SEES UPWARD TURN IN THE TRADE WORLD

President of American Bankers Association Urges Co-operation of Public

Cleveland, O., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Signs of an upward turn of business have recently appeared, and the factors creating the upward turn should have the wisest co-operation the banker can provide, John G. Longdale, president of the Mercantile Commercial Bank and Trust Company of St. Louis and president of the American Bankers Association, said today.

Longdale addressed the opening day of the general sessions of the association which started a four day convention here yesterday.

Some of the indications of better business are the increased credit operations of banks this month, increased purchases by the public, increased employment in many factories, and accelerated speed of some factory wheels, he said.

But for the banker to co-operate the most encourage the farmer injured by the drought, the manufacturer who finds costs high because of obsolete machinery, the property owner with buildings in need of repair, the renter who wants to be independent of his landlord, and the merchant whose store needs improvement before increased profits are made.

"It should be the primary task of the banker to lend every encouragement to activities of this nature, and to work out practical programs of support," the president said.

"Yet in this it is the bounden duty of the commercial banker to avoid the mistake of making capital loans at the expense of banking liquidity. Idle dollars are no more to be desired than idle men, but unwise credit extensions can do as much harm as good."

The big new machinery on farms known as mass production needs adjustment, Longdale said, adding that we have been putting tremendous energy into production while at the same time we are not finding sufficient new markets.

He recommended scientific research for new uses of farm products. Diversified production, he said, should be encouraged.

There should be more scientific conduct of the banking business, Longdale said, bringing among other benefits a more equitable distribution of costs among consumers.

Business should be freed of some of the inhibitors that come from Federal, state and local governments, he said. One of these is mounting taxation which is already too high.

"Expenditures for public purpose seem everywhere to be increasing at a rate that is discouraging to enterprise," he said.

"Besides, there is a growing belief that tax systems do not spread the cost equally. Too often the levying of taxes is in incompetent hands. Every banker everywhere should study taxes and give the best that is in him and in his organization to end that public money is justly and fairly raised and wisely and honestly expended."

Little Hope Held Out for Recovery Judge James Webb

Shelby, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Judge James L. Webb, 76-year-old Sumner court judge and father-in-law of Gov. O. Max Gardner, was still alive at 8 o'clock this morning, although it was said at the governor's Shelby residence no hope is held out for his recovery.

Judge Webb, who was to retire at the end of this year, has been critically ill two weeks of heart trouble. Physicians said last night they believed his death but a matter of hours.

Governor and Mrs. Gardner are at his bedside.

Several Persons Injured As Troops Charge Mob At Jail In Huntsville, Ala.

Huntsville, Ala., Sept. 30.—(AP)—A skirmish between national guardsmen, called out to protect a negro prisoner from possible violence, and members of a mob in front of the county jail here had brought minor injuries to several persons today and comparative quiet at the jail.

Guardsmen charged with fixed bayonets as a crowd, estimated at 1,000 persons, advanced last night on a roped-off area around the jail where G. E. Henderson, negro, is held as a suspect in the slaying of H. E. Ross, Huntsville business man. Ross was shot to death in his home Saturday night by a negro intruder. Mrs. Ross who also was shot and slightly wounded, has not identified

Henderson as the slayer. The guardsmen, ordered out by Governor Bibb Graves, still patrolled the area around the jail early today and the situation was reported quiet with only small groups of persons in the vicinity.

The clash between the troops and members of the mob came after the militiamen had hurled tear gas bombs in an effort to halt the crowd's advance on the jail. The wind was blowing toward the guardsmen, however, and the gas came back on them. Then an advance was ordered with bayonets fixed, they chased the crowd from the vicinity of the jail and returned to their posts. Members of the crowd hurled stones as they fled, and while several of the troops were struck, none was seriously hurt.

CANNON BACK AND READY TO DEFEND SELF

Methodist Bishop Besieged By Newspapermen Upon Arrival At Washington

Washington, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, was back in Washington today preparing to defend himself against accusations brought by four ministers of his church during his absence in Brazil.

He returned to the city by train late last night coming directly from New York and the steamship on which he came from South America.

He left the station with friends for an unannounced destination in the city after a heated exchange between members of his family and newspapermen who besieged him for comment on the charges which have not been made public. The bishop maintained a steadfast refusal to answer questions.

"I have nothing to say," he repeated over and over again. Finally he added: "You understand the English language, don't you?"

But the questioning persisted and he observed: "I don't see why a person can't attend to his own business without being harassed by newspaper reporters."

His two sons, Edward and James Cannon, 3rd, met their father at the train and were incensed at the reports. At one time the bishop had to step between one and a newspaperman to avert trouble.

Mrs. Cannon, whom he married in London at the beginning of his recent South American trip, remained on the train for a while and joined her husband at an automobile by another route.

As they drove off, the sons followed in another car stopped their machine in a narrow street to block a pursuit started by reporters and the bishop's car disappeared.

The program of the evening was in charge of Junius H. Rose, as chairman of the Boys' Work committee. The following young men were introduced to the club as the guests of the above committee: Frank Dail, Alva Van Nortwick, Pete Bynum, William Hearse, John Hodges and John Thomas.

Mr. Rose then told the club that these young men along with eight other boys were planning to enter East Carolina Teachers College this year.

He called the club's attention to the fact that the East Carolina Teachers' College, according to its charter, is open to both young men and young women, and that the people of this city and this section had not yet come to realize what an asset the college is to this city and section; that most people still think of the college as a two year normal school, while as a matter of fact it is now a four year college of "A" grade standing among the other colleges of the country.

J. E. Winslow spoke briefly urging the young men of this section to take advantage of the opportunity offered at their door.

President Wright then told the young men present that the college is delighted to know that the young men of this section are going to attend this year and gave them all a warm welcome.

Instead of a subscription campaign in which a large amount of money is given away to contestants, the management of The Reflector has decided to put on a subscription drive beginning today, in which the premium money is given to the subscriber in the form of a forty per cent discount on all yearly subscriptions paid during the limited time that this offer is open.

A similar offer was made during the recent co-operative dollar day staged by members of the Greenville Merchants Association and the response was most gratifying to us but many persons because of financial conditions here at that time were unable to take advantage of the offer, and after receiving numbers of requests from our subscribers we have decided to repeat our special for a limited time in order that all our subscribers and those who would like to become subscribers may receive the benefits of this forty per cent savings.

Under this offer no subscriptions will be taken for a shorter period than one year. The regular price of The Reflector is $5.00 per year but while this special offer lasts you can subscribe or renew your present subscription for a full year for $3.00.

This offer will remain open for but a short time and after its close there will be no further reduction of this kind. If you want to save $2.00 on the price of The Reflector bring or mail your subscription to the Circulation Department at once.

PRICES GO TO HIGHER LEVEL ON LEAF MARI

Greenville Market Averaged $13.38 On Over Million Pounds of Leaf

The highest average price of the season was recorded on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday when offerings by the farmers from many surrounding counties far exceeded anything of the present season.

The official report of the supervisor of sales made public this morning showed that the market disposed of 1,351,042 pounds of tobacco for a total sum of $180,858.32, at an average of $13.38. This was over one dollar a hundred pounds higher than prices registered during the closing sale last week.

It was estimated that there was something like a million and a quarter pounds of leaf on the floors of the nine warehouses today. It was indicated that sales would be completed during the late afternoon.

There was approximately two million pounds of leaf on the floors of the warehouses when sales were resumed yesterday morning. It was the largest amount of tobacco marketed here this season, and for many other seasons for that matter, with exception of a few opening days in past years.

By working until late yesterday afternoon the buying forces cleared up a sufficient quantity of leaf to enable them to sell out completely today.

The improvement in the price situation is attributed largely to an increase in the offering of better grades of tobacco, although it was noticeable that the inferior brands also showed renewed strength.

Prices were expected to remain on the upgrade as the farmers continue to market the better grades.

Prominent Lawyer of Waynesville to Be Buried Today

Waynesville, Sept. 30.—(AP)—James W. Ferguson, 58, well known Waynesville attorney who died in a Statesville hospital Sunday night, was to be buried here today.

The service was to be held at Waynesville Methodist church at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with burial following in Green Hill cemetery. The Haywood County Bar Association planned to attend in a body.

A son of the late Judge Garland S. Ferguson, James W. Ferguson served in the state legislature when 21 years old. During Governor McLean's administration he served two years as a member of the state judiciary committee.

TO PROBE RED ACTIVITIES ON PACIFIC COAST

Congressional Committee Moves Westward After Grain Probe At Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The Congressional committee on Communist activities which completed a hearing yesterday on Soviet Russia's recent grain operations on the Chicago Board of Trade, today was en route to the Pacific coast.

Testimony by officials of the Chicago Board of Trade and brokers classed the Russian short selling as legitimate hedging, handled in the regular line of business by the brokers, who acted for the All Russian Textile Syndicate.

Joseph P. Griffin, vice president of the board of trade and partner of J. S. Baché & Company which sold 2,300,000 bushels of wheat in part, at a fixed price, indicating that there was no attempt to depress the market. He said low prices for wheat were due to a generally depressed condition in all commodities.

Board of Trade officials said the Soviet was barred from future short selling operations because there is an inherent evil in foreign governments competing with private traders.

Representative Hamilton-Fish, Jr., of New York, chairman of the committee, announced the committee would acquire into Communist activities in Seattle, Los Angeles, San Francisco and other far western points.

SAY ROBBERS ARE AT WORK IN THIS CITY

A band of thieves was reported to be operating in the residential district near the East Carolina Teachers-College, and people living in that area have been advised to keep their homes and garages securely locked at all times.

Although no robberies so far have been reported to police, residents of the section have several times seen strange negroes prowling around at night. In one or two instances, robberies were tipped in the bud by the arrival of residents. One man was reported to have caught a thief in the act of removing his automobile tire, but the culprit escaped.

Police have been called to the section back of the college several times during the past several nights to investigate the reported presence of thieves, but so far they had been unable to effect any captures. Opinion has been expressed, however, that the houses are being carefully watched by a set of young negro boys, and that they plan to enter the homes at the first opportunity.

It is for this reason that residents have been warned to lock their homes securely at night, especially when leaving, and to see that automobiles are put under lock and key.

Members of the police department are keeping a careful check on the section, and it was expected that members of the band would fall into the toils of the law within the next several days.

Countess Marries Wealthy Shipowner

London, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Vera, Countess of Cathcart, was married to Sir Rowland Hodge, 71-year-old millionaire ship-owner at Prince's Row Register office today.

Crowds gathered hours before the ceremony. The bridegroom arrived before the countess. The bride wore a black georgette and lace frock and a chiffon velvet coat trimmed with sable. Her hat was of the large "picture" type. She wore also a three-strand rope of pearls, one of the bridegroom's gifts.

The countess was greeted at the door of the register's office by her small son, the Earl of Cathcart, and two sons of the bridegroom.

Among the guests were Henry De Grey-Warrier, the bride's young son who married last week; the Duke of Richmond and Gordon, Lord Wyfold and Sir James Heath.

The couple were to leave for Paris at once. This is the countess' third matrimonial venture.

The countess was denied admission to the United States in 1926 on the ground of "moral turpitude."

Charge Power Company Employed Indefensible Methods In Carolinas

Federal Trade Commission Accountant Testifies Concerning Inflated Capital Accounts of the Carolina Light and Power Company; Said There May Have Been Values In Excess of Those On Records

Associated Press Photo Edward Orville De Larm, one of two American aviators arrested in Chile and charged with participation in an attempted revolt against the Chilean government.

Washington, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Carl H. DePue, Federal trade commission accountant, testified today in that agency's investigation of public power utilities that the Carolina Power and Light company employed "indefensible methods" in increasing its fixed capital account by $19,000,000 at organization.

Summarizing at the request of Robert E. Healy, chief counsel of the commission, DePue said he had learned a duplication and inflation of approximately $19,000,000 had been made in the fixed capital accounts of the present Carolina Power and Light company and that the inflation was "still in the fixed capital account of the Carolina Power and Light company."

DePue said his judgment was based on the books of the Carolina company, but added "there may have been values in excess of those recorded on the company's books."

He said engineering and construction costs totaling $129,366 had been paid the Phoenix Utility company by the Carolina company. The Phoenix Utility company is a construction company operated by electric bond and share.

In 1929, the Carolina company paid supervision fees to electric bond and share amounting to $114,233, and in 1927 the fees totaled $162,732.

The commission included its testimony on the Carolina Power and Light company with the appearance of Paul A. Tiller, its vice president and general manager. Questioned by Healy, he denied knowledge of the existence of books of the Pigeon River Power company.

One of the predecessors companies of the present Carolina Power and Light company whose books were investigators.

CONGRESS MAY INVESTIGATE OIL CHARGES

Secretary Wilbur Welcomes Probe of Charges Made By Ralph Kelley

Washington, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A congressional airing appeared likely today for the charges of favoritism to large oil companies made by Ralph Kelley in resigning as chief of the field division of the federal land office in Denver.

The interior secretary refused to accept Kelley's resignation and announced the latter's suspension from office, welcoming an investigation. Kelley in New York, said last night he did not regard himself any longer an employee of the interior department and restated the charges made in his letter of resignation, which he made public Sunday.

The former land office man added he would be prepared to amplify his charges later and would be ready to appear before a congressional committee should the suggestion of chairman Nye of the Senate lands committee for an investigation be approved. The latter termed the charges amazing and said: "Kelley will have to be heard in Congress."

Secretary Wilbur made a vigorous defense of his oil land policy, and said he had detected Kelley to file immediately the names of the companies he claimed had been favored with specific details of each case.

The charges hinged on the disposal of public lands in Colorado which Kelley asserted contained petroleum deposits in the form of oil shale which even at present low prices would exceed forty million dollars in value. He asserted that through political pressure on the office of the interior secretary the large oil companies had received favorable consideration for illegal claims to some of these lands.

Wilbur said no leases for oil shale had been issued under his administration and further that action had been brought to forfeit all claims to such lands on which the required assessment work of $100 a year had not been done. Something more than 3,000,000 acres of such lands in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, he said, had been covered by claims filed prior to 1920, the majority of these being held in the name of "individuals or associations of individuals, made up largely of local people in the immediate vicinity."

Members of the fifth congressional district Democratic executive committee were called to meet here this afternoon to nominate a candidate for the late Major Charles M. Stedman's unexpired term in Congress.

A special election will be held on November 4 to fill the congressional seat. The Republican executive committee has not announced when it will select its nominee.

Business Reported Below 1929 Level In Fifth District

Charlotte, Sept. 30.—(AP)—General business in the Fifth Federal Reserve District in the week ending Sept. 24 was 11 per cent below the level of the same week last year as reflected in checks presented for payment at banks, according to statistics made public today at the Richmond Reserve Bank's branch here.

The total debits for this district in the past fiscal week were shown as $276,697,000 as compared with $311,083,000 for the week ending Sept. 25, 1929. Debits for the nation as a whole were given as $11,699,672,000 in the past week, compared with $20,391,018,000 for the same week of last year.

The district's decrease in bank debits for the week in comparison to the same week last year was given as 71 per cent while that of the United States, exclusive of the New York district, was reported as 27 per cent.

The average decrease for the entire United States for the four weeks of September was listed at 41.4 per cent, compared with 25.1-2 per cent for the country outside of the New York district and with 10.3-4 per cent for the fifth district.

Youth Sent to Jail for Killing Father

Charlotte, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Brown Fowler, 17, today faced a 10-year prison term because he shot his father, T. O. Fowler, to death.

The boy entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter in Superior court here yesterday. Judge Walter E. Moore allowed the state to accept the plea after listening to testimony in the case.

The jurist ordered young Fowler placed in the ward for mentally deficient patients for observation. A physician testified he had the mind of a seven or eight year old child.

The boy's mother, who took the stand in her son's defense, told a story of hardships and inhumanities forced upon her and her children by her husband.

Brown shot his father August 14 as the man lay sleeping on the porch of his tenant farm house. The youth readily admitted the killing and told officers he shot to keep his father from abusing his mother.

ABOUT TOWN

If sales continue as they started the tobacco market should be able to establish some kind of a record here this week. There was over two million pounds of leaf on the floors of the nine warehouses yesterday. This established a record for the season. It also went down as a record for any season at this time of the year.

The increase in sales is attributed to the fact that farmers from a greater territory are bringing their tobacco here, realizing that this market always renders a high type of service despite the greatness of the volume.

With the continued increase in sales, it will not be a matter of many years before tobaccoists realize the ambition of Greenville being the greatest tobacco market in the world. The trend in this direction becomes more evident with the passing of each year, and with the continued support of the various business interests there is no reason why the ambition should not materialize.

Another honor has come to Greenville in the election of Dr. L. C. Skinner to the presidency of the Tri-County Medical Society at its session in Williamston the latter part of last week.

Dr. Skinner undoubtedly is one of the best known practitioners in this part of the state, and his election to the head of the society shows there is no question as to his leadership among the members of his profession.

The Tri-County society, composed of four counties in this section of the state, has been constantly working for the improvement of the medical profession for a number of years, and its achievements have been of an outstanding nature. The organization meets at the county seat of each of the four counties from time to time during the year and the programs always contain something tending to promote the welfare of the public as well as the cause in which it is interested.

Vance Bunting of Bethel is to be congratulated on the way he entertained members of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade last Saturday night. The occasion, featured by plenty of barbecue and speechmaking, was described as one of the most enjoyable in years, and

It will be a long time before the scores of tobaccoists in attendance forget the hospitality of the Bethel man. Several of the best known tobacco men of the community appeared in the roll as speakers, and the things they had to say about the future of the tobacco market caused much emotion. They not only expressed belief that the present season would realize the ambition of selling 75,000,000 pounds of tobacco, but also declared that the market was destined to become the leading tobacco center of the world.

If the dreams of these men come true—and they are nearer realization today than they ever have been before—the capital of the greatest tobacco producing county in the world will come into its own. With hard work and faith there is no reason why the time should not come when dreams are converted into reality.

It is encouraging to note the improved business conditions are predicted by Julius Barnes, chairman of President Hoover's national business survey conference.

The sooner the improvement comes evident the better the thousands of men and women walking the streets in various parts of the county in quest of employment will like it. Easy money rates may be all right for the people having something to offer as security, but the starving, half-clothed individual with an equally starving, half-clothed family finds little consolation because he has nothing to offer but his brain and brawn.

Instead of cheaper money rates, if Mr. Barnes had jobs to offer, or money to lend to such people, his statement would command more wide-spread interest among the millions of people of this and other countries where the lack of employment is doing more to knock prosperity than any other thing to be imagined.

Merchants should not forget the importance of having the map showing Greenville as the hub of Eastern North Carolina printed on the back of their envelopes.

This is one of the most far-reaching advertising measures adopted by the Merchants' Association in years, and should play an important part in letting the other part of the world know what Greenville and Pitt county actually have to offer the investor and home-seeker.

It may cost a little bit extra to put the map on the envelope, but the expense is insignificant compared with the results to be obtained.

"ACHING IN MY JOINTS LEFT ME"

Lady Continued Taking Cardui Until She Was Feeling Strong and Well.

Port Arthur, Texas.—Mrs. Alfred Kingston, of 910 Nineteenth Street, this city, says that several years ago she found herself in a run-down condition of health. "I got so weak," she says, "I could not keep up. My joints ached and I was so miserable I could hardly do my housework. I read about Cardui and how it had helped women, suffering in much the same way that I was. I got a bottle of Cardui and took it, and I then felt so much better that I continued the medicine for some time until I was really feeling strong and well. "The aching in my joints left me entirely, and I was no longer troubled with bad headaches as formerly. My strength returned and I was able to do more than I had in months. Since then I have taken Cardui several times, and I have always improved after I have taken a course of this fine medicine."

Cardui is extracted from medicinal herbs, and contains nothing harmful. Try it in your case. TAKE CARDUI Helps Women to Health. Theford's Black-Draught should also be used in connection with Cardui, as a laxative, 25¢.

ATHLETICS HAVE EDGE ON CARDS

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Two of the factors that help weigh the balance of "dope" in Philadelphia's favor in the baseball battle with St. Louis for the world's championship are the man in the dug-out, Connie Mack; and the man behind the bat, Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane.

Mack's shrewdness and great experience, Cochrane's aggressiveness and masterful handling of the A's moundsmen count heavily in a short conflict where the forcing of a few "breaks" at vital moments often proves decisive.

They are factors that may have more to do with the outcome of the world's series than the individual brilliancy of Simmons or Grove or Poxo or the law of averages.

So far as the comparative figures and records go, a good case can be made out of either contender in the annual American baseball classic. The greater experience and fine defense of the A's, plus the confidence of their 1920 conquest, may be offset by the aggressive attack that carried the Cardinals past all obstacles to the National league peak. The pitching skill of Grove and Farnshaw may be matched by the curving talent of Grimes, Hallahan, Rheri and Haines. The big bats of Simmons, Poxo, Miller, Haas and Cochrane may play a livelier baseball tune than the war clubs of Hafey, Frisch, Watkins, Bottomley and Douthit. As a club, the Cardinals have out-hit the Athletics more than 20 points on the season's play.

WILKERSON—MILLS.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—A pretty wedding took place last evening at the Vermont Avenue Christian Church when, at 8 o'clock, Miss Gertrude L. Mills, daughter of Mrs. Lola May Osborne, became the bride of Edwin Mitchell Wilkerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Wilkerson, of Greenville, N. C. Dr. Earl Wilfrey was the officiating minister.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Basil de Lashmutt, a family friend, was gowned in pink crepe-back satin designed in princess style, with bolero effect and puff sleeves. The straight skirt was ankle length and the bodice was draped front and back from the neck to the waist. A pink tulle veil was caught at the back of the neck by tiny pink violets and held in place by a chin strap. The bottom of the veil was scalloped with the pink violets. Kid gloves and slippers matched the gown in color and pink roses were her bouquet.

Mrs. Basil de Lashmutt was the matron of honor. Her gown of peach crepe was made on graceful form-fitting lines with inserts of peach tulle breaking the full skirt, which touched the floor. A tulle turban, net mitts and slippers were of the same peach color. She carried carlo roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Catherine O'Connell, wore a gown of the same design. Her entire costume was of baby blue and she carried carlo roses.

Two bridesmaids attended the bride. Miss Fannie Hathaway, of Berkeley, Va., was crowned in green designed with tight bodice and full skirt. Mitts and shoes were of the same shade as was her velvet hat which was made of Namoloon style with brim turned of the face. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Fred Barrett was the other bridesmaid, wearing the same costume in yellow and carrying yellow roses.

Stephen Linsey Wilkerson came from Richmond, Va., to act as best man. His brother, The Fishers were Fred Barrett and Henry Disher, of Washington, and J. J. Smith, of Petersburg, Va.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception took place at the home of the bride's father, who received with the bride party. She was gowned in garnet cut dress with hat and slippers of the same hue, and wore a corsage of tallman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson left shortly after the reception on a wedding trip through North Carolina. They will be at home after October 15 at 1425 Rhode Island Ave.

The bride is a well-known member of the younger set here. Mr. Wilkerson is a graduate of Wake Forest College in North Carolina and a member of Phi Kappa Theta fraternity. He is associated with Bradstreet.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 4 points. Near months were relatively easy owing to the circulation of a few additional October notices while there was some buying of the later deliveries on the relatively steady Liverpool cables.

Southern selling was reported in considerable volume again this morning, however, while there was also a good deal of liquidation following yesterday's decline and prices eased off during the early trading although there was a good trade demand and covering on the decline. At the end of the first half hour, new October was selling at 10.02 and March at 10.50 or about 1 to 4 points net lower on the more active months. According to early estimates the October notices represented about 6,800 bales including 4,400 on old and 2,400 on new style contracts.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Although weakened at times owing to sympathy with stock market setbacks, grain prices averaged much higher today. In addition to the effect of news from Liverpool that Russian and Canadian wheat offerings were reduced in volume, the wheat market here was stimulated by dry weather complaints from the Balkans and Australia as well as by dearth of moisture over domestic winter wheat territory. There were also Canadian reports of damage to untreshed wheat by recent snowfalls and heavy rains.

Wheat closed unsettled 5-8 to 11-8c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 15-8c up. Oats 3-8c advanced, and provisions varying from 25c decline to 35c gain.

STOCK MARKET

New York Sept. 30.—(AP)—The stream of selling which has been flowing almost steadily through the stock market for the past three weeks reached the largest proportions of the month today, but powerful efforts to support the list caused erratic an uncertain price movements.

Prices were hammered down but rallied early in the session, then rallied moderately. By midday a few issues showed net gain of 1 to 3 points. A fresh selling movement quickly erased these gains, however, and sent the general list about 1 to 10 points net lower, where fresh support appeared, in financing moderate returns in pivotal shares. Trading was at the pace of about 1,000,000 shares an hour, the swiftest since June, and the new high speed ticker fell slightly in arrears. Most of the so-called pivotal shares sold off less than 2 points. Such issues as U. S. Steel, General Electric and Radio attracted good support at slight concessions from yesterday's closing prices. Oils, cop pers, farm implements and several specialties, however, were markedly weak. Shares losing 3 to 5 points included International Harvester, United Aircraft, Goodyear, and J. I. Case, the last named sliding below its resistance point of last October. Worthington Pump and Allied Chemical recorded even wider losses. During the temporary upswing around midday, New York Central, Atchinson, Johns Manville, American Can, and National Biscuit gained about 2 points.

The feeling persisted in Wall Street that liquidation of securities held as collateral against bank loans was in large volume. In some brokerage circles it was said that there was an appreciable amount of such selling from the west and south, evidently by banks wishing to keep themselves in a strong position in case the fresh declines in wheat and cotton. Call money renewed at 2 percent, against yesterday's 2 1/2 percent rate. The low rate was unattractive to lenders, and resulted in considerable loan calling.

Bartender Injured Attempting to Save Cop From Robbers

New York, Sept. 30.—(AP)—A bartender in an alleged speakeasy on the upper West Side was shot and seriously wounded today when he picked up the pistol of a wounded policeman and attempted to save him from further attack by four robbers. The patrolman, George Rouse, while patrolling his beat at 120th Street and Eighth avenue, glanced through the window of the resort and saw several men staring against the wall with their hands raised. He started to enter and was felled by a blow on the head. As he regained his feet he drew his pistol and fired two shots before he fell again with a bullet in his right hand and two in his right leg. As the robbers advanced upon the prostrate policeman, Tony Bastone, 40 years old, picked up the pistol and opened fire on the robbers. He in turn was shot in the abdomen. The four men escaped. Their loot amounted to $8 from Bastone. The only man they searched.

Laurinburg Man Seeks Hammer's Place In Congress

Raleigh, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Hinton James of Laurinburg, Scotland county, was today placed on the list of candidates seeking the long term Congressional nomination from the Seventh North Carolina district.

Friends of Mr. James who were here today said the Scotland county banker, cotton broker and farmer would actively seek the nomination to succeed Congressman William C. Hammer when the Seventh District Democratic executive committee meets. The meeting will probably be at Lexington Friday morning.

In the meantime George R. Ross, director of state owned farms, reiterated that he was not seeking either the short or long terms. It was feared, however, that his brother, Arthur Ross of Randolph county, is in the race.

It is believed that Mrs. W. C. Hammer, widow of the congressman, will be nominated for the short term. She is also understood to be receptive for the long term nomination.

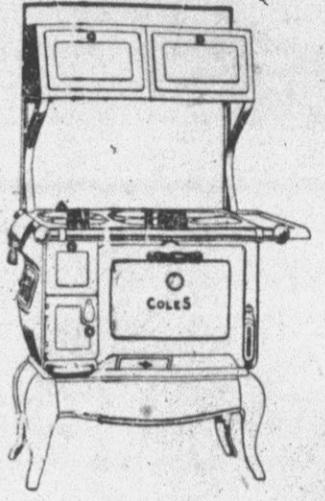

Other persons mentioned for the long term nomination include: Walter Lambeth, Davidson; Solicitor Don Phillips, Richmond; W. E. Harrison, Richmond; J. Chesley Sedberry, Richmond; Solicitor C. L. Williams, Lee, and U. L. Spence, Moore.
