SMITH SETS RECORD FOR LONG FLIGHT

Makes 10,000 Mile Trip From England To Australia in Nine Days and 23 Hours

Perf Darwin, Northern Territory, Australia, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Dashing across a continent to reach the side of his fiancée, Wing Commander Charles Kingsford Smith today flew southward over the 2,000 mile route to Sydney after lowering by more than five days the record for a flight between England and Australia.

He will marry Miss Mary Powell just as quickly as she will consent after his arrival at Sydney. For her sake this man whom many have compared favorably with Colonel Lindbergh will forsake the uncharted air paths of the world and settle down to more humdrum but less dangerous air-line piloting between Sydney and Melbourne.

Kingsford Smith swooped down here at 2 P. M. yesterday (5 a. m. GMT or midnight Oct. 18-19 EST) in completion of a flight which in nine days and 23 1/2 hours had brought him across 10,000 miles of plane and mountain, jungle and ocean from Heston airbase, England to the northwestern tip of the world's smallest continent.

His mark bettered by five and one half days the record of 15 and one half days set by Bert Hinkler in February, 1928.

The trip was made in defiance of doctor's orders, who considered that Kingsford Smith, who recently has had two operations and two bouts with influenza, was in no condition to fly nearly half around the world.

The aviator insisted upon leaving at dawn today on the concluding lay of the journey to the side of his fiancée, whom he said he hoped to marry at least within two or three weeks.

"But of course that date depends on the lady," he said. "We planned to marry September 3, but I couldn't make that date."

I have promised her that if this trip is successful we would spend our honeymoon in Honolulu. The problem now is to get the necessary funds."

While discussing his marriage he was opening telegrams and he laughed as he read one aloud: "Marvelous effort darling. Love. Even she says it is marvelous," he commented.

He said he would resume his piloting over the Sydney-Melbourne route and would attempt to reduce the time between the two cities to three hours.

The worst part of his trip Kingsford Smith said, was in the passage across the Alps. His plane, a 125 horsepower, single engine "Avros" which he called the "Southern Cross Jr." bucked like a wild horse and he would have been thrown out, he said, except for his safety belt. Another bad lap was from Rangoon, to Singapore. Other wise, he said all I had to do was sit back and fight sleep.

NEW BOOKLET ON THIS CITY IS COMPLETED

Sets Forth Resources and Possibilities of the Capital of Pitt County

A booklet setting forth the resources and possibilities of Greenville, "The Hub of Eastern Carolina," will be sent all over the country within the next several days by the Greenville Merchants Association. The first copy of the volume was received from the printers today by C. B. Rowlett, secretary of the association, and the remainder will be shipped as soon as they are off the press.

The booklet is decidedly one of the most attractive issued by any city in this section of the State. In addition to the cover containing a picture of a city surrounded by a rich farming district and a map sets forth pertinent facts regarding the "Hub of Eastern Carolina," the booklet contains numbers of pictures of the principal buildings of the city.

The matter for the booklet was prepared by C. B. Rowlett, secretary of the association, and gives an accurate impression of the resources and possibilities which the county holds forth in an educational, industrial and agricultural way. The front inside cover presents pertinent facts regarding the city, and creates a desire on the part of the reader to delve further into the achievements of the capital of Pitt County.

"This booklet presents the 'high spots' in the development of, and general information pertaining to, Our Greenville, Yours If You Come." It depicts the various opportunities Greenville has to offer, as well as its position industrially, educationally, agriculturally, commercially. Greenville stands unparalleled as the center of operation of the great Eastern region of North Carolina.

"This section of which Greenville is the hub, fortune has blessed with a pleasant year around climate, where there is no fear of storm or flood of destructive nature. It is a land of pleasant life and friendly custom where the spirit of progressiveness has no waning.

"Greenville and Pitt county with a population of 60,000 people offers numerous advantages, a majority of which have to be experienced to be appreciated."

In addition to pictures of public buildings, the booklet also contains a picture of the new bridge over Tar River, recently dedicated by the Auxiliary of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion to Pitt County men who fought in the World War. It also pictures principal business streets, some of the large tobacco factories, warehouses and residences.

The booklet is one of the most complete and informative ever put out in this city before. It represents long months of work on the part of the secretary of the association, and should be a source of information to the people in other parts of the country interested in the development of this county, the greatest bright leaf tobacco producing county in the world.

She had lived in this county all of her life, and her death came as a distinct shock to the community where she was loved and held in the highest esteem by a wide circle of friends.

She was a faithful member of the Christian church.

Two Killed At Pa. Coal Mine

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Two men were killed and a score were injured, five seriously, today when cars carrying miners into the Schuman-Shant Coal Company mine at Sonman ran away and were wrecked.

The bodies of two unidentified white men were found in the wreck age. These five who were seriously hurt were brought to hospitals here and others were treated at the mine.

Officials of the company said they had not learned the cause of the accident.

Two Men Die In Explosion Aboard Barge

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Two men were killed, two others were severely burned, and two towboats and an oil tank barge were destroyed by a gasoline explosion aboard the barge in the Hudson River here today.

The explosion occurred shortly after 10 A. M., at the barge terminal. An oil transfer barge owned by the Oil Transfer Company of New York City was tied up at the terminal pier, with the tug Dynamic. Alongside the tug Graig was tied up on the other side of the Dynamic. The oil barge was empty, except for a small amount of gasoline in the forepart.

The cause of the explosion was not immediately determined. A terrific blast aboard the barge enveloped that craft and the two towboats in flames. The detonation shattered all windows within five blocks of River Street, and blew all the glass out of three blocks of buildings in Waterfront, on the opposite bank of the river.

At the instant of the blast Captain John Auckerman of the Dynamic, shouted to the six or seven members of his crew to jump. They did. All were picked up except one man, who has not yet been accounted for.

The dead and injured were on board the Craig. The two injured were taken to the Troy Hospital.

Probe Murder of Federal Agent

Raton, N. M., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Clues to the apparent slaying of Federal prohibition agent unearthed almost two months after his disappearance, today spurred government and state authorities to a hunt for his body and evidence that might throw some light on the identity of his assailant.

Ray Sutton, on the trail of bootleggers in this section of New Mexico, dropped from sight August 23. No trace could be found of him or his car, although hundreds of men combed the mountain fastnesses for days and an airplane scoured the country side.

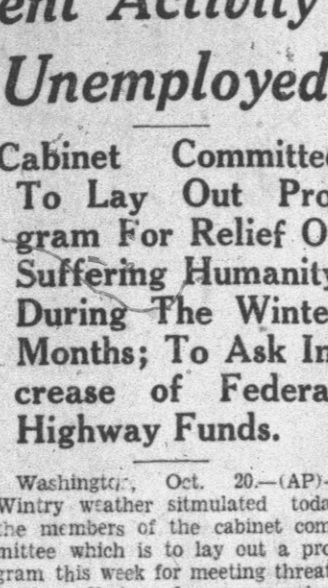

Last night the reason for their failure became apparent. His car had been hidden carefully in an arroyo between two pinon trees and covered with brush. The rear seat bore bloodstains. His body remains to be found, and authorities today planned to continue the dragging of a lake near Taylor, N. M., in the belief that it might have been thrown there.

Over Six Hundred Die In Holocaust In China

Canton, China, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Six hundred and fifty persons died in a holocaust in the Tea House District of Wuchow, on the Kwangsi-Kwangtung border today.

The fire was reported to have started in a floating restaurant in the West River, or Sikiang. It spread rapidly to other craft, hundreds of which jammed the stream, and finally reached buildings on shore.

Hundreds of persons leaped into the stream from blazing boats. Some of them managed to reach shore but scores were reported to have drowned.

Deprive Man of $40 Cash and Jewelry Valued at $1,500 On Deserted Road

Rocky Mount, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Two unmasked men early today held up Leroy James, 30, of Rocky Mount, robbed him of $40 and jewelry he valued at $1,500, then left him tied in his automobile on a deserted road 10 miles from here.

James said he was returning at 1:30 a. m. from the Atlantic Coast Line railway station where he is employed, and "found the driveway to his garage blocked by a large gasoline tank.

When he got out of his automobile to move the tank, he said, the men rushed from behind his home and while one covered him with a pistol, the other tied him. He said one of them then struck him upon the head and he lost consciousness.

He regained consciousness to find himself tied in his automobile 10 miles from here. After struggling until daylight, he freed himself and drove to police headquarters here, where he reported the robbery.

James said a diamond ring and a wrist watch were taken from him. His mother awakened when she heard the struggle in the yard and called police. No trace of James was found, however, until he appeared at the police station.

Noted Cancer Specialist Lectures Before Doctors Of Eastern Carolina Here

Dr. John D. Humber, Co-Discoverer of the Extract for Treatment of Cancer, Tells Medical Members and Visitors of Work In Clinics In California

Dr. John D. Humber, of San Francisco, noted cancer specialist, addressed members of the Pitt County Medical Society at a public meeting held in the auditorium of the high school Saturday night. The address was, also heard by physicians and surgeons from other sections of the state as well as a number of local citizens who were guests of the society during the evening.

Dr. Humber, who with Dr. Herbert A. Coffey, director of the Pacific General hospital at San Francisco, sometimes ago discovered an extract for the treatment of cancer, presented his hearers with a detailed description of their discovery, and the method of treatment employed in the California clinics. He said that they had obtained good results in hundreds of cases, and expressed belief that the extract would be released to members of the medical profession within the next several weeks.

Dr. Humber was to have been accompanied to Greenville by Dr. Coffey, but the latter was unable to make the trip on account of the illness of a member of his family. While here Dr. Humber was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Humber, on Fifth street.

In addition to giving a comprehensive survey of research work in laboratories in California, Dr. Humber told of the hundreds of cases handled in their clinics. He said of the 2,600 patients receiving treatment that 80 per cent showed steady improvement, seven per cent no improvement and with a death rate of 13 per cent.

He said that they accepted only patients who had been declared inoperable and who had been given up as hopeless. Many of these cases, he declared received relief from the very first dose of the extract, with complete disappearance of the cancerous growth in numbers of instances.

He showed lantern slides of several patients who had received relief from cancer, and the progress which the growth had made from beginning of treatment until the growth had disappeared. He also distributed pamphlets setting forth the work that had been accomplished up to the present time.

He had the following to say about discovery of the extract and its results in experiments in their clinics:

"In our investigations we started out with the thought that all malignancies of the human body were constitutional, and that the causes of malignancies would have to be sought for in systematic structures and functions. We held to the viewpoint that the human body is made up of millions of cells, each of which has a characteristic function to perform, and if for any cause any of these cells should be voided of any definite function that it would be only by a definite control that they could be kept within their normal functions and activities. Under such conditions, as we saw it, one of two conditions might arise:

"First cells with no definite function, and without a controlling element, might become what we would then term 'anarchistic cells,' growing and multiplying at a rapid rate without proper relationships to other tissues and cells of the human body. Such cells could then be looked upon as having somewhat of a parasitic nature.

"Second, if cells of the human body, during their functional activity, received insult by irritation, trauma or otherwise, such cells would also begin to multiply and give expression to themselves in an anarchistic way unless they were held in abeyance by forces as yet not known.

"In both cases it seemed to us that a controlling element, that is, a sort of governor or stabilizer, would be necessary if a normal condition in the human body was to exist in these particular individuals.

"We were of the opinion that nature has provided somewhere in the human body a definite stabilizer of tissue growth in the form of an active principle, or hormone.

"With this theory in mind we continued our studies, searching hither and thither among the body structures and tissues for this stabilizer of tissue growth. In these many experimental investigations we checked and rechecked on anything and everything that might give us a lead in the right direction. Drugs of all kinds were experimented with, likewise proteins of every type, and serums and extracts of all kinds were made and made a subject of special study, and extracts by a process which had gradually been developed by us, were made from all portions of the

SEED INQUIRY CONTINUED AT CAPITAL CITY

J. P. Bunn, of Battleboro, Testifies Before Federal Trade Commission

Raleigh, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The Federal Trade commission inquiry into the cottonseed industry in North Carolina and Virginia was resumed here today with J. P. Bunn of the Battleboro Oil company, Battleboro, testifying as to conditions as they affected his mill.

Mr. Bunn was closely questioned by Walter Wooden, trade commission attorney, as to his methods of buying and grading seed and as to his observance of rules of the North Carolina-Virginia Division of the National Cottonseed Products association, of which the Battleboro mill is a member.

Under questioning Mr. Bunn admitted making one loan four years ago to a man on a "seed refusal contract basis" but said that he thought the practice of making such loans was harmful to the industry.

The general picture of the industry in 1928-29, which Mr. Wooden has been painting by questioning numerous witnesses as to the condition of the industry that year, was further developed by Mr. Bunn. Mr. Bunn testified that his mill lost 50 cents a ton through the season because the spread between the price of seed and price of products became too narrow.

The witness testified that he did not know but understood that the Buckeye and Southern Cotton Oil companies were very active in his territory. He said outside mills came in and paid high prices and took seed of his territory.

The matter of eligibility of 50-cent commission buyers again came up under the examination of Mr. Bunn and it was developed that in 1928-29 he bought about half of his total crush of seed through 50-cent buyers and in 1929-30 he bought about a third through that channel.

Competition of the Winterville Cotton Oil company, a non-member of the National Cottonseed Products association, was again brought out by Mr. Wooden and Mr. Bunn said he was told during the 1929-30 season that the Winterville mill was offering $1 a ton more for seed in his territory than he was paying.

Mr. Bunn testified that he followed the trend of prices of member mills of the North Carolina-Virginia division of the Cottonseed association in most instances, raising his prices when other mills raised theirs and lowering his when other mills went down.

Earth Tremors Reported From Louisiana Cities

New Orleans, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Southeastern Louisiana, including New Orleans and Baton Rouge, reported the first known earth tremors in the State's history Sunday, but no serious damage resulted.

A resilient cradle of alluvial silt and moist loam, 2,300 feet deep underlying the region affected, was credited by scientific authorities with softening the tremors, which nevertheless were sufficiently strong to throw scores into a panic.

The only injuries reported were at Morang City, where worshippers in a Catholic church became frightened at apparently seeing the walls of the church sway, and scratched and bruised each other in a hurried dash for exits.

The quake occurred between 6:15 and 6:30 A. M. at Pilot Town, at the mouth of the Mississippi river, sleeping residents said they were shaken out of bed.

Professor J. Adair Lyon, head of the Physics Department at Newcomb College said the gradual fading out of the tremors in northerly, easterly and westerly directions probably indicated the vibrations came from a disturbance beneath the Gulf of Mexico several hundred miles from land.

Probe Hearing Of Negroes To Polls In Shelby County

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Shelby County's voting for years a source of dispute in Tennessee politics, was the subject today of a hearing by the Senate campaign funds committee.

The committee has received various charges that Negroes were "herded" to the polls on the Democratic Senatorial primary last August, that balloting was allowed without poll tax payment, and that other irregularities were permitted.

Shelby is the State's largest county, and cast about 30,000 votes in the last primary.

County officials and leaders of the Democratic organization here denied the charges. They offered to submit poll tax records and any other information desired by the committee, and said the organization's interest chiefly was in state races, in which they supported Governor Horton and obtained a tremendous majority for him. Leaders said they were not directly interested in the Senatorial race.

Two Killed In Plane Collision

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 20.—(AP)—George Zinn, 23-years-old, wealthy sportsman of Rydal, Pa., and R. W. Kackie, 36, a professional pilot, were killed at the Mercer airport yesterday when their planes collided during the free-for-all race in the Eastern States air meet.

A crowd of 25,000 was watching the planes round the home pylon at a speed of more than 120 miles an hour, when Zinn tore into the tail of Mackie's plane in a spur to avoid hitting another machine. Zinn's propeller cut away the tail surfaces of Mackie's plane.

HUNDREDS OF CARS CAUGHT IN SNOWDRIFT

New York and Pennsylvania Visited By Snow From 9 Inches To 4 Feet Deep.

Buffalo, N. Y.—(AP)—Hundreds of automobiles in snowdrifts in western New York, abandoned by tourists who left home in Indian summer.

Snow from nine inches to four feet deep mantled the ground all the way from Buffalo to Erie, Pa. The storm over Lake Erie was accompanied by a gale, which drove freighters to shelter.

Autoists who abandoned cars plodded their way to farmhouses in search of food and shelter. The houses soon were overcrowded, snow plows endeavored to push their way through to them with supplies, urgent appeals having been sent out when the few operating telephone lines brought word that provisions were running low.

In one ordinary sized farmhouse two miles of Farnham, Erie county 67 autoists were accommodated last night. Women and children slept on floor from cellar to garret.

The Chamber of Commerce of Silver Creek today took steps to find accommodations for 1,300 persons marooned at that hamlet. These people mostly were motorists, from many different states. Their cars were caught in drifts, which in some places rose as high as ten and twelve feet. About 400 cars were stalled in and near Silver Creek.

Workmen who set out to repair broken wires had to travel on horseback in some cases.

Interurban bus lines and heavy transportation vans were abandoned several of these big trucks stalled at various points between this city and Dunkirk. A Cleveland-Buffalo bus and a Buffalo-Chicago bus were among the vehicles stalled at Angola.

ABOUT TOWN

Books, in the opinion of Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, are the greatest assets of community life today. Give a boy plenty of good books to read, in the opinion of this distinguished educator, and there is no limit to his future achievements.

Delivering the principal address at the formal opening of the Shepard Memorial Library here last Friday night, Dr. Graham congratulated the people of Greenville upon their accomplishments in the public library field. He described the Greenville library as the most beautiful city library in North Carolina, and expressed opinion that it should be an inspiration to other communities in this section of the state.

Dr. Graham for years has been one of the leading spirits in the library movement in North Carolina, and the several hundred people who heard him in his address were greatly impressed by his words of wisdom. Men of his type are doing much to improve the cultural side of life of the State, and with their continued activity, it is impossible to foresee the outcome of their efforts.

The several hundreds of dollars given away in premiums by the Pitt County Fair last week should inspire the people of the various communities to increase their exhibits next year.

The fair management has done everything possible in past years to foster interest in exhibits showing the possibilities and resources of the county and if the people would rally behind the movement as they should Pitt county ought to have one of the greatest fairs of any county in the State.

It matters not in what section of the county you may live, you are urged to give the fair exhibits more attention next year. See to it that your community is represented in the way it should be. Call the people together and get them interested, and then go to the fair and claim your share of the premium money.

The "live-at-home" plan will be considered by Masons in this city tonight. The question is one of the most important confronting the people of this section in years, and the Masons have decided to throw their influence behind the movement in an effort to encourage the farmers in its observance.

Representatives of several other lodges have been invited to meet with the local organizations tonight to discuss the plan, and it is expected good results will be obtained.

The production of more of the things consumed at home should receive the earnest consideration of the people of this community this year. They must get away from the habit of producing money crops alone. Experience should have taught everybody that they cannot depend upon this method of farming.

The system is too treacherous, and there is no chance in the world of an improvement unless the farmers get busy and raise more of the things which they use throughout the year.

It would be very commendable on the part of other organizations to try out the plan adopted by the Masons. That they would get good results cannot be questioned.

Greenville doctors know more about the treatment of cancer as result of the appearance here last Saturday night of Dr. J. D. Humber, prominent cancer specialist of San Francisco.

Dr. Humber gave members of the Pitt County Medical Society and several guests a graphic description of what they have accomplished in clinics in the state of California. He showed that numbers of patients had made remarkable progress following treatment with the extract which he and Dr. Coffey discovered several months ago.

Dr. Humber is a native of Greenville. He has been connected with the Pacific General Hospital at San Francisco for a number of years and it was during research work in the laboratory in that city that the extract was discovered. Greenville is proud of the achievement of Dr. Humber in his chosen field of endeavor.

Democrats of Pitt county will have the pleasure of hearing one of the greatest champions of party principles in the State Friday at the noon hour when Josiah William Bailey, of Raleigh, Democratic nominee for the United States Senate, visits the city.

Mr. Bailey will address the Democratic voters at the court house here on the above date. He will tell the people something about his campaign for the senate and will furnish his hearers with many of the strong talking points of the campaign.

Mr. Bailey has visited many sections of the State the last three weeks. At each place he has told the people of the splendid record of the Democratic party and what it had done for the progress of the people in past years.

W. E. Hooks, chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive committee, is expecting a capacity crowd to hear this great exponent of the party, including numbers of people from other counties.

Nominal Prices Are to Attract Record Crowds Kinston Fair

Kinston, Oct. 20.—The lowered prices for the Kinston-10-County Fair this year are expected to result in the biggest attendance in the history of the annual exhibitions staged here since 1914. Charges for this week's event will be 50 cents for adults and 25 for children, with free parking space with each ticket at night. Daytime parking within the grounds will be 25 cents.

Everything is in readiness for the fair. The exhibit halls will be literally crowded it is believed. The stock pens will be filled to capacity. The poultry show will be the largest yet.

Harry Melville's Melville - Reiss shows arrived here Sunday. They will fill the midway. Melville has 35 cars of paraphernalia. His outfit is the third largest in the country. He has promised the fair management the midway will be operated as in the past when he had charge. There will be no gouging. Attendants will be as civil as their patrons, and Melville has many times declared he has never found more civil people than those of Eastern Carolina.

The free acts will be as good as have ever been seen in the section. Secretary Plato Collins believes. He has taken pains to engage the best talent available. Booklets were made months ago. The trotting and pacing races will be of a high order. The automobile races, sanctioned by the American Automobile Association, will feature the last two afternoons. The professional drivers will divide time with home talent, the latter to stage a race with Fords and Chevrolets of ancient vintage. This ought to appeal to the fair-goers. If there is anything the average person in this territory is interested in these days it is run-down-at-the-heel automobiles. Before prosperity of the current brand came in the populace wouldn't look at much less than a Cadillac.

Christians Win From Methodists.
Quite an unusual victory was scored by the Christians Saturday morning from the Methodists. Before the appearance of Turnage and Smith, the Methodist Scouts were willing to play, but when they learned that these hard-hitting back-fielders were in the lineup, another view was taken of the situation.

The Methodist Scouts claimed the inability to furnish a football because they were coerced by the fact that their captain and sole owner of the football, Mr. Fleming, had to return to his home with something less than a nervous breakdown.

The Methodist Scouts have the Christians' sympathy because Turnage did look rather ferocious. The Christian Scouts, however, are very sorry that the Methodists should have the game end as it did, because they felt that many touchdowns would have been possible.

Mother Questioned In Death of Child

Denver, Colo., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin, wife of a city detective, was held for questioning today by police investigators who have established that her 10-year-old step-daughter, Leona O'Loughlin, was the victim of a brutal murder.

She was arrested yesterday when an autopsy over the child's body discovered in City Park Lake, Friday, revealed, physicians said, that Leona had been fed ground glass, beaten unconscious and hurled into the lake to drown.

The stepmother of the youthful victim of foul play, declared in the face of hours of questioning that she knew nothing about the slaying or the presence of glass in Leona's stomach. She remained overnight in the Matron's quarters with no charge lodged against her.

The slain girl's father Leo O'Loughlin, is in a hospital apparently recovering from eating ground glass. When questioned by police Mrs. O'Loughlin, said she had been ill as had her son by a previous marriage. Douglass Millican, 3, she said she believed the illness was induced by eating glass.

Physicians conducted an examination but said they could find no symptoms other than that the woman was weak from a 48 hour fast.

Officers said they had found a blood-stained tire iron, wisps of the child's hair and a bloody towel in the O'Loughlin automobile which Mrs. O'Loughlin used twice the night her stepdaughter disappeared.

BOTH PARTIES SEEK CONTROL OF THE HOUSE

Spokesmen Even At This Time Claim Gain in Forthcoming Elections.

Washington, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Spokesmen for both major parties were out today with flat predictions they would control the House after the November election.

Joett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National Executive committee, for the first time yesterday placed his formal declaration beside the optimistic pronouncements of other members of his party.

"A dispassionate summary of the facts," allowing full consideration to over optimism in some of our reports," led to the conclusion, he said.

Representative Will R. Wood, of Indiana, chairman of the Republican Congressional committee, immediately replied: "The next House of Representatives not only will be Republican, but safely Republican."

Shouse predicted a minimum gain of 60 seats and added he firmly believe the overturn would be closer to 70. He counted at least seven seats in New England, at least 15 in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia, and all districts lost in southern states two years ago.

To these he added 30 seats in the middle west from Ohio to Kansas.

"The Republican landslide of 1928 is not going to be followed by a landslide in the opposite direction on November 4."

"Generally we will hold our own in the November elections; we also will capture a few districts now represented by Democrats. Democratic forecasts of today mean no more than the forecasts of two years ago."

Fascists Attack Japanese Prince With Stink Bombs

Germany, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Prince Takamatsu, brother of the Japanese emperor, and his consort were driven from the opera house here last night by stink bombs thrown by Fascists.

The bombs, which were accompanied by cries of "hail Hitler" and "Germany awake," were not directed at the royal visitors, but in protest at the opera, "Rise and Fall of the City Mahogany," nevertheless the prince and princess, rather puzzled, hastily left the auditorium amid considerable hubbub.

Police dragged out several disturbers during the performance and cleared the auditorium after the final curtain. Outside they dispersed a menacing crowd. The real tumult began inside when demonstrators, evidently planted in various parts of the house, began yelling, whistling, chanting, and released their bombs.

The opera is by Kurt Weill and Bert Brecht. It describes in modernistic words and music several daring scenes of a Utopia of freedom founded by three fugitives from justice, a city where no one is prevented from doing anything.

The hero finally commits the crime no state can ignore—he fails to pay his bills and is electrocuted for bankruptcy. The Fascists apparently objected to its political flavor and some of its orgiastic scenes. There was a considerable Fascist protest when the play had its premier in Leipzig several months ago.

One Communist was fatally injured in a clash between Fascists and Communists incident to the disturbances at the Opera. His skull was fractured by a beer stein and he died shortly afterward at a hospital.

NOTED FLIER MARRIED IN NEW JERSEY

Hackensack Heights, N. J., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Bernt Balchen, blonde Viking of the air who accompanied Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd on his Atlantic flight and his South Polar expeditions, has married his Northland sweetheart.

At a quiet ceremony on Saturday he was married to Miss Emmy Scoglie, of Oslo, Norway, to whom he had been engaged for four years and who came to this country after Balchen returned last year from Antarctica. The marriage took place at a little church in Coatesville, N. J., with Peter J. Siccardi, chief of Bergen county traffic police and Mrs. Siccardi as attendants.

Balchen was back at work today at his job as test pilot for the Fokker Aircraft Corporation, turning airplanes inside out in the air to find out how good they were. But when news of his marriage leaked out he pulled off his flying suit and fled to seclusion after merely confirming the fact that he was married.

It had been his plan to keep the wedding a secret until he had finished some work he had at hand and to have it announced after he and his bride had left on their honeymoon. But when the secret was discovered, Balchen went at once to his apartment near the field here, where he installed the pretty young Mrs. Balchen two days ago, and it was indicated that the wedding trip would begin at once in

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Cotton closed steady today at an advance of 1/8 to 14 points in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables, with new December selling up to 10.44 and March to 10.82 right after the call or about 12 to 14 points net higher on the more active months.

This bulge met some southern hedging and realizing or liquidation by buyers of late last week who appeared disappointed by the failure of the weather may to show killing frosts over the day. This eased prices off a few points with the market quiet and steady at the end of the first half hour. Liverpool cables reported covering and Bombay buying in that market with an absence of selling pressure and said that cloth and yarn demand was sustained with more machinery working.

The more favorable reports from Manchester and reports from Wall Street that business in print cloths and in the primary goods market had exceeded actual production last week were regarded as sustaining influences during the early trading.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Forecasts of another cold wave in Canada, with a third of the wheat crop there reported as yet unthreshed, did much to hoist wheat values today. Besides, a decrease of 1,029,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply during the last week was announced. Notice was likewise taken that receipts of wheat at all domestic points today were small.

Wheat closed firm 11-3-4c a bushel higher than Saturday's finish. Corn closed 13c-8 up, oats 3-3 to 5-8c advanced, and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 17c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The blue Monday tradition was violated by a sweeping advance in share prices in today's stock market. Trading was in light volume, and the list moved forward as easily as it slipped backward last week.

The upholding of the Bueening cabinet by an expectedly large majority in Germany removed a point of uncertainty that had been an unsettling factor in the security markets, and the strong support accorded pivotal shares in last week's closing session had made the bears nervous.

Manufacturing and utility shares showed marked strength, but only a few of the rails participated in the advance. Allied Chemical rose nearly 10 points, and such issues as American Tobacco B. American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Eastman, Air Reduction, Atchison and Union Pacific advanced 5 or more. Advances of 3 points or more embraced a long list of shares including U. S. Steel, American Telephone National Biscuit, DuPont, Consolidated Gas, General Electric, American and Foreign Power, American Water Works, and Sears Roebuck.

Buoyancy developed in foreign exchange rates, as well as stocks. The German mark displayed pronounced strength, and other leading European currencies stiffened markedly. The Spanish peseta responded to government support measures with an advance of more than 1-3 of one cent.

In our final experiments we felt we were rewarded in being able to make what we believe may be called a potent extract, and which is made from a portion of the cortical substance of the suprarenal glands. This suprarenal cortex extract, we believe, contains the active principle, or hormone, which is the stabilizer of tissue growth, or, to put it in other words, which is a function governor of growth, in this human engine of ours.

"When used on human beings with malignant new growths, we found that the suprarenal cortex extract, when injected in graduated doses subcutaneously at definite intervals, caused marked necrosis in the areas of malignancy, followed in a short period of time by sloughing where such a process was anatomically possible. In patients where such a process was anatomically observable it was noted that the tumor mass became necrotic and liquefied. Incidentally, but of importance to many patients, it was also noticed that the pain was often alleviated, or disappeared entirely a short time after the first injection.

From the clinical standpoint of alleviation of symptoms, the patients upon whom these experimental injections had been used stated that they felt better, slept better, and ate better. A striking increase in weight after a short period of injections was also noted in many
