CAGLE FACES DISMISSAL AT WEST POINT

Action Expected to Follow Discovery of Grid Star's Marriage in 1928

West Point, N. Y., May 13.—(AP)—Cadet Christian Keener Cagle resigned today from the United States Military Academy after presenting a certificate showing he was married. The resignation was requested by Major General William R. Smith, superintendent of the academy, and was forwarded at once to the War Department at Washington.

Informing today by the Associated Press that records in Gretna, La., indicated that Cadet Cagle was married, General Smith directed that an investigation be made by Colonel M. A. Shockley, post surgeon, in charge of the Cadet hospital where Cagle is convalescing from a foot operation.

Cagle, informed of the situation, gave Colonel Shockley a certificate affirming his marriage, and as soon as this was brought to his attention General Smith requested the Cadet to resign. He acquiesced at once.

West Point, May 13.—(AP)—Immediate dismissal of Christian K. Cagle from the Military Academy was forecast today by army officials following news dispatches confirming reports of the Army football captain's marriage nearly two years ago, in direct violation of West Point regulations.

Academy officials, including Gen. William R. Smith, the commanding officer, were not prepared immediately to take official action or make any statement, but the indications were that Cadet Cagle would be called summarily to account.

Information concerning Cagle's marriage in Gretna, Louisiana, August 26, 1928, contained in an Associated Press dispatch, was the first detailed evidence received at West Point. It was understood that following an investigation of rumors, Cagle had explicitly denied being married.

Marriage by any Cadet is strictly prohibited by the regulations and, after every leave or furlough, he is obliged to sign a certificate guaranteeing he has done nothing in violation of the rules.

It was recalled that Cagle overstayed a Christmas holiday furlough in 1928 and was disciplined by assignment to three months extra guard duty.

New Orleans, La., May 13.—(AP)—Records in the court at Gretna, Jefferson Parish, Louisiana, today revealed that Christian Keener Cagle, the "red headed" army football star, and Miss Marion Munford Halle, a pretty Auburn haired girl of New Roads, La., were married on August 26, 1928.

The marriage was performed by George J. Trauth, justice of the peace of Gretna who went back through his records of the past seven years and located the certificate.

Early gave their age as 23 years. Cagle gave his address as 543 St. Ann Street, New Orleans and his bride's address as Baton Rouge.

Threatens Girl With Gun and Lands in Court

Raleigh, May 13.—(AP)—Marshal Williams, young white man of the Caraleigh section of Raleigh, tried to tell his sweetheart what to do at the point of a pistol but she turned the tables on him.

The youth waylaid Nellie Duncan, whom he had been "keeping company", and threatened with a drawn pistol that he would shoot her unless she promised to stop associating with another man.

Anti-Saloon Chief Terms Prohibition Referenda As Stuffed Rabbits At Probe

Faces Dismissal

Keener Cagle, Army football star, today faced dismissal from West Point following discovery of his marriage in 1928. He is intended resigning to become coach at Mississippi before discovery of the marriage.

Scott McBride Tells Senate Committee of Opposition of His Organization to This Form of Determining Public Sentiment

Washington, May 13.—(AP)—Termining prohibition referenda "stuffed rabbits", F. Scott McBride today outlined to the Senate lobby committee the opposition of the Anti-Saloon League to that means of ascertaining public sentiment on the dry-wet question.

The league superintendent presented a resolution expressing his organization's contention that such referenda are unauthorized by the constitution, legally futile and could have no binding effect.

Senator Blaine of Wisconsin, the only committee member opposed to the dry laws, again was McBride's most persistent questioner on his third day of testimony. Dealing with the league correspondence, he read a letter attributed to Sebastian S. Kresge, the five and ten cent store magnate, which asked for money for the Anti-Saloon League.

The Wisconsin Republican suggested the summoning of Kresge before the committee. Chairman Caraway demurred, saying "we can't summon everybody, let's decide that later."

The investigators continued today in their determination to record how, where and when the Anti-Saloon League functions with F. Scott McBride.

Testifying for the third day, the league superintendent again faced a persistent questioner in Blaine of Wisconsin, the only anti-prohibitionist on the committee.

At the outset, McBride told the committee he did not care to answer further questions concerning his previous assertion that the league was "born of God."

Last week he had taken the position that his organization was of divine origin. Blaine disputed his contention and today asked McBride if he still believed in the "Divine right of Kings."

"I don't care to answer that," McBride replied.

"Every cruel and wicked tyrant in the past has always claimed to be the instrument of God," Blaine commented.

"I don't know that and I don't think you do either," the witness rejoined, only to have the senator come back:

"I do know as a matter of history that those who justified burning at the stake and wicked inquisitions justified them on the ground that they were acting as the instrument of God and even prayers preceded their actions."

Chairman Caraway of the committee interjected that the committee was not interested in personal opinions and the subject was dropped.

Taking a new track, Blaine demanded that the committee summon Justin Steuart, author of a book on Wayne B. Wheeler, former head of the Anti-Saloon League, to ascertain the extent of Wheeler's dry activities.

No immediate action was taken. The Wisconsin wet referred to the 1922 and 1926 prohibition referenda in Illinois, saying the League had not been very effective in preventing drys from voting.

"We are not interested in whether the people thing more of beer than of the constitution," Senator Caraway remarked.

McBride has testified that the league advised Illinois drys not to vote in the referendum.

Answering a question by Caraway as to what appeal was made to drys not to vote in the Illinois, McBride said:

Senate Committee Plans To Carry Campaign Fund Investigation To Chicago

Reprimanded By Teacher, Youth Commits Suicide

Chicago, May 13.—(AP)—Harold Weinstein, 13-year-old school boy, hanged himself in the cellar of his home yesterday after being reprimanded by his school teacher.

An unusually bright student, Harold had never before been criticized for his deportment, his mother said. His offense was recited before being called upon.

His teacher and the assistant principal of the school were summoned to the inquest today.

Three Held for Grand Jury Action

Wilson, N. C., May 13.—(AP)—Three men today were held for a grand jury investigation following the death of Walton Bessette, white farmer yesterday.

An autopsy revealed that Bessette died from the effects of a blow upon the head.

The men held are Van Sharp, Arthur and Ernest Scott.

Sharp, officers said, admits striking Bessette with a pair of pruning shears when Bessette attacked him with a butcher knife.

The four men are alleged to have been at Sharp's home in Oldfield township on a drinking party.

French Aviator Lands At Natal After Flying From Africa With Load Of Mail

Jean Mermoz Makes 1,700 Mile Ocean Trip In 21 Hours and 12 Minutes; To Complete Trip to Rio Janeiro Sometime Tonight

Rio Janeiro, May 13.—(AP)—Bringing with them the first trans-Atlantic air mail to South America, Jean Mermoz, French aviator, and two companions landed at 6:12 a. m. (4:12 a. m. E. S. T.) today at Natal near the northeastern tip of the continent.

The landing completed a flight of about 1,700 miles from St. Louis, which is near the far eastern tip of Africa. It took 21 hours and 12 minutes, more than an hour longer than the aviators had expected would be necessary.

The plane, a postal hydro-plane, left Perpignan France May 2 for St. Louis. When departing at noon yesterday for Natal it picked up airmail which had been brought Saturday night from Paris by plane and took it across the Atlantic, this lap of the European-South American airmail heretofore has been made in fast destroyers.

All was not easy flying for the plane. The first part of its trip was easy, but once near the middle of the journey the aviators radioed that the cabin of their plane was nearly filled with rain which fell during a storm through which they had just passed.

SOLO FLIER STRIVES FOR SPEED MARK

Roscoe Turner to Attempt to Set New Record Between Los Angeles and N. Y.

Wichita, Kans., May 13.—(AP)—Roscoe Turner, flying well behind Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's record, landed here at 10:43 A. M. C. S. T., today to refuel on his one-stop flight for a new speed mark between Los Angeles and New York.

Turner's time for the 1,249 miles to Wichita was 7 hours and 41 min. Colonel Lindbergh, who with Mrs. Lindbergh set a cross-country record over the same course Easter Sunday of 14 hours, 23 minutes and 27 seconds flew from Glendale, Calif. to Wichita in 6 hours, 56 minutes and 10 seconds. Turner was approximately 45 minutes behind the record time.

Los Angeles, May 13.—(AP)—Striving for a new trans-continental speed record for airplanes, Roscoe Turner, Los Angeles pilot, left here at 1:02 a. m., today on a one-stop solo flight to New York.

Turner hopes to better by an hour the mark of 14 hours 23 minutes and 27 seconds set on April 20 by Col. and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh. Like Lindbergh Turner will stop to refuel at Wichita, Kas.

The big cream and red monoplane was loaded with 400 gallons of gasoline. The ship is a high wing monoplane, of the same make as Lindbergh's, but it is powered with a 525-horsepower motor, 100 horsepower greater than the engine of the Lindbergh ship.

The craft taxied down a long runway, getting away slowly but taking the air perfectly. The pilot circled the field once for altitude and then roared away to the east and disappeared beyond the range of beacon lights over the San Gabriel mountains, which border the city.

Government weather reports received shortly before the takeoff said favorable atmospheric conditions prevailed over the great circle route, the generally used path of cross country speed fliers.

Turner said he would cruise at an average speed of 180 miles an hour over the 2,600 mile course. His ship has reached a top speed in tests of slightly more than 300 miles an hour.

OFFER PRIZES DURING TRADE EVENT IN CITY

Merchants to Give Away Prizes During 100-Hour Auto Endurance Drive

Arrangements for the 100 hour endurance drive to be conducted in this city on the week of May 20 as a part of the "Trade in Greenville Campaign" were reported to be moving along nicely today with indications that the event would be one of the most outstanding attractions ever conducted in this city before.

The endurance drive will be made by Roy Roberts, brother of the noted Hap Roberts, who holds the world's record for an endurance drive of 157 hours without sleep. Another feature of the campaign will be the performance of various stunts by Hap Roberts, which includes an escape from a straight jacket and sealed tank.

When Roy Roberts enters the automobile for his drive next Tuesday morning he will be handcuffed to the steering wheel, and will remain in that position until one o'clock the following Saturday afternoon when the one hundred hour drive is scheduled to come to an end.

When the car makes its start, the speedometer will be sealed and different individual business houses will offer prizes for those guessing the number of miles the car covers at different intervals. It is also probably that a grand prize will be offered for the one guessing the total number of miles covered by the driver during the entire trip.

The event will actually get under way next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Hap Roberts will do his straight jacket stunt on one of the principal streets of the city.

In connection with this campaign the merchants are offering special sales which will continue throughout the week.

American Secretary Defends Handiwork of London Naval Conference At Inquiry of Foreign Relations Committee; Declares U. S. Did Not Make Any Hazardous Sacrifice By Cutting Cruiser Program

Washington, May 13.—(AP)—Defending the handiwork of the London naval conference against a pelling succession of questions, Secretary Stimson maintained stoutly before the Senate foreign relations committee today that the United States made no hazardous sacrifice by reducing her building program of big cruisers.

The provisions of the London treaty, he said, were based throughout on the advice of the American Naval experts. Not only did these experts agree that parity was established with Great Britain; he said, but it was after an expert study that the delegation decided to include some smaller cruisers in its program.

"We reached the conclusion," said Stimson, "that this new ship (the 10,000 ton, 8 inch gun cruiser) which had never been tested in battle, was not the one for the United States to put its eggs all in one basket."

"The cruiser has several functions. Some of them can best be done by eight inch cruisers, some of them best by six inch cruisers. When we had divided them into two equal parts we felt we had reached the safe solution."

"We felt that we not only had parity with Great Britain, but in the event of the favored position of having our power distributed between the two classes."

British-American parity had a major place in the day's session. Committee members manifested a particular desire to know whether the treaty negotiated by Mr. Stimson and his colleagues really places the American and British fleets on an equal basis. The secretary insisted stoutly that it does.

Evidence accumulated that the question of parity would bulk large in such opposition as may develop. The administration leaders do not expect that opposition to manage ratification, but were convinced today that much debate is ahead.

To accommodate the crowds which overflowed yesterday's opening session, the committee moved today into a larger hearing room.

Stimson began by saying he intended to take up the strength of the fleets by individual categories. Senator Swanson, Democrat, interposed the first question: He asked if the American delegation considered the "war power" of the fleets or the "commercial protection."

"We took the two fleets," Stimson answered, "and estimated their substantial combat powers."

"Was any consideration given as to whether parity gave ample protection to the commerce of the United States?" persisted Swanson. Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, one of the American delegates, remarked that protection of commerce was "inseparable from other elements of naval warfare and therefore was necessarily considered," Stimson agreed.

Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, wanted to know if Great Britain would not have an advantage by converting her great fleet of commercial ships into fighting craft.

"Try and figure that out," said Stimson. "Let us hear what you would do."

"I am trying to do that," rejoined the Indianan. "I don't understand why we are giving up five of our ten thousand ton cruisers."

The witness insisted the net result was to bring the American navy from a position of "inferiority" to one of "equality." He said it was absolutely impossible to measure the potential wartime strength of commercial vessels.

BREAK GROUND FOR BUILDING NEW CHURCH

Congregation of St. Paul's Church Holds Sunrise Service At Church Site

At 6 a. m., there gathered this morning on the beautiful lot on Fourth street members of the Episcopal church and friends of the congregation for the breaking of the ground in their new building program.

The service began with a procession of the vested choir marching to the north east corner of the lot singing, "Jesus Shall Reign Where'er the Sun."

Rev. Lee Sadler of the Eighth Street Christian church then had the invocation.

Following this the rector, Rev. W. A. Lillycrop read the Scripture of Genesis the 28th chapter ending with the impressive words: "This is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven."

Immediately after the reading of the Lord's prayer the rector read a letter from Mrs. Charles Skinner who had been invited to throw out the first shovel of dirt. Being unable to attend because of the illness of Mr. Stuart Carr in Norfolk, she sent a message of tender love and a prayer for God's blessing upon the undertaking.

Then the rector with a prayer for God's blessing threw out the first shovel of dirt; and he in turn was followed by the heads of each organization who prayed a sentence prayer and then threw out a shovel of dirt in the name of the church group which they represented.

These in turn were: Dr. R. L. Carr, as senior warden; Mr. Chas. O. H. Horne, as superintendent of Sunday school; Mrs. E. B. Ficklen as president of the guild; Mrs. Jennie Howard as student secretary; Miss Hennie Long representing the junior guild; Mrs. Charles White as director of the choir; Mr. P. H. Kasey as director of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew; Miss Imogene Rieks as representative of the Young People's Service League.

Then the vestrymen present, led by W. H. Dall, Jr., and E. B. Ferguson, threw out each a shovel of dirt.

After which, while the choir sang "Christ Is Made the Sure Foundation" each member of the congregation present came forward and threw out a shovel of dirt. These in turn were followed by other friends of the congregation present. Sadler for the Christian church and Rev. Covert, who came bringing greetings from the Immanuel Baptist church.

When this was concluded the entire assembly sang together "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." This was a touching moment for the members of St. Paul's church present who thought of the ties of sacrifice that had enabled the congregation to come to this time of building.

Many of those who have dreamed of St. Paul's church present have departed this life. Yet their efforts were today rewarded. The late Herbert A. White was outstanding in this group. It was to a great extent through his efforts that the present building site was obtained for St. Paul's congregation. And he was lovingly remembered by many present.

At the conclusion of the hymn the rector pronounced the benediction and the workmen were ready to begin to build.

Loses Eye Fighting Fire, Compensated

Raleigh, May 13.—(AP)—A man who lost an eye fighting a forest fire at the summons of a State forest warden has been granted the maximum compensation allowed under the workmen's compensation act.

Matt H. Allen, chairman of the industrial commission, decided that Harold A. Moore of Buncombe county, who was summoned by Warden Everett Bryson to aid in fighting a fire, should receive $1,800 for the loss of his eyes, which occurred while he was fighting the fire, and also that the State should pay his hospital, doctors' and medical bills and provide him with an artificial eye.

A GROWING MENACE

In spite of the efforts of public and private organizations, fire waste is tremendous in America. It is the greatest enemy of social and industrial progress.

In 1913, the loss totaled $203,763,550. By 1926, it had almost trebled, reaching a total of over $560,000,000. In the next year an appreciable reduction was effected, the total being less than $473,000,000, as a result of intensive campaigns to promote carefulness, better building construction and more adequate fire-fighting facilities.

In 1928, only a small reduction was effected and the total exceeded $464,000,000. Loss since then has remained at approximately the same level.

It is evident that a vast amount of educational work remains to be done. Americans fail to realize the economic results of fire. It destroys part of our national wealth and causes unemployment and loss of wages. It can check the growth of communities when men, thrown out of work by fire, must seek employment elsewhere.

Our fire losses can be cut in half at least, according to "Safeguarding America" Against Fire", but this will not come about until the public, realizing the economic waste of fire, learns to build better and practice carefulness in the matter of fire hazards. Our yearly sacrifice of lives and property is inexcusable.

CAN SAVE MUCH

The statement from the Governor that if the counties of the state will retrench and cut expenses wherever possible ten million dollars per year can be saved, is in line with the reduction of the cost of operation in the various institutions of North Carolina who have been notified they must live on less another year.

Individuals and industry are cutting expenses as much as they can to meet the present depression, and in line with the economy, the individuals must also make up their minds to live on less than heretofore.

The old saying that we spend what we make is pretty nearly true for practically every one spends what they make. But when adversity comes, and one cannot get any more they are compelled to cut their expenditures in keeping with their income. The truth of the matter is that every business and every individual should have a budget and live within that budget, and if they will do this, pretty soon they will become adjusted to it, and will be getting along famously. If they will budget their accounts and leave a little over for a rainy day, soon this amount will grow into a competence and they will have money to lend. Then if they save the interest and add it each year to the principal it will be surprising how it will increase.—Wilson Times.

ABOUT TOWN

People who let their dogs trail along behind them on the principal thoroughfares of the city are violating the law. Mayor J. C. Lanier told a defendant in mayor's court the other morning.

The laws of the city require that all dogs be securely tied when they appear on the streets. If they are out of leash they constitute a menace to the public.

Several complaints of dogs running at large and of people disregarding the law in this respect have been made to the police department in the last several weeks, and every effort is being made to improve the condition.

Persons who violate the law will be duly prosecuted, and those who do not wish to subject themselves to this unpleasantness should see that the dogs are kept in their yards and securely leashed when they are brought out on the streets.

Baseball is still being talked by the people of this section, but until now nothing of any definite nature has been accomplished.

The promoters of Greenville are anxious to organize a league composed of home town talent of the various towns of this part of the state, and if lovers of the sport in the other cities would get busy we should be able to organize and begin play sometime in the near future.

If we are going to have this kind of sport for the summer, it is time for something to be done and the promoters should call a meeting and attempt to organize.

If you are one of those desiring the sport, get busy and let your influence count before it is too late.

"We are hopeful of making the endurance ride a great success," a member of the Merchants Association said today, referring to the sensational automobile drive to be made by Hap Roberts here during the week of May 22.

"Hundreds of people will visit the city while the endurance contest is in progress. They will come to see this great performer in action and to witness some of the many tricks which he pulls off from time to time during the hundred hours he is behind the wheel.

"This will be one of the outstanding events in the history of the city, and the public is given a cordial invitation to attend and witness the spectacular performance."

Greenville was honored Sunday afternoon with the holding of the second memorial service to Florence Nightingale ever held in this state. The service was attended by nurses from various towns of the eastern part of the state and proved to be very inspirational.

The life of this great woman is not only an inspiration to the members of her profession but to the masses of people who know what she did in uplifting the cause. She was one of the loyal women who have played an important part in moulding the destiny of the world, and it should be the purpose of young women to follow the path which she has blazed for them.

She came along at a time when the profession of nursing was not regarded in a very exalted light, because of the low character of women who composed the profession, but by the application of splendid principles she lifted the cause from the mire and placed it upon a plane where every nurse should try to keep it.

The world needs more women like Florence Nightingale. Women of character, of a high idea of their moral responsibilities, and the practice of them in their daily walk of life. The road at times may be rocky and the load heavy, but the effort is worth the prize.

Peaches Tighten Grasp On Lead

Charlotte, May 13.—(AP)—Macon Peaches tightened their grip on the Sally League leadership yesterday by trouncing the Augusta Wolves as Dick Hoblitzell's Charlotte Hornets squeezed out a close victory over the Tourist from Asheville.

By triumphing as the Tourists fell before the Hornet attack, the Peaches went into the lead by two full games, the biggest leadership margin either club has held for over a week.

Hitting in the pinches, a department in which the Wolves proved unusually weak for the day, was responsible for the Macon triumph. Sam Agnew's heavy swatters left 13 of their mates stranded on the sacks, with the result that they closed the day on the short end of a 9 and 4 score.

Two hurlers worked for each club, Augusta using Schuman and Harris, the Peaches calling on Pattison and Alsbrook.

Charlotte fans were treated to a hurling duel between the league's two aces, Earl Brown of the Hornets and Earl Mattingly of the Tourists. Each allowed eight hits, Brown getting a 5 to 4 decision as a result of his supporters bunching their hits.

Art Schacht, New Bee infielder, saved the day with a great fielding stunt, tossing out spiers at first in the ninth inning while sprawled on the wet turf with the tying run on base.

Tallante of the Hornets and Smith of the Tourist banged out homers.

Greenville blanked Columbia behind Al Yeargin's great mound performance. He surrendered but three hits, and did not allow a Comer to get past first until two were down in the ninth. The final tally was 9 to 0.

Walker topped the Spinner attack, smashing out three singles and a double.

Duke Will Play Davidson Today

Charlotte, May 13.—(AP)—Davidson College's Wildcat baseball club was host this afternoon to a Devil nine from Duke University.

A young collegian named Kugler, who throws balls for Davidson, held Duke to six bingles yesterday when the Wildcats blanked the Devils 5 to zero at Durham, one of the best performances on the collegian diamond this season.

And it might well be said that the Duke swatters have stuffed tobacco leaves in the holes of their bats for this afternoon's fracas.

The University of North Carolina doubled the score on Wake Forest in the other collegian diamond contest yesterday. The score was 6 to 3. Wake Forest tries its luck against the Technicians and Cotton and Tobacco Planters from North Carolina State College this afternoon on the Wake Forest diamond.

The State underlings engaged Campbell College in the only other Athletic event among the collegians today. It is a baseball game.

GIANTS BEAT CHIEF RIVALS IN NATIONAL

The New York Giants have tangled for the first time this season with their chief rivals, Chicago and Pittsburgh, and the honors must go to John McGraw's fence-busters beyond dispute.

On the crest of a terrific hitting streak, the Giants rode rough shod over both the Pirates and the Cubs, taking three games out of four each of the two formidable western clubs. The net result was to give the Giants a firm grasp on the league leadership.

During their last, eight games with the Pirates and Cubs as opponents, McGraw's sluggers have pounded out 121 hits, including an even dozen home runs, and scored 78 runs. The average per game was 9.2-3 runs and 15.1-8 hits.

It remained for the final game of the series with the Cubs to provide most of the fireworks. The Giants won 14 to 12. Nine home runs and six by the Cubs. This came within one of the record for two teams by the Cardinals and Phillies in 1923 and the Cubs' total also lacked but one of the best major league mark for one team. The Cubs equalled the record made by Pittsburgh in 1924 when they pounded out four homers in the seventh inning.

Beating Brooklyn, 6 to 2, Pittsburgh not only broke a four game losing streak but created a triple tie for third place with the Fobins and Cincinnati Reds as their companions. Ervin Brame gave up only six hits while the Pirates collected 11 off Dudley. The Phils tied for the score in the eighth on Klein's double and Whitney's single but the Reds came back in their half of the same frame to score the winning run on Sukeforth's triple and Allen's sacrifice fly.

George Pigras turned in the best pitching performance in the American league when he allowed the Tigers only three hits and hurled the Yankees to a 7 to 0 win. Lou Gehrig hit his sixth homer of the year in the sixth. The victory closed the Yanks into fourth place. The Boston Red Sox five-game winning streak was halted by St. Louis, 3 to 2 in 10 innings. Lisenbee gave the Browns only four hits in the first nine innings but was reached for a single, double and a sacrifice fly in the tenth.

The Athletics maintained a half-game lead over Washington for first place by trouncing Cleveland 13 to 7. The Mackmen knocked Clint Brown out of the box in the second inning with a five-run attack and kept up the charge against three other Indian pitchers. It was Brown's first defeat.

Bob Burke allowed only five hits as Washington trounced Chicago, 13 to 2. Goose Goslin led the attack with two doubles and a single while Sam Rice hit safely in his 23rd consecutive game.

HARKER'S ISLAND

By JIMMIE GUTHRIE
 What a beautiful hour is this, while I am getting pick ups in line. I am sure beyond a doubt to drift out and over the land of my boyhood days which swerve in a half moon shape from the farthest end of Shackleford Point down the sea-washed shores of Cape Lookout. 'Twas there among the glittering hills that the little red school house stood, 'twas there that my love grew for books and more books, it was there that my father who was a school teacher died, myself being very young. How well do I remember that little red school house which stood near the old graveyard wherein so many cold bodies have been placed, where now their bones are glistening white and moulden away on the sand. 'Twas there as I recall that the love of many waxed cold for their old home place, because of the great storm sweeping that portion of the coast, drowning fourteen Atlanticians and doing much damage to our homes.

Later we became more anxious for a place of refuge, a place on which we could pitch our tents and live in love and peace, thus, we flocked to Harker's Island same as bees do when finding a tree on which they wish to alight, and we grew. In perfect harmony with all we worked and worked until about January 1915 when the purse seiners grew so fierce in catching food fish and glutting all markets beyond expression that we were held spell-bound almost facing starvation.

However, we were assisted by the Fish Commission who were about to be overthrown by this great and powerful body of purse seiners. When to our great astonishment, when we were at our lowest ebb a real relief came. As I remember our relief appeared from a stranger who at that time lived in New Bern; his name was and is now R. A. NUNN. I think he is a judge now, any how if he is or is not he certainly ought to be, he knows so well just how to handle a puzzle.

I can boastfully proclaim to the world that we are not a people of ingratitude. We always remember the man who placed the bread in our reach, that our children may have the privilege of the highest of schools. Come on, Mr. Judge Nunn, we're going to vote solid for you, we know you, we can trust you' cause you saved us in January 1915 and we grew—yes we have grown to such proportions that we can demand our proportional part in the world and get it.

And we grew, we're growing and such men shall have the praise and glory.—Beaufort News, 20 March, 1930.

Judge Nunn was appointed by the Governor and then nominated and elected by the Democratic party to be overthrown by the late Judge Horton. In the Democratic primary next June he will be a candidate for renomination as Judge for a full term in the office. (Political Advertisement)

GARDEN CLUB MAKES INTERESTING PLANS FOR THE NEW YEAR

If the plans of the Garden Club meet with the approval of the citizens of the town, Greenville will soon be a veritable rose garden. At a recent meeting of the club held in the garden of Mrs. J. B. James, the new chairman, and possibly inspired by the beautiful red roses in her garden, the members and friends present voted to make the red rose the emblem of the club and to encourage every person in Greenville to plant a clinging rose, red in color and visible from the street. Other interesting plans, such as flower shows, window box arrangements, growing of potted plants for the club house and for bazaars, a fountain for Greenville as well as the planting of more trees on our streets were discussed and the chairman was asked to appoint committees to assist her in furthering these plans.

Mrs. J. H. B. Moore presided at the business session. The chairman for the past year, Mrs. E. B. Allbrook, told of some roadside planting undertaken by the club but not completed. She presented these plans to Mrs. James and promised her assistance in carrying on.

Beautiful pansies were presented each guest upon arrival by Misses Nina James and Marjorie Sugg. These flowers were the gift of Mesdames Moore and Randolph. The Garden Club appreciates the interest and thoughtfulness of these loyal members who are ever ready to respond on all club occasions with their flowers and their time.

The club voted to send flowers to the Episcopal church on Sunday morning, May 4, in memory of Mrs. Sallie Southall Cotten, it being the anniversary of her death, the flowers to be taken to the cemetery after church services.

Punch was served throughout the afternoon by Mrs. W. L. Western. She was assisted by Mrs. D. M. Clark and Mrs. H. L. Rivers. —Reported.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED BY U. D. C. OF FARNVILLE

Harrell, Methodist minister, delivered a short address, praising the valor and courage of the southern soldiers, displayed in the task of rebuilding a devastated land, as well as on the battlefield. He lauded the spirit shown since the civil war by the south, which has twice sent its gallant sons to fight for others. He closed with a tribute to the Daughters and their efforts to preserve the truths and treasures of their great heritage.

After a prayer offered by R. A. S. Venable of the Presbyterian church, the graves of the veterans in the two cemeteries of the town, were decorated with wreaths of flags.

Local Rotes Pay Tribute to Mother

Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, was the principal speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary club last night. He spoke on the subject of "Mother," the theme being in keeping with the program which had been arranged with the intention of paying tribute to mother. The program was in charge of W. H. Rogers, Jr.

Mr. Lillycrop spoke of the beautiful character of mother, her ideals and the glory of the sacrifices she had made for the advancement of the human race. He said that she was the guardian angel of the American home, and that it was largely through her efforts that the world had been able to reach its high plane of living.

Aside from the address, the Rotes enjoyed the usual supper and song program, and a solo number, "Mother of Mine," which was sung by Mrs. Herbert Waldrop, accompanied by Mrs. R. A. Tyson, Jr.

PRaises WORK OF OLD VETS

Dr. R. H. Wright Delivered Memorial Day Address Here Last Saturday

Dr. R. H. Wright, president of the East Carolina Teachers College, delivered the Memorial address in this city last Saturday. He said in part:

"We are delighted to have you with us as our guests this morning. I realize you must realize, that the day is hot and people are tired of being talked to (and some folks are getting tired of being talked about). I am delighted to see you with us this morning, on this beautiful May day, with all that it carries with it, and I am delighted to have you backed up by the finest body of students that you have been seen of known. I know that you are interested in the youth of today.

When one stops to think of what has taken place in our land in the last sixty-five years, when our minds go back to sixty-five years ago (nine hardly can go back so far, but very nearly), and realize the conditions that confronted us in this nation and what was going on at that time and when one grasps the picture of what has been done in that sixty-five years in the good old State of North Carolina and the Southern Confederacy and in every state of the Union one is proud to be a citizen living today and to pause for a little while to pay tribute to those who have brought these changes. The youth of today is the finest type of youth the nation has ever produced. The youth of today is the product of the generation that preceded that youth. The fathers of the boys and girls today have done a great service, have done a great service to the State, to the nation, and have made the world a much better place for human beings to live in.

Civilization has advanced more rapidly during this period of sixty-five years than it ever has advanced before in any two centuries. This was brought about by the courage, valor, determination, and ambition in the spirit of the men and women who made this nation what it is and who were here in that great conflict that ended sixty-five years ago. This generation has the profoundest respect and regard, yes, the keenest kind of love for those people who have done this wonderful work; and when people say to you that youth does not respect age they are just telling the old, old story that has been told generation after generation, that in all likelihood has always been told—at least it has been found on a tablet inscribed five thousand years ago. Always, people have been saying that about the boys and girls, but it is these boys and girls who began. You and I bring civilization will soon carry on what we have up to a certain stage and youth must pick it up and carry it on—and they will. I know you people who are guests today are proud to see what the youth is doing, to see with what enthusiasm and earnestness they are going about their work.

We people of North Carolina have increased in wealth more than five hundred per cent. North Carolina has grown and developed until today we have more boys and girls graduating from the high schools than the total number enrolled thirty years ago. Colleges have multiplied and grown and the youth of today are working to attain that kind of education that will enable them to take up the burden you and I will soon lay down and leave to them; that of making this old world a better place for human beings to live.

The whole world appreciates the spirit of those folks who made so great a sacrifice for their country and when our boys went across the sea three thousand miles from home to make this world a safe place for democracy and a better place in which to live they demonstrated to the world that they still have the spirit you gave to them. We are proud to look over the world and see a number of things that have come to pass and stop and pay respect to those who have made it possible.

"When I was a boy it was hard to make a living. Times were hard year after year. But we are accomplishing more now. We have better educational facilities and I believe the level is going to be raised and this old world passed on as a more glorious world because we believe in the great Teacher who came to us and revealed to us that it is truth that makes men free; because we realize that whatever is worthwhile comes to us through sacrifice. Men and women must be willing to offer up even the life if need be that this world may be made better. Many sacrifices have been made and are being made from the battlefield—in the home by the women, out in the field of business. Only a few days ago the newspapers reported the case of a Doctor in the health department of the Federal Government who has offered himself as a test for this new sickness commonly known as parrot fever. It is true that sacrifice brings something worthwhile to the world; that great spirit that is willing to make the sacrifice when the band is not playing, when there is no excitement and no cheering. The spirit that makes one willing to lay down his life if need be to protect his fellowman and make the world better for him is a wonderful spirit and we thank God for the people who have given that inheritance to this generation—and we got it from you. "Greater love hath no man—" This is our inheritance and we realize that it is rich, exceedingly rich because of those who have gone before. It is a joy and happiness to us to let you know that we feel this way.

"We are delighted to have you here." Following the address Dr. M. B. Massey was awarded a Service Cross as he is a lineal descendant of a Confederate Veteran and also served in the World War.

At one o'clock the veterans were invited to the college dining room which was decorated with Confederate flags and red-and-white flowers.

A delightful lunch was served and every courtesy shown them to make their day a happy one. After lunch Miss Gorrell made pictures of all the veterans. This delighted their very hearts and they left the campus singing the praises of all those who had helped to make the day such a happy success.

DOWELL WILL SPEAK IN CITY NEXT TUESDAY

Secretary of the State Merchants to Talk On Subject of Sales Tax
The next quarterly meeting of the Merchants Association, preceding the state convention, will be held next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Rotary building at which time supper will be served. Prominent guests will include Dalls Holoman and Willard L. Dowell, president and secretary respectively, of the state organization, and R. G. Trospier, secretary of the Greensboro association. Dowell will deliver the principal address of the evening and will discuss the Sales Tax question, which will be one of the principal topics of consideration at the next session of the State Legislature. He is better versed upon this particular subject than any other man in the state. The secretary of the local association today invited the various candidates for the House of Representatives and the Senate to be the guests of the association to hear Mr. Dowell discuss the question. Mr. Holloman will speak briefly on the State convention which convenes at Wrightsville Beach on the June 17, for two days' conference. Mr. Trospier is scheduled to talk on "Sliding Scale in the Assessment of Dues." Owing to the fact that J. H. Blount, first vice-president of the state organization, is in line for the presidency of the State organization, the local committee which Curtis Perkins is chairman, is putting forth special effort to have a large delegation from the local association in attendance.

Rotes to Gather At Salem May 15

Announcement of the coming of Almon E. Roth, business manager of Leland Stanford University California, to the annual convention of the Fifty-seventh District of Rotary International in Winston-Salem May 15 and 16, has been made by the program committee at the same time, it was stated that plans for the gathering are practically complete and that there is every promise for a highly interesting and successful meeting. Mr. Roth is one of the best known figures in International Rotary and his appearance on the program is expected to add much interest to the 1930 convention. He is a past district governor, past international director and is at present on the community service committee. Very few changes have been made since the original program was published. The local committees working with representatives of the district organization, which is headed by Henry R. Dwire, of Winston-Salem, district governor, have put in some hard work on their assignments and every detail will be in readiness for the arrival of the vanguard of delegates and other visitors Wednesday. The entire community is interested in the approaching conventions and the Rotary Club will have the whole citizenship with it in welcoming their fellow members. The ladies are to be here in large numbers, according to reports coming to convention headquarters and special arrangements are being made for entertaining them.

TOLD DAUGHTER TO TRY CARDUI

Mother Had Taken It and Thought It Would Help Weak Young Woman.
Elizabeth, Ind.—Mrs. C. O. Sutton, of this place, writes as follows, describing her experience in the use of Cardui: "My mother first recommended Cardui to me. I was weak and could not do my work. "I had pains in my back and side. It seemed like when I would get up, I would drag around to do my work, and had bad headache. "I seemed to need a strength builder, so my mother told me to try Cardui. She had taken it herself and had found it a good medicine. "I took several bottles of Cardui and it helped me very much. I felt stronger and was able to do my work without any trouble. I rested well at night and had a good appetite. I think Cardui is a good medicine." Many other women have reported that they began taking Cardui on their mother's advice, for this medicine has been in use so long its real worth is known by several generations of women.
