MRS. HOOKER TELLS ABOUT PASSION PLAY

Gives Kiwanians a Vivid Description of Production At Oberammergau

An illuminating account of the Passion Play of Oberammergau was presented to the Greenville Kiwanis club last night by Mrs. Travis Hooker, who recently returned from a trip to Europe.

Appearing as the principal speaker on the program, Mrs. Hooker graphically portrayed the story of the life of Christ as presented by the people of Oberammergau.

She not only told of the play itself, but explained the long preparation for the event by the people of the town. She declared it was one of the most magnificent productions she had ever seen, and proved both informative as well as entertaining.

Mrs. Hooker said the Passion Play had been presented over a period of three hundred years. It is supposed to be an expression of appreciation on the part of the citizenship of the little town for their deliverance from a great plague. She said everybody was interested in the production and that it was the height of ambition of people in all walks of life to become one of the actors.

She said one thousand people took part in the performance and that the costumes were made by the villagers themselves. The orchestra, she said, consists of 50 instruments and 45 singers. Their work at different part of the play is very outstanding, she said, and contributes largely to the success of the production.

The actors, Mrs. Hooker said, are well trained. The play is practiced each year to develop the actors, and in this way the players become well adapted to their respective parts.

She said the theatre in which the production is staged has a seating capacity of 5,800. It is crowded to capacity at every performance. The play begins at 8 o'clock in the morning and continues until 6 o'clock in the afternoon. This time is required in the presentation of the sixteen acts.

Although presented in German, Mrs. Hooker said an interpreter translated the lines into English, making it possible for everybody to understand.

The program last night was in charge of W. H. Woolard, chairman of the program committee, and President B. B. Sugg presided. The songs were led by C. B. Rowlett.

Mr. Fitzgerald, of Rich Square, was a guest of the club. He expressed his appreciation of the opportunity to attend the session and declared he was always glad to come to Greenville because the people apparently were always in the best of spirits and never complaining about hard times.

Mrs. Armstrong and Miss Earl Presented a cornet and piano number. The guests were W. F. Ricks, J. L. Little, W. L. Stocks, Mr. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Hooker, Miss Earl and Mrs. Armstrong.

In Letter to Chairman of Democratic Executive Committee, Nominee to Board of Commissioners, Sets Forth His Position In Political Situation

The political pot in county politics has begun to boil as result of the appearance in the field of two Republican candidates for county commissioners.

For many months past S. I. Dudley, one of the Democratic nominees, has been active in the work of the Pitt County Tax Relief Association, and had declared to be running on a tax reduction platform adopted by the association that would cut the 1930 budget estimate for highways, roads and bridges and the county farm to fifty per cent and all other departments of Pitt county government 25 per cent, with the exception of the bond and interest fund which would remain as set forth in the budget.

Not only has Mr. Dudley adopted the platform of the Association, but he brought suit against the county in an effort to prevent them from borrowing on the 1930 budget and to prevent the county from collecting taxes under the 1930 budget on the ground that land values are on the tax books in excess of their true value and that the budget estimates are likewise inaccurate.

When the Republican executive committee announced a short time ago that they had entered two candidates for the board of commissioners on the ticket, adopting the same platform as that of the Tax Relief Association, rumors of collusion between Dudley and the Republican candidates in an effort to give the Tax Relief Association a majority rule on the board spread quickly over the county.

The matter was brought to the attention of the County Democratic Executive Committee at a meeting here on October 10, and W. E. Hooks, chairman of the committee, was requested to write Mr. Dudley and advise him that such rumors were out and would tend to hurt both Mr. Dudley and the Democratic cause.

The following correspondence between Mr. Hooks and Mr. Dudley was yesterday turned over to the Reflector by C. W. Hearne, secretary of the Tax Relief Association, for publication. Upon receipt of these two letters yesterday, the Reflector called Mr. Hooks to ascertain whether or not he had received Mr. Dudley's reply and whether there was any statement at this time that he wished to make in connection with same. Mr. Hooks only replied that he had just received the letter in question from Mr. Dudley mailed in an envelope bearing the return address of F. M. Wooten, attorney at law, who is chairman of the Pitt County Tax Relief Association.

The letters released by Secretary Hearne for publication follow:

Ayden, N. C., Oct. 11, 1930.
Hon. Sam I. Dudley,
Greenville, N. C.

Dear Mr. Dudley:
Members of the Pitt County Democratic Executive Committee have heard within the past week that you are not in entire accord on the nominees of the Democratic Party for County Commissioners, and at a meeting of the committee yesterday in the courthouse in Greenville, to which you will recall I sent you an invitation to attend, I was the opinion of the committee, together with several other prominent Democrats of the county, that in justice to you, I, as county chairman, should write you a letter regarding the situation.

Knowing your life-time affiliation with the Democratic Party, and realizing in the years of the past you have been signally honored by the Party, and also believing in your fidelity to the great principles of the Party, it was the unanimous opinion of those present at the meeting, that a great injustice might be done you by the continued spreading of these reports, so I was authorized by the committee to write you and ask you to refute these reports as they are calculated to injure both you and the Party.

Cold Weather Renews Attack On Western U. S.

Kansas City, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Approaching winter, whose first assault, routed late autumn warmth from the vast trans-Mississippi today threatened renewed attacks.

Montana, which enjoyed a brief respite yesterday, Wyoming, and Idaho stood in the part of the presaged thrust. Montana's rains of yesterday turned to snow flurries as freezing temperatures held the state in its grasp last night.

A minimum of 10 degrees above zero was recorded at Havre at 6 p. m., with the mercury still falling. Wyoming fared but little better, Yellowstone Park recording sixteen above.

Snow ranging from a trace to three feet in the mountains blanketed northern Idaho as hitherto moderate temperatures in the state joined the downward trend.

Dry snow ranging up to 16 inches in depth covered the mountains of eastern Washington while sleep was falling in other sections. Freezing temperatures were general in Colorado, North Dakota, the Great Lakes region and parts of Utah. Kansas and Missouri experienced their second general frost of the season last night.

Even New Mexico and Oklahoma failed to escape the cold. At Santa Fe it was but two degrees above freezing and Oklahoma was only slightly warmer.

MANY ISSUES AWAIT ACTION OF CONGRESS

Large Number of Bills to Face Short Session Next December

Washington, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The legislative machinery of the short December session will have to be geared and greased for high speed to permit congressional action on the many and varied proposals suggested for enactment.

In addition to numerous measures left over from the long session a large number of bills calling for greater participation by the federal government in the activities of the states are expected by Republican and Democratic leaders in both the Senate and House.

In surveying pronouncements of candidates in the off-year election campaign, the leaders view with some concern the trend of the proposals for federal aid of vast proportions. Federal aid for public schools, feed and fertilizer loans to farmers, increased contribution to the states' highway funds and reimbursement to the states for damage by both drought and flood have been sponsored in the campaign, as well as pensions for the aged.

In addition, Congress expects to be confronted with the problem of enacting a uniform pension law for veterans of all wars.

With a disparity of $20 a month existing between the pensions granted Spanish-American and world war veterans under acts of the last session, President Hoover is expected to recommend Congress to make a study looking to enactment of a law to place veterans of all wars on a more uniform basis.

Proposals to broaden the act creating the Federal Farm Board to offer more assistance to agriculture is expected, also measures to curb interstate stock market speculation.

The bill to regulate interstate motor bus lines reached a point at the last session to practically assure final action at the short assembly.

The ten-year old controversy over disposal of Muscle Shoals remains in dispute between the Senate and House.

Plans have been laid for a small rivers and harbors bill.

The Hoover Law Enforcement Commission's measures for relief of court congestion passed by the House, last session, are pending in the Senate where action may be delayed further.

Dr. John D. Humber, of San Francisco, Cal., noted cancer specialist, will address members of the Pitt County Medical Society at the high school auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

He arrived in Greenville last night, and is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Humber, on Fifth street.

Dr. Humber, who is considered one of the greatest authorities in the world in the treatment of cancer, will tell of the remarkable results obtained in his California clinics. He has been treating several hundred people with the extract which he and Dr. Coffey discovered, and has obtained remarkable results.

It was understood that he would also show pictures of work in the clinics, as well as give a description of the hundreds of cases which have come under his attention during his long years of research work in this particular field.

Members of the medical profession in other sections of the state have been invited to attend the meeting tonight, and it was expected that the city would witness one of the greatest gatherings of medical men in history.

Sheppard Memorial Library Formally Opened and Dedicated As Memorial to William Henry Haywood Sheppard Last Night; Mr. Harper D. Sheppard, Donor, and Son, Lawrence Sheppard, Attend; Dr. Frank Graham Congratulates Community

The Sheppard Memorial Library, the gift of Mr. Harper D. Sheppard, of Hanover, Pa., as a memorial to his father, William Henry Haywood Sheppard, native and former official of Pitt county, was formally thrown open to the public last night at 8 o'clock.

The opening was marked by exercises both impressive and inspirational and was attended by several hundred persons, many of them from other sections of the States, and the building was packed to overflowing.

The principal address of the occasion was delivered by Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, and for years one of the leading spirits in the library movement in this State. Miss Marjorie Beall, secretary of the State Library Commission, brought greetings from the State organization, as did members of local civic bodies.

Mr. Harper D. Sheppard, donor of the building, and his son, Lawrence E. Sheppard, were the center of an admiring citizenship all through the exercises. At the conclusion of the program a grateful people gathered around Mr. Sheppard and thanked him personally for his gift to the city.

The exercises opened with invocation by Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, and this was followed by an address of welcome by J. S. Ficklen, chairman of the Library Commission. Mr. Ficklen told his hearers that the building was a community affair and expressed hope that everybody would take advantage of the great opportunities which it held out to them.

He summed up the history of the public library movement, showing that many obstacles had been overcome since organization in 1904. He paid tribute to the men and women who gave of their time and talent in developing the movement, and expressed to Mr. Sheppard the thanks of the community for the beautiful building which his generosity had made possible.

Dr. R. L. Carr, member of the building committee who personally supervised erection of the library, expressed his appreciation of the many kindnesses which had been extended him during the construction program. He mentioned several enterprises and persons whose spirit of co-operation had helped him in the completion of his great task. He turned the building over to Mr. Sheppard, and told him that the building committee had done its best to provide a structure that would serve the city through many years of progress and development.

The building was formally presented to the city of Greenville by Mr. Lawrence B. Sheppard on behalf of his father, and as a memorial to his grandfather. Mr. Sheppard expressed pleasure at the spirit of progress in this city. He said if the building only partly filled the purpose the building committee believed it would, he felt his father would be amply rewarded for his gift to the community. He formally presented the building to the city on behalf of his father and as a memorial to his grandfather, William Henry Haywood Sheppard.

Mayor J. C. Lanier accepted the building on the part of the city. Stressing the value of a library to community life, Mayor Lanier said Mr. Sheppard could not have given anything that would be of greater value to Greenville. He said the rich heritage of the Sheppard family would be handed down to future generations through the building which the generosity of Mr. Sheppard had made possible. He expressed the appreciation of the people of Greenville, and turning to Mr. Sheppard thanked him for what he had done for the uplift of community life.

Miss Beall, extending greetings of the State Library Commission, mentioned the great part which public libraries are playing in the life of the children of the day, and congratulated Greenville upon the acquisition of such a splendid building.

Mrs. L. C. Arthur, president of the End of the Century Club, the organization through which the building was secured, also congratulated the city.

ABOUT TOWN

The formal opening and dedication of the Sheppard Memorial Library here last night was one of the most important events in years. The occasion was all that could have been expected. The exercises were of the most inspirational nature and hundreds of people visited the building to express their thanks to Mr. Harper Sheppard for the splendid gift to the community.

The new library is more than a memorial to the late William Henry Sheppard, father of the donor. It is a tribute to the generosity of the giver himself in that it tends to show what he is endeavoring to do with his money for the advancement of humanity.

The building is more than a library. It is a community project by which every person in the city is affected. In addition to the library it has certain departments specifically set aside for service to organizations representing both the youth and adult. The room devoted to boys' activities will render a distinct service in the years to come and enable the youth of the city to spend many a pleasant hour away from the evils of public life.

The children's room will afford entertainment for the youngsters of the city, and give them a keener appreciation of an atmosphere of this kind.

In the historical room the people of the county will have the privilege of viewing relics connected with the past life of the community. This department in itself should prove of untold value in preserving the long record of achievement of the people of this great agricultural community.

The library is the fulfillment of a great dream on the part of the Library commission and the citizenship in general. It is the consummation of every desire in this line of public life and the reward of every toil and pain for those who have labored long and lovingly in its behalf.

Mr. Sheppard has truly been a benefactor to the community, and his memory and the memory of him in whose honor the building is dedicated will live in the hearts of the community forever.

People of Pitt county will learn with regret of the inability of Clyde Hoey to speak here during the Democratic campaign. But they will also be glad to learn that since he could not come, his place will be filled by Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh, former Secretary of the Navy.

Mr. Daniels has stood his party in good stead in past years, and his engagement to speak here October 28th will be received with interest by voters in all parts of the county.

The campaign will actually get under way with the appearance here Friday, October 24, of Josiah William Bailey, of Raleigh, Democratic nominee for the United States Senate. Mr. Bailey will address the voters at the courthouse at the noon hour, and will bring before his hearers some of the most important issues of the campaign.

W. E. Hooks, of Ayda, chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive committee, believes that the coming of these speakers will add impetus to the local campaign and cause the voters to turn out in large numbers next month to cast their vote for the Democratic party.

The live-at-home movement seems to be gaining in popularity in this community if action of local Masons in calling a district-wide meeting to discuss the question may be taken as an indication of public sentiment.

Believing that the live-at-home plan will mean the eventual salvation of the farmers of this section, the two Masonic bodies here will bring the matter to the attention of representatives of all lodges of the district here next Monday night. The visitors will be impressed with the importance of the farmer producing more of the things consumed at home and will be asked to go back home and impress the people with the big part which the plan should play in the future life of the agricultural people.

Several prominent speakers will discuss the agricultural situation and attempt to show the necessity of concerted action in behalf of improved methods of farming.

It is to be hoped as many Masons as possible will attend the meeting and then do their utmost to stand behind the organization in its effort to aid the farmers.

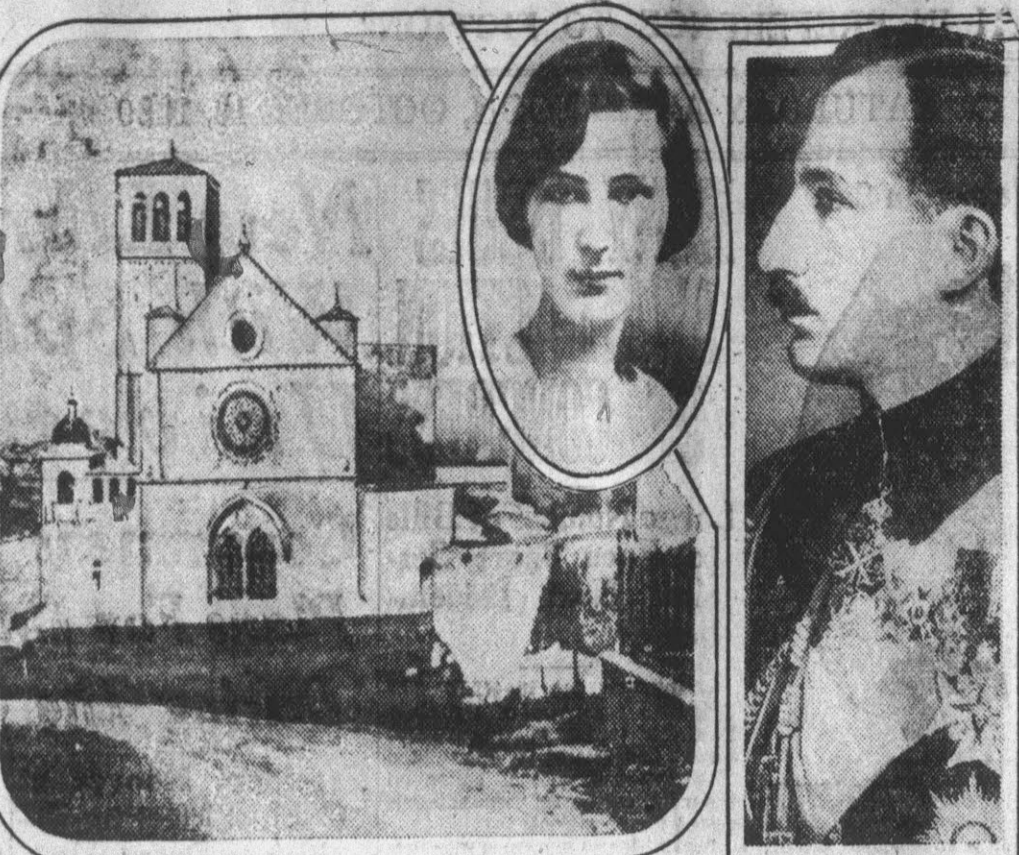

Two important figures of the medical world will be guests of the Pitt County Medical Society here tonight in the persons of Dr. Hubert A. Coffey and Dr. John D. Humber, cancer specialists, of San Francisco, California.

They will tell the members of the local society and numbers of guests of their activities in stamping out the deadly cancer through the use of an extract which they discovered during experiments at their laboratories at San Francisco.

The treatment of cancer patients in clinics operated by Drs. Coffey and Humber has been featured by such remarkable results as to win them world-wide fame. They rank among the most important members of the medical profession and their coming to Greenville has attracted the attention of the medical men of this section as nothing else has gone in recent years.

Dr. Humber is a native of Greenville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Humber and his return to the scene of his childhood and young manhood is a matter of interest to the entire citizenship.

SPARKLING DIALOGUE MAKES 'HOLD EVERYTHING' OUTSTANDING COMEDY HIT

The most scintillating dialogue in the history of the talking picture is a feature of "Hold Everything," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production which is coming to the New Theatre Monday and Tuesday. A portion of these sparkling lines was incorporated in the original stage play by D. E. Sylva and John McGowan, and the remainder was contributed by Robert Lord, who adapted the play for the motion picture screen.

The dialogue of the audience in a continual roar of laughter, and the librettist is given able assistance by the comedy talents of Joe E. Brown and Winnie Lightner, two of the funniest players of filmdom. As the two lovers who are continually flying at each other's throats, this great comedy team is a positive riot of merriment.

Other prominent parts in "Hold Everything" are played by Georges Carpentier and Sally O'Neil, while supporting members of the cast include Edmund Breese, Dorothy Reyer, Jack Curtis and Bert Roach. Roy Del Ruth directed.

LITERARY CLUB HAS NEGRO FOLKLORE PROGRAM
Farmville, Oct. 17—(AP)—Especially interesting and amusing, though perfectly familiar, was the program of the Farmville Literary Club on Thursday afternoon, with the general topic of "Bred Fox and His Companions," and two splendid papers and readings; the first—"In My Days When Animals Talked," by Mrs. A. C. Hodges; and the second—"The American Negro Talks About His Animal Neighbors" by Mrs. G. A. Jones.

The district meeting, to be held in Greenville, October 30, was discussed, and the club decided to cooperate with the society sponsoring the study of George Washington, during the year of his 200th anniversary.

Mrs. J. H. Darden was hostess and served a delectable salad dinner at the end of the meeting.

Missing Capitalist

Charles V. Bob, New York capitalist, who disappeared in Chicago October 10, is sought by authorities in connection with a state investigation of two industrial concerns with which he was associated.

The club decided to have a turkey supper in connection with its flower and plant sale the first week in November to raise money with which to further some of its plans.

Mrs. J. K. Brown read an instructive paper on "Putting the Garden to Bed." First she told us how to prepare the bed, having the soil composed of right portions of sand, clay and humus, and being sure the ground is not hard and dry when freezing sets in. Then, the covering is important straw or moss to be used over sensitive plants.

This is the time of year to transplant perennials for early blooming—also bulbs, such as madonna lilies, lilies of valley, tulips, jonquils and narcissus.

Following this paper was a general discussion and exchange of experiences.

In closing, Mrs. James read a few suggestions from the Garden Calendar, the most important being a condemnation of the old custom of raking up and burning the fallen leaves. They should be used for winter covering, and in spring worked into soil as they are a valuable fertilizer.

Two prizes are offered by Mrs. James—a prepared flower box for the member bring the most new members to the next meeting, and $2.50 in gold to be given at the January meeting for the best bowl of blooming bulbs.

Lions Hold Ladies' Night
Farmville, Oct. 17—A gala affair of the week was that of Wednesday evening, when the local Lions entertained their ladies at a banquet.

Hallowe'en decorations created the atmosphere of mystery and charm characteristic of the season, and jolly songs and mirth-provoking stunts were interspersed with timely speeches. A three course turkey dinner was enjoyed.

Robert Lee Smith, president of the club, acted as toastmaster, and welcomed the guests. Miss Elizabeth Fields responded in a graceful manner. Vocal selections were well rendered by Miss Margaret Whittington of Snow Hill, coloratura, and Elbert Holmes, baritone. Mrs. Arthur F. Joyner played the piano accompaniments.

The main speaker of the evening was J. W. Holmes, local business man and financier, who spoke along the lines of civic betterment and social welfare.

In addition to their ladies the Lions had as guests; Misses Alice Lee Hooker, Mary Forbes, Esther Mason, William Tyson, Richard Ferest and Sammy Carson of Greenville, George Cheatham and Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Pierce.

DUDLEY DENIES COLLUSION WITH REPUBLICAN PARTY IN COUNTY CAMPAIGN BATTLE

The Party. The committee believe these reports to be erroneous, and in order to make your position clear, I would be very grateful to you if you would write me your feelings in the matter, so that I may properly present your position to the Executive committee.

Thanking you in advance, and with kind personal regards, I beg to remain,

Sincerely yours,
W. E. HOOKS,
Chairman Democratic Executive Committee, Pitt County.

Greenville, N. C.,
Oct. 15th, 1930.

Mr. W. E. Hooks, Chairman,
Pitt County Democratic Executive Committee,
Ayden, N. C.

Dear Sir:

Replying to your letter of inquiry of October 11, I state I am in accord with the nominees of the Democratic Party for County Commissioners. They are Messrs. T. E.

to that position, refusing to put in practice local self government by electing a Pitt county man. I am not in entire accord with the nominees on that point, are you, Mr. Chairman? Do you assert that action is in accord with the great principles of the Democratic party?

Will you please state definitely the position of Messrs. Stator, Joyner, Gaskins and Stokes relative to:

1—Causing the lands of Pitt county to be put on the tax books at their true value.

2—Relative to reducing county expenses, and

3—Relative to reducing taxes.

Throughout the county it is reported, generally, that they are under the same influences which have controlled the present board and which caused Mr. McLanorh to resign from the Board.

The rumor that the plan is to continue the same land values on the tax books, the same offices and expenses with no reduction in taxes. That I shall have no support to reduce county expenses and to reduce taxes. If I only stand for reduction in county expenses and reduction in taxes and Messrs. Stator, Joyner, Gaskins and Stokes stand against such reductions, my promise to the people to reduce county expenses and taxes must fall. If Pitt County Democracy wants county expenses reduced and taxes reduced, elect commissioners who will vote with me on these reductions and Pitt County shall have reductions in expenses and taxes. Mr. Chairman, do you and your prominent Democrats stand for those great Democratic principles?

Please write answer and cite authority for it. Also please state in the past and present, the Democratic Party has honored me and I shall at all times live my appreciation thereof by loyally supporting and living the great principles of the Democratic party. I truly believe in government of the people, by the people and for the people; the greatest good to the greatest number.

I am not in entire accord with the nominees of the Democratic party for County Commissioners, and a rumor to that effect is true and I shall not refute such. I was nominated by the Democratic party of Pitt County over "group opposition," on promise to make my best efforts to reduce county expenses and reduce county taxes, and I shall live by that promise. The Democratic Party of Pitt County, as administered by you and your executive committee, has not made public your Democratic principles and your Democratic platform. I was nominated by the Democratic party of Pitt County on the Democratic principles specified by Pitt County Tax Relief Association, to reduce county expenses and county taxes stated as follows:

1—Group One: Bond and interest fund be paid as set forth in 1930 Budget at par.

2—Group Two: (a) Estimate for highways, roads and bridges, and (b) The County Farm be reduced fifty per cent (50 percent).

3—Group Three: All other departments of Pitt County Government, without exception, be reduced twenty five per cent (25 pct.).

That the Board of County Commissioners and the several departments of Pitt county government be, and are, urged by the taxpayers of Pitt county to adjust within their respective departments, the appropriations made in such way as to make effective the indicated reductions in such way as in their discretion will best serve Pitt county elimination, consolidation or otherwise.

I am against Pitt county borrowing $100,000 in June 1930 and against Pitt county borrowing $250,000 in July, 1930. I am plaintiff in a suit now in the Superior Court of Pitt County intended to prevent the latter debt and collecting tax on land values that are in excess of their true value to pay a budget that is inaccurate. I insist that the tax books speak the truth and that the budget speak the truth.

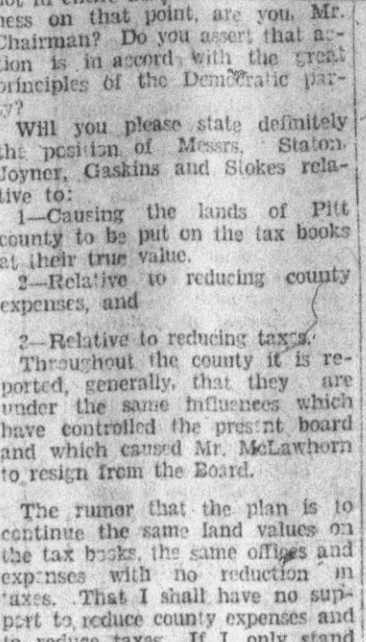

I have written you fully my feeling in this matter so that you may properly present my position to the Democracy of Pitt County.

Turn about is fair play, so I shall ask you some questions and I would be very grateful to you if you would, as chairman of the Democratic Executive committee of Pitt County, write the Democrats of Pitt County your feelings on the matters, so that they may be properly known to Pitt County Democracy. Reports circulating in Pitt County seem to indicate that you, Mr. Chairman, and the Democratic Party in the county, may suffer great injustice by their continued spread if not refuted by you.

1—The present Board of County Commissioners is over-reaching the Democratic nominees, excepting me, and called in a meeting the five Democratic nominees for County Commissioners, Messrs. Stator, Joyner, Stokes, Gaskins and myself, and every member of the present Board and Stator, Joyner, Stokes and Gaskins joined in effort to have me withdraw my opposition to Pitt County; (a) to creating an additional $250,000 debt (b) to assessing and levying 1930 taxes on land values in excess of their true value, and (c) to levying taxes to pay a budget that is inaccurate and unfair. In this did these officers and nominees represent the great principles of the Democratic party in Pitt County or do I represent them in my position? Please cite platform and write your answer fully so that the Democracy of Pitt County may know the position of its representatives.

2—Again, the present Board of Commissioners called in conference with them the Democratic nominees for County Commissioners to elect a county auditor at a salary of $250 per month. All the members of the Board and all the Democratic nominees, except myself, attended; I refused to attend; joined in electing a Guilford county man

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points in response to relatively steady cable, but orders were quite evenly divided and offerings increased slightly right after the call as if influenced by the easier opening of the stock market.

There was not a great deal of southern selling, however, while the cotton was absorbed by trade buying and week-end covering. This was in sufficient volume to steady the market and after easing off to 10.28, new December advanced to 10.35 with the active months ruling about 2 to 4 points net higher at the end of the first half hour. Local traders seemed to consider the light frost as shown by the early weather map as likely to be more beneficial than otherwise, but temperatures were low and the forecast for frost at scattering points tonight, had a tendency to check the early selling.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Stubborn resistance to selling pressure showed itself in the grain markets late today, and prices finished firm despite a late transient dip. Late selling of wheat, came chiefly from houses with connections east. Fresh reports that Russia was offering wheat abroad at lower prices failed to have any apparent market influence but interest was stirred by word that President Hoover was in conference today with a large American wheat grower who has just returned from Russia.

Wheat closed firm 1-8 to 1-2 up from yesterday's finish; corn closed 1-4 off to 1-2 up; oats 3-8 off to 1-8 rise, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 22.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Large scale liquidation again poured relentlessly into the stock market today and the week closed with the general level of prices at still a new minimum, but the list developed impressive resistance to selling pressure, and losses were moderate.

The selling was absorbed more easily than it was yesterday, however, and few losses exceeded two points. Faint rallying tendencies appeared in the final transactions, and closing prices averaged fractionally above the lowest. The closing tone, however, was heavy. Total transactions for the two-hour session approximately 2,000,000 shares.

U. S. Steel sagged a point to 144 1-2, duplicating its previous minimum, but rallied to close steady. American Telephone also closed unchanged. DuPont and American Water Works actually gained a point each, and International Harvester and Allied Chemical gained fractionally.

American can was under heavy pressure for a time, and dropped 4 points, but closed down only 3 1-4. Electric Power & Light and Union Pacific lost 4 points, North American, Vanadium, National Cash Register and New York Central two points, and Consolidated Gas, United Corp., General Electric and Radio about a point each. General Electric and Radio were prominent issues breaking into new low ground.

The market appeared to be governed still by conditions within it-

And It Turned Out This Way

The Washington high school team football team played at Ayden yesterday afternoon and was defeated. A Washington newspaper stated on Thursday that the Washington Highs would play a practice game with Ayden, but was this so-well know, because a 22-yard off-tackled play and a 20-yard pass and then a line plunge for a touchdown caused the Washington Highs to fall to the Ayden team by a score of 6 to 0. In this so-called practice game Ayden out-played the Washington team from the start and Washington was only able to secure four first downs in the entire game, while the Ayden team secured ten first downs.

STATE TEAMS AFTER REAL GAME TODAY

Charlotte, Oct. 18.—(AP)—North Carolina's football teams were trained on big game today.

The Tar Heels from Chapel Hill were taking a shot at Georgia in the Athens stronghold. A win over the Red and Black team that conquered Yale last week will mean revenge for a defeat last year. Fame and headlines will go this year to the team that puts a licking on Georgia.

Davidson poised at Charlotte for its go about the Citadel. The South Carolinians, boasting a new coach and defeat this year at the hands of Clemson only, were primed for the attack. Davidson beat Citadel 7 to 6 last year and the Bulldogs are out for revenge.

Three State College teams had their weekly workout yesterday and each turned in a victory. Lenoir Rhyne defeated Milligan 12 to 0; Catawba ran will over Forsy Branch 17 to 0; and Guilford took a hard-fought game from Naval Apprentice school, 14 to 6.

High Point will test its strength against American University at High Point and Atlantic Christian and Appalachian will clash in other games within the State today.

Atlanta, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Seeking to accomplish what Yale failed to do, North Carolina charged against Georgia at Athens today. The other outstanding southern football engagements Alabama hoped to administer the first defeat Tennessee has suffered since 1926.

The two top-line tilts overshadowed Auburn's meeting with Georgia Tech at Atlanta, Kentucky's game with Washington and Lee at Lexington, Ky., an old feud between Virginia Military and Virginia at Lexington, Va., and the conference clash of Louisiana State and Mississippi A. and M. at Jackson, Miss.
