REDS MURDERED THOUSANDS IN KIANG, CHINA

City Also Burned and Looted As Reds Slaughter Defenseless People

Shanghai, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Chinese press dispatches from Nanking today said 8,000 men and women had been slaughtered since capture of Kiang, central Kiangsi province, by Communist hordes October 6.

Burning and looting in the city accompanied the massacre.

Missionary activities from Kiukiang said five foreign Catholic sisters were captured by Reds and were held in a Communist hospital a few miles outside of Kiang, while five Chinese nuns were held at Red headquarters within the city. The whereabouts of four priests captured by Communists was not known.

Additional information from Bishop M. J. J. and a Chinese priest, at Kiukiang, said no mission buildings had been burned when they departed at the command of the Reds to demand $10,000,000 Mexican for release of the missionaries.

The bishop left Kiang Oct. 14. He said buckets of gasoline had been distributed through buildings belonging to the church, in event the Reds wished to fire the properties.

Chinese dispatches reporting the capture of Kiang said:

"Reds who are ravaging Kiangsi province are the same gang who captured Changsha, Hunan province, in which they massacred thousands of innocent people and burned hundreds of homes.

"Immediately following the capture of Kiang, the outlaws instituted there a terrorist program, massacring people and burning houses. Fires were so disastrous that flames and smoke were visible for many miles for three days.

"So many persons were murdered, that a constant stream of bodies was seen floating in the Kan river toward Nanchang until residents of the latter place who were dependent upon the river water did not dare use it. Scenes not describable were enacted."

Giving details of the capture of Pingze, below Kiukiang, the Chinese press messages stated:

"Three thousand Reds staged a surprise attack entering the city without resistance. Two steamers plying between Kiukiang and Nanking on the Yangtze river failed to escape and fell into the hands of Reds.

"Thousands of refugees, like those during the Changsha raid, paid huge sums of money to shipping companies to take them to Nanking and Kiukiang. Others, unable to pay, were either drowned or were seized by Reds and ruthlessly murdered.

"The same gang also seized King-teehchen, eastern Kiangsi, famous as a producing center of chinaware. The city has been captured six times by Reds during fighting and its porcelain industry paralyzed."

Experts Begin Gathering Data For Drive Against Unemployment In U. S.

James A. Davis Stresses Need of Extending Type of Labor and Wage Matters In Address Before Statistical Experts This Morning

Washington, Oct. 22.—While the cabinet committee on unemployment today awaited the arrival of Arthur Woods, of New York, to take charge of President Hoover's relief commission, a group of statistical experts gathered at the U. S. Department to consider existing government methods of collecting data on unemployment.

James A. Davis, secretary of labor, in an address to the gathering, said confidence in the accuracy of the government's figures on labor and wage matters was justified, but a probable need of extending this type of work now exists. He cited particularly the appearance of "technological" unemployment because of the displacement of manual labor by new machinery processes.

"Just how far are these technological changes responsible for our present unemployment?" Secretary Davis asked referring to displacement of musicians by talking motion picture films, unloading of ships by conveyors, and the construction of new railroads by tracklayer devices as examples.

"Can this question be answered, and if so how are we to answer?" He continued. "This is the problem upon which we wish your advice. This unemployment survey ought perhaps to be made from a labor point of view. That is to say it should be a study rather than an enumeration."

The study should show why individuals were out of work and whether a machine displacement was responsible for an individual situation, he said. A careful analysis of research possibilities would be helpful, he added.

Formation of the statistical group was suggested by President Hoover on August 12. Besides Secretary Davis it includes Secretary Lamont, John P. Frey, American Federation of Labor; Arthur P. Wharton, railroad brotherhoods and allied organizations; Dr. Leo Wolman, National Bureau of Economic Research; Harold F. Brown, National Industrial Conference Board; W. M. Stewart, director of the census; Ethelbert Stewart, commissioner of labor statistics; Dr. Joseph H. Willits, advisory committee of the census of unemployment; and Noel Sargent, national association of manufacturers.

PARADE WILL BE FEATURE OF UNVEILING

Colorful Pageant to Precede Unveiling of Marker At Site of First Court House

The unveiling of the marker on the site of the old Pitt County Court House by the Greenville Patriots Chapter, D. A. B., next Saturday afternoon will be preceded by a parade which promises to be one of the largest of its kind ever held in this county, according to announcement made by members of the arrangement committee today.

The parade, which will form at the Sheppard Memorial Library, at 2 o'clock, will consist of mounted police and members of the State Patrol, the high school band, children from the city schools, Boy Scouts, members of the American Legion, the local unit of National Guards, and those to be followed by decorated cars bearing the speakers of the occasion and representatives of more than forty civic and fraternal organizations of the city and county.

The exercises will definitely mark the coming generations the site of the first court house in Pitt county which was also the colonial home of Colonel John Hardee. The graves of Colonel Hardee and his wife are located near the site.

Mrs. R. L. Smith, regent, will preside over the exercises. Mrs. Thomas McGee, a lineal descendant of Colonel Hardee, will present the marker to the county and state. Mrs. Charles R. Whitaker, of Southern Pines, will accept the marker on the part of the state, and the chairman of the County Board of Commissioners will accept in behalf of the county.

Mrs. S. T. White is in charge of the program, and said today that an interesting program had been arranged. Prominent state and national officials will be in attendance as well as other persons high in the social and educational life of the state.

The marker was contributed to the Patriots Chapter by the Raleigh Granite Works, and the city of Greenville defrayed freight charges from Raleigh here. Erection of the marker has been completed and everything was ready today for the unveiling.

TRIAL BEGINS IN BAKER CASE AT CAPITAL

Jury Completed and Witnesses Examined in Slaying of Government Employee

Washington, Oct. 22.—(AP)—A jury to try Herbert M. Campbell, Virginia real estate dealer, on a charge of murdering Mary Baker, Navy Department clerk, was completed today shortly after court opened.

After the jury was sworn by Jesse C. Adkins called counsel for defense and prosecution to the bench for a brief conference before the presentation of testimony began.

Examination of prospective jurors began yesterday and continued until the jury list was exhausted. Two hundred additional veniremen were summoned today and one of the first of these examined proved satisfactory.

Justice Adkins announced he would keep the jury together throughout the trial to expedite the procedure.

About forty spectators, most of them women, were present.

William H. Collins, assistant United States district attorney in charge of the prosecution, said it would take at least four days to present the government's case. He will begin with a chronological account of events surrounding Miss Baker's death.

Mrs. Herbert Campbell, wearing a brown mink coat with matching accessories, sat in the front row of spectators seats while the jury was completed, but left when the judge cleared the room of witnesses. She is expected to be a witness.

Among the witnesses also are Major Calvin Goddard of Chicago, ballistics expert, who will testify for the government, and two other experts who will speak for the defense.

William H. Collins, assistant United States attorney in charge of the prosecution, in his opening statement said the government expected to prove Miss Baker was killed at 16th and "B" streets, not far from the Washington Monument late on the afternoon of April 11.

The dressed Campbell's statements, which he said first drew suspicion.

A pair of pig skin gloves was found with some of Miss Baker's effects not far from the spot near Arlington National cemetery where a parade afternoon will be held in honor of the government's successful fight in 1916 that led to general adoption of the eight-hour day and the possibility that they once more were taking leadership of American labor was discussed.

The new plan has not been broached to railroad executives because the unions themselves have not yet established a definite program, Whitney said.

The call for the conference was issued by David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

LABOR UNIONS SEEK TO AID UNEMPLOYED

Will Ask for Six-Hour Working Day In Attempt to Solve Unemployment

Cleveland, Oct. 22.—(AP)—A six-hour working day will be sought by the railroad labor unions as their solution of the unemployment problem.

In the same manner that they finally obtained the eight-hour day 12 years ago, 700 representatives of the seven labor organizations of the railroad industry in the United States and Canada will meet in Chicago November 12 to lay out a campaign for a six-hour day.

For more than a year, it was revealed in union records, the operating side of the railroad industry has been confronted with an increasing unemployment situation. Thousands of younger members of the unions have been made idle by the current business depression, while other thousands have been forced from their jobs by the unification of lines and the inroads of bus transportation on some divisions.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said the six-hour day is now a necessity and that at the Chicago conference committees will be organized to campaign all over the country to shave two hours from the working day just as they did in the historic 1916 fight which cut the working day from 10 to eight hours.

Whitney said a five-day week was a more popular suggestion in the shopcraft divisions and among office workers, but that for the operating unions the six-hour day is the more feasible plan because it is better suited to train services. "Something like a 40 or 42-hour week seems the most logical working arrangement for the operating side," he said.

Unusual significance was attached in labor circles to Whitney's statement. It was the railroad union's successful fight in 1916 that led to general adoption of the eight-hour day and the possibility that they once more were taking leadership of American labor was discussed.

The new plan has not been broached to railroad executives because the unions themselves have not yet established a definite program, Whitney said.

Youth Faces Trial for Secretion of Girl in Virginia

Richmond, Va., Oct. 22.—(AP)—Harry Dickenson, youthful filling station attendant, faced trial in Hastings court here today on six indictments charging him with unlawful secretion of Mary Francis McClenny, a minor, without the knowledge of her consent of her parents. Three of the indictments are for felonies.

Miss McClenny, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. C. McClenny, of Hampton Gardens, was the object of a wide spread search here last July when she was reported missing by her father who swore out warrants for Dickenson. Eleven days after her disappearance and she was returned to Richmond with Dickenson, saying she had hitchhiked to Waynesboro with him and stayed in a small rooming house there. In a statement given to Dickenson's attorney she said she made the trip without coercion.

N. H. Dickenson, brother of Harry, and Joannie Ledbetter, an associate, were indicated for aiding and abetting in the secretion, but the case against Ledbetter was not pressed at the opening of court today. Ledbetter was held as a material witness.

LEGION POST PREPARES FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Final Arrangements Made At Monthly Meeting Last Night

Discussion of plans for the Armistice Day celebration to be staged in this city November 11th featured the regular monthly session of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion, at the Rotary building last night. In addition to this, the Legionnaires referred briefly to the membership drive planned for the future and heard a report from Captain Armstrong, head of the local Salvation Army, regarding activities of the organization in this territory.

The session last night was presided over by Commander J. S. Nichols. The usual supper and song program were enjoyed, after which S. L. Bridges, chairman of the Armistice Day committee appointed at a previous meeting reported progress of preparations up to the present time.

Mr. Bridges declared that the celebration would be one of the most important in years, and that they expected large attendance. He said he had appointed sub-committees to take care of various phases of the celebration and that they were functioning in a satisfactory manner.

He said the principal speaker of the occasion would be J. C. B. Ehringhaus, of Elizabeth City, prominently mentioned as the next candidate for governor of North Carolina. The address will be delivered in the campus building of the East Carolina Teachers College. Immediately afterward the special feed for ex-service men and soldiers of other wars will be held.

The day's program, he said, also called for the usual picture show, parade and football game, and that although all arrangements in this connection had not been completed, the committees expected to finish their work in the next several days.

D. C. Moore, chairman of the picture show committee, reported that he had made arrangements with the New Theatre and State theatre for appropriate picture programs during the day. He introduced T. Y. Walker, manager of the State theatre, who said he had conferred with the general manager of his company and had made arrangements to cooperate with the Legion in observance of the signing of the armistice.

J. H. Rose, chairman of the parade committee, said tentative plans for the parade provided participation of the high school band, Boy Scouts, local unit of National Guards, floats, Legion Auxiliary and members of the Legion and former service men, and units of school children. It was decided that prizes would be offered to the units of school children making the best showing during the parade, but complete plans in this connection had not been worked out.

H. H. Duncan had not made any definite arrangements for the football game, but at a suggestion from J. H. Rose, superintendent of city (Continued on page six)

LOCAL POLICE OFFICER SUED IN CIVIL COURT

J. L. Whichard Sued for False Arrest; Case Hard Fought

The civil term of Pitt County Superior court was busy today in the case of H. S. Ormond against J. L. Whichard, member of the Greenville police department. The plaintiff is suing for $100, charging false arrest and imprisonment by the police officer while on a visit to the city several months ago.

Hearing in the case was started yesterday about the noon hour, and was expected to occupy the most of today. The case is one of the most stubbornly contested heard in the local court rooms in years, and much interest is centered about it.

Ormond was arrested by the officer on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. The arrest took place while Ormond was on his way out of town. The officer charged that the car was being driven in a reckless manner, and placed Ormond in jail to await trial. When the case came up for consideration in County Court, Ormond was found not guilty of the charge. He immediately filed suit against the City of Greenville, but later had it changed to the officer.

Court convened here last Monday morning with Judge Clayton Moore, of Williamston, presiding. The calendar contains scores of cases of more or less importance to this and other communities, and it was believed the majority of them would be disposed of when court adjourns the last of the week. A one-week criminal term will open next Monday morning.

L. B. Braxton recovered in his case against the Blades Motor Company and Mrs. Polly Worthington. He was suing for damages received by his automobile when cars belonging to the Blades Motor Company and Mrs. Worthington wrecked. The amount of the damage could not be determined, but the jury held that the two insurance companies with which the two defendants were insured were liable for $151.15 each.

Mrs. Helen Dixon Tyndall, of Ayden, was awarded divorce absolute from Kirby Tyndall.

Rose Dail was granted divorce from Bennie Dail.

D. W. Elks obtained a divorce from Sallie E. Elks under the five year separation agreement.

J. P. Quinerly was granted divorce from Eunice P. Quinerly.

Moran Defiant After Arrest

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(AP)—The spotlight of investigation flashing again today on the slaying June 9 of Alfred Lingie, Tribune reporter, revealed George (Bugs) Moran, gangster leader, in a gesture of defiance.

"I am not afraid of anyone," Moran declared on his return to Chicago on a vagrancy charge, following his arrest yesterday in a room near Antioch. "Chicago is my home and I'm going to stay here. I won't be run out by Cops, courts, citizens or crooks."

Asked by newspapermen where he had been "here and there" hunting and fishing, with occasional visits to Chicago to collect dividends, he added that he could not be classed as a vagrant, having an income of around $25,000 a year as part owner of a cleaners and dyer company.

Moran is reputed to be an enemy of Alphonse Capone.

When asked by reporters who slew seven of his followers in a North Clark Street garage a year ago last St. Valentine's day he replied: "Santa Clause."

Borah Declares for Recognition of the Soviets

Twin Falls, Idaho, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho declared without qualification for recognition of the Russian Soviet government in a campaign address last night.

"I am not afraid of Communist propaganda," he said.

"There is nothing the people of the United States reject more quickly, when they know that it is than they do the Communist doctrine," he said.

"If I had my way I would trade with every other country in the world. I know in due time we will recognize the government of Russia. We don't do it now because that would be regarded in some quarters as an endorsement of the Communist doctrine.

"No one has less use for the doctrine than I, but I believe that Russia, in pursuing her present policy, will work out something in the nature of a sane democracy."

Grant Continuance of Gant's Trial

Greensboro, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Judge H. Hoyle Sink today granted a continuance of Mason W. Gant's trial until December 8 or December 15.

The continuance for Gant, former clerk of Guilford Superior court who is charged with embezzling Confederate pension funds, was granted after two physicians had reported he was genuinely ill.

The defense moved for continuance Monday when his case was called on the ground that he was physically unable to appear in court. Judge Sink then appointed the physicians to examine him and order them to report today.

In continuing the case, Judge Sink stipulated two conditions. The first was that the defense not plead insufficient time to prepare its case and that it agree not to request a further continuance because of Gant's illness.

The state charges Gant embezzled the pension funds over a long period prior to his resignation as clerk of court last month. A preliminary audit of his accounts, state officials announced, indicated there was a shortage of $55,000.

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD BIG FIELD EVENT

Scouts of Wilson Area to Stage Field Day Here Saturday Afternoon

Next Saturday afternoon, October 25, at 3:30 o'clock six Boy Scouts troops will lock horns on the Third Street School Athletic field in a series of eight Scouting contests to determine the champion troops in the Wilson Area Council, Boy Scouts of America. Elimination contests have already been held in the various districts of the council, and these winning troops will enter the field day here.

Greenville is fortunate in having this important event of Scouting within its borders, and the people of Greenville are cordially invited to attend. The Methodist Troop No. 20 with Joe Taft as Scoutmaster, will represent Pitt County. The Scouts of that troop having won over the other troops of the county last Saturday morning, are now practicing and training in order to take the Area Council championship.

The admission fee will be 10c for adults (over 16 years old) and 5c for children under 16. All fees will be contributed to a fund for the needy to be administered by the County Welfare Department. The tickets will be distributed by the Scouts in advance, but no fees collected by them. All fees will be paid upon entrance to the Athletic field on Field Day.

The following are the contests in which the Scout troops will compete:

Paul Revere race: (Also known as "Pony Express"). One "Revere" and four horses. Horse No. 1 is posted at the start; No. 2 and No. 4 thirty yards down the field; No. 3 at the far end (60 yards). At the word "go," "Revere" mounts horse No. 1, rides to center of field and changes to No. 2, rides to end of field and changes to horse No. 3, returns to center of field and changes to No. 4, and rides back to the start. "Revere" may not take more than 2 steps at any relay. Speed event.

Staff Throw: One man. Staff to travel front end first to fall front end downward, and to be measured to this point. When it falls flat or rear end down the rear end to be marked. Standard Scout staff to be used. Distance event.

Dressing race: One man. Run ten yards, remove belt; run ten yards, remove hat; run ten yards, remove shirt; run ten yards, remove shoes; run ten yards, and cross line. Returning, replace articles of clothing each ten yards. Shirts to be buttoned completely and shoes completely laced at start and finish. No neckties. Speed event.

Rescue race: One Scout and patient. Patient lies on back, head towards rescuer, one arm vertical. Rescuer runs thirty yards, picks up patient by fireman's life, and returns with him. Team to be disqualified if patient is not properly secured within five yards of patient's line, or if patient in any way assists rescuer. Speed event.

Three-Legged race: Two Scouts with the right leg of one tied to the left leg of the other, race other pairs of Scouts. This is always an amusing feature.

Fire Aid race: Two Scouts and patient. Scouts run 50 yards to patient; apply triangular bandage to head, put arm in triangular bandage sling, form four-handed seat and carry patient back at a walk. Team to furnish bandages. Surplus bandage need not be brought back with the patient. Judge, a doctor or first aid expert, shall disqualify team if all bandages are not correctly, neatly, and firmly done, or if Scouts run with or jolt patient. Speed event.

Potato race: Six potatoes, two yards apart on a direct line. First potato two yards from receptacle (pail, bucket or box not over 36 inches in circumference). Finish 5 yards back of receptacle. Potatoes must be carried one at a time. Any contestant dropping a potato must place the same in the receptacle before he touches another. Speed event.

Antelope race: Form single file, each Scout grasping belt of Scout ahead of him. Patrols race in lock step 30 yards and return. If Scout loses his grasp, the Patrol is disqualified. Speed event.

Negro Hopeful Oil Well Will Still Bring Him Wealth

Ridgely, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Though the experts have come, inspected Louie Burwell's oil well, pondered and decreed that there was nothing to it, Burwell refuses to give up hope.

The Caswell County Negro had visions of wealth. Gasoline of the high type was seeping out of his well. As much as four gallons a day could be drawn out.

Now they say Burwell's gasoline leaked from some filling station tank.

State Geologist Herwig J. Bryson and an associate gave it as their opinion that the oil had seeped through saturated earth into Burwell's well. The earth does not produce refined gasoline, Bryson pointed out.

F. V. McMann, crude oil expert from Oklahoma, also rendered an unfavorable report.

Meanwhile, Burwell, who maintains there are no leaky gas tanks near his well, remains hopeful the experts, for once, may be wrong.

Gloria Swanson Files Divorce Suit

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Gloria Swanson's long heralded suit for divorce from the Marquis Henri De La Palaise De La Courdrave was on file here today.

The screen star's attorney filed the suit, yesterday, charging "willful and malicious desertion." Confirming statements made at the time the question of divorce was broached, the Marquis said he would not contest the action.

The couple was married in Paris, January 23, 1925, and separated a year ago, the complaint stated. The first public intimation that Mrs. Swanson and her titled husband had reached the part of their ways came in August this year when the Marquis came to Hollywood from Europe and stayed alone at a hotel.

At that time both said they had decided to live apart and Mrs. Swanson intimated she was considering filing a suit for divorce.

The couple has not children and Miss Swanson did not ask for alimony. There is no community property, the divorce petition said.

Celebrates Eighth Birthday

Grimesland, Oct. 21.—On Monday afternoon, Oct. 13, was a scene of much gaiety when Master James Erelle Edwards entertained several of his little friends at the home of his parents.

The children, after engaging in many interesting games, were invited into the dining room where refreshments were served.

The table was very pretty, the centerpiece being the white birthday cake with eight pink candles and shaded lights.

Whistles were given as favors, which afforded much fun.

After bidding the little host adieu, the little guests departed, wishing him many more happy birthdays.

3200,000 WORTH OF AIRPLANES USED IN BARTHELMESS FILM

Eighteen airplanes of different makes, valued roughly at $200,000 were used in the filming of "The Dawn Patrol," the first National Vitaphone production starring Richard Barthelmess.

This group included Neuports, old British Sopwiths, Fokkers and modern American ships many of which were disguised to represent the almost extinct wartime planes.

This mighty air fleet was housed at various times on two locations—one at Triunfo and the other at Newhall, California.

Howard Hawks directed this Barthelmess role in which the star plays the role of a British air ace who commands a squadron of "school-boy" flyers.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

WARD'S ESTABLISH NEW HIGH RECORD FOR RETAIL SALES

The results of nation-wide Ward Week (Ward's semi-annual retail sale) have exceeded all expectations.

announces W. L. Stensgaard, retail sales and merchandise manager of Montgomery Ward & Co., "and all indications point to a new high record for retail sales performance."

Montgomery Ward & Co. operates 560 retail stores. And Ward's great confidence and optimism are based on the reports already turned in by these stores.

"The future of renewed buying activities is indeed bright," he says, "as indicated by the excellent sales performance shown in our nation-wide Ward Week."

Mr. Stensgaard further points out that every effort for months of a highly organized buying staff was utilized in the securing of enormous quantities of merchandise for this single event.

And 6,000,000 lines of advertising have been released to broadcast the news to the public. This is believed to be a record release for space used for any single promotional event of one week's duration.

Ward's is of the opinion that such wide publicity—together with the tremendous amount of merchandise required for a sale of such magnitude—will have a very direct bearing upon the unemployment problem.

"This constructive move to stimulate consumer buying," he says, "naturally stimulates production; and increased production, in turn calls for more workers. The momentum thus created will no doubt assist to bring some relief to present business depression."

In the face of reports already received from stores, and from those executives of the company who are touring the various districts during the period of this nation-wide Ward Week event, Mr. Stensgaard has every right to feel optimistic about the outcome—the establishment of an unprecedented record in retail sales in any single event. The public is certainly taking advantage of these unusual offerings.

Kingsford-Smith Reaches Australia and His Fiancee

Sydney, N. S. W., Oct. 22.—(AP)—After an eight months' absence during which he flew nearly round the world and back again, Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith today returned to his fiancee, Miss Mary Powell, whom he will marry late next month.

The pretty girl, modestly clad in black and white, left her sick bed to greet him at Mascot Airfield as he arrived from Sydney, escorted by 18 planes, completing a record-breaking flight which has brought Sydney to within less than thirteen days of England.

She waved as he circled the field once or twice and landed but it was not until he taxied his little single engine machine across the field that she saw her and waved kisses at her.

When he stopped his plane and throttled its motor she ran out to meet him, and she took his hand as he stepped from the cockpit. They embraced and talked smilingly and happily as they walked toward the cheering crowd of 6,000 or more.

She led him to his parents and the official reception committee, and stood by him as they bade him welcome and he spoke into a ready microphone. Afterward she rode with him in a triumphal procession through the streets of Sydney to the home of his parents at Lane Cove.

Asheville, —(AP)—Chestnuts are many this year. They are also bigger and better. One may even eat them in the dark with a modicum of assurance, since, it is said, the drouth did things to the worms.

MANY CASES TO BE HEARD NEXT WEEK

Jodie Whitley to Face Trial for Murder in One-Week Session of Criminal Court

The calendar has been completed for the criminal term of Pitt County Superior Court which will convene in this city next Monday morning with Judge Clayton Moore, of Williamston presiding.

Although there are several scores of cases awaiting consideration, only about a half dozen of them hold more than passing interest to the people of the community.

The most important is the case against Jodie Whitley, Penny Hill man charged with the slaying of Paul Forbes during the early summer.

Whitley is out under $2,500 bond at this time. A true bill was returned against him at the last term of criminal court, but he did not go on trial.

Forbes, according to State's evidence, died as result of wounds inflicted by a shotgun in the hands of Whitley. There was some doubt about the nature of the death at first, but an autopsy was held over the body of the dead man and it was discovered that one shot had passed through the eye, producing a hemorrhage of the brain and subsequent death.

Following is the calendar for the term:

The following cases for grand jury action and will be for trial whenever called during the term.

Earl Bishop and J. T. Swanner, Jr., larceny; Arthur Johnson, forgery; William McKeely, larceny; Robert Oby and John Atkinson, larceny; J. F. Stokes, embezzlement; Joe Braxton, embezzlement; Jesse Mills, prostitution; W. C. Smith, forgery.

The following cases for disposal on day set or thereafter:

Believe Girl Was Victim of Plot to Exterminate Family

Den. (r. Colo., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Death of two family pets from the effects of eating ground glass confirmed police today in their belief that 10-year-old Leona O'Loughlin, drowned in a city park lake, was the victim of a plot which had as its object extermination of her entire family.

The girl disappeared a week ago. Her bruised body, the stomach containing a quantity of ground glass was found in the park lake Friday. At the time the girl's body was recovered her father, Leo O'Loughlin, a city detective, was in a hospital recovering from the effects of eating food in which ground glass had been placed.

Police advanced the murder plot theory after they learned ground glass was found in the sugar at the home of Dennis O'Loughlin, father of the detective six weeks ago.

Investigation of their theory led to discovery of ground glass in the organs of the dead girl, in the stomach of her father and in two pets, a cat and dog. The cat died Wednesday, the day after the girl disappeared. The dog died Thursday, the same day the detective was

PITT COUNTY'S BORROWED MONEY

The statement of receipts and disbursements of Pitt County for the past four months, as published in this issue, is no doubt an eye-opener to some of those who have been howling so hard about the $100,000 alleged to have been borrowed against the 1929 tax levy and the additional $250,000 borrowed against the 1930 budget. As a matter of fact, according to the report covering transactions from May 15 to September 25, Pitt County actually borrowed $265,000 instead of the alleged $350,000, only $15,000 being against the 1929 taxes, the balance being against the 1930 tax budget as provided by law.

The administration of Pitt County's affairs has been under fire from some quarters during the past several months, some of those who oppose the administration even going so far as to urge a coalition of certain Democratic and Republican candidates in the coming election in an effort to get control of the county's affairs. At this time it is not our purpose to discuss such an effort to put our county in the hands of the Republicans or any combination group of Republicans and Democrats or the record of the Republican counties in our state and the present condition of affairs in our neighboring county, Johnston, is sufficient to convince our people that we are best served by retaining the Democrats in power in our county.

With all the discussion about the borrowing of money by our county, however, it is interesting to compare our own record with that of some of the other counties in the state that have already borrowed against their 1930 tax collections.

The following are the official figures furnished by the State Sinking Fund Commission:

Guilford	$ 400,000
Wake	200,000
Johnston	900,000
Wayne	362,500
Nash	208,505
Craven	750,000
Buncombe	2,815,000
Rutherford	925,000
Rowan	251,000
Burke	180,000
Brunswick	280,000

These figures need no further explanation from us in that they show that Pitt county is doing just what other counties in the state are doing, borrowing money in anticipation of tax collections because the fiscal year begins July 1 and the taxes are not collected until the fall and winter. The money our county has borrowed is not more than it should have borrowed in comparison to the other counties included in the above report and there should be no criticism of our commissioners for their actions, in that they were not only acting within the law to borrow this money, but were doing their duty by making it possible for the county to meet its expenses until the tax money can be collected.

ABOUT TOWN

Plans looking to the observance of Armistice Day were discussed by members of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion in regular monthly session here last night.

It was resolved to make the occasion as great as it is possible to make it and hope was expressed that everybody would join the Legion in making the day one long to be remembered.

The highlight of the celebration will be the address by Hon. J. C. B. Ehringhaus, of Elizabeth City, prominently mentioned as the next candidate for Governor of North Carolina. Mr. Ehringhaus has the reputation of being one of the best orators in this section of the state and that he will tell the boys something well-worth hearing cannot be doubted.

It is to be hoped as many people as possible will suspend business during the day and in that way show the boys they remember that great day twelve years ago when word was flashed across the ocean that the Armistice had been signed. The message, brief as it was, caused inexpressible joy and happiness in millions of homes throughout the world, and American people should be just as eager to celebrate the termination of the war today as they were then. It will indicate to former service men that the cause for which they fought has not been forgotten but that it is stronger and more glorious today than it has ever been before.

Reports from the capital city indicate the fire loss for the state of North Carolina is in excess of the corresponding period last year. The total loss for the present year was given as something over four millions of dollars. If the loss was combined with that reported in the destruction of forests throughout the state, the amount would be

This brings us face to face with the necessity of more concerted action looking to reduction of loss by fire. People in the cities and the country also must be more cautious than in the past months, and in this way eliminate to some extent the danger of further conflagrations.

Most of the fire loss is the result of carelessness. When we begin to employ more care in the handling of matches and cigarettes and cigar stubs the fire demon will be cheated of some of his awful toll of life and property.

Boy Scout field day to be held in this city the latter part of the week will draw representative Scouts from as many as six of the larger towns of this part of the state, and the occasion promises to be one of the most noteworthy held here since the organization of the Boy Scout movement several months ago.

Greenville won the honor of staging this field-day program by reason of the high rank which members of the local organization take in the field of Scout activities. They have demonstrated their ability to carry on with the best of the troops in this section and are gradually gaining recognition throughout the section.

The public is urged to go out and watch the Scouts in action. They will show what they are capable of doing on the field and this should prove an inspiration to those men and women interested in what the Scouts are doing in behalf of the moral development of community life.

The Sheppard Memorial Library has been formally thrown open to the public and is now ready to render the highest type of service to the people of this community.

The public should keep ever before it the fact that the library is an institution launched in behalf of increasing the cultural life of the people of this locality, and hope has been expressed that everybody will make the best of the advantage which it affords. The gift of the new building has enabled Greenville to take front rank in the library movement in North Carolina, and there is no reason why its people should not endeavor to continue to live up to the recognition through additional gifts of books, and the constant use of those already on hand.

The library has a capacity of 43,000 volumes, about 40,000 more than is on the shelves at this time. Therefore, it is evident that everybody should make an effort to see that the book supply is continually on the increase.

The campaign to plant more trees in the city of Greenville and to preserve the life of those already in evidence in various parts of the city is meeting with splendid cooperation from the general public. It is evident that the next few months will witness the planting of numbers of shade trees in the various residential sections by citizens who are endeavoring to do everything in their power to aid in the movement to beautify the city. You will be called upon to help out in the campaign sometime in the near future, and when you are called be sure to do your part. It will not only add to the appearance of the city but will also increase the value of your property as all other improvements have done.

WHY are Camels welcomed with cheers in any company—a twosome or a crowd? Because they're mild—not flat or tasteless but naturally mild. They have the marvelous aroma that only choice tobaccos, mellowed by golden sunshine, then expertly cured and superbly blended, can give a cigarette. There's nothing artificial about this delightful fragrance. No doctoring, no over-processing can produce it. Camel's refreshing mildness is there from the start.

Swing with the crowd to Camels. Learn the happy difference between true mildness and insipid flatness. Smoke without fear of throat-discomfort or after-taste—just for pleasure!

BOB WARREN TO LEAD STATE BACKFIELD

Charlotte, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Into the hands of two doctors, North Carolina State College today delivered a sick football team.

The Wolfpack, suffering from a severe case of loose-lits, complicated by three relapses since the majority first set in, will undergo a merciless operation at the hands of Dr. Ray Sermon, head coach, and Dr. Robert E. ("Bob") Warren, backfield coach, before performing against Mississippi A. and M. Saturday.

Doctor Sermon, director of athletics at the Raleigh institution, was summoned to diagnose the Wolfpack illness upon the resignation Monday of Coach John Van Liew. Doctor Warren, who has been directing the freshmen team, called in consultation yesterday and today he will take complete charge of the backfield case.

Doing things with a State backfield will be nothing new to Doctor Warren, who gained his title and said part of his education at the American School of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Mo.

Before wandering off to Missouri, and when he was just plain "Bob" Warren, the doctor was a power at the fullback post in State's backfield. After Thanksgiving each year he found other things athletic to interest him. He added two more letters to the one given him for gridiron work and was a member of the basketball team that won the Southern Conference championship in 1920.

Last year, he was basketball coach and trainer at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, and returned to his alma mater this year to take over the yearling squad.

His promotion to the varsity coaching staff will put him in company with two of his former associates on State athletic teams, he having been on squads with both Doctor Sermon and "Butch" Slaughter, the coach. Bob Evans, assistant freshman coach, will take up Doctor Warren's duties with the new men.

Negotiations with William McK. ("Bill") Peizer, former University of North Carolina coach, who was considered as a possible backfield coach for the Pack, were dropped yesterday. Doctor Sermon announced.

The former athletic director, who took over the reins from Van Liew as a temporary measure, will remain in the capacity of head coach during the remainder of the season. It was announced after arrangements had been completed with Doctor Warren.

The new directors of the Pack have set their hearts on adjusting the backfield in order to develop the offensive power believed hidden there. With the exception of a scoring spree against High Point, which is not counted by terms that travel in the company N. C. State belongs in, the Wolfpack has been unable to put over a touchdown this year.

SPORTS SLANTS

Taking all the main centers and surprises into consideration, the sensation of the college football scrapping to date is the wild gallop of Washington State's Cougars up and down the Pacific slope.

The boys rubbed their eyes when they read: "Washington State 16 California 0." They rolled over and undered up their faces when they looked down the column of results the following Saturday and noted "Washington State 7, Southern California 6."

The season is a success when one of the crowd's "Big Whores" is knocked over nowadays. To home off two of the trio on successive Saturdays is of no more importance to the Pacific Northwest than a big glazier movement off the steps of Mrs. A. Rainier.

In other parts of the country halcyon spreads the name and fame of Howard Jones, Pop Warner, Nibs Price, Doc Spear, Jimmy Phelan. It's time for this elite select company to move over while three cheers are given for Babe Hollingbery, Washington State coach, who has steadily been turning out better teams and who now is off to a great start in a bid for the Pacific Coast Conference championship.

The Cougars lost only two out of twelve games last year, dropping the decisions to California and Southern California, so that they have very promptly obtained revenge. They topped off their 1920 campaign by voyaging to Hawaii and a couple of victories to their string and they wind up their 1920 season by riding across-country to play Harry Stuhldreher's Villanovans at Philadelphia, November 29. The east, therefore, may have a chance to see the champions of the far west, if the Cougars continue their triumphant way.

Hollingbery has a veteran array of talents which kept intact his record on never having experienced a defeat at home by nosing out Southern California. The powerful Trojans didn't score against their rivals at Pullman, Washington, until the last quarter and the failure to add the extra was costly, just as it was last year in the big battle with Notre Dame at Soldier Field, Chicago.

Georgia bottled up Albie Booth of Yale for second successive year as the Bulldogs of Dixie tamed the Bulldogs of New Haven. All of which goes to show that no ball-carrier can make much progress unless his line opens the gaps or his interference shakes him loose.

Jimmy Maloney, the Boston Pat Boy, punctured the Carnera Bubble, wereupon Jimmy was promptly suspended by the solemn solons of New York for engaging in combat with a suspended gladiator. What they should have done was to give three cheers and pin a rose on the Boston Irishman.

NOTRE DAME TO VISIT THE PANTHER DEN

New York, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Knute Rockne's Notre Dame football eleven makes its first sally of the season into the East next Saturday to battle the rugged Panthers of Pittsburgh.

After Carnegie Tech's crushing defeat at South Bend last week the Panthers can be nothing but decided short-enders against Rockne's men, who have beaten Southern Methodist, Navy and Carnegie Tech and find ahead of them Pitt, Indiana, Penn. Drake, Northwestern, Army and Southern California. Pitt has waded through four straight games without yielding the opposition a point.

Rockne's team seems to have everything, speed, deception, power, reserve strength and an excellent defense.

This battle heads this week's slim list of intercollegiate games with all the other Eastern headliners involving traditional rivals.

Yale stacks up against unbeaten Army in a contest that should draw 75,000 to the Yale bowl and 55,000 are expected to watch Harvard attempt to stop Dartmouth's powerful array which has piled up 225 points against none for the opposition in four games.

Two more contenders for Eastern honors, Fordham and New York University, clash in the Yankee stadium in a duel between the Violet's fleet sophomore backs and Fordham's unyielding defense.

There will be no lack of color in the meeting between Navy and Princeton although both have been beaten and Temple's unbeaten record will be at stake as the Owls swing into action against Harry Stuhldreher's Villanova eleven, at Philadelphia.

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 2 points to an advance of two points with near months relatively easy during the early trading liquidation promoted by the circulation of October notice estimated at about 2,800 bales.

Liverpool cables were about as due on the New York close of yesterday and the initial business here appeared to be pretty well divided between southern hedging and trade buying. The latter was accompanied by reports that some southern mills were buying against increased sales of cotton goods. The weekly report of the weather bureau was considered favorable and may have brought in a little selling but after easing off to 10.24 for new October and 10.47 for December or about 2 to 6 points net lower, the market held steady at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool reported hedging, and liquidation taken by trade calling but said the news reaching Manchester from India was less favorable and that business in cotton cloths was quieter.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Wheat advanced strongly today to the highest level of prices reached in more than a fortnight. Houses with eastern connections took the lead as buyers and put stress on statements that wheat available for immediate use was commanding a premium over future deliveries, the first time since 1927 at this season of the year.

Wheat closed firm 1 to 17-8 higher than yesterday's finish; corn closed 1 3-8 to 2 3-8 advance; oats 5-8 to 7-8 up and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12 cents.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 22.—(AP)—The stock market was seized with a train spasm of liquidation again today, but once more managed to throw it off, after pivotal shares had slipped to new low prices.

This familiar ordeal carried the prices down 1 to 6 points during the first hour of trading, when selling was active enough to delay the ticker a few minutes. By afternoon, however, most of the losses had been regained, and a few shares showed advances of a point or two, trading turned dull.

American Can and Wolworth sold 2 points above yesterday's close, and Allied Chemical, Chesapeake and Ohio, Atchison and Union Pacific recorded moderate gains. The early selling carried U. S. Steel off 2 1-4 points to 143 1-4, the lowest since 1928. Radio and General Electric dropped to new low prices for the present shares, and Westinghouse sold off 4 to a new 1930 low. Auburn auto, which closed early in the year as high as 263 3-4, dropped 6 points to 681-2.

It is felt in some quarters that the persistent selling represents systematic liquidation of troublesome situations, and that once the process is completed, the market may be expected to give a better account of itself. That such liquidation has progressed systematically with little or no demoralization is regarded as reassuring, although some brokers feel that it may have caused considerable needs sacrificed of holdings by worried investors.

Brokers explained that every selling requires a buyer, a fact sometimes lost sight of, and that much of the buying of late has been of the best investment sort. Odd lot purchases by investors are said to have been in large volume. One large commission house reports that it purchased 1,193 individual lots of stocks for customers yesterday.

MASON GIVES TESTIMONY AT SEED PROBE

Rockingham Ginner Tells About Inauguration of Uniform Prices

Raleigh, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Uniform prices for cottonseed were inaugurated by cotton oil mills of North Carolina "the day the grading rules went in." F. I. Mason, Rockingham ginner, testified today before the Federal Trade commission here.

Mr. Mason, under questioning of Walter B. Wooden, Trade Commission attorney, testified that "all the mills began to pay the same prices" when they started grading seed and said that this was done October 15, 1929.

Mills often gave him notice that cottonseed prices were going to decline. Mr. Mason testified, but never gave notice that an increase was anticipated.

The Federal Trade Commission opened a hearing here October 7 in continuation of its inquiry, ordered by the Senate to ascertain if there was any evidence of collusion on the part of cottonseed oil mills in an effort to "fix" the price of cottonseed in illegal restraint of trade.

Last year, Mr. Mason said, he ascertained from reports he received from mills and from traveling representatives of other mills that all mills were paying the same prices for seed.

Under close questioning, Mr. Mason said that once in a conversation with a seed buyer of a South Carolina oil mill it had been intimated to him that the Federal Trade Commission had authorized cotton oil mills to have a "spread" to $10 a ton between cost of seed and products on seed in order that the mills might make a profit.

He added, however, that later the same man emphatically denied to him that this was true.

Mr. Mason objected to naming the man who gave this information and Mr. Wooden asked Examiner W. W. Sheppard to instruct that the man's name be given.

Stating that he did not recall the man's initials, Mr. Mason testified that Mr. Lofton, connected with the Hartsville S. C., Cotton Oil Mill was the man.

W. P. McRae, large farmer of Rockingham, was called to the stand following Mr. Mason.

The grading rules referred to by Mr. Mason were placed in effect October 15, 1929 by members of the North Carolina-Virginia division of the National Cottonseed Products association.

REPUBLICANS FIGHT REPEAL OF DRY LAW

Faction Wants Platform Plank Declaring Against Repeal of 18th Amendment

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

Washington, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Republican dry chieftains are preparing to insist that their party's 1932 platform contain a plank declaring against repeal of the 18th amendment.

They are biding their time, quietly awaiting meanwhile the returns from the Congressional elections two weeks hence, but already intimations are heard that unless this plank against repeal is incorporated in the Republican platform a third party movement may be started.

The Democrats, too, are having their worries over prohibition in contemplating the 1932 prospect, with their leading Presidential possibilities divided widely on the issue.

However, in spite of the political aridity of the southern states, Republican prohibitionists are less hopeful now of repeating their 1923 successes in the south, even though the Democrats should select a wet nominee. Also the Republican candidates in New York and New Jersey this year are campaigning for repeal and there is every indication that the delegations of these states to the next convention will carry with them wet demands.

The Democrats, although speculating on the 1932 effects of possible victories this year by such repeal candidates as Governor Roosevelt of New York, and Robert J. Bulkley, the party's senatorial nominee in Ohio, have powerful dry leaders. Among them are such Presidential possibilities as Senator Robinson of Arkansas, and Senator Glass of Virginia.

The report of the Law Enforcement Commission on prohibition is expected at the capital to precipitate campaigning of a national scale. That report will be drafted until after the election. There is no definite indication of the lineup of the commission on the subject, although Washington is filled with rumors.

Some Republican dries are wondering whether the commission's report may affect the stand of President Hoover, who in the 1928 campaign declared against repeal of the prohibition amendment.

Meanwhile Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, already has called for a prohibition battle in 1932 and has asserted the Republicans will champion the dry cause.

The prohibitionists are mobilizing and the Republicans are mentioning such party stalwarts as Vice-President Curtis and Senator Fess of Ohio, now national chairman, as well as Senator Borah, of Idaho, for leadership.
