

TWO HUNDRED ARRESTED IN CRIME DRIVE

Chicago Police Begin Roundup of Bad Men After Series of Murders

Chicago, June 3.—(AP)—An epidemic of murder—eight in three days, with six persons dangerously wounded—today was treated with the police panacea—an intensive, city-wide roundup of bad men. More than 200 persons, including three who are listed among the crime commission's "public enemies," had been arrested at dawn, with police squads still employed throughout the city. Even as the squads spread over the city, guns blazed again; this time at the rear of the fashionable Belmont Hotel, Belmont and Sheridan Road.

Several persons saw the flash of the guns in the North Side alley and heard the shots. Guests in the hotel were awakened by the roar of the guns; but no victim was found. It was a gun attack like the one last week in which the victim, after being shot down, was carried away by his attackers. A policeman reported seeing an automobile racing down Belmont Avenue shortly after the shots were heard at night, a man's form slumped in the seat beside the driver, and the tonneau filled with other men.

Police Commissioner Russell ordered the roundup of gangsters, hoodlums and suspicious characters, concentrated his men in the Sicilian sections.

Among the 200 arrested as first fruits of the roundup were Jack McGurn (called the machine gunner of the Capone gang); James Belcastro, and Rocco Faneli—three "public enemies."

Deputy Commissioner Stege's investigation of the gun outbreak led to the discovery that gang leaders recently have been tapping the telephone wires of each other, listening in on each other's plans and this being able to "get the jump" on their rivals.

Kinston Minister To Speak Before Woman's Council

At the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Council, tomorrow at the Eighth Street Christian church, Dr. Minor Lee Bates, for 25 years president of Hiram College, and now pastor of the Gordon Street Christian church, Kinston, will be the principal speaker. He will be attended by a delegation from the Kinston church which is contemplating setting up a Woman's Council.

Besides the other items on the program, including the regular luncheon at the church, the pastor, Rev. Lee Sadler, will have present an old book of records containing the history of the church and many items of personal interest to those who are identified with this congregation. Mr. Sadler will use this old record book as the basis of an address on the subject, "The Progress We Have Achieved, Some Mistakes We Have Made, and the Challenge of Today and Tomorrow."

All the ladies of the church are urged to be present. One feature of the program will be the charter members of the church who will be present and introduced to the congregation. All charter members of the church, whether men or women, who can attend are invited to do so.

Final Vesper Service Held At the College

Inspiring in every way was the Y. W. C. A. vesper service conducted by the student body of East Carolina Teachers College on June 1, at 6 p. m. The processional came through the woods singing "Day is Dying in the West," and took its place around the outdoor stage on West campus. The program was the formation of a living House of Comradeship. It is an honor to be chosen by the student body as a stone in the Friendship House. Just before the close of the vesper tapes was played from beyond the campus hill and was echoed by a sentinel farther on. As the national Y. W. C. A. hymn, "Follow the Glean," was sung, the processional quietly marched back through the woods to the dormitories.

Those students who were singled out this year for honors in the vesper were:

Leader, Evelyn Jennings; Love, Hannah Turnage; Friendliness, Jeannette Sessions. She has held this honor for three years; Cooperation, Grace Gardner; Service, Leah Goodwin; Sincerity, Bessie Griggs; Loyalty, Kay Lee Cloaninger; Trust, Grace Bazemore; Courage, Janie Glaw Hardee; Joy, Gladys Swindell; Sympathy, Doris Woodard; Understanding, Beulah Lassard; Helpfulness, Lella Ellen Belk.

LIQUOR BOAT IS SEIZED BY COASTGUARD

Norfolk, Va., June 3.—(AP)—Laden with whiskey, a one-time American sub-chaser seized off the Virginia coast, was tied up at the coast guard base here today and her crew of twelve were in custody pending federal investigation.

The vessel, now named the "Metmuel," was believed to be of French registry. One thousand cases of supposedly Bourbon was aboard.

Report was made to coast guard headquarters by Boatswain C. F. Gardner, commander of the CG-22, the cutter that seized the Metmuel, that the boat was flying no flag and was only seven miles off Paramore Banks when overhauled about midnight Sunday.

Garrison said that her papers were made out in French and that being unable to translate them to learn if they were legal, he decided to bring her into port. The former sub-chaser is supposed to have loaded her cargo at St. Pierre, Miquelon, but her destination was not determined when she docked here last night.

Albert Flahant, master of the craft, denied to officials that he was only seven miles off the coast, otherwise refusing to discuss the matter.

No charges were brought against Flahant or any of the members of the ship's crew awaiting further investigation. Court action will be necessary to determine whether the vessel will be forfeited.

Denies Petition For Ten Percent Valuations Cut

Raleigh, June 3.—(AP)—The State Board of Equalization finished its work of apportioning the $4,950,000 school aid fund last night and today Leroy Marton, secretary, was engaged in finally checking all figures before announcing amounts each county will get next school year.

There are "few material changes," P. H. Johnson, a member of the board, said today.

The board worked all of last week in preparing the division of the fund for this fall.

It was understood that the request for a 10 per cent cut in valuations by 19 northwestern counties had been denied but that some of them would get slightly larger amounts of aid than they received last year.

Fake Bonds Being Marketed in N. C.

Raleigh, June 3.—(AP)—It's been more than a decade since there has been any Imperial Russian Government, but bonds of that empire are being marketed in North Carolina at this time, the State Capital Issues Department has found.

Beautifully engraved documents with lettering on one side in Russian and the other in French are being unloaded on the people of the state, Director Carl K. Hill said.

One specific example of actual purchase and numerous reports from prospective purchasers have been received by Director Hill, who said neither the bonds nor the salesmen handling them are licensed in this state—and also, remember, he said, there has been no Imperial Russian Government for 14 years.

Bishop Cannon Informs Lobby Committee He Did His Best By Prohibition

Declares He Is No Lobbyist in the Popular Sense, But That He Used Every Christian Means To Promote Cause of Dry Law

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—Protesting that he had acted "as a private citizen," Bishop James Cannon, Jr., told the Senate Lobby committee today it had no right to ask him about his activities as head of the Virginia Anti-Smith campaign in 1928.

Asked in particular about organization of the anti-Smith movement at the famous Asheville meeting, the Southern Methodist leader, fresh from exonerations at the hands of his church conference, put it up to the committee itself to decide whether he had not grounds for objecting.

For the time being, the question was unsettled, as committee members argued with the witness. Previously he had testified freely as to his work as head of the Southern Methodist board which supports prohibition.

But when the questioning verged to the 1928 campaign, he said: "This attempt on the part of this committee to go beyond its powers and to investigate my anti-Smith activities is clearly not only political but personal and because I believe it to be an effort to attack me and in some way impair my influence, the wet and Roman Catholic press have been doing for nearly two years, I must decline to admit the jurisdiction of this committee over either my political or personal activities."

The prepared statement in which he voiced his objection did not touch directly on the charges but to properly report the expenditures of the anti-Smith organization.

Bishop Cannon informed the committee that he was no lobbyist, in the popular sense, but that he gave his best effort to promote prohibition "by every legitimate Christian means."

He said he seldom sought to use personal suasion with members of Congress, and rarely interested himself in appointments to office. Asked whether he or the Southern Methodist Board of which he is head took part in the election of members of Congress, he replied: "Oh, we have done nothing aside from sending out literature. We have taken no part in elections."

"You took no part in the 1928 election?" asked Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana.

"I have taken a part in every election since I have become of age as a citizen. We simply sent out statements of the church and the board. As to getting into particular fights I did not, except perhaps in my own state."

"But you were active in the 1928 election, were you not, Bishop?" "A little more active than usual."

The Bishop said the annual budget of the board ran around $15,000 or $16,000 a year, but that he himself received no salary from the board.

The slender church leader sat back comfortably in his chair as he testified. His bespectacled, deep-lined face showed the strain of his long years of active work, and he appeared almost ill.

Although the vigor of his replies was unimpaired, he leaned on a crutch as he entered the committee room and advanced to the table.

The committee room was packed when Senator Walsh, Democrat, of Montana, the acting chairman, began the questioning. First of all, Cannon asked that the letter he sent to the committee be placed in the Record, to show that he had asked for the opportunity to appear.

Former Grid Star Gets Divorce From Wife of 6 Months

Portsmouth, Ohio, June 3.—(AP)—A decree divorcing Roy (Father) Lumpkin, former Georgia Tech football star, from his bride of six months, Mrs. Edith Dopps Lumpkin, was on record here today.

Mrs. Lumpkin obtained the divorce and restoration of her maiden name yesterday on grounds of gross neglect and cruelty. The former Georgia Tech star who since college days has played professional football with the Portsmouth Spartans, is now in Texas.

NEGRO VOTERS QUESTIONED AT CAPITAL CITY

Gatling Withdraws Challenges Against Over Fifty Negroes At Hearing Today

Raleigh, June 3.—(AP)—Challenges against more than 50 negroes as to their registration as voters "because they are negroes" was withdrawn today by Bart M. Gatling, Wake county manager for the senatorial campaign of F. M. Simmons, as the names were called at the first challenge hearings in connection with the question of eligibility of about 300 Wake county negroes.

The challenges against the more than half a hundred negroes who registered to vote in the primary Saturday were withdrawn by Mr. Gatling without questioning the qualifications of the prospective Democratic voters.

Election officials also overruled the challenges of about 25 other negroes when the registrants qualified as members of the Democratic party.

There were about 100 registrants present at the challenge hearings this morning and precinct officials said that hearings would continue this afternoon and on election day. (Continued on page four)

Insane Criminals Escape After Threatening Life Of Hospital Supervisor

Thirteen Men Armed With Knives and Razors, Make Break From Michigan Institution After Imprisoning Guards; Two Recaptured

Ionia, Mich., June 3.—(AP)—Thirteen insane criminals, five of them slayers, armed themselves with knives and razors, imprisoned two guards, threatened the night supervisor with death and escaped from the state hospital for criminal insane early today.

Two of the fugitives were recaptured on the institution within a few miles while city, county and state officers engaged in a widespread search for the others.

Before leaving the institution the inmates opened cells releasing 24 prisoners but none of the others joined in the break. They also cut telephone wires.

Dr. Perry C. Robertson, superintendent of the hospital, blamed the break on the limited facilities which made it necessary to confine 18 men with dangerous reputations in a ward, rather than in separate cells. The night supervisor, Gene Owen, was called to the ward on the third floor by U. S. Davis and Bert Hill, guards, at 2:30 a. m., after the latter had been told by an inmate

YOUNGFARMER IS VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Herman Heath Fatally Injured When Caught Beneath Burning Car

Pinned beneath his car which caught fire after plunging over a ten-foot embankment near Greenwood cemetery last night, Herman Heath, young farmer, who resided on the Washington road about two miles from Greenville, was so badly injured that he died while on the way to the local hospital.

The accident occurred as the young man came down the curve on the hill above the cemetery. He was believed to have lost control of the car, and plunged over the embankment into the swampland below while attempting to right the machine. The car caught fire and the young driver was badly burned before being rescued by passing motorists. His chest was also badly crushed.

Funeral services will be conducted from his late home tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. Turner, evangelist. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Pall bearers will be: Frank Brooks, James Spight, Lewis Williams, L. W. Edwards, Alex Speight, J. R. Williams, Frank and Nathan Stokes and Homer South.

The victim of the accident was 22 years of age, the son of Mattie Edwards and Benjamin Heath. He was a native of Pitt county, and was married two years ago to Miss Nora Allen, who with one son, Herman Heath, Jr., survive the union. He is also survived by two brothers, Scott and Roscoe Heath, and three sisters, Misses Helen, Alice May and Julia Frances.

Hillman Delivers Finals Sermon At Farmville School

Farmville, June 2.—With the annual baccalaureate sermon by Rev. E. L. Hillman, pastor of the Methodist church of Greenville, the closing exercises of the Farmville High School began in the auditorium Sunday morning. Mr. Hillman took as his text the 3rd chapter of Ezra, 11th to the 13th verses, the theme of the sermon being "Arise and Build."

He urged the young people to take all the good lessons out of their past and use them as the foundation for their future lives and to start right, so that they would never have to change their course in life, and above all, to put in the midst of their building an altar to God, and to use this altar daily.

Beautiful music was rendered by a choir made up of representatives of the various churches with accompaniment by Mrs. Haywood Smith. Diplomas will be awarded to the graduating class on Monday night.

Sixty Gallons Of Booze Found Under Coal Pile

Asheville, N. C., June 3.—(AP)—Large coal piles hanging around people's houses now that hot weather is here created suspicion. Officers visited J. C. Glover at his home after they had found him with two gallons of liquor in his car. But a search proved futile. The place was barren of booze.

Then the police saw a coal pile and tracks leading to it. Burning so much coal in hot weather? They thought and dug in. There wasn't as much coal as they thought for under the pile rested 66 gallons of liquor.

Officers terminated their visit by arresting Glover's wife also.

Governor Speaks At Negro College

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 3.—(AP)—Speaking before a negro audience for the first time since his inauguration, Governor C. Max Gardner today delivered the annual commencement address at Winston-Salem Teachers College.

The address, impressive and heard by a large audience of both races, and subsequent presentation of diplomas and degrees brought the exercises to a close.

Sixteen were candidates for degrees, 39 for normal diplomas and 35 for diplomas at summer school.

Graf Zeppelin Crossing Atlantic Ocean On Way To Her Port In Germany

Grey Veteran of the Skies Left Lakehurst Last Night On Return Trip From Visit to South America

Lakehurst, N. J., June 3.—(AP)—Grey veteran of air-flung trails through the sky, the Graf Zeppelin, her motors singing a deep and solemn farwell, was headed out over the Atlantic ocean today for the seventh time.

The giant ship started on her homeward journey at 9:12 P. M. (E.S.T.) and at 10 o'clock was passing over New York City. At 1:10 A. M. she reported in a radio message, she was passing over Nantucket lightship, off the Massachusetts coast, about 215 miles from New York. Nantucket light is the last marker off the American coast for Trans-Atlantic ships.

The Zeppelin on her trip to Friedrichshafen, Germany, plans a stop at Seville, Spain, which her commander expected to reach in fifty hours. She also stopped at Seville on her flight to this country via Brazil.

A few minutes before she rose gently last night into a sky so blue and spangled with stars so golden that the effects was like a backdrop in a theatre, her commander indicated that the end of the Graf's career was in sight.

By a year from next fall, said Dr. Hugo Eckener, he hopes to have three big ships, each able to carry 24 passengers and 20 tons of mail and freight, sailing on schedule across the Atlantic.

And by that time, he added, the Graf Zeppelin "can be put in alcohol and preserved."

He said it with a smile on his weatherbeaten face and a shrug of his broad, heavy shoulders. And then he went down to march ahead of his ship as they wheeled her out of the hangar.

A gusty wind, varying from eight to eleven knots, was blowing as the Zeppelin was wheeled out. Only the new Mobile mooring mast made it possible to move her.

Once a gust caught her broadside as they were nosing her about into the wind, before releasing her from the mast, and then ground crew had to hold on for dear life.

The gust died down, however, and a few moments later she rose, slowly and steadily, hung for a moment against the horizon as her motors started, and then plowed off into the blue.

Officers visited J. C. Glover at his home after they had found him with two gallons of liquor in his car. But a search proved futile. The place was barren of booze.

GREATER CITY TO BE SHOWN BY CENSUS

Commercial Report Includes Suburban Sections of Various Cities

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—A new and modern concept of a city—that it is the sum of itself and all its suburbs, commercially speaking—has brought an avalanche of requests for announcements by the Census Bureau of "greater thus-and-so."

These letters may result in a separate listing of Greater Miami, Greater Cleveland, Greater Louisville, Greater San Francisco, and others so that the city of today may be considered from its "trade territory" aspect as well as according to its geographical boundary lines and political entity.

Census Director William M. Sauter today said he intended to give the cities the advantage of announcements of the "larger community" which indicates the "buying power" insofar as it is possible for him to take such action.

The importance attached to census totals was shown by a letter from a city so small it could not aspire to the term "greater," but whose chamber of commerce stationery evidenced local pride—Dalhart, Texas, which was pleading to have "Kendrick's Addition" counted.

"Including Kendrick's Addition Dalhart will exceed 5,000—this will give us opportunity to accomplish many projects that otherwise would be of necessity have to wait another ten years," the letter read.

The "trade territory" theory of cities was precipitated rather violently into the 1930 census by the bitter argument which arose among the southern cities over the "Greater Atlanta" census figure claimed as Atlanta's population under the act of August 17, 1929, by the Georgia Legislature. This act added to Atlanta the boroughs of Avondale Estates, College Park, Decatur, East Point and Hopeville, without destroying their political entities and police powers.

Louisville, Kentucky, among cities protesting this action, argued she would have to reach across the Ohio river into the state of Indiana to put herself on an equal footing with Atlanta in annexation of suburbs—and obvious impossibility.

Washington, D. C. was mentioned by the census supervisor as another city penalized by insurmountable boundary barriers. The capital city cannot claim credit for much of her growth of the past decade, since it has been in residential suburbs in the states of Virginia and Maryland.

"And yet for practical purposes, it's all Washington," said Stewart.

Elijah B. Koonce Dies at Home Here

Elijah B. Koonce, 57, died at his home near the cotton mill yesterday morning after a long illness. Funeral services were conducted from his late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and burial will be made at Cherry Hill cemetery. He is survived by several children.

R. D. W. CONNOR MAKES FINALS ADDRESS HERE

Degrees Conferred Upon Graduates At Closing of Teachers College

Dr. R. D. W. Connor of the history department of the University of North Carolina in delivering the twenty-first commencement address before the graduates of East Carolina Teachers College on June 2, displayed his thorough familiarity with the history of his state and manifested a deep belief in the ideals of past educators. Dr. Connor himself, an educational leader in the present-day progress of our state, can well take his place in the annals of the advancement of our schools.

"Two types of men," he stated, "have contributed to our state's progress. There are the dreamers who plan, but lack the power to convince practical men of their dreams; there are the realists, or practical men who plan and build their plans but do not see far into the future. The building of a state requires the genius of both types."

"The dream of early pioneers has come true in present North Carolina. We are the envy of our neighbors. We boast today of good schools, excellent highways, modernized agriculture and flourishing industries from the mountains to the sea. The dreamers and realists clashed in the early conventions of North Carolina over the educational clause in our constitution. The realists testified that the state was at war, men were poor, and taxes were already high. The dreamers replied that a provision for education was the only sure foundation for our new state; that an educated citizenship meant progress. Thanks to those people who had a vision of the future.

"The note of discouragement that is sounded everywhere today in North Carolina is not justified. Periods of recession are always followed by periods of expansion. Recession only tests the true worth of a people. For seventy-five years the dreamers of North Carolina led by Archibald D. Murphy dreamed and planned. During that time the realists voted down everything in connection with education. John M. Morehead was a leader who aided in the development of schools and the establishment of industry. The tragedy of the sixties swept away the work of a generation and the state was left prostrate and bankrupt. Not until 1890 did she attain the level of her capital wealth. The staunch souls of that period did not surrender to the pessimism of the moment. They set themselves with relentless courage to the great task of rebuilding and reconstruction. They worked in the shadow of defeat and poverty and tried to bring about again the conditions that Calvin H. Wiley was responsible for before the Civil War. The new state was founded on the principles of an educated citizenship. Kemp Battle and Zebulon Vance revived the spirit of hope. Thomas Jarvis reversed the policy of a century and withdrew the funds from railroads to place them in natural resources and schools.

"However, one hundred and two years had passed before the state realized that fully one-half of our youth was composed of girls who were to be our future home-builders. The farmers who composed the convention at that time stressed the need for female education, and with cotton at four cents a pound, in spite of that, found money to establish North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro.

"The character of a people may be judged by the men whom it honors. Vance, Melver and Aycock stand as markers in the road to educational heights. Once in an age there comes a man in whom the architect and the builder are combined. Governor Aycock was just such a man who turned his dreams into a reality. To him the road to prosperity led through the schoolroom.

"Since 1900 our state has reached vast peaks of achievement. More than fifty charitable and corrective agencies have been established; our state rivals Massachusetts in textiles; she leads Michigan in the furniture field; with the exception of Texas we lead the South in agriculture; our tobacco markets and their standing are unsurpassed. We have transformed North Carolina from a Jimson weed to a crimson rambler. Our illiteracy has been reduced from twenty-six to ten. Better relations exist between the races, and for a decade not a single informal execution has taken place. We are making rapid progress in controlling disease. Aycock said 'If we build the schools the people will build the roads,' and so today the 'ribbons of concrete' have made a veritable neighborhood of our state. We have become so familiar with prosperity that only when tourist visit our state do we become conscious of the fact that we are one of the most prosperous states in the Union. North Carolina has turned her 'hog-wallow' (Continued on page two)

HOME TEACHERS SHOULD BE GIVEN PREFERENCE

The announcement made in connection with the closing exercises of East Carolina Teachers College here that out of the two hundred and fifty young women receiving either their A. B. degrees or two year normal course certificates, only fifty had been able to secure employment in the schools for the coming year and similar reports from other colleges in the state present a serious situation and one that should have attention.

There is a lot of talk throughout the state about trading at home and living at home, and at the same time we are going out of the state to employ the teachers for our schools and letting the girls of our state go without employment unless they can find it in other states, although the colleges of our state rank among the highest and the teachers turned out by them are equal to the best. Of course we have nothing against those fine young women from other states who come to our state to teach, we are glad that our state is such that it attracts outsiders and makes them want to come here for employment, but we do feel that a great injustice is being done the young women of our state who equip themselves to teach, when outsiders are given the schools and our own young women are forced to seek employment elsewhere. For example, in our own local schools, a large number of the teachers are from out of the state, and what is true here is typical throughout the state. This should not be. It is our idea that so far as possible, with the qualifications and capabilities being equal, every town and county school in our state should give first preference to the home girls and then if there are not enough teachers for the schools it is plenty of time to look outside for additional ones, but if possible, get these from our own state rather than out of the state.

COATED TONGUE YELLOW LOOK

Often Signs of Biliousness That Indicate the Need of Black-Draught.

Austin, Texas.—"In the sixteen years of my own housekeeping, Theford's Black-Draught has been my best stand-by in the way of medicine," says Mrs. J. M. Rich, of 1700 Holly Street, this city. "I have found Black-Draught to be the best medicine I have ever used for the relief of colds. I have been using it in my home for years.

"My father used it also in his home and gave it to us children. Whenever we had the usual children's complaints, mother would make up a tea of Black-Draught and give us. We always felt better after taking it.

"I also give it to my children when they have colds or upset stomach. Sometimes they get feverish from biliousness. If they begin to get yellow, or their tongues are coated, I make a tea (of Black-Draught) and give to them in small doses. They don't mind taking it at all.

Refuse imitations! Insist on the genuine Theford's Black-Draught which has been in use nearly a hundred years.

as well by a home girl. While our Governor is so stressing the live-at-home movement in our state, let's have a little emphasis on making this apply to the hiring of our school teachers as well.

ABOUT TOWN

Members of the Home Demonstration clubs in this county should derive much benefit from the short course opening at the college today. These courses give the club members an opportunity of listening to some of the authorities of the nation as they discuss some of the more important phases of this field of service.

The short courses are held in the county each year under supervision of the Home Demonstration department of the county, and much enthusiasm has been aroused among the women and girls. Problems of the home are some of the most important confronting the American public today, and it is through these short courses that women of the farms are learning new methods of dealing with their problems.

The public should support the Home Demonstration movement in every way possible and in this way increase the possibilities of the home in the rural district and small towns.

There is no limitations to the intellect, in the opinion of Dr. J. Powell Tucker, of Raleigh, who delivered the annual sermon before the graduating class of the Greenville High School Sunday night.

In other words, the noted Baptist divine, is of the opinion that neither heredity nor environment are able to shackle mankind if there is a desire to rise above conditions. He expressed belief that modern fiction and moving pictures were having a tendency of lowering the public morale, and urged the young graduates to get a more intimate glimpse of the spiritual side of life—the side that holds forth unlimited possibilities.

The address was generally considered one of the most masterful heard in Greenville in years and left an impression that no doubt will have an influence upon the minds of the boys and girls leaving school to go out into the broad field of life.

This is the last week the voters of Pitt county will have to think over the way they are going to cast their vote in the primary next Saturday. It is the final time for looking over the list of candidates, picking out the men best fitted to fill the responsible jobs to which they aspire, and then deciding which is to be voted for.

This business of voting is one of the most important the people are faced with from time to time, and it is to be hoped the ticket is carefully scrutinized and the qualities of the candidates duly weighed before the date of the election rolls around.

It is imperative that the men representing the best interests of the locality be chosen to fill the various offices, and persons not intimately acquainted with the candidates should not vote at random, but should cast about and determine what the men stand for and if they represent what they think is right.

Every man has the right of voting the way he likes, and the way he votes will be largely determined by public sentiment, or the opinion of the majority. It is highly important, therefore, that the public pulse be sounded out and the truth worth of the candidate determined before the vote is cast. Faith in the possibilities of the future is the foundation stone upon which this great nation has been founded, and this fact has given great meaning in the commencement address by Bishop Penick at East Carolina Teachers College last Sunday morning.

Bishop Penick urged the young women to go out into the world as public school teachers to be faithful to the great cause which they have decided to serve and to inspire others in doing likewise.

He stressed the need of faith in the spiritual possibilities of the nation, declaring that through this alone can the people hope to rise to the sublime heights they hope to reach.

At the conclusion of Dr. Connor's address, President E. H. Wright conferred the degree of Bachelor of Arts on 71 four-year graduates and 179 two-year graduates. They are as follows:

A. B. MAIDS OF HONOR AT RE-UNION

MISS CLARA PUGH WHITE MISS MARGARET FLEMING

Pictured above are Misses Margaret Fleming, daughter of Mrs. J. L. Fleming, of this city, and Clara Pugh White, of Clinton, formerly of this city, who are Maids of Honor on the staff of General G. H. Hall, of Red Springs, commander of the Third Brigade, North Carolina Division, United Confederate Veterans, now in session in Biloxi, Mississippi. Miss Fleming, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. G. M. Mathis, of Clinton, Assistant Adjutant General on General Hall's staff, left for Biloxi yesterday on a special reunion train from Goldsboro. Miss White, who is attending Agnes Scott College, Atlanta, joined her mother, Mrs. Mathis, and Miss Fleming, in that city and accompanied them to Biloxi.

READERS URGED TO RETURN LIBRARY BOOKS

This week while parents, teachers and children are cleaning out book cases and packing up books, we would like to ask that they collect any books which belong to the Greenville Public Library. Please send such books to the library, whether you can locate the borrower or not. That can be done at the library. If not convenient to send the books, please notify any member of the library staff and she will call for them.

Recently a package of books which had been left carelessly at a local office was sent in to the library. Such cooperation as this is highly appreciated. All individuals who have overdue books will be notified within the next few days if they have not already received such a notice. A prompt response from these people will help in making the yearly report for the library which is due June 30. The book which you read and enjoyed but did not return, shall we report it overdue, lost, or lost and paid for?

—Mrs. W. C. Vincent.

Meredith Alumnae Meets.

The Pitt county chapter of the Meredith Alumnae Association held its last meeting of the season on Thursday evening, May 29, at the home of Mrs. Harvey Ward, with Mrs. Ward and Mrs. R. E. Pittman as joint hostesses. After a brief business meeting the program leader, Miss Lela Higgs, presented Miss Ella Thompson who gave a very interesting account of Edna St. Vincent Millay and her poems. A piano solo, "Le Concon," by Daquin, was rendered by Miss Lela Thomas.

At the conclusion of the program the meeting became a social one in honor of its president, Miss Madge Daniels, bride-elect. The club members wrote streamer letters for her and presented her with lovely silver sugar tongs and lemon forks. The hostesses served delicious refreshments.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Raleigh Lee; vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Taylor; secretary, Miss Lela Thomas; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Forbes. Those enjoying the meeting were Miss Lela Higgs, Miss Cora Gould of Newark, N. J., Mrs. Raleigh Lee, Mrs. C. E. Taylor, Miss Madge Daniels, Mrs. S. J. MISS MARGUERITE WILEY AND DR. QUINTON T. BILBRO TO BE MARRIED LATTER PART JUNE

Ceremony To Be Quiet Home Event; Bride-Elect Is Graduate of North Carolina College for Women; Groom-Elect Is Prominent Druggist

The following social item from the Asheville Citizen, Asheville, N. C. will be read with interest by friends of Mr. Quinton Bilbro, who resided here several years ago, and who has many friends in the city: The engagement of Miss Marguerite Wilely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Wilely, of 239 Montford avenue, and Dr. Quinton T. Bilbro, was announced yesterday by her parents. The marriage is to take place during the latter part of June and will be a quiet home event because of the continued illness of the father of the bride-elect.

Miss Wilely took her degree at the North Carolina College for Women and since then has been a popular teacher in the Asheville system of schools. Only this week teachers of her school honored her with a party. Besides the school circles, Miss Wilely enjoys the admiration of all who know her, being an especially lovable disposition and possessing great charm.

Dr. Bilbro came to Asheville ten years ago from Greenville, N. C., and is the proprietor of the People's Drug Store on Montford avenue and of a drug store in West Asheville. He is active in the civic life of the city, being especially prominent in the Western North Carolina Betterment Association. He is the son of Dr. W. L. Bilbro, Baptist minister of Greenville. The couple will reside on Montford avenue.

Lawyers of Craven County Request Renomination of Judge Romulus A. Nunn

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF THE FIFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT:

The undersigned Democratic members of the Craven County Bar, beg to commend to your favorable consideration in the approaching Democratic primary, JUDGE ROMULUS A. NUNN.

He was appointed by the Governor and after a short service nominated and elected to the half term. He has now served the four-year half term in which he has shown tact, courtesy, fairness, patience, industry, ability and learning of a high order and fine judicial qualities. They are proud of the record he has made.

By reason of the above and the universal Democratic custom, he should be renominated and elected to a full term of eight years and you are respectfully requested to lend him your aid to this end.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed)

"HAPPY DAYS" COMING

An Unpleasant Subject. All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. Bar Of Greene County Endorses Candidacy Of J. Paul Frizzelle For Judge Superior Court

At a meeting of the Bar of Greene County in Snow Hill, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

FIRST: We are glad to commend to the voters of the Fifth Judicial District of North Carolina the candidacy of Hon. J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill, for Judge of the Superior Court.

SECOND: That we know that Paul Frizzelle is regarded by members of the Bar in East Carolina as a lawyer with outstanding ability and as being most richly endowed by nature and training with those high qualities of mind and heart which are necessary to the making of a good Superior Court Judge.

THIRD: That having been intimately associated with him since he began the practice of law in Snow Hill twenty-three years ago, we believe that he possesses in a very high degree that admirable quality so necessary in a Superior Court Judge, commonly known as judicial temperament.

FOURTH: That inasmuch as Greene County has never had a Superior Court Judge and Craven County has had the Judge for forty-one years out of the last sixty-two years, we appeal to the voters of the Fifth Judicial District to give Greene County just consideration this year and vote for our candidate for Superior Court Judge. (This space contributed by Pitt County friends of Mr. Frizzelle.)

Lenoir County Bar Pays Tribute to Character and Ability of Hon. J. Paul Frizzelle, Candidate for Judge.

WE, members of the Lenoir County Bar, are personally acquainted with the ability of Hon. J. Paul Frizzelle as a lawyer and believe his experience and ability and his integrity as a Christian gentleman fit him to perform the duties of Superior Court Judge, efficiently and, in keeping with the fine traditions of the Superior Court Bench.

Why You Should Vote for J. Paul Frizzelle for Superior Court Judge.

In announcing his candidacy for the Judgeship of the Fifth Judicial District, Mr. Frizzelle, said: "After consulting many friends, and myself giving consideration to the subject, I am announcing I shall be a candidate for Resident Judge of the Superior Court in the Fifth District, subject to the action of the Democratic voters in the nominating primary. My fellow citizens to whom I shall submit my candidacy have a right to know my conception of the office to which I aspire and my reasons for the hope that I may meet with some measure of success in the field of judicial endeavor.

"From my study and observation of what we call government, I am convinced that the office of Superior Court Judge is the most important and far reaching public position in our State system. The Superior Court is the one definite point of contact between the folks and the law. It speaks with authority in language the plain people can understand and on questions of vital importance in their every day life. Holding its sessions in every county, to the vast majority it is the State. It therefore not only administers the law, but consciously or unconsciously, shapes the real attitude of our citizenship toward their government. It follows that in such a tribunal justice should be administered with that degree of patience which is content with nothing less than the truth. Its presiding magistrate should be possessed of such familiarity with the fundamentals of law, procedure, and common sense as will eliminate waste.

"As to whether I can fully meet the responsibilities of the bench, this is a question which I face with frankness and humility. My experience as a lad upon the farm the result of my study in college and law school, diligent application to the exacting demands of my profession since admission to the Bar, my varied contact and experience as an active practitioner in the courts for the past 23 years, and whatever I have learned during these years from the average North Carolinian, learned and unlearned, rich and poor, good and bad, united in consulting the basis of hope that from a background of preparation, experience and equipment I may render a service as Superior Court Judge that shall be in accord with the finest traditions of the Bench. If nominated and elected, it shall be my purpose to bring to the task I have attempted briefly to delineate, the best that is within me.

Mr. Frizzelle's immediate ancestry, both maternal and paternal, came from Pitt to Greene County, where he was born and reared and has lived. He has extensive family connections in both of these counties. Completing the courses offered by the schools of Greene County when but a lad, he finished his preparation for college at Trinity Park School, Durham, N. C., where he graduated with honors. He then attended Duke University, (then Trinity College), where he graduated in 1904, again finishing with honors and winning the coveted Wiley Gray Medal for the best oration in the Senior Class. He was considered a brilliant young student in the undergraduate department, and was a master debater, having successfully represented the college in several inter-collegiate debates. After graduation he entered the Law Department of Trinity and completed the course there, studying under the late Dean S. F. Mordecai who considered him one of the most apt students of law in his department. He was admitted to the bar in the fall of 1906, and opened an office in his home town of Snow Hill. He immediately began to build up a large and varied practice which has rapidly grown and increased until today he enjoys one of the most lucrative practices in Eastern North Carolina. His large practice has carried him into the counties of Wayne, Pitt, Lenoir, and Wilson, where his straightforward integrity and unusual legal ability have won for him the unqualified confidence of the people and the universal esteem of the lawyers of the state. His distinctive gift of oratory has placed him much in the light as a public speaker, and his marked success as a trial lawyer has caused him to be retained in practically every case of importance arising in his own and adjoining counties, and carried him to the Supreme Court, where he has had as many successful appearances, perhaps, as any lawyer in Eastern North Carolina. Though never seeking political office, he has served as Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Greene County for the past twenty years. He was Wilson Presidential Elector in 1917 from the Second Congressional District, and is now and for several years has been, a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee from the same district. Mr. Frizzelle is exceptionally qualified for the important office of Superior Court Judge, for he enjoys an enviable reputation as a lawyer, advocate and scholar, and possesses a fine personality, and in addition that rare quality known as judicial temperament. Always active in civic matters, he is now serving as President of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, and is deeply interested in the religious life of the community. One of the most hopeful signs of the time is to see men of astute leadership willing to enter the vicissitudes of politics, assuming responsibilities made new and doubly solemn by the march of events, and the voters of the district should welcome the opportunity to vote for such a man as Mr. Frizzelle. He will make an able, upright and conscientious Judge. Vote for him June 7. (This space contributed by Pitt County friends of Mr. Frizzelle.)

COTTON MARKET

New York, June 3.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 points on July but generally 2 to 12 points lower under selling promoted by reports of continued good weather in the south and unfavorable trade reports. Business was moderately active but orders were well divided at the initial decline and early fluctuations were comparatively narrow and irregular. July sold off to 15.97 after the call but there was a little more buying below the 16 cent level. The new October contract worked within a range of about 5 points, selling at 14.59 at the end of the first half hour, or about 3 points net lower.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 3.—(AP)—Wheat advanced today toward the last opening largely to reported renewal of high winds causing crop damage of the condition prairie lands. Winnipeg Elevator interests figured the condition of Saskatchewan wheat as 89, against 94 a week ago, and there were advices of dust storms also in North Dakota and North-west Minnesota. The world's available supply of wheat was announced as showing 9,372,000 bushels decrease in the last week, reducing the total stock to within 3,402,000 bushels of the aggregate at this time last year.

Wheat closed firm 1-2-1c bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1.4-5-8c advanced. Oats 1-2-3-4c up and provisions varying from 35c decline to a rise of 3c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, June 3.—(AP)—The bulls, having failed to stir up any activity in the stock market of late left the field to the bears today, who created hardly a ripple. Practically the entire list turned heavy, but despite rather aggressive bearish operations in spots, most losses were limited to a point or two, and during the early hours of the session, trading was in the lightest volume since August, 1928, with the lone exception of January 13, last.

With practically the entire financial community now looking with some confidence for a decided revival of business by autumn, and the market already fairly well deflated, the bears found themselves unable to start any general liquidation, although a substantial amount of selling appeared from traders who had grown discouraged with the market's sluggishness. A substantial portion of the day's business appeared to be transactions by floor traders for their own account.

Although news was rather meagre, such favorable developments as came to hand were ignored. The decision of the supreme court, denying the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to impose freight rates under the Hook Smith resolution which might be confiscatory failed to cause a flutter in the rail stocks, although in some circles this decision is rate decline to that in the St. Louis and O'Fallon case.

Wife and Auto Gets Negro In Bad Situation

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 3.—(AP)—Assault and battery even by remote control as it were, is still within the law as Dan Hoover, negro, knows.

The court, heard the facts. Hoover's wife was in a car at their home. He wanted to use the car and asked his wife out. She refused saying she had to use the car.

So the husband stepped in a truck and stepped on the gas. Three times Hoover smacked the truck into the car within his wife sat. She was picked up unconscious and the demonstration cost Hoover $25—which didn't include the auto repair bill.

Charlotte, N. C.—(AP)—Friends of Major George Butler, of Clinton, candidate for the Republican nomination as United States Senator, have asked him to deliver an address here next week. He has indicated he will accept.

NEGRO VOTERS QUESTIONED AT CAPITAL CITY TODAY

Examination of the individual registrants who were questioned was started after election officials had ruled against Mr. Gatling in respect to the procedure of law concerning the reading and writing qualifications of the challenged negroes. The officials ruled that the only questions which could be asked were whether the registrants had ever voted the Democratic ticket in the past and whether they intended to support the Democratic nominees in November.

Before this ruling several registrants had been queried along educational lines and all were found to be able to read and write, and all held either high school or college diplomas.

LENOIR COUNTY LAWYERS AND THE JUDGESHIP:

In recent advertisements of Mr. J. Paul Frizzelle appears a statement signed by members of the Lenoir County Bar. The following letter explains itself;

Hon. R. A. Nunn,
New Bern, N. C.
Dear Judge Nunn:—

Mr. J. Paul Frizzelle recently requested that members of this bar give him a testimonial as a lawyer and man, which the members of the bar felt willing to do; but that they did not feel that they should take part in undertaking to shape the action of the voters of the Fifth District by action which might be construed as expressing a preference for the nomination of Judge. Mr. Frizzelle stated that he did not expect us to do that, and that it would be entirely satisfactory to him for the members of the bar to give you a like testimonial. This I now enclose which has the same verbiage as that given him.

This is a rather unusual procedure, I admit, but it is handed to you to use or not as you think best. The esteem and respect of the signers for you impel them to send you this statement, and I am sure you will not misunderstand it.

With my esteem and good wishes,
Sincerely yours,
N. J. ROUSE.
