Man Arrested at Raleigh Admits Killing Woman But Claims It Accidental

William M. Frazer to Be Returned to New Jersey Tonight to Face Court on Murder Charge; Talks Freely of Dead Woman and Himself

Raleigh, Feb. 26.—(AP)—William M. Frazer of Rahway, N. J., confessed slayer of Mrs. Phoebe Stader whom he says was killed when a rifle was accidentally discharged, will be returned to his home state tonight to face a charge of murder.

Behind locked doors, Prosecutor A. J. David of Union county, N. J., and Assistant Prosecutor M. A. Hoey of Orange county, N. J., grill ed Frazer for several hours today.

David told newspapermen that Frazer had admitted the killing of Mrs. Stader but contended that it was accidental and that he loved the woman and he couple planned to get divorces and be married.

A. A. Aronson of Raleigh, attorney for Frazer, said that his client had admitted the killing but that the place where it occurred had not been definitely established.

Frazer, Aronson said, admitted carrying the dead body of the woman around in his automobile for two days before placing it in woods near Bowling Green, Va., where it was found. He said he few miles from the place he secret ed the body.

David, Aronson said, will carry Frazer to New Jersey on a charge of desertion; if further quizzing does not establish the spot where the killing took place, which might be beyond the jurisdiction of the warrant issued charging the man with murder.

It was learned Frazer told his questions he spent one night in Washington on his trip south with the body. The prisoner said he parked his car with the body in it, on the street, and left it there. He said he did not know the name of the street.

Mrs. Stader's clothes, he said, were cut from her body with scissors. A ring she wore was cut from her finger with a pair of pliers. Frazer said the scissors "just happened" to be in the automobile.

At 1:30 P. M. David abandoned the questioning temporarily and went to his hotel for lunch. Frazer was not taken from the room where he had been undergoing questioning. A plate of barbecue and a bottle of near beer were sent in to him.

David said as he left for lunch that he did not plan to retrace the route Frazer took south with the prisoner.

The dictated statement of Frazer follows in part: Questioned by Mr. David: "This statement that you are now making, you make voluntarily, of your own accord, without any promises, threats, without any fear and with the knowledge that this statement can be used either for or against you at any trial."

"Is that right?" Answer: "Yes." "It is the statement that you have just made; if there is anything you want to add or change, you may do so."

"I met Mrs. Stader on Monday, last Monday, but 10 days ago. I took her and her sister, June, up to Walden. I took Phoebe out Monday night to a couple of road houses. I got some liquor—I remember where I got it, all right. I drank a good share of it, but she did not drink as much as I did. I stayed at a hotel that night. Tuesday, I had a date to meet her at 1 o'clock. We went to Newburg to a Chinese restaurant on the main drag and had something to eat. We had a quart of liquor and we drank. Then, went to a movie picture show; then went back to the chop suey joint and had something to eat and drink. Then went to another picture show. We made up our minds to go to Florida. We started but somewhere below Seffrin in Jersey, I got nervous or something. I had a gun under the back seat of the car. I stopped the car and went in the back to get the gun.

"When I was getting the gun, it went off accidentally somehow. I did not know what to do. I thought I would go to Rahway. I went there and stopped and told my cousin and went over and told my wife. She asked me what I was going to do. I said: 'I do not know. There were only two things to do—to tell the police and the other to commit suicide. Then I went out to the country to commit suicide, but I did not have the nerve to do it."

"I went back to Rahway, then left Rahway and came on south." Question: "Is that a correct statement of what you have just said?" Answer: "Yes."

BLOCK NOT TO PURCHASE NEW YORK PAPERS

Employees of Pulitzer Papers to Continue Their Efforts to Buy Plants

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Paul Block, publisher, announced today he had withdrawn his offer to purchase the New York World.

He made his announcement through Max D. Steuer, his attorney who explained that Mr. Block not only had decided not to purchase the newspapers for himself but also to withdraw the offer he made to buy them and allow the employees of the World 45 days within which to purchase them without profit to himself.

Surrogate James A. Foley will decide today whether the will of Joseph Pulitzer may be broken to allow the sale of the newspapers the withdrawal of Mr. Block means that the employees who have made a bid for the Worlds must arrange their financing without his assistance.

"When Mr. Block made an offer for the purchase of the Worlds he was on the coast and he knew nothing of what had been transpired since December between Mr. Roy Howard and the Messrs. Pulitzer," Mr. Steuer said. "Nor did he learn anything concerning it until last evening. He has now ascertained that Mr. Howard had concluded a contract with the trustees of the Pulitzer estate and he does not want to be put in the position of having interfered for the purpose of breaking up an existing contract."

Gustave A. Roberts, counsel for the World employees, announced when he heard of Mr. Block's withdrawal that it was "the result of an agreement between Mr. Howard and Mr. Block." In these negotiations, he said, "Mr. Block represented William Randolph Hearst."

"The agreement is," Mr. Roberts' statement said, "that the morning and Sunday World and the morning World's Associated Press membership will go to Mr. Hearst. The Evening World will go to Mr. Howard to be merged with The Evening Telegram."

"Despite the withdrawal of Mr. Block, the World employees will go ahead with their plan to buy the papers. We are convinced that we will be able to submit to the Surrogate a better offer than Mr. Howard's."

Mr. Block denied he had in any way represented Mr. Hearst in negotiations for the newspapers. He denied also that he had talked with Mr. Howard about dividing the Worlds between Hearst and Howard.

Mr. Howard also denied there had been any agreement with Mr. Block. Commissioner Drummer London—George Lansbury, first commissioner of works, is a good jazz drummer. He made a hit with the traps on a visit to a children's home.

OFFICERS RAID PHILADELPHIA SOCIAL CLUB

Over 500 Quarts of Liquor Taken in the Raid On Exclusive Manufacturers Club

Philadelphia, Feb. 26.—(AP)—The Manufacturers Club, one of Philadelphia's most exclusive institutions, was raided early today by a special police detail personally directed by Major Lemuel B. Schofield, director of public safety, a member of the club.

Armed with a warrant issued by Magistrate Edward P. Carney, the raiding party entered the club shortly before two o'clock. In a suite of rooms on an upper floor, Director Schofield said, he found a regular old fashioned bar, and about 100 lockers, many of which contained liquor.

From the lockers and bar the raiders said they removed between 500 and 800 quarts of liquors, including cordials, champagnes, rye, Scotch and gin. The manager of the club, August Boll, was arrested on a charge of possession.

Immediately after the raid Director Schofield tendered his resignation as a member of the club and issued the following statement: "The only way to enforce the prohibition law is to arrest the big fellow along with the little fellows. To the police, Broad and Walnut streets (the club central city location) looks the same as any little speakeasy up an alley."

Major Schofield received reports late yesterday that a large stock of liquor was in the club. He made a personal investigation. Since he was a member, nothing was thought of his visit.

Entering the club, the raiding party went directly to the rooms on the upper floor, where, with the use of crowbars, they forced their way in. The suite, after repeated knocks had failed to bring any response.

A number of members of the club were in the luxuriously appointed barroom. They were not arrested.

MESSAGE LEFT TO THE PEOPLE OF ASHEVILLE

City Today Mourned Death of Gallatin Roberts, Its Former Mayor

Asheville, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Stunned the city of Asheville today mourned the loss of Gallatin Roberts, former mayor, who took his life yesterday afternoon.

Friends and political enemies alike agreed that his farewell message "to the people of Asheville," left in the form of a letter, was a sincere plea for a city which Mr. Roberts had loved passionately. Without exception, those who had known Mr. Roberts, were shocked that he had chosen to end his own life.

The 51-year-old man, prominent in Asheville public affairs for more than 20 years, shot himself yesterday afternoon in a wash room of the Legal Building here, directly over the Central Bank and Trust Company, failure of which threw Western North Carolina into financial and political turmoil.

Arthur E. Rankin, vice-president of the Central Bank, was the first to slay himself, while Charles Bradford, cashier, is recovering after slashing his own throat with a razor.

Roberts was indicted last Saturday, along with six other former city and county officials, for using public funds to aid a private institution, the Central Bank.

Auditors had charged that both city and county had issued bonds, the proceeds of which were deposited to bolster the bank, when both governments already had ample cash on hand.

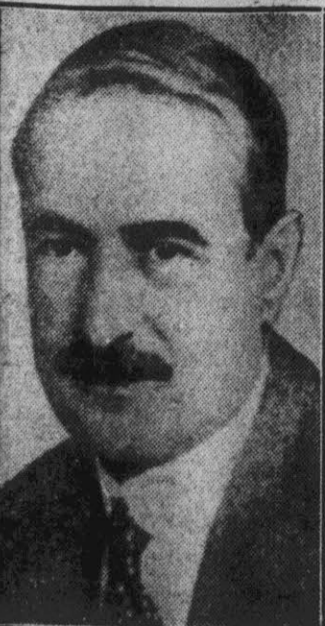

Roberts left letters on his desk addressed to his wife, George Pennell, city attorney, and "the people of Asheville." The latter asked for cessation of strife between factions and asserted his innocence of wrong doing. The Pennell letter contained personal instructions regarding his funeral and private affairs. The letter to his wife was not made public.

Roberts was elected to the General Assembly in 1911, 1912, 1914 and 1916. In 1919 he was first elected mayor, serving four years. In 1927 he was again elected and served until forced to resign by the storm which broke after the bank failures last November.

Text Of Veto Message

Washington, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The text of President Hoover's message vetoing the veterans loan bill follows: To the House of Representatives: I return herewith, without my approval, H. R. 17654. "An Act to increase the loan basis of adjusted service certificates."

In order that it may be clearly understood, I may review that the adjusted compensation Act (bonus bill) passed on May 19, 1924, awarded to 3,498,000 veterans approximately $1,355,000,000 further compensation for war service. To this sum was added 25 per cent said to be consideration for deferring the payment until about 1945, the whole bearing 4 per cent compound interest. Immediate payment to dependents upon death was included, thus creating an endowment insurance policy represented by a certificate to each veteran showing the sum payable at the end of the period—the "face value." The total "face value" of the outstanding certificates today after paying the sums due of less than $50 and payments in full to dependents is $3,428,000,000 or about $1,397,000,000 or an average of about $1,000 each.

The burden upon the country was to be an amount each year sufficient to pay the premium to provide for the payment of the "face value" of these certificates in about 1945, and to date has involved an appropriation averaging $112,000,000 per annum. The accumulation of these appropriations is represented by government obligations deposited in a reserve fund which fund now amounts to about $750,000,000. A loan basis to certificate holders was estimated equal to 90 percent of the "face value" of the certificates, such loans now in the sixth year being authorized to 22-1/2 per cent of the "face value."

When the Bonus Act was passed it was upon the explicit understanding of the Congress that the matter was closed and the government would not be called upon to make subsequent enlargements. It is now proposed to enlarge the loan rate to 50 percent of the "face value" at a low rate of interest, thus imposing a potential cash outlay upon the government of about $1,700,000,000 if all veterans apply for loans less about $330,000,000 already loaned. According to the administrator of veterans' affairs the probable number who will avail themselves of the privilege under this bill will require approximately $1,000,000,000. There not being a penny in the treasury to meet such a demand, the government must borrow this sum through the sale of the reserve fund securities together with further issues or we must need impose further taxation.

The sole appeal made for the reopening of the Bonus Act is the claim that funds from the national treasury should be provided to veterans in distress as the result of the drought and business depression. There are veterans unemployed and in need today in common with many others of our people. They, like the others, are being provided the basic necessities of life by the devoted committees in those parts of the country affected by the depression or drought. The governments and many employers are giving preference to veterans in employment. Their welfare is and should be a matter of concern to our people. Inquiry indicates that such care is being given through the country, and it also indicates that the number of veterans in need of such relief is a minor percentage of the whole.

The utility of this legislation as relief to those in distress is far less than has been disclosed. The popular assumption has been that as the certificates average $1,000 then each veteran can obtain $500 by way of a loan. But this is only an average, and more than one-half will receive less than this amount. In fact over 800,000 men will be able to borrow less than $50, and of those over 200,000 will be able to borrow only an average of $75. Furthermore, there are 900,000 veterans whose certificates have been issued recently who under the proposed law will have no "privilege" until their certificates are two years old. It is therefore in any event that local committees continue relief to veterans, but this legislation would lead such local committees and employers to assure that their veterans have been provided for by the Federal Treasury and thereby threaten them with greater hardships than before.

The breach of fundamental principle in this proposal is the requirement of the Federal government to provide an enormous sum of money to a vast majority who are able to care for themselves and who are caring for themselves. Among those who would receive the proposed benefits are included 387,000 veterans and 400,000 dependents, who are already receiving some degree of allowance or support from the Federal government. But in addition to these, it provides equal benefits for scores of thousands of others who are in the income-tax paying class, and for scores of thousands who are holding secure positions in the Federal, State, and local governments and in every profession and industry. I know that most of these men do not seek these privileges, they have no desire to be resented to the American people as benefiting by a burden put upon the whole people, and I have many manifestations from veterans on whom the funds are being hardly that they do not want to be represented to our people as a group substituting special privilege for the idealism and patriotism they have rejoiced in offering to their country through their service.

It is suggested as a reason for making these provisions applicable to all veterans, that we should not make public distinction between veterans in need and the others who comprise the vast majority less we characterize these deserving help as a pauper class. On the contrary, veterans in need are and should be a preferred class, that a grateful country would be proud to honor with its support. Adoption of the principle of aid to the rich or to those able to support themselves in itself sets up a group of special privilege among our citizens.

The principle that the nation should give generous care to those veterans who are ill, disabled, in need or in distress, even though these disabilities do not arise from the war, has been fully accepted by the nation. Pensions or allowances have been provided for the dependents of those who lost their lives in the war; allowances have been provided to those who suffered disabilities from the war; additional allowances were passed at the last session of Congress to all the veterans whose earning power at any time may be permanently impaired by injury or illness; free hospitalization is available not only to those suffering from the results of war but to large numbers of temporarily ill. Together with war-risk insurance and the adjusted compensation, these services now total an annual expenditure of approximately $600,000,000 and under existing laws will increase to $900,000,000 per annum in a very few years for world war veterans alone. A total of five thousand millions of dollars has been expended upon such services since the war.

Our country has thus shown its sense of obligation and generosity and it readiness at all times to aid those of its veterans in need. I have the utmost confidence that our service men would be amongst the first to oppose a policy of government assistance to veterans who have property and means to support themselves, for service men (Continued on Page Two)

President Hoover Turns Thumbs Down On Relief For World War Veterans

PRESENTS BILL FOR LICENSING AUTO DRIVERS

Sen. Marvin Blount Urges Measure for Greater Safety On Highways of State

Raleigh, Feb. 26.—Battling for increased safety on the highways of North Carolina, Senator Blount of Pitt today started the fight in the upper House of the General Assembly for passage of a statewide motor vehicle drivers' license law.

The Pitt senator explained the provisions of the bill, which provides that every chauffeur and driver of a motor vehicle except a tractor, road machinery or husbandry machinery, must be licensed.

Under its terms licenses may be revoked for certain law violations and must be revoked for one year upon conviction of a driver of manslaughter resulting from operation of a motor vehicle, driving a vehicle under the influence of liquor or drugs or conviction or forfeiture of reckless driving within 12 months and other violations.

Senators Jones of Richmond, Hicks of Granville and Ward of Beaufort attacked the proposed measure.

Mr. Ward charged that with the prevalent disregard for all laws the wholesale violations of the prohibition act would fade into insignificance besides the disregard for the proposed law if enacted.

The present Assembly was described by the Beaufort legislator as the "scholar's, and the only sober Legislature he had witnessed."

Senators Grier of Fredrick, Clement of Rowan and Lawrence, of Hertford, supported the bill and Mr. Lawrence moved for a vote but at the request of Senator Burrus of Guilford he withdrew the motion and the Senate recessed until 1:30 in order to witness a dress parade of the R. O. T. C. unit of N. C. State college.

Prayer for continuance of judgment in the case against Peter Jones, on a liquor charge was made but Jones appealed the case to the Superior court.

House Over-Rides President's Veto

Washington, Feb. 26. (AP)—The House this afternoon over-ruled the President's veto of the veterans' loan bill. The voting began at 3:45 and it took about thirty minutes for the roll call.

The legislation now goes to the Senate, where its proponents have predicted similar action.

The House vote followed shortly after receipt of a stinging message from President Hoover in which he said the government lacked funds to defray expenses of the bill and so would have to borrow heavily or increase taxation to get the money.

Washington, Feb. 26.—(AP)—President Hoover today vetoed the veterans loan bill. In a message to the House, he called the legislation "unwise from the standpoint of the veterans themselves and unwise from the standpoint of all the people."

Overwhelmingly approved by the House and Senate, the bill would increase the amount a veteran could borrow on his bonus certificates from 22-1/2 to 50 percent of the face value. Its Congressional proponents stood ready to make a prompt effort to override the veto, imposes a potential cash outlay of $1,700,000,000. If all veterans apply for loans less some $330,000,000 already loaned. He repeated veterans' administrator, Hines, estimated a billion dollars would be required to administer the bill.

"There not being a penny in the treasury to meet such a demand," he declared, "the government must borrow this sum through the sale of the reserve fund securities together with further issues or we must need impose further taxation."

"The sole appeal made for the reopening of the Bonus Act is the claim that funds from the National Treasury should be provided to veterans in distress as the result of the drought and business depression.

"There are veterans unemployed and in need today in common with many others of our people. They, like the others, are being provided the basic necessities of life by the devoted committees in those parts of the country affected by the depression or drought."

"Inquiry indicates that such care and that the number of veterans in need of such relief is a minor percentage of the whole."

The president also said that to allow veterans to borrow to within 50 percent would work a hardship on the lives and dependents of veterans who will have used the value of their certificates and thereby deprived of necessary insurance.

"The need of our people today is a decrease in the burden of taxes and unemployment, yet they (who include the veterans) are being steadily forced toward higher tax levels and lessened employment by such Acts as this," he said.

"In severe-aid they threaten burdens beyond the ability of our country normally to pay; and, of far higher importances, each of them breaks the barriers of self reliance and self support in our people," he added.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Back in his own home town, "Scarface" Al Capone supreme gang leader of them all, arrested as a vagrant, today stood by while his attorneys sought to help him escape punishment of the Federal court, where he is on trial before Judge James H. Wilkerson for contempt.

Capone, served with a vagrancy warrant issued by Judge John H. Lyle, the gangster "nemesis," was freed on a $10,000 bond, was photographed and measured under the Bertillon system and fingerprinted—a new experience for the gang chief in Chicago. Then he went back to Federal court where he heard witnesses give testimony to support the government's contention that his excuse that illness prevented him from coming to respond to a Federal grand jury summons in March of 1929, was faked.

The grand jury was investigating increases at the time, but Capone said he was far too sick a man to brave the rigors of the Chicago climate.

Capone sat calmly by while federal witnesses testified he made a seaplane trip to the Bahamas, went to Nassau on a boat, and watched Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling box at Miami during the period of his purported illness.

Dr. Kenneth Phillips of Miami, who signed an affidavit that it would be dangerous for Capone to come to Chicago, said his patient had bronchial pneumonia with a temperature of 104-1-2. He thought Capone might have died if he had made the trip to Chicago. He said he ordered him to remain in bed.

"Confined to bed," he said, "means that the patient couldn't work or perform the usual duties of a well man. Of course he could be carried in his automobile and taken for a ride."

This brought a roar from the crowded court room because of the use in slangland of the expression, "taken for a ride."

Says to Lend Fifty Percent of Adjusted Compensation Certificates Would Be Unwise From Standpoint of Veterans As Well As All the People

UNCOVER BIG LIQUOR RING

Thousand Physicians and Four Hundred Druggists Believed Involved

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Suspected of conspiracy in what Federal authorities called the largest liquor-prescription syndicate ever uncovered 1,000 physicians and 400 druggists were under investigation today.

Directed by Horace J. Simmons, special treasury agent, 100 agents made 14 simultaneous raids on 12 drug stores, an office building and a hotel yesterday and arrested more than 30 men. Signed prescriptions totalling 1,482 were seized in the apartment of Nathan Bernstein.

Eleven prisoners were taken at the headquarters of the syndicate in Union Square. Twelve druggists and employees were arrested at their stores in Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn. Morris H. Sweetwood, an ex-convict, was arrested at the Hotel Alba. Small quantities of liquor were confiscated at each large.

The complaints named 47 physicians as conspirators. Additional names of physicians and druggists will go to a Federal grand jury. Simmons said the syndicate had transacted a business of $3,600,000 a year for the last six or eight years by diverting medicinal liquor through the illegal use of prescriptions.

VETO MESSAGE

who are as devoted to the welfare of our country in peace as in war and as clearly foresee the future dangers of embarking on such a policy. It could but create resentments which would ultimately react against those who should be given care.

It is argued that the distribution of the hundreds of millions of dollars proposed by this bill would stimulate business generally. We can not further the restoration of prosperity by borrowing from some of our people, pledging the credit of all of the people who are not in need of the money. If the exercise of these rights were limited to expenditures upon necessities only, there would be no stimulation of business. The theory of stimulation is based upon the anticipation of wasteful expenditure it can be of no assistance in the return of prosperity. If this argument of proposals is correct, we should make government loans to the whole people.

It is represented that this measure merely provides loans against a future obligation and that, therefore, it will cost the American people nothing. That is an incomplete statement. A cost at once arises to the people when instead of proceeding by annual appropriation the government is forced to secure a huge sum by borrowing or otherwise, especially in the circumstances of today when we are compelled in the midst of depression to make other large borrowings to cover deficits and refunding operations. An increased rate of interest which the government must pay upon all long-term issues is inevitable. It imposes an additional burden of interest on the people which will extend through the whole term of such loans. Some cost arises to the people through the tendency to increase the interest rates which every state and municipality must pay in their borrowing for public works and improvements, as well as the rate which industry and business must pay. There is a cost to some one through the retardation of the speed of recovery of employment when government borrowings divert the savings of the people from their use by constructive industry and commerce. It imposes a great charge upon the individual who loses such increased employment or continues unemployed. To the veteran this is a double loss when he has consumed the value of his certificate and has also lost the opportunity for greater earnings. There is a greater cost than all this: It is a step toward government aid to those who can help themselves. These direct or indirect burdens fall upon the people as a whole.

The need of our people today is a decrease in the burden of taxes and unemployment, yet they (who include the veterans) are being steadily forced toward higher tax levels and lessened employment by such acts as this. We must not forget the millions of hard-working families in our country who are striving to pay the debts which they have incurred in acquiring homes and farms in endeavor to build protection for their future. They, in the last analysis, must bear the burden of increasing government aid and taxes. It is not the rich who suffer. When we take employment and taxes from our people it is the poor who suffer.

There is a very serious phase of this matter for the wives and children of veterans and to the future security of veterans themselves. Each of these certificates is an endowment insurance policy. Any monies advanced against them, together with its interest, will be automatically deducted from the value of the certificates in case of death or upon maturity. No one will deny that under the pressures of unemployment of the moment, many will borrow against these certificates for other than absolutely necessary purposes. The loss to many families means the destruction of the one safeguard at their most critical time. It can not be contended that the interests of the families of our country are concerned either cashing or borrowing upon their life insurance policies.

I have no desire to present monetary aspects of the question except so far as they affect the human aspects. Surely it is a human aspect to transfer to the backs of these who toil, including veterans, a burden of those who by position and property can care for themselves. It is a human aspect to incur the danger of continued or increased unemployment. It is a human aspect to deprive women and children of protection by reckless use of an endowment policy. Our country is rich enough to do any justice. No country is rich enough to do an injustice.

The patriotism of our people is not a material thing. It is a spiritual thing. We can not pay for it with government aid. We can honor those in need by our aid. And it is a fundamental aspect of freedom among us that no step should be taken which burdens the nation with a privileged class who can care for themselves.

I regard the bill under consideration as unwise from the standpoint of the welfare of all the people. The future of our World War veterans is inseparably bound up with the future of the whole people. The greatest service that we can render both veterans and the public generally is to administer the affairs of our government with a view to the well-being and happiness of all of the nation.

The matter under consideration is of grave importance in itself; but of much greater importance is the whole tendency to open the Federal treasury to a thousand purposes, many admirable in their intentions but in which the promoters fail or do not care to see that with such beginnings many of them insidiously consume more and more of the savings and the labor of our people. In aggregate they threaten burdens beyond the ability of our country normally to bear; and, of far higher importance, each of them breaks the barriers of self-reliance and self-support in our people.

TY DREAMS OF BIG GAME HUNT

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Ty Cobb sits in a big easy chair, smoke rings curling around his lean head and bronzed features, and dreams of the big game he is going to hunt some day in Africa. He has been doing that for years. He has never been closer to the jungles with a gun than Canada.

But he dreams on, plans have been changed and recharged. Bear, mountain lions, Moore have fallen before his crack shooting on preparatory trips. He wants those elephants, crocodiles and rhinos but something else always comes up.

Golf is his game now. He plays with the same fervor and zest that made him the center fielder of all time. He shoots in the low eighties and does it left handed. He tries to kill the ball on every long shot and so he presses. He hits wonderful slices.

Ty was playing one day with Bobby Jones over a North Carolina course. They were off their respective games. Both were slightly peeved.

Coming up to the eighteenth tee Cobb decided to drive right handed and Bobby swung from the left side. They put four balls in a creek in front of the green. Solemly they shook hands and went home.

Next to golf, Ty likes to fish and hunt. He prides himself on being able to take young fellows out and walk 'em down. He quit baseball because his legs went back on him. He goes after birds on horseback and hunts fox at night. He has to exercise daily or he feels badly.

Since retirement Cobb feels like a schoolboy on vacation. He has no desire to play ball again. Some day he may purchase a ball club. Baseball meant nothing but hard work to him after his first year as hitting champion. He had to struggle too hard to protect his record. He likes to ride his fine saddle horses and is a stickler for obedience. He loves dogs and often judges at field trials, but is losing interest in the competitions because he thinks trainers are going in more for speed than accuracy in developing the bird spotters.

His favorite story is the one about the Rookie outfielder. It was in the days when Cobb was the scourge of the basepaths and the unwritten baseball law was never to throw behind him. The Georgia Peach got hold of one and named a line hit out to the youngster. Cobb turned first base as the rookie picked up the ball.

Without a sign of hesitation, the green hand rifled the ball to the homeplate. Ty Cobb was not going to outmaneuver him.

"THE BELLE OF BARCELONA" TO BE PRESENTED
You will be sorry if you fail to see the operetta "The Belle of Barcelona" at the High School next Monday night. Harold Suggs makes an excellent villain who suffers a change of heart at the very close of the play, and in a very beautiful and effective solo, he pleads for mercy. There are many others equally good and—well, just come and see it for yourself. The proceeds of this operetta are to be used to take the winners of the divisional musical contest to Greensboro to compete in the state contest.

This is the evening for the Albert Spalding concert, at 8:15, in the Campus building auditorium of East Carolina Teachers College. The auditorium has been divided up so that the college girls and the public are both given fine opportunities for getting good seats. There are two prices for the public, with a generous supply of the cheaper as well as the most desirable ones, left for the public.

Mr. Spalding, by telegram, requested that the concert begin at 8:15, and the request was granted, even though this moved the time up fifteen minutes earlier than had been advertised far and wide. People in other places have shown great interest in this event, and there will perhaps be a representative audience from this section of the state who are music lovers or who follow the leading attractions before the public today.

Mr. Spalding is one of the most attractive artists throughout the country not only because he is a great violinist, an artist among the greatest of artists, but because he is a fine type of American citizen.

Quaker City Mayor Joins Unemployed To Get the Facts

Philadelphia, Feb. 26.—(AP)—In order to get first hand information concerning the manner in which a shelter for homeless men is being conducted, Mayor Harry A. Mackey has eaten and slept in the shelter disguised as one of the unemployed.

His makeup was so good he was not even recognized by guards assigned to the executive offices at city hall.

Instead of a modishly attired chief magistrate, he emerged a shambling figure with unkempt hair and a set of whiskers. He wore a dotted blue shirt, open at the neck, old corduroy coat, baggy trousers, soueaky shoes and a battered felt hat.

He has played three one-night stands at the shelter during the last two weeks and found the food and sleeping accommodations to be "excellent."

Income Tax Reverts to Old Rate, 1930 May Show Drop

Washington, (AP)—The 1931 series of the American taxpayer's classic battle of income returns, is in full swing and will continue until St. Patrick's day.

The nationwide scramble to file returns on incomes received during 1930 will come to a close by governmental mandate at midnight on March 16. This is one day later than usual because March 15, the customary deadline date, falls on Sunday.

Income taxes paid during 1930 amounted to $2,332,968,393, about $170,000,000 less than the total payments in 1929. Depressed business in 1930 is expected to result in considerably diminished returns this year, offset to some extent by the higher tax rates.

The one per cent reduction in taxes on income of 1929 was a temporary measure only, the rates on 1930 incomes reverting to the level of those of 1928.

The revision to the old rate, deemed necessary because of a treasury deficit, is the only change in income tax requirements. The normal tax rates on individual net income for 1930 are one and one-half per cent on the first $4,000 in excess of personal exemption and credits, three per cent on the next $4,000 and five per cent on the balance.

The rate of tax on the net income of a corporation is 12 per cent. The surtax rates on individual net income in excess of $10,000 remains unchanged.

Returns must be filed by single persons who had a net income of $1,500 or more, or gross income of $5,000 or more, and by married couples who had net income of $3,500 or more, or gross income of $5,000 or more.

"If you need help in making out your income tax return, don't hesitate to ask for it," says the Bureau of Internal Revenue. "It will be furnished you willingly by the bureau."

Taxpayers are urged particularly to read carefully the instructions on the forms for filing the returns, to fill out themselves the blanks they understand, and to file their returns early.

Failure to receive a form does not relieve a person from his obligation to file a return and pay his first installment on or before the 15th of March.

Lillebil Dances In Follies, But Aspires To Higher Roles

By CARL CRANMER
Chapel Hill, N. C.—(AP)—Lamar Stringfield, Pulitzer prize winning composer in 1928, has returned to his native mountains to produce his opera about moonshiners, feudists and mountaineers.

Twice expelled from preparatory school, Stringfield became a baseball player at Wake Forest and then a soldier on the Mexican border and in the World war.

The gourd fiddle and an old break-down banjo, mountain instruments, were the first among numerous musical instruments he learned to play. Study of the flute took him to New York masters.

Recognition as a soloist and orchestra conductor followed. Appearance before glittering orchestras were a part of his lot.

The Pan Alley beckoned, and he played for phonograph records and the radio. He won the Pulitzer prize and studied today.

Today he is back in the hills of North Carolina, where he started. Folk lore and song, themes of his music and which, he says, will furnish the basis for a distinctive American music, are the magnets.

Here, utilizing folk songs already collected by departments of the University of North Carolina, and by the Carolina Playmakers, Stringfield plans to write more music and produce his two-act opera, "The Mountain Song."

The opera is based on the famous Anderson clan. The gourd fiddle used in reproducing the mountaineer's songs was seized in a raid on a still in Anderson's cove.

Words of one of the solos, "The law is my enemy—it don't do nothing for to make a man—I hate the law—because—the law hates me," climaxed a famous moonshiner's trial.

Stringfield's prize-winning suite, "From the Southern Mountains," is based on folk lore. "Cripple Creek," last movement of that suite, is based on an old song about Cripple creek at Asheville and was inspired by the old break-down banjo which the composer plays.

This musician who denies that jazz is representatively American, declaring it "unstabalized," also looks upon Indian music as "unimportant" and negro music as a copy and distortion of Anglo-Saxon themes, although he has used both in his compositions.

Brahms, Beethoven, Wagner, Strauss, Grieg, all took folk lore of their country for their masterpieces, and Stringfield says American composers, too, must find in their own folk songs the inspiration for a distinctive American music.

The mountaineer-composer, individually dressed, usually wears blue denim overalls, white shirt and black sweater—or a black velvet smoking jacket, oxfords and spats, if the weather is cold.

Bandits Release Two Policemen
Hastings, Neb., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Two policemen who were kidnapped by four bank robbers after a gun fight with officers in which two persons were injured were released today.

One of the officers, Patrolman William Woods, was tied to a fence post near Grafton, Neb., and released several hours later. Police Captain Frank Yetman was released by the robbers, eight miles from Sylvan Grove, Kansas, about 3 A. M.

Reports received here were that the officers had been tied to a chair in a schoolhouse. He later was freed and notified the authorities of his safety.

One of the robbers who gave his name as Robert Handricks, and Volcott Ccondit, an investigator for the Nebraska Bankers Association, were wounded seriously in an exchange of shots when officers attempted to arrest the men. Handricks was captured later at Belvidere, Nebraska.

FALSE FIRE ALARMS

This business of so many false fire alarms is not only costing our city a lot of unnecessary money, but is proving a great menace as well as a nuisance to our people. Every time the fire truck goes out it endangers someone's life and adds to the city payrolls in addition to what it costs to operate this expensive equipment, and city officials have determined to put a stop to this nuisance if possible. Every effort is being made to ascertain the source of all these false fire alarms and if the persons responsible are caught it is going to be just too bad for them.

NOT TOO LATE

The tree campaign that has been carried on in this city since last fall has resulted in the setting out of approximately a thousand trees. There are, however, many streets and sections in our city where this work has not been carried on and there are still a few days in which this work can be done. We urge those who have available space for shade trees to have them set out now. In years to come, the full realization of the value of this tree-setting campaign to our city will come. If you have not set out yours don't put it off. Do it now while there is still time.

DEPOSITORS SHOULD SIGN

Announcement a few days ago that a plan for the organization of a new bank to take over the affairs of the closed National Bank of Greenville had been perfected and depended now only upon the willingness of the depositors to sign an agreement guaranteeing seventy-five per cent of their deposits with a possibility of a return of the full hundred per cent with interest, no doubt assures the re-opening of the bank at an early date. Under this plan no doubt the depositors will fare far better than if the bank is liquidated and it goes without saying that the re-opening would mean much toward the restoration of confidence in our community and business in general. While we already have one of the strongest commercial institutions in this section of the state, it is evident that our city needs another such bank and it is to be hoped that the efforts to organize this new bank will meet with every success.

HURT TO STAND, WEAK, NERVOUS

"Cardui Seemed to Build Me Up and I Was Rid of Pain," Says Virginia Lady.

Roanoke, Va.—"Some years ago, I was in a very run-down condition," writes Mrs. T. B. Akers, of 533 Nelson Street, S.E., this city. "I suffered a great deal with pains in my sides and back. Standing on my feet hurt me so much, that I would get very weak and nervous. "I knew that if I didn't get something to help me, I would have to go to bed and stay there, which is hard to do for a woman who has small children. So I kept dragging about, until one day, when feeling unusually bad and discouraged, I happened to pick up a little book with a Cardui advertisement. I decided I would try it. "Cardui seemed to build me up at once, as I was able to do my work with ease, and was rid of the pain by the time I had taken six bottles. "I have taken Cardui since then, whenever I felt that I needed a tonic, and it always helped me. I recommend it to my friends. Get a bottle today."

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

KINSTON HIGHS PLAY LOCALS FRIDAY NIGHT

KINSTON HIGH

Tomorrow night Greenville high school meets Kinston, one of her closest rivals, in the closing contest of the current conference season on the hardwood floor. Greenville is very anxious to win this game, both because they want to beat Kinston, and more so because she wants to bring her wins up to double her losses, and this game would give her eight wins. This would give the locals a good conference record and standing. Then, too, Greenville has won several out-of-conference contests which makes her as a seasonal whole even better. Greenville is a fighting bunch of boys, and they are going to be at their best tomorrow night.

Greenville high school has not lost two games to a foe this season, and she has played all her conference foes twice each. We think this speaks mightily well for the boys, for it shows that they have met no conference enemy who has outclassed them. The boys are going to the Raleigh tournament this year, and are practicing hard and looking to go up there and winning that tournament. Given the fact that they have never been out of the tournament, and the boys are anxious indeed to be at their best in the Raleigh meet.

The lineup will be chosen from the following: Broadhurst, King, Deal, Cahoon, James, Woodard, Hount, forwards; Nobles Lee, Dennis and Hardee centers; Captain Bullock, Madrin, Brown, Winslow, Wright, Warren Kittrell, Wilson and Skinner guards. Whatever lineup is chosen, it will certainly be a fighting one, and one which will bring victory to Greenville.

The boys need enough money to pay Kinston $20, and enough to go to Raleigh. Come on, all you friends of the high school and lend your moral and financial support to the boys for they certainly need it badly. You could hardly give your money to a more worthy cause and get as much good, wholesome, and real pleasure in return for it. Admission will be 10c for school children, and 25c for adults. This is reasonable indeed. Be on hand at 7:30 tomorrow night.

POP WARNER STILL LIKES HIS BASEBALL

By RUSSEL J. NEWLAND

Palo Alto, Cal., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Glenn Scooby Warner, at 60, is one of football's greatest strategists. His teams have made gridiron history, but he thinks he should have stuck to baseball.

For it was baseball—not the game to which he has contributed so brilliantly—that gave him his greatest thrill. That came the time he caught his first ball game, at Swinfield N. Y., in the late eighties. He got two hits. Still insists he unpegged him out of a third.

The rules of football have been changed time and again because of his creative genius. He brought out the hidden ball trick in 1897. The backfield man stuck the ball up the back of his jersey. Rules were changed to meet the emergency. Then he sewed halves of cheer footballs on the players' jerseys. More rule changes.

He introduced the football crouch. He gave the game its wing back formation, also the unbalanced backfield. He originated the spread pass, revised the soft thigh pads; improved shoulder pads, remodeled many other appliances.

Yet none of his football achievements give him more satisfaction than telling of the time he was heavyweight boxing champion at Cornell. He will stop in the middle of a street and demonstrate his corkscrew punch. It won him the title.

As a boy, his playmates nicknamed him "Butter." He looked like a mound of hay. His brothers bill of Hermiston, Ore. and was the latest kid in Texas. The Fred of San Clemente, Cal., say he family lived on a ranch near Wichita falls. All Glenn wanted to do was make playthings and eat and sleep.

To keep from working, he went to college. His dad gave him a hundred dollars, tuition fee then at Cornell. He got to New York and went to the horse races at Saratoga. The bookmakers pocketed his $100. He borrowed another century note and lost it playing poker. Persuaded Cornell author

News From The Training Camp

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Manager Dr. J. Bush had promised Chicago White Sox pitcher as they might bat today, but attached such a price to the privilege of playing that he was not to be had. For each time at bat, his hurlers must do a turn around the quarter mile cinder track surrounding the park at a brisk gait. Although he second squad is not due until next Monday, Ray Radcliff from the Sally League, who is scheduled to play first base, was expected to report today.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The new American League ball has not made much difference to the New York Yankees' pitchers, but it has provided Coach Pat Fletcher with a phrase to pep up batting practice. Every time a batter pops up an easy fly, Fletcher comments "that ball ain't so lively."

Fort Myers, Fla.—Feb. 26.—(AP)—Hank McDonald, giant California right-hander who is trying out with the Philadelphia Athletics, has the entire camp wondering how much speed he possesses. Captain Collins spied him yesterday burning them into Mickey Cochrane. "Hey," shouted Collins, "don't cut loose yet."

"This ain't nothing. I can speed 'em in a lot faster."

McDonald worked out on the coast and is already in shape and anxious to get going.

Bradenton, Fla., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Mike Gonzales, who, according to Gaby Street was "catching way back in my time," and seems just as agile now, is going to help coach the younger members of the Cardinals' pitching staff.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The continued absence of pitchers Walter Stewart and Warren "Rip" Collins from the Browns' training camp here today caused rumors they were holding out.

Avalon, Cal., Feb. 26.—(AP)—It is to let him enter on deferred payments. Worked as a waiter and painted and sold pictures of sunsets, trees, cows and what not to pay the tuition.

He has a fine home in Palo Alto but spends most of his time in a workshop in his garage. Always figuring out football plays. Diagrams can be found on the back of shop.

Three recruits, Ed Baecht and Lon Warneke pitchers, and Vincent Barton, outfielder, have caught Rovers Hornsby's eye and appear to be set for a season of employment with the Chicago Cubs.

Winter Haven, Fla., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Manager Burt Shotton of the Phillies called his baseball squad out today for the first practice.

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Bennie Frey, once the nemesis of the Chicago Cubs, while the Cincinnati Reds played havoc with the Bruins' chances for the National League pennant, has taken on considerable weight and appears in excellent condition for the coming campaign.

New Orleans, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Luk Sewell's continued absence is becoming embarrassing to the Indians as Manager Roger Peckinpaugh nurses his batterymen into condition.

Sacramento, Calif., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The entire Detroit Tiger Squad will begin training together here next Monday.

V-C Fertilizers Fill Every Row With Profits

One of the most effective steps in the recovery of American agriculture is a more general use of fertilizers. — The Guaranty Survey.

Products of the farm are man's first requirement.

Bankers and financial leaders are beginning to see that subsidizing those farmers who are incompetent does not make for improvement of production. — U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

For every dollar invested in fertilizer, the average return is about three dollars—but we can get a lot more if the right fertilizer is used in the right way. — U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Scientific research has brought new skill and new confidence to the farmer—higher standards of living, a better home, a wider outlook on life.—New Jersey Experiment Station.

Liberal fertilization and stinky work do not go hand in hand.—The Progressive Farmer.

All aboard!

ALL ABOARD for the fields where new life is starting. All aboard with V-C, "Old Reliable," the fertilizer that has put profits in the rows of more than two generations of farmers. Another spring is here, another season. The V-C caravans of good, rich plant food are beginning to move again. All aboard!

Twenty times as much plant food is washed away off untraced fields each year as is taken away by growing crops.

For a long time farmers used very low-grade fertilizers because these cost less per ton. We are now beginning to learn that goods having a higher analysis, although costing more per ton, are really cheaper because fewer tons are required.—U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Better profits from farming must come not only through better selling prices but also through lower production costs, says The Guaranty Survey. Other industries have met lowered prices by tightening up on efficiency and cutting costs. "Agriculture has made some progress along this line, but nothing nearly so effective; and there are many who believe that a more extensive use of fertilizers would go a long way toward eliminating present farm difficulties."

Just as some stores are managed well and make good profit, so farms that are managed well make money for their owners. It's all in the management.

It costs far less to maintain soil fertility than to restore it after it has been robbed by exhaustive farming.—Western Irrigation.

Fertility of the soil has a lot to do with books, pianos, radios, electric lights, modern homes, silk stockings, schools, good roads, and a better standard of living on farms.—National Fertilizer Association.

Farming has made so much progress in the past ten years that everybody who knows is predicting even faster progress in the next ten years.

DEVILS WIN CAGE CROWN IN BIG FIVE

By PAUL SIMMONS (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Charlotte, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Leave it to the Wake Forest Deacons, cellarites in the Big Five basketball championship to spring a big upset in the final conference match of the season.

That's what the Baptist did by defeating the third-place Davidson Wildcats, 26 to 22, last night at Davidson. The contest, which wound-up the Big Five competition for this season, did not alter the finishing order of the teams.

The Duke Blue Devils seeded up the crown last week with N. C. State finishing in the runner-up position and North Carolina in fourth place.

The question of who wears another North Carolina basketball crown—that of the Little Seven conference—will be settled tonight when the conference leading Catawba Indians meet Guilford at at Guilford.

The Indians, boasting seven victories to one defeat, are assured of at least a tie for the title, any way tonight's tilt comes out. Appalachian, the runner-up with seven wins and two reverses, has already ended its season; and none of the other fives are within striking distance of the championship.

Lenoir-Rhyne plays Elon tonight, and the season's activities will close tomorrow night with a match between the Christians and Guilford.

High Point licked Lenoir-Rhyne, 24 to 23, last night at High Point.

Old North State Southern Conference basketball and boxing teams today began the trek to the conference tournaments in these two branches of sports.

WALKER LOOMS AS CONTENDER HEAVY CROWN

By ALAN GOULD

Miami, Fla., Feb. 26.—(AP)—They may have to move over later, if not this year to make room for the "milking" Irishman, Mickey Walker, in the big scramble for the world's heavyweight championship.

Less than six pounds over the limit for the middleweight class in which he holds the world's title, Walker packed enough stamina and wallop in his 165-1-2 pounds last night to hand a convincing pasting to 194-pound Johnny Risko of Cleveland, the dangerous but now somewhat battered remainder of the one-time speller of heavyweight ambitions.

Before Walker fought the main go last night, Max Schmelling, the German who was bequeathed the heavyweight title by boxing authorities, and his American challenger, Young Stribling, appeared in exhibitions.

The box office check-up showed approximately 20,000 cash customers and a gross gate receipt of $38,000.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today. 2 to 5 points lower under overnight selling orders probably reflecting the rather reactionary sentiment noted late yesterday, while there may also have been some selling on relatively easy Liverpool cables.

The influence of these, however, was offset by continued favorable reports from the cotton cloth market in Manchester and after selling off of 11.37 for May and 11.89 for October, the market steadied on a renewal of trade buying and covering. By the end of the first half hour, May held sold up to 11.45 and October to 11.97 or about 4 points higher, but the bulges met some further selling and fluctuations were somewhat irregular with the market 1 to 4 points net higher at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables said there had been general liquidation in that market uncovering stop orders that had been absorbed at the decline by covering and trade calling.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Grain prices underwent a decided tumble today owing largely to announcement that the Grain Stabilization Corporation would offer 35,000,000 bushels of wheat abroad. The announcement was generally construed as bearish. Stop loss orders on wheat future delivery contracts carried the market down quickly about 2 1/2 cents to the lowest level since Jan. 29, with corn at a new low price record for the season.

Wheat closed nervous 1-8 to 2-1/4 lower; corn 1-4 to 7-8 down; oats unchanged to 5-8 off, and provisions unchanged to 20 higher.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Having shaken off a load of impending liquidation, the stock market moved forward fresh today.

U. S. Steel common was suddenly jacked up to the best levels of the new year, but bullishness again concentrated on the electric power issues. Some of the steels, electrical and railway equipments, and miscellaneous manufacturing issues made good headway, but most of the rails, oils, motors, coppers and merchandising issues held back. A few soft spots were uncovered.

The advance in U. S. Steel approached 4 points, and Bethlehem, Gulf States and Republic preferred made gains almost as wide. Utilities rising 2 to 5 points included American Water Works, Consolidated Gas, Electric Power & Light, American Power & Light, North American, Public Service of N. J., Pacific Lighting, United Gas Improvement and Standard Gas, all of which recorded new highs for 1931. General Electric, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Underwood Elliott Loews, DuPont and American Locomotive gained 2 to 3, and Eastman, Auburn and Macy rose 5 or more. Simmons was given a powerful boost for the first time in months, gaining more than 3. In the rails, Frisco dropped 4 to a new low. Gillette was a weak feature, losing 3. Montgomery Ward lost more than a point of yesterday's gain.

The market still seemed to be impelled primarily by its own momentum, since little in the way of forward stimulus was provided by the day's news.

Call money continued a little firmer, with little available under the official rate of 1 1/2 per cent.

calves, hogs and sheep rode to market in trucks during 1930, an increase of 17 per cent over 1929. It would have taken 275,000 single-deck freight cars to handle the livestock which took the gasoline route last year.
