CITIZENS OF EIGHT STATES GO TO POLLS

Today's Primaries to Decide Senatorial Race In Five of the States

In eight states, scattered from coast to coast, voters today choose party candidates for national and local office.

Today's primaries are to decide who will represent Louisiana and South Carolina in the Senate. Their Democratic nominations are equal to election. Senate candidates are to be chosen also in Colorado, Michigan and New Hampshire. In Arizona and Vermont selections for governor hold the principal interest, while in the state of Washington contests for House seat head the list.

Tomorrow Georgia Democrats will hold a primary and next week Massachusetts, New York and Wisconsin will stage the last pre-election contests.

Maine's balloting yesterday returned Republican victories all down the line with Representative Wallace H. White, Jr., elected Senator and William T. Gardner re-elected governor.

Absence of contests within the parties in Maryland made yesterday's primary there largely a formality, marked by the lightest vote in years.

South Carolina's contest is a run off primary to decide the leading candidates in the August 26 polling. Cole L. Blaise seeks to hold his Senate seat and James P. Byrnes, former representative, is making his second try to oust him. Ira C. Blackwood and Olin D. Johnson, both of Spartanburg, are seeking the governorship.

Louisiana's primary marks the end of a heated campaign in which Governor Huey P. Long sought the Senate seat for many years in Joseph E. Ransdell. Long spent his night under heavy guard after having been struck in the face by a New Orleans reporter yesterday.

In Colorado five men are seeking senatorial nominations. William V. Hodges, former treasurer of the Republican National Committee and George H. Shaw, former state chairman of the party are seeking the Republican nomination, while Edward P. Costigan, James A. Marsh, and Morrison Shafroth are the Democratic candidates.

Senator James Couzens, Republican, is seeking renomination in Michigan, opposed by Chas. S. Osborn, former governor. Three Republican contest the governorship.

New Hampshire's Republican Senator Keys, is unopposed within the party but two Democrats seek the right to oppose him.

Arizona George D. P. Hunt campaigned against three opponents for the Democratic nomination for the governorship, and of office held almost continuously from his election to the United States Senate in 1923. John C. Phillips, Republican incumbent who defeated him then is unopposed within his party.

Three Republicans seek the Vermont governorship, and in Washington three of the five representatives have primary opposition.

Seven Persons Killed At Buenos Aires During Severe Fighting Last Night; Half Hundred Injured; Firing Resulted From Confused Reports

Buenos Aires, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Hipolito Irigoyen, fallen president of Argentina, all members of his cabinet, and Irigoyenista members of Congress were today ordered arrested and held incommunicado.

General Augustino Justo, former minister under President Alvear, was named commander-in-chief of the garrison in the federal capital after a night of wild confusion and shooting among troops loyal to the new Urubiru regime.

The shooting arose from a tragic error among soldiers defending the central postoffice and the government house.

Seven persons were killed and 56 wounded during firing that lasted intermittently until this morning.

During the confusion reports spread that the Argentine navy squadron of 13 vessels lying in Buenos Aires harbor had begun to bombard the capital.

Five shrapnel shots were fired by the light artillery defending government house in the direction of the docks of the destroyer Mendoza, instantly killing a petty officer.

The Mendoza is commanded by Commander Lajous, until recently Argentine naval attaché at Washington.

The official version of the origin of the shooting is admittedly confused.

Rumors before 9 p. m. last night stated that troops had opened a counter-revolution, directed against General Jose Evaristo Urubiru, who only Saturday overthrew the Irigoyen regime.

The rumors, disseminated by certain so far unnamed personalities, added that the counter-revolutionaries had captured the military college.

This caused the greatest confusion and alarm throughout the city. Some sporadic shooting began.

Shortly afterward it was reported that a strong body of counter-revolutionary troops was moving against Buenos Aires.

This report reached the guard of the central postoffice building, already tense and nervous from the previous reports and from the shots in the air.

The guard, heavily armed with machine guns and light artillery on the roof, prepared to descend to the streets.

Before doing so, they began shooting out the street lamps in order to defend better their position.

The postoffice is only two blocks away from the government house, which was also heavily defended by other troops with light artillery and machine guns.

Hearing the sound of firing, the soldiers at government house also took for granted that another counter-revolutionary attack had broken out around the postoffice.

Both machine guns and artillery opened up against the postoffice.

The confusion was terrific. Traffic disappeared like magic from the streets, the citizens faking cover precipitately wherever it was available.

In this confusion, certain elements of the people looted arms and ammunition stores and ran out into the streets to take part in the fighting.

In reply, other citizens known to be partisans of General Urubiru went to the military arsenals and police stations asking for arms to defend the revolution.

They were speedily armed and stationed as vigilantes at various important street intersections and strategic points to maintain order. They co-operated with soldiers and police in preventing any hostile movements around the national treasury and other government buildings.

Through a night punctuated with the sharp report of rifles and the rattle of machine guns, the confusion kept up and the looting spread.

The firing lasted all night, and some times drummed out violently, especially when people began looting other shops.

At 9:15 this morning, Buenos Aires was still half stunned by the shock and the tragedy, of the misunderstanding.

The citizens at first appearing cautiously on the streets, began to take stock of things and realized for the first time that revolution had not broken out.

SECOND NEGRO SHOT BY MOB IN GEORGIA

Body of Man Sought In Connection With Killing Sheriff Was Found In Woods

Darien, Ga., Sept. 9.—(AP)—"Rubber" Bryan, 24, sought as the second negro who participated in a gun fight yesterday in which a police officer was slain and three others wounded, was shot and seriously wounded in a wood near here today.

Deputy Sheriffs H. B. Thompson, Edgar L. Malone and Frank Silvey of McIntosh county, who had been searching throughout the night for the negro returned to Darien this morning and announced they found Bryan lying dead, with a shotgun charge in his back.

Coroner W. S. Crumley went to the wood and his investigation showed the negro was still alive. A few minutes after Crumley's arrival, the negro regained consciousness and asked for a drink of water.

He was brought to Darien and given medical attention.

Deputy Sheriff Malone then told Coroner Crumley that he and his two companion officers early this morning approached a negro house, and that Bryan ran out, fired two pistol shots at them and fled. Malone said he fired once at the fleeing negro with his shotgun, and that the negro dropped.

They said they searched his clothing and found a pistol said to have been missed by the Darien Bank several weeks ago after a robbery, near his side.

The negro had been wounded by a shotgun charge in the chest and had an additional wound in the head.

He was returned to Darien in a truck, with an escort of national guardsmen in an automobile.

The shooting of Bryan followed the invasion of the county jail here yesterday by a group of men who killed Fred Grant, another negro held for the attack on the officers, in his cell. Grant was placed in prison early that day after a gun battle with officers in which Robert L. Freeman, chief of Glynn county police, was killed and Deputy Sheriff J. H. Collins of McIntosh county, and John Fisher, a resident of Darien, were wounded.

The officers had trailed the negroes into a swamp after they had shot and wounded R. J. Anderson, the night marshal at Darien, who suspected them of attempting to rob a bank and sought to arrest them.

N. C. SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES READY TO OPEN

Thirty-Odd Universities and Colleges to Begin Session During This Month

September again—and the youth of North Carolina turns from the pleasant paths of vacation to the sterner life of the classroom.

The thirty-odd universities, colleges, normal schools and junior institutions of the state were preparing their halls of learning for the advent of thousands of new and old students, the former, in most cases, arriving first that they might be acclimated.

For some the new year has already begun.

Appalachian State Normal at Boone, its enrollment past 600, opened its doors September 2 in its second year as an "A" grade college. Buncombe Junior at Asheville, Wingate Junior, Campbell College at Bute's Creek, and others of the smaller institutions began their work early in the month. Davenport, Woman's College at Lenoir, opened yesterday.

The larger schools, however, are more belated in opening.

Davidson College greeted 200 freshmen today. Classes will start Thursday, when the 400 old men return. Greensboro College for Women, expecting 350, Peace and Meredith at Raleigh, preparing for 450 and 100 boarding students respectively, and Guilford, near Greensboro, also registered incoming students today.

The newly consolidated Queens-Chloria in Charlotte, with Dr. W. H. Frazer in the presidential chair, sets under way tomorrow, with 350 girls expected. Salem College at Winston-Salem has the same opening date. Between 350 and 400 are enrolled.

Elon, ready for 400 students, opens Thursday.

North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro, first of the State's four institutions with attendance in excess of 2,000 to open, will welcome newcomers Friday.

The University of North Carolina, expecting a record enrollment of 2,500, has set September 16-18 as opening dates. North Carolina State opens its registration books the 19th, with a prospective enrollment of 2,000. Duke, third of the big three, opens two days later, with 2,000 students forecast.

High Point College's doors swing open September 15, as do St. Mary's at Raleigh, ready for 200 boarding students. Mitchell College for Women at Statesville, its registration 20 percent increased, starts the same day, as does Catawba at Salisbury, set for 400 or more students. Leisburg College for Women in Eastern North Carolina and Eastern Carolina teachers College at Greenville began work a few days earlier.

Wake Forest dates are September 15-18, with a probable attendance of 650.

Other schools opening within the next two weeks include Lenoir-Rhyne at Hickory, Atlantic Christian at Wilson, Flora MacDonald for Women at Red Springs, Ruthford Junior at Connelly Springs, Mrs. Hill Presbyterian Junior at Maxton, Chowan at Murfreesboro and Dea-McRae.

A half-dozen institutions will have new faces in the presidential seats. Among the newcomers are Dr. Frank Graham at the University Dr. T. D. Kitchin of Wake Forest, Dr. G. R. Humphreys at High Point and Dr. Zeno Wall at Boiling Springs Junior College, which opened September 2. Flora MacDonald and Wingate are also under new leaders.

MARINE DIVER IS TRAPPED AT LAKE BOTTOM

Workers Labor Frantically to Save Aged Diver Under Pumping Station

New Orleans, Sept. 9.—(AP)—A hundred men labored frantically today to free Captain Nick Danese, 62-year-old marine diver, who has been trapped under a city pumping station on Lake Pontchartrain since 11 a. m. yesterday by water pressure from a sudden break in a lock.

He was still alive today and gave signals by jerking his air hose. A large barge was sunk near him and the men were driving down sheet piling today in the hope of forming a pen and then pumping the water out. It was estimated at 9 a. m. that three or four more hours would be required for the work.

Captain Danese went down yesterday to repair a leak in the pump locks but while he was working under the water with a diver's helmet on but without a customary diver's suit the lock collapsed and the pressure of the water swept him under a bulkhead against the piling. He had a rope, normally fastened around a diver's body, in his hand, and when he was swept aside by the current the rope slipped out of his grasp.

He was hurled against the piling with only his air hose line connecting with the surface. Working in relays throughout the night, men pumped a steady supply of air through the hose but each time the trapped diver moved away from the bulkhead the current swept him back.

Other divers believe the bulkhead is protecting Danese from pressure and they expressed the hope that he would be rescued if his strength held out. They pointed out that another diver was under the water near that place for 34 hours a few years ago and came out alive.

The pumping station is in an isolated section with no telephone or road connection, communication being by boat.

SIX KILLED IN EXPLOSION OF AN ENGINE

Several Others Injured In Blast of Locomotive At Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—(AP)—A number of men, believed to be at least six, were killed and several others were injured today in the explosion of a pusher engine in the round house yard of the Reading Railroad at third street and Erie avenue.

The engine was used in pushing heavy freight over grades in the outskirts of Philadelphia. The identified dead are: John Biemler, roundhouse foreman; John Kelly, engine inspector, and Fred Spangler, engineer.

The blast, let loose a detonation that was heard throughout the entire neighborhood. Railroad police took charge and when city police and firemen arrived they directed the work of getting the injured to hospitals.

For a few seconds after the explosion chunks of metal fell like rain about the yards and all other employes scurried to shelter.

Some of the bodies were blown high in the air and landed on a nearby embankment.

It is the rule to inspect all locomotives each morning.

The pusher had been brought out on the turn table and had been taken off again when it stopped about 100 feet away. Spangler discovered something wrong with the injector and called the round house foreman. A number of other men gathered about the engine and while an examination was being made the engine exploded.

SUES STORE FOR DAMAGES IN COURT HERE

Miss Roselyn Lamm Sues Charles Stores for $30,000 in Check Case

The civil term of Pitt County Superior court which convened in this city yesterday with Judge Walter L. Small, of Elizabeth City, presiding, involving the case of Miss Roselyn Lamm of Lucama against the Charles Stores of this city.

Miss Lamm is suing the concern for the sum of $30,000, and the entire action is centered around a check for $10.00.

Miss Lamm, a former student of the East Carolina Teachers College, issued checks on her father's banking account while in school here. The Charles Stores allege that a check for $10 was given to them by Miss Lamm, and that collection was denied when it was sent to the bank in Lucama.

Miss Lamm was said to have stopped payment on the check, claiming that it was forged. The Charles Stores immediately started legal action and the young woman was arrested on the streets of Lucama and ordered to appear before the court to answer to the charge of giving a bad check. She was found not guilty and immediately instituted suit for damages.

The case promises to be one of the most stubbornly contested of the present term, and indications were that the action would not be completed before late today or early tomorrow morning.

RUSH MEDICAL SUPPLIES TO STORM AREAS

U. S. and Other Countries Attempt to Combat Pestilence in Santo Domingo

Santo Domingo, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The furnishing of food and water to Santo Domingo's stricken thousands today became a problem of increasing importance to national and Red Cross authorities.

Soldiers of the Dominican Guardia with United States soldiers standing by, suppressed a food riot yesterday at one of the wharves where relief supplies were being unloaded from the United States destroyer-mine sweeper Grebe.

More than 100 persons watched until the supplies had been placed on the wharf and then rushed the laborers. Soldiers held off the rioters while speakers assured the crowds that the rations would be distributed as soon as possible. Most of the crowd had not had a meal since last Wednesday, when the hurricane struck the city.

While considerable food has been brought for relief purposes by the steamships Ruth Lykes and Catherine and the Grebe from Porto Rico, and in the steamship Tryton's cargo of rice from Europe, the amount has been little compared to what is needed. Vessels have been forced to anchor in the Caribbean while launches and small boats brought their cargoes to shore.

Lack of water has become almost as distressing a problem as lack of food, but an aqueduct has been repaired for bringing water from inland sources.

A survey shows that more than 1,200 seriously injured patients are receiving treatment in 13 hospitals and impromptu first aid stations in the city.

Consul Generals Have Been Instructed to Inquire More Carefully Into the Financial Status of Immigrants Before Granting Passports

Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—President Hoover announced today that the State Department has moved to alleviate the unemployment situation by tightening the immigration restrictions upon alien who might become public charges.

Consul General who issue visas for immigration to the United States have been instructed to inquire more carefully into the financial status of the applicant.

The extent to which this will affect the volume of immigration to this country or its effect upon unemployment has not been estimated. The President said officials expect a sharp decrease in the number of those types who formerly have come to America and have become unable to support themselves.

Mr. Hoover said that the restrictions would not affect preferences given to relatives of aliens who already have come to this country.

In March 1929 similar restriction in regard to Mexico were imposed, leading to a sharp decrease in the number of immigrants crossing the Mexican border. To a lesser extent these restrictions also have been applied to Canada.

Under the new plan of the State Department, European ports are to be watched particularly.

Carolina Veterans of the World War to Get $5,000,000

Charlotte, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Approximately $5,000,000 will be distributed to North Carolina veterans of the world war next year through the Veterans Bureau office here, J. S. Pittman, director, estimates.

During August the bureau sent out $279,288.43 under the relief and disability acts, Mr. Pittman's report shows. The money went to 5,272 men, only 156 of whom were classified under the disability provision. In addition about $100,000 in insurance was paid.

Approximately 3,000 applications under the disability act are on file.

Says Germany Will Have Something to Say on British Plan

Geneva, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Dr. Julius Curtius, German foreign minister, told the League of Nations Council today that Germany will have something to say regarding the British plan for closer administrative, customs, and fiscal union between the African territories of Kenya and Tanganyika.

Tanganyika was one of the German colonies lost by the war, and is now administered by Great Britain under a League of Nations mandate. Kenya is a British colony.

There has been popular condemnation in Germany of an alleged British purpose to give Tanganyika the virtual status of a British possession. Germans who frankly hope to regain some of their lost colonies opposed any move which they regard as making their project more difficult.

LIGHT-HEADED, TIRED FEELING

Bilious Troubles Relieved By the Help of Theford's Black-Draught.

Gainesville, Ga.—Mrs. F. A. Watson, of 43 West High Street, this city, says that she has used Theford's Black-Draught for fifteen years, when needed for such troubles as she mentions below:

"I took Black-Draught for indigestion and the tired, worn feeling that comes from biliousness.

"When I get up in the morning and my mouth tastes bad and my eyes burn, and I feel light-headed, I know that I must take something. And after I heard how good it was, I took Black-Draught. A few doses relieve me so much—make me feel well and strong and clear up my head.

"I don't know what I would do without Black-Draught. It seems to regulate the bowels and rid one of impurities."

Thousands of others have written to tell how many disagreeable symptoms, due to constipation, have disappeared after they had taken Theford's Black-Draught. It is a natural remedy, composed of selected medicinal herbs and roots, and put up by modern scientific, accurate methods.

Baby Soprano Gets Divorce From Rosen

New York, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Convicted it is very difficult for two musical artists to make a success of married life, Nanette Guilford, "baby soprano" of the Metropolitan Opera Company, has obtained a divorce from Max Rosen, violinist Roberto Haberman, attorney for Miss Guilford, said the decree was granted in Sonora, Mexico, on grounds of incompatibility and non support. It was uncontested.

Miss Guilford, who began singing stellar roles at the age of 18, thereby earning the name "baby prima donna," announced her intention to seek a divorce last February. Describing Rosen's proposal and their marriage, she said: "Really, I think I am the first bride ever yawned into matrimony, we'd just finished luncheon, after our morning musical studies, and were walking in Seventh avenue. Max Yawned as though he were bored to death.

"Ho, hum," he said, "what do you say to getting married this afternoon?"

Miss Guilford consented and they went to City Hall and were married.

Tax on Stock of Foreign Corporation Is Unconstitutional

Raleigh, Sept. 9.—(AP)—In an opinion on file here today, United States District Judge I. M. Meekins has declared the North Carolina law which taxes the stock in foreign corporation held by North Carolina corporations as part of their corporate excess and at the same time exempts from taxation the stock in foreign corporations held by individuals is unconstitutional.

The opinion, an exhaustive document, was written in the case of the Garysburg Manufacturing Co. versus the County of Pender. Judge Meekins characterized the tax as a "discriminating burden on the corporation, without any logical, recognized, or necessary reason for the distinction." He held that it was a violation of the 14th amendment to the United States constitution and it "made the complaint bear unjustly a part of the taxation that should be fairly and equally divided alike between a corporation and an individual."

The case came before Judge Meekins when the sheriff of Pender levied a two per cent tax on $225,000 stock held by the Garysburg company in the Argent Lumber company, of South Carolina.

The company refused to pay the tax. The sheriff threatened to seize the property and sell it for taxes. The company then instituted the suit on the grounds that it was unconstitutional.

A. J. Maxwell, state revenue commissioner, said he did not know how far reaching the decision would be if upheld by the United States Supreme court, where it is expected to go for its final review.

MAKE $10.98 AVERAGE ON BORDER LEAF

August Prices Almost Third Under Any Season During Past Five Years

Raleigh, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Seven North Carolina border tobacco markets of the South Carolina belt sold 21,131,851 pounds of tobacco during August at an average price of $10.98 per hundred pounds, compared to a 1929 average for the same period of $17.55 per hundred, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service announced today.

The average of $10.98 was almost a third under any average of the past five years, and was the lowest since 1919, the first year the price average was included in the report.

Total producers sales on the seven markets were 18,486,642 pounds. The markets, Chadbourne, Clarkton, Fair Bluff, Fairmount, Lumberton, Tabor and Whiteville, sold 32,774,534 pounds during August 1929, a decrease this year of over ten million pounds for the period.

Fairmount reported the highest August average, $11.70 per hundred for total sales of 8,520,842 pounds. Last year the Fairmount average for August was $17.92 per hundred.

Clarkton had the lowest average for the month, $8.78 per hundred for sales of 760,442 pounds. The Clarkton average a year ago was $15.43.

The monthly report showed comparative August sales and averages for a six year period were as follows: 1920, sales 21,131,581 and average $10.98; 1929, sales 32,774,534 and average $17.55; 1928, sales 25,330,117, an average $14.42; 1927, sales 24,130,781 and average $22.36; 1926, sales 11,429,923 and average $24.78; 1925, sales 13,499,301 and average $18.23.

The report showed production for the state to be estimated at 550,000 pounds as of August 1, compared to production last year of 497,593,000 pounds sold.

Joy Bath Takes Out CORNS

New English Way

Now you can dance to your heart's content, run and walk and have good feet free from corns, callouses and hard skin.

No more foot agony feet that will never go back on you. Greenville Drug Co., sells Radox—so do all leading druggists.

"The prices paid reflect a real decline. Some of this may be due in part to poor quality, but it is doubtful if the quality of sales so far this year have been much below those of August a year ago. The present price average of $10.98 per hundred pounds is the lowest August average since 1919. When this price feature was added to this report."

KEEP THE SUPPLY BELOW THE DEMAND

A general mass meeting regarding the tobacco price situation has been called for Thursday in Raleigh and what, if anything, the meeting can accomplish so far as this year's crop is concerned is an unknown quantity, but certainly this offers a great opportunity to impress upon the minds of the business men, bankers and farmers of our state the necessity of curtailing production if tobacco raising in the future is to be profitable. So long as tobacco production in Georgia and the Carolinas continues to increase each year just so long will the buying companies find a sufficient amount to more than take care of their needs and will be in position to pay what they please for the crops because there is enough to go around which means little or no competition on the buying end. Smaller crops throughout the tobacco growing areas would mean just as much money to the farmers as a large crop because smaller crops year in and year out would bring about stronger competition between the buying companies in their individual efforts to obtain enough tobacco to take care of their needs.

While there is no justice in the low prices now being paid for the crop, and certainly we hope that something can be done to bring about better prices for the remainder of the season, we honestly believe that the solution of the whole problem for the future, depends upon the united action of all the tobacco growing states toward reduction of acreage in order that the supply will not exceed the demand. Keeping the supply below the demand and the production of what is needed to feed man and beast on the farm is the only way out for the tobacco farmer, and the sooner we realize this the sooner we will get out of our financial difficulties.

ABOUT TOWN

"You can tell the folks," said Pittwood Dail, secretary of the Hay County Fair Association. "That we are going to have one of the best fairs in years. Preparations have been under way for weeks for this annual attraction to be held during the early part of October, and if the people co-operate as they should the fair will be bigger and better than ever. Midway will be in charge of the West's Greater Shows, one of the best set of entertainers on the road

This is the second time in the last two years that this aggregation of performers have come to Greenville and they need to be introduced. Arrangements for exhibits have been very extensive and despite the fact that the drought has greatly handicapped the farmers, the farm exhibits will be far better than expected. Every other phase of industry in this part of the country will be set forth in an interesting manner and Pitt county people will have an opportunity to see what their neighbors are capable of doing in this direction.

A meeting will be held in the city of Raleigh Thursday for the purpose of outlining plans for the relief of the tobacco growers of North Carolina. Just what the nature of the relief will be cannot be foreseen at this time, but something will be done to effect the future agricultural life of the state cannot be questioned.

The farmers have been subjected to the whims of big organization since the beginning of time and they are no nearer a solution to their problem of independence than they were years ago. It is true some of them live in better style than previously, but they have made mortgage their homes and lands to keep pace with the march of progress, and today are at the mercy of their resources.

Something must be done to help them combat the fluctuating markets—markets which for the past several years have paid liberally for maybe one single crop and then bought other crops at starvation prices. It is a condition calling for the best brains of the country, and it is impossible to foresee the outcome of the Raleigh meeting.

But whatever is done its success is not going to be a matter so much as to be plan but the way it is followed out. If a program is provided the farmers must stick to it until the last for only through the spirit of endurance will anything constructive be achieved.

The campaign to provide more trees for the city of Greenville and to preserve those already on hand seems to be meeting with more than general interest in all parts of the state, according to information given out by members of the campaign committee from the Rotary Club.

The need for more trees to beautify the city has been felt for a long time, but until the last several weeks did the movement get under way to provide them. Many of the most beautiful shade trees here have been destroyed in past years because the people from long years of habit failed to appreciate their value and chopped them down whenever they found improvement necessary.

Trees today are worth hundreds of dollars to carry out beautification projects, and it is nothing but right that the people should begin to cast about to see what they can do to replenish the diminishing tree stock and preserve those already on hand.

The Rotary club has started something deserving of the keen appreciation of the entire citizenship and it is to be hoped other organizations will join the Rotates in this effort to put the tree movement across in good style.

The possibilities of this great section of the country have not been impaired by low prices of tobacco. The opportunities for development are great today as they have ever been before, and by application to industry the coming years should witness just as much progress as the past.

The price depression should have a tendency of awakening the people to the peril of confining their attention solely to money crops, and if it does this, then the future will be more secure than it has ever been before.

The trouble with our people is that they have been putting all their eggs into one basket too long. They need to branch out, to give more attention to the idea of diversification, and then to apply it as extensively as it is possible for them to do so.

The land of this section is adaptable to the cultivation of most any kind of crops, and if the farmers would cut down on the money crops and produce more of the things they use at home it is impossible to conceive the possibilities which the future holds for them.

The only hope of the South is embraced in the diversification plan, and if it is followed out faithfully it may be said with absolute conviction that there should be no fear concerning the outcome of the experiment.

SAYS OTTO H. KAHN PRESENTS FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Mr. D. J. Whichard, Editor, The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir: I have just read an article over the signature of Mr. Otto H. Kahn who is one of the leading and most prominent financial figures of the world. This article briefly sets forth some food for thought and I am sure a great many of us have suffered with complex as he has outlined. Mr. Kahn's article follows: "The two worst counsellors in any situation are greed and fear. Too many of us, in the spring and summer of 1929, permitted ourselves to be swayed by the former. Too many of us, now, are being impelled by the latter. The sooner we stop talking one another into a blue flunk spreading the contagion of exaggerated apprehensions, and thereby undermining confidence and laming enterprise, the sooner we shall pass out of the shadow of the present emergency."

That does not mean inaugurating a sunshine movement or indulging in the futile pastime of whistling to keep up our courage. Neither does it mean shutting our eyes to the facts or begging ourselves, or permitting others to beguile us, with illusions or delusions. It means simply preserving our sense of proportion and maintaining steadiness of nerve as becomes a great people."

In view of the fact that conditions are not just what they should be, I believe our condition would be greatly improved if each business man in every vocation, would take Mr. Kahn's article, analyze it thoroughly, read it once each day and continue to keep a steady nerve. Thanking you for space in your paper for this letter, I remain, Very truly yours, W. H. BRADSHAW.

All the mellow aroma of the choice tobaccos in the Camel blend is preserved and enhanced through every step of manufacture. There's no over-processing with its resultant insipidity—no doctoring, for none is needed. Modern smokers have recognized the difference between mildness and flatness. # Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 3 to 5 points under a revival of yesterday's selling movement and in response to weakness in Liverpool.

The decline brought in considerable trade buying and covering which caused bulges of a point or two right after the opening, but the demand was supplied by further liquidation combined with some Wall Street, local and southern selling. At the end of the first half hour, New October was selling around 10.77 and March 11.22, making net declines of about 6 to 10 points on the more active positions.

Local brokers reported considerable buying for trade account on the declines and there were rumors of further buying orders of that character at prices under the market, but otherwise there was very little support in evidence except for covering. Liverpool cables reported hedging and short selling in that market and said that buyers of cotton cloths and yarns were cautious with the decline in cotton checking business.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Persistent selling, induced by weakness of quotations abroad and at Winnipeg held Chicago wheat future deliveries on the downgrade today. Prices started lower and dragged nearer to the lowest levels of the season. Messages from Winnipeg indicated a decided lack of foreign demand for North American wheat and claimed that re-sellers controlled the market abroad. Liverpool closed lower. Corn was unsettled, but sufficient buying by commission houses developed enough strength to offset to a large extent the weakness in wheat.

Wheat closed nervous and unsettled at nearly the bottom most figures reached 1-4 to 1-2 net lower than yesterday's finish; corn finished 1-8 lower to 3-8 to 5-8 higher; oats 1-4 to 3-4 down and provisions ranged from unchanged to a decline of 17 cents.

STOCK MARKET

By CLAUD A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Financial Editor)

New York, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Bull gained a new leverage and continued the laudable elevation of stock prices, unaided by public buying, in today's market.

The wave of profit taking that yesterday appeared to have discouraged further short selling, thus improving the market's technical position and giving speculators to the rise a fresh advantage. Trading was less active than that of the previous session, however, and bulls were forced to shift their activity from group to group to keep the list pointed downward.

The operations of bullish interests were most effective in tobacco utility and natural gas, merchant dising and food shares. Rails, on several of the important industrial made little headway. Oils were inclined to sag.

The American Tobacco company shares were strong spots, the oil stock gaining more than 5 points. Case and Duplan Sisk sold about 4, and shares advancing; to 3 included DuPont, Macy, Woolworth, Congress Cigar, Liggett and Myers B. Air Reduction and Bes & Co.

Such issues as National Biscuit, Loose Wiles, Columbian Carbon, Houston Oil, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Public Service Co. N. J., American Water Works, National Power and Light and Stone and Webster sold up moderately. Krueger and Toll was active again.

Richard Whitney, president of the exchange, in an address today did not encourage the theory that the market forecasts business recovery, saying, "Before security prices rise, there must be confidence that business has turned the corner." The speed with which the market will respond to business improvement, he added later,

Population Still Increases at N. C. State Penitentiary

Raleigh, Sept. 9.—(AP)—State Prison showed a net increase in population during August of 44 and on September 1 the population of Central Prison and its 27 units aggregated 2,301. It was learned today.

During August 149 prisoners were received.

Twenty-six prisoners escaped in August—9 white and 17 negro—and there were 13 recaptures. Sentences of 72 prisoners expired during the month. Three prisoners died during the month. Governor Gardner paroled 16 persons.

September 1 the population consisted of 1,096 white males, 16 white females, 1,131 negro males and 58 negro females.

Woman Acquitted in Murder Case

York, S. C., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Myrtle Fox, 22, of Kings Mountain, N. C. charged with murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Nettie Martin, also of Kings Mountain, in an automobile wreck near York in August, was acquitted in General Sessid's court today without regular trial.

When the case was called Solicitor Harry Hines announced the State would agree to a verdict of acquittal without introduction of testimony. A jury was then impaneled and wrote a verdict of acquittal without leaving its seats.

Mrs. Fox, arrested immediately after the accident, was released when a coroner's jury decided the automobile in which Mrs. Martin was driven by unknown hands. She testified at the inquest an unidentified man, whom the two women had picked up, was responsible for the accident.

Mrs. Fox was arrested a second time on a warrant sworn out by the mother of the dead woman.
