Postmaster Brown Sees Hundred Fifty Million Postal Deficit In U. S.

Tells Air Mail Operators They Will Have to Demonstrate They Are Doing Something for Business if They Expect to Continue to Receive Governmental Support in the Future

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Postmaster General Brown today predicted a postal deficit of more than $150,000,000 for the next fiscal year.

Speaking at a conference of air mail operators, he said they would have to demonstrate they are doing something for business for the rapid movement of mail, and for the flying art if they are to continue to receive governmental support.

The Postoffice Department has reached the maximum figure in appropriations from Congress for the domestic air mail service.

"There are a number of disturbing factors in the operation of the air mail service," Brown said, "which will have to be reckoned with by operators throughout the country. The gross deficit of the government will no doubt reach a total of half billion dollars. Congress, therefore will be forced to do one of two things—either increase taxes or reduce expenditures. Air mail operators should inform themselves conditions and of the problems that confront the Postoffice Department.

The military branches of the government, he added, were "not at all enthusiastic about the" part civil aeronautics may play in any preparedness program being devised by army or navy. He said on the contrary these branches spoke with some contempt about any aid which might be rendered by commercial aviation.

Preacher Presents Plan For Making Dry Law Effective

Macon, Ga., Feb. 16.—(AP)—All the alcoholic liquor everyone wants for a week, distributed at cost by all the filling stations in the country is Dr. Bascom Anthony's idea of the best way to popularize prohibition.

"If I were King Bascom Anthony imperial dictator of these United States," the 75-year-old superannuated circuit-rider of the Methodist Church, South, told a Baptist congregation here last night, "I'd let everybody have all they wanted for a week and then I would do the same thing in ten years. I would be so beset with petitions that there never would be any more doubt that the prohibition law is a good thing."

Although he expressed belief that talk of "necking, drinking and women smoking" is exaggerated and quoted figures to show that "less than one-tenth of one per cent of co-educational students are disciplined for drinking," he admitted that "the wets have had the better of us for the past two or three years."

Charlotte Theatre Destroyed By Fire

Charlotte, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The Imperial Theater, $100,000 unit of the Paramount Public Corporation, was destroyed by fire here early today.

Flames, originating in the office had not gained much headway reached chemicals in the roof cooling system. As the roof burned the draft spread the flames through the whole interior of the building.

The fire was prevented from spreading to other buildings by fire walls.

NOTED CIRCUS ACTRESS DEAD

Lillian Leitzen Dies of Injuries Received in Death Whirl at Copenhagen

Copenhagen, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Lillian Leitzen, Queen of the Big Top and the sawdust ring, lay still today in death—the price she paid for having attempted her breathtaking body whirl high in the air once too often.

The end came late yesterday afternoon in the midst of delirium brought on by head and spine injuries received Friday night when an iron ring broke and let her fall 45 feet to the floor of the Valencia Music Hall with only a rubber mat to break the impact.

Alfredo Cordona, her husband and himself a triple somersault trapeze artist, flew from Berlin to her bedside. He believed her condition improved when he left the hospital in the afternoon but shortly after she took a turn for the worse and soon passed away.

A native of Bohemia, the dainty circus performer lived 29 of the 37 years of her life in America, where with the Ringland Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus she made a reputation for thrilling feats at the end of a rope which may outlive the modern circus.

Her act was the "giant half flange"—to swing by her right hand from a rope 50 feet or more above the three rings, literally throwing her body over her own shoulder as a pivot. She usually did it just 100 times, but her record was 249 times. Her mother, Nellie Leamy, originated the act and until her daughter took it up was its only practitioner.

The entire circus performance would stop as dainty Lillian, 5 feet and 100 pounds, clad in pink tights, would come onto the center stage and kick off jeweled heels while the ringmaster made an elaborate introduction. She was drawn to the top of the tent, the rest of the big top was darkened and, with a spotlight focused on her, her act went on alone—the only circus performer to achieve that dignity.

When the circus went into winter quarters she appeared in vaudeville and this winter went to Europe with her husband, whose troupe of trapeze performers is widely known. She was near the end of her whirl Friday night when the iron ring to which she held broke. She landed heavily and was lifted from the ring. She protested that she was not hurt, but at the hospital serious injuries to her spine and head were revealed.

As a child she played the piano and then took up ballet dancing, but when she came to America at the age of 17 she was already an adept trapeze performer. She was a good business woman and insisted upon the highest salaries. She had her own private railroad car with her own maids. She was never temperamental and was the first to help the needy around the circus tent.

In 1920 she married Clyde Ingalls, assistant manager of the circus, but they became estranged. In 1929 she and Cordona, Mexican, were married. When they were together he always held the rope for her to be given her act.

L. C. C. ORDERS RATE REVISION ON PETROLEUM

Also Directs Change of Freight Rates on Gasoline to and From Southwestern Points

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—A revision of railroad rates on petroleum products moving from the west and southwest to the northeastern section of the United States and upon gasoline to and from southwestern points was ordered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Laying out the principles to govern the rate revisions, the commission adopted the precedent of fixing maximum charges on more important movements of the crude and refined oil, and extending to railroads permission to make the actual schedules range under the maximums. The result will be to leave the exact level of the new rates in doubt until the carriers make up their tariffs in compliance with the decision.

From the western refining points to the southeastern quarter of the United States, an outline of specific maximum schedules was laid down. These, however, varied both in accordance with points of origin as well as points of destination. From New Orleans to Nashville the new maximum was made 43 cents per hundred pounds on petroleum products; to Louisville 44 cents; to August, Ga., 52 cents; to Raleigh, 61 cents; and to Richmond, Va., 65 cents.

These rates increased for refineries west of New Orleans until the charge to Nashville from refineries grouped around El Paso became 54 cents; Louisville 54 cents; Augusta 74 cents; Raleigh 79 cents; and to Richmond 81 cents. These charges as given were guides for the carriers to follow in fixing rates to unimpaired intermediate or adjoining southern points.

BANK MERGER IS EFFECTIVE

Bethel Bank Will Be Operated As Greenville Banking and Trust Company

The consolidation of the Greenville Banking & Trust Co. with the Bethel Banking & Trust Co., which was approved by the directors and stockholders at their annual meeting on January 13, became effective today. This gives Pitt county one of the outstanding banking institutions of Eastern North Carolina, with total capital invested in excess of $275,000 and total resources of two and a quarter million.

The Bethel bank will be operated as the Greenville Banking & Trust Co., Bethel, N. C., with S. C. Ives cashier.

The Greenville Banking & Trust Company is now operating the home office on Evans street, the Dickinson avenue branch and the Grimsland and Bethel branches. It was organized in 1901 with capital of $100,000 and has shown steady and persistent growth since its organization.

Although it has been customary in the past for deposits to decline after January 1, such has not been the case this year. Deposits show a substantial increase since January 1.

Approve Pension for Dependents of War Veterans

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The House veterans committee today approved a bill to provide pensions for dependents of world war veterans from the date of death of the veterans.

Representative Perkins, Republican, New Jersey, chairman of a sub-committee which revived the bill, said an effort would be made to bring it to a vote without delay.

He estimated it would cost $12,000,000 to $14,000,000 for the first year and $2,000,000 additional each successive year.

The bill would provide $26 a month for a widow and one orphan of world war veterans, regardless of whether there was any service connection with the cause of death. It would provide $6 for each additional orphan and would exclude widows without children.

Pres. Hoover Recommends Twenty Million Dollars For Public Buildings

Allocations for Projects in Various Sections of Country Presented to Congress; Charlotte Postoffice Included

LEAD PRES HOOVER... Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The House today passed the $45,000,000 administration program for the construction of postoffice stations, branches and garages.

The bill now goes to the Senate. It authorizes the appropriation of not more than $10,000,000 to carry out the construction work. Before passage, it was amended on the motion of Representative from Minnesota, to provide that in the case of purchase, the postmaster general should not pay more than the price fixed by a commission named by the U. S. District Judge.

"We must take this out of the hands of the postmaster general or we will have the leasing scandal duplicated 100 percent," Maas said. Earlier in the day the President recommended Congress provide for allocations of public buildings aggregating $20,105,000 out of the $45,000,000 public building program authorized.

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Allocations for public building projects aggregating $20,105,000 were submitted to Congress today by President Hoover.

The allocations included $525,000 for the postoffice and courthouse at Charlotte, N. C.

They are the first to be recommended under the public building program outside the District of Columbia since the Elliott bill increasing the program from $315,000,000 to $415,000,000 was approved by the Chief Executive. The Elliott bill sponsored by the administrator, was sent to the president last week by Congress.

These allocations, along with others aggregating $49,515,000 submitted by the president on February 2, are to be included in the second deficiency bill now being drafted by the House Appropriation committee. Practically all of the items are expected to receive final Congressional approval this session, so the treasury can carry on its plan to complete a ten-year building program in about five years.

The purpose of the allocations is to authorize Secretary Mellon to enter into contracts in amounts not exceeding the limit of cost

FLIER KILLED AT ATLANTA

Johnny Kytte Falls to His Death While Stunting in a New Airplane

Atlanta, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The roster of mail pilots skimming across southern skyways today was stripped of a resourceful pioneer, Johnny Kytte, who took aloft a new plane here on his day off and fell to death while stunting.

The airman, veteran of nine years in the clouds at 25 and victor in frequent stirring encounters with the elements including a crash on the side of Stone Mountain, was killed at Candler Field yesterday before a crowd of several hundred persons.

Traversing the treacherous night route between Atlanta and Richmond for the Eastern Air Transport Company, Kytte was rounding out three years as a mail flier which saw him gain membership in the mythical Caterpillar Club. He won that distinction in September, 1929, by taking to his parachute near Crew, Va., and landing in safety although his ship, dry of gasoline, was destroyed.

During a night rainstorm May 8, 1928, his plane roared into the side of Stone Mountain near here. The machine was wrecked, but Kytte salvaged the mail and suffered only a split lip and a broken finger.

Another mountain felt the impact of Kytte's plane on August 18, 1928, when he plunged into one near Old Fort, N. C. Both wings were stripped from his ship but the mail was saved. Kytte set out to the nearest town in an automobile and the car ran into a rain-swollen stream. He received a cut on the chin and a sprained wrist.

Kytte was forced to earth near Rural Hall, N. C., October 1, 1928 by a storm and shortly after he reclaimed the mail the ship burst into flames.

Synthetic Voice Demonstrated At London Laboratory

London, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Words never formed by human lips and spoken by a voice that never existed were heard last night in the London office of an American film company. The Producers Distribution Company Express says today.

It was a synthetic voice invented by the young Englishman, E. A. Humphris, who, the paper said, found it possible to reproduce word sounds by copying the impressions from the sound track of a talkie film.

He chose the words, "all of a tremble," and by analyzing the "peaks and valleys" of the sound track was able to dissect them into their various sounds, afterward drawing them separately on cardboard strips and joining the strips together to form the words. He photographed them on a celluloid film which when run through a talkie projector reproduced the words in a deep bass tone.

Humphris said the job took 100 hours.

BEGINS BIBLE LECTURES HERE

Miss Angy Manning Taylor Delivers First of Series at St. Paul's Episcopal Church

Miss Angy Manning Taylor of Chicago lectured on Sunday night to a large congregation in St. Paul's Episcopal church on the One Hundred and Twenty-first Psalm.

With a radiant presence expressive of deep inward peace and consecration, Miss Taylor charmed her congregation from the beginning of her talk. She stated that the Psalm of the Heavens and the Earth and that none if our problems however perplexing and bewildering require more power from God than the creation of Heaven and Earth. She spoke of God's not suffering our foot to be moved as the promise of God's guidance and direction in our daily living.

In a very elegant description, she told how God does not permit the sun to harm us by day nor the moon to be the promise that in all struggles and temptations and perils of the night time God will be our protector.

Throughout Miss Taylor's discourse, there was a wealth of illustration from her wide and deep experience that entranced her hearers.

Throughout this week Miss Taylor will continue to make a daily lecture at St. Paul's church at 3:30 o'clock each afternoon. This afternoon her lecture began a study of the Gospel according to St. John. Those who are hearing these lectures are boundless in their expression of appreciation of Miss Taylor's work. They say these passages of scripture take on new meaning for them. People of St. Paul's church cordially invite all the people of Greenville to share with them this daily privilege of hearing this great teacher.

DEMOCRATS AIR VIEWS ON DRY LAW

Southern Senators Ready to Fight Any Move to Commit Party Against Measure

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Democratic differences over prohibition were aired in the Senate today as southern Senators gave notice that any effort of their national committee officers to commit the party against prohibition would be bitterly resisted.

The attack of the Southerners turned on Chairman Raskob of the Democratic National committee, and Jouett Shouse, executive director.

Senator Morrison of North Carolina, the national committee man for his state, finally told the Senate that if Raskob or "those responsible to him undertake insolently to fix the policies of the Democratic party instead of leaving these for the national convention they will be defeated."

Senator Sheppard, Democrat, of Texas, co-author of the 18th Amendment, started the Democratic row when he read a statement calling upon Shouse to support his claim that enough states already are against prohibition to insure action at the next convention against the dry law.

Senator Tydings of Maryland, carried the anti-prohibition cause in the lengthy wrangle with Senators Black and Heflin, of Alabama, as well as Morrison joining in the attack on the wet leaders of the party.

Morrison denied that Raskob "has any influence or is a leader in our party."

As soon as we nominate another presidential candidate he will disappear as suddenly as he entered, predicted the North Carolinian.

Morrison said "the only political significance that Raskob has ever or ever will have is that he was (Continued on page three)

HOUSE FAVORS JENKINS BILL

Measure to Restrict Immigration Two Years Approved by Committee Today

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The House immigration committee today approved the Jenkins bill to restrict immigration for two years as an employment aid.

The measure would reduce quota immigration 90 per cent and limit immigration from western hemisphere countries to ten per cent of the entrants of the fiscal year of 1929.

The committee also approved the free resolution to limit Filipino immigration for two years to 500 entrants to the mainland. It also would authorize Filipino immigration from the islands to Hawaii to be governed by existing Labor Department regulations.

The Jenkins bill was substituted for the original free bill which carried the Filipino provision along with the other restrictions.

Failing to obtain privilege to bring the free bill to the House for action Representative Free, Republican, California, its author introduced the separate resolution. He said he would urge early action.

The House Republican leadership has indicated that immigration legislation may not receive consideration at this session because of the few days remaining.

House Passes Measure Providing For Use Of 13th Alternate Juror

Explains Loan Fund

Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde's interpretation of the drought loan, requested by the senators, opened the way for adoption of the much disputed compromise.

By Concurring in Senate to Make the Provision of Bill Apply to All Barber Shops in Certain Counties, House Paves Way for Enactment of New State-wide Barbers' Law

Raleigh, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The House of Representatives today passed the bill of Representative McRae of Charlotte providing that judges may provide a 13th alternate juror in criminal or civil cases.

A bill of Representative Thomas of Anson relating to county courts occasioned lengthy debate and was finally referred to be redrafted in committee.

After discussion by the lawyer members of the Assembly, the McRae bill to provide a 13th juror was passed. Mr. McRae explained his measure, which allows the 13th man at the discretion of the judge, was to prevent recurrence of delays of trials such as arose when a juror became ill during the Aderholt trial at Charlotte last year and a mistrial had to be ordered.

After disposing of several more public measures of minor importance the House adjourned to meet at noon tomorrow, foregoing a night session which had generally been predicted.

By concurring in Senate amendments to make provisions of the bill apply to all barber shops in certain counties the House paved the way for enactment into law of the new state-wide barber bill. Only ratification is needed.

The measure amends the present law to make the provisions for licensing of barbers apply to all towns with more than 500 population by the 1930 census and provides for the inspection by the State Board of Barbers under the Health Board supervision.

The House got a score of new bills, including a measure by Representative Neal of McDowell to make mandatory that all of the state's printing be done by North Carolina firms and a bill by Representatives Howell and Reed of Buncombe relating to foreclosure under deeds of trust and mortgages.

The House also concurred in Senate changes in the Upchurch bill to make it unlawful to use city-owned automobiles for private purposes; the Turner bill to amend the law relating to sales under execution; the Crouse-Ervin bill to provide that the courts of the state take judicial notice of foreign laws; and the McRae bill to provide for an alternate method of giving notice to non-resident motor vehicle tort feors in legal proceedings.

The House also approved the Thomas-Seawell bill to allow pleas of guilty in criminal cases less than capital felonies and to provide for demurrers and appeals in order to (Continued on page six)

N. C. Man Seeks Change of Venue in Murder Case

Boydton, Va., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Garland Smith, 23, of Catawba County N. C., who has fought for his life through two murder trials, today sought a change of venue for a new trial on the charge of killing Deputy Sheriff Bernard Puryear.

A petition filed in court here charged Judge N. S. Turnbull, Jr., who presided at his last trial, was prejudiced and an unbiased jury could not be obtained in Mecklenburg county and that the commonwealth's attorney sought to make a political prohibition of the case.

The petition was filed by Gordon Amblor, Richmond attorney. Commonwealth's Attorney E. Chambers Goode said he had not prepared answer to the petition and Judge Turnbull allowed each side two hours for argument.

Since his legal battle for his life began exactly a year ago tomorrow, Smith has been "retained" to die on one charge, to twenty years in prison on another, has gained a stay of execution and lived to see his first conviction reversed and remanded. He is now in the state penitentiary.

Deputy Sheriff Puryear shot Mack Tuck, chief of police of Clarksville, were shot to death from ambush December 29, 1929, after a prohibition raid that resulted in the arrest of Smith's father and two brothers, Garland Smith was arrested in North Carolina a month later and charged with both slayings.

He claimed to have been in North Carolina at the time of the slayings. While under sentence of death on conviction of killing Puryear, he was tried, found guilty and sentenced to twenty years for the killing of Tuck.

Corey got tired of it all and came out on the streets this morning with a tiny red piece of cloth tacked on his coat sleeve. He says people will first ask him what the red is all about before hitting him on the arm, thereby saving him much mental anguish and pain.

The negro had just stolen the automobile and was headed in the direction of Greenville when the machine left the road, plunged into a ditch, and buried itself end up in the mud. The machine remained precariously suspended in this position until sometime later when removed by a wrecker.

Greenville police had been notified of the theft and were waiting for the car to reach the city when the report of the wreck was brought in by motorists. Sumrell received a dangerous-looking wound in the head, and was in an unconscious condition when extricated from the car.

One of King's most prized possessions is a wrist watch the two were given at St. Louis last summer.

King's father, Dr. H. King Wade, Sr., a prominent physician here, took his son to St. Louis to see the A's play. Wrist watches were being given for home runs.

Just before Al went to bat, King said, "Al, you're going to get a homer."

"Baloney" was the answer. But Simmons rapped out his 21st home run of the season and for the favorable prediction gave the watch to King with this inscription on the back: "From Al Simmons to H. King Wade, Jr., Twenty-first home run."

They met two years ago when Simmons came here for his annual pre-season conditioning.

DEMOCRATS AIR VIEWS ON DRY LAWS

(Continued from page one) the monumental mistake of our presidential candidate in 1928. He also turned on Governor Ritchie of Maryland, who he said "seeks the presidency because he is the boldest nullifier in the state."

So pointed did the resulting exchange between Tryngs and Morrison become that Vice-president Curtis called the North Carolinian to order for making reflections on state government.

The Senator from Maryland has testified, said Morrison, when he provoked the call to order "open, a shameful violation of the law in his state."

Morrison said that if Raskob and Shouse succeeded in carrying the National committee on prohibition that committee will receive the worst beating ever administered any Democratic committee at the next convention of the party.

MORE GARDEN SPOTS URGED FOR COUNTY

Increase of Gardens Expected As Part of Live at Home Program in Pitt

It has been claimed by many that Pitt County is the garden spot of Eastern Carolina and if this be true, today most sections of the county need more gardens. We have an ideal climate and productive soils. It would seem that Pitt County farmers should be self-sufficient in producing the food crops necessary for feeding its population and an excess for sale but some have not been the case in the past.

In the promotion of the live-at-home program for Pitt county it is hoped that the number of garden spots will be greatly increased and the amount of food raised will be increased. In order to make these spots as profitable as possible it will be necessary to pick fertile spots and to use plenty of plant food to insure maximum yields.

The poultry sale for this week has been canceled. To date more than 16,000 pounds of poultry have been sold for better than $2,000. The next sale will be around the week of March 1.

Farmers who plan to feed hogs this fall and next spring should make ample provisions for corn by planting a larger acreage, using better methods of cultivation and fertilization. The cost per acre is largely determined by the yield per acre. Twenty-five acres of corn that will produce from 50 to 50 bushels per acre will feed one carload of hogs and carry 6 brood sows for production of these hogs.

It has been known for a long, long time that it did not pay to grow scrub anything. The people who raise animals are always endeavoring to get rid of the individuals that are poor producers. The same thing is taking place daily with the most up-to-date poultry people.

During recent years the manufacturers of cotton goods and agricultural workers have tried to educate the farmers who raise cotton to grow better cotton, especially regarding the staple. The cotton mills are now demanding cotton which measures an inch or more and willing to pay a premium for this class of cotton over that which runs less than 15-16 of an inch.

Although the length of staple is governed by many factors, some of which, such as weather conditions, over which the farmer has no control, yet if he secures and plants cotton that produces staple that is in demand and if he fertilizes properly, he can naturally expect more money from the same efforts than if he has used cottons that produced shorter staples.

Regardless of the kind of cotton that is planted the yield will influence the profits in our southeast it has been proved beyond doubt that maximum amount of plant food under cotton is profitable. The recommendations for this section of the country varies from 600 to 1000 pounds of complete fertilizer per acre analyzing for sandy soils 8 to 10 per cent phosphoric acid, 3 to 5 per cent nitrogen and 3 to 5 per cent potash.

Minor Damage From Three Fires in City During Yesterday

The fire department was called out to extinguish three blazes yesterday and early this morning but damage in each instance was of a minor nature only.

The first alarm went in yesterday at the noon hour and sent the department searching for the Farmers warehouse where stables were damaged to the extent of about $25.00.

The second blaze was at the Blue Bird Filling Station, corner Fourth and Washington street about 8 o'clock Sunday evening. The damage was estimated at approximately $250 and was caused principally by smoke and water. The fire originated around a motor fire-man undetermined cause.

This morning about 3:15 the home of Raleigh Tyson, colored, in Cherry View was damaged to the extent of $35.00. The fire originated in a closet, but firemen were unable to state the cause.

RED MEN ENJOYING GOOD MEET

Friday evening, Feb. 13, was an occasion that found all the chiefs, warriors and members that were present at the weekly meeting of Withlacoochee Tribe No. 35 in a fraternal, harmonious mood as usual.

Perhaps the unusually large attendance that night was partly due to knowledge that there might be another big oration delivered as when was Friday night, Feb. 6, when L. S. Spence, sachem of the tribe, and Rev. D. A. Windham combatted in a public speaking contest. Splendid work was performed by the two combators, but Rev. Windham was the winner. There is no doubt that the large number of faces present had a lot to do with the spirit of good fellowship, for it is discouraging to active members of a fraternal society to see only a few show up at the weekly gatherings.

Our membership drive brought in many new members and we are certainly glad to welcome them into the organization which means so much to their wives and children. Our sachem, L. S. Spence, has been putting on small entertainments arranged by the tribal committee who keep the nature of these entertainments a secret until the night they are given.

In looking over the local progress of the tribe during 1930 we are very much encouraged. There is a keen interest manifested in our regular weekly meetings and we are favored with a large attendance at each meeting. We have many 100 per cent Redmen.

This tribe desires to pay tribute to the memory of John M. Mills who died Nov. 11. We feel that we have sustained an irreparable loss, the gravity of which is only realized in the fullness of the term since we have lost a considerable, staunch and true friend. "A mighty warrior has fallen. He fought a good fight," but time outsped him and robbed him of victory. Fate, with all of its deception and disappointment, must be flung, and life's eccentric reveal the evolution of a Div. Reported.

ABOUT TOWN

The sting of winter has hit this section again, bringing with it inexpressible suffering for the hundreds of unemployed people who have found it difficult to keep the wolf away from their doors the last several months.

This brings the citizenship face to face with the importance of liberal contributions to the emergency relief fund in an effort to provide food, clothing and fuel for the poor during King Winter's visit.

We have been told that the committee is desirous of doing everything in their power to mitigate the suffering but these efforts will be futile without proper consideration from those able to give liberally in behalf of the cause.

Don't defer your contributions, but send them in to the committee at once so there will be no delay in providing for the demands of those who need become more urgent from day to day.

Governor Gardner has set aside another "Live-at-Home Week" for the state and during that time the people of every section will be impressed with the plan to live at home as enunciated by the governor several years ago.

The movement has already received much impetus in some part of the state already, and it is expected that by the time the present campaign is finished more people than ever will be trying out the plan.

CAUSED FRATERNITY DRY RAIDS

at least one new member to the oyster roast which is to be given by the post at the city hall tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

The Legion has been making an effort to bring about an increase of membership the last several years, and to some extent it has succeeded, yet there are numbers of veterans who fought in the World War who give little attention to this organization exerting every influence in their behalf.

The more members an organization of this kind has, the greater its influence in the affairs of the nation, and if the boys who fought that German autocracy might be crushed forever would only rally behind the Legion it is impossible to foresee the eventual outcome of the efforts of the organization.

Members of the Pitt County Post are hopeful they will receive liberal response to the plea for more members and that many new faces will be present at the oyster roast.

Carey and Clark Confer Over the Schmeling Fight

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—William F. Carey, president and general manager of the Madison Square Garden Corporation of New York, conferred with Sheldon Clark and other Chicago sportsmen today over the possibility of staging the heavyweight championship fight between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling here next summer.

Clark, a vice-president of the Sinclair Oil Company, was until recently president of the Sinclair Oil Company, was until recently president of the Chicago Stadium Corporation. Neither Carey nor Clark would discuss the fight situation, except to say that nothing definite would be done for six weeks or two months.

George F. Getz, millionaire coal operator, member of the Illinois State Athletic commission, and co-partner with Tex Rickard in promoting the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Soldier Field three years ago, also was on Carey's calling list.

"I do not believe the promoters have decided, on the site," Getz said. "Mr. Carey did not say so, but I don't think he knows just what the Garden is going to do. Personally, I feel confident the match finally will land in Chicago. We want it."

Unless Chicago charities share in the profits, Soldier Field, scene of the Dempsey-Tunney battle, will not be available for the fight.

This was the edict of Edward J. Kelly, president of the South Park Commission. Kelly made this declaration after Getz had ruled that the Illinois commission would not allow the fight here unless the proceeds were to be devoted to Chicago instead of New York charities.

NEXT TO BALL RUTH FAVORS HIS GOLFING

By EDWARD J. NEIL
New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Babe Ruth gave away the 60th home run ball he hit in 1927. You can have the 600th homer, the only ball he has saved, as soon as he has marked his major league total up to 600. He'll grab the dinner check no matter what its size.

But just try to concede yourself a six inch putt against him and he'll bellow like a broken-jegged calf.

"Waddeya think they put those holes there for?" "to hold up the flags?"

He moans over every bad shot, exults at the good ones, demands that you sympathize with him, but he's a fine audience too. He's a great alibi artist. His favorite bet is "$5 Nassau." He has a pair of light brown knickers, "good luck" pants, he wears a tall important matches—winter and summer.

Next to baseball he loves golf. Shoots in the low eighties. He chews a half dozen plugs of tobacco going 18 holes. He forgot his tobacco at Wingfoot one day and lost every hole. Almost went goofy. Sometimes chews a plug an inning in an important series. Can't smoke playing golf but likes cigars at other times.

The Babe was never meant to be a loser. He must win at every game he plays. He'd rather be the clouting champion of the majors at $10,000 a year than second at $100,000. Fights bitterly over every point at handball. Feels deeply about Hack Wilson copping his home run title last season.

"Why I can spit farther than he can hit 'em," the Babe insists. He is deeply attached to his home and family. His wife and two children, Dorothy and Julia, brings loads of toys home and wears most of them out himself.

He plays ping pong with Mrs. Ruth. He was out with the boys until 2:30 the other morning for the first time in years and he phoned Mrs. Ruth every half hour.

His money is invested in insurance and trust funds. If he dies between now and 45 he will leave an estate of $800,000. At 45 his income will be $2,500 a month. Mrs. Ruth arranged that.

He made $245,000 a year in 1926 and 1927. His poorest year in the past five netted $175,000 from writings, baseball, barnstorming tours. He wants to do nothing but play when he retires from baseball.

The Babe lives on a perpetual diet to keep his weight down. Eats nothing but lean meats, fish, vegetables. Loves sweets but can't have them. In his heyday, before he contracted in 1926 the stomach ache whose rumbles were heard around the world, a typical breakfast consisted of three orders of hash, six fried eggs, a stack of toast, six cups of coffee at the rate of a swallow per cup. Now he has cereal, dried toast, fruit. Used to average a dozen hot dogs a day during the baseball season. Still loves them, feeds them but doesn't eat them.

"It wasn't the dogs," he insisted.

"It was the skins I couldn't digest." He's a great bridge player. He can bid, play one trick, lay down the cards and call all the rest. He never misses. But he can't remember names. Everyone is "Kid" to him. The Babe has known Alan Gould for years and still calls him "Parker."

He has to be wheeled into winter gym work. But he'll get up at 6 A. M. the coldest day of winter to play golf. He can't walk two blocks without drawing a crowd, so he takes taxis. Eats all meals on the road in his hotel room, but he walks his daughters to school every morning.

He wears only brown and blue suits, buys four at a time. His peaked brown caps and polo coats come in half dozen lots. He likes to sleep raw.

Wilson Girls To Play Here

The girls' basketball team of the Wilson High School will invade Greenville tomorrow night and attempt to dislodge Greenville high from their coveted position at the top of the standing of clubs' column of the North Eastern Athletic conference. The game will be played in the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock and members of the athletic association today urged the public to attend and boost the young women on to victory.

Greenville high girls have the distinction of being the only undefeated team in the Northeastern Athletic conference, and the vision of participation in the championship race at Chapel Hill even now is beginning to dance before their eyes. They have already met some of the strongest teams in the conference, and feel confident of being able to complete the season still on top, providing a hitch does not occur in their plans, and that is not expected to happen.

Shea Matched Against Francis

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Six years ago Eddie Shea of Chicago came to New York to fight Charlie (Phil) Rosenberg for the Bantamweight championship of the world. This week for the first time since then, Shea will be seen in a New York ring, not as an 116-pounder but as one of the outstanding featherweights of his time.

She has been matched against Kid Francis in Madison Square Garden's feature bout Friday night and hopes to make a better showing than he did when he last appeared here. Rosenberg knocked him out in four rounds at the old New York Velodrome.

Francis, who has passed up the bantamweights although he still can make the class limit, has won five straight bouts since he returned to this country for his third American campaign.

Herman Perlick, Kalamazoo light weight, takes on Tommy Grogan, Omaha lightweight puncher, in the ten round semi-final.

Other outstanding shows this week will be a Philadelphia tonight and Detroit Friday. At Philadel-

This Game of GOLF

By O. B. KEELER

While apologizing to the business world for the fine showing in the Agua Caliente $25,000 tournament—in which he tied with John Golden for the lead and lost the playoff in a gale of wind in which he three-putted four greens—a word of commendation and apology also may be extended Golden. He won the tournament that was by far the richest of the year, and improved his position in the batting list from near the tail-end to about midway, just behind Johnny Dawson and just ahead of Willie Macfarlane.

Golden, however, still was far behind the real leaders of the batting list—Leo Diegel, averaging 72-3-5 in 15 rounds; Gene Sarazen, averaging 1-5 more stroke in the same number of rounds; and Horton Smith, averaging 73-1-6 in 18 rounds. Henry Clui was ahead of all of these, with 72-4-7 in seven rounds, and Clarence Gamber, the long waller from Detroit, at the same time at the top, with 72-1-3 for three rounds.

Golden's average was a level 75, which is not bad, yet not so good as one would expect to pick off the first money at Agua Caliente. Von Elm, averaging 74-7-15, also is not showing the class to warrant so capable a feat.

However, that is the way it is, and both Golden and George have I fancy, won more money thus far this season than Horton Smith, whose average is far better—73-1-6 in 18 rounds. But Horton has not won a single money tournament (yet) far this season, where in past years the Joplin Pine has been tearing around the far west on courses, winning or finishing second in nearly every bout in which he starts.

I think it is fair to suggest that the Joplin Pine is, in the vernacular of the critics, a bit disappointing, so far this season. I think, too, that I know the reason, which probably will sound funny to a lot of golfing fans.

Horton likes the game too much and plays too much of it both Only one competitor, Clark of Tulsa, has played more rounds of competitive golf this winter than Horton, and he was far down the list while Horton stood in sixth place after the Agua Caliente affair.

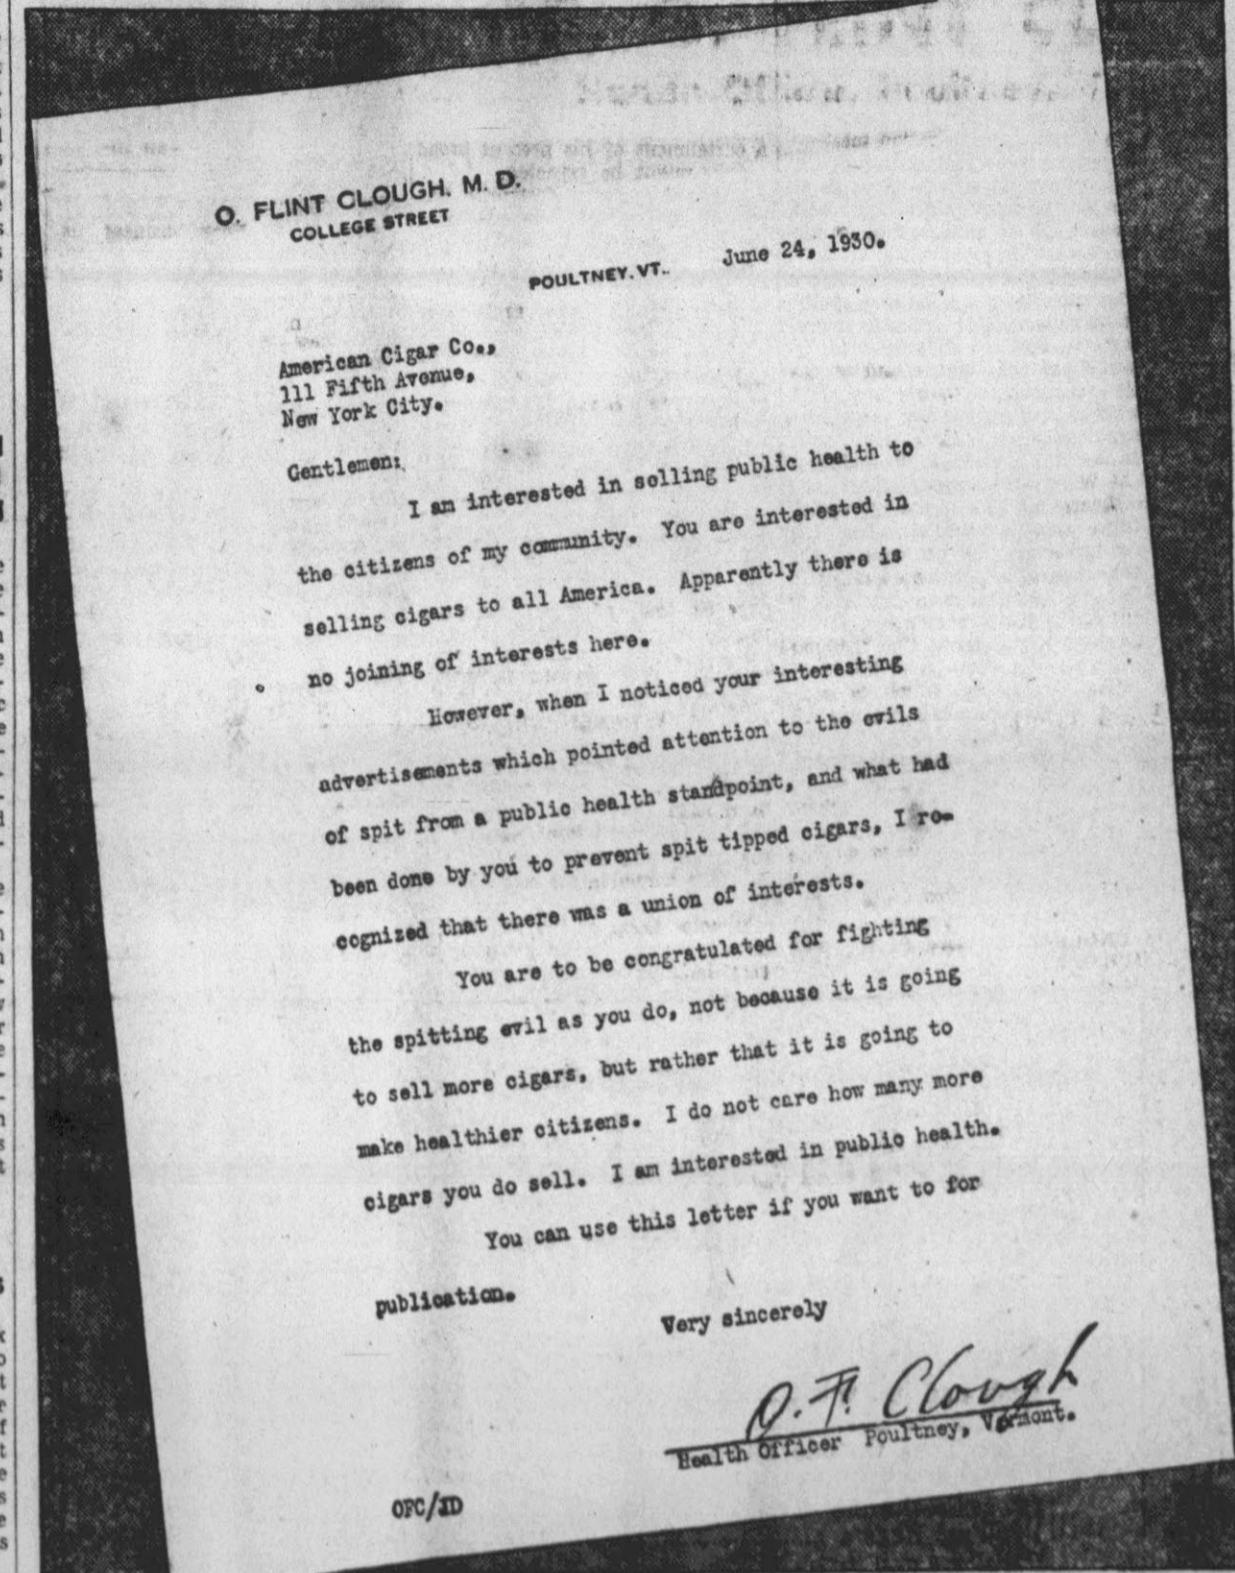

There is no doubt in my mind that an occasional lay-off is good for a man's competitive game. I think that one reason for Bobby

Jones' amazing ability to go through the season of 1930 winning all of his major competitions, his matches in the Walker Cup, and several less important engagements, like the Southeastern open at Augusta and the London Golf Illustrated, was in a great measure due to a complete lay-off during the preceding months.

Bobby went to the season fresh and keen and eager; several others I could mention, among the best of the American contingent, unquestionably were stale from winter play. I think Horton Smith is suffering from too much exhibition golf last summer and fall, in these winter tournaments; and it will not be strange if he suffers next summer from too much golf this winter.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today. 1 to 4 points lower in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of further beneficial rains in the central belt and parts of Texas.

There was considerable realizing and possibly selling for a reaction, but the offerings were in comparatively small lots and were absorbed by trade buying at the decline, and there was a continued demand for March from brokers who sometimes operate for Japanese interests. This was sufficient to steady the market at the decline to 11.08 for March and 11.61 for October or about 3 to 5 points below the market showed rallies of a few points from the low by the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported that Bombay buying had been supplied by hedge selling and Continental liquidation in that market but reported an improved inquiry for cotton cloths from Egypt and the Near East.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The bull campaign in stocks was aggressively resumed today, and while operators for the advance were somewhat more restrained than a week ago, they were vigorous enough to push several issues far enough into new high grounds for 1931.

Fresh fireworks were let loose in Auburn, which shot up nearly 20 points to a level close to double its January minimum. Case and International Business Machine surged up 8 points, and issues gaining 3 or more, to record new highs for the movement, included Westinghouse Electric, Caterpillar Tractor, New York Central, Lowes, North American Safeway Stores and American Water Works.

Such issues as U. S. Steel, General Electric, American Telephone, American Tobacco B. American and Foreign Power, American Can, and International Telephone sold up 11-2 to more than 2 points.

The market still maintained its highly professional flavor, with activity largely concentrated in issues which respond easily to bullish stimulation. The fact that several large market operators left for southern resorts over the weekend failed to reflect any flagging of bullish enthusiasm.

News of the week-end provided little help to Wall Street in its efforts to determine whether the market is making another false lull advance. Standard Statistics or is setting out on a sustle's index of business activity, as published for January, showed a gain of 33 points over December.

The Annalist's Index, which is carefully weighed both for seasonal and long-term trends, on the other hand, made a preliminary announcement for January at 13 points under the December level.

Credit was a little firmer. Call money renewed at 11-2 percent, but one was available in the outside market at a lower level, and loan calling was in fair volume.

Turner of Guilford, Johnson of Halifax, Young of Durham, to amend the barbers' law (concurring in Senate amendment).

McRae of Mecklenburg, to provide alternate method of giving notice of legal proceedings against non-resident motor vehicle tortfeasor (concurring in Senate amendment).

Howell and Reed of Buncombe, a bill validating sales of real estate made by administrators of deceased persons amended so as not to apply to pending estates.

Johnson of Duplin, to clarify and amend the laws relating to practice of general contractors.

Coffield of Rutherford, relating to prohibition law enforcement in Rutherford.

Helms of Union, to fix salaries of Union county officers.

McDevitt of Madison, relieving Reuben Roberts of taxes paid twice in Madison county.

Seawell of Lee and Thomas of Anson to expedite trial of criminal cases and provide for waiver of jury trial.

Gay of Northampton, relating to punishment of makers of worthless checks.

The administration road measure calling for the taking over of county roads by the state, is expected to reach the floor of the lower house by Tuesday or Wednesday. The measure encountered much opposition in committee and the opponents predict it will barely pass the House and be killed in the Senate.

The measure providing for a constitutional convention, which passed the House with no votes to spare, is expected to reach the Senate this week, where strenuous opposition awaits it. Three amendments have already been adopted by a Senate committee.

The administration bill to consolidate the three state educational institutions hit the lower house last week and is expected to emerge from committee with favorable report before the week is over.

A fourth administration measure, to provide a central state purchasing agency, is scheduled to reach the hopper some time this week along with an amber of other far-reaching bills.

The general policy of the finance committee and the outline of the state supported six months school term is expected to receive attention from the finance and education committees during the week with a bare possibility that the sub-finance committee will report to the full committee its findings.

Information leaking from the executive sessions of the appropriations committee indicate that ten per cent salary cut proposed by the Governor is being carried out and in some instances more drastic cuts enforced. This forebodes a major fight on the appropriation measure when once reported from the committee, something which is contrary to the normal practice of state legislatures.

Of even more consequence is the information leaking from school men that the MacLean school measure will be side-tracked for a bill to materially increase the equalization fund. This has been charged by some from the beginning but the momentum of the charge has increased in the past few days.

GUERRA WILL TRY TO FORM GOVERNMENT

Advocate of Republic Designated to Save Spain From Political Crisis

Madrid, Feb. 16.—(AP)—King Alfonso, taking a bold step which may cost him many of his powers as King, today designated Jose Antonio Sanchez Guerra, to form a new government. Many times Guerra has hinted he favored a republic.

Sanchez Guerra, leader of the "Constitutionalists" a left wing conservative group which probably is the strongest party in Spain, called at the palace before noon and after a two-hour conference with the king announced he would begin conferences immediately and return to the palace at 6 P. M. today let the king know what success he had had. It was believed he would be successful.

Since Premier Bertruguer's resignation Saturday, Sanchez Guerra has declared that the only solution for the present crisis is immediate convocation of a constitutional convention to write a new Spanish constitution.

This constitution would exercise power above even that of the king. The king would have no power to adjourn it once it was convened, and in view of growing left wing and Republican sentiment in Spain a curtailment of his present broad powers might be expected.

The new premier-designate has been in the public eye in Spain the early part of the century. He headed a Liberal cabinet as early as 1915. After it fell he became minister of interior and later president of the chamber of deputies. He was premier again in 1922, and in the following year was expelled from Spain for his emity to the Primo de Rivera regime.
