realty Corporation, 291 Broadway, New York City, told police that it was Barrow's custom to collect large sums of money for the firm and that robbery might have been the motive for the attack and kidnapping.

ENGLISH SPEED DEMON LIMBERS UP IN FLORIDA

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Kaye Don, English driver, who seeks to break the world's automobile speed record, prepared to take his giant car onto the beach course today and probably again Saturday to timber it up and get accustomed to the performance of the machine and the "feel" of the beach.

The car never has been driven since it left its factory in the Wolverhampton, England, and certain adjustments to obtain proper carburation probably will be necessary after the preliminary tests. Don's sister, Mrs. Rita Livesey, who accompanied him here from England, has been selected to christen the car. Beach conditions indicated an official speed trial would not be feasible before next week.
