COLE BLEASE LEADING IN S. C. PRIMARY

Rolph Running Ahead for Governor of California; Borah Renominated in Idaho

By the Associated Press
The 23,000-odd lead of Cole L. Blease for Democratic renomination to the Senate from South Carolina stood out today with the continuance of tabulation of votes cast in yesterday's primaries.

In California, Mayor James Rolph, Jr. of San Francisco, was running ahead of Gov. C. C. Young by 30,000 votes for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. A majority of the precincts had reported. Senator William E. Borah was renominated by the Idaho Republican and Democratic conventions had yet to choose nominees for governor.

With less than 600 of the 1,075 precincts remaining to report, Blease still had a chance for a majority of the votes cast for the three candidates in South Carolina.

Unless this materializes, another contest between him and the runner-up—James F. Byrnes—will be held on September 9. The nomination amounts to election.

Mississippi Democrats renominated Senator Pat Harrison and seven of their eight Representatives in the House. It also looked as though Representative Ross Collins, the only incumbent to face a contest, had won again. The Democratic nomination; there also are equivalent to election.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 27.—(AP)—United States Senator Cole Blease, South Carolina's turbulent political figure, today had demonstrated in no uncertain fashion his vote-getting ability among the state's Democrats.

Running for renomination in his party's primary yesterday, Senator Blease had piled up 72,062 votes, while reports from 1,075 of the 1,326 precincts had been tabulated, to give him a substantial lead over both his opponents but not enough to assure him of nomination on the first ballot.

James F. Byrnes, representative from the second congressional district for 14 years and runner-up to Blease six years ago, will probably face his old political foe in another battle of votes on September 9, date of the second primary if one is necessary. The Democratic nomination is equivalent to election in this state.

Byrnes had amassed a total of 59,871 from the same precincts. Leon W. Harris, the third candidate, was trailing with 24,098, just enough to force Blease and Byrnes into a second primary, if the present ratio between the two is maintained in the complete returns.

Bleace, lacking slightly less than 12,000 votes of having a majority over both his opponents, still had a possible chance for nomination of the first ballot.

In the gubernatorial race, Olin D. Johnston, Spartanburg legislator and opponent of the state's $65,000,000 bond issue, took a commanding lead over seven opponents when reports from 1,133 precincts had been tabulated.

Johnston had amassed 40,590 votes, while his nearest opponent, Ibs C. Blackwood, of Spartanburg, had 29,291. Blackwood forged ahead of A. Frank Lever, former congressman, as late returns began to come in. Lever had 28,561.

Ashton H. Williams, Florence attorney who ran on a "wet" platform, was running fourth with 23,792 votes. W. E. Keith, Greenville legislator, had 19,975; R. B. Herbert, Columbia legislator, 10,832; W. W. Scam, Walterboro "dry," 8,356; and John P. McMahan, Columbia, 816.

Threaten Reprisal for Employment of Out-of-County Men

Lonoke, Ark., Aug. 27.—(AP)—A detail of Arkansas national guardsmen today patrolled the labor camp of a highway construction company near here today after irate drought-stricken farmers threatened reprisals against employment of out-of-county and negro labor. Tents of a camp crew were fired upon Monday night by unidentified gunmen.

Monday, Lonoke county farmers congregated here to seek employment on the construction of 12 miles of state highway.

Constructing company field bosses announced only a limited number of jobs were available since the work required experienced men.

The farmers demanded that county labor should be used in state road projects in their county. A guard was placed about the construction company Monday night, and engaged in an exchange of shots with ambushed gunmen.

NEGRO GOES ON TRIAL FOR MURDER HERE

Two Other Men Sentenced to Roads in Criminal Term of Superior Court

Ed Hatton, colored, went on trial in the criminal term of Pitt County Superior Court here this morning, charged with the slaying of Marcellus Riddick in an alley back of the Greenville Cafe about two weeks ago. The case was begun shortly before the noon hour and was expected to be completed during the afternoon.

The murder was said to have been the outgrowth of an argument between Hatton and Riddick. They argued, most of the day over a step ladder and that night Riddick was said to have invited Hatton into the alley to settle the argument.

Hatton told officers that Riddick reached to his hip pocket as if to pull a gun and that he became frightened and shot him.

He fired five times, but only two bullets took effect, one entering the throat and the other the head. Riddick staggered through the door of the cafe and dropped to the floor, dead.

Shortly before beginning hearing in the murder case court disposed of a deadly weapon charge against D. C. Ross, charged with an attack on Wiley Dickinson. Ross was sentenced to 12 months on the roads.

Ross is of Pactolus section and Dickinson is from the Walstonburg vicinity. Dickinson went over to the place where Ross was employed to buy corn, it was said, and an argument ensued. Ross attacked Dickinson with a knife and the case was carried to court.

During the session of court yesterday afternoon Wilbur Latham, colored, charged with forging a check on W. C. Clark for the sum of $10 was sentenced to the roads for 12 months.

Nelson Hopkins, colored, charged with possession of liquor, was found not guilty. Hopkins' arrest followed a raid of county officers on his dance hall where evidence of liquor was said to have been found. Hopkins firmly denied the existence of whiskey, and the State was unable to produce sufficient evidence to bring about conviction.

J. O. Wingo, of Ayden, charged with giving a worthless check, was adjudged not guilty.

Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse Succumbs To Brief Illness At Hospital In High Point

Funeral Services to Be Conducted From the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church at 2 O'clock Tomorrow Afternoon; Ranked High In the Medical Life of Nation

In $100,000 Suit

The body of Dr. Charles O'H. Laughinghouse, secretary of the State Board of Health, who died at the High Point hospital yesterday afternoon at 5:10 o'clock after a brief illness, reached Greenville this afternoon and was carried to the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. C. Stokes, Jr., on Ninth street. Funeral services will be conducted from Jarvis Memorial Methodist church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be made in Cherry Hill cemetery.

A heart block as the result of embolus was the cause of the death of the distinguished Pitt county man. His passing was totally unexpected to attending physicians as well as to his family and thousands of friends in this and other parts of the nation.

Dr. Laughinghouse, native of this city, was admitted to the High Point hospital about six days ago. He was suffering from a severe attack of Phlegitis in his left leg. His leg was badly swollen and discolored and his temperature was 102. His condition had begun to show marked improvement and fifteen minutes before his death he told his wife and some relatives how much better he was. His temperature had all gone and the swelling in his leg had disappeared. Physicians regarded his condition as satisfactory, and he had been resting comfortably for the last two or three nights.

Mrs. Laughinghouse and several friends visited the sick room yesterday afternoon at 4:30. Dr. Laughinghouse at that time, they said, seemed to enjoy good jokes as usual when in normal health and appeared in the best of spirits. Shortly after that he told his wife and an attending nurse that he felt a cramping sensation over the heart.

He became very pale and died within 12 minutes after mentioning the pain above the heart.

Although his illness was generally known throughout the state, his sudden death came as a profound sorrow to his thousands of friends in this section of the state where he spent most of his life ministering to the sick and fostering activities looking to improve, ment of public health. His passing was mourned generally today among the rich and poor alike, for he had labored among both and had won their admiration and respect through his kindly disposition and keen sense of humor. The offices of the North Carolina State Board of Health at Raleigh will be closed today and tomorrow out of respect to Dr. Laughinghouse. Practically the entire personnel of the board will attend the funeral here tomorrow. Members of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion will be attending the funeral.

Dr. Laughinghouse had been State Health Officer since October 1, 1926, and was one of the most popular state officials as well as one of the outstanding members of the medical profession of the state and nation. He endeared himself to countless thousands by his affable and genial manner, and had been able to render noteworthy service to both his section and the state which he served so untriflingly.

During his four years in office, Dr. Laughinghouse has continued the policies of Dr. Watson S. Rankin, the first whole time State Health Officer and whose administration brought national and international attention to North Carolina for its advances in public health work. ### Approve Plan to Establish Credit Banks for Drought

Washington, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Establishment of local credit corporations to act as intermediaries between drought-stricken farmers and intermediate credit banks was formally approved today by banking representatives of relief committees of more than a dozen states.

The conference convened yesterday at the White House and met today with Secretary Hyde, chairman of the national drought relief committee. It adjourned immediately after approving the plan which will be submitted to President Hoover and to governors of the affected states.

Under the approved plan, which was proposed by the national committee, local credit corporations would be created to advance loans to farmers through the intermediate credit banks established wherever it necessary.

Coast Guard Searches for Disabled Schooner

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Three sailors landed exhausted on the beach this morning in quest of aid for a disabled schooner which they said they left adrift 16 miles out at sea with four other men aboard.

The three rowed 16 hours in a dory. When they came in sight of land the dory capsized and they were forced to swim two hours and a half to reach shore, they said.

Coast guards immediately set out in search of the schooner.

The schooner, the Francis T, a 65-foot boat, bound from Halifax to Bermuda, ran into a severe northeast storm a week ago yesterday and sprang a leak, according to the sailors.

Questioned by police, the trio declined to tell the nature of the Francis T's cargo, except to say it carried "merchandise."

GOEBEL FLIGHT FEATURES AIR RACES TODAY

Veteran Flier to Attempt to Better Time of Wiley Post, of Oklahoma City

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The non-stop derby from Los Angeles still held paramount interest in the national air races today.

Dependent upon the speed in which Art Goebel, Dole Pacific flight winner, can span the western desert, mountains and plains, first place was held by Wiley Post, of Oklahoma City.

Post streaked across the finish line at the Curtis-Reynolds airport shortly after 5:30 p. m. yesterday, just nine hours, nine minutes and four seconds after taking off from Los Angeles.

Lee Schoenhar, Akron, O., was second. His time was 9:39:17. Capt. William Brock, New York-to-Toyko flier, was third with a time of 9:53:57. Five minutes later, Roscoe Turner, former holder of the transcontinental records, was last.

Goebel, who further tested his plane yesterday, said last night he would take off at 4 a. m. today (Pacific Coast Time). Weather reports along the route indicated Goebel would have even better conditions than the favorable winds of yesterday. He said he was confident of beating Post's time.

Mrs. Phoebe Omie, Memphis, won the woman's Dixie derby from Washington, D. C., yesterday with an elapsed time of 11 hours, 47 minutes and 21 seconds. Mrs. Marie Bowman, Hempstead, N. Y., was second; Laura Ingalls, St. Louis, third; Nancy Hopkins, New York City, fourth.

Mrs. Omie, officials said, was entered in the first closed course race for women today. The event was for five laps around the five-mile course. Officials would not disclose other entrants until shortly before the race but said several novices were entered.

Two men's races and a race for navy pilots in open pursuit planes added speed to the day's program.

GERMANS IN N. Y. AFTER OCEAN FLIGHT

Captain Von Gronau and Three Companions Fly Last Lap in Six Hours

New York, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Nine days after their unheeded departure from Germany, Capt. Wolfgang Von Gronau and his three companions rested here today, having completed the fourth successful westward crossing of the north Atlantic by airplane.

They landed their Dornier-Wal flying boat off the Battery Wall at 2:45 p. m. (EST) yesterday having made the last lap of their flight from Halifax in six hours.

The flight fulfilled for Captain Von Gronau, crisp-spoken veteran of the German Imperial navy flying service, an old dream and gained him the distinction of being the first to land a trans-Atlantic plane in New York harbor.

Added glamor was given the flight by the fact that it was made in an old-fashioned ship, used by Amundsen in Arctic exploration and by Captain Frank Courtney in an abortive attempt to span the Atlantic.

It was estimated the fliers covered about 4,000 nautical miles in a flying time of 47 hours. En route here they stopped in Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Nova Scotia.

A shout from 5,000 throats heralded the plane's arrival. It headed across the tip of Manhattan, circled the Statue of Liberty in salute and then came down, landing gracefully about fifty yards from the Aquarium.

It had been expected the plane would land off the Statue of Liberty and the Municipal tug Macon with a reception committee aboard was headed there when the plane came down. The tug turned about and the fliers were transferred to her. After a reception ashore they returned to their plane and flew it to the East river where it was housed in a police hangar.

Captain Von Gronau said he and his companions expected to remain in New York several days and then hoped to visit the air races in Chicago, stopping in Washington.

TWO CASES AGAINST PITT COMMISSIONERS DISMISSED BY COURT

Three Men Face Hearing For Alleged Attempt To Assassinate Gov. Doyle

Clem Dowling of Jacksonville, Testifies That Former Roommate Told Him of Alleged Plot to Slay Chief Executive of the State of Florida

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Clem Dowling, of Jacksonville, a former room mate of Frank Ralls, one of three men charged with conspiring to cause the assassination of Governor Doyle Carlton, testified today that Ralls told him of the alleged plot.

Dowling said Ralls told him that Henry Halsema, another defendant, also was "in on the plot."

The plan, Dowling said, last related by Ralls as one "to bump him off." And lay the blame on Al Capone's men.

Dowling said he went to Tallahassee and told the chief executive of the alleged plot. He said the governor told him he would send some one to Jacksonville.

Afterward, Dowling said he related the Ralls conversation to Colonel Bob Gordon, son of Fitz Gordon, of Miami, one of Capone's attorneys who told his father about it.

Vincent Giblin, also an attorney for Capone, they came to Jacksonville, Dowling said.

Dowling said Ralls told him they were to pay 7,500 for a gunman, $2,500 in advance.

Dowling said he and Ralls went to Tallahassee in July to see Secretary of State Gray. He said Ralls told him there "wasn't much of a chance of getting an appointment."

Dowling said he wanted to see the governor later but that Ralls said "the governor is going to get bumped off." Dowling said Ralls told him Halsema "also is in on it."

Dowling said he tried to persuade Ralls not to "go ahead" with the alleged conspiracy.

"I am not a squealer," said Dowling, "but I saw Carlton and Gray here and told them about it. I told him Ralls and Halsema were the only two I know who were in on the plot. The governor then said he would send a man to see me."

"I again tried to persuade Ralls to forget about it but the said 'it's all right, they'll think Al Capone is to blame.'"

"I called J. Fritz Gordon, an attorney at Miami, and told him about the case."

Waybright then entered a defense objection to what he said was "hearsay evidence," which was overruled.

"Gordon came here," continued Dowling, "and he told me a man would come to see me about the plot but the man didn't show up. I then dismissed the case from my mind until August 4, when Ralls told me 'it's almost ready as we have almost got enough money.'"

"Ralls said it would cost $7,500 and that they lacked about two or three hundred dollars. I asked who was going to kill the governor and he said it would be done by two men who had bumped off men for two sheriffs in Florida."

Military Junta to Quit In Peru; Cerro New Leader

Lima, Peru, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The military junta which overthrew the government of President Leguia and seized control of Peru will resign and Luis M. Sanchez Cerro will head a new government, according to reliable advices at noon today.

Lt. Col. Cerro came out victorious in a political overturn at Aroquipa, southern Peru, last week, just before the government passed into the hands of the military junta and sent the aged executive Augusto Leguia, who had held the reins of government for eleven years, into exile on a warship.

The southern militarists objected to the nature of the junta in control at Lima which yesterday sent a commission to the east in the expectation that an amicable agreement could be reached.

Supreme Court Sitting at North Carolina Capital Fails to Grant Appeals of Hooker and Others and Dudley and Others Seeking to Restrain Sale of Notes By Pitt County Commissioners

Two separate and distinct cases seeking to forestall the sale of notes by the Board of Commissioners of Pitt county were dismissed by the North Carolina Supreme court today. The cases were dismissed upon application of the appeal asking that they be dismissed as they were "frivolous and for the purpose of delay."

The cases, which have been hanging fire the last several weeks, produced one of the most unprecedented situations in the history of Pitt county in that the commissioners by reason of their inability to dispose of the notes until the Supreme court had rendered a decision, were unable to meet their obligations the first of the month and county employees and other persons owed by the county went without pay. The Highway Commission was forced to suspend road work in all sections of the county, but provisions were made for caring for the convict camp while the litigation was in progress.

The cases were set for hearing at the September term of Supreme court, but owing to the seriousness of the situation existing in the county, the high court moved up the hearing with cases from the First district.

The first case was instituted by S. T. Hooker and others. It sought to restrain the commissioners from disposing of $100,000 worth of notes to carry on business of the county. An injunction was signed by Judge M. V. Barnhill on the day the notes were disposed of, and the restraining order was later dismissed. The plaintiffs immediately filed notice of appeal to the high court.

The second case was brought by S. I. Dudley and others. Dudley, successful candidate for a seat on the County Board of Commissioners in the last election, but who has not yet been inducted into office, sought to restrain the commissioners from selling $250,000 worth of notes. The case was carried before Judge R. A. Nunn who declined to grant a restraining order to this effect, and the plaintiffs appealed to Supreme court.

The commissioners had already arranged for sale of the bonds, but when they met in regular session the first of this month they were informed by the purchasers of the notes that their attorneys had declined to approve the sale in the face of impending litigation and that they could take no action in the matter until this had been settled.

The commissioners were in need of the money by reason of their inability to realize taxes from property in litigation in different parts of the county, and they had to call it a day and let the employees go without their pay until the question of the sale of the notes had been passed upon by the Supreme court.

The action of the high court opens the way for the commissioners to relieve the strain under which they have labored the last several weeks, and unless something else of this kind arises unexpectedly, the county government should be able to run along as smoothly as ever in the future.

Quiet Prevails After Rioting At Louisiana Prison

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Quiet prevailed today in the Louisiana penitentiary after the killing of Curtis Blackwell, 19, a negro prisoner in a riot precipitated by more than 25 convicts who refused to work on a private rice farm and barricaded themselves in a temporary wooden cellhouse.

Guards climbed to an adjoining roof and gained admittance to the cellhouse by breaking in through a vent opening. The convicts within hurled missiles, and the guards opened fire.

Blackwell was fatally wounded, a coroner's report said, by John Stovall, negro trusty guard, serving a life sentence for murder.

Commenting on a rumor that the prisoners had rebelled against the quality of their food, Captain W. W. Pecue said he found no ground for complaint. He expressed the opinion that the men were "too lazy to work."

which once it reaches the stage beyond repair, neither money nor the efforts of man can restore." Convinced that knowing what was taking place in the human body and proper treatment before serious trouble developed was the best and only way to health, he never lost opportunity to preach this gospel to his people and it is our belief that had he been called upon to deliver a final message for the good of the physical being of the people of his state, before his life came to an end yesterday, his final plea would have been another repetition of this appeal he has made so many, many times before.

Of course, our state is grief stricken at his passing and the sympathy of all goes out to his bereaved loved ones but with it all the realization that he has served humanity well and has pointed out the way to better health and greater happiness should help us to more easily bear our grief.

ABOUT TOWN

HE SERVED HUMANITY WELL.

Not Pitt County alone but the entire state of North Carolina suffers a great loss in the death of Dr. Charles O'Hagan Laughinghouse for it is our belief that there is no man in our own state who has touched the lives of more people, especially the masses, and has meant more to them than has Dr. Laughinghouse. As a practicing physician here, Dr. Laughinghouse was widely known throughout this section and since his entry into the services of the State Health Department his efforts in behalf of the people of the entire state have resulted in untold good for them and no doubt these results of his efforts will continue to mean much to our people, even the coming generations.

As we knew Dr. Charlie, there was no one else just his type and equal. Always he found time and opportunity for a word of cheer and humor and if ever his heart looked upon the darker side of life, and no doubt it did for he was human, certainly it was apparent through his outward disposition and we honestly believe that his bright and cheery disposition in the sick rooms of this county during his years, of practice meant more toward the restoration of health to his patients than all the medicines that science could have provided.

Preaching the gospel of keeping well was one of Dr. Charlie's hobbies and if the people of North Carolina who have heard him speak on the subject will remember and practice the things he taught, surely he has left behind him a memorial that will live forever and continue to bring joy and happiness in the way of better health for our people. Many is the time we have heard Dr. Laughinghouse, speaking before various clubs and public gatherings, urge regular periodical health examinations as the best and surest means of a healthy community or state. "You have experts examine and take care of minor repairs on your automobile or other man-made machinery," he would say, "because you know that without such attention the machinery will develop greater and more serious trouble leading to complete break-down and uselessness. When you are so particular about taking care of machinery that money can replace, why, oh why, will you continue to disregard the necessary care and repair of God's greatest creation, the human body, judge of the First District who is presiding over the criminal session of Pitt County Superior court, believes in speeding up court activity and has been able to clear the docket of some of the really important cases set for the present session.

By keeping tabs on the progress of every action, Judge Small has been able to facilitate the giving of testimony. He not only listens attentively to the evidence, but interrupts witnesses from time to time to clarify certain points which might require considerable time in finally disposing of.

As a result of this close attention the wheels of justice have revolved rapidly since the opening session Monday morning, and the end of the term Saturday no doubt will see many of the most important cases cleared from the docket.

Textile Workers Back On Job Again
 Bessemer City, Aug. 26.—(AP)—After a week's lay-off brought about by a strike when operatives and mill heads disagreed over a wage cut, workers in the two plants of the American Mills, Inc., today were back at their jobs.

With the exception of three persons, Marvin Hood, his wife, and E. L. Gillespie, strike leader, all of the operatives have returned to work. These three refused their jobs by the mills' management because of the parts they played in the strike, will be provided for by the Victory Club.

This organization was formed late yesterday for the purpose of "taking care" of the three jobless workers until they are taken back by the mills or secure jobs elsewhere. The club expects to exact dues of 25 cents a member a week, Payne said, in order to financially aid the Hoods and Gillespie.

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. While away he visited the following counties: Wake, Greene, Duplin, Sanford, Craven, Beaufort, Hertford, Northampton, Bertie, Martin, Halifax, Edgecombe and Wilson.

DR. C. O'H. LAUGHINGHOUSE SUCCUMBS TO ILLNESS IN HOSPITAL AT HIGH POINT

(Continued from page one) has also loyally carried out the policies of the McLean and Gardner administrations of which he was a part.

A member of the State Board of Health since 1902, Dr. Laughinghouse resigned his membership on the board following the resignation in 1925 of Dr. Rankin, who became medical director of the Duke Foundation. Dr. Laughinghouse assumed his duties as State Health Officer and secretary and executive head of the State Board of Health on October 1, 1926, relieving Dr. G. M. Cooper, who had been acting State Health Officer for 16 months and who is still connected with the board.

Word of Dr. Laughinghouse's death was received with sadness and surprise by his friends in this county. He had been ill for more than a week with pleuritis, a condition arising from varicose veins in the left leg, but his illness was not regarded as of a fatal nature.

A long walk up the mountains at Montreat, N. C., a few weeks ago was believed to have aggravated Dr. Laughinghouse's trouble with his leg, causing a thrombus, or a large blood clot to form. This produced extreme pain, and death resulted when a fragment of the clot reached the heart, causing a "cardiac bloc."

Although suffering acutely, Dr. Laughinghouse insisted upon going about his duties, and it was not until last Wednesday that he was persuaded to go to the hospital of Dr. J. T. Burris, a close personal friend, in High Point for treatment.

Dr. Laughinghouse, who was in his 59th year, was a member of old and prominent Pitt county family. He was born on the old homestead between Greenville and Grimesland February 25, 1871, the son of Joseph John and Eliza (O'Hagan) Laughinghouse, and a grandson of Dr. Charles O'Hagan, who for many years was one of the best known members of the medical profession in this part of the country. He received his early education in private schools and at Herpers Military Academy, Oxford. He attended the University of North Carolina for two years and completed his medical education at the University of Pennsylvania where he was graduated in 1893 with high honors.

After completing his medical training, he returned to his old home in Greenville and soon became one of the most outstanding members of his profession in this section of the state. In 1895 he married Miss Carrie Dail of Snow Hill, who with a daughter and two sons survive. The daughter, Mrs. Richard Stokes, of Lynchburg, Va., and Greenville, and the sons are Charles Laughinghouse, Jr., of Greensboro, and Haywood Dail Laughinghouse of Greenville. He is also survived by a brother, Ned Laughinghouse, of Wilson; a sister, Mrs. J. Bryan Grimes of Raleigh, and an aunt, Mrs. Martha O'Hagan of Greenville.

Dr. Laughinghouse volunteered for service in the World War in May, 1917, and was assigned to the organization of the medical profession of the state for service. Later, he was assigned to the Officers Training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., with the rank of major and in September, 1918, was sent to France as lieutenant colonel in command of Base Hospital No. 85. He saw service in France until March, 1919, when he returned to the United States and resumed his practice of medicine.

Dr. Laughinghouse was a fellow of the American Medical Association and was former president of the North Carolina Medical Society and the Tri-State Medical Society. He was a member of the Pitt County Medical Society, the Second District Medical Society, the Southern Medical Society and the Seaboard Medical Society.

He was also the first commander of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion. He served in this capacity for two terms and was instrumental in rapid development of the post during the early period of organization.

He also ran for the office of Commander of the State Department of the American Legion in 1924, but was defeated by a small vote. He maintained an active interest in the work of the Legion during the closing days of his life, and kept in close touch with developments of the local post and the State Department.

During his residence in Greenville he took an active part in the social and business life of the community. He acted as presiding officer at many a gathering looking to the development of Greenville and Pitt county, and his fund of jokes and knowledge of conditions locally and other parts of the nation made him one of the most interesting characters the county has ever produced. He was a director of the Home Building and Loan Association, and since its organization in 1902 had been a director of the Greenville Banking and Trust Company. He was a member of the Greenville Country Club and was a past president of the Greenville Kiwanis Club. In Masonry he

Gus Forbes Says:

There seems to be quite a bit of unrest existing among our tobacco growers regarding the price of tobacco we are expecting this season. I will state a few facts as I see them. If I am not mistaken throughout the states we are raising around a billion pounds of tobacco a year.

The state of Kentucky grows a big part of this and, if reports are true, and I think they are, we are safe in saying they are cut around one-third. This being true what they have to offer to the buying interests will be undearable. We find about the same condition in Virginia and the Piedmont section of this State. My estimate on this crop is one-third short, one-third undesirable, leaving around sixty-five per cent to be sold as desirable tobacco. You hear that the buying companies have much on hand and that is the reason for low prices. Admitting this is true, there has never been, as I remember, such a shortage as we have in the present crop. I see no reason, for Eastern Carolina, tobacco crop selling cheaply for we well know everything is sold on demand and supply and it seems to me that we have a short supply and a great demand.

Statistics show that Germany as well as India and other foreign countries have made enormous increase in the use of cigarettes and, as we all know, United States is increasing billions yearly, so why is it said that there is no demand for this crop? I still contend that the shortage with the increase justifies living prices for this crop of tobacco and I expect to see it.

I have seen the Georgia and South Carolina crops and I am here to tell you that Eastern Carolina has a crop that every buying concern want to buy. No better crop has ever been grown by our planters.

As we all know, we had a very poor crop in 1929. We sold several crops as low as $9.00 per acre which left most of our farmers almost bankrupted. Now that we have this good crop, let us hope that the buying interests will give us a price that we can live and meet some of the obligations made in 1929.

Now on Tuesday of next week the Greenville tobacco sales will start. Forbes & Morton are better prepared to take care of their trade than ever before. We have made some new additions in our force and the men we have selected will be ready and willing to show you every courtesy possible. We will assist in handling, placing your tobacco on the floor to the best advantage, and when it is being sold, whatever price is sold you may feel assured is the highest to be secured. We make a specialty in selling each basket for the highest value and every farmer will receive the same courtesy and fairness. We take a delight in selling our old customers' tobacco in a way that they may be satisfied and we are always anxious to make new customers.

We have built up the largest trade on the Greenville Tobacco Market and the only reason for it is that we are judges of tobacco and know the warehouse business. I will repeat what I have told to thousands of tobacco planters. The only way to sell tobacco for the highest price is to select a House where the warehousemen have had experience, are good judges of tobacco and know every grade and know how to run a sale, for there are two sides to it all; the seller and the buyer and we stand directly between the two with just dealings to both.

Girl's Kidnapper Uses Pigeons for Collecting Ransom

New York, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Police revealed today that kidnappers of a 15-year old Long Beach girl were using carrier pigeons in their efforts to get a $10,000 ransom.

The girl, Seraphina Favata, disappeared three weeks ago after an altercation with her parents. Soon afterwards her father, Anthony Favata, a real estate dealer, began getting letters signed "The Black-shirt" demanding money for his daughter's return. Finally he was instructed by mail to tie $10,000 to the legs of pigeons he would find in a designated collector's shop. At the shop detectives were told by the proprietor that a man who had left a box of pigeons with him had telephoned an hour before and ordered them released.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

COTTON New York, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 4 points to an advance of 11, with most months higher on a continuation of the recent demand which appeared to include considerable Wall Street buying.

There was some selling on relatively easy Liverpool cables, but it was very readily absorbed with new October selling up from 11.49 to 11.60 right after the call while March advanced to 11.96 making the market about 9 to 16 points, net higher. There was some selling of near months against purchases of later deliveries believed to be for European account and the advance seemed to bring in a little more southern selling, but prices held within 3 or 4 points of the best at the end of the first half hour.

There seemed to be considerable uncertainty as to the probable showing of the weekly weather report and this may have promoted some further covering of short accounts. Liverpool reported realising and hedging in that market, but prices there rallied right after the local opening.

GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Wheat sold down today to a new low-price record for the season. The Canadian Growers' pool was reported to be selling wheat future deliveries at Winnipeg, and the wheat market here ran into orders which holders had given to stop losses at various set limits. In the late transaction, corn sympathized with wheat weakness, advances scored by the corn market earlier being more than wiped out.

Wheat closed unsettled 11.4-15-8 cents a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1-2-5-8c off, oats 1-3-8c down, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to 7 cents advance.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The speculators for the rise found the stock market still determined today to take bullishness in small and cautious doses.

After a substantial extension of yesterday's gains during the first hour, profit taking cropped out in considerable volume, and bears unsettled the list by searching out weak spots.

Operations for the advance were strenuously pressed forward, but the price movement became somewhat irregular. Trading was in the largest volume in several days.

After advancing a point, U. S. Steel attracted selling and sold off a point or so under yesterday's close, but was supported well.

On the whole, pivotal shares moved narrowly. During the early rise, in which utilities and specialties were prominent, Allied Chemical rose 8, Delaware and Hudson 6, and Atchison, Eastman, Worthington, Safeway, American and For Power, Electric Power and Light, Stone & Webster, New Haven, Sears Roebuck and American Tobacco B, 2 to 3. These advances were reduced later, although good buying reappeared in some of the manufacturing, amusement and manufacturing shares. Vanadium was heavily sold, breaking more than 4. Oliver Farm common, and Bohn Aluminum dropped 4 to new lows, and Oliver Farm preferred sold off about 7, before rallying.

An encouraging development was an improvement in building operations. F. W. Dodge Corp's daily average for the first three weeks of August showed a slight increase over the extremely low levels of July. Freight car loadings for the second week of the month showed a gain of about 2 per cent over the previous week, a little more than the normal seasonal advance, but the total was still the lowest since 1922. The American Federation of Labor estimated that unemployment in August had been cut down 3-10 of one per cent from July.

Credit showed a slight firmer undertone, perhaps the first reflection of the month end and holiday requirements. Call money still held at 2 per cent.

HACK WILSON HITS HOMER AND CUBS WIN

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer). Chicago's baseball fans are about ready to look haughtily in the direction of New York and ask, "Who is this fellow Ruth?" for Hack Wilson, hefty home run hitter of the Cubs, has a new National League record in the Ruthian specialty and has drawn up on even terms with the great Babe in this year's competition at hitting four baggers.

Hack hit his 44th home run of the season to put a finishing touch on the Cubs' 7 to 5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday, and in doing it passed the record Chuck Klein set a year ago. It took Klein the full season to beat Rogers Hornsby's old mark of 42, while Wilson has beaten the young Philadelphia phenom with 31 games to go. And he is tied with Ruth in the season's totals, while the Babe still is a week ahead of the record he set in 1927.

The Cubs have a week more at home before they start on their final tour, and Wilson has hit most of his homers in Wrigley Field.

Hack's record smashing homer did not play a very important part in the Chicago triumph yesterday, which put the Cubs 5 1-2 games ahead of the New York Giants, who had a day of rest before the start of their series with Brooklyn. But Wilson contributed a single in the fifth, two innings before, which aided greatly in putting the game safely away as the Cubs scored five runs. This one frame decided an otherwise close game with Larry French having a bit the better of Fred Burke.

The St. Louis Cardinals continued their advance in the only other National League game, defeating Cincinnati, 3 to 1, for their seventh successive victory. The Cards had a bit of trouble when the Reds put two men on base with none out in the ninth, but Wild Bill Hallahan, who had pitched a fine game, managed to get out of the hole. The victory left St. Louis only a half game behind the third place Brooklyn Robins with some prospects of improving their position as they continue against the Reds today while Brooklyn tackles the Giants.

Only one game was on schedule for the American League yesterday and it finally brought the Philadelphia Athletics out of the difficulties which had beset them in the first two games of their series with Washington to a final 10 to 9 triumph which put them again in a fairly safe place, 7 1-2 games in the lead.

The Senators, who had threatened to make it a real struggle for the pennant by taking two straight from the league leaders, failed to hold a five run lead presented to them in the first inning. They remained in front until the eighth inning of a game which saw eight pitchers of the two teams yielded 33 hits. In the eighth, home runs by Mickey Cochrane and Al Simmons tied the score and two walks, a single and two sacrifices brought in the winning run.

SPORTS SLANTS By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor). Earth shocks produced by the activities of the heavyweight battalions in this country seem to have been felt in faraway Japan.

I have in hand a copy of the Japan Times & Mail, of Tokyo, which understands "that a plan is afoot to have Musashiyama, Koku-gikan wrestler, enter boxing in an attempt for the world heavyweight championship."

This, it appears, is no passing fancy, for I read further: "Mr. Koizumi, minister of communications, Mayor Nagata of Tokyo, Mr. Mitsuru Toyama and Mr. Ryohel-Uchida, are reported to have taken keen interest in the plans of Musashiyama."

It is said that if a Japanese won the championship, Japan would profit by $20,000,000 in a year.

It appears the Japanese have not examined the situation sufficiently to discover that the heavyweight fighters and promoters, not the nation or the public, collect the financial returns, with accruing privileges.

Of course, Musashiyama, should he win the championship, might turn out to be more philanthropic. Even so $20,000,000 seems a trifle high. It is doubtful, for example, whether Italy has so far paid off any part of the national debt thru the activities of Primo Camera, the most profitable of all the 1930 heavyweights.

The Japanese may have confused boxing with foot racing. It will be recalled that Finland attracted so much attention and publicity thru the exploits of Paavo Nurmi as a runner of world renown that the government was able successfully to negotiate a $10,000,000 loan in Wall street.

Mindful of the fate that has befallen most wrestlers essaying ring careers, who take the qualifications of this Far Eastern threat?

"Musashiyama," we read, "has a fine physique, with weight and long arms which would match well with those of Sharkey and Schmeling."

"Musashiyama is an amiable chap but he has powerful arms, intelligence, and courage—the qualities that are supposed to be possessed only by veterans—He is the son of a middle-class farmer and decided on his present career much against his will as well as that of his parents."

He was urged by the officials of the wrestling association to become a sumo player because of his splendid physical power and mental acuity.

"Musashiyama is not so big as either Dewagatake or Asashio. His reach is six feet and two inches and he tips the beam at exactly 250 pounds. But he is only 20 years old and is as brainy as he is powerful physically."

Macon One Game From Sally Lead

Charlotte, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Macon's hustling Peaches had advanced to within one game of the Sally leadership berth today and Augusta's Wolves continued as threats as the six clubs went into final games of the week's opening series.

Clashing with Columbia's lowly Comers in a twin bill, the Maconists captured both ends of the affair 7 to 1 and 2 to 1, to spice another half game off to the Spinners' lead. The Spinners trimmed Asheville 4 to 2. Augusta divided a double header with Charlotte.

Zientra, Columbia hurler, surrendered 13 hits as the Peaches took the first game, three of the blows being tripled off the bats of Parham, Richards and Newsome.

Newsome in the meantime was coming through with a flashy performance for the Peaches, yielding but five blows.

In the second game, Greene and Garms, with a homer inside the park, and Harvel with a pair of doubles, featured the Wolf triumph.
