SIX SENATORS FOR COMEBACK IN NOVEMBER

Senate to Be Increased by Two Members As Eight Others Go On Retired List

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Six senators are seeking a comeback in November's elections, yet the number of familiar faces in the August chamber is bound to be increased this year at least by two. Eight incumbents are relinquishing the senatorial togs.

The fall contests will bring back to the lists six Democrats who passed from the Senate voluntarily or through defeat. Six Republicans and two Democrats now holding office will not run again.

Retiring are: Frederick Huntington Gillett, of Massachusetts, who will be 79 in October, former Republican speaker in the House and now serving his first term in the Senate.

Furnifold M. Simmons, of North Carolina, 76, the senior Democrat in the chamber, who was defeated for renomination at this year's primary.

Guy Despard Goff, 63-year-old West Virginia Republican, who once was United States district attorney in Wisconsin, and later a member of the shipping board.

Arthur Robinson Gould, 73-year-old Republican, filling the unexpired term of the late Bert M. Fernald, of Maine.

Lawrence Cowle Phipps, 68-year-old Republican, born in Pennsylvania, who worked 22 years for the Carnegie company before moving to Colorado, and who is known as one of the Senate's richest—and least visible—members.

Patrick Sullivan, 65, one-time Irish immigrant who herded sheep in Wyoming before going to the state Senate for 23 years, and who was appointed last year to fill an unexpired Republican term.

William E. Brock, 58, Chattanooga, Tenn., candy manufacturer, who is filling the unexpired term of the late Senator Tyson and will not serve beyond the coming short term. He is the only voluntary retiring Democrat.

David A. Baird, 49, who was appointed to take the place of Walter Edge, Republican, New Jersey, and relinquished primary candidacy in favor of Ambassador Morrow.

Seeking to return are: Peter Goellet Gerry, 51, Rhode Island Democrat, who served from 1916 to 1929.

Thomas Pryor Gore, 60, native of Mississippi, who, though blind, represented Oklahoma as a statehood in 1907 to 1921.

J. Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, born in Virginia, who once was representative at large from the state of Washington, and was Democratic whip of the Senate during his term ending in 1919.

Thomas Francis Bayard, of Delaware, who sat on the Democratic side of the chamber from 1922 to 1927.

Gilbert M. Hitchcock, 71-year-old Omaha publisher, who was Nebraska's Democratic senator from 1911 to 1923.

Matthew Mansfield Neely, 56, who represented West Virginia in the Senate from 1923 to 1929, after several terms among the Democrats in the House of Representatives.

Ask Receivers for Warner Brothers

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 22.—(AP)—A petition asking for the appointment of a receiver for Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., and an accounting, was filed today with the clerk of the court of chancery here.

R. I. Nelson, a Boston business man, who said he is a stockholder in the corporation, is the plaintiff in the suit, which is also directed against Renwar, Inc., a holding company of Warner Brothers Pictures.

The petition charges mismanagement and alleges "excessive prices have been paid for theaters and real estate."

Renwar, Inc., the petition cites, bought up the theaters and theater sites and sold them to Warner Brothers.

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., said today that charges contained in the suit for a receivership filed in Wilmington, Del., by Ira I. Nelson of Boston, were unfounded and that proper answer and adequate proof disproving them will be made at the earliest possible moment.

Occupant of Car In Which Prohibition Officer Flinchum Was Killed By Rum Runners Near Goldsboro, Points Out Two Killers At Trial In Wayne Capital

Goldsboro, Aug. 22.—(AP)—J. M. Langston and Jim Aldridge, both of La Grange, were named today as the occupants of an automobile from which shots were fired the night of June 17, killing P. L. Flinchum, federal prohibition agent.

F. E. Street, 52, of Raleigh, agent who was with Flinchum when the latter was killed, testified in the trial of the two men for murder, that both were in the automobile. B. A. Dall, another officer, yesterday said Langston was in the car, but Street was the first witness to name Aldridge as Langston's companion.

Street told how he and other prohibition enforcement agents were waiting for a suspected liquor-running car and saw two men who he said were Langston and Aldridge, ride by. The officers pursued the car and were met by a volley as they drew close to it. Flinchum was wounded fatally.

H. Z. Andrews, 41, of Wilson, who was in the officers' car, also related the story of the chase, but said he could not identify Langston and Aldridge as the two men in the suspected liquor-car. He said that when the officers' car drew near its quarry he turned a flashlight upon himself so the two men in the car would know their pursuers were officers.

Because of the light, he said, he could not see the men in the other car.

Carl Whitley, a filling station operator of Adamsville, said he had heard Dall say after the shooting that he would recognize Flinchum's slayer if he saw him. L. Corbett said that when Langston was arrested Dall pointed him out as the man who did the shooting.

WILSON TELLS ABOUT ATTACK BY STRIKERS

One of Three Men Beaten At Bessemer City, Says He Is Not a Communist

Gastonia, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Robert Goldberg, representing Goldberg Brothers, owners of the American Mills at Bessemer City, which have been closed since a strike last Monday, announced this afternoon that an agreement had been reached with the strikers.

Goldberg said the two plants affected by the strike would resume operations Monday morning. The settlement was reached, he said, following a conference with a committee representing the strikers. The mill management, Goldberg said, agreed to restore the wage scale which was in effect prior to the strike. A cut in wages caused the walkout.

Asheville, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Walter Wilson, of Asheville, southern representative of the American Civil Liberties Union, mentioned in Bessemer City dispatches yesterday as having been roughly handled by the strikers, today described what occurred and denied any connection with the Communists.

Mr. Wilson said he went to Bessemer City Tuesday with friends from in and near Asheville to look the situation over, and that E. L. Gillespie, leader of the strikers, found a boarding place for him and his friends. He had not seen the suspected liquor-car. He said, until shortly before the trouble started Wednesday.

Seeing the two "Reds" bound together with ropes, he said, he introduced himself to a uniformed officer standing nearby and pointed out the dangers in such a situation, suggesting that the officer take charge.

Immediately, he said, the officer grabbed him, with the comment: "You're one of them." Others grabbed hold of him, he said, at the same time. He exhibited a

Thirty-Three Year Old Mystery Of Artic Land Is Solved By Explorers

Body of Swedish Balloonist Explorer, August Andre, Who Was Lost In Expedition to Polar Regions In 1897, Discovered By Norwegian Expedition

Oslo, Norway, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A thirty-three-year-old mystery of the Arctic has been solved by the finding on White Island, Fridtjof Nansen Land, of the body of the Swedish-balloonist explorer, August Andre, by a Norwegian scientific expedition.

Andre took off in a balloon from Dunes Island, Spitzbergen, in July 1897, intending to fly to the north pole.

He and his two companions never had been seen or heard of again. The expedition which found Andre's body reported also the finding of the body of one of his companions. Both were fully dressed and well preserved.

The explorer, born in Grenna, Oct. 18, 1854, is believed to have perished within a very short time after the take-off for the north. His companions, K. Frankel and N. Strindberg, doubtless perished with him, but today's dispatches, coming from the expedition aboard the steamer Brattvaag, did not say which was found with him.

For years there have been periodic rumors that his balloon had been found in Siberia on that message purporting to be from him had been washed ashore upon northern coasts.

Solomon August Andre, a Swedish engineer, in 1895 elaborated a plan for crossing the north polar region with a balloon which should be in some degree a dirigible, equipped with sails and trailing ropes. After an unsuccessful effort in 1896, when he was driven back by contrary winds, Andre and his two companions took off from Dunes Island, Spitzbergen, July 11, 1897, and were swallowed up in the north country.

Of several expeditions sent in search of them, the first started in November, 1897, when a report was received of cries of distress heard by shipwrecked sailors at Spitzbergen.

In 1898 and 1899 parties searched the north Asiatic coast and the new Siberia Island, and in May, 1899, Dr. Nathorst headed an expedition to eastern Greenland. None of these was successful.

Only scant information was obtained through the discovery of a few buoys on the west of Spitzbergen, northern Norway, Iceland and elsewhere, which the balloonists had arranged to drop, and through a message taken from a carrier pigeon dispatched from the balloon two days after its ascent. There also were messages in two of the buoys but they dated only from the day of the take-off. The others were empty.

CAP HATFIELD, AGED FEUDIST, PASSES AWAY

Last Member of Hatfield-McCoy Feudists of Va., and Kentucky, Dies

Baltimore, Aug. 22.—(AP)—William Anderson "Cap" Hatfield, known as the last of the Hatfield-McCoy feudists of West Virginia, and Kentucky, died today at a hospital here at the age of 67.

He was brought here a few days ago from his Logan, W. Va., home, suffering from a brain ailment that had no connection with a wound sustained in the long feud war of half a century ago which took several generations.

His father, Anderson Hatfield, known as "Devil Anse" did in 1921, past 80.

"Cap" Hatfield was a large, powerful man of a picturesque type. He once confided to friends that many of his old time foes believed he had a charmed life, saying he "guessed" he was shot at about 300 times during the mountain warfare and was wounded but once.

Credited with a remarkable memory, Hatfield was an entertaining conversationalist but refused in later years when the facts of the most notorious of American feuds became obscured by the time to outline an authentic account of the events that made a colorful page in American history.

One account of participants credited the feud with having started with a quarrel over the ownership of some hogs. The Hatfields lived on the West Virginia side of the Tug river, the McCoy's on the Kentucky side. A law suit resulted from the hog ownership dispute and several years later in 1890 the warfare started with the slaying of Bill Strayton, a member of the Hatfield clan.

"Cap" Hatfield was born February 6, 1864, in Logan county. He was taught to read by his wife, who was Miss Nancy Smith Glenn, and in his later years became an extensive reader especially of historical matter. He encouraged his children to obtain the formal education denied him.

Many of the feud figures lived to become peace officers. "Cap" Hatfield was deputy sheriff for a number of years, serving under two brothers, one J. H. Hatfield, being the present sheriff of Logan county. "Cap" Hatfield was a cousin of United States Senator Henry D. Hatfield of West Virginia.

Coroner's Jury to Hear Description of Negro Lynching

Wilson, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A coroner's jury this afternoon will hear from Deputy Sheriff R. O. Watson the story of the assault upon the Tarboro jail Monday night by a mob which took from it Oliver Moore, negro, and lynched him.

Deputy Watson was in charge of the jail. He opened the door, he said, believing an officer with a prisoner had arrived.

V. C. Martin, Wilson coroner, set the inquest for four o'clock this afternoon. Dr. J. E. L. Thomas, Edgecombe coroner, will be present. Moore was identified by two small white girls as their assailant on the eve of his lynching. The girls are under treatment for a disease supposed to have been contracted from the assault. Report of a laboratory test, ordered to determine whether Moore was infected with the same disease is expected to be made at the inquest.

The Sheriff W. E. Bardin, who made a hurried trip to Edgecombe county last night, refused today to reveal its purpose. He said he expected Solicitor Gilliam in Tarboro tonight for a conference. The investigation is continuing, the sheriff said.

Teachers College Closes Summer Term Here With Big Number Of Graduates

Diplomas Presented to 103 Young Ladies At Final Exercises Today; Dr. Wright Delivers Commencement Address; Largest Summer Graduating Class in History

East Carolina Teachers College closed its 21st summer session today when diplomas were awarded to 103 graduates. This is the largest summer session graduating class the college has ever sent out. Examination closed yesterday at 12:30 p. m.

Commencement exercises were held today in the social-religious building auditorium, where Dr. R. H. Wright, president of the college, delivered the commencement address. In his address to the graduates Dr. Wright said in part:

"Sometimes, I wonder if the young teacher fully realized the responsibility that rests upon members of her profession if she would not be driven out of this line of activity and into some other means of making a livelihood. The teachers of America, more perhaps than any other one group of people, are shaping the thought and the destiny of the youth of our country. There is a civic responsibility that rests upon us that we probably do not fully comprehend."

"Recently the National Economic League, a non-partisan organization, took a vote of its membership composed of four thousand, seven hundred distinguished citizens of the nation, and found that crime, disorder for law, administration of justice and prohibition are the paramount problems, facing the citizenship of the United States. A law to be effective, must be founded upon public sentiment."

"In a republic, effective laws are made only as they grow out of public opinion. Prohibition is not effective in America because public sentiment is not strong enough in this direction, and because there is too much laxness in the administration of the Volstead Act. Just as this is true with reference to prohibition, it is true with reference to all laws that are not being enforced at this time. The condition of public sentiment determines the effectiveness of legislation in a republic. The teacher and the preacher in America are two groups of people who are molding public sentiment."

"As you go out to teach the youth of North Carolina I trust you will realize not only your responsibility in this direction but the great opportunity you have to be of real service to the growing children in our state. It is great to be able to throw a beam of light that carries with it right purposes, noble aspirations and a realization of one's civic obligation, daily into the lives of thirty or forty young North Carolina citizens."

"Remember, as we teach, so will they live."

After the address Dr. Leon R. Meadows, presented the following names for graduation and the diplomas were awarded by President Wright:

The following is a list of the A. B. graduates:

Eva Mae Bateman, Columbia; Annie Laurie Brinkley, Dover; Sara Nettie Cobb, Parkton; Eva Cora Cooke, Lenoir; Cora Evelyn Creech, Pine Level; Marjorie Mae Floyd, Fairmont; Helen Delena Hoggard, Harrelsville; Ruth Hunter, Stony Point; Fannie Burney Johnston, Littleton; Lillian Kent Madry, Rocky Mount; Eloise McArthur, Clinton; Edna Marie McMan, Almond; Dora Adele McManus, Charlotte; Mary Ruth Pittman, Whitakers; Eunice Felton Setzer, Maiden; Mrs. Anne Glenn Roberson, Greenville; Helen Theresa Townsend, Lumberton; Bennie Urey, Chadbourn; Emily Rosetta Ward, Ryland; Virginia Dare White.

PLANES HEAD FOR RACES AT CHICAGO, ILL.

Five Derbies Take Up Flights in Other Sections of Country; New One Starts

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Six women fliers, three carrying lucky pieces, hopped off smoothly today from the Washington airport on the first leg of the Dixie air derby. They headed due south toward their first stop, Richmond.

The fliers in the order of their moment-apt take-off were Miss Phoebe Omile of Memphis, Mrs. Vera D. Walker, of Los Angeles, Mrs. Martie Bowman of Los Angeles, Miss Laura Ingalls of Kansas City, Miss Nancy Hopkins of Washington, and Mrs. Charty Langdon of Norfolk. They are due to reach Chicago next Tuesday.

Only one relative of the pilots was standing by when the vividly painted planes lifted and were off on the flight over nine states to the national air races in the midwest. He was Dr. A. F. Hopkins. He kissed his daughter lightly on the cheek, exclaiming "Good luck."

She responded blithely "Righto," and was off.

Mrs. Omile, wearing a green sports dress, tan leather jumper and red beret, had a silver rabbit's foot in her red and yellow monocoupe.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Trim, fast planes entered in six air derbies joined heavier-than-air craft of all descriptions today in a general convergence on Chicago.

As army and navy squadrons and dozens of civilian fliers began arriving for the national air races, five derbies from scattered parts of the country took up flight where they left off last night and another was started.

The last of the cross-country races with the exception of the non-stop Los Angeles-Chicago flight was the women's class B Dixie derby, to start from Washington today. The race will be over a course of 1,575 miles through Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois.

From Tulsa, Okla., Jack Livingston, Aurora, Ill., and W. G. Moore, Kansas City, take off today for St. Louis on the next leg of their two men derby to Brownsville, Tex.-to-Chicago. Livingston had a lead of an hour and 13 minutes over his rival.

While the five fliers, who zoomed away from Hartford, Conn., yesterday continued on their 1,170-mile route through New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana another five which began a 2,130 mile hop from Seattle, Wash., will be winging over Washington, Idaho, Montana, North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The Atlantic coast contingent—Lee Brusse of Glendale, Calif., Henry A. Little, Jr., of Philadelphia, Verne Roberts of Moline, Ill., Charles Meyers of Cleveland, O., and Wesley Smith of Philadelphia—stopped overnight at Syracuse, N. Y. The Pacific group, comprising Nick Mamer, John Blum of Seattle, Frank Kemmer of Wenatchee, Floyd Keadle of Portland and Bert Rouff of Seattle, spent the night at Spokane, Wash.

Art Killips, of La Grange, Ill., was out in front in the Miami-Chicago derby with a lead of six minutes and 29 seconds but Art Davis of Lansing, Mich., won the fourth lap yesterday from Macon to Augusta, Ga. George Burrell of La Grange, Ill., held second place as the fliers prepared for another leg of their trip today.

Only a few minutes in elapsed time separated Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell, who sped 172 miles an hour yesterday from Lubbock, Tex., to Amarillo, from the second in the Long Beach-Chicago women's derby, Miss Gladys Poig of Danbury, Conn. These fliers are scheduled to finish at Chicago Monday.

Throngs at Curtiss-Reynolds airport will see the finish first of the Brownsville race Saturday. The Hartford fliers are due to reach their goal Sunday and those from Seattle Monday. The non-stop race from Las Angeles may start any time after today depending on the weather.

THE GRADY-OUTLAW REUNION OFFICIAL NOTICE.

It has already been announced through the State Press that the descendants of JOHN GRADY and JAMES OUTLAW, pioneers in the early settlement of Duplin County, are to hold their first re-union on Friday, August 19, 1930, at the B. F. Grady High School, near Kornegay's Bridge, in Albermarle Township, Duplin County; and at a meeting of the several committees heretofore appointed on Saturday, August 16th, it was decided that a permanent association should be effected at this re-union, of a purely fraternal, patriotic, historical and genealogical character; said association to be composed of lineal descendants of said two pioneers, with their husbands and wives.

It was determined that annual meetings should be held hereafter alternating between the B. F. Grady High School, near the home of John Grady, and the school at Outlaw's Bridge, near the home of James Outlaw.

The committees in joint session decided upon the following:

1. All lineal descendants of the said John Grady and James Outlaw, with their respective wives and husbands, are invited to become members of the association.
2. All of the patrons of the two High Schools in Albermarle Township, whether descendants of said John Grady and James Outlaw or not, are invited to attend the re-union.
3. Every person who attends, except those from a great distance, is expected to bring food sufficient for himself and his family, as it will be impossible for the people of the community to feed so large a gathering of people. Those coming from a great distance, if eligible to membership, will be the guests of the association.

As this is to be one of the largest gatherings of its kind ever held in the State, it is hoped that all of those who are eligible to membership, wherever situated, will attend and take part in the ceremonies; and that they will become active members of the association.

It is estimated that the descendants of these two men number as many as eight thousand. It will be remembered that James Outlaw married Elizabeth, a daughter of John Grady. John Grady and James Outlaw each had eleven children. Their descendants are legion. Let them all meet on the day in question and get acquainted.

This the 18th day of Aug. 1930.

Henry A. Grady, President.

Wm. G. Kornegay, Chm. Com.
J. Robert Gray, Secretary.

expect God to bless you if you do absolutely nothing for Him?

We are so happy to have a goodly number of our neighbors from Greenville attend the services thus far and we hope that they will continue to come and bring others with them.

Mothers are urged not to stay at home on account of the little children. Bring them with you. We have a "little log hut" well lighted with chairs and beds for the little ones to sleep on so that the mothers can enjoy the sermon.

While we do not have any special choir, the singing has been excellent. Everyone in the audience joins heartily in this part of the worship.

If you have not attended the meeting so far, make up your mind to start tonight. Let's have a real religious revival in our little Red Oak community and make this a place that we are indeed proud to live in.

Mr. J. J. Jenkins and Miss Genevieve Jenkins, of Raleigh, have returned home after an extended visit with relatives. They were accompanied home by Dorothy Tyson, Virginia Lee Allen and Joe Tyson.

Little Miss Edith Glenn Allen is suffering quite a bit with her foot. She stuck a nail in it about a week ago. She has taken the tetanus treatment but it still pains her very much.

Bakersville Woman Shot By a Convict.

Bakersville, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Polly Honeycutt, 60-year-old widow, was shot, probably fatally, by Carl Dunn, former convict, yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock as Dunn was passing along the road in front of Mrs. Honeycutt's home, according to witnesses.

Dunn, who was said to have been intoxicated, was captured and is being held in the Mitchell county jail here without bond pending the outcome of Mrs. Honeycutt's injuries.

No explanation of Dunn's action has been given other than that he was drunk. About six months ago he completed a two years' sentence for shooting at deputy sheriffs while he was intoxicated.

Mrs. Honeycutt, it was said, was in her garden pulling weeds when Dunn, accompanied by Miss Pansy Honeycutt, who is no relation to the wounded woman, and Marion Street, passed in front of the Honeycutt home. Whipping out his 32-20 pistol, Dunn fired at Mrs. Honeycutt, the ball entering her left side and passing through the body.

She was taken to a hospital at Banner Elk, where it was said that her chances for recovery were very slight.

Charlotte, N. C.—(AP)—No one, apparently, has a cage or a cracker for Polly. Local birdmen—the selling kind—say the bottom has fallen out of the parrot market. Petticoats, they explain.

RED OAK NEWS

"Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest," was the text used by Rev. R. J. Bamber, of Richmond, Va., in his opening sermon Tuesday night at a series of meetings which he will conduct at Red Oak church. Mr. Bamber said that this was the greatest invitation that had ever been issued to anyone since it was an invitation direct from the Master. "We also listened to another good sermon Wednesday night on 'The Greatest Need,' and the sermon for Thursday night was 'The Greatest Discovery.'"

Those of you who are failing to avail yourselves of the opportunity to hear this man of God are indeed missing something. How can you

Memory of Otto Wood Starts Fight, Greensboro

Greensboro, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Otto Wood is long gone and difficult to discover, but his memory lingers on. Lingers so clearly, in fact, that it started a fight here.

E. L. Kay, Greensboro pawnbroker, whose father was slain by the state's most notorious prison escapee in 1923, made certain remarks about "Otto Wood."

"Were those cracks intended for my ears?" he asked Stack, according to court testimony.

"Yes, if you feel that way about it," Stack replied.

Kaplan said he knocked Stack down. Stack's companion started to interfere and Kaplan's companion drew a gun to insure a one-man affair.

Three paid $10 and costs in city court, and the fourth $50 plus costs for the weapon.

MANY NEW YORK SONG HITS IN ALL-COLOR "SONG OF THE WEST"

Some of the most tuneful music written by Vincent Youmans, author of the songs and music of "Hit the Deck," "Rio Rita," "Louisiana Lou" and many other operettas, are heard in "Song of the West," Warner Bros.' spectacular all-national color, talking and singing picture of the covered wagon days, at the New Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Youmans wrote the "Song of the West" music, popular, yet in the spirit of the Old West, for the operetta by Laurence Stallings and Oscar Hammerstein II, called "Rainbow," when it was first produced on the New York stage several years ago.

The songs "I Like You As You Are," "The One Girl," "I Want a Man," "The Bride Was Dressed in White," "Along the Covered Wagon Trail," "John Barleycorn," "Come Back to Me," "Song of the West," "My Mother Told Me Not to Trust a Soldier," and many more are sure-fire popular hits.

At the time "Rainbow" was produced radio had not yet attained its widespread popularity, and the musical rights were never released to be played over the radio at the time. And because of the large company and costly staging, "Rainbow" was never taken on the road.

As a result few outside of New York theatregoers heard these tuneful songs, sung in this production by John Boles, Vivienne Segal, Marie Wells, Joe E. Brown, Sam Hardy, Ed Martindel, Eddie Gribbon, Rudolph Cameron and Marion Byron and the chorus of one hundred. Ray Enright directed the picture with Lou Silvers' Vitaphone Orchestra furnishing musical accompaniment.

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, has added five names to his list of fifty-nine "men who rule the United States."

Share Company, and a large owner of public utilities.

Walter Edwin Frew, chairman of the board of the Corn Exchange Bank and Trust Company.
Amadeo P. Giannini, founder of the Bank of Italy and of the Trans-America Corporation, the world's largest holding company of bank securities.
William Green and Matthew Hill, president and vice-president, respectively, of the American Federation of Labor.

KEEP THEM OFF THE HIGHWAYS.

Sixty-eight deaths from automobile accidents in North Carolina during July, an increase of eleven over June and an increase of the same amount over July of last year is another argument in favor of enactment by the next General Assembly of legislation that would require a state driver's license. While it is our belief that the majority of our people are careful and responsible drivers there are too many entirely incompetent or wilfully reckless drivers on our highways and our people should be protected from this menace to life and property. Until incompetent persons are denied the privilege of driving and provision is made for the revocation of the driver's privilege to drunken and reckless drivers our highways will continue to be an unsafe place to travel.

ABOUT TOWN

The livestock development train left stopped over in Greenville Wednesday aroused much interest in the stock and poultry industry. It is evident some of the members of the county will begin experiments in the near future. Although poultry raising has been receiving considerable interest here in the last several years, there is yet a great room for development and farmers who go into the business on the right scale should reap returns. Livestock has never received more passing interest in the county. Considerable revenue should be derived from the industry if the members would go about the experiment in a business like way. The auction of better stock and more of what the county needs and it is to be hoped the thrifty grower will see the possibilities open here and take advantage of the situation.

People who trade in Greenville assured of one of the most complete displays of fall and winter merchandise in years. Buyers returning from northern cities said they purchased liberally of the latest creations of the fashion world, and these will be on display by the first of September. In fact, many of the new patterns are already on the counters but the big showing will not begin until the fall season actually comes. Greenville merchants are endeavoring to uphold the reputation of the city as the "principal shopping center of Eastern Carolina," and the shopper may always rest assured of receiving the best to be had at prices in keeping with the larger cities. When you get ready to do that fall shopping, don't forget the reputation of the local merchants and come here and let them convince you that you can buy as cheaply here as anywhere in the world.

Members of the personnel of the stock train were highly gratified at the splendid way they were entertained by Greenville people during their recent visit here. They were not only impressed by the spirit of hospitality in evidence on all sides here, but they were also impressed by the progress which the city has been able to make during the last several years. The growth was very evident to the men who had visited Greenville the last five years, and they were surprised at the changes made since their last visit.

Greenville has gone forward by leaps and bounds over the last ten years, and business men are optimistic concerning the future. They believe that progress is just as certain in the days to come as the past, and have put their shoulders to the wheel in a combined effort to realize the ambition.

The opening of the tobacco factories of Eastern Carolina is furnishing work for thousands of negro men and women, and this will have a tendency of putting more money in circulation. This condition will continue to improve when the Eastern Carolina tobacco markets open, and in a few days business should be back to normal in the majority of towns of the locality.

The people are always glad to see this season of the year roll around because it matters not how hard a summer has been, the opening of the markets always has a tendency of relieving financial conditions and putting more money in the hands of the public generally.

If we could induce a few manufacturing enterprises to come here with their year-around payrolls there would be no dull seasons in this section. Money would be turning every day of the year and everybody would find it easier to get their hands on cold cash when they need it.

THIRTY-THREE YEAR OLD MYSTERY OF ARCTIC LAND IS SOLVED BY EXPLORERS

(Continued from page one) Harmsworth, afterward Lord Northcliffe, in the ship "Windward," explored that region in 1894, reaching Cape Richthofen and there being confronted by an expanse of open water to the north which they named Victoria Sea. Dr. Fridtjof Nansen wintered near Cape Norway, Jackson Island, and brought to definite form much original as well as previously gleaned information regarding the nature of the islands.

Captain Robertson, of Dundee, was exploring the islands in 1897 when Andree and his mates vanished and in August, 1898, an American, Walter Wellman, landed at Cape Tegethoff. Evelyn Baldwin, also an American, chartered many of the islands.

In June, 1899, the Duke of Abruzzi in the ship "Stella Polare," forced his way through the British Channel to Rudolf Land and wintered in Teplitz Bay. Baldwin did more work again in 1901-02 and A. Fiola, lost his ship in Teplitz Bay. The Russian, G. L. Sedoff, died near Rudolf Land.

NEW HEIR TO THE BRITISH THRONE BORN

Dutchess of York Gives Birth to Daughter at Glamis Castle, Scotland

Glamis, Scotland, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A new heir presumptive to the British throne rested in her cradle today at Glamis castle, oblivious to the commotion her birth caused through the length and breadth of the empire.

Both child and mother, the Dutchess of York, wife of the second son of King George, were said to be doing nicely.

The little princess is the fourth grand child of King George, her own sister Princess Elizabeth, and Princess Mary's two sons having preceded her into the world. She is the fourth in succession to the throne; her uncle, the Prince of Wales, her father, and Princess Elizabeth all are in precedence.

British dynasts had hoped the child, who had been expected for days, would be a boy, thus insuring a male succession to the throne. The birth was at 2:22 p. m., during a storm which beat about the old castle in a way reminiscent of the tempest of Shakespeare's Macbeth, the plot of which was laid in the castle.

The accouchement took place in the Dutchess' childhood bedroom. Beside Sir Henry Simson, who is a noted obstetrician, and Dr. Miles, the Dutchess was attended by Nurse Bevors, who was with her at the time Princess Elizabeth, now four years old, was born.

Directly after birth of the child it was taken by Nurse Bevors to John R. Clynes, British home secretary, who has been here for several days in order to attest birth of a royal heir, as required by custom.

Mr. Clynes took the royal child in his arms and directly wired the Lord Mayor of London, the home office at London, and the war office, whose duty it is to arrange firing of an artillery salvo in a first salute to the babe.

The first to be notified were King George and Queen Mary, in the summer palace at Sandringham. Both returned their congratulations and will leave Sandringham today for Glamis. They will arrive here Saturday to see their new grandchild.

News of the birth spread quickly about the countryside and church bells pealed louder than at any time since the armistice was signed. Natives called to one another, "a daughter." After an ancient custom a huge bonfire will be lighted on top of a nearby hill tonight as official notification of the event.

Scots generally hope the girl child will be named Margaret, which is a time-honored Scottish royal name. She is first royal child to be born within the bounds of the Highland kingdom in 300 years.

Police Search for Condemned Slayers

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Police in New Orleans, Mobile, Ala., and other Gulf ports were asked today to watch for Fred Fair and Sam Aiken, condemned murderers, who escaped from the Fulton county jail last night.

Fair, sentenced to electrocution for the murder of an Atlanta policeman, and Aiken, under death sentence for the slaying of his wife and a neighbor, sawed away two bars in a cell, lowered themselves to the ground with a 15-foot rope made of blankets, and climbed a 25-foot outer wall with a ladder.

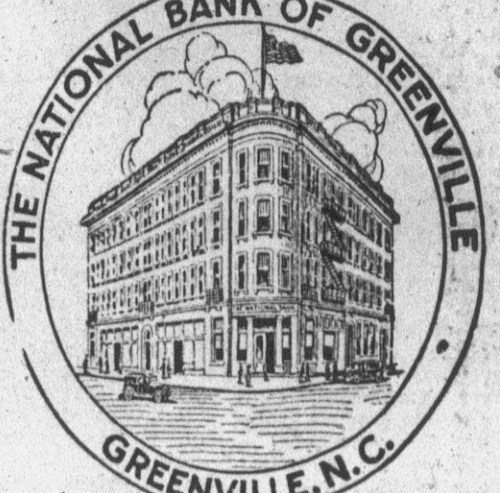

Whisperings of fellow prisoners, who said Fair and Aiken had talked of "taking a ship on the big water" led officers to believe the men would head for Gulf ports, and today several county officers were New Orleans and Mobile in search of them.

While county officers refused to commit themselves, they indicated their investigation of the delivery might lead to the belief that Communists aided the escape.

GIANTS COME INTO LIGHT FOR PENNANT

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer. The New York Giants have served notice that they intend to win the pennant.

Yesterday they opened a series with the Chicago Cubs by trouncing the 1929 champions and 1930 leader by a 13 to 6 score to put themselves only two games behind first place.

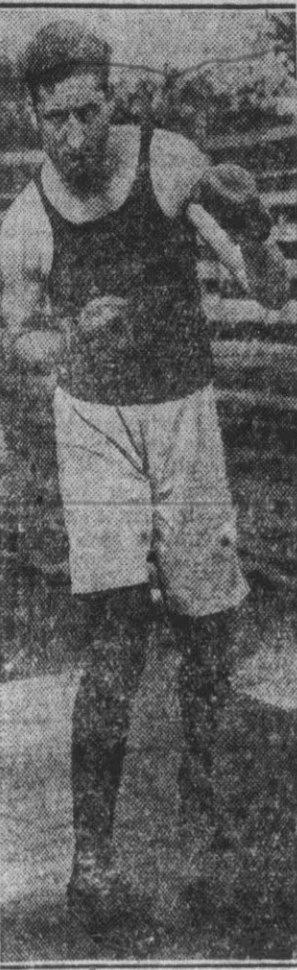

The Giants started hitting in the first inning and at the same time the Cubs began to make errors and New York got off to a lead of six runs.

The victory brought New York's record up to 22 victories in the 30 games of the last month while in the same time the Cubs have won 19 games and lost eleven. The Giants must win all of the remaining three contests of the series to leave Chicago at the head of the league.

The third place Brooklyn Robins gained on Chicago and lost ground to New York as rain kept them idle in Cincinnati. The Boston-Pittsburgh game also was postponed while the St. Louis Cardinals slapped a 16 to 6 defeat on the Phillies, who gave Chicago a tough battle recently.

The Philadelphia Athletics moved a step nearer the certainty of victory in the American league pennant race by coming from behind to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 8 to 7. Washington kept pace with the leaders by taking a quick 5 to 2 decision over the St. Louis Browns and Sam Jones allowed only six hits in a duel with Collins. But the New York Yankees lost one more of their faint hopes as the Cleveland Indians pulled a 6 to 5 triumph out of a twelve inning struggle.

The humble Boston Red Sox staged a three-run uprising in the eighth inning of a mound duel between Al Thomas and Hod Lisenbee to defeat Chicago, 4 to 2, and keep the White Sox from breaking their sixth place tie with St. Louis.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

For the first time in seven years and for only the third time since the war, Walter Hazen will be without any national golf crown in his possession at the close of the 1930 campaign. The only other barren seasons for the veteran were 1920 and 1923.

When the "Hail" failed to qualify at Cherry Valley for the national championship, an event he has captured five times, he lost his last chance of the year to bag one of the main titles.

It was a bitter blow to the veteran, even though he took it with characteristic good nature. Touring Australia and the Orient during the winter and spring, Hagen had passed up the British Open, which he had won four times, in order to attempt a come-back at home. He had not won an American Open since 1919.

He put in a seige of training for the battle of Interlachen and was installed a co-favorite with Jones. For two and a half rounds, Sir Walter was in the thick of the fight, with a fine chance to go to the front, but he faltered and finished with 303, sixteen strokes behind King Bobby.

Eric Pedley of California and Winston Guest of New York come from widely separated schools of polo, yet they appear to have clinched positions on the United States "Big Four" by similar methods. Each has crashed through orthodox standards and, perhaps, some prejudice against them.

Guest became an internationalist in 1927, assigned to no less a job than the replacement of the great Devereux Milburn at back.

Yet it was only through the sheer force of his riding and hitting that he was named for the international team that swamped England. There were many misgivings. Again, this year, Guest's status appeared doubtful. His handicap was cut from 9 to 8. This may have spurred him on, for he has rapidly battled his way into the select circle again.

It is odd that both Pedley and Guest are the sons of English fathers. Pedley's father was a crack all-round athlete in England, starting at rugby, tennis and cricket as well as polo. Eric was himself an all-round star at Stanford University, a good boxer, golfer, swimmer and tennis player.

Guest's father, the Hon. Frederick E. Guest, for years has been a power in the Hurlingham Club, governing factor in British polo. His mother was an American and Winston learned his polo in this country.

Last winter, the New York baseball writers in their annual entertainment featured a skit at the expense of Gabby Street, new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. The burden of ghostly asides, prompted by Street's many predecessors, went thus: "In May, Gabby, you won't be there," with variations for June, July and August.

It is August now, Gabby is still there, the Cards have given a good account of themselves and Street has signed a contract for 1931. Walter Johnson's old battery-mate is the first Cardinal pilot to be re-engaged in some time. He can have the last laugh on the joksters now and be proud of it.

A Great Discovery
When Pasteur discovered, in 1881, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of inestimable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better antiseptics, to kill these germs that may enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw. Now, all you have to do to be sure that these dreadul germs will not infect a wound, is to wash that wound, however small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the modern antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borozone, in a size to fit your needs and purse, from Dr. S. Warren, Druggist.

Spinners Stretch Lead in Race for Flag

Charlotte, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The probability of Greenville's Spinners making a clean sweep of the 1930 South Atlantic league parade had reached serious proportions today. The Schenmen, victors in the circuit's opening half do, had stretched their lead in the battle down the home stretch to two full games by virtue of another triumph as Macon's Peaches were being held to a tie by Augusta.

Clashing with Columbia's Comers in the opener of the week - end series, the leaders eked out a 3 to 2 win in a 10-inning pitcher's skirmish.

Baylis twirled steady ball throughout to gain a decision over Wilkey, who yielded to a pinch batsman in the ninth after twirling a beautiful game.

Rhinhardt produced the punch for Greenville with a double and three bagger.

Charlotte coupled 10 base knocks with nine Asheville errors to thrash the Tourists 13 to 1. Tarr, Asheville shortstop, made five miscues in early innings to allow the Insets to grab a big lead.

Lindsay Vaughn did the hurling for the Hobbsell forces and came through with a nifty game, surrendering but six hits. Monroe Mitchell tossed winning ball for Asheville, but didn't have a chance with his team mates miscuing at every turn.

Holland and Wise each got two hits to top the Hornet firing. Jack O'Reilly, Bee second racker, poled a homer.

Augusta and Macon were deadlocked at two-all when rain broke up their battle at the end of the fifth. Flinn was on the mound for Augusta and Phil Gallowan was doing the mound duty for Macon.

Gallowan had the edge when the fill was halted, having given up but five hits to seven for his rival.

Brandes got two hits in as many trips to lead the Macon clouting. Lynch and Griffin each getting as many for Augusta.

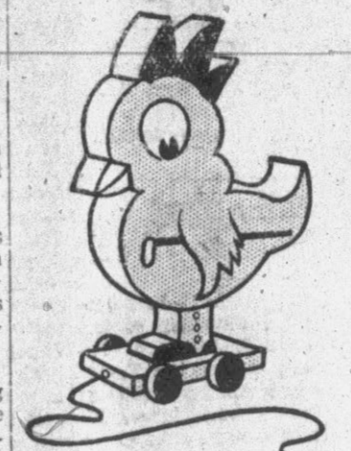

Sam Jones, Senators—Held the Browns to six hits and beat them, 5-2.
Al Simmons, Athletics—Hit 30th homer with one on in ninth to beat Tigers.

Restless CHILDREN

CHILDREN will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than a more powerful medicine.
That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is need. In cases of colic, diarrhea or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. A coated tongue calls for just a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed.

STRONGER HEALTHIER HAPPIER

Growing children require milk—at least a quart a day, say specialists. For milk, more than any other food, contains the elements essential to their strength and health. Under-nourished children are very often those who can't or won't drink milk.
For such children Klim is particularly valuable. Klim is simply milk—pure, fresh, creamy—in snowy powdered form. It can be added, dry, to almost any dish or drink that children like. Thus their diet may include all the milk and nourishment that every mother knows her child should have.
Klim keeps temptingly fresh and pure in any weather and any climate. Its convenience in your general cooking will delight you. You'll like to drink it, too. Try it to-day.

Write for the free recipe book, "This New Freedom," which contains many valuable suggestions for making children stronger, healthier, and happier.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points today. Some early buying promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables was readily supplied by overnight selling. The latter appeared to come partly from the south and was supposed to be partly in the way of hedging but the offerings were absorbed and the market steadied after the call on covering and trade buying.

The new December contract sold up from 11.05 to 11.16 and March from 11.31 to 11.39 with the active months ruling 1 to 6 points net higher by the end of the first half hour. Reports that a member of the Federal Farm Board was advising growers to hold their crop for higher prices appeared to be attracting considerable attention and may have had some influence during the early trading.

Liverpool cables said that hedging and Bombay liquidation in that market had been taken by continental buying and reported moderate cloth sales to Egypt and Africa.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Prospects that large increases in shipments of corn out of Chicago by lake vessels will be announced tomorrow led to late upturns in corn prices today. Wheat, oats and provisions sympathized with this renewal of corn market strength.

Country offerings of corn to arrive lacked volume and reports were numerous indicating further deterioration of the corn crop since August 1.

Corn closed nervous 1-8 off to 3-8 up, compared with yesterday's finish. Wheat closed irregular at 5-8 net decline to 1-4 advance, with oats 1 to 1-4 advance and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The latest bear drive against stocks petered out in today's market, as it found itself up against a stone wall of speculative apathy.

Bull forces resumed operations in the tobacco and merchandising shares on the basis of favorable cigarette consumption statistics for July, and expectations of a seasonal gain in retail trade. During the morning, however, bears depressed some of the coppers, rails and specialties to new lows. Pivotal industrials were generally firm.

The new American Tobacco shares reached new highs, and the old class B stock sold up more than 6 points, while other tobaccos gained 1 to more than 2 points. International Business Machines mounted more than 3 in response to announcement of a large backlog of orders, and the safety razor issues rallied on report of continued merger negotiations. Woolworth, Macy and National Department Stores gained a point or more. Such stocks as U. S. Steel, American and General Electric gained slightly. Kennecott, Anaconda, Warner Bros., Illinois Central and Baltimore and Ohio sagged 1 to 2 to new lows, and Allied Chemical sold off more than 3 points.

Filing of a petition for a receiver for Warner Bros., charging mismanagement, tended to stifle speculative enthusiasm, although the stock broke only a couple of points, and then rallied. It was learned from sources close to the company's bankers that the additional financing for the company will go through on schedule, and that its financial condition is sound. Bankers are planning to take up any of the stock unsubscribed for by stockholders, but the market price has been held substantially above the offering price.

Other motion picture stocks held up fairly well. Radio Keith in which vigorous speculation for the rise has appeared recently, held firm. None too satisfactory earnings are expected for any of the motion picture concerns for the third quarter, but trade reports indicate that cooler weather has helped theatre attendance already, and substantial seasonal improvement is expected in the autumn.

North Carolinians to Pay $32.50 Per Capital Tax 1930

Raleigh, Aug. 22.—(AP)—North Carolinians were taxed $99,245,000 in state, county and city taxes during the fiscal year 1928-29, a per capita taxation of $32.50 based on the 1930 population of the state, according to figures compiled by Dr. Fred W. Morrison, secretary of the State Tax Commission.

This tax levy of almost one hundred million dollars was exclusive of any taxes paid the federal government.

Dr. Morrison is now at work collecting data for the report which the state tax commission will render to the 1931 General Assembly. The general property tax for 1928-29, Dr. Morrison said, totalled $63,309,000, of which amount $37,130,000 was a county-wide levy, $14,270,000 was city levy and $11,900,000 was district and township levy. The poll tax levy for 1928-29 totalled $1,100,000, of which amount $900,000 was in counties and $200,000 in cities. License taxes for local purposes totalled $1,500,000, of which counties paid $25,000 and the cities $1,250,000. The county dog tax levy was $150,000. The total local tax levy was $6,050,000, and the state levy was $33,195,000, of which $15,870,000 went into the general fund and $17,325,000 was collected for the highway fund.

German Flier Believed Off for New York

Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The German aviator, Capt. Grotzan took off from here at 6:35 o'clock this morning (12:35 a. m. E. S. T.) and his course indicated that he was heading for the United States. When he reached Reykjavik last week it was reported that he intended flying to America. Later, however, both he and the German government denied this, saying the flier would head back toward the Faroe Islands and then go to Scotland or Norway.

An hour and thirty-five minutes after he took off this morning, Capt. Grotzan radioed Reykjavik that his position was 65.50 north and 26.20 west. That placed him as traveling west, about midway between Iceland and Greenland.

Girl Fatally Hurt In Auto Wreck

Tyron, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Jane Jervey, 13-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Allan J. Jervey, of Tyron, was fatally injured late Thursday night when the automobile in which she was riding plunged off a 40-foot embankment three and a half miles from Tyron.

Miss Elizabeth Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Morris, of Biltmore, who was driving the car, suffered a broken leg. Misses Cornelia Williams and Mary Morgan, the other occupants of the car, suffered bruises, but were not seriously injured.

All of the four were taken to St. Luke's hospital here at which Miss Jervey's father is surgeon. Miss Jervey died about 3 o'clock this morning.

The accident occurred about 11 o'clock last night. The girls had started for a ride toward Saluda. Miss Morris, who was driving, lost control of the machine, it was said, as she rounded a curve and the car plunged off the embankment. Miss Morris was in Tyron as the guest of Miss Morgan, her cousin.

The body of Miss Jervey will be taken to Charleston, S. C., the Jervey's former home, where funeral services will be held either Sunday or Monday.
