ALABAMA MAN ARRESTED IN MURDER CASE

Herbert Schroder To Be Returned to Indiana to Face Slaying Charge

Mobile, Ala., June 21.—(AP)—Sheriff George Winkler, of Marion county, Indiana, announced here today that a warrant charging murder would be issued against Harold Herbert Schroder, of Mobile, in whose burning automobile the charred body of an unidentified man was found near Indianapolis, May 31.

Schroder, arrested while hiding in a vacant lot here yesterday, has decided to waive extradition to Indiana. Sheriff Winkler said he and his prisoner would leave here today for Indianapolis and that an indictment probably would be sought by the Marion county grand jury Monday.

Schroder told authorities questioning him after his arrest that he took a hitch-hiker into his automobile near Indianapolis who was killed a short while later when the car was wrecked. He said he feared he would be blamed for the youth's death and set fire to the automobile, leaving the body in the flames.

Indianapolis police who examined the charred body of a young man found in Schroder burning car on May 31 have determined the case a "torch murder" to collect large insurance policies upon Schroder's life.

Schroder, a 35-year-old radiator repairman of Mobile said he knew his companion only as a hitch-hiker of about 25 from Massachusetts whom he had picked up near Terre Haute, Ind. He said both he and the young man went to sleep while the car was moving and it plunged into a ditch, breaking the neck of the hitch-hiker.

He said he set fire to the car and made his way here by train and bus. Yesterday after Indiana authorities had abandoned their search here and started homeward E. C. Dykes, a garage operator, who had known Schroder in the past obtained information that he was in hiding in Mobile.

Exploring a vacant lot Dykes said he crawled through high weeds and came upon Schroder lying down. He displayed a .45 caliber revolver and compelled him to raise his hands and handcuffed him.

Gunman Drops the Wrong Man

Hammond, Ind., June 21.—(AP)—The shooting on a busy corner of Indiana harbor yesterday, police are convinced, was a case of the wrong man being "put on the spot." The mistake may cost John Alban, a merchant, his life.

Standing near Alban was an Indiana Harbor gambler, who, police declare, was the hired killer, however, misunderstood the identification of his employers, driving by in an automobile, and fired at Alban. A bullet struck Alban in the abdomen, wounding him so seriously that he may die. The gunman escaped.

Mexican Flier Takes Off At New York On Non-Stop Trip To Mexican Capital

Colonel Roberto Fierro and Mechanic Hope to Reach Mexico City in Sixteen Hours, Achieving the First Non-Stop Trip Between Two Points

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 21.—(AP)—With Mexico City 2,200 miles away—as their goal, Colonel Roberto Fierro, one of Mexico's foremost aviators and his mechanic, Arnulfo Cortes, took off at 1:30:15 A. M. (EST) today on an attempted non-stop flight.

He hoped to reach the Mexican Capital in sixteen hours thus achieving the first non-stop flight between New York and Mexico City.

Colonel Fierro planned to follow the trail blazed by Colgel Charles A. Lindbergh in 1929 on his non-stop flight from Washington to the Mexican capital. Colonel Lindbergh took a course that led along the Gulf of Mexico to Tampa and the inland across the mountains. He lost his way over the mountains and the trip took him 27 hours.

Fierro said he decided on a take off at night so that he would have daylight for the 10,000-foot climb over the Sierra de Pachuca range between Tampaco and Mexico City.

Colonel Fierro's plane is a Lockheed Sirius, similar to the one in which Colonel Lindbergh recently established a transcontinental record. He carried 475 gallons of gas and 17-1/2 gallons of oil. The plane is a white low ranged monoplane with a open cockpit.

Colonel Fierro is 23 years old and is chief of the civil aeronautical department of the Mexican government. He learned to fly at the government's aeronautical school at Mexico City and saw service in the recent rebellion. Cortes is 37 years old. Both are married.

ENLARGEMENT OF WAREHOUSE IS COMPLETED

McGowan & Cannon Now Have One of the Biggest Houses in This Part of State

Work in connection with enlargement of McGowan & Cannon's warehouse has been completed, it was stated today, and the firm is in readiness for the opening of the Greenville tobacco market next fall with greater facilities than ever before.

The warehouse is now one of the largest in Eastern North Carolina, with a combined floor space of 73,000 square feet.

The firm recently bought the Gorman redrying plant at the rear of the warehouse building, and this has been added to the warehouse proper, giving an additional 20,000 square feet of floor space. Work in connecting the two buildings has been completed and the building is in readiness for the next tobacco season.

McGowan & Cannon have operated this house over a period of the last several years. They are local men and their familiarity with the industry has resulted in marked growth of their warehouse business the last few years.

This is the first improvement announced in connection with the local market during the present season, but it was understood that other warehouses and factories have been making extensive preparations from time to time and these will be announced at a later date.

Members of the industry here are planning to surpass the record established by the Greenville market two years ago and with the improvements there is every reason to believe this ambition will be realized if the crop should be anything like normal.

The crop shortage last season caused the market to fall behind the record set the season before, although more tobacco than ever before was drawn from remote districts, but tobaccoists have their eyes set on a new goal this year, and if things pan out as they should it is quite probably a new sales record will be established.

McGowan & Cannon publicly announced completion of the addition to their warehouse building today, and assured their patrons they were in better position than ever before to render efficient and satisfactory service. The improvement is one in which the warehouse owners are justly proud and which should play an important part in the constant development of the Greenville market.

But Foster, the police believe, disposed of the gun prior to the Lindbergh murder June 9. They want to know to whom; and they have started a country-wide hunt for Foster to that end.

Foster, they said, was formerly a leader in the north side gang banding together under the joint leadership of George (Bugs) Moran and the Aiello. But Foster deserted the Moran-Aiello outfit and enrolled under the Capone banner.

SEEKS OWNER OF PISTOL IN LINGLE CASE

Chicago Police Believe Frank Foster, Can Give Name of Man Who Used Gun

Chicago, June 21.—(AP)—The gun used to slay Jake Lingle, Tribune reporter had become today a vital clue in the hunt for his assassin.

Frank Foster, a dapper gangster of vacillating allegiances was the original owner of the pistol, police revealed today; and Foster has disappeared.

Pains taking efforts had been made with a file to destroy the serial number stamped upon the weapon and thus prevent police from tracking its ownership. But the file failed. Acid microscopes and infinite police patience finally revealed that the number was.

The weapon, police have established, was originally in the sporting goods store of Peter Von Prantztz, the same Von Prantztz who has been involved in the investigation of other gang killings, particularly the St. Valentine's Day massacre of last year.

Von Prantztz records show that the weapon was sold to Foster several months ago.

But Foster, the police believe, disposed of the gun prior to the Lindbergh murder June 9. They want to know to whom; and they have started a country-wide hunt for Foster to that end.

Foster, they said, was formerly a leader in the north side gang banding together under the joint leadership of George (Bugs) Moran and the Aiello. But Foster deserted the Moran-Aiello outfit and enrolled under the Capone banner.

MISSING MAIL FLIER FOUND IN THE ANDES

French Flier Rescued After Plane Crash and Fall Down a Mountain Precipice

Mendoza, Argentina, June 21.—(AP)—Succored by a lonely shepherdess, Henri Guillaumet, French air mail aviator, endured the hardships of a plane crash, a fall down a precipice, an Andean blizzard starvation and days without sleep, and lived to tell the tale.

An airplane brought him here during the night from a mountain village, Pareditas, where he was discovered yesterday by a Provincial police official, more dead than alive. He had been missing for a week, and a widespread search for him would have been abandoned today in the belief that he and plane had fallen in the Andes for days.

A medical examination revealed that the flier was suffering from various injuries, principally severe bruises, incurred when he lost his footing on a mountainside glacier and tumbled 400 feet down a precipice.

The equal of Guillaumet's story of privation and hardship has rarely been heard here. He set out a week ago yesterday from Santiago De Chile with mail and cargo for Mendoza, Argentine border city. The trip under any circumstances is difficult and dangerous due to the high peaks of the Andes which must be surmounted. On this trip the ship's wings gathered so much snow that it finally made a forced landing on the side of a winter-swept mountain.

The plane turned over and was destroyed, but Guillaumet crawled out of the wreckage unhurt. The blizzard still raged so he spent the night beneath the wings of his plane, remaining awake so as not to freeze to death. Saturday the weather cleared somewhat and he saw an airplane fly high over him. He signalled but apparently his frantic motions were not perceived.

Sunday he started through the mountains toward Mendoza, hardly hoping he would escape alive. It was then he slipped on the ice and fell 150 meters down a precipice, losing what provisions he had with him and receiving injuries which made every minute until the rescue one of suffering.

Half starved and afraid to sleep, he marched Tuesday and Wednesday over mountain and through snow-filled valleys, until Thursday he stumbled into the presence of a lonely shepherdess minding her flock on the hill sides not many miles from Pareditas. She was amazed but dressed his wounds, gave him food and found him a place to sleep.

Her ministrations partially restored Guillaumet and gave him strength to go further. She directed him toward Pareditas where he finally was discovered Friday by a provincial policeman, who notified authorities and brought a plane there to carry him back to Mendoza.

N. Y. MANIAC SLAYER SAYS WORK ENDED

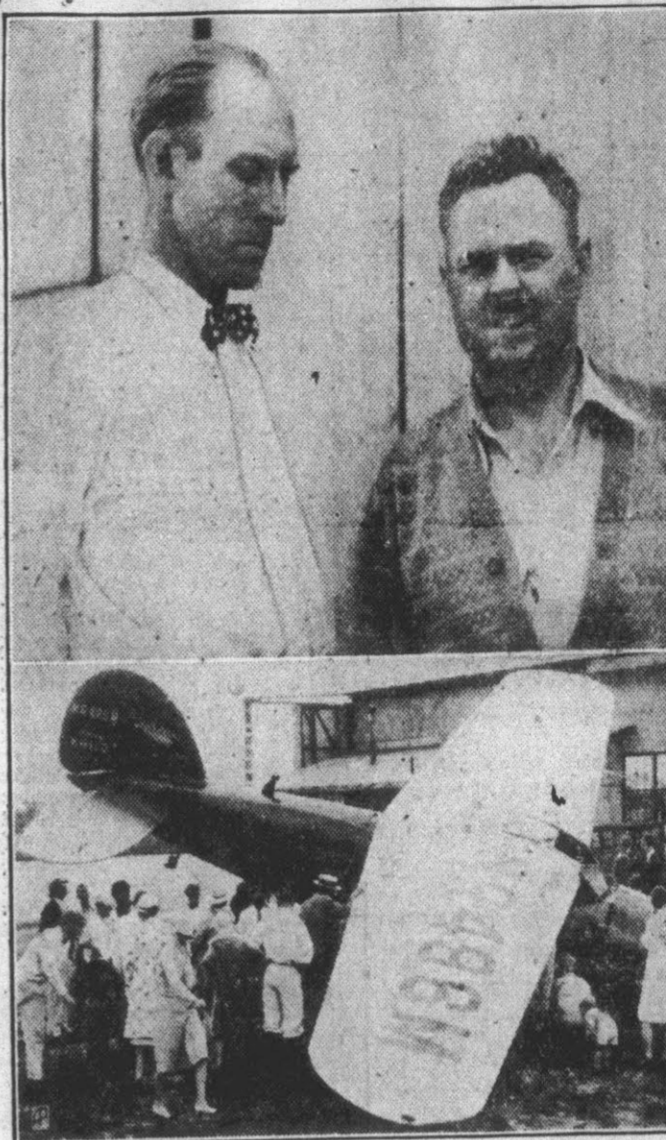

Declares Two Murders Resulted From Treason to Russian Secret Order

New York, June 21.—(AP)—The letter writing maniac who has assumed blame for two recent killings and who had threatened thirteen more, wrote what he said was his last letter today, asserting that his mission was accomplished and expressing regret that he had "stained the country with blood."

The letter, filled with strange symbols composed of combined numerals and letters and apparently the work of a person totally deranged, said the writer was a member of a world wide secret order known as the Red Diamond of Russia which had no connection with the Soviets.

"Anyone breaking its rules," it continued, "is marked for death. These men were dismissed from the order for treason. One of them stole the documents mentioned before. Word came to us at the supreme council in Russia of the peril in the United States. Twelve of us picked one's card. Mine was the one selected to punish and inflict death if necessary. It was when Mozymski (the first of the two men slain) died that they found whom I am. Then things began changing. Now it is all over."

Tinkham Repeats Charge That Cannon Is Shameless Violator Of Federal Law

Member of House of Representatives Repeats Allegations Made On Floor of House Several Days Ago; Cannon Expected to Sue for Libel

Washington, June 21.—(AP)—Differences between Bishop James Cannon, Jr., and Representative Tinkham continued today to command interest in Washington.

A move by the legislator attacking him was being awaited. Tinkham, a Republican opponent to prohibition from Massachusetts, recently made charges against Cannon in the House. Cannon called him a "blustering cowardly congressman" for doing so under the cloak of congressional immunity and dared him repeat the assertions of the floor. Statements in the Senate and House are immune from prosecution for libel.

The text of Tinkham's answer issued for publication today was: "Lest Bishop Cannon shall delude any one into thinking the charges which I made against him in the House of Representatives were unfounded and meeting his challenge that I divest myself of my congressional immunity, I desire to restate over my signature the charges I made in the House of Representatives that he is a shameless violator of the federal corrupt practices act, a criminal statute; that he received $65,200, mostly in cash, from a New York capitalist, Mr. Jameson, during the 1928 elections and illegally concealed the receipt of all of this money until February 15, 1929, and has not yet accounted for $48,300 of this amount, refusing to do so before the Senate Lobby investigating committee before which he appeared voluntarily and where he was under oath and could have been cross-examined."

(Signed) GEORGE HOLDEN TINKHAM.

Cannon last week announced he intended to take action for libel, both civil and criminal, against newspapers printing editorials, cartoons, and news dispatches which he considered a defamation of himself. He indicated he had retained counsel to study the possibility of bringing such action. Whether he would do so as a result of Tinkham's latest assertions was a subject of speculation at the capitol today.

In his speech in the House which prompted the Cannon challenge, Tinkham said the bishop had violated the corrupt practices act, by failing to report the disposition of $48,300 given him by E. C. Jameson of New York, for promoting the anti-Smith campaign. A statement in the House address that until this sum is accounted for Cannon "will stand convicted in the eyes of all honest men of having appropriated that money to his own uses," was not contained in his signed statement just published.

Bishop Cannon at his office said he had nothing to say for the present in regard to the Tinkham statement.

CRAZY FATHER KILLS FAMILY THEN HIMSELF

Man Jumps to His Death After Pushing Wife and Four Children Off Cliff

New Haven, Conn., June 21.—(AP)—Ray C. Spang, of Ansonia, Conn., probably mentally unbalanced, today threw a woman and four children over the edge of West Rock in a New Haven park and later jumped to his death from a ledge.

The dead are: Ray C. Spang, 36, father; Mrs. Spang, 33, wife; Helen, aged 10; Lorraine, aged 7; Raymond, aged 5; Donald, aged 3. Spang leaves a sister, Mrs. Ruth Joslin, of New York.

Spang clambered 75 feet down the face of the rock after he had thrown his victims over and sat down on a ledge. He was there more than an hour, occasionally tossing a pebble into the air. A city fireman was lowered by his fellow workers to within a few feet of the man and he tried to engage the man in conversation. He was not successful, he reported later.

At 12:10 the man took off his shoes, blessed himself and jumped and plunged through the air 70 feet or more.

Thousands of curious watched the mad man drop to his death. Spang with a woman and several children had been seen walking up the rock by one of the by-paths in the morning. A boy reported to the police later that he had heard the woman pleading with the man but did not know what the trouble was between them.

The police said the family apparently was on a picnic at the top of the cliff and that Spang seized them one by one and hurled them over the edge.

Spang, who was 35 years of age, was a war veteran and recently returned home from the Brooklyn naval hospital. He had been lately employed by a manufacturing concern in Seymour, the adjoining town to Ansonia.

The body of Spang, his wife and one child were recovered from the base of the cliff early this afternoon. Two children's bodies are at a hospital and another is yet to be located.

West Rock has a bold face of 3,000 feet, almost perpendicular, with seams across it which have created jagged ledges. This face fronts on Waley avenue, a thoroughfare. At the base is a small park and a brook. Immense quantities of rock break away from the cliff face and form a drift at the base. It was on this face that today's tragedy was enacted.

The other sides of the rock slope away into the Bethany and Woodbridge hills, all heavily wooded. On the other side of the city is East Rock, of somewhat like description but with a face 50 feet higher.

Father Fined for Fighting Over His Dead Baby's Bank

High Point, June 21.—(AP)—J. M. Smith, was fined $30 and costs in Municipal court here because he fought with his wife over their dead son's bank.

Shortly after the baby died two weeks ago, the couple agreed to separate and they began separating and dividing their household furnishings.

All went well until the bank came up. Mrs. Smith said her baby boy told her to take good care of the bank. Mr. Smith wanted the bank entirely for sentimental reasons. A fight followed. The husband was arrested on assault charges.

Girl Seeks Divorce From Aged Hubby

Chicago, June 21.—(AP)—A seventeen-year-old bride, seeking divorce from her 70 year old husband, told Superior Court Judge Williams yesterday that she was married without ever seeing her intended husband in advance.

"My mother showed me a picture," said Mrs. Lottie Gut, "and it was of a nice looking young man about my age, so I agreed to the marriage plans. I later learned that it was a photograph of my husband, Casimir Gut, all right, but it had been taken when he was young."

ANOTHER FIRST FOR NORTH CAROLINA

List prominently among the Firsts for North Carolina another that has up to this time been buried within the obscurities of the undiscovered—namely, that it led all the States of America within the last 10 years in percentage of gain in newspaper circulation. We get the information authentically—from Editor and Publisher which, in its current issue, makes a fascinating digest of the history and development of this phase of journalism.

Even though giving New York, where daily newspaper competition is at its keenest peak, the additional advantage of being the mecca for the tabloids which have shown the swiftest gains of all classes of newspapers, North Carolina leaps ahead. The New York ratio of gain is 60 per cent daily and 61 per cent for Sunday circulations, while North Carolina is 80 per cent in dailies and 68 per cent in Sundays, and that in a State showing a population gain of only about 20 per cent.

The comparison between the respective gains of New York and North Carolina is made all the more distinct when we take into consideration the fact that the tabloids in the metropolis have a daily circulation of 2,000,000 and on Sundays 1,500,000, while there are no newspapers at all of that type in North Carolina.

It will be of further interest to the outside world to learn from this summarization appearing in Editor and Publisher that American newspapers are now distributing about 40,000,000 copies every week day and 27,000,000 copies every Sunday or one copy to each three men, women and children in the country daily, and one copy to every 44 people on Sunday.

Ten years ago the daily circulation was 27,800,000 copies, or one to each 3.7 individuals, and the Sunday circulation was 17,000,000 copies, or one to each group of 6.1 people. The daily gain in the 10 years amounts to 12,800,000 copies, the Sunday increase to 10,000,000. We accept the amazing figures of increase in North Carolina circulation to more than the mere alertness of the circulation managers of the newspapers, although this department of any modern plant has been developed to the degree of a fine art within recent years, calling for executives of trained capacity and acute psychological bends of mind. Quite in addition to keenness and executive efficiency within these departments has come along, also, that form of development in the popular social mind as to call for a wider dissemination of newspapers.

Society was never so informed as it is today and to keep itself informed, society demands a daily newspaper with the many abounding features that have come to constitute the modern daily journal and to make it more than mere chronicler of events—to make it, as a matter of fact, a veritable history of the world and of humanity's activities over the habitable universe. This spreading information, this wider range of education, this popular lifting of the social mind to higher realms and new areas, have all combined to fertilize the field for the alert newspaper that has inherent merit.—(Charlotte News).

ABOUT TOWN

Democrats in every precinct of the county gathered this afternoon to choose delegates to the County Convention to be held at the courthouse in Greenville next Saturday. These meetings are very important in that they form the beginning of the Democratic campaign for the November elections and it is the duty of every citizen interested in the political life of the county to attend and help select strictly representative men as delegates.

W. E. Hooks, of Ayden, chairman of the executive committee of this county, has attempted to impress upon the public the importance of giving more than usual attention to the primaries and it is expected that each of the fourteen precincts of the county will have good attendance. The time has come for members of the party to stand together more firmly than they have ever stood before, and it is only through the precinct, county and state meetings that foundation plans for this purpose can be definitely decided upon.

Despite heavy rains in different sections the last two weeks, Pitt county crops are in good condition, in the opinion of interested members of the industry. Most of the crops have made so much progress that the siege of wet weather will affect them only in a minor way, unless the rains are followed by bright sunny weather. The hot sun after rain-fall has a tendency to scorch the plants and to cause them to dry up and lose weight.

Most of the rain this year seems confined largely to the sections that produce the best crops last year, while the farmers in territories hard hit last year report splendid conditions. Miss Ethel M. Nice, home demonstration agent, has begun issuing recipes to club members for use in connection with exhibits for the Pitt county fair this fall. The first of the recipes is carried in the columns of this paper today. It should be carefully filed away for future reference, so that when time for preparation for the fair actually comes, the housewife planning exhibits may have something to guide her in her work.

The Home Demonstration department in past years will do everything possible to provide attractive exhibits for the fair this year, and if all club members render the assistance they should the display should be the most elaborate in years.

The county fair is always an interesting event in the life of the county, coming as it does around harvest time when the farmers have laid by their crops and have time to give to exhibits. It is to be hoped other lines of industry will follow the example of the club women and see what they can do in exhibits and in this way make the exhibit buildings literally groan with the weight of their offerings.

when stores of Greenville have hundreds of bargains to offer the thrifty shopper. People looking for values greatly below usual prices should not fail to visit the city in the near future and inspect stock. Greenville merchants enjoy the reputation of representing the principal shopping center of eastern North Carolina and they have to carry the best merchandise at reasonable prices to live up to the reputation.

Make it a point to visit the stores in the near future and be one of the hundreds to take advantage of the season of innumerable bargains.

BEGIN PLAY FOR CUP HERE NEXT MONDAY

Below are the pairings for the first day's play, Monday, June 23. Unless there is a forfeit on the part of one of the players in the pairings both the names will be dropped. It is desired and is necessary that the first day's pairings be played on Monday and the winners of Monday's pairings will play on Tuesday. There will be no matches on Wednesday as the golf team will go to Kinston for a match with the Kinston players. The local tournament will start again on Thursday and will be played each day until the finals.

Professional baseball's dragnet caught a lot of college talent this spring, one of the most conspicuous being Jesse Hill, Southern California's all-around star. He has signed a contract with Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league, rather than try the big jump to the majors without sufficient experience. Hill was a crack broad-jumper, setting the I. C. A. A. A. record last year, and a hard-running full-back, besides playing third base, the outfield and batting 400 with the college nine.

The four survivors of California's great 1928 crew, national and Olympic champions, wind up their college careers on the Hudson this June. Jim Workman, who rowed No. 4 with the world-beaters, has been forced into a substitute's role by illness but Hubert Caldwell, No. 7; William Dally, No. 5; and Jack Brink, No. 2 will help the Bears try to regain the varsity honors at Poughkeepsie, June 26.

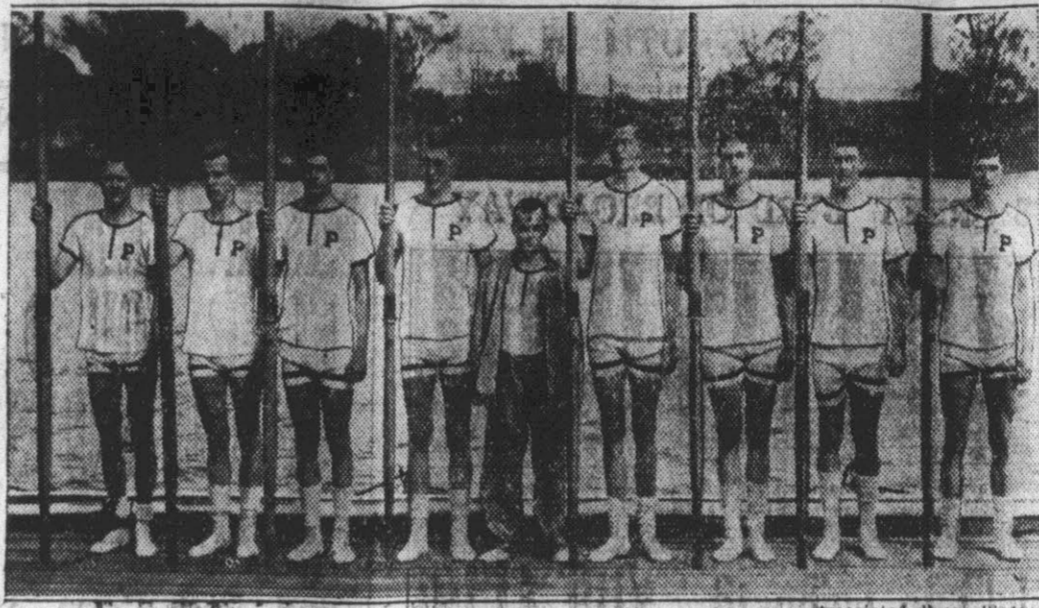

Twenty-three crews, representing nine institutions of the East, Midwest and Far West, make up the record fleet seeking inter-collegiate championship honors. Old Man River has pulsed with many a great regatta but this year's should be as stirring as any with eight freshmen, six "jays" and nine varsity boatloads jaying down the big stream.

Chicago—W. L. (Young) Stribling, Macon, Ga., knocked out Otto Von Porat, Norway, (1). Schnechtal—Mike McTigue, New York, outpointed George Erón, New York, (10).

The most entertaining prospect in the forthcoming Anglo-Irish Argentine charge upon the Yankee polo ramparts is that Lewis L. Lacey, hitherto one of the game's greatest backs, will play No. 1 for the challengers.

An almost equivalent surprise would be if the Americans announced that Devereux Milburn's comeback was the real thing and that he would be moved into the forward line of the defending forces.

Milburn and Lacey have been polo's greatest two backs. The Anglo Argentine's play on the losing British side in 1924 at Meadow Brook was of the highest order and as the No. 4 man he was a bulwark in several invasions of South American riders. It may be a tactically brilliant move on the part of the British to send Lacey in at No. 1, where his hard, accurate hitting and sensational riding would harass any American defense. To replace Lacey at back, the challengers are grooming Aidan Roark, a young and fast developing star of the rugged variety. Aidan's big brother, Captain "Pat," will have the assignment of making things as unpleasant as possible for America's Tommy Hitchcock.

The fact that Pat Roark has always been something of a thorn in his side probably is one of the factors spurring Hitchcock to an early campaign of preparation. There is only one Hitchcock, when any talk of polo is brought up, but Captain Tommy will need to be at his best to cope with the hard-riding Irish star, a master of position play and defense tactics.

Professional baseball's dragnet caught a lot of college talent this spring, one of the most conspicuous being Jesse Hill, Southern California's all-around star. He has signed a contract with Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league, rather than try the big jump to the majors without sufficient experience. Hill was a crack broad-jumper, setting the I. C. A. A. record last year, and a hard-running full-back, besides playing third base, the outfield and batting 400 with the college nine.

GEORGIA BOY KNOCKS OUT PARALYZER

By WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, June 21.—The angular figure of Otto Von Porat, Norway's heavyweight contribution, today was out of the champion scheme—propelled there by the left fist of William Stribling of Georgia, U. S. A.

Two minutes and fifty seconds after they crawled into the ring at the Chicago Stadium last night Von Porat, the paralyzer, was stretched paralyzed on the floor by the same left hand that caused Stribling to ask postponement of the battle. The ex-schoolboy from Macon, Ga., fighting in a fashion that amazed a throng of around 21,000 persons, carried Von Porat off his feet from the start. One of the holding and mauling that has characterized previous Stribling engagements were on display. Stribling came out using everything and it was a thoroughly bewildered Von Porat who launched a right swing at Stribling's jaw—and ran into a left hook that dropped him like a rock.

Von Porat's head struck the canvas with a thud and what the blow to his chin might have failed to accomplish was finished when his head struck the floor.

Stribling not only battered Von Porat out of the heavyweight picture but leaped into the center of it. He might have eliminated Von Porat by pounding out a decision in the well known Stribling fashion. Instead, he was the killer—a pleasant-faced laughing killer. Everything he did was impressive. Unofficial figures on the box office angle indicated the fight had created a new indoor attendance record for boxing. Around 21,000 spectators paid more than $80,000 to watch the stunning exhibition of what Stribling can do when he wishes.

Stribling had caused postponement of the fight from Wednesday night to last night pleading an injury to his left hand. An Illinois State State Athletic commission physician failed to find evidence of injury and Stribling was ordered to go through with the bout.

Schmeling Agrees to Meet Sharkey Next September

New York, June 21.—(AP)—Apparently not satisfied with his questionable world's heavyweight boxing title Max Schmeling has agreed to meet Jack Sharkey in a return bout at the Yankee Stadium in September under certain provisions.

Before he steps into the ring again against the man who gave him the championship on a foul in the fourth round Schmeling says he must have an outright release from Arthur Buelow, German manager, whom he disposed of a year ago but whose contract does not expire until October. The German heavyweight also says "he will have no part of Graham McNamee as a radio announcer" on the grounds that the National Broadcasting Company's announcer was partial to Sharkey and made errors in their June 12 bout at the stadium.

As the Garden has already agreed to take care of the Buelow settlement as well as finding a suitable broadcaster there appears no reason why the heavyweight title will not be at stake once more.

MAJOR FLAG RACES SHOW GREATER LIFE

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Recent trades among the clubs of the American League seem to have been a series of wise moves on the part of the various managers involved. Every team that acquired new material in these deals is giving an appearance of new life and the pennant race, already too close for the comfort of the leaders, bids fair to become closer. St. Louis, whose batting average has been down so far it was almost out of sight, certainly has been benefited by the acquisition of Goose Goslin. The Goosie, who was doing practically nothing for Washington, has cut loose with his bat, hitting three home runs since he joined the Browns, two in the past two days. Yesterday's homer aided considerably in the Browns' 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Sam Gray did the rest by holding Boston to five hits.

Washington's new acquisition didn't get much chance to hit yesterday as the Senators were locked in a pitching duel with the Chicago White Sox, but Art Shires and Heinie McNush already have started clouting. With Ted Lyons on the mound and Ben Tate providing capable catching at last, the Sox nosed out a 2 to 1 triumph.

George Westling, formerly of Detroit, did his best to keep the New York Yankees from losing to his former mates after he replaced Lyn Lary who when out in the third inning wit he broke thumb, but his first and second hits of the season were not enough to beat the Tiger clouting.

Detroit started by scoring five runs in the first inning and won the game by an 11 to 6 count. The Philadelphia Athletics took advantage of the lapses by two of their leading rivals and made their place at the head of the American League standing somewhat safer by defeating a third, the Cleveland

SICK IF SHE ATE CERTAIN THINGS

Carolina Lady Tells How She Was Helped By Theford's Black-Draught.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I grew up knowing about Black-Draught—it has been our standard standby by all my life," says Mrs. P. H. Dunnagan, 238 Cleveland Avenue, this city. "My father and mother use Black-Draught, and after I got married and began house-keeping, I kept on using it in my home. I don't think there is anything like it.

"Whenever I am troubled with constipation, or bilious indigestion, I immediately begin to take Black-Draught, and soon am feeling like myself again. Sometimes I have spells of indigestion when I have heaviness in my chest and shortness of breath. Whenever I would eat meat, and some other things, I would almost smother. I found that taking Black-Draught relieved this entirely, and I am not bothered with indigestion any more.

"This summer, when I went on my vacation, I took Black-Draught with me. I recommend it to others, because I have found it to be so good, for in a day or two after I have taken Black-Draught, I feel splendid."

GOOD RECIPES FOR FAIR EXHIBITS GIVEN OUT

Due to the scarcity of bulletins a few recipes will be given through the Daily Reflector from time to time by Miss Ethel Nice, home demonstration agent. They may be clipped and kept on recipe files:

Sauerkraut

Fermented salt cabbage, commonly called sauerkraut, is a form of food which has much to commend it to popular favor. The making of sauerkraut offers a good means of utilizing surplus stock of cabbage and at the same time affords a food which to most people is both palatable and wholesome. It also enables the housewife to carry over into the winter months a form of vegetable food which helps to vary the diet at a time when this often consists too largely of meat.

For making sauerkraut in the home 4- or 6-gallon store jars constitute the best containers, unless very large quantities are desired, in which case kegs or barrels may be used.

Select only mature, sound heads of cabbage. Quarter them and slice off the core portion. For shredding, one of the hand shredding machines which can be obtained on the market is much the best, although an ordinary saw cutter or a large knife will do.

In making sauerkraut the fermentation is carried out in a brine made from the juice of the cabbage which is extracted by the action of salt. One pound of salt for every 40 pounds of cabbage makes the proper strength of brine to produce the best results. This may be distributed as the cabbage is packed in the jar or it may be mixed with the shredded cabbage before being packed. Thus, the distribution of 2 ounces of salt with every 5 pounds of cabbage probably is the best way to secure an even distribution. The cabbage should be packed firmly but not too tightly in the jar or keg. When full, cover with a clean cloth and a board cover or plate. On the cover place a weight heavy enough to cause the brine to come up to the cover. If the jar is kept at a temperature of about 66 degrees F., fermentation will start promptly. A scum soon forms on the surface. As it tends to destroy acidity and may injure the cabbage beneath, it should be skimmed off from time to time. If kept at the temperature indicated the fermentation should be completed in from 6 to 8 days.

A well-fermented sauerkraut should show a normal acidity of approximately 20- or 22- per cent lactic acid percentage of 1.8.

After fermentation is complete, the kraut should be set in a cool place. If the cabbage is fermented late in the fall or if it can be stored in a very cool place, it may not be necessary to do more than keep the surface skimmed and protected from insects, etc. Otherwise, it will be necessary to resort to measures to prevent spoilage. This may be done, as suggested in the case of old pickler, by one or two methods: (1) A layer of hot paraffin may be poured over the surface, or as much of it as is exposed around the cover. Properly applied to a clean surface, this effectually seals the jar and protects the contents from contamination. (2) After the fermentation is complete, pack the kraut in glass jars or cans, adding enough of the kraut brine, or in lieu of this, a weak brine made by adding 1 ounce of salt to a quart of water, to completely fill the jars. Seal the jars tight, and set them away in a cool place. If it has reached the proper degree of acidity, sauerkraut preserved in this way should keep as long as desired.—Farmers Bulletin, 1152.

For smaller quantities use the following method: Chop cabbage and pack tightly into a sterilized jar, add two level teaspoons salt per quart, fill with cold water but do not overflow, place rubber and top in position but do not seal. Set aside and let ferment. Then seal and store in cool place.

Oliver Naylor and his Victor recording orchestra have been engaged for the season at Atlantic Beach, Morehead City, and will make their initial appearance at the resort for the opening dance of the season next Wednesday night, June 25th. On Tuesday night the orchestra will broadcast from 8:30 to 9:50 o'clock over station WPTF, Raleigh. The work of building a new casino and bath houses to replace those destroyed by fire late last summer, is now being completed and everything will be in readiness at the beach for the official opening next Wednesday.

TYSON CHOSEN HEAD OF LOCAL PYTHIAN LODGE

S. O. Worthington Congratulated Upon Election to Head of State Grand Lodge

W. S. Tyson, Greenville attorney, was elected to the office of Grand Chancellor at the regular meeting of the local Pythian lodge Thursday night.

Other officers elected were: L. T. Jones, Vice Chancellor; A. B. Ellington, P. S. J. W. Overton, Keeper of Records and Seals; J. C. Blanchard, Master of Work; J. H. Manning, Master of Arms; Dink James, Inner Guard; J. G. Forrest, Outer Guard.

S. O. Worthington, who was recently elected as Grand Chancellor of the state grand lodge, presided over the session.

In addition to the election of officers, the Pythians also heard an interesting talk by Herbert Waldrop on the honor bestowed upon the lodge by having one of its members, S. O. Worthington, elected as Grand Chancellor of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina.

Mr. Waldrop stressed the fact that the Pythians of Greenville should put forth every effort to make this a banner year, and urged the entire membership to be up and doing with this ambition as an incentive.

L. H. Bowling, who represented the Greenville lodge at the state convention recently held in Durham, reported that the gathering was one of the most successful in years, and that Greenville was specially honored in having one of its members elected to the high office of Grand Chancellor.

Chrysler Agency, Service Department, Gentlemen:

You will probably recall that on April 8th, a car with a Kentucky License, drove into your garage, and requested that you locate the trouble with vacuum tank, after "mechanics" in various cities on three previous days, had been paid for fixing same.

I am writing this letter to compliment and commend the men who did the work on my car, as I completed my trip after driving about two thousand additional miles, without any trouble.

Again thanking you, I am, Yours truly, J. W. LINDSEY.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, June 21.—(AP)—The cotton market barely steady today at a decline of 15 to 24 points in response to easier Liverpool cables and favorable weather reports. The prices rallied a few points right after the call on trade buying and covering, but the latter was less active after the rallies on Thursday and Friday and the demand was quite readily supplied.

Prices then weakened again owing to the early weakness of grain and stocks with July selling off to 13.58 or 26 points net lower, while the new October declined to 12.91, making a net loss of 34 points. The trading was fairly active with the market more or less nervous and unsettled at the end of the first half hour, as some stop orders were uncovered on the break.

Cotton men here with trade connections abroad said the foreign buying continued but was less active than recently. Liverpool cables reported local and continental liquidation and said there was a disappointing absence of support aside from some trade calling.

STOCK MARKET

New York, June 21.—(AP)—Still another acute sinking spell ended the third week of almost steadily declining in today's stock market. Although the market experienced one of the sharpest upturns of the year on Thursday, it proved but another technical rebound resulting from a temporarily oversold condition.

There was a feeling in brokerage circles that professional bear selling was a relatively more important factor in the further decline today than it was during the wholesale liquidation earlier in the week. Almost complete absence of important supporting orders appeared to encourage this type of selling important interests, however, see no danger of a serious panic of selling, with the public largely out of the market, and are disinclined to support stocks while business reports continue unencouraging.

Prices tumbled 2 to 12 points during the early part of the trading but rallied substantially as the bears covered some of their short commitments in the last hour of trading. Such important shares as U. S. Steel, American Can, and Allied Chemical plumed new depths for the movement. Trading was fairly active for a two hour session, total sales aggregating 2,300,000 shares. The close was lower.

Secretary Mellon's statement on the tariff measure, endeavoring to quiet fears of impairment of foreign trade, was without stabilizing effect upon the speculative markets. The wheat and cotton markets, which have moved closely in sympathy with stocks of late also declined. July cotton tumbled about $2 a bale, reaching a new bottom level for the season. July wheat dropped about a cent to new low for the movement.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 21.—(AP)—Reports of rapidly increasing arrivals of newly harvested domestic wheat piling on top of big quantities of unsold wheat left over from last year did much today to send wheat values reeling downward.

Wheat closed unsteady 1-4 to 2 lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1-4 to 1-3-8 down; oats 3-8 to 1-5-8 off and provisions showing 12 to 60 decline.

Five Men Held In Slaying of Three Persons in Georgia

Rockmart, Ga., June 21.—(AP)—Accused of participating in a triple slaying arising from a poker game in which each of the victims was shot in the back of the head and the bodies disposed of in gangland fashion, five men were held in jail today on murder charges.

Denied bail, Bill Hulsey, his two sons, Fred and Ray, his son-in-law, Tom Hicks, and L. C. McCullough, were ordered held for grand jury action by the verdict of a coroner's jury. They were accused of killing Cliff Jones, Lige Harper and Ernest McCullough, each about 30 years of age.

Building up a chain of circumstantial evidence, authorities, directed by Solicitor General S. W. Ragsdale, advanced the theory that two of the slain men and Hulsey and his son, Fred, engaged in a poker game and that the two victims engaged the Hulseys by winning the greater part of the money at stake. Complications, authorities said, which grew out of the game and attendant drinking led to the slaying and disposal of the bodies in an abandoned well.

OWNERS AND PROPRIETORS

McGowan & Cannon's Warehouse

Wish to announce to our farmer friends of Pitt and adjoining counties, that we have enlarged our warehouse over 20,000 sq. ft., thereby enabling us to take care of our customers without having to stack their tobacco on the floor. We now have one of the largest warehouses in Greenville, which we operate ourselves. We run our sales and do our own auctioneering. This is very unusual in Greenville. We are under the impression that tobacco will bring a fair price this fall, as there seems to be a short crop in North Carolina and South Carolina. It looks as if Georgia will have a full crop.

We appreciate everything that our customers and farmer friends have done for us in the past years, and hope for continuance of their patronage during the coming season.
