BEGIN PROBE OF RUSSIAN GRAIN TRADE

Consideration of Action to Prevent Depression Awaits Result of Inquiry

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Representatives of at least three New York brokerage houses will be subpoenaed to testify there Saturday in the House Communist committee's investigation of short selling of wheat on the Chicago Exchange by the Russian government.

Representative Hamilton Fish, chairman, announced the decision today after conferring with agriculture department officials. He declined to name the firms saying the papers would go forward tomorrow.

The business conduct committee of the Chicago Board of Trade also is to look into charges made by Secretary Hyde that the Russian government was engaged in bearish speculation on the wheat market.

Fish said his groups would seek to determine how much wheat had been sold short on orders of officials of the all-Russian Textile Syndicate. Officials of the syndicate also will be summoned.

After the hearing in New York City the committee will proceed to Chicago, where officials of the Chicago Board of Trade will be called.

Representative Fish called at the White House after the Agriculture Department conference.

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Considerable if any possible official action to prevent depression of the American wheat market by foreign governments was held in abeyance today, pending investigation of Russian wheat operations by the business conduct committee of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Responsibility for making such transactions impossible was placed by Secretary Hyde upon the exchanges themselves but he said it was his duty to see that American institutions were regulated to prevent them.

Before leaving yesterday on a brief trip to Michigan the agriculture secretary said investigation of the Russian wheat transactions showed a total of 7,500,000 bushels had been sold short during a period of four days by the all-Russian textile syndicate. During the period, he said, wheat prices were depressed five cents. He indicated further investigation would be made of the Russian deals by the department of the strength of a statement by E. V. Belitay, president of the textile syndicate, that the operations had extended over a period of months.

Commenting on the claim that the short sales constituted legitimate hedging on cash sales in other markets, Hyde was sharply critical of Russian exportation of wheat at a time when that government, he said, is rationing its people and doling out food on food cards.

"It is now my province," he added, "to pass judgment upon policies of foreign government. If they elect to sell wheat abroad at a low price when they find it necessary to ration their own people, and to shoot men for forging food cards, that is their business. Nor is it within my power to discern their motives in bearing American markets."

"But it is my province and my duty to expose such transactions and to insist that American institutions be so regulated as to make such transactions impossible."

I hope the futures exchanges of this country on their own initiative will have sufficient foresight and spirit to make such changes in their rules as may be necessary."

Hyde said the Russian sales probably were not responsible for all of the five cent drop during the four days studied. He maintained, however, that they contributed greatly to a "bear psychology" which depressed "a market which was trying to rise."

The secretary may extend his trip to Chicago, making possible a conference some time this week with officials of the Board of Trade.

Commission Begins Probe Of Freight Rates On Coal To North Carolina Points

Argentine Envoy

Manuel Malbran was found acceptable to the United States as ambassador from Argentina. He is a former ambassador to this post.

Proposed Revision Comes Under Scrutiny of Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington; L. & N. First to Present Case Today

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Proposed revisions of freight rates on coal to Carolina territory came today under scrutiny of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Louisville and Nashville railroad, which precipitated a contest among coal shippers and coal railroads by projecting a cut of 23 cents per ton on coal from the Harlan Field in Kentucky to Carolina consuming points, was given the first opportunity to make its case today and through attorneys filed a number of exhibits. It was demonstrated by them that the L. & N., now owning the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio system which operates from Kentucky, to Spartanburg, S. C. hopes to develop a new traffic in the movement of coal south from Kentucky mines by reason of the rate reduction.

Representatives of the Southern Railway and of mine operators in Virginia and West Virginia objected repeatedly to the documentary evidence offered in behalf of the L. & N. and were successful in getting portions of it excluded by ruling of the presiding examiner.

Notwithstanding it was made clear that about 6,000,000 tons of coal per year are ordinarily consumed in Carolina territory, and that in the endeavor to participate in the business of its supply, the L. & N. has constructed new mines and obtained trackage rights over lines outside of its own system in order to make a thorough route from Kentucky via the Clinchfield into the Carolinas.

The rates in controversy would begin to apply to traffic only when this new line is opened about December 1, and the commission's order issued at the instance of the railroads and operators objecting to the reduction, has suspended the schedules until April 1 to await the outcome of the proceedings now instituted.

SAYS NATION NOT ALARMED ABOUT CUBA

Acting Secretary Cotton Discredits Fear Expressed in Walsh Statement

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Predictions by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts of early disturbances in Cuba brought the comment today from Joseph P. Cotton, acting secretary, that the State Department had no information which would substantiate a feeling of alarm over conditions in that republic.

Harry F. Guggenheim, ambassador to Havana, discussed the situation in Cuba in detail with Secretary Stimson and Mr. Cotton last week. The acting secretary said today the ambassador shared the views of officials here that conditions did not call for action by this government.

In his statement, Walsh called for exertion of American governmental influence to guard against conditions which he said he found "feeding the flames of revolt" on his recent visit to Cuba.

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—An early economic collapse in Cuba, accompanied by revolution was held inevitable by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, today unless immediate American governmental influence is exerted.

"Poverty and unemployment are feeding the flames of revolt," the Senator, who has just returned from a visit to the island republic, said. "Charges of extreme tyranny, disregard of human life, trial without jury, dishonesty in office, no free ballot—are rampant. These charges are staggering because of their universality with respect to usurpation of power and disregard of fundamental political rights."

"If the Cuban situation reaches the political crisis that is threatened, the American people may prepare themselves for revelations of most startling character."

Walsh maintained the United States could not avoid the responsibility of assuring the Cuban people an honest election while the present treaty relationships exist between the two countries.

"Any other course is indefensible," he said, "and places us in a partnership with those who hold the people of Cuba under what many claim to be a tyrannical and despotic government."

"If we are not able to give the people of Cuba honest elections, we had better retire and leave them to their fate rather than be accused by them of being derelict and in fact supporting indirectly what may be a bold military despotism."

Miss Williams Laid to Rest

Miss Margaret Williams, 54, died in the State Hospital at Raleigh, yesterday afternoon where she had been for the last number of years. Funeral services were conducted at the home of her sister, Mrs. Alma Smith, on Reid Street, at two o'clock this afternoon and burial followed in the McGowan burying ground on the Cox Mill road.

She is survived by one sister Mrs. Aletta Smith, and two brothers, Jodie Williams and Jim Williams, all of Pitt County.

PRESIDENT'S SON DEVELOPS LUNG TROUBLE

Herbert Hoover, Jr., Reported Suffering From Tubercular Infection

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Dr. Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, said today a complete diagnosis of the illness of Herbert Hoover, Jr., had disclosed a small tubercular infection in his chest.

The diseased area is small, Captain Boone said. Since the diagnosis has been made early there is every reason to view the outcome of the President's son's illness optimistically.

The condition was held to be a result of the general run-down condition of the 22-year-old man.

The President's son was taken last week to the Presidential lodge in Virginia and was believed to be suffering from an intestinal disorder.

Diagnosis was not completed, however, until this week. Doctor Boone said early suspicions of a tubercular infection were confirmed.

He will stay at the mountain camp probably until frost comes and then will be brought to the White House for another complete examination. Future treatment will be decided at that time.

Dr. Boone said the patient had gained weight and was in much better condition after the one week of rest and regular diet.

If properly treated, the physician said, he had every reason to believe full and complete recovery is likely, but it will take months of rest and diet.

In the meantime, young Hoover has taken a leave of absence from his business connections as vice-president of the Western Air Express.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Jr., today arrived from her home in Pasadena, Cal., and joined her husband at the Presidential camp. Their three children were left in California.

DECLINES TO REVEAL NEW CANNON CASE

Bishop Ainsworth Receives Charges But Refuses to Divulge Their Nature

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, chairman of the College of Bishops, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, said today he had received charges filed against Bishop James Cannon Jr., but declined to reveal their nature.

Bishop Ainsworth said the communication from Dr. C. J. Harrell, of Richmond, Va., who with three other traveling elders of the church have filed new complaints against Bishop Cannon, chairman of the Church Committee on Temperance and Social Welfare, was "official" and would not be given out.

"I have received the communication referred to by the Rev. Dr. C. J. Harrell, of Richmond, Va., in recent press dispatches," a formal statement said. "It is an official communication and will not be given out by me."

"I have nothing more to say," Bishop Ainsworth said he did not know when or where the committee that will investigate the charges would meet.

Under church rules, Bishop Ainsworth must call a meeting of a committee of 12 to conduct an investigation of the complaints.

Rio de Janeiro, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today was enroute from Santos to New York aboard the steamer American Legion after cutting.

BAILEY SAYS REPUBLICANS HAVE FAILED

Democratic Nominee for Senate Declares Party Has Done Nothing for Farmer

Sparta, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The Republican administration of President Hoover has "signally failed to do anything to relieve the farmer and bring prosperity," Josiah W. Bailey, Democratic nominee for the United States Senate, charged in a campaign speech here today.

Discussing what he termed "Republican neglect," Mr. Bailey declared the Republican party should have done more than that it has not done to prevent "this situation in which the farmers find themselves at the end of ten years of Republican administration. It might well have left undone much that it has done. It now asks to evade responsibility. But it cannot do so. The facts are against it."

Both parties in 1928 recognized the deplorable condition of agriculture, Mr. Bailey said, and both promised relief. The Republican party neglected the farmer, he continued, and not only neglected him but wronged him where it promised help. Mr. Bailey asserted that the farmer "can never realize equality with industry by any measure of tariff protection."

Taking six major points of "neglect," Mr. Bailey charged the tariff act destroyed the farmer's world market by a tariff act which has caused our export trade to diminish at the rate of $100,000,000 a month. Further, he asserted, the Republican party has aided in the building up of foreign agriculture at the expense of the American farmer.

Frank Page Declines To Become President Of The Co-operative Association

Head of Wachovia Bank, However, Assembles Southeastern Regional Council Will Support Regional Movement for Relief of Tobacco Farmers

Raleigh, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Frank Page, vice-president of the Wachovia Bank and former State Highway Commissioner, today declined the offer to head a state tobacco co-operative association but pledged the Southeastern Regional Council, of which he is head, to back a regional movement for tobacco relief.

Mr. Page heads the Southeastern Regional Council, which was formed at Asheville last spring at a conference of governors and their representatives from seven southeastern states.

"Mr. Page, in refusing to lead a state organization accepted even a bigger job today in pledging his support to lead the way for relief to the tobacco growers of the southeast," Governor O. Max Gardner said in commenting on Mr. Page's answer to the offer of the leadership of the state co-operative.

The State Tobacco Relief Commission last week elected Mr. Page to head a state organization and his answer was made today to the executive committee of the body. The committee met in special session at the governor's office to consider plans for the immediate launching of some kind of cooperative body.

The tobacco situation is not peculiar to North Carolina but the whole bright belt, including Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, Mr. Page said in a statement announcing his decision.

With the problems of the tobacco growers of this state the same as in other states in the bright belt, Mr. Page said "if we are going to handle this problem in a large way the organization must embrace all the area in which bright tobacco is grown."

"I have pledged to Governor Gardner my time and all my energy in carrying through this Southeastern Regional Council; and it seems to me that the problems of the North Carolina tobacco grower today is merely a part of the work this council is undertaking. . . . It will be the purpose of the next meeting of this council to take up vigorously the matter of growing and marketing tobacco in what is known as the southern bright belt."

Mr. Page said another meeting of the council would be held in a short time to "discuss problems common to all states represented."

Saying he would take pleasure in working with the state group in an advisory capacity, Mr. Page said the next council meeting "will, with all its power, extend and further the cooperative movement you are starting here today, as we feel that this is the only way most trying economic situation that now confronts us can be solved."

"It will be the purpose of the Southeastern Regional Council to take whatever steps are necessary to see that in the areas represented by these states no more tobacco be raised than can be sold at a profit."

With Muscles of Lungs Collapsed, Woman Still Lives

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Frances McGann began her twelfth day's fight against inert breathing muscles today, encased in a breathing machine at St. Luke's Hospital with victory apparently in her grasp.

Physicians said she had eight hours of normal rest Sunday night, and today partook of a substantial breakfast with relish.

She is eating solid food, the kind well folks eat, who do not have to live in glass and aluminum respirators.

Miss McGann, a student nurse, was placed in the respirator September 11, when an attack of infantile paralysis rendered useless the muscles which operate her lungs. The respirator, alternating air pressure and vacuum, within the airtight case, performs that function while science devotes its attention to curing the disease.

Attendants said the improvement of the last 24 hours was appreciable greater than it had been at any previous time.

Block Sales On Tobacco Market

The first block sale of the season was reported on the Greenville tobacco market today when farmers offered about 1,500,000 pounds of leaf for sale. Working at high speed, sales forces cleared up about 1,250,000 today with indications that the block would be broken tomorrow.

Florence Hoban, daughter of J. W. Hoban of Montclair, N. J., whose engagement to Kaye Don, British automobile racer, was recently announced.

TIENTSIN IN THE HANDS OF NEW WAR LORD

Chang Hsueh-Liang, With 10,000 Troops, Overruns Chihli Province of China

Peiping, China, Sept. 22.—(AP)—A 30-year-old adventurer, son of China's most widely known adventurers, upset the political apocryphal today and staged-managed a situation from which observers predicted he would emerge the greatest profitor.

The new youthful figure in the blood-soaked Chinese arena is Chang Hsueh-Liang, son of the old Manchurian war lord, Chang Tso Lin, and himself now Governor of Manchuria, professing loyalty to Nanking and the Nationalist government there but with his sympathies actually in doubt.

Pressing southward from Manchuria yesterday 10,000 of his troops overran sections of Chihli province, containing this ancient capital, and occupied Tientsin, port where a great percentage of northern Chinese customs are collected.

As the troops entered Tientsin several thousand Shansi troops of Yen Hsi-Shan, head of the northern coalition which has set up a government in northern China in opposition to Nanking left the city for the Shansi fastness. They were not disturbed by the new arrivals.

At Nanking officials professed to hail the action of Chang with jubilation, calling him the savior of the newly born Chinese state, but there were reasons to think they were puzzled at the Mukden Governor's actions, and not quite sure as to which course he would take.

In many quarters open doubt was expressed that Chang, who for six months, while professing loyalty to Nanking, has remained in Manchuria, without rendering aid to President Chiang Kai Shek in his efforts to put down the northern coalition rebellion, has any intention now of practically reversing his old policy and rendering active aid to Nanking.

Child Killed When Old Gun Explodes

Farmville, Sept. 21.—Funeral services for Bennett Windham, age 9 years, who lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Windham, and his six brothers and sisters, on a farm near Bruce, were conducted by Dr. A. S. Verable of the Farmville Presbyterian church on Saturday afternoon, and the little body was laid to rest in the Harris burial grounds nearby.

The boy's death occurred as he and his smaller brothers were playing with an old rusty gun barrel on the porch of their home. In endeavoring to remove a shell lodged within the gun exploded and killed him instantly.

Newark, N. J.—Thomas A. Edison opines that some day he may fly with an old-timer who will not stunt but he has two jobs to finish first. PLAN TO STAGE REBELLION IN CHILE FAILS

Attempted Revolt Against President Ibanez At Concepcion Frustrated

Santiago De Chile, Sept. 22.—(AP)—A government communiqué today said an attempted revolt at Concepcion yesterday against the administration of President Colonel Carlos Ibanez had been frustrated and the instigators imprisoned.

The government communiqué said:

"An attempt was made yesterday afternoon to bring about a rebellion of the Chacabuco regiment, garrisoned at Concepcion. The attempt failed from its very beginning."

"The incident occurred shortly before 5 p. m. An airplane piloted by two North Americans (presumably citizens of the United States) landed near the city, and discharged its passengers, General Enrique Bravo, retired; former Colonel Maraduke Grove, and three civilians, Luis Salas Romo, Carlos Vicuna Fuentes and Pedro Leon Ugaldé, all proceeding from the Argentine."

"The five men went immediately to the barracks of the Chacabuco regiment, which they found almost deserted since it was a holiday. They got into conversation with members of the guardia and their chiefs, but their intentions were not followed out by the troops."

"The intendente of the province, General Victor Figueroa, the commandant of the garrison, Jose Maria Barcelo, and the commandant of the regiment adopted measures which immediately suppressed any threat of revolt."

"General Barcelo ordered the arrest of General Bravo and Colonel Grove and the three civilians accompanying them, and at one o'clock this morning they were removed to the naval station Talcahuano where they are being held incommunicado."

"The strictest martial law was applied immediately in the vicinity. In Concepcion news of the subversive attempt spread and a crowd gathered within the regimental quarters, but the officers maintained order in strict observance and loyalty to their duty."

"In Concepcion now as in all the nation complete quiet and tranquility prevails."

"The government is so situated as to follow energetically its prosecution of authors of the attempt against the public order and will spare no efforts in bringing to justice the guilty ones."

President Colonel Carlos Ibanez assumed office for a six-year term in July, 1927. His administration, while devoid of military movements, has survived several political storms which have involved numerous cabinet changes.

Concepcion is the third largest city in the republic, and has a population of about 65,000. It is located about 400 miles south of Santiago De Chile, capital of the republic and its largest city.

ABOUT TOWN

Greenville Episcopalians formally threw open the doors of their new church building on Fourth street yesterday morning, and set out on a new record of achievement.

Bishop Thomas C. Darst, of the Eastern Carolina Diocese, was here to deliver the sermon dedicating the new structure, and his words of wisdom and inspiration will be long remembered by the large congregation in attendance.

This was the third time in the history of St. Paul's church that they have dedicated a new church. The expiration of fifty years has brought with it the realization of a new dream in the way of building, and it is the universal hope of the people of this section that they will continue to dream in the future and the fulfillment may be as sure, and as evident of progress, as the dreams of the past.

The new building will enable the congregation to render a more distinct service than ever before. There will be no more cramped congregations in the future, as the present building is sufficiently commodious to take care of the church activities for years to come, even in the face of phenomenal growth.

Greenville rejoices with Rev. W. A. Lillycrop and the members of his church in the completion of the new building, and it is to be hoped that the record of service will be as brilliant in the future as it has been during past years.

The Greenville tobacco market last week succeeded in selling more tobacco than during the corresponding period last season, and also had the distinction of selling more tobacco than any other market in the state during the week.

The market is recognized as one of the most important in the belt, and it is for this reason that sales remained fairly normal during the week.

Carrying out predictions made by tobaccoists during the early part of the season, the price situation developed strength from time to time and the week's average was only about three cents behind the same period last year.

It is generally believed that the price situation will develop even greater strength as soon as the farmers begin to offer their better grades. In fact, all of the superior qualities so far offered for sale have brought fairly good figures, lending belief that predictions will prove true.

A leading warehouseman last week made the statement that the end of the season would reveal that this year's average was similar to that of last season. Should this prove true, it is apparent that the farmer doesn't have so much to worry about. The thing to do is to sit steady, and look to the future for the fulfillment of the claims of men who apparently know what they are talking about.

One of the things about Europe that impressed Ed Flanagan was the attention given to trees. The veteran legislator said that high ways were lined with beautiful trees almost everywhere he went, and many of them completely overlapped the roads.

and put their best foot forward in making their exhibits as attractive as possible.

The premium list, which came off the press last week, contains numbers of cash prizes for the blue ribbon winners in the various departments, and these should inspire people to show renewed interest in the business of arranging exhibits.

It matters not in what section of the county you may live, you are invited to bring your exhibits to the fair and offer competition for the various prizes. If you win, you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you were among the first on the list, and this in itself should act as an incentive to you.

Daredevil Killed In Leap From New Hudson River Span

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Norman J. Terry, 24-year-old professional daredevil, was killed yesterday in a 213-foot leap from the New Fort Lee bridge over the Hudson river.

Thousands of motorists and pedestrians saw him leap from the center of the span, shoot downward feet first until the surface of the river, then flatten backward, striking the water with terrific force, breaking his spine.

Terry mounted the partly completed structure Saturday night and hid himself to elude watchmen who would have prevented the jump. He wore a bathing suit, trousers and gymnasium shoes. About his waist he had a corset-like arrangement to protect his ribs and a wooden device was fastened to his back to protect his spine.

Making his way along the narrow catwalk to the middle of the cable span, Terry poised for a moment with a large banner in his hand. Holding the banner above his head to act as the feather on an arrow and keep him perpendicular, he jumped.

He was pulled from the water by James Murray, his manager and others who watched the leap from a motor boat. At the medical center surgeons said he was dead of a fractured spine.

Murray was held on a technical homicide. He said Terry had made the leap under contract with the Daily News. This was denied in a statement issued by the news which said that Terry had offered exclusive rights to pictures of the leap and the paper had accepted and had photographers and a reporter at the scene.

BISHOP DARST SPEAKS AT OPENING NEW CHURCH

Lillycrop congratulated the congregation upon its achievement in making possible such a handsome structure, and also spoke feelingly of the work of those upon whose shoulders had rested the brunt of the responsibility of preparing for the erection. He declared that Greenville was looked upon as one of the greatest spiritual centers in the diocese, and that parents everywhere realized the important part which St. Paul's church was playing in the education of the young men and women who come here from year to year and seek spiritual leadership from the church. He urged the congregation to keep ever before it the high ideals of service, and expressed hope that growth would be so steady that the present commodious building might be outgrown in a much shorter period than former structures.

Bishop Darst delivered what was generally conceded one of the most forceful sermons heard here in years. In his plain and straightforward way he presented his subject, "What Is the Church and Why?" and when he had finished his hearers had gained a fuller understanding of the mission of the church.

In his discussion he brought out three aspects of his subject, the why, the what and the whither of the church. "Why was the establishment of the church necessary?" he asked. He answered the question with the declaration that the church was founded, that man might be saved, might be brought out of the darkness into the light for the redemption of the world.

Answering the question, "What is the church?" he declared that it is the body of Christ, manifesting itself through men and women. This manifestation has continued for centuries, he said, until it has glorified the life of a large part of the civilized world. The church, he pointed out, is not merely an organization—it is an organism—a living power that cannot die. He said it possessed heart and soul and was eternally laboring for the improvement of humankind. He said buildings and organizations were not the church, but simply an expression of the church, and furnished a medium for carrying on the great work in behalf of humanity.

The whither or where is the church going? of his subject, explained that its pathway lay wherever Christ may lead. He said its duty was along the road of service to those millions of broken-hearted human beings who have seen little of the beauty of life because of sin and shame. He urged his hearers to attempt to live up to the high calling of the church and to always render service whenever it lay within their power.

Bishop Darst spoke again last night, his subject being "Rebellion, Recognition and Reconciliation." He stressed the need of consecration of the church member of today in order that the work of the church might be filled with great achievement.

BAILEY SAYS REPUBLICANS HAVE FAILED TO HELP

mer by having freight cheaper on agricultural articles for export than on the same articles between the same points when they are for use in this country.

The Republican party has contrived to keep the $150,000,000 Muscle Shoals power and nitrate plant idle until the plants "have become obsolete" and all the time our farmers pay Chile $11 a ton to export nitrate, Mr. Bailey said. The new tariff bill, from which "the farmers got nothing—except the necessity of paying higher prices to certain special interests," was attacked again by Mr. Bailey.

The tobacco "war tax," which discriminates against the tobacco growers of North Carolina and the south and gives the government more per pound on cigarette tobacco than the grower, manufacturer and wholesaler combined, "was bitterly condemned in its present rate," by the speaker.

The Federal Farm Board has "not only given the farmers no relief," Mr. Bailey said. "It led them to plant wheat and cotton upon the promise of fair prices. The farmer is not the beneficiary of the Republican farm relief. He is the victim."

short by two months a visit and business trip to Brazil.

The Bishop and his bride, his former secretary, sailed from Santos last Tuesday, vowing their movements in secrecy. They will arrive in New York at the outset of the autumn congressional and political campaigns.

Church members of the Bishop's faith would make no comment today upon his departure, save to remark that he was on the high seas. It had been believed generally here that he was somewhere in the interior of Brazil on a trip of study and exploration. He was reported at Sao Paulo just last week to have left for the interior with an indefinite destination.

When interviewed upon his arrival in Brazil August 10, the Bishop, whose political and speculative activities have subjected him to considerable criticism in his own country, said he would remain in this nation until late in October in connection with church organizational work, returning to the United States about the middle of November.

He said then that his work in Brazil would prevent his taking part in the autumn political campaign and that he would not be a factor in the pre-election movements.

BRUMMITT IS SPEAKER AT D. A. R. MEET

Attorney General Delivers Address At Meeting of Farmville Chapter

Farmville, Sept. 20.—In view of the present tendency to disregard law and order, and of forces headed by those whose ignoble task is the overthrowing of the standards and ideals set up by the Constitution of the United States, of a democracy as broad as humanity, Attorney General Brummitt's exploitation to the instrument, its historic background, development, and adaptability to this generation to meet the situation, in his speech delivered to the Major Benjamin May Chapter, D. A. R., on Saturday, was not only the first contribution to the new program, "Patriotic Education," which that organization is undertaking for its fall and winter contemplation, but will probably be so regarded in other than the mere order in which it came, by the end of the year.

The Attorney General began by congratulating the chapter on its chosen study, and expressed himself as pleased to find interest in the Constitution on the increase. He remarked that apparently many people are acquainted only with the 18th amendment.

Through the procession of steps taken in the formation and ratification of the Constitution, the speaker carried his hearers, pausing to pay tributes to Washington, Madison, Hamilton, and other eminent statesmen, who drew up the document and labored in the campaign waged for its ratification, and declared that a divine wisdom guided those men, who gave us that document.

Applause greeted the closing sentences of the address, "There must be courts to adjudge, to impose penalties, to inflict punishment. But a civilization cannot endure which depends for its safety upon the exercise of external or repressive force alone. Within the individual there must be those inner restraints which compel obedience by the force of moral obligation. There must be motives finer than any fear of consequences, sanctions superior to any law."

The speaker was presented by the regent, Mrs. T. C. Turnage of Farmville, who introduced him as a "Made-In-North Carolina" product.

There were about 70 members and guests present at this, the initial chapter meeting of the fall, which was held at the Nash street residence of Mrs. U. H. Cozart in Wilson.

Greetings from the War Mothers were brought by the State head, Mrs. U. H. Cozart, Miss Rosa Wells of Wilson, secretary of the state organization, made a few brief remarks, Mrs. Nathan O'Berry, Mrs. Lillian Wooten, regent of the Goldsboro chapter, Mrs. W. H. Cobb, State chairman of the Sons and Daughters of the Republic, and Mrs. D. M. Pearsal, regent of the Rocky Mount chapter, were among the distinguished guests who made short talks. Mrs. R. L. Smith of Greenville, chairman of the Eighth District, extended an invitation to the District meeting to be held in October, with her chapter as hostess.

Visitors included Daughters from Raleigh, Goldsboro, Rocky Mount, Wilson, Kinston, and Farmville. Greenville visitors were Mrs. R. L. Smith, Mrs. T. E. Hooker, Mrs. George Hadley and Miss Jessie Moye.

Jury Considers Indictments In Assassination Case

Moncks Corner, S. C., Sept. 22.—(AP)—After hearing Brykeley county described by Judge M. M. Mann as "a place where blood may freely flow," the grand jury at the special term of court here retired to consider indictments connecting four men with the assassination of State Senator E. J. Dennis.

Then named in the indictment are W. L. Thornley, confessed slayer of the Senator; Glenn D. McKnight, whom Thornley charges with hiring him to do the shooting; and Curtis Thornley and C. L. Woodward, charged with being implicated in the plot.

Court opened with more than a dozen officers on hand. The county sheriff's force was augmented by Governor Richards' constabulary. Every person entering the courtroom, including women, was searched first and only enough to comfortably fill the place, unable to get in, remained quietly outside.

In his charge, Judge Mann declared "Berkley abroad bears no enviable reputation for respect for law."

"It stands out preeminently not only in South Carolina but practically all over this great nation of ours as a place where blood may freely flow and where the rights of citizen can freely be trampled down

NEW DEMAND REPORTED FOR RAW PRODUCT

Secretary Lamont Says Demand for Raw Materials Far Ahead Production

Washington, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Secretary Lamont said today there was an important trend now noticeable in American business by which leaders of industry are buying raw materials far ahead of current consumption rates.

The Commerce Department head commented the movement was a natural reaction to the present low level of commodity prices.

"It is perfectly clear, he added, 'That business on the whole has ceased a marked decline which was characteristic of a number of earlier months and there are some distinctly encouraging trade as revealed by the August statistics and the district picking up in retail trade in this country.'

"The increase of exports during August was more than is customary at this season. The gain already manifested in retail trade is more than usual occurs at this season, moreover the stocks of retail stores are exceptionally low and there is good reason to believe that their purchases from manufacturers and wholesalers will increase materially."

As to the purchase of raw materials by industry, Secretary Lamont said the extra buying was being done entirely without organization and not because of any government pressure or solicitation. "Though there have been one or two conferences as to details of raw material buying at the instance of industrialists themselves," he explained, "The government is not in any way responsible. Of course every good executive knows more about his business than anyone else possibly can know and sound business men do not have to be told what a low peak in commodity prices represents."

Garis was found unconscious in the car while Mrs. Howell, flung out, alighted on the cowcatcher.

Council Meeting At Red Oak.

A large number of the Pitt County Woman's Council and several visitors, were present at the meeting which was held at the new and quaint log cabin of the Red Oak Home Demonstration Club.

To appreciate the warm atmosphere which it seemed to imbibe, one has only to pay a visit to this charming little structure. The front view lends charm with its rustic furnishings, the exterior view, enough to make us believe we were nearing spiritdom, a wooded glen forming the background.

The county president, Mrs. O. H. Jackson, opened the meeting. In the absence of Mrs. B. T. Cox, secretary, Miss Nanbie Loy Tucker read the minutes of last meeting and held roll call. Miss Niece then discussed the major project for the ensuing year.

The subject of foods held first place. Miss Thomas, of State College, gave an instructive talk on this particular subject. She stressed three important factors: 1. Study of production of foods raised at home; 2. Preparation and selection to furnish vitamins; 3. Planning a well balanced meal.

Several interesting facts were given on pellagra, a "hard times" disease, due to faulty diet. Pitt county has 44 cases. Canned salmon, breads made with yeast and yeast within itself, were recommended as a beneficial diet.

Suggestions for minor projects were given, each one seeming major in importance. Miss Niece stated that $134.00 worth of vegetables were sold at the curb market in August.

A style show will be given at the achievement program in November. This consists of wearing apparel made at home. A treat is in store for those who attend.

Mrs. Jackson having attended the state short course in Raleigh, gave a glowing account of the interesting and helpful subjects discussed by the leading men and women of the state. 1,602 women attended, also 500 men.

A committee for deciding the color scheme of the fair was appointed. They were Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker, Mrs. B. L. Tyson, Mrs. E. M. Smith.

At the close of the meeting, delectable chicken salad sandwiches and iced tea were served. A rising vote of thanks was tendered the gracious members of Red Oak club and the memory of this pleasant meeting will linger with everyone present.

RED OAK NEWS

The children of Mrs. Martha A. Moye celebrated her 71st birthday recently by having a family reunion at the old Josephus Moye homestead at what is known as Frog Level. There were fourteen children present with their quite a large number of grandchildren.

Mrs. Moye is well known and loved in this community and we wish for her many happy returns of the day. Next Saturday night will be quarterly meeting day at Red Oak church. There are some very important business matters to look after and we want every member of the church to feel it his duty to be there in person. It is the time to elect a preacher and also officers for another year.

Friday night there will be a meeting at the club house for the purpose of making further plans for the fair. Everyone who is interested is invited to attend.

Sunday night brought to a close a most successful revival at our neighboring church, Piney Grove. There have been eleven additions. The baptism was conducted at Ballard's bridge Monday afternoon and the candidates were received into the church Monday night.

The singing has been one of the best features of the meeting. Rev. R. F. Pittman led the singing, assisted by Mrs. Pittman at the piano, and by Bob, Jr. The pastor, Rev. Davidson, did the preaching. We feel that a great deal of good has been done in our community by this revival.

We are very glad that our friend and neighbor, Mr. Tom Allen, has improved to the extent that he is able to sit out on his porch.

The members of Red Oak Home Demonstration club were glad to have as their visitors the Woman's Council of Pitt County last Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was held in our new club house. Delicious iced tea and chicken salad sandwiches were served.

Every young man and young woman who is not attending Sunday school at some other church is given a special invitation to meet with the members of "The Sunshine Class" of Red Oak church each Sunday morning at ten o'clock. We have a delightful quiet Sunday school room all to ourselves where we can feel free to express our thoughts.

Mrs. B. L. Tyson, who teaches this class, will join with the members in giving you a hearty welcome.

Next Sunday morning twelve major characters of the Bible will be discussed by twelve members of our Sunday school. You are invited to be present at the Sunday school hour, 10 o'clock, and also for church services at eleven o'clock, conducted by our pastor, Rev. Lonnie Scarborough.

Farmville P. T. A. Meets.

Farmville, Sept. 22.—The Parent Teacher Association's September meeting was held in Perkins Hall Friday afternoon at 3:00, with a large number of members and visitors present.

The meeting was opened with invocation by Dr. A. S. Venable, after which the chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Arthur F. Joyner, gave a report recommending the re-election of the present officers: Mrs. Loyd Smith, president; Mrs. T. E. Joyner, vice-president; Mrs. G. A. Jones, secretary; Mrs. R. H. Knott, treasurer.

The president made a short address of welcome to the teachers and introduced the recently elected superintendent, Robert E. Boyd.

The passing of Mrs. Annie Phillips Lang, an ever active and enthusiastic member of this organization was remarked upon and regret expressed by its head.

Committees and grade mothers were appointed for the school term and the 2-A grade, Miss Case, teacher, was awarded the room call prize for the month.

A paper prepared by Bryan W. Sipe of the State Conservation and Development Department, who was unable to be present at this time, had as its subject, "The Economic and Industrial Structure of North Carolina in Relation to the Made-in-Carolina Campaign," and was read by M. V. Horton, district game warden.

Mr. Sipe in his paper, called attention to the fact that agriculture is, at present, less than one-fourth as productive as industry. "One reason why agriculture in North Carolina is not returning a satisfactory profit is," he declared, "that our farmers devote practically all their time to the growing of crops to the exclusion of growing livestock and livestock products."

He stated that as a result of the "live-at home" campaign, it is now estimated that North Carolina farmers will produce 16 million dollars worth more of food and feed this year than last.

In urging the support of the sister campaign "Made in Carolina," he said, "It is particularly adapted to the moment when business needs all the stimulation it can get, every sound economy. I urge you exert yourselves to see that this campaign, to sell North Carolina made goods to North Carolinians, be a continuous and ever expanding campaign."

Founder of Famous Soup Passes Away

Camden, N. J., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Dr. John Thompson Dorrance, founder, president and sole owner of the Campbell Soup company, a pioneer in the field of condensed canned foods and reputed to be one of the country's wealthiest men, is dead.

Death came suddenly from a heart attack yesterday at his home, Pomona Farm, Cinnamondon, N. J. He was 57 years old and had been confined to his bed only a few days by a seemingly slight illness. Members of his family were at his bed side awaiting the arrival of a physician when the end came.

Dr. Dorrance is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ethel Mallen Dorrance, formerly of Baltimore, four daughters and a son. The children are Mrs. Nathan P. Hill, of New York; Ethel, Margaret and Charlotte Dorrance and John Dorrance, Jr.

The story of Dr. Dorrance's life was one of the great romances of American business. He rose from a $7.50-a-week employe in his uncle's fruit store to the head of a world-wide business organization. Born in Bristol, Pa., he was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1895 and two years later won his Ph. D. at the University of Göttingen, Germany. His early career was in chemistry and while in Germany he conceived the idea of making condensed, canned soup available in America.

Returning to this country, he joined his uncle's firm, the Joseph Campbell Fruit and Preserve company, and in 1899 put out the first canned soup. The product was received coolly at first, but through advertising he built up a world-wide market and the firm, which in 1915 became the Campbell Soup Company, grew into one of the largest of its kind in the world.

Cactus May Become Fine Cattle Feed

Monterrey, Mexico, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The prickly cactus may become valuable cattle feed with a new process that removes the peril from its armor of thorns.

W. D. Corbin, an American who operates an extensive ranch in Chihuahua, said he has found a solution to the problem that occupied the attention of the late Luther Burbank.

Adding an inexpensive chemical compound and sulphate salts as shredded cactus leaves are tramped by wooden-sandaled men in a silo. Corbin has produced insilage said to equal grass or corn fodder in food value.

One pound of the sulphate salts to every ton of insilage, he says, quickly reduces the woody thorns to semi-liquid condition, harmless to livestock.

Corbin estimates cactus insilage will cost one-fourth as much as corn insilage does in the United States. He expressed the opinion at his home, here that cactus feed might be shipped in airtight containers to the dairy regions of the north.

The discovery may be utilized in the semi-arid cattle country extending from Texas to California and far south into Mexico where the prolific desert plant abounds.

The feed value of cactus has been known many years and scientists have puzzled over the problem of ridding the plants of their thorns.

Two Men Held In Kenly Murder

Smithfield, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Two men whom officers believe can give information regarding the slaying of Robert Talley, Selma tenant farmer, were held here today.

The men, Wesley Hargett, of Wilson, and Charles Lamm, of Smithfield, were arrested for questioning yesterday.

Although expressing belief the two are not directly involved in the slaying, authorities said they were among those last seen with Talley and might be able to throw some light on his mysterious slaying.

A group of Negro workmen found Talley's body in a Kenly street early Saturday morning. Police believe the man was killed at Selma and his body dragged behind an automobile to Kenly.

C. W. PORTER BADLY HURT IN CAR CRASH

Two Other Young Men Escape Without Injuries In Accident Near Sims

C. W. Porter, athletic director of the Greenville High School, was confined in a hospital at Richmond, Va., today suffering from injuries which he sustained when the automobile in which he was riding collided with another car at Sims, small town on the Wilson-Raleigh highway, about six miles from Wilson, late Saturday afternoon. Three other occupants of the car, Fred Forbes, Jr., David Edwards and Studie Post, of this city, escaped uninjured.

Although a detailed account of the accident had not been received here, meagre reports were to the effect that Mr. Porter's injuries consisted of broken bones around one of his eyes, which it was feared, might result in loss of sight. He was carried to a hospital at Wilson for emergency treatment, but was later sent to Richmond to be under care of a specialist.

The party was on its way to Raleigh when the accident occurred. Mr. Porter was making the trip in the interest of purchasing equipment for the high school and his coming to the game. As they neared a

Mr. Brummitt amplified the last ruling by saying that the courts would probably uphold the counting of the absentee ballot if it were not signed on the grounds that the election laws are to be construed liberally in favor of the right of the elector to vote, but that it is his opinion they should be signed.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 1 point, generally lower under Southern selling and further scattering liquidation. There was some buying on the relatively steady showing of Liverpool, and trade buying was also in evidence and the early offerings were absorbed within a comparatively narrow range with the market holding about steady at net declines of 2 to 4 points at the end of the first half hour.

After selling at 10.98 the new December eased off to 10.94 with March declining to 11.21 compared with 11.26 at the close of Saturday. Liverpool cables said the hogging had been taken by covering and Continental buying in that market. It repeated a fair inquiry for cotton cloths with yarns sales equal to production.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Despite transient rallies, the Chicago wheat market tumbled anew in the late transactions, and outbid bottom price records going back 24 years. A disturbing late influence was word that the United States wheat visible supply had increased 3,947,000 bushels for the last week, and now amounted to 202,620,000 bushels, a total never before equalled. The domestic visible supply a year ago was 183,243,000 bushels. Corn prices gave way with wheat.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Wall Street's disappointment over business conditions was again expressed in terms of a declining stock market today. Offerings from professional shorts increased slightly in comparison with Saturday and the absence of important support brought in some liquidation of pool holdings, but trading lagged well behind the pace set last Friday.

Unsettled in the wheat market and the softness of prices on some of the large European exchanges, together with the absence of fresh statistics on the state of trade, turned the market definitely lower after the opening, although rallying tendencies appeared shortly after publication of Secretary Lamont's statement on business. A few prominent stocks, including U. S. Steel, reacted to new lows for the movement. As was the case last week, pressure was especially insistent against the utilities and the stocks.

Losses of 3 points or more in North American, American Power & Light, Auburn Auto, International Telephone and Diamond Match were accompanied by drops of 2 to nearly 3 in U. S. Steel, New York Central, Bethlehem Steel, International Harvester, Westinghouse, Johns-Manville, United Aircraft, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas and R. H. Macy, Delaware and Hudson, Case and Worthington Pump lost 5, Allied Chemical 8 and Peoples Gas 12. American Can and General Electric sagged about one point. New lows for the year were made in International Telephone, United Fruit, Republic Steel, Calumet & Hecla and St. Louis Southwestern.

Escaped Prisoner Back In Prison

Greensboro, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Frank Adams, Rowan prison camp escapee, was back in custody today after a wild-exciting race with officers which ended when he deserted the automobile he had stolen and allowed it to crash against a building in Winston-Salem. Adams, 32-year-old, was serving seven to twelve years for theft of an automobile. He was charged here with robbery of two stores and theft of the automobile he wrecked. Officers L. L. Jarvis and T. F. Ottwell of the Greensboro force followed Adams at breakneck speed from Greensboro to Winston Salem before effecting his capture.

SAINT LOUIS TIGHTENS UP ON THE LEAD

Odds in favor of St. Louis capturing the flag are lengthening. Brooklyn's Robinsdropped their fifth straight game. The New York Giants lost everything but a mathematical chance of tying the Chicago regained half a game and took a clear hold on second place by beating the Boston Braves, 4 to 2.

A home run by Gabby Hartnett with Cliff Heathcote on base was required to win for Chicago as Pat Malone and Ben Cantwell pitched an even battle. Tim Lincecum left the Cubs 21-2 games behind the League leaders with the others trailing at one game intervals in this fashion:

Pittsburgh required two innings to ruin Brooklyn's hopes with a 7 to 6 victory. Trailing 3-0 after the first two innings, the Pirates assaulted Watson Clark for four runs in the third and drove him from the mound with three more in the fourth. Louque and Phelp stopped the Pirates, but the Robins could not make enough headway against Ervin Brame's hurling to overcome the lead.

The Giants pulled out a neat 6 to 4 triumph over Cincinnati in the first half of their double bill but had one bad inning in the second and a five run seventh inning rally against Johnson could not beat them.

The American League turned itself into something ga testing ground for new material. The St. Louis Browns gave the greatest display of new talent as they split a twin card with the champion Philadelphia Athletics. Five youngsters, including three infielders, helped the Browns win an 8 to 4 decision. They failed to keep up the pace in the second game as the A's, with four of their reserves in action, clouted Sammy Gray and his two successors for 17 hits to gain a 10 to 3 triumph. Goose Goslin did his bit for the Browns with a homer in each game.

The New York Yankees tossed 21 innings into the fray against Chicago's young White Sox, who retained a chance to tie St. Louis for sixth place by slamming out a 15 to 7 triumph.

With the veteran Jack Russell pitching against Willis Hudlin and Wesley Ferrell, the last-place Boston Red Sox slammed out five runs in the tenth to defeat Cleveland, 9 to 4. Two experienced pitchers, Irving Hadley and Earl Whitehill, held the center of the stage at Detroit where the Tigers scored a 4-3 ten inning triumph over Washington as Spencer overthrew third trying to nip Johnson in a double steal.

Jack Sharkey to Fight Campolo

New York, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Jack Sharkey, Boston sailor man, hopes to take apart Victorio Campolo Thursday night and see what makes him tick. The Giant Argentine heavyweights, The bouts he has fought so far in this country have failed to afford the experts with a satisfactory indication as to his prowess but his match with Sharkey at the Yankee Stadium should decide his status once and for all.

With nothing in particular at stake, Sharkey may be depended upon to fight one of his good battles and if he does, Campolo may go the way of Willis, Delaney and Loughran, all of whom found Sharkey will give away fobs of weight, height and reach to the South American but nevertheless looks like a good 2 to 1 shot to win.

FIRST GAMES LIVE UP TO PREDICTIONS

Charlotte, Sept. 22.—(AP)—The old dope bucket stood on its feet and smiled today as it surveyed the initial scores of the Carolinas football season.

There were no upsets in the week end gridiron battles of the sister states but another Saturday lies just ahead with the underdogs undaunted and determined.

Just what teams will be the underdog in several games within the two states Saturday is a hard question to answer.

There is the Davidson North Carolina State game at Greensboro. The Wildcats can point to their 28 to 0 triumph over Elon while State notes its 37 to 0 victory over High Point as arguments why each team will win.

The Duke-South Carolina tussle at Durham is another toss-up affair. It will be the first game for the Blue Devils while the Gamecocks will go on the field with a 19 to 0 win over Erskine under their belts.

North Carolina and Wake Forest are two other members of the State's Big Five that will see action this week. The Demon Deacons will enter this match at the Hill with the Tar Heels doped to win but all kinds of things have happened on those chalked, marked fields. It will be the season's opener for both teams.

Wofford will go up against Clemson with a 43 to 0 win over Newberry to its credit. The Tigers will also have the benefit of a game's experience, having licked Presbyterian College 28 to 7. Clemson will be doped to win.

Furman, the only South Carolina team not in action last Saturday, will play host to Newberry with an easy victory in sight for the Purple Hurricane.

The Citadel, despite barely beating State, 13 to 7, will be favored to lick Erskine. Presbyterian College will pit its tactics and Jimmy Greene, backfield mainstay, against Morrey University in Marion, Ga. Guilford will journey to Williamsburg, Va. for a night game with William and Mary and Appalachian Teachers College will go to Bristol, Tenn., to play King College.
