WOMAN KILLED WHILE FIXING RADIO AERIAL

Two Others Probably Fatally Injured When Aerial Hits High Tension Wire

Asheville, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Way Pressley was instantly killed, two others were burned, probably fatally, and a fourth person was seriously shocked in Canton this morning when an attempt to throw a radio aerial across a high-tension electric line failed.

The injured: J. R. Wright, 36, brought to the Forbush hospital here in a dying condition.

Way Pressley, 35, husband of the dead woman, also brought to the Forbush hospital. He has a bare chance to recover.

Mrs. J. R. Wright, mother of J. R. Wright, seriously shocked.

Pressley, neighbors said, was installing a radio at the home of Wright, on Oak street, just off Newfound street, in Canton. Wright was assisting him.

The plan was to string the aerial from Wright's house to a tree across the street. Pressley had the aerial in his hand and attempted to throw it across the 4400-volt line that passes in front of the Wright home, the aerial wire falling on the high-tension line.

Pressley was "grounded," and Mrs. Pressley, standing nearby, rushed up and sought to pull her husband loose from the wire. When she touched him, it made a "double ground," and Mrs. Pressley was instantly killed, and her clothing ignited.

Wright then attempted to free the Pressleys, and was himself caught by the current. His mother rushing up, sought to save her son and it was then that she suffered severe shock from which, however, she is expected to recover.

At the Forbush hospital, where the two injured men were brought, it was said that Wright had burns on the abdomen, and had one arm burned entirely off.

Pressley's left hand was burned off and he had other less serious burns. It was thought at the hospital he had a chance to recover.

A. G. Russell, Canton chief of police, summoned by neighbors, said the scene was one of the most horrible he had ever witnessed. The current, he said, was continuing to pass through the bodies of the four as he reached the scene; Mrs. Pressley's clothing was burning; the grass about the place cracked and spurted flame; and a dozen or more neighbors, all standing about wringing their hands and crying, not knowing what to do, were in serious danger.

He used a fire extinguisher he carries in his car to put out the flames that had already charred Mrs. Pressley's body.

The Canton office of the Carolina Power and Light Company was telephoned by neighbors, and a man was hastily sent to the substation, a mile away, to cut off the current. It was estimated that a period of approximately 15 minutes elapsed between the time the aerial struck the high-tension wire and the time the current was cut off.

Reduction of Cotton Crop Seen In N. C.

Raleigh, Oct. 10.—(AP)—North Carolina may look for a probable production of 870,000 bales of cotton this year, judging by the indicated condition of the crop as reported to Frank Barker, statistician of the State-Federal crop reporting service, October 1.

Mr. Barker, in a report issued yesterday, estimated the condition of the crop on that date at 53 percent of normal. The estimate is six percent more than was indicated a month ago, he said, and about 16.5 percent more than was produced last year.

Junk Dealer Shoots Auto Tire Thief

Greenwood, S. C., Oct. 10.—(AP)—W. I. Bass, junk dealer, early today shot James P. Hammond, 30, farmer, who had entered his shop and was attempting to make away with several used automobile tires.

The change from a shot gun struck Hammond in the chest. He is in a serious condition at a hospital.

Four men who were in Hammond's car outside the shop were arrested by police. They were R. L. Craft, Leonard Mitchell, Willy Giles and John Mitchell.

Bass said he had been missing various articles from his shop and decided last night to spend the night in an attempt to catch the thief. About one o'clock he was awakened by Hammond's intrusion.

ALL ENGLAND PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE DEAD

Envoys of All Nations Join in Memorial Service for Victims of R-101

London, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Historic St. Paul's Cathedral was the shrine of the British Empire at noon today while the nation mourned those who died in the destruction of the dirigible R-101 Sunday.

Envoys of every nation joined in the great memorial service. Ambassador Charles G. Dawes represented the United States.

The mourners came from every walk of life, from the far outposts of the empire to the streets of London. The Prince of Wales was there, as were members of the House of Commons and noted statesmen. There were soldiers, there were the wives, children or sweethearts of those who were lost.

Even errant boys came from London's busy streets, while shop girls took time from their lunch periods to fill the vast spaces with in the grey stone walls of the old cathedral.

At a poignant moment of the service a pigeon from the flocks outside found way into the great vaulted space of the cathedral and fluttered back and forth across the dome, high above the people bowed in prayer.

It was a simple service of hymns, prayers, and music, profound in the effect.

Bronzed men in blue uniforms—the reserve crew of the R-101—went without restraint. Outside, tens of thousands waited on the pavements of the church yard and along the whole length of Ludgate Hill, standing silently and reverently until the service was over.

Catholics mourned the dead of their faith as a solemn requiem in Westminster Cathedral.

All through the morning the crowd passing before the catafalque of Westminster Hall grew in length, it finally extended back to Lambeth bridge, then doubled on itself in the street that runs by the Thames.

Morning Session Today Confined Largely to Discussion of Objectives of Present Year; Address by Colonel Sears Feature of Meeting Last Night

Short talks dealing with objectives of the present year constituted this morning's program of the executive council of the North Carolina Federation of Women's clubs, meeting in annual fall session at the Woman's club here today.

The talks were made by the chairman of the various committees and contained many facts dealing with the progress of the departments.

The meeting, which opened here yesterday morning, will come to an end late this afternoon and members of the most important club women of the state, will return to their respective homes.

The visitors have been treated to a round of social activities, and every minute of their stay here has been crowded with both business and pleasure.

Mrs. E. M. Land, of Statesville, president, has presided over all the sessions.

Miss Isabel Busbee, of Raleigh, chairman of the Garden Club department, made the first talk of the morning session. She told of plans for beautifying the lands of the Farm Colony at Kinston.

Mrs. J. M. Hobgood proposed that the first week in December be set aside as the time to send shrubs and bulbs to the Farm Colony, and members were urged to consider this matter and do everything possible to help in this improvement.

Mrs. John D. Robinson, chairman of the Constitution Department, emphasized the need of highway beautification by removing advertisements. She also urged that North Carolina select a state bird.

Every woman was urged to plant a tree this fall and to dedicate it on Feb. 22. They were asked to plant living Christmas trees. Education of the holly was stressed.

Miss Wilbur Pless spoke briefly on "Modern and Foreign Literature." Mrs. C. J. Savage, of the Music Department, said they aimed to carry on the work of last year. She told of the need of better music teachers.

She expressed opinion that more interest could be stimulated in music by the offering of prizes. She saw the need of other music besides the radio. More interest was urged for National Music Week.

Mrs. Gilmer reported on finances and offered several recommendations. She said the social service scholarship offer by the organization should be made a loan instead of a gift.

Miss Weil, chairman of the committee on International Relations, called for a complete study of international relations, disarmament, and other things relative to a spirit of friendship between the principal nations of the world. She referred to the convention at Washington in January and thought good results had been achieved.

WILL DEFEND SELF BEFORE CHURCH BODY

Bishop Cannon Asks Suspension of Judgment Until Charges Are Settled

Washington, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, has decided to make his defense against accusation brought by four ministers, before an investigating committee of his church.

The bishop announced in a statement last night that although now acquainted with the nature of the charges he would refrain from making a public refutation. He asked public suspension of judgment until the case is settled.

"The inclination I strong," he said, "to make now a clear full sweeping statement in denial of these complaints. This, however, is not a case to be tried in the newspapers but must be tried by the regular procedure prescribed by the law of the church."

"When ever a church committee of investigation shall meet I will then make my statement of denial and refutation of the complaints but until then I do not expect to make a further statement to the press."

"I simply ask suspension of judgment until these complaints have been properly adjudicated in accordance with the procedure prescribed by the church."

The charges were filed with Bishop W. N. Ainsworth of Birmingham, while Cannon was in Brazil. He protested that he was brought irregularly and that he should have been given an opportunity to confer with his accusers before the complaint was presented.

The accusations have not been made public but it has been indicated they cover more than the stock market and political activities of the bishop.

Bishop Ainsworth is expected to appoint a committee of twelve ministers to investigate an alleged whether a church trial should be held.

Bishop Cannon added he appreciated the confidence and loyalty of friends expressed in letters and telegrams constantly being received. These, he said, "nullify the abuse, bitterness and scurrility of our communications usually unsigned and from wet or Roman Catholic writers."

Blames The Business And Government Leaders For Unemployment In U. S.

Woman Fails to Recover In Suit For Cracked Ribs

Minneapolis, Oct. 10.—(AP)—A fellow who hugs with rib-crushing ardor should hardly be punished, Municipal Judge Levi Hall holds, when the embrace results in two broken ribs.

Miss Anna Millow was suing Edward Hensley yesterday for $75 damages because he "hugged her with such enthusiasm as to crack two of her ribs. She paid a doctor $3 to repair the damage."

"I'll give you a judgment for $3 doctor bill," Judge Hall said. "But for the other $72—well, a good squeeze like that was worth $72."

Former Congressman Sentenced to Prison For Making Whiskey

Baltimore, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Manuel Herrick, former congressman from Oklahoma, arrested in August while working at a liquor still in southern Maryland, was sentenced today in Federal District court to six months in jail for this manufacture and possession of liquor.

Two men arrested with him also were sentenced by Judge Morris A. Soper. William F. Airey was given six months and Plus B. Ennels, the latter a negro, three months. The sentences are to be served in the city jail here.

Herrick was arrested August 2 while working at a 500 gallon still in St. Mary's county. Prohibition agents testified at his trial here Wednesday that he dressed in overalls, he was firing a boiler, and ran with the other when the officers appeared.

Senator Wagner, of New York, Speaking Before the American Federation of Labor, Also Assails Use of the Injunction in the Handling of Labor Disputes

Boston, Mass., Oct. 10.—(AP)—United States Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York in an address today before the convention of American Federation of Labor, placed responsibility for unemployment at the door of business and government leaders who neglect in prosperous time to prepare for periods of depression.

He also assailed use of the injunction the sole utility of which he said, "is to harass the union, to hamper its work and to render inoperative the very function the trade organization was designed to exercise."

"Having experienced loss of work because of seasonal slack, of periodic depression, of foreign competition, of change in fashion, of machine substitution, the unemployed worker must ironically smile when he reads the well meaning advice extended to him that if only he would resume his normal purchases prosperity would resume its uninterrupted course. I wonder what his emotion is when he reads the official assurance that our fundamental national assets are undiminished. He knows only too well that he lives in a land of plenty when he has in the past shared in making. These facts only aggravate the rancor in his heart that he never nevertheless go without work and without wages."

NEGRO YOUTH EXECUTED AT STATE PRISON

Harvey Lawrence, of Hertford, Pays the Death Penalty for Burglary

Raleigh, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Harvey Lawrence, 17-year-old Hertford County negro, was electrocuted at state's prison this morning for first degree burglary.

The young negro was the third person to die in the electric chair since its installation in 1901 for the crime of burglary.

Lawrence was charged with forcible entry into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey of Hertford county. After entering the home, Lawrence attacked Mrs. Bailey, a 35-year-old woman, breaking her nose, loosening her teeth and shooting her twice. Mr. Bailey, 75, is a semi-invalid.

Lawrence appealed to the Supreme court from his lower court conviction on the grounds that presence of armed militia at the time of his trial was prejudicial. The higher court refused him a new trial.

The negro was intoxicated at the time he committed the crime and his attorney appealed to Gov. O. Max Gardner to commute his sentence because he did not know what he was doing at the time he attacked Mrs. Bailey, but the Governor declined to intervene in the case.

Special Subscription Offer

Instead of a subscription campaign in which a large amount of money is given away to contestants, the management of The Reflector has decided to put on a subscription drive beginning today, in which the premium money is given to the subscriber in the form of a forty per cent discount on all yearly subscriptions paid during the limited time that this offer is open.

A similar offer was made during the recent co-operative dollar day staged by members of the Greenville Merchants Association and the response was most gratifying to us, but many persons because of financial conditions here at that time were unable to take advantage of the offer and after receiving numbers of requests from our subscribers we have decided to repeat our special for a limited time in order that all our subscribers and those who would like to become subscribers may receive the benefits of this forty per cent savings.

Under this offer no subscriptions will be taken for a shorter period than one year. The regular price of The Reflector is $5.00 per year but while this special offer lasts you can subscribe or renew your present subscription for a full year for $3.00.

This offer will remain open for but a short time and after its close there will be no further reduction of this kind. If you want to save $2.00 on the price of The Reflector, bring or mail your subscription to the Circulation Department at once.

Officers Begin Movement To "Dry Up" Boston After Four Deaths From Liquor

Wets and Drys Engaged In Bitter Debate to Fix Responsibility for Conditions During Legion Meeting; 358 Treated in Hospitals; Much Blindness

Boston, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Orders were out today to "dry up" Boston as wets and drys engaged in bitter debate to fix the responsibility for liquor conditions during the American Legion convention which resulted in the deaths of four and necessitated the treatment of 353 persons in Boston hospitals.

Jonathan Lewis, federal prohibition administrator for New England, issued orders for a clean up by his agents after Paul E. Leary, Little Falls, N. Y., Legionnaire, had been fined $250 in federal court for bootlegging. Leary, agents said, had in his possession ten quarts of liquor. A search of his hotel room revealed liquor price lists and letters and telegrams concerning the delivery of liquor from Miami, Fla.

Scores of cases of temporary blindness and paralysis were reported at the city hospital, the Legion hospital in the Cadet Armory and the Haymarket Relief station. Hundreds of cats, hospitals officials said, had been treated in their out-patient departments. It was believed that the total treated since last Saturday night would run close to 600 persons.

Lewis denied having a "hands off" policy for the Legion convention and said the arrest of intoxicated persons was purely a local police function. He was explicit in not blaming conditions on the Legion, stating that it was apparent that there had been an effort on the part of liquor peddlers to capitalize the big celebration.

"It would have been impossible," he said, "for us to have attempted to police a crowd of 2,500,000 people. That is for others."

Physicians at hospitals said two of the four deaths could be attributed to excessive use of solidified alcohol used for heating and added that they believed the majority of those treated were not Legionnaires.

Two victims of solidified alcohol were Charles Henry, 48 year old disabled veteran, and his wife, Mildred, medical examiner, George B. McGrath, said.

Conrad Crook, general counsel for the Liberal Civic league, declared that the "big boys" of the run trade in Boston had cleaned up fortunes during the week of the convention.

Arthur J. Davis, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, called the "regretful occurrences" of the week "spray" affairs. He said "I do not think that the regretful occurrences should be any general condemnation of the legion."

Plans called for adjournment today until next week. A majority of the commissioners will remain in the capital.

Another adjournment will be called next week, allowing the members to return to their homes in time to vote in the elections. The commission will gather again early in November for the completion of its prohibition report.

Reports that the group had reached an impasse in its dry law deliberations were repudiated at commission headquarters. It was held too early also to say whether the final report of the group will be in the form of majority and minority statements.

Some members have contended the commission should thresh out the entire prohibition question and assume a definite stand.

Judge William Keynon was called back to Iowa last night to act upon cases in his court. Word was received today that he will not return before November.

Newton D. Baker also left Washington last night for Cleveland but plans to return next Wednesday.

Chairman Wickersham has cancelled an appearance before the American Prison association at Louisville, Ky., Sunday night, so he may concentrate on the commission's problems.

After discussion dealing with the general plans for the campaign, the committee considered the program of speakers who will appear here from time to time during the campaign. Among the out-of-the-county speakers mentioned were Josiah William Bailey, Democratic nominee for the U. S. The commission will devote virtually its entire deliberations in coming weeks to formulating conclusions on the Volstead enforcement findings.

Plans called for adjournment today until next week. A majority of the commissioners will remain in the capital.

The East Carolina Teachers College entertained at dinner in honor of the Council of North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs last evening at six o'clock, in their new dining room. The guests were received at Cotten Hall at 5:15 by Miss Annie Morton, dean of the college, and a committee consisting of members of the faculty and girls. From there they were conducted on a tour of the campus. At each hall they were received by members of the faculty, acting as hostesses. The visitors were much interested in the well planned new buildings, and delighted at the rapid growth of the college. At six o'clock they assembled in the reception hall of the dining room.

Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, charter member of the college faculty, and one of the hostesses, when the college entertained the Council eighteen years ago, acted as hostess. She extended greetings in behalf of the women of the faculty. In introducing Mr. Wright, president of the college, Miss Jenkins said:

"One man was not satisfied to stop with dreaming dreams and seeing visions, but has worked continuously for twenty-one years to make his dreams come true and his visions grow into realizations."

Mr. Wright cordially welcomed the guests on behalf of the college as a whole. He gave some of the interesting inside history, and outlined in a brief and illuminating way some of the plans and ideals of the college.

Mrs. Edward M. Land, president of the N. C. Federation, most graciously responded, expressing the appreciation of the country extended them.

Mrs. W. I. Wooten, president of the Greenville club, was recognized by Miss Jenkins.

The lovely four-course dinner served under the direction of Mr. A. A. Henderson and Mrs. Nannie Jeter, convinced the visitors there are more phases to the college than beautiful buildings and educational ideals. The Sallie Lunn muffins for which Mrs. Jeter is famous, were especially enjoyed.

About one hundred and twenty were present, including President and Mrs. Wright, the women members of the faculty, members of the council, the executive board of the Woman's club, and representatives of the literary clubs of Greenville.

Mrs. Morgan Honored.

R. Morgan, whose birthday fell on that day.

The entire affair was kept secret from the honoree, until the guests arrived at her home, carrying card tables and accessories for a party. Many lovely gifts were presented to his mother by her "Daddy Boy"

Girl Believed Kidnapped By Jealous Lover

Charlotte, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Dobbs told police today they believed their pretty 16-year-old daughter, Ruby, had been kidnapped by a jealous sweetheart.

The girl left her home on the Tuckasee road Monday morning in answer to a telephone call purporting to offer her employment, her parents said.

She has not been seen since. The alarmed parents today renewed an appeal to the public to assist in the search for the girl. Two brothers investigating privately have found no trace.

Three suitors of the girl figured in the case today. Revealing names, police said two are residents of Charlotte and the third, formerly employed at the Charlotte airport, is an aviator located in Pennsylvania. When the airman left Charlotte in June, he warned one of his rivals to "keep away" from Miss Dobbs, her father reported.

ABOUT TOWN

From the standpoint of education, the farm and the home, the Pitt County Fair this year will be one of the best since it was organized several years ago.

Representatives of the various departments of the fair have been working for months on enlargement of the agricultural exhibits, and when the gates swing open next Monday Pitt county people will be treated to a showing that will bring gladness to the hearts of everybody.

In order that everybody may get an opportunity to view the splendid exhibits the management has cut the general admission price from 50c to 25c and this price will be effective both day and night.

There will be plenty of free acts on each day in front of the large grandstand and midway will be filled with hundreds of things of interest. People desiring to see what the county is capable of doing in the way of exhibits of the farm and home should attend and in that way gain a fuller appreciation of the resources and possibilities of the county.

Plans now under way will mean that "Cow Day" November 3 will be one of the greatest trade events staged here this year. Merchants are vying with one another even at this time to stimulate interest in the occasion, and when the day rolls around it will find some exceptionally fine bargains awaiting the thrifty shopper.

The first Cow Day in the history of the city was held last week. It was such a success that merchants at once determined to stage a second event of the kind, giving everybody another opportunity to realize from the vast stocks of merchandise which they have on hand.

Persons interested in Cow Day should visit local merchants and let them explain the many features in connection with the bargain festival.

Greenville extended a cordial welcome to members of the executive council of Federated clubs which met here yesterday and today for the purpose of mapping out a program of future activities. This meeting was one of the most important in years, and was attended by some of the best known clubwomen of the state.

The Federation of Clubs is doing a wonderful work throughout the state, and its activities have been expanded each year until it affects nearly every community.

Greenville is always glad to entertain a gathering of this kind and it is to be hoped the council will find it advantageous to meet here again in the near future. That they will receive the same kind and considerate treatment is assured them in advance.

Fire prevention week is one of the greatest problems affecting public life at this time and it is nothing but right that the people should do everything to observe Fire Prevention Week, as this week has been designated.

Obviously, Governor Gardner knew what he was talking about when he issued his Fire Prevention proclamation, declaring that the property loss was nothing compared with the loss of human life resulting from fires throughout the state. Over two hundred lives were sacrificed on the altar of the fire demon last year, and it is the firm belief of the governor that this should be greatly reduced this year.

The Greenville fire department has exerted every effort to get the people of the city to co-operate with its members in decreasing the annual loss of this city. While they have been fairly successful, the property toll is far too great and should be reduced still more. Try and help the boys out this week by adopting some of the don'ts in connection with the fire prevention program.

The growers from near Greensboro who sold their tobacco on the Greenville tobacco market Wednesday were not only elated over the high prices which they received but expressed surprise at the rapidity with which sales were conducted.

In fact, they were so well satisfied that they declared they were going to return with the remainder of the crop in the near future.

The Greenville market has the distinction of being able to render satisfactory service to thousands of progressive farmers in this section of the country, and judging from the amount of interest displayed by growers in other districts the fame is spreading. There seems to be no question that Greenville is destined to become the principal tobacco market in the world, and with the increase of interest exhibited by farmers in other communities, that time is not so far distant.

A jury after deliberating for ten hours returned a verdict at 10:55 P.M., last night acquitting White. White took the stand to testify that Mims had threatened his life and that he shot to save his own. An unusual incident of the trial was the fact that the courtroom was cleared and all persons searched for weapons Wednesday on order of Judge Hayne F. Rice.

SUCCESS OF CO-OPERATIVE TOBACCO MARKETING WILL DEPEND ON BUSINESS MEN

Our Federal Government realizing the distressed conditions of agriculture created the Federal Farm Board. Our Governor, O. Max Gardner hearing the cries of distress from the tobacco growers of our state has unselfishly and patriotically responded to the challenge, giving days of his time and thought toward relief.

Our Federal Government and State have done all in their power. Now the plan of relief (Co-operative Marketing) is left for us to act upon.

Now the challenge comes to us. Merchants barkers and all business men of our county, what are you going to do about it?

Are you going to fail to grasp this opportunity, our one hope? We earnestly solicit your presence and moral support at the mass meeting in the court house in Greenville, Saturday October 11, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Unless we can stabilize the growing of tobacco in Eastern Carolina we must undergo an economic change which will incur losses and hardships.

Unless the merchant tries to better the condition of the tobacco, farmer can he justly expect the land owner to place additional mortgages upon his home that his tenant may raise another crop of tobacco for the merchant?

The truth is the original land owners are fast disappearing. The average dirt farmer realizes his chances are slim. Between the three evils: inflated values of real estate, high taxes, and low prices for tobacco he cannot last long.

"Invaluable" Say Society Women

MELLO-GLO Face Powder is preferred by beautiful women because it leaves no trace of flakiness, pastiness or irritation. Stays on longer—no shiny noses! Made by a new French process—prevents large pores. Spreads more smoothly—gives a youthful bloom. Very pure. Use MELLO-GLO Face Powder. It's wonderful.

The tobacco grower knows he is playing a losing game, for that reason I believe he will avail himself of this plan of relief if you merchants and business men will give your support.

LABOR BODY TO PUSH WORK IN THE SOUTH

American Federation of Labor Votes to Continue Organization Plans

Baton, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor today started on the formal business of its national convention today by voting to continue its organization campaign among the workers of the South.

A resolution to that effect was passed after Holt Ross, president of the Mississippi Federation, denounced industrial exploitation of women and children in the South.

Previously, a report by the organization committee of the Federation told on encouraging progress in the campaign to improve working conditions of the south and stated that 112 new local unions had been instituted since the organization campaign was ordered at the 1929 convention.

Despite the difficulties with which labor is faced, much progress has been made, Ross said, and praised the efforts made by the American Federation of Labor and its president, William Green, to improve conditions for the southern worker.

Declaring there was great need for assistance by the Federation in the South, Ross charged that "yellow dog" contracts, and injunctions were being freely used against organized labor and that a campaign of propaganda was waged, especially in Alabama, against American Federation of Labor organizations.

He read an advertisement inviting industries to locate in Birmingham, Ala., which stated "there is a great human reservoir of white women labor" and that "76,000 women from 10 years up are willing to work long hours."

For mentioned as outstanding among labor's achievements in the South the nine-hour law for women in Louisiana and Arkansas.

"The battle of labor in the South is just beginning," he said, "and there is a long, hard road ahead."

Defense attorneys pleaded for reasonable bond, but Judge Currie said he took into account the unrecovered $37,186 of the stolen currency and liberty bonds in setting bail at such a high figure.

The quartet was returned to jail as counsel started efforts to secure bond.

Mrs. Fred Hargett, young daughter of Carl E. Bailey, guard on the truck and one of the defendants, swooned during the hearing and had to be carried from the courtroom. She was unconscious more than half an hour, crying at intervals, "daddy, oh, daddy!"

The indictment charged Bailey, Walter Thomas, Victor Hunter, and Richard McManus, the latter three of Union county, with conspiracy and robbery. Hunter entered a plea of not guilty; the others reserved their pleas.

BLAMES BUSINESS AND GOVERNMENT LEADERS
FOR DEPRESSION IN U. S.

American people will not "submissively accept these recurrent and lengthening periods of joblessness. They have learned they cannot live by optimism alone," Shiel accept as true the Presidential declaration that the economic fundamentals of the country are unimpaired but that only serves to emphasize the mystery of their own misfortune.

He criticized "our public men who have with much self-satisfaction repeated their own praises for having fended off the dole from the American people."

"Have we in fact kept the dole from America?" he asked. "Is not the dole today in use in every industrial community in the country? What else can you call the disbursements for unemployment relief by every charitable organization and by many municipalities?"

Turning to use of the injunction in labor disputes, he said:

"For thirty years we have agitated against the labor injunction. From every labor platform has resounded the denunciation of government by injunction. Bills in the Federal and State Legislatures have been passed with loud acclaim greeting the prophecy of their advocates that all the abuses of the injunction were thereby remedied. We thought we had changed the law. We thought we had modified the procedure so as to conform to a little more closely to our notions of justice and fair play. And now after three decades of excitement the distance we have travelled is too short to be measured."

"Throughout the United States there are today numerous mandated territories where to all intents and purposes the constitution has been suspended, local law superseded and the only governing code is the injunction edict of a federal or state court."

Former Raleigh Woman Receives Divorce In Paris

Paris, Oct. 10.—(AP)—A divorce was granted here today to Ivey Troutman Pierce from Waldo Pierce, American painter formerly of Boston. They were married in New York August 10, 1920.

Pierce has had a colorful career and at one time became widely known when, ten miles out of Boston on a ship bound for Europe, he jumped overboard and swam back to the Massachusetts metropolis. He was accompanied on that trip by John Reed, an American poet who later died in Moscow.

Ivey Troutman, divorced in Paris today from the painter Waldo Pierce, was one of New York's widely known actresses until her marriage in 1920 to the New England painter of battle scenes.

CRONIN MOST VALUABLE MAN IN AMERICAN

New York, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Joe Cronin, sensational young shortstop of the Washington Senators, today was proclaimed the American league's "most valuable player" for the 1930 by a special committee of members of the baseball writers' association.

The writers, representing each American league city, cast their votes at the request of the Associated Press for the second successive year since the league abandoned its custom of making an official selection.

Cronin, although playing only his second year as a major league regular, merited sufficient votes to beat out Al Simmons of the A's, the league batting champion, and Lou Gehrig, slugging first baseman of the Yankees, in a close contest. Cronin, selected as Washington's most valuable performer by every one of the eight experts, led with a total of 46 points out of a possible maximum of 64.

Simmons and Gehrig were tied for second place with 39 points each. Cahley Gehring, Detroit's second baseman, was fourth with 36. Ted Lyons of the White Sox, fifth with 26, and Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland's sensational young pitcher, sixth with 25 points.

Simmons was the choice of most of the experts for first ranking, being put at the top of the list by four of the eight critics, but his chances of winning the honor were reduced by the nomination of Lefty Grove and Mickey Cochrane by other experts as the representatives of the world's champions.

Cronin was one of the chief factors in the surprising rush of the Senators toward the top this year. He is a sensational fielder and bats for the fine average of .345. He scored 127 runs, collected 203 hits, including 42 doubles, and 13 home runs, besides driving in 119 runs and stealing 15 bases.

The tabulation votes:

Joe Cronin, Washington, 48; Al Simmons, Athletics, 39; Lou Gehrig, Yankees, 39; Charley Gehring, Detroit, 36; Ted Lyons, Chicago, 26; Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland, 25; Addie Morgan, Cleveland, 15; Mickey Cochrane, Athletics, 13; Bob Grove, Athletics, 8; Babe Ruth, Yankees, 7; Danny MacFayden, Boston, 7; Leon Goslin, St. Louis, 6; Cary Reynolds, Chicago, 5.

Carolina Bright Bits

Kings Mountain.—(AP)—It was a lovely thing that celebration here Tuesday. It ought to have been. It cost a quarter of a million dollars. So says Clarence A. Kuester, chairman.

Elizabeth City.—(AP)—The washboard and the automatic pistol figured in a duel of colored gents here. Results: Jessie Holly, gunman, dert in head, fined $100; Howard Woodhouse, Washboard wielder, bullet in toe, praised in court.

Winston-Salem.—(AP)—By being indefinite Miss Dorothy Craft saved money. She signed over a check for "approximately $50" to John Poe after an automobile accident. A court has ruled she doesn't have to make it good, the bank having refused to honor it.

BIG CLASHES ARE ALL SET FOR SATURDAY

Atlanta, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Saturday's struggles for southern squadrons send three outstanding contenders in the conference football campaign into the north and south-west and pit four other top line teams against seemingly weaker opponents.

With Georgia and Georgia Tech engaging Yale and Carnegie Tech, respectively, Tulane, holder of the 1929 championship, renews its time honored series with Texas A. & M., at Dallas.

Kentucky anticipates an easy afternoon with Maryville and Tennessee is given a big edge on Mississippi. The two other tests, however, should be considerably closer, but both Vanderbilt and North Carolina are figured better than Virginia Poly and Maryland.

Tennessee's end troubles may slow up the volunteer vehicle tomorrow, aird Holt, reserve, expected to plug one of the gaps made by the loss of the injured Hug and Brandt, was hurt yesterday in scrimmage. McEyer of backfield fame ran signals for the first time, but his participation in scrimmage again was delayed.

South Carolina's crafty Gamecocks, displaying a potent backfield combination of Edens, Boineau, Hicks and Blount, will provide interesting opposition tomorrow for Louisiana State. The Baton Rouge Backaroos, playing small colleges thus far, are leading in Dixie team scoring with 232 points.

A scattering of minor mixups today offers an entree for the week-end with Oglethorpe bucking Manhattan in New York, Birmingham-Southern paired against Union at Birmingham, Mississippi A. & M., taking on Millsaps at Jackson and Wake Forest, battling Baltimore at Wake Forest.

Florida meets its second conference opponent tomorrow in a crippled Auburn eleven. North Carolina State deploys against Clemson, Washington and Lee again lines up before West Virginia's Mountaineers and Virginia Military advances on Citadel. Virginia and Hampden-Sydney hope to make good showings against Pennsylvania and Cornell, both rugged Eastern teams.

SPORTS SLANTS

Old grads like George Ade became poetic when Purdue won the Big Ten football championship of 1929 with an unbeaten team.

It was a great day at Lafayette when the Boilermakers crowned their triumph with a victory over the strong Hoosiers.

Jimmy Phelan, the head coach, was feted and cheered, but not long afterward he yielded to the siren call of the great Pacific Northwest. Phelan now is coach of the University of Washington's Huskies and there has been a tendency to overlook the efforts of his successor, Noble Kizer, another graduate of Notre Dame, in rushing the Purdue eleven for 1933.

It should be noted, therefore, that Purdue has a strong team, with a seasoned line, two good sets of ball-carriers and high hopes of repeating its Western conference victory, despite the loss of stars like Welch, Harms and Sleght. Kizer was the man who developed Purdue's line, one of the strongest in the country last year. From tackle to tackle he has an experienced set of workmen. He has a pair of reserves. He has a flock of good running backs, with Waite, the star quarterback from Louisville, and Yunevich perhaps the best.

"Purdue," writes W. F. Fox, Jr., in the Indianapolis "News," "is imbued with the spirit of winning and until more than one of even two of Purdue's six Big Ten opponents crush this spirit of victory and saturate it with the dilute spirit of victory and turn it into the deluge of touchdowns that means defeat, Purdue will play and fight like a champion."

Yale went south last fall for the first time and absorbed its worst defeat of the 1929 football season at the hands of the University of Georgia. The Bulldogs of Dixie go to New Haven October 11, and the Bulldogs of Eli hope to turn the tables in one of the outstanding inter-collegiate engagements of the early season.

It is no sure-thing that Yale

can do o, however, even with Albie Booth a year seared and the rest of the boys in Blue shaping up fairly well.

Georgia has its 1929 eleven almost intact, regarded by southern experts as one of the strongest contenders for conference championship honors. "Catfish" Smith, who had a lot to do with upsetting the Elis at Athens, is back again doing business for dear old Georgia.

On the same afternoon, Notre Dame dedicates its handsome new stadium with the Midshipmen of Annapolis as playing guests, marking a new era in the fortunes of the Hoosiers.

Noire Dame has never liked the nick-name of "Rockne Rambler" or the wrivallent idea that the boys masticulated at South Bend for the purpose of "joining the football team and seeing the United States" via pullman cars.

They prefer to be known as the "Fighting Irish." Moreover the new stadium, permitting play at home before large and profitable crowds, will result in much less "rambling" than heretofore.

Most of the team's games are at home this year, although Pittsburgh and Southern California will meet on the opposing fields.

GOVERNOR RICHARDS TO ATTEND GRID GAME

Charlotte, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Governor John G. Richards of South Carolina and a "party of eight," will attend the Clemson-North Carolina State football game here Saturday.

"Toots" Causey, local man in charge of arrangements, announced today that Governor Richards' acceptance has been received. No reply from Governor O. Max Gardner of North Carolina, also invited, has been received.

EIGHTY PERSONS DIE IN CHURCH FIRE

Mexico City, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The newspaper La Prensa said today that 80 peasants died in a church at San Carlos, state of Tabasco, when the edifice was set afire by religious enemies.

The newspaper added that those who were not burned to death were shot as they tried to escape.

FANS WATCH DUKE GAME TOMORROW

Charlotte, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The "ifs" and "ands" of football were being talked today as loyal followers of North Carolina teams drew word pictures of the things they hoped will happen on the morrow.

Because of its bearing on the ever-important state championship, the Duke- Davidson game was attracting more than ordinary attention, although the North Carolina-Maryland and Clemson-State tilts will be all-conference affairs.

It will be Duke's first game with the state when the Blue Devils go up against the Wildcats at Durham and will give followers of Jimmy DeHart's proteges an idea on how to rate their team in North Carolina grid circles.

Davidson has an uncrossed goal line and a victory over N. C. State as its chief accomplishments of the season while Duke displays a 32 to 0 triumph over Virginia when it put its best foot forward. Davidson licked the Devils a year ago to even an eight-year rivalry at four games each. Both outfits are reported in excellent condition.

At North Carolina, Captain Nash, Thompson and Underwood were reported nursing injuries of a various kind but all are expected to be in the lineup when Maryland goes on the field at Chapel Hill. Thompson and Underwood, both starting tackles, are limping badly and Nash has a nasty cut under an eye.

Maryland is said to be planning its hopes on a passing game while Coach Collins has plenty of backs he know are good and a lot of linemen yet to prove their wares.

North Carolina State will have a job on its hands in handling Clemson at Charlotte but the showing of the Wolfpack during the week since the Florida disaster speaks well for Van Liew's boys. Sam Gurfau, State's hefty Indian fullback, sprained an ankle in scrimmage this week but is expected to be in condition when the whistle blows. Clemson, in Justus, Harvin and Wel, will present a trio of backs hard to beat and because of these hard-driving ball-carriers, Josh Cody's outfit will be favored over the Pack.

Lecair-Rhyme, not content with having already played Erskin this week, moved things up a day from the regular "Saturday football" and will taken on Newberry under the lights at Hickory tonight. The Lutherans have shown little power this season and the Bears look good for a win.

High Point journeyed down to Clinton yesterday and ran into a 40 to 0 reception from Presbyterian College. The Bluestockings, with wins over Mercer and Chattanooga to their credit, proved too much for the furniture city boys.

Catawba goes to Appalachian. Elon travels to Emory and Henry and Guilford visits Randolph-Macon other games tomorrow.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 10. (AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 1/8 to 10 points under southern and local or commission house selling, but the initial offerings were absorbed at these figures and prices steadied up a few points from the lowest on trade buying and covering. At the end of the first half hour the more active positions were about 2 to 3 points net lower. A few additional notices were reported against the new October contract and that delivery sold off to 10.03, during the early trading or 8 points net lower. Liverpool cables said the market there was lower under hedge selling and local liquidation and that the cloth demand from India and China was easily satisfied.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 10. (AP)—Persistent buying on the part of houses with eastern connections led to a decided upturn in wheat prices during the late dealings today, the rise was about 3c a bushel from the low quotations touched earlier. Preceding the advance was a statement from a trade authority here putting much stress on assertions that wheat values had been thoroughly deflated months ago, that commodity purchasing power was the lowest since 1850, and that there was absence of intrinsic connection between stocks and grain.

Wheat closed firm 1 7/8 to 2 3/8 higher than yesterday; corn closed 1/4 to 1 3/8 up; oats at 3-8 to 1 1/2 and provisions varying from 2 decline to a rise of 25c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 10. (AP)—The blackest cloud of gloom Wall Street has experienced since last November suddenly broke away to let in the sunlight today. As a dizzy decline in share prices was suddenly reversed just before one o'clock. Selling poured into the market an enormous volume during the early hours of the session, but it was well taken until around midday, when sharp declines in stocks identified with the Harley Case interests caused widespread alarm. These shares suddenly met strong effective support, however, and rallied spectacularly. Among the Clarke stocks, identified in Wall Street with Pynchon & Co., Fox Film dropped 9 points, and regained its loss. Lowes tumbled 10, and regained most of the decline. United Light A dropped 9 points to 20, but soon got back to 26. General theatres tumbled 8 points to 14 1/2 before rallying. The day's business news was dominated by the unfilled tonnage report for U. S. Steel as of Sept. 30, while the report showed a drop of 35,866 to the lowest level in three years, and was moderated indeed in contrast to the drop of 441,351 in August, although some optimistic observers had looked for little change. It was apparently small enough to discredit the loudst of the calamity howlers, for speculative spirits were immediately buoyed up. Call money continued firm at 2 percent, indicating that commercial requirements for funds were taking up the recent slack in the money market.

FEDERATION OF CLUBS TO CONCLUDE FALL SESSIONS HERE IN LATE AFTERNOON

Miss Harriet Elliott, chairman of the committee on Legislation, told of the legislative program for 1931. She explained the program for the year which provides for establishment of women's and children's bureaus in the Department of Labor, endorsement of a fifty-hour week and not more than a ten-hour day for women, the prohibiting of night work for women, support of the eight month's school term for all children, of the program of the State Board of Public Welfare.

"The economic effect of crime is at least equivalent to the unemployment of two million, six hundred thousand persons," said Col. Joseph D. Sears, noted New Jersey penologist, in addressing the Federation last night.

Colonel Sears is president of the Eastern-Southern Conference on State Institutional Labor, a members of the Board of Managers of the New Jersey state prison, and vice-chairman of the National Prison Emergency Committee. His address last night has much significance in view of the fact that the organized club women of the state who are here to make definite plans for the coming year's work, are emphasizing the need for studying prison reform and reorganization. Before coming here, he visited the state prison in Raleigh, several typical chain gangs and several typical chain gangs and conferred with several prison officials. In introducing Colonel Sears, Mrs. W. T. Bost, State Commissioner of Charities and Public Welfare, announced that the Eastern-Southern Conference on State Institutional Labor will be held in Raleigh during December. She thought Colonel Sears' visit to the state exceptionally well-timed, as the state is in the midst of a thorough prison reform. "An after all," she pointed out, "the criminal is the legitimate child of society."

Colonel Sears opened with a discussion of prison reorganization. He explained that the conference was called jointly by the commonwealth of Virginia and the National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor for the purpose of discussing the present prison emergency and especially to make plans for the unemployment of prisoners when the Hawes-Cooper Act shall go into effect. This act will destroy the market for prison contract made goods throughout the country. The address included a concise but thorough discussion of the development of the present penal systems in the country, the parole and probation system, better classification of prisoners, and the question of housing.

"The duty of the state," he pointed out, "is to protect the community, not alone by keeping the convict in safe custody but by returning him to society, fitted to deal with the problems of life in a successful manner. It is obvious that unoccupied prisoners are a menace to themselves and to the prison, that the state cannot afford to give occupation merely for occupation's sake, because the cost of housing, feeding and clothing the prison population is enormous. The problem before those administering the prisons today is to give labor of training-value that will at the same time yield sufficient income to minimize the whole cost of maintenance."

The prison population of the United States in a year's time was given as six hundred thousand. This number, it was estimated that 92 per cent are returned to society.

as more skilled criminals. Colonel Sears offered five recommendations and urged the club leaders here for the council meeting to stand solidly behind them. He suggested study of the possibility of classifying prisoners on the ground that such a plan will save the state an infinite number of useful lives. He advised a study of the needs in terms of buildings with a view to building as inexpensively as possible in consideration of sanitary conditions and the work that the prisoners are to do. He would limit the bastille to the most difficult and confirmed type and provide farms and camps for the most hopeful cases with medium security—institutions for the next trustworthy group. "Study your industries, your farming and road work systems, secure the cooperation of your leaders in your farming community, in industry, and those interested in good roads. Study carefully the advantages of centralized purchase, securing the aid of some of the purchasing agents who are employed by the most successful companies in your community. Study your jail situation. See if district farms are possible. Find out what work should be done which will help your state."

In her address, which preceded that of Colonel Sears, Mrs. E. M. Land, Statesville, state president, stressed the need for prison reform as one of the outstanding objectives of the year. She touched upon the legislative program, which was predicted by the resolutions adopted by the convention held in Pinehurst last May. These include a proposal to have the state expend one per cent of the highway funds for roadside beautification, since the federal aid system will match such an appropriation. A reduction of working hours to fifty a week for day work and fifty-five a week for night work, the barring of children from extra hazardous industries, and the gradual abolition of night work for women are included in the program. The raising of the fourth grade requirement for children entering industry to the sixth grade is a part of the program. The program of expansion of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare is to be supported.

Mrs. Land stated that the conditions of women and children workers and a fair and equitable adjustment are matters for serious consideration.

The council meeting opened at eleven o'clock yesterday morning with a meeting of the executive board. Following a beautiful luncheon at the Woman's club house with the Junior Woman's club as hostess, the board of trustees and the finance committee met. Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, chairman of districts, presided over a lengthy session of the district presidents. Mrs. J. T. Hollister, of New Bern, first vice-president, presided over a conference during which department chairmen considered the details of their year's work. The civic program was outlined by Mrs. J. E. Hardin, of Greensboro.

Mrs. Land, accompanied by the council members, made a pilgrimage to Episcopal churchyard here, where Mrs. Sallie Southall Cotten is buried, to place a simple wreath of full-blown white roses upon the grave of the Mother of the State Federation. The brief memorial service was the most impressive feature of the council meeting so far as the leaders of the three hundred and more federated clubs of the state re-dedicated themselves to the precious legacy of Mrs. Cotten. Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, of the English faculty of East Carolina Teachers College, presided over a dinner given the council by the college last night. In responding to greetings extended by President R. H. Wright, Mrs. Land expressed the Federation's pride in the institution. She stated that in the seven-teen years that the Sallie Southall Cotten Loan Fund has been in operation, the Federation has not lost a single penny on loans made girls who are seeking to complete their education. President Wright reviewed the history of the college and reiterated his faith in the younger generation.

Mrs. W. I. Wooten, president of the local Woman's club, presided over last night's business session. Rev. A. W. Fleishmann made the opening invocation.
