NEW SIEGE OF WINTER VISITS THIS SECTION

Countryside Covered By Blanket of White As Snow Continues to Fall

Winter winds whistled across this section of the state today bringing with them sleet and snow. The snowfall was preceded by rainfall during the night and the streets and highways today were covered by two inches or more of slush that made traffic difficult as well as precarious.

While the snow failed to stick on the pavement it gained a firm foothold on the earth and at the noon hour a blanket of an inch to two inches thick was evident in all sections of the country.

Temperatures which the last several days had been reminding of Springtime, began to topple with the advent of a drizzle last night, and the citizenship began bringing out wraps, boots and overshoes this morning to enable it to combat the unexpected assault of King Winter.

The blanket of white which greeted the early risers this morning revived talk about the record snowfall which began on the night of March 1st four years ago and continued until the ground was covered by one of the heaviest blankets in the memory of the oldest citizens. Some seemed to think that the weather man was attempting to celebrate the fourth anniversary of his old record, while others ransacked their memories in an effort to determine the exact date of the big snow. However, they knew it snowed around the first of March and they also had evidence before their own eyes that King Winter was repeating, although it required four years for him to do so.

All schools of the city, except the high school, suspended work at the noon hour on account of the inclement weather. County schools, however, continued their regular sessions, although some probably enjoyed the regular half holiday.

While travel was being conducted with much difficulty over the streets and highways, buses continued to maintain regular schedules during the morning hours. Telephones and telegraph communications were reported uninterrupted, due largely to the fact that the temperatures were not cold enough to enable the snow to cling tenaciously to the communication lines. No trouble was experienced by the local power company.

While the weather man predicted fair and colder weather for tomorrow, leaden skies and continued snowfall this afternoon gave out little hope of the fulfillment of his prophecy. However, the flake weather conditions of this section have been proven too frequently of late to cause one to believe that the weather man's prediction will not come true, and the falling weather is expected to be completely dissipated by morning.

Controversial Road Bill Sent Back To Committee By Members Of The House

Lower House Fails to Concur In Senate Amendments; House Finally Gives Its Approval to the School Bill

Raleigh, Mar. 3.—(AP)—With indications that a compromise would be reached in quick order on Senate amendments to the Connor road bill, the controversial administration measure went to conference today.

The House differs seriously from the Senate on certain amendments, having voted down similar ones offered, but it was believed the amended bill in general would be acceptable to the lower chamber.

The House gave final approval to the Johnston-Jolly bill to set up machinery for the operation of a state supported six months school term.

The vote was 80 to 13 with four pairs being announced.

The House accepted three amendments which Representative MacLean of Beaufort agreed to.

An amendment to make it mandatory that county commissioners reflect the savings to be effected by state support in their gross tax levies was defeated.

The bill provides the necessary machinery for the operation of the schools with state support for the six months constitutional term but does not carry any appropriation.

A similar bill in the Senate includes an appropriation of $19,000,000.

Committees this morning reported favorably on bills to prohibit night work for women and minors; establish a 55 hour week; and set up machinery to allow North Carolina to rewrite its Constitution by the commission method.

The administration Jeffers bill to provide for a Constitutional convention, already passed in the House, got an unfavorable Senate report.

A bill to provide for reciprocity of automobile license privileges, empowering the highway commission to grant exemptions to non-residents, was introduced as a result of the conference last week.

ACCUSED SLAYER AND MOTHER

William Frazer of Rahway, N. J., confessed slayer of Mrs. Phoebe Stader, whose body was found in a Virginia woods, was consoling by his mother, Mrs. Edna Frazer, in an Elizabeth jail after he was brought back to New Jersey from Raleigh, N. C., to answer for the killing. He told police he shot the woman accidentally.

ONE MAN SLAIN SIX SENATORS BY GANGSTERS WILL RETIRE

Another Wounded as He Is Thrown Into Basemen With Bomb That Fails

Chicago, March 3.—(AP)—Five machine gunners shot and killed one man and wounded another early today, but failed to explode a huge bomb which they tossed, with one of their victims, into the basement of a gambling establishment conducted by James Hackett in suburban Blue Island.

The victims were William Mayer, caretaker at the Hackett place, and Hilario Rodriguez, Mayer was shot to death as he ran out of the place after his attention had been attracted to shots fired at Rodriguez after Rodriguez escaped from the basement. Rodriguez was wounded and taken to a hospital.

The police viewed the affair as an attempt by a Chicago gambling syndicate to "muscle into" Blue Island gambling territory.

Rodriguez was standing on a corner waiting for his wife when the five men arrived in an automobile. One of them demanded his money and when he pleaded he had none he was struck in the face with a pistol, which shattered in time to see the five set into their car. They saw him and two of them fired. One bullet fell, a slight wound. Then a fusillade of bullets followed Mayer and the machine gunners sped away in their car. Firemen filled the basement with water and retrieved the bomb which they said probably did not explode because moisture in the cellar extinguished the fuse. Had it done so it would have wrecked the building.

Hackett said he knew of no reason for the attack but the police held the theory that it resulted from his refusal to join a powerful gambling syndicate.

DEMOCRATS GATHER FOR BIG POW-WOW

Harmony Predominates As the Party Chieftains Gather at Capital City

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—The prohibition bogey which of late has haunted Democratic statesmen today was all but laid.

Harmony was spread thick over disturbed feelings as the party's chieftains began to assemble for the Thursday parley of their national committee.

Chairman Raskob, silent as he has been since it first was rumored he would seek commitments of the party's steering body to the wet side of the liquor question, was on hand to prepare things. Alfred E. Smith, northward bound from Raleigh, N. C., was expected to stop off and help allay remaining fears.

His expression in the Carolina city yesterday that policy matters were not for the committee to determine, went perhaps longest of all in assuaging the unease which had been manifest chiefly among the southerners in Congress. To this was added a telegram to Raskob from William C. McAdoo in Los Angeles urging against tying of the party to a wet policy.

The two topped a crop of telegrams, letters, resolutions and expressions of the consensus of the Democratic group and that which piled high objection to determining any sort of policy at the impending gathering.

The opponents of such action in Congress were not overlooking any moves, however, nor relaxing their vigilance, although a number privately said they believed the rumored proposal would not now be pressed.

The whole question got an airing in the late hours of last night's Senate session, as Senator Hefflin of Alabama, "Jeffersonian Democrat," delivered his parting oration before ending, till next election anyway, his congressional service.

Named As Minister

Congress Makes Inroads Into Mass of Legislation During Last Day of Short Session; The House Passes Bill Providing Penalties for Persons Circulating Rumors About Federal Reserve Institutions

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—Congress today, its last day one of the short session, made inroads upon the mass of minor legislation for which enactment is sought.

In spite of late sessions last night the Senate, which adjourned at 3:00 a. m., met again at ten and the House convened at eleven.

While waiting for President Hoover's veto of the Muscle Shoals bill, Republican Leader Watson of the Senate, predicted three were enough votes to sustain it. There was a possibility the friends of the legislation might make no effort to override the veto.

Chairman Smoot of the Senate finance committee objected to consideration of a bill by the Senate to authorize loans on veterans' certificates issued during the last two years.

The Senate campaign funds committee presented a report exonerating Senator Davis of fraud or dishonesty in connection with last year's Pennsylvania Republican primaries.

It condemned however the expenditure of more than $600,000 by thicket, of which Davis was a part as "excessive" and "inimical to the public interest."

The Senate considered the conference report on the Cooper-Jones bill for Federal co-operation in the promotion of mother and infant welfare work and then abandoned it for calendar bill. The report was approved yesterday by the House and the Senate planned to return to it later in the day.

The House meanwhile passed the Brand bill providing penalties for persons circulating false rumors denying the integrity of financial institutions associated with the Federal Reserve Board. The vote was 145 to 51.

FORMER BANK HEAD INDICTED

J. Mack Rhodes, Charged With Embezzling $20,000 at Hendersonville

Hendersonville, March 3.—(AP)—J. Mack Rhodes, president of the defunct First National Bank here, was indicted by the Henderson county grand jury today for embezzlement of $20,000 of the bank's funds.

The state indicated it would seek immediate trial, but attorneys for the former banker were to argue a motion for continuance this afternoon.

They will contend Rhodes, who was sick in bed when a warrant was served on him recently, is not physically able to stand trial.

W. Gaither Rhodes, son of the indicted man, who was cashier of the bank, is now serving a prison term in Raleigh for embezzlement of $40,000 from the bank, spent the state contended at his trial on "parties."

REV. W. A. RYAN IS SPEAKER AT ROTARY CLUB

Maynard Fletcher, District Governor, Visitor At Regular Club Meeting

Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of the Eighth Street Church of Christ, was the principal speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary club last night. He used as his subject, "Man and His Job," and imparted much information along this line of thought.

The speaker declared that to accomplish the best work, the job should always be taken seriously. It should be the purpose of everybody to know as much about his job as possible and in that way obtain far better results than he otherwise would.

He impressed his hearers with the fact that morality was one of the prime requisites of the job, matters not what field of endeavor one may labor in. High standards of morality always bring rich returns through the influence which they exert in the lives of others, he said.

Giving the best in us was pointed out as another requisite by the speaker, who also asserted that our job will be done whether by us or not.

Maynard Fletcher, of Washington, District Governor of Rotary, was one of the guests of the evening. He spoke briefly and supplemented the remarks by Mr. Ryan with the declaration that "at present we should also take our jobs optimistically" and not surrender to the spirit of depression which is being talked in every nook and corner of the nation despite the fact that the silver lining of the dark cloud has already begun to show itself.

The club was treated to a delightful musical program in the nature of several solo numbers by Mrs. J. Knott Proctor who was accompanied by Mrs. Harvey Ruffin. The program was in charge of A. E. Hobgood and president J. H. Waldrop presided. The usual supper was enjoyed.

Believe Slain Woman Operated Blackmail Ring

New York, March 3.—(AP)—The theory that Vivian Gordon, vice-craft tipster, was slain because she was operating a blackmail ring was held by Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney today.

Miss Gordon, he said, was an "expert racketeer," who supplied private women for gay parties with instructions to determine the social position and financial rating of their escorts for future extortion.

The names of about 40 men were listed in her diaries, he said.

Notations in the diary, made public by District Attorney Charles B. McLaughlin and read before the Bronx grand jury accused John A. Ruffell, her lawyer, and Samuel Cohen, an ex-convict of designs of her life as early as two years ago. They are held in $50,000 bail seeking freedom on habeas corpus proceedings.

Miss Gordon's body, bruised and scarred, was discovered in a Van Cortlandt park thicket last Thursday—stripped of all material identification. She had previously confessed with vice-graft investigators.

Clemson College, S. C., March 3.—(AP)—Two unmasked men held up three employees of the post office here this morning and escaped with all the stamps and cash on hand.

HARRIS MADE HEAD OF THE COUNTY HOME

Winterville Man Succeeds R. E. Corbett As Superintendent of Poorhouse

J. O. Harris, of Winterville, was employed as superintendent of the county home by the Board of County Commissioners, meeting in regular session at the court house in this city yesterday. He succeeds R. E. Corbett, who resigned sometime ago to direct farm operations on the estate of the late R. E. Harris.

Aside from informing the Board of Education that provisions had been made for continuing county schools through the regular eight months term and the payment of bills, the appointment of the county home head was the most important matter considered by the commissioners.

Harris is a successful farmer of the Winterville community, and is fully capable of taking charge of the arduous duties as director of the extensive operations at the county home. He is said to be well versed in the latest methods of agriculture and is a fitting successor to Mr. Corbett, who for many years did much toward the development of the fertile acres of farm and surrounding the home for the poor.

The action of the commissioners to continue the operation of the schools was received with general satisfaction by the number of citizens who had gathered from different parts of the county to ask that something be done to prevent suspension of school work.

The decision it was said, was made possible through a plan provided in recent legislation of the General Assembly, which will enable the schools to continue their work with the same high standard of efficiency. The plan will not provide the finances, as some seemed to think after reading the headlines in the Reflector yesterday, but simply makes a means of financing possible.

Asks Governor to Disband Legislature for Sake of Business

Charlotte, March 3.—(AP)—Thomas C. Hayes, president of the Charlotte Insurance Exchange, telegraphed Governor Gardner today asking him to immediately adjourn the General Assembly "before anything else can be done to further retard business."

The text of his telegram read: "I understand you were sent to Raleigh to represent the people of this commonwealth. With this in mind and before anything else can be done to further retard business, I suggest that you adjourn both houses, send all representative to their homes and have the law changed so that they will not meet again for ten years."

Five Persons Perish In Flames Today

Pittsburgh, March 3.—(AP)—Trapped in their beds, a man and his wife and their three children were burned to death when their home at Rushton, a mining town, was destroyed by fire early today.

The dead: Frank Daniel, his wife, and Patsey, Frank's son, and Mary, the latter three children under 10 years of age.

Another child saved her life by leaping from a second story window. Her leg was fractured as she fell to the ground.

Los Angeles, March 3.—(AP)—Twenty-four ex-service men, victims of paralysis caused by drinking an adulterated ginger extract, were being treated today at the National Soldiers Home at Sausalito, a suburb as county authorities are investigating the source of supply.

Dr. Maurice Smith of the United States Public Health Service, who came to Los Angeles to advise on the 103 cases previously reported in the county, said the extract in most instances was purchased in drug stores.

Investigators working under Dr. J. L. Pomroy, head of the County Board of Health, are obtaining samples of ginger extract at drug stores for laboratory tests. The extract contains 80 to 85 percent alcohol Dr. Pomroy said, adding it is a violation of the prohibition law to sell it as a beverage and a violation of the state and federal drug laws to make the product as Jamaica ginger.

GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST HOLDS AUDIENCE SPELLBOUND—CAPITOL

The superb acting of Ann Harding in "The Girl of the Golden West," at the Capitol last night was commensurate on very highly by the large audience. The wistful appeal of Ann Harding stands out as the vivid spot in the picture. The story itself has all the Belasco dramatic power. The story is one of the most colorful periods in American history, but essentially it is a story of love, and the regeneration of a man through the efforts of a woman.

TO IMPERSONATE STARS IN RECITAL TONIGHT

In the tableaux of plays that Miss Gay MacLaren will present this evening in her recital at East Carolina Teachers College, she will give impersonations of the stars and will use scenes from both new and forgotten plays which these stars made famous.

On her program are scenes in which one sees Laurette Taylor in "Peg O My Heart," Jane Cowl in "Within the Law," David Warfield in "The Music Master," Ethel Barber-Kiser, 35, Cabarrus county deputy, in "The County Chairman," Fay Bainter in "The Enemy," and Mrs. Minnie Maddier Fiske in "Helen's Boys."

Miss MacLaren's "lamerna mind" took in every point in these plays as she watched them from the audience, every trick of the star, and she gives the essentials of the play so that one feels after he watches her presentation of these that he sees the plays and stars themselves.

Feudists' Folk Lore Theme New Opera By North Carolinian

London—(AP)—Ibsen's grand-niece-in-law prefers English to Norwegian on the stage—the word means more she thinks. Further, she has a leaning toward comedy, although drama is her goal.

She is Lillebil Ibsen, now in the "Chelsea Poller" here, who married the amber Norwegian playwright's grandnephew Tancred.

She, too, is Norwegian, and started as a ballet dancer when she was 9. For three years she studied with the Russian ballet, then went to Reinhardt in Berlin, for whom she played the nun in "The Miracle."

Later she was "Anitra" in Ibsen's play "Peer Gynt" in New York, where she learned to speak English. When she came to London she had to learn the language again—English couldn't understand her "New Yorkers."

Her attempt to explain to friends the types of actors in the various countries in which she had played led her to the mimicry she now does on the stage.

"I've done it 1,000 times now," she said. "It doesn't seem I shall ever get out of it."

Although she has appeared in Ibsen's plays elsewhere, she never has in Oslo.

"Ibsen is a classic in Norway," she explains. "They think I am too young." So instead in Oslo she was Mary Dugan in that young woman's celebrated trial.

Oslo is her home and there her husband and young son live. Tancred Ibsen is an aviator and scenario writer as well. But hardly in his grandfather's vein—"somewhat lighter," his wife explains.

Vocational Agriculture Obtains Great Results In Stokes High School

The purpose of vocational agriculture in Stokes high school is to give instruction and assistance of such nature as to help prepare or improve people fourteen years of age or over for the business of farming. The passage of the Smith-Hughes act by our national Congress in 1917 gives federal aid for the work. Also the state makes biennial appropriations to aid the schools in the financing.

Two types of instruction are given by the Stokes department. Regular enrolled high school boys who are given an agricultural course along with their other studies constitute one class. Adult farmers who attend several regular meetings conducted by the agricultural teacher at a community center during the fall and winter are also considered as the second type. There are two other types of instruction. The part-time and day-unit classes. These are conducted by some agricultural department to give instruction to boys that are out of school and to those that are unable to attend school. Since there has been no demand for these other two types of work at Stokes high school they are not given.

All high school boys who study agriculture do practical farming on their home farm. Each student has specific farm enterprises to conduct under the supervision of the agriculture teacher. Also the teacher assists adult farmers who receive instruction in carrying out improved farm practices during the year. In fact every thing that the department teaches is not considered "learned until the improved practices are put into effect on the farms."

The high school boys make definite plans for carrying out their home projects. Besides planning how they will do every phase of their home project work, the boys estimate the cost and the returns from their enterprises. Accurate records of all the man labor, horse labor, other expenses and income on the home projects are kept by the boys.

This is the first year agriculture has been taught in Stokes high school. During this year thirty-six boys have been receiving instruction. Sixteen farmers have attended regular meetings conducted by the teacher. These meetings have been going on only for a short time and will continue for some six or eight weeks yet. These farmers are already practicing some of the best methods of farming. Production is not the only aim of the department, co-operative marketing and buying of a practical type is also advocated and emphasized.

The department has a long-time program of work and also a program for this year. This year's program emphasizes corn improvement, tobacco improvement, hog improvement, pasture improvement, and fertilizer practice improvement, especially for the corn crop. High school and adult farmers mentioned above are helping to carry on this in the community and in turn helping carry out the community program. There are forty-five of these individuals who are going to put farm practices into practice all over the school area.

Fertilizer tests will be conducted this year to determine the best kind and amounts of fertilizer to use for crops in the community.

The following is a list of the high school students, young Tar Heel farmers and their home enterprises for 1930-31:

Jeffrey Leggett, 3 acres of corn; Daniel Curtis Martin, 3 acres corn, 1 acre tobacco; Johnnie Martin, 3 acres corn, 1 acre tobacco; 1 brood sow; James Nelson, 3 acres corn, 1 acre tobacco; J. D. Overton, 3 acres corn; Rupert Parker, 3 acres corn; Clifford Whichard, 3 acres corn, 1 acre tobacco, acres peanuts, 1 acre watermelons; William Warren, 3 acres corn; Marvin Barnhill, 3 acres corn, 3 acres tobacco; Richard Barnhill, 3 acres corn, 2 acres tobacco; Mayhue Bullock, 3 acres corn; Jessie Bullock, 3 acres corn, 50 laying hens; William Congleton, 1 acre tobacco; Hallis Cherry, 1 acre tobacco; H. F. Congleton, 5 acres corn; Hassel Gurganus, 1 acre tobacco; Theibert Hardison, 250 foot vegetable plant bed; Leo Hawkins, 3 acres corn, 1 acre Irish potatoes; Curtis Taylor, 1 acre tobacco; Judson Whitehurst, 3 acres corn, 1 acre Irish potatoes; Roy Whitehurst, 1 acre Irish potatoes followed by cotton; Jim Grey Whitehurst, 3 acres corn, 5 acres peanuts; Herman Whichard, 3 acres corn; Clinton Briley, 3 acres corn, 1 acre Irish potatoes; Slade Congleton, 3 acres corn; James Keel, 5 hives of bees; Clarence Little, 3 acres cowpeas for seed; Joe Moore, 3 acres corn; David Martin, 1 acre tobacco; Elmer Roebuck, 2 acres peanuts, 5 hives of bees; John Grey Taylor, 3 acres corn, 6 pigs to feed out for market; Joseph Whitehurst, 3 acres corn, 1 acre tobacco; Charles James, 5 hogs to feed out for market; Robert Crandall, 6 hives of bees.

Last year Otis Stokes of Chicoed high school made $192.99 net profit on three acres of tobacco. The three acres of tobacco made 3614 pounds which sold for $28.47. After deducting $235.48 for all expenses his profit was $192.99. Eight-hundred and seventy-four hours of man labor and self labor and one hundred and forty-four hours of horse labor were required to produce the three acres of tobacco—$22.88 for three hundred fifty-two hours of self labor at 15c per hour added to net profit of $192.99 makes the labor income from this project $245.67. These items were included in the expenses along with land rent, barn rent, fertilizer and miscellaneous items. Other students did as well and better, but this gives an idea of what the boys can do. We hope the high school boys' fathers will help the teacher and students carry on this work in every way they can in the Stokes high school community. The fine spirit shown so far is commendable.

Discover Hitherto Unpublished Letter of Geo. Washington

Cambridge, Mass., March 3.—(AP)—A hitherto unpublished letter, written by George Washington at Mount Vernon in 1782, has been found by Mrs. Milton F. Fish of Uxbridge. Washington discussed his attempt to regain his health in the letter.

The letter, addressed to Colonel Burwell Bassett at Richmond, Va., was given Mrs. Fish's father, J. H. Earle, while he was serving with the United Army in Virginia during the civil war. The letter has been in his possession since then, but trace of it became lost. Mrs. Fish, who remembered seeing the letter when she was a small girl, rediscovered it a short time ago when she was going through letters and papers shortly after her mother's death.

The letter reads: Mount Vernon, May 20th, 82. "The situation of my health, my dear Sir, being yet in such a state as renders further efforts absolutely necessary to re-establish it, have by the advice of many physicians and the strenuous interposition of those of my friends who have my future happiness at heart, concluded to leave this part of the world and try the effects of the sea air and climates of the West Indies.

and expect to embark tomorrow in a vessel from Alexandria. "The attachment which I formed for your admirable daughter has been the only insurmountable difficulty why I have not before made the experiment, everything that impedes so desirable a union cannot but be lamented and the situation of my health is I hope the only interruption to it. Nothing in my power shall be left untried to effect it and, on reticence that kind province will crown my efforts with success, shall be induced to preserve with a daily hope of seeing or hearing from you declined until the last moment, writing."

"I beg you to offer my most affectionately to your amiable sons who will pardon my not writing the family of study, Mrs. and Miss Seth and all friends and I beg to be kindly remembered to with the sincerest good wishes for your health and happiness I subscribe myself,

Very sincerely yours, GEORGE WASHINGTON."

Mr. Earle expressed a wish before his death that the letter be given to the war relic society of Amherst College if it was found.

Says Ten Thousand Applications For Vets Handled Daily

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—Veterans Administrator Hines informed President Hoover today approximately 10,000 applications for loans on soldiers compensation certificates were being handled each day and that the bureau expected to increase the daily total soon.

Hines said he expected favorable action today or tomorrow from the Federal Reserve Board on his plea that they take care of application for loans made at great distance from veterans bureau regional offices.

The bureau has sent $20,000,000 to regional offices. Hines estimated $10,000,000 already has been loaned. In addition the Washington office has $20,000,000 available and is sending out around 1,500 checks a day.

By putting on a night shift, Director Hines said, the capacity of the Washington office will be doubled and he expects to handle from 3,000 to 4,000 applications a day from the capital alone.

Director Hines of the veterans bureau today urged veterans to take their time in applying for loans on their compensation certificates.

He warned that sitting outside a regional office all night was useless, and dangerous to the health.

Tries Out Searchlight. New York—Alfred Gauthier is trying out a $1,000,000 candlepower searchlight which he believes will have a range of 50 miles. He hopes to project advertising matter into the skies. His experiments have led police to call upon him because of tips that bootleggers were signaling to ships.

GREENVILLE ALUMNAE OF ZETA TAU ALPHA ORGANIZES

On Saturday afternoon, Feb. 28, ten enthusiastic Zetas, representing Brenau, Randolph Macon and Duke University, met at the home of Miss Jane Hadley for the purpose of organizing an Alumnae Association of their sorority, eta Tau Alpha. The charter members were Mrs. Plato Monk of Farnville, Miss Mary Stewart of Washington, Misses Alice Lee Hooker, Katherine Warlick, Jane Hadley, Mesdames Will Hooker, Person Nicholson, E. L. Hillman, Foster Young and Bill Bradshaw of Greenville. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Will Hooker, president; Mrs. Foster Young, vice-president; Miss Jane Hadley, secretary and treasurer; Miss Alice Lee Hooker, historian. After the business, light refreshments were served by the hostess.

This is a unique organization, due to the fact it is very seldom that there are enough members of any one sorority in such a small community to organize an alumnae chapter.

What Must I Do On Sunday?

How must we keep the Lord's Day holy? is a question that all honest Christians must ask themselves. Everyone may have their own opinion as to what is necessary and there are so many conflicting teachings on the subject that it is of importance to get something authoritative on the matter. That there is a law "Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day" everybody admits. But of what "keeps holy" the command does not say, and it is therefore a matter of interpretation. The point of importance is who has the right to determine what should constitute the sanctification of the day; the individual, the state, or the church? The last ten years have marked a decided change in the manner of spending Sunday, and there is undoubtedly a loss of the spirit even where there is not a total disregard of the sanctity of the day. Yet the divine command remains it imposes obligations and responsibilities just as positive and just as definite as the day that it was given to Moses, that neither the divergence of opinion nor the change of the times will modify. What the history, the development, and its requirements are will be explained on Wednesday night at the Catholic church. Services will begin at 7:45. Invitation is extended to the public.

Big Newspaper Copy Used By Camel Cigarettes in Ads

Winston-Salem, March 2.—One million dollars is being expended by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company in the brief space of seven days to introduce through a $50,000 prize contest the new moisture proof cellophane wrapper of the Camel package.

Except for a brief announcement on the company's regular weekly broadcast over a coast-to-coast NBC network calling attention to the contest advertisement in newspapers, the week's campaign is being conducted exclusively in newspapers.

The initial announcement of the contest consisted of full page advertisements in 1713 daily newspapers, 412 college periodicals and many financial newspapers. In addition, large space advertisements were used in 2,139 county seat weekly newspapers.

Three additional advertisements, one of them full page and the others of approximately one-half page, are being used in approximately the same list of newspapers before the close of the contest, which closes at midnight of Wednesday, March 4th.

This makes the Camel cigarette contest one of the largest short-time advertising expenditures on record in this country, advertising experts say.

Co-Ops Win Added Converts in the Corn Belt; Cut Acreage

Chicago.—(AP)—Converts to the agricultural gospel of co-operation and reduced acreage have been the most numerous this year in the plains states of the Missouri and Mississippi valley. In Nebraska, North and South Dakota wheat plantings were sharply cut, and in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin, livestock and dairy interests have increased their co-operation agencies. Last summer's drought touched only the fringe of the corn belt, southern Indiana and Illinois. Corn prospects in these states depend, according to A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician at Springfield, Ill., upon spring conditions. Wet weather will mean curtailed acreage; dry weather, no reduction. "Farmers largely will forget the plight of last fall if their crops show improvement," said Surratt. "We usually forget our past hardships when times are good." A. E. Anderson, Nebraska crop statistician, said the 400,000 acres formerly planted in wheat, and freed by this year's acreage reduction, probably will be "given over to alfalfa and clover."

W. F. Schilling and Samuel R. McKelvie, farm board members, spoke many times in the northwest stressing advantages of cooperative marketing. Their efforts are reflected in such statements as those of Alva H. Benton, marketing specialist, North Dakota Agricultural College, Fargo, N. D. "Co-operative livestock shipping associations now number between 300 and 400, and over 40 per cent of all livestock passing through South St. Paul market now are handled by farm's co-operatives."

The Dakotas have such a diversified agriculture that depression in one or two crops does not materially depress the state. North Dakota products almost half of the flaxseed crop and with South Dakota grows much of the rye and alfalfa.

In virtually all the Middle-western states larger numbers of hogs and sheep are being fed. Iowa has a half-million more hogs, while South Dakota, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Kansas have larger numbers of sheep grazing. The number of cattle on feed in the corn belt, however, is the lowest since 1921. This is attributed to the last fall's corn shortage.

Wisconsin largely is depending upon cooperative marketing to bring some relief. About 4,000 Wisconsin dairy farmers are banded together to market milk to condenseries. Wisconsin's livestock federation cooperative experts to have 50 local co-operative units before the end of the year.

Earl Smith, president of the Illinois farm bureau and Charles Hill, chairman of the Wisconsin department of agriculture, believe farm taxation is one of the major problems, contending the tax burden should be shifted from real and personal property to incomes.

The financial depression has accelerated group farming in the Middle-west, according to C. J. Classen of Omaha, president of the Farmers' National Company, which managers 635 Iowa and Nebraska farms of 234,500 acres.

Shot During Run Raid, Man Dies

Concord, March 3.—(AP)—Reuben Kiser, 35, Cabarrus county deputy sheriff, shot last night by Love Nussman, another deputy, during a liquor raid, died in a hospital here today.

Sheriff Hoover said the shooting was accidental. The officer said the men were searching for liquor stills in No. 10 township when Nussman fired his pistol twice as a signal for the raiding party to assemble.

As Kiser walked up, Sheriff Hoover said the pistol was accidentally fired as Nussman removed the empty shells. The bullet struck Kiser in the back. An investigation into his death will be held later in the week.

ABOUT TOWN

The public generally will be delighted in the announcement of the Board of County Commissioners that the county schools will continue through the extended eight months session.

Announcement several weeks ago that the schools would be forced to close on account of shortage of finances produced mild pandemonium among leading educators and others who realized that such action would virtually paralyze the entire educational system.

In opening a way for the schools to continue during the remaining two months the commissioners have won the appreciation of the people they were elected to serve. Truly a critical situation has been averted and nobody is more appreciative than the mothers and fathers of the hundreds of children who would have been delayed a year in their education, which would mean just that much time out of their life.

The girls' basketball team of the Greenville high school continued to hold the spotlight in the Northeastern Athletic Conference here Saturday night when they defeated Washington, first place contender, the second time during the season.

The victory placed the young women just three games from the coveted honor of the championship of the conference. If they cop the remaining games they will have the honor of going to Chapel Hill to engage in semi-finals for the state championship.

This is one of the finest basketball teams the school has produced in years, and it is nothing but right that it should receive the united support of the public, although this has been strangely lacking throughout the season. Lack of interest on the part of mothers and fathers in athletic life of the schools generates a deleterious effect upon the children. It has a tendency to crush ambition for greater success in this field of endeavor whereas generous support would furnish the inspiration necessary to carry them on to greater achievement.

Perhaps you, Mr. Reader, have been one of the persons failing to exhibit interest in the activities of the young women. In that case, go out to the next game and help cheer the team on to the championship race at Chapel Hill this spring.

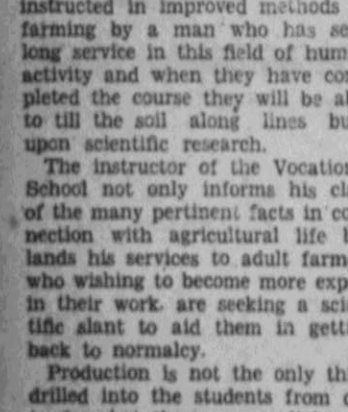

Young people of the Stokes community are being given ample opportunity to prepare themselves for successful life on the farm through the Vocational Agriculture Department of the High School of that place.

The youngsters are being daily instructed in improved methods of farming by a man who has seen long service in this field of human activity and when they have completed the course they will be able to till the soil along lines built upon scientific research.

The instructor of the Vocational School not only informs his class of the many pertinent facts in connection with agricultural life but lends his services to adult farmers who wishing to become more expert in their work are seeking a scientific slant to aid them in getting back to normalcy.

Production is not the only thing drilled into the students from day to day, but they are enlightened along lines of systematic marketing and co-operative effort two things which play an important part in the life of the industry.

SAY CAMPAIGN EXPENSES TOO MUCH IN PENN.

The Pitt County Post of the American Legion is doing its best to aid former service men to obtain loans on their Adjusted Compensation Certificates realizing that unspoken suffering exists among some of the veterans and that the loans will do much to alleviate their condition.

The Legion is forever on the alert to serve the men who left lucrative jobs during the days of the World War to cross the sea and fight a foreign foe that civilization might endure. It was largely through the efforts of the organization that Congress was brought to a realization of the need for loans and finally passed the measure that will bring relief to thousands of men who have found sledding extremely difficult since the ending of the great carnage in which many of them sacrificed the best in them.

Legionnaires who do not understand how to file applications for loans should not fail to take advantage of this service which members of the local post offer free of charge realizing as they do that the best they can do to improve the condition of their buddies is not any too good for them.

NEWS BRIEFS

Corncord.—(AP)—The Ministerial Association here has condemned officials for "arresting some poor negro" for drinking while white men are allowed to "drink and become intoxicated publicly."

Fayetteville March 3.—(AP)—Rufus King and Ross Davis were members of a little gambling party in the woods near here. Rufus took a drink, Ross took a drink. Ross didn't like the way Rufus handled the cards.

Rufus is in the hospital with knife wounds and Ross is in jail.

Goldsboro, March 3.—(AP)—Willie Tyson, Goldsboro negro, went to a hospital for treatment, but announced himself more interested in suing Goldie Smith for damaging his false teeth.

"You may not know it but them teeth cost jack," Willie opined.

He wasn't so much worried about the rest of his face, which stopped a load from a shotgun.

Gastonia, March 3.—(AP)—Roland Tate is being held here on a charge with binding Buck Newton, filling station employe, and robbing the station of approximately $300 yesterday. Tate was captured early today by Charlotte officers when he jumped from a freight car. He had $125 in his pocket.

Paul Whiteman Gets Divorce
Chicago, March 3.—(AP)—Paul Whiteman, self-styled "King of Jazz" has won a divorce from his dancing wife, Mrs. Mildred Whiteman, known on the stage as Vanda Hoff. Desertion was the charge.

The decree was granted yesterday by Judge John J. Sullivan in Superior court, where the copy of an agreement between the couple was filed, in which each expressed willingness not to do or say anything to "annoy harass or vex" the other.

Yne Committee Condemns Expenditures of the Davis - Brown Ticket

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—The Senate campaign funds committee today condemned as excessive the expenditures of the Davis-Brown ticket in last year's Pennsylvania Republican primary, but upheld the integrity of Senator Davis.

The report was presented by Chairman Nye without comment. Davis immediately issued a statement saying the committee's assertion that he had found nothing reflecting upon his honor "nails one lie."

He went on to say he had been charged with having received a $10,000 campaign contribution and not reporting it. This charge was investigated by the committee, he said, and found false.

The committee report laid emphasis on the expenditure of $623,928 by the Davis ticket on which the former labor secretary was paired with Francis Shunk Brown, unsuccessful candidate for governor.

The Davis statement said: "I am very glad to find that the Nye report states that nothing has been revealed in the testimony before this committee relating to the conduct of the Pennsylvania campaign reflecting upon my honor and integrity.

"That nails one lie." It was charged that I received $10,000 as a campaign contribution not reported by me, from the president of the Celotex company.

"This charge was investigated by the Nye committee and found to be utterly false. The lobby story contained in a Metropolitan newspaper came from the same source. It is of the same character with the same lack of foundation, and investigation will disclose that it has been instigated by the same malicious political enemies."

A minority report submitted by Senator Patterson, Republican of Missouri, cleared Davis without qualification and objected to the concluding paragraph of the majority report. He said this was inserted after the first draft had been agreed upon.

Regarding the contention that Davis was chargeable with only a small percentage of the total spent for the seven candidate ticket, the majority report said the committee felt itself not called upon to "attempt the impossible task to determine the amount of expenditures to be allocated to each individual candidate."

Chairman Nye, who had intended offering a resolution to unseat Davis on account of the expenditures, has announced he will not make this move, at this session at least.

TELLS HOW IT SEEMS TO BE AT BOTTOM OF A 50-FOOT WELL, AND TO BE SAVED
Reidsville, N. C., March 3.—(AP)—William Turner Ellington, 8-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ellington, was telling his friends today how it feels to fall fifty feet down an abandoned well, stand in the water for 30 minutes and be rescued by firemen.

The youngster was "it" in a game called "hiding the treasure." He was playing with a group of friends. Not knowing a portion of his home had been built over the old well, young Ellington crawled under the house to hide the "treasure."

It was dark under there and before he knew it he had catapulted down the brick-walled well.

His playmates summoned Ellington's parents who in turn called the fire department.

Raymond Goolsby let himself down into the well on a rope which he tied around the lad's body. Firemen hauled the child out and then brought up Goolsby.

Dr. M. P. Cummins, who examined him, said young Ellington had wrenched his back and was suffering from shock but was not seriously injured. He ordered him to bed for several days to guard against pneumonia.

You will enjoy Swift & Company's 1931 Year Book because the story of Swift & Company's activities for the year 1930 is of absorbing interest to every man and woman.

It tells how a solidly organized concern, dealing mainly in perishable foodstuffs, was able to come through a year of general depression, and earn dividends for its shareholders.

It shows that Swift & Company's profits come chiefly from savings and the elimination of waste.

It tells why a food monopoly by any packer or group of packers is impossible.

There are chapters on the Consent Decree and its modification; on Swift's service to the small retailer; on the incessant competition in the packing business; on Swift & Company's marvelous distributive system—and many other important subjects.

Lasting Health Is Sargon's Aim

"As a result, my whole system was in a terribly weakened condition. I suffered from indigestion, constipation, dizziness and back-ache; almost continually; my blood was thin and my strength and vitality almost gone. But since taking Sargon and Sargon Pills, my whole system is in splendid condition. I never have indigestion, constipation, or any other ailment now; and I have a feeling of strength and well-being I haven't enjoyed in months. I consider the Sargon treatment the greatest medicine on earth."

SEE BETTER PITCHING FOR THE CUBS

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, Cal., March 3.—(AP)—The specter of last year's ill-fated happenings which went a long way toward keeping the club from a National League pennant, has put caution on the tongues of those who would like to prophesy a great year for the Chicago Cubs.

Rogers Hornsby, playing manager, who figured prominently in these disastrous occurrences, steadfastly refuses to predict, although he willingly admits that the pitching prospects are much better than last season and the rest of the squad holds greater promise.

William Wrigley, Jr., whose money has made this possible venture what it is the "best outfit he has ever seen assembled here," but he recalls the untimely death of Harold Carlson, veteran pitcher; Hornsby with a broken leg and Lester Bell and Riggs Stephenson, with arm injuries and will not forecast his club's chances.

The pitching staff is so good the Rajah is puzzled as to just whose names will be crossed off the roster. He contemplates keeping eleven of the sixteen who reported here.

Besides such veterans as Charles Root, Guy Bush, Pat Malone, Sheriff Blake, at least two of the rookies hold promise and three tried and proven hurlers from Boston, Cincinnati and Philadelphia are helping to make the spring training grind a cheerful one.

Of these, Bob Smith obtained from the Braves and Lester Sweetland from the Phillies, stand out in particular, while Frank May, like Sweetland, a powerful left hander, is counted on to turn in his usual wins over the New York Giants.

The Rajah will not overlook Art Teachout, youthful southpaw who finished last season strong, as well as Bob Osborn of last year's staff.

Although Hornsby says without hesitation that he figures to use Hack Wilson, Riggs Stephenson and Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler as his regular outfield, he is pleased with the spring training bat work of Johnny Moore, up for the second time from Los Angeles, and Vincent Barton, a big Canadian from Baltimore. They both hit .342 last year.

Rogers intends to play right through at second base, regardless of his managerial handicap, and contemplates using the same infield as last year with Charles Grimm at first, Elwood English at short and Lester Bell at third.

Piedmont Moguls to Hear Requests for Franchises

Greensboro, March 3.—(AP)—W. G. Bramham, president of the Piedmont League, announced today directors of the circuit will meet tomorrow at noon to take formal action on the applications of Asheville and Charlotte for Piedmont franchises.

Directors of the two former South Atlantic Association clubs will attend the meeting, Bramham said.

Asheville and Charlotte applied for admission into the Piedmont loop a week ago when the Sally was disbanded.

Bramham took a telegraphic vote of Piedmont directors and announced there was no opposition to admitting the new teams. Directors of the Henderson club, however, announced after the meeting that mileage would have to be arranged satisfactorily to them before they would consent to admit the clubs.

The Piedmont is the only remaining Class B league in the south. It is made up entirely of North Carolina teams.

News From The Training Camp

West Palm Beach, Fla.—Manager Bill Killefer of the St. Louis Browns was hopeful today for a break from the weather man. Except for last Friday, it has rained every day since the Browns reached camp.

Paso Robles, Cal.—The Pittsburg one of the new Quaker boxmen who look good to Manager Shotton: "He's a fine prospect," Shotton said, "and should make the grade."

San Antonio, Tex.—Freddy Lindstrom has turned up in the New York Giant's training camp with a waistline of close to aldermanic proportions.

St. Petersburg.—Joe McCarthy, manager of the New York Yankees, has 33 players in camp. All he wants now is a few days of the Florida sunshine he's heard so much about. The Yanks have been in camp only seven days but already they've seen more weather than in any one training season in the last six years.

Bradenton, Fla.—Infielders and outfielders, except Frankie Frisch and Chick Hafey, who are holding out, wire due to reach the been accounted for.

Paso Robles, Cal.—Pinto regulars and yearlings, will begin their camp series of ball games next Saturday, unless something turns up to retard training progress.

Tampa, Fla.—Stiff workouts are scheduled for as long as the Athletics can stand, are on this week's menu for the Cincinnati Reds with practically the entire squad on hand.

Pensacola, Fla.—The boys at the Red Sox camp are hitting hard and far these days and manager Shomo Collins is mighty well pleased with their showing.

Doctors Disagree
When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms, if your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old fashioned medicine which you can get at 25c per bottle from:

CATS READY TO CLAW AT OLD LINERS

By GLENN RAMSEY
Atlanta, Ga., March 3.—(AP)—When the sun goes down on that Old Kentucky Home tonight, the Wildcat will unsheth his claws for the Maryland old liners in the finals of the Southern Conference basketball championship.

The University of Kentucky and the University of Maryland, ex-northern southern circuit members, meet in the city auditorium at 8:30 P. M. C. S. T. for the season's title.

Maryland advanced to the finals by nosing out the University of Georgia, a brilliant opponent, last night 26 to 25 while Kentucky had little trouble in running up a 56 to 35 score on Florida.

Georgia, plainly the favorite of the vast audience, dropped behind during the opening period and Maryland went out at the intermission leading, 13 to 7. That didn't cast gloom over the Georgia supporters. It had happened in every other game Georgia had played and had been overcome for a victory.

The big red and black team came back and ran up a deadlock at 17-all. Then things begin to happen and the sound of the timer's pistol ended the maddest game of the tournament just when Maryland was leading by a lone point.

The story of the Florida-Kentucky contest was told in the final half. In the opening period Florida held the Wildcats to a seven point lead, the half closing 28 to 18. Kentucky opened up in the last half and continued to pile up points while Florida sought in vain to halt the stampede.

Georgia's loss was disappointing in more than one way to the supporters of the Bulldogs and the players would have given a year or so of their lives to give Coach H. J. Stegeman, the "father of the Southern Conference Tournament," a championship as he retired. Stegeman announced his retirement during the game, effective at the end of the season, which also came last night.

As the closing pistol sounds tonight, sports writers, coaches and officials will mark their ballots for the members of the mythical all-conference eleven. Some of the members have already been selected, others may find themselves glorified for their work tonight.

CHIEF THORPE WORKING FOR $4 PER DAY

Then came Tiajuana, which did not have such handicaps, but it too was an American course operating in Mexico because of the stringent racing laws in California. SPORTS SLANTS

If such a thing should come to pass as the enactment of racing laws in Texas and Arkansas, it would mean an increase in race meets for the early spring and late fall. El Paso probably would become the site for a winter session in Texas while W. T. Waggoner, in all probability, would renew the sport at his private Arlington Downs. Adhering strictly to the letter of the state's anti-betting law, the meeting was a decided success drawing several thousands fans daily for ten days.

Racing, however, would not be new to El Paso. For years the "border city" supported a long winter session at aurez Mexico. Although operated in Mexico it was actually an American course. de-

HIGH CHAMPS TO CLASH AT CHAPEL HILL

Chapel Hill, March 3.—(AP)—The elimination series reaching from one end of the state to the other completed, sectional champions in the Class A and Class B high school race will clash here tomorrow night for the state championships.

It will be Charlotte, Western winner, vs. Raleigh, champion of the East, in the Class A tilt, and Bakersville from the mountains of the West, vs. Ros: Hill, eastern titlist, in the Class B tussle.

In a dramatic wind-up of elimination play, the Bakersville five from Mitchell county dethroned Spencer, defending Class B state champion, in a classy contest last night at Salisbury.

The far western boys hoped off with a bang and held a 20 to 9 lead over the Spencer five at the half and ended the match with a 33 to 23 victory.

Rose Hill captured the Eastern Class B crown by drubbing Trenton at Wilmington last Friday night.

In the Class A division, the sectional championships were determined on a percentage basis. Final team standings, released by E. R. Rejking, secretary of the High School Athletic association, showed both Charlotte and Raleigh to have wound up the sectional competition with perfect records.

The Queen City lads boasted ten straight victories, while the Capital City quint had six victories and no defeats.

Gastonia, with eight wins and two defeats, was runner-up to Charlotte in the west, while Wilson, winning five matches and losing one, finished next to Raleigh in the east.

Biloxi, Miss.—Walter Johnson is counting on Lloyd Brown, agile little left hander from Corpus Christi, Texas, to get the nationals off to a flying start this season as he did last year. Brown, who believes in the early bird adage has been here about a month, polishing fishing and hiking to get in shape.

Pensacola, Fla.—Wilky Moore, the former Yankee same-saver, comes pretty close to being the hardest working man in the Red Sox camp. His age and speed won't let him chase flies but he does plenty of steepling, ber-ling, hoo-ping and chasing going after bunts.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, March 3.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 2 points to an advance of 2 points. March was relatively easy under some liquidation, while later months were generally steady on buying promoted by firmness in Liverpool and encouraging reports from India.

The near month offerings were absorbed by trade buying with March selling up from 11.08 to 11.12 or 2 points net higher by the end of the first half hour while May advanced from 11.29 to 11.34 with the more active positions showing net gains of 2 to 6 points.

Business was moderately active with spot houses and the trade buyers of May during the early trading. World consumption of American lint cotton for January was estimated by the New York Cotton Exchange service at 945,000 bales compared with 911,000 for December and 1,190,000 for January last year.

Liverpool cables reported covering and Bombay buying in that market on the expected lifting of the Indian boycott.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 3.—(AP)—Wheat prices advanced late today as a result of spreading operations in which July was bought and May sold. A difference of about 18 cents a bushel between the two deliveries was the motive furnishing an attractive profit for milling interests and others in a position to replace May at the heavy discount prevailing for new crop wheat. The first cargo of corn for shipment from Chicago at the opening of lake navigation was purchased today.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 3.—(AP)—The stock market was a pale and unimpressive affair today.

Speculative enthusiasm appeared to have been quenched by the sharp decline of the previous session, but bears as well as bulls were cautious. Price trends were in the main order but changes were narrow, and principal shares held fairly steady. Trading slackened. The market was inclined to pay more attention to earnings statements, dividend actions, and trade news than of late. Traders were rather apprehensive over tomorrow's weekly steel trade reviews.

Utilities amusements, chemicals and several industrial specialties were under considerable pressure.

North American, United Carbon, Columbian Carbon, Purity Baking, Western Union, Case, Johns Manville, Remington Rand and Montgomery Ward were among issues losing 2 to 3 points. Losses of a point or so were numerous embracing such issues as U. S. Steel, General Electric, American Telephone, Radio Corp., Warner Bros., Paramount, B. & O., American Water Works and National Power and Light.

Comment on the business situation by Gerard Swope, president of General Electric, who said that he expected conditions to get "no worse" although he did not think sentiment should get "too buoyant" summed up the attitude of several important interests in the financial district, which appears to have tempered speculative sentiment.

Credit conditions were still a little firmer, with the month-end settlements taking up he slack in the call loan market. There were no funds offered in the outside market under the loan desk rate of 1 1/2 per cent.

Panama Mourns General Jadwin

Panama City, March 3.—(AP)—Panama's army and navy today mourned Lieutenant General Edgar Jadwin, retired chief of the army engineers, who died at the Gorgas hospital at 5 P. M. yesterday after a cerebral hemorrhage.

His body, with that of Major General Leroy Irwing, who died at Port of Spain recently, will be taken back to the United States aboard the transport St. Mhiel, leaving here today.

General Jadwin was 65 years old and was a native of Honesdale, Pa. He was graduated from West Point in 1890. He immediately went into the Engineering Corps. He became a Lieutenant General upon retirement in 1929.

China's Round-up Clearing Country of Red Brigands

Hankow—(AP)—The great bandit round-up in China is in full swing with Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the Nationalist government, as general foreman of the drive. And the general is getting much better results than his many critics thought he would when he started, early in the winter, on his campaign to stamp out brigandage and communism in old Cathay.

General Chiang gave himself and his subordinate commanders three months in which to complete the job. Whether he will exterminate bandits and communists in that space of time is a matter for the soothsayer, but in any event he has made progress.

Hankow business men, able for the first time in a year to send goods into the interior without the fear of having them seized by marauders maintain that what Chiang has already accomplished has justified his campaign.

More real progress has been made in Hunan than in the other four provinces of Fukien, Kiangsi, Honan and Hupeh.

In some sections of Hunan, overrun by communists and bandits for two years, not a red flag is to be found and village folk are returning to their homes from Hankow and other cities where they took refuge. There also is a noticeable improvement in commerce on the Yangste river. The government's capture of Hukow and Chaling, near the eastern border of Hunan, was a body blow to Gen. Ho Lung and his Red army. His original force of 12,000 has been cut in half and the remnants, say military reports, have split into small bands.

COMPLAINED TO A FRIEND

She Said To Take Cardui, and "It Made All the Difference In My Health."

Poplar Bluff, Mo.—"For a long time I suffered with pains right across my back," writes Mrs. F. M. Boatwright, of 839 Park Avenue, this city. "I had nervous headache and sometimes I could not sleep. "When I began to take Cardui I began to feel better. I was complaining to a friend how bad I felt. She had been taking Cardui and she told me to try it, so I did. Before that, I just could not relax, and I got very little rest at night. "I took Cardui for several months and it made all the difference in the world in my health. I felt stronger and better than I had in many a year. "I recommend Cardui to other women when they suffer from weakness and bad health. "Thousands of women have been benefited by taking Cardui, and their experience prompts them to recommend it to their friends. Cardui is a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, and contains nothing harmful or injurious."
