FRIGID WAVE REACHES FROM N. Y. TO MIAMI

Schools Dismissed in Land of Sunshine Because of Excessive Cold

Tupper Lake, N. Y. in the Adirondacks, was the coldest town on record in the United States today...

From St. Louis to Boston the sun came up to greet a frigid day, and it was below freezing at 8 a. m. in Even in New Orleans, where the temperature was 30 degrees; Jacksonville, Fla., had 28 and Norfolk, Va. with 24.

Owls Heard, N. Y. another hamlet in upstate New York, had a reading of twenty below zero.

It was eight above this morning in Boston, twelve in New York and Chicago, sixteen in Philadelphia, St. Louis and St. Paul, eighteen in Kansas City and twenty in Washington.

Many New England communities reported the coldest temperatures of the season.

The general forecast for the thirving area was "slightly warmer tonight."

Atlanta, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Government forecasters today predicted relief from the Potomac to the Gulf from the cold wave which brought the lowest temperatures of the winter to portions of the south last night and yesterday.

The forecast for every state in the south predicted rising temperature either tonight or tomorrow.

Florida had its coldest weather of the year last night, with automobile radiators frozen in Pensacola and Miami school children enjoying an expected holiday today on account of a 38-degree minimum. School houses there were not provided with heating facilities to take care of such temperatures.

Little if any damage to the citrus crop in the peninsula state was recorded, however, high winds and clouds preventing serious frost formation. Strawberries were slightly damaged in the peninsula.

Jacksonville, Tenn. and were the coldest points in the state with an official minimum of 28 was recorded. Montgomery had a minimum of 28, Birmingham 18 and Florence 19. Alabama temperatures were rising today.

The central delta country around Greenville, Miss. had its coldest weather of the season with 19 degrees. Louisiana's coldest spot was Monroe in the northern part of the state, with 24. New Orleans dropped to 30 degrees, higher than was expected.

Little Rock, Ar., recorded 22 Tennessee had 21 at Memphis, 17 at Chattanooga and 14 at Nashville. The weather was clear at most points.

Virginia's minimum temperatures ranged downward to 16 at Wytheville in the southwest. Most of the state was covered by snow yesterday.

Charlotte, in North Carolina, had 20. The snow extended into South Carolina.

Public Enemies On Wane In Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The "public enemy" business in Chicago appears to be getting increasingly precarious.

Harrassed by the government's campaign against income tax violators, and by the prosecution of old charges, and by gangland bullets, the city's "public enemy" list of "active" members has been steadily decreasing since its issuance last April 23 by the Chicago Crime Commission.

Since the list was published almost all of the original 23 major "enemies" have felt the wrath of the law in one form or another. Ralph Capone, brother of "Barney" Al Capone and Jack Guzik, business manager for the Capone gang are both under sentence to federal prison for income tax violations, while others are awaiting trial on government and other charges.

Three have fallen before the gun fire of their gangland opponents, namely Jack Zuta, northside henchman of George "Boss" Moran, slain in a Wisconsin lake resort shortly after the killing of Alfred Lunt. Tribune reporter, last summer; Joe Aiello, who walked into a machine gun ambush in Chicago several months ago, and James Belcastro, reputed "king pin" of Chicago bombers who was shot and dangerously wounded the other night on a busy Chicago thoroughfare.

LIVE AT HOME DRIVE ENDED IN THIS CITY

Series of Meetings Concluded With Session At Public Library This Morning

Tobacco specialists from the State Department of Agriculture and the State College Extension Department had planned to tell Pitt county farmers "how to grow tobacco at a profit even under present conditions" at the Pitt County county house last night, but the snowstorm interfered and the meeting was abandoned.

The specialists and members of the Pitt County Department of Agriculture gathered at the courtroom in preparation for the meeting, but the snow was falling heavily at the appointed hour and the farmers found the weather too severe to make the trip to the city over slippery highways.

The campaign which also embraced the movement looking to promoting the live-at-home program enunciated by Governor Gardner last year, was opened in this county night before last, and continued this morning with a general meeting at Sheppard Memorial Library. At this session the specialists, E. Y. Floyd, S. G. Graham, and R. M. Cooper, spoke at the meeting this morning and told their hearers some of the things they didn't get a chance to tell them last night.

The specialists have impressed upon growers everywhere the necessity of planting the best grades of tobacco as this is always in demand and prices are usually above cost of production, which is decidedly more than has been paid the last season. Farmers have been urged to give proper attention to seeds and plants and see that they are in the best of condition when the season for cultivation actually rolls around.

The campaign was carried into Farmville this afternoon at two o'clock. Farmers of that vicinity were told "How to produce tobacco at a profit" and also received some information regarding the necessity for planting the things that will enable them to live at home all the year around.

Campaigns similar to that in this county are being conducted in virtually all sections of the state this week with a view of showing the people why they should get away from the cash crop idea and confine more of their attention to the production of the things that will stock their smokehouses and barns and enable them to live over when prices decline for the cash crops are at the worst.

Although attendance at the meetings in Pitt county has been small compared with that in some other parts of the state, members of the Department of Agriculture are gratified at the interest shown by leading business men and planters and believe that good results will be obtained from the movement during the coming planting season.

Washington Newspaper Writer Tells State Legislature Depression is World Wide and Not Confined to Any Particular Locality; The House Ratifies Resolution to Ask Congress for Tobacco Tax Rebate

Raleigh, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Mark Sullivan, well known newspaper writer of Washington, advised the General Assembly of North Carolina today to give to the individual the widest possible latitude to solve his own problems.

The legislature met in joint session to hear Mr. Sullivan after brief business sessions by the separate houses.

Discussing the current business depression, Mr. Sullivan told the legislature that it was almost world-wide, with very few areas not being affected by it.

Mr. Sullivan discussed the three forms of government, the parliamentary system, the Russian and Italian experiments.

He predicted that Americans would keep their present form of government indefinitely by adapting it to the changed needs from time to time.

The address of Mr. Sullivan was very short and the houses immediately resumed the regular business session.

The Senate returned to its chamber and adjourned to meet at 11:00 o'clock tomorrow.

The first prohibition measure of the session was given to the House today when Representative Shanton of Lincoln introduced a bill to repeal the law enforcement of prohibition in his county as passed in 1929 which provided that every offender making a prohibition arrest received $10 for each arrest.

There were nearly a score of bills introduced in the House, while the Senate got only four.

The House also adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

Representative Newman of New Hanover, introduced a bill to require that all county and city funds hereafter deposited in banks or other depositories must be amply protected by surety or other bonds. If necessary, the bill provides, funds may be deposited in an adjoining county if no bank in the county wishing to make the deposit can meet the requirements of the bill.

A bill to cut the interest rate on tax certificates from 12 per cent to 8 per cent the first year and from 8 to 6 per cent the second year was introduced by Representative Eving of Cumberland.

The House adopted the Clarkson joint resolution to memorialize Congress to return to North Carolina 20 per cent of the taxes collected on tobacco in this state for use to relieve lands of taxes levied for schools. The measure had already passed the Senate. It was adopted after the address of Mr. Sullivan.

Bills Passed. Senate: Johnson of Duplin, joint resolution inviting Mark Sullivan to address a joint meeting of the General Assembly.

House: Wheeler of Perquimans, to commend the work of the American Legislators Association.

Clarkson of Mecklenburg, to ask Congress for a 20 per cent rebate on tobacco commodities taxes.

COUNTY GETS A SAMPLE OF REAL WINTER

Winter Sports Prevailing Today As Result of Inch and Half of Snow

People who have been yearning for a chance to "show their stuff" at winter sports got that opportunity today as a result of an inch and a half of snow which visited the community late yesterday afternoon and last night.

In virtually every section of the city this morning, youngsters with sleds sped down the slippery streets, making good their chance to enjoy the worst assault of King Winter during the new year.

However, with sunshine appearing at an early hour during the morning, it was apparent that the sleigh riding and skating would not be permitted to continue longer than the afternoon hours. At the noon hour the layer of snow and ice began to give away against the assault of the bright rays of the sun, and promised to disappear almost entirely by tomorrow morning.

With snow reported from the western sections of the state yesterday morning, and the weather man predicting similar weather for the coast, Greenville and Pitt County people began making preparations for the visit of the snow man. The first flakes began falling before the noon hour but this was succeeded by rain, and the short fall of almost blizzard proportions in the late afternoon, failed a stick at first but did so later as the mercury began falling.

Mrs. J. L. Hassel, chairman of the Pitt County chapter of the American Red Cross, this afternoon received a telegram from John Barton Payne of the American Red Cross, asking Pitt county to take part in the campaign to raise ten million dollars for the drought areas.

WIRE TAPPING TO BE PROBED BY THE HOUSE

Thorough Examination of Activity By Prohibition Agents to Be Made

Washington, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The House expenditures committee decided today to investigate telephone and telegraph wire tapping by prohibition bureau agents.

A motion to that effect by Representative Schafer, Republican of Wisconsin, a prohibition opponent, to provide "a thorough examination of the prohibition bureau's practice of tapping telephone and telegraph wires" was adopted.

Chairman Williamson said he expected the investigation to begin January 29.

Schafer said Attorney General Mitchell had promised wires could be tapped for lawful purposes only.

At the last hearings on appropriations for the prohibition bureau, he said, Prohibition Director Woodcock testified wire tapping had been permitted since the Supreme Court held it was lawful.

"The Supreme Court decision was returned on a five to four vote, and was not on the legality of wire tapping, but on the admissibility of evidence obtained in that manner," Schafer said.

He also quoted testimony last year by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Department of Justice Bureau of Investigation, that all persons who tapped wires would be punished.

LOCAL STORE WAS VERDICT FOR $12,800

Blount - Harvey Co. Victorious In Suit Against R. L. Smith and W. J. Hardee

Blount-Harvey Company, local department store, was awarded judgment for $12,800 against R. L. Smith and W. J. Hardee and their partners in the civil session of Pitt County Superior court in this city late yesterday afternoon.

The suit grew out of a controversy over an account which the defendants were said to have opened with the firm and which they refused to pay on account of the fact that Smith contended that he had not authorized the creation of the account.

From the evidence introduced during the hearing it was shown that Blount-Harvey Company had operated by simple tenants on two farms located by Smith and Hardee. When the time came to settle it was said Smith declared he had not authorized any such transaction between the firm and his tenants and refused to confirm payment of the account.

Both Hardee and Smith were involved in bankruptcy proceedings sometime ago, and the receivers were made parties in the suit for payment of the disputed account.

The case was begun day before yesterday and was not completed until yesterday afternoon shortly after four o'clock. The jury was out something like half an hour.

The court started out with an indication that progress during the remainder of the week would be as pronounced as during the first day of the week when numbers of actions were disposed of. The calendar contains numbers of cases which have been awaiting consideration for a period of many months, and it was expected the majority would be disposed of during the week.

A one-week term of criminal court will convene next week and scores of cases ranging from assault to murder are on the docket.

Pritchard said both as a member of the State Republican Executive Committee and as an individual, he will urge the appointment of Representative Jones, Republican, North Carolina, to succeed Harkins.

Jones' term expires March 4. He also is Republican National Committeeman from the state.

"Harkins is one of the outstanding district attorneys of the whole country and has made a record as a fearless prosecutor," Pritchard said. "I know of no objection to the appointment of Jones whose record as assistant district attorney equips him for the duties of this post."

POLICE BALKED IN KILLING CASE AT ASHEVILLE

Investigation of the Shooting of W. H. Zindel Fails to Get Results

Asheville, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The police department today was temporarily balked in its investigation of the strange fatal shooting of W. H. Zindel by the disappearance of two men said to be eye-witnesses.

Edward B. Hastings, 47, Winston-Salem man who said he shot Zindel accidentally during the course of a business conference in Hastings room in the Langren Hotel, still was in jail today and he continued to stick to his story that he accidentally shot Zindel while handling an old revolver.

Police were inclined to place credence in Hastings story of the shooting except for the odd disappearance of the two men who were said to be in the room at the time the shooting occurred. The interest for Zindel, to have been held yesterday afternoon, has been postponed temporarily pending the unearthing of further evidence or witnesses.

Hastings, former owner of the Twin City baseball club, told police he came to Asheville some days ago and was negotiating with Zindel on establishing a distributing agency for automobile jackets. Zindel and he were in Hastings room. Two men, whom Hastings did not know, he said came into the room. Zindel talked to them and Hastings handled idly an old revolver which he had in a bureau drawer. In some way, said Hastings, the weapon was discharged. The bullet went through Zindel's left arm, pierced the body, and caused almost immediate death. The two strangers fled from the hotel.

M. P. Pollock, clerk at the Langren, who was among the first to reach Zindel, said he heard Zindel gasp out a statement that the shooting was accidental and that Hastings was not to blame.

SPEED RELIEF TO SECTIONS OF DROUGHT AREA

Red Cross Shows 405,000 Persons Being Cared for in 383 Counties, 21 States

Washington, Jan. 15.—(AP)—A Red Cross summary today showed 405,000 persons being cared for in drought relief to 383 counties in 21 states.

The total amount of cash grants up to noon yesterday was $914,781. Total expenditures for all types of relief, food, clothing, medical supplies and feed for stock, was $1,352,837.

Chairman Payne said calls for relief in Texas and Oklahoma counties have mounted in the past few days. Relief has been sent into all but nine of the 75 counties of Arkansas.

"Many Red Cross chapters which have been giving relief from local contributions have notified the national organization they soon will be at the end of their sources," said Jane Payne. "The need for the $10,000,000 relief fund is very great."

"We are sure however, that response will be prompt and generous. From Florida a state in which the Red Cross has given help in the past comes this telegram: 'people here have felt hard times but still have hearts as their response will show.'"

Mr. Payne narrated the following examples of response to President Hoover's appeal for aid.

A parcel of fresh tomatoes, to counteract pellagra was enroute to the Red Cross at Forrest City, Arkansas, from Fort Myers, Florida. Vegetable growers, contributed the tomatoes through the Fort Myers Press.

The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America sent urgent appeal to Protestant churches to co-operate to the limit.

Archbishop Michael J. Curley, of the Baltimore diocese, dispatched from a hospital where he is ill, a telegram urging the Catholic press to make a special appeal for aid in the campaign.

Red Cross chapters sending word of success in the first 12 hours of their campaign included: Chattanooga, Tenn., one of the states with a few drought afflicted areas, $2,850; Cordova Chapter, Alaska, responded with this wire: "Quota on its way. Are pleased to report we have met this demand of succoring humanity within 12 hours after receipt of call."

The appreciation of the drought sufferers was expressed by Governor Harvey L. Parnell, of Arkansas, who wired "assistance by the Red Cross is a God send to the stricken people." He also said the people of his state would co-operate to meet the demand in raising the relief fund.

To Probe Dealings of Financial Wizard In Belvidere, Ill.

Belvidere, Ill., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Albert W. Berham is a financial prophet, honored in his own hometown, paying interest rates of 20 to 50 percent on the life savings of neighbors who knew him as an obscure shipping clerk during most of his 45 years.

Every Monday they gather in Berham's office, located in small garage on the main street of this community of 8,000 to give him their wages and savings, receiving his short-time judgment notes as security, or collect their interest at double or triple the usual rates.

Berham's business, which he described as "barngans," began two years ago among fellow workers in a factory here and has extended to Rockford, Elgin, Joliet, Kankakee, Chicago and other nearby cities. The first complain, he said, was not from one of his customers but from local bankers, who said his high financing had caused withdrawals of $310,000 from Belvidere banks.

Omar H. Wright, president of the Second National Bank here, former president of the Illinois Bankers Association, and director of state finances, acted an investigation of Berham's affairs.

State's Attorney A. J. Strom of Boone county interviewed Berham and then said the grand jury would look into his affairs January 26.

"I'm being investigated," Berham, a bald, robust man with a healthy manner, said today. "But I don't mind. Other investigators become customers. More money comes in. There's no law against borrowing money. Six per cent interest is all I promise. When I deliver more that is the customer's good luck."

Not a cent goes into the stock market he said.

NEGRO SWAPS HAMS FOR LIQUOR AND LANDS IN JAIL

His insatiable appetite for liquor got Jesper Evans in trouble with the law and he is confined in the county jail in this city awaiting trial on a charge of theft.

Evans is alleged to have stolen two juicy hams from his mother and exchanged them with a bootlegger for a half gallon of booze. Officers said they had heard of people trading food for gasoline, but this was the first instance of them exchanging hams for liquor, especially in these days of prohibition when the appetite for liquor is supposed to be on the decrease.

SNOW INCREASES SERIOUSNESS OF UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM

The unemployment situation in this community is more serious than at any other time of the year, according to information given out this morning by members of the unemployment department of the Merchants Association.

The snow, it was said, had greatly increased suffering among the colored race, and everything was being done today to cope with the situation. While the association has been able to provide jobs for numbers of the people who have applied for work from day to day, the applications were far ahead of jobs, and hundreds of negroes ramed the streets unable to find work. People needing servants of any kind are urged to get in touch with the association at once and help relieve the serious situation.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN MISSIONS SCHOOL

In spite of the inclement weather the attendance and interest manifested in the Church School of Missions being conducted at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church this week has been very satisfactory. It is hoped there will be a large attendance this evening. Education, church building and healing will be the topics for discussion this evening. These topics complete the text for study and this will be the last evening of the school.

The school of missions will come to a most fitting close tomorrow with the Washington District Missionary Institute which will meet in the local church at 10 in the morning. This will be a summary of the work and a very interesting and helpful program will be given. Dr. W. E. Quillian, secretary of the Board of Christian Education, Nashville, Tenn., will be the inspirational speaker of the morning. All official members of every organization of the church are urged to be present for this meeting, and the public is invited to attend. It will be a great privilege to hear Dr. Quillian, and the church urges that all who can will make use of the opportunity.

SOON REGAINED HER STRENGTH

Felt Like She Was Going to Get Down in Bed, But Cardui Helped.

Guthrie, Ky.—"Some years ago my health was very bad," writes Mrs. Thomas Latham, of this place. "I was thin and pale. I thought I was going to get down in bed. I felt tired and worn. I read where Cardui was a good tonic for weak women, and decided to take it. After my first bottle, I felt better and had a better appetite, so kept it up. By the time I had taken three bottles, I was so much better and stronger that I was able to leave it off. "Since then in the spring when I feel run-down and need a tonic, I send for Cardui, and by the time I take two or three bottles I have regained my strength and feel like new. I have never found a better tonic and I recommend it to my friends."

Thousands of other women have taken Cardui to help them to build up their health. The good reports which have been received, telling of the experience of others, should encourage you to try Cardui, for your troubles. SCHOOL CHILDREN INTERESTED IN READING

There are now in circulation in the rural schools of Pitt county 168 books which the teachers have drawn from Sheppard Memorial Library. The children are reading these books, too. Recently a package of twenty books were returned at the close of the two weeks period for which they were issued, with the cards showing that these twenty books had been read 160 times during this short time. Another feature which pleases the library staff is that during the two years in which books have been used in this way only one book drawn out by a teacher has been lost.

ACTRESS SOBS ON STAND AT LOS ANGELES

Clara Bow Clings to Role of Prosecuting Witness in DeBoe Trial

Los Angeles, Jan. 15.—AP.—Clara Bow, the target of recriminations, clung today to her role as a prosecution witness in the trial of her former secretary, Daisy De Boe, on charges of grand theft.

Alternately sobbing and stamping a foot while testifying, the red-headed actress yesterday sought to show Miss De Boe stole $16,000 of her money and attempted to obtain $125,000 from her in an extortion scheme.

The flapper heroine of motion pictures seemed on the verge of hysteria under searching questioning of Miss De Boe's counsel, Nathan Freedman.

"She was my best friend," sobbed the actress after an indignant outburst. "She was my best friend in the world. I'm sorry to be crying, but I can't help it." Then she daubed at her nose with a powder puff.

Miss Bow had been recalled to the stand to testify concerning an alleged attempt by Miss De Boe to obtain $125,000 from her under plan of having letters and telegrams from the film flapper's boy friends released to newspapers.

"I asked Daisy, 'and you're not kidding me? Isn't it true that you are trying to shake me down for $125,000?'" the actress testified.

On this point W. I. Gilbert, attorney for Miss De Boe testified later in his office last November 3, stating she had some papers of Clara's and no one could have them unless the film actress "paid $125,000 and not a cent less."

Miss Bow defended her latest "boy friend," Rex Bell, cowboy actor, with heated denials that he was at present holding the position formerly held by Miss De Boe.

"He didn't discharge Daisy," the actress said with gathering anger when questioned by Freedman.

"He's your secretary now, isn't he?" asked Freedman.

"He is not; it has been reported that he is, but it is not the truth," snappy Clara.

Bell, when called to the stand, admitted he was the author of telegrams to Miss Bow containing endearing phrases, and testified he suitcase filled with similar telegrams recovered from Miss De Boe a year and letters received by the actress from admirers during a period of years.

Benjamin O'Dell, officer in a Hollywood bank where Miss Bow kept accounts and a safe deposit box, testified Mrs. De Boe a few days before her arrest on the grand theft charges, drew $22,000 from Miss Bow's savings account.

"She said Rex Bell wanted Miss Bow to invest in some scheme he didn't approve of and she was going to withdraw the money and place it in the safe deposit box, where Clara wouldn't find it," O'Dell stated.

"She also expressed fear that Clara might get interested in the scheme of some German to make $10,000 bills out of $1,000 bills."

O'Dell testified that when he ex-

ABOUT TOWN

B. T. Ferguson, district farm demonstration agent, speaking to a gathering of farmers and business men here yesterday, declares he didn't know any more how to improve present business conditions than anybody else, but suggested that the farmer could better his own situation by producing more of the things consumed at home.

It is the same thought expressed by Governor Gardner from time to time the last year or so, but only a few of the progressive growers of the state have taken advantage of it. However, the past season has proved something of an education in the way of general business conditions and ought to cause everybody to look about for other sources of revenue during the present year.

The slogan of the leading agriculturalists this season will be, "Farm to live." Mr. Ferguson declared, and if it is adopted by every grower the season ahead to find the majority of them ahead of the game the end of the year.

The banks of Pitt county are in a healthy condition.

In their annual reports carried in the columns of this paper yesterday it was shown that each of the institutions paid dividends to their stockholders amounting to virtually the same figure as last year. If this isn't a sign of solidity, we would like to know what it takes to make a bank solid.

Such things indicate that the banks have enjoyed good business throughout the year, and enables them to look forward to the new year with just as much confidence as ever.

Pitt county representatives in the state legislature are for tax reduction and curtailment of the general operating expenses of the state government.

They said as much on a recent visit to the city, and promised that they would use their influence in this direction while in the capital city.

They realize the time has come when the burden must be lifted from the landowner and switched to some other source, but just what source has not yet been definitely decided upon. However, the constant reduction of expenses is going in the right direction and should lead up to new sources in the future.

The legislature has heard people fume and fuss about oppressive taxation for many years, but this is the first time it has been confronted with such a determined hue and cry for reductions. The situation is unprecedented by reason of the financial depression, and there seems to be only one way of bringing about relief and that is through economical administration of government wherever this is possible.

When corn is cheap farmers would do well to provide themselves with hogs to feed it to, in the opinion of agricultural leaders of the community.

Raising hogs is one of the extra money sources which Pitt county farmers have been turning their attention to in past years, and it is expected the coming season will see one of the most extensive outputs in history.

Corn at 60 cents a bushel is a much better investment when fed to hogs than offered for sale on the open market, and the increased profit would justify any farmer to try out the plan.

The farmers of this great section must give more of their attention to the raising of hogs and poultry the next year or so if they are to get out of the hole into which they have fallen the last several months. They must have increased revenue and this is one of the quickest ways to earn it.

If farm women of the county follow the advice of Miss Helen Eastbrook, of the Extension department of State college, they will confine more attention to balanced diets during the new year. Health is essential to the success of any branch of industry, and it is just as necessary that the people of the farm are in a healthy condition as any other set of people. Diet Drug Co. and all other good drug plays a big part in the general health of everybody, and people who try to balance the foods needed by the human system from day to day should be able to brave the ordinary difficulties of life better than those who do not.

Miss Eastbrook not only stressed the need for improved diets in the farm homes, but urged the women to produce more of the things they consume at home.

Through the medium of gardens, poultry and hogs, well balanced meals should be placed upon the tables of the farm homes every day of the year. And the most important thing about this is the fact that it may be done at much less cost than when the materials have to be purchased from other sections of the county. The savings would prove surprising at the end of the year and inspire the housewife to greater activity in the future.

PSYCHOLOGY IS THE THING IN FOOTBALL

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
South Bend, Ind., Jan. 15.—(AP)—Psychology is the thing in football.

Take it from Frank Carideo, Notre Dame's mighty little dynamo and field general. And if that isn't enough authority ask the Southern California Trojans, the Tartans of Carnegie Tech, and a few other really great football teams who fell victims of one of the shrewdest football psychologists the pigskin ever has known.

"There's no doubt but what we have a great team in 1929 and 1930," the square shouldered generalissimo of the Rockne Raiders said in backtracking memorial gridiron campaigns. "Yet I often wonder how many games we would have won and lost if old man psychology had not worked for us on an overtime basis through the insistence of that master psychologist, Knute Rockne. It pulled us out—on top—of battle after battle when sheer football ability failed.

"Probably we were just too good to give psychology the credit. We used it before the game, during the game and even when we had the victory salted away.

"Never in my football career was I more confident than of beating the Trojans last fall. And all the boys were of the same opinion. But when tales filtered into South Bend of Southern California's confidence of a one-sided victory, we decided that to win we must get in the right psychological touch at the right psychological second. So we, or I should say Coach Rockne, gave them the 'build-up' while we worked to rip that mental construction down in a hurry.

"So at the start of the game, we decided first of all to do the unexpected at all times. The boys, keyed to a fighting pitch, got the ball and gave the Trojans the shock of their lives. We hammered with all our strength right at the start and amazed them by shoving them right back to their own goal. A few minutes later, they fumbled on their own 20 yard line and we realized the win or lose minute had come. Now a fumble always disorganizes a team for the instant and so I decided on a bold stroke. Instead of driving safely at the line I called for a pass. The ball was snapped, the Trojans lined up in that zone of greatest intensity, watched for a line smash or an end run, but Marchy Schwartz dropped back and flipped an easy pass to me for a touchdown. The blow stunned Southern Cal and they were beaten.

"We imitated Carnegie Tech about the same way. We did the unexpected at the unexpected time. That's the way they beat us in 1928, knocking us sroogy with a pass on the first play deed in their own territory.

"My advice to a quarterback is to watch the faces of your opponents. Watch their reaction to your plays and then cross 'em up with the same plays through a different spot. Set plays don't always go."

(Tomorrow Carideo tells of his early training in the game how he became a quarterback and how it feels to run a championship team).

LOCAL HIGH DEFEATED BY SNOW HILL

Greenville high school seeking experience playing in a warehouse went to Snow Hill last night to return the game played here about two weeks ago, and which Greenville won easily by a 29-8 score. However, the Snow Hill team, composed of the same boys presented a much stronger combination, and defeated the locals by a 20-12 score. The game was close and hard-fought. The score stayed within the two-point difference range all of the game except the last few minutes when Snow Hill forged ahead.

The game was a rough and tumble affair, and each side was about equally responsible for the roughness. The game in the warehouse was well attended considering the weather, so although Greenville lost the evening was a success for Snow Hill.

Bullock played his usual stellar game for Greenville and led in the scoring and floor work. The rest of the local team fought hard. Exum was best for Snow Hill. The next game in Greenville is on January 23, with the locals meeting Ranoke Rapids. Everyone come out and support Greenville's fighting team, win or lose.

Duke Is the Only State Team To Play This Week

Charlotte, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Only Duke defending Big Five champions, remained of Old North State teams to "carry on" the rest of this week in the basketball warfare.

The rest of the major collegiate five were idle three days of the week, many of the athletes struggling with exams instead of the problems of the basketball court.

The Blue Devils fled away from Durham today on a northern invasion.

They were booked to meet Maryland at College Park tonight; Temple University at Philadelphia Friday, and Navy at Annapolis Saturday.

The Davidson Wildcats continued their conquering ways last night by conquering a challenging Erskines seceder five from Due West, 37 to 23, at Davidson. The Wake Forest quiet reversed from the form it has been showing in some of its 1931 games and licked the Raleigh Y. 42 to 18, at Wake Forest.

Statesville, N. C.—The Lenoir-Rhyne college Glee club will sing at Mitchell college here tonight.

Wilmington, N. C.—Despite his vigorous cross-examination of witnesses and a persuasive plea, a jury found Herbert Knox, negro youth, guilty of stealing two chairs. The youth told the court his "partial graduation," from two correspondence schools, accounted for his legal talent.

And, say, you should have seen him working on that talk. He locked himself in a room on the top floor of his office building where he couldn't be disturbed by callers or the bursting of a telephone and pecked out that story with two fingers, newspaper fashion.

SPORTS SLANTS

It is no longer "trick" in football to insert the ball under a jersey and thereby deceive the opposition, but the origin of this famous stunt, first tried in the good old days of the Mauve Decade, has been the subject of one debate this winter.

Due to the combined sleuthing of Penn State's sports expert, Wes Dunlap, and Cornell's publicity charge d'affaires, Lou Boeliver, it has been established that "Pop" Warner did not first teach the hidden ball trick to his Carlisle Indians but originated it in a game between Cornell and Penn State in 1897.

Warner was coaching Cornell and the play, as executed by Halfback Allen E. (Mike) Whiting, now a resident of Philadelphia and Quarterback C. V. P. (Tar) Young, now head of Cornell's department of physical education, resulted in an easy touchdown against the Nittany Lions.

The documentary proof comes from Mr. Whiting, who writes: "As far as I know, Pop Warner absolutely originated this trick. One day Pop arranged to have a strong elastic placed in the bottom of my jersey. He then got us out on the field to coach us on the new play. It could be used only on kickoffs.

"Young was designated the receiver. As he caught the ball I placed myself directly ahead of him, with the other nine men in a circle ahead of me. Tar would stuff the ball up my back and as soon as I realized it was well placed I would yell and the whole team would yell and start fan shaped in all directions. I could go straight down the field; both of my hands being free, it was obvious I did not have the ball.

"Time and again in different games I would go between two opponents close enough almost to touch me and they would stand open-eyed. Generally we would go straight for a touchdown.

"After the season, Prof. L. M. Dennis, who was our representative on the football rules committee, attended the annual meeting and I believe it was Walter Camp who asked him pleasantly if it would be necessary to insert a new rule to the effect that the ball should not be hidden. Professor Dennis promised we would not again be guilty but a season or two later hidden ball play crept up all over the country so it was finally necessary to insert a new rule."

Harvard and Princeton have not yet been able to patch up their break of over four years ago, except in what Prof. C. W. Kennedy regards as "non-combative" sport. But Baylor and the Texas Aggies of the Southwest conference have contributed to the policy of harmony by resuming relations again after a five-year lapse.

Their basketball game, booked for February 3 at Waco, is the first meeting in any branch of sport since rival student factions took possession of the gridiron between halves of a football game in 1925 and waded a battle resulting in one death. With good feeling restored, the conference athletic slate again is complete.

Powerful Radio Plant Puts China In World Contact

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
Shanghai.—(AP)—Radio has at last put China into direct and instantaneous communication with the rest of the world.

Through transmission service at 100 words per minute has already been started between this city and San Francisco. Within a few weeks similar contacts are to be made with Berlin, Paris, London and other capitals of the world.

Establishment of the Shanghai international radio station at Chenju, a suburb, has made this feat possible.

Like other enterprises still new to China, construction of the station and its eventual opening was by no means rapid. Ceremonies attending the opening were preceded by two years of negotiations, hard work and various obstacles to be overcome.

A week before the final tests had been completed the Japanese government filed a formal complaint against the new enterprise. It was based on a treaty, signed by the Japanese and the old Peking government granting the Japanese a monopoly on wireless stations operating in China with the outside world. It caused some apprehension for a time.

Plans for the station were formulated two years ago when the Nanking government began to take rank seriously. However, it was not until ten months ago that actual construction was started. Approximately $800,000 was appropriated, most of this sum being spent for American equipment, with some apparatus purchased in France and Germany.

Installation work was supervised by Cecil Bailey, RCA engineer, who is remaining in China for a few months to help direct operations. George F. Sheeklen of San Francisco, who has spent two years in China in connection with the radio plant, has accepted a post with the government in an advisory capacity and will assist in the operation of the station.

Wilmington, N. C.—Tolls from the Cape Fear state highway bridge totalled $91,364.64 for 1930, approximately $30,000 below the anticipated income.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—More than 600 persons were given assistance last December by the Forsyth County Welfare department.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady, unchanged to 3 points higher, and fluctuated within a range of 4 to 5 points during the early trading.

Business was very quiet with light offerings absorbed by covering and trade buying, which was sufficient to give the market a generally steady undertone. At the end of the first half hour March was selling around 10.14 and July lower to 3 points higher. A few additional January notices led to further near month liquidation which was absorbed by spot interests against sales of late deliveries.

Liverpool was just about as due on the New York close of yesterday, some covering and continental buying was reported in Liverpool but buyers of cotton cloths in Manchester were said to be holding aloof pending the outcome of the labor disputes.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Influenced by the fact that there had been four days advance, wheat suffered a sharp setback today. Weakness of securities had a bearish effect, and some selling ascribed to government sponsored agencies was a weight on values. Talk was heard that no attempt by Farm Board allies would be made before late April or even May to formulate a policy in regard to supporting prices of the 1931 wheat crop.

Wheat closed nervous 3-8 to 1-8 lower; corn 2 1-8 to 2 7-8 down; oats 5-8 to 3-4 off; and provisions unchanged to 12 decline.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The stock market broke out of its narrow trading area on the downside today.

The extreme stagnation of the market in the previous session as it endeavored to break away from the downward trend of Monday and Tuesday, encouraged fresh selling, and trading quickened moderately. Isolated strength of some of the rails bolstered the list a little in the late morning, but the decline became emphatic after midday, and losses of 2 to 5 points were numerous.

Expectations of the Richfield Oil receivership, announced in the early afternoon, was an unsettling influence.

The action of the share market was contrary to that of the bond list which picked up under the influence of further easing of credit rates. Time money again sagged with the lower maturities down to the lowest levels of half a century or more. Call money held at 1 1-2 at the loan desk, with virtually no demand. There was a brisk investment demand for commercial paper and lower rates were regarded as probable.

Apparently inability of the share market to extend its gain and unfavorable earnings estimates were factors in the market decline. American and Foreign Power broke soon after the opening, in response to talk of expected net for 1930 of only about $1 a share.

The few earnings reports already available, however, have provided a little cheer, particularly American Telephone's report of $10.40 a share net, as preliminary estimated which is about equivalent to 1929, allowing for the increase in the number of shares. Western Union reported $9.10 a share, against $15.11 in 1929. The annual dividend is $8. United Fruit reported $4.24 against a dividend requirement of $4, and 1929 net of $6.78.

Evidence of the extensive flow of standard stocks into investment portfolios appeared in the report of the floating support of U. S. Steel at the end of the year, which showed a drop of 203,422 shares in three months. The extensive distribution of fixed trust units has undoubtedly been an important factor in this showing.

The General Motors December sales report, showing sales to dealers nearly double the like month of 1929, and a large increase in consumer buying, was regarded favorably, but it had little influence marketwise.

Business was very quiet with light offerings absorbed by covering and trade buying, which was sufficient to give the market a generally steady undertone. At the end of the first half hour March was selling around 10.14 and July lower to 3 points higher. A few additional January notices led to further near month liquidation which was absorbed by spot interests against sales of late deliveries.

QUAKE CLAIMS SIX LIVES IN SOUTH MEXICO

Several Persons Also Injured As Numbers of Buildings Collapse

Mexico City, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Dispatches to the newspaper Universal from Oaxaca today said that six persons were killed and nine injured there by the earthquake which shook all of Southern Mexico last night.

The city was in panic, the dispatches said, and despite intense cold many of the inhabitants remained throughout the night in the parks, afraid to sleep within walls or because their homes had been destroyed.

Mexico City, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Severe earthquakes which rocked Mexico City for more than four minutes early last night took one life, injured 25 persons, knocked down 50 walls and houses, and did other damage.

Residents, attaching significance to the coming of the quake on the heels of three of the coldest days in many generations, ran panic-stricken into the frozen streets and knelt to pray in a driving rain and electric storm.

For hours after the tremors a flickering yellow light prevailed; the skies, glowing unnaturally and throwing the populace into general fright. There were reports that the volcano Popocatepetl, 55 miles away, was in minor eruption, tossing rocks and fire from its crater. Clouds obscured the snow-covered summit from the city.

The first of the shocks was felt at 6:51:47 p. m. the maximum motion occurring at 6:52:57. After four minutes the seismographs at Tacubaya Observatory were displaced by the shocks and no further record was made. Other instruments showed that the tremors continued for 28 minutes in various parts of Mexico, concluding at 7:19 p. m.

Fifteen states and the federal district were affected. Both Vera Cruz and Tampico reported strong quakes but with only minor damage. Inhabitants of both cities fled into the streets, terror-stricken.

The quakes generally were believed to be the most severe since June 7, 1911, when most of Mexico was shaken by tremors which were estimated to have taken as many as 2,000 dead. More than 100 persons were killed in the city of Mexico alone, and wide crevices were opened in the streets and buildings.

CITY GETS SAMPLE OF REAL WINTER

(Continued from page one) and from the city has been hampered considerably by the slippery condition of the pavement, no accidents of a serious nature had been reported up to the noon hour today. Numbers of minor automobile wrecks occurred at various street intersections during the night and early morning hours, but the damage was so slight in almost every instance that the vehicles were able to continue along their way as soon as the shock of the accident was over.

Despite the fact that snow and ice lay heavily on communication and power lines, no disruption of service had been reported at the telephone office or the power plant this morning. Telephone and telegraph service outside the city was reported normal even during the early morning and news of the activities of the outside world came into the city as usual. The snow brought much suffering to the hundreds of unemployed colored people inside the city limits, but it also furnished employment for scores in the effort to aid business men clean the streets of the snow. The attack on the covering of white was made in virtually every section of the city and by the noon hour virtually all sidewalks in the principal business district had been cleared.
