TWO BOATS GO DOWN IN STORM ON GREAT LAKE

Undetermined Number of Lives Lost As Gale Whips Shores of Lake Michigan

Muskegon, Mich., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The waters of Lake Michigan whipped into fury by a 40-mile gale yesterday, took the lives of at least five persons, swallowed up two boats and left the fate of a third undetermined this morning.

The five dead were members of the crew of the barge Salvor caught in the gale yesterday afternoon when less than two miles from safely in the harbor here.

Nine others of the 14 who were aboard the barge reached shore alive. Two of them were brought in this morning after having spent 16 hours lashed to the derrick on the barge. They were taken to Grand Haven by members of the Coast Guard crew from that point, who shot a line aboard the barge this morning to rescue them. A third man lashed to the derrick was dead, and because of the heavy seas still running, efforts to remove his body were abandoned.

The other vessel to go down before the gale was the schooner "Our Nelson," last of her type on the lakes. She foundered off Ludington, Mich., her crew of seven being removed by the freighter William Nelson.

A third boat, the steel-hulled motor boat North Shore, which left St. Joseph, Mich., with a cargo of grapes yesterday morning en route to Milwaukee, had not been reported today. She carried five men and a woman.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Lake Michigan went mad yesterday, raging and pounding upon its eastern shores, gulping down two boats, possibly three, and taking an undetermined number of lives.

The stone-cargued barge Salvor sank off Muskegon, Mich., with its cargo of grapes, standing by, backed in rescue by the angry waters.

The two-master, Our Tony, last of the canvas-powered pulp boats—sank 20 miles off Ludington, Mich.

The steel-hulled motor carrier, North Shore, Milwaukee bound from Benton Harbor, Mich., with a cargo of grapes, was many hours overdue early today. She may have put into some other port. Coast guardsmen, however, fear she may have gone down. Five men and a woman were aboard.

Eight men are believed to have lost their lives in the sinking of the Salvor. Two bodies were lashed ashore late yesterday. Three men lashed to the derrick which protruded above water after the barge had gone down, could hardly have survived the smashing waves. Three others are missing.

Coast guardsmen hoped with abatement of the gale today to remove the men found the derrick. An ft shore wind and high rolling seas prevented rescuers reaching the derrick during the night.

A search of the sand-dined shore was begun today for the three missing men. There was some hope they may have reached shore alive and been unable, including two women, who were aboard the Salvor, made the shore alive and are in hospitals. The women are Mrs. Ida Olmstead and Alice La Plante, sisters of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

One of the bodies washed ashore was that of Lornie Olmstead, nine year old son of Mrs. Ida Olmstead. The other body had not been identified early today.

Captain Winnroske, one of those who escaped, said an undertow added greatly to the danger of those who fought their way the quarter of a mile to shore. He said he was in the water an hour and a half, the undertow hampering his shoreward efforts.

The Salvor was in tow of the tug Fitzgerald when the cables snapped leaving her at the mercy of the waters. The tug steamed to Muskegon for aid. The barge meanwhile was being driven toward shore and finally went down just as a life boat was being launched. Coast guardsmen, unable to get close to the barge, pulled the survivors from the surf.

The passing of the sailing ship, Our Son, was one of the sentimental tragedies of the lakes, although her crew was rescued without a single loss of life. The two-master had weathered countless storms since 1875 and Captain Fred Nelson, had followed the lure of smacking canvas for 55 years.

PROHIBITION LOOMS AGAIN AS BIG ISSUE

National Party Leaders Wonder If Question Will Not Be Issue In 1932

Washington, Sept. 27.—(AP)—With prohibition persistently bobbing up in politics this year, national party leaders are wondering if this issue is to be drawn in the 1932 presidential campaign.

In other words, the political leaders are wondering if either of the two national parties will adopt a wet plank two years hence for the first time since adoption of the 18th amendment, and whether either will nominate a wet candidate.

President Hoover supported the 18th amendment in his 1928 race and Alfred E. Smith ran as a wet but the Democratic platform was not wet. Mr. Hoover declared against repeal of the 18th amendment and in effect, against modification.

Mr. Hoover's utterances are regarded as putting the Republican party in the dry column nationally, but the ranks of both the Republicans and Democrats are divided on this question. The New York state Republicans have declared for repeal as has Dwight W. Morrow, Republican senatorial nominee in New Jersey.

Meanwhile, as the Republican administration waits for the report of the law enforcement commission on its inquiry of prohibition, Democrats are speculating on that effect the declarations of Governor Roosevelt of New York and James A. Reed of Missouri for prohibition repeal will have on the next Democratic convention.

Both are view as presidential possibilities.

Chairman Tydings of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee has declared prohibition an issue in many of the campaigns this year and most of the Democratic senatorial candidates in the north and east are running as wets with wet planks in a number of state platforms. Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national committee is for repeal.

But the Democratic stronghold of the Southland is dry and if a wet plank gets into the next Democratic platform it will be over the determined opposition of this section of the party.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, who recently was renominated and who has been advanced by his state for the Democratic presidential nomination is an avowed advocate of national prohibition.

In view of the recent prohibition outbreaks and the prospect of action by the law enforcement commission on this subject, political leaders have looked over President Hoover's views on prohibition. Here is what he said when he wrote to Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, in 1928, as a candidate for the Republican nomination and what he repeated when he accepted that nomination:

"I do not favor the repeal of the 18th amendment. I stand for the efficient enforcement of the laws enacted thereunder. Whoever is chosen President has under his oath the solemn duty to pursue this course.

"Our country has deliberately undertaken a great social and economic experiment, noble in motive and far reaching in purpose. It must be worked out constructively."

BAILEY ASKS FOR SUPPORT OF HIS PARTY

Democratic Nominee for Congress Closes Week of Campaigning At Pittsboro

Pittsboro, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Closing a week's campaign tour which carried him into the mountains of Western North Carolina, J. W. Bailey, Democratic nominee for the United States Senate, made a plea here today that the Democratic Party be put in power so that it can put the Federal Reserve system to its proper functions.

"Restore the Democratic party to power," Mr. Bailey said, "and it will require that the money of this country shall be employed for the business, for industry, for agriculture, for building construction, for the activities of the people and not for stock speculation."

Mr. Bailey discussed five "great issues" today.

After taking up the Federal Reserve he launched into another attack on "conduct of this government in the interest of special privilege and by representatives of predatory interests."

"This is the issue of the control of the government," Mr. Bailey said, adding that the Democrats must always be battling for and winning "so long as there are powerful and greedy men who would take to themselves the power and favor of government."

The Republican promises to the country have failed of results, Mr. Bailey said, pointing out the new tariff law and the Federal Farm Board and lambasting both.

He again derived the opposition party for failure in law enforcement, especially of the 18th amendment.

In conclusion, the Democratic candidate again upheld the record of his party in North Carolina and asked the voters to show their approval of the conduct of affairs in the state by sending Democrats to the next general assembly.

REPUBLICANS PREPARED TO BEGIN DRIVE

N. Y. Members of Attack Democratic Inefficiency in State Government

Albany, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Allegations of Democratic inefficiency in state government, coupled with the scandals involving Democratic office holders in New York City and Albany, will be the objects of attack by the Republican chiefs in the coming state campaign.

This was indicated by the speech of permanent Chairman Joseph A. McGinnies and Charles H. Tuttle, gubernatorial nominee, at yesterday's session of the Republican State convention. McGinnies attacked conditions in the prisons and the State Department of the investigation of judicial corruption in New York City.

That the traditionally dry party was fighting for a man opposed to prohibition and that it had pledged itself in convention to seek repeal of the nation's dry law was expected to matter little, as the party chiefs believed they had taken the prohibition issue out of the campaign by taking almost the same stand on the question the Democrats have taken.

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, who will be nominated for another term by the Democrats has come out for repeal of the 18th amendment.

The Democratic convention will open Monday at Syracuse.

Republican leaders professed not to be worried by defections. Independent drys announced soon after the Republican convention adjourned yesterday that they would put a third ticket in the field. Who their gubernatorial candidate would be was not determined.

A plank advocating repeal of the 18th amendment was adopted by the Republican convention by a vote of 733 to 258, with the drys satisfied to go on record against it.

Mr. Tuttle accepted the nomination by a speech which mapped the plan of campaign. He spoke of the "money changers in the temple of justice in the City of New York," gave considerable time to discussion of office holders and Democratic leaders in New York City refusing to waive immunity when called in investigations into corruption, and brought the delegates to their feet with the demand "are we to have

War-Warped Son Slays Rich Father For Love Affair With A Nurse

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The love affair of a war-warped son who believed his aged father was carrying on with a nurse was blackened out by tragedy today.

The father, Rockwell Sayre, 83-year-old president of a real estate concern, was dead, a bullet in the back, another in the chest. The son, Sydney, who was thrice shot down in his plane during the world war, was held for the murder.

"I killed him," said the former second lieutenant of the air corps. "Here is my confession, written three days ago. And I intended, too, to kill the nurse (Miss Alma Zehachner)."

Police had arrived in time to prevent that. Sydney, 37 years old, was still in the apartment office beside his father's body when officers, responding to an alarm turned in by neighbors, reached the place.

Miss Zehachner had been nurse for Rockwell Sayre's wife for eight years, she said. Mrs. Sayre is an invalid.

LEAF SALES AWAY AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

Greenville Market Is Close to Two Million Pounds Ahead Last Season

The Greenville tobacco market closed the week yesterday afternoon with season sales showing a gain of 1,655,766 pounds over the corresponding period last season, according to official figures of the supervisor of sales released for publication this morning.

The report indicated that during the entire season the market had disposed of a total of 13,439,340 pounds of bright leaf for $1,375,241.15 at an average of $10.23 per hundred pounds.

For the corresponding period last year only 11,783,574 pounds had been handled, making a clean gain for the present season of close to two million pounds.

The report also showed that prices picked up considerably during the week and the general market average made a gain of over a dollar per hundred pounds over the previous week. Although offerings continued to consist largely of poor grades of tobacco, the price average mounted perceptibly during the week, and especially during the last two days of sales.

The market sold 5,359,440 pounds for $623,408.00 at a general average of $11.63 per hundred pounds. The average for the previous week was given at $9.31. For the same week last season 3,082,026 pounds of tobacco was handled, the average price being $14.21 per hundred pounds.

Raleigh, Sept. 27.—(AP)—A rising price together with increased sales were shown today in weekly reports from the auction tobacco markets of Eastern North Carolina.

Wilson, largest of the new bright belt markets, reached an average of $11.34 per hundred pounds yesterday for sales of 1,415,888 pounds compared with earlier averages under 10 cents a pound. Sales for the season at Wilson total 16,928,063 pounds at an average of $10.29 per hundred.

Official figures announced today for sales at Henderson, which last year led the middle belt, disclosed 545,408 pounds were sold during the first week of the season at an average of $12.05 per hundred.

Rocky Mount's sales Friday totaled 5,465,478 pounds for an average of $12.33. Total sales for the season are 542,680 pounds at an average of $11.40 per hundred there.

Lipton to Again Try for Trophy

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Reconsidering a previous decision, Sir Thomas Lipton again will challenge for the America's cup, yacht racing's greatest trophy.

His Shamrock V was soundly trounced by the Enterprise at Newport early this month but Sir Thomas, on the eve of his departure for England, said he would return soon with another challenger for the cup.

"Within two years," he was asked.

"Two years, pooh!" he replied. "I'll challenge shortly."

BOBBY JONES WINS FINAL GOLF MATCH

Champion Defeats Gene Homans for United States Amateur Championship

Merion Cricket Club, Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Bobby Jones today swamped Gene Homans, 8 and 7 in the finals of the U. S. Amateur Championship, thereby completing his unparalleled "grand slam" in golf for 1930.

A wildly cheering and almost uncontrollable gallery of upwards of 10,000 spectators saw Jones add the classic amateur crown to his previous triumphs this year in the British open, the British amateur and American open.

It was his fifth United States amateur and thirteenth national championship triumph. These are also records.

The fourth triumph by Jones was the easiest of any of the previous three he scored this year to complete his record-shattering sweep of all his golfing honors in sight.

He won the medal for the lowest qualifying score, 142, which tied the record, and then swept through five successive matches. He was seldom in danger of being down to any opponent, much less defeated.

It was just a grand parade for the Georgian from the outset, especially after the wholesale downfall of favorites who had been figured to give him a battle.

Jones needed to produce few of his characteristic fireworks to gain so commanding a lead over the 22-year-old Homans that his victory seemed assured, with the match at the half-way mark.

Homans, as a matter of fact, saved himself from being as much as nine or ten down by sensational work on the last two holes of the morning round.

After losing three straight holes, the youngster laid his tee shot dead on the 215-yard 17th for a two, which Jones conceded after driving

PLAN TO NAME COMMITTEE TO PROBE CANNON

Body of Clergymen to Be Named in the Next Two Weeks to Consider Charges

Washington, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Dr. Forrest J. Petyman of Baltimore said today a committee of clergymen to investigate charges of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist church, south is likely to be named "within two weeks" by Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, president of the church's College of Bishops.

The charges were sent to Ainsworth by Petyman, Dr. J. T. Marten, Richmond, Dr. Costen J. Harrell, Richmond and Dr. I. P. Martin, Abingdon, Va.

Petyman, here attending the Baltimore conference of his church said today they had no desire to rush but intended to see the investigation carried through. He made public a letter from Martin, which said study had convinced him of the correctness of the action in filing the charges under the law of the Southern Methodist church.

The letter was in answer to a statement by Cannon received by the Associated Press by Radio from S. American Legion in which he questioned the legality of the procedure for he had not been consulted before the charges were filed against him.

The churchmen have declined to reveal the charges against Cannon but Petyman said today they included: "Everything that has been discussed in the public press and more."

Dr. Martin's letter said: "I find that the law (of the church) as it had stood from 1870 was amended in 1894. Prior to 1894 the law was 'three traveling elders shall call upon him (a bishop) and carefully inquire into the case, and if they believe him guilty, they shall report the matter to another bishop.' In 1894 the law was amended to read as at present. You will see at once that instead of the three traveling elders being required to call upon the Bishop, as previously, the law as amended changes this to 'after notice to him.' Then again, under the old law the elders were required to 'believe him guilty.' Under the present law the elders are required to 'believe an investigation necessary.'"

BAILEY WILL VISIT COUNTY NEXT MONTH

Clyde Hoey Will Also Speak Here In Interest of the Democratic Campaign

The heavy artillery of the Democratic party will begin to thunder in Pitt County during the month of October when prominent speakers will come here to make their plea for approval of the record established by the party during the last several years.

W. E. Hooks, chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive committee, made it known yesterday afternoon that he had been assured the services of some of the best known members of the party on a recent visit to Raleigh. Mr. Hooks said that Josiah William Bailey, Democratic nominee for the United States Senate, would speak at the court house here during the early part of October. Mr. Bailey, who started out on a speaking tour of the state the first of the present week, will discuss the principal issues of the campaign and ask the people to support him for the high office to which he aspires. He won out over Senator F. M. Simmons in the Democratic primary in June.

Mr. Hooks also said he had received assurance that Clyde Hoey, of Shelby, long known as the silver-tongued orator of the party in this state, would appear here shortly after Mr. Bailey. Hoey espoused the cause of the party in an address here during the presidential campaign two years ago, and his coming no doubt will be received with more than general interest by party members in this and surrounding counties.

The Democratic campaign was officially launched at the convention held here during the early summer, and ever since that time Mr. Hooks has been busy lining up party leaders in an attempt to pile up an overwhelming majority in the November election. He is busy at this time arousing the various organizations to the importance of rallying to the cause during the next month, and will have sentiment at fever heat by the time of the coming of the principal campaign speakers.

Always showing faith in the people of Pitt County, Mr. Hooks expressed belief that every precinct of the county would turn in the same fire vote for the Democrats as in past years. He believes that the cause of the party is stronger today in this section than it has ever been before, and is looking forward to election day with keen interest.

"The business of mankind is now in a stage of recuperation. We know that in a general way under the law of action and reaction periods of under-activity in business are somewhat proportional in length of periods of activity preceding them. That time is considerably over a year behind us when the public suddenly turned over from exhilaration and that confidence in the future which is the basis of prosperity to that lack of confidence which is the basis of business depression."

"I do not think that the business of the world left its normal trend earlier than in 1927, two years before the collapse of prices in 1929 on the leading stock exchanges of most nations. If I am right in this, other things being equal, may we not hope to see the normal trend of world business resumed by summer or fall of next year, which will mark the end of the after two year period?"

Daylight Saving Time to Expire During Tonight

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Thousands of persons will set their watches and clocks back one hour before retiring tonight, making them conform to standard time.

The change marks the end of daylight saving time which went into effect April 27 when timepieces were moved one hour ahead, the official hour for the change back from daylight to standard time will be 2 a. m. Sunday morning.

There will be some readjustment of railroad train schedules although most lines have operated on standard time throughout the summer.

PREDICTS END OF DEPRESSION BY NEXT FALL

Ambassador Makes Prediction In Address At Official Luncheon At Belfast

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Ambassador Dawes, speaking as guest of honor at an official luncheon at the City Hall today, predicted the end of the current world-wide industrial and trade depression by the summer or fall of next year.

"The business fall of 1929 was he who had no fear," he said. Ambassador's address was an analysis of "present world-wide industrial and trade depression, its cause, and its probable duration."

General Dawes said that he would not fall into the common error of travelers of discussing questions of local industry but that in Belfast, which is a center of world-wide business, he could properly discuss the present world-wide depression, since as nearly everywhere else, it is having its serious local effect.

"The Ambassador said in part: 'A world-wide depression in business is due always to sudden change in the attitude of the world's peoples. This changed attitude is often explained in different countries as being the result of diverse causes, including unwise national policies, undue speculation, overproduction, under-consumption and political and social upheavals.'

"These however are more the effects of this change of general attitude than the causes of it. It is often easier to conclude that one catastrophe or error in business is the cause of the following one, rather than that both originated from one underlying cause."

"In the United States for instance, as well as elsewhere, a major depression in business has always been preceded a few months before by a stock panic induced by over-production. Many have assumed that the collapse of the stock market caused the later depression. Many have assumed too that this correct forecasting of business trends by stock speculators is evidence of the composite intelligence of the speculating class."

"Nothing could be more untrue for not only is the speculating class as a whole no wiser than those in other businesses but no intellectual judgment of the future can always prove to be right and in this case general unloading of stocks months before general business is materially affected always occurs. The truth is that stock market depression and the following business depression are both caused by the same thing—a fundamental change in the attitude of the average man resulting from a sudden loss of confidence on his part, the first public manifestation of which occurs on the stock exchange."

"As the average man is his personal or business activities occasionally departs from the usual so does mankind. As a man sometimes embarks upon unknown and dangerous seas of speculation and unsound enterprises he does mankind and what then happens to a man happens to mankind."

"We don't know why a man goes wrong but we have difficulty in knowing when it is thus with mankind. After a hectic period induced by regrettable combination of over confidence and misdirected energy reaction and a return to a normal view of things causes the first business collapse, then a period of recuperation."

"The business of mankind is now in a stage of recuperation. We know that in a general way under the law of action and reaction periods of under-activity in business are somewhat proportional in length of periods of activity preceding them. That time is considerably over a year behind us when the public suddenly turned over from exhilaration and that confidence in the future which is the basis of prosperity to that lack of confidence which is the basis of business depression."

"I do not think that the business of the world left its normal trend earlier than in 1927, two years before the collapse of prices in 1929 on the leading stock exchanges of most nations. If I am right in this, other things being equal, may we not hope to see the normal trend of world business resumed by summer or fall of next year, which will mark the end of the after two year period?"

ABOUT TOWN

The big gun of the political campaign Pitt county will be fired during the early part of October with the coming of Josiah Bailey, Democratic nominee for Congress, and Clyde Hoey, of Shelby, one of the best known spellbinders in the state.

W. E. Hooks, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of this county, made it known yesterday that both Bailey and Hoey would visit the county during the month of October. The people will then have an opportunity of hearing about some of the main issues of the campaign from men who are better posted than any others in the state.

Plans for the campaign in this county have been developing rapidly the last several weeks and Mr. Hooks feels sure that the voters will pile up another sweeping Democratic majority in November. He is getting the organizations interested and by the time the speakers visit here everybody will be in a receptive mood for what they will have to say.

A man can't be too careful how he handles his money. This fact has been proven conclusively since time immemorial and it will continue to be proven as long as civilization stands.

A farmer received a check for his tobacco here Friday morning. He put the check in his hip pocket. A negro boy saw the corner of the check sticking out of the pocket, and stole it. The farmer discovered his loss in a few minutes, and by quick action was able to prevent himself from loss. Had he not acted with such dispatch, however, he would have lost, and lost heavily.

This proves conclusively how advisable it is not to be carrying it around in your pocket. See that it is put in the bank immediately. Banks are the safest place for money, and the man that makes it a habit to deposit his cash will not be the victim of some holdup man.

News of the improved prices on the Greenville tobacco market will be received with interest by the thousands of farmers throughout this great agricultural region, and hundreds of other people vitally affected by the price situation on the tobacco market.

The upward trend of prices bears out predictions for improvement in the price situation and causes everybody to believe that the condition will continue to improve as the offering of good tobacco increases. In fact, the statement has been made that the end of the season will see little change in the price average this season and that last year.

It is to be hoped this statement proves true, because the farmers are in need of money to make up for the shortage of crops last season. If they fail to come through like they should other people are going to suffer, and especially the merchants who have extended them credit over a period of many months.

And in this connection it might not be amiss to remind the farmer of his debt to those merchants. They have proved faithful over the long months of hard times and it is nothing but fair that they should receive pay for their goods at the earliest possible moment.

Merchants of Greenville have thousands of bargains to offer their patrons during the next few months, and the shopper that comes to Greenville to buy may rest assured of receiving the best to be had in the way of prices and materials.

Greenville claims the distinction of being the principal shopping center in this section of the state. Its merchants must live up to the claim and there is only one way to do it and that is through the offering of the best, the market has to offer in the way of merchandise at prices comparing favorably with other sections of the country.

People who have not purchased their fall and winter clothing would do well to visit Greenville stores during the next several weeks, and in that way take advantage of the "Home, Sweet Home" Who is it that has not sung or tried to sing that old song so dear to the American people: "Home, Sweet Home?" The sentiment it recalls is the greatest of the human race. "Be it ever so humble, there is no place like home." What memories! The little family band, ed together in joys, gladness, sorrows and councils, each member considerate of the others' welfare. Home, where father retires from labor to renew his courage and energy for another day, where mother stays to carry on and brighten the lives of all about her! Home is a sacred place-invaluable. Men fight to preserve it so. Yet what is home without the pride of independent ownership has independent ownership? This am- caused thousands upon thousands of families and heads of families to struggle year in and year out with- out end that they might eventually gain this pride. Men will mortgage their financial independence to own their places of abode. And healthy community life is absolutely dependent upon this spirit.

Picture, if you can, a prosperous town, county or state, where the majority of citizens are floating renters. You see seldom don't you? Do you want such to obtain in this fair land of ours? No, Well, then give the little man a chance by fighting for justice and right that accoinates the tax laws of Pitt county, North Carolina, which puts the major proportionate burden on the homes and slowly confiscates them, discouraging the effort to own, or and if adversity comes to him, sell his home and disposes, as his tax to satisfy and excessive valuation, and assessment, and costs. The tax laws of North Carolina are wrong unjust, confiscatory, and as written and administered, and they must be righted if home ownership survives. Taxes on the average home amounts to about half as much as rent would be on the same property. Combined with insurance and upkeep the total is considerably more than rent. Think it over. Don't listen to the ifs, buts and can't's advanced and whispered by the politicians. "Where there is a will there is a way." The people are the government in America, and the will to right the tax wrong must prevail if we prosper.

These payments are now under investigation by an extraordinary county grand jury at the direction of Governor Roosevelt.

CARDINALS CLINCH RACE IN NATIONAL

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer. The St. Louis Cardinals have clinched the championship two days before the end of the season. A bad fourth on August 1, St. Louis slanted out a 10 to 5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday to finish the hot struggle for the flag and to gain the right to meet the Philadelphia Athletics in the world's series beginning at Philadelphia on Wednesday.

The triumph, the 21st for St. Louis in the last 24 games and the 43rd in the 55 games since the beginning of August, left the Chicago Cubs in second place three games behind with only two to play. The Cards yesterday gave an all-around exhibition of the brand of baseball that carried them to the top: Jess Haines pitched a fair game although not as good as many turned in by his younger mates, and the Red Birds backed him up with a hard and timely batting attack that produced 16 hits off the delivery of Ervin Brame, one of the league's leading pitchers. In the fourth inning Young George Watkins sent them off with a home run with two on base and the Cards batted clear around the lineup to score seven runs.

The Cubs clinched second place in the standing yesterday as Hack Wilson's 54th home run of the season gave them a 7 to 5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. The Cubs now are three games ahead of the third place Giants and 3 1/2 ahead of the Brooklyn Robins both idle yesterday and are safe so far as second place is concerned.

In the American league the loss of $500 by Bump Hadley of Washington was the day's big news. He has an agreement with the Senators' management for a $500 bonus for every victory he turns in over the mark of 15 he has already reached. He failed to collect yesterday as the Boston Red Sox got to him for ten hits in seven innings and defeated the Senators, 7 to 1. The champion Philadelphia Athletics gave the New York Yankees a dose of bitter defeat as Al Simmons hit a double in the ninth inning. The hit drove in Wally Schang from second with the run that gave the A's a 7 to 6 victory and it also put Simmons ahead of the Yanks' Lou Gehrig in the race for the American league batting championship.

Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox, whose ancient arm has hurled more complete games than any other major league pitcher this season, held the Detroit Tigers to five hits in the one remaining game to

SPORTS SLANTS

Mechanical ingenuity and scientific principles, as manifested in the development of the racer Enterprise, have revolutionized the America's Cup yacht racing, in the opinion of those who take their sea in ships, besides keeping the ancient trophy safe for the U. S. A.

Harold Stirling Vanderbilt's white hulled sloop is a machine in the sense that every possible device and gadget for proper trim, handling and balance has been adopted in its construction.

This is not to say that that man-power and judgment do not play the decisive part in her performance, for Vanderbilt and his associates in the afterguard proved that they know all that is necessary about racing a big yacht.

In fact the contrast between the handling of Enterprise and Shamrock was as marked as the difference in mechanical make-up and consequent speed, as well as reliability.

But a good share of the American victory was due to such factors as the hollow duralumin mast, the sliding boom that aroused so much debate and the shunt dynamometer or automatic aid to proper balancing of the big sail stem.

Australian wizard of pre-war days Norman Brooke, the left-handed and Big Bill Tilden are regarded by the veteran Wallace Johnson as the finest tennis strategists and psychologists of all time.

Even the master-minds eventually, however, the Johnson take stock in ally yield to the charge of youth. An article for the magazine "Tennis" of the new school "typified by youngsters like Clifford Sutter, Bryan Grant, Eilsworth Vines, Sidney Wood and Frank Shields."

Of course, if Johnson had been writing at a later date, he would have included the new national champion, Johnny Doeg, in his list, but his analysis is interesting. He writes:

"These boys appear to have not only the shots but the knowledge of the game that is essential to real top-flight tennis. Instead of striving for faces with every shot they command a sequence of shots and have the technique to carry them out.

"Shields is to my way of thinking the greatest potential player of the lot. But he requires proper handling and must be kept in condition if he is ever to arrive at the place his supporters predict for him.

"Vines plays a type of game similar in many ways to Shields' and another season of grass court play should see him well on the road to the top. Wood and Sutter can be classed together. Both are astute court generals and both can bring unsuspected severity into their play when the occasion demands it.

GEHRIG HAS SLIGHT LEAD ON SIMMONS

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—With only four days left in which to reach a decision, Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, had the tiny margin of three points over Al Simmons of the World champion Athletics, according to unofficial averages which include Wednesday's games.

The figures gave Gehrig, who had played in every game of the campaign, a mark of 379, three points off from last week, while Simmons had hiked his average two points to 376. Babe Ruth remained third with 360, the same as last week.

Gehrig also clung to his uns battled in and total bases leadership, with 169 of the former and 410 of the latter, while Simmons grabbed one of Babe Ruth's laurels by scoring six times during the week to raise his total to 148, while the Babe scored only once, the result of his forty-seventh home run, ards.

Urban Hodapp of Cleveland, was the only player except Gehrig, to lead in more than one department. The Indian second baseman had hit safely 220 times, and clouted three doubles to retain the lead with 49. Earl Combs of the Yankees, got two more triples to increase his leading total to 22, and Marty McManus of Detroit, retained the stolen base title at 23, without boosting his total.

Regulars following Gehrig, Simmons and Ruth in the individual batting parade were: Reynolds, Chicago, .357; Cochran, Philadelphia, .354; Hodapp, Cleveland .353; Morgan, Cleveland, .350; and Man. us St. Louis-Washington, .349.

Bob Grove, already established as king of the American League hurlers, was credited with another victory and had a season mark of 23 triumphs and five defeats. The Athletics' fireballer also led in strikeouts as usual, and pitched only one more to give him 200.

The Yankees had set up a team batting average of .309, two points higher than last week, and appeared to have the title clinched. Cleveland went into a tie with Washington for second place by maintaining a .302 average while the Senators dropped two points.

The two fielding situation was the same as last week, with the Athletics retaining the lead at .976, and Washington second with .974. The Boston Red Sox accomplished nine more double-plays and had 157 to top the league.

PASQUOTANK BOYS DEFEAT LOCAL CLUB

A husky bunch of football players came to Elizabethtown yesterday afternoon from Greenville City and overwhelmed Greenville High school by the score of 31 to 0. It was one of the most complete defeats experienced by the local club in years and came as a complete surprise to the crowd of supporters who gathered at the Third Street Athletic field to witness the encounter.

Coming as the opening game of the Northeastern Athletic conference, everybody was hopeful that the locals would be able to emerge with the big end of the score, but all hope in this direction was blasted at the very beginning when the superior weight and experience of the visitors enabled them to pile up a score which the locals at no time seriously threatened to overcome.

Greenville fought hard — fought harder possibly than in any engagement in years—but the harder they battled the more impregnable became the defense of the locals from Pasquotank. Outweighing the Greenville City Elizabethtown boys swept through the lines of their opponents like a whirlwind, and ended the game with a score which stretched out should enable them to emerge victorious in several games.

A youngster by the name of Davis headed the visiting outfit. He appeared to be all over the field at one time, and was largely responsible for the huge score which his teammates were able to pile up. He was the main star of the game for both teams, his swiftness and accuracy in judging of the various plays, stancing his in good stead at every department of the game.

Despite the fact that they were completely snarled under the local club exhibited fairly good form. The team, composed largely of new material, would have rendered a different account had it not been for the weight of the Pasquotank boys and they are expected to give an entirely different story of themselves in the following conference games.

Charlotte, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The chalked-marked gridiron today replaced the printed page as football fans looked into reality instead of publicity to discover the true merits of football teams in the Carolinas.

Some of the teams in action today will be facing their second opponents of the season, but the real tests will be met this afternoon and tonight. The obliging little fellows who took lickings last Saturday got just what everyone predicted they would.

After having spent nearly a month drawing interest with a lot of chatter, today was "call" day for any bluffs that might be lurking in the several camps. Simply because North Carolina has a green line is no reason why the Tar Heels should have a weak line. If they have, however, the heavy forward wall Wake Forest is reported to have will probably find it out in the Chapel Hill game.

Those who like to dope things up in advance on the basis of comparative scores have a chance to do so on the North Carolina State-Davidson game at Greensboro tonight. The Wolfpack took High Point 14 Saturday, 38 to 0, and Davidson licked Elon, 37 to 0. The losers are reported to be about equal. Figure it out for yourself.

South Carolina will probably display more than the three plays it used against Erskin last week when the Gamecocks got up against Duke at Durham. The Blue Devils will probably have more Sophomores on their team than any other outfit in the state. Regardless of how good they are, sophomore players are an unknown quantity until they have been tried in battle.

Clemson and Wofford are all set to give the cash customers a battle for their money and indications are that Wofford will prove something of a tartar to Josh Cody's charges. A 43 to 0 win, even if it was over little Newberry, is enough to give a team confidence.

Citadel will take part in Erskin delight in tackling a defeat on Erskin today by as large a score as the Bulldogs can muster but the seeders are going to have a thing or two to say about that. Other games with Carolinas teams taking part include Catawba Presbyterian against Mercer; Guilford against William and Mary; Appalachian against Knigs; Mrs Hill vs Carson and Campbell against the Langley Field Air Corps team.

State to Name Two Representatives At Special Election Raleigh, Sept. 27.—(AP)—North Carolina electors in two Congressional districts will probably cast ballots to name representatives in a special election to be held November 4 in connection with the general election.

The death Tuesday of Representative William C. Hammer, of the Seventh Congressional District, who died yesterday, will also probably fill the same day.

Governor Gardner would not announce the special election for Representative Hammer's successor pending the funeral of the legislator in Ashboro tomorrow; thirty days notice is required, however, before a special election can be ordered and political observers were of the opinion that both special elections will be held November 4.

Democratic and Republican headquarters have made no announcement regarding selection of candidates to offer for the unexpired terms. The Democrats in the Seventh District will have to name a new nominee for the Congressional term beginning next March 4 as well as for Representative Hammer's short term, as he had already won his party's nomination. Colin G. Spencer, of Carthage, is the Republican nominee in the Seventh District.

Mrs. Katherine Stedman Palmer announced in Washington yesterday she would be a candidate to fill the unexpired term of her father, Major Stedman, Frank Hancock, Jr., of Oxford, is the nominee for the regular term. John F. Reynolds of Wentworth, is the Republican nominee.

FUNERAL FOR HAMMER TO BE HELD SUNDAY

Representative In Congress Dies Suddenly From Attack of the Heart

Ashboro, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The state and the seventh North Carolina Congressional district today mourned William C. Hammer, Representative in Congress, who died suddenly yesterday afternoon. Heart trouble caused the death of the 65-year-old legislator, doctor said. From every part of the nation messages of sympathy poured in to Mrs. Hammer, the widow, and Mrs. Harriet Hammer Walker, his daughter, the only survivors.

Governor O. Max Gardner, President Herbert Hoover, Congressman John H. Kerr, R. L. Doughton, Senators F. M. Simmons and Lee S. Overman, E. Y. Webb, A. L. Bulwinkle, Josephus Daniels, and scores of others wired their sympathy.

Mr. Hammer's death came just 24 hours after he had attended the funeral of his friend and colleague, Major Charles M. Stedman in Fayetteville, of the fifth North Carolina district.

Born in Randolph county where all his life was spent, Mr. Hammer was educated at Western Maryland college and the University of North Carolina. He taught school, practiced law, held several city and county offices, was named United States attorney in 1914 and nominated to Congress by his party in 1920. His election that year was followed by four re-elections.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock here.

Harris Dismisses Receivership Case Against Negro Lodge

Raleigh, Sept. 27.—(AP)—A ruling which may organize supervision of fraternal organizations in this state from the hands of the State Insurance Department was handed down in chambers here today by Judge W. C. Harris when he dismissed receivership proceedings against the Grand Order of Odd Fellows for negroes.

Judge Harris ruled that his interpretation of a 1913 North Carolina law means that the State Insurance Department has no control over or can it supervise the business of local lodges operation in associations and which carry death insurance of less than $500.

Counsel for the Odd Fellows, in contention for admission of action they were subject to the 1913 Act, say their organization provided for payment at death of an amount not exceeding $400 to its members.

Walter D. Siler, who represented the insurance department at the hearing, gave notice he would appeal to the Supreme Court.

Receivership proceedings were instituted against the Odd Fellows sometime ago by Dan C. Boney, insurance commissioner, on grounds the organization is in a state of insolvency and unable to pay death claims. Counsel for the defendants argued today the organization was feeling the effect of depression but would eventually be able to pay all claims.

State Theatre Plays Host To 800 Children

Approximately eight hundred school children were guests of the State theatre this morning to witness the showing of "The Indians Are Coming." Each child was required to bring some potatoes, and when the show was over an official count showed that the theatre had in the neighborhood of fifteen bushels of potatoes.

Manager Walker stated that the potatoes would be turned over to the local Salvation Army for distribution among the poor. He expressed gratification at the large attendance, and said he believed the children were highly pleased with the screen production.

Two Candidates Work for Votes

Franklin, N. C., Sept. 27.—(AP)—As told to newspapermen: Bert Slagle is Democratic candidate for sheriff in this county. Sam Franks is Republican candidate for the same office.

Mr. Slagle, out on the hustings, noted a woman chopping wood. He offered his help. An hour he chopped wood, while the sweat poured off.

At last the wood was cut and Mr. Slagle seated himself on the front porch to rest. The question of his candidacy came up.

"I hardly know who to vote for," the lady said. "Both you and Mr. Franks have been so nice to us. Why, right now, Mr. Franks is out on the back porch chopping."

Wealthy Woman Reported Missing

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. John Melville van Carnbee, of the Hague, the former Virginia Catherine Enloe, Spokane, Wash., and Washington D. C. society girl was reported to the police today to be missing.

Mr. Van Carnbee, who is of the Dutch nobility and has the title of Jonkheer, told police he last saw his wife Thursday afternoon in the lobby of the Hotel St. Regis.

She was wearing $25,000 in jewelry at the time but had not more than $6 or $7 in cash, he said.

BOBBY JONES WINS FINAL GOLF TITLE

Then on the 18th, the Jersey star holed a 29-foot putt to save a half after overshooting the green, while Bobby was 18 feet from the cup with his second.

Jones took the laurels very easily at the outset and his margin of 3 up at the turn was more the result of Homans' very erratic play than any superlative shooting on the part of the triple champion.

Bobby three-putted three of the greens on the outgoing nine but on two of these he got no worse than a half, losing the 7th when he was stymied. That was the only hole Homans won on the outgoing nine and his birdie on the 17th was the only hole he captured coming in.

Coming in, Jones settled down to more workman-like golf. He won five out of seven holes in a row to go eight up at the 16th. He sank a 25-foot putt for a birdie on the 11th and holed a six footer on the 15th for another birdie.

His greatest shot, however, was a No. 3 iron that cleared the traps guarding the 14th and fell 15 feet from the cup.

A galloping gallery of 7,500 fans followed the match as Jones piled up a lead that forecast another decisive victory and the clean sweep that has been his goal for 1930.

WID OF POISON, FEELS BETTER Constipation Relieved by Help of Black-Draught, Without Bad After-Effects.

Lake View, S. C.—"I always keep Theford's Black-Draught in my home to take when I feel a sick headache coming on, for, after taking a dose of Black-Draught I quickly recover," writes Mrs. Fannie Rogers, of this place. "Every so often when I get dull and feel lifeless, my eyes hurt and I have a sick, nauseated feeling, my color gets yellow and I don't sleep well, then I believe I am full of poison and my system needs a thorough cleansing. I start taking a course of Black-Draught, and in a few days I feel like a different person. My energy comes back and I am able to do my work without much effort. "Black-Draught is a fine medicine for constipation. It gives quick relief and I prefer it to others because it is a vegetable compound and there are no bad after-effects. It sets me up right off." Constipation dams up poisons in the bowels, where they are absorbed into the general system, causing many serious symptoms. At the first sign of constipation, take Black-Draught.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at decline of 1 to 4 points and during the first part of the day continued to decline under active selling including selling for southern account as well as by both Liverpool and the Continent.

The trade was a fair buyer at the lower levels but the trade buying limits seemed to have been reduced in some cases, and the market declined to new low levels with less opposition than of late. New October sold down to 10.21 and March to 10.71 while new December declined to 10.42 and May to 10.91.

Liverpool cabled that the market there was influenced by hedging and general liquidation with cloth and yarn buyers holding aloof pending stability.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Wheat closed semi-demoralized today at a maximum price setback of 25-30¢ a bushel compared with yesterday's finish. The closing quotations in Chicago were the lowest reached here either today or since 1906, and were but little more than five cents above the bottom then touched at 69 1/8 cents for 1906 September delivery. Wild trading characterized the market here at times today, but during a great part of the day transactions were lacking in volume, with buying only spasmodic and the market hinging mostly on news about Russia continuing to upset European markets after being shut out of facilities here.

STOCK MARKET	High	Low	Close
New York, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The stock market ended a fortnight of almost steadily declining prices today with the bears still in the saddle. Selling was again general throughout the list and although the usual short covering assisted an advance from the lows, many groups, especially the rails, were weak.

Rallies appearing intermittently during the two hour soft vigorous trading were feebly held, for with the market at the levels of the June lows bearish professionals were loathe to give up. Some circles expressed a belief that a selling climax was close at hand, pointing out that the end of a period of violent movement is usually marked by accentuated activity.

A late rally reduced many of the day's extreme losses to fractional proportions, but the majority of shares closed lower. General Elec. U S Steel, American Telephone and American Car, were fairly steady throughout. Standard Oil of New York, Allied Chemical, National Biscuit and Sears Roebuck, and Allied Chem lost 2 to 4 points before meeting support.

Pressure against U S Steel, General Electric, Standard Oil of N. J., Am. Can., American Telephone and other stocks of similar grade gave

N. Y. STOCK LIST

The day's news was not of a character to stimulate selling. Weakness of grains in Chicago, where wheat broke 1 to 2 cents in earlier dealings, gave impetus to the selling of sales, although the stock market, with a definite decline of its own to handle, has been paying less attention recently to the troubles of wheat.

GORMAN'S MARKET REPORT

The sales this week have been larger but the market has blocked only one day. GORMAN'S sold this week 797,972 pounds and our average is more than the market's. There is still a lot of common lugs and black and green tips coming on the market and these grades show very little improvement in prices. The better grades are much stronger and when a customer has good tobacco he is highly pleased with his sale. If you want the high dollar for your tobacco bring it to GORMAN'S. We have no pets but sell every pile on it's merit. We know tobacco and know how to sell it. If you are not selling at GORMAN'S you are the looser. Bring your next load to GORMAN'S and let us convince you that we sell all grades higher. Below we give you a few sales made Thursday and Friday and all our customers are DRUMMERS for GORMAN'S.
