BLAZING OIL WELL MENACES TEXAS TOWN

Two Hundred Residents Flee Before Flames From Wild Gasser At Refugio

Refugio, Texas, July 28.—(AP)—A roaring jet of flame leaping into the sky from the Houston Oil Company's wild gasser, No. 1 strach, today had driven 200 residents from threatened homes and was defying efforts of workmen to extinguish it.

The well ignited from an unknown cause Saturday night with an explosion which blasted a crater 20 feet across. The parched oil field settlement of frame buildings, handicapped by drought-depleted wells, was in imminent peril of destruction.

Steam lines were being laid for attempts to smother the flames. Two small frame structures owned by the Houston Oil Company burned yesterday but other buildings and derricks were hurriedly moved back to a safer distance.

No estimate of the flow of gas was obtained but it was believed to be several million cubic feet daily. The well blew in out of control at 5,468 feet on June 25, spraying gasoline. Ten days ago, workmen placed a Christmas Tree valve over the top of the casing, but this check on the well's outlet caused gas to penetrate underground into practically all water wells in the town and the valve was removed.

More than 5,000 feet of casing had been set in the hole when the well blew in and this was believed to have prevented the wild gasser from "bridging" itself with rocks and debris blown from the bottom of the hole. The pressure was estimated at 2,200 pounds.

Residents of Beeville, 32 miles away, reported they could see the pillar of flames at their homes here.

Approve A. C. L. Plan to Take Over C. & W. C. Railroad

Washington, July 28.—(AP)—The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad's project for taking over the Charleston and Western Carolina Railroad Company today was favorably reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

W. T. Wilkinson, commission examiner, recommended the Coast Line be permitted to complete its purchase of the Western Carolina for $1,800,000. He suggested, however, the commission stipulate all traffic routes which the Western Carolina now maintains in conjunction with other carriers.

The examiner's recommendations, together with any further representation by the railroad and community interests will be considered by the commission for final decision.

Plan for Saving State $2,500,000 To Be Discussed

Raleigh, July 28.—(AP)—Plans for the saving of approximately $2,500,000 in the state's appropriation for the present fiscal year will be submitted to the advisory budget commission at a meeting here tomorrow, it was learned today from Henry O. Burke, budget assistant to Gov. O. Max Gardner, director.

This figure is $800,000 more than the proposed 20 per cent slash in the $19,853,767 appropriations for the year, Mr. Burke said. He explained that some of the departments in acting on Governor Gardner's request for economy had been able to save more than 30 per cent in the sum allowed to them and that other means of economizing had been found.

The advisory budget commission will meet with Governor Gardner and Mr. Burke to receive a report of operation during the last fiscal year, and to discuss proposed operations for this year. It is expected also to make plans for visitations to the state institutions during August and September.

The commission is composed of the House and Senate finance and appropriations committees and two appointive members, R. S. McCain, of Henderson, and A. H. Graham, of Hillsboro. It is required by law to hold meetings January and July of each year.

MANY KILLED IN POLITICAL ROW IN BRAZIL

Liberal Candidate for Vice-Presidency Assassinated During Disturbance

Rio De Janeiro, July 28.—(AP)—Grave disorders were reported today from the state of Parahyba, whose President, Joao Pessoa, Liberal candidate for the vice-presidency of Brazil in the March 1 elections, was assassinated Saturday while on a visit to relatives in the neighboring state of Pernambuco.

Dispatches received today indicated that one man was killed in the disorders and several houses destroyed by fire.

The entire state of Parahyba has been inflamed over politics since the March 1st election in which the Liberals were defeated. For more than four months Jose Pereira, a state deputy, has been leading armed resistance against the attacks near the city of Principeza. More than 300 men, some of them rebels and others state police, have been killed in the clashes. Only recently Pereira proclaimed Principeza an "independent state."

Fernando Brown Dies At Bethel; Interment Here

Fernando Brown, 71, well known citizen of Bethel, died at his home Saturday night about 7 o'clock following illness extending over a period of one month. Funeral services were conducted from the Bethel Methodist church yesterday afternoon by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Edwards. Burial was made in Greenwood cemetery in this city.

Mr. Brown was a native of the Bethel community and spent his entire life in that section. He was engaged in farming until illness brought about his retirement.

The deceased is survived by his wife and two children, Mrs. B. C. Seymour, of Aberdeen and Julius Brown of Greenville.

Seek Exclusion of Russian Goods

New York, July 28.—(AP)—Exclusion of all goods from Russia is sought by America's Wage Earners Protective Conference, organization headed by Matthew Will, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor.

The organization desires a general embargo in effect Jan. 1, 1932, when the provision of the new tariff act extending restrictions on goods produced by convicts, forced or indentured labor from manufacturers to all products and raw materials became operative. Pending the general embargo the conference seeks exclusion of Russian goods which might come under the classification of dumping.

Contending that "the entire Soviet economic system is based wholly or in part upon convict, forced or indentured labor," Will said: "To permit the industrial and agricultural products of such a system to come into a country where labor is free, where the standard of living is high and where the principle of high wages has been generally accepted, is to undermine the very foundations of the American economic and social scheme."

The conference consists of unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

DOZEN PILOTS STAY IN RACE AROUND U. S.

Survivors of the All-American Air Derby at Los Angeles Today

Los Angeles, July 28.—(AP)—A dozen pilots, survivors of the All-American air derby, rested here today after completing approximately 4,000 miles of their aerial jaunt about the United States begun a week ago at Detroit.

The derby will swing eastward Wednesday reaching in one day jumps Ogden, Omaha, Chicago, and Detroit where approximately $50,000 in prize money awaits the winners.

Lieut. Lee Gehlbach, first to arrive at the Metropolitan Airport yesterday, held a comfortable lead of more than two hours over J. R. Weddell, New Orleans, who moved into second place by virtue of the withdrawal of Stub Quinby, of Moline, Ill.

Quinby disabled his ship landing at Douglas, Ariz., Sunday morning and was forced from the race. Gehlbach, who led the fliers here on the jump from Douglas in 4:16:47, was eleven minutes ahead of Weddell on this lap, driving his low wing monoplane through desert heat and across treacherous mountain areas at an average speed of 150 miles an hour.

Stringing in behind these leaders was Herman Hamer, of La Salle, Ill., who was reinstated last night after being scratched through error but for whom a total flying record has not yet been figured and Lowell Bayless, of Cleveland, whose time was 29:02:59.

President Hoover Returns to Capital From Summer Camp

Washington, July 28.—(AP)—President Hoover arrived at the White House early today, refreshed after his week-end stay at his Virginia mountain lodge.

In the automobile with him on the return trip were Mrs. Hoover, Lawrence Richey, one of his secretaries, and Captain Joel T. Boone, White House physician.

Mr. Hoover spent most of his time at the camp recuperating from the strain of intensive work and the hot weather in the capital. He discussed, however, affairs of the District of Columbia and returned with more definite ideas about his proposed trip west this summer.

He went over the various tentative itineraries prepared by White House aides and it was indicated a definite announcement of his plans would be made soon.

AUTOMOBILE RACER KILLED IN NEW JERSEY

Woodbridge, N. J., July 28.—(AP)—Before 8,000 spectators, among whom were his wife and baby, Bob Robinson, of Daytona Beach, Fla., automobile racing driver, was killed in a spill of his car during a race on the speedway here yesterday.

When Robinson was going at 60 miles an hour in third place in a 50 mile race, a rear tire blew out on the car.

MAN KILLED IN COLLISION IN PACTOLUS

Joe Crawford Fatally Injured When Two Cars Run Together On Curve

Joe Crawford, 40, died Sunday morning at 11 o'clock as result of injuries which he received when he was thrown from the running board of an automobile driven by George Jones, about two miles from Pactolus.

Coroner E. S. Williams investigated the case and found that Crawford had jumped on Jones' left running board to ride down the road. Before the car had gone a hundred yards, it was said, a left turn in the road was reached and while rounding the curve, the Jones car collided with another car driven by Hyman Gladson, and Crawford was thrown several feet by the impact. His injuries were said to have consisted of severed vertebrae. He lived about one hour after the accident.

Coroner Williams continued the hearing until next Thursday when a more complete investigation of the case will be made.

Funeral services were conducted from the home of Mr. Crawford's brother, J. W. Crawford, at Bell Arthur this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, of Greenville. Interment was made in the family burying ground.

He is survived by his wife, two children and four brothers, J. W. C. H. B. L. and John F. Crawford, all of this county.

NEGRO YOUTH MURDERED AT AYDEN, N. C.

Believed to have been the victim of a thurstonian attack with a stick, Jesse Brown, 18-year-old negro of the Ayden community, was found in an unconscious condition on a road at Ayden early Sunday morning. His condition was so serious that he died about the noon hour.

Coroner E. S. Williams, of Greenville, investigated the death, and indicated that the clothing and nature of the negro's injuries led investigators to the conclusion that he came to his death from a beating administered with a stick. Opinion was expressed that the youth was beaten and then taken to the road, or that he walked there after the beating.

Officers were still investigating the case this afternoon and it was said that a solution would be reached sometime soon.

$50,000 Whiskey Shipment Seized At Topsail Inlet

Wilmington, July 28.—(AP)—Wilmington's customs house today held approximately 1,000 cases of whiskey, valued by federal officers at $50,000.

The liquor, taken in a raid at Topsail Inlet, near Wilmington, was brought here yesterday in seven trucks under a heavy federal and police guard. Two men, believed to have been guards for the liquor cache, escaped.

SOUTH STILL BAKES UNDER BLAZING SUN

Low Water of Mississippi River Proves Handicap to Navigation

Memphis, Tenn., July 28.—(AP)—The South baked today beneath a blanket of heat while the effects of continued lack of heavy rains became pronounced upon the Mississippi river.

With thermometers rocketing upward through the nineties, the government weather bureau reported a river stage of 4.5 at Memphis, equalling the record July low level and proving a decided handicap to navigation of the heavy barge tows which carry most of the river's burden of commerce.

Pilots of incoming tows reported great difficulty in passing points on the river where the navigable channel is narrowest. Frequently they were forced to split their tows, slip through in small units and proceed slowly to the next dangerous bar or low passage. At least one tow was tied up here awaiting better conditions.

The weather bureau reported there were prospects of a continued slow drop, in the river level. The stage today was the lowest since January, 1926, and was equal to the previous record July level of 4.5 on July 31 of that year.

Earthquake Will Change Map of Italy

Naples, July 28.—(AP)—Last week's disastrous earthquake which in some instances obliterated whole towns, will change the map of Italy to a certain extent.

Of some villages nothing except piles of lumber, stone and mortar dust remains. They will have to be reconstructed, but in the rebuilding some of the picturesque characters of ancient Italian communities will be sacrificed for safety.

For one example there is Melfi. This city, before the earth heaved in the early hours last Wednesday, perched prettily upon a volcanic hill. A new Melfi must arise, but it will lie in the valley below, along a river, where tests have proved shocks are less likely to be felt.

King Victor Emmanuel has urged that no reconstruction should be done on territory especially susceptible to shocks, hence all plans are for building where reasonable safety may be expected.

Work began today on the rebuilding of the 10,000 houses destroyed or damaged in the four provinces stricken, and for the first time since Wednesday, thousands of workmen welded hammer and saw instead of extricating bodies of the hundreds killed when their dwellings tumbled about them.

There are no indications that the official figures on the earthquake toll announced Saturday, 2143 dead and 4,551 injured, will greatly increase.

Lady Conan Doyle Claims Message From Husband

London, July 28.—(AP)—Lady Conan Doyle, said today that Sir Arthur had established definite communication with his family through the medium of a psychic photograph.

She told the Daily Herald in an interview that the Rev. Charles L. Tweedale, Vicar of Weston, York, shide, sat for the photograph. Sir Arthur's picture, Lady Doyle said, is superimposed upon a photograph of Tweedale. The picture was made by a professional photographer but the plate was developed and printed solely by Tweedale.

Furthermore, said Lady Doyle, Peter Powell of Chester received through the spirit guide a message from Sir Arthur about a sealed envelope which Sir Arthur left with Lady Doyle. She said that it contains a message from her husband and that it can only be opened when Sir Arthur directs her to open it and tells her in advance what it contains.

She asserts that the family already has had several marvelous experiences and that there has been much evidence of communication from Sir Arthur.

SKY-BOUND UNTIL LABOR DAY

Lou Relchers (left) and Robert Black, have battled storms and heat above Roosevelt field, N. Y., in an effort to break the endurance refueling record set by the Hunter brothers in Chicago. They expect to be aloft at least until Labor Day.

Treasury Department To Investigate Embargoes Against Soviet Products

Washington, July 28.—(AP)—The treasury officials indicated today that a thorough investigation would be made before action is taken on requests for embargoes against the Soviet products, including lumber and manganese.

The treasury last week declared an embargo against pulpwood but Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary in charge of customs, said today he expected no new decisions for the time being.

Officials were interested in the report that organized labor representatives were seeking a broad embargo against Russian products but they would not comment.

At headquarters of the American Federation of Labor it was pointed out the protest against Soviet exports had not yet been endorsed by the organization, though it was voiced by Matthew Woll, a vice-president.

Federation officials said only its executive council could authorize or sanction support of a general union campaign against Soviet products. The council will not meet until the end of next month.

The official measures aimed at the Soviet trade by the government thus far apply only to pulpwood and matches. The pulpwood order is a complete embargo but the action affecting matches covers statures merely an increase by 50 per cent of the customs duties.

The increase was based on a finding by President Hoover that the commodity was being "dumped" in the United States. The term, Lowman explained, is applied to the practice of selling abroad any product at a price lower than the customary one in the country of production.

The pulpwood embargo resulted from reports that convict labor was used in its manufacture and handling a provision in the new tariff bill barring goods produced wholly or in part by prisoners.

Predict Relief From Heat Wave Tuesday Evening

Washington, July 28.—(AP)—Hope for a break in the nine day heat wave that settled on the eastern states nine days ago was held out today by the weather bureau which expects showers to bring cooler weather by tomorrow night.

Although the general forecast for today was continued fair and warm weather, local thundershowers were expected by evening in several states.

A result of the high temperatures of the past week came today from the nearby University of Maryland, which reported the deaths of 91 hens in the laying contest being conducted at its agricultural experiment station. The excessive heat also sharply curtailed egg production.

NEW PRIMARY IS FORECAST FOR TEXAS

Ma Ferguson and Ross Sterling Run Neck and Neck in Gubernatorial Race

Dallas, Tex., July 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was 55,446 votes ahead of Ross Sterling, of Houston, and Sterling was about 34,237 votes in front of Clint C. Small of Wellington, in the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination when the Texas election bureau had compiled a total of 638,016 votes today.

The returns were from 243 of the 258 counties and the count had been completed in 69 counties.

Election bureau managers estimated not more than 100,000 votes remained to be counted. Since there are eleven gubernatorial candidates among whom the votes will be distributed, it appeared certain the run-off election on August 23 for the nomination would be between Mrs. Ferguson, Texas' first woman governor, and Sterling, chairman of the State Highway Commission and wealthy Houston newspaper publisher.

Dallas, Tex., July 28.—(AP)—Parliament of two Democratic gubernatorial candidates today forecast one of the most bitter political campaigns in Texas history as tabulation of Saturday's primary vote virtually assured a run-off between Mrs. Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson, Texas' only woman governor, and Ross S. Sterling of Houston.

Sterling is chairman of the State Highway Commission through appointment by Gov. Dan Moody, the arch enemy of the Fergusons.

The latest tabulation of the election bureau gave Mrs. Ferguson 197,375 and Sterling 141,283. The vote for the wife of James E. Ferguson, barred from the race by his impeachment as chief executive, was expected to reach 225,000.

Running for vindication of the family name after her husband had been impeached, Mrs. Ferguson rode into office on an anti-Klan Klan campaign in 1924. Governor Moody, then attorney general, uncovered alleged irregularities in the highway department and defeated her for re-nomination by a tremendous majority.

Sterling, a Houston multi-millionaire publisher who organized the Humble Oil Company, has promised the state a business administration and favors a big highway bond issue.

Governor Moody and State Senator Thomas B. Love, Hoover Democrat, and defeated gubernatorial candidate, have promised their support to Sterling.

Morris Sheppard, Texas' senior U. S. Senator, was not faced with the worry of a run-off. Senator Sheppard, an ardent dry, received more than twice as many votes as both of his opponents, one of whom, former Congressman Robert L. Henry, of Houston, made an active campaign as a wet.

Unveil Arrow Monument At Old Fort, N. C.

Old Fort, July 28.—(AP)—An arrow head monument, a memorial to the hardy pioneers who founded the fort here in the Blue Ridge mountains from which this town grew and took its name, stood unveiled today.

The arrow head, 15 feet high, is mounted on a 15-foot stone base and stands before a clear pool in the business section of Old Fort, the marker being unveiled by little Martha Nesbit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nesbit, and great-granddaughter of Mrs. Martha Burgin, only white child born in the fort.

Twenty Indians, led by Chief Carl Standing Deer, of the Cherokee tribe, and Chief Sam T. Blue, of the Catawba tribe, took part in the unveiling ceremony by smoking the pipe of peace. Legend has it that chiefs of the two tribes, once bitter enemies, had never before formally smoked the peace-pipe.

Slain Senator Buried In S. C.

Pinopolis, S. C., July 28.—(AP)—A fresh grave in the little Methodist cemetery here today was made evidence of "Bloody Berkeley's" latest deed of violence, the assassination of the county's dominant political figure, State Senator E. J. Dennis.

Senator Dennis was buried yesterday afternoon as more than 1,000 persons paid their final respects. They included political leaders of the state and plantation negroes.

COMMON SENSE NEEDED

Of course all of us realize that taxes are high and naturally we would like to see them come down, but it appears to us that the movement started sometime ago in this county purporting to be in the interest of lower taxes through the full cooperation of the people of the county and the county board in a united effort at the best possible government at the lowest possible cost, has strayed a far way from its original course and the movement has turned out to be one for the purpose of creating a disturbance in the administration of our county affairs regardless of the cost to the taxpayers.

Several weeks ago when our Board of County Commissioners acting under the law, offered for sale certain notes to derive money to carry on the county's affairs pending the collection of unpaid taxes, there was an application on the part of Judge F. M. Wooten and others associated with him, for a restraining order to prevent the sale of the notes. As we understand, without hearing the County Board's side of it, a restraining order was signed by Judge M. V. Barnhill but same was not served upon the proper county officers until after the sale had been closed and therefore the order was declared inoperative by Judge Barnhill, and after both sides had been heard Judge Barnhill signed a new order completely dismissing the entire action. At that hearing the complainants filed notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

Since that time the new fiscal year of the county has begun and the county board, in order to meet expenses and provide sufficient money with which to operate the schools until such a time as the collection of this year's taxes could get under way, advertised for sale at two o'clock this afternoon $250,000 worth of the county's notes.

Keeping at their efforts to block every action of the county board, Judge Wooten and his associates on Saturday appeared before Judge R. A. Nunn seeking an order to restrain the county commissioners from today's sale, with the result that Judge Nunn after hearing both sides, declared there was no grounds for such an order and he declined the request of the complainants. Again the matter was appealed to the Supreme Court by the complainants, with the result that if the sale is completed today by the county board it will probably be at a higher interest rate than would have been the case had there been no litigation, which means that the taxpayers of the county are out the difference as a result of the so-called efforts to help the taxpayers.

As we understand the matter the county board has already adopted its budget for this year and its resolution of appropriations and is permitted by law to borrow in anticipation of taxes from this budget to meet the current expenses of the county described therein. Similar action is being taken by most of the other counties in the state and in view of the low money rate at this time they are acting wisely to secure funds to provide for their operations until the tax money can be collected. Under these circumstances we have no fear as to what the action of the Supreme Court will be in the matter, but the bad part of it from our standpoint is that we may be penalized an extra interest charge on the money we must borrow, which would not be the case were it not for the litigation. Not only will we suffer a loss in our present borrowing as a result of this litigation, but same no doubt will injure our credit in the money markets, which heretofore has been the best of ratings, and continue to work extra hardships on our taxpayers in the future.

It seems to us that instead of trying to block every move in the county's affairs in an apparent hope of forcing the county to issue script or fail to meet its obligations, Judge Wooten and his associates could best settle down to reasoning and common sense in an effort toward the best and cheapest administration possible, instead of their present apparent determination to rule or ruin by placing every obstacle possible in the way of those men elected by the people of the county to carry on the county's affairs.

ABOUT TOWN

With an epidemic of pellagra sweeping over the country, people should give more attention to the kind of food they eat from day to day, in the opinion of health specialists.

Only well balanced diets should be planned by every household. This is one of the most effective means of combating the plague, and it is to be hoped the qualities of food served upon the tables of the hundreds of families of the community will be given more careful consideration in the future.

From one to two hundred cases of pellagra have been reported in various counties of North Carolina the last few months. Scores of cases are said to exist in Pitt county alone.

Spotches on the skin is one of the most definite indications of the existence of pellagra, and anybody affected in this way should consult a doctor at once and not take any chance on the awful toll of life exacted by the scourge.

The general clinic being conducted among the negro population of this county is commanding nationwide attention at this time, and it will continue to hold the limelight as the test continues.

Right recently the state of Tennessee sent one of its health specialists to Greenville to observe the work in the clinics here, and in a short time a similar campaign will be introduced in Tennessee through the United States Health Department in conjunction with the State Department of Health. The work is being paid for through a $3,000,000 fund set aside by the Rosenwald Foundation and is being conducted only in five or six southern states.

Greenville and Pitt county are very fortunate in being able to obtain a campaign of this kind.

stocks of merchandise. Already bargain prices have been announced on both men's and women's wearing apparel and the next several weeks no doubt will witness the moving of a tremendous volume of this merchandise.

Greenville merchants always begin planning for the fall season ahead of other cities by reason of the opening of the tobacco market around the first of September. This is the beginning of intense activity in the business field and the populace can do nothing but confine attention to the enormous amount of business accompanying the opening of the market.

If you are in need of reasonable wearing apparel it should be to your advantage to visit the city and see what the merchants have to offer.

Greenville's first endurance contest didn't last long, but it was long enough to get the youth of the land interested in the art of free sitting as enunciated by the first sitter in the history of the city, John David Bridges, ten year old youth, who was the first to try out the plan here.

The feat was witnessed by scores of people in all walks of life, and John David found himself the cynosure of all eyes despite the fact that the tree in which the contest was staged was in the yard of his home and not as easily accessible as it otherwise might have been.

While there was nothing significant about the campaign, it did give Greenville people an opportunity to claim the honor of keeping step with other cities where tree-sitting contests have been in progress the last several days.

The important part played by welfare departments of the country was stressed at the institute recently held in Chapel Hill. It was brought out that the average department is doing much to improve conditions of the various communities through encouraging employment. The live-at-home movement as promoted by Governor O. Max Gardner was declared one of the most effective means of realizing this ambition.

Dr. Carl Taylor, one of the main speakers of the institute, declared that Governor Gardner had struck the biggest note of his administration in the live at home program. He said the state's agricultural troubles were at the basis of other troubles of the state, and that these troubles were at the basis of other fact that the South is "cash crop crazy." He declared there is no reason why the farmer cannot absorb the surplus population of the cities if the proper agricultural program is pursued. But such a program must be organized as a community project, rather than be left up to the individual farmer. "The welfare officer, the farm agent, the home demonstration agent, the churches, the civic clubs—all of these must get together and organize the community, and the farmer must be encouraged to plant a garden, to raise stock, and in short, to live at home," he declared.

DR. DIXON CORRECTS ERROR IN HEARNE ARTICLE

Dear Editor:
Please allow me a few lines of space to correct an error in Mr. Hearne's article appearing in your Saturday issue. His last statement that the health department does not take care of the medical services of the convict camp, jail and county home is not an error but a misstatement. The records in the health office show that the health officer visited the county home 54 times, convict camp 44 and jail 126 during the past twelve months. These visits were to treat the sick. This information is open to the public and Mr. Hearne could have gotten it had he cared to leave a correct impression.

Relative to the health department's controversy with the commissioners concerning support; it should be every citizen's business in the county and not left to three men. Public health work is insurance for the citizens of Pitt county. It is insurance for those citizens who are not able to carry it themselves. Pitt county pays in fire insurance premiums $5,000. Which is worth the most to Pitt county, its more than 50,000 citizens or its small amount of county owned property?

This is written in order to correct a misstatement. I do not care to carry on a controversy with the uninformed.

Thanking you for the space granted me in the past, I am,
G. G. DIXON.

SAYS MATRIMONY IS BAR TO HEAVEN

Asheville, July 28.—(AP)—L. W. Swann says matrimony is a bar to heaven. Asked in court if he wanted to live with and support his wife, he answered no. "I want to go to heaven," he elucidated, "and I can't do it if I live with her."

NEW THEATRE OPENS DOORS TO THE PUBLIC

Publix-Saenger Link Gave First Exhibition This Afternoon At One O'clock

The State theatre, located in the old White theatre building on Fifth street below Five Points, threw open its doors to the public this afternoon at one o'clock. The opening performance featured Moran and Mack in "Anybody's War," and was well attended despite sizzling temperatures under which the city has sweated the last few days.

The State, a link of the Publix-Saenger Corporation with main offices at Greensboro, a North Carolina concern, operating shows in thirteen other leading cities of the state, is under the management of Mr. T. Y. Walker, of Durham, who has been in the city the last two weeks supervising the hundreds of changes made in the old theatre building.

The opening this afternoon was attended by M. S. Hill, of Greensboro, district manager, who assisted in arranging finishing touches for the first performance. Mr. Hill said the Publix-Saenger officials realized the possibilities of this locality for a high class show and it was their purpose to give Greenville the same splendid service enjoyed by other cities served by the company throughout the state.

He declared it was the object of the State theatre to attract the attention of Greenville people who had been going to other towns for entertainment. He said he personally guaranteed that this city would receive pictures as rapidly as any town in the country, and that they would be of a standard that should appeal to the hundreds of people who have been going to other towns to witness the latest in the talking picture world.

He said the Publix-Saenger Corporation, although strictly a North Carolina concern, had affiliations with a national company that guaranteed them superior booking service and features of presentation which enabled them to give their thousands of patrons the best in the cinema world. He said he was greatly impressed with the outlook for Greenville and believed the town deserved the best of service it is possible to give.

The White theatre building has been completely transformed under the deft touch of painters, carpenters and decorators the last two weeks and today it is a thing of beauty and splendor. Both the inside and outside have been repainted and re-decorated and present a most attractive appearance. The front has been finished in bronze color, and a new electric sign, canopy and brass rails to the entrance give the building an entirely new appearance.

The changes on the inside are far more numerous than the outside. New cushion seats, new carpets, new lights and lighting effects, new stage effects, new draperies, and orchestra pit arrangement give the inside more comfort than anything Greenville has had in the theatre line in history. On the right hand entrance is a ladies' parlor and on the other side will be found the office.

Entirely new equipment has been provided for the ticket booth, and a Western Electric sound equipment has been installed.

Mr. Walker said the show would endeavor to render the same high type of service of other Publix-Saenger theatres scattered throughout the state, and that Greenville people could be assured of the most courteous attention and consideration at all times.

Young Ladies Escape Injury As Automobile Leaves the Highway

Miss Sibyl Lewis and Miss Blanche Coffman had a narrow escape from death when the automobile in which they were riding plunged over a steep embankment near Greenwood cemetery, on the Greenville-Washington road last night. The accident was believed to have been caused by one of the wheels giving away while making the curve at that point. Two of the wheels were shattered. Although both of the young women were badly shaken up by the impact, they escaped without injury.

"Pat" Patterson Forges to Front of Fishing Realm

"Pat" Patterson, in addition to proving himself a good salesman of hay, grain and provisions has also forged to the front as a fisherman of the first water. "Pat" spent several days at Ocracoke this month. He had as his fishing companion Tom Eaton, of Winston-Salem. Tom is also something of a fisherman. The two went out on the broad waters around Ocracoke one afternoon and bagged four drum, the largest of which weighed 43.2 pounds on the best scales in the neighborhood. The other three tipped the scales at anywhere from 37 to 40 pounds each. To substantiate his story—which sounded something like one of the best fish stories of the season—"Pat" had kodak pictures made of the haul and these have been displayed with pride to numbers of friends here.

Former Greenville Young Man Held in Death New Bern Girl

Charles York, son of C. V. York, formerly of Greenville but now of Raleigh, was held under $2,500 bond at Fort Barnwell today following an automobile wreck late yesterday afternoon in which Miss Proctor of New Bern was killed. Young York is charged with manslaughter.

D. M. Clark, solicitor of the fifth judicial district, was notified of the accident this morning by the sheriff of that county, and immediately began compilation of evidence for prosecuting the case.

York is said to have been driving at a reckless rate of speed when his automobile collided with the machine of which Miss Proctor was an occupant. Another woman was said to have been badly injured.

STRICKLAND GILLILAN AT COLLEGE THIS EVENING

Strickland Gilliland, the humorist and magazine writer who will appear at East Carolina Teachers College this evening at eight o'clock, is the author of the poem containing these famous lines: "Musther Flannigan—Off agin, on agin, gone agin—Finnigan." These are the final lines of the note left by the railroader whose boss had told him to boil down his report.

Mr. Strickland not only writes extensively for magazines, but is on the staff of several, among them the Saturday Evening Post. He belongs to that small group of humorists who make us laugh and yet leave us something to think about, of which there are no more than a dozen, such as Will Rogers, Ring Lardner and Anita Loos.

He has the reputation of being natural, charming, and yet irresistible. He has this clever foreword to a leaflet of press notices and extracts from letters: "All I can do is to turn my blushing face aside and let you read what these real fellows said voluntarily—with my hearty consent."

Then follow letters from Bruce Barton, Edgar Guest, Irving Bacheller and others as well known, all of whom are friends of his.

Although police threw out a dragnet for the thief this morning, no definite clue as to his whereabouts had been obtained up to the noon hour today. The automobile was placed in the garage last night about 11 o'clock and the theft occurred sometime between that hour and the early morning.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, July 28.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 9 to 14 points on buying which was evidently promoted by the failure of early weather reports to show any rain in the southwest and relatively firm Liverpool cables.

The new October sold up to 12.95 and March to 13.37 during the early trading, making net advances of 18 to 20 points on the more active positions but offerings increased after the posting of the weather map. This showed a cool wave north of the best which some traders thought might work downward and cause showers in northern portions of the western belt.

October eased off to 12.84 and March to 13.31 by the end of the first half hour, making returns of some 6 or 10 points from the best. Liverpool cables said trade had been trade calling covering and continental buying in that market on the drought situation in the south.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, July 28.—(AP)—A huge increase of the United States wheat visible supply greatly in excess of trade expectation, acted as a weight on prices of all grain today. The increase amounted to 14,503,000 bushels for the last week, comparing with 8,394,000 bushels the week previous and 11,912,000 bushels a year ago. Heavy profit taking sales on the part of recent buyers was a feature of the corn market.

Wheat closed unsteady 1 5-8 to 2 under Saturday's finish; corn closed 1 1-2 to 2 5-8 down; oats 1-2 to 1 off and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7.

STOCK MARKET

New York, July 28.—(AP)—The forces working for higher prices struggled with considerable animation in today's stock market to jack up prices above the resistance levels of the rally from the June lows, estimated on July 18.

Their work was hampered by tempestuous flurries of selling but the list worked irregularly higher, several issues selling up about 2 to 4 points, and recording new high levels for the movement. Trading was fairly active, based on the reduced standards of these days. There was a notable shift of bullish operations from industrials to utilities, as the latter group was not so thoroughly exploited during the past week. Oils were later pushed up.

News still failed to present any palpable evidence of the expected Autumn improvement, but out of the rather gloomy flood of earnings statements appeared a gratifying number of bright spots. Of more than a score of first half-statements, about half of the individual companies showed gains over last year, although the aggregate earnings of all companies so far reporting shows a loss for the like period of last year considerably in excess of 20 per cent, and about 5 per cent from the like period of 1928.

Early indications are that steel mill operations this week are little more than holding their own. From the Youngstown area came an estimate indicating that operations had been reduced from 60 to 58 per cent of capacity.

Call money was again at 2 per cent on the floor, and 1 1/4 outside. Commercial paper was firmer at 3 to 3 1/4 against 3 flat late last week.

Favors Newspapers.
New York—The Fox Theatres Corporation announces that henceforth it will advertise only in newspapers. Money heretofore used on other forms of advertising will be used for increased newspaper space. The reasons assigned are superior flexibility, ability to make last minute changes and digestion of newspapers advertisements at the convenience of the reader.

On Belated Honeymoon.
Brevard, July 28.—(AP)—J. F. Barrett, editor of the Brevard News and Mrs. Barrett, are on their honeymoon, delayed 25 years.

Young Bank Teller Commits Suicide At Rocky Mount

Rocky Mount, July 28.—(AP)—Walter L. Harper, young bank teller died here today from two bullet wounds which friends say were self-inflicted.

Dr. J. E. L. Thomas, Edgecombe county coroner, is on his way here to hold an inquest.

Shortly before time for the bank to open, Harper left the house where he lived and went to the garage in the rear. He was found a few minutes later, and rushed to a hospital where he died.

Harper, who leaves a widow, was not in his cage when the bank opened and officials of the institution were looking for him when informed of his death, they said they could find no irregularities in his accounts.

Farmers to Open Convention At Raleigh Tuesday

Raleigh, July 28.—(AP)—A host of farmers and farm women moved upon Raleigh today from the four corners of North Carolina for the opening of the 28th annual session of the state farmer's and farm women's convention.

Although the formal sessions of the convention do not begin until tomorrow, hundreds of farmers were in the city today in readiness for the opening session. An entertainment program had been arranged for tonight on the N. C. State college campus where the convention will be held.

Dean I. O. Schaub, of the college, estimated that attendance would pass the 200 mark and possibly reach 3,000 before the gathering adjourned. Sessions will continue until Friday.

Almost every phase of farming and home-making will be discussed before the convention by farm and home demonstration experts, and in addition a number of leaders in other fields will speak.

CUBS FALL BEFORE THE REDS AGAIN

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer)
An unexpected display of strength on the part of the western clubs of both major leagues marked the intersectional series which wound up yesterday after a little over two weeks of east-west play. But it was the opening blasts of the current intra-sectional warfare that provided yesterday's sensations and made some important alterations in the standings.

In the National League, Chicago, after leading the way in the intersectional struggles with eleven victories and six defeats, went down yesterday before the Cincinnati jinx and lost a game and one half to the Brooklyn Robins, who whipped the Phillies twice. The Cubs had a promising rally nipped by the second triple play the Reds have made against them this season and dropped their fifth straight decision to Cincinnati as the Reds followed their advantage with a four run burst. The Robins pounded the Philadelphia pitchers for 26 hits in a pair of slugfest matches which produced nine home runs. They won by scores of 10 to 6 and 9 to 6.

This double victory was something of an improvement of the Robins record of 9 victories and 8 defeats in their home stand against the west. Their mark, however, equalled that of the New York Giants, co-leaders of the eastern brigade. The Giants were pulled down somewhat in their intersectional campaign as the Pittsburgh Pirates scored two victories in the final double header yesterday. Pittsburgh bunched their hits for enough runs to offset a six run Giant rally and won the first game 10 to 8, then piled up an early lead off Pete Donohue for an 8 to 4 triumph in the second.

The St. Louis Cardinals added to the prestige of the west by handing the Boston Braves a double defeat. They won the first game 2-0 on homers by Fisher and Hafey and Sylvester Johnson's third hit hurling, then copped the second 6 to 1, with Herman Bell on the mound.

The Cards fell below the 500 mark for the intersectional play by one game, but with Cincinnati's record of winning eleven out of 18 games, the western clubs of the National League won 39 games and the east only 30.

Due to the surprising showing of Cleveland and Detroit at home and Washington's slump, the American League's western division took 38 contests to 34 for the east. The Indians won eleven games and lost eight while the Tigers were victorious ten times in 17 games. Philadelphia's Athletics again led all rivals, winning 12 out of 16 games, but Washington fell down to a low level of seven victories and 12 defeats.

Washington put on one of its rather infrequent displays of its earlier strength and slammed the Chicago White Sox for 15 hits and a 10 to 1 victory after losing three straight. Fred Marberry made it a complete triumph by holding the Sox to three hits.

The St. Louis Browns ended their struggle to remain in seventh place by winning two of the day's most surprising games from the Boston Red Sox, 10 to 9 and 9 to 6. These two weak hitting clubs brought forth 53 hits, nine homers and bursts of seven and eight runs in the first game. Goose Goslin hit three four baggers, Webb and Todd two apiece while Metzler won the second clash with a ninth inning namer.

Grand STATE Today, Opening Tuesday

A PUBLIZ-SAENGER THEATRE.

SPORTS SLANTS

There isn't must mystery about the fight of the Brooklyn Robins pennantward when the features of this remarkable collection of baseball ivory are examined.

It may be traced chiefly to the improvement in two vital positions—shortstop, where Glenn Wright has returned to his most brilliant form; behind the bat, where Al Lopez has bobbed up as the finest young receiver to break in since Mickey Cochrane joined the A's.

There are a number of other reasons not the least of which is that Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson knows how to get more and better pitching out of any given set of salary wings than any manager in the game. Note, for example, Babe Phelps and Adolfo Luque.

Wright has "made" the infield and his clean-up hitting has never been more in evidence. Outside of Al Simmons and Babe Ruth, there isn't a more dangerous man at the plate in a pinch than the Robins shortstop.
