FOUR HELD IN BANK ROBBERY AT CHARLOTTE

Confess Engineering $64,600 Hold Up of the American Trust Company Guard

Charlotte, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Four men, including a former Charlotte policeman and a man who served Union county as deputy sheriff until yesterday, were in jail today as the result of their alleged confessions to Charlotte police that they engineered the "holdup" of an American Trust Company money truck Wednesday and robbed it of $64,600.

Carl Bailey, Charlotte bank guard who admitted, police said, that he conspired with Victor S. Hunter, former deputy sheriff, Walter A. Thomas and Richard McManus, all of Weddington, Union county to rob the bank truck was held in jail here. The others were in the Union jail at Monroe and were to be brought here today.

Police recovered $26,380 of the currency from two fruit jars and a small box buried in Hunter's backyard. They planned today to attempt to locate the remainder.

The confessions of the men completely exonerated Leroy Stanton, bank messenger, who was with Bailey at the time of the "holdup," police said.

Stanton aided the officers in the search for the robbers and Hunter and McManus were arrested upon his identification.

Hunter, who pointed a police badge before he went into the money guarding business, got Stanton and himself "holdup" by Hunter and McManus, police said, in reconstructing the robbery. Thomas came into the picture, according to his confession, by driving the "holdup" men to the spot decided upon for the robbery and then he helped them to escape in his automobile.

Hunter, who worked with Sheriff Fowler, of Union county, as his deputy for 10 years, handed his resignation when it was demanded shortly after his arrest. Sheriff Fowler expressed surprise when told his deputy was suspected in connection with the case and took part in investigation largely with a hope of clearing Hunter from any suspicion.

The first part of the "holdup" Wednesday was executed while Stanton was in an express office. When he walked out, he told officers, he found McManus in the trunk of the truck, hidden from view by the steel-lined body, and holding a pistol on Bailey.

Hunter, his story said, accosted him when he walked out of the office and when he attempted to push the man away, Bailey warned him that "another robber" was in the rear of the truck.

Stanton said he was made to take his place in the truck while Bailey was "forced" to drive to the edge of the city, where the holdup men tied the bank employees and left them in the rear of the truck. They escaped, according to their confession, in a car driven by Thomas, who had trailed the truck.

CITY TEACHERS ARE GUESTS OF KIWANIS CLUB

Interesting Program Featured Annual Entertainment Last Night

Members of the faculty of city schools were guests at the twice-monthly meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis club at the Rotary building last night. The program consisted of songs, speeches and stunts, and proved decidedly one of the most interesting of the year.

B. B. Sugg presided over the session and the program was in charge of E. L. Hillman, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church.

After the introduction of guests, President Sugg extended the teachers a cordial welcome, and declared the Kiwanians always looked forward to the annual entertainment of teachers with pleasure. In fact, he said, the occasion was one of the high lights in the life of the club, and that it became of more interest with the passing of each year.

He had several witty things to say about the opportunity for teachers to march to the altar, but he struck a serious note the latter part of the welcome and declared they were rendering a type of service that counted largely in the life of the community.

W. C. Brown, president of the Greenville Merchants Association, welcomed the teachers to Greenville in behalf of the organizations, and he developed that every member of the club wanted to extend a welcome in behalf of either himself or his organization. It looked like the remainder of the evening might be consumed in welcoming the teachers, but President Sugg called a halt, and the Kiwanians, many of whom had never made a speech before, were forced to content themselves with what the duly authorized welcome speakers had to say.

Miss Katherine Warlick responded in a very happy vein, assuring the Kiwanians they appreciated the opportunity to meet with them from year to year, and expressed the hope that they would not be forgotten in future years.

Two numbers were rendered by a trio composed of Misses Ona Shindler and Agnes and Carolyn Fullilove. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ray Tyson Jr. The Misses Fullilove also rendered two numbers during the latter part of the entertainment.

PUSH PROBE OF COLORADO OIL FIELDS

Department of Justice Investigating The Charges Without Aid of Kelley

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—(AP)—A Department of Justice investigation into charges of oil land maladministration proceeded today without the aid of their author, Ralph S. Kelley, former field secretary of the Interior Department's land office at Denver, who chose instead to detail his complaints in newspaper articles.

"It is my view that members of the President's cabinet are much too closely bound together to permit impartial investigations of each other," he wrote Seth W. Richardson, assistant attorney general assigned to inquire into his charges also expressed belief that Richardson himself had prejudged the case. In reply the Justice Department said it would continue to delve into the records concerning the extensive oil shale lands of Colorado.

Secretary Wilbur, who had been charged by Kelly with failure to end alleged favoritism to large oil companies displayed by interior secretaries during the past three years in the disposal of the Colorado lands, in a statement later expressed belief that Kelley had fallen into "designing" hands of those who could use him to their advantage.

Wilbur added that three-fourths of his own official acts in regard to oil shale claims had been taken upon Kelly's recommendations and that in only one case had the latter been overruled.

The land office man had been called to Washington this summer, he continued "to give him very opportunity to correct the evils of which he complained."

A different view was taken by Chairman Nye of the Senate subcommittee, who after a conference with Kelley announced he considered the latter thoroughly justified in his charges but that these did not lie at Secretary Wilbur's door.

"There is a door to which his objections lead, however," Senator Nye added, "and this door should be opened."

He promised to introduce a Senate resolution calling for an investigation unless the Department of Justice made a thorough.

TWO MEN AND WOMEN SLAIN BY GANGSTERS

Fruit Store Owner, Wife and Customer Shot to Death At Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A woman and two men were shot and killed and another man was wounded probably fatally today when gangsters' guns were fired five times in a little fruit store in Braddock, a suburb.

Two men fired with deadly precision to kill Joseph Libiano, proprietor of the store, his 27-year-old wife, and Ijouis Tomano, 70, a customer. Libiano's brother, 28, was wounded so seriously he was not expected to live.

Residents of the neighborhood said three men drove up to the store shortly after 9 A. M., and while one remained at the wheel of their automobile, the other two entered the store. Shots were heard, and the gunman ran out, leaped into the automobile and sped away.

Plans To Probe Conduct Of National Guardsmen During Georgia Lynching

National Guardsmen Will Contend That Negro Was Shot By Civil Officer Inside of Jail and Not By Members of a Mob, As Previously Reported

Atlanta, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Adjutant General Homer C. Parker of the Georgia national guard, announced today that he would order an investigation of the conduct of guardsmen and officers who were on duty at Darien, Ga., September 8 when a negro suspected of murder was shot to death in jail.

"I will ask this investigation as soon as possible," he said, "and believe it will result in vindication of the national guard."

The Macon Telegraph said today it had learned national guardsmen would contend a civil officer entrusted with custody of the negro, George Grant, killed him and that no mob was at the jail at the time.

Grant was killed in his cell after he had been identified as one of the negroes who killed Robert Freeman, Glynn county police chief, and wounded two other men. Willie Bryan, another negro, was killed the next day by officers who said they sought to arrest him.

Bryan at first was believed to have been Grant's accomplice, but later authorities concluded he had nothing to do with Freeman's death. Col. W. R. Neal of Savannah, commander of a unit of guardsmen that was on duty at Darien, said Grant was surrendered to the sheriff after he was captured.

"The person or persons who killed Grant did not enter the jail through a door that was guarded by national guardsmen," Colonel Neal said.

The only other entrance to the jail is a door leading from the sheriff's house, he said. The Atlanta Constitution today quoted Sheriff A. S. Poppell at Darien as saying a guard was not posted at the jail by the militia after the negro's capture and that "whoever killed him must have slipped into the jail." The paper quoted him further as saying: "I don't know who did it and I don't care."

Charlotte Man Heads Pharmacists N. C. Universalists Reporting Progress

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—J. Reuben Clark of Salt Lake City will succeed Dwight W. Morrow as ambassador to Mexico. His appointment announced last yesterday at the White House, was immediately greeted as a happy one both in Washington and in Mexico City. Clark has been in Mexico for some time as special advisor to Ambassador Morrow and as counselor for the embassy. His predecessor is generally understood to have considered him the logical man for the post and this view was shared in Mexican government circles.

NEW CHARGES PRODUCED IN STRIKE AREA

Federation of Labor Charges Judges In Sympathy With Danville Mill Owners

Danville, Va., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Charges by the Virginia Federation of Labor president that the judges who granted injunctions in the textile strike here were stockholders in the Riverside and Dan River mills today had met with replies by one of the judges that he owned none of the mills' stock and by the other that he expected to have no further connection with legal proceedings in the strike.

The charges were made to Governor Pollard by J. Fred Cherry, of the State Federation of Labor. He asked the governor to do "what you can to adjust this matter." The governor replied that the matter was without his jurisdiction and objections should be filed with the judiciary.

Judge Henry C. Leigh, of Danville Corporation Court, who issued the injunction restraining strikers from interfering with passage into and out of the mills in the city of Danville, said he owned none of the Riverside and Dan River stock and never had owned any in his own name.

The other judge, Turner, Clement, of the Pittsylvania county Circuit court, who issued a similar injunction for mill property outside the city limits, admitted owning twenty shares, but said he regarded the stock "as worth nothing." He said he told counsel at the time the injunction was petitioned that if there was any objection to his connection with the case he would not serve. No objection was raised, he said. In future legal proceedings in connection with the strike, he said, he did not expect to serve.

Roosevelt Scores Charles Tuttle In Campaign Speech

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign for re-election was in full swing today after an acceptance speech in which he accused his Republican opponent, Charles H. Tuttle, of hypocrisy on the prohibition question.

Devoting a large part of his speech at the formal notification ceremonies at the National Democratic club last night, to Tuttle's position on the liquor question, Roosevelt accused his opponent of being "wet to the wets and dry to the dries."

"Three days ago I asked my opponent whether or not he would sign a state enforcement act, a question based on a widespread belief that some agreement of this kind was made to secure the support of Assemblyman Jenks and other dry leaders who have fought for this measure for years.

"The answer was not forthcoming until my friend had hastened over to Philadelphia and consulted with the President himself. His answer bears the earmarks of the President's policy of being wet and dry at the same time. It is characteristic of the way the question was dodged in the National campaign by calling by the 13th amendment a noble experiment."

NEW REGISTRATION BEGINS AT DURHAM

Durham, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Fifteen thousand voters of Durham today began a new registration, the first in many years. The clean sweep of the books was necessitated election officials said, by cumbersome and confused records.

Lexington, —(AP)—The Erlanger and Nokomis mills, which have operated on half time during the summer, have started full time operations. They are jointly owned and managed.

Instead of a subscription campaign in which a large amount of money is given away to contestants, the management of The Reflector has decided to put on a subscription drive beginning today, in which the subscriber money is given to the subscriber in the form of a forty per cent discount on all yearly subscriptions paid during the limited time that this offer is open. A similar offer was made during the recent co-operative dollar day staged by members of the Greenville Merchants Association and the response was most gratifying to us but many persons because of financial conditions here at that time were unable to take advantage of the offer and after receiving numbers of requests from our subscribers we have decided to repeat our special for a limited time in order that all our subscribers and those who would like to become subscribers may receive the benefits of this forty per cent savings.

OBITUARY

A good man has fallen asleep and the state is poorer because of his passing. Feb. 5, 1859, near Hancock's Church, Pitt County, John David Cox was born of hardy and honest parents, namely, Joshua and Sally Ann Cox, both to the manor born and there they lived and died.

Approaching manhood, the subject of this sketch, longing for an education, floated it across the swamp, a distance of four miles, to attend Mrs. Mary Smith's school, the best in the county then. From State University when his destinies were presided over by Kemp Plummer Battle. Retiring from school, he took himself back to the farm on which he was reared.

On December 23rd, 1885, he was married to Adie Smith, the daughter of his old school mistress, Mrs. Mary Smith, affectionately known as Mrs. Polly Smith. On the farm they lived until Nov. 1897, when they moved to Winterville, maintaining a home there until this day. No children blessed this union. However, it was their privilege as well as their pleasure to take into their home three boys and two girls, all orphans, who remained with them until they were fitted to take their places in the business world. It seemed a pleasure to them to lend a helping hand to the deserving. While on the farm he did much surveying and for several years was County Surveyor. About 1896 he became chief surveyor for the Beaufort County Lumber Company, which operated in several eastern counties. A few years ago he purchased a farm at Apple Grove, Va. On this farm he spent his summers with a foster son, J. S. Cox, since 1919. His winters were spent in Winterville. It was here on the 21 of August, last, that the fatal malady disabled him. He was taken to Park View Hospital, Rocky Mount, N. C., Sept. 3rd, where he died Sept. 23rd. His remains now lie in Winterville cemetery. The deceased, besides numerous nephews and nieces, leaves a devoted wife, a sister, Mrs. Fannie Carroll, and a brother, Dr. B. T. Cox to mourn their loss.

He was always interested in politics of his county and state, was elected to the Legislature of 1891, and served as Clerk of Superior Court of Pitt County from 1914 to 1918, when he retired from business. A true friend, a faithful husband, a noble man.

(Written by his nephew, J. F. Stokes).

LAUGHTER AND SONG DOMINATE JOLSON-BERLIN "MAMMY"

There little girl don't think you're going to cry. Mr. Jolson isn't bringing you another sad picture. Far from it. It's a comedy of minstrel days called "Mammy," adapted from "Mr. Bones," the play by Irving Berlin. At the New Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

"I'm a little tired of making people cry," Jolson confessed. "It was not so bad when they just wept when they saw my picture; but when women began to weep when I passed them on the street it was too much!" In the cast are Lois Moran, Louise Dresser, Lowell Sherman, Ray Cooke, Hobart Bosworth, Tully Marshall, Mitchell Lewis and others. "Mammy" is an all-talking singing comedy of minstrel life with Technicolor sequences. Michael Curtiz directed.

Legionnaires Move Toward Boston

Boston, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Legionnaires were moving in by train, automobile, and afoot today as the unofficial gatherings of next week's American Legion convention got underway.

More than 10,000 of them, headed by National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer, arrived shortly before midnight last night. Several hundred were due today; thousands were scheduled to come into town tonight and tomorrow and sixty thousand were already here.

The thousands that have already arrived by automobile were presenting a problem to the police, who strived almost in vain to keep downtown traffic arteries clear today.

College football beckoned to the Legionnaires. Nearly 15,000 will visit Harvard stadium to see the Crimson play a double header with this year.

Wake Forest this week declined to play the fall week game with North Carolina State at night.

Now a telegram from Christian Keener Cagle, ex-army star and coach of the Mississippi Aggies, declares his team cannot meet State at night, because of railroad schedules.

German Club Gives Hallowe'en Dance At Woman's Club

One of the most delightful events of the season was the Hallowe'en dance given last night by the German club at the Woman's club building on Fourth street.

The occasion was given in honor of visiting tobaccoists and their wives and was largely attended.

"The club building was tastefully decorated in keeping with the Hallowe'en season. Bridge tables had been placed in the front room of the clubhouse and those who did not dance enjoyed the time at bridge.

One of the crowning features of the evening was the grant march led by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James, Mrs. E. B. Ferguson, stationed at the western end of the dance hall distributed favors consisting of hats and whistles, and the dancers plucked multi-colored balloons from a container as they passed by.

Punch was served throughout the evening by Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, assisted by Mrs. E. B. Ferguson and Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb.

"Hinnant" orchestra, of Wilson, played for the occasion and produced a variation of numbers that instantly caught the fancy of the scores of couples on the floor.

The German club, formerly known as the Nine O'clock Cotillion Club, is composed of married women of the city. The organization gives one dance each season.

To Discuss Leaf Marketing Bodies At Public Meets

In response to a resolution passed at the educational meeting held by the Federal Farm Board, which some 600 to 700 farmers attended, requesting that the county agent and Smith-Hughes teachers conduct similar meetings in the county for the purpose of giving farmers reliable information relative to the formation of a tobacco marketing association the following meetings have been arranged for:

Ayden High School, Tuesday, October 1, 9-9 p. m. J. R. Turmage, presiding; Fountain High School, Wednesday, October 8, 8 p. m. R. A. Fountain, presiding; Stokes High School, October 9, 8 p. m. J. L. Perkins, presiding. A meeting was held at Chiloed High School this week.

Copies of the new form of contract will be available at the meetings next week and will be explained by the speakers. The object of these meetings is to give the farmers an unbiased explanation of the results of farmers' marketing associations and not for the purpose of getting a farmer to sign anything or for the purpose of starting any organization of any kind.

State College feels that it owes it to the farmers of the state, since there is quite a bit of agitation for some form of marketing organization among the farmers through its agricultural teachers and county agricultural agents to bring to them all the available information on this question that they may know what to expect of an organization in case they should decide to set up such an organization, thereby making it more likely to be of service to those who should join.

"CARDUI GAVE GOOD APPETITE"

Lady Says She Was Stronger, Nerves Better and Much Relieved of Pain.

New Orleans, La.—"I took Cardui for about four months, and it did me worlds of good," writes Miss Antonette J. Lee, of 3144 Chipewa Street, this city.

"I had been suffering from pains in my back and stomach, especially if I took cold.

"I had tried other remedies, but did not seem to get any better. I was very nervous and worried over my condition.

"My aunt, who had been taking Cardui every once in a while, told me that I ought to try it. After I commenced taking Cardui, it gave me a good appetite. My nerves were better. I was much stronger, and I was much relieved from pain.

"I certainly am very grateful that my aunt told me about Cardui." Many other women have reported that they began taking Cardui on the advice of older members of their family, for this medicine has been in use so long its real worth is known by several generations of women.

Gorman's Market Report

Greenville, N. C., October 4th, 1930.

The sales were much lighter this week than last. The prices on the better grades has shown much improvement this week and as soon as the sales fail to show so much common tobacco every one will be more satisfied with their sales. The sales are still showing a very large percent of common lugs and black tips and these grades show very little improvement. If you are not selling with GORMAN'S talk to some one who is and you will realize what you are losing by selling elsewhere. No house anywhere works harder for their customers than GORMAN'S and we are told every day that we are running the best sale on the market. We have had numbers of customers that took their tobacco off other markets and in each case they have made money by selling it with GORMAN'S. If you are expecting everything that you can get for this tobacco crop then bring it to GORMAN'S and you will go home satisfied, knowing that you have received the very top market price for every pile old. Preacher Boyd, of Richland, sold a load with us Tuesday for Sylvester & Findison, that brought $1,191.30. Mr. Russell, the Sheriff of Onslow County, sold a load with us Thursday that brought him $1,002.25. We are making sales like these every day.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 6 to 9 points under southern selling and realizing which was probably combined with some local selling on the relatively easy showing of Liverpool.

The latter was accompanied by talk of an easier technical position after the rather heavy covering reported earlier in the week but after easing off to 10.47 for the new December and 10.75 for March offerings became lighter and the market steadied up a few points from the lowest. Trading was moderately active at the start but became comparatively quiet later and there was more or less evening up for over the week-end.

Liverpool cables said that hedging and liquidation in that market had been taken at the decline by Continental buying and trade selling.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Increased selling based largely on expressions of belief that upturns in the grain markets had been too rapid led to an all around reaction today. About the lowest prices of the day were prevailing for wheat here at the finish, with trading on a fairly broad scale.

Wheat closed easy 1-13-8 bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 13-8-17-8 down, oats 1-2-3-4c off, and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 45c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The stock market ended a turbulent week with decided weariness today. Trading was extremely dull, and the gains of the previous session were not maintained, as bears took advantage of week-end profit taking to seek out soft spots. Pivot al shares were in moderate demand at times, but sagged substantially in the final transactions.

A long list of important stocks closed 1 to 2 points lower, and a few shares furnished 3 to 7 lower. During the first hour, several issues had shown temporary gains of a point or two. Final quotation were in the main fractionally above the days' lowest. Total transactions aggregated 900,000 shares. The losing tone was heavy.

Although the extreme pessimism of early week had largely vanished business news was not of a character to inspire much bullishness. News that the stock exchange had requested members for copies of all messages sent over their wires during the past fortnight relating to the financial condition of members was regarded as indicating a determination to check dissemination of irresponsible bear rumors, but failed to influence the market.

Stormy Scenes
Mark Sentencing
Fascist Officers

Lepitsic, Bavaria, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Tumultuous scenes in and about the court house accompanied sentencing here today of three. Reichwehr officers found guilty of attempted treason in connection with Fascist propagandization in the army.

The three men, Lieutenants Hans Ludien and Richard Scheringer, in the fortress here, the six months or more they have spent in prison awaiting trial to be deducted. A throng outside the courthouse shouted "wake up, Germany" and tossed Fascist swastika emblems into the air as the sentences were pronounced.

Inside the courtroom a woman became hysterical and shrieked "and we Germans are expected to have confidence in such a court; the highest court is deserting us!" she had to be ejected forcibly.

The three lieutenants were accused of attempting to win the Reichwehr, or home guard, over to the movement of Adolf Hitler, Fascist party chief, through a process of building Fascist "cells" in their ranks.

WEATHER OUTLOOK
WEEK BEGINNING MONDAY

Fair weather until near end of week when rather good rains are indicated. Temperatures slightly below normal first half and warm latter half.

BOHUMIR KRYL AND HIS BAND TO APPEAR HERE

Bohumir Kryl and His Band, with two noted soloists, will open the fall series in entertainment program at East Carolina Teachers College on October 13, with two concerts, one in the afternoon and another in the evening. Kryl himself is not only a great conductor, but is one of the most famous cornetists of the day. His Band is noted for its excellent symphonic playing. It is by no means an ordinary "band" but is more like an orchestra. The soprano is Ablee Stewart, a young singer of charming personality, who has a beautiful dramatic soprano voice. She is a southern girl who is fast becoming a national figure. The tenor soloist is Arch Cannon, another opera singer with an excellent voice. This is one of the best opening attractions the college has ever offered.

Dates of later attractions will be announced later. Albert Spalding, the great violinist, will be the star attraction of the year. The Cherniarvis Trio, who have been making a concert tour around the world, will be the January attraction. Burton Holmes and his Travelogues will be one of the most interesting of the series to many who have heard him or heard about his wonderful experiences and the great pictures illustrating them. Gay MacLaren, a great dramatic reader and impersonator, "The only artist of her kind in the world" is in the series. Contracts have been signed for these five, but there will perhaps be several others, as the proceeds from each entertainment, turned back into the fund enable the committee to engage other attractions.

LEAGUE ENDS SESSIONS IN SWITZERLAND

Attack On the World Economic Depression Features Three-Week-Sitting

Geneva, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The eleventh assembly of the League of Nations adjourned today after wrestling earnestly for three and a half weeks with pressing world problems.

A spirit of profound seriousness rather than hopeful enthusiasm prevailed throughout the assembly session, which saw repeated attacks upon world economic depression and renewed efforts to hasten world disarmament.

France-Italian naval differences and the German nationalistic resurgence cast their shadows upon the deliberations of more than a half a hundred nations who participated in the assembly. While never reaching a stage of cheerful optimism, the deliberations were marked with frank speaking and professed willingness to face facts which some of the delegates predicted would bear fruit later.

Attacking with vigor its chief problem of disarmament the assembly authorized the preparatory commission to complete a draft treaty at the November meeting and expressed hope that the general disarmament conference might be convened by 1931.

By terms of the resolution the assembly requested the council to call this conference "as soon as possible" feeling that it would be dangerous to fix the date until full preparations had been made. In a search for means to relieve the world's economic crisis the assembly encouraged all efforts at concerted action and set up a world wide inquiry into the causes of the prevailing depression.

No more than partial success was attained in efforts to revise the covenant of the League and to bring it into accord with the Briand-Kellogg pact for outlawing war. Encountering differences of opinion, the assembly referred the proposals again to the governments.

The assembly also failed to bring into effect the revised statute for the world court which contains provisions deemed to clear the way for the entry of the United States into the court. Cuba exercised its sovereign right to object to immediate enactment of this statute and its enactment now awaits ratification or consent by the island government to its becoming effective without her ratification.

The assembly also gave a full hearing to the plan of Aristide Briand, French foreign minister for an European Union, and delivered this proposal to a committee of representatives of European member states for study. Under M. Briand's chairmanship this committee will meet in January and later so as to make recommendations to the assembly next year.
