30-HOUR WEEK SCHEDULE IS SOUGHT NOW

The Proposal Creates Lively Debate Among Delegates at Textile Convention

New York, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Efforts to have the United Textile Workers of America approve in principle a 30-hour work week was a lively debate among the delegates to the national convention.

The resolution was offered by local No. 25 of Philadelphia, and the committee on legislative, to which it was referred, reported it to the full convention adversely. After an hour's debate had shown strong support for the resolution among delegates, the resolution was taken from the hands of the legislative committee and referred to the committee of resolutions, with the prospect that it would be adopted later in the day.

Before this matter was brought up the convention approved the establishment of an eight-hour day and five-day week and abolition of night work for women and children in the textile industry and approved state old-age pension laws and provision of unemployment insurance under state or government supervision. Support was also voted to the Shipstead anti-injunction bill pending in Congress. Other resolutions favored the extension of workmen's compensation laws and put the union on record as opposing "yellow dog" contracts.

Josephine Barron, chairman of the committee on legislation, in advising against approval of the thirty-hour week proposal, said that the committee was in sympathy with the proposal but felt that the reduction of working hours to forty per week would be the most that could be hoped for at present. Speaking for the resolution, Michael McHugh, of local No. 35, said that such a drastic reduction of working hours is the only cure for unemployment, which he and other speakers blamed on the wide use of labor-saving machines. In the upholstery, weaving and knitting industry in Philadelphia three out of four weavers are out of work because of the keen competition, McHugh said. He asserted that the thirty-hour work week would restore two-thirds of these to employment.

Continuing the morning session, T. F. McMahon, international president, and Francis J. Gorman, international vice-president, replied to statements credited to David Clark of Charlotte, N. C., publisher of the Southern Textile Bulletin, who was quoted in the news dispatches this morning as saying that the union which is trying to organize the South, was discredited in the New England field.

"The United Textile Workers are stronger now than at any time in history," Mr. McMahon said. "When southern campaign starts we know there will be nothing for Dave Clark and his friends to gloat over."

N. C. Cotton Crop Increases Despite Acreage Reduction

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—(AP)—North Carolina's 1930 cotton crop was estimated as of September 1 at 19,000 bales, or an increase of 72,000 over last year's crop despite a 10 per cent acreage reduction this year. The Federal State crop reporting service announced today.

The crop condition September 1 was 67 per cent of normal as compared with 68 per cent last year and a ten year average of 66 per cent on September 1.

Cotton cultivation, the report said, was almost perfect this year and was done with a minimum of labor and grasses. The drought resulted in smaller plant growth and the bolls are probably smaller, but the smaller plants are much heavier fruited than usual. Rapid maturing of bolls as a result of the drought afforded boll weevils a minimum of squares and young bolls to feed on, the report said, and in addition farmers did more poisoning than ever before.

Pickle Plant Extends Season

New Bern, Sept. 11.—(AP)—If Peter Piper picks an extra peck of peppers, the pickle plant will purchase them.

Joseph Orringer, president of the Johnson-Earl-Myers, Inc., pickle plant here, has announced the season, scheduled to end August 15, will be extended indefinitely until all peppers and other vegetables contracted for with growers of this section have been received.

The plant employs about 100 persons.

Prohibition Battle Rages With Renewed Interest As Result Of The Primaries

Urged For Governor

United States District Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, New York City, has been urged by republicans to run for governorship of New York.

SEVERAL NEW FACES WILL BE IN SENATE

Resignations and Defeats In Primaries Already Eliminated Eleven Members

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Washington, Sept. 11.—Resignations and defeats in the primaries already have eliminated eleven of the thirty-five members of the Senate who were up for re-election this year, assuring one of the greatest changes in the Senate make-up of recent years.

It has been a hard season on the incumbents, regardless of party affiliations. Southern Democrats already have rejected three Senators for renomination and forced a fourth—Thomas J. Heflin, of Alabama—to run as an independent.

These Senators who have weathered the primary battles in most instances are fighting for their political lives in the forthcoming election. The assault on the office holders does not seem to have affected the House members so much although the primaries have shown considerable reaction against House incumbents.

Of the eleven Senators who retire after the next election five were defeated for renomination and six declined to run again. Those who have been defeated for the party nomination are: Republicans, Deneen, Illinois; and Grundy, of Pennsylvania. Democrats: Simmons, North Carolina; Blease, of South Carolina; and Ransdell, of Louisiana.

The following six Republican Senators declined to run for re-election:—Baird, New Jersey; Gillett, Massachusetts; Goff, West Virginia; Gould, Maine; Phipps, Colorado; and Sullivan, Wyoming. Senator Brock, Democrat, Tennessee, also will retire but he is running for election to complete the short unexpired term of the late Senator Tyson.

Whether the Republicans or Democrats will control the next Senate is still to be determined in the forthcoming election. The Republicans now have 56 of the 96 members, the Democrats 39 and the Farmer-Labor one.

Of the Senate seats involved in the election this year, 22 are held by Republicans and 13 by Democrats. Thus the odds are against the Republicans but whether the Democrats can overturn sufficient incumbents to get the majority is problematical. They are making the claim only of a "fifty-fifty" chance.

New Ferment Poured Into Cauldron of the Dry Laws by Results of Elections in Ten States; Roosevelt's Statement Gives New Impulse to the Wets

Washington, Sept. 11.—(AP)—New ferment was poured into the cauldron of prohibition debate by the results of primaries in ten states during the past three days.

Although a number of wet office seekers met defeat the overthrow of several dry champions and the victories of some candidates opposed by the prohibition forces appeared one of the most interesting developments in the races.

The anti-prohibition cause received an encouraging impulse yesterday also from Governor Roosevelt of New York, who after a two-year silence on the question placed himself on record as favoring repeal of the eighteenth amendment with substitution of a statute granting each state control of intoxicants.

In few instances did the political wet or dry victories furnish unclouded evidence of popular sentiment, however, as even in races where prohibition became the paramount issue other influences entered.

Prominent among the dry losers were the Republican Representatives Louis C. Cramton and Grant M. Hudson, a former Anti-Saloon league official of Michigan. In the latter's race the prohibition issue was outstanding.

Representative John F. Miller, of Washington, also was a loser for Republican renomination, going down before the wet attack of Ralph H. Kerr. Miller's district is Seattle, however, and Horris Republican county chairman. In the state of Washington also dries can point to victories of two dry incumbents over wet opposition, and the return opposed of two more dries. All this in the face of wet planks in the state platforms of both parties.

Dry victories occurred in Republican ranks in New Hampshire and Vermont, but in most cases the wet opponents were third men in the races. The Democrats of the two states will have the wet flag in the November elections, making a bid for normally lacking popular support of their party.

Colorado's Republican Senatorial primary yielded a victory for the only candidate not endorsed by the Anti-Saloon league, George H. Shaw. He did not campaign as a wet, however.

In Michigan a prominent dry, Chase S. Osborn, was unable to use his Anti-Saloon league support effectively to overthrow Senator James Couzens. The latter favors law observance but is not in sympathy with prohibition. The issue was not a leading one in the race.

Maryland candidates for November elections promise to have much to say on the question, but this is not unusual in that state.

In Louisiana, Arizona, Georgia and South Carolina the prohibition issue was not significant. Maine's election also turned principally on national issues.

Lion Situation Becomes Critical

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 11.—(AP)—The lion situation in Santa Fe is almost out of hand.

The population was disturbed but not anxious when it learned that Queenie and Duke, two lions left here by a circus in lieu of a $200 unpaid bill, were rapidly running up a meat bill which threatens to overtake the circus debt.

But when Mayor Jim McCondey received a telephone message from a woman that "the lions cried all night last night," the city administration as well as the humane society and residents within hearing of the lions' cage began to regard the two animals as a crying city problem.

Show Farmers What May Occur In the Future

Kinston, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Just what honor came to P. S. E. Harper and W. C. Worthington, farmer-prophets in their own country is dubious. Their prophecy, however, won, then new hats.

Harper and Worthington paraded barefooted through Kinston streets as "prophets of what may happen to tobacco growers in general."

They explained they were demonstrating in protest of the eight-cent tobacco. A warehouseman was said to have warned the hats they would not appear useless and useless in the business district.

LEAF GROWERS TO MEET HERE SEPTEMBER 19

Federal Farm Board Also Arranges for Series of Other Meetings in Tobacco Belt

As a result of the district educational meeting called by the Federal Farm Board, in co-operation with State College, the following county-wide mass meetings of tobacco growers, merchants, business men and bankers have been arranged for:

Tuesday, September 16—Anson and Richmond. Scotland, Moore, Randolph, Montgomery, Lee.

Wednesday, September 17—Hoke, Cumberland, Granville, Wake.

Thursday, September 18—Harnett, Johnston, Wayne, Wilson.

Friday, September 19—Duplin, Pender, Beaufort, Pitt. (Greenville, 2 p. m. 4:30 p. m.)

Monday, September 23—Onslow, Jones, Warren, Vance.

Wednesday, September 24—Craven and Carteret, Pamlico, Franklin, Halifax.

Thursday, September 25—Lenoir, Greene, Northampton and Hertford, Bertie.

Friday, September 26—Edgecombe, Nash, Washington, Martin.

Three meetings will take into consideration organization for the purpose of not only marketing tobacco but to keep production in line with the consumption of tobacco. The Federal Farm Board will have a speaker at each of these county-wide meetings which will outline the kind of farmers' organization the Federal Farm Board can work through and will at the same time explain to those present the benefits they may expect through an organization of this kind. These meetings are not held for the purpose of organizing any group but rather to inform the people as a whole as to what may and what may not be expected of an organization.

You will note that the date set for the meeting in Pitt county has been set for Friday, September 19, 2 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. at the court house. All citizens of Pitt county interested in agriculture are urged to attend.

Pitt County Fair To Be Staged Week of Oct. 13th Hundreds Of Cash Prizes

The Pitt County Fair will be held during the week of October 13 to 18th, according to announcement given out this week by W. H. Dall, the secretary of the annual attraction.

Plans for the fair are being conducted along extensive lines as heretofore, and every department will be filled to overflowing with things of interest to the thousands of patrons in the territory served by the exposition, Mr. Dall said.

Although drought conditions have vitally affected the products of the farm in this section of the county, Mr. Dall expressed opinion that these exhibits would be as great as ever. Prizes approximately $300 have been offered for community booth exhibits in which individual communities will be given an opportunity to show the world what they are capable of doing. In addition to this some $150,000 or more is being offered for live-at-home booth exhibits.

Owing to the fact that the live-at-home plan is receiving more than passing attention in this part of the country at this time, hope was expressed by those in charge of the farm exhibits, that this department would be made one of the outstanding attractions of the fair.

Pitt County farmers are being given right much attention to the problem of raising more of the things consumed by their family and many of them, especially those who have obtained marked success in their experiments, will offer stiff competition for the $150 in prizes offered for this feature.

Although the premium list has not been completed it was stated that liberal sums of money would be offered for the winners in the various exhibits. These apply not only to the agricultural buildings, but to other buildings where the skill of Pitt County people in every line is being tested.

Predict Lowest Crop Production In Twenty Years

Washington, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Inroads of the drought have forced the Department of Agriculture to predict the lowest crop yield in twenty years, with the possible exception of 1921.

The corn crop, chief victim of the long dry spell, was forecast at only 1,983,000,000 bushels, the smallest since 1901. A different picture was presented of the wheat, oats and barley crops, however, with the estimates for spring wheat increased since August 1 by 17,000,000 bushels, oats by 75,000,000 bushels and barley by 17,000,000 bushels.

Wheat production was estimated at 837,761,000 bushels, as compared with 805,790,000 bushels last year.

Hickory Banker Purchases Church

Hickory, Sept. 11.—(AP)—It sounds silly, but J. L. Cilley, banker, has a church all of his own and he doesn't know what to do with it.

Cilley's church has no pastor. It has no congregation. Cilley doesn't know whether to invite Aimee Semple McPherson, Billy Sunday or some other evangelist to conduct a big meeting or take charge himself.

It all came about when a West Hickory congregation disbanded and put the church building on the auction block. Casually, Cilley put in a bid.

"Imagine his surprise when the church was knocked down to him."

Poppies May Blow Over Graves of the N. C. War Dead

Dunn, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Poppies may blow over the graves of North Carolina's World War dead.

Mrs. I. R. Williams has offered to share with relatives of soldiers buried in this state a quantity of poppy seed given her by Colonel Monroe Johnson of Marion, S. C. candidate for National Legion Commander.

Colonel Johnson's bred the seed from poppies taken from Flanders Fields.

Sales Increase On Leaf Market; Prices Improve

Sales were heavier on the Greenville tobacco market today than any other day since the opening and the price situation was described as some stronger than yesterday. It was estimated that there was approximately 600,000 pounds of leaf on the various warehouse floors.

The market yesterday sold 398,356 pounds of tobacco for a total sum of $35,525.74. The general average was given at $8.92 per hundred pounds.

Canvass Election Returns In S. C.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 11.—(AP)—County executive committees met today to canvass officially the returns from Tuesday's Democratic primary in which Senator Cole L. Blease was apparently defeated for renomination by James F. Byrnes, and Ibra C. Blackwood appeared to have a small margin over Olin D. Johnston for governorship.

A revision of the unofficial returns showed Byrnes leading his veteran political opponent by 5,856 votes with 20 small boxes not reported.

Scores Reported Dead As Result of Volcano Eruption

Messina, Italy, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A score of persons are reported dead and fifty or more injured in the simultaneous eruption of Stromboli volcano and an earthquake on Stromboli Island, one of the Aeriali group near here.

The eruption threw thousands of burning rocks high into the air. These descended on little villages which dot the countryside around the base of the volcano.

A river of lava flowed down upon the village of San Bartolo destroying farms and setting many buildings on fire.

Later official reports said that Stromboli's activity returned to normal shortly afterward.

HARRIS AGAIN NOMINATED IN GEORGIA RACE

Russel and Carswell Wage Nip and Tuck Race for Gubernatorial Honors

Atlanta, Sept. 11.—(AP)—While Richard B. Russell, Jr., continued to lead the field of five gubernatorial candidates on unofficial and incomplete returns from yesterday's Democratic primary tabulated today, George N. Carswell had narrowed the margin between them to four county unit votes.

The count on the face of these returns, gave Russell 162 unit votes and Carswell 178. E. D. Rivers had 82 unit votes, John N. Holder 72, and no unit votes for James A. Perry.

These returns showed Russell leading in 49 counties, Carswell in 47, Rivers in 35 and Holder in 30.

United States Senator William J. Harris had overwhelmed his opponent, former Governor John M. Slaton, of Atlanta. It marked the senior Senator's nomination for a second term.

Incomplete and unofficial returns from the Ninth Congressional District indicated Representative T. M. Bell, dean of the Georgia delegation, was defeated by Judge John Wood, of Canton.

Atlanta, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Senator William J. Harris was renominated for a third term and Richard R. Russel, Jr., and George H. Carswell waged a nip and tuck battle for the gubernatorial nomination in yesterday's Democratic primary with the result still in doubt today.

Harris overwhelmed former Governor John M. Slaton, rolling up 394 county unit votes to four for Slaton in 353 of Georgia's 161 counties. The popular vote was Harris' 84,885; Slaton 23,880.

Returns from 152 counties gave Russel 126 unit votes; Carswell 122; E. D. Rivers 86; John N. Holder 64; James A. Perry 4. The popular vote was Russel 31,352; Carswell 23,908; Holder 24,131; Rivers 20,981; Perry 3,633.

Under the Georgia system the counties have two unit votes for each of their representatives in the state legislature. The successful candidates both for governor and United States Senator must have a majority of the unit votes.

There was every indication today that a second run-off primary between the two high men, apparently Russel and Carswell, would be necessary October 1 to determine the winner of the gubernatorial nomination.

Only three of Georgia's twelve Representatives had opposition. Representatives Robert C. W. Rambo, of the fifth district and W. C. Lanford, of the eleventh had long leads over their opponents. Two counties gave Judge John Wood a slight margin over Representative Thomas S. Bell of the ninth district, but these returns were not considered decisive and inclement weather hampered the reporting of other precincts.

The Democratic nomination in Georgia is tantamount to election.

Detroit, Sept. 11.—(AP)—After years of unsuccessful efforts, the wets finally have carried trophies of conquest from the political battlefield of "dry Michigan."

One clear-cut victory was marked up for the opponents of prohibition in the state-wide primary Tuesday.

Rep. Grant M. Hudson, ardent dry and former superintendent of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league, was unseated in the largest district in the United States, decisively beaten by State Senator Seymour H. Person, who was given the support of wet organizations.

In another district, known as one of the "driest" in the country in past campaigns, Rep. Louis C. Cramton, dean of the prohibition leaders of the lower house of Congress, will not know until the official count is completed whether he was defeated by a man who had wet support. A corrected tabulation of returns from the 194 precincts in this rural district today showed Cramton's opponent, Jesse P. Wolcott, running 135 votes ahead. Cramton had 25,315 and Wolcott 25,650.

Wolcott, youthful prosecuting attorney of St. Clair County, advocated a national referendum on the prohibition issue.

Four Prisoners Ahe Discharged

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Four guards and a foreman indicted by the Watauga grand jury for violating the prohibition laws and abusing prisoners have been discharged, George Ross Pou, state prison superintendent, announced today.

Supt. Pou requested I. G. Whitley, state penal inspector, to investigate rumors of misconduct on the part of guards received here some weeks ago. Mr. Whitley turned over to Solicitor John Jones, the results of his investigation. The indictments followed.

SUBMITS PLAN FOR FEDERATION TO THE LEAGUE

French Foreign Minister Presents Proposal In Atmosphere Friendly Sympathy

By SMITH REAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Geneva, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, turned his idea for a federation of European states today over to the assembly of the League of Nations in an atmosphere of friendly sympathy for the principle of European collaboration.

His address propounding the plan was much the same speech he made a year ago when the project was first launched from the same rostrum.

He attempted no pilage, nor directing, but left it to the nations themselves to establish its definite form.

An audience which packed the auditorium and represented 51 nations of the world listened with the closest attention and silence to the rise and fall of the statesman's "violoncello voice."

There were frequent bursts of handclapping as M. Briand developed and emphasized his demand that the world cease war and seek the road to peace.

There was prolonged applause as M. Briand mounted the rostrum and perfect silence as he started to speak.

He told his hearers: "I persist in seeking with profound hope." He then launched into a history of the fight for peace, painting the Kellogg pact of infinite value. Then he spoke of the multiplication of pacts of arbitration and friendship which he said greatly multiplied possibilities of peace.

"We have sought among nations of good will toward each other to reach an agreement in these matters," he said of the London conference. "We have obtained in part something of what we wanted," and added that the league could now advance the progress made in London.

He expressed a hope that an agreement would be reached between France and Italy on naval limitation, and declared "I am quite decided in my will to await the day when there will be no more war."

He then turned to what he considered his greatest work for peace, the projected federation of European states.

He recalled that when he first laid the idea before the world he had insisted his proposed federation must be within the framework of the League of Nations. He repeated today that it must rest there.

"We have the unhappiness to inhabit a continent that has suffered a great disaster," he said. "Is there something that can be done to prevent war? Can these people organize to prevent war?"

He said he knew and realized it would be difficult always to found a union among people so different that real good-will would find a solution.

Chief Executive, Speaking at Monster Mass Meeting At Raleigh, Also Expresses the Need of the Formation of a Tobacco Exchange to Provide for Orderly Marketing; Says Present Situation Will Annihilate the Earnings of a Quarter of a Century

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Gov. O. Max Gardner, addressing a monster mass meeting of tobacco growers and business men of Eastern North Carolina assembled at N. C. State College today, advocated a 25 percent reduction in tobacco acreage next year and the formation of a tobacco exchange for the orderly sale of tobacco.

"The present economic situation in North Carolina is a challenge that will annihilate the winnings of a quarter of a century, unless we are able, co-operatively and determinedly, to face the issues as they actually are and with intelligence and courage fight our way back to solid ground," the governor declared.

Pointing out that at prevailing prices of tobacco and other farmers of the State will receive $40,000,000 less this year for their crops than they did last and $80,000,000 less than in 1927, Governor Gardner declared the loss would take "toll not alone from the land owner and tenant but from the state itself."

The two great problems facing the meeting, the governor said, were "what can be done to improve the immediate situation and second how can we prevent our present condition from recurring."

The State and all of its powers, the governor said, stands ready to investigate charges that buyers of tobacco have formed a "ruthless combination operating in restraint of trade," whether the Federal Trade Commission investigates or not. If through its proper legal department it is informed the sufficient evidence exists to warrant the conduct of such an investigation.

"The most constructive action we can take today to raise the immediate price of tobacco," Governor Gardner asserted, "is to convince the tobacco buyers that the growers in the tobacco belt are determined in their desperation to reduce the acreage planted next year by at least 25 percent. Need for a plan 'with teeth and character' that will reduce the acreage in 1931 by 25 percent was discussed by the governor."

However, the governor pointed out, concerning action in other tobacco states must be taken as the present situation now confronts North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Virginia. Referring to the organization of the southern economic conference at this suggestion in April, Governor Gardner said the purpose of that conference was for closer solidarity and duty of purpose between the Southern states in meeting just such a situation as this present.

If a law could be passed to bring a 25 percent acreage reduction the governor said he would not hesitate to urge its passage, but since such a law would not be legal the matter of reduction must be taken up with each individual farmer.

The governor advises every tobacco farmer to hold his weed off the market as long as possible, until the price goes up as usual for better grades.

The tobacco buyers, the governor said, could be urged as a step "fundamentally sound for the future of the tobacco industry as well as condition of tobacco growers and to pay them the best possible price for the tobacco they buy."

North Carolina farmers should confine their tobacco to the type best adapted to our soils and agricultural conditions, the governor cautioned, and everything possible should be done to obtain standardization of the leaf in accordance with United States grades for tobacco before it leaves the farmer's ownership.

"If this is done," the governor continued, "it seems to me that there is no valid reason why we should not look forward to the formation of a tobacco exchange in North Carolina similar to the Chicago cotton exchange or the New Orleans cotton exchange, but supervised, financed and controlled by the Federal Farm Board."

"On this exchanged standard grades of tobacco would be brought in and sold as freely as good middle cotton is sold on the New Orleans exchange," the governor said.

Mr. Dall urged the people to give particular attention to the premium list to come off the press during the week and in that way more fully acquaint themselves with the activities of the many departmenters.

The fair secretary said the farm department, home demonstration department, and many farm and civic clubs throughout the country were co-operating in an effort to improve the type of exhibits this year and the thousands who visit the fair grounds from day to day will be afforded an opportunity of gaining an accurate impression of what is being accomplished by Pitt County people. This is one season of the year when the folks have a chance of visiting with one another in the things they have produced during the long summer months and the spirit of competition is expected to be more pronounced than ever before.

But the exhibit buildings will not constitute the whole fair by any means. There will be the usual lengthy midway with its hundreds of concessions, shows, and noise-making devices. This part of the fair will again be in charge of West Greater Shows, conceded to be the largest of its kind on the road, and day and night the entertainers of this giant organization will attempt to attract and entertain the people who flock to the fair grounds during the week in quest of diversion. The usual free acts will be put on in the front of the race track grounds and at different times during the day and night, and there also will be fireworks featured.

The fair has always featured a splendid program of horse racing and it was stated that this year would be no exception. Some of the fastest horses of the northern circuit will be seen in action here from day to day, the liberal purse will be awarded the winners in the various contests.

Mr. Dall urged the people to give particular attention to the premium list to come off the press during the week and in that way more fully acquaint themselves with the activities of the many departmenters.

Mar-Vel-O Demonstration. Mrs. Lloyd K. Wooten, of Kingston, will be here Friday at Home's Drug Store to demonstrate "Mar-Vel-O," a new face cream. The demonstrations will be held at eleven o'clock in the morning and three-thirty in the afternoon, on the mezzanine of the drug store. All ladies in the city are cordially invited to visit the drug store and see the demonstration.

Production is a problem of equal importance with marketing, Mr. Green said. He also urged expert purchasing of required commodities. He said no hope of relief for growers this year could be held out.

Declaring the present situation an outgrowth of poor quality, improperly handled tobacco, over production and poor marketing, Mr. Green presented in detail the Federal Government's remedy—planting seed of known origin, preferably certified; growing of the type of tobacco in greatest demand; use of only well adapted land; use of experiment station information on fertilizing, cultivating, insect control and bacterial diseases; diversification and rotation of crops.

A TIME FOR CAUTION.

Proachments by safety committees, automobile clubs, and police and educators on the seasonal traffic hazard created by the start of another school term could be continued until next June with good effect.

Operators of motor vehicles cannot be warned too often of the unusual dangers that exist in school zones at certain hours of the school day. To forget is human, therefore the constant reminders in the form of signs, editorials, placards and public statements.

No errand is so urgent, no mission so important that a motor vehicle must plunge recklessly through a street crowded with happy, thoughtless children. The child who rushes impetuously into the path of an automobile or motor truck is less culpable than the driver who fails to keep that vehicle under control in anticipation of just such an emergency. If society cannot expect more thoughtfulness from drivers of motor vehicles than it can expect from school children, there will have to be a lot more weeding out of irresponsible and heedless drivers.

Everywhere as appalling number of school children were killed or maimed during the last school term. The man behind the wheel can reduce that tragic toll in a year if he starts driving cautiously now.

ABOUT TOWN

Think many individuals know "about town" are still busy. This part of the country and the merchants' Association continues to urge local merchants to be on their guard against them.

Many merchants in their anxiety to make a sale of some subject themselves to the tricks of the hoodlum, and as a result considerable business of this nature is being carried on surreptitiously in all sections of the country.

FORMER RULER OF ARGENTINE IS BANISHED

Hippolito Irigoyen, Ill With Pneumonia, Is Put On Cruiser On Way to Monte Viedo

La Plata, Argentina, Sept. 11.—Hippolito Irigoyen, aged 67, former president of Argentina, sailed from his native land at 10 o'clock this morning for the Argentine Republic, where he has been removed to a few minutes from his sickroom at the 7th Regiment barracks here.

Irigoien had been confined since the virtual prison in which he was held since the overthrow of his forces of Gen. Jose Franchini Giner, who was appointed president of the republic a week ago, went into exile. He was accompanied only by his daughter, Dr. Mahe and a small escort of revolutionary representatives.

The destination of the ruler was not made known but earlier reports said it would be first to Montevideo, Uruguay.

Donato Ares, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The 67-year-old Hippolito Irigoyen, former president of the Argentine, wants to spend the remainder of his days in Europe, far from the turmoil of the nation, which, as a former man, he helped to bring to its present state.

The provisional president, Jose Franchini Giner, yesterday appointed Drs. Sastex and Lavalle to make a thorough examination of the ousted leader in his quarters at the Seventh Regiment barracks, at Plata.

To them he made known his wishes, expressing a willingness to leave forever the Pampas and accept the exile in Paris or Spain. He told them that he understood very well his presence in the Argentine might henceforth be undesirable to the elements in power. The government has not yet taken any action in the matter.

While the report of the physicians has not yet been made public, it is known that they found the former president, whose illness has been diagnosed as pneumonia, to be normal save for certain heart disturbances attributed to his age. The chief of general staff in official communique issued today said completely normal conditions had been restored throughout the republic and that there no longer was any fear of new disturbances.

Public officials at schools were said to be functioning normally, and in Buenos Aires shops and factories were operating as usual.

The communique added the value of the Argentine peso, greatly reduced during the latter days of the Franchini administration, had shown favorable rebound, strong evidence of the feeling of confidence in the new provisional government, of General Jose Francisco Urburu, by the banks of both this country and abroad.

Licks a Bear
Ste Perpetue, Quebec.—There have been no indications as yet of an influx of fight managers looking for a good opponent for Camera. Gerard Fournier was hunting deer when a bear rushed at him and knocked his rifle from his hands. Gerard walloped Mr. Bear on the snout with a terrific left and followed it with a right that sent him reeling. Then Gerard got his rifle and brum was kayed for keeps.

There's always some favored one with a charm that's all her own... And everywhere in the modern scene you'll see happy smokers breaking out fresh, fragrant packs of Camels... a natural choice too!

For the mildness of Camels is a charm that's all its own... a natural mildness that's a quality of choicest tobaccos. Don't confuse this fresh, fragrant mildness with the flatness or insipidness of "over-treated" tobacco. There's a delightful natural fragrance to Camels, too, a "bouquet" as distinctive as the fragrance of oriental flowers.

Here's to the delightful things of life! Have a Camel!

ALLIGATORS ARE SHORT ON RESERVES

Gainesville, Fla., Sept. 11.—(AP)—With a ten-game schedule calling for seven Southern Conference battles and an inter-sectional tilt with the University of Chicago, lack of reserves looms as the greatest problem facing Coach Charles W. Bachman, at the University of Florida this year.

The Alligators open the season with Southern here September 27 and then ply into the thick of conference battles, interspersed with their haul to Chicago on October 18 and a battle with Furman University here the following week.

Southern Conference foes include North Carolina State, Auburn, Georgia, Alabama, Clemson, Georgia Tech and Tennessee in the order named.

Bachman's first duty will be to find suitable replacements for Joe Vetsch, Florida's first all-American player, who held down one end; Clyde Crabtree, quarterback; Capt. Rainey Cawthon, fullback; and Royce Goodbread, at halfback, all of whom were lost through graduation.

While several outstanding able while several outstanding able while several outstanding

A score of letters will be available freshmen graduate into varsity ranks.

The immediate problem is at the quarterback and fullback positions. Fourteen lettermen and ten sophomores are seeking line posts with the possibilities that the forward wall will be well cared for.

With Captain Red Bethea in line for one halfback post, and Ed Sauls, "Mack" Dorsett and Homer Seay, Holdovers from last year's squad, as leaders for the other halfback position, only the quarter back and fullback positions remain as places likely to cause a problem.

As candidates to succeed Crabtree, Bachman has "Red" McEwan, who has served as reserve quarterback for two years, Brennan and White, while Sanderson, Brick and Rogers, from the 1929 freshman ranks, also are ready for signal calls.

One of the highlights of the season will be the homecoming battle with Alabama here on November 8th when Florida's new stadium, at present seating 22,000, will be dedicated.

ROBINS DRAW STILL NEARER THE BRUINS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer) needed along the road to the National League pennant. All the efforts of the teams from Chicago, St. Louis, Brooklyn and New York to get to the championship only have resulted in one of the greatest jams that highways ever has seen.

Yesterday's contest brought the Brooklyn Robins and St. Louis Cardinals a game closer to Chicago's league leading Cubs. The New York Giants in fourth place remained only three games behind the top. With Adolph Luque shutting out the National League champion with five hits, the Robins made it two straight over the Cubs by a 6 to 0 count. St. Louis retained its one-point grip on second place as Jim Bottomley's eighth inning home run gave the Cards a 5 to 3 victory over the Giants.

The Robins ran out of their dugout yesterday to greet Charley Root, and promptly started running around the bases. Five men raced Root and all of them hit. Then Jess Petty came to the rescue and allowed one more blow, which brought Brooklyn's five runs he left the game in the eighth inning. Then they scored their sixth run off Logan Nelson.

The Giants and Cardinals started out for a second pitchers battle. The Giants forced ahead slowly getting one run in the first, which St. Louis equalled in the third, and two more in the sixth when Frank Hogan clouted a home run with one out on base. But the eighth inning overcame all their labor.

High's single and Adams' double accounted for one tally. The Frisch hit, and Bottomley smacked the ball against the upper deck of the stand for a home run and the ball game.

Tom Zachary's four hit pitching and Wally Berger's 34th home run gave the Boston Braves a 5 to 0 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates, while steady and timely hitting by the Phillies doubled them to defeat Cincinnati, 5 to 4.

Washington failed to take advantage of an opportunity to tighten up the American League pennant chase. It lost to St. Louis 3 to 2 although Alvin Crowder gave his former mates only four hits. Washington remained 6 1/2 games behind the Philadelphia Athletics, who were not successful with their four blows off Vic Sorrell. They failed to score while the Detroit Tigers bunched a good part of their five hits off Shores and Walters for four runs in the fourth inning and won by that margin.

Danny MacFayden of Boston was not far behind in the day's hurling feat as he gave the Chicago White Sox only six hits while the Red Sox hammered out a 6 to 2 victory. Henry Johnson of New York had the honor of outpitching Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland's young ace to give the Yankees their second triumph in a row over the Indians, and to enable them to hold their mathematical chance of capturing the flag.

The Pacific contingent, having failed to break through on its own shore last September, will be back east in full force, headed by the 1929 runner-up, Dr. Oscar F. Willing, along with Doc Moe, Bon Stein, Frank Delp, George Von Elm, Lawson Little, "the man who beat the man who beat Jones" at Pebble Beach, and the veteran "Chan" Egan.

Champion Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston, Chick Evans, Johnny Goodman and John Lehman, the new Western champion, are among the contenders from the midlands. Cyril Kelly, T. Philip Perkins and Capt. Ernest Carter, former Irish champion who has been doing a lot of unobtrusive sharpshooting, sharp shooting on Long Island, present the British threat. Perkins was finalist at Brae Burn 1928, but Tolley has yet to do as well.

Ross Somerville and Nicol Thompson, Jr., will carry the Canadian banner, while Francis Brown, the "big pineapple man," will journey from Honolulu for the festivities.

George Voltz and Jess Sweetwater, along with such veterans as Francis Quimet, Max Marston, Jess Guilford and Davidson Herron (who beat Jones in the 1919 final at Oakmont) all will help make the reunion of the clans complete.

If the Merion entry list is any criterion the answer to what becomes of Princeton football players seems to be that they take up golf in a serious way.

There will be enough ex-Tiger gridiron talent around the links to start a snake dance if any one of them gets close to the top.

Hole Was Halved
Waldron, Sask.—R. L. Penny's version is that initiation is flattery's sincerest form. Mrs. R. L. Penny says the affair proves that the female of the species is as deadly as the male. The Pennys were playing golf together. Mr. Penny, having the honor, made a hole in one. His chest was still expanded when Mrs. Penny brushed him aside and tied up. The hole was halved.

SPORTS SLANTS

Whether it's because the golf clans want to go on hand to cheer Egby Jones in his attempt to make it a clean sweep for 1930, or whether it's a call-to-arms for a massed front against the advances of the great Georgian, the fact is that the gang will all be there at Merion for the National Amateur championship late this month.

The biggest entry since the Minkaba tournament of 1927 has been received by the United States Golf association. The rallying cry seems to have been heard in the royal and ancient hills of the far west, the valleys of the middle west and the slopes of the Atlantic seaboard.

Veterans who haven't been among the qualifiers since 1927, such as George Rotan, of Houston, have decided to toss their nubbies into the bunkered arena, together with such up-and-coming youngsters as Law Weatherwax of Albany and Howard Tryon of Elmira, N. Y., newcomers to the tournament.

The Pacific contingent, having failed to break through on its own shore last September, will be back east in full force, headed by the 1929 runner-up, Dr. Oscar F. Willing, along with Doc Moe, Bon Stein, Frank Delp, George Von Elm, Lawson Little, "the man who beat the man who beat Jones" at Pebble Beach, and the veteran "Chan" Egan.

Perkins was finalist at Brae Burn 1928, but Tolley has yet to do as well.

Ross Somerville and Nicol Thompson, Jr., will carry the Canadian banner, while Francis Brown, the "big pineapple man," will journey from Honolulu for the festivities.

George Voltz and Jess Sweetwater, along with such veterans as Francis Quimet, Max Marston, Jess Guilford and Davidson Herron (who beat Jones in the 1919 final at Oakmont) all will help make the reunion of the clans complete.

If the Merion entry list is any criterion the answer to what becomes of Princeton football players seems to be that they take up golf in a serious way.

News About Check Flashers and Other Public Menaces

Check flashers are shrewd crooks and they resort to various methods in their efforts to fleece the banks and other business firms. And daily business men are falling victims to these slick tongued artists. In our anxiety to make a sale we too often take too big chances on strangers whom we do not know.

The check flasher has many tricks up his sleeve as any modern magician and the only safe plan for anyone to follow in the matter of cashing checks for strangers is to always insist on personal identification. Beware of the stranger who presents a check on holidays or after banking hours or who tenders a check for the payment of merchandise in excess of the amount of his purchase. Such a check should be viewed with suspicion and the merchant should absolutely satisfy himself of its genuineness before accepting it.

A great many merchants are misled whenever they see a lithograph or printed check or one which purports to be certified by the bank, but the fact that a check is printed or bears a certification stamp is no guarantee that the check is genuine for anyone with a few dollars can have checks printed and they can also have a certification stamp made. Most professional check flashers usually have all the implements of his trade, including check writing machines, certification stamps, etc. Therefore, no merchant should accept a printed check or one purporting to be certified any quicker than he would accept the ordinary check. He should at all times insist on proper identification before cashing the check of any stranger.

We have a warning from Gastonia advising that a party signing his name as Wm. H. Hoffman is drawing checks on the Gaston Loan and Trust Company which are made payable to the order of H. H. Register, usually for the sum of $10.75 each. These checks are drawn on counter checks of the said bank and there is stamped across the face of each the words "this check is certified E. T. Firsh, Cashier, No. 89977." The bank has no account in the name of W. H. Hoffman nor do they have in their employ anyone, by the name of Firsh.

Another warning from Gastonia advises that some one has stolen a number of checks from the Frank Drug Store of that city and that these checks are being cashed in various sections of North Carolina signed with the name Franklin Drug Store, 1345 W. Franklin Ave., Gastonia, N. C. phone 543. There is no one connected with the Drug Store by the name of Carmichael and it is thought that the man who stole these checks is a professional check flasher for checks signed with the name of E. C. Carmichael drawn on various banks and usually being a fraudulent certification of the bank have been cashed in towns in the western section of the State. Again we say do not be deceived because a check purports to be certified for such checks are frequently fraudulent.

A warning from Hickory advises that a woman claiming to be Mrs. R. T. Simpson passed a number of worthless checks in Hickory last week all of which were drawn on the First National Bank of Hickory, made payable to cash and signed with the name of R. T. Simpson, whom she claimed to be her husband. The woman gave a local address which was found to be fictitious, she usually made small purchases and invariably tendered a check in excess of the amount of the purchase. This woman is described as being approximately 37 years of age; 5' 2" tall, weighing about 156 lbs; of neat appearance, appeared to be rather slow in action.

SO WEAK COULD SCARCELY WALK

Back Hurt and Pains in Her Side Troubled Lady Until She Took Cardui.

Hickory Grove, S. C.—"I have recommended Cardui to a great many of my friends because my health improved so much after I took it," says Mrs. John Dover, of this place.

"For a long time, I was in bad health. I was weak and run-down. I suffered frequently from nervous headaches, and I could not sleep. I was thin and pale. I was so weak I could scarcely walk. It was an effort for me to do my household work, and I could not often venture out.

"I began to take Cardui on the recommendation of a friend. I heard about it and found that it had helped others who had suffered as I did.

"It wasn't very long until I saw that I was beginning to pick up. My strength gradually began to return. I rested better at night and was less nervous. I took several bottles of Cardui, and when I quit taking it I was in fine health; so I do not hesitate to tell others about this medicine."

News About Check Flashers and Other Public Menaces

A warning from Burlington states that a man claiming to be H. L. Anderson trimmed several merchants of Burlington last week with bogus checks which were drawn on the Bank of Commerce, overprinted with the name of the Burlington Marble Works and signed with the name A. J. Ellington. The checks were evidently forged and the name A. J. Ellington's forgery. This man is described as being 6' tall; 30 to 35 years of age; ruddy complexion, wore a tan shirt and trousers and had a pair of work gloves in his hip pocket.

This is another instance where a printed check probably influenced the merchant in cashing same. The only safe plan to follow in cashing checks for strangers is to absolutely insist on personal identification regardless of how genuine the check may appear.

Rocky Mount advises that a man claiming to be G. H. McCall, passed several worthless checks in that city which were drawn on the N. C. Bank & Trust Company of Rocky Mount and that his checks were cashed for a larger amount than the amount of the purchase, he, of course, receiving the difference in money. G. H. McCall is described as being about 6' tall; weighing

News About Check Flashers and Other Public Menaces

160 lbs; dark complexion, very ordinary looking, wearing black hat, dark suit and tan kid shoes, size 10 1/2 or 11. We again urge upon all merchants to view with suspicion any check that is presented to them in payment for merchandise which is drawn for a large amount upon the amount of the purchase. Any information with reference to this man, McCall, will be appreciated by the Rocky Mount Merchants Association.

We are requested to announce that Ed. B. Freeman of Lumberton will resist the payment of a note given by him to Howard A. Heath of the firm of Heath Bros. of Winston-Salem. The reason for resisting the payment of this note is not given in the notice to us, but Mr. Freeman wishes to warn the public against the purchase of said note and we are making the announcement at the request of the Lumberton Merchants Association.

If you can contact with any of these crooks please notify the Greenville Merchant Association.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables.

Covering was less active after the heavy buying of yesterday and they appeared to be a little more scattered selling which came partly from the call with new October selling off to 11.14 and March to 11.58 or about 10 to 15 points net lower of the more active positions. There was some further trade buying and covering on the decline, however, and the market was fairly steady at the end of the first half hour with prices 2 or 4 points up from the lowest.

Liverpool cables said that some Bombay buying in that market had been supplied by hedging and realizing.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Late rallies in wheat and corn, induced by scattered buying, brought about fractional recoveries from the extreme low prices of the day with corn advancing as much as 1 cent a bushel.

Wheat prices were on the downgrade practically all day as a result of a bearish construction placed on the government crop report yesterday.

All deliveries, except the September, declined to new low price levels for the season. Selling was persistent, but in small lots. Trade was quiet except for a brief flurry at the start.

Liquidation at Liverpool where all deliveries sold at new lows for the season helped to weaken the Chicago market, as did a continuation of heavy deliveries in Canada. Corn prices were down sharply, also because of the government report, although buying on resting orders by commission houses and others brought about a small rally toward the close.

Wheat closed weak at 1 3/8 to 1 5/8 net lower than yesterday's finish; corn closed unsettled 1 3/8 to 1 7/8 down; oats 1 1/2 to 5/8 off, and provisions ranging from 12 decline to a rise of 10.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The stock market required a breathing spell today, after the strenuous bullish efforts of the first half of the week had finally lifted the general level of prices over the rough places which weakened the bull movement of July.

Although the market closed yesterday only a fraction above the peak of July 28, as measured by the index of 90 issues, much liquidation had to be absorbed on the way, and pool operators were anxious to get their bearings before further ambitious undertakings.

Trading slumped, and prices generally eased, although sporadic bidding up of specialties gave the market a spotty appearance.

Such stocks as U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, General Electric, New York Central, Air Reduction and Johns Manville lost a point or more. Shares losing 2 to more than 3 included American Water Works, Pacific Lighting, Stone and Webster, Gulf States Steel, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and Allied Chemical. Cases dropped more than 5.

On the other hand, Vanadium, Foster Wheeler, Gillette, National Steel, Coca Cola, Safeway and Shattuck rose 2 to 3.

Two Railroads Cut Freight Rates On Cotton Shipments

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The Norfolk - Southern and Seaboard railroads have made sweeping reductions on freight rates on cotton, to become effective tomorrow. It was learned here today.

The reduction were decided upon at a recent conference between freight representatives of the two railroads held at Norfolk, Va. The new rates will more nearly compete with truck competition and will also cooperate with the agricultural sections served by the carriers in facilitating the movement of cotton from the field to steamer.

The cotton will run as high as 15 cents per hundred pounds in some instances.

The new Norfolk-Southern rate on cotton shipped from Raleigh and points intermediate, between Raleigh and Sims to Norfolk will be 43 cents a 100 pounds, compared with the old rate of 58 cents. The new rate from Durham to Norfolk will be 43 cents, the old was 58.

The Seaboard reduction will correspond to those of the Norfolk-Southern, being similar from points served by both roads.

HUGE POWER PROJECT IS RECOMMENDED

Army Engineer Approve $25,000,000 Reservoir in Western North Carolina

Asheville, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A $25,000,000 power project that would entail creation of a reservoir extending from Blumore to Brevard and Hendersonville has been recommended by the corps of engineers of the United States Army to Congress under the general program to improve the Tennessee and its tributaries for navigation, flood control and hydro-electric power development. It was announced today from the United States engineer office in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Should the recommendation of the corps of engineers be approved by Congress, the development of the project would probably come within the next 25 or 30 years as the undertaking became economically feasible. It was explained by the engineering offices.

The recommendation regarding the Asheville project was made by the United States engineer corps as a part of a general survey to cost $1,250,000 and constitute a 1/4 of inventory of streams of the entire region including Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Western North Carolina, with reference to navigation, and hydro-electric development.

Synod Presents Solution for the Unemployed

Salisbury, Sept. 11.—(AP)—An economic system designed to "serve" human needs rather than grind out profits for a privileged few" was named today as the solution for the unemployment problem by the Potomac Synod, Reformed Church in America, which is holding its annual meeting here.

The discussion of unemployment was contained in the social service report of Charles D. Rockel, Altoona, Pa., which was adopted in full. It set forth that overproduction and the machine age were not responsible for unemployment, but the present economic system.

"The church must strive to build a new world of spirit in the present world of economic empire," it concluded.

The report also placed the Synod on record as holding labor should be given "the freedom to organize" as the way best suited to meet its needs and be free to choose its own representatives to deal with employers.

Other sections of the report advocated old age pensions, greater teaching of temperance and disapproval of race prejudices as "hurdles to Christianity."

The Synod, composed of churches in North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, District of Columbia and South Central Pennsylvania will conclude its meeting this afternoon.

"You've only got $45, and that ain't enough," was what the killer said, jabbing the muzzle of his pistol into the druggist's back, between the shoulders and pulling the trigger.

Says Roosevelt Dry Proposal Is Step Backward

New York, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Gov. Roosevelt's proposal for prohibition reform would be "a step backward," Prof. Irving Fisher, economist, told the Christian Science Monitor today in a statement telephoned from Narragansett, R. I.

"Both Dwight W. Morrow and Gov. Roosevelt have left out any explanation of how they are going to protect the dry states from the wet states; that is the whole problem. Both have glossed over how it would be possible without using custom houses between the states, without any federal control present, to add thousands of miles to the frontiers to be guarded against bootleggers.

"What would actually happen, unless that problem can be solved, is to bring us back exactly where we were before we had prohibition, when it was impossible to protect dry states against the wet. It was because of that impossibility that

Four Negroes Must Pay for Murder

Raleigh, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Four negroes, convicted of the murder of Callie Williford, aged farmer, must die in the electric chair, the North Carolina Supreme court has ruled in a dismissal of their appeal on file here today.

The date for the execution was automatically set for September 23, third Friday after the filing of the opinion.

The four are Berry Richardson, Aaron Sharpe, Wright Bynum and William Randall. Richardson and Sharpe are reported to have made a confession exposing the other two of guilt. An effort is said to be under way to have Governor Gardner grant the four a reprieve until further investigation can be made.
