RATE HEARING ADJOURNED AT CAPITAL CITY

Carriers and Others
Allowed to Make Preparation for Presented Testimony

Raleigh, July 22.—(AP)—The hearing on the North Carolina rate case which opened yesterday adjourned today to allow carriers and others interested to make further preparation for the presentation of testimony.

Examiner Howard Hosmer, of the Interstate Commerce commission, before whom the hearing was held, announced another hearing would be held at a date and place to be decided later. He said it probably would be held in Raleigh this fall. The rate case, in which North Carolina seeks a sharp downward revision of the entire south eastern rate territory, was instituted last January. At that time, the State Corporation commission presented voluminous testimony at a hearing in this city purporting to show "gross discrimination" existed in the freight rates prevailing in North Carolina and the southeast.

In some instances, it was contended, rates in the southeast were as much as 400 per cent. higher than corresponding rates in other rate territories. A recent downward revision in the rates of the official rate territory, north of the Potomac and east of the Mississippi rivers, necessitated adjustments in the comparison between rates of this and the southeastern territory. This was one of the reasons for the adjournment of the hearing today.

The hearing this week was to allow the carriers to present testimony in rebuttal of that presented at the January hearing. Two witnesses, J. N. Steadwell, of Atlanta, member of the southern classification committee, and G. W. Tillery, rate analyst of the Corporation commission, testified today. W. D. McCaig, of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, and A. H. Plant, of the Southern Railway, were heard yesterday.

Mr. Tillery in his testimony suggested means of remedying alleged discrimination in the southern territory. He introduced a tariff with rates which, he said, would adjust the rates satisfactorily without preference to classification differences.

Mr. Steadwell recounted differences and problems of the varying classifications of the different rate territories. He suggested a uniform system of classification would be advisable but was not sure whether this could be worked out in a practical manner at present.

A transcript of the testimony offered will be presented to the I. C. C. for study in making a decision on the case.

Cannon to Remain In South America Until December

S. S. Arlanza, July 22.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., who was married in London to his secretary, Mrs. Helen Hawley McCallum, last week, plans to remain in South America on church mission work until next December.

The bishop who will leave the Arlanza with his bride on their arrival at Madeira, told the Associated Press that after attending to church business there he will go to Brazil to hold official conferences from August until November.

With regard to his marriage, the bishop simply referred to his message to "The Christian Advocate" a Methodist periodical in which he announced his marriage at Christ Church, London, July 15.

Family Saved From Fire By Tree Sitters

High Point, July 22.—(AP)—A tree sitting endurance attempt by youngsters was suddenly interrupted here early this morning and the lives of a High Point family were saved from possible death by flames when the perch of the sitters proved to be a fire lookout.

Last night at 8 o'clock Odell and Raymond Brown and Wesley Keefe climbed into specially equipped quarters in an oak tree in the Brown yard. Their families went to bed at the usual hour with the hope of endurance chattering gaily outside.

About 4:30 o'clock this morning young Keefe spied flames pouring from a nearby residence. He shined down the tree, turned in an alarm and awakened the residents in the burning structure.

The two remaining enduranceers forgot their tree-sitting vigil, descended the oak tree and joined the fire-fighting brigade.

BEGINS DRIVE IN BEHALF OF BRITISH LABOR

Premier MacDonald Takes Charge of the Campaign to Relieve Unemployment

London, July 22.—(AP)—The continued increase of unemployment in Great Britain is viewed with so much apprehension with respect to the approaching winter that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald has taken personal charge of a new drive to offset the evil. Not since 1922 has the present total of 1,800,000 workless, embittered persons been surpassed. Then it was 1,800,000 but that was at a time when England was in the business slump which followed upon the post-war boom. The figure of 1922 also included the aftermath of several labor disputes, the most serious of which was the 1921 coal strike.

There is some indication that the labor government is still dallying with the proposal to pension off the old workers, although Philip Snowden has publicly banded and barred the treasury door on any further expenditures of this sort.

The Prime Minister, who is now free on his pre-occupations with the London naval conference, has decided to apply all his energies to the unemployment problem, revealing Lord Privy Seal, J. H. Thomas, of the thankless task he had held the past year.

Mr. MacDonald has begun as chairman of a cabinet committee which includes all ministers in charge of departments concerned in any way with investigations and formulation of remedial measures with respect to unemployment.

This means in effect the concentration of all the government's resources. A still further step taken is the temporary withdrawal from their ordinary duties of a group of distinguished civil service employees to help the government in its efforts. This group constituted as a committee of officials has Sir John Anderson, permanent secretary of the home office, as chairman. The cabinet's economic advisor has also been attached to the officials' committee.

This new "general staff" is already waging war on unemployment and the government hopes that it may have some concrete results before winter arrives.

Cost $17,450,000 to Run the State During Past Year

Raleigh, July 22.—(AP)—It required approximately $17,450,000 to operate the government and projects of the great State of North Carolina during the fiscal year ended June 30.

Disbursements for the fiscal year were $24,382,346.13 from the general fund and $73,735,580.61 from the highway and all other special funds, or approximately $100,000,000 in all the operations of the state treasury.

However, there are many duplications in this figure and the actual expenditures were about $17,450,000. This is about $1,200,000 more than any other year, but includes $3,250,000 increase in the school equalizing fund.

Combined statements by the auditor and the treasurer, made yesterday, showed the cash balance in the state's general fund was cut from $2,121,078.23 to $1,046,309.42 during the past fiscal year. This was $339,000 in excess of estimates.

AMTORG HEAD QUESTIONED AT INQUIRY

Head Soviet Agency
Answers Questions
Under Threat Contempt Charges

New York, July 22.—(AP)—Under threat of contempt proceedings, Peter A. Bogdanov, chairman of Amtorg, purchasing agent in the United States for Russia, today reluctantly agreed to answer a "political question" put by a congressional committee. A few minutes before he declined to reply to this question:

"Doesn't the party (Soviet) program mean that the capitalist system must be destroyed by force?" "I am prohibited from discussing politics," Bogdanov objected, adding that the Soviet government forbade all persons working in other countries from discussion of politics.

Chairman Fish said that his committee, which is investigating Communism in the United States, did not recognize the authority of the Soviet government. Bogdanov still declined to answer on the ground that trade relations between America and Russia might be jeopardized.

At this point Representative John Nelson of Maine interrupted the questioning to say that the committee had authorization to declare a witness in contempt if he did not answer questions. Chairman Fish then asked again if the Communist program did not call for annihilation of capitalist governments.

Bogdanov replied that he believed that it called for it to be "replaced."

Bogdanov was first asked about Amtorg affiliations with the Soviet government and acknowledged that there was Soviet direction of the American corporation through various Russian trade associations.

"Doesn't every Communist have to help carry out the program of the party?" Representative Fish asked. And Bogdanov agreed that this was so.

"And doesn't the party program call for a social revolution and the dictatorship of the proletariat?" Fish asked.

"Yes," said Bogdanov.

"This means," Fish continued, "that the capitalist system must be destroyed by force?" and here Bogdanov balked.

Charge Grist With Showing Favoritism

Greensboro, July 22.—(AP)—Frank D. Grist, state commissioner of labor and printing, faced sharp criticism today for his stand in regard to outside labor agitators in the state outlined in a statement he issued at Raleigh last week.

C. M. Gaskill, business representative of the Central Labor Union of Greensboro, and C. W. Bolick, organizer for the United Textile Workers of America, charged the commissioner with favoritism.

C. W. Cunningham, vice-president of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers International Union, of Winston-Salem, in an address before the Central Labor Union there said the commissioner, if quoted correctly, "has no sympathy whatsoever with those who toil in the state of North Carolina."

Mr. Grist's statement referred to organization activity by outside agitators at Greensboro cotton mills.

"The commissioner of labor and printing has placed himself in the embarrassing position of favoritism in this situation," said Mr. Gaskill.

"If textile workers want to organize peacefully and friendly," Mr. Bolick said, "why should they be fired or discharged from their work?"

Hot Here But No New Record Has Been Established

It is hot enough in Greenville to cook an egg on the pavement, but even then it isn't as hot as it was about two weeks ago when the weather bureau here gave out a reading of 99.1 degrees, a record for the last three years.

B. T. Clark, director of the local weather bureau, admitted himself it was mighty hot today—probably the hottest day of the summer—but when he read his thermometer he found that it registered only 98 degrees, 1.1 points less than the record for the past three years.

The weather observer stated the temperature yesterday was similar to that today. The mercury lingered around 97 and 98 all day, and did not begin to lower until later in the afternoon.

Cooling breezes sweeping over the city are largely responsible for the thermometer not going above the 100 mark.

SEEK FLIGHT ENDURANCE RECORD

Two planes took off from Roosevelt field, New York, both seeking to break the refueling endurance record of almost 554 hours set by the Hunter brothers in Chicago. Thirty Deaths Reported From Heat In The East; Midwest Slightly Cooler

Widespread Suffering Reported In New York, Philadelphia,
Baltimore and Environments; Scores of Prostrations Occur
in All Sections

New York, July 22.—(AP)—Heat held the eastern seaboard in its grip today, but speedy relief was indicated by forecasts and more moderate weather in the mid-west.

As heat records toppled there came reports of fatalities and widespread suffering. At least 30 deaths were attributed to the heat in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and their environs. There were scores of prostrations.

Rain brought moderate temperatures to the middle west, ending a long siege of intense heat. In some sections of New England and New York state, relief came in the form of thunder storms accompanied by winds of hurricane force which uprooted trees and tore away roofs and chimneys.

New York sweltered through the hottest July 21 in the city's history with a peak temperature of 99 degrees. Fourteen died in the metropolitan area and 31 were prostrated. Thousands spent the night on the beaches and in parks, which were thrown open for the duration of the heat wave.

Temperatures of 100 degrees and more were recorded at various points in New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Arkansas.

Washington was one of the hottest places in the country with a high reading of 103.2, after the 105.6 degrees of Sunday.

Bodily discomfort was overshadowed in many places by the menace of drought, water shortage and forest fires. With many crops already ruined, farmers in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas, Kentucky and Oklahoma hoped for rain to save what was left.

In New York, Baltimore and New Jersey suburbs, authorities warned against wasting water and prohibited lawn and garden sprinklers. In Orange, N. J., the board of water commissioners said only great economy would prevent a crisis.

Forest fires in Maryland and Pennsylvania, although mostly under control, were regarded gravely because of lowered streams and dry wells.

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—A break in the oppressive heat wave today or tonight was the cheerful prospect held out to a sweltering nation today by the weather bureau.

"The indications are for thunderstorms within the next twenty-four hours in the Ohio Valley, Tennessee, the lower lake region and the middle Atlantic states," last night's forecast said, "and scattered thundershowers are probable during Wednesday in the northern portion of the south Atlantic states."

"There will be a break in the heat wave today as far east as the

REAL ESTATE MAN HELD AS BAKER SLAYER

H. M. Campbell
Charged With Killing Woman Government Employee

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—Herbert M. Campbell, Arlington, Va., real estate operator, today stood clearly defined out of the haze that has surrounded the list of suspects in the murder of Mary Baker, young government employee, early last spring.

Campbell is charged with murder and Commonwealth Attorney Glott of Arlington county, said today:

"He is a guilty man."

Campbell, however, stoutly maintains he did not kill the girl and did not even know her.

Police say he admits the gun, which experts assert killed the girl, has never been out of his possession and that stories he told authorities about his movements on the day of the murder were not true.

Only yesterday Herman Barrere, itinerant painter, was the center of attention in the Baker case. Campbell had told police Barrere had access to his house and could easily have obtained the gun that killed the girl. Barrere was arrested in Montreal but after he confronted Campbell and other witnesses in the case, police turned from him to the real estate dealer.

Mary Baker was last seen alive in Washington on an afternoon of April 11. Her body was found the next day in a culvert near Arlington national cemetery.

The investigation that followed resulted in several arrests and at least three men have been charged with murder: Harold Brewster, army private has been released, Barrere and now Campbell. The latter is a member of a prominent Arlington county family.

ROTES HEAR FACTS ABOUT FIRE FIGHTING

Wilmington Mayor and State Fire Marshall Chief Speakers
Last Night

Greenville Rotarians last night heard something about the advantages to be derived from an efficient fire department.

The speakers were Mayor Walter Blair, of Wilmington, and Sherwood Brockwell, chief state fire marshal. Mayor Blair told how Wilmington has profited in past years by constantly improving the efficiency of the fire department. He said these improvements had resulted in a lowered fire loss, and that the city generally had derived great benefit.

Mr. Brockwell, who for years has been one of the outstanding figures in the state fire organization, paid tribute to the splendid service rendered by the hundreds of fire fighting companies throughout the state. He said they were rendering invaluable service to the various communities and had been instrumental in the saving of thousands of dollars worth of property every year.

He urged the Rotarians and other civic organizations of the state to use their utmost influence in behalf of improvement of the fire departments. He said it would insure more complete protection in the future and keep down the annual toll taken by the fire demon.

Man Who Built Hospital to Be Initial Patient

Durham, July 22.—(AP)—Duke University's new hospital, dedicated Sunday, has as its first patient the man who built it.

He is A. Carl Lee, Mr. Lee was chief engineer of the construction company that worked three years and a half to complete the huge structure.

Mr. Lee was ordered by his physicians several days ago to undergo a nose and throat operation. He expects to be the first man operated on in the new plant.

He entered the hospital early yesterday for observation.

State Fire Loss
Over $1 Per Capita

Raleigh, July 22.—(AP)—North Carolina's fire loss for the first six months of this year was more than $1 per capita.

Damage estimated at $3,566,925 was reported by Dan C. Boney, state insurance commissioner, yesterday. This is an increase of approximately $500,000 over the 1929 figure for the same period.

The June fire loss was placed at $191,333.

SCIENCE WILL TRY TO SOLVE BABY TANGLE

Scientist to Determine Difference in Babies Mixed at Birth in Hospital

Chicago, July 22.—(AP)—Two tiny babies, with nothing to do but sleep and eat, kept science guessing today.

One of the babies is Charles Evan Watkins; the other is George Edward Bamberger. What bothers science is the question of whether Charles Watkins is George Bamberger and George Bamberger is Charles Watkins.

To settle the question, seven prominent medical and scientific experts, Chief Justice Harry Olson of the municipal court, and Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegel delved deeper into the family trails, racial characteristics, skin structure and blood formation of the parents.

While they admitted that solution was difficult, the experts agreed that the findings of one, compared with those of the other six, should produce corroborative evidence. To Dr. Cleveland White, dermatologist of Northwestern University, was assigned the task of studying the skin structure. Finger print convolutions and hair thickness went into the detection laboratories of Dr. Ferdinand Watzek and A. J. Mullvaney of the Northwestern University crime school.

Photometric and x-ray bone studies faced Dr. Gerhard Von Bonin, University of Illinois anthropologist, and Dr. Davis S. Halls, obstetrician at Passavant hospital.

Blood cells of parents and babies went under the microscope of Dr. Hamilton R. Fishback of Northwestern University, who sought hereditary traces in the blood consistency.

Nothing in the physical structure of the human body has been overlooked. Dr. Emil Deutsch, the ophthalmologist, who traced the glasses worn by Nathan Leopold, Jr., co-slayer with Richard Loeb of Bobby Franks, was called to determine if there is any hereditary trace in eye coloring, shape and slant.

The infancy of the babies has made the study of racial characteristics doubly uncertain. The races of the parents, too, are involved. William Watkins is Welsh, Mrs. Watkins is German. Charles Bamberger is Irish and English and Mrs. Bamberger is an Austrian.

Until the scientific sages disclose their findings, the parents have dropped proposed damage suits against the Englewood hospital, where the babies were born on the same day, three weeks ago.

A week ago, Father Watkins, bathing his baby, found a tape marked "Bamberger" on the infant's back. He rushed to the Bamberger home demanding his own son. A nurse had just torn the tape off the Bamberger baby's back but it was found and read "Watkins."

The supervisor of the hospital baby ward told Chief Justice Olson yesterday she wrote and applied the adhesive tabs within four minutes after birth.

Pact Ratified Late Yesterday Afternoon By Vote of 58
to 9 and Awaits Approval of England and Japan Before Becoming Effective;
Norris Reservation Provides Against Possibility of Secret
Documents

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—The London naval treaty today bore the approval of the Senate and awaited ratification by Great Britain and Japan before becoming effective.

Meanwhile, the members of the Senate, free after nineteen months of almost continuous session, journeyed to their homes to seek rest and relaxation and prepare for the coming campaigns.

The treaty was ratified, 58 to 9, late yesterday and adjournment sine die followed almost at once. The Senate will reassemble in December for the regular "short session," ending March 4, 1931.

Before approving the treaty the legislators adopted the Norris reservation, setting forth the understanding of the Senate that the pact is not modified in any way by secret documents or agreements extraneous to itself.

His reservation was introduced after President Hoover had withdrawn from the Senate certain papers having to do with the negotiation of the pact.

Ratification was determinedly opposed by a small group of senators under the leadership of Johnson of California; Moses of New Hampshire, and Hale of Maine, all Republicans.

They disputed the claim of the administration that the pact provided for Anglo-American parity and will be the means of a saving to American taxpayers.

In particular, they objected to the cruiser clause, asserting these involved a degradation from the accepted policy of American naval construction.

They argued the pact planned an undesirable restriction of eight-inch cruisers and authorized the construction of a large fleet of six-inch gun vessels, a type of war craft which they said was not suited to the naval needs of the country.

On the question of the comparative merits of the six and eight-inch of the navy were in disagreement the ranking officers. They expressed differing points of view in hearings before the foreign relations and naval committees.

The opponents of the treaty also roundly criticized the administration for twice declining to produce the confidential documents, after requests for them from the foreign relations committee and the Senate as a whole.

Special Officers Seek Bandits At High Point, N. C.

High Point, July 22.—(AP)—Every available clue was being run down today as special detectives from Washington aided by local police sought two bandits who on Sunday night robbed the High Point postoffice of approximately $5,000 and kidnapped a postal clerk.

The clerk, W. S. Cline, was taken seven miles from the city and tied to a tree. The robbery was not known until yesterday morning, after he freed himself and returned to High Point.

Cline, in charge of registered mail and money orders at the postoffice, was walking along Main street when he was overtaken by the two men in an automobile. They said they were expecting important mail and asked Cline to return to the postoffice with them to see if it had arrived. When they reached the postoffice the two men drew guns.

Fined $5 a Stitch By Asheville Court

Asheville, July 22.—(AP)—Nora Sears believes in making mole hills out of mountains.

She and her boy friend, B. O. Robinson, quarreled. Knife-play dominated and Nora had him arrested.

Lovers' quarrels end and so did this one but the court had the case. Testifying, Nora said "he just scratched me a little, it's all right now and we've made up." She did not wait court proceedings.

But Judge Nettles was insistent. "How big a scratch?" he asked.

"Well," said Nora, "I had five stitches taken."

Turning to Robinson, the judge said: "That'll be $5 a stitch and costs. Scratch it up."

EDUCATION REDUCES CHILD ACCIDENTS.

A primary reason for the steadily increasing toll of automobile accidents is that we have attempted to meet changed conditions with old, inadequate laws.

In many states traffic laws have not been revised to any extent since the ox-cart days.
More and more cars throng highways. Congestion increases. Speed ranges rise.
The chance of accident grows constantly greater.
And until traffic laws are modernized and standardized the accident problem will increase.

Last year our laxity resulted in the deaths of 31-000 persons and untold property damage. Only a few states make it necessary for a driver, before using the public highways, to learn how to operate his car and understand the rules of the road. In the other anyone, irrespective of his competence, is allowed to drive a high-powered, potentially deadly vehicle on crowded highways, where he is a menace to the lives and property of all other motorists.

The bright spot in the traffic situation is the condition respecting children.
The adoption of safety teaching by progressive schools throughout the nation has resulted in an amazing decrease in accidents to children. Such a demonstration should encourage more intensive efforts in the future.

Accident prevention has been greatly aided by casualty insurance companies.
The public should join wholeheartedly in efforts to reduce uncalled-for accidents.

Plan to Make Atlantic Beach Great Resort

Atlantic Beach, July 22.—(AP)— Eastern North Carolina has outstanding resort advantages at Atlantic beach that far surpass naturally practically all other sections of the seaboard and the new owners of the property there will invest much more money to develop it as a real "Atlantic City of the South," according to Daniel Lipsky, vice-president of the Manufacturing Trust company of New York, and Sydney R. Newman, one of the senior partners of the law firm of Jones and Neuberger, New York attorneys and financiers, who are visitors in this section.

These are the first two New York representatives to visit the new resort buildings for the company, except R. W. Gordon, who is general manager of the place. They state that they are much pleased with progress and the high type of visitors among the several thousand visitors there Sunday and hope to improve it until it becomes the outstanding coastal resort of the south.
"We hope to make Atlantic beach a wonderful resort for the entire region," states Mr. Lipsky. "We are willing to spend considerable money here, in addition to our present investments, if we can feel assured of the continued splendid patronage and interest of the section."

The firm of which Mr. Newman is a member has financed many resorts, including Long Beach at New York. He is much interested in the local project, stating that Atlantic beach has every natural facility of the northern beaches with additional advantages, as nearness to gulf stream and east-and-west location. As the first of a number of planned improvements, they started yesterday extending the porch roofs of the casino.

Woman Waives First Hearing In Murder Case

Mount Holy, July 22.—(AP)— Solicitor John G. Carpenter and attorneys for Mrs. Ella Mae Butler, 40, charged with murder of Miss Grace Whitaker, 28, young woman she is alleged to have flogged, agreed today that she should waive preliminary hearing and the case be taken direct to the grand jury.
Preliminary hearing of the case had been set for two o'clock this afternoon, 12nd for Mrs. Butler was fixed at $1,000.

Heat Fools Tigress.
New York—The weather has solved a problem at the Central Park zoo. For ten days a malay tigress refused to eat. Then it became so warm that she evidently thought she was in her native jungle. On the hottest day for years she broke her fast with raw meat.

Swim Hellespont.
Istanbul—Twenty-one American students have swum the Hellespont like Byron. As a reward they have sprigs of laurel from the gardens of Mrs. Henry Bacon, widow of an American architect.

Sea Food Field.
Milford, Conn.—Robert G. Baskell, a Bridgeport truckman, loves shellfish. He ate 124 little neck clams in 20 minutes, asked for more, then went home and had a lobster for dessert.

Women Barred.
Lawrence, N. Y.—Because it is feared that women would play for high stakes they are unacceptable as members of the Peninsula Bridge Club, a new organization. It is strictly stag and play for money is forbidden.

Martha To Be Used Again.
Washington—There a chance for Martha Washington to appear again on stamps. He head was removed from four-cent ones last May to make room for William Howard Taft. Some women protested. They have been assured that requests that she appear on an issue of Washington bicentennial stamps in 1932 will receive consideration.

Debutante in Business.
New York—Miss Marie Coldert Brennig, a debutante of several seasons ago, is opening a shop specializing in all details of weddings, from invitations to costuming of the bride.

$500 For Balm.
Atlanta—S. E. Guess, who once had 88 canaries in his home, is to receive $50 to assuage his grief. A heating plant went wrong and emitted gas that killed all the songsters.
Guess sued and the state court of appeals upheld a verdict against the man who had installed the heater.

ELIZABETHAN PLAYERS AT THE COLLEGE THURSDAY
A matinee and an evening performance, by the Elizabethan Players will be given Thursday, July 24 at East Carolina Teachers College. Two of Shakespeare's plays will be presented by the noted Shakespearean actors, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Pelletier, "The Merchant of Venice" in the afternoon and "Macbeth" in the evening. A special rate is made for those who wish to see both plays, and a rate of half price is offered for children, which includes all boys and girls of school age. Here is a fine opportunity for high school boys and girls to see one of these plays, familiar to them all, acted by god actors.

Mr. and Mrs. Pelletier are having a most successful season playing on the campuses of the best universities and colleges throughout the country. It is a great advantage to students in the summer schools to have the opportunity of seeing Shakespeare plays acted by an actor and an actress who have achieved success on Broadway and had their training and experience with the most noted actors of the times.

DOROTHY GRAY REPRESENTATIVE HERE
The interest of American women in general in matters of beauty culture and their insistence on scientific purity and efficacy in their toilet preparations is steadily increasing, according to Miss Sally Purgason, who arrived at the store of C. Heber Forbes in Greenville, on July 21 for a week's stay. Miss Purgason is the personal representative of Dorothy Gray, of the famous Dorothy Gray Salon of Facial Aesthetics in New York City, and has made an extensive study of the entire field of beauty culture.

In line with this modern scientific attitude towards all matters of skin care, Miss Purgason points out that one of the largest and most completely equipped chemical laboratories in the country in connection with an industrial plant has been established by Dorothy Gray at Bloomfield, New Jersey, where the entire line of preparations are evolved and new ones constantly studied. The laboratory includes departments for both research and analytical work, which are equipped throughout with the most modern scientific apparatus for experiment. Twelve chemists and two bacteriologists are employed, and it is indicative of the thoroughness of the laboratory standards, according to Miss Purgason, that three chemists do nothing else but test the various ingredients to establish their absolute purity.

"No preparation is offered to the general public until it has satisfied exhaustive scientific tests to determine its purity and harmlessness and particularly its effect on different kinds of skin," Miss Purgason stated. "This is especially important as every skin has its own problems, and many times it is even true that different parts of the face require different treatment. For instance, the same application given an oily nose or chin might not be needed on the rest of the face."

Of particular interest in connection with the laboratory and contributing in no small measure to its efficiency, Miss Purgason mentions the research library. This library is not only one of the largest of its kind in any industrial plant but is also recognized as one of the largest and most comprehensive collections of this nature in the United States. It contains several thousands books, and also receives both American and foreign scientific periodicals.

"It is my opinion that the time is fast approaching, and has indeed arrived for many, when regular and scientific care of the skin will be as much a routine as the daily brushing of the teeth. Intelligence in selecting the right creams and lotions in the first place and then correctly and conscientiously applying them is not only the secret of beauty and good grooming but an essential in preserving a normal and healthy skin," Miss Purgason continued. "It takes no more time than it took our grandmothers to heat a basin of water and bring out soap and washcloth and towel. It is all a matter of education and the formation of new habits which are more scientific and up-to-date."

MARION FRANCIS SMITH LAD TO FINAL REST
Funeral services for Marion Francis Smith, 73, were conducted from the Smith home on Grimmersburg street, Monday afternoon at 3:30 by Rev. R. F. Pittman, Free Will Baptist minister of Ayden.

Mr. Smith, who died Sunday afternoon at 4:45, after an illness of four weeks, was a native of the Bell Arthur section of Pitt county, and lived there all of his life, until seven years ago when he became a resident of Farmville. He was widely connected and was well known and beloved throughout the county.

He had been married 43 years, his wife, formerly Miss Emily Lillia Nichols of the Beaver Dam section, survives him with six daughters: Mrs. W. G. Gay, Mrs. Ellen Leggett, Misses Callie, Hilda, Ethel, Emily Smith, all of Farmville; six sons, Leslie, Jack, Guy, Ed Ned, of Farmville; Mack and Jennie Smith, Bell Arthur; four sisters, Mrs. Addie Speight of Roanoke Rapids; Mrs. B. P. Willoughby of Bell Arthur; Mrs. Lizzie Planagan and Mrs. Sheba Planagan, of Farmville; four brothers, Ivy, and C. D., of Bell Arthur, Mills Smith of Greenville, and Ben Smith of Texarkana, Ark., and a number of grandchildren.

Rex Totten Drowned In Western Carolina: Buried At Richmond
News was received in this city yesterday of the drowning at Bear Wallow, summer resort near Asheville, of Rex, the small son of R. L. Totten, a former member of the faculty of the Greenville High school.

No details of the tragedy were given in the telegram to Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church here, but it was assumed that the child came to his death while playing around on the lakes in the mountains of that section.

Funeral services were conducted in Richmond yesterday and burial was made in one of the city cemeteries.

Mr. Totten, it was said, is director of a summer camp at Bear Wallow.

Show New Styles Airline Screen Grid Radio in This City

The new 1931 "Conqueror" series of Airline Screen Grid Radio, ranks equally high with the finest radio receivers of leading manufacturers in the radio field. They are all that their name represents. They have kept pace with the industry and embody all the features, the refinements, the quality and performance of well-known radio receivers, costing many dollars more.

The new 1931 "Conqueror" series of Airline Screen Grid Radio, are thoroughbreds and winners all the way through.

Airline Radios are licensed under R. C. A. Westinghouse and other patents, which 95 per cent of all standard radios are licensed under.

The Airline Conqueror defends and surpasses everything in previous radio history within its price range. They have superior power, tone, quality, sensitivity, selectivity, and quietness in performance, which makes the New Airline Conqueror.

The Airline Conqueror, embodies the personal tone control which enables you to get just the tone that you like. The entire construction of this personal tone control feature has been simplified to a point where it is unailing in operation and trouble free, and can be furnished in six cabinet styles in walnut for you to select from. These are now on display at the local Montgomery-Ward store.

MRS. SKINNER HONORED HERE

Guild Room of New Episcopal Church to Be Dedicated to Prominent Woman
Under the leadership of Mrs. W. H. Dail, Jr., president of the Woman's Auxiliary, all the women of St. Paul's Episcopal church met in a joint open air meeting on Monday afternoon on the lawn of the home of Mrs. E. B. Ficklen.

There followed an informal program at which time representatives of each of the organizations present told the others what their particular group was doing to help establish the Kingdom of Christ.

When this program had been completed, Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector of St. Paul's church, spoke in high appreciation of the work of all the women's organizations of the church. He stressed the fact that they had worked well under the handicap of little equipment. He praised them for the fact that they had exerted themselves harder than ever during the past year when times were hard. He pointed out the new and larger opportunities for service the women of St. Paul's will have with the opening of their new parish house and chapel which are now practically completed. Then he spoke of the room in the new building that will be particularly "or the work of the women of the church; and he suggested that this room should be dedicated in honor of Mrs. Hattie Skinner, whose loyal and faithful service for St. Paul's church had helped to make possible the new building.

Mrs. Robert L. Carr then offered the following resolutions:

Inasmuch as Mrs. Hattie Skinner has been a faithful member of St. Paul's church for many years, and through her vision and her faith the present building is being erected;

And whereas, she has given of her courage when others have needed it, and her talents that the church might prosper financially, and has raised up a family that is loyal and true to her, and to the church;

Resolved:

1. That the Guild Room in St. Paul's Parish House be dedicated as a thank offering for the inspiration, faith and living presence of Hattie Cotten Skinner;
2. That a marker be placed over the door of this room to this effect;
3. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of the church.

Mrs. W. H. Dail seconded these resolutions and in a very gracious manner said that no other one person had done so much as Mrs. Skinner in dreaming and working for the new building.

By the enthusiastic and unanimous vote of the women present these resolutions were then adopted.

Mrs. Skinner who was present at the meeting was completely taken by surprise, and protested that the honor should go to somebody else. But there is no one else who fills the place in the hearts of the people of St. Paul's church as does Mrs. Skinner.

tions be spread upon the records of the church.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, July 22.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 7 points to an advance of 2 points. Relatively easy Liverpool cables probably accounted for some local selling, but their influence appeared to be offset by the failure of the early weather reports to show expected shower or rain developments overnight.

Prices stiffened as soon as the initial offerings had been absorbed with the new October advancing from 12.92 to 13.00 and January from 13.18 to 13.23, making net advances of about 4, to 7 points on the active new crop positions. The demand was not active, however, and offerings increased slightly after the posting of the weather map which some of the local traders thought pointed to showers in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas.

At the end of the first half hour the market was quiet with prices holding 2 to 3 points above yesterday's closing quotations. Liverpool cables said there had been Bombay and continental selling on yesterday's forecast for showers in the south. Manchester reported business slow in developing. With moderate cloth sales to the continent and Africa.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, July 22.—(AP)—Fears of a return of extremely high temperatures carried the corn market aloft today, and imparted firmness to quotations on wheat. Notwithstanding that numerous points in the corn belt reported more or less moisture had been received overnight, corn prices mounted rapidly, and in some cases showed a bushel or gain, as compared with yesterday's finish. North American available supplies of corn decreased 633,000 bushels, and are now only 4,000,000 bushels against 12,794,000 a year ago.

Corn closed nervous, 1.34-1.37-1/2c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Wheat closed unsettled, 1.2-1.40 up. Oats 1.2-1.40 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 1/2c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, July 22.—(AP)—Bull forces confidently resumed their advance in today's stock market, having consolidated their position in the recession of the past two sessions. Although the reaction yesterday, wiping out the advance of the entire previous week, was a little disconcerting in its severity, it was regarded in brokerage circles as having represented merely momentary withdrawal of support rather than important liquidation. Professional traders who had been awaiting an opportunity to get into the market at lower levels replaced those who took their profits and deserted the cause.

Public participation in the market held at a low ebb, but speculators for the rise expect that the attracting of a public following again will be a slow process. Commission house opinion remained mildly optimistic, but was inclined to look for further temporary reactions, as the market quickly becomes overbought with participation as limited as it is, and business news providing little encouragement.

The day's industrial and corporate news indicated that current operations are coming increasingly under the influence of mid-summer quiet. Steel mill operations in the Chicago district have been cut this week to between 55 and 65 per cent of capacity, against 90 to 95 per cent last week.

Second quarter and first half earnings statements continued to show notable exceptions to the downward tendency. Allis-Chalmers reported first half net of $1.87 a share, against $1.73. General Foods, $2.01 vs. $1.89, and U. S. Leather showed a small balance for the quarter, against a large deficit last year. Westinghouse Electric

Sally League Race Becomes 2-Club Affair

Charlotte, July 22.—(AP)—The South Atlantic League race had developed into a two club affair today with Dick Holtz's Charlotte Hornets and Macon's fast stepping Peaches furnishing the pyrotechnics.

Macon had the lead by a comfortable margin by virtue of a one-sided triumph over Augusta in the week's opening tussle, but the Hornets were only two and a half games away as the result of outslugging Asheville for their 11th win in 13 starts.

One big inning was enough to enable the Peaches to trim Augusta. In the seventh stanza they solved Grady McClung's delivery and pushed over six runs to put the game on the proverbial ice. The score was 9 to 1.

Phil Gallivan took the mound for Macon and breezed to his 16th victory of the season by yielding only seven hits.

Home runs featured as Charlotte licked Asheville. Snyder got a pair in successive times at bat, Leubee poled one with the bases clogged and O'Reilly delivered one to make it four. Snyder also got a triple and single.

McCrea had a perfect day for the Tourists, with four for four. Seven hurlers were used by the two clubs, Charlotte calling on four. The final count was 15 and 13.

Columbia's lowly Comers shelled Hughey Hargan from the mound to thrash Greenville 9 to 0. Payne and Johnson led the attack that sent the league's leading hurler to the showers in the seventh for his fourth defeat of the year.

While the cellarites were reaping out hits right and left, Erickson was pitching masterful ball for Columbia, being invincible with men on the paths.

Canzoneri Again Finds Bass Easy

Philadelphia, July 22.—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri, rugged New Yorker, finds Benny Bass as easy to conquer as a junior lightweight as he did as a featherweight.

Three years ago Canzoneri won the featherweight crown from Bass and last night he gave the Philadelphia, who is recognized in many states as junior light weight champion, one of the worst beatings of his career in a 10-round bout at the Phillies ball park. Although the match had been arranged as a non-title bout it was reported that Canzoneri would claim the championship. When they weighed in at 2 p. m., yesterday before the State Athletic commission, Bass weighed 129 3-4, a quarter of a pound below the junior lightweight limit.

Due to the wording of the contract, which stipulated that the New Yorker must weigh more than 130, Frank Weiner, chairman of the commission, ordered Tony to go out and eat. When he returned he weighed 131 1-4. The reports said that Canzoneri could claim the title because he was under the junior lightweight limit at the official weighing-in time.
