SEARCH GAINS GREAT SCOPE IN BAKER CASE

Probe of Murder of Government Employee Spreads In Five Directions

Washington, April 23.—(AP)—Search for the slayer of Mary Baker, government clerk, today spread in five directions, reaching over the District of Columbia, Virginia and Maryland.

A detective has gone to Richmond, Virginia, to question Earl F. White, a former convict, held there as a suspect in the crime. He was instructed to check White's story from every angle.

Another detective was in Baltimore investigating reports that a jewelry salesman may have been connected with the assault and killing of the minister's daughter on the night of April 11.

Still another investigation is in progress in the Navy Department where the girl worked.

Mrs. Baker, mother of the slain girl, has quoted her daughter as having told her she had been threatened by someone there.

Commonwealth Attorney William Gloch, of Arlington county, Virginia said today that two negroes held in the Arlington jail would be questioned further during the day and their fingerprints taken. They were arrested the day after the crime when found to have articles belonging to Miss Baker in their possession.

Still another angle to be followed today will be a third investigation of the sewer in which the slain girl's hat and coat together with a stolen coral necklace and a green backed novel were.

The sewer had been searched three days before and was reported empty. One investigator said that all those who had searched the spot at either time would start from that point to try and straighten out where the articles had been during the three intervening days.

Commonwealth Attorney Gloch took with him from police headquarters this morning a peddler who was believed to have sold a watch and coat to a laborer had identified a traveling salesman already arrested in connection with the crime, as the seller. He will be asked today to identify the peddler.

Discussing the case this morning one of the principal investigators said he had received from Chief of Police Charles H. Burns of Baltimore a report that White, the former convict arrested in Richmond, had been in his sisters' house there only on April 13. A report just received from Richmond, he said, quoted White as saying he had been there for three days.

He arrested the chief of Richmond detectives had reported there was "something wrong" with the man held there, and that he "knew something about something" that happened in or near Washington.

The detective sent to Richmond carried with him a report of Communion cups stolen from an Episcopal church in Washington. He will also be provided with finer and palm prints taken from Miss Baker's automobile, which was found abandoned half a mile from where her body was discovered.

Mexican Bandits Release American Dentist After Payment Of $200 Ransom

Dr. George Edward Parnell Set Free By Captors Outside of Guadalajara Late Last Night; Reached City Early This Morning

Mexico City, April 23.—(AP)—Dr. George Edward Parnell, American dentist, kidnapped near Guadalajara, was released by his captors outside Guadalajara late last night on payment of 400 pesos (about $200).

Dr. Parnell reached Guadalajara at one o'clock this morning.

Dr. Parnell was the third American within the past month, kidnapped by bandits and then later released. The first was J. E. Bristow, who was released at the end of three months on payment of ransom, while the second was Leonard Cassidy, of Peabody, Mass., who also was finally released.

Dr. Parnell, who was kidnapped Sunday, was released through the efforts of Raleigh A. Gibson, American consul, William E. Lawton, American vice consul, two other Americans and two Mexicans who had been trying to effect his release since early Monday afternoon.

The kidnapers of whom there were three, had asked six thousand pesos but this figure eventually was reduced to 400 in silver through negotiations.

Dr. Parnell, who had lived in Mexico for more than thirty years, was not mistreated by his captors although he did not have much to eat. The dentist was held at a remote spot about 45 miles from Guadalajara, not far from the ranch he owns there. The final ransom negotiations were between one of the Mexicans in the American consul's party and an Indian peon who acted as go-between.

Rep. Tinkham Attempts to Refute Testimony of 'Drys' That Dry Law Has Increased Saving In U. S.; Pierre Dupont Testifies

Washington, April 23.—(AP)—Pierre S. duPont, Wilmington, Del., industrial magnate, testified today before the House judiciary committee that "if legalized traffic in liquor is sin, our country was born in sin and lived in sin for 144 years."

Wet rebuttal testimony was begun by Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, a wet, who presented statistics, which he said "refute completely the reiterated assertion that prohibition has increased saving in the United States."

Tinkham presented a letter from Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University, dated July 9, 1929, in which the economist said that he found "evidence that prohibition has materially helped the United States, but I do not think it as important a factor as several others."

Tinkham had written Fisher asking to what he attributed prosperity in countries where there was no prohibition, particularly Canada and New Zealand.

The Bay Stater also presented a table of statistics prepared by the American Bankers Association which he said showed that per capita savings in this country following prohibition was 14 per cent less than a similar period preceding prohibition.

"It will thus be seen from this table," he said, "that the total savings deposits in the United States increased 98 per cent from 1910 to 1919, the nine years preceding prohibition, and only 84 per cent from 1920 to 1929, the nine years following prohibition."

"These statistics refute completely the reiterated assertion that prohibition has increased saving in the United States."

Mr. duPont was the next witness. He told the committee that arguments that prohibition was responsible for prosperity were open to serious question; that certainly the people still were indulging in alcohol "very freely," and that many respectable "citizens, perhaps including some of those who administer and urge the law, were in the ranks of the drinkers."

There was so much uncertainty about the prohibition question said duPont that no one responsible should refuse to submit the question to the people.

"To refuse submission," he added, "is to invite reference to that court of last resort referred to in (Continued on page six)"

Toronto, April 23.—(AP)—Alfred Cecil Duban, erstwhile Folkestone newsboy, was here today looking for a job which would enable him to support his heiress bride, the former Vivienne Huntington of New York.

They arrived from St. John, N. B., last night and plan to make their home here.

Oil Gusher Afire In Texas Field

Austin, Tex., April 23.—(AP)—A flaming torch of oil today marked the site of the No. 1 Simons gusher which caught fire last night in the Chapman oil field as it blew in unexpectedly. The well suddenly began shooting petroleum from a depth of 1,871 feet, the oil spraying 15 feet above the crown block. The liquid caught fire from a nearby boiler, used in the drilling operations.

Authorities believe from 3,000 to 5,000 barrels of oil daily is being consumed by the flames.

BISHOP'S SON HELD WITHOUT BOND IN N. Y.

Youth Charged With Murder Arraigned in Magistrate's Court This Morning

New York, April 23.—(AP) James Mathew Maxon, Jr., 21 year-old-son of the Episcopal Coadjutor of Tennessee, was held without bail today on a charge of suspicion of homicide in connection with the death last Friday of David Paynter, 73.

Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan in Homicide Court set the hearing for next Tuesday.

In a short affidavit, Patrolman George Croley charged that the youth struck Paynter several times over the head with his fist and then hit him with a chair in an altercation at the rooming house where they both lived.

Young Maxon's attorney, Martin W. Littleton, moved for the adjournment and, when Assistant District Attorney George M. Carney made no objection, Magistrate Corrigan granted it.

The Bishop, clad in clerical black and accompanied by George Morris of Memphis, Tenn., and G. C. Patton, another southern friend, sat in the court room, however, just before his son was brought in and sat alone in the hall-way during the arraignment.

When young Maxon was taken from the courtroom back to the detention pen his father joined him and stayed with him for several minutes. They embraced when they met.

Maxon, Jr., in contrast to his appearance in court last Saturday, was well groomed today, his clothes pressed, shaved, his shoes shined.

After their talk, Bishop Maxon talked to reporters. He said that he and his son did not discuss the case, that their talk was purely personal. Mr. Littleton was handling the legal matters, the Bishop said, and added:

"My business is to be his father, not his lawyer."

He said, however, that both he and his son were hopeful about the case.

The Bishop said the statement he made the other day that he would stick by his son to the last ditch still stood. He said he did not know how much longer he would stay in New York, that he was a very busy man and that he thought it improbable Mrs. Maxon would come to the city.

"Has she been informed of the seriousness of the charge?" he was asked.

"Yes, indeed," he answered with a dry smile, "the gentlemen of the press have kept her so."

Then he hastened to add that he thought the newspapers had been very fair in their treatment of the story.

"I am a former newspaperman myself," he said. He told reporters that he would be always available to them whenever they wished to talk to him.

The other boarders in the old house in West End avenue, where the alleged attack occurred, were in court today as witnesses. With them was Mrs. Rose Hickey, the landlady. She was engaged a lawyer, who announced that he was planning a civil action against young Maxon. According to the story told by the other boarders, it was to be to protect Mrs. Hickey from young Maxon that Paynter was injured that caused his death.

Her lawyer said Mrs. Hickey still bore bruised marks on her body and that her right hand was swollen as a result of the alleged altercation.

Seek Youth Lost In Mountain Wilds

Redding, Cal., April 23.—(AP)—A 6-year-old boy, Asa Leakey, lost in the wilds of Mount Barney, today was sought by nearly 400 woodsmen, mountaineers and Indians, aided by an army observation plane from Mather Field, Sacramento.

Veteran trackers, who have been seeking the boy since Monday, admitted hopelessness of the quest, pointing out that the child could not be expected to long survive on the cold mountain slopes without food or shelter.

They were spurned on, however, by the boy's father and mother, Mrs. Asa Leakey. She said she had dreamed her son would be found alive and well.

WARDEN AGAIN SUMMONED BEFORE BOARD IN PROBE OF THE OHIO PRISON DISASTER

Thomas To Be Asked About What Arrangements Were Made to Take Care Of Any Emergency Case Such As That Attending Holo-caust; Death List Increased to 318 Today; Four Others Are Expected to Die Momentarily

Columbus, O., April 23.—(AP)—Warden Preston E. Thomas of Ohio Penitentiary was summoned to appear again today before the board investigating the tragic fire that took place Monday night claiming the lives of 318 prisoners in four cell blocks. Attorney General Gilbert Betman, heading the inquiry, said the warden would be asked to answer the question:

"What arrangements were made to take care of any emergency such as that which attended the holocaust?"

The warden testified before the board yesterday but the inquiry has revealed new angles which required explanation from him.

The death list was increased to 318 today when one of the hundreds of injured in the prison hospital succumbed this morning. Four others are expected to die momentarily.

A spirit of unrest among the thousands of convicts in Ohio State Penitentiary, disappeared at dawn today and the fears of guards that there would be trouble was dissipated.

The fact that 600 negro convicts, housed in wooden barracks in the yards, were not locked in, and that several thousand men in the idle house almost defiant, caused guards times almost defiant, caused guards to fear a break for liberty between 4 a. m. and 6 a. m., today.

The negro convicts were not locked in because prison officials feared fire in the wooden buildings. The men in the idle house, which is known as the "white city," were locked in behind steel cages, but were not in their cells.

At 4 a. m., when cell block guards reported the unrest and the defiant attitude of some of the men, Acting Captain H. E. Lockhardt, in charge in place of Captain John Hall, who was off duty, called National Guard officers into conference. He feared a break for liberty over the stockade and over the idle house.

Lockhardt reported that much to his surprise the prisoners quieted down at dawn, and retired to their cells.

Hope that the cause of the fire would be revealed by an inspection of the two cell houses that became death traps was held by state officials as they resumed investigation of the catastrophe today.

Decision to examine the scene of the fire's origin was reached when the investigation adjourned last night after a day that elicited only contradictory statements from the guards and prisoners who were questioned regarding the delay in freeing the prisoners from their locked cells Monday evening.

The bodies of the dead convicts were ready for burial today. Aired in black shrouds, they rested in plain coffins at the temporary morgue at the state fair grounds.

Loved ones of the victims were spared the ordeal of going to the prison to make arrangements for obtaining the bodies. Instead, they may go direct to the fair grounds.

Besides preparing the bodies for burial, the state furnished the robes and caskets and provided transportation to their homes.

The fire that shocked the nation as the full extent of its ravages became known Monday night failed to interrupt the prison routine for more than a day, and except for nominal damage to the two cell blocks and the grim reality of the dead hundreds, might be remembered by the surviving convicts only as a dreadful nightmare. The monetary damage was about $11,000.

The belief that Warden Preston E. Thomas, of Ohio State Penitentiary would have been killed had he entered the prison yard during the disastrous fire Monday night was expressed today by the Rev. Albert O'Brien, Catholic chaplain.

The penitentiary chaplain, commenting on the fact that the Warden ordered his chief deputy to take charge inside, and himself took command outside to prevent any possible movement of prisoners over the walls, said, "if Warden Thomas had stepped inside the walls of the penitentiary during the pandemonium of the fire, he surely would have been killed."

Man Held As Suspect In The Mystery Slaying Of William Desmond Taylor

Russo Rinaldo Said to Have Confessed to the Killing of Motion Picture Director In Quarrel Over Actress Eight Years Ago

Los Angeles, April 23.—(AP)—Renewed investigation into the eight year old mystery slaying of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, found slum in his bungalow apartment, today resulted in the arrest of Russo Rinaldo, 41, an accountant, who allegedly confessed to the crime.

Rinaldo, who said he slew Taylor during an argument over a quarrel the later had with a moving picture actress, was held on a charge of suspicion of murder.

In spite of the investigation and alleged confession the police were skeptical as to an early and complete solution of the famous case. They said there were several discrepancies in Rinaldo's purported confession.

According to police, Rinaldo said he was a friend of a motion picture actress who visited the Taylor bungalow early on the evening of February 1, 1922. He said he followed in a taxicab when the actress went to the Taylor home, and later overheard a violent quarrel between the film executive and the woman.

The actress left after a short stay, Rinaldo said, after which he entered the Taylor apartment and remonstrated with the director for his actions during the quarrel. Taylor, he said, drew a revolver. In the scuffle that followed, Rinaldo said he gained possession of the gun and shot the moving picture director.

The murder of Taylor in his lavishly furnished Hollywood bungalow, is regarded by the police as the most baffling case in the criminal annals of Los Angeles. His body was found by a negro servant, Henry Peavey, on the morning of February 2, 1922.

No clue was found to indicate the identity of the slayer, although the events which followed involved several persons prominent in the motion picture colony.

It was discovered that the late Mabel Norman, then in the hey-day of her film career, had visited the apartment of Taylor on the night of the murder. A handkerchief bearing the initials "M. M." which later was identified as the property of Mary Miles Minter, film actress, was found in the Taylor apartment.

Both Miss Norman and Miss Minter were questioned by investigators but neither shed any light to dispel the mystery. Other film notables also were questioned, but to no avail.

Later a search was started for Edward F. Sands, valet-secretary to the director, who had disappeared about the time of Taylor's death. A world-wide search has failed to locate the man.

The mystery deepened as the weeks went by, but no progress was made. The pace finally slackened. (Continued on page six)

TWO BANKS AT MONROE CLOSE DOORS TODAY

First National Bank and Farmers Bank Suspend Business After Run

Monroe, N. C., April 22.—(AP)—The First National Bank of Monroe the only remaining bank in this city, closed its doors just before noon today.

Suspension of the bank followed the closing yesterday of the Bank of Union, the failure to open today of the Farmers Bank and Trust Company, and a run on the First National Bank, J. C. Sikes, president of the last institution to close, said in a printed statement.

The First National Bank was capitalized at $100,000, had a surplus of $55,000, resources of $1,500,000 and deposits of around $1,200,000, the last statement of its condition shows.

In addition to Mr. Sikes, the president, officers, are J. E. Ashcraft, vice-president, and J. W. Laney, cashier.

The closing of the Bank of Union yesterday morning, followed by the closing this morning of the Farmers Bank and Trust Company, produced a run on the First National Bank. The First National Bank could have remained open, but not knowing the extent of the run and the board of directors desiring alike, and feeling that to remain open under a run would be giving advantage to some, (the directors) decided to close its doors and conserve its assets for the benefit of all.

"The First National Bank has been in close touch with the bank examiner and with the Federal Reserve Bank, and I feel satisfied that satisfactory arrangements will be made to reopen in a few days, my idea being that the comptroller of the currency will make some arrangements to protect the bank from a run and to permit us to reopen."

"The First National Bank, in my opinion, is in good shape and every depositor will receive every dollar of their money, and it will not be necessary for the stockholders to pay anything in on their stock."

SECOND MAN CONFESSES IN PEARMAN CASE

Casper Tillman Admits Aiding Dr. Bass In Killing Automobile Mechanic

Lynn, Mo., April 23.—(AP)—Casper Tillman, 35, of Osage county, has confessed, Sheriff Peter Schmitzler announced today, to participation with Dr. A. J. Bass of Columbia, Mo., in the murder of William R. Pearman, Columbia, Mo., automobile salesman, and in the disposition of Pearman's body found near Gravette, Ark. Tillman was arrested here. He is the father of five children.

Acting on a tip from Boyle G. Clark, attorney for Bass, who already has confessed slaying of Pearman in a $200,000 insurance swindle plot, Osage county officers asked for the arrest of Tillman. Dr. Bass yesterday called John R. Duly, Arkansas attorney, to his cell at Bentonville, Ark., and admitted that Tillman assisted him.

Duly notified Clark and Tillman's arrest followed. Tillman admitted he fired at least two shots into the dead body of Pearman and that he had agreed to kill Machir J. Dorsey of Hammond, Ind., in a pre-arranged insurance plot. The confession was made to George J. Govy, prosecutor and Sheriff Schmitzler in the presence of Osage county officers and Clark.

Govy indicated that a first degree murder charge would be filed against Tillman in Osage county. Tillman denied, authorities said, that he had any part in the actual killing of Pearman, but did aid in disposing of the body.

"Dr. Bass drove up to my house near Freeburg, Mo., about 9 o'clock (Continued from page one)

Lexington, Ky., April 23.—(AP)—Because he married a Catholic, the ceremony being performed by a Catholic priest, the Rev. Julius Arnold Velasco, rector of St. John's Episcopal church at Dayton, Ky., faced trial today before an ecclesiastical court of Lexington diocese. The rector, it is charged by a standing committee of the diocese, which will prosecute him, violated an agreement he had made with the committee. ## SENTENCED TO COUNTY ROADS IN RUM CASE

White Man Draws Six Months for Driving While Drunk and Possessing Whiskey

Herman Worthington, white man residing near Greenville, was found guilty of violating the prohibition laws, and sentenced to six months on the county roads by Judge M. V. Barnhill, of Rocky Mount, presiding over the two weeks' term of Pitt County Superior court, for the trial of criminal cases, which opened in this city last week. The defendant was charged specifically with driving while drunk and possessing whiskey. He was arrested by local officers.

Five or six cases of more or less importance were disposed of by the court yesterday after taking Monday off in observance of the Easter holidays. One of the hardest fought cases of the session was that involving two white men and two negroes, appearing on ten different charges of assault with deadly weapon, carrying concealed weapons, possessing and transporting liquor and driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. The defendants were Chester Williams and Letha Avery, white men, Moses Evans and Jim Hatdee, colored, all of the Chocoma community. All were found guilty with exception of Avery who was released. Sentence was reserved in the case of the other three.

The case occupied most of the day and was one of the most stubbornly contested in months. A considerable amount of evidence was produced by both state and defense, and this prolonged the proceedings. Raleigh Perkins and Annie Baker, colored, charged with fornication and adultery, were found guilty and Perkins was required to pay the woman the sum of $2.00 a week for the next two years.

Carlos Prey, found guilty on a charge of giving a worthless check, was required to pay the cost of the check. E. M. Riggan paid a fine of $75.00 and cost on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

YOUTHS HURT IN WRECK GETTING ALONG NICELY

Staunton Harvey and Pete Bynum, local young men who were injured in an automobile wreck on the Greenville-Kinston highway last Sunday afternoon, were reported to be getting along as nicely today as could be expected. Bynum, confined in the hospital here, was at first thought to have suffered internal injuries, but this fear was removed following an x-ray examination yesterday which failed to disclose anything of this nature.

Young Harvey, student at Oak Ridge, who was spending the holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harvey, suffered a broken nose, loss of three teeth, and cuts about the face. He is in the Kinston hospital. Russell Britt of Ayden, received minor injuries in the wreck, but Jimmie Devant, guest in the Harvey home here and driver of the car, escaped uninjured.

RED OAK NEWS

The farmers in our community are taking advantage of this pretty weather and are busily at work planting cotton, corn and tobacco. Most all the women folks have their gardens planted and they have been eating salads, onions, lettuce, radish and other early vegetables. We are trying to raise more different kinds of vegetables than ever before.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Causey and mother, and Mrs. Horrie Causey spent Sunday with Mrs. R. S. Allen.

Mrs. Merritt and son, of Petersburg, Va., are spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. John Ivey Tyson.

The Easter program presented by the children at Red Oak Sunday School was thoroughly enjoyed by the number of people present. Last Sunday was the tenth birthday of our Sunday School and during the ten years we have had an average of above fifty each Sunday.

In spite of a drizzly rain all day last Saturday, forty-three people met at the church and began work on our club house. All the logs were skinned and the foundation ones laid. A bountiful dinner was spread and the day was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

We are going to meet again next Saturday morning, April 26, and if the weather permits we hope to have enough present to give the church a spring cleaning, the yards a good sweeping and the club house raised with the top on it. All the material needed to complete it will be on hand and you are given an invitation to be present and lend a hand. All the ladies that wish to, may bring a lunch and we will spread dinner as we did before. Folks, don't forget your tools to work with, hammers, saws, hatchets, axes, yard-brooms, rakes and especially bush-axes. Come, you will never regret it.

Youth Sentenced For Manslaughter

Wadesboro, April 23.—(AP)—Dewey Doby, 14-year-old Albermarle boy, was under sentence of an indefinite term in Jackson Training School today following a plea of nolo contendere to a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of State High Patrolman George Ira Thompson.

Kelvinator Demonstrates World's Fastest Freezing In Country-Wide Test

In a recent nation-wide test conducted by Kelvinator dealers, Kelvinator refrigerators in 48 states and the District of Columbia demonstrated the amazing average freezing time of 80 minutes—from water to solidly-frozen ice cubes.

All tests were attended and certified by representative witnesses, including city officials, representatives of newspapers, universities, etc.

Super-fast freezing of this type is made possible only by Iso-Thermic Tubes—an exclusive Kelvinator device which concentrates intense cold in the freezing compartment—cutting the time of freezing from one-half to one-third the usual period.

Today Kelvinator brings to your home Four-Way Cold—an all-automatic type of refrigeration service never before obtainable.

It provides, in its de luxe models, four separate degrees of cold: (1) for extremely fast automatic freezing of ice and desserts; (2) a special Cold Storage Compartment, with below-freezing cold for keeping meats, fish, game, ice cream, etc., indefinitely; (3) steady cold for freezing ice at Kelvinator's fast speed; (4) controlled cold in food compartments always between 40 and 50 degrees.

Everyone can now own a Kelvinator —on Easy Terms and the farmers have the privilege of going out to the farm to see what is being accomplished.

The model Kelvinator you require may be purchased on easy terms through Kelvinator's attractive ReDisCo monthly budget plan.

By raising the things used at home the farmer should be in much better position than formerly to combat price depression, and if they abide by the live-at-home movement there is little doubt but that they will come out to the good at the end of the season.

The mass meeting for discussion of the tax situation seem to be drawing good attendance in the various communities of the county this week. The people apparently realize that the time has come for action if they want to accomplish something constructive in tax reduction, and the next several weeks will see some real action in this direction.

The State Tax Relief Association has already called on the Governor to call a special session of the General Assembly to consider the situation, but whether they will receive favorable consideration remains to be seen. The governor, however, realizes the need of the various sections and will do everything he can do to bring about an improvement.

The real test, however, remains in the confines of each county where the citizens must decide what they want and then let the County Commissioners know about it. This is the intention of Pitt County people and the plan is being gradually worked out in the series of mass meetings now in progress in the various parts of the county.

The people would do well to attend the meetings and lend their voices to the things they consider necessary, in the campaign. The time is here for action and if it is not taken now months may pass before it will come up again.

The real builders of a town or a community are the boosters. This fact has been amply borne out in the development of the largest cities of the nation, and the leading business men of the small towns should keep it in mind when attempting to determine what to do to attract the attention of the outside world.

The booster is the man who knows of the countless opportunities of his section and then tells people about them. He is as far removed from the growls and groans of the pessimist as the world is from the sun, and his good work goes on always.

Greenville has its boosters and its pessimists, but the boosters predominate, thank goodness, and their doctrine of cheer and goodwill may be heard above the sighs and discontent of the pessimists. It is for this reason that the town has been able to go forward in such a convincing way the last few years and that the hundreds of visitors coming here from time to time to attend conventions leave with words of praise on their lips.

If you would keep the wheels of progress grinding continuously from day to day, join the ranks of the boosters and see that you have something good to say for the old town every day of the year.

The Athletic Association of the High School needs your co-operation, Mr. Citizen, and you are urged to go out and help increase the attendance of the various games put on from time to time. Right at this time the school is in the midst of its annual baseball schedule, and the boys are doing some mighty good playing. They would be able to make even a better showing probably did they know that they had the support of the public, or at least a sufficient number of interested fans to inspire them to unusual effort.

The Athletic Association is participating in many branches of sports from season to season, and if its efforts are to be as successful as the directors which they must have better financial support. This can come only in one way—through increased attendance to the games.

Try and go out to some of the ball games this spring and watch the boys in action. They may not be the best in the world, but they furnish a good brand of ball and that is what the majority are looking for.

Now that planting time has come farmers should not forget the importance of confining some attention to the live-at-home program mandated by Governor Gardner last fall. It is going to be necessary for North Carolina farmers to produce more of the things they can use at home this year, and it is hoped they will give this matter the consideration which it deserves when they begin putting their crops in the ground.

To encourage interest in the production of all the year a round crop, Governor Gardner has set up in this county a State Demonstration Farm. The various essential to well balanced farming will be raised on the farm from season to season, division as appears of record in Map

LEFT HANDER PROVES JINX TO THE CUBS

The Chicago Cubs may be champions of the National League and a generally dangerous team, but they are just another ball club where Bill Hallahan of St. Louis is concerned.

Hallahan, a left handed pitcher who failed to live up to expectations last season, already has beaten the Cubs twice this season and is in a way to become a permanent jinx if he continues his pace.

In two games, the Cubs have received just four runs off Hallahan's delivery, three of them coming from a homer by Hack Wilson yesterday as the Cardinals scored an 8 to 3 triumph. They made only seven hits.

In 1929, Mallahan pitched 94 innings in 20 games and allowed 94 hits while striking out 52 opposing batsmen. But he gained the well-earned nickname of "Wild Bill" by handing out 60 bases on balls.

Against the Cubs this year, Bill still is wild but somewhat more successful. Yesterday he gave seven walks and fanned nine.

The Cards and the Cubs supplied just half of yesterday's National League schedule as New York and Boston were rained out while Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

In the other game the Phillies bet out the Brooklyn Robins, 6 to 5, as Chuck Klein and Barney Friberg did the most effective part of Philadelphia's heavy hitting. They each got a homer in the first inning to gain a 3 to 0 lead and Klein added a double and two singles in four times at bat.

The champion Philadelphia A's continued to set the pace for the American League by demonstrating to a New York crowd of 66,000, the largest turnout so far this season, just how to beat the Yankees. A home run in the ninth inning by Bing Miller gave the A's a 7 to 6 victory after the team had started out with a wild slugging spree for three frames that drove Lefty Grove from the mound and nearly did the same to Roy Sherid, young Yankee hurler.

Washington continued its smart playing to nose out the surprising Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3, in a twelve inning duel between Charley Ruffin of Boston and three Senator moundsmen. Ruffin struck out eight but made a few mistakes and the Senators took advantage of every opportunity to get a run or two.

The St. Louis Browns had to go 13 innings to gain a 5 to 4 victory over Detroit after the Tigers had scored twice in the ninth to tie the score. Ted Guille, rookie outfielder from the Ozark Mountains, drove in the winning run with his third out of the game.

PLENTY HITS MARK PLAY IN NATIONAL

By HERBERT W. BARKER Associated Press Sports Writer Pitchers have been grabbing the headlines so often this baseball season that National League batsmen have found it necessary to take them down a peg or two.

Wearily apparently of reading accounts of two and three-hit games, batters in the four games of the older circuit yesterday grasped their bluegeens firmly, took a tooth and blasted out ninety safe hits, nine of them home runs.

The day's batting honors went to the New York Giants who smashed out 14 safeties including four for the circuit to beat the Phils 8-6, and chalk up their fourth successive win without a defeat.

Travis Jackson, Giant shortstop, hit twice for the circuit and Fred Leach and Bob O'Farrell each contributed one homer to the common cause. The Phils hit Bill Walker hard but could not bunt their 11 safeties to enough advantage to offset the Giants' powerful slugging.

Wilson, Hartnett and Beck hit homers as the Chicago Cubs whipped Cincinnati, 9 to 1. All told the Cubs collected 14 safe hits off four Red pitchers while Hal Carlson set down the enemy with five.

Del Bissonette was the big noise in a 16-hit attack the Brooklyn Robins launched against the Braves to win, 15-8. Bissonette drove in seven runs with a homer, triple and a single. His homer and triple each came with the bases filled. Adolfo Luque pitched steady ball for the Robins but had to retire in the ninth when a line drive from Sisler's bat hurt his pitching hand. The Braves got 13 hits.

Pitchers dominated the American league games. Irving (Bumps) Hadley, of the Washington Senators, was too much for the Philadelphia Athletics and the A's went down to their first defeat of the season, 6-3. Howard Ehmke, the world's series hero of the A's, made his 1930 debut as a rescuer for George Earnshaw in the fourth inning, and was hit for a home run by Cronin with one on in the fifth. Clint Brown, rookie pitcher, held the Detroit Tigers to five hits and Cleveland won without trouble, 6-1. The Indians batted around in the first inning, scoring four runs on five hits.

Lyons was the whole show of the Chicago White Sox home set at St. Louis, 3-2, in ten innings. Lyons held the Browns to five hits and scored the winning run in the tenth when he tripled and came home on Ernie Smith's single. Alvin Crowder also pitched well at Cleveland only seven hits. Willie Kamm hit for the circuit with one on in the seventh.

The Yankees and Red Sox had an open date.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

No pennant contender in either league has started the season under greater handicaps than the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Bucs traded the best right-handed pitcher in the league, Burleigh Grimes, and took the field for the opener minus only the best centerfielder and the best third baseman in the circuit. The club doesn't need Lloyd Waner in the cutter patrol and Pie Trayner guarding the left wing any more than it needs the melodious click of the turnstiles.

In some leagues, Grimes, Trayner and the younger Waner might be considered a complete ball club. The Bucs may survive the loss of the famous spitball pitcher but can hardly hope to get anywhere unless Trayner and Waner quickly regain their health, eye-sight and playing condition. If the club can stay anywhere near the top in the meantime, the return of these stars should put the Pirates right into the thick of the main argument.

Pittsburgh has had more than its share of success in breaking in new stars over the past six or eight years. Kiki Cuyler and Pie Trayner were among the first. Poe broke in in 1922 and in his second season hit 338. Kiki was a first year sensation at bat in 1924 with a mark of 354, though he subsequently was at odds with the Dreyfuses and traded to Chicago.

The Waner boys were a riot from the outset. Brother Paul hit for 336 his first year, led the league with a mark of 380 in 1927 and has a four year average of 356. Brother Lloyd sprouted a 355 batting mark in his first full season under the big top in 1927.

New and from the same Pacific Coast source that developed the Waners, the Bucs have apparently corralled another star in Gus Suhr, lean and hard-hitting first baseman.

The club let Glenn Wright, a great short-stop, go to Brooklyn after his arm failed and immediately picked up another star for the position in Dick Bartell, young Montana semi-pro who was ready for the big show in 1928 after only one year of seasoning in the minors with Bridgeport.

Phil (Red) Shafer has never had any luc kin the 500-mile Indianapolis auto race but he has twice sold machines to youngsters who turned out winning performances in them. In 1927, Shafer sold to George Scuders the car in which the Purdue University student rode to triumph in the greatest of American auto classics. The following year, Shafer again had an extra car which he disposed of to a 23-year old unknown, Lou Meyer. Lou won the big race that year and has been national champion two years in succession.

Primo Carnera Barred From Ring of Calif.

San Francisco, April 22.—(AP)—By a drastic ruling of the California Athletic Commission, Primo Carnera, gigantic Italian boxer, today stood barred from rings of the state, the result of the unsatisfactory ending of his recent bout with Leon Chevalier, San Francisco negro.

The commission also revoked the boxing license of Carnera, together with that of his manager, Leon Sen, of France.

Purses of Carnera and Chevalier were ordered returned to the fighters, however, the commission holding that they were blameless for the bout being stopped in the sixth round when one of Chevalier's seconds tossed a towel into the ring. Four other men involved in the affair were given indefinite suspensions. They were Frank Churchill, of Los Angeles, nationally known manager of boxers and Carnera's California representative; Tim McGrath, San Francisco, manager of Chevalier, and the negro's two seconds, Bob Laga, San Francisco, and Robert Perry of Hollywood.

Perry threw the towel to stop the fight. Chevalier said Perry threatened him if he did not "lay down" to Carnera but Perry denied this, saying he intended to save the negro from further punishment.

COTTON MARKET

New York, April 23.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 to 8 points on the fairly steady showing of the Liverpool cables.

May liquidation was much less in evidence than yesterday and there appeared to be covering by near month shorts. Trade buying in the new crop months became a little more active months were about 12 to 17 points net higher with May up to 15.7 and the new October contract to 15.00.

The weekly report of the weather bureau was considered fairly favorably regarding conditions in Eastern and central sections of the belt, but contained some unfavorable features with reference to the western belt. This may have promoted some of the new crop buying.

Liverpool cables said local liquidation had been absorbed by Bombay buying but reported small sales of cotton cloths and dullness in yarns.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 23.—(AP)—The stock market opened with an outburst of strength today, turned reactionary around mid-day when French selling developed in the copper shares and then rallied again in the early afternoon under the leadership of the amusements and public utilities.

Trading was in fairly heavy volume, with the ticker running about 15 minutes behind the market.

There was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement. Arthur Reynolds, Chicago banker, was quoted as saying that "business is improving more slowly than optimists would have us believe but nevertheless it is improving and in my opinion will continue to improve with probably no considerable upturn until after July 1." A rebound in wheat prices had a favorable effect on speculative sentiment, but most of the day's earnings reports made unfavorable comparisons with the first quarter of last year.

HELLO WORLD MAN TO SPEAK IN THIS CITY

Representative of W. K. Henderson Will Speak At Mass Meeting Thursday Night

A Cyclone Gayle, of Shreveport, La., personal representative of W. K. Henderson, head of the Hello World Corporation of Shreveport, will be the principal speaker at a mass meeting to be held in the court house in this city tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, it was announced today. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Greenville Merchants Association and the public has been given a cordial invitation to attend and hear the personal representative of the man who is leading the fight on chain stores of the nation.

A. Solomon, field representative of Mr. Henderson, today virtually completed the formation of the organization of a Minute Men's Association, a group of independent merchants to be affiliated with the Hello World Corporation. In an effort to organize the independent stores of the South, Mr. Henderson has sent his men into many sections of the country, and numbers of organizations such as that being completed here are already in existence.

Although accurate figures as to the number of local merchants that joined the association were not available today, Mr. Solomon stated that every merchant with whom the matter has been discussed had become affiliated with the body.

In the organization of the group in this city, Mr. Solomon stated that after all the merchants have been enlisted in the association, they would be organized with local officers and a local governing body. The membership is not confined to any particular store or type of store and all independent merchants and individuals who do not pay "tribute to Wall Street" are eligible for membership.

Two meetings have been held with the independent merchants of the city the last two days, and final plans looking to permanent organization were formulated at a final meeting held in the offices of the Merchants Association yesterday. The mass meeting Thursday evening will climax activities of the visit of Mr. Henderson's representatives, and give the public an opportunity of gaining some knowledge of the scope of the fight against chain stores.

The purpose of the organization is to bring the local business men together in an effort to bring about higher standards of merchandising and to create active home town movement to trade with home town merchants. Mr. Henderson is known throughout the nation as result of his radio addresses dealing with the chain store question and the coming of his workers to Greenville has attracted more than passing interest.

The Declaration of Independence in these words of unmistakable meaning—
"Whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, (the security of the rights of the people), it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it."

Representative Sparks, Republican, Kansas, asked if duPont had any rule in his companies against employees drinking.

"Nothing excepting that the man who is incapacitated either from illness, drinking or some other cause, cannot work," the industrialist replied.

To a further question, he said: "I am sure the majority do use it. In fact a poll of my personal employees showed that 60 per cent do use alcohol."

"Do you try and get that class of employees?" pursued Sparks.

"I never ask any questions," duPont answered. "Some of my employees are ardent prohibitionists."

and the murder was listed among unsolved crimes. In recent years various new leads have been investigated, but no developed a solution.

Tucson, Ariz., April 23.—(AP)—Russo Rinaldo, held in Los Angeles as the suspected slayer of William Desmond Taylor, firm director, came to Tucson from the Imperial Valley of California about two months ago. He had been living at the home of L. E. LeBlanc.

LeBlanc told Captain H. R. West, of the Tucson police department, that he knew nothing of Rinaldo, other than that he came here apparently for his health. Rinaldo informed acquaintances here that he had been injured during the world war and was suffering from shell shock.

On April 14, LeBlanc said, he loaned Rinaldo a small sum of money and the man left for Los Angeles. Since that time no word has been received from him here.

TWO BANKS AT MONROE CLOSE DOORS TODAY

Farmers Bank and Trust Company closed its doors here this morning. It was the second Monroe bank to close in two days, the bank of Union having suspended business yesterday.

A. M. Secrest is president of the Farmers Bank, and H. B. Clark is cashier. Its capitalization is $100,000. A statement of its condition as of March 27, 1930, showed deposits of around $300,000 and a surplus of $25,000.

A statement from the board of directors this morning said the closing of the bank was occasioned by the heavy withdrawals yesterday. The bank is solvent, the statement said, and depositors will not lose.

Affairs of the bank were placed today in the hands of the state banking department.

The Farmers Bank and Trust Company is about 25 years old, but has existed under its present name only since the merger five years ago of the Bank of Monroe and the Farmers and Merchants Bank here. The First National Bank is the only institution left open in Monroe today.

PROOF OF NEW PLANET FOUND BY SCIENTISTS

Professor Stewart of the Dominion Observatory at Ottawa, said Professor Shapley "reports that an object discovered on plates taken in 1924 is suspected to be a trans-Neptunian planet. Data were included in the communication."

"This is apparently a trans-neptunian object, (referring to data, or at least very far out in the planetary system, but, since no magnitude of form of the object has been given by the observers, it is impossible to say whether this is another trans-neptunian body like planet X, recently discovered at the Lowell Observatory, or whether it is the nucleus of some great comet at or near Athelion. The position in 1924 shows that it is not the Lowell Observatory object."

Professor Shapley said photographic plates made at the Harvard Observatory were being examined for traces of the object reported by the Ottawa observers.

Planet X, referred to by Professor Shapley, was announced by him March 13, as having been discovered by the Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona. His opinion was that the planet, the ninth of the solar system, was beyond Neptune and probably larger than the earth but smaller than Uranus. Some European astronomers subsequently took issue with Harvard and Lowell observatory regarding probable size and importance of Planet X.

Why the Comfort Remains—

CHECK it point by point and you'll quickly see why long after other mattresses have worn out completely, the inner spring mattress will be as fresh, comfortable and resilient as the day you bought it. The materials used, the workmanship and above all the springs inside keep it that way.

Motor cars lose that "new car" responsiveness in barely a year; clothes lose their trimness in less than that—but the inner spring mattress remains soft and soothing through years and years of usage. You'll never regret the purchase of a fine inner spring mattress. Invest in one during National Better Bedding Week—and sleep restfully for thousands of nights.
