Bailey Scores G. O. P. In Campaign Address At Court House Here

Democratic Nominee For U. S. Senate Flays Republicans For Failure To Live Up To Campaign Promises; Charges Them With Responsibility For Critical Financial Situation Existing In Nation

Charging the Republican party with responsibility for the deplorable financial situation existing throughout the nation, Josiah W. Bailey, Democratic nominee for the United States Senate, addressed a gathering of Democratic voters at the court house here today. The speaker flayed the Republicans for their failure to live up to promises made during past campaigns, and especially referred to the inability of President Hoover to make good his promises of prosperity to all sections of the country.

The address came at the noon recess of the civil term of Pitt County Superior court and was heard by approximately three hundred people from various sections of the county. W. E. Hoover, of Ayden, chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive committee, presided, and Lindsay Warren, of Washington, Congressman of the First District, introduced the speaker.

Mr. Hooks called attention of his hearers to the importance of registering for the forthcoming election. He said registration books would close tomorrow and urged those who had not registered to get busy and do so at once.

He also asked support of the Democratic ticket "from top to bottom," and declared that the people of this great and thriving county would "not be caught asleep at the switch."

Introduced by Mr. Hooks as a man who had done much to uphold the fine record of the party Congressman Warren expressed his gratitude to Pitt County people for the splendid support which they had given him in past years. He said Pitt county was the greatest Democratic county in the East, and had never failed to support the party.

He declared that Mr. Bailey was looked upon as a synonym of United Democracy in this State. He described him as a man of character, courage and ability who would use his every influence for the betterment of the nation in Congress.

Mr. Bailey said he did not feel like a stranger in Pitt county as he had been coming to Greenville from time to time over a period of many years. He said he was deeply grateful of the support accorded him but that it would be impossible for him to express his appreciation in words. Such things are incapable of expression, he declared.

He said he brought greetings to Pitt county from other sections of the State where the campaign was being carried on with notable fashion. He said he had canvassed the majority of counties and found party sentiment in the most healthy conditions of years.

Democracy in North Carolina, he asserted, is more militant and enthusiastic than it has ever been before, and the State is going going to win back everything it lost in 1928.

He praised the splendid service which Lindsay Warren had rendered the State during his administration at the nation's capital. He described Warren as one of the finest characters in Congress.

He expressed belief that North Carolina would turn in the greatest Democratic majority in history and that other states would do likewise. He pictured a Democratic Congress and defeat of Hooverism.

The Republican party is in a bad fix, the speaker pointed out. After nine and one half years of government the nation is in bad condition, he said, and financial depression and prostration of business exists everywhere. He described the thousands of business failures throughout the nation and ascribed them directly to failure of the Republican party to live up to the claim of prosperity. He declared there were "for rent" signs in more windows than at any other time in his memory and that business was going down grade just as fast as it could without Mr. Hoover and his many committees being able to control it.

Quoting statements from the Federation of Labor, he pointed out that thirty percent of the workers of this nation were out of jobs at (Continued on page four)

COURT ORDERS NON-SUIT IN MADRIN CASE

Local Man Was Suing Norfolk & Southern Railroad for $3000 After Accident

Judge Clayton Moore, of Williamston, who is presiding over the civil term of Pitt County Superior court, ordered non-suit today in the damage suit of Clifford Madrin against the Norfolk and Southern railroad. The court order came this morning shortly before argument was scheduled to begin in the case.

Madrin was suing the railroad company for $3,000 as result of injuries which he received when his automobile was virtually demolished by a Norfolk and Southern passenger train near the cotton mill here in 1927. He was confined to the hospital sometime after the accident and did not file suit until 1928.

The railroad company contended that the accident was the result of contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiff. It was claimed that trains were visible from both directions and could be easily seen by motorists approaching from either end of the highway.

The case was started Wednesday afternoon and was one of the most stubbornly contested of the present term. It would have occupied the remainder of the day had not non-suit been ordered.

Immediately after disposing of the suit, court began action in a divorce case.

Sole Survivor of Tunnel Collapse Dies of Injuries

Steuvenville, O., Oct. 24.—(AP)—The toll in the collapse of a tunnel near here which buried a freight train yesterday stood today with the death of the sole survivor, Louis Romand, 32, brakeman. Romand died at Martins Ferry Hospital early today. He suffered a crushed chest, internal injuries and a fractured right arm and leg, when pinned in the wreckage of the caboose and dirt.

Two other trainmen, who with Romand, composed the crew of the caboose, died yesterday, they were Jerry P. Sells, 40, conductor and E. E. Duda, 35, brakeman, all of the victims lived in Dillonvale.

Clyde Hoey Injured In Auto Accident

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Clyde Hoey of Shelby, prominent Democrat, is in the Presbyterian Hospital at Charlotte, suffering from a severe scalp wound received when his automobile overturned near that city last night. Gov. O. Max Gardner was informed today.

Mrs. Hoey, a sister of Governor Gardner, was not injured. Mr. Hoey suffered considerable loss of blood from his injury and was forced to cancel political speaking engagements set for tonight at Clayton and tomorrow night at Dunn, the governor said.

Governor Gardner will fill the engagement for Mr. Hoey at Durham.

INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY ON AN INCREASE

Improvement In Construction Field Also Shown In Report of Reserve Board

Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—News of better industrial and construction activity in September came from the Federal Reserve Board today to add a measure of optimism to the difficult unemployment relief task.

Meanwhile, Colonel Arthur Wood moved tirelessly ahead in his preliminary efforts to gather with him the experts he needs to compose the general board of strategy which is to lead government and business in finding jobs or aid for millions.

From every side, however, came news of steps being taken without awaiting the setup of a central organization. Not only business men and industrialists but great numbers of workers were registering their willingness to contribute aid. Two government branches took steps to help in a small but substantial way, the post office ordering all overtime eliminated and the work given to substitutes while the Shipping Board announced it would "forget" for the time being the plan to cut down the Merchant Fleet Corporation's staff in Washington and elsewhere.

Although this cur would have laid off some 700 employees at a saving approximating $1,000,000. These workers are scattered at various ports where staffs are not considered essential any longer.

The number affected by the post office order has not yet been determined but is to be made known shortly. At present a good many regular employees, are making 65 cents an hour for the time beyond the eight-hour period.

The reserve board's summary of business and financial conditions for September found after the substantial decrease in factory output from May to August, September had shown an upward trend, which did not however, reach former production figures the same month.

Employment in factories also increased, though less than the usual gain for this season of the year. Residential construction was said to have increased materially.

The chief gains in employment came from the fruit and vegetable canning and the clothing industries and from retail establishments and coal mines. Employment dropped in the iron, steel, automobile and lumber industries, and so did their production. The production gains were shown chiefly in textiles, coal and copper.

Suggestions reaching the Farm Board that it supply of wheat be turned over to feeding the jobless drew from Chairman Legg the Board would be glad to do so if Congress would reimburse it for the cost of the loan, which was acquired in stabilization operations.

Extension of the "stagger" system of employing more workers for fewer days or hours a week, was undertaken by army engineers in charge of flood control works at the instance of Secretary Hurley.

Two Burned to Death In Home At Beaufort

Beaufort, S. C., Oct. 24.—(AP)—The charred bodies of Ed Barnes and his sister Annie Barnes, of Augusta, Ga., were found today in the ruins of a cottage here which burned early this morning.

Both bodies were burned almost beyond recognition. A Miss Rice, owner of the cottage, said Barnes, who had been in ill health, came to Beaufort from Augusta a week ago for a rest. His sister cared for him.

Early today Miss Rice said she heard a cry of "fire" and looked out to see the structure enveloped in flame. Firemen arrived too late to halt the blaze and it was not until the ruins had cooled that the bodies could be removed.

At an inquest held by Magistrate L. A. Lott a coroner's jury returned a verdict that the two persons came to their death while sleeping from flames of an unknown origin.

Mr. and Miss Barnes, said to be related to a Judge Barrett of Augusta and members of a prominent family, will be buried in the Georgia city, the bodies were taken theretoday.

LINDBERGH COMPLETES HIS SURVEY FLIGHT

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, landed at Port Columbus at 10:20 A. M. He was forced back to Bettis Field, McKeesport, Pa., yesterday after reaching Cambridge, Ohio, because of heavy fog and clouds.

Pershing Sounds Warning Against Unpreparedness

New York, Oct. 24.—(AP)—A warning to the United States that it will be caught unprepared in event of another war was sounded by Gen. John J. Pershing in an interview published in the Country Home.

"People say we should disarm," the leader of the American armies in the World War is quoted as saying. "America already is disarmed. Good men and good women tell us that we should throw away our armaments. We have very little to throw away."

Declaring no one hates war more than he does, he says: "I pray fervently that there will be no more war. With all my soul I hate it. I have seen it in all its horrors. The great war was called a war to end war. Yet in these dozen years, think how many disastrous wars have been fought and how many others seem to be in the process of making."

"We know that we will not provoke war. But what is there in history which authorizes us to conclude that someone else will not provoke one of these days? It is not a question of whether or not we believe in war. It is a question whether we shall defend this wonderful country of ours if some other nation, which does believe in war, should attack us."

CHARGEWOMAN WITH KILLING HER DAUGHTER

First Degree Murder Charge Filed Against Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin

Denver, Oct. 24.—(AP)—First degree murder charges were filed today against Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin and her brother-in-law, Frank O'Loughlin, accused of the slaying of the woman's step-daughter, ten years old.

The charges were filed a few minutes before a hearing on an application for a writ of habeas corpus which Mrs. O'Loughlin's attorneys filed several days ago. The application was automatically defeated by the charge.

District Attorney Earl Wetzel filed the double informations after Mrs. O'Loughlin had been interrogated for five days.

Police alleged she made a statement she would take the blame for the slaying of her stepchild and then added:

"Get Frank and give us a sanity test. We must be crazy."

Deputy District Attorney Ralph Cummings said at the present time the murder case against O'Loughlin, who is the slain child's uncle, was "admitted weak" but that it was being filed to detain O'Loughlin for questioning.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 24.—(AP)—With Detective Captain Bert Clark claiming an admission of guilt from Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin in the slaying of her 10-year-old stepdaughter, Leona, drowned in a city park lake, police today sought a complete solution to the child murder mystery.

The investigation was pushed in the face of a public communication from two former justice of the Supreme Court protesting as "inhuman and oppressive" police treatment of the woman prisoner. Police said they were on the verge of clearing up the details of the murder yesterday when their questioning of Mrs. O'Loughlin was broken off by a court order admitting her attorney for a conference with the woman.

Chief of Police Robert F. Reed said Mrs. O'Loughlin had implicated three others in the murder. He said that the stepmother who had been grilled for five days finally cried: "I did it—I alone am responsible—take me out and hang me."

"I did all the cooking at the house. I cooked rice and the glass at this point, the chief said, the arrival of the attorney interrupted the statement.

CANNON HOLDS CONFAB WITH HIS ACCUSERS

Dr. Costen Harrell Declares Charges Against Bishop Will Not Be Withdrawn

Richmond, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr. met with the four Southern Methodist preachers who have filed charges against him in a final conference held here yesterday before a special investigating committee of the church. No details of the conference were available but Dr. Costen J. Harrell, one of the accusers, said the charges would not be withdrawn.

Bishop Cannon came to Richmond from Washington and returned by train last night.

The charges against the Bishop were placed in the hands of Bishop W. N. Ainsworth several weeks ago and under church law the bishop is to appoint a committee of investigation. The four ministers who filed the charges were Dr. Costen J. Harrell and Dr. J. T. Mastin; Dr. Forest J. Prettyman, and Dr. L. P. Martin.

The personnel of the investigating committee has not been announced by Bishop Ainsworth and the nature of the charges has been divulged. Should the committee recommend a church trial, Bishop Cannon would be suspended pending a trial before the general conference of the church.

Bishop Cannon's visit to Richmond yesterday was not known to many of his close friends.

ENTIRE TOWN SWEEP AWAY DURING FLOOD

Hundreds Believed to Have Died As Flood Waters Sweep Thru Alamo, Mexico

Mexico City, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Dispatches to the newspaper Excelsior from Alamo today quoted the commander of the federal garrison at Alamo, state of Vera Cruz as saying that many persons, possibly hundreds, had died during floods there Tuesday.

Captain Alvaro Barrazo, who managed to escape from the town with his troops as the inundation licked at their heels, said he observed the disaster from high ground nearby and had seen "possibly hundreds" of persons caught in the sudden onrush of water and swept away by the river currents.

He added that the town was almost completely destroyed, although an American aviator, E. Warren, flying over what he believes to be Alamo yesterday said that several buildings were left standing and were emerging from the receding waters. Warren saw a number of persons walking around.

Barrazo and his men reached the town of Chappote Nunez after a march through storm and flood-ridden country, losing their horses enroute. From Chappote Nunez he got in touch with the commander of the garrison at Tampico and informed him of the disaster.

He said the storms commenced Sunday, October 5, and kept up persistently until Tuesday of this week when the flooded rivers overflowed and inundated the town.

The populace, panic-stricken, sought refuge in the hills but many were caught in the swirling town. Other reports from the stricken district said the nearby villages of San Isidro, Tumbadero, Ojite, and San Miguel had totally disappeared beneath the water, which receding had left many human bodies as well as the bodies of cattle. The Penn-mex Fuel company property at Alamo was badly damaged.

Seek to Recover Diamond Rings In Beaumont Sewers

Beaumont, Texas, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Plumbers were probing a maze of pipes today in an effort to recover $4,500 worth of diamond rings that were dropped in a drain in an apartment house.

Mrs. Sam Ferritta, owner of the jewels, the largest weighing four carats, said the rings were wrapped in a handkerchief. Screens were placed over all taps leading from the building. Many feet of pipe have been taken out and inspected a joint at a time and the sidewalk outside was taken up to get to the main sewer pipe.

Brazilian Government Reported Overthrown; President Luis Quits

Government Will Assist States In Handling The Unemployment Problem

Colonel Woods Obtains Services of Fred C. Croxton to Cooperate With Governors of the Middle West; Great Lakes Region More Seriously Affected

Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The problem of unemployment will be attacked by Colonel Arthur Woods, government relief director, with a view first, to find employment for as many persons as possible and second, to provide relief in those cases where employment is not available.

Although stressing the task of feeding the unemployed was one for local organizations to handle, Col. Woods said the Federal Government would assist in aiding the states to work out plans to increase the number of jobs and to care for families which do not have a breadwinner.

He announced he had obtained the services of Fred C. Croxton, Columbus, Ohio, to co-operate with the governors of states in the middle west. Croxton, he said, was largely responsible for a successful plan worked out in Ohio to take care of the unemployed.

Woods said the most seriously affected region appeared to be the Great Lakes states and Croxton would work in them. He expects to appoint about three other regional directors to co-operate with the states.

"Our main idea now is to intensify efforts and stimulate renewed activity to get over the winter," Woods said. "I expect to continue the admirable policies and the organization set up a year ago by President Hoover with states and industries. The result accomplished in this way greatly reduces what would otherwise have been overwhelming unemployment during the past year as they have prevented acute distress up to this time."

"The problem embraces two phases—the first is employment; the second, provision of relief in those cases where employment is not available."

"There are two directions in which more intensive organizations can work. One is geographically—that is, through the nation, the states, municipalities and the counties. The other is by industry. I shall aim to co-operate in both ways, with the states, municipalities, and local committees on the one hand, and with leaders of the different industries on the other."

"As far as the Federal government goes, I find that the various agencies are making redoubled efforts at employment through the departments, and this work will be pushed to the utmost. This problem is one that can be answered if by the whole country takes a hand at it. National unity in action and organization is the only force that can bring the answer."

With 120,000,000 people in the United States, with our resources, our ability for organization and our loyalty, we can take care of the comparatively small fraction that are unemployed and may suffer from want and privation as cold weather comes on.

"What is needed is recognition of the obligations of every man to do his part to help his neighbor and to use this in team work to carry through the winter."

Colonel Woods said he was seeking the accurate number of unemployed.

"We expect to get information from each city, he added, "and pass it to other cities, particularly as to successful methods used in combating the unemployment problem."

"We want to know all about labor conditions, those working on part time and the number of families left with no breadwinner. It is only on accurate information that wise action can be taken."

He said information also would be sought from the Census Bureau, and American Federation of Labor, and State Labor agencies.

Administration Falls Before Crushing Attack of Revolutionists Which Began On October 3rd; Provisional Government Headed by General Menna Barreto, Expected to Take Charge of Nation Today; Wreck Newspapers that there would be a provisional government within a few hours, headed by General Menna Barreto, chief of the civil-military committee which asked the resignation of the president early this morning.

Traffic was normal in streets of the capital this morning except for the presidential suburbs beyond the presidential palace, which were cut off by the military guard of the president.

Later in the morning all traffic on downtown streets came to a standstill and stores and residences had their iron shutters up.

Gangs of rioters wrecked several newspaper offices which have been administration supporters.

The administration fell before a revolution which began Friday, October 3, just three weeks ago, spread rapidly over the entire republic until but three of the major eastern seaboard states, Rio De Janeiro, Sao Paulo, and Bahia, remained loyal to the government.

President Washington Luis, whose full name was Dr. Washington Louise Pereira De Souza, assumed office November 15, 1926, and was to have served until November 15, this year when he would be succeeded by President-elect Julio Prestes who recently completed a visit to the United States.

The revolution broke first in the state of Rio Grande do Sul, furthermost south of the divisions which make up the Brazilian union. Troops formed there under the leadership of Dr. Getulio Vargas president of the state and defeated candidate in the recent national elections.

The state of Santa Catharina and Parana fell quickly into line and a large southern army was pushed to the Parana-Sao Paulo border, where battles have been in progress for more than two weeks, both conflicting claims of victory, the fighting has centered about Petropolis railroad center, on the Sao Paulo border.

In the north, forces from Parahyba, one of the original revolting states, moved southward under Captain Juarez Tavora and on the night of October 11 took Pernambuco, or Recife, establishing a revolutionary junta there. Captain Tavora moved southward with volunteers and gathered about him as he progressed and quickly subdued government forces in the seaboard states of Alagoas and Sergipe, almost without contest. He was last reported moving on the city of Bahia.

The revolutionary movement in central Brazil developed principally in the state of Minas Geraes, in which the central government threw most of its defending troops.

The state of Rio De Janeiro government seemed to have the best of matters and claimed victory after victory.

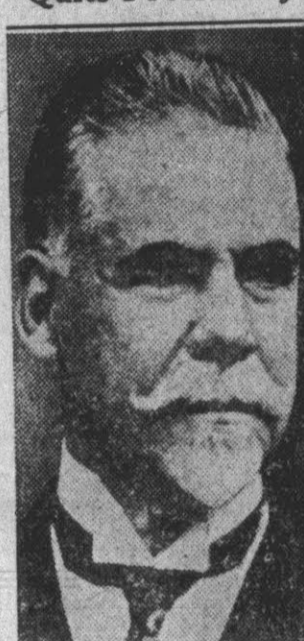

Fall of the Brazilian government marks the fourth overthrow of a De Jure administration by revolution in South America since the first of the year.

The governments of Bolivia, Peru, and the Argentine having fallen before revolutions. Some unrest developed also in Cuba, Chile, and to some extent in Mexico, but the governments of those countries remained in control.

In no case, except Brazil, however, did the rebellion occur more than a few days, the tremendous popular uprisings which accompanied the movement being sufficient to upset the regime without great difficulty. Military governments are at present in power in Bolivia, Peru, and Argentina.

CORROBORATE TESTIMONY IN SEED INQUIRY

Several Witnesses Uphold Former Statement Made About Cottonseed

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Witnesses before the Federal Trade Commission hearing here as it continues investigation of the cottonseed industry today corroborated previous testimony about conditions in this state affecting ginners and commission buyers.

J. M. Owen, Jr., of Fayetteville, a 50-cent cotton buyer, testified that it "seemed like" he recalled a statement from somebody that cotton oil mills "figured on doing away with 50-cent buyers."

He said he believed a commission buyer was just as important to a cotton oil mill as buying agency was to any other business.

Edmund White, a ginner of Warren, testified that "for years" he sold his cotton seed on a bid basis and found it very satisfactory but that for two or three years prices submitted by mills had been the same so he had abandoned the method of sale.

The prices of mills were noticeably "practically the same" for all mills in 1928-29 and 1929-30, Mr. White testified.

Asked what was his opinion of the grading rules of the National Cottonseed Products Association, which has many mills in this state as members, Mr. White said the method had some good points and some bad ones.

Several years ago, Mr. White said, he knew what he was going to get for seed when he shipped them from his gin but under the grading rules he did not know what he would get as deductions might be made.

Allowance of premiums on seed shipments, inaugurated this year for the first time, was referred to by Mr. White as a "good feature" of the grading rules.

CAPONE RIVAL FALLS BEFORE GANG GUNMEN

Joe Aiello, Reputed Alcohol King, Shot and Killed At Chicago, Illinois

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Gangster guns, silent in Chicago for some time, opened up again last night and removed Joe Aiello, one of the few remaining rivals of Alvin Capone from the picture of Chicago's crime.

Aiello, reputed alcohol king, partner of George (Bugs) Moran, and with Moran held by the Chicago police as a "public enemy" was shot and killed by a gang of men, number unknown, as he left the apartment of Patsy Presto, an importer, North Kolmar avenue.

Seventeen or more bullets were fired into the gang leader from machine and other guns scattered in different positions, as Aiello walked into what the police said was one of the most elaborate assassination plots in gangland history.

As he stepped out of the Presto apartment, presumably to enter a cab that was waiting to take him and Presto to his home, machine gun fire opened from a third floor window of an apartment across the street. Aiello turned and fled back into the vestibule, attempted to arouse someone in the apartment, finding his way blocked by locked doors, he fled into the apartment court yard only to meet the fire of machine guns coming from a window of a building to the north.

Fleeing to the rear of the court in an attempt to escape over a brick fence, he ran into a fusillade of shots coming from the basement of the building housing the Presto apartment.

A police sergeant and James Dignan, a cab driver, who had responded to a previous call from Mrs. Presto for a cab to take Aiello and her husband to Aiello's home, took the wounded man to a hospital, but he died before his arrival. Thus was added another victim to the long list of gangsters slain in the international strife that had its beginning in the slaying of Dion O'Bannon in 1924 and which included the machine gun slaying of seven followers of Moran a year ago last St. Valentine's day in a North Clark street garage.

Various theories and beliefs were advanced by the authorities in a possible explanation of gangland's latest slaying. One of these was Aiello's death might have had some connection with the slaying last June 9 of Alfred Lingle, a reporter for the Chicago Tribune, known as a friend of Capone.

River Bottom Holds Secret of Boys' Deaths

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 24.—(AP)—Pics by piece the story of the fatal adventure of Burden Healey and Woodrow Wilson, North Carolina youths being woven today but a river bottom wasteland still held the secret of the identity of assailants, who left them to burn upon a campfire.

Information in the hands of Memphis police and officials of Bladen county, Ark., where the boys were found lying in the remnants of a camp fire with their skulls crushed indicate they were traveling "to the west" in an automobile and were slain for the purpose of robbery.

A Memphis lot owner identified the bodies last night a those of travelers who parked their car with him during a luncheon stop here Tuesday. He said they gave their destination as El Paso, Texas.

Other developments in hand in advance of a coroner's inquest today were an announcement by a railroad bridge watcher, one of the first persons to reach the swamp clearing where the fatally wounded boys were found that he found a blood specked stick, presumably the weapon with which the death blows were dealt, and the detention of one man at Marion, Ark., for questioning. The suspect said he was Lloyd Doty of St. Paul, Minn.

Efforts were being made to trace the automobile used by the youths, and learn how they obtained it. Reports from North Carolina said they left home about 10 o'clock.

W. M. Hensley father of Burden was reported today enroute from Asheville, N. C., to Memphis to take charge of the bodies and aid in the investigation. Both boys died in a hospital here several hours after a party of wood choppers found them in the swamp Wednesday.

THREE LEADING MEN IN BARTHELMESS' LATEST HIT

Richard Barthelme, First National Vitaphone star of "The Dawn Patrol," which comes to the New Theatre Monday and Tuesday, is supported by a brilliant cast three of whom are prominent leading men.

The role of Scott is played by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who has been co-featured in many First National Vitaphone productions. Neil Hamilton plays Major Brand and he is remembered as the featured leading man of numerous Paramount and D. W. Griffith pictures. The third of this triumvirate is Gardner James.

Other highly important parts in "The Dawn Patrol" are handled by Edmund Breon, William Jamney, while the comedy elements of the story are in the capable hands of Clyde Cook, James Finlayson and Frank McHugh, celebrated stage comedians.

John Monk Saunders is the author of this unusual Barthelme screen drama. Howard Hawks directed it from the script by Selznick Miller and Dan Toheron. The chief cinematographer was Ernie Haller who was responsible for excellent photography on "Wearry River," "Drag," "Young Nowheres" and "Sons of the Gods."

Diplomas To Be Awarded.

At the tramping classes given each night next week in connection with the Sunday school campaign there will be work which should be of great interest to all Sunday school teachers and all those who realize the importance of this phase of the work of our churches. At the Immanuel Baptist church in our city, there will be four courses in progress each night.

Mr. L. L. Morgan, representing the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, will direct the work and will teach the course in Sunday School Administration. Mrs. A. J. Smith, who is an accredited worker with the Southern Convention, will teach the course in work with young people. Mrs. Pittard is state director of Intermediate work, and will teach the course in the Intermediate Manual. Miss Beck, who also is a Sunday school worker in the employ of the State Convention, will teach a class in elementary work. Equally fine workers have been secured for the other churches participating in the campaign.

Work satisfactorily done in the classes will receive the diploma or seals of the Sunday School Board.

End of the Century Club Meets.

The End of the Century Club held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 21, with Mrs. J. B. Spilman, on Ninth street, with the president, Mrs. L. C. Arthur, presiding. The usual business was dispensed with. After the books were distributed each member gave an interesting current event.

Mrs. R. L. Carr graciously thanked the club for designating their gift this year to establish the Carr shelf in the Sheppard Memorial Library. The program was in charge of Mrs. C. A. Bowen, whose subject was "England as Colonizer." She gave an interesting account of the colonization, tracing the history of our country from the settlement at Jamestown to the building of the Empire. She closed with the beautiful quotation that the sun never sets on England's vast domains.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Spilman, assisted by Mrs. Walter Jones, served a delicious salad course.

A. M. E. Zion Church Takes On New Life

The congregation and forward looking members of the A. M. E. Zion church in the midst of financial depression, are taking on new life and determination to complete their church. The women of the church inspired by the encouragement of white citizens, women under the leadership of Nina W. Cherry, the church pianist, they have accomplished a surprising feat, that is, they entered the auditorium of the church to hold their quarterly conference, and were greeted by a mammoth audience of more than fifteen hundred people.

The pastor, Dr. J. S. Shaw, takes on a new lease and will continue to cooperate with his white friends as well as the liberal minded of his own race. The principal of the city colored schools, Epps, assured the official head of Greenville Building & Loan that all would be well if the membership could get into their auditorium. The first collection carried the B. & L. money to $88.00, and for church improvement, ministers and presiding elder $137.00—$139.00 past work. Gratitude goes out to friends and sympathizers. The annual conference is to convene in this church November 13-26.

ABOUT TOWN

The parade to precede the unveiling of the marker at the site of the first Pitt County court house will form at the Woman's Club building at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. This will be one of the most colorful spectacles ever staged in this county before. Many civic and patriotic organizations will participate and help make the occasion truly representative of the locality.

The Daughters of the Revolution are to be congratulated upon this step to preserve the site of the old courthouse, and it is certain they will receive the grateful appreciation of the community, especially in the years to come.

Democratic voters who went to the courthouse at the noon hour today to hear Josiah William Bailey fire the opening gun in the political campaign of this county undoubtedly know more about the party than they did before.

The nominee to the United States Senate told of the great part which the Democratic party has played in moulding the life of the state in past years and said he believed they would pile up an overwhelming majority in the coming election.

Mr. Bailey has spoken in many sections of the state, but it is questionable whether he received more attention than upon his visit here. His coming had been well advertised in all parts of the county, and the assemblage embraced men and women in all walks of life—people who have the interest of the Democratic party at heart and are doing everything possible to further its interests.

The series of forest fires raging in different sections of Pitt county at this time furnish impressive evidence of what fire can do when it gets out of control. The first will cost the county several thousands of dollars before they are brought under control, and many a year will pass before the timber is replaced.

Despite the staggering loss, the fires should benefit the community in one single instance. That is, in teaching the people the necessity of more care in the handling of matches, cigarettes and cigar stubs.

while in the woods. At this season of the year the woods are literally infested with men, who, not realizing the danger of a cigarette stub tossed into the underbrush, are responsible for many of the fires which are taking such heavy toll even at this time.

This is one of the most serious situations that has confronted this part of the state in years, and it is to be hoped he educational campaign to combat forest fires will become more extensive than it has ever been before. Only through proper education of the people concerning the responsibility resting upon them in this connection shall the state be able to bring about a material reduction of the loss.

"Cow Day" one of the most important trade events of the fall season, will be staged in this city November 3rd. The date isn't very far away at this time and the people who wish to derive benefit from it should be getting in readiness to partake of the thousands of bargains which the merchants will have to offer.

The affair is being sponsored by the Greenville Merchants Association. This is a guarantee that it will be truly representative of the community. In fact, it is complete assurance that every item of merchandise offered the shoppers on that day will be seasonable and below prices usually asked for the same goods.

These special trade days are always of great interest to the people from miles around Greenville, and it is to be hoped the business district is crowded to capacity all day long.

Get the date down on your calendar and be sure you do not miss the many opportunities which "Cow Day" holds for you.

People who are not familiar with the resources of Greenville and Pitt county should obtain one of the booklets now being released through the Merchants Association.

The booklet contains pictures of many of the private and public buildings of the city in addition to a wealth of descriptive matter about the schools, churches, educational institutions, banks, and various industries. It is one of the army officers. Shortly afterward it was announced that the Navy, which has remained loyal to the government, had joined the revolutionary movement.

When bulletins announcing the new movement were posted by newspapers the people became wild with joy. Banks and shops closed in honor of the victory.

Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Following the fall of the administration of President Washington Luis of Brazil, State Department officials today awaited word from the American Embassy in Rio De Janeiro on the status there.

It was obvious that the resignation of the Luis administration brought more than mild surprise to officials here. They declined to state whether the fall of the government had been predicted in messages from the embassy.

The attitude of departmental subordinates was that any comment on the situation should come from Secretary Stimson, who during the past few days has been personally handling the Brazilian situation insofar as the United States was affected. The secretary, in fact, has virtually cast aside all other pressing business of the department for that purpose.

The Brazilian Embassy also was awaiting advices from Rio. The reaction of Ambassador Do Amaral, when informed of the dispatches, was "how absurd."

The Hoover administration had been lending its support so far as possible in compliance with international law to the government of President Washington Luis.

this time. Thousands upon thousands of men and women are walking the streets—tired, hungry, desperate—with no prospect of anything being done in their behalf.

He said over 1,500,000 farmers had produced crops this year in the hope of receiving good prices, but they had been disappointed. They are not reaping what they sowed under the Republican administration, and what is worse they don't see any chance of relief any time soon.

President Hoover continues to issue soothing statements regarding prosperity, the speaker declared, but they are marked only by fresh breaks on Wall Street and no improvement in industry. The people have become so accustomed to such statements without seeing them bear fruit that they have lost confidence in President Hoover.

He said the Republicans were face to face with a situation over which they had no control and that they were claiming lack of responsibility. He summed up statements made by President Hoover upon his nomination and later during his inauguration in which it was said the party would bring to the nation a great wave of prosperity.

"The Republicans have always held the Democrats responsible, he said, and they are just as responsible for conditions existing today as the Democrats have been for any particular era in the past."

He said "the G. O. P. attempted to offset the seriousness of conditions in America by declaring that they were world-wide. He said they laid the situation at the door of Russia, China and India and other sections, but that neither of these countries affected the United States. America, he declared, affects the world, but what other parts of the world do, and especially in China and India, cannot possibly have much effect upon this nation. He painted a picture of the insignificance of Ghandi, and said the physical makeup of the nationalist leader was a striking example of the Republic's party's activities in behalf of the welfare of the American people.

"With the wolf scratching at the doors of a million homes, what can President Hoover think of his promises to the people?" the speaker asked.
Mr. Bailey showed his hearers a bronze check given out by the Republican party during its campaign several years ago. On one side was a picture of an elephant and the words "Vote for the Republican party" and on the other side was the promise of four years of prosperity. "These checks were given away by the Republicans in those days," Mr. Bailey remarked, "but they couldn't be purchased today at $5 each."

MAGNER AND COLLINS LEFT ON THE HILL

Charlotte, Oct. 24.—(AP)—When Chuck Collins says a week, he does not mean five days and for that reason one Jim Wagner, best known for his ball-carrying proclivities, will be "at home" in Chapel Hill tomorrow.

When Collins suspended his highest scoring back, and Al Cole, sophomore end, for smoking cigarettes, the man in the street looked on at what he knew was good discipline and believed would be history when the Tar Heels started against Tennessee.

But Mr. Collins said a week and even the telegraphic plea of the entire Tennessee team that he rescind his order was not sufficient to change his mind. Last night he started with his team for Knoxville, hang-out of the Vols, and neither Magner nor Cole could be found among the 31 squadmen holding Pullman tickets.

The team is in Asheville today for a high workout before moving across the line tomorrow.

Whether Collins will be praised or censured for his action will hinge on whether or not the Tar Heels are victorious.

No one denies him the right to discipline his team and he will certainly be praised for demanding that his men obey training rules, but, if the Tar Heels lose, someone is almost certain to murmur, "Well, if they had had Magner up there—"

Wilmington, brought up on high school football all these years, will get its first taste of the big time tomorrow when Wake Forest and Mercer perform for the benefit of the populace. Mercer has a fair to middling team that will probably give Wake Forest a good fight but the Deacons should come out on top, if for no other reason than to give the seashore residents a chance to cheer the North Carolina machine.

Duke, apparently, is worrying less than any other state team over the menus prepared for tomorrow. Wofford, with nothing in particular to brag about this year, will be performing before a homecoming crowd and the moral support that goes with one of those affairs will naturally be there to aid the performers.

The varsity Blue Devils took a

45-minute signal drill yesterday, called it quits and sat on the bench to watch the reserves cavort against the freshmen.

Chief interest in games within the State will doubtless be centered at Raleigh, where the doctored N. C. State Wolfpack will be pitted against "Red" Cagle's Mississippi A. and M. outfit. The former Army ace is proving almost as much of an attraction as the game itself for those who plan to see the contest. Just what Dr. Jay Serrin and Dr. Bob Warren have done with the Pack will be of interest to many.

Davidson also celebrates homecoming day tomorrow, with V. P. I.'s Gobblers furnishing the opposition. The Wildcats had a holiday today. Coach Monk Younger working on the theory that the boys will go stale if drilled too much for important games.

In the "Little Seven", Elon meets Catawba; Guilford enters Atlantic Christian; High Point goes to the Naval Apprentice school in Newport News Va.; Lenoir Rhyne visits King in Tennessee and West Liberty journeys to Appalachia State.

TWO UNBEATEN GRID MACHINES SET FOR FIGHT

Atlanta, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The clash of two unbeaten football teams—Vanderbilt and Alabama—predominates Saturday's southern scoreboard, but at least four other tilts are slated for second rating in general interest.

Tulane engages Georgia Tech in the first defense of its 1929 title. The orondo already has won two intra-circle games, but suffered a crushing defeat at the hands of Carnegie Tech while Tulane went to Evanston, Ill. To take a licking from Northwestern.

Georgia, heavily backed favorite to win this year's conference crown, charges against Auburn at Columbus, Ga., and Kentucky, an unbeaten eleven, faces Virginia at Lexington, Ky. Although each felt defeat once this year, Tennessee and North Carolina will have a strong following for their battle.

The Mississippi Aggies under "Red" Cagle travel to Raleigh, N. C., to scrap North Carolina State and Sewanee moves over to Baton Rouge, La., to keep pace with Louisiana State. Maryland is a pre-game favorite to trip V. M. I. at Richmond.

The inter-sectional race finds Mississippi following Florida into Stagg Field to try conclusions with Chicago, Florida, Duke, Washington and Lee and Virginia Poly are given the edge on Furman, Wofford, St. John's of Annapolis and Davidson, respectively.

In the top-ranking engagements, Georgia Tech comes up against a Tulane line, averaging nearly 200 pounds, with both Doug Graydon and Capt. Earl Dunlap, ace backs, in a crippled condition. McGuffey, veteran Vandy senior, hopes for dry weather tomorrow to get the best results from his passes and new plays.

Raleigh.—(AP)—There's less of one kind of whoopee in North Carolina. Only 32 new cases of whooping cough last week, against 77 the week before, were reported to the State Board of Health.

TWO THOUSAND PERSONS SLAIN BY CHINK REDS

French Priest Gives Description of Capture and Ransacking of Kian

Shanghai, Oct. 24. — (AP) — A first-hand account of the massacre at Kian and the kidnapping and torture of Catholic missionaries there was related here today by the Rev. Father De Jenlis, French priest who estimated the number slain at 2,000. The Rev. Father Jenlis and the Italian Bishop Magrini of the Lazarist Mission at Kian, were among the sixteen missionaries kidnapped when Communists overran the central Kiangsi province city October 5. The bishop and the French priest were released and sent to Kiuikiang to carry the demand of the Reds for ransom, amounting to $10,000,000 Mexican ($3,500,000 American money).

Father De Jenlis said Chinese reports that 8,000 persons had been slaughtered were "gross exaggerations" and that any accounts of still greater numbers having been slain were "baseless and imaginary."

As the result of beatings at the hands of Reds who used strips of iron to inflict torture, Bishop Magrini was unable to relate his experiences. Father De Jenlis, a middle-aged man in perfect health, easily withstood the experience and related how the Reds overran the city.

Communists numbering 20,000 entered Kian on the morning of October 5, Father De Jenlis said, capturing the city.

During the ensuing ten days, the priest asserted, the Communists killed about 1,000 persons. He believed the number slain after his departure October 15 would make an additional 1,000, bringing the total killing to 2,000.

Father De Jenlis said the Reds did not seem particularly bloodthirsty except when resisted.

The French priest asserted the number of killings had been held to a relatively low figure because the populace had professed to accept Communist tenets.

American Flier Killed In Crash At Paris, France

Paris, Oct. 24. — (AP) — Gilbert Lane, an American aviator, and his French flying companion, Pierre Nicholas, were killed in a takeoff from Le Bourget field for Cairo and Addis Ababa. Their ship crashed and was destroyed by flames, halting at the outset their plan to attend the coronation of Ras Tafari, as Emperor of Ethiopia.

The accident occurred after Lane and his companion had spent some time in trying to get off on the long journey with a heavy load of gasoline and oil. Their first efforts to get the plane into the air had been unsuccessful and they had been forced to discharge some of their load.

Asheville. — (AP) — Allen Free, carnival employe charged with having slain Everett Clark, of West Asheville, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in Superior court. He will be sentenced later.

Monroe, N. C. — (AP) — The T. C. Collin's Gin company's plant here burned with a loss estimated at $15,000.

Wilmington. — (AP) — Three East-coast North Carolina waterways projects—improvements on Trent river, Mill creek and Limestone creek—have been reported unfavorably by U. S. army engineers.

Capt. Bob Fields, 195-pound tackle, leads Oklahoma university in Big Six gridiron race.

Woodstock, N. Y., Oct. 24.—(AP)—Robert Winthrop Chandler, noted artist and former husband of Lina Cavalieri, opera singer, died early today after a long illness. Death came at 1:30 A. M., after Mr. Chandler had been in a coma for twelve hours. For weeks he had been confined to his summer home here under the constant care of physicians for a heart ailment. His doctors disclosed two days ago that they had been forestalled by his grave condition in a plan to take him to New York City for further treatment.

Hundreds Gather for Wedding of Princess Giovanna

Assisi, Italy, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Kings and commoners, statesmen and farmers, soldiers and priests converged on this little city today in anticipation of the marriage tomorrow of Princess Giovanna, third daughter of the Italian king, to Czar Boris III of Bulgaria. Prior to the ceremony a royal trail bearing the bride and groom, King Victor Emmanuel, Queen Elena, and others attending them will arrive from Turin and San Rossore. After the ceremony it will carry the royal figures back to old haunts while Boris and Giovanna leave for a short Adriatic honeymoon prior to a second ceremony at Sofia. The Roman Catholic ceremony here is by special dispensation of the Orthodox faith, with the provision that their children be brought up as Roman Catholics and that there be no succeeding Greek Orthodox marriage ceremony which might be construed as having been recognized by the Vatican. Because of these stipulations it is regarded as probable that the Sofia ceremony will be little more than a ceremonious registration of the marriage. A last minute re-arrangement will permit the ceremony to be held in the so-called upper church of St. Francis, instead of the lower basilica, on which it is superimposed. Princess Giovanna had hoped to be married in the lower church, in which is the Caracophagus containing the remains of St. Francis of Assisi. It is the first Catholic church in Italy, and with the upper church, contains art treasures surpassing almost any other ecclesiastical art collections in Italy. The change was made because of the larger upper auditorium. Princess Giovanna is a tall, pretty, black-haired, brown-eyed girl, who will be 23 years old November 13. She has known Boris for several years, their romance having been thwarted for a long time because of the religious complications involved.

TO REBUILD PLANT WRECKED BY FIRE
Charlotte, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The Charlotte Pipe and Foundry Company's plant, destroyed by fire last night, will be re-built immediately, a statement by W. Frank Dowd, Jr., president and treasurer of the company, said. Damage to the plant was estimated by Mr. Dowd at $100,000. Valuable machinery in the large wooden structure incurred the greatest loss. Approximately 100 persons were employed by the foundry.

Rockingham, N. C.—(AP)—The King's Daughters of North Carolina will meet in annual session here October 28-29.

Mill Foreman Slain In Wreck

Raleigh, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Dalton D. Goodwin, 65-year-old foreman for the John Bright Uniting Mill in the New Hill section of Wake county, was found shot to death in the boiler room of the mill this morning. Residents of the community expressed belief that Goodwin had been murdered and his automobile stolen. Mr. Goodwin went to work in his automobile between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning. Mr. Bright and others were reported to have said they heard a sound as if a pistol shot at about that time at the mill but did not investigate. The body of the man was found at 7 o'clock by other employees of the mill as they came to work. He had been dead more than an hour. His automobile in which he had gone to work was missing.

Coroner L. M. Waring was called to investigate the killing. Citizens of the community this morning raised a fund of $250 to offer as reward for the capture of the slayer or slayers of Mr. Goodwin, who is survived by his widow and four children.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Cotton opened firm today at an advance of 11 to 19 points in response to relatively steady cables and reports of further cold rains in the south. There was further trade activity, as well as covering and a gathering commission house demand that the advance seemed to be meeting rather increased offerings around the 11c level for December and 11.50 for May contracts. This supplied the early buyers and caused reactions of several points in the new December ruling around 12c and May 10.84 at the end of the first half hour or about 6 to 10 points net higher on the active months.

Liverpool cables said the market here had advanced on continental and Bombay buying, covering the side calling and reported a fair business in cotton cloths and yarns ending.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Good progress reported as being made by domestic winter wheat crops, in Kansas tended to ease down the wheat market today toward the east. Advice regarding Nebraska crop some other states told of decreased acreage of winter wheat, but crop authorities here said it was still too early to determine total area seeded.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-2-3-4 lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 3-8 to 11-8c down, oats 1-4 to 1c and provisions ranging from 2 to 5c setback to an equal gain.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Share prices bounded upward in today's stock market with the familiar evidence that appears when the weight of liquidation is completely lifted.

Even the rails, a contrary group yesterday, joined the recovery, as they carried into its second day. The market appeared to be governed primarily by technical conditions, and trading was light.

The remarks of leaders of the steel industry at the semi-final meeting of the American iron and steel institute, however, and ending of hostilities in Brazil, were stimulating to speculative sentiment.

Furthermore, the fact that it was the anniversary of the critical black Thursday of the selling panic a year ago, brought out in clear relief the extent of the salutary readjustments which have been accomplished.

In the rails, recovery of the Van Sweringen issues was conspicuous. Missouri Pacific, Erie and Chesapeake and Ohio gained 3 points or more. Other shares making similar gains included U. S. Steel, National Biscuit, Westinghouse, Goodyear and Macy, while such shares as American Can, Byers and Eastman rose 4 to 5, and Allied Chemical, more than 7. Montgomery Ward sagged moderately.

News from Brazil indicated that the revolution had been concluded with little bloodshed or property damage caused a fresh decline in coffee, as a reaction from the upturn which had been based on expectations of delayed shipments, but Brazilian securities rallied sharply, tending further to bolster speculative confidence.

The days news was not wholly cheerful. Directors of Montgomery Ward omitted the quarterly dividend, a development not unexpected.
