SEVERAL DIE IN SERIES OF AIR MISHAPS

Eight Members of Tennessee Farming Community Killed In Crash Sunday

Fayetteville, Tenn., April 28.—(AP)—Eight members of nearby farming communities who climbed to a railroad embankment for an unobstructed view of a Sunday airplane exhibition lay dead today, victims of a sightseer's plane which fell near its landing field. More than a dozen others were injured, four critically.

The pilot, Milton P. Covert, 23, Columbia, Tenn., who with two companions escaped uninjured, was held in jail in another county on a technical charge of murder pending a hearing today. Covert was exonerated of blame by the exhibition and Sheriff M. W. Rhead, but the officer said he removed the pilot to a neighboring jail as a precautionary measure against possible violence.

Spectators in the crowd of several thousand which had surrounded the field proper said the plane was heading for a landing when it dropped suddenly on the group gathered on the embankment.

Al Gombert, manager of the flying organization which sponsored the exhibition with the American Legion Post, said he believed the plane struck a downward current.

"It was over so quickly I couldn't tell what happened," Pilot Covert said.

He requested a physical examination after the accident and said doctors found him to be in condition to operate a plane.

Covert had taken up the plane alone three times, he said, to become accustomed to a brisk wind from the south. He then took up two passengers and it was on his return from this flight that the crash occurred. He had planned to follow the passengers trips with a series of stunts.

Four of the victims were decapitated by the propeller of the plane and the others were crushed by its weight.

Gombert said the spectators had been warned several times not to stand near the embankment.

Milwaukee, April 28.—(AP)—Albert Roden, 26, Saukville, Wis., aviator, and Harry Wagner, 15-year-old Grafton, Wis., high school student were killed yesterday when Roden's plane went into a nose dive at a height of 300 feet and crashed onto Hotteloff Field.

Alvord, Tex., April 28.—(AP)—A storm was blamed today for the death of James H. Kell, 25, of endurance flight fame, and two companions in an airplane accident.

G. C. Rols, Oklahoma City oil operator, the fourth occupant of the plane, escaped with a broken right shoulder.

With R. L. "Red" Robbins, Kelly set a world's endurance flight record at Fort Worth in May 1929, by keeping their monoplane the "Fort Worth" aloft more than 172 hours.

Illicit Love Affair Ends In Shooting

Chicago, April 28.—(AP)—Pistols continue to play a staccato obbligato in the love affair of Mignon Stevens Butler.

A year ago she was married to Benjamin Butler after Butler's rival for her hand had been slain. Yesterday Butler was shot, probably fatally, after his wife objected to his attentions to another woman at a party.

"Whose business is it?" Inquired Butler, with two bullet wounds in his body. "I'll die as I lived."

From others who attended the party where the shooting took place police heard that Mrs. Butler, spying her husband with Mrs. Edgar Smith, struck him. Mrs. Smith's husband appeared, guns flashed, and Butler fell.

Says New Astral Body Not Planet

Chicago, April 28.—(AP)—The astral body ferried out of the skies by the Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., is not a planet, in the opinion of Dr. William D. MacMillan, professor of mathematical astronomy at the University of Chicago, but a comet that countless comets ago may have been a part of another solar system.

The heralded ninth planet, Dr. MacMillan believes, will disappear within a few years and will not be visible again until the year 5000 A. D.

"Astronomers in general have had the feeling that the Planet X, though highly interesting, is not a planet and has no connection with Lowell's prediction," the astronomer said, referring to the forecast of a new planet made by the late Percival Lowell, of Harvard University.

Bitter Battle Expected To Attire Nomination Of Judge Parker Today

Determined Effort to Be Made to Prevent Nomination of North Carolina Man As An Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—The nomination of Judge John J. Parker as an Associate Justice of the Supreme court will be brought before the Senate late today with a bitter controversy and a close vote in prospect.

For the second time this year a determined effort will be made to prevent an appointment to the nation's highest tribunal on the ground that it tends to increase the court's majority of conservative opinion.

The nomination is vigorously protested by labor and Negro organizations, the former contending that Judge Parker is prejudiced against the working man and the latter that he has shown a bias against the Negro race.

Judge Parker himself took issue with his critics in a letter to Senator Overman on North Carolina, which the latter made public last night.

He asserted that in the labor case he was bound to follow a previous decision of the Supreme court and that the Negro protest was based upon a misinterpretation of his campaign address.

The Senate Judiciary committee a week ago voted on unfavorable report upon the nomination and at the same time defeated a motion that Judge Parker be invited to appear and reply in person to the charges that have been raised against him. Senator Overman, who is supporting the nomination, was the chairman of a Judiciary sub-committee which received the labor and negro complaints.

The opponents of confirmation today claimed enough votes to reject the nomination while administration leaders conceded that the vote will be close. The latter are counting heavily upon support from the Democratic side of the chamber to offset defections within their party. There have been indications, however, that this assistance may not

Huston Not To Consider Resigning Under Fire Of Senate Lobby Committee

Chairman of Republican National Committee Tells Party Leaders At Washington Conference That He Plans To Stick To His Post

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—Claudius Huston, chairman of the Republican National committee, informed party leaders at conferences here over the week-end that he would not consider resigning his post under the fire of the Senate Lobby committee.

It was strange—she was usually astir by this time, as active as any four months old baby girl. The father leaned over the crib. Adora was dead. Her father arising, had knocked the clock into the crib and the blow had fractured her skull.

A group of the Republican chiefs including Joseph R. Nutt, party treasurer; Secretary Hyde, Postmaster General Brown, Senator Watson of Indiana, the Senate leader; Charles D. Milles, New York, national committeeman; David Mulvane, Kansas National committeeman, and Jeremiah Milbank, of New Jersey, talked with Huston.

The party's situation as it relates to Huston was reported by some of those at the sessions to have been "frankly discussed."

Some division of opinion as to the course which should be followed is understood at the capitol to have been revealed.

Huston disclosed in testimony to the Senate Lobby committee that he solicited $36,100 from the Union Carbide company as an agent of the Tennessee River Improvement association at a time when both organizations were interested in a private lease of the Muscle Shoals power property.

He also divulged that he used this contribution as part of his brokerage account; before turning it over to the Tennessee River Improvement association.

It was reported at the capitol that complaints were voiced at the Republican conference, that as a result of Huston's Lobby committee testimony, there have been some party difficulties in raising funds for party expenses.

None of those present would discuss the situation and there have been no indications of any immediate move on the part of the Republican leaders in an attempt to oust Huston.

Thousand Persons Reported Killed

Shanghai, April 28.—(AP)—Chinese press dispatches received today stated that 1,000 men, women and children, Chinese country folk, were massacred and 1,000 more captured Saturday by bandits who looted and burned the town of King-suchen on the northern border of Kiangsai and Anhwei provinces.

The bandits, said the advices, displayed ferocity that was unparalleled in the annals of banditry in China which is now taking place on a gigantic scale.

One hundred of the bandits mounted on horses set up 36 machine guns and raked the streets, moving down the helpless villagers. Captives were forced by departing brigands to carry the loot.

The outrage occurred about 100 miles north of Nanking, Nationalist government capital of China.

YOUTH KILLED WHEN HIT BY AUTO SUNDAY

Small Sister Also Injured When Run Down By Car On the Cox Mill Road

Milton Jones 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones, residents of the Cox's Mill community, was fatally injured when hit by an automobile while playing ball in front of the home of his parents yesterday. A nine-year-old sister also received a broken collar bone, and other injuries of a minor nature. The youth died in the local hospital last night.

The car was driven by Bill Adams of Shelmerdine. The accident was declared unavoidable by eye-witnesses.

Funeral services were conducted from the home of the youth's parents this afternoon at 4 o'clock and burial was made in the McGowan cemetery near Greenville.

The boy and his sister were playing ball in the front of their home when the accident occurred. The ball bounced out of the yard onto the highway in front of a car heading in the direction of Ayden. As soon as the car passed the children dashed out into the road to retrieve the sphere, and ran directly into the Adams' car which was going in an opposite direction.

Mr. Adams picked the children up and rushed them to the hospital, but the little boy's injuries were so such a serious nature that he died last night despite everything that could be done for him.

LONE EAGLE ARRIVES AT CANAL ZONE

Lindbergh Reaches Cristobal Ahead of Schedule In Opening New Mail Route

Cristobal, Canal Zone, April 28.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh set his big Sikorsky plane down at Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, at 11:37 a. m., and 35 minutes later took off for France Field, here, arriving at 4:04 p. m., several minutes ahead of the schedule he had set for himself. The distance was 1,033 miles.

His route was directly across the Caribbean Sea to a point on the Nicaraguan coast, instead of to Yucatan, and then down the Coast to the refueling point.

Colonel Lindbergh carried with him 215 pounds of mail, which transferred to another similar plane will be carried on today by L. R. Moore toward Talara, Peru, from which point various planes will spread it to points of address in the South American republics.

It is planned that the main, which left New York Friday, will be in Buenos Aires next Friday. North Bound mail will leave Montevideo Saturday and should be here on Wednesday.

The famous Trans-Atlantic aviator himself will not complete the inaugural project, but will remain here for a few days and return home the latter part of the week.

The flight from Havana to the earlier flights from New York to Washington, Washington to Miami, and Miami to Havana, was without particular event.

The colonel, at first fearful lest his machine was overloaded, was said to have enjoyed it greatly and several times to have relinquished the controls of the machine to Basil Rowe, who flew with him. Bert Denicky also was along as radio operator.

A crowd of officials and civilians gathered at France Field to welcome the flier on what was his third inaugural airmail trip into Spanish America. The weather was brilliant and warm.

Colonel Panama, April 28.—(AP)—The cargo of New York airmail which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh brought to the Canal Zone yesterday was started on another leg of its journey to Buenos Aires this morning by L. R. Moore, pilot of the Pan-American Grace Airways.

Moore headed for Santa Elena and will go as far as Talara, Peru, whence the mail will be spread to points in South America by various planes. The mail left New York Friday, and it is planned that it be in Buenos Aires next Friday.

Colonel Lindbergh spent today in resting and conferring with aviation officials. He is the house guest of Lieutenant Colonel James Mars, commandant of France Field.

Ford Gets Sprite

Bristol, R. I.—A 20-foot sailboat built by John B. Herreshoff, noted blud designer has been sent to the Ford Museum at Dearborn. The Sprite, made in 1859, in recent years had been an ornament of the Herreshoff family lawn.

TWO INDIANS SHOT DOWN BY BRITISH COPS

Three Also Injured When Rioters Stoned Police During a Demonstration

Bombay, India, April 28.—(AP)—Two Indians were killed and three wounded in Madras Sunday, when British police opened fire upon an unruly mob.

The rioters stoned the police, injuring both the commissioner, his deputy and others. Orders to disperse were answered with more stones, and finally the police opened fire.

Elsewhere in Indian there was a week-end of comparative quiet seen by some observers as the lull before the storm.

Mahatma Gandhi himself, marching with devotees to capture what he says are the government salt pans at Dharasana continued to preach his doctrine of non-violence, and to deplore rioting at Chittagong, Peshawar, and Madras.

While a British war plane hovered overhead 8,000 Indian Nationalists today burned a pile of foreign made cloth fifteen feet high in inauguration of a new phase of civil disobedience and passive resistance.

The protesters first went in a procession through the streets of the city, three camel carts filled with the cloth accompanying them. A mass meeting was held and resolutions adopted condemning the government for firing on "peaceful citizens" in Peshawar.

The ceremony ended with lighting the bon fire. Appearance of the war plane above caused a slight panic among the women, but nothing serious developed. The women sang hymns of sedition while the pile blazed, the refrain being heard throughout:

"If we walk with Mahatma Gandhi, we will surely gain swaraj (independence)."

Believe Nation Will End Year With A Surplus

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—The confidence of the administration that the government will finish the present fiscal year with a moderate surplus was increased today by an encouraging report on taxes collected during the nine months ending March 31.

This showed that, receipts for the first three quarters of the fiscal year were $2,277,453,096, an increase of $140,000,000 as compared with the corresponding period of a year previous. A general decrease in collections for January, February and March of this year was offset by wide increases for the last six months of 1929.

New York led the individual states in the total of taxes collected, contributing $695,048,510 during the nine-month period, an increase of approximately $100,000,000 over the same period of a year previous.

North Carolina was second in the state totals with $200,896,920, an increase of about $16,000,000; Illinois third with $185,743,425, an increase of $14,000,000; Pennsylvania fourth with $171,625,444, a drop of $6,000,000, and California fifth with $115,136,433, an increase of about $2,000,000.

Dr. Cuthrell Resigns

Raleigh, April 28.—(AP)—Dr. Geo. F. Cuthrell, pastor of Hillier Memorial Christian church here for 123 past six years, has resigned his pastorate to go to the pulpit of the Christian Church of Tyler, Texas.

Greenville Woman's Club Honors Pioneer Women At 13th Anniversary Here

Rooms Dedicated to Mrs. Sallie Southall Cotten and Mrs. Rosa Forbes Quinerly At Interesting Exercises At Club House Here Last Saturday Afternoon

By EVA HORTON SHACKLEFORD

The number 13 was probably regarded by the superstitious as the reason for the inclement weather of Saturday afternoon, when the Greenville Woman's Club observed its 13th anniversary with an elaborate celebration, to which every clubwoman of the 15th district, and many outstanding leaders in club work, throughout the State, were invited.

But in spite of the weather, which after all was typical of April, the hopes and expectations of the club were far exceeded, for it was one of the most beautiful and largely attended functions of the year.

The event took place in the handsome new club house. The club is justly proud of its home of a year and a half, which, with its spacious drawing rooms and auditorium, has rightly developed into a community center.

The guests were met as they arrived at 4:00 by Mrs. T. E. Hooker and Mrs. E. F. Arnold. Receiving at the library door were Mrs. O. G. Gulley and Mrs. D. M. Clark. Mrs. A. A. Henderson and Mrs. E. B. Alsbrook were in the library and Mrs. John L. Wooten and Mrs. W. H. Woolard were at the auditorium door. Mrs. J. L. Fleming and Mrs. J. B. Kittrell introduced the guest to the receiving line composed of Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, retiring president; Mrs. Thomas O'Berry of Goldsboro, Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, ex-president; Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, Farmville; Mrs. W. I. Wooten, newly elected president; Mrs. C. J. Sawyer of Windsor; Miss Ruth Burke of La Grange; Miss Clara Louis Moyer, president of the Junior Woman's Club; Mrs. C. J. Forbes; Mrs. Charles Forbes, Mrs. S. T. White, Mrs. Fred Forbes and Mrs. W. L. Best.

High Court Defers Decision In Case From Pitt County

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—The Supreme court today postponed a decision as to whether the attack of W. C. Clark, of Pitt County, N. C., on the validity of the North Carolina State imposing a tax of $45 per ton of motor vehicles operated for hire over fixed routes more than 50 miles long, presented a controversy within its jurisdiction.

Denying an appeal of counsel for a special ruling, the court held the case must be heard on its merits.

Drops Three Miles in Parachute

Roosevelt Field, N. Y.—Miss Frances Rees has dropped nearly three miles in the air with a parachute. It took a plane an hour and a half to get her up 14,800 feet and she came down in fourteen minutes. A Frenchman holds a record drop of 16,430 feet.

National Guardsmen And Police Placed On Guard At Columbus Penitentiary

Movement of Police To Prison Yard Climaxes Night of Turmoil During Which Thousands of Convicts Tore Down Cell Doors and Did Other Damage

Columbus, Ohio, April 28.—(AP)—Conditions in Ohio penitentiary, scene of a week ago, when 320 convicts locked in their cells, were burned to death, were fast returning to normal today as authorities took firm steps to put down a "passive resistance" revolt.

"Hard boiled" convicts, leaders of the revolt, were placed in solitary confinement by Columbus police and prison guards.

Machine guns bristled in the prison yard as well as outside the walls, where Ohio national guards were prepared to prevent any attempt to escape.

With their leaders placed in solitary confinement, other convicts seemed to lose interest in the passive resistance campaign. When the guards entered the idle house to make a count, the prisoners lined up obediently and made no show of resistance.

Between 25 and 30 of the ringleaders were weeded from the main body of convicts.

Columbus, Ohio, April 28.—(AP)—National Guardsmen and 150 Columbus police were sent into Ohio penitentiary early today.

Movement of the policemen into the prison climaxed a night of turmoil during which thousands of convicts tore down cell doors and did other damage.

The prisoners were creating no disturbance at the time the policemen were dispatched and it was believed this was done to prevent rather than quell an outbreak.

After entering the prison yard, the officers formed in a semicircle, apparently waiting to watch the convicts leave the cell blocks for the mess halls.

Warden Thomas announced that the unruly prisoners would not be (Continued on page four)

LIQUOR TEST CASE BEFORE HIGH COURT

Government to Attempt to Prove That Purchaser Is Guilty Of Violating Law

Washington, April 28.—(AP)—The government brought to the Supreme Court today its contention that the purchaser of illicit liquor is guilty of violating the prohibition law.

The question came before the highest tribunal in two forms. In one the government contends that those who order liquor from bootleggers knowing that it must be illegally transported to reach them, are guilty of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law. In the other the government expresses some doubt as to whether its illegal transportation is equally guilty with the bootlegger. It was prepared to urge, however, that the court hold him guilty.

The conspiracy case was brought by the government from Philadelphia, where Alfred E. Norris, a New York banker, was charged with violating the prohibition law when he placed orders with Joel D. Kerper of Philadelphia, for the shipment of bootleg liquor.

The Federal District Court at Philadelphia convicted Norris of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law but the Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the ruling, holding that such transportation as may be necessary to effect delivery does not subject the purchaser and seller to an indictment for conspiracy to transport.

Although declaring Norris guilty of conspiracy the District Court announced that the mere purchase of liquor was not an offense as did the Circuit Court of Appeals. Attorney General Mitchell, in his brief in the Norris case, which furnished an outline for today's oral argument, declared that "whether or not the national prohibition act makes the act of purchase a crime in itself, it manifestly does not invest the purchaser with any special immunity from the consequences of doing those things which beyond question are made criminal. The mere fact that one is a purchaser gives him no license to violate the law with impunity."

James E. Farrar was indicted at Boston on the charge of having purchased liquor from Frank Bytondo, of Bedford, Mass. The Federal District Court dismissed the case holding that the purchase of liquor was not an offense under the prohibition law, the government contending that any purchase of intoxicating liquor without a permit is a violation of the Volstead act. Counsel for Farrar will take the view of the District Court that the permit applied only to those to whom a permit may lawfully be issued, such as manufacturers, distillers, wholesalers and retailers, and not to a purchaser from a bootlegger.

Attorney General Mitchell in his brief, pointed out that the dominant purpose of the prohibition law is the prevention of the consumption of intoxicating liquor as a beverage and urged the highest court to interpret the law to bring about the result.

Selma Physician Is Buried Today

Raleigh, April 28.—(AP)—Funeral services were held here at 2:30 this afternoon for Dr. Richard J. Noble, 76, who died early yesterday morning at his home in Selma.

Doctor Noble was injured April 19 when his automobile overturned on the Raleigh-Selma highway. Pneumonia developed in the Johnston County Hospital. Wednesday the doctor insisted that he be taken to his home in Selma, where he died yesterday.

Doctor Noble was Grand Master of Masons of North Carolina in 1889 and also held many other high offices in the order.

He served as Potentate of Order Shrine Temple in 1919.

He is survived by one brother, four children and six grandchildren.

CHASE CELEBRATES TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 28.—(AP)—Today marks the tenth anniversary of the inauguration of Dr. Harry W. Crase as president of the University of North Carolina.

This is Dr. Crase's last year as the University. He has resigned to accept the presidency of the University of Illinois.

Escape From Bandits

Peiping, China, April 28.—(AP)—C. A. Bridgman, Canadian missionary, and a Chinese native party, who was captured by bandits on April 15 and was held for ransom, have escaped and are now en route for Changsha, apparently to the worse for their experience.

Plane Pilot Killed

Kaiserslautern, Germany, April 28.—(AP)—The pilot of a French military plane was killed today when he attempted a landing here after his motor stalled.

A GOOD SAVING FOR THE COUNTY.

The Board of County Commissioners has just delivered to the purchasers $450,000.00 of Road Refunding Bonds to take up an issue of like amount now maturing. It is recalled these Refunding Bonds were sold on April the 8th to the First Detroit Company, and are in serial from one to seventeen years. They were sold at the rate of 4.54 per cent, which was conceded by all to be an attractive sale.

were 6 per cent bonds, and were 6 per cent bonds, and having been sold during 1920 it was impossible to get a more favorable rate, and the Commissioners at that time showed their wisdom in making the bonds for only ten years. The bonds now being sold at 4.54 net against the outstanding bonds of 6 per cent will save the County an annual interest charge on this bond issue of around $6,565.60, or $11,613.50 for the average of seventeen years the bonds have to run.

The above shows the fine credit standing of the County at the present time, and the County officials are to be congratulated.

The Enforcement Force. This country is great on laws. We never tire of making them. Neither do we tire of breaking them. However, we are always clamoring for better enforcement, and here is about how well we succeed.

- 1. Gambling: One arrest for each thirty thousand violations. 2. Fornication and Adultery: One arrest for each twenty seven thousand and violations. 3. Prohibition: One arrest for each twenty-two thousand violations. 4. Traffic Laws: One arrest for each eighty-six thousand violations. 5. Larceny and Theft: One arrest for each eleven thousand violations. 6. Perjury: One arrest for each ninety-nine thousand violations. 7. Murder: One arrest for each three violations.

It would be interesting to approximate 1 1/2 per cent of our adult population who violate our laws. One could not miss the mark far, were he to guess that ninety-nine per cent have, at least, one violation to his or her credit as often as once a year. Very few of those who violate the law are ashamed of it until they are actually caught by the law. Sad, but it could be worse. J. F. STOKES, Greenville, N. C.

GREENVILLE WOMAN'S CLUB HONORS PIONEER WOMEN AT 13TH ANNIVERSARY. (Continued from page 1) Mrs. E. M. Garrett and Mrs. S. M. Crisp directed the guests to the punch bowl. Here, Mrs. M. L. Wright, Mrs. W. E. Hooker, and Mrs. J. B. James served punch and parties from a table under a tressis of southern smilax and red roses, and from which was suspended

Japanese lanterns. An immense birthday cake with 13 red candles occupied a conspicuous position on the table. Presiding over the register were Mrs. P. G. Dennis and Mrs. B. McK. Johnson.

Those receiving were members of the executive board, ex-presidents, State Federation officers, chairman of departments, and members of the immediate family of Mrs. Rosa Forbes Quinerly. The members of the Junior Club pinned shoulder bouquets of red and white roses on charter members and others, who joined the club during the first year of its life, assisted in serving refreshments, and also acted as usher.

The entire club house was most elaborately and artistically decorated. In the room dedicated to the first president, Mrs. Rosa Forbes Quinerly, the colors of the club, red and white, were effectively carried out by a use of roses, snowballs, and syringa. Her photograph had been placed on the mantel, and her fondness for shades of purple and lavender were remembered in the decorations dedicated to the memory of "Mother Cotten", the honorary president, counselor, and inspirer of the club. The floral decorations were later placed on the graves of the two pioneer clubwomen. Their portraits will be hung in the rooms at an early date.

A program of entertainment was presented in the auditorium with introductions by Mrs. J. H. B. Moore. A speech of welcome was made by Mrs. E. F. Arnold; Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, Goldsboro, N. C., director of general federations brought greetings; Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, second vice-president of the State Federation, brought greetings from that organization; Mrs. C. J. Sawyer, retiring president of the 15th district, brought greetings and as she said, "love and congratulations from the 886 clubwomen comprising the district." Delightful solo songs were rendered by Miss Jessie Moye, Mrs. J. H. Waldrop, and Mrs. J. Knott Proctor, and several selections were rendered by the high school orchestra. A dance, "Tip Toeing Through the Tulips" was done by a group of small children, and a solo dance by Miss Frances Spillman.

A handsome pin was presented to the retiring president, Mrs. Moore, by Mrs. J. L. Fleming in behalf of the club, after paying her a tribute of praise, appreciation and confidence in which she said: "Mrs. Moore has made our fondest dreams come true, during the four short years of her administration, that of owning a club house." The Greenville Floral Co., sent an arm bouquet of lilies.

The real feature of the program took place in the drawing rooms, where a dedication prayer was offered by Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, and the rooms were formally dedicated to the leaders. In the dedication of the Sallie Southall Cotton room, Mrs. L. C. Arthur said in part: "In every phase of life this noble woman rang true, devoted wife, perfect mother, wise leader, and a loyal friend. As a leader and clubwoman she excelled any woman of her time. Her motto was 'service and progress', and her favorite adage was 'Great Oaks from Little Acorns grow', and I have seen many times, this adage verified under her influence."

Mrs. T. A. Person in a speech of splendid eulogy, dedicated the Rosa Forbes Quinerly room. She gave a history of her childhood, girlhood and womanhood, and a record of her various activities in club work, war work of 1918, Red Cross, an her church convictions, zeal and loyalty.

A fitting climax to the program was the singing of "I've Done my Work", Carry Jacobs Bond—by Miss Jessie Moye. A prayer of dismissal was said by Rev. E. L. Hillman. Birthday gifts consisting chiefly of linens were received at the club house throughout the day. Each of the 41 members of the Junior Club brought a present, and fifteen different firms of the city sent useful articles, the most outstanding gift, however, being a check for $100 sent by the Kiwanis Club.

The Greenville Woman's Club has sponsored and achieved much during the thirteen years of its existence. The greatest single piece of work besides the purchase of a club house, being the management and enlarging of the Public Library which was under its wings from 1923 to 1928, when it was turned over to the city as a gift.

The club is made up of departments: the American Home, Citizenship, Garden, Health, Literature, Music and Arts. The presidents of the club who have served during the thirteen years are: Mrs. M. H. Quinerly, 1917-19; Miss Miriam McPayden, 1919-20; Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale, 1920-24; Mrs. E. B. Picklen, 1924-26; Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, 1926-30.

Mrs. Arthur's address in dedication of the Sallie Southall Cotton room follows: When I look over this audience I realize that there are very few people present who have not known Mrs. Cotten, and who are not familiar with her life of unselfish service, so I feel very incapable of telling you anything that you do not know.

It is not often that one is permitted to fill out a life of more than four score years, that has been filled with so much usefulness as that of Mrs. Cotten's. In every phase of life she rang true—devoted wife, perfect mother, wise leader and loyal friend. As a leader and club member, she excelled any woman of her time—in fact, she was one of the pioneer club women of the state and her influence has spread like the rays of sunshine, not only in Pitt County, and Greenville but through this nation.

Longfellow has said: "Lives of great men all remind us. We can make our lives sublime, And departing leave behind us, Foot prints on the sands of time, Foot prints that perhaps another, Sailing o'er life's solemn main, A forlorn and shipwrecked brother, Seeing, shall take heart again." I know of no one, who in passing through life has left more lasting foot prints on the sands of time, than Mrs. Cotten, and as time passes, an immeasurable throng will be guided by her foot prints and many an inexperienced, timid club woman, seeing shall take heart again.

In November, 1899, when our town's woman, Mrs. Harry Skinner, conceived the idea of organizing a literary club in Greenville, it was to Mrs. Cotten that she turned for help and guidance.

Thus was organized the "End of the Century Club," the first literary club in this section of the state. For many years Mrs. Cotten was our president, and until the day of her passing was honorary president. It was her hand and wisdom that guided us in the days of our infancy, through the rough paths and over the thorny ways, until we reached the stage of maturity and were able to stand alone, full-fledged club women. And as each succeeding club in the town and county were formed, she gave them the same assistance.

Her motto was always "Service and Progress." She was not willing to stand still but was always eager to do something for the uplift of woman, and through the width and breadth of the country they shall rise up to call her blessed.

A favorite adage of hers was—"Great oaks from little acorns grow," and many times I have seen this adage verified under her influence. It was in her brain that was born the vision of a library for the town of Greenville. Thus the seed was sown that was nurtured first by the "End of the Century club," then by each of the succeeding clubs, then by the town, until it has grown into the magnificent gift that is being erected (as the Shepard Memorial Library) in Greenville today, not only for us, but for our posterity down through the generations to come. Verily, I say, "Great oaks from little acorns do grow."

Another dream of Mrs. Cotten's was that every worthy girl in North Carolina should have an education, and in the Sallie Southall Cotton Loan Fund that dream is being realized. But her dream of dreams was a Federated Woman's Club for Greenville, and to this end she spent some of the best years of her life. She never let an opportunity pass to impress upon the women of Greenville the importance of a Woman's Club in the town, and when this club was organized 13 years ago, it was a crowning day in her life and she was honorary president until her passing.

I wish I had the time to tell of some of the things that this club has achieved both in the civic and social life of Greenville, but they speak for themselves.

As soon as the Woman's Club was organized Mrs. Cotten began to agitate the movement for a club house, and under her urge, and the energy of the faithful members, led by their wise and capable president, Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, this beautiful and attractive club home was made possible. It is with great pride that the citizens of Greenville point it out to the stranger in their midst. Truly it is with fitting appropriateness that they should desire that one of its rooms should bear her loved and honored name.

So, in behalf of the Woman's Club of Greenville, on this their 13th anniversary, with tender, loving memories, which I am sure will always remain fresh in our hearts, I dedicate this room, sacred to the memory of our friend, co-worker and club mother, Mrs. Sallie Southall Cotten.

The following is Mrs. Person's tribute to Mrs. Rosa Forbes Quinerly:

On October 5th, 1875, there came into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Forbes, of Greenville, a baby girl, who by natural gifts was destined to become the radiating center of a home; this is illustrious for the type of citizenry it has bequeathed to the citizenship of our day and time. And never did daughter more lavishly repay parents for their love and care than did Rosa Forbes in a life time of loving faithful service to mother, husband, sisters and brothers. We must not lose sight of the source of this marvelous Christian character (lovingly referred to in our midst as "Miss Jane") first of all we pay our homage.

Brought up in a home of the highest type of Christian culture, where love and Christian charity dominated every thought and act, the child Rosa, as was said of our Lord, grew and waxed strong, and gained in wisdom and favor with God and man."

Educated in the local schools, till ready for college, she then entered St. Mary's at Raleigh. At eighteen she was married to Mr. Mark H. Quinerly, and to this union was born one child, which died in infancy. The first years of her married life were spent in Kinston. Returning to Greenville, she once again made her home in the home of her girlhood.

Mrs. Quinerly may be characterized as a woman of great love, strong conviction and faithful, untiring service. I shall attempt to give you just a few close personal glimpses of this woman of the great heart just as I knew her. And in so doing I shall touch briefly two phases of her life and work, her club life and her religious life. I have said she was a woman of strong conviction—may I now add that her whole life was characterized by a steadfast loyalty to her convictions. She never accepted anyone else's opinion, or viewpoint, but faithfully and honestly thought a thing out for herself, and when she arrived at her conclusion, she planted herself thereon and lived accordingly.

Mrs. Quinerly's club life had already begun several years before she became president of the Woman's Club. Under the leadership of that untiring and inspiring worker, Mrs. E. R. Cotten, to whose memory we have just dedicated the southeast drawing room, Mrs. Quinerly could but react most favorably. And she had already filled the chair of president of the End of the Century Club, the pioneer club of Greenville, and had been chairman of the Health Department of State Federation of Women's Clubs, rendering excellent service in both offices, endorsing the movement for whole time health officer, encouraging and leading in all kinds of civic improvement, and public health work. So when the time came for still larger activities, and the need to corral the woman power of Greenville into a Woman's Club, Mrs. Quinerly was unanimously chosen to lead this movement. She had heard the clear call "For who knows but thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this." She heard, she accepted. And on April 27, 1917, she became first president of the Woman's Club. In passing, it is worthy of note that her niece, Miss Clara Louise Moye, was recently made first president of the newly organized Junior Woman's Club.

Mrs. Quinerly's ability as an organizer, her wonderful tact, and rich endowment of patience served her in good stead as she led and directed this organization through the troublous and trying days of the Great World War. For our beloved President, Woodrow Wilson, had on April 2, 1917, requested Congress to declare war on the German entente. This had been done. The tocsin sounded. That was a day when strong men wept, women fainted and young men turned pale. The Federated Clubs of this nation then became the channel of opportunity to which the President turned when he wanted to get hold of the organized womanhood of the nation. And his words, something like this: "This piece of machinery (meaning the organized clubs) will prove an invaluable aid in prosecuting the war" will ever put the Women's Clubs in the forefront of important organizations in this country. Mrs. Quinerly's patriotism then arose to its peak of efficiency and she, under Mr. S. J. Underwood as general chairman, became Pitt county chairman of the Women's Department of National Defense, having an outstanding woman in each township as assistant. Through this organization all war work among women was carried on, including intense conservation, sale of bonds, saving stamps and other activities. The Red Cross claimed her, and her work in this field received recognition of the National Society.

Mrs. Quinerly was gifted with a keen sense of humor. No stronger test of this is needed than the ability to see and enjoy the joke when it is oneself. This she did in her own graceful manner. Many times have I heard the music of her laughter softly and sweetly ring out when telling some incident when the joke was on herself. This I say, is the supreme test of one's sense of humor.

After returning to Greenville, Mrs. Quinerly felt that the Methodist church was the channel through which her religious life would find expression, and after uniting once more with the church of her youth, she became teacher of the Woman's Bible Class. Being then a teacher myself, I only had the privilege of hearing her once. It was the lesson of Ruth and Naomi. Her belief in personal evangelism was clearly developed in that she made Naomi's influence on Ruth the radiating centre, and in winning Ruth to the worship of the true God, she (Ruth) became the great-grandmother of David, Israel's greatest king, and the "sweet singer" not only of Israel, but of all Christian peoples, and likewise the ancestor of our Lord and Saviour.

Mrs. Quinerly's loyalty to conviction is further shown in her attitude to the organizations of her church. One day discovering the relative merits of two organizations she said this: "Ladies, the Missionary Society is the one and only woman's organization authorized and recognized by your General Conference, we have no choice, in order to be faithful members of the church, we must support the Missionary Society to the end of our several abilities." And this she did, attending faithfully, serving in all places of responsibility as long as her health permitted, and even as it was failing. Her intense love for humanity is characterized by these words, spoken to me on viewing a school parade of colored children: "I believe every child should have the chance to develop the best that is in him, and my part is to help give him the chance."

One thought more—her magnanimity of soul was after all the crowning glory of this woman of the truly great heart. Her ability to see and appreciate the good, the kind, the lovely, the grace, and graciousness of the other person stamped her indelibly as God's own Elect. I have often thought as she gazed on others and beholding these virtues in them, if she were not really looking through the mirror of her own white soul and seeing therein the imprint of her Saviour upon his creature.

And so, Madam President, Honor Guests, and Friends: On behalf of the Woman's Club—in honor of our first president, in appreciation of her life, and tireless efforts in our behalf, it becomes my peculiar honor and exalted privilege to name and dedicate this southwest drawing room "The Rosa Forbes Quinerly Room."

Judge R. A. Nunn Gets Fine Sendoff

Editor of Jackson News, Northampton County, Writes Fine Editorial About Our Judge.

(The Times) Last week Superior Court Judge R. A. Nunn, one of New Bern's favorite sons, held court in Northampton County—at Jackson—Editor Scott, of The News was much impressed with Judge Nunn's calm judgment and impartial conduct of his court—and says so editorially in The News:

JUDGE R. A. NUNN Interpreting the law to the jury fairly and impartially, presiding with dignity and genuine ability, Judge R. A. Nunn has won wide favor here this week while holding our Superior Court. Judge Nunn has the qualities which command friendship.

It has been a pleasure for the people of Northampton to welcome him here and have him among us because of his abilities as a judge and his qualities as a true gentleman. The affairs of the court have been in good hands with Judge R. A. Nunn presiding and Solicitor R. Hunt Parker discharging the duties of his office fearlessly and with dispatch.

Judge Nunn was appointed by the Governor and then nominated and elected by the Democratic party to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge Horton. In the Democratic primary next June he will be a candidate for renomination as Judge for a full term in the office. (Political Advertisement)

BRIDGE CLUB HONORS WINNER OF SERIES

Farmville, April 26.—One of the most attractive and delightful parties of the season was that of Friday evening, when members of the Progressive Bridge club were hostesses to their husbands and friends at the home of Mrs. J. Loyd Horton. The party was given in honor Mrs. J. Y. Monk who made the highest score in the winter series. Myriads of spring flowers including iris, Easter lilies, tulips, roses, and spirea made a lovely setting for the seven tables.

Guests were greeted at the main entrance by the retiring president, Mrs. G. A. Jones and Mr. Jones, Mrs. J. Y. Monk, whose honors include the presidency, and Mr. Monk, and at the west entrance were Mrs. J. Loyd Horton and J. G. Spencer. Punch was served from an alcove in the sun room by Mrs. W. C. Askew and Mrs. P. E. Jones.

At the close of the games a framed etching was presented to the honor guest, Mrs. Jack Smith received the ladies' prize, a crystal perfume bottle, and G. A. Jones the men's prize, a silk handkerchief.

A frozen marshmallow salad course with black coffee was served. Out of town guests were Mrs. Chas. W. Donaldson, of Greenville, Tenn., house guest of Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, and Mrs. H. P. Moseley, of Goldsboro, guest of Miss Tabitha De Visconti.

Entertains At Tea.

Farmville, April 26.—Mrs. G. M. Holden entertained at a lovely informal tea on Friday afternoon at her apartment in the new Daxis Apartments, honoring Mrs. Chas. W. Donaldson, of Greenville, Tenn., guest of Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, and a former resident, having lived here during several tobacco seasons.

The rooms were, most attractive with their decorations of spring flowers. A color scheme of pink and green was beautifully carried

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, April 28.—(AP)—Cotton opened barely steady today unchanged to a decline of four points. There was further scattering May liquidation and probably some selling of new crop months on reports of rains over Sunday in the southwest but the offerings were light and the market soon turned steadier in sympathy with the steadier Liverpool cables.

May sold up to 16.63 and the new October contract to 14.87 by the end of the first half hour, making net advances of about 4 to 9 points on the general list.

The demand was not active but there was some trade buying of old crop positions and a little buying for Liverpool account, while contracts seemed comparatively scarce after the early offerings had been absorbed.

Liverpool cables said that Continent albuying and trade calling had absorbed local liquidation in that market but reported that order lists of cotton manufacturers were running down and that business with India was restricted.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, April 28.—(AP)—In the face of United States wheat visible supply decreases and fresh export purchasing of North American wheat, considerable weakness developed in wheat values today. The price of May delivery lurched down ward at the last owing largely to persistent liquidating sales. There was much selling of May and buying of July and September, whereas previous sellers of May were doing the reverse.

Wheat closed unsettled, 11-2 to 21-2 net higher. Corn closed 1 to 11-2 up. Oats 1-8 off and provisions unchanged to a setback of 7 cents.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 28.—(AP)—The stock market experienced another sharp sinking spell today in which scores of issues were hammered down 1 to nearly 10 points, of which at least a dozen dropped to new low levels for the year, but the selling appeared to have run its course by early afternoon when a moderate rally set in.

Publication of a bearish forecast for the week-end by a well-known economist, together with another series of unfavorable first quarter earnings reports, were held responsible for the heavy liquidation.

The selling embraced a wide list but some of largest losses took place in the motor, railroad and office appliance shares.

Auburn Auto fell 91-2 points, Worthington Pump 7, Johns Manville 61-2 to a new low at 1101-2.

In the early afternoon, united corporation was in the vanguard of the rally, moving up to a new high level for the year. United Aircraft jumped 21-2 points and astman Kodak which Wall Street hears will split up soon, quickly rallied 11-2 points.

Call money renewed at 4 per cent with a plentiful supply of funds available.

measure. Both these and the radio have elicited hundreds of appreciative letters from prisoners, the warden said.

Despite the doses of radio psychology and other changes, Warden Hill admitted that he has no illusions regarding the docility of his prisoners. He has instructed all guards to go to target practice regularly and to become crack shots.

Storm Cathedral Gates To Witness Taylour Wedding

London, April 28.—(AP)—Hundreds of women gate-crashers stormed Westminster Cathedral during the wedding today of Lady Millicent Taylour, only daughter of the Marquis and Marchioness of Headfort, and Henry S. Tiarks.

Although precautions were taken to prevent this by issuing cards to guests, the custom in Roman Catholic churches of leaving a side door open for worshippers provided the invaders a means of entry which they quickly spotted.

They dragged chairs about on which to stand for a better view, and in the scramble for these standards many hats were knocked off and other scenes of confusion resulted.

When the bride and the bridegroom appeared outside the crowd rushed the police cordon which surrounded the honeymoon car, and the machine was unable to start for several minutes.

Wields Baton Again
Philadelphia—Once again pro- perior Sederio, who led the band for Dewey at Manila Bay, has wielded the baton on the Admiral's flagship, the Olympia. In a wheel chair Sederio directed the playing of "The Double Eagle," the music Dewey ordered going into battle. The occasion was a Sunday celebration in advance of the 32nd anniversary of the Battle of May 1 1897.

Bad on Dress
Florence, Italy—Football in silk tights, velvet doublets and plumed hats! Tow teams started playing in such garb, but before the game was over the plumes and some other things were mostly under foot. On the occasion was the anniversary of a battle of 1500 A. D. when football was played under fire of enemies! Cannon, Florence regards itself as the mother of all football.

BITTER BATTLE EXPECTED TO FEATURE NOMINATION OF JUDGE PARKER TODAY

be forthcoming. Specifically, the labor protest was based upon Judge Parker's decision as a member of the Circuit of Appeals, upholding an injunction which restrained the United Mine Workers from attempting to organize the employees of the Red Jacket Coal and Coke company of West Virginia.

"My answer to the charge of the labor people," Judge Parker said in his letter to Senator Overman, "is that I followed the law as laid down by the Supreme Court. . . . It is of course the duty of the judges of the lower federal courts to follow the decisions of the Supreme court. Any other course would result in chaos."

"He went on to point out that the 'Yellow Dog Contract' has twice been upheld by the Supreme Court. "In view of this," he continued, "it must be obvious to anyone that as a member of the court in the Red Jacket case, I had no latitude or discretion in expressing my opinion or views of my own but was bound by these decisions to reach the conclusion and to render the decision as I did."

Going on to the racial protest, Judge Parker wrote that in his campaign address he was seeking to answer his opponents, who, he said, were attempting to inject the Negro issue into the campaign "under a charge that the Republican party in North Carolina intended to organize the colored people and restore the conditions of the reconstruction era." At the time, Parker was the Republican nominee for governor of that state.

"I endeavored to conduct my campaign for governor on a high plane and with fairness to all classes of people, and while I made it clear that my party was not seeking to organize the colored people of the state as a class, I at no time advocated denying them the right to participate in the election in cases where they were qualified to do so, nor did I advocate denying them any other of their rights under the Constitution and laws of the United States."

Senator Allen, Republican, Kans., last night defended Judge Parker and announced that the nominee has his support. He said that Parker's recent decision have shown a full judicial fairness to the negro race and that his decision in the Red Jacket case was the only one possible after the rulings of the Supreme Court.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN AND POLICE PLACED ON GUARD COLUMBUS PENITENTIARY

given any breakfast "until we are through mopping up with them".

Guards were sent into the White City idle house to inform the prisoners of this and to tell them "be good or be sorry."

A guard captain rushed from the idle house and informed the warden that the "bad" men in the cell block were going to attempt a break over the southeast wall. They already had ropes in place, he said.

The police armed with side arms, riot and tear gas bombs.

At 8 a. m., E. S. T. Colonel R. S. Haurich, in command of the National Guard troops, informed governor Cooper that prison officials, the police and the National Guard were in command of the situation. At that hour, prisoners confined in dormitories were lined up in the yard to march to the mess halls for breakfast.

Armed guards were sent into the prison basement to prevent any attempted underground escape.

Machine guns were trained penitentiary from National Guard headquarters across the street and all prison exits were closely guarded by soldiers.

Indications that force would be employed to bring the convicts under discipline came early today when Warden Thomas issued a statement declaring "this mutiny will be put down".

Leaders of the convicts have declared they seek nothing but the removal of Thomas, whom they charge with brutality, and have insisted they would not resort to violence.

Last night's uproar, a recurrence of similar manifestations of unrest, followed announcement that 40 new guards would be placed on duty today.

Night Captain H. E. Laukhart said the disturbance was as not the result of an escape plot, but that the convicts objected to being locked in their cells.

During the disturbance, windows were broken and doors torn from their hinges. The machine guns were placed on the lawn in front of the penitentiary from where the milling convicts could be seen thru the cell block windows.

Before daylight this morning, convicts were seen pacing their cells in apparent excitement and it was believed they had learned through their mysterious grapevine telegraph that today might climax the week of bedlam that followed the fire.
