NORFOLK MAN TESTIFIES AT SEED INQUIRY

Willis Gregory Tells Federal Trade Commission About the Cottonseed Industry

Raleigh, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Attorneys for the Federal Trade Commission today began examination of Willis N. Gregory of Norfolk, Va., as they continued their probe into the cotton seed industry.

The Trade Commission opened a hearing here Tuesday with F. Marsh, secretary of the North Carolina-Virginia division of the National Cottonseed Products Association as the first witness. Mr. Marsh did not complete his testimony until today.

Mr. Gregory, chairman of the North Carolina-Virginia division of the National Association, is president of the Western Cotton Oil company, which has its principal offices in Norfolk, Va., but operates its four mills in North Carolina.

The Eastern company is a subsidiary of the Davidson Chemical company.

Mr. Gregory testified that his mills bought 90 percent of the cottonseed they crush through their own salaried employees and the remaining 10 percent through "50-cent commission buyers" and also through "53-commissioner buyers."

He said that probably more than half of the buy of the mills which crushed about 26,000 or 27,000 tons of seed in the 1929-30 season, was made from "independent buyers."

Walter F. Wooden, trade commission attorney, defined "independent buyer" for Mr. Gregory as "a buyer who with his own money buys seed and sells them to you at whatever price he can get."

Mr. Gregory was asked if his mills had "signed" the code of the National Cottonseed Products Association but he said he did not recall but assumed they had as they were "regular members" of the body.

The matter of reporting prices came up and Mr. Gregory said that he believed "most of the mills" lived up to the code and trade practices of the association but he had heard numerous rumors of variations and infractions.

Labor Federation Adjourns Until Coming Tuesday

Boston, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor annual convention here today stood adjourned until next Tuesday with the exception of a few committee meetings and conferences of state federation delegates.

Delegates devoted the day to recreation, most of them participating in a boat trip down Boston Harbor that included a stop at Hull for dinner.

The convention yesterday took action on a group of resolutions and extracts from the report of the executive council. Authorization of the issuance of an appeal to affiliated organizations of the Federation for financial aid for the 4,000 striking textile workers of Danville, Va., and decision to continue the campaign of reorganization in the South were the most important of these.

The convention also voted favorably on resolutions which favored a drive for the equalization of labor conditions, including working hours, in New England states; supported a drive to organize teachers; opposed the use of prison labor in competition with union labor; and urged enactment by Congress of the Norris "lame duck" bill which was directed at United States Senators who failed to be re-elected.

Capture Live Whale on Coast

Morehead City, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Captains David and Armedia Willis were back in port today, bringing with them a live whale.

Out fishing, the men of the sea sighted a baby whale, threw a rope around it and towed it back to port. The little fellow weighed around 3,000 pounds, it is estimated the usual slight has drawn thousands of spectators.

Negro Believed Victim of "Spell"

Hertford, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Geo. Key's friends are looking for a "Conjure" doctor to relieve him of his present anguish. The young negro, it is said, barks like a dog, grits his teeth, pulls his hair, breaks out windows and destroys furniture. A spell has been cast over him, say those who know.

Doctors have not yet examined Keyes.

U. S. Gun Ordered To Draw Nearer Brazil To Protect Americans

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The cruiser Pensacola has been ordered to Guantanamo to stand by there to proceed later to Brazilian waters if it is necessary to take off American citizens as a result of the revolution in that country.

William R. Castle, Jr., acting secretary of state, announced the action of the American government today. A statement by the department said, however, if the vessel did proceed to Brazilian waters it would be solely to take off Americans.

"In view of the uncertainty as to the future situation in Brazil," the department said, "it has been felt prudent to have a ship near the zone of disturbance to take American refugees, should such action be necessary for the protection of their lives."

"The U. S. S. Pensacola is therefore being ordered to Guantanamo which is three days less steaming distance to Brazil than Hampton Roads where it is at present."

"There are no American naval vessels now in Brazilian waters and the Pensacola is the only ship being ordered to stand by for this duty. If future developments require it to proceed from Guantanamo to Brazil it will do so merely to take off Americans whose lives might be in danger."

MORRISON TO TESTIFY AT NYE INQUIRY

Neither J. W. Bailey Nor F. M. Simmons, However, Expected to Be Summoned

Greensboro, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Cameron Morrison, former governor of North Carolina, will be one of the witnesses at the probe into the Democratic primary of last June when the Nye campaign investigating committee is investigating in Raleigh Monday.

Mr. Morrison, who came to Greensboro to address a Democratic rally last night, was served with a subpoena to appear before the committee shortly after he had finished speaking to a crowd of 600.

Deputy United States Marshal V. C. Bradd, of Greensboro, who served the paper on the former chief executive, said the summons had been received here Thursday. Service was made immediately after the political meeting, he said, in order to give the 17 per cent Mr. Morrison before he left Greensboro for his home in Charlotte.

So far as could be learned here, Mr. Morrison is the first person to be summoned for the Raleigh probe. The Charlotte man was a supporter of Josiah William Bailey, Raleigh attorney, who defeated Senator F. M. Simmons in the Democratic June primary. In the list of contributors to his campaign fund, Mr. Bailey named Mr. Morrison as giving $2,000 to aid him.

Mr. Morrison left Greensboro before he could be reached for a statement.

Raleigh, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Neither J. W. Bailey nor F. M. Simmons, rivals in the Democratic primary which the Nye campaign funds is investigating funds investigation committee will start probing here Monday, is expected to be subpoenaed to appear before the committee, it was learned reliably today.

Fifteen subpoenas have been placed in the hands of Deputy United States Marshal Ivan Byrd of the United States Marshals office here and most of them have been served, he said today. Mr. Byrd refused to divulge the names of the persons summoned in accordance with a request made of him by an agent of the Nye committee, he said.

Grimes Sued for Divorce
Canton, O., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Burlingame Grimes, pitching ace for the St. Louis Cardinals, was named defendant in a divorce suit filed in Common Pleas court here today by Florence Ruth Grimes of Minerva.

Mrs. Grimes charged her husband was cruel and displayed no affection. She also charged that he received "endearing passionate" letters from "other women."

SIXTY NATIONS WILL INSPECT U. S. HIGHWAYS

Roads of Sixteen States to Be Shown As Models to Visiting Delegates

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The highways of sixteen states will be shown as models of road development to highway authorities from sixty countries in extended tours which begin tomorrow.

The first international congress ever held in the western hemisphere reached the adjournment stage today.

The 300 official delegates sent by governments from all parts of the world will travel by rail and by bus in three groups, one through the northeastern section, one south to Florida and the third into the middle-west. The post-congress tours conducted by the highway education board were designed to give the visiting road men a first-hand knowledge of the construction, maintenance and use of all types of modern highways in the United States.

Leaving Washington at midnight following a visit to the Naval Academy at Annapolis and a reception by Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, today, the first group will be taken through Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio and Michigan. This group will arrive in Detroit October 23, where the other tours also will end and the entire delegation proceed to New York for disbandment.

Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida will be visited by the second, touring group, which will end in Detroit October 28. The third will be taken over the roads of Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, reaching Detroit the 25th.

The northeastern tour, planned for a study of high-type heavy traffic roads in densely populated industrial areas including metropolitan areas developments, will be taken by highway officials from 15 countries. Delegates from 35 nations will visit the southern states while 23 countries will be represented on the western excursion.

Monday the southern-bound road officials will be welcomed in Virginia by Governor Pollard and received at Warrenton, Luray and Lexington. After stopping at Roanoke Tuesday, they will reach Winston-Salem that night. Wednesday they will go to Asheville, and the next day to Charlotte. Friday will be spent in Winstonsboro, Chester and Columbia. South Carolina before the departure by rail for Charleston, where the delegates will spend part of Saturday. Reaching Savannah the same day they will continue the next day through Brunswick to St. Simon's. The visitors will arrive in Tallahassee, Fla., late October 20, and the next day will tour west Florida before taking the night train for Ocala. October 22 will be spent there and in Orlando and Tampa.

Leaving Tampa the morning of the 23rd, the road men will visit Punta Gorda and Port Myers. The next day, they will see Miami and Palm Beach, the last stops before entraining for Detroit the night of the 24th.

N. C. University Celebrates Its 137th Birthday

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 12.—(AP)—The University of North Carolina was 137 years old today. With impressive exercises, held in the auditorium of the Methodist church the school celebrated its birthday. North Carolina, historians say, is the oldest state university in point of operation.

President Frank Graham, North Carolinian by birth and training, presided. It was his first appearance as chief of ceremonies as such an occasion.

Many alumni, returned for the Carolina-Maryland football game, heard addresses by Major L. P. McLendon of Durham and R. R. Williams of Asheville, both well known lawyers and graduates of the school.

Declaring that education should not be allowed to take a backward step because of financial depression, Mr. Williams said: "It is the crowning glory of the commonwealth that, in the years when the shadows of distress have fallen heaviest upon the land, the flame of education has leaped highest in the hearts of our people."

TWO TRAINMEN KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Two engine men were killed in a collision between a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad train Number 14, east bound from Denver to St. Louis, and an automobile which had been abandoned on the tracks near Reynolds, Neb., at 1:45 o'clock this morning.

HEAD OF BAR ASSOCIATION PASSES AWAY

Josiah Marvel Dies Suddenly From Heart Attack At His Home In Delaware

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Josiah Marvel, Democratic National committeeman from Delaware and president of the American Bar association, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home near here early today.

Mr. Marvel, who was 64, succumbed a short time after the arrival of a physician at his home, "Hantooko", Greenville. His death came as a distinct shock to his family and friends.

Active in the Democratic party's state and national affairs for years, Mr. Marvel was defeated for the nomination as U. S. Senator by Thomas F. Bayard at the Democratic State convention in September 16 last. Mr. Marvel was known by the "drys" while Mr. Bayard ran as a pronounced "wet."

A long and distinguished career in the legal profession was climaxed on August 22, of this year when Mr. Marvel was elected unanimously president of the American Bar Association at its convention in Chicago. He succeeded Henry Upson Sims of Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. Marvel was prominent in Delaware law and political circles and in the councils of the Democratic party. He also was noted as an orator and an authority on the Constitution.

The firm of Marvel and Marvel, of which he was a member, has a large corporation and general law practice. During his political career he had many opportunities of becoming a candidate for public office, but refused, preferring to remain in the background.

He was born on a farm near Georgetown, Del., the son of Joe Marvel and Harriet Ann Marvel. His forefathers were among the earliest English settlers in this country. The original Marvel homestead was on a tract of land at Georgetown granted by King George 3rd, and the family lived there for six generations.

Mr. Marvel's mother was a descendant of Thomas Jefferson, and of the Rodneys, of Delaware.

He embarked upon a career as a school teacher after finishing his education in the district schools of Sussex county, Delaware, but later registered as a law student in the office of Judge George Gray, Wilmington.

Working during the day and studying at night he succeeded in qualifying and was admitted to the Delaware bar in 1894. That same year he opened his own law office here where he practiced alone for four years. He joined his brother, Judge B. T. Marvel when he returned from the Delaware Supreme Court bench.

Fliers Continue Race Across U. S.

Kingman, Ariz., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Laura Ingalls, St. Louis aviatrix, and Robert Buck, 16, resumed their race to set new west-east trans-continental flight records, left Kingman today for Albuquerque, N. M. They said they probably would stop at Winslow, Ariz., if weather conditions were bad.

Miss Ingalls led Buck into the air. Taking off at 8:45 o'clock (E. S. T.) buck followed ten minutes later.

Victims of R-101 Buried In Single Grave In England

Cardington, England, Oct. 11.—(AP)—To one huge grave in the tiny local cemetery grief stricken Britain this morning carried the 48 gallant airmen who died as a result of the disaster which wrecked the great dirigible R-101 in France last Sunday.

In sight of the tear-dimmed eyes of the concourse of mourners in and about the churchyard, there reared itself into the blue October sky a towering steel mooring mast, at which, only a brief week ago, the silver air Leviathan had tugged impatiently awaiting a momentous voyage of adventure to India with a large crew and distinguished passengers aboard.

The village was crowded with thousands of persons to pay their last tribute, while other thousands stood along the road leading to the adjoining city of Bedford, there to watch the funeral train bearing the bodies from London.

The grave itself was a beautiful, although sad, sight. During the night workmen had transformed the sloping, sandy sides of the excavation into a carpet of fresh green grass, dotted here and there with white and bronze chrysanthemums.

Big Monoplane Columbia Completes Second Flight Over The Atlantic Ocean

Boyd and Connor Complete Flight From New Foundland to Croydon, England; Plane Was Forced Down in Scilly Islands Yesterday, But Escaped Without Injury

Croydon, Eng., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Captain J. Errol Boyd, Canadian and Lieutenant Harry Connor, American, flew into Croydon and set the veteran monoplane Columbia down on the London airfield at 3:55 P. M. today and there fielded the second trans-Atlantic voyage of the famed ship in which Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine traversed the sea three years ago.

Croydon, Eng., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Captain J. Errol Boyd and Lieutenant Harry P. Connor hoped to complete today the trans-Atlantic crossing from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to Croydon which they fell just short of making yesterday when their plane, the veteran Columbia, made a forced landing on Tresco, Scilly Island, 290 miles from the goal.

The two airmen, who left Harbor Grace, at 11:20 A. M. E. S. T., Thursday, were brought down, it was understood here, by a choked gasoline main. Landing was at about 5 P. M., or noon Eastern Standard Time, a little more than 24 hours after their start.

The plane, in landing at Tresco, was more than 150 miles off of its course, far to the south of Bant's Bay and that section of the Irish Coast which Lieutenant Connor, navigator on the exact flights of Roger Q. Williams to Bermuda, had planned to pass over en route to Croydon.

Although the plane's landing was forced, and Tresco is a very small island almost at the extremity of the British Isles, the Columbia, in which Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine crossed the Atlantic to Germany, was not damaged.

Levine, who is in England, when first hearing of the fate of the two aviators' trans-Atlantic attempt, wired them that he would entrain last night for Cornwall and fly to Tresco, but when he learned their intention of proceeding today he changed his mind and decided to await them here.

First word of the end of the Columbia's second trans-Atlantic adventure came from the Coast Guard on St. Mary's Island, near Tresco, who telegraphed that the plane had landed on a small beach on the neighboring island and that both fliers and plane were safe. Motor trouble, their message said, forced the plane down short of its goal.

Some concern had been felt for the Columbia up to the time of its landing although a plane, apparently it, had been signed by the steamer Virginia, about 200 miles off lands' end, and somewhat off the shipping lane.

Gastonia.—(AP)—Gastonia is to have an official weather station. Equipment was received yesterday.

Inauguration of Mail Service To Brazil Deferred

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Inauguration of service on the air mail route from Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, to Santos, Brazil, which was to have taken place on October 23, has been deferred because of Revolutionary disorders in Brazil. Assistant Postmaster Governor announced today the decision was "due to present conditions affecting international air mail service in South America."

He said any letters that already have been posted for transmission by the first flight will be retained for quick dispatch.

CANNON QUILTS AS PRESIDENT GIRLS COLLEGE

Methodist Bishop Replaced By N. P. Angle At Blackstone, Va.

Blackstone, Va., Oct. 11.—(AP)—The official connection of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., with Blackstone College for Girls, an institution he founded and headed for almost a quarter-century, today was severed.

Coincident with an announcement from the trustees of the college that the Bishop had been replaced as president of their board by N. P. Angle, of Rocky Mount, Va., the churchman made public his letter of resignation as a member and head of the board.

All eighteen members present at a meeting of the trustees here yesterday voted for Mr. Angle as Bishop Cannon's successor, the board announced.

Members of the board said after a previous meeting on September that Bishop Cannon's affiliation with the college as president had been discussed at that time. Further information was withheld until Angle's election yesterday.

In his letter of resignation, a copy which he telegraphed to the Richmond Times-Dispatch last night, Bishop Cannon said that "since 1928 there has been a division of sentiment among the people in the territory from which the college naturally draws its support. A number of these people," he stated, "have disagreed with my views and my activities during the past two years."

"At this time when the college is endeavoring to increase its patronage and endowment it is vital that there shall be decided results. It has decided therefore, without any suggestion from any person or any committee of the college, to present my resignation as the president and as a member of the board of trustees and I desire that this resignation shall be accepted promptly."

TO PROPOSE NO COMPROMISE IN REVOLUTION

Government Spokesman In Brazil Determined to Crush Forces of Rebels

Rio De Janeiro, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Government spokesmen declared today that there would be no compromise with the Revolutionists who are operating in the states of Rio Grande Do Sul, Minas Gerais, Parahyba and other localities. The government is prepared for a campaign of several months if necessary, and rapidly in strengthening the army with the additional of reservists and volunteer battalions.

Additional strength also is being given the navy with the conversion of commercial vessels into warcraft. Thus far the commandante Capella, of the Floyd Brasileiro line, and the steamers Itaqueiro and Itagira of the Costeira company have been taken over.

The minister of Justice stated today that federal troops in the state of Para had defeated the rebels, while in Rio Grande Do Sul and Santa Catarina many loyal garrisons were fighting strongly against the insurgents.

All amateur radio stations strong enough to receive from points as far away as Buenos Aires were closed today, the government basing its action on broadcasts from the Argentine capital which tell of revolutionary activities. An official statement designates such reports and others from the interior as false.

Police Continue Their Search for The Phantom Lover

Arkansas adventures of George W. E. "Jiggs" Perry, Milwaukee phantom lover, credited by authorities with five marriages, have led to the recovery of the automobile of one of his "wives," whom he is accused of slaying, but the quest for Perry, himself, today seemed far from an end.

Police found the dead woman's automobile in a garage here, learned that Perry had promised to visit a Blytheville girl yesterday, and developed high hopes of nabbing him. The hopes collapsed when Perry failed to appear last night.

Today police believed he was in hiding elsewhere with no intention of visiting Miss Dorothy Davis, 21, brunette daughter of a widow, or of reclaiming the sedan once owned by Mrs. Cora Belle Hackett, who married him at Chicago last June after answering his newspaper "want ad." She later was found shot to death on a northern Wisconsin Indian reservation.

Perry drove here in the sedan, used it in calling on Miss Davis, and stored it in a garage on September 9 as security for $150 borrowed from a Blytheville acquaintance.

Deserted "wives" of Perry have been reported in Milwaukee, Harrisburg, Ill., St. Louis, and Cleveland. The fifth "Mrs. Perry" appeared at Harrisburg. The first, married in 1913 at Milwaukee, she left her son after their third child was born, 14 months ago.

Say Social Methods Not the Kind to Win Members for Church

Milwaukee, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Social methods are not the kind to win church members, the United Lutheran in biennial convention were told in a paper prepared for reading today by Dr. Jacob W. Knapp of Cincinnati. "Soup and suppers will never win the world for Christ," said Dr. Knapp, who is executive secretary of the Lutheran Brotherhood.

Saving, he said, is a "man's job." The introduction of secular address "and trifles" is "utterly out of harmony with the church and the purposes of the brotherhood."

Reports to the convention included that of Dr. Frank M. Ulrich, Philadelphia, chairman of the committee on women's work, said the Women's Missionary Society had adopted a budget of nearly $1,000,000 for the next two years. The Rev. A. J. Traver, Philadelphia, executive secretary of the Lutheran League, reported appropriations of $30,000, $14,000 and $25,000 to missions and school work in India, Buenos Aires and Porto Rico, respectively.

Business reports constituted most of the day's convention work, discussion centering first on the part of a commission headed by William H. Stacker, Rochester, on conversion of an inventory commission to supervise missions and trust funds of boards and agencies of

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline of 10 to 10 points under southern and local or commission house selling promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables, small domestic consumption figures and reports of increased hedging.

New October sold off to 10.21 at the start and March to 10.31, but the initial offerings were absorbed at these figures and prices steadied up a few points from the lowest on trade buying and covering. At the end of the first half hour the more active positions were about 2 to 3 points net lower. A few additional notices were reported against the new October contract and that delivery sold off to 10.03, during the early trading of 8 points net lower.

Liverpool cables said the market there was lower under hedge selling and local liquidation and that the cloth demand from India and China was easily satisfied.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Persistent buying on the part of houses with eastern connections led to a decided upturn in wheat prices during the late dealings today, the rise was about 3c a bushel from the lowest quotations touched earlier. Preceding the advance was a statement from a trade authority here putting great stress on assertions that wheat values had been thoroughly inflated months ago; that commodity purchasing power was the lowest since 1880, and that there was absence of intrinsic connection between stocks and grain.

Wheat closed firm 1 7/8 to 2 3/8 higher than yesterday; corn closed 1 1/4 to 1 3/8 up; oats at 3-8 to 1 1/4 and provisions varying from 1/2 decline to a rise of 25c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The blackest cloud of gloom Wall Street has experienced since last November suddenly broke away to let in the sunlight today. As a dizzy decline in share prices was suddenly reversed just before one o'clock.

Selling poured into the market in enormous volume during the early hours of the session, but it was well taken until around midday, when sharp declines in stocks identified with the Harley Craike interests caused widespread alarm. These shares suddenly met strong and effective support, however, and rallied spectacularly.

Among the Clarke, stocks identified in Wall street with Pynchon & Co., Fox Film dropped 9 points, and regained its loss. Lowes tumbled 10, and regained most of the decline. United Light A dropped 9 points to 20, but soon got back to 26. General theatres tumbled 8 points to 14 1/2 before rallying.

The day's business news was dominated by the unfiled tonnage report for U. S. Steel as of Sept. 30 while the report showed a drop of 55,886 to the lowest level in three years, and was moderated indeed in contrast to the drop of 441,351 in August, although some optimistic observers had looked for little change. It was apparently small enough to discredit the load of the calamity howlers, for speculative splits were immediately buoyed up.

Called money continued firm at 2 percent, indicating that commercial requirements for funds were taking up the recent slack in the money market.

FEDERATION OF CLUBS TO CONCLUDE FALL SESSIONS HERE IN LATE AFTERNOON

Miss Harriett Elliott, chairman of the committee on Legislation, told of the legislative program for 1931. She explained the program for the year which provides for establishment of women's and children's bureaus in the Department of Labor, endorsement of a fifty-hour week and not more than a ten-hour day for women, the prohibiting of night work for women, support of the eight month's school term for all children, of the program of the State Board of Public Welfare.

"The economic effect of crime is at least equivalent to the unemployment of two million, six hundred thousand persons," said Col. Joseph D. Sears, noted New Jersey penologist, in addressing the Federation last night.

Colonel Sears is president of the Eastern-Southern Conference on State Institutional Labor, a members of the Board of Managers of the New Jersey state prison, and vice-chairman of the National Prison Emergency Committee. His address last night has much significance in view of the fact that the organized club women of the state who are here to make definite plans for the coming year's work, are emphasizing the need for studying prison reform and reorganization. Before coming here, he visited the state prison in Raleigh, several typical chain gangs and conferred with several prison officials.

In introducing Colonel Sears, Mrs. W. T. Bost, State Commissioner of Charities and Public Welfare, announced that the Eastern-Southern Conference on State Institutional Labor will be held in Raleigh during December. She thought Colonel Sears' visit to the state exceptionally well-timed, as the state is in the midst of a thorough prison reform. "An after all," she pointed out, "the criminal is the legitimate child of society."

Colonel Sears opened with a discussion of prison reorganization. He explained that the conference was called jointly by the commonwealth of Virginia and the National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor for the purpose of discussing the present prison emergency and especially to make plans for the unemployment of prisoners when the Hawes-Cooper Act shall go into effect. This act will destroy the market for prison contract made goods throughout the country.

The address included a concise but thorough discussion of the development of the present penal systems in the country, the parole and probation system, better classification of prisoners, and the question of housing.

"The duty of the state," he pointed out, "is to protect the community, not alone by keeping the convict in safe custody but by returning him to society, fitted to deal with the problems of life in a successful manner. It is obvious that unoccupied prisoners are a menace to themselves and to the prison; that the state cannot afford to give occupation merely for occupation's sake, because the cost of housing, feeding and clothing the prison population is enormous. The problem before those administering the prisons today is to give labor of training value that will at the same time, yield sufficient income to minimize the whole cost of maintenance."

The prison population of the United States in a year's time was given as six hundred thousand. Of this number, it was estimated that 92 per cent are returned to society as more skilled criminals.

Colonel Sears offered five recommendations and urged the club leaders here for the council meeting to stand solidly behind them. He suggested study of the possibility of classifying prisoners on the ground that such a plan will save the state an infinite number of useful lives. He advised a study of the needs in terms of buildings with a view to building as inexpensively as possible in consideration of sanitary conditions and the work that the prisoners are to do. He would limit the bascule to the most difficult and confined type, and provide farms and camps for the most hopeful cases with medium security—institutions for the next trustworthy group. "Study your industries, your farming and road work systems, secure the cooperation of your leaders in your farming community, in industry, and those interested in good roads. Study carefully the advantages of centralized purchase, securing the aid of some of the purchasing agents who are employed by the most successful companies in your community. Study your jail situation. See if district farms are possible. Find out what work should be done which will help your state."

In her address, which preceded that of Colonel Sears, Mrs. E. M. Land, Statesville, state president, stressed the need for prison reform as one of the outstanding objectives of the year. She touched upon the legislative program, which was predicted by the resolutions adopted by the convention held in Fifehurst last May. These include a proposal to have the state expend one per cent of the highway funds for roadside beautification, since the federal aid system will match such an appropriation. A reduction of working hours to fifty a week for day work and fifty-five a week for night work, the barring of children from extra hazardous industries, and the gradual abolition of night

Federation. The brief memorial service was the most impressive feature of the council meeting so far as the leaders of the three hundred and more federated clubs of the state re-dedicated themselves to the precious legacy of Mrs. Cotten. Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, of the English faculty of East Carolina Teachers College, presided over a dinner given the council by the college last night. In responding to greetings extended by President R. T. Wright, Mrs. Land expressed the Federation's pride in the institution. She stated that in the seven-teen years that the Sallie Southall Cotten Loan Fund has been in operation, the Federation has not lost a single penny on loans made girls who are seeking to complete their educations. President Wright reviewed the history of the college and reiterated his faith in the younger generation.

Mrs. W. I. Wooten, president of the local Woman's club, presided over last night's business session. Rev. A. W. Fleischmann made the opening invocation.

NORFOLK MAN TESTIFIES AT SEED INQUIRY

Willis Gregory Tells Federal Trade Commission About the Cottonseed Industry

Raleigh, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Attorneys for the Federal Trade Commission today began examination of Willis N. Gregory of Norfolk, Va., as they continued their probe into the cotton seed industry.

The Trade Commission opened a hearing here Tuesday with P. Marsh, secretary of the North Carolina-Virginia division of the National Cottonseed Products Association as the first witness. Mr. Marsh did not complete his testimony until today.

Mr. Gregory, chairman of the North Carolina-Virginia division of the National Association, is president of the Western Cotton Oil Company, which has its principal offices in Norfolk, Va., but operates its four mills in North Carolina.

The Eastern company is a subsidiary of the Davidson Chemical Company.

Mr. Gregory testified that his mills bought 90 percent of the cottonseed they crush through their own salaried employees and the remaining 10 percent through "50-cent commission buyers" and also through "$3-commissioner buyers."

He said that probably more than half of the buy of the mills which crushed about 26,000 or 27,000 tons of seed in the 1929-30 season, was made from "independent buyers."

Walter P. Wooden, trade commission attorney, defined "independent buyer" for Mr. Gregory as a "buyer who with his own money buys seed and sells them to you at whatever price he can get."

Mr. Gregory was asked if his mills had "signed" the code of the National Cottonseed Products Association but he said he did not recall but assumed they had as they were "regular members" of the body.

The matter of reporting prices came up and Mr. Gregory said that he believed "most of the mills" lived up to the code and trade practices of the association but he had heard numerous rumors of variations and infractions.

Labor Federation Adjourns Until Coming Tuesday

Forton, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor annual convention here today stood adjourned until next Tuesday with the exception of a few committee meetings and conferences of state federation delegates.

Delegates devoted the day to recreation, most of them participating in a boat trip down Boston Harbor that included a stop at Hull for dinner.

The convention yesterday took action on a group of resolutions and extracts from the report of the executive council. Authorization of the issuance of an appeal to affiliated organizations of the Federation for financial aid for the 4,000 striking textile workers of Danville, Va., and decision to continue the campaign of reorganization in the South were the most important of these.

The convention also voted favorably on resolutions which favored a drive for the equalization of labor conditions, including working hours in New England states; supported a drive to organize teachers; opposed the use of prison labor in competition with union labor; and urged enactment by Congress of the Norris "lame duck" bill which was directed at United Senators who failed to be re-elected.

Capture Live Whale on Coast

Morehead City, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Captains David and Armedia Willis were back in port today, bringing with them a live whale.

Out fishing, the men of the sea sighted a baby whale, threw a rope around it and towed it back to port. The little fellow weighed about 3,000 pounds, it is estimated the usual sight has drawn thousands of spectators.

Negro Believed Victim of "Spell"

Hertford, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Geo. Key's friends are looking for a "Conjure" doctor to relieve him of his present anguish. The young negro, it is said, barks like a dog, grinds his teeth, pulls his hair, breaks out windows and destroys furniture. A spell has been cast over him say those who know.

Doctors have not yet examined Key.

U. S. Gun Ordered To Draw Nearer Brazil To Protect Americans

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The cruiser Pensacola has been ordered to Guantanamo to stand by there to proceed later to Brazilian waters if it is necessary to take off American citizens as a result of the revolution in that country.

William R. Castle, Jr., acting secretary of state, announced the action of the American government today. A statement by the department said, however, if the vessel did proceed to Brazilian waters it would be solely to take off Americans.

"In view of the uncertainty as to the future situation in Brazil," the department said, "it has been felt prudent to have a ship near the zone of disturbance to take American refugees, should such action be necessary for the protection of their lives."

"The U. S. S. Pensacola is, therefore being ordered to Guantanamo which is three days less steaming distance to Brazil than Hampton Roads where it is at present.

"There are no American naval vessels now in Brazilian waters and the Pensacola is the only ship being ordered to stand by for this duty. If future developments require it to proceed from Guantanamo to Brazil it will do so merely to take off Americans whose lives might be in danger."

MORRISON TO TESTIFY AT NYE INQUIRY

Neither J. W. Bailey Nor F. M. Simmons, However, Expected to Be Summoned

Greensboro, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Cameron Morrison, former governor of North Carolina, will be one of the witnesses at the probe into the Democratic primary of last June when the Nye campaign investigating committee opens its hearings in Raleigh Monday.

Mr. Morrison, who came to Greensboro to address a Democratic rally last night, was served with a subpoena to appear before the committee shortly after he had finished speaking to a crowd of 600. Deputy United States Marshal J. C. Bradley, of Greensboro, who served the paper on the former chief executive, said the summons had been received here Thursday.

Service was made immediately after the political meeting, he said, in order to give the 11 per cent to Mr. Morrison before he left Greensboro for his home in Charlotte.

So far as could be learned here, Mr. Morrison is the first person to be summoned for the Raleigh probe. The Charlotte man was a supporter of Josiah William Bailey, Raleigh attorney, who defeated Senator F. M. Simmons in the Democratic June primary. In the list of contributors to his campaign fund, Mr. Bailey named Mr. Morrison as giving $2,000 to aid him.

Mr. Morrison left Greensboro before he could be reached for a statement.

Raleigh, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Neither J. W. Bailey nor F. M. Simmons, rivals in the Democratic primary which the Nye campaign funds in which the Nye campaign investigation committee will start probing here Monday, is expected to be subpoenaed to appear before the committee, it was learned reliably today.

Fifteen subpoenas have been placed in the hands of Deputy United States Marshal Ivan Byrd of the United States Marshals office here and most of them today. Mr. Byrd refused to divulge the names of the persons summoned in accordance with a request made of him by an agent of the Nye committee, he said.

Grimes Sued for Divorce

Canton, O., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Burling Grimes, pitching ace for the St. Louis Cardinals, was named defendant in a divorce suit filed in Common Pleas court here today by Florence Ruth Grimes of Minerva.

Mrs. Grimes charged her husband was cruel and displayed no affection. She also charged that he received "endearing passionate" letters from "other women."

Special Subscription Offer

Instead of a subscription campaign in which a large amount of money is given away to contestants, the management of The Reflector has decided to put on a subscription drive beginning today, in which the premium money is given to the subscriber in the form of a forty per cent discount on all yearly subscriptions paid during the limited time that this offer is open.

A similar offer was made during the recent co-operative dollar day staged by members of the Greenville Merchants Association and the response was most gratifying to us but many persons because of financial conditions here at that time were unable to take advantage of the offer and after receiving numbers of requests from our subscribers we have decided to repeat our special for a limited time in order that all our subscribers and those who would like to become subscribers may receive the benefits of this forty per cent savings.

Under this offer no subscriptions will be taken for a shorter period than one year. The regular price of The Reflector is $5.00 per year but while this special offer lasts you can subscribe or renew your present subscription for a full year for $3.00.

This offer will remain open for but a short time and after its close there will be no further reduction of this kind. If you want to save $2.00 on the price of The Reflector, bring or mail your subscription to the Circulation Department at once.

SIXTY NATIONS WILL INSPECT U. S. HIGHWAYS

Roads of Sixteen States to Be Shown As Models to Visiting Delegates

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The highways of sixteen states will be shown as models of road development to highway authorities from sixty countries in extended tours which begin tomorrow.

The first international road congress ever held in the western hemisphere reached the adjournment stage today.

The 300 official delegates sent by governments from all parts of the world will travel by rail and by bus in three groups, one south to the northeastern section, one south to the middle-west, the third into the middle-west. The post-congress tours, conducted by the highway education board were designed to give the visiting road men a first-hand knowledge of the construction, maintenance and use of all types of modern highways in the United States.

Leaving Washington at midnight following a visit to the Naval Academy at Annapolis and a reception by Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, today, the first group will be taken through Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio and Michigan. This group will arrive in Detroit October 26. The third will be taken over the roads of Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, reaching Detroit the 25th.

The northeastern tour, planned for a study of high-type heavy traffic roads in densely populated industrial areas including metropolitan area developments, will be taken by highway officials from 15 countries. Delegates from 35 nations will visit the southern states while 23 countries will be represented on the western excursion.

Monday the southern-bound road officials will be welcomed in Virginia by Governor Pollard and be received at Warrenton, Luray and Lexington. After stopping at Roanoke Tuesday they will cross into North Carolina and reach Winston-Salem that night. Wednesday they will go to Asheville, and the next day to Charlotte. Friday will be spent in Winston-Salem, Chester and Columbia. South Carolina before the departure by rail for Charleston, where the delegates will spend part of Saturday. Reaching Savannah the same day they will continue the next day through Brunswick to St. Simon's. N. C. University Celebrates Its 137th Birthday

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 12.—(AP)—The University of North Carolina was 137 years old today. With impressive exercises, held in the auditorium of the Methodist church the school celebrated its birthday. North Carolina, historians say, is the oldest state university in point of operation.

President Frank Graham, North Carolinian by birth and training, presided. It was his first appearance as chief of ceremonies as such an occasion.

Many alumni, returned for the Carolin-Maryland football game, heard addresses by Major L. P. McLendon of Durham and R. R. Williams of Asheville, both well known lawyers and graduates of the school.

Declaring that education should not be allowed to take a backward step because of financial depression Mr. Williams said: "It is the crowning glory of the commonwealth that, in the years when the shadows of distress have fallen heaviest upon the land, the flame of education has leaped highest in the hearts of our people."

HEAD OF BAR ASSOCIATION PASSES AWAY

Josiah Marvel Dies Suddenly From Heart Attack At His Home In Delaware

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Josiah Marvel, Democratic National committeeman from Delaware and president of the American Bar Association, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home near here early today.

Mr. Marvel, who was 64, succumbed a short time after the arrival of a physician at his home, "Hancock", Greenville. His death came as a distinct shock to his family and friends.

Active in the Democratic party's state and national affairs for years, Mr. Marvel was defeated for the nomination as U. S. Senator by Thomas F. Bayard at the Democratic State convention on September 16 last. Mr. Marvel was backed by the "drys" while Mr. Bayard ran as a pronounced "wet."

A long and distinguished career in the legal profession was climaxed on August 22, of this year when Mr. Marvel was elected unanimously president of the American Bar Association at its convention in Chicago. He succeeded Henry Upton Sims of Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. Marvel was prominent in Delaware law and political circles and in the councils of the Democratic party. He also was noted as an orator and an authority on the Constitution.

The firm of Marvel and Marvel, of which he was a member, has a large corporation and general law practice. During his political career he had many opportunities of becoming a candidate for public office, but refused, preferring to remain in the background.

He was born on a farm near Georgetown, Del., the son of Joe Marvel and Harriet Ann Marvel. His forefathers were among the earliest English settlers in this country. The original Marvel homestead was on a tract of land at Georgetown granted by King George, 3rd, and the family lived there for six generations.

Mr. Marvel's mother was a descendant of Thomas Jefferson, and of the Rodney's, of Delaware.

He embarked upon a career as a school teacher after finishing his education in the district schools of Sussex county, Delaware, but later registered as a law student in the office of Judge George Gray, Wilmington.

Working during the day and studying at night he succeeded in qualifying and was admitted to the Delaware bar in 1894. That same year he opened his own law office here where he practiced alone for four years. He joined his brother, Judge B. T. Marvel when he returned from the Delaware Supreme Court bench.

Fliers Continue Race Across U. S.

Kingham, Ariz., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Laura Ingalls, St. Louis aviatrice, and Robert Buck, 16, resuming their race to set new west-east trans-continental flight records, left Kingman today for Albuquerque, N. M. They said they probably would stop at Winslow Ariz., if weather conditions were bad.

Miss Ingalls led Buck into the air. Taking off at 8:45 o'clock (E. S. T.) buck followed ten minutes later.

Victims of R-101 Buried In Single Grave In England

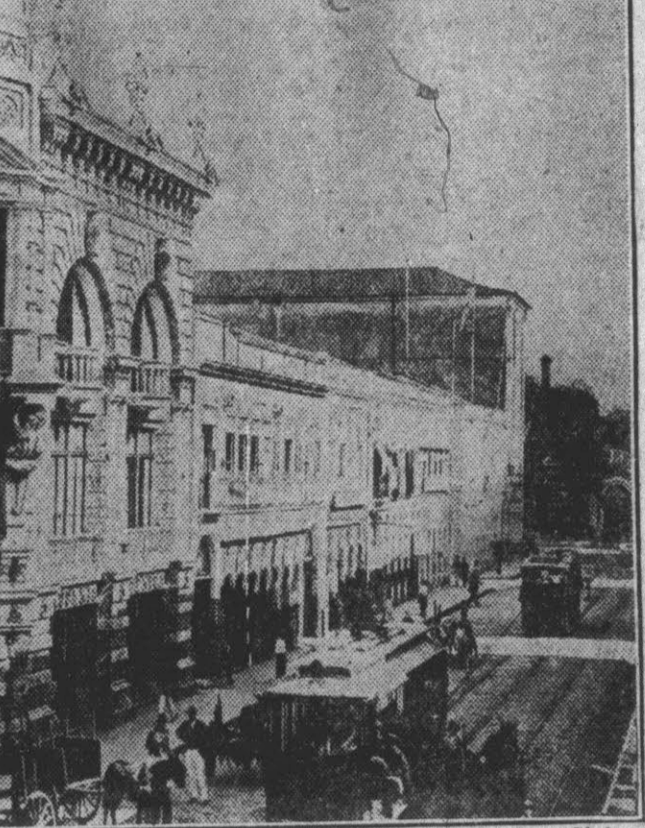

Cardington, England, Oct. 11.—(AP)—To one huge grave in the tiny local cemetery grief stricken Britain this morning carried the 48 gallant aviators who died as a result of the disaster which wrecked the great dirigible R-101 in France last Sunday.

In sight of the tear-dimmed eyes of the concourse of mourners there and about the churchyard there reared itself into the blue October sky a towering steel mooring mast, at the silver old Leviathan had tugged impatiently awaiting to India once voyage of adventure to India with a large crew and distinguished passengers aboard.

The village was crowded with thousands of persons to pay their last tribute, while other thousands stood along the road leading to the adjoining city of Bedford, there to watch the funeral train bearing the bodies from London.

The grave itself was a beautiful, although sad sight. During the night workmen had transformed the sloping sandy sides of the excavation into a carpet of fresh green grass, dotted here and there with white and bronze chrysanthemums.

Big Monoplane Columbia Completes Second Flight Over The Atlantic Ocean

Boyd and Connor Complete Flight From Newfoundland to Croydon, England; Plane Was Forced Down in Scilly Islands Yesterday, But Escaped Without Injury

Croydon, Eng., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Captain J. E. Errol Boyd, Canadian and Lieutenant Harry Connor, American, flew into Croydon and set the veteran monoplane Columbia down on the London airfield at 3:55 P. M. today and there by completed the second trans-Atlantic voyage of the famed ship in which Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine traversed the sea three years ago.

Boyd and Connor hoped to complete today the trans-Atlantic crossing from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to Croydon which they fell just short of making yesterday when their plane, the veteran Columbia, made a forced landing on Tresco, Scilly Island, 290 miles from the goal.

The two aviators, who left Harbor Grace at 11:20 A. M. E. S. T., Thursday, were brought down, it was understood here, by a choked gasoline main. Landing was at about 5 P. M., or noon Eastern Standard Time, a little more than 24 hours after their start.

The plane, in landing at Tresco, was more than 150 miles off of its course, far to the south of Bantley Bay and that section of the Irish Coast which Lieutenant Connor, navigator on the exact flights of Roger Q. Williams to Bermuda, had planned to pass over enroute to Croydon.

Although the plane's landing was forced, and Tresco is a very small island almost at the extremity of the British Isles, the Columbia, in which Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine crossed the Atlantic to Germany, was not damaged.

Levine, who is in England, when first hearing of the fate of the two aviators' trans-Atlantic attempt, wired them that he would entrain last night for Cornwall and fly to Tresco, but when he learned of their intention of proceeding today he changed his mind and decided to await them here.

First word of the end of the Columbia's second trans-Atlantic adventure came from the Coast Guard on St. Mary's Island, near Tresco, who telegraphed that the plane had landed on a small beach on the neighboring island and that both fliers and plane were safe. Motor trouble, their message said, forced the plane down short of its goal.

Some concern had been felt for the Columbia up to the time of its landing although a plane, apparently it had been signed by the steamer Virginia, about 200 miles off lands end, and somewhat off the shipping lane.

Gastonia —(AP)—Gastonia is to have an official weather station. Equipment was received yesterday.

TO PROPOSE NO COMPROMISE IN REVOLUTION

Government Spokesman In Brazil Determined to Crush Forces of Rebels

Rio De Janeiro, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Government spokesmen declared today that there would be no compromise with the Revolutionists who are operating in the states of Rio Grande do Sul, Minas Gerais, Parahyba and other localities. The government is prepared for a campaign of several months if necessary, and rapidly in strengthening the army with the additional of reservists and volunteer battalions.

Additional strength also is being given the navy with the conversion of commercial vessels into warcraft. Thus far the commandante Capella, of the Floyd Brasileiro line, and the steamers Itaque and Itagira of the Costeira company have been taken over.

The minister of Justice stated today that federal troops in the state of Para had defeated the rebels, while in Rio Grande do Sul and Santa Catarina many loyal garrisons were fighting strongly against the insurrectionaries.

All amateur radio stations strong enough to receive from points as far away as Buenos Aires were closed today, the government basing its action on broadcasts from the Argentine capital which tell of revolutionary activities. An official statement designates such reports and others from the interior as false.

Police Continue Their Search for The Phantom Lover

Arkansas adventures of George W. E. "Jiggs" Perry, Milwaukee phantom lover, credited by authorities with five marriages, have led to the recovery of the automobile of one of his "wives," whom he is accused of slaying, but the quest for Perry, himself, today seemed far from an end.

Police found the dead woman's automobile in a garage here, learned that Perry had promised to visit a Blytheville girl yesterday, and developed high hopes of nabbing him. The hopes collapsed when Perry failed to appear last night.

Today police believed he was in hiding elsewhere with no intention of visiting Miss Dorothy Davis, 21, brunette daughter of a widow, or of reclaiming the sedan once owned by Mrs. Cora Belle Hackett, who married him at Chicago last June after answering his newspaper "want ad." She later was found shot to death on a northern Wisconsin Indian reservation.

Perry drove here in the sedan, used it in calling on Miss Davis, and stored it in a garage on September 9 as security for $150 borrowed from a Blytheville acquaintance.

Deserted "wives" of Perry have been reported in Milwaukee, Harrisburg, Ill., St. Louis, and Cleveland. The fifth "Mrs. Perry" appeared at Harrisburg. The first, married in 1913 at Milwaukee, she left her son after their third child was born, 14 months ago.

CANNON QUILTS AS PRESIDENT GIRLS COLLEGE

Blackstone, Va., Oct. 11.—(AP)—The official connection of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., with Blackstone College for Girls, an institution he founded and headed for almost a quarter century, today was severed.

Coincident with an announcement from the trustees of the college that the Bishop had been replaced as president of their board by N. P. Angle, of Rocky Mount, Va., the churchman made public his letter of resignation as a member and head of the board.

All eighteen members present at a meeting of the trustees here yesterday voted for Mr. Angle as Bishop Cannon's successor, the board announced.

Members of the board said after a previous meeting on September that Bishop Cannon's affiliation with the college as president had been discussed at that time. Further information was withheld until Angle's election yesterday.

In his letter of resignation, a copy which he telegraphed to the Richmond Times-Dispatch last night, Bishop Cannon said that "since 1928 there has been a division of sentiment among the people in the territory from which the college naturally draws its support. A number of these people," he stated, "have disagreed with my views and my activities during the past two years."

"At this time when the college is endeavoring to increase its patronage and endowment it is vital that there shall be decided results. It has decided therefore, without any suggestion from any person or any committee of the college, to present my resignation as the president and as a member of the board of trustees and I desire that this resignation shall be accepted promptly."

Business reports constituted most of the day's convention work, discussion centering first on the report of a commission headed by William H. Stacker, Rochester, N. Y., on creation of an investment commission to supervise endowments and trust funds of all the boards and agencies of the church.

ABOUT TOWN

It was fitting that members of the executive council of the North Carolina Federation of Women's clubs, in annual fall sessions here Thursday and Friday, should pay tribute to the late Mrs. Sallie Southall Cotten.

Known as the "mother" of the North Carolina Federation, Mrs. Cotten was the leading spirit in the work even until the time of her death. She always maintained an active interest in the state organization and never tired of rendering notable service.

Heavy artillery of the Democratic party will be unlimbered in this county during the next several days, and Pitt county people will have the opportunity of hearing something about party issues from some of the foremost speakers of the party in this state.

At a meeting of the executive committee here yesterday arrangements were perfected for the campaign, and if optimism counts for anything, and it does, Democrats in this county are going to the polls next month and let the country know where they stand.

Of special interest to the voters is the coming of Josiah William Bailey, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate. Mr. Bailey defeated Senator F. M. Simmons in the primary last June, and is stumping the state even at this time telling the people something about the achievements of his party.

Other speakers to visit the county from time to time include Clyde Hoey, the most matchless orator of the party in the south. Former Governor Cameron Morrison and others. The coming of men of this calibre assures the people of hearing some real oratory, and it is almost a certainty the court house will be crowded to capacity each time.

Fire prevention week will come to a close in North Carolina tonight. Before it is over, why not resolve that you will be more cautious than ever in the handling of fire in the future, and in that way not only safeguarding the life of yourself but hundreds of other people about you.

It is a well established fact that the majority of fires reported in the hundreds of cities throughout the county result from the careless handling of matches and cigarettes. It matters not where you may be, make it a point to think twice before striking a match and discarding a cigarette stub. It is appalling to consider that over two hundred and sixty lives were claimed by the fire demon in North Carolina last year alone. Shall the total be as great this year? The answer must be determined by you—and you alone—and if you will do your part there is no reason on earth why the situation should not be greatly improved.

With hundreds of exhibits displaying the resources and possibilities of Pitt county, the annual Pitt County Fair will get under way in this city Monday and continue for a period of six days.

From the standpoint of exhibits of the home, school and farm, the fair this year will be one of the most important in history. Secretary Haywood Dail has left nothing undone to show the public what the county is capable of doing in these three lines of human endeavor, and he has brought together a collection of exhibits any county would be proud to claim.

In addition to the exhibits, there will be plenty of fun along the midway. Every device known to amusement companies at the present time will be in evidence from day to day, and the vast throngs of pleasure hunters should always find something to appeal to them.

Make it a point to go out to the fair from day to day. The admission price has been reduced to twenty-five cents simply for the purpose of giving everybody an opportunity to attend, and if you don't number yourself among the thousands in attendance it will be your own fault.

Prosperity, according to Willard L. Dowell, of Raleigh, secretary of North Carolina Merchants Association, is nothing more or less than money in circulation.

"We will not get money to circulate faster by hoarding it up in a bank or by reducing wages or discharging employees, or by refusing to buy, or by asking gloom." Mr. Dowell said, speaking from the radio station at Raleigh recently, "but we can get it to circulating by assurance of permanent employment; without any cut in income, by paying our bills promptly, by buying what we want and by cutting out the "hard times talk".

Mr. Dowell is probably the best informed man in the State regarding general business conditions and the public would not go amiss by accepting some of his advice. He has been in intimate touch with the business life of the State for years, and realized that adequate employment is one of the most direct means of relieving hard times and bringing about a return of prosperity.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT OF WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Literary Department of the Woman's club held its first meeting of the season on October 3, with good attendance. Mrs. E. F. Arnold and Mrs. S. N. Graham were hostesses for the afternoon and entertained at the club house.

The usual business was taken up after which the meeting was turned over to Mrs. W. H. Woolard who was the leader for the afternoon. Mrs. R. J. Slay read a very interesting paper—the subject being "An Introduction to the Year's Work"—in which she explained what lines the programs for the year are to follow, using as a basis for discussion Mrs. May Lambertson Pecker's "Books as Windows." The program for this year are called "Some Literary Adventures in Local Color" and all of the books selected to be read are around some American scene. These programs promise to be quite interesting and instructive.

Mrs. Woolard discussed current events which were very entertaining. Each member and several guests responded to roll call with the name and author of the book which she had enjoyed most during the summer.

The hostesses assisted by Derta Elise Arnold and Mary Woolard, served hot tea and delicious sandwiches.

LUNCHEON FOR COUNCIL OF N. C. FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Immediately following the adjournment of the business session of the Council of the N. C. Federation of Women's clubs at the club house Friday morning, the guests were entertained at an elaborate buffet luncheon given at the home of Mrs. W. I. Wooten, president of the local club. The luncheon was given by the College Dames' Association of University Women, Sassa Society, Round Table and End of the Century clubs as a courtesy to the visitors.

Autumn flowers were attractively used throughout the attractive home.

The guests were welcomed at the front door by Mrs. J. L. Wooten and Mrs. L. C. Arthur, and invited into the dining room. The table here was most inviting. A gorgeous bowl of pink roses and yellow snapdragons formed the centerpiece.

Mrs. E. B. Ficklen and Mrs. J. E. Wintlow, seated at the table, served Smithfield ham and chicken salad from huge silver platters. Baked apples, hot rolls, pickles, crackers, hot coffee, apricot ice and cake were passed by Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, Mrs. J. L. Kilgo, Mrs. Judson Blount, Mrs. E. L. Hillman, Mrs. Rufus Stark, Mrs. Hortense Moye, Mrs. E. L. Henderson, Mrs. R. L. Smith, Mrs. Ralph Deal and Mrs. Ed Griffin.

After luncheon several cars carrying the visitors, went to Kinston, where they made a tour of inspection of the State Farm Colony, one of the many projects in which the Federation is interested. Everybody expressed gratification at the way in which the place is kept and the wonderful reclamation work that is being done there.

The Greenville Woman's club feels that the meeting of the council here is an auspicious beginning for the work of this club year. So much interest in the sessions was manifested by the members of the club that it foretells the big things that will be done in the next few months.

SCOUTS TO MEET IN NEW LIBRARY BUILDING

Friday night the Scouts of the Methodist Troop assembled at the Rotary club and marched to the new library. Dr. R. L. Carr met them at the front door and showed them entirely through the library. First he remarked on the colonial style of the front and the large-size bricks. In the vestibule he related how Mr. Sheppard had come to give the money for the building. The group was then shown through the library proper; the adults' reading room, children's reading room, office and the like. The basement was seen and finally the troop landed in the chapel upstairs.

After giving rousing cheers for Dr. Carr, the Scouts opened the meeting by giving the oath. Joe Taft, scoutmaster, assigned certain places at the official opening of the library to the boys. After several questions were answered the meeting disbanded.

NEW TOBACCO ORGANIZATION IS DISCUSSED

Co-operative Movement Talked Over At Meeting of Business Men Here

One of the most enthusiastic and most encouraging of any meetings held in Pitt county this year in regard to the movement for a new tobacco association, was held in the court house in Greenville on Saturday morning. The meeting was called for the purpose of getting out those people who represent the business interest of Pitt county and to get an expression from them as to how they felt towards the new tobacco organization. Quite a number of the same merchants and bankers were at the meeting, and all of those present expressed themselves as being very much interested in the movement and that they were willing to support it if it was started on a sound business basis. All of those present said that they would not discriminate against any farmer who wanted to join the association, but that they would help the man who was not a member.

A motion was made and carried that J. R. Turnage of Ayden and J. H. Blount of Greenville be appointed as a committee to call another meeting in the next week or ten days of all the time merchants and bankers in the county, for the purpose of a further discussion and to get an expression from all of these people in regard to supporting the new organization. More definite information will be given to the public after this meeting.

The sentiment at the meeting was that it is no time to let up in the movement; that the national and state government is supporting co-operative marketing, and that the local people should continue to carry on with the movement.

WEST GREENVILLE P. T. A. MEETS

The Parent-Teacher Association of West Greenville school held its regular meeting for October on Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium.

The sixth grade under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. W. B. Herring, gave a very interesting as well as instructive program on "Flags of North Carolina." Much credit is due the class and teacher in the planning and presenting of this program representing various stages in the history of the flag of our state.

After the enjoyable program, the association held one of its most enthusiastic meetings. Much constructive work was planned for the coming year.

GREENVILLE LIONS TO ESTABLISH HOME OF THEIR OWN SOON

Members of the Greenville Lions club will establish clubrooms of their own sometime in the near future. It was decided at the regular meeting of the organization this week.

The club it was stated, has made arrangements to rent the residence next to the Princeton hotel, on Dickinson avenue, and to convert it into a regular club building. The structure will be remodelled and arranged to meet the future demands of the organization.

When the building has been completed and furnished the club will hold a "house warming" program and invite numbers of its friends to help dedicate the new home. Heretofore, the Lions have been meeting at different club houses.

Another one of the principal features of this week's meeting was a graphic account of the "Passion Play," given by Miss Alice Lee Hooker. Miss Hooker, who recently returned from a visit to Europe, had the opportunity to witness the staging of this graphic portrayal of the life of Christ, and provided her hearers with an interesting description of the production.

The club also initiated three new members: Eli Blount, Dal Lassiter, and Person Nicholson.

RECOVER PART OF FUND STOLEN FROM CHARLOTTE BANK

Charlotte, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Charlotte police early today recovered $34,000 of the $64,000 stolen from an American Trust company money truck October 1. Previously $27,000 had been recovered, leaving only $3,000 of the original fund unrecovered.

Walter Thomas, one of four men alleged to have confessed to staging a fake holdup of the bank truck, led them to the money cache, officers said. The small fortune was in a fruit jar and one of the bank's money bags buried in Union county near the spot where Victor Hunter, a former deputy sheriff, had led officers to the $27,000 recovered when he confessed his part in the robbery. ## HUMAN SKELETON FOUND AT SCENE OF LITTLE MASSACRE

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(AP)—On the exact spot where in May, 1930, the "little massacre" of Chicago gangsters occurred, a human skeleton has been found.

The place is on the outskirts of Hammond, Ind., at Torrence avenue and 139th street. It was there that the three gangsters, Scalsie, Anselmi and Guinta, were assassinated after having been "taken for a ride."

Excavators discovered the skeleton yesterday. A hurried examination failed to disclose either the possible cause of death or the approximate time of burial. A coroner's investigation was called for today.

The slaying of Scalsie, Anselmi and Guinta, all known as aides of Al Capone, was generally regarded as a sequel to the massacre of seven George (Bugs) Moran gangsters on St. Valentine's Day of last year.

Discovery of the skeleton suggested to authorities the possibility that the three Capone men may not have been the only ones slain in the "little massacre."

TIED AND ALL OUT OF SORTS

Arkansas Man Tells of the Good He Gets From Taking Black-Draught.

Man, Ark.—"If there is a better laxative medicine made than Theford's Black-Draught, I've never found it, and I tried a good many before I began taking Black-Draught about twenty years ago," writes Mr. H. F. Miller, who lives on Eleventh Street, this city.

"I am satisfied with Black-Draught. When I feel all out of sorts, my feet seem to feel heavy, and I feel tired when I haven't worked; and I get a bad, slimy taste in my mouth, I just take two or three doses of Black-Draught and I feel better."

"I have found it good for indigestion, in fact for about everything it is recommended for. We just keep it in the house and use it for biliousness, headache and such complaints. I recommend Black-Draught to others!"

This well-known medicine has been in use nearly 100 years, and its popularity is constantly increasing, as growing sales clearly prove.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 11 to 14 points today in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables and overnight buying orders which appeared to have been attracted by the relatively steady ruling of yesterday's market.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(AP)—All cereals took a big slide to a lower level of values today owing mainly to bearish effects of the government crop report about corn. The corn market registered a maximum loss of 4c a bushel, with rallies, only fractional. Despite some evening up for the double holiday ahead wheat divided down 2 1/2c with corn weakness and influence.

Advocates Large Scale Merger for Cotton Industry

Poland Springs, Me., Oct. (AP)—Large scale mergers as a means of organizing the producers and sellers of the cotton-textile industry were advocated today by Floyd W. Jefferson, temporary chairman of the textile export association of the United States.

In an address before the annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, he said only the alert, the vigorous, and progressive will realize the foreign and domestic opportunities for expanding markets. He declared cotton goods could be sold abroad in tremendous volume, particularly in South America, and believed the United States would find a way to do it.

"In 1929 the export of manufactured articles by the United States far exceeded shipments of raw material," he said, but in the raw cotton goods they are lagging far behind, exporting ten times as much raw cotton as cotton cloth.

Statesville, —(AP)—In default of $5,000 bond, Will Price, negro, has been returned to jail for the alleged robbing and burning of a drug store here.
