TERMS OF NEW NAVAL ACCORD MADE PUBLIC

Technical Problems of European Naval Power Swept Away By Agreement

London, March 11.—(AP)—The terms of the naval agreement between Great Britain, France and Italy covering capital ships, aircraft-carriers, cruisers and submarines and bringing France and Italy into harmony with the London Naval Treaty, were issued today.

They were included in a memorandum prepared by Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, and A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, for parliament. An annex to the memorandum, giving the "basis of agreement," was understood to be virtually the text of the pact which smooths out the troubled European naval situation.

After achieving agreement at Paris and Rome the British delegates returned to London so that the terms could be submitted to the United States, Japan and the British Dominions.

When the accord is signed—a ceremony for which the date has not yet been fixed—the official text will be published as in the case of all such documents relative to world disarmament, and will thus be available for use in connection with the Geneva disarmament conference next year.

The essence of the Franco-Italian agreement is maintenance of the status quo in tonnage ratios. France retaining an estimated superiority of 150,000 tons.

This accord, in effect transforms the London naval pact into a five-power agreement and is based on the principle of continuance of the present Franco-Italian tonnage ratio until 1936, filling a gap in the London treaty by bringing the French and Italian fleets within the effective operation of the pact signed at St. James' Palace last spring.

The basis of the Franco-Italian agreement as outlined in the memorandum is the detaching of the limits of both the French and Italian building programs in all fleet categories until 1936.

It is estimated by naval experts that France will continue to hold a superiority about 157,000 tons over the Italian fleet, although this is not stated explicitly in the memorandum.

The memorandum states agreement has been reached by the three nations on all points. Terms of the settlement are dependent upon the approval of all signatories to the London pact, including the United States and Japan.

Under the new accord France and Italy accept all provisions of part three of the London naval treaty which they declined to approve last spring.

The building provisions give both France and Italy the right to complete before December, 1936, two capital ships whose displacement shall not exceed 23,333 tons and whose gun calibre shall not exceed 12 inches.

Each nation may build 34,000 tons of aircraft carriers.

These two categories, capital ships and aircraft carriers, are regulated by the Washington treaty.

As for vessels whose tonnage is regulated by the London treaty, the Henderson memorandum says that neither France nor Italy will build any more submarines other than for compliance of their 1930 programs and for replacement of overage tonnage.

France and Italy agree that after completion of the 1930 class they will build no more big cruisers—those carrying armament larger than six inch guns. This clause is effective during the life of the present agreement.

In the small cruiser category the two nations agree that tonnage of new construction to be completed shall not exceed the tonnage which is replaceable in this category before December 31, 1936.

JAIL BREAK IS NIPPED IN THE BUD HERE

Officers Discover Six Hackers in Plot to Saw Out of County Jail

An attempted wholesale jail delivery was "nipped in the bud" at the county jail yesterday when one of the prisoners divulged plans of the ringleaders.

Officers upon investigation found six back saw blades which were being used by both colored and white prisoners in an effort to saw their way to liberty.

The ringleaders in the plot were centralizing their efforts on bars back of the white cell, and had it not been for the timely interference of officers it is probable the majority of those seeking liberty would have had it in short time.

Officers were unable to offer any explanation as to how the prisoners obtained the saw blades, but it is presumed that they were slipped in by some visitor. An investigation was under way today to ascertain true facts in the case and attempt to effect the apprehension of the guilty parties.

Attempted jail breaks have occurred frequently at the jail the last several years, but this is the first time that prisoners were found in the possession of such effective implements with which to gain their freedom. In former cases iron bars were used, and in one or two instances ringleaders succeeded in getting out, but were later apprehended. The largest of the breaks occurred about six months ago when seven men escaped. The majority of them were later captured.

Bitter Weather Still Holding Sway In Europe

London, March 11.—(AP)—There was no sign today of a break in the bitter winter weather which has gripped most of Europe since last week. France, Germany, Austria and the British Isles continued to experience exceptional low temperatures and heavy snowfalls.

Although some places in England reported higher temperatures others recorded temperatures of below zero. Renewed snowstorms thickened the already heavy snow. Scotland and northern England have vast drifts and roads are blocked.

Pitt Taxpayers Urged to Take Part in March On Capital Thursday

Pitt County taxpayers have been urged to join the march on the State capital tomorrow in the interest of tax relief. The Reflector this morning received the following telegram from Charles F. Cates, president of the Farmers' Alliance and W. Kerr Scott, master of the State Grange, regarding the matter:

"We urge a large delegation of farmers and home owners to come to Raleigh Thursday, March 12, at 3 P. M. for a meeting with the finance committee in the House of Representatives to support the McLean School Bill to maintain schools from other sources than taxes on land. This matter is urgent on account of recent developments."

Taxpayers Asked to March Upon Capital and Demand Relief From Tax Burden

Tax Relief and Farm Organizations Call Upon People to Make Mass Appeal Before Legislature Tomorrow Afternoon; To Protest Against Repeal of School Bill

Raleigh, March 11.—(AP)—Land owners and tax payers today had been called upon by the North Carolina Tax Relief association, the Farmers' Alliance and the Grange to march upon the state capital tomorrow for a mass appeal for tax relief.

Calls for the march on Raleigh were made by Larry I. Moore, of New Bern, president, and Frazier Glenn, executive secretary in the name of the tax relief organization.

Charles F. Cates, president of the Farmer Alliance, and W. Kerr Scott, grand master of the state Grange, sent out hundreds of telegrams to farm leaders urging that large delegations be sent to the capital.

Glenn, in sending out his appeal from Asheville, estimated that "600 land owners" would join "the march to Raleigh" for a hearing before a finance committee of the General Assembly.

One of the purposes of the movement was to protest against efforts to repeal the MacLean school bill providing for state support of schools. Another objective was to block attempts to delay the quadriennial valuation of property for taxation until 1933.

Moore, who issued his appeal from Raleigh, said the organized movement was an important one "to the end that the legislature may know that the people are unwilling that the power companies and tobacco companies and other powerful organizations shall continue to avoid their just contribution to the state revenue."

"The telegrams sent out by the farm leaders said:

"Our homes and farms are burdened beyond endurance. We must have relief. It can come only if we are ready to fight for it. We appeal for a full mobilization of the embattled farm owner and home owner in Raleigh at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon."

YOUTH GUILTY SLAYING GIRL

Virgil Kirkland Faces Term in Prison for Murder of His Own Sweetheart

Valparaiso, Ind., (March 11.—(AP)—Life behind the barred walls of the state prison at Michigan City loomed ahead of Virgil Kirkland, 20 year old steel worker of Gary, Ind., today.

The former high school gridiron star was convicted last night by a Porter county jury of murdering Arlene Draves, 18, his sweetheart, during a "flaming youth" drinking party at an obscure Gary home last November.

The jury of nine farmers, a railroad telegrapher, bricklayer and a grocer, finished 12 days' work by finding him guilty of first degree murder and fixing his sentence at life imprisonment.

Judge Grant Crumpacker will formally sentence Kirkland on next Monday.

The jury deliberated only three hours. With their verdict, the tense waiting of the rest of the five youths, charged with Miss Draves' death, was over.

Leon Stanford, second of the five, was brought here from Crown Point yesterday and lodged in a cell adjacent to that occupied by Kirkland. The other three, Paul Barton, David Thompson, and Henry Shirk, are confined at Crown Point. None will be tried soon, according to Lake County's prosecutor, Robert Estill.

SEEK PROBE OF ACTS OF THE MAYOR OF N. Y.

Citizens Demand Investigation of Official Activities of James Walker

New York, March 11.—(AP)—Mayor Walker was under bombardment today by citizens demanding that his official acts be investigated.

Already Magistrates' courts and the county district attorney are under official scrutiny. The mayor appoints magistrates. The district attorney is elected.

In a letter drafted for submission to the legislature, the Society for the Prevention of Crime asks that Samuel Seabury, already conducting two inquiries for Governor Roosevelt, be empowered to inaugurate a sweeping investigation of the municipality, aiming at the removal of Mayor Walker, who is on the way to California on a vacation.

While Samuel Marcus, counsel for the society, refused to divulge the charges, newspapers understood they accused the mayor of non-feasance in office without reflecting on his personal integrity.

A citizen's committee of one thousand to support such a cause as proposed by the anti-crime society is being formed by the citizens' union, headed by William Jay Schleffelin. Its objects would be to crystallize public opinion, to aid the spotlighting of official corruption and to inspire confidence in timorous citizens who might furnish evidence.

The New York City Congressional Club, representing 42 congressmen, has adopted a resolution urging Governor Roosevelt to take "such steps as he may deem wise to take to correct evils at city hall. The association asked the Greater New York Federation of Churches to marshal religious sentiment "in a demand for honesty throughout all departments of the city government."

Alexander Pantages Charged With "Love Bazar" Complicity

San Diego, March 11.—(AP)—A whirlpool of charges growing out of the investigation of a "love bazar," in which school girls allegedly were procured at high prices for men of wealth today engulfed Alexander Pantages, theatre magnate who still is fighting a conviction of having attacked Eunice Pringle, young dancer, in August, 1929.

James H. Shreve, prominent San Diego business man; John P. Mills, Los Angeles and San Diego real estate millionaire; William Jobelmann, former publicity agent, and Olive Clark Day were named with Pantages in a complaint issued by District Attorney Thomas Whelan.

The complaint and another, charging Shreve, Mills, Jobelmann and the woman with four counts involving a girl, was the outgrowth of an investigation of the activities here of an alleged "girl mart" recently exposed in Los Angeles and Mrs. Day.

SAYS WOMEN MUST FIGHT FOR DRY LAW

Virginia Woman Urges Conference to Take Up Challenge of the Wet Element

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—America is at the crossroads of the prohibition question and womanhood must "take up the challenge of the wets and fight to the last ditch in order that the constitution and the home shall stand sacred and inviolate," Mrs. Frank N. Mann, Huntington, W. Va., declared in an address prepared for delivery here today.

Selected as the only woman speaker to address the Anti-Saloon League's southern convention, Mrs. Mann, former Democratic National committeewoman from West Virginia, urged womanhood to join in an organized fight for prohibition enforcement and "not fall this cause of righteousness at this critical moment."

"The issue places in the balance the very life of our form of government," she declared. "The safety of Democracy is in her hand. She must declare herself the friend of either law or liquor. There is no middle ground."

"The torch of the old crusader is in her hand and she will hold it high. She will not break faith with those who through weary vigils and sleepless nights climbed that rugged road to victory and held aloft her torch of triumphs."

Says Privilege Rotting Heart of Civilization

Statesville, March 11.—(AP)—An assertion by Senator Josiah W. Bailey that privilege is "now rotting the heart of our civilization" was before the North Carolina Daughters of Revolution here today at their 31st state conference.

Coupling his attack on privilege with a biting criticism of misquid-pacifism, Senator Bailey in an address last night said both were contrary to the spirit of the revolutionary fathers.

He held that privilege had enveloped the nation that "there is a large and growing group that demands that the government take over everything and administer it for their benefit."

"Is America," he asked, "to become a nation of dependents? Is this nation to become a sort of Santa Claus for all its citizens?"

"The government has never existed," he asserted, "that can by taxation maintain its population."

Taking up the question of pacifism, the senator said: "A people who have no will to fight, who do not keep themselves prepared for war, will pay with their lives the price of the heritage of the revolution."

Election of officers was one of the important items of business on today's program of the conference. Two candidates were in the field for the state regent's office. They were Mrs. Sidney P. Cooper, of Henderson; and Mrs. T. C. Turnage, of Farmville.

Pari-Mutuel Bill Gets Approval Of The House After Stiff Opposition

Raleigh, March 11.—(AP)—Bearing final endorsement in the House, the Reed bill to allow operation of pari-mutuel betting machines in Buncombe county in connection with races was sent to the Senate today.

The bill passed the House without a roll call today but is expected to meet strong opposition in the upper house. Yesterday the House debated the bill and a vote showed 67 for it and 40 against.

The Senate at first skipped its special order, the Whedbee-Nixon bill to create a state insurance fund to administer the workmen's compensation act, but came back to it after passing the McKee bill to regulate the shipment of native growth out of the state for ornamental purposes.

Charging the Whedbee-Nixon bill to create a state insurance fund to administer the workmen's compensation act "is loosely drawn and not applicable to North Carolina," Senator Johnson of Duplin, launched a bitter attack on the measure.

The bill, copied after the Ohio law, was vigorously defended by Senator Grier of Iredell and Senator Umstead of Orange, himself an insurance man.

Under the measure all insurance under the workmen's compensation act would be issued by the state. Employers would pay their insurance premiums to the State Insurance Department.

Senator Grier, defending the bill which is described by opponents as "monopolistic," said its adoption would not place the state in the insurance business.

"To establish a state insurance fund is but the next logical step since the state has decreed the compensation act must be carried," the Iredell senator said. "If the state is to say to the employer you

Nebraskan Tells Conference of Republicans and Democratic Independents That Big Companies Are Trying to Force False Issue In 1932 Campaign; Warns of the Dangers of Partisanship

Washington, March 11.—(AP)—The power issues was projected to the fore today by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, in opening the two-day conference of republican and Democratic Independents.

The Nebraskan who fought President Hoover asserted the "combination" controlling the nation's power supply aims to boss both the Republican and Democratic National conventions with a view to fighting the 1932 race "on a false issue."

Norris disclaimed any political purpose in sponsoring the meeting but warned that "partisanship is one of the greatest evils of a Democratic form of government."

He elected President Hoover's proposal for power regulation by the government and demanded Federal operation and control of this industry which he said has organized into "the most gigantic, far-reaching and comprehensive monopoly which has ever been devised by the mind of man."

Reviewing the condition of the nation which prompted the conference, the gray-haired Nebraskan said:

"We believe that your united judgment will go far toward building up a sentiment among the American people which will demand not only Congress but of public officials everywhere, such governmental and human relief as will bring prosperity again to our country."

Of problems other than power, Norris said little except to mention evils besetting agriculture and labor.

"The farmer gets too little and yet the consumer has to pay too much," he asserted.

"American agriculture, already suffering from a tariff which was too high on most of its products the farmer had to buy, was given a tariff by those who had promised to bring relief which was still higher and still more burdensome."

The list of "members registering" with the Progressive conference today showed 9 Senators in addition to the five who called the meeting.

It showed 16 members of the House, including representatives of both parties.

Such a group if welded into a working unit, would easily wield the balance of power in the Congress meeting next December in which the two parties are almost evenly divided.

and 12 Senators were: Democrats: Frazer, and Nye of North Dakota; Blaine, Wisconsin; Brown, Hart, Iowa, and Schall, Minnesota.

Democrats: Bulkley, Ohio; Walsh, Massachusetts; and Thomas of Oklahoma.

Farm Labor—Shipstead, Minnesota.

Senators Norris, Nebraska, LaFollette, Wisconsin, and Cutting, New Mexico, Republicans, and Wheeler, Montana, and Costigan, Colorado, Democrats, called the meeting.

Senator Borah of Idaho will speak before the conference but he was not listed as a member.

The House members were: Republicans—Belieu, Brown, and Schneider, of Wisconsin; and Christgau and Seivig, of Minnesota; Campbell, Iowa; Shielair, of North Dakota; and Swing, California.

Democrats—Allard, Huddleston and Patterson, of Arkansas; Ayers, Kansas; Carter, Wisconsin; Chrysler, Ohio; Rankin, Miss.; and Parsons of Illinois.

District No. Eight Votes to Hold Next Session In Tarboro In April

Greenville nurses were hosts to District No. Eight of the State Nurses association in the regular meeting held in the Parish House of the Episcopal church yesterday afternoon. The occasion was described as one of the most delightful in months. The nurses voted to hold their next meeting in Tarboro the second Tuesday in April.

Miss Zelota Cobb, of Wilson, president of the district, presided. After the regular business session, the nurses were read an interesting paper on "Premature Infants," by Dr. Tom Watson.

Mrs. Blanch Cherry, who is connected with the Rosewood clinic in this county, gave an entertaining description of the work, showing that good results were being obtained.

A delightful musical program was rendered by Misses Agnes and Carolyn Fullilove with Miss Ona Shindler as accompanist.

Members of the senior class of Pitt Community hospital were guests of the organization.

Four local nurses filed application for membership.

Delicious refreshments were served by ladies of the Episcopal church at the conclusion of the session.

Members of the organization expressed their appreciation to members of the Episcopal congregation for their kindness in tendering the use of the building for the session.

The weekly meeting of the Junior Hi-Y will be held tonight at eight o'clock in the Junior room of Shepard Memorial Library. C. W. Shuff, Fifth street, was winner of the first prize, and will be awarded a one month's pass to the theatre.

Mrs. Irma C. Dunn, Fourth street, won second prize and will receive a two weeks' pass to the State.

Winners of the third, fourth and fifth prizes, two tickets each to see the picture, "It Pays to Advertise," were: Mrs. C. W. Shuff, Mrs. W. L. Hall, T. P. Willard.

The prize winning essays follow:

First Prize

"Advertising is the modern service, through which consistent and truthful advertisers build confidence, not only in merit of their wares but of faith in good will that insures honest value satisfaction. No other investment produces comparable results, for equal cost outlay."

"Advertising is the 'world's show window'."

C. W. Shuff.

Second Prize

Why It Pays to Advertise—Advertising is the best medium through which the public may be reached. Ads catch the eye, draw the crowd, cause people to know the advertiser has faith in his product and the buyer is assured of value received. Advertising shows co-operation, an asset to any business. Thus, it pays.

Mrs. Irma C. Dunn.

Third Prize

"Advertising takes the guesswork out of buying. It does away with unsatisfactory uncertainties. As it is, you can make up your shopping list in a few minutes, and buy with confidence instead of suspicion—knowing that consistently advertised goods must maintain standard quality."

"Truth in advertising has come to stay."

Mrs. C. W. Shuff.

Fourth Prize

It pays to advertise, because: 1—It brings a product before the public. 2—It stimulates interest by stressing good points of the product and awakens the individual to its need. 3—Advertising reaches to the uttermost corners of the earth. 4—It brings results, as seen in the gigantic success of many well-known and widely-advertised goods.

Mrs. W. L. Hall.

Fifth Prize

It pays to advertise. The life of any business depends upon advertising. Through advertising, you convince the public that you can supply their needs to their advantage.

Through advertising, you can speak to thousands, acquainting them with your regular and special offerings and cause the public to make a beaten path to your door.

Japan's Growing Grip on Mindanao Alarms Filipinos

Zamboanga, Mindanao, P. I.—This island of Mindanao, second largest, and one of the richest in the Archipelago, holds within its shores some of the most pressing problems of the Philippine government.

It is the land of the Moros who in themselves have always been something of a problem. The other two chief factors in bringing the island into prominence are the Japanese and the move in the United States to restrict Filipino immigration.

A few months ago Filomen Perez secretary of commerce and communications in the Philippine cabinet, and Rafael Alunan, secretary of agriculture and natural resources surveyed the island and reported to Governor-General Dwight F. Davis that the rich Davao hemp district had become virtually a Japanese colony.

The Japanese, they said, have acquired large land holdings, almost monopolized the trade of the district, and increased in numbers to 12,000 within a few years.

The report opened the eyes of Filipinos to the fact that if they did not themselves develop Mindanao, some one else would.

The island is, in fact, something of a frontier. Potentially it affords a wonderful outlet for the developing Filipino people, but thus far little has been done to take advantage of it.

It has been figured that if enough Christian Filipinos can be persuaded to take root here, it will help to relieve population pressure in the crowded portions of the Archipelago, and at the same time have a salutary effect upon the Moro, who has been more or less of a thorn in the flesh for 300 years.

RECOMMENDS PRICE PLAN DURING WAR

Former Secretary Baker Opposes the "Freezing" of Prices At Outbreak of War

Washington, March 11.—(AP)—Elimination of profiteering by "freezing" all prices at the outbreak of hostilities was opposed today by former Secretary of War Baker before the war policies commission.

The man who was at the head of America's military establishment during the World War recommended, instead, a gradual process of price fixation after the outbreak of hostilities similar to the program carried out by the war industries board of 1918.

Baker also opposed proposals to draft capital or labor declaring the former would be unwise because it would produce "almost a revolutionary disturbance" and the latter would be "unsound."

He said modern war "is essentially a process of improvisation" and therefore only a limited amount of preparatory legislation can be enacted.

"During the World War," he said, "we were more embarrassed by the laws that had been passed than by the absence of law."

The former war secretary said he thought the proposal advanced by Bernard M. Bauch, former chairman of the war industries board to "freeze" all prices at the outbreak of war would be unwise because it would fail to take into consideration local conditions.

He cited the policy followed during the last war of "price control through leadership" as a more practical proposition. Under this plan the government would consult with the heads of an industry in regard to economic conditions before fixing the prices for that industry.

Representative McSwain, Democrat, South Carolina cited large profits made by steel companies and read from testimony taken by House committees of officers in one company taking bonuses that amounted to $2,000,000 during a single year to hide the profits of that concern.

Miss Grey not only reviewed the book but added much interest to the program by telling in a graphic way many instances that happened years ago in her own family, when her ancestors were among the pioneer settlers of Iowa.

At the conclusion of the program tea and sandwiches were served.

RESOLUTIONS ON THE DEATH OF MRS. J. L. WOOTEN

In the death of Mrs. J. L. Wooten the End of the Century Club has lost one of its best beloved and most complete members and in point of service one of its oldest, as Mrs. Wooten became a member of the club in the first year of its organization some thirty years ago.

Mrs. Wooten slipped away in the early morning hours of February 22nd, after a brief illness of three or four days. She went so quickly and so unexpectedly that we are unable to realize that she has left us for all time. The sorrow of her passing falls heavily upon us and we offer in sincere love and affection these resolutions:

That the club has lost a faithful and devoted member who responded to its every call for service; that the members of the club have lost a warm personal friend;

That we extend to her husband and daughter our deepest sympathy and pray that God of all love may sustain and comfort them in their sorrow.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and a copy be placed on the minutes of the club.

Round Table Club Meets. Miss Nellie Denney entertained the Round Table Club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Eighth street.

The lovely spring flowers added beauty to the spacious living room into which we were invited as the hostess greeted us at the door in her usual happy manner.

Mrs. W. A. Ryan was introduced and together with Mrs. S. B. Underwood, we were delighted to have them as our guests.

Mrs. R. L. Smith, newly elected president, quickly dispatched business in order that more time might be given to enjoy a most interesting address by Mr. A. D. Frank of East Carolina Teachers College, on "Political Parties in the United States and Their Principles." Never before had this subject been so well portrayed.

He gave the history of the two parties which he designated a party machine of today, telling how they originated and were named, changing names later on. He proved there was little difference except the tariff plank.

Showing that principles do not make the party, he gave an example of a woman who essayed to vote for principle but proved the contrary on the day of election by asking the name of the man of her chosen party, instead of ascertaining the principle involved.

He then gave a little insight of Tammany Hall machine and how it became powerful under Aaron Burr.

Mr. Frank presented this subject so clearly and cleverly that we gained more knowledge of it than we ever had. It was a treat to hear him.

Another distinctive pleasure for the afternoon was the singing of Mrs. E. W. Griffin. She sang three selections by request, "The Sentinel Asleep," by Arthur J. Lamb; "Smiling Through," and Irish song; and "The Star Spangled Banner."

Miss Denney was assisted by Miss Athlene Edwards and Mrs. Austin in serving the usual cup of tea over which we lingered long.

END OF CENTURY CLUB HOLDS MEMORIAL MEETING FOR MRS. WOOTEN

The End of the Century Club held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. S. McGeechey on Pitt street.

Mrs. Arthur, the president, called the meeting to order and stated that the program would be dispensed with and that the only business to be transacted would be the election of officers for the ensuing year, beginning April first.

Mrs. Robert H. Wright submitted the report of the committee on the nomination of officers in which the following were recommended: President, Mrs. J. L. Fleming; second vice-president, Mrs. E. B. Ficklen; secretary, Mrs. J. B. Spilman; treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Meadows; custodian, Mrs. E. W. Harvey; reporter, Mrs. W. S. Harden. These officers were unanimously elected.

The latter part of the meeting was devoted to a short memorial service for Mrs. Wooten, whose death occurred since last regular meeting in February.

Mrs. Arthur made a short talk in Mrs. Wooten when she brought out Mrs. Wooten when she brought out the richness of Mrs. Wooten's life as a wife and mother and a friend and neighbor.

Miss Davis read a set of resolutions. Following a song "Beyond," rendered by Miss Bessie Brown, Mrs. Arthur closed the meeting with the reading of a little poem, "Father, Into Thy Tender Keeping."

HOLMES, 90, OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes (right), in the robing room of the United States supreme court, Washington, received the congratulations of Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes in observance of his ninetieth birthday.

THE THINGS I LOVE.

I love the birds that sing all day, I love the squirrels at their play, The rabbits that go hopping by, The willows as they sway and shiver, I love the rippling little brooks, I love the cozy, shady nooks, The stars that wink and blink at all, The lonely pine that grows so tall, I love each thing both great and small, But I love the Maker best of all.

SMALL TOWN SENDS FIVE CAPTAINS TO MISSOURI SPORTS

Columbia, Mo. —(AP)—Odessa, Mo., with fewer than 2,000 inhabitants shines as a producer of University of Missouri athletic leaders.

In the last generation Odessa has sent five of its sons, including two captains this year, to the helm of Tiger aggregations.

Lenoard McGirl, the 1930 grid leader, and Hubert Campbell, basketball co-captain brought honor to Odessa when they were chosen as Missouri's only representatives on The Associated Press Big Six eleven.

On the occasion of last fall's Missouri-Kansas classic their home town closed up shop and migrated en masse to a reserved section in the Columbia stadium.

The other Odessans on head Tiger teams were Jesse Campbell (not related to Hubert), cage captain in 1918; W. E. Bumgarner, 1916 baseball captain, and Frank Thacher, football captain back in 1910.

THE substantial worth of the new Ford is reflected in its good performance, economy and reliability. Its stamina and endurance are particularly apparent in sections where bad roads and severe weather put a heavy extra burden on the automobile.

In less than a year a new Ford Tudor Sedan was driven more than seventy-three thousand miles over a difficult route. The operating cost per mile was very low and practically the only expense for repairs was for new piston rings and a new bearing for the generator.

The car carried an average load of 1200 pounds of mail and was driven 250 miles daily. "The Ford has never failed to go when I was ready," writes one of the three mail carriers operating the car. "The starter did the trick last winter even at 34 degrees below zero. The gas runs about 20 miles per gallon. At times I pull a trailer whenever I have a bulky load."

Many other Ford owners report the same satisfactory performance. Every part has been made to endure — to serve you faithfully and well for many thousands of miles.

Eaker Fails In Attempt To Fly Across Continent

Tolu, Ky. March 11.—(AP)—The wreckage of a swift Lockheed Vega monoplane, capable of flying more than 225 miles an hour, lay in the marshes of the Ohio river bottoms, today, marking the end of a projected transcontinental flight planned to break existing speed records.

Captain Ira Eaker, army pilot who left Long Beach, Cal., early yesterday on a non-stop flight to New York in an attempt to better the record held by Capt. Frank Hawks, had covered approximately 1,725 miles when the fuel pressure of the plane failed.

He scratched and bruised his face and hands in the forced landing made early yesterday afternoon, an could not extricate himself from the plane for a half an hour. He said he was traveling at an altitude of 12,000 feet and at a rate of 235 miles an hour when the trouble occurred.

Findings No Evidence Criminal Negligence In Duplin Tragedy

Raleigh, March 11.—(AP)—The report of L. G. Whitley, state penal inspector, today set forth he had been unable to find any evidence of criminal negligence on the part of any individual in the Duplin county prison, which was burned 11 days ago.

Whitley, who investigated the fire, reported to Mrs. W. T. Best, commissioner of public welfare, that he believed the direct cause of the fire was defective wiring and "lamed" system which tolerates the incarceration of individuals in buildings which are not fireproof.

ABOUT TOWN

In discussing the subject of citizenship, local luncheon clubs are implanting in the minds of their members a desire to render a higher type of service to their fellow-men.

Monday evening two speakers discussed the importance of improved citizenship at the Rotary club, showing conclusively that it is something which every deserving man and woman should strive for. Citizenship does not mean merely living as a law-abiding citizen but that everybody may strive to prove of help in the establishment of higher moral standards for the public generally.

If the clubs did nothing more than inspire members to a higher program of living they have accomplished something definite in the advancement of humankind.

With the firing of the opening gun in the municipal election which will be conducted in this city May 4th, the citizenship from now on will have something to think about in the question of the men they desire to serve them in the capacity of mayor and aldermen.

Although no candidates have announced themselves for aldermen, Mayor Lanier is already opposed by Roy Flanagan, who tossed his hat into the ring yesterday. Much interest is always centered around the city election, and it is expected a large vote will be piled up as contestants for the offices begin calling on their constituents for support.

The employment of every kind of euphemism imaginable will not make less conspicuous the many unsightly spots about the city which members of the Woman's club and other organizations are trying to improve.

These places have been nothing more than eyesores to the public for years, and their improvement would do much toward realization of the program for the beautification of Greenville. Numbers of such places have been improved recently, but considerable work yet remains to be done before they are entirely eliminated.

It is to be hoped the Woman's club will continue hammering away at their campaign until Greenville has been metamorphosed into the most beautiful city in eastern Carolina.

With the clash over the 18th amendment reverberating in virtually every nook and corner of the nation comes the statement that members of the Anti-Saloon league will launch a concerted drive in behalf of prohibition in the next Presidential campaign.

The action ostensibly was precipitated by a recent statement by the chairman of the Democratic National committee that state control of prohibition should be made a part of the Democratic platform in the next campaign.

It would be needless to attempt to paraphrase what the members of the Anti-Saloon league have said about their campaign. It is sufficient to say that they mean to present the merits of the 18th amendment to the public and attempt to convince everybody that it has proved a salvation of the American people.

The proposal for the union of Stokes and Forsyth counties is holding attention of members of the legislature this session, but whether it will receive favorable action remains to be seen.

If petitioners count for anything it seems that the citizens of both counties are in favor of the proposition, thousands having signed the petition recently presented to the General Assembly.

Whether or not the annexation of the two counties would prove satisfactory is a matter of much conjecture, but it would not be amiss to let them go ahead with the experiment. It would either prove or disprove the assertion that two counties can be conducted more economically than under separate administration.

If you favor tax relief on land be in Raleigh tomorrow. Thursday the 12th and protest against the repeal of the McLean school bill. If you are a land owner and stay at home don't blame the sheriff when he sells your farm or your home for taxes. If the land owners are in Raleigh tomorrow to protest against the repeal of this law the Legislature will not dare repeal it but if they stay home the bill will either be repealed or so modified that little if any relief will come to the land owner. One thousand men ought to go to Raleigh tomorrow from Pitt county to demand that the McLean bill stand as it is and that land be relieved from tax for the six months school term.

If the land owners in large numbers go to Raleigh tomorrow it means tax relief to them, if they stay home it means loss of homes and farms for taxes. Which will it be?

Jury Selected to Consider Charges Against Denison

Washington, March 11.—(AP)—A jury of eight men and four women chosen in District of Columbia Supreme Court today to hear charges of liquor possession against Edward E. Denison, former representative from Illinois.

Opening arguments for the government, Irving Goldstein, assistant district attorney, said he would prove that one of three trunks brought back from Panama by Denison in January, 1929, contained 18 bottles of whiskey and six bottles of gin.

Everett Sanders, of defense counsel, who was former secretary to President Coolidge, told the jury in his opening arguments that the trunk in question and a leaky suit case found in a local express office were delivered to Denison's rooms in the House office building "through some inadvertence" and did not belong to the former representative. Denison, who was defeated in the last election while serving his eighth term in Congress, was in the court room.

College Merger to Be Considered

Charlotte, March 11.—(AP)—The merger of Rutherford and Weaver Colleges, both supported by the Methodist church in North Carolina, is expected to be effected through negotiations now well under way. Dr. W. W. Peelle, chairman of a special committee appointed by the Western North Carolina and North Carolina Conferences announced today.

The matter will be considered at a meeting of the Weaver board of trustees in Asheville March 17. Dr. Peelle, pastor of the First Methodist church here, said he had heard no report that Davenport College, women's institution supported by the church, had been considered in the merger proposal.

Reports that Davenport might be included in the merger gained currency after the unexpected resignation of Rev. W. R. Jenkins, D. O., as president.

Dr. C. H. Trowbridge is president of Weaver College and E. P. Billups heads Rutherford.

Schroeder Murder Trial Nears Close

Indianapolis, March 11.—(AP)—The murder trial of Harold Herbert Schroeder approached its close today with final arguments by attorneys.

The state yesterday dealt a blow to Schroeder's technical plea of insanity, when two physicians appointed by the court reported the Mobile, Ala., garage man is "unquestionably of sound mind" and was sane at the time an unknown hitch-hiker's body was found burned in his automobile near here last May 31.

Prosecution attorneys contend Schroeder killed or wounded the man, and then set fire to the body. Defense counsel has stressed Schroeder's story that the hitch-hiker died of a broken neck received when his car went into a ditch in Illinois, and that he returned to a sport near Indianapolis and set fire to the body for fear he would be accused of murder.

Durham, —(AP)—Trial of C. B. Calvert, Baltimore attorney, charged with using a hotel room for immoral purposes in connection with the suicide leap of Mrs. Truette Daniels here last week, has been set for Friday.

ATHLETICS OUT TO TAKE 1931 FLAG

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
Fort Myers Fla., March 11.—(AP)—Age has begun to creep into the joints of the Athletics. The machine that has steam-rolled its major league baseball opposition for two straight seasons shows some signs of wear and tear, but for fear this is taken as a tendency to "view with alarm," let it be said here and now that the six main reasons for the Athletics remain sound in body and spirit.

Reading merely from left to right, these reasons are the 68-year old but exceedingly alert pilot, Connie Mack, Aloysius Harry Simmons, probably the greatest present-day outfielder, James Fox, the flogging first baseman, Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, number 1 backstop of the major leagues, Robert Moses, Grover and George Livingston Barnshaw, the two-man pitching staff. In the absence of some of these vital cogs, such as Simmons and Barnshaw, who are training at Hot Springs and to relieve some of the other, ambitious youngsters have been working in the light blue of the A's. They may as well cavort to their heart's content now, for when the race starts next month, Mr. Mack will send out to the umpires the same line-up that finished the 1930 world's series triumphant, except that Grover may be on the mound instead of Barnshaw.

Mack is content to stand pat for 1931 and the bid to make it three consecutive pennants. Indeed, there is no reason for him to plan otherwise. Joe Boley's arm has come along slowly in spring training and Max Bishop has been laid up temporarily with a leg bruise caused by a ball thrown from the outfield. The veteran key-stone pair, however, figure to start, although Bib Williams at short and Frank Higgins, Texas boy, at second base have been given plenty of chance to develop.

The infield is well fortified elsewhere in reserves, with Phil Todd, late of the Red Sox, to sub for Fox and Eric McNair as understudy for Jimmy Dykes at third.

Blind Miller, Simmons and George Hearn form the outer patrol. They leave little to be desired unless it is more punch from the latter's part.

Behind the bat, Cochrane's probable relief man, the rare occasions when one is needed, will be John Heving, obtained from the Red Sox on waivers.

George (Suede) Walberg gives every indication of a return to form, in which case Mack's staff may be expanded to a "big three." Roy Mahaffey, the big right-hander who came through handsomely in his first league season, is counted on for a regular turn. Eddie Rommel and Texas Bill Shore will do any odd pitching chores needed.

Harmon New Coach At Pennsylvania

Philadelphia, March 11.—(AP)—Harvey J. Herman, director of athletics at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., is the University of Pennsylvania's new football coach.

Announcement by Dr. LeRoy Mercer, new dean of physical education, that Harmon had been chosen head coach and named a member of the faculty in accordance with Penn's revised athletic policy was published today. Harmon, 30 years old, learned his football at the University of Pittsburgh ten years ago under the tutelage of Glenn Warner. He coached at Harvard college for eight years and went to the University of the South last year. His contract there had two more years to run, but he was released at Pennsylvania's request.

The faculty-coach idea is a part of an athletic plan announced several months ago by President Thomas E. Gates after dismissal of Coach Lud Wray. Under the new program football teams will omit spring and summer practice and there will be no training table or training house for athletes. Dean Mercer succeeds the former council on athletics.

Harmon is to receive a salary in line with those paid to professors—anywhere from $5,000 to $10,000. He will work on a full-time basis and his title probably will be that of professor of football.

FIRE DESTROYS FOUR HOUSES AT CORNELIUS

This Game of GOLF

By O. B. KEELER

A friend of mine, who does not play golf, and who occasionally voices an objection to what he is pleased to call its over-emphasis in the papers and in general conversation, asked me recently how it came about that people were such nuts about the game, and why there were so many nuts.

He also suggested that he would be glad to know how long the thing had been going on, in the United States; and how its growth had compared with other games or sports.

It so happened that another friend of mine—I detest research work—had been through Atlanta a few days earlier; a man connected with one of the great golf ball manufacturers; a man who simply dotes on statistics, especially those connected with golf. And it so happened that I had made a few notes while talking with this golf ball man.

So I dug up the notes and read them off to my other friend and when I got through he said: "On second thought, I will not set down what he said. But he was surprised."

I was little surprised, myself. It seems that 44 years ago, in the spring of 1887, one Robert Lockhart, an imported Scot, struck a golf ball, at that time made of "solid gutta-percha" across the "sheep meadow" in Central Park, New York, with a driver made for him some years earlier by Old Tom Morris himself.

This is said to have been the first golf ball struck in the United States, though the Savannah Golf Club will dispute that at 20 paces. Anyway, it got Lockhart pinched, but the judge let him off with a reprimand, because there was nothing in the ordinance book about striking a golf ball and the judge did not know what a golf ball was, anyway.

This, as I have said, was 44 years ago, the St. Andrews Golf club of Yonkers was formed, with seven members, Lockhart being the most active, and John Reid the president. The dues were $5 a year.

By 1894, the membership had grown to 20 the dues were $25 a year; and there were nearly 40 golf clubs in the United States.

The first open championship was held at Newport, October 4, 1895, and was won by Horace Rawlins, with 173 strokes for 36 holes.

At this time baseball, football and tennis all were well and widely established in this country. Golf had just started.

Today, there are 5,980 golf clubs in the United States, with a total capital investment of more than $80,000,000, and from three to four millions of persons playing it or going through the motions.

Golf has more players than all the other outdoor sports combined—where between wind and water.

Of all the sporting equipment sold in the United States last year, 361-2 per cent was golfing equipment. Somebody bought 2,500,000 dozen golf balls and 3,200,000 clubs in 1930.

In a word, every 13 minutes since November 1887, one or more persons has started playing golf, or trying to play golf, in the United States.

Seems a bit odd it should have been at 3-minute intervals.

News From The Training Camp

New Orleans, March 11.—(AP)—Wes Ferrell is one star who isn't afraid of work. In fact, he's the hardest worker in the Cleveland Indians camp. Reporting half an hour early, his program runs like this: A sprint around the park, shagging balls in the outfield for an hour, another jaunt around the park, ten minutes warming up, ten minutes pitching to batters, more outfield work, and a final dash around the park.

Tampa—Although Sidney Weil, president of the Cincinnati Reds, said there was no talk of a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals after he had spent a day in the Red Birds' camp, he immediately went into a huddle with Scout Jimmy Williams.

Sacramento, Calif.—Three recruit outfielders will be in the Detroit Tiger lineup in the opening exhibition game with the San Francisco Seals Friday. They are Frank Doljack and Harvey and Gerald Walker.

St. Petersburg—The eminent Arthur (Dazzy) Vance, still a hold out, is getting a lot of work done in the Brooklyn Robins' training camp but not necessarily to put him in shape for the coming season.

"I'm just getting in shape for what turns up," says the Dazzy.

San Antonio, Texas—Whether or not the new ball leads to the return of "inside baseball," John McGraw's New York Giants will be prepared. McGraw is devoting plenty of time to the sacrifice and the hit-and-run.

Bradenton—Frankie Frisch and "Chick" Hefey still were missing from the Cardinals' training camp here today, but President Sam Breadon and Manager Gabby Street felt confident both would be on hand soon.

West Palm Beach—Relay races have become regular part of the St. Louis Browns' training program. Manager Bill Killebrew believes the races will improve the "wind" of his Athletics.

Paso Robles—Eddie Phillips, the hustling catcher obtained by the Pittsburgh Pirates from the champion Athletics during the winter, has just about clinched a regular job for himself.

Avalon—Today was the Chicago Cubs' last day of training on Catalina, and the final contest of the intercamp series was up for decision.

San Antonio—Johnny Watwood, White Sox outfielder and first base man, apparently has become more vicious rather than placid, since being benched by Pat Malone in the Chicago City series last fall. Watwood yesterday produced two doubles in an intercamp game.

Biloxi, Miss.—Manager Walter Johnson doesn't yet know who will be the pinch hitter for the senators.

Petersburg, Fla.—Manager Bill McKechnie has one less worry today. Freddy Maguire has recovered from lumbago.

Pensacola—The first break in the Boston Red Sox squad will come today when Bill Marshall, infield candidate departs for Nash ville.

St. Petersburg—The New York Yankees will take time out from

POLO SEASON AT AKIN DRAWS NATION'S STARS

Aiken, S. C.—(AP)—The opening of the polo season here early in March is the signal for many leaders of the game to bring their best ponies out for spirited matches. Tommy Hitchcock and Devereux Milburn are here this year and will be headlines in many of the tri-weekly games. Others here for the season include George H. Mead, honorary treasurer of the United States Polo Association; Milton McCoy, F. H. Post, Regan McKinnney and Walter B. Eaton. Pete Bostwick is expected to enter competition for the Hitchcock and Iselin cups late in the month. Winston Guest and Harold E. Talbot also may come. All the fields here are in the best condition.

EMANUEL RE-ENTERS RING TO MANAGE OWN CAMPAIGN
San Francisco—(AP)—Armed

Emanuel, barrister-boxer who dropped the pursuit of law to enter the ring and gravitated back to legal practice after a clip on the jaw by Mickey Walker has announced his intention to try to come back as a fighter. Emanuel formerly fought as a light-heavyweight but now weighs around 200 pounds and will train in the upper division. His father managed him before but this time Emanuel says, he will manage himself.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, March 11.—(AP)—Cotton opened 2 to 6 points lower today in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables and a renewal of liquidation which seemed to be coupled with some local and southern selling.

Uncertainty as to the extent of acreage reduction was again considered responsible for a good part of the selling which sent prices off to 10.85 for May and 11.39 for October by the end of the first half hour or about 10 to 12 points net lower. Liverpool cables said that there had been Manchester buying in that market supplied by Bombay selling and the easier ruling of Egyptian, but reported an increased inquiry for cotton cloth for India. Liverpool was reported a seller in the market here, especially in the distant positions during the early trading. Offerings were absorbed by covering and trade buying on a scale down.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 11.—(AP)—After equalling season low price records for wheat, rallies took place in the grains late today. About 160,000 bushels of United States wheat were reported disposed of to Antwerp, Belgium, and Marseilles, France. An advance in the wheat price basis paid by Farm Board allies amounting to 1-2 cent at Kansas City and 1 cent at Minneapolis was announced.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 11.—(AP)—Reduction of the dividends of the New York Central Railroad took the wind out of bull sails in the stock market today.

This reduction from $8 to $5 on the day succeeding the flotation of a large bond issue came as a surprise to some quarters, although it was well known that current earnings did not support the higher rate, and bankers pointed to the action as a striking commentary on the imprudent credit of this old Vanderbilt foad.

Losses of 1 to 7 points or more became fairly general among more active issues as the day wore on, but it was notable that stock was not urgently pressed for sale and principal issues were well taken on the way down.

New York Central stock showed a loss of more than 2 after the dividend announcement. Other carrier issues were depressed, Union Pacific losing 7, and Atchafson 4. Byers, a recent pool favorite, was a weak feature in the industrials, losing 6 points. U. S. Steel and American Telephone were among issues losing 2 or more. There was a temporary upturn in the morning, Auburn rising 5, and McKeesport moving up 3 to the year's best price.

Freight car loadings, as reported for the last week in February, reflected the holiday, but index figures of freight movement, making allowance for that and for seasonal trends, showed a decided upturn.

Indication of improving conditions abroad appears in pronounced strength of the Berlin Bourse and continued gains in Latin American exchange rates. Silver continued to improve in London.

Call money came back to 11-2 per cent, after renewals at 2.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 11.—(AP)—After equalling season low price records for wheat, rallies took place in the grains late today. About 160,000 bushels of United States wheat were reported disposed of to Antwerp, Belgium, and Marseilles, France. An advance in the wheat price basis paid by Farm Board allies amounting to 1-2 cent at Kansas City and 1 cent at Minneapolis was announced.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 11.—(AP)—Reduction of the dividends of the New York Central Railroad took the wind out of bull sails in the stock market today.

This reduction from $8 to $5 on the day succeeding the flotation of a large bond issue came as a surprise to some quarters, although it was well known that current earnings did not support the higher rate, and bankers pointed to the action as a striking commentary on the imprudent credit of this old Vanderbilt foad.

Losses of 1 to 7 points or more became fairly general among more active issues as the day wore on, but it was notable that stock was not urgently pressed for sale and principal issues were well taken on the way down.

New York Central stock showed a loss of more than 2 after the dividend announcement. Other carrier issues were depressed, Union Pacific losing 7, and Atchafson 4. Byers, a recent pool favorite, was a weak feature in the industrials, losing 6 points. U. S. Steel and American Telephone were among issues losing 2 or more. There was a temporary upturn in the morning, Auburn rising 5, and McKeesport moving up 3 to the year's best price.

Freight car loadings, as reported for the last week in February, reflected the holiday, but index figures of freight movement, making allowance for that and for seasonal trends, showed a decided upturn.

Indication of improving conditions abroad appears in pronounced strength of the Berlin Bourse and continued gains in Latin American exchange rates. Silver continued to improve in London.

Call money came back to 11-2 per cent, after renewals at 2.

PARI-MUTUEL BILL GETS APPROVAL OF THE HOUSE AFTER STILL OPPOSITION

must insure your employees it ought to provide the means whereby they can do so at the smallest cost." The Senate also passed two more bills to supplement the local government act on second reading. One provides a manner for validating notes, bonds and indebtedness of units and the other allows extension of special assessments. The House killed the Halstead-Thompson bill to require the highway commission to mark the center of all paved highways.

Approval, with an amendment, was given the Clement bill to promote safe driving and enforce the collection of judgments against irresponsible automobile drivers by the House. The bill must go back to the Senate.

The House constitutional amendments committee approved the Whedbee Senate bills to set up machinery for rewriting the constitution by the commission method but after a public hearing no report was made on the Cherry anti-synicalism bill by another group.

Discovering a contradiction in the bill, the Senate recalled the Blount-Lawrence measure requiring a state wide drivers' license and replaced it on the calendar.

As passed earlier this week one section of the bill would allow municipal and county officers to issue drivers' licenses without charge while another section stipulates that non-owners be charged $1.00 biennially.

The bill will be taken up again to straighten out the fault. A sub-committee of the House finance committee was instructed to draft a revenue bill, including a general sales tax plan, to raise $13,000,000 annually for schools.

The House committee, acting alone since the dissolution of the joint finance committee of the Senate and House, by a vote of 14 to 2, adopted the Day general sales tax plan last night.

This measure is estimated to raise more than $9,000,000 annually. The sub-committee is to include additional franchise taxes on corporations and a consumers tax on electricity, gas, telephone and telegraph service for the $4,000,000 balance.

The sub-committee to draft the school revenue bill is composed of Representatives Connor of Wilson; Day of Onslow, author of the general sales tax bill, and Hanes of Forsyth.

The $13,000,000 annually the House committee voted to raise last night adds to the $6,500,000 provided for schools in the budget revenue bill. The cost of the school with an equalization fund for extended terms is estimated at $19,500,000 annually.

The Day general sales tax plan, as it is now drawn, levies a graduated scale ranging from 1-2 of one per cent on sales under $10,000 annually to 3 per cent on sales over $500,000 annually.

The sub-committee is empowered to alter these rates in any way so as to provide the needed revenue.

Smoke a FRESH Cigarette!

Cigarettes in prime condition have a moisture content of about 10%. It will be seen by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory Chart that cigarettes in the ordinary wrapped package lose more than half of their total moisture in thirty days and that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition

THE whole country is talking about the throat-easy mildness and the prime freshness of Camel Cigarettes in the new Humidor Pack.

The above chart prepared by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory tells you why.

Please examine it carefully. It is an unfailing guide to cigarette selection and enjoyment.

As you can quickly see by the three upper curves on this interesting chart, cigarettes that lack the protection of the Humidor Pack lose their moisture rapidly from the day they are manufactured.

And day by day as this moisture disappears, the smoke from these cigarettes becomes harsher, hotter, more unkind to the smoker's throat.

Not so with Camels!

The Humidor Pack is moisture proof and sealed air-tight at every point. It protects the rich, flavorful aroma of the choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos of which Camels are blended.

Make these tests yourself

It is so easy to tell the difference between parched dry cigarettes and fresh prime Camels that it is no wonder everybody is reaching for a fresh cigarette today.

Your fingers identify stale, dried-out tobaccos at once. While a Camel is flexible and pliant.

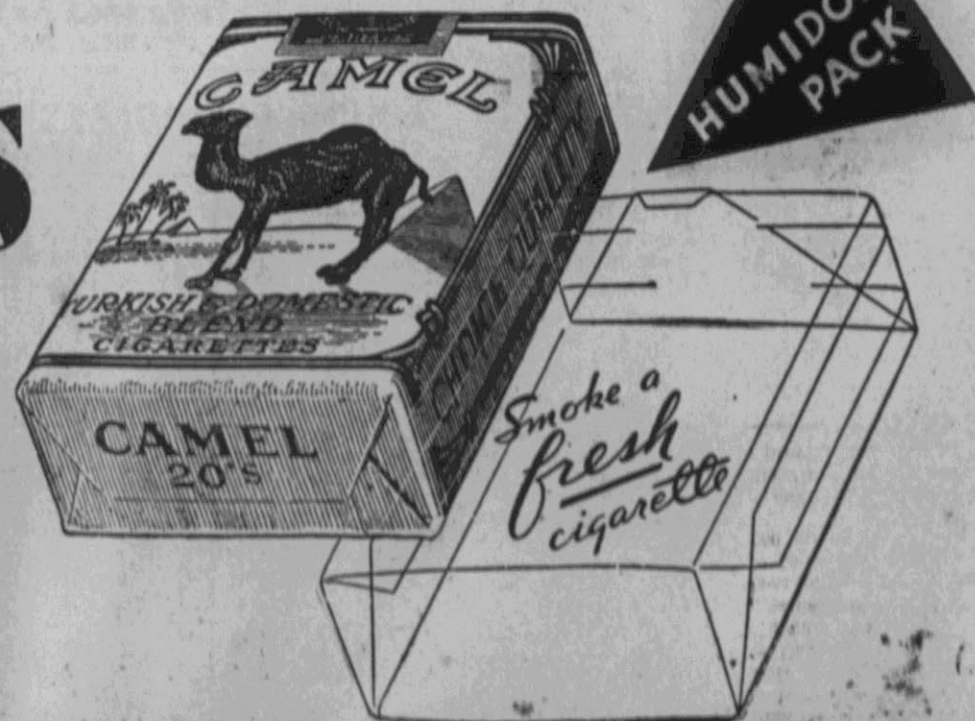

Your ears can tell the difference too. For a dust-dry cigarette crackles under pressure.

But the real test is taste and there is simply no comparison between the rich mildness of a Camel and the hot, brackish smoke from a stale, dry cigarette.

Switch to Camels just for today then leave them tomorrow if you can.

CAMELS

Artificial heat in houses and apartments soon dries the moisture out of cigarettes wrapped the old fashioned way. It is the mark of a considerate hostess, by means of the Humidor Pack, to "Serve a fresh cigarette." Buy Camels by the carton — this cigarette will remain fresh in your home and office.
