SCORES KILLED DURING CELEBRATION OF 4TH OF JULY IN THE U. S.

One Hundred and Seventy-Eight Dead and Hundreds Hurt in Celebration of Independence Day in America Yesterday; Twelve Deaths Attributed to Fireworks, 81 to Highway Accidents and 54 to Drownings

Chicago, July 5.—(AP)—America paid its inevitable price in human life yesterday to celebrate the 154th anniversary of its independence. The dead numbered 178. Many other hundreds were injured. Property damage was unusually high and ran into many thousands of dollars.

Deaths due directly to fireworks totaled 12. This was the largest number of such deaths recorded in the three years the Associated Press has been keeping a nationwide check upon Independence Day fatalities. A year ago there were seven deaths from fireworks. In 1928 there were 11.

The automobile however, took the most lives—81. In the past three years its holiday toll has steadily increased. In 1928 it took 54 lives last year, 70.

There were 57 drownings yesterday—a decline of 14 from a year ago and of 49 from 1928. This was attributed to much cooler weather generally. The fourth of July two years ago was one of the hot days of the year, heat alone being responsible for 12 deaths that day. Yesterday, however, the water held its attraction.

Deaths from fireworks were concentrated yesterday, as in the two previous years, in the New England Middle Atlantic and Middle Western states. These sections also had lengthy lists of injured. In New York City, where the sale of fireworks is forbidden, 275 persons were treated for burns from bootleg firecrackers, roman candles, pin wheels and rockets. At least 17 persons were seriously injured in Chicago, where celebration of the day with firecrackers went on virtually unrestricted.

Chicago, too, had its celebrants who employed firearms and even dynamite for their noisemaking; and five persons were injured by stray bullets. Two others were seriously injured while they were making a lot of noise with dynamite. The two men had 100 sticks of dynamite, police learned.

In Springfield, Ill., a 77 year old woman who was celebrating both her own birthday and the nation's was seriously injured when a bomb was exploded at her home, destroying it.

The largest number of fatalities was reported from the middlewest where there were 53 from all causes. The densely populated middle Atlantic states followed with 39; and the south had 33, compared with 21 a year ago.

The mountain states continued to have low death list for the holiday. There were only two there.

Salemberg Woman Killed in Wreck

Florence, S. C., July 5.—(AP)—Mrs. G. F. Sikes was fatally hurt and her husband, Dr. G. F. Sikes, prominent Salemberg, N. C., physician, seriously injured when their automobile collided at Timmonsville, ten miles west of Florence, this morning at 6:30.

G. F. Sikes, Jr., son of the couple received bruises and scratches. According to authorities at the hospital here, where the injured persons were brought after the accident, the two automobiles, one driven by Dr. Sikes and the other by Mrs. Sikes, were going in the same direction, toward Columbia, when the accident occurred. Dr. Sikes, it was said, attempted to pass the other machine, and swerved in too sharply, with the result that both automobiles overturned. The young son of the couple was riding in the car with his mother, it was reported.

Mrs. Gaston Dies At Her Home Here

Mrs. Mary E. Gaston, wife of Ralph Gaston, died at her home on this city this morning at 6 o'clock after extended illness.

The body was shipped to Blackburg, S. C., this afternoon where burial will be made tomorrow afternoon.

The deceased is survived by her husband and three children.

SENATE WILL TAKE UP PACT NEXT MONDAY

Bitter Fight Over Naval Treaty Expected to Feature Special Session

Washington, July 5.—(AP)—A grim, determined and all-but hopeless battle against the ratification of the London naval treaty will begin on Monday in the Senate.

At the bidding of President Hoover, the members of that branch of Congress will assemble in special session and come to grips in their last bitter dispute before adjourning for the summer.

The contest against the pact will be waged by a small group drawn from nearly every faction of the Senate. Its leaders will be John S. Swanson of Virginia, the ranking minority member of the Foreign relations and Naval committees.

He will receive the active support of the regular Republican leadership, and of Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, and Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, both of whom were delegates to the London conference.

In advance of the struggle, the issues are clearly defined and the voting alignment fairly definite. The one uncertain factor is how long the question of ratification can be brought to a vote.

Sponsors of the treaty predict the roll call will be taken after ten days or two weeks of debate. The opposition is hopeful it will be longer—much longer.

The primary objective of the latter's strategy is to delay. They hope to force the issue over until fall. They conceded that their numerical strength is insufficient to reject the pact at present, and they are counting upon several pertinent factors to aid them in their efforts at postponement.

Important among these is the dizzy height to which the mercury climbs here these July days. Added to that, the Senate is in an impatient, short-tempered humor, anxious to be away for the summer and into the coming campaigns.

They expect the administration will have great difficulty in keeping a quorum present and the first time a roll call fails to produce the necessary 49 consent or recess until next December.

They are ready, too, to fill many pages of the Congressional Record with arguments against ratification, assaults upon the various articles of the treaty—particularly that dealing with the cruisers—and attacks upon the administration for refusing to produce the confidential documents exchanged between this and other nations in the process of negotiating the pact.

Rioting Follows An Argument Between Whites and Negroes Over Payment of Debt Which Negroes Owed White Man for Auto Battery

Emelle, Ala., July 5.—(AP)—Six persons are dead today in race warfare which flared here late yesterday and resulted in a gun battle and the lynching of a negro and the burning of a negro dwelling.

Two of those killed were white men. The others were negroes. The dead:

G. T. Boyd, white. A man named Marrs, white John Roberson, negro. Three unidentified negroes.

A quarrel between Clearance Boyd, a nephew of G. T. Boyd and a negro to whom the Boys had sold an automobile battery was credited by officers as starting the riot.

After the argument, the negro left the Boyd place of business, and returned later with two other negroes, who renewed the quarrel.

One of the negroes struck Clearance Boyd in the head with a bottle and as the elder Boyd came to his nephew's rescue, he was shot four times in the back by one of the negroes.

All three negroes then sought refuge in the house of John Robertson, a negro. The home was immediately surrounded by a crowd of white people. In an exchange of shots between negro occupants of the house and a group of white men on the outside, Marrs and Robertson were killed and two negroes were wounded.

With the death of Marrs, a rush was made on the negro's house and the building was set afire. When the fire died down, the embers were searched and the bodies of two negroes were found. They had been burned to death.

Intermittent battles between whites and blacks, but with no bloodshed, continued through yesterday afternoon and last night, while search was conducted for the negro alleged to have shot G. T. Boyd.

Searches were formed to search the section around Emelle for the slayer.

This morning the body of one negro alleged to have been one of the ring leaders in the race riot was found hanging to a tree near here. He was said to have been the negro who hit Clearance Boyd with a bottle during the first argument.

Officials said he had been dead for some time when found. Sheriff W. G. Seales, of Sumter county, today was leading the posse in search of the negro slayer. Although some officials expressed the belief that the man might have been one of the negroes burned to death in the Robertson home.

Emelle is a small mining community in Sumter county in west central Alabama near the Mississippi-Alabama line. The population is between 200 and 300 mostly negroes.

Georgia Man Held On Murder Charge

Bryson City, N. C., July 5.—(AP)—W. B. Griffin of Georgia was in Swain county jail here today charged with murder of Prentice Boston of Steubenville, Tenn., yesterday while Boston and Millard Smith, a friend, talked in Boston's tent.

The killing occurred on top of Clingman's dome, noted Great Smoky mountain peak where Boston was in charge of Prentice Park commission. Griffin was an employee of the commission.

Griffin entered the tent, it was said, and fired one shot through Boston's heart. He died immediately. Smith said he did not see the shooting but heard it.

No cause for the slaying has been assigned. Griffin would make no statement when he was finally lodged in jail here.

Clingman's dome is 6,680 feet high and divides North Carolina and Tennessee. A circuitous route was taken by Smith who, at the point of a pistol, took Griffin to Gatlinburg, Tenn., then to Bryson City.

Bill Tilden Wins British Tennis Championship By Defeating Wilmer Allison

Dashing Texan No Match for Big Bill Who Captures Wimbledon Finals in Three Straight Sets; Tilden's Experience Plays Big Part in the Victory

Wimbledon, England, July 5.—(AP)—Bill Tilden won the British singles championship today for the first time since 1921, defeating his sensational young countryman, Wilmer Allison, in the final in three straight sets.

The scores were 6-3, 9-7, 6-4. The dashing young Texan who on Monday eliminated the defending champion, Henri Cochet of France, was no match for Big Bill who was playing in rare form. Allison put up a gallant battle, storming the net at every opportunity, but Tilden's fitness, great variety of strokes and experience were too much for him. Tilden's furious service also stood him in good stead, winning several love games for him.

Big Bill, after several lean years in which his great French antagonists dominated this and the other classic tournaments, ascended the throne of Wimbledon in the king and queen.

The American champion was the master of the situation throughout, taking the lead at the start, beating off Allison's challenges in the Flier Fails to Beat Lindbergh Time Over U. S.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., July 5.—(AP)—James H. Collins, formerly an army racing pilot, was here today after a fast flight from Burbank, Calif., but the speed record for transcontinental travel is still in the possession of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Collins, who left Burbank at 4:33 a. m. (EST) yesterday, arrived 9:03 p. m. (EST), falling by one hour and 46 minutes to equal the record of 14 hours, 45 minutes, 32 seconds set by Colonel Lindbergh and his wife, Easter Sunday.

Like the Lindberghs, Collins landed at Wichita, Kansas, for fuel. He was one hour and five minutes behind the Lindbergh time there and remained on the ground only 12 minutes while 300 gallons of gasoline were put aboard. Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh stopped in Wichita 22 minutes.

Arrival of the plane allayed some anxiety which was expressed for Collins' safety when he was not sighted after leaving Wichita.

Aldermen Pass Upon City Appropriations For Year; Order Work On Budget

Prohibition Chief

John D. Pennington is the new prohibition administrator for Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. He was formerly in charge of prohibition enforcement in western Pennsylvania.

Appropriations for the new fiscal year were passed upon by the Board of Aldermen in the second meeting of the new year at the city hall last Thursday night. In addition to this the board also adopted a schedule of privilege taxes for the present year and instructed different aldermanic committees to prepare individual budgets for incorporation in the consolidated budget by the Finance committee during the next month.

In making the appropriations, the board failed to deviate from the amounts allowed last year. The Salvation Army was allowed $25,000 a month, the local National Guards unit, $400 a year, and the library approximately $2,500.

A committee representing the Salvation Army appeared before the board with a request that the board do everything possible to support the organization during the present year. Rev. W. S. Harden, chief spokesman for the delegation, told of the hard times the Salvation Army had had making ends meet during the period of depression, and said it would be impossible to continue the work without the support of the city government.

He told of the splendid work which the Salvation Army had done among the poor during the last year especially during the time when relief work was at its height, and declared this would have been impossible without public support. He said the work of the Army was two fold, that of charity and the saving of souls, and consequently was of greater value than if applied only to one cause. He asked the city to use every influence to support the organization in a financial way and help it to carry on its good work in the future.

Miss Lill Wilson, another member of the delegation, stressed the activities of the Army workers, saying that they rendered a high type of service among the poor element, and especially where there were no doctors or nurses available.

The mayor assured the delegation that the city would give every consideration to the cause and do everything in its power to support the work.

Dr. R. L. Carr, speaking in behalf of the local curb market, told of the need of enlarging the shed on Dickinson avenue to take care of the increased offerings of the farmer. He introduced L. C. Salter, representative of the State Department of Agriculture, who briefly outlined the important part which the curb market plays in the life of the community, and asked the board to do something to improve the market here. He declared that sufficient marketing space to care for the offerings of the farmers would induce more interest in diversification. He said the reason many farmers did not give attention to the cultivation of vegetables was because they had no market for their surplus. Money received on the local market, he pointed out, will be spent in Greenville and go

Walter LaRoque Dead at Kinston

Kinston, N. C., July 5.—(AP)—Walter D. LaRoque of Kinston, chairman of the Board of Directors of North Carolina State's prison, died suddenly at his home here this morning of an attack of angina pectoris.

LaRoque, who was 51, was a lifelong resident of Kinston and was accounted one of its most useful citizens. He was a director of numerous businesses and was formerly mayor.

He was a trustee of North Carolina State college at Raleigh. Until his retirement last night, he had apparently been in excellent health. The attack seized him suddenly during the night and he died early today.

His widow, four daughters and two sons survive. Funeral plans have not been completed.

Hurried Landing Was Made By "City of Chicago" Late Yesterday Afternoon As Result of Clogged Oil Filter; Plane Had Been In the Air for 23 Days; Thousands Cheer As Record-Breaking Fliers Come to the Ground

Chicago, July 5.—(AP)—Lolling in the lap of leisure after 23 days spent in an airplane for a new world's refueling endurance flight record of 553 hours 41 1-2 minutes, John and Kenneth Hunter slept the sleep of the exhausted until after 11 A. M., today. Then they arose in their bungalow suite atop a loop hotel to scan the numerous offers of cash and contracts to reward them for their flying feat.

After bringing their second-hand monoplane to earth at 5:21:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the endurance fliers had to sit through a banquet after cleaning off the grease and grime before seeking rest. They awoke refreshed to face the task of accepting their rewards along with Walter and Albert, their brothers who served as their refueling crew in 223 air contacts.

When the boys awoke this morning, they each found a new bed with a $100 bill attached as the gift of a bed manufacturer.

Having already earned about $25,000, the Hunter brothers hesitated to estimate what their new world endurance record would ultimately mean to them in the way of riches. The $10,000 offered them by the oil company sponsoring their flight is contingent on appearances the Hunters must make at various headquarters of the oil firm.

They earned more than $7,000 from the malt extract company under whose auspices they broadcast by radio during their flight and their share of the gate receipts amounted to more than $5,000. Other offers and gifts swelled the total.

The finish came at 5:21:30 (CST) last night. John and Kenneth Hunter, who rose from the plough to the plane, landed in the Fourth of July twilight at Sky Harbor airport with a world's refueling endurance record of 553 hours, 41 minutes and 30 seconds blazed on the wings of their "City of Chicago".

The end was as unexpected as the beginning 23 days ago was inauspicious.

A clogged filter stopped the oil flow; the motor was seared from lack of lubrication a hurried landing was made; and the old record of 420:21:30 was left 133 hours and 20 minutes behind.

So many planes pock-marked the air that the blue monoplane "City of Chicago", sped to within 100 feet of the ground before it was noticed. Then came the spontaneous combustion of human enthusiasm.

The mob milled to the center of the field, ignoring the death-sweat of the plane's propeller. John Hunter at the controls outwitted the pack, taxied to the far southwest corner of the field, back-tracked his trail twice, pivoted and then skirted the north of the field into the hangar.

It was fully ten minutes before the fliers could escape into the hangar offices. There they had their first chance to relax—if relaxation could be had midst the flashlight flares and reporters' questions.

Their rest was brief, they were escorted onto the roof of the hangar, along with their brothers of the refueling plane. The din on the field was terrific; thousands of yells and more thousands of automobile horns and firecrackers. When hearers caused a brief lull, it was announced the fliers would be taken to a loop hotel for a night of rest.

Kenneth showed the disappointment of the forced landing, but admitted it would have been too perilous to stay up longer.

"We had hoped to keep on until tomorrow," he said, "but when the oil screen became clogged and the gauge quit, the only thing to do was to come down."

"The little old motor sure did more than we expected," said brother John, "and except for the oil trouble was just as sound when we came down as when we went up."

It was the clogged filter that sent the brothers low over the field shortly before their descent, thinking they were short of oil and urging an immediate contact. They will meet in Burlington in 1931.

ABOUT TOWN

Pitt county is in the midst of her run-off primary today to settle the contest for a seat on the Board of County Commissioners. It is the first time a second contest has been necessary here in several years, and it is possible the voters will go to the polls in large numbers to express their preference.

It looked at first like there might be other contestants to be voted upon but they withdrew sometime ago and left the field open to the two men running for the Board.

It is impossible to say how the primary will terminate, but it is a settled fact that the majority of people have given more attention to their choice for the board this time than ever before. The outcome will be watched with interest.

The Fourth of July is over and Greenville and Pitt county people returned to business this morning after taking one day off in observance of Independence day.

The observance of this occasion is always of interest to American people because of its significance. It represents that time over one hundred and fifty years ago when the American people asserted their independence from Great Britain, and began a movement that resulted in the foundation of the present great and powerful nation.

The occasion has been celebrated liberally ever since that time, and though the nation may live to be one hundred times as old as it is today the people will never be forgetful of the time when they asserted their right of liberty and won it at the expense of human life.

The work of the Juvenile court of Pitt county has been very outstanding the last few years, and especially during the fiscal year just closed. The court has been able to correct many delinquents, and put them on the road that leads to higher citizenship.

In this court, the child that is on the downward road finds a sympathetic understanding among its officials, and all rulings tend to pave the way to a better understanding on the part of the child of the higher and nobler principles of life.

The prohibition officer, under direction of court, has been able to accomplish much good among both white and colored races, and this will no doubt be extended in the future as the people begin to appreciate the scope of activities.

Juvenile courts perform a mission to society the other courts find it impossible to fill, and as a consequence the morally deficient child has been able to get a better chance of becoming a citizen, who in the days to come, may command the respect and admiration of the public. The court is nothing more than a community uplift, and its work deserves the untiring support of every man and woman interested in the development of moral life of the young man and woman of today.

Vacation season is at full swing today, but there are numbers of Greenville people who have not yet taken their annual time off.

To these people we would suggest that they consider what they will want to read while enjoying the sites of other communities. There is nothing that appeals to one more than home town news when far from home, and right here is where the Daily Reflector fills a great need. This paper faithfully portrays the activities of this community from day to day, and the man or woman away on vacation should appreciate the many columns devoted to local happenings from day to day.

If you are not already one of the hundreds of subscribers to this paper, why not send in your subscription before you go away on that vacation jaunt and assure your self of being protected on home town happenings while away.

This is one of the great bargain seasons among Greenville merchants and the thrifty shopper would do well to visit the city in the near future and inspect the splendid values which the merchants have to offer.

In a short time now goods will be arriving for the fall and winter trade, and merchants are doing everything possible at this time to clear their counters for the new values. It is for this reason that so much reasonable merchandise may be bought at bargain prices.

Greenville enjoys the reputation of being the principal shopping center of this part of the state. To live up to this distinction the merchants have to be on the alert at all times to render a higher type of service than other towns. This they do by the offering of seasonable values at different times during the year showing the public that it is advisable to trade here at all seasons of the year.

Visit the city in the next several days and be one of the thousands to take advantage of the splendid offerings.

DIPHTHERIA DECREASES IN COUNTY

Cases Reduced Sixty-Five Per cent in Pitt County in the Last

The records of the Pitt County Health Department show that the morbidity and mortality rates for diphtheria have been reduced approximately 65 per cent within the past five years. During the year 1924 there were 194 cases of diphtheria reported to the department by practicing physicians in 20 counties, with a death rate of 20 per 100,000. By a program of health education, quarantine enforcement and administration of toxin-antitoxin for immunization, the number of cases have been reduced as follows:

1924, 194 cases; 1925, 177; 1926, 116; 1927, 96; 1928, 95; 1929, 57; first six months of 1930, 16.

An ordinance of the County Board of Health requires that all children who enter school for the first time shall be immunized against diphtheria and successfully vaccinated against smallpox. During the last school year the health department immunized 3,098 children against diphtheria, and also immunized all school children from the first through the eleventh grades against typhoid fever, who had not had the treatments within the past three years. Hundreds of children between the ages of six months and six years, and this is the age in which diphtheria takes its toll, have also been immunized against this disease.

When a physician reports a case of diphtheria it is promptly visited and a complete epidemiological record made. The child is isolated from the other members of the family, the house quarantined and all contacts immunized and kept out of school. The family is instructed in regard to the care of the patient and the method of preventing the spread of the disease.

The case is kept under close observation and is visited at frequent intervals, and the family instructed along the lines of prevention until the illness is over.

The health department has been able to reduce the number of cases and deaths from this dreaded disease through concerted action in enforcing quarantine regulations, immunization and other methods of prevention. The aim and purpose of the department is to immunize every child between the age of six months and six years with toxin-antitoxin, and in a very short time diphtheria will pass into history as so many other diseases have done. Toxin-antitoxin is given by the health officer in the office of the health department every Saturday between the hours of 8 a. m., and 5:30 p. m.

OPEN FORUM

THE PENTECOSTAL HOLINESS CHURCH—WHO WE ARE

Article 1. Introduction:
 The editor of the Daily Reflector has kindly consented to publish a series of articles dealing with the Pentecostal Holiness denomination. In these articles, I shall endeavor to give the people of this vicinity some idea of the principles, doctrines, and experiences for which the Greenville P. H. church stands. The words "Pentecostal" and

Denounces Treaty

Earl Beatty, admiral of British fleet, denounced terms of the London naval treaty. He claimed that England was the only nation that made any reduction of sea strength.

BYRD HONORED IN QUAKER CITY

"Holiness" are not at all strange words to the ears of Bible readers, but there have grown up so many religious factions within the last score of years who are identified by the name "Holiness" until it seems necessary for one to understand the principles and doctrines of each denomination that is identified by the name "Holiness" in order to know who the people of any denomination are.

It is a gross mistake for one to class all so-called Holiness people together, and assume that any activity or demonstration observed among one sect who claim this name, may be seen among all other Holiness people. The word "Holiness" may be used by members of any denomination to designate a religious experience.

Our church makes no claim of any new revelation, nor of any infallible authority. Neither is it our purpose to maintain toward all other denominations a "more holy than thou" attitude. We simply glean the names "Pentecostal" and "Holiness" from the Bible, and think of them as significant experiences which our people profess.

It is a fellow individual who is earnestly following this calling, who recognizes the good in all churches and lives to correct the wrongs in the lives of all peoples. If I should say anything in these articles that should be apparently antagonistic to any theory or doctrine that you hold dear, remember that the primary purpose of these articles is not to raise religious controversies, but to give the people of this vicinity some information as to who we are.

interment was made in the home burial grounds.

Mr. Allen, who lived about 3 miles from Farmville, was one of the oldest residents of Pitt county and was highly regarded by all who knew him. Honesty and truth were two of the articles of his creed, and he was a gentleman of the old school, whose word was his bond. He was a man of great faith, faith in God, in Jesus, in the Holy Ghost, faith in the church, particularly that of his own profession, the Free Will Baptist, faith in his fellowmen, and faith in the soil of Eastern Carolina.

It takes time, patience, perseverance, and back breaking labor, to clear and cultivate a plantation such as his. In plain figures it took 22 years, during which he led the ordinary life of a farmer doing an extraordinary work. No true estimate can be made of his service to his county and state in clearing and tilling the soil and in the rearing of fine sons and daughters by his fireside.

In early life he married Miss Annie Meeks, who preceded him to the grave by 10 years. The unusual circumstances in their deaths have been discovered in that they died in the same month on the same day of the week with but two days difference in the dates.

Five children survive: Mrs. Buck Smith of Edgecombe county, Mrs. Joe Smith of Greene, John R. Robert, and Gideon Allen, who live near Farmville.

An Appreciation of Jim W. Allen

Farmville, July 2—If, as it has been said, a man's individual gift to the world determines whether the world is good or bad, J. W. Allen found this a good place in which to live.

He was not an outstanding financier, a worker in the field of letters, sculpture, or painting, he held no public office of state or nation nor did he even aspire to distinction beyond his own small kingdom. He was one of nature's true noblemen who content to earn his living by the sweat of his brow, and carve his fame and fortune with the humble plow, and surely such a life and passing would be recorded for future generations to read and follow.

Mr. Allen, age 77 died Thursday afternoon, June 26, about 6:30, of apoplexy, at his pasture gate, from which he had probably taken a last look at his crops, following a daily custom which was eminently satisfying to him, his soul being required of him in possibly one of those lofty moments when it was so near God. He had been in declining health for two years. The funeral was conducted by Dr. A. S. Venable, Presbyterian minister of Farmville, on Friday afternoon, and

PITT JUVENILE COURT DOING GREAT WORK

Report Shows 380 Children of Both Races Handled By Court During Year

Under the able guidance of J. F. Harrington, Judge, the activities of the Juvenile court for the past fiscal year should be of interest to the entire citizenship of Pitt County. It is a real Children's Court looking after the best interest of the many dependent and delinquent children of the county.

A resume of the records kept of the Court for the past year gives certain information of interest. There were 380 children of both races going through the court during the year—more white delinquent boys than negro boys. The number of delinquent white boys was 69 while only 37 negro boys appear and 18 white girls with 19 negro girls. There were 81 dependent white children and 74 dependent negro children.

The court in making disposition of the many delinquent children sent 15 white boys and 9 colored boys with 8 white girls to State Industrial Schools. A total of 54 (all white except 13) were admitted to institutions in the state during the year.

Private home placement disposed of a great number as 17 white boys, 13 white girls, 17 colored boys, and 35 colored girls were placed in private homes during the year. The probation method was used for 18 white boys, 2 white girls and 5 colored boys. The court keeps large numbers of probationers under the supervision of Probation Officer, K. T. Futrell, all the time. At present 39 white boys are on probation and 35 colored boys. Probation visits to homes of probationers during the year numbered 172 while 590 visits were made to the probation officer by wards of the court. The probation method is used where a child has a home that cooperates with the court in bringing about a change in the conduct of the child. In the absence of a good home the institution is sued. Good probation work requires patience, and a thorough understanding of the child and his home life. Less than 2 percent of the delinquent children appearing before the Juvenile Court in Pitt county during the past nine years have failed to make good. Recently a record was sent to Jackson Training school of 17 boys paroled from that institution during the past 3 years and all except one making good in his community and giving no trouble whatever.

During its existence for the past ten years, the Juvenile court has placed several hundred children in homes and it endeavors to visit or receive reports from all children placed. Reports from orphanage and other child caring institutions indicate that less than 10 percent of dependent white children are now being taken in by such institutions. This means that 8-10 of the dependent, eligible, white children in Pitt county and North Carolina must be arranged for and cared for by the supervision of the Juvenile court in every county.

ATHLETICS AND ROBINS ARE LEADING

The traditional mid season date for determining pennant winners, July 4, is past with the Philadelphia Athletics and Brooklyn Robins at the top of the American and National leagues standings, but their margins of leadership are so slim that the traditional must be discounted considerably if it is not to be tossed into the discard.

Brooklyn's margin daily grows slimmer as the Robins and the Chicago Cubs add more games to their totals without advantage to either while the Athletics lead was cut to almost nothing yesterday when they split a double bill with the Boston Red Sox while Washington registered the day's most important gain by taking two games from the New York Yankees.

As Sad Sam Jones and Fred Marberry hurled a pair of fine games to defeat the Yankees 8 to 0 and 7 to 3, Washington moved up in the standings to a place just one game and one percentage point behind the leaders while New York dropped to 3 1-2 games back of the Senators. The odd combination of games and percentages, closely resembling that in the National league standings, is due to the fact that Philadelphia has played and lost more games.

The Athletics got only ten hits off Boston's pitchers in their two games, but Ed Rempel held the Red Sox in the second to win, 4 to 2, where four Philadelphia mound aces had failed to keep the Sox from gaining a 7 to 8 victory in the opener.

Brooklyn's margin in the National League was cut to the small fraction of ten tenths of a percentage point and as games are counted, the Robins remained a half contest behind while both leading contenders divided their bills.

The Robins dropped a 5 to 4 decision to the New York Giants in the morning when Hughey Critz connected with one of Vance's tosses in the eleventh inning to drive in the deciding run. But they came back in the afternoon to gain a 5 to 2 victory behind Bill Clark's effective pitching.

The Cubs reversed the process, battering out a 10 to 1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates before lunch but, failing to hit Kremer in the afternoon and losing 5 to 1.

The St. Louis Cardinals brought about further complications in the standing of the elder league by taking two games from Cincinnati while Boston and Philadelphia were breaking even. The Cards pounded the Redlegs hurlers to the tune of 14 to 4 and 6 to 2, placed themselves only a half a game behind the third place Giants, while Cincinnati dropped in another of those disputable positions, a half game behind the Phillies and a fraction of a percentage point ahead of them, Philadelphia took the first game from the Braves 7 to 3 but lost the second 9 to 7.

SNOW HILL STOPS STANTONSBURG NINE

Snow Hill, July 3—Stantonsburg's winning streak of five straight games, was halted by the Snow Hill team on the Stantonsburg field today by a score of 5 to 2.

Snow Hill made 10 hits while Stantonsburg gathered 8 hits, which Putnam kept well scattered. The Snow Hill battery was Pittman and Edwards while Stantonsburg had Bass and Davis.

Fearing at the bat were Brogren, Pittman and Newborn for Snow Hill and C. Bass for Stantonsburg.

FLIERS FORCED DOWN AFTER STAYING ALOFT MORE THAN 533 HOURS

"Big Ben" went aloft at once, oil was let down, poured into the line but it splurged on the fliers. The motor was near the burning point and the plane did not have altitude enough to permit tinkering with the filter.

Fearing a crackup, the fliers decided to land.

Both brothers were dead for sleep and showed it; reporters had to repeat questions several times; but they talked.

"We didn't have a chance to think about how we felt in the air," John said. "The radio was our only recreation. Tomorrow at noon I'll be walking but I have no other plans until I get a good night's sleep and see how it feels to have my feet on the ground again."

John explained that in the next flight they make, a duel oil screen will be installed to prevent accidents as that of yesterday.

He added that if their record is broken and another attempt by them is made, brother Walter and Albert may be the endurance crew and he and Kenneth the refueling pilots.

For the immediate future, their hopes are centered mainly on a non-stop refueling flight around the borders of the United States.

Flown approximately 70,000 miles before its present flight began the "City of Chicago" is a second-hand Stinson-Detroit cabin monoplane, powered with a Wright whirlwind 300 horsepower motor. It is two years old.

SPORTS SLANTS

Yankee love for history on the field of sport, whether it is chess checkers or yacht-racing, usually is very keen. Americans take their athletics, as a nation, much more seriously than most countries. This spirit of patriotic concentration pays off in winning results but I have found a tribute to fair-mindedness this summer in the widespread hope that the latest of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrocks—the fifth—brings him good luck in the yacht races for the America's Cup in September off Newport.

The feeling seems to be that a "game guy" should have his reward. Sir Thomas, since 1899, has been spending millions in his effort to lift a battered silver mug that is worth not more than $500. He has faced the handicaps of the challenger, been compelled to build yachts seaworthy enough to cross the ocean under their own power, yet race-worthy enough to meet the defenders in their own waters. He has taken each of four successive defeats with a cheerful Irish smile and a promise to try again.

The 1930 challenge probably is Lipton's last. It also seems likely to be his best and perhaps successful if here is anything in the law of averages and wind enough in the sales of Shamrock the Fifth.

Coonskin coats are still in the moth-balls but the Football Rules Committee has completed and published its re-codification of the gridiron regulations—a task that has taken years of study compilation, revision, checking and double checking by the committee headed by Edward K. Hall as chairman and William S. Langford as secretary. The final result is a tribute to the energy and far-sightedness of these men, who without any crowd to give them a cheer from the side-lines, have put through a tough job. They are hereby given a "long yell" for this corner for making it infinitely easier now to find out what the great college game is all about and why.

The Army-Illinois football game in New York isn't until next November but already more reservations have been made for it than for a return box-fight between Schmeling and Sharkey. Which is at least a tribute to somebody or something or other.

Racing Balloons Over Arkansas

Texarkana, Tex., July 5—(AP)—Eleven balloons in the National race that started from Houston yesterday, had passed over Texarkana up to noon today and were drifting lazily over Arkansas, headed due northeast. All seemed to be gaining altitude as they passed here.

From Fulton, Ark., northwest of here, came reports of the passage of the bags.

A balloon, said to have been the United States Navy entry, piloted by Lieut. T. G. W. Settle, came within 50 feet of the ground at Bloomburg, near here, but slowly gained altitude as it drifted away.

BILL TILDEN WINS THE BRITISH TENNIS TITLE

desperately fought second set and then taking the third for the match and championship.

Bill Tilden's victory in the British tennis championships at Wimbledon today strengthened the possibility of his being named on the Davis Cup team which hopes to recover the famous trophy from the French this year.

In American tennis circles a strong likelihood is seen that Tilden will be used, but the matter rests in the hands of FitzEugene Dixon of Philadelphia, non-playing captain of the team, and Louis B. Daley, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, both of whom are now at Wimbledon.

Tilden himself has asserted for months that he would not be a candidate for the team this year, but if he is requested to play, is not expected to refuse.
