Splendid Attendance Marks Simultaneous Services Here Sunday

First "Watch Morning" Services Held At Methodist Church This Morning Well Attended; Services To Close At End Of This Week After Intensive Campaign For New Members

That interest is continuing to increase in the series of simultaneous services in progress in this city was manifested by attendance at each of the services yesterday. A compilation of attendance records of the churches showed that 2,675 persons were present at both morning and evening services. The churches included in the attendance figures were Jarvis Memorial Methodist, Immanuel Baptist, Presbyterian, Christian, Memorial Baptist and St. Paul's Episcopal.

The first "morning watch" service was held at Jarvis Memorial Methodist church this morning with over two hundred persons in attendance. These services, like the regular evening services, will continue during the remainder of the week when the series of revivals comes to an end.

Each of the churches will wage an earnest campaign for new members this week, and the public has been given a cordial invitation to attend and help make the services the great success desired. Interesting programs have been arranged by each of the denominations during the week and it was expected attendance would greatly increase over the first week.

Mr. J. H. Rose led the congregation in the hymns today. Pastor W. S. Harden led our prayer as we united in our supplication to God for His blessing on our work this week.

Rev. A. W. Fleischmann preached using as his topic, "Our Threefold Ministry". The message was drawn from the account of the healing in Acts 3. Describing the action of the apostles that day, three points in our daily ministry were pointed out, namely that of the eyes, the tongue, and the hand. Our ministry of the eye is to look for those about us who are not Christians, and to help those who lost their first love to come back to a warm, hearty fellowship with Jesus Christ our Lord.

The ministry of the tongue will be evidenced in our telling the glad, good news of a Savior for men. God grant us the courage to faithfully tell that story this week. The ministry of the hand most express itself in the helpful manner in which we extend the hand of sympathy and understanding to all with whom we come in contact. This is our task this week. A parable of the Bamboo tree brought home the plea for dedicated lives to this service during this effort.

Legislation Needed For Brush Burning

Asheville, April 14.—(AP)—Numerous forest fires during the spring months in the opinion of W. K. Beichler, district forester, have demonstrated the need for state legislation forbidding farmers to burn brush during the months of March and April.

Beichler pointed out the need which he said existed for such legislation following a successful fight over the week-end by fire wardens against a dozen widely scattered blazes in Western Carolina counties.

But for rain which came to the aid of the fire fighters, Beichler said, the fires might have grown to disastrous proportions. Two which broke out yesterday in the Pisgah National Forest were halted by rain.

Fire wardens, helped by the rain, extinguished others in the National Forest, the Big Ivy section of Buncombe county and the Great Smokey Mountain National Park area.

Grave Robbers Open Two Graves At Cherry Hill; Officers Are Investigating

Grave robbers got busy in Greenville Saturday night and opened two graves at Cherry Hill cemetery. Bits of clothing and parts of a skeleton were strewn alongside one of the graves. Officers were investigating the affair today, but up until the noon hour no information concerning the culprits had been obtained.

NAVAL TREATY TO BE SIGNED NEXT MONDAY

Representatives Of Five Powers At London Reach Agreement Today

London, April 14.—(AP)—One week from tomorrow, barring mishaps, representatives of the five great naval powers will affix their signatures to the historic pact which has evolved from the London naval conference after long weeks of difficult negotiations.

Announcement to this effect was made at a twenty-four minute plenary session of the conference in Queen Anne's drawing room in old St. James' Palace this noon. Prime Minister MacDonald officiating as general chairman of the conference.

This announcement was the principal feature in the whirlwind session, the first complete meeting of the conference since February 11. Originally it was planned to try to get the treaty drawn up so that it could be signed next Thursday, but the Prime Minister announced that this was impossible of achievement. As it is it will be a race against time for the drafters to get the document ready for the meeting Tuesday, so that the Americans may catch the Leviathan immediately afterwards for New York and home.

The treaty to be signed will be a three power agreement between Japan, America, and Great Britain covering limitation and reduction of naval craft, and agreement between the five powers, France and Italy included, on such points as humanization of submarines and capital ship holiday.

Important French-Italian limitation differences are left unsettled subject subsequent negotiations, and there will be a clause allowing any of the three powers signing the limitation section to depart from its terms if the building of a non-signatory nation endangers it.

The American delegation was jubilant over the prospect of being able to catch the Leviathan next Tuesday or thereafter for their homeward trip after more than three months away from the United States. It undoubtedly will be necessary to delay the liner's sailing a few hours but if the treaty is signed by midday Tuesday the Americans should be able to get to Southampton later in the afternoon.

There were over 400 contestants present for this event and these together with their parents, teachers and admirers made up the most enthusiastic audience which the High School auditorium has held in many a day.

There were over 400 contestants present for this event and these together with their parents, teachers and admirers made up the most enthusiastic audience which the High School auditorium has held in many a day.

Supt. J. H. BAR MEMBERS HERE ENDORSE JUDGE PARKER

Resolutions Urging Confirmation Adopted At Opening Session Of Court

Resolutions endorsing the confirmation of Judge John J. Parker as Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme court were adopted by members of the Pitt County Bar association at the opening session of the criminal term of Pitt County Superior court today. A copy of the resolutions was wired to Senator Lee S. Overman at Washington by the Clerk of Superior Court.

The resolutions were presented by S. J. Everett and immediately adopted by the several members of the bar who had assembled for the first session of court this morning. Commenting upon the action, Judge M. V. Barnhill of Rocky Mount, who is presiding over the court, pointed out that there was no justification for the opposition that had developed against Judge Parker. He described the North Carolina jurist as a man well fitted for the high office, and said that his opinion was based upon long acquaintance, he having been a classmate of Judge Parker in college.

Members of six months' grand jury who began work at a previous term of court, received additional instructions from Judge Barnhill before retiring for the consideration of a number of issues demanding their attention at this term. Judge Barnhill brought to the attention of the jurors the fact that an officer has no more right to kill a person than any other man unless in case of resistance. He cleared other points regarding law enforcement after which the jurors retired and court began actual work on the docket.

The docket for the term contains numbers of charges ranging all the way from larceny to murder. There are a number of cases involving alleged violation of the prohibition laws, several of which were appealed from lower courts. The court room was only about half filled when court began work this morning, but the crowd was augmented from time to time during the day, and the seats were well filled during the afternoon hours. Good crowds are expected to be in attendance the remainder of the two weeks despite the fact that thousands of people are busy on the farms. Criminal court always draws its attendance and this term it is not believed will prove any exception.

DIS. ATTORNEY IS KILLED BY AN ASSASSIN

Clinton Price Of Juneau County, Wis., Is Slain By Enemy In Home

Mauston, Wis., April 14.—(AP)—An assassin firing from ambush caused the death today of Clinton G. Price, militant district attorney of Juneau county.

As he started down a flight of stairs in his home, Price, self-styled "enemy of bootleggers," was shot down by an unidentified assailant who lay hidden outside the kitchen door. He died on the operating table four hours later, his throat lacerated. "I would blow the lid off the Juneau county booze situation," he had said a month ago he had made this promise, after being acquitted to violate the prohibition law.

While posse searched the pine barrels of this central Wisconsin county, Sheriff Elmer Hemplman announced that he had arrested and was questioning a suspect. He refused to name the man.

Jury Will Decide Whether Woman Was Buried Alive In Ky.

Grayson, Ky., April 14.—(AP)—A Carter County grand jury, convening here today, is to be called upon to decide an unusual question—whether Mrs. Susie Vickers, 62, of Denton, Ky., for whom funeral services were held March 29, was buried alive or not.

Judge G. W. Wolford has announced that the grand jury will investigate the burial of Mrs. Vickers, after two former employers of the woman, Mrs. George S. Clay and Mrs. Honchell Johnson, of Caledonia, Ky., had requested a probe. Mrs. Clay and Mrs. Johnson said their former employer was subject to fainting spells and would remain in a coma for hours, and that they understood she was buried without the services of an undertaker. They told the judge that several persons at the woman's funeral had told them that moisture was wiped from her face twice during the services.

Mrs. Vickers was stricken with what apparently was a heart attack while preparing the evening meal in her home at Denton on March 27. She was pronounced dead and brought here on March 29, funeral services being held the same day. She was buried in a local cemetery. Although Judge Wolford had little to say about the case, he intimated that a doctor might be called before the grand jury.

EIGHT INJURED DURING RIOT AT CALEDONA

Seven Prisoners and Guard Hurt When Convicts Start "Rough House"

Raleigh, April 14.—(AP)—A riot occurred at the Caledonia prison farm last night in which seven prisoners and on guard were injured, state prison officials here announced today.

Three of the prisoners received gunshot wounds when guards fired on them but all are expected to recover. The wounded guard, H. Jones, was severely flogged at the start of the outbreak.

The trouble started, officials said, when 250 prisoners in a cell house began breaking out window panes with shoes and sticks.

Jones attempted to quiet them and was seized and beaten. Cries of Jones brought Guard Clyde Lane to the cell house, the Raleigh Times was told over long distance telephone this afternoon by George Ross Pou, superintendent of State's Prison, and the guard shot and wounded three men.

The men, P. D. Cannon, Theodore Lewis and Robert Ryson, were said by Mr. Pou to have been the ringleaders in the trouble. All three were sent to prison from Buncombe county.

Lewis and Ryson were shot in the feet and Cannon in the hip. None of the wounds will prove fatal, prison physicians said.

The Times quotes Mr. Pou as saying he commended Lane highly for his presence of mind and coolness when it looked like a bad outbreak was about to take place. "If he had not put down the riot with a load of buckshot there might have been several killed," the Times quotes Mr. Pou as saying. Lane fired low to keep from killing the prisoners, he said.

This morning the prisoners at Caledonia were not sent out to work as usual but Mr. Pou after his arrival at the farm, ordered them to work this afternoon.

Train Stops and Crew Extinguishes Burning Trundle

Details of what was almost a serious accident were received here today when it was learned that Norfolk and Southern train number 4 was halted early Sunday morning just before it reached a burning trestle.

The trestle at Chicod Creek, between Greenville and Simpson, was the scene several years ago of an accident in which the engineer of train number four and the fireman lost their lives. They were unable to stop the train in time to keep it from plunging through the burning structure.

In the near accident Sunday, after the train had been stopped, the train crew was able to extinguish the flames before serious damage was done.

Proposes Extra Judges To Bring Relief To Courts

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—A proposal that fourteen additional Federal judges be appointed as a means of relieving court congestion was advanced today by Representative Bachman of West Virginia, a Republican member of the House Judiciary committee.

He urged this program as a substitute for the legislation recommended by the Hoover law enforcement commission to strengthen the enforcement of the prohibition laws, the commission's proposals have encountered considerable opposition. It is understood that both wet and dry are of the belief that the Bachman plan is a practical means of effecting immediate relief.

Administration Standing Firmly Behind Nomination Of Judge John Parker

Confirmation North Carolina Man To Supreme Court Bench Accentuated By Opposition From Senator Norris and Labor Federation

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—President Hoover will speak tonight at the thirty-ninth annual convocation of the Daughters of the American Revolution. His address will be broadcast by an extensive chain of radio stations combining both the National Broadcasting company and Columbia systems.

Members of the organization assembled here today for the opening meeting of the congress, held in the new auditorium erected in conjunction with national headquarters here. The opening program included an address by Mrs. Lowell Hobart, the president general, greetings from the honorary presidents-general and speeches of welcome by District of Columbia officials. The afternoon session was given over to business and committee reports.

In addition to the president, Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, will speak tonight and Secretary Hurley of the War Department is to deliver an address. He has been ill for several days, but expects to be able to appear.

Pres. Hoover To Speak To D. A. R. Congress Tonight

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—Action on the nomination of Judge John J. Parker, of North Carolina, to be an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, was deferred for a week today by the Senate judiciary committee.

A favorable report was submitted to the committee by the subcommittee which held hearings on the nomination but there were requests for more time to consider the case.

Some Republican regulars have been reported in doubt following vigorous protests against confirmation of Parker from organized labor and negro organizations.

Administrative leaders at the capital were understood to be satisfied with the program of delay. Answers to the objections of labor and the negroes of the Red Jacket and the Department of Justice issued a memorandum defending his decision in the injunction proceedings against which the American Federation of Labor has complained.

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—The administration is standing squarely behind the nomination of Judge John J. Parker as an associate Justice of the Supreme Court in opposition to the objections of organized labor and growing antagonism in the Senate.

The position of the President, and the determination of those opposed to Judge Parker's confirmation were accentuated today by three distinct developments which set Washington, Wis.

A HORRIBLE DEED.

Just who opened two graves in Cherry Hill cemetery during the dark hours of Saturday night or just what the motives for such an outrageous act could have been we are unable to say, but we sincerely hope that local authorities will be able to solve the mystery and properly deal with those responsible in order that a repetition of such an outrage of the city of the dead might not occur.

Of course there is always the theory that the motive for such acts is the hope of finding buried treasures, but in this instance we hardly believe that such was the case and we are more willing and eager to believe that it was the act of a deranged and distorted mind rather than a premeditated act on the part of the basest of all criminals, the grave robber. Another of Saturday night's crimes in this city was the breaking into the Methodist Church of this city and the theft of a small amount of money that had been left in one of the departments of the Sunday school. This crime speaks for itself and the motive is apparent which ranks it equally as bad or even worse than the desecration of the tomb in view of the doubt of the responsibility of the parties in the one and the certain motives that prompted the guilty party or parties in the other.

It is to be hoped that no stone will be left unturned to bring to justice these persons who are so base or so insane as to commit such sacrileges. It is indeed horrible to realize that our community, or any community, has within it a person or persons who would commit such acts.

ABOUT TOWN

It looks like Pitt County people mean business about tax reduction, judging by the mass meeting held in this city last Saturday afternoon. When the resolutions adopted are carried to the State Tax meeting to be held in Raleigh the latter part of this month and combined with those from other sections, it looks like some good results might be obtained. The tax issue in one that is going to vitally affect the entire country in the future, and the quicker the legislators realize what the people want and provide it the better off they will be in a political way. Sentiment has already crystallized for lower taxes, and if the situation is not met in the near future the country is going to suffer untold hardships. The people have always had a difficult time paying taxes on their farm properties, and the time has come when they are unable to meet the demand. This involves an unusually serious economic situation, and can be met alone through the enactment of proper laws to remedy conditions. This is a problem that demands the attention of the people and efforts to bring about needed reforms should not be relinquished until desired results have been obtained.

This is the last week of the series of simultaneous services in the various churches of the city, and the public is urged to get busy and do everything possible to assure success of the meetings.

The welfare of any community depends largely upon its spirituality, and the section that tries to get by without it is on the road to eventual destruction. There are numbers of people in and around Greenville not affiliated with the church, and it is the purpose of the ministers to get as many of them as possible lined up during the present campaign.

The church workers are urged to assist the ministers in every way possible. They should not stand off on the side and let the preacher attempt to do it all. Many a man and woman has been saved because of the influence of some friends instead of through the sermons of preachers, and this fact should inspire every person to get busy and put his best foot forward during the final week of the revivals.

Greenville merchants long ago realized the importance of attractive display windows and this is the reason so many good looking windows are in evidence in the business district at this time.

There is nothing that brings good results as quickly as attractive windows and newspaper advertising, and the merchant not using such mediums should get busy and do so immediately.

This is a time of active competition in the business world and no merchant can expect to keep pace with the man that is keeping his customers informed as to what he has in stock through display windows and newspaper columns. This is something that should demand the attention of business now as never before and it is hoped the display windows will be enlarged, newspaper advertising increased, until the city is on par with the largest trade centers of the nation.

Greenville is attracting the attention of more people at this time than any other town in Eastern North Carolina, in the opinion of a visitor here the other day attending one of the conventions held here.

This fact is amply borne out when we consider the number of conventions held here by various organizations during the last month or so. Four of the conventions came within a period of two weeks, and the delegates went away highly gratified at the splendid reception which they received upon all sides. A spirit of cordiality is necessary to gain such a reputation, and it must be that Greenville people have a way of entertaining people that always gives them a desire to come back. It is to be hoped that this spirit will continue to live among the citizenship. If it should the future will see more and larger conventions and the fame of Greenville, the principal shopping center in Eastern Carolina, will spread to greater distances than ever.

Do you compare the news you read in the reflector with that in other papers? If not, you should begin to do so as it is in this way alone that you will be able to appreciate the splendid leased wire news service which the paper furnishes every day in the week except Sunday.

SPLENDID ATTENDANCE MARKS SIMULTANEOUS SERVICES HERE SUNDAY

(Continue from page 1) were lost in the throngs on the streets of Jerusalem. He said many today who have at times past been helped by Jesus forget Him and get lost in following the crowds. He then pointed out that the disciples who were shouting for joy on this day within a week ran away, and hid in cowardly fear. Yet in spite of this through their deep loyalty to Jesus they did come back later and were the foundation for the building of God's Kingdom in the world. Here the speaker urged the congregation to come back in renewed consecration to Jesus that through them the Kingdom of God might go forward in our modern day.

In the second place the speaker said there were some who did not shout for Jesus triumphal entry

Some of these were the leaders of Israel who would lose their place and position should Jesus secure a hold on the hearts of men. Here the speaker challenged the right of the Greenville theatres to have mid-night shows on Sunday night, saying that the building up of the young people through the Sunday services was all discounted if they remained up until the middle of the night to attend the theatre. Also in the same class with the ancient men who shouted not for Jesus were those who on Good Friday Night, while Christians were meditating on the sufferings of Jesus on the cross, and his death and burial, would have a "Hot Easter Hop". The speaker declared it was not of keeping with the service going on in all the churches in town, and that it was wrong and should not be done.

Another group of those who did not shout for Jesus were the indifferent, he said. These saw Jesus pass through their town and yet did not bother to hear him speak, did not care to hear new truth about God. The speaker urged that many today are careless to Jesus, following their own inclinations and allowing the spiritual within them to dry up.

In closing the morning sermon, Mr. Lillycrop spoke of how the shouts of the crowds were stilled by the disciples seeing that in the midst of their joy Jesus wept. He said Jesus did this because he saw the future of Jerusalem, and the true spiritual state of those who lived there. He called attention here to the fact that Jesus was made sorry also in Greenville by the spiritual state of many here. He said that this week would mean for many lives the blackness of Good Friday, while for others it would contain the brightness of the Easter Morn. This would depend upon whether or not they individually decided to personally follow the living Christ.

At the night service, Mr. Lillycrop described how Jesus went into the Temple, looked around on all things and then went out.

He said there was one bright thing about Jesus visit to the Temple. This was the widows putting in their offering of sacrifice; and the fact of the presence of the children at the Temple. Here he urged that not only money sacrifice but the giving of our ability for Jesus service still delighted Christ today no matter how limited we are. And he said that the children should attend the services, because Jesus first commanded that those who love Him should "Feed My Lambs."

Immanuel Baptist Rev. William H. Coverly began his duties yesterday as pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church at the morning service he spoke from the text, "There went with him a band of men whose hearts God had touched."

At the evening service the text was "Will Thou not revive us again, that Thy people may rejoice in Thee?" This church is co-operating with the other churches of the city in the evangelistic campaign, and there will be service at the church each evening at 8 o'clock. All of our people are urged to be present tonight to begin the week right.

Presbyterian Church Yesterday was a good day in attendance at the Presbyterian church at all of the services, and some interest was shown at both services, morning and evening.

The pastor preached at the morning hour from the results which will come to those who fail to come up to help the church, the pastors, God Himself, in this revival effort. Red People who are not Christians will not have confidence or respect for us if we let other things come ahead of our attendance and personal work. We ourselves, will suffer and be more indifferent, more worldly, and will miss great blessings. Greenville will not be as good a town as it is now if this meeting fails. It would pay for everyone to quit their work, and devote the entire time left to reaching the indifferent, backsliding, the unsaved. If we do nothing we will be the losers.

At the evening service the subject was the conditions which will prevail when Jesus comes back to the earth. There will not be much difference from what it was in the days of Noah, and in every age of the world. Some people will not be expecting Jesus, some will, some will not be ready, some will. None will be ready unless they confess their sins, accept Christ as a personal Savior. All can be ready, if this is done. Are you ready to receive Jesus with joy when He comes? Memorial Baptist Church Fine congregations gathered at the services, both morning and evening.

ning as we continued our revival yesterday. It was a great inspiration to all who participated in the work of the day.

At the morning hour of worship the pastor preached an inspirational message on the subject: "Behold, Thy King Cometh." The Meredith College musicians contributed to the spirit of the service in the music they played.

The evening service was evangelistic in type. The message of the evening was "The Mother Love of God" based on the text: Isa. 49: 14-16. When we consider the theme of God's Love it is with the realization that we are attempting the contemplation of a subject whose depth is unfathomable, whose length has never been scaled, and whose breadth or breadth has never been completely measured. With Paul we would join in his prayer that we "may be strong to apprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and height, and depth, and to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled unto all the fulness of God." Eph. 3:18. The prophet presents a very startling question to us, can a woman forget her child? It tends to humble us before God, we who are so certain of our virtues. We do fail, however. It is distinctly a human possibility. Parents often forget the responsibility for their children's welfare morally and spiritually. Is the mother or father who thrusts their child out into the world unfitted to meet its demands, and its attacks any better than the woman of India who throws her child into the Ganges River to serve her god? What a price they pay! Alongside of this question with its affirmed human possibility is the divine surely. "Yet will not I forget Thee." This divine assurance rests upon the unchangeable character of our God. It is also built into our experience as we realize the divine dimensions of God's Love. The breadth: "Whosoever" of John 3:16; the length, "everlasting" of Jer. 31:3; the depth, "Me" of Cal. 2:30; and the height, "raised up in Him" of Eph. 2:6. This was the note that D. L. Moody would never let people fail to hear. God does love us, and loves even the unlovely. Then, this divine love rests upon the fact that we are ever remembers by God, in the person of the Lord Jesus Christ. "Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; May God help us to love Him, an exhibit that love each day.

ADMINISTRATION STANDING FIRMLY BEHIND NOMINATION OF JUDGE JOHN J. PARKER (Continue from page 1) and might be joined by Senator Borah. Judge Parker's action in upholding an injunction preventing the United Mine Workers from organizing the employes of the Fed Jacket Consolidated Coal and Coke Company was the subject of the statements of both the Justice Department and the labor organization. The former contended that Judge Parker had no freedom of action in the case in question, that in his decision he followed a previous decision of the Supreme Court, which, the statement said, he was bound to do.

The statement of the Federation, signed by William Green, its president, said, "It is inconceivable that a man who has shown such judicial bias against the working people of the country can be elevated to the highest judicial tribunal of the land." The dispute over the injunction case involves the so-called "yellow dog contract" under which the Fed Jacket employes were operating, binding them not to join a labor union while working for the company. The Justice Department maintained that Parker had relied upon the Supreme Court decision in the Hitchman case, which denied the right of unions to persuade employes to break such contracts. "There does not seem to be a point, decided in the Red Jacket case," the Department memorandum said, "on which Judge Parker assumed to exercise any independent judgment or opinion. He was bound by the decisions of the Supreme Court, of which he could not refuse to follow."

Asserting that the Red Jacket decision forced "a condition bordering on industrial servitude" upon the miners of West Virginia, Green called upon the Senate to reject the nomination. He declared that Parker would carry to the Supreme Court bench views and opinions "hostile to labor" and "destructive to human rights as shown in the Red Jacket decision." A favorable report on the nomination was expected today from the Senate judiciary sub-committee that has had it under consideration. Senator Watson, the Republican leader, predicts that it will be confirmed, but declines to say when it will be taken up by the Senate.

Teachers College Dames Meet. One of the most enjoyable meetings which the Teachers College Dames have had the pleasure of attending during this club year was held on Friday, April 11, with Mrs. M. K. Fort as hostess at her home on Fourth street. Her living room and dining room opening into each other were especially lovely with crab-apple blossoms and snapdragons, rose colors predominating, and making a beautiful spring setting.

After the usual routine club business the meeting was turned over to Mrs. E. L. Henderson who talked on the Passion Play. She most appropriately chose this subject, since Passion Week is so near and she handled it in such a way as to make her listeners almost feel that they had seen the play.

She described Oberammergau as a perfect setting for such a scene, giving the history of the beginning of the play, telling how the people after praying that if the Black Plague was lifted from the village, vowed that they would ever after give this performance. Only during the World War has it ever been delayed. The family trees of this little town are a succession of Marys and other characters rather than that of family histories, and the pictures that were shown of this year's characters reflected the simplicity of the lives which these peasant folk had and the ideals to which they strive in the portrayal of their characters.

The guests of the afternoon were Miss Magee and Mesdames B. W. Ginn, Lott, J. W. Lewis, M. E. Henderson and Marianne Murphy. Mrs. Fort, assisted by Mrs. M. L. Wright and Mrs. J. B. Cummings, served a delicious salad course.

COUNT VON LUCKNER TO APPEAR HERE TONIGHT. This is the evening, at 8:30, for the appearance of Count Von Luckner, "The Sea-Devil" at East Carolina Teachers College. This famous man noted for having captured more ships than any other man during the World War, and yet did this without taking a life, is one of the most interesting men on the American platform today. He is an honorary member of the American Legion, and his appearance in many places is being sponsored by Legion posts.

On his first tour, he attracted crowds who went to see and hear him out of curiosity because of his spectacular career, the thrilling true story book of adventure of which he is the hero, and the stories of his striking personality. He fulfilled expectations and those who heard him were so enthusiastic about him, that on this tour he has many return engagements, and has bookings listed for next season. Among the second engagements there are two in this state, the University of North Carolina and Duke University.

Some months ago, it was thought that the Countess would accompany him, but she evidently finds strenuous touring too heavy, so while he is making his spring tour, taking long jumps in hard stages, she is visiting her home people. On Saturday evening he appeared in Millersburg and as soon as the Lenten season is over, will fill engagements in Louisiana and the far south, making stops along the way.

The Campus building at East Carolina Teachers College is the place for this evening. This is the last entertainment in the series for the spring term, the last on the season ticket. Another exceedingly attractive series will be offered during the summer term, and the program for next year will be ready for announcement before very long.

The Senior-Normal play, "Mice and Men," to be given on two successive evenings, May 8 and 9, is not included in the season ticket but is independently managed by the normal school class of 1930.

COMMUNISTS FACE PRISON

Zorki Yoki (left) of Yorkville, Ohio, and Betty Gannetti of Cleveland were found guilty under a wartime statute of distributing allegedly seditious literature. Miss Yoki faces a term of one to five years and Miss Gannetti was sentenced to serve five to ten years in Ohio state penitentiary with a fine of $2,000.

GRAVE ROBBERS OPEN TWO GRAVES AT CHERRY HILL: 4 OFFICERS INVESTIGATING

The motive for entering the grave. He said that the only valuable buried with his wife's body was a very small diamond ring, the value of which would have been too small to justify even the basest of persons to commit such a deed. He likewise stated that as far as he knew he had no enemies who would have committed such an act as a means of revenge.

Officers investigating the case today were at a loss how to begin the probe without any clue whatever upon which to guide them, but they delved away into the mystery and expressed hope they would be able to bring forth something of a definite nature in the next several hours. The affair has excited the interest and revulsion of the entire citizenship, and speculation ran rife today as the public, like the sleuths of the law, awaited some development that would give something definite regarding the case.

Brick Slaying Of Gas Station Man Baffles Officers

Chilton, April 14.—(AP)—The brick slaying of C. E. Dorsett, operator of a filling station in southeastern Sampson county, today baffled officers who found slight clues to his assailants. Dorsett's body, with the head battered in, was found at the filling station in which he lived alone early yesterday morning. Bloody bricks lying nearby led officers to the conclusion he had been beaten to death with them. While admitting they had slight clues to the slayer, officers said they were seeking two negroes known to have been in the section Saturday night. Robbery was believed to have been the motive for the attack.

Hon. R. A. Nunn, Judge of the Superior Courts residing in this judicial district, is now presiding over the sessions of the court in Wilmington. Recently he was in Jones county and the gentlemen of the bar of that county at the close of the term unanimously adopted the following resolutions: "Whereas, Judge R. A. Nunn has just concluded the Spring Term, 1930, of the Superior Court of Jones County, and the Bar and Court officials wish to express their appreciation of the able and impartial manner in which he has discharged the business of the Court and take pleasure in commending his uniform courtesy to the members of the Bar and all other persons having business before the Court; Therefore, be it resolved, that in the Honorable R. A. Nunn the District and the State have a wise, just and humane Judge, a presiding officer of fine poise and judicial temperament, and a Christian gentleman of the highest character and integrity, who is making a record worthy of our unreserved admiration and esteem. "The Clerk will properly enter this resolution upon the minutes of this Term of Court." Judge Nunn was appointed by the Governor and then nominated and elected by the Democratic party to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge Horton. In the Democratic primary next June he will be a candidate for re-nomination as Judge for a full term in the office. —(Political Adv.)

Thieves Again Visit Methodist Church

plete disorder when members of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church sometime Saturday night and obtained a few postage stamps and a coat that had been used at one of the tables in general office work. They were believed to have been seeking money, but were disappointed in this respect, as church officers said today that there was no money in the building that they knew anything about. Entrance to the building was made through a door. The glass in the upper part of the door was smashed with an axe. The office presented an appearance of complete disorder when member of the congregation entered the building yesterday morning. Thieves entered the church about two weeks ago and obtained a few dollars in change which had been collected in the children's department.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, April 14.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 6 to 12 points under selling which seemed to be promoted by relative ease in Liverpool cables, reports of rains in West Texas over the weekend and rather smaller domestic consumption figures for March than anticipated. May eased off to 16.23 and the new October contract to 15.14 under the initial offerings which were supposed to include some realizing or liquidation in the near months as well as local and commission house selling of later deliveries.

Spot houses were buyers of May, however, and the market became somewhat steadier after the initial offerings were absorbed with prices showing rallies of a few points from the lowest although active positions still showed net losses of about 5 to 10 points at the end of the first half hour.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 14.—(AP)—Break up of drought in the eastern two-thirds of Kansas and Oklahoma and part of Nebraska plunged wheat downward today. Needed moisture was received by the American and Canadian northwest. A decrease of 3,029,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply had but little market influence, the total visible supply being 143,519,444 bushels against 121,250,000 bushels a year ago.

Wheat closed unstable 2 7/8 to 3 7/8 lower than Saturday's finish; corn closed 5-8 to 1-4 down; oats 3-8 to 1-2 off, and provisions unchanged to 10 decline.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 14.—(AP)—The stock market opened irregular today, ran into a moderate volume of selling in the morning and then turned upward in the early afternoon. In the early decline, scores of issues dropped 1 to nearly eight points on a combination of profit taking and bear selling, but offerings quickly dried up and the market turned upward under the leadership of the farm implement, tobacco, communication, aircraft and utilities issues.

There was little in the week-end news to influence the price movement. Reports from steel centers indicated some pickup in activity this week, but the demand for copper continued light with producers showing little disposition to cut the price of the red metal, which has been maintained at 18 cents for the past year. Retail business showed marked improvement with the approach of the Easter holiday.

Call money renewed unchanged at 4 per cent, with indications that the rate would be maintained or work higher. Only a moderate volume of funds was offered, with the demand fairly heavy. Payment of state income taxes, due tomorrow, was believed in some quarters to account for the temporary stringency.

Allied Chemical, which scored a spectacular advance last week in belated response to an excellent annual report, dropped 7 1/2 points on realizing. Union Pacific fell almost 5 points and Eastman Kodak 4 1/2. U. S. Industrial Alcohol dropped nearly 4 points to 98 1/2, duplicating the year's low price. Calumet & Arizona and American Locomotive sank to new low ground for the year.

"GOOD TO TAKE IN THE SPRING"

Black-Draught Is A Cleansing Medicine That Should Help You As It Did This Lady.

Oklahoma City, Okla. "The first of the week I was feeling bad, was dizzy and felt bilious," writes Mrs. L. F. Moyer, of 408 North Lee Street, this city.

"I took a dose of Theford's Black-Draught every night for three nights, and now I am feeling fine."

"I can always tell when one of these attacks is coming on. I can't see good and everything dances in front of me. As soon as I begin to feel like this I take Black-Draught, for it always helps me. All this trouble seems to come from constipation."

"My father had used Black-Draught in his home and often told me I ought to try it, but up until two years ago I had not. Then I began taking it for constipation and indigestion. I found it to be the best home medicine I had ever used. I take it as often as I need anything for constipation. I feel fresh and have more pep after I have taken a course of Black-Draught. It is a good medicine to take in the spring of the year." Costs only 1 cent a dose.

Shaw Will Deliver Keynote Address To N. C. Republicans

Charlotte, April 14.—(AP)—Leslie Mortier Shaw, former governor of Iowa and secretary of the treasury under President Roosevelt, will sound the keynote when North Carolina Republicans gather here next Thursday for their state convention.

The principal business, aside from adopting a state platform which the Republicans will face when Shaw concludes his opening address, will be whether to depart from long precedent and hold a state primary or select in convention one of three avowed candidates as their nominee for United States Senator.

Grand Jury Will Probe the Death Of Pullman Porter

Locust Grove, Ga., April 14.—(AP)—Despite the failure of a coroner's jury to pierce the mystery surrounding the death of J. H. Wilkins, Henry county authorities are considering a grand jury investigation into the finding of the body of the negro Pullman porter tied to a small tree near here April 5.

A verdict that the porter came to his death "by cause or causes unknown to this jury" was returned Saturday after questioning employes aboard the Southern Railway's Kansas City Special on which Wilkins served. The porter's body with fractures of the skull and other wounds was found about a quarter of a mile from the railroad tracks. Coroner E. W. Barrett said he may ask the grand jury to order an analysis for possible blood stains on a broom which was picked up near the railroad tracks several miles north of where the body was found. Railroad employes said the broom, which showed evidence of use for hard scrubbing, was not standard train equipment, but that brooms of its type occasionally were purchased at replacements.
