TWO SUSPECTS UNDER ARREST IN BAKER CASE

Further Questioning of Washington Woman's Roommates Planned by Officials

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—Two suspects, one arrested in Washington and the other taken from a flight train in Maryland, were under investigation today in the efforts of the police to solve the mystery of the death of Mary Baker, 30 year old government clerk.

The authorities kept the identity of the suspect in the city came about as a result of information obtained from Miss Baker's friends as to those with whom she had been in company shortly before her death. Miss Baker's body, bruised and pierced by bullets was found on Saturday, stuffed into a culvert near one of the entrances to the Arlington National Cemetery. Several hours before her automobile had been found, streaked with blood, some distance away.

The arrest of the suspect in Washington was followed, the police said, by the discovery of a blood-stained shirt in a suitcase believed to have been his property. The police expected to submit him to a rigorous cross-examination, requiring a detailed explanation of the shirt and an account of his movements on Friday night.

The man arrested in Maryland was held overnight at an unrevealed place. The arrest was announced as having taken place "north of Baltimore," but a checkup of jails in that vicinity failed to disclose his whereabouts.

William S. Shelby, chief of detectives, who announced the arrests, also said that further questioning of Miss Baker's two-roommates, Olga Skinner and Mildred Sperry, was contemplated as part of a general plan to obtain the names of persons with whom Miss Baker was friendly.

Several names were revealed by a search of the dead woman's desk at the Navy Department. All this brought to light are under the scrutiny of the police, who are operating on the theory that Miss Baker's murderer was a man with whom she was friendly.

A painstaking search of the fields and woods near the scene of the murder was in progress, in the hope that the revolver which was used in the killing would be located. Troops from Fort Myer were engaged in this hunt. A pond of the Department of Agriculture experimental station grounds nearby was ordered to be drained on the possibility that it might have been thrown away there.

Newark, N. J., April 16.—(AP)—A young robber with a bullet wound in his heart last night rode a half mile clutching the spare tire of his companions' stolen automobile in the escape from an unsuccessful holdup and died later in the drivers' seat forsaken by his pals.

Schumsky, too late to get into the car, hopped to the spare tire rack. Police found the car abandoned with Schumsky dead in it. They said Schumsky is wanted by the United States Army for desertion last December from Langley Field, Va. He had a police record.

DOOMED MAN IS GRANTED NEW HEARING

Frank Simmons Wins Second Trial in Opinion Handed Down By Supreme Court.

Raleigh, April 15.—(AP)—Frank Simmons, alias Gecch, of Guilford county, under sentence of electrocution, was today granted a new trial by the State Supreme Court.

Simmons was charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff W. T. Eowman while "chicken thieving" with Perry White. The new trial was granted on the allowance of introduction of hearsay evidence by Charles Fields, who arrested White, that White told him, without Simmons being present, that Simmons did the shooting.

Luff was granted a new trial in a forgery case because of the exclusion of testimony of a witness for the defendant which might have tended to show that fraud was not intended, which is necessary to proof of forgery.

In the suit of Weatherman vs. Reynolds for damages suffered from injuries sustained while working as a carpenter for the tobacco company, the motion of non-suit of the defendant, which was granted by the Superior Court, was upheld.

The court handed down six other opinions. They were:

Town of Cary vs. J. M. Templeton, Jr. Wake, affirmed.

Tar Heel Hosiery Mills vs. Durham Hosiery Mills, Durham, modified and affirmed.

State vs. Simmons, Guilford, new trial.

INDIANS NOT PLEASED WITH COURT ACTION

The Indians held no briefs for Nancy Bowen, the old woman who hammered the Buffalo artist's wife to death, or Lila Jimerson, the Ceyoga spinster who pleaded guilty to second degree murder before her case went to the jury, but were emphatic in their conviction that all the evidence in the case was not uncovered and all the guilty parties not brought to justice.

To the end that all circumstances surrounding the brutal crimes may be revealed, the Senecas, through their assembled leaders, pledged their support.

"The Braves sat in silence for several minutes. Then one after the other spoke with deliberation. Some complained about procedure in the white man's court, but none brought forth new evidence.

Adlai Williams, clerk of the nation, said he regretted the impression abroad as a result of the Lila Jimerson trial that non-Christian Indians are pagans.

"When the first white man knelt at Plymouth Rock," he explained, "the Indians who gathered at the approach of the strangers joined with them in praise of the creator. The same mighty God they themselves worshipped. As to the witchcraft here, it is a freak case, we craft here, it is a freak case, we came to such a tragic conclusion."

"I suppose it is the nature of some," said one speaker, gently, "they come with a bottle of whiskey and ask where they can find a souaw. It is difficult to be patient with such."

"The reputation of our whole people is at stake and if the whole story has not been told, we think in fairness to all, it should be," Clerk Williams declared.

From one Indian came questions as to why Nancy Bowen had not been examined mentally.

"We know on good authority that there are times when Nancy acts very queer," said the brave.

Curran Says Association Against Prohibition Spent Big Sum Favoring Repeal

President of Organization Against Dry Amendment Presents Lobby Investigating Committee with Facts Regarding Campaign.

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, testified today before the Senate Lobby committee that the organization had spent $427,213 last year in advocating repeal of the 18th amendment.

Curran said one of the purposes of the organization was to advocate election of Congressmen favoring repeal of the dry laws.

Curran testified one hundred persons are employed by the association in 12 offices. He placed his salary at $25,000 a year and expenses.

William H. Stayton, chairman of the board of directors of the association, receives $10,000.

Chairman Caraway asked Curran whether negroes were eligible for membership.

"Certainly," he replied.

"Keep those words in your mouth," Curran said, "don't put them in mine."

The anti-prohibition activities of Curran's organization came recently under the scrutiny of the lobby committee through testimony of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Raskob said he was a director of the association and had contributed $85,000. He added that one of its principal activities was to advocate the election of Congressmen in favor of repeal or modification of the prohibition laws.

Curran said the annual salary of the persons employed regularly by the association was $251,554.

"Then $275,000 a year would cover the salaries," Caraway asked.

"Yes, easily," Curran replied.

Questioned by Caraway about an item of $33,050 for traveling expenses, Curran said the association had 12 persons traveling in foreign countries to investigate methods of liquor control.

Curran said three men were in Canada. Other countries in which surveys were made included Great Britain, Sweden, Finland, Norway, Denmark, Belgium, Holland, Germany, France, Switzerland and Mexico.

"Did you employ men who were in favor of modification?" Caraway asked.

"We never took a Literary Digest poll of them," Curran said.

"You never employed Waverly B. Wheeler and F. Scott McBride, did you?" Senator Blaine asked.

"No, but I'd like to put Senator Brookhart on my payroll," Curran remarked as the audience burst into laughter.

Brookhart, Republican Senator of Iowa, is an outspoken advocate of prohibition.

Pressed by Caraway to explain his remark about Brookhart, the witness replied that every time Brookhart made a speech for prohibition "it turned thousands of people against prohibition."

Caraway asked if the association made direct contributions to candidates for public office.

"Yes," Curran said.

"Are you going to support William M. Butler in Massachusetts," Caraway asked.

"Certainly not," Curran said.

Butler, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, is running for the Senate and is considered a dry.

Curran said the principal interest of the association was to restore to the states their rights.

Going back to campaign contributions, Caraway asked if the association would support any candidate who favored repeal of the 18th amendment.

Curran said the association considered the qualifications before taking action.

"If one was dry and the other wet would you support the dry if he were the better man?" Caraway asked.

"If he were dry he would not be the better man," Curran replied.

"Would you support a dry?"

"No," Curran said.

"That's the prime question."

"Peace or war, good government or bad government are all subordinated to that question," Caraway demanded.

"That's your statement not mine," Curran said.

"Are you supporting anybody for office now?" Caraway asked.

"Yes," Curran said, adding the organization was supporting three candidates in Pennsylvania—Francis H. Boland, for Senator; Thomas W. Phillips for governor, and Charles Dorrance for lieutenant-governor.

"Are you picking winners?" Caraway asked.

"I wouldn't be surprised," Curran said.

President of Organization Against Dry Amendment Presents Lobby Investigating Committee with Facts Regarding Campaign.

Washington, April 16.—(AP)—Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, testified today before the Senate Lobby committee that the organization had spent $427,213 last year in advocating repeal of the 18th amendment.

Curran said one of the purposes of the organization was to advocate election of Congressmen favoring repeal of the dry laws.

Curran testified one hundred persons are employed by the association in 12 offices. He placed his salary at $25,000 a year and expenses.

William H. Stayton, chairman of the board of directors of the association, receives $10,000.

Chairman Caraway asked Curran whether negroes were eligible for membership.

"Certainly," he replied.

"Keep those words in your mouth," Curran said, "don't put them in mine."

The anti-prohibition activities of Curran's organization came recently under the scrutiny of the lobby committee through testimony of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Raskob said he was a director of the association and had contributed $85,000. He added that one of its principal activities was to advocate the election of Congressmen in favor of repeal or modification of the prohibition laws.

Curran said the annual salary of the persons employed regularly by the association was $251,554.

"Then $275,000 a year would cover the salaries," Caraway asked.

"Yes, easily," Curran replied.

Questioned by Caraway about an item of $33,050 for traveling expenses, Curran said the association had 12 persons traveling in foreign countries to investigate methods of liquor control.

Curran said three men were in Canada. Other countries in which surveys were made included Great Britain, Sweden, Finland, Norway, Denmark, Belgium, Holland, Germany, France, Switzerland and Mexico.

"Did you employ men who were in favor of modification?" Caraway asked.

"We never took a Literary Digest poll of them," Curran said.

"You never employed Waverly B. Wheeler and F. Scott McBride, did you?" Senator Blaine asked.

"No, but I'd like to put Senator Brookhart on my payroll," Curran remarked as the audience burst into laughter.

Brookhart, Republican Senator of Iowa, is an outspoken advocate of prohibition.

Pressed by Caraway to explain his remark about Brookhart, the witness replied that every time Brookhart made a speech for prohibition "it turned thousands of people against prohibition."

Caraway asked if the association made direct contributions to candidates for public office.

"Yes," Curran said.

"Are you going to support William M. Butler in Massachusetts," Caraway asked.

"Certainly not," Curran said.

LOCAL LEGION CONSIDERS AN INDOOR CIRCUS

Proposition Referred To Executive Committee at Meeting Next Friday.

Decision of a proposal for staging an indoor circus in Greenville sometime in the near future featured last night's session of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion, but at the end the Legionnaires were no nearer a decision in the matter than they were when the discussion started. The proposition was referred to members of the executive committee at a meeting set for next Friday afternoon.

Two members representing an indoor circus concern from Wilson appeared before the post with offers for staging an attraction here. They had inviting offers that held forth promises of financial success. The Legionnaires, however, did not seem to be decided whether they wanted an indoor circus or not and despite repeated attempts of Commanders Moore to sound the sentiment of the organization, this was withheld, and it was necessary to refer the matter to the executive committee.

The session last night was featured by the usual supper and song program lead by J. H. Rose. Commander Dave Moore presided. Miss Hattie S. Lilliant entertained the post with a dance number, and was accompanied at the piano by Miss Rebecca Scoville.

Judge M. V. Barnhill, of Rocky Mount, who is holding a two-weeks' term of criminal court in this city, was a guest of the post and spoke for a few minutes in a light vein. He said President Hoover was one of the greatest presidents in history in that he had promised "to break the solid South, and actually did it." The speaker was introduced by Sam Worthington.

Commander Dave Moore explained the effort now under foot to compile a history of the local Legion organization. He said that they had been able to get a definite line-up on all activities of the club with exception of the first year. He said there was some indecision about the beginning of the organization and asked that all members assist in getting some definite information about the first year. Sam Worthington also spoke relative to the compilation of history, and said that he hoped they would be able to complete the work by the end of the week as the records had to be in the hands of the State department by that time.

The post accepted an invitation of Nick Kantrolis to be his guest at the Five Points Cafe at the meeting in May.

GOOD WEATHER NECESSARY COTTON YIELD EQUALS 1923

Columbia, S. C., April 16.—(AP)—Although there has been no decrease in cotton acreage in South Carolina, in the opinion of J. Clinton Rivers, state warehouse commissioner, ideal weather conditions will have to prevail in order for this year's yield to equal that of 1923.

Mr. Rivers, after a visit through various counties in the state said that he found farmers buying less fertilizer than last year because of depressed financial conditions. On account of this, he said, weather conditions will have great bearing on the number of bales harvested.

Hoover Expresses Views of Leadership

New Haven, Conn., April 16.—(AP)—President Hoover's views on leadership were published today in an article he wrote for the Yale Daily News, an undergraduate publication.

The article follows: "Leadership is a quality of the individual. It is the individual alone who can function in the world of intellect and in the field of leadership. If Democracy is to be an authority in morals, religion, and statesmanship, it must stimulate leadership from its own mass. "Human leadership cannot be rendered by selection like queen bees, by divine right, or bureaucracies, but by the free rise of ability, character and intelligence. "Even so, leadership cannot, no matter how militant, carry progress far ahead of the average of the mass of individual units. Progress of the nation is the sum of progress in its individuals. Acts and ideas that lead to progress are born out of the womb of the individual mind, not out of the mind of the crowd.

"The crowd only feels; it has no mind of its own which can plan. The crowd is credulous. It destroys, it consumes, it hates, and it draws, but it never builds. It is one of the most profound and important of exact psychological truths that man in the mass does not think but only feels. The mob functions only in a world of emotion. The demagogue feeds on mob emotions, and his leadership is the leadership of emotion, not the leadership of intellect and progress. "Popular desires are no criteria to the real need; they can be determined only by deliberative consideration, by education, by constructive leadership."

"Jake" Victims Turn To Cure In Oil Slush Ponds

Wichita, Kas., April 16.—(AP)—Although authorities are skeptical of the value of the treatment, victims of "Jake paralysis", unexplained malady believed caused by the drinking of Jamaica ginger, have turned to a cure believed contained in baths in petroleum refiner slush ponds.

hundreds of "Jake Victims" Dr. R. E. Hobbs, city physician, last night also announced a survey would be made with a view of establishing an emergency hospital in the Forum, a city auditorium.

A painful march of the lame and halt toward the slush ponds of the Golden Rule Oil company here began yesterday. Sufferers of the malady joined the procession after a report spread that similar victims at Eldorado, Kas., another oil town, had found relief after bathing in slush ponds there.

RECREATIONAL SCHOOL HELD FOR RURAL CLUB MEMBERS

Miss Ella Gardner of the Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C., taught classes in recreation in Greenville Monday and Tuesday nights of this week. Representatives from the various club throughout the county were invited to this school. Miss Gardner has had a number of years of experience in teaching recreation to both juniors and adults. She made a complete study of the dance hall and has written a number of books and articles dealing with the need for recreation. During the first evening of the school here, Miss Gardner gave important points in leadership and used a number of active games which are suitable for community programs for fifty or less, including a new version of the Virginia Reel. Musical games and reels were taught the same evening. On Tuesday evening a number of new quiet games were taught and the group was taught how to lead music for community singing. The work given by Miss Gardner is all adapted to our needs and very clever parties could be arranged by any of those who attended the meeting with no expense as all equipment for the games, both active and quiet, was either home-made or improvised.

Crowd Attends Opening of New Golf Course Here

The official opening of the Miniature Golf Course, on the Blount-Harvey property, corner of Fourth and Washington streets, was conducted under the most auspicious circumstances last night. A big crowd of people interest in this new kind of diversion for Greenville crowded about the enclosure during the evening and watched numbers of players shoot their way around the course.

The opening was sponsored by the Woman's Club and the American Legion Auxiliary, and was staged promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The course was closed from 8 until 9 o'clock on account of the revival services in the various city churches. The tee-off was led by Mrs. E. G. Flanagan, Mrs. Luther Herring, Mrs. J. Knott Proctor, Miss Clara Louise Moye, and the Messrs L. H. Bowling, T. J. Moore, J. M. Henderson, Jr., and R. C. Carmichael.

The entire course was brilliantly illuminated by a system of floodlights and the golfers were able to follow each play to the most remote parts of the lot with perfect ease. Flowers had been placed along the paths and they provided a touch of life and color to the entire scene.

The course is operated by R. L. Moore, of Raleigh, a former citizen of Greenville, who has several other courses of the kind in different parts of the state.

SPLENDID CROWD ATTENDS EARLY MORNING SERVICE OF THE REVIVAL CAMPAIGN

(Continued from page one) The pastor preached from the subject, "The Condition of the Unsaved," using the earnestness of Paul as a model for other Christians, and showing the reason for it was because he knew the condition of every person who has not accepted Christ. The Bible pictures their condition as: incurably sick, blind, deaf, lost, condemned, dead, and without hope. These symptoms and conditions can be seen in the many who are indifferent to the revival, who are not interested in church services, who are deaf to the appeals of parents, friends and pastors as they are troubled about them. And if they are in the condition which the Bible says they are, we only act sensibly when we do everything we can to win for Christ. The subject of the sermon this evening will be: "Rest For the Weary."

Immanuel Baptist Church

An increased attendance at the Immanuel Baptist church last night heard the Rev. W. H. Covert preach one of the most "powerful" sermons of the series. The sermon was directed primarily to the adult membership of the church, and dealt with their duty to the young men of the community. The text was taken from Zechariah, chapter II, verse 4, "Run speak to the young man." Rev. Covert referred to youth as fleeing and that in order to speak to them we would have to make haste. He told of the possibilities that lie "wrapped up" in the young men of today and yet their "abilities are going to waste for want of directing" on the part of Christian men and women of the communities. He emphasized three types of young men that should be spoken to. First, "the careless young man," and used as an example the young man who inherits at fortune and is allowed to spend it in riotous living. Second, "the unmoral young man," the young man who is neither moral or immoral. Here he depicted the young man without purpose in life, without interest in the future, living a wasteful life. And third—the serious minded youth with a purpose or aim but without counsel and advice. The type of young man that would revolutionize industry and the professions, but is neglected in the matter of spiritual advice. Mr. Covert emphasized the fact that it is the duty of Christian men and women to speak to these young men about their spiritual condition—that it would be time well spent to have serious and frank discussions with them about their relations to their friends, their families and their Christ.

She Tells How To Win Back Husband's Love

"For 9 years I was tired and nervous. My husband almost left me. Now, thanks to Vinol, I am well and happy and he loves me again." Mrs. R. D.

Y. P. U. hymn "A Volunteer For Jesus" and several additional choruses which were greatly enjoyed by the audience. The Intermediate Union also rendered a special selection "Loyalty To Christ." The presence of our young people brought great encouragement to our hearts.

The pastor preached on the topic "Our Lord Jesus Christ is Coming to This World a Second Time." The text was Heb. 9:28, "Unto them that look for Him shall He appear the second time."

After pointing out the fact that considerable prejudice existed to this teaching, the attention of the hearers was drawn to its importance. The first Advent is without question fundamental so much so that apart from it—CHRISTIANITY could not even find letters to spell its name—and yet, it is almost insignificant when compared to the mention of the Second Advent.

Two threads are twined together throughout the Bible we love. One, the scarlet thread of redemption; the other, the golden thread of divine victory in the kingdom purposes of our Eternal God. The beginning of both these threads is to be found in Genesis 3:15. From this point we may trace their several courses throughout this holy book. At the Flood, we may hear again the voice of the Son of God: But as the days of Noah, so shall the coming of the Son of Man be. Or if we are permitted to stand on the shores of the Dead Sea in Palestine we may hear his voice across the waves of that tomb of the cities of the pain, Sodom and Gomorrah, saying: "As it was in the days of Lot, even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of Man is revealed." Typical pictures are to be seen in the experiences of Abraham, his son Isaac, and in Joseph. Prophetic foregleams come to us through Isaiah, Micah, Zechariah, and Malachi. Then close our Old Testament, and reach across the silent centuries to the New. There we hear the testimony of the Son of God in clear affirmation, and in parable: Watch, watch, Be Ready for I am coming a second time. Added to His word is the unanimous testimony of the apostolic writers. Reasons why it is necessary for him to come back were then studied. Signs of his coming multiplied all about us, and give to us a warning to be ready. Wait for Him! Watch for Him. Work for Him! If He were to come tonight, and ask you "What have you done for ME today?" What would you answer? Tomorrow night our service continues. The C. J. Ellen Bible Class for Men will have a special number for this hour. Come. We will be happy to have you present with us. It is our hope that we may do these good. Enjoy the song service with us.

Jarvis Memorial Church Last night after a worshipful song service, and special music by the choir, the pastor spoke on "The Great Release of Life." It brought us face to face with perhaps a new situation in life and the meaning of "release" in regard to life. The release of life means freedom and an opening up of the channels of life through which the waters of life may flow freely, as was expressed by the pastor. He said that the religious life should not be one of stress and strain, but one of freedom and happiness. He also said that it was not usually the work that tire people but the stress under which they were striving. In this message we were urged to live in trust and not in feeling; to face God squarely, and have an open and unburied conscience so that life might be free and unchained by the thought of sin in it. Jesus came that we "might have life and have it more abundantly"; He does not want us to live in bondage; but to have a faith, a belief, and a source of strength upon which we may draw for help that will enable us to face the greatest peril. Me, who suffered, bled and died that we might enjoy the fullness of life, came that we might not have to go through life with burdened hearts on account of our own sin; that we might not have the furred brow, and a depressed countenance, but that there might radiate from our lives the sunshine of happiness and satisfaction. If we are bound in sin, will be seek

God and deliver to Him, who "releaveth sinful men," the burden of our lives so that the great waters of life may flow through our lives that others may drink of it? During the remaining days of these services may we be much in prayer and earnestness about this "release of life." The subject for tonight, "What Shall We Do With Jesus?" is one of great concern. May we come to this service seeking a message for our use.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Last night a splendid congregation heard Rev. W. A. Lillycrop at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Mr. Lillycrop described what an opportunity had once been the Jews. In a world where they were the Chosen people, they knew the one pure and Holy God while other nations had only degrading gods. Yet, though possessing the inspired Old Testament, and the promises of the Prophets of the Coming of the Messiah, they killed Him when He came. Then the speaker told of the church in Russia, how in days past it was wealthy and privileged. But he said that the Russian church failed to measure up to its opportunities; the church in Russia helped to keep the masses in subjection, they fostered ignorance and superstition, they were disloyal to the truth of Christ. And God had in our own day undone the church in Russia. Then Mr. Lillycrop called attention to the early days of America. The settlers came to these shores full of the consciousness of God and through God's help they transformed the colonies into the nation of the United States, where in the early days there was a passion for education, an eager search for the truth and God fearing homes were splendid generations of men and women grew into maturity. But, said the speaker, today many in America no longer love God. He said seventy millions of America had no church affiliations. Then he pointed out how industrial unrest had followed, also disintegration of homes. This, he said, was in line with what had happened to the Jewish race and to the Russian church. And he pleaded that each of us has an obligation to America to become again God-conscious or worse things would happen.

The same mistake being made at Fort Bragg was made by State officials at Raleigh when the Supreme Court, Agriculture and Revenue buildings were built in Raleigh.

It is the purpose of the Ministerial Association of Greenville to do away with all influences which tend to conflict with the religious life of the city.

Too many people undervalue what is near at hand, even when it is as good or better than something that has to be brought a long way.

Will Not Provide $200,000 Ransom. Toronto, April 16.—(AP)—The Rev. Dr. James Endicott, head of the foreign mission board of the United Church in Canada, said today it was unlikely any attempt would be made to provide the $200,000 ransom demanded by Yanetse bandits for the release of the Rev. C. A. Bridgman, Canadian missionary captured at Chanchow, China.

ABOUT TOWN

It will be good news to Greenville people to learn of the beginning of operations for the paving of the approaches to the new T. T. river bridge.

The world is going a dizzy pace now and people are apt to lose some of their equilibrium in their quest of pleasure, but they should not lose sight of the fact that God is still supreme and that He must be given complete recognition at all times.

Civic Clubs of Greenville should do everything in their power to encourage Boy Scout activities, in the opinion of a man who has watched the development of the organization the last few months.

The public—at least the thinking men and women of the country—are impressed with the high standards of the Boy Scout organization, and there is no doubt but that the forces of good will be behind the youngsters as they strive to reach greater heights.

Greenville men who have given so much of their time to the success of organization here are to be congratulated. They have shown a vision that should bring wonderful returns in the years to come in the production of a higher type of young manhood—a manhood that will stand out as a shining light to coming generations.

New Bern.—(AP)—Work will be started immediately on an 11-story hotel to cost about $750,000 to be erected at Union Point, junction of the Neuse and Trent rivers here.

Raleigh.—(AP)—Gov. O. Max Gardner has changed the date of the southeastern governors' conference which he has called to meet in Asheville from Saturday, April 26, to Monday, April 28.

holding a public dance on Good Friday.

The consideration of these three issues at one time will give the City Fathers something to think about, and if the demands are met, then there must be some quick action.

The ministers are using every influence at their command to improve moral conditions in Greenville, and they believe that by doing away with the things conflicting with the work of the church that they will be able to accomplish at least a part of their objective.

The youngsters here have been able to render a distinct service to the public in the number of gatherings held in Greenville since the first of the year, and they stand ready at all times to respond to the demand for continued service of this kind.

Greenville men who have given so much of their time to the success of organization here are to be congratulated.

Coastguard Will Begin Search For Missing Flier

New York, April 16.—(AP)—Coast guard boats were ordered out today to drag the ocean bottom at the mouth of Gravesend Bay in an attempt to learn the fate of Ralph White, student pilot, who disappeared Sunday in a heavy fog which enveloped Long Island air ports and emergency landing fields.

HIGHS PLANK WASHINGTON IN FINE GAME

Roger Taylor covered himself with fame and glory yesterday afternoon when he held Washington High School to two measly hits in nine innings, one of them a scratch single. Both of the hits came in the second inning and after that only one man reached first and that was on William's error in the fourth. He gave up only a walk and during the nine innings struckout ten men, bringing his streakout total to 36 for four games.

In the meantime the infield was playing errorless ball behind Taylor. Not a man reached third base during the entire game and only thirty men faced him, two getting hits and one getting on by an error. S. R. Lee, playing the hot corner like a veteran, snagged in a total of nine chances without a miscue. In the seventh and ninth innings he had a hand in every out made getting four assists and two putouts in those two innings.

While all this fielding and pitching was going on the Greenville boys were not asleep with their bats. Hodges, Smith, and Bullock were able to solve the baffling delivery of Gautier for hits that made runs count. In the third inning with the bases full Hodges smacked one to right center fence for three bases scoring three men. Another run followed in the 4th and still another in the ninth to make the final score 5 to 0.

As stated above, Lee was the defensive star for Greenville. Washington presented one of the best high school outfielders the writer has seen in a long time. He went hitler and thither, here and you, gathering in the balls labeled as base hits. He accepted 5 chances in left field and not a one of them was easy. This boy Jones was easily the star of the game.

The locals go to Roanoke Rapids Friday to play the strong textile boys and then go to Tarboro the following week. After that they will perform on the home lot for three successive Fridays.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

If it wasn't for the well known fact that the American professional golfers, no matter how often they may have taken it on the chin from him, have never yet ducked a chance to try concussions with Bobby Jones, suspicion might be aroused by their almost unanimous withdrawal from a journey abroad with the Atlanta amateur this spring for the British Open Championship.

Horton Smith and Leo Diegel will join Jones at Holyoke for the climax of the British campaign but Walter Hagan, Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen, among others, have decided that further sea voyages will not agree with them this year. Hagen, it seems, will be quite satisfied with making the trip back from Australia with Joe Kirkwood, Farrell and Sarazen are going into vaudeville for a few short turns and encores.

Hagen, Farrell and Sarazen have dominated the field in the British Open for the past two years, with Hagen leading the field each time. Farrell was runner-up last year and Sarazen in 1928. Leo Diegel had a great chance to crash through last year, leading at the halfway mark with 140, but Larupping Leo blew up on the third round.

"Jones is playing greater golf than ever," Johnny Farrell told me on his return from a winter in the South, where the great Georgian broke even in two tussels with the professional stars. "Bobby is hitting his mashie niblick shot surer than I have ever seen him. If there has even been a weakness in his game, it was with this club, but he seems to have it under perfect control now."

Farrell regrets his inability to go abroad again as well as that of Hagen, because, he said, "The Haig always seems to be at his best abroad and would give Jones a great contest."

"In England now, I think Hagen is even more popular than he is at home," added Johnny. "He draws the crowds and has always given a good show. And he seems to play better golf over there than at home."

The switch of Burleigh Grimes from Pittsburgh to Boston, almost on the eve of the National League openings, may force considerable revision of the pennant prospects. Up until he was hurt, Grimes was the most potent individual factor in the Pirates' battle for 1929 leadership and the most effective right-hander in either league. By no stretch of the imagination can Percy Lee Jones be considered an adequate replacement for Grimes, granting the latter to be in good health and condition.

Grimes, Pie Traynor and Lloyd Waner were the Big Three so far as the Pirates were concerned last year. With the big right-hander gone and the other two on the casualty list for the time being, Pittsburgh's prospects reflect no rosy hues.

It will take more than Grimes to make a pennant contender out of the Braves but at least it indicates how seriously the Boston club has gone about the big job of digging itself out of the depths. When he is right, Grimes will win a lot of ball games for any club in any league.

BIG LEAGUES SETTLE DOWN TO HARD GRIND

With the flagpole parades and other opening day ceremonies out of the way for another year, major league baseball players now are ready to settle down to the serious business of trying to keep runners prancing across the plate during the next 153 games of the season. Only one opening is left for today. The Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians were stopped by rain at Chicago, yesterday.

Cold and rainy weather held down the size of some of the opening day crowds, but the 200,000 fans who witnessed yesterday's games found no reason for disappointment. There was a little bit of everything, including the unexpected, taking place. The two champions of 1929, the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago Cubs, resumed their places at the top of the standings with victories over the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals respectively.

The Athletics, behind the brilliant pitching of lefty grove, gained a 6 to 2 victory over the Yankees with comparative ease. Grove yielded only six hits and fanned nine while Al Simmons and Max Bishop collected the runs.

Simmons, a holdout until noon yesterday, hit a home run his first time at bat. Bishop crossed the plate three times.

Babe Ruth missed getting his first homer of the year when the ball struck a radio amplifier on top of the outfield wall and dropped back for a double. The Cubs engaged in a counting duel at St. Louis and Bartley outlasted a Cardinal rally which netted seven runs in the last three innings to pull out a 9 to 8 triumph. Detroit's Tigers joined the Athletics at the top of the American league standing with a 6 to 3 victory over the St. Louis Browns in a game that produced four homers, half the day's total. Washington, playing its second game, beat the Boston Red Sox 6 to 1 to place both teams at the 500 mark.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia, rated as the heavy slugging teams of the National League, engaged in the day's tightest duel, the Phillies winning 1 to 0. Lester Sweetland, a Brooklyn jinx, outpitched his rival southpaw, Bill Clarke, granting the Robins but three hits and setting down 18 men in order in the last six innings. A record opening day crowd for Ebbets Field, 27,000 was present.

Pittsburgh's Pirates broke another jinx to beat out the Cincinnati eds. 7 to 1. Red Lucas, who had lost his one game to Pittsburgh since 1927, gave up 13 hits, including successive homers by Bartell and Hemley, before he was removed in the sixth inning. Paul Waner collected two of the blows.

Before the biggest crowd of them all, some 40,000 fans, the New York Giants barely nosed out the Boston Braves, 3 to 2, in a game of errors. Misplays were entirely or partly responsible for all but the winning run in the battle between Bill Walker of New York and Harry Siebold of Boston, although there was plenty of hitting on both sides. The victory brought Walker a winning streak, carried over from '29, to ten games in a row.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, April 16.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 4 points with near months relatively easy under overnight selling orders that were brought in by the weakness of yesterday. Initial offerings were readily absorbed, however, with buying encouraged by the fairly steady showing of Liverpool prices called right after the opening with the old selling 3 to 6 and the new crop about 6 to 13 points net higher. Scattered liquidation or realizing in the old crop positions continued, however, with considerable selling of May or July against purchases of new crop positions to unsho old straddlers. Thus the market was rather unsettled at the end of the first half hour with May selling around 15.74 or 7 points net lower while October and later positions were net unchanged to 4 points higher.

Liverpool cables said that further liquidation had been absorbed by trade calling and covering. The weekly report of the weather bureau was considered generally favorable except for dry areas in the southwest.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 16.—(AP)—Official reports showing that a considerable area southwest was still in the clutches of drought led to much higher prices for wheat today.

In particular, western Kansas and western Oklahoma were described as needing moisture badly. Latest definite estimates of North American wheat export business today were 1,000,000 bushels or more, but there were also intimations that the total far exceeded the figures mentioned.

Wheat closed nervous 11-2c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1c up. Oats 4-1-4 to 13-8 advance, and provisions showing 5c to 12c gain.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 16.—(AP)—After successful passing through another storm of selling, in which sharp recessions took place in some of the motors, accessories and rails, the stock market turned sharply upward again today in response to a brisk demand for the public utilities, steel, farm implements and high priced industrial specialties.

Early losses of 1 to nearly 6 points were substantially reduced or converted into gains, and a long list of issues were marked up 1 to 10 points above yesterday's final quotations by early afternoon.

Several constructive business and trade developments helped to stimulate late bullish enthusiasm. Weekly steel trade reviews reported a slight increase in operations, foreign sales of copper were reported to be at the highest level since last September as a result of yesterday's drastic price cut, and the American Telephone and Telegraph company announced its long expected offering of stock subscription "rights".

New York Savings Banks reported that deposits on April 1 were the largest on record. A. W. Milburn, president of the Borden Co., told stockholders that volume of business and profit for the first quarter were better than for the same period of 1929, with April showing improvement over March.

Weakness of the rails reflected the poor traffic and earnings statements so far this year. Southern Railway dropped 5 1-2 points to a new low at 114 and St. Louis Steel Investment, Lackawanna fell 3 points or more, with several others down a point or two.

Gardner Delivers Final Address At Charlotte Meeting

Charlotte, April 16.—(AP)—An appeal of Gov. O. Max Gardner for improvement in agricultural and industrial conditions echoed over the State today as delegates to the annual North Carolina conference for Social Service made their way to their homes.

Governor Gardner's address, urging that a solution be applied to the State's economic problems, last night brought the conference to a close. During the afternoon, Judge W. M. York, of Greensboro, was elected president and a staff of assistants named to aid him in the far-reaching work of the organization.

Proceeding the chief executive on the night's program was David R. Coker, of Hartsville, S. C., introduced as one who has done more for agriculture than "any other man living or dead".

Mr. Coker, who cultivates hundreds of acres of land and is nationally known as a seedsmen, asserted that farming will "provide most of the necessities of life to the thrifty and will grant them more independence than other types of work." He pleaded for "An intelligent home-owning citizenship."

Governor Gardner declared that many of the "larger problems of industry" had their root in the farm problem. He pointed to the "discontent" that is rising up from the soil and urged a "spirit of intelligence and co-operation among farmers of the States and those interested in their welfare."

Three Killed When Airplanes Collide

Chateaux, France, April 16.—(AP)—One woman was trapped in a house and burned to death and two pilots were killed as two military combat planes collided over this city today and crashed.

One of the planes fell in front of the city hall, hitting a cab man and slightly injuring him in the head. The pilot was hurled thru the roof of a freight car.

The other plane crashed the roof of a house a quarter of a mile distant and trapped a maid in one of the rooms. She was burned to death in the fire which followed the crash. The pilot of this plane was catapulted into the courtyard and was instantly killed.

Sixteen Men Held On Murder Charge

Miami, Fla., April 16.—(AP)—Sixteen men, including six formally charged with murder, were held today while officers continued their investigation of the kidnaping of four alleged liquor hijackers and the drowning of one of them, Joe, Durrance, 24, in the Miami canal Monday morning.

Authorities said they had information that Durrance and his companions were kidnaped by a group led by J. D. "Red" Slayton in retaliation for the theft of a quantity of liquor and that Durrance was drowned as he leaped into the canal after he had been taken into the Everglades and beaten Sunday night.

Slayton, three men said by officers to be his associates in liquor operations, a night watchman and Brently Busbee, one of Durrance's companions, were charged with murder.

Will Durrance, father of the dead man, and Charles Mathias, both of whom were kidnaped and eight men described as employees or relatives of Slayton were held for questioning.

A raid last night on the Hialeah headquarters of Slayton resulted in the arrest of four or those in custody and the seizure of a quantity of guns and ammunition.

Irvine, Ky., April 16.—(AP)—Forest fires, which for days have been raging on the other side of the mountains in Virginia and North Carolina, today were consuming hillsides of timber near here, and at other points in eastern Kentucky.

Conditions near here became serious yesterday when a sawmill was destroyed, along with lumber valued at several hundred dollars. Fears were expressed that if the flames are not checked within 36 hours they will reach oil storage tanks at Bear Tracks, near here.

Surgical Ants in Peru

Chicago—There are surgical ants in Peru. Advances from an expedition of the field museum tell that when a native of the equatorial forest is wounded he gets a certain type of ant with powerful jaws. The ant is made to bite severed edges of skin and bring them together. The surgeon loses his life in healing. After he bites his body is snipped off and the head with its death grip o n the skin remains till the wound is healed.

KELVINATOR'S
Great New Gift to Home Refrigeration

Greater Ice Capacity—De luxe models provide more ice, size for size, than any other refrigerator, with capacities from 20 pounds in the smallest size to 34 pounds in the largest—at a single freezing.

Automatic Super-Fast Freezing—for the extra-fast freezing of ice cubes and desserts. Merely placing a tray of water or dessert in a special fast-freezing compartment starts the quick freezing operation which stops automatically.

Automatic Cold Storage—For storing fresh or frozen meats, fish, game and those new frozen delicacies you now find at many markets. Cold always below-freezing. Exclusive to Kelvinator.

Automatic 40° to 50° Food Compartment—Food compartments of Kelvinator are maintained between 40° and 50°—the temperature range which science says is correct for dependable and healthful preservation of foods.

KELVINATOR now actually doubles the convenience and usefulness of electric refrigeration in the home

KELVINATOR now adds to its previous accomplishments a new discovery—Iso-Thermic Tubes—the fastest-freezing automatic device on the market. By means of it, ice cubes and desserts are frozen in a special compartment at twice the normal speed. It presents in its de luxe models, four distinct temperatures—each designed for a specific task of refrigeration. From first to last the new Kelvinators are entirely automatic—nothing for the housewife to regulate, nothing to trouble her memory. In combination with these new automatic features, it retains the Kelvinator Cold-Keeper—a quality feature of the first Kelvinator, which has always been one of its great economy factors. Acting as a constant reservoir of cold, this equipment cuts down the number of operating periods fully one-third. See the new Super-Automatic Kelvinators, note the wide margin by which they increase Kelvinator's reputation for reliable, wholly automatic service. You need not delay your enjoyment of Kelvinator's new automatic features a day longer. A small sum down with easy monthly payments installs a Kelvinator in your home. Let us tell you about Kelvinator's attractive ReDisCo monthly budget plan.
