DECISION IN THE ADERHOLT CASE UPHOLD

Supreme Court Also Sustains Decision of Lower Court in the Hoffman Case

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The North Carolina Supreme Court today upheld the lower court decisions in the "Aderholt" and "Hoffman" cases, which grew out of Communist strike disturbances at Gastonia and textile strikes at Marion last year.

In the Aderholt case decision, which involved Fred Erwin Beal and six other defendants, Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy discussed at length the "exceptions upon which the defendants place great reliance for a reversal of the judgments, to wit, those taken during the cross-examination of Mrs. Miller with respect to her religious views," but concluded with the statement that the record did not call for a definite ruling on the question debated.

The seven defendants in the Aderholt case were: Beal, Lawrence, Mass., southern organizer for the National Textile Workers Union; Clarence Miller, New York, organizer of the youth's section of the union; George Carter, Mispah, N. J., who became interested in the strike "because he was interested in strikes"; W. M. McGinnis, Louis McLaughlin, Joseph Harrison and K. Y. Hendricks of Gastonia.

Beal, Carter, Harrison and Miller were sentenced to 17 to 20 years each for murder in the second degree of Chief of Police O. F. Aderholt of Gastonia, who was killed in an encounter at the local union headquarters June 7, 1929. They also were given concurrent sentences on charges of felonious assault. McGinnis and McLaughlin were given sentences of 12 to 15 years each on the second degree murder charge and concurrent sentences of 5 to 7 years on the other. Hendricks was sentenced to 5 to 7 years on the first count and 5 years, concurrent, on the second.

In the case arising from the strike disorders at Marion, Alfred Hoffman, southern representative of the Full Fashion Hosiery Workers; Lawrence Hoffman, Dell Lewis and Wes Fowler, were charged with rioting and various charges of resisting officers.

The four were convicted of rioting. Hoga, Fowler and Lewis were sentenced to serve six months on the county roads and Hoffman was sentenced to 30 days in jail and a fine of $1,000 and costs.

Associate Justice W. J. Brogden, who wrote the court's opinion, held that the evidence introduced at the trial was sufficient to submit to a jury and found no error in the lower court's trial of the case.

In his 31-page opinion in the Aderholt case Chief Justice Stacy went into a detailed recital of the facts from which the case originated as well as a detailed synopsis of the testimony.

Statements made by each of the seven defendants, as testified by witnesses, are quoted in the opinion to show that guns were kept at the union headquarters and that each defendant took a part in the events the night Chief Aderholt was fatally wounded.

"The one overshadowing circumstance appearing on the record," Chief Justice Stacy wrote, "which gives decided color and tone to the state's case, is that, when the shooting was over and the smoke of the guns had cleared away, it was discovered that three of the officers, and Roach, who came with them, had been shot, one slightly hurt, two seriously wounded, and the chief of police mortally wounded; while the defendants, with the exception of Joseph Harrison, were uninjured."

"The case in brief, from the state's standpoint, is simply this: Aderholt, Gilbert and Roach were shot down, being hit in the back, at least Aderholt was, while going with the guard under arrest from the front yard of the union premises to the city car."

Chief Justice Stacy further found from the facts in that case "that a permissible inference" was that the defendants had "conspired and unlawfully agreed among themselves to resist the officers to the death, and to shoot and shoot to kill."

Moreover, it is a settled principle of the law, apparently applicable to the facts of the instant cases, that where a number of persons aid and abet each other in the commission of a crime, all being present, all are principals and equally guilty."

The order of mistrial at the first trial in Mecklenburg county after a change of venue was granted from Gaston county was upheld by the opinion.

The court also sustained the lower court in admitting into the evidence the dying declarations of Chief Aderholt, and also the cross-examination of Beal with respect

ALCOHOL RING UNCOVERED BY DRY OFFICERS

Trace Source of 24,000 Gallons of Perfumes Believed Used As Liquor

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The source of 24,000 gallons of perfumes and other legitimate alcoholic products, believed converted into bootleg liquor for consumption in the capital, was the object of search today by a special squadron of prohibition agents.

Believing the arrests of seven persons, two of them women, within the past few days had uncovered a large alcohol running ring, agents turned to Pennsylvania and Maryland to uncover the production center for Washington's supply. The quantity converted was believed to have been disposed of in the past two months.

W. A. Heddens, in charge of the agents specializing in major conspiracy cases, said he hoped to secure enough evidence to permit James M. Doran, chief of the Bureau of industrial alcohol, to cancel any industrial alcohol permits that might have been issued in supplying Washington's thirst.

The Washingtonians arrested were said to have brought the alcohol into the city in legitimate form, re-distilling it here for sale to retail bootleggers.

The public health service, meanwhile, reported itself puzzled by the cause of paralysis cases which spread like an epidemic over many sections this year after an adulterated ginger extract had been used extensively as a beverage. Months of study has led them to the belief that the alcohol contained in a particular lot of extract might have carried some poison, as the service found many of the persons stricken had drunk similar preparations for years without appreciable effect.

The poison batch, the investigation revealed "from its chemical behavior appears to resemble a phosphoric acid ester of tricalcol, which in itself does not appear to be a well defined chemical entity."

Three Destroyers To Become Target for Naval Gunners

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Three scarred and battered destroyers are to become "perennial" targets for the lighter guns of the navy's battleships.

Already one of these vessels is being equipped with a radio control that will enable it to move creelless about the seas while the guns of the bigger ships blaze away at it.

The Stoddard, which has been in service for ten years, is the first of the three destroyers selected to improve the navy's marksmanship. Two others will be chosen later from the scores of similar craft built during the war which have since become obsolete.

In firing on these vessels the gunners will use target ammunition, which contains no explosive and will only tear holes in the defenseless craft instead of blasting it out of the water. When there are too many holes, the destroyer target will be towed to port and patched.

PUSH SEARCH FOR MISSING MARYLANDER

Ships and Aircraft Used In Effort to Discover Fate of Van Lear Black

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Ships and aircraft were called upon today in an intensive search for Van Lear Black, Baltimore publisher, financier and globe-trotting aviation enthusiast, who is believed to have fallen from the rail of his yacht and drowned off the New Jersey coast Monday night.

The navy dirigible Los Angeles; Black's yacht; the Sabalo; coast guard vessels, other craft and four amphibian planes were assigned to the task. Search by aircraft and ships yesterday proved futile.

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, a friend of Mr. Black, requested that everything possible be done to promote the quest. The only possibility that he may be found alive rested in the fact that he is a good swimmer and may have kept himself afloat until picked up by some small ship.

He was last seen shortly after nine o'clock Monday night, 18 miles south of Ambrose Channel, sitting on the stern rail of his yacht, his legs wrapped around the guard rails and one hand grasping a starboard. He was smoking a cigarette. That day he had flown to Newport to see his twin grandchildren, just born to his daughter, wife of Lieut. Albert J. Bolton. He had boarded the yacht at the wharf of the New York Yacht Club, foot of 26th street, about 6 o'clock, apparently delighted.

Shortly after 10 o'clock, his valet went on deck to consult him. Mr. Black could not be found. Alarmed, the valet informed the captain, John W. Kelley.

"We ordered the yacht, which was then about eight miles south by west of Shrewsbury gas buoy off the Jersey coast, stopped and we played searchlights on the water," said Captain Kelley.

"Seeing nothing, we started her again and put about. For hours we cruised, but we could find no trace. There was nothing to do but give up and put back again into Gravesend Bay. The only thing we found was Mr. Black's handkerchief near the rail of the aft deck. That told me what probably happened."

JUDGE SMALL URGES PUBLIC TO AID COURTS

Elizabeth City Man Speaks At Monthly Meeting of Pitt Legion Post

The court of this country is an institution of the people and by the people, and it is the duty of the public to uphold it, Judge Walter L. Small, of Elizabeth City, who is presiding over the present term of Pitt County Superior court, told members of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion assembled in regular monthly session at the Rotary club last night.

Confining his attention to a brief discussion of the attitude of the public towards the court, the jurist declared there should be more emphasis placed upon the functions of the institution, and that the people generally should attempt to realize the important part which it plays in American life. He declared that "without courts there would be no civilization," and that it was incumbent upon the people to show a greater regard and respect for administration of the law.

Referring to the important part which the juror plays in the life of the court, Judge Small said no man should try to escape the responsibility which rested upon his shoulders in this field of service. He said it was the popular idea for many people to try to escape jury service by appearing before the court with excuses. This is the wrong idea, entirely, he said, because it is the plain duty of every man to assist in the administration of justice in the community in which he lives.

He stressed the importance of getting good men to serve on the juries. "They should be men of character—men willing to give the best they have in behalf of the people, unafraid to render the high type of service which jury duty imposes upon every man."

He declared that the public should regard the courts as institutions, empowered with the administration of the laws and the

Committee to Consider Organization and Preliminary Steps In the Drought Relief Program; Many Sections Reported Still Unrelieved

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—President Hoover called the first meeting of his national drought relief committee for late today at the White House. The meeting is for the purpose of organization and consideration of preliminary steps in the drought relief program. All members of the committee, except Henry M. Robinson, of Los Angeles, will attend the meeting. Governor W. J. Holloway of Oklahoma, telegraphed the President today that his state had perfected a state-wide drought committee and was planning county committees, the federal government.

The Department of Agriculture all of which would cooperate with reported today that while rains this week had brought relief to many localities, numerous sections were "largely unrelieved."

Deterioration of the corn crop was said to have been checked in most sections by frequent showers and cool weather, "but material improvement in the development will apparently be limited."

Harvest of small grains is now largely completed. Temperatures were moderate in the eastern cotton belt, but continued abnormally high in the west, while local showers were rather general east of the Mississippi River. In the western belt the drought has been most intensified by continued high temperatures and lack of rain.

"Moderate to heavy showers occurred during the week over large

Apparent Failure Marks First Effort To Settle Strike At Bessemer City

Mill President Offers to Reinstate Operatives at Old Wage Scale, But It Was Indicated There Was Little Chance of Acceptance Today

Bessemer City, Aug. 20.—(AP)—First efforts to bring an end to the strike of textile operatives at the American Cotton Mills, Inc., today had apparently failed.

Although strike leaders had under consideration an offer from Frank Goldberg, mill president, to take back all employes on the wage schedule obtaining immediately before the walkout last Monday, it was intimated by them that there was little chance of its acceptance.

Goldberg, who personally extended the offer at a strikers' meeting yesterday, said that two or two and one-half weeks' work at the old wage scale would be guaranteed the workers. At the end of that time, he said, the proposed reduction which precipitated the strike would again have to go into effect.

Strike leaders took the position that two weeks' work was not sufficient and would do little to aid them. In answer to Goldberg's offer, 17 operatives in the weave room of mill No. 1 signed a petition making a condition of return to work an increase in wages in this department—in one instance as high as 50 per cent—and also a reduction of 50 per cent in house rent.

This petition was immediately rejected by the mill president. The workers, at their mass meeting, pledged to stand together "until we get what we asked."

Possibility that Gov. O. Max Gardner would be asked to send a representative here was seen in a statement by strike leaders. They proposed that the wage scale should be examined by a representative of the chief executive in order to prove their claim that they cannot live on the amounts received.

The first effects of the strike were felt in the homes of some of the operatives today. Committees to solicit food, money and clothing for the strikers have been appointed and are at work.

No further negotiations for settlement of the strike had been made today. George R. Spencer, general manager of the mills, said, "Goldberg will not recede from his position announced yesterday and any further move toward a compromise must come from the workers. The mills are hot in operation."

WET AND DRY FIGHT FACES BAR MEMBERS

Referendum Under Fire At Annual Meet of American Association At Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Prohibition has tossed a bombshell into the annual meeting of the American Bar Association.

The executive committee's action in refusing to withdraw a membership referendum on the wet-dry question portended serious debate as Henry Upson Sims, the president formally opened the fifty-third convention today.

Leaders of the opposition, organized yesterday, were prepared to take their fight on the referendum to the convention floor. Their argument, it was disclosed, was that prohibition is now a question of national policy and not a legal matter that should come before the Bar Association.

The referendum, authorized by the executive committee last January, consisted of two questions, went to the 30,000 members through the mails. They were:

"Do you favor a referendum on the repeal of the eighteenth amendment?"

"Should the American Bar Association go on record as favoring the repeal of the eighteenth amendment?"

There are separate envelopes for the replies. If the first question shows a majority unfavorable to the referendum, the second set of envelopes will be burned unopened.

If favorable, the executive committee will open the second set sometime this fall and announce the result.

It was understood that the action of the executive committee yesterday in refusing to withdraw the referendum was unanimous.

The convention was opened by the presidential address of Henry Upson Sims of Birmingham, Ala., who discussed technically the relation of constitutional limitations to the reform of the law.

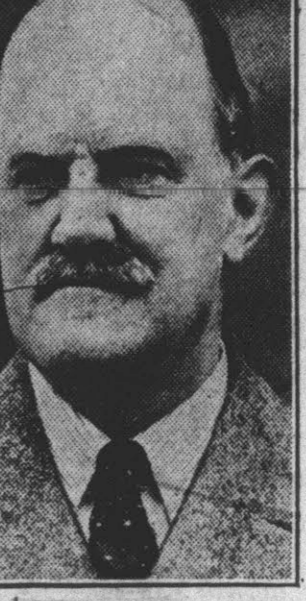

The reform of judicial administration, he said, might be termed the dominant problem before the American people. It is not, however, the social impulse but the social need that must be put into law, he added.

"Any legislation," he said, "within the appropriate sphere of its action is constitutional if reasonable under the conditions of time and place to which it is made applicable and conceivably directed to advance the public good."

"A good deal has been said and written to the effect that during the last few years there is a constant conflict in the courts of the nation between proponents of what are referred to as property rights."

The supposed obstacles of important constitutional limitations found in legal decisions, he said, may really be regarded as guarantees of the soundness of future legislative elaboration of the system of rights and the organized by may proceed without hesitation to the systematic reform of the law.

PENNY HILL KILLER FAILS TO GET BOND

Jodie Whitley Denied Bail In Habeas Corpus Hearing Here Yesterday

Jodie Whitley, of Penny Hill, held in the county jail in this city charged with the murder of Paul Forbes, well known planter of the same community, was denied bond in habeas corpus proceedings conducted before Judge Walter L. Small of Elizabeth City, in superior court here yesterday afternoon.

Attorneys for Whitley claimed their client was in bad health and that confinement in the local jail had tended to aggravate his condition. Judge Small told them that with the evidence produced Whitley could not be released under any consideration. The hearing, however, was continued until Thursday, when it was said more evidence would be brought to bear on the case.

Whitley has been confined in the county jail since about the middle of July, charged with the slaying of Paul Forbes following an altercation at a tobacco barn on the Forbes' plantation near Penny Hill. Whitley is alleged to have sat under a tree near Forbes' house and fired at him with a shotgun. Forbes died sometime later, but there was some question as to the cause of his death. An autopsy was conducted under the direction of Coroner E. S. Williams, and it was determined that Forbes came to his death as result of a hemorrhage of the brain caused by the charge from a shotgun.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Forbes came to his death as result of a shotgun in the hands of Whitley and ordered that he be held without bond for superior court.

Whitley fled from the Penny Hill section immediately after the shooting. He surrendered to the sheriff of this county at Williamston some time later after informing the officer over long distance telephone that he was ready to give himself up.

Prior to the habeas corpus hearing court disposed of the case of Ernest Braxton, of Ayden, against J. T. Matthews of the Robersonville community. Braxton was suing Matthews for the sum of $2,000 as result of injuries which he sustained in an automobile collision with Matthews near a Chocod creek about two years ago. The jury awarded the plaintiff the sum of $250.

Braxton was pulling out on the highway from a filling station when the car driven by Matthews collided with his machine. Braxton sustained injuries that resulted in his confinement in the hospital for sometime, but the jury failed to find where he was justified in receiving the amount asked for and returned a decision accordingly. The case was begun yesterday morning and occupied most of the day.

Court began consideration today in the case of Rowland Tyson against Jim Shirley, involving a dispute over a note. It was indicated that hearing would be completed during the early part of the afternoon.

I. C. C. ORDERS REVISION IN COTTON RATE

New Rail Rates to Become Effective in January; Mississippi Valley Gets Cut

Washington, Aug. 20.—(AP)—A general revision of railroad rates on cotton was ordered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to be effective next January 10.

In its main features, the order left practically undisturbed the present cotton rates applying to the southeastern section of the country, but reduced rates applying to the Mississippi Valley to the point of equalizing them with the eastern rates.

It provided for cotton rates in the southwest on a basis ten per cent higher than that applying in the southeast; and it altered the export rates of cotton to Texas seaports in such a fashion as to decrease those applying to long ones.

It required also the equalization of Mobile with New Orleans in the matter of cotton export rates. For shipments of cotton out of the Mississippi Valley, the general scale of the commission laid down fixed rates of 18 cents per 100 pounds for distances of 5 miles; 35 cents for distances of 50; 82 for distances of 500; $1.09 for distances of 1,000 miles, with proportionate amounts for intervening distances.

By differentials varying the scales, it was arranged to meet the conditions of southern, northern or western shipments.

The standard, the commission observed, "is designed as nearly as may be to reduce the Mississippi Valley cotton rate level only enough to put it on approximately the same level as obtained in the remainder of southern territory."

For movements through the southwestern states, the separate mileage scale was approximately 10 per cent higher than that set for the Mississippi Valley. Special arrangement was made for shipments to Houston, Galveston, and Texas cities. Through which cotton ordinarily moves in quantity for export.

Two Greenville Boys Get Into New York Court

New York, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Two youths from Greenville, N. C., who ran away from home a month ago to "see the world," and who were arrested at 84th street and Broadway early this morning charged with violating the Sullivan law, were dismissed in West Side court today by Magistrate Edward Weil.

The boys, Luther Eason, 17, of 314 13th St., and William Oakley, 16, of 1221 Washington St., both Greenville students at the high school there, hitch-hiked their way to Niagara Falls, they told the court, before their money ran out, and that they decided that home would not be so bad after all. They started the return trip and reached New York a little after midnight, coming in with a kindly motorist who gave them enough to buy a meal.

They had just finished a late supper at a restaurant of upper Broadway and were heading south, straight for Greenville when Patrolman Robert Lewis of the West 69th street station spotted them. They carried a brief case which they took turns holding, and when the patrolman opened it he found an empty .38-caliber revolver inside.

In court the boys said they carried the weapon for protection. The magistrate asked to see the revolver and found on examining it that the trigger was broken.

He decided that as long as the revolver would not shoot it could not be classed as a dangerous weapon and freed the boys.

"When I was your age I used to have the wanderlust in the summer but I never got around to going anywhere," said Magistrate Weil.

Court attendants raised a collection of $12 for the boys and advised them to consult the Travelers Aid Society about going home.

Legislator Held In Robbery Case

Atlanta, Aug. 20.—(AP)—J. H. Kirby, Forsyth county representative in the Georgia legislature was arrested here today on a charge of robbery in connection with a recent hold-up in an office building.

He posted a bond of $2,000 and was released pending trial.

An indictment returned against him yesterday by the Fulton county grand jury charged that he entered the offices of the American Finance Corporation July 16, held up employees with a toy pistol and robbed the cash register of $100.

ABOUT TOWN

The lynching of the negro by the Edgecombe county mob is one of the most revolting crimes perpetrated in North Carolina in nearly a decade. The outrage is not only deplored by the public at large, but the Chief Executive of the State has promised his every effort to bring members of the mob to justice.

"It is a disgrace to North Carolina," Gov. Gardner declared upon receiving a report of the lynching at Asheville. "The fair record which the state has been able to establish the last several years has been besmeared by a set of men who could not wait for the law to take its course."

There is no justification for such conduct, even though the crime which the negro committed is one of the most reprehensible it is possible to imagine, and the responsible parties should be brought to justice for the salutary influence which it will have upon the public mind.

Business is reported to be looking up in this part of the state at the present time and continued improvement may be expected the remainder of the fall and winter.

People always begin to feel better this season of the year in anticipation of the tobacco market, and when sales actually begin there will be more money in circulation and hard pressed merchants who have been carrying hundreds of customers during the period of money will begin to smile and feel like they are seeing some of the silvery lining which the proverbial dark cloud always holds.

When money loosens up a bit everybody should make an effort to settle up as many back accounts as possible. This will enable the business men to replenish their stocks and to be able to enter another year in position to recognize the many demands for credit. Without such a condition, credit conditions will be tighter than they have ever been before and many a man will regret the purchases of luxuries instead of applying that money to his debts.

That the people of the city seem to be abiding by the law regarding the operation of automobiles by children under sixteen years of age, is indicated by the lack of arrests made by the police department the last week or so.

The practice became so widespread at one time that the chief of police was forced to issue an ultimatum in which he warned that all violations of this kind would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. The parents who were unintentionally subjecting themselves to punishment in this manner have taken steps to keep their children from under the steering wheel with the result that violations of this kind have decreased almost altogether.

The attitude on the part of the public is to be commended, and it is hoped they will continue to abide by the law in the future as they have the last several days.

The Reflector keeps abreast of the times every day of the year. This fact is manifested by the coverage of the many important news stories which break in different parts of the country from time to time.

Within a few minutes after anything happens, it matters not what part of the country it may be in, full details reach this office over the Associated Press leased wires. This is a service very few towns the size of Greenville have at this time and we are proud indeed that we are able to give our readers the same rapid service of the big metropolitan dailies.

If you are not one of the hundreds of readers of this paper why not send in your subscription at once and be in position to receive the latest and most authentic versions of the happenings throughout the world.

Merchants are receiving daily arrivals of goods from northern markets, and from now until the holiday season the hundreds of people in this trade territory will have the opportunity to select from one of the most complete and varied lines of merchandise the business men have assembled here in many a day.

It will pay the thrifty shopper to visit the stores and inspect the values. They should be able to save enough to pay the cost of transportation from a distance of fifty miles or more in addition to getting the best the market has to offer.

Don't put off your shopping, Mr. and Mrs. Buyer, but come now while the stocks are complete with fall goods and select the best the fashion world has to offer.

SEEK FOURTH MAN IN PLOT TO KILL GOVERNOR

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Search was under way today by Duval county authorities for a fourth man in connection with an alleged conspiracy to assassinate Governor Doyle E. Carlton.

Sheriff W. E. Cahoon refused to discuss further details of the case, saying none of the evidence on which charges of conspiracy were based would be made public before a preliminary hearing Monday.

He would not divulge the identity of the fourth man sought.

Vincent C. Giblin of Miami, attorney for "Scarface Al" Capone, in Miami yesterday said his client was not connected with nor implicated in the alleged plot. Giblin was arrested with Fred O. Eberhardt, Tallahassee editor, and Frank Ralls, Saturday night. Giblin, however, was released after going to the sheriff's office.

Eberhardt, Ralls and Harry Halsema, third man named in a warrant charging conspiracy, were at liberty under bond. They have professed ignorance of any plot.

ATLANTIC MORTGAGE CO IN HANDS OF RECEIVERS

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Filing of two equity suits against the Atlantic Mortgage Company, of Durham, in the United States District court here has revealed the appointment of temporary receivers for the firm.

The suits were filed by James A. Cobel, of Virginia, who in one action alleged a default in the company's bonds under defaulted real estate mortgages of $837,000. The second action involves bonds totaling $835,000 of which default in principal and interest under defaulted mortgages is alleged to total $308,000.

The plaintiff alleges in the action that the Atlantic company "is totally unable to pay."

J. W. Howard of Baltimore, and E. E. Duncan, of Raleigh, were appointed temporary receivers in an order signed by Judge I. M. Meekins at Elizabeth City. A hearing to show cause on the receivership was set for September 5 at Raleigh.

FARRIS NEW COUNCILLOR OF STATE JUNIOR ORDER

Greensboro, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Edgar V. Farris of Tarboro, will be the next state councillor of the North Carolina division of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

Harris yesterday was nominated without opposition. His election today will come at the regular convention business session.

Four others, nominated without opposition, are also assured of their respective offices. They are Sam F. Vance, Kernersville, secretary; Guarney P. Hood, Goldsboro, treasurer; N. W. Johnson, Statesville, warden; and the Rev. R. Paul Caydill, Raleigh, chaplain.

Invitations for the Junior Order's 1931 convention have been received from Goldsboro, Charlotte, Sanford Chapel Hill, Morehead City and Asheville.

STATE FIREMEN MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR DRILL

Morehead City, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Financial arrangements for the state drill school have been made by the North Carolina Firemen's Association and classes in instruction will be held next at Durham.

Announcement that the school will be continued, was made at the association's convention here yesterday. Sherwood Brockwell, state fire marshal, who will be in charge has arranged to have North Carolina instructors exclusively at the school.

J. C. B. Ehringhaus, of Elizabeth City, addressed the firemen yesterday. Mr. Ehringhaus told the association that $8,000,000 is saved the state annually in reduced fire losses and lower insurance rates by the efficiency of its firemen.

LIVESTOCK TO FEATURE MEET AT BELHAVEN

Annual Field Day Program to Be Given On Latham Farm August 28

The Tidewater Livestock Association will hold its first annual field day at the farm of Fred Latham near Belhaven on August 28, and the plans now well worked out will insure to all those who attend a meeting of farm folks and others who are interested in Eastern North Carolina future development a pleasant and profitable day.

The initial purpose of this association was, and is now, the encouragement of diversity in our agricultural program, especially that of incorporating a definite place for livestock somewhere in our farm plans, however it does not anticipate confining its activities to this line of endeavor alone, but proposes to foster and help build up new lines that will utilize the alarming waste of time and material now much in evidence on most farms, and thereby help adjust our farm plans to meet the changed economic problems that we are facing.

It is the thought of those in charge of the program this year, that a special drive should be made to encourage the placing of a dairy calf on as many farms as possible, hence much emphasis will be stressed on this effort.

There has never been a greater need for dairy products, purely for farm consumption in our state than now, and there has been no year within a generation when foundation stock could be had so reasonable, and our aim is to help those who will help themselves to locate this stock.

If not interested in this line there will be other features of the meeting which should appeal to you.

The association views with some pride the hog work being done in its territory and has noted the beneficial results accruing from its adoption by our folks, we expect to have with us specialist whom you can consult about the difficulties you have encountered, and who will take much pleasure in outlining the most approved methods of combating these unfavorable conditions.

The stranger within our gates from sections that produce beef cattle marvels at the failure of our people to utilize the tremendous opportunities that are peculiarly our advantages such as we enjoy would be converted into a stream of steady revenue, if available to those engaged in this line in less favored sections.

There has been no time in recent years when foundation stock could be had as cheaply as now. Let this meeting help you get started right.

We hope to have with us representatives of the North Carolina Crop Improvement Association who will be in position to explain Governor Gardner's motive for the establishment of this line of endeavor, and point out the wonderful results being obtained by a close follow up of the plans that gave him the urge to develop this promising field for North Carolina farm folks.

Specialists in poultry, bee culture, gardening and related subjects will be invited, hence it matters not what your problem is, it is the intention of those in charge of this meeting to help with the best information available.

There will be no long drawn out speeches, but there will be short snappy talks made by some of the leaders of thought in our state men and women who have a sincere desire to enlist their further service in bettering our agricultural life.

BABY DISPUTE IS SETTLED AT CHICAGO NOW

Watkins and Bambergers Exchange Babies and Appear Satisfied

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Watkins and Bamberger babies were in new homes today and three-fourths of the parents, at least, thought they were the right homes.

The central figures in the famous baby-switching case were exchanged last night after Charles Bamberger and his wife had been advised that the two families had the wrong babies.

Under the watchful eye of Dr. Arnold Kegel, city health commissioner, Mrs. Bamberger handed over the infant boy she has cared for for the last six weeks and Mrs. William Watkins in turn gave her the baby she had christened a Watkins.

They undressed the babies, changed clothing and exchanged formulas for baby food. Both women kissed both babies, wept a little, the whole party shook hands all around and the baby problem appeared solved.

But Watkins returning from a baseball game to find a new baby in the home, threatened to tangle it all up again. "They took advantage of my wife," he said. "There wouldn't have been any trade if I had been home. How do we know which is which?" He said he might sue the Bambergers, that the question of parentage is still before the court.

The baby boys were born June 30 and the trouble started ten days later when, on preparing to take the babies home, the parents discovered the name "Watkins" on the baby given the Bambergers and "Bamberger" on the baby given the Watkins.

There followed blood tests, finger print tests, bone tests and court actions. A committee of experts headed by Dr. Kegel decided the babies were in the wrong families, but the Bambergers insisted they had their own child. Dr. Kegel said the original mixup happened in mis-marking the clothing of the babies.

Miss Jessie Sumrell, Greenville, N. C., girl, who is now living in New York making a name for herself in the vaudeville booking game, was a visitor here during the past weekend.

She is no stranger here. It was Miss Sumrell who with the assistance of Aycock Brown, staged the first annual beauty pageant at the beach in 1928. It was Miss Sumrell who had everything lined up for a bigger and better beauty contest in 1929 when the famous "pageant by the sea" was reduced to ashes by fire.

While here Miss Sumrell conferred with Manager Bob Carlton about beauty pageant prospects in the future and the reason such a contest has not been staged so far this season is because of the late start of the season caused by buildings not being completed. In a few days Miss Sumrell returns to New York, but when beauty contest time comes again it is a pretty safe bet that she will be on the job directing it.

Judge Small Urges Public to Aid Courts
Protection of the millions of homes of this country.

Introduced by Jack Edwards, Judge Small expressed his appreciation of the many kindnesses shown him upon his first official visit to the community. He said the people of his section—Pasquotank county—had always regarded this section as far removed from them because of that great expanse of water known as Albemarle sound.

Today, however, the sound is no longer regarded as an imaginary ocean and the people of the two districts feel closer together than ever before. In fact, he said he felt that he was almost in Pasquotank county—among his own home folks.

The session last night was presided over by Commander Dave Moore and the usual supper was enjoyed. Several matters affecting the life of the Legion were discussed.

Commander Moore called attention to the State Legion convention to be held in Winston-Salem Aug. 25, 26. He said the twin-city legionnaires were making unusual preparations for the entertainment of the veterans, and that the occasion unquestionably would be one of the most important in years.

The commander also read proposed amendments to the Legion constitution which will be considered at the convention at Winston-Salem. The most important of these had to do with restricting the state, providing for an increase of ten districts.

J. S. Elliott, told of the organization of a chapter of the American Air Cadets in Pitt county, and urged the Legionnaires to do every thing to encourage the youngsters to build up the chapter. He said it was the purpose of the sponsors to increase interest in aircraft building by bringing them in contact with models of the latest type planes now being used throughout the country.

J. H. Waldrop explained that it is now possible for any man who to obtain government insurance at was in service during the war etc. Men who passed the examination for service will be eligible to obtain the insurance, he explained.

Bill Rogers urged that the post make an effort to send as many representatives as possible to the annual convention at Winston-Salem. He said that the post should send at least twenty members in order that the county might be well represented.

J. H. Waldrop said the post be more fully enlightened regarding the pension allowed ex-service men at this time, and a committee composed of Mr. Waldrop, W. A. Darden, and Jack Edwards was appointed to compile all possible information in this connection to be presented at the next meeting. A. E. Cory and J. S. Elliott explained several points in regarding the pension measure.

Coming to the question of the cross-examination of Mrs. Miller in regard to her religious views the Chief Justice wrote:

"The question sought to be presented by these exceptions is whether the witness, whose competency as such is not assailed, and who is not a party, can be interrogated, on cross examination as to her religious beliefs or unbelief, for the purpose of discovering her credibility.

"The right to so interrogate a witness has been affirmed in some jurisdictions and denied in others, depending upon the constitutional and statutory provisions in the respective states at the time."

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 7 points to a decline of 1 point, with the more active months higher on buying promoted by continued steadiness in Liverpool and uncertainty as to the showing of the weekly weather report, which some traders thought might contain bullish features as to conditions in the western belt.

The advance met scattered selling which came from local and southern sources but the offerings were fairly well absorbed and the market steadied up again with the more active positions ruling about 4 to 9 points net higher at the end of the first half hour. December contracts at that time were selling around 11.22 and March 11.48.

Liverpool cables said there had been covering and continental buying in that market which had absorbed hedging and Bombay selling, and reported a fair cloth business pending with China.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Aug. 20.—(AP)—With corn showing better than a ten-to-one feeding ratio, and with hogs quoted the highest in two years, corn values developed buoyancy today. The jump in hog prices today amounted in some cases to as much as 50 cents a hundred. Falling off in receipts of domestic winter wheat also attracted notice, and had a bullish influence in connection with increasing reports of enhanced use of wheat as feed for livestock.

Our closed unsettled 2 to 2 7/8 higher than yesterday's finish. Wheat closed firm 1 1/2 to 2 up; oats 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 advance, and provisions varying from 2 decline to a rise of 2c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Speculation for the rise was pressed aggressively in today's stock market. Leaders were unabated by the isolated weakness in special stocks such as the coppers and safety razor.

More cheerful reports from the steel industry, and a better tone in the commodity markets, encouraged bull operators to work for higher prices, although some recalcitrant bears offered opposition here and there, feeling that signs of business improvement were still altogether impalpable.

The fact that despatches quoting Secretary Mellon yesterday as looking for business improvement in a short time were repudiated by him, after having been widely mentioned by financial tickers, seemed to cause no concern. Mr. Mellon today said he wished no interpretation to be placed upon his denial as what he reported as having said was in line with much private banking opinion in Wall street.

The bull faction felt that such unfavorable development as another falling off in freight movement, as reported for the week ending August 15, omission of the Warner Quinlan dividend, and reduction of the Hudson Motor annual rate from $5 to $3 a share, had been foreseen for some time, and should not prove important factors in the market.

Call money, after renewing at 21 1/2 per cent, was finally reduced to 20 per cent.

Livestock Special

Personnel Will Be Entertained Here

Members and crew of the livestock development train which reached Greenville this morning will be entertained by the Merchants Association at the Yum Yum Barbecue Palace tonight at 7 o'clock. The "special" is touring the state in the interest of the development of livestock, and to encourage more attention to this industry. The project is being sponsored by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, State College and the State Department of Agriculture.

Piedmont League Entitled to B Rate

Durham, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Piedmont League, under 1930 census figures, is entitled to a class B rating, according to information obtained here today, should the circuit desire to petition the National Baseball Association.

The total population of the six Piedmont circuit cities is 554,056, figures reveal, giving the league directors right to request, should they desire to do so, a class B rating, which would change draft prices, salary limits and other regulations to the same status as the South Atlantic League.

W. G. Bramham, president of the league, has not made a statement on the matter.

Raleigh Caps Pull Nearer to the Top

Raleigh, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Pat Haley and his fighting Raleigh Caps were a notch nearer the Piedmont League runner-up berth today as they invaded High Point for mid-week tussles with Dan Boone's Pointers.

The Halcyons gained a step on Durham and Winston-Salem, in the close race for second place by toppling over Greensboro while the Bulls and Twins were splitting a double header.

Other mid-week scraps send Durham to Henderson to engage the Gamecocks and Winston-Salem to Greensboro for a pair with Clay Hopper's Patriots.

Frank Coleman was the whole show as the Caps downed Greensboro 8 to 1 for a sweep of the series. The ace hurler limited the Gate City swatters to a trio of hits, fanning nine.

His supporting cast romped on the offerings of Mueller and Hoffman for 11 safe smashes, Clifton leading the assault with four for four. In addition to collecting four hits, Clifton scored four runs, stole two bases and started a pair of double plays.

Fred Tauby's homer with two on in a night battle enabled Durham to gain an even break for the day with Winston-Salem. The wallop gave the Bulls a 6 to 4 triumph, after the Brockmen had taken a 2 to 1 decision in the afternoon.

Bray mastered the Whittemen in the daylight tilt, pitching scoreless ball until the ninth, yielding but five hits. His team mates raked Query for seven.

Bobby Goff bagged three doubles and a single to top the Gamecock swatting. Jense got a homer, Shover pasting one out for High Point.

Henderson showed no signs of letting up by thrashing Dan Boone's letting up by thrashing Dan Boone's sweep of the series. Moose Boney pitched airtight ball in the pinches for the leaders while the Gamecocks were rapping Shover's head and timely.

GIANTS TAKE HIGHER PLACE IN NATIONAL

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer. Due to the efforts of a pair of clubs which are not even making a pretense of getting into the super-heated National League pennant race, the three contenders for the flag have found themselves in a more uncertain position with the prospect that the coming series between the Chicago Cubs and New York Giants will be the really crucial one of the season.

The Giants have taken second place in the standing and have placed themselves within striking distance of the league leading Cubs, only three games behind.

While the Giants were taking a close struggle from the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 2, Pittsburgh shoved Brooklyn's Robins into third place with an 8 to 0 triumph while the humble Phillies kept the league leaders from making any sort of a gain in a double header.

The Phillies took the first game by a 9 to 8 count despite the efforts of Hack Wilson, who clouted his 43rd home run to tie the national league record set last year by Chuck Klein and of Harnett and Blair, who also hit homers. Then, as the teams attempted to play off Saturday's eleven inning tie, the tail enders battled the Cubs to a standstill in 16 innings of play which wound up in a 6.6 tie. Fidgety Phil Collins hurled the entire game and was deprived of a victory when Lester Bell hit a homer with two on base in the eighth inning.

The Giants gained their triumph by some timely hitting in the second inning which produced three runs, Pitcher Carl Hubbell driving in two of them. Brooklyn failed to make any progress at bat as Steve Swetonic pitched his first full game this year for the Pirates and made it a six hit shutout. With nothing much at stake, Fred Frankhouse turned in another nice job of hurling to give the Boston Braves a 4 to 0 victory over Cincinnati.

The American league's hurlers had a thoroughly enjoyable day with the single exception of those who work for Boston. The Red Stocking moundsmen failed to stop the Cleveland batters while the Indians got the benefit of Wes Ferrell's 21st winning game of the year and an equally good job of pitching by Roxie Lawson to win by scores of 7 to 2 and 7 to 3.

Earl Whitehill continued his chase after Ferrell's league leading total of victories by rapping his string to eleven straight to give Detroit a 2 to 1 victory over Washington. He allowed the Senators five hits while Brown and Liska granted six. Charley Ruffing of New York made another kind of mark by pitching his third two-hit game since he joined the New York Yankees. His victims this time were the Chicago White Sox, who succeeded by a 3 to 0 count. One of Ruffing's previous two-hit performances was an eight inning affair as relief pitcher.

George Blaholder hurled the day's fourth major league shutout, allowing the champion Philadelphia Athletics only five hits while the St. Louis Browns scored a 7 to 0 triumph. Goose Goslin led the attack with three home runs in successive times at bat.
