PARITY ISSUE BEFORE NAVAL PARLEY TODAY

American Delegates Meet To Consider French-Italian Controversy

London, March 19.—(AP)—The American delegation to the naval conference, sticking persistently to its slogan "never say die," met today to discuss among themselves the Franco-Italian parity stalemate.

Ambassador Morrow and Commander Harold Train, technical expert who have been specially assigned to this situation which threatens to cause at least partial wreckage of the conference, submitted ideas which they thought might afford the basis of discussion between the two European neighbors. But the difficulty is that the Americans could not with propriety volunteer their services as mediators between Italy and France. The American delegation is understood to be hoping that it will be invited to intervene by one or the other of the two nations.

Observers say the big problem now is to get the French and Italians to face each other across the conference table. Neither has budged from its original stand. Italy for naval parity with France which France will not concede.

Prime Minister MacDonald and A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, had lunch at the American headquarters today and it was assumed the Franco-Italian situation came under survey. The Americans present were Secretary Stimson, Ambassadors Davies and Morrow and Senator Reed.

Meanwhile there was a flurry over a report printed by the Daily Express that there had been a breach of harmony over matters connected with the American-Japanese negotiations. The prime minister was represented as having taken Secretary Stimson to task for allowing an alleged misleading impression to circulate that Tokyo was ready to accept settlement proposition that there was a likelihood of a three-power agreement should the Franco-Italian problem prove unsolvable.

An American spokesman characterized this as "simply foolish" while Prime Minister MacDonald specially directed the British spokesman to deny the story. The spokesman told newspaper men that the report was "absolutely and gratuitously false."

New Ambassador Of Great Britain Arrives In U. S.

New York, March 19.—(AP)—Sir Roland Lindsay, newly appointed British ambassador to the United States, believes disarmament and the bolition of war the biggest problems confronting him in his new post at Washington.

Held overnight aboard the Cunard liner Aquitania at Quarantine by fog, Sir Ronald upon landing today expected to proceed at once to the capital.

With regard to the outcome of the naval conference in London, he said:

"It is not practical to expect unlimited success or to hope for it in any conference, but it will make a step toward disarmament. Further conferences can be held at Geneva in which all the world can take part and where the United States is interested in the work of the League of Nations. In London only five powers are represented at the naval conference."

Asked whether he expected to follow the precedent established by Sir Ernie Howard of not importing liquor or wines for consumption at the embassy, he said:

"It is rather a severe question and I would rather have the time to look around first before discussing such a personal affair. I have not made up my mind about it yet."

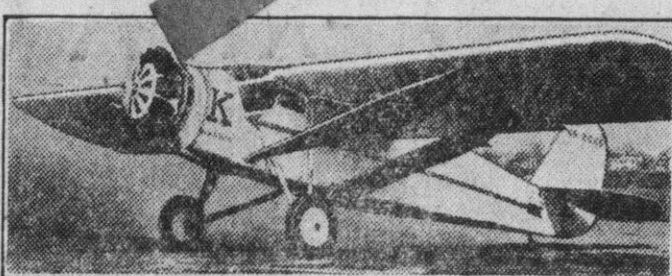

Sir Ronald is 6 feet, 3 inches in height and has the appearance of an athlete. He had been in this country twice before in an official capacity and for the past eighteen months he has been permanent under secretary of state at the Foreign office. Lady Lindsay accompanied him to this country.

PROTESTS AGAINST MOCKERY OF RELIGION

Vatican City, March 19.—(AP)—Pope Pius XI this forenoon made solemn and dramatic protest against maltreatment of Christians and mockery of religion in Soviet Russia.

Taking his stand at the altar of the tomb of the martyred apostle, St. Peter, he said a mass of "expiation, propitiation, and reparation" as he himself termed it before a congregation of 70,000 which filled every corner of St. Peter's Basilica, the largest church in the world.

Defense In Doheny Case Rests Before Noon Hour; Jury To Get Case Friday

Counsel For Doheny Asks Justice Hitz To Instruct Jury Fall Could Be Guilty And That Doheny Could Be Innocent Of Giving Bribe

Washington, March 19.—(AP)—The defense of Edward L. Doheny, charged with bribery in the Elk Hills oil reserve lease, concluded presentation of testimony and rested its case today shortly before noon.

The end of defense testimony came in less than two and a half days after it opened and indicated the case would be in the hands of the jury by tomorrow night or early Friday.

Efforts of the defense today were directed toward examination of former officers of Doheny's companies in an effort to show that the wealthy oil man had nothing to do with negotiations that resulted in his company getting the lease of the Elk Hills reserve.

Doheny is charged with giving Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the Interior, a bribe of $100,000 for the award of the Elk Hills, Calif., naval oil reserve to a Doheny company.

Much of the testimony in the present trial has revolved around the award to a Doheny concern of a contract to build facilities for naval oil storage at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. This contract contained a clause which gave the company preference to Elk Hills.

The 73 year old defendant on the stand yesterday attempted to show that he personally had nothing to do with the Pearl Harbor negotiations and the defense witnesses introduced today gave corroborating testimony.

J. M. Danziger, vice-president of the Pan American Transport and Petroleum Company, owned by Doheny interests, said he handled the negotiations for the Pearl Harbor project and that Doheny in turn, having the matter over to him simply directed that a bid be made for the Pearl Harbor project.

J. C. Anderson, general manager of Doheny's California activities in 1922, said he was responsible for the plan to increase oil production in California through construction of pipe lines and refineries. Doheny had been charged by the government with originating the plan as part of his alleged scheme to get possession of the naval oil reserve.

Washington, March 19.—(AP)—Counsel for Edward L. Doheny today asked Justice Hitz to instruct the jury that under the law Albert B. Fall, convicted of accepting a bribe from Doheny, could be guilty and the wealthy oil man at the same time be innocent of giving the bribe.

The government at the same time asked that the jury be instructed that if Doheny gave $100,000 to Fall intending to influence his award of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve he be found guilty.

The pleas were made with the jury absent only a short time before final arguments in the case were to begin.

AGREE TO CUT TARIFF DEBATE IN THE SENATE

Limiting Of Oratorical Fireworks, However, Does Not Apply To Three Items

Washington, March 19.—(AP)—Determined to get the tariff bill out of the way as soon as possible, the Senate today agreed upon a program of limiting debate on all remaining amendments except those involving oil, lumber, silver and an anti-monopoly proposal by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska.

Senator Jones, Republican, of Washington, plans to propose a compromise soft wood lumber tariff of $150 a thousand board feet, while Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, was ready to offer another compromise on oil which would apply money collected from such a tariff to road building pending determination of a proper levy by the Tariff Commission.

Another attempt to gain a silver duty is to be made by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, while Senator Norris' amendment would provide for suspension of duties on any commodity in which a monopoly in restraint of trade was found to exist.

The Senate adopted a proposal of Senator Bease, Democrat, S. C., to except from the bill rate of six cents a hundred pounds on cement, now on the free list, any cement imported by or for the use of state or municipal governments for public purposes. The vote was 42 to 37, but a parliamentary wrangle over reconsideration followed, holding up a final decision.

Senator Keen, Republican, New Jersey, changed his vote from n to aye and moved reconsideration. A long debate followed.

CAPONE STILL REMAINS LOST TO THE WORLD

Leader Of Chicago Underworld Continues To Elude Public And Officers

Chicago, March 19.—(AP)—Chicago wondered today what had become of its notorious bad man, Alphonse Capone.

Rumors varied widely as to the whereabouts of the sea-farers' overlord of Gangland since his release from a Philadelphia jail Monday where he had spent ten months for carrying concealed weapons.

The Herald and Examiner said it had definitely learned that Capone arrived yesterday by plane and immediately slipped into hiding with his lieutenants. After three "business conferences" are over, the newspaper said, Capone intends to leave Chicago—destination unknown.

The Tribune said Capone was in one of his hideouts in Indiana, waiting until the publicity, and police vigilance, died down. His lieutenants, the paper said it had learned, presented their chief with a new automobile, in which he was to make his entry into the city in style befitting his Gangland eminence.

Capone's status with the police changed somewhat overnight. Chief of Detectives John Stege said that "Sarracene Al" had entered the city quietly yesterday, he would not have been molested.

Later, Stege added, it was decided that Capone should be taken into custody and turned over to the state's attorney under the general order that hoodlums should be arrested on sight.

The detective chief said at first he merely wanted to tell Capone that no resumption of gang warfare would be tolerated and that any murders that bear the semblance of "Capone handiwork" will just be too bad for Capone.

"I decided, however, it would be more effective if I told him behind the bars," Stege said.

Throughout the night and on into the day, squads of police maintained their vigil at the Capone home and at the Lexington and Metropole hotels, South Michigan Avenue strongholds of the notorious gangster, who for the first time in his career, may now be called an ex-convict.

Reports of the gangster's whereabouts ranged from his taking a steamer from Baltimore to Miami, to sneaking in the kitchen door of his home while police weren't watching.

ARMY SURGEON CHARGED WITH KILLING WIFE

Affection For Another Woman Figures In Case Against Major Shepard Of Denver

Denver, Colo., March 19.—(AP)—Denied bail on charges of poisoning his wife at Fort Riley, Kas., Major Charles A. Shepard, a United States army surgeon, today was a prisoner in the Denver county jail, although he strongly asserted his innocence.

Government representatives have announced they will attempt to prove that the officer's alleged murder plot was motivated by his affection for Miss Grace Brandon, stenographer at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Texas.

Arraigned before United States Commissioner Robert E. Foot late yesterday, Major Shepard denied his innocence and pleaded not guilty to charges of causing the death of his 37-year-old wife last June. He was arrested Monday night.

Commissioner Foot declared the charge of murder to be nonbailable. Major Shepard protested, saying he had been advised before his arraignment that he had been set at $25,000 by the district attorney at Teneka, Kas., in whose jurisdiction Mrs. Shepard died.

Following the officer's protest it was decided that the matter of bail would be further considered today.

Miss Brandon at San Antonio, denied any connection with the officer's arrest Monday, although the federal authorities here had reported they were in communication with her Monday by long distance telephone. She was said to have been quizzed yesterday at the same time Major Shepard was being questioned here. United States Marshal Calvin said Miss Brandon would not be arrested as authorities were satisfied she had nothing to do with the death of Mrs. Shepard.

Local officers have charged that the girl admitted that Major Shepard proposed marriage prior to the death of his wife.

Major Shepard met Miss Brandon when he went to Brooks field in 1928 to take a course in aviation surgery. He was there four months during which time Mrs. Shepard remained at Fort Riley where her husband was assigned. In May, 1929, following his return from Brooks field, Mrs. Shepard became ill. Her husband is said to have given her medical treatment.

When death occurred in June, an autopsy was performed. Results of the examination, reports allege, were "suspicious" but inconclusive.

George And Stacy Recommended For High Court Seat

Washington, March 19.—(AP)—Senators Copeland, Democrat, New York, today recommended to President Hoover the appointment of Senator George, Democrat, of Georgia, to the vacancy on the United States Supreme court created by the death of Justice Edward Terry Sanford.

Josephus Daniels, who was secretary of the Navy under Wilson, recommended to Mr. Hoover the appointment of Judge Walter P. Stacy, of the North Carolina Supreme court, as Justice Sanford's successor.

Senate Committee Told Taft Thought Dry Law Had Proved Successful

Brother Of The Late Chief Justice And President Testifies Before Investigating Committee Concerning Effects Of Prohibition

SENATE COMMITTEE

Washington, March 19.—(AP)—The late William Howard Taft, one time President and Chief Justice was quoted today at the House judiciary committee's prohibition hearing as having said in later life that the results of the eighteenth amendment had been "glorious," although he at first had despaired of success.

His views were presented by his brother Horace Taft, head of the Taft School for Boys in Connecticut, who also testified that straw votes on prohibition meant nothing. Even though he estimated there was "mere drinking" at Yale university then when he was in school, he said, he doubted if there was "one-twentieth of the drunkenness."

As soon as Mr. Taft completed, H. W. Jenkins, a colonel in the Salvation Army presented a statement by Commander Evangeline Booth, saying she felt prohibition had removed a cancerous growth on American social life and that the "improvement of the patient's health was simply marvelous."

Among others listed to take the stand today was Josephus Daniels, secretary of the Navy under Woodrow Wilson, who in 1914 issued the now famous order abolishing the "white men" of officers on American warcraft.

During his day Mrs. Lenna L. Yost, in charge of presentation of dry witnesses, was expected to present a statement in support of prohibition from Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale.

Taft said that while his brother had been opposed to prohibition he became convinced that the eighteenth amendment and supporting laws were beyond repeal.

"The only two public utterances which I recall," he continued, "were one in regard to a proposal to allow beer and light wines and the other a speech at New Haven at commencement on June 29, 1921."

"Of the first, I only remember 'that he flatly opposed the proposition for beer and light wines. 'As for the second, I can simply offer in evidence a copy of the speech I have referred to."

Taft, who wears a gray mustache similar to that of his late distinguished brother, is quite slender and angular. He is 6 feet, 4 inches in height, and is 63 years old.

He was presented by Mrs. Lenna Lowe Yost, a member of the legislative committee of the National Association of organizations supporting the eighteenth amendment.

Reading from a prepared statement, Taft said that according to the testimony of those advocating repeal, "our cocktail parties, are linked with the Christian martyrs of the 16th and 17th centuries of the anti-slavery party, a connection that argues a link of sense of humor. One lady says that if it were not for the fact that the amendment stands we are slaves."

An excited gentleman scolds Prof. Fisher because he has not the assurance to exhort the people to obey the law and insist on its enforcement. Let us hope that the President will wait his step.

EARL BALFOUR SUCCUMBS TO LONG ILLNESS

British Statesman Dies At The Home Of His Brother In Surrey

Woking, Surrey, England, March 19.—(AP)—The Earl of Balfour, veteran British statesman, died here at 8:45 a. m. today in a room at the home of his brother, the Honorable Gerald Balfour. A window at his bedside overlooked one of the most beautiful scenes in Surrey.

The end came peacefully to the statesman, who was in his 82nd year. He had been distressingly ill for a long time with laryngitis, and came here after an improvement in his condition to convalesce. He had several setbacks, however, and was never able to return to his home at Whittingham, Preston-Park, East Lothian.

From the time he entered parliament in 1874 until the closing years of his life he figured as an important factor in British politics. He visited America as head of the British mission to the 1917 end was a member of the British delegation to the Washington arms conference in 1922.

He was most famous perhaps for the so-called Balfour note in which Great Britain renounced all past war claims in Continental Europe, both from her allies and Germany, beyond what was needed to pay her own debts in America, and by the Balfour declaration of British policy in Palestine, which set that country aside as a home for repatriated Jews.

Prime Minister MacDonald, informed almost at once of the Earl's death, declared: "It is the end of a long useful life and the whole nation will unite in expressing its regret and in paying its tribute."

The Earl was 81 years old last July and he played tennis right up to that birthday. A most notable characteristic of his was an almost unlimited capacity to remember. He frequently astonished friends with recollections of the most trivial incidents in his long career.

State Income Tax Receipts Expected To Equal Old Mark

Raleigh, March 19.—(AP)—North Carolina, 1929-30 income tax collections will be certain to equal the record breaking 1928-29 income receipts of $7,686,280.43, in the opinion of A. J. Maxwell, state commissioner of revenue.

Actual collections through yesterday this year totaled $6,151,985.14, compared to collections of $6,133,733.72, to the same date a year ago.

These figures gave 1929-30 a lead of less than $10,000 in actual collections but, for the first time this year installment payments to be made in September are allowed, and there is due on them $169,527.57, which gives the current fiscal year a lead to date of $177,000 over last year.

The original budget estimate for 1929-30 income collections was $7,000,000, and Commissioner Maxwell believes now, after some months of doubt due to the general depression in the state, that the original estimate will be reached.

Individual income collections (thus far this fiscal year are about $700,000 behind those of the same date last year. Domestic corporations have paid about $320,000 more this year than last, to date, and foreign corporation payments are about $480,000 ahead of the same date last year.

Probe Attempt To Bomb Home Of Winston Man

Winston-Salem, March 19.—(AP)—An alleged attempt to dynamite the home of J. D. Tucker, Winston-Salem citizen, was under investigation today by city police.

The probe was started after 12 sticks of dynamite were found under a window of Tucker's bedroom. Officers yesterday arrested and held for investigation Sam Belton, John Pough and John Claron. The authorities said Pough told them he had overheard a plot against Tucker's life and Belton and Claron were present at the time.

COLONEL BAIN PRAISES WORK OF THE LEGION

Former Mayor Of Goldsboro Pinch-
Hits For State Commander At Meet

Expressing the love of country that made possible the deeds of heroism on foreign battlefields during the World war, Col. Edgar Bain, former mayor of Goldsboro, delivered the principal address at the regular monthly meeting of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion at the Rotary building in this city last night.

Addressing for Post Commander George K. Freeman, of Goldsboro, who was unable to attend on account of injuries necessitating his confinement for a few days, Colonel Bain brought the Legionnaires a message dealing with achievements of the American Legion during the stirring days since the war and the possibilities for continued service afforded by the future. He gave several graphic descriptions of front line action in France, using the illustrations of the spirit of love and devotion dominating the hearts of the American doughboys.

Commander Dave Moore presided over the session last night and the program was in charge of Bill Rogers, Charlie Martin and Dr. S. M. Crisp. J. H. Rose read the opening and the opening prayer was made by Chaplain Lee Moore. The post enjoyed a delightful dinner.

It was voted to consolidate the departments of the adjutant and finance officer, and a collection was taken up to assist in carrying on work in behalf of the boys at Ochee.

Mr. Rogers told of the record set by the First district in being the only district in the state to exceed its quota in the membership drive recently conducted through the state department. He also congratulated the local post in going over the top. He expressed regret at the inability of Commander Freeman to attend the meeting, and introduced the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Bain said he had had the opportunity of visiting Greenville on several previous occasions and that he always welcomed a chance to come back again. He prefaced his remarks with reference to a flag he had seen flying in the rain on the hills of the city, and said that such things should not be permitted. The flag should be folded during rain and at night, and he urged his hearers to see that this point was carried out.

He lauded the work of Commander Freeman and said he was using his every effort to make the North Carolina post what it should be because he loved the work and the great cause which the Legion represented.

He told of the deeds of heroism on the firing line during the great world conflict and said that they were inspired by love. This same love of country and of mankind, he said, is causing over 10,000 Legion posts to carry on in various parts of the country, administering to the needs of the former doughboy who came back injured and in many instances maimed for life.

He said the Legion stood for preparedness — preparation against time of need. He said there had been war since the beginning of man and that there would continue to be wars until the end of time, and he believed it advisable for the nation to do its best to meet any great emergency of this kind.

He scored the critics of preparedness, and especially the preachers who made it a point to cry out against preparation for war. He described them as men who had missed their calling, or they would be confining more of their attention to the thing that concerned them.

He paid a tribute to the National Guards, reminding his hearers that it was this organization that formed the skeleton of the militia which Uncle Sam sent across the sea, enabling him to begin the fight eighteen months earlier than it would have been possible had not such an organization existed.

He praised the universal draft system sponsored by the Legion, declaring that it would come near winning war than any other one thing. It put men on equal footing in time of war, and would eliminate some of the selfishness that dominated past wars.

Round Table Club Meets

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. J. W. Higgs was hostess to the ladies of the Round Table. The president, Mrs. J. E. Winslow, presided. The club voted unanimously to continue its support of the library and treasurer instructed to send check for same. As North Carolina has been chosen by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in which to make a survey of accidents in the home, blanks have been distributed, the same to be filled out and returned at the next meeting.

Mrs. J. H. Rose then presented Mrs. Luther Herring, whose subject was "Modern Philosophy." Mrs. Herring very ably handled the subject, defining philosophy and its uses and telling briefly of three representative European philosophers, Bergson, Benedetto Croce and Bertrand Russell; three representative American philosophers, Santayana, William James and John Dewey, closing with the philosophies of Theodore Dreiser, Wason and Henry Ford. After this much enjoyed paper, each member was called on to state her philosophy of life. This elicited much merriment and one member, Mrs. R. L. Smith, gave hers in a poem which is here quoted in full.

The presence of Mrs. C. C. Carleton of Urbana, Virginia, houseguest of Mrs. Ed Higgs, added much to the pleasure of the afternoon.

The bestess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Kirkpatrick, served a salad course with punch.

My Philosophy.

(Mrs. R. L. Smith)

Life to me is a golden harp
The strings are as the years
Some are for our happiness
Some are for our tears.

To come life's sweetest music
Played by an artist's hand,
To others it's only discord.
Both part of an infinite plan.

To learned men of the sciences
Who so vainly philosophize
It's still an unsolved problem
For God alone is all-wise.

The time is so brief allotted to man
Why spend it in useless quest.
This happiness and wisdom they Seek to know.

Does it add to our happiness?
Truth, love, and life are ours
We hear the Master say,
If we'll catch a song from the harp strings

As we pass along the way
With the Saviour for our teacher
And love our major key,
Life is just what you make it,
That's my philosophy.

Ruby Mayfield, running away from her own announcement party, arrives unexpectedly for the night, finding her aunt and her superstitious servant "Melons" greatly disturbed by events which seem to be caused by "spirits" in the house. Her sister, Mrs. Jenkins, rushes to find his fiancée. Complications arise involving both the known and hidden guests, which bring about comedy, romance and mystery.

Watch the unravelling of the mystery which leads to a happy ending.

Name Of Holmes Presented For The State Legislature

The name of John W. Holmes, of Farmville, was presented as a candidate for the House of Representatives of the North Carolina Legislature from Pitt county in a petition signed by prominent business men of the Farmville and Fountain communities today. Mr. Holmes has taken an active interest in affairs of his town and community for a number of years, and announcement of his candidacy has been received with interest.

This brings the total number of candidates for the House of Representatives to four. The others are, E. C. McManagh and Dr. B. T. Cox, incumbents, and W. J. Bundy. These candidates announced their candidacy last week.

The petition presented in behalf of Mr. Holmes follows: "We the undersigned citizens of Farmville and Fountain communities and Blount county, believe that there are serious problems of taxation to be solved in the next Legislature which would be solved to the benefit of the people of the county by the election of John W. Holmes to the House of Representatives, and believing that the best way to solve these problems is to elect a man who has a knowledge of and a sympathetic interest in the welfare of the farming and business interests of the county and state, and we believe that of all these men it is the time when we

Every girl or woman who is the daughter, sister, the wife or the mother of a member of the American Legion is eligible to membership in the American Legion Auxiliary. Girls under 16 years of age may become members of the Junior Auxiliary, and the Auxiliary is extending an invitation to all eligible women and girls in the state to become members.

The work of the Auxiliary consists chiefly in rendering comfort, cheer, or any other aid possible to members of the World War and their families. Its work is complementary to that of the American Legion, but interest of the North Carolina Department of the Auxiliary is centered largely in the former service men who are hospitalized in the U. S. Veterans' hospital at Cohen, and the families of these veterans.

SORE THROATS AND COUGHS

Quickly Relieved by This Safe Prescription

Here's a doctor's prescription that is really throat insurance. Sore or irritated throats are relieved and settled almost instantly with the very first swallow. About 99 percent of all coughs are caused by an irritated throat; consequently for most coughs too there is nothing better than this famous prescription—it goes direct to the source of the trouble. It is put up under the name Thoxine and is guaranteed to stop coughs and relieve sore throats in 15 minutes or your money will be refunded. Singers and speakers find Thoxine very valuable.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that while it relieves almost instantly, it contains nothing harmful, is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Ask for Thoxine 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Pitt Drug Co.

WISE SPENDING
ESSENTIAL

And while so much is being said about tax relief, why not let's try to get a little relief at the spending end of the line as well as at the source? It is the general opinion that wherever public money is spent the taxpayers do not get a dollar's worth for a dollar. If this opinion is erroneous, let the various departments of every local, county and state administration convince the people by definite and plain facts and figures that such a belief is unfounded. If there ever was a time that real business methods were needed in the administration of public affairs it is now, and the people who are paying the bills are entitled to know that their money is being wisely spent.

Along with seeking new sources of revenue for the raising of more tax money, let's do some expense cutting, if possible, so that there might be more chance of making both ends meet.

MUSHROOMS AND FIRE.

If a few people become ill or die from eating poisonous mushrooms, public opinion is aroused and manifests itself in demands for mushroom inspection, prohibition or whatnot.

Yet if a hundred people are burned to death in a fire which could have been easily prevented, the nation hardly gives it a second thought.

It is a parallel case to the old newspaper dictum: "If a dog bites a man, that's not news; but if a man bites a dog that is news." In the one instance the public is appalled mainly because of the unusualness of the agency of death. We have come to regard fire, to the contrary,
as being usual and unavoidable.

This is a tragic situation.
Every year thousands of people lose their lives, to say nothing of the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property destroyed; because of carelessness or ignorance. Fire is a menace to every citizen.

If the death of a person
from poisoned food causes a nine-days' wonder, the death of thousands every year from fire should create a great public movement to remove the danger.

THE WET LEADERSHIP.

"The Gentleman at the Keyhole" in Collier's is impressed with the shallowness of the wet leadership in Congress. Collier's would like for it to be stronger—strong enough really to accomplish something. It is an organ which is out-and-out and furiously opposed to the prohibition laws, but discovers that the wet leadership in Congress is doing more to help the dries than the dries are able to do for themselves.

All of which may, of course, be a correct analysis of the men in control of the wet brigade in both the Senate and the House and yet when one appreciates
how little there is of solid ground upon which any man may stand, no matter how personally gifted and forceful in his abilities, and undertake to wreck the cause of prohibition, one's criticism of the weaknesses of such gentlemen will considerably diminish.

For any man to show himself in private walks or in public forums, he must have a cause that is defensible
and tenable. — Charlotte

ABOUT

The First district was the first to pass the membership quota in the drive put on recently by the American Legion. This information will be received with considerable interest by reason of the hard work which the hundreds of Legionnaires in this district put into the venture.

The report indicated that much good work was done in each of the Congressional districts but the First came out at the head of the entire state in the final checking up of records. The membership drive has been instrumental in bringing into the fold hundreds of former veterans of the World war who had let their memberships lapse in recent months. However, they are back now and the state organization will go forward with its work of expansion in an effort to improve the condition of the men who are unable to look out for themselves.

In addition to the regular program, delegates to the centennial celebration of the North Carolina in its city March 25, 27, will be Baptist State Convention to be held treated to a banquet by the Merchants Association and the East Carolina Teachers college. The affair will be the outstanding social event of the gathering.

Plans for the convention anniversary continue to assume more definite form with each succeeding day, and when the session opens in the Memorial Baptist church next Wednesday morning, it will find everything in line ready for two days of real celebrating.

This will be the first time the Baptists have ever assembled for a birthday observance, and they will have many things to talk about—things happening over a period of one hundred years. It will furnish material for several speakers and when they get through very little will be left unsaid.

Preparations will be made for the entertainment of approximately a thousand people, and it is to be hoped the number will exceed this figure.

Success is usually ahead of the honest worker as is faithfully portrayed by the following poem:
Get Off Your Perch and "Scrate."
Said the little red rooster: "Gosh
all hemlock, things are tough.
Seems that worms are getting scarcer and I cannot find enough.
What's become of all the fat ones
is a mystery to me.
There were thousands through that rainy spell, but now where can they be?"

The old black hen who heard him didn't grumble or complain.
She had gone through lots of dry spells; she had lived through floods of rain.
So she flew upon the grindstone,
and gave her claws a whet.
At she said: "I've never seen the time there weren't worms to get."

She picked a new and undug spot;
the earth was hard and firm.
The little red rooster jeered, "New ground! that's no place for a worm."

The old black hen just spread her feet, she dug both fast and free.
"I must go to the worms," she said.
"The worms won't come to me."

The rooster vainly spent his day,
through habit, by the ways
Where fat, round worms had passed in squads back in the rainy days.

When night fall found him supperless, he growled in accents rough:
"I'm hungry as a fowl can be; conditions sure are tough."

He turned then to the old black hen and said: "It's worse with you,
For you're not only hungry, but tired, too.

I rested while I watched for worms,
so I feel pretty perk;
But how are you? Without worms, too? And all that work!

The old black hen hopped to her perch and dropped her eyes to sleep.
And murmured in a drowsy tone,
"Young men, hear this and weep;
I'm full of worms and happy, for I've dined both long and well,
The worms are there as always—but I had to dig like—"

WHY A $2500 TAX-FREE
HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

Well, why? Thousands of homes are advertised for sale right now because the homesteaders, for some reason, have failed paying the taxes assessed against them. In a civilized country—and especially a Democracy—no man of family should ever be dispossessed of his homestead because of taxes levied against it by state or county.

The government that devotes itself to serving the best interest of all its citizens is the best government.
No government that fosters any system of oppression merits a good name.

The poor are ever with us, and a good government will not permit
the strong to oppress the poor—NEVER. But is there not a system of oppression in this state?
Do not the strong in brains, money or pul—have a decided advantage in government favors? Let's see.
John Doe has a home in Greenville that, in normal times, he considers worth around $50,000. For taxes it is valued at $20,000. John Smith has a home that he values at $2500.
It gets valued at $2,000. Now you influential man Doe gets $30,000 exemption—the weak man Smi—only $500. Now a system that fosters and permits such rank injustice is devilish and ought not to and can not obtain in a good government.
But it does obtain right here in good old Pitt county. And shall we permit it to be run along in the same old rut? Gosh forbid!

Say, folks, isn't it house cleaning season?

Anciently it was considered risky
to put new wine into old bottles—(the bottles were made of leather in those days). But trying to put advanced ideas into some people's heads is rather risky, too. The feds are with us yet. But, really—for the sake of the poor—why not an honest tax-free homestead exemption?

To The Voters Of
Pitt County

We, the undersigned citizens of Farmville and Fountain Townships, and Pitt County, realizing that there are major problems of taxation to come up in the next Legislature, which should be solved to the best interest of the people of the county as a whole, and believing that this can best be done by able business men who have a knowledge of, and a sympathetic interest in the welfare of the farming and business interests of the county and state, and we believe that of all times this is the time when the office should seek the man: Therefore, we present the name of a man who is not seeking the office, who is already known to the voters of the county, a man who has made a phenomenal success of his own business, as merchant and farmer, a man who has been a close student of county government for the past ten years, and a man who is now peculiarly interested in reducing taxes on real estate, and who has the ability to present the issues clearly and forcibly and the courage to stand by his convictions.

We present the name of JOHN W. HOLMES for the House of Representatives for 1931.

Turning the light of Truth on false and misleading statements in recent cigarette advertising

WHAT ANOTHER MANUFACTURER of cigarettes chooses to say about his product is not our affair. Even when he sees fit to misrepresent his product and leave false impressions concerning it, that still is his business—not ours.

But—when, in his advertising, he goes beyond his own product and makes false statements or leaves misleading impressions about other cigarettes—then it is time that the truth be told.

Some time ago a manufacturer of cigarettes used the following statements in his advertising:

"The extra secret heating process removes from (——) harmful irritants, corrosive acids, which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way, and which cause throat irritation and coughing."

"No matter how much or how little you pay for cigarettes you have a choice of only two general classes, and not more than two. In one class you have the billions of cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way and in the other class you have (——), the toasted cigarette, a product of modern science, a cigarette from which harmful irritants have been removed by that extra secret process described by the phrase 'It's Toasted'."

WHEN THESE STATEMENTS were first made, we assumed that they were a casual phase of that manufacturer's advertising and did not represent a deliberate and calculated policy. After making a few such statements, he abandoned this particular form of advertising. However, other statements used in his advertising came to the attention of the Federal Trade Commission on a question of their truthfulness.

As a result of the action of the Federal Trade Commission he was ordered to stop his admitted practice of using in his advertising false testimonials of non-smokers to the effect that they kept slender by smoking his brand of cigarettes, and was further ordered to stop using other fake testimonials and the specious argument that all can keep slender by smoking that brand of cigarettes. He then began to use again the form of statement quoted above or variations of it.

IF ANY MANUFACTURER chooses to say that the tobaccos he uses contain "harmful irritants, corrosive acids, that are injurious to the throat," and then to claim that these things are removed by the heat-treating process, that is his own affair. But when he tries to create the impression that it is general practice to use in cigarettes such rank tobaccos as he describes, we object to the attempted reflection on the industry.

We have never used in our blend those rank tobaccos which can be properly described as containing "harmful irritants, corrosive acids," nor do we believe that they are used by some of the other manufacturers.

If that manufacturer wishes to advertise heat treatment, calling it toasting or what-not, that is his right. But when, in so doing, he tries to create the impression that he is the only maker of cigarettes who treats tobaccos with heat, the truth again needs to be told.

The publication of a fake testimonial is no greater perversion of the truth than to imply that the heat treatment of tobaccos is an exclusive process with any single manufacturer.

THE FACT is that the use of heat treatment in the manufacture of tobacco is about the most commonplace and universally practiced method in the industry. It has long been standard practice.

We use heat treatment in its most modern and scientific application, both in the preparation and in the manufacture of those mild, fragrant, ripe tobaccos that carry their natural goodness into CAMELS.

The first CAMEL Cigarette we ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process. Every one of the billions of CAMELS produced since has been manufactured under heat treatment. We rely upon heat to the limits of its possibilities to make our good tobaccos better. It cannot make inferior tobaccos good.

WHETHER OR NOT a manufacturer, to have something to talk to the public about, attaches a contrivance to his heat-treating machines to catch, condense and bottle the vapors that come from them can have more effect toward improving the tobacco than your catching and bottling the vapors that come from your teapot would have toward improving the tea in the pot.

Our own brand, CAMEL, continues to grow, but we are, nevertheless, unwilling to let these far-reaching false statements or impressions regarding the cigarette industry go uncorrected.

Oxford and Cambridge Yale and Harvard have more rowing tradition behind them but neither of these classics offers any greater competitive excitement or thrill than the annual battle on the water for Pacific Coast supremacy between California and Washington.

California, with one of the finest college crews of all time, has held the edge over the past few years but the Bear oarsmen who won the Poughkeepsie blue ribbon and the Olympic laurels in 1928 have been lost by graduation and Ky Ebricht is shaping a new combination on the Oakland Estuary. The 1930 crew is a sophomore outfit.

Up North, Al Ulbrickson has the makings of another great Washington eight of the type that was for a long time supreme on the coast and 1-2 at Poughkeepsie consistently. The Huskies came through to finish second to Columbia last year, after losing to Calumet on the coast. They will have at least an even chance in all probability to turn the tables on the Bears in the big race about the middle of April. No matter what happens then, both will be East again to challenge Columbia and the rest of the Armada.

The history of the mile speed record for automobile is one of the most dramatic in all sport annals. It has been centered almost exclusively on this ten-mile strip of beach at Daytona, where William K. Vanderbilt in a Mercedes in 1904 first set a mark of 92.307 m. p. h. This surpassed the achievement of Henry Ford in his Ford "999" which traveled at a pace of 91.370 in 1903. Ford failed in 1905 at Daytona to surpass Vanderbilt's American record.

Since then, the exception of 1926 when J. G. P. Thomas and Captain Malcolm Campbell shattered the record at Pendine, all the mile records have been made at Daytona. Oldfield and Burman in the Benz, De Palma in the Packard and Milton in the Duesenberg, all famous mercurial drivers, monopolized these records until 1920. Milton that year roared down the beach at 156.046 m. p. h. Since then, with the single exception of Keesch's performance in the White Triplex, all the record-breaking has been done by the British drivers—Guinness, Thomas, Eldridge Campbell and Segrave.

Mickey Walker's middleweight crown is in more than a little danger at the moment. Mickey must tangle with Rene De Vos, the Belgian, to gain reinstatement in New York State. The bout itself, does not look particularly difficult. But Mickey is having great difficulty paring his weight down even close to the 160 pound limit. The wise ones believe Mickey will make the weight only at the cost of his strength, leaving himself a mark for the canny Belgian.

ROCKEFELLER WINS FLOWER SHOW PRIZE

Ormond Beach, Fla., March 19.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., has just received two comparative simple honors but he is as happy over them as a small boy with a new red wagon.

Two of the aged magnate's entries in a flower show here, sponsored by a garden club of Halifax county won first prize ribbons yesterday.

Even the most widely publicized activity of Mr. Rockefeller—golfing—takes second place in his hobbies to his love for flowers.

A large basket of double petunias of deep magenta shade, won a blue ribbon, as did a pot of Easter lilies.

Chat From the Training Camp

San Francisco, March 19.—(AP)—The item that discomfited Manager Jewel Eas the most today as he studied the figures of yesterday's loss of the Pittsburgh Pirates to San Francisco read: "Left on bases—Pittsburgh 12." The Pirates habit of being marooned on the bags left the Eas men still without an exhibition victory.

San Antonio, Texas, March 19.—(AP)—An epidemic of boils has struck the New York Giants' camp but Freddy Lindstrom, star third-sacker, has a monopoly on them. He went to a hospital yesterday when seven of them developed on his left hand and forearm.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 19.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Robins seem to have made no mistake when they exchanged Buzz McWeeny for Adolfo Luque of the Cincinnati Reds. Luque has been showing great form in spring training.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19.—(AP)—Thirteen hits, put together at judicious intervals, can score plenty of runs in baseball. Thirteen hits, not so arranged, couldn't save the New York Yankees from a 7-5 beating by the Boston Braves yesterday. The Braves made only eight hits but wasted none of them.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 19.—(AP)—Connie Mack, head strategist of the Philadelphia Athletics, is going to have a "spot pitcher" this season, possible three.

The veteran Howard Ehmke signed as a "spot" pitcher this year. That is, he only promised to start games at intervals of about two weeks and in spots where his style will be most effective. He also is coaching recruit pitchers.

Two other veterans, Eddie Rommel and Jack Quinn, are also probable "spot" performers if one or two of the rookies make good.

Winter Haven, Fla., March 19.—(AP)—Captain Presco Thompson, the last of the Phillies regulars to report, was expected to reach here today or tomorrow, Manager Shotton announced.

"And with Thompson back at second," Shotton said, "we will be ready to go in three weeks. Talk that he is to be traded is ridiculous. He wants to play for us and I think we will be together after a little talk." Thompson's difficulty with the club is said to be a "personal matter," and not one of salary.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 19.—(AP)—A twin bill, possibly the first bargain day ever offered in the Grapefruit league, was on tap for today with the St. Louis Browns and the Brooklyn Dodgers as opponents. The first game, however, was to be played by reserves and curtailed to seven innings if necessary. The regular squads were due for the nightcap.

Biloxi, Miss., March 19.—(AP)—Manager Walter Johnson of the Washington Senators is looking for a right hand hitting outfielder. Roger Peckinpaugh, manager of the Cleveland Indians, needs an understudy for his star backstop, Luke Sewell. If trade rumors work out as broadcast here, Roy Spencer, National holdout catcher, will swap his Senator's uniform for the Indian suit of Ed Morgan, Cleveland fielder who finished last season with a batting average of .318.

San Antonio, March 18.—(AP)—Two heads have been lopped off, in a manner of speaking, by Manager John McGraw of the New York Giants, and one of them belonged to Len Shires, brother of the "Great Shires." Shires, an infielder, and Art Veltman, who can catch and play outfield, have been sent to the Bridgeport club of the Eastern league, Giant farm.

Avalon, Catalina Island, Calif., March 18.—(AP)—Manager Joe McCarthy has just about decided to use "Kiki" Cuyler, his right-fielder as leadoff man for the Chicago Cubs. Cuyler's ability to get on base, and move about after getting there, apparently has won him the job.

Bride Tells Her Secret

"FOR a young bride of twenty-one to lose her vitality and pep is disastrous, almost a sacrilege," says Mrs. George E. Pillow, of Franklin, Va. "That, however," she continues, "is just what I did."

"I had only been married a few months to an athletic husband, who went everywhere and did everything. I tried to keep up with his pace, and simply collapsed under the strain. I never was really ill; just sallow-skinned, depressed, and lifeless. Swimming, dancing, golf, I just couldn't face them. When I began to lose my clear complexion, I was desperate."

"Then one day a girl friend came to pay me a visit. In the bottom of her little bag of clothes lay a crystal-clear bottle—Nujol! A short woman-to-woman talk—a telephone call to a neighboring drug store—and my future happiness was settled."

"That was a year ago. Now I too am never without Nujol, which has brightened and cleansed my body like a cake of pure soap. I eat, sleep, swim, and hike with the enthusiasm of a child. My complexion is all it used to be—and best of all—I am my husband's little pal again."

The wonderful thing about crystal-clear Nujol is that it is not a medicine; it contains no drugs—it cannot hurt even a baby. It is simply the normal internal lubrication which your body needs. Let Nujol clear the poisons out of your body (we all have them), and flood the sunshine of happiness into your life.

It sounds like a fairy tale, but millions of people have proved it. So can you. Get Nujol at any drug store—sold only in sealed packages, with the Nujol trademark. It costs but a few cents and it will make you feel like a million dollars!

RED SOX TO BATTLE HARD FOR THE TOP

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Staff Editor
Pensacola, Fla., March 19.—The glories of the old Red Sox have departed but the spirit carries gallantly on.

When Connie Mack, in 1922, gave up his long-term occupancy of the American league cellar for better things, the Red Sox took over the lease. With the exception of one season in the past eight, the Boston entry has finished last, a far cry from the halcyon days of 1918 to 1919 during which the Sox won six pennants and were seldom out of the first division.

Bill Carrigan, great catcher and manager of two world's championship teams, failed in a three-year comeback attempt to lift the Red Sox from their lowly estate. This year, Charles (Heinie) Wagner, Carrigan's lieutenant and himself a veteran of the famous 1912 champions, has taken over the somewhat thankless job of trying to do somewhere with a team that is the punch to be considered a class factor in the race.

Nevertheless, the Red Sox have spirit and a number of redeeming factors in player talent. Unable to compete financially with a number of their rivals, they have stuck to the task of rebuilding slowly. This determination was manifested early in the year when President Bob Quinn and Manager Wagner stoutly refused to listen to flattering offers of players and money needed cash from the Yankees for the services of the No. 1 right-hander of the pitching staff, big Ed Morris of Mobile, Ala.

With a last place club in 1929, Morris won 14 and lost 14. He should do as well or better this year. In addition, Wagner counts on some capable right-handed fling from Charley Ruffing, Danny MacFayden, the former Somerville schoolboy star, Jack Russel and Milt Gaston.

With any other outfit, this group might be considered a star staff. It lacks something in left-handed support, with only the veteran Billy Bayne, Edgar Carrol, and Ed Durham, the latter up from Pittsfield, as portside entries, unless Ben Shields, formerly with the Yankees, stages a comeback. Ray Dobens, ex-college star, and Horace Lauenbee, once a sensation with Washington, have chances to stick.

The principal punch in the lineup is packed by two useful outfields, Jack Rothbrock and Russ Gerritt, who made good last year in his first major league season. Both are 300 hitters but their wall-top is not sufficient to offset the disadvantages of an infield which is good defensively but woefully weak at the bat. Tom Oliver, an Alabama product, may get the other outfield post although John Winsett, a 346 hitter with Mobile last year, 19-year-old Joe Cicero from the Eastern league, and Bill Barrett, formerly of the White Sox, are battling for jobs.

SPORTS STARS ENGAGED

The regular infield shapes up as fast and snappy with Phil Todd at first, Bill Regan at second, Hal Flynne, the former Pittsburger, at short and Bob Reeves, the former Georgia Tech star obtained from Washington, at third.

Behind the bat, the veterans, Charley Berry, a former LaFayette all-America end, and John Heving, have the call.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 18.—(AP)—Manager Bob Shawkey of the Yankees has decided that his pitchers had enough work behind them to be trusted with more than three innings of mound duty in an exhibition game and he let Roy Sherid go five frames and Dusty Rhodes complete the game, which brought a 4-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

COMPARE VALUES BEFORE YOU BUY AN AUTOMOBILE

Low charges for distribution of the new Ford save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in making the car

THESE are days when every dollar counts. The period of reckless spending is over. People are going back to the good old-fashioned principles of thrift and economy. Value is again being carefully considered.

Nowhere is this more important than in the selection of an automobile. For the purchase of a car represents a considerable investment. It should not be decided on hurriedly, but only after analyzing every important factor that concerns cost, value and performance. The time to do this is before buying—not afterward when it is too late.

ON THE basis of cost, performance and the actual comparative worth of every part, the new Ford is a value far above the price you pay. It is made of better materials and with greater care and accuracy because of the recognized efficiency and economy of Ford manufacturing methods.

The value of these methods is known and understood by millions of people. It is not generally realized, however, that these same principles of efficiency and economy are applied also to every step in the distribution of the Ford car. The low cost of selling, financing time payments, etc., means a direct saving to you of at least $50 to $75 in addition to the money saved by Ford economies in making the car. Here are three reasons why this is so.

(1) The Ford dealer does business on a smaller margin of profit because of the greater number of cars he sells. His discount or commission is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference in your favor, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

(2) The Ford charges for financing are low.

(3) No expensive extra equipment is needed when you buy a Ford. The car leaves the factory ready for use. The f.o.b. price includes a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and an extra steel-spoke wheel, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes. Any accessories you may wish for your individual taste are sold considerably below the usual prices. None of these charges for selling, financing or accessories is marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

Get all the facts, therefore, before you buy and figure out just what you are getting for your automobile dollars. Go beyond the f.o.b. price and find out how much more you pay the dealer than the dealer pays at the factory. Analyze the used-car allowance. Compare all charges—item for item—value for value.

WHEN you do this you will have a new appreciation of what the Ford Motor Company and Ford dealers are doing to keep down the cost of Ford cars. You will also know why it is possible to put so much real value into the new Ford and still retain the low price. The money you pay goes for value in the car. It is not wasted in excessive costs in manufacturing or selling.

COTTON MARKET

New York, March 19.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 3 to 11 points today on overnight buying orders. Interest again seemed to center in the old crop positions with May contracts selling up to 15.64 or 9 points higher while the new October advanced to 15.31 or six points above yesterday's closing quotations. The futures with Continental connections were credited with buying, but the Liverpool market made a relatively easy showing and the advance here met a good deal of realizing and probably some selling for a reaction.

This was sufficient to supply the early demand and send prices off several points with May reaching to 15.50 before the end of the first half hour, when the more active months were four to six points net lower.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 19.—(AP)—Threats of near-zero temperatures in the central west had a tendency to lift wheat values today, but the day's top quotations failed to hold. Profit takings when the wheat market bulged were a feature. Rye furnished a surprise by advancing to 10c a bushel higher than recent low prices. Late estimates put today's export purchases of North American wheat at 600,000 bushels.

Wheat closed unsettled 1-4 to 7-8 higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1-4 to 1 up; oats 3-8 to 5-8 advance, and provisions varying from 2c decline to 3c gain.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 19.—(AP)—Bullish forces continued to press their advantage in today's stock market as money rates dropped to the lowest levels in more than five years. Scores of active issues were marked up 6 to 16, and with at least two score stocks elevated to new high levels for the year. Weakness of the tobacco and merchandising issues, coupled with the heavy profit taking, brought about moderate recessions from the morning's high levels in the early afternoon.

Total sales in the first two hours ran close to 2,000,000 shares, or nearly 100,000 above those during the same period yesterday, but there were fewer large blocks today. The ticker ran half an hour or more behind the market.

Call money renewed at 3 per cent, the lowest initial change since February 1929, and then dropped to 2 per cent. Outside money was again available at 11-12 per cent, with a plentiful supply of funds available.

Business news continued spotty. One of the most encouraging developments of the day was the weekly iron age report that "the downward trend of steel specifications has been to a large extent arrested, but with buying at close range, mills lack their customary backlog of orders as the second quarter approaches."

F. W. Dodge reported an increase of 44 per cent in building contracts above the week before, but the 1930 total to date is running about 18 per cent below the corresponding period last year. National Bellas Hess, one of the largest mail order organizations, omitted the quarterly dividend due at this time.

Jury Deadlocked On Case Against Greenville Cop

A jury in the civil term of Pitt County Superior court was still deliberating this afternoon in the case of E. S. Ormond, of Bath, against J. L. Whichard, Greenville policeman, in which the plaintiff asks damages of $1,000 as result of his arrest and confinement in jail here on a charge of driving while drunk. The case was started yesterday morning and went to the jury this morning about 11 o'clock. It was indicated this afternoon that the jury apparently was deadlocked and that a decision was not expected in the next few hours.
