Calvert Recommends Receivership for the Home Mortgage Co., In Federal Court

Raleigh, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Permanent receivership has been recommended for the Home Mortgage Company of Hickory by Special Master Charles B. Calvert, and Judge I. M. Meekins in Federal Court here today announced he would file his final decree on the petition of Mrs. Margaret M. Ramsey of Norfolk, Va., for a receivership some time Monday.

Judge Meekins announced at the last hearing held for presentation of evidence on the cause that he would file his decree as soon as he can read all of the evidence in the case presented in court and in special master's hearings.

Should permanent receivership be granted it will be one of the largest in the history of the state. "If there is clear and convincing evidence of insolvency and that the company has been badly managed I will order a permanent receivership," Judge Meekins said, "but I must study the full evidence before I write a decree."

This morning's hearing before Judge Meekins was held which they contended would show that Mrs. Ramsey, who instituted the receivership proceedings, did not have the bonds in her possession when she filed the proceedings which she testified at the special master's hearing were in her hands six days before.

On repeated objection from counsel for the plaintiff the two witnesses presented by the defendants, James I. Jenkins of Baltimore and J. P. Andre Motu of Norfolk, Va., were not allowed to testify.

The defense then asked continuance of the evidence hearings until Monday so that it could "build a legal line" to show that Mrs. Ramsey did not have the bonds she testified she did but Judge Meekins denied the requests.

The Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that Judge Meekins must file his decree by December 8 or the defense counsel can stay proceedings by filing a $50,000 bond in supersedeas.

The receivership of the Home Mortgage Company, formerly of Durham, is alleged to involve about $17,000,000, according to the statement of the company filed with the State Corporation Commission. Attorney for Mrs. Ramsey contended the company does not have that amount.

The company, in its four years of existence, has sold about $10,000,000 in first mortgage bonds.

Special Master Calvert, in his report of Judge Meekins, makes the following recommendations: "First, that the Home Mortgage Company be decreed to be insolvent and for that reason and on account of gross mismanagement of the affairs, be decreed in default under the terms and conditions of all the trust indentures involved in these proceedings.

"Second, that a permanent receiver or receivers be appointed by the court to take charge of all the affairs of the Home Mortgage Company, defendant, and to administer, in connection with the First National Bank of Durham, trustee.

Recommend Erection of New State Prison

Raleigh, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The recommending of the erection of a new prison plant and the establishment of prison farms in the Western and Eastern parts of the state today was under consideration by Gov. O. Max Gardner's special prison committee.

The new prison plant would be built on the Cary Prison Farm, near Raleigh, to take the place of the Central Prison, Raleigh, which has been termed a "fire trap" by Governor Gardner.

The prison committee, a part of a commission appointed to study the prison situation, in a meeting yesterday went over the voluminous report of Dr. Edward W. Odum, of Chapel Hill, chairman of the commission.

The committee will prepare a summarized report that recommendations for carrying out the new prison program for submitting to Governor Gardner and the General Assembly, which meets in January.

German Chancellor Obtains "Smashing" Vote Of Confidence

Berlin, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Chancellor Brüning today obtained a smashing vote of confidence, a Nationalist and Communist motion to revoke his emergency financial decree being defeated 293 to 223.

The vote came after 7-1/2 hours ceaseless speeches in the Reichstag.

By unanimous consent Finance Minister Dietrich's budget was referred to the Ways and Means committee and President Loeb today announced the roll call vote would be taken on the motion to revoke the highly important emergency decree.

Senate Committee Begins Hearing On Nominations On Tariff Commissioners

Henry P. Fletcher, Republican Chairman of Pennsylvania, Tells Finance Body He Has Never Engaged in Tariff Lobbying and Had Not Been In Politics

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The Senate Finance Committee today began opening hearings on the nominations of the six tariff commissioners, questioning Henry P. Fletcher, of Pennsylvania, Republican, chairman.

Fletcher, a former diplomat, told Senator Reed, Pennsylvania, he had never engaged in tariff lobbying and had not been active in Pennsylvania politics recently.

He added he had not been connected with any industry seeking tariff protection and had disposed of some stocks which he thought might be involved in the tariff.

In response to questions he said he had made no study of the tariff until his appointment to the commission.

Asked by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, if he was "what you might call the high protector," Fletcher replied:

"Well, I don't think so." Fletcher said he had paid no attention to politics in selecting personnel.

He told Senator King, Democrat, Utah, he believed the commission should be non-partisan.

Every question so far decided by the commission has been unanimous, Fletcher said, adding: "We have been a happy family."

Chairman Smoot wanted the hearings closed but the committee voted 6 to 5 to open them, Senator Couzens, Michigan, and LaFollette, Wisconsin, Republican, voting with the Democrats.

Radical-Socialist Will Attempt to Succeed Andre Tardieu; Holds Long Conference During Morning With President

Paris, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Louis Barthou today accepted an invitation from President Doumergue to form a ministry in succession to the defeated government of Andre Tardieu.

The Radical-Socialist former minister of justice, leaving the Lycee palace after half an hour's talk with the President, told newspapermen he had accepted the task in principle and that he would confer tonight with political leaders.

The presidents of the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate, Raymond Poincare, Aristide Briand and Andre Tardieu, he said, would be the first statesmen to be consulted. He said he expected to be able to "report progress" to the President tomorrow.

M. Barthou has been backed by the most influential elements of his party in the chamber as the man most likely to clear up the recent banking scandals and place the Bourse once more upon a firm footing.

Barthou is a self-made man, the son of a hardware store proprietor in the lower Pyrenees department. He educated himself, became a member of the French Academy and is noted as a historian, a literary critic, and one of the most brilliant after-dinner speakers in all France.

He lost a son in the war and France still remembers his reference to that bereavement in the moving speech with which he dedicated the tomb of the Unknown Soldier while he was minister of war.

Raymond Poincare, who has saved France in many another political crisis, declined to step into the breach opened by resignation of the Tardieu government and President Doumergue cast about for another man willing to assume the difficult task of forming a new cabinet.

The war time President pleaded ill health but in the chamber lobbies the gossips were saying that if Doumergue should fail to find his

SOVIET COURT ENDS HEARING ON CONSPIRACY

Eight Engineers to Be Sentenced At Moscow Sometime Tomorrow Morning

Moscow, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The Soviet court extraordinary which has been sitting in trial of eight Soviet engineers charged with conspiracy of overthrowing the Moscow government adjourned at noon today to consider their sentences, which will be returned about 6 P. M. tomorrow (1: A. M. E. S. T.).

There has been no question of guilt involved in the trial, which has been in progress nearly two weeks. The eight defendants admitted the conspiracy in all its detail. Despite this the government constructed a through case against them, broadcasting their guilt to the Russian world by radio and motion picture.

Millions of Russians confidently expect tomorrow to be a day of doom for the eight.

Few doubt that the pleas of the men, who admitted their guilt of conspiracy and sabotage have fallen on deaf ears and that judgment will be death.

"I am guilty and deserve no mercy," Alexander Fedotov, eldest of the defendants, told the court. "I even sank so low I took money, but I don't want to die a traitor's death. I am old and have little future before me, but I wish partly to redeem myself."

Professor Leonard Ramstein, leader of the defendants, expressed repentance "before the people" for his actions, and declared that the laboring masses of the Soviet Union had found the true path to follow.

LEAF SALES PASS SIXTY MILLION MARK

Over Two Million Pounds of Leaf Handled On Local Mart During Week

Sales for the season on the Greenville tobacco market today were given as $1,394,996 in the regular weekly report of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales. For this amount of tobacco the market paid out a total sum of $8,582,547.98. The general market average was given at $13.98.

Up to the same period last season the market had disposed of 47,343,034 pounds of leaf.

The report also showed that for the week just closed the market sold 2,566,097 pounds for $381,914.03 at an average of $14.88 per hundred pounds.

For the corresponding period last year 1,437,556 pounds was sold here.

With the Christmas holidays drawing near, farmers were urged to market the remainder of their crop as speedily as possible. There yet remains a considerable part of the crop to be disposed of owing to the fact that sales got away to a slow start at the beginning of the season, and the bulk of this should be handled between now and Christmas.

With sales drawing near the sixty-two million mark tobaccoists were hopeful that the market's goal of eighty million pounds would be reached before the season comes to a close. If sales pick up as they should between now and Christmas it was believed this ambition would be realized.

DELAY CUT IN SALARIES OF PITT WORKERS

Commissioners, However, Order Consolidation of Two County Offices

Members of the Pitt County Board of Commissioners met in adjourned session at the court house here last night to consider the reduction of salaries of county employees, but the matter was deferred until the first Monday in January.

The session was attended by virtually all county employees and numbers of citizens. Chairman H. V. Stator, of Bethel, who was inducted into office along with other members of the board last Monday, presided.

The commissioners ordered the consolidation of the offices of the auditor and tax supervisor with Auditor J. T. Clifton being in charge.

The matter of electing a superintendent of the county home was also deferred until the January meeting.

C. W. Hearre, secretary of the Pitt County Tax Relief Association, read a letter from F. M. Wooten, attorney for the association, urging economy in the administration of the county government in the future. The Tax Association has been active in a campaign for tax reduction for the last several months. It has also stressed the need of economy in the operation of government and has suggested several means to bring this about from time to time.

Employees of the county at the first meeting of the new board last Monday were invited to appear at the adjourned session to take part in discussion of the reduction of salaries, and the majority were in attendance last night. Although the specific amount of the reduction had not been decided upon, it was believed this question would be definitely settled by the date of the next meeting.

What Congress Is Doing Today

Senate: In recess until Monday. Financial committee considers nominations of tariff commission. House: In recess. Appropriations committee works on $150,000,000 bill. Agriculture committee considers drought relief.

President Discusses $355,000,000 Deficit

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—President's of a $355,000,000 deficit for this year were discussed at a White House conference today as President Hoover urged strict economy by Congress in a talk with Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader.

Watson was urged to impress upon Congress the necessity for a limitation of appropriations as the Senate prepared to take up the first of the relief bills, in which the Agriculture committee boosted the budget estimate of $25,000,000 for drought stricken farmers to $60,000,000.

No specific legislation was said to have been pointed to at today's White House parley. Senate leaders see little hope of cutting down the $60,000,000 proposal for drought sufferers. The Agriculture committee was unanimous for it.

Buncombe Officials To Stick To Jobs In Face Of Resignation Demands

Resignation of Mayor and City Officials of Asheville Imminent Today; Refuse to Make Statements, But Ready to Quit If Demand Is Made

Asheville, Dec. 6.—(AP)—County commissioners, when informed of the movement in Asheville leading to a demand of the resignation of city and county officials, asserted they would stand by their jobs in an effort to serve Buncombe to the best of their ability.

The county commissioners took office last Monday.

H. Solon Hyder, commissioner of public institutions, and A. L. McLean, commissioner of highways, issued emphatic statements that they would serve the people who put them in office in the election of November 4. Claude L. Felment, chairman of commissioners, said he was willing to continue at the head of the county government, to deliver his services as efficiently and honestly as possible, but he added: "I am perfectly willing to do anything to further the interest of my county."

All three commissioners said they wished the people to dissociate city and county governments. They asserted they had been in office but five days, that they were not responsible for the condition in which they found the government, that they had been elected by the people and they would serve the county no matter how hard the task or how great the sacrifice.

The three asked the co-operation of the people. They asked that they cease to consider the city and county a skinned governments and that they put their shoulders to the wheel to help push Buncombe from its financial quagmires.

The Asheville Times said today that the resignation of the Mayor, commissioners, and city secretary-treasurer, under fire because of the

House Approves Legislation For Drought Relief

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The House Agriculture committee today approved legislation for a $30,000,000 seed, feed and fertilizer loan to farmers in the drought areas.

The committee first rejected by 12 to 6 the resolution of Representative Aswell, Democrat Louisiana, making the funds $60,000,000.

The large amount was unanimously approved yesterday by the Senate Agriculture committee. The Administration set figure was $25,000,000 and Representative Ketcham, Republican, Michigan, proposed the compromise.

Relief Council Ready for Work At Capital City

Raleigh, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Gov. O. Max Gardner's council of unemployment and relief was ready today to begin its work of relief through the activities of an executive secretary.

Prof. Roswell W. Henninger, of N. S. State College, was elected executive secretary of the council yesterday. He planned to open an office in the Agricultural building here.

Professor Henninger head of the Department of Industrial Management at the College, was "loaned" to the council for four months by the college. He gave assistance in the establishment and setting up of the work of the industrial commission.

Many Arrested As Cops Raid Immoral Hollywood Dance

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Fifteen hundred men fought 150 policemen here early today when officers raided an alleged immoral dance and the spectators turned upon the raiders.

More than 100 men and four women were arrested and bundled off to jails in Hollywood and Los Angeles.

Vagrancy charges were lodged against those jailed. The entertainment took place in the loft of a storage building.

When 14 officers of the vice squad attempted to place performers and members of the audience under arrest a pitched battle resulted. Every available officer in four divisions was called to the scene. Several persons were injured in the fighting that followed. Bottles were hurled and used as clubs.

The women arrested, charged with performing the dances, asserted their clothing had been torn from them by intoxicated spectators.

Police said liquor was in evidence and gambling games were in progress when the raid was made.

AUSTRIA DROP CASE AGAINST C. A. LEVINE

American Flier Freed By Government Of the Charge of Counterfeiting

Vienna, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The Austrian authorities today report that they had decided to drop charge of counterfeiting against Charles A. Levine, first American trans-Atlantic airplane passenger who was arrested Nov. 17 after had arranged to make matrices small French coins of small denomination.

Levine explained his wish for matrices as motivated by a desire to print his own likeness and that of his wife on the back of medals which otherwise would appear French coins, taking the product back to America for distribution.

Since he was understood here to be wealthy in his own name, charges of intent to counterfeit franc pieces were generally counted by every one except the authorities, who held to the letter of the law.

After a week of imprisonment he was released on $10,000 bail.

The public prosecutor suspended the proceedings against Levine on the ground of "absence of proof." Levine told the Associated Press he was a plan to fly around the world alone in fifteen days when he got him into trouble.

The man whose most spectacular solo flight thus far was that across the English Channel from Folkestone to Crotoy a couple of years ago apparently had no doubt of his ability to pilot a plane around the world single-handed.

"I was full of this plan when I came to Vienna last August," said Levine, "and I had been looking for equipment for a gyroscopic other instruments useful to a traveling alone and likely to sleep at the controls."

"This business took me to Paris and while I was there I got bright idea of making little medals with my head stamped on one side and on the other a globe with plane flying around it. I was to distribute these as I went around the world."

"The details I was going to take out later, but the very morning of this idea struck me I went out my engraver. I had found name of one in the telephone directory, and that was the fellow I went to."

"He didn't know any English but his German was pretty bad, but he got along. Somehow he must have got the notion that I was counterfeiting. I found out later that went right to the police with his suspicions and then I was in a jam."

"My idea was to distribute the medals mostly in the United States and they were to look like medals. I suppose Orth got his idea when I took some French coins out of my pocket and told him the medals to look like that. He said he didn't know it but I was allowed when I left and when I came back to Vienna I was arrested."

Nye Seeks to Check Up On Political Affairs In Goldsboro Paper

Goldsboro, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Goldsboro News-Arthur today received a letter from Senator C. C. Nye, chairman of the Senate campaign funds investigating committee, requesting a statement of the paid advertisements carried in that newspaper on behalf of Senator F. M. Simmons, Josiah W. Bailey and George Prichard during the recent primary election.

The letter requested an item list of all amounts expended, whom they were paid, whether check or cash, and if the payments were made in advance or after advertisements had been printed.

Mr. Bailey defeated Senator Simmons for the Democratic nomination and later defeated Mr. Prichard, the Republican opponent, in the general election.

Scientists practically abandoned the theory that poison gases emanating from buried German ammunition dumps, was the cause of the deaths which were regarded as spread over too wide an area for such to be the case.

The ministry of health undertook a searching medical and judicial inquiry and while awaiting its result before making an official statement, announced that the medical experts making preliminary investigations supposed the deaths to be due to the intensely cold, wet fog which has lain over the area since Wednesday.

"It does not seem like an ordinary winter fog but lies in streaks," the newspaper. People said of the mist. "One moment you are walking in ordinary daylight and then suddenly you find yourself against what looks an impenetrable wall, in which the dim shapes of people are

ABOUT TOWN

People who have been bemoaning the lack of a fire whistle since the old one was consigned to the trash heap will be consoled by the information that a new whistle has been purchased and will probably reach the city sometime this month.

Leastwise, this was the information divulged by Alderman Hobbard at the regular monthly meeting of the City Fathers Thursday night.

The lack of some cans of informing the public of fires has resulted in small attendance at the score or blues occurring in different parts of the city since the old whistle was put out of commission.

The importance of the alarm system was not realized until the whistle ceased to function, and people who used to grumble about the strident notes of the alarm will not be heard to complain in the future.

The new whistle will be operated by air instead of steam and its notes will be more subdued than the old one. People with jumpy nerves will receive this information with pleasure, but they would be willing to put up with even more noise just to know they had the protection afforded by this kind of sound.

Greenville people are intensely interested in the movement under foot to organize a canning factory here, and the canvass for funds which will be made during the next several days no doubt will result in the raising of sufficient funds which will be made during the next several days no doubt will result in the raising of sufficient funds to make the plant possible.

It was thought the entire amount would be raised at the meeting meeting Thursday night, but many business men who intended to attend the meeting were pressed into service at other places, and did not get the opportunity to subscribe.

Attempting to give the city the necessary protection in case of emergency, the Board of Aldermen in regular monthly session Thursday night instructed the fire department committee to purchase 500 additional feet of hose.

amount of the cost of the hose in one single fire. Strings of red and green lights have been strung across Evans street in the main business district, carrying out the holiday season.

The lights will become more numerous within the next several days, and one week from Christmas the entire city should present a gala appearance.

This plan of dressing up Greenville for the holidays was started about five years ago, and last year saw it more fully observed than any year since it was inaugurated.

It is to be hoped the public will resolve to make the decorations more extensive this season and in that way realize the ambition of becoming the best dressed city in the east.

The big problem of American merchants at this time is to impress the public with the necessity of "shopping early."

Shoppers should bear in mind the fact that the early bird always catches the worm, and especially during the Christmas holidays.

Greenville merchants have stocked heavily with Christmas goods this year, and they are urging the people to "shop early" and avoid the last minute rush which usually results in disappointment for the discriminating buyers.

Don't delay this important matter, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, but get busy and dispose of the shopping problem while you think of it.

BUNCOMBE OFFICIALS TO STICK TO JOBS IN FACE OF RESIGNATION DEMANDS. (Continued from page one) city's financial dilemma caused by bank failures, "appeared imminent."

None of the officials would issue a definite statement, the Times said, but each "indicated he would resign if the public demanded the resignations."

Mayor Gallatin Roberts, head of the city's financial department, who has received much of the criticism being heaped on the heads of the officials, told the Times that he had no statement to make this morning.

A similar attitude was expressed by Commissioner L. B. Rogers, of the department of public works. "I don't believe that I should make a statement," he said, "without first consulting with the other commissioners and responsible citizens."

This, too, was the attitude of Commissioner C. H. Bartless, of the department of public safety. "The matter, he said, "must be given thought before I make a statement."

A group of Asheville bankers, financiers and business men today announced that formal demand will be made upon the members of the Buncombe County Board of Commissioners, the Buncombe County Board of Education and the Asheville City Board of Commissioners to resign "in order that men possessing the complete confidence of the people and eastern financial interests" can be appointed in their places.

Declaring the financial structures of the city and county will topple unless immediate plans are drafted for refunding the public indebtedness, the spokesmen for this group said it would be impossible to avoid default if the present officers persist in their intentions to hold office.

The Asheville Times today editorially came out in favor of the prompt resignations of the city and county officials as absolutely necessary to the launching of a reconstruction program for this community.

lungs due to work in factories, or coal, zinc, stone, lead and sulphuric acid industries. This was discounted somewhat, however, by the extent of the calamity.

Professor Haldane, commenting from London on advancing his theory of a new visitation of the "Black Death," declared: "I do not believe the epidemic can have been caused by war gas because the deaths have occurred in widely separated villages. They have been having floods in that district lately and it is possible that may have something to do with it."

A prominent physician of Liege recalled a similar mysterious epidemic in 1911, when 11 persons died unexpectedly in one day after an icy fog. Most of the victims were either elderly persons or workers in deleterious industries, with lungs unable to resist the sudden cold.

The little town of Engl was the hardest hit by the malady. Its mayor, speaking with newspaper interviewers in England over telephone, explained that he himself had got up from a sick bed to answer the paper's call.

"The 3,000 inhabitants of my little town are terror-stricken. Nobody knows what the cause is, but it is associated in the popular mind with the fog which has lain over the valley for the past few days. Besides there are hundreds suffering with the disease but not badly enough to go to hospitals."

The symptoms are pains in the throat and the chest, with a severe dry cough that gives no rest. I don't think the theory of German poison gas having been buried in the neighborhood and corrupting the air is sound. The fog has no smell and no apparent taste. My doctor has considered the poison gas theory with his colleagues but remains of the opinion that the affair is entirely mysterious."

Besides Engis there were eight dead in Flemalle Haute, four in Flemalle Grande, five in Yvoy Ramet, ten in Jeneppe-Surmeuse, seven in Othee, eight in Hamay and Ampsin and ten in rural localities.

The fog first lowered over the valley Tuesday, remained Wednesday, but Thursday night cleared somewhat. Later it returned as thick as ever, and a similar change was reported last night.

Washington, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Chemical war experts of the Army expressed "serious doubt" today that the deaths in Belgium were caused by stores of poison gas.

The opinion was based on the contention that a tremendous quantity of gas would be necessary to spread over so large an area. It was remarked, however, that only a few facts were available upon which to base an opinion and it was not desired to be "too dogmatic" in pronouncing it.

LOUIS BARTHOU ACCEPTS INVITATION TO ORGANIZE NEW FRENCH GOVERNMENT. (Continued from page one) man Poincare might be willing to reconsider—might be prevailed upon to accept the post of Premier next week and reorganize the government.

"I told the President, said Poincare this morning, "that I do not yet feel strong enough to assume such a heavy task and that I feared I could not fulfill my duty as I would wish."

This was an allusion to an operation which the former premier underwent some months ago.

WILKINS AS EXPLORER RIGHT ON THE JOB. "One of the greatest explorers living," ranking among the three or four who have done the most in polar exploration, is the rank that the National Geographic Society gives to Sir Hubert Wilkins, who will talk on his experiences, and show moving pictures of them, at East Carolina Teachers College on the evening of December 12.

He is the man that discovered new land in the Antarctic, charted 1,500 miles of new coastline, found that Graham Land and Charcot Land are not parts of the mainland of the Antarctic continent, but form a chain of islands, flew across the top of the world from Alaska to Spitzbergen, making important discoveries that there was no land in places which was as important as discovering new land.

The long list of discoveries of vast importance to the scientific world, especially in the field of meteorology and oceanography, do not need to be listed for the laity, but his achievements are second to none. In the jungles of Australia he made important explorations just after his London-Australia flight.

This seemed as if he needed a vacation from the cold and could not endure a rest, so improved the time while visiting his native land.

He began his career as an explorer with Stefansson, who was his teacher in the art of exploration, and he seems to have acquired from his master that fine art of at-home-ness in the uncharted world, whether in the cold regions or in the tropics. He went with Stefansson in 1913 to the Arctic and left him in 1915 to join the Australian Expeditionary forces in the World War.
