PRES. HOOVER PRAISES WORK OF PORTO RICO

Lauds Progress of Island in Address Before Gathering of Native Leaders

San Juan, Porto Rico, March 24. (AP)—Standing before Porto Rico's assembled native leaders, President Hoover today joined in praise of the island's progress with an acknowledgment of the "grave problems" confronting it.

He named as one of these the danger of the population increasing more swiftly than the means of livelihood furnished by available and established industries.

The Chief Executive rose early this morning to appear before the island legislature, pledging the support and co-operation of his administration toward continued Porto Rican progress.

Porto Rico, President Hoover said has in the course of a "single generation emerged from stagnation to a high place in the march of progress," and constitutes today "a magnificent example of what a capable and intelligent people may accomplish under free institutions."

"I know of no finer achievement," Mr. Hoover said, "than that of the people of this island who from their gaining wealth have built up from a few public schools with but 25,000 scholars at the time of the occupation to a great system of several thousand schools, colleges and universities, which today gives instruction to over 200,000 scholars."

The President praised the efforts of Governor Theodore Roosevelt to secure new channels of livelihood for the island's increased population. He said the two other principal problems—one engendered by the hurricane of 1928, the other by the business depression—were "but passing events in our history."

Washington, he said, is "sensible of these many serious difficulties." He pointed out that the Federal government had contributed more liberally to Porto Rico than to individual states, adding that the island not only was included in the American economic system, but had received government contributions for public works, roads, education and public health.

The President said in part: "Our nation is proud of the progress made by the people of Porto Rico. Endowed with liberty, freedom with self-government and individual opportunity through incorporation under the American flag, the island by the efforts of its citizens and the co-operation of this whole United States has in a single generation emerged from stagnation to a high place in the march of progress."

"I know of no finer achievement than that of the people of this island who from their gaining wealth have built up from a few public schools with but 25,000 scholars at the time of the occupation to a great system of several thousand schools, colleges and universities, which today gives instruction to over 200,000 scholars."

"You are temporarily suffering not alone from the aftermath of the devastating hurricane of 1928, when a tenth of all the property of the island and a much larger percentage of the tools of livelihood were destroyed, but you are involved with us all in the worldwide business depression. Day couraging as these disasters may be for the moment we know that they are but passing events in our history."

"In Washington we are sensible of these many serious difficulties, with which you are struggling at the moment. We also realize not only these difficulties with which you are confronted, but we realize also your possibilities for future progress. This administration has given proof of the continued solid support of our citizens on the mainland for your welfare by the measures recommended to the Congress and authorized by it. It has been the policy of the Federal Government to contribute even more liberally to the development of Porto Rico in this period of her upgrowth toward freedom and liberty than has been given to our states."

"Not only has the island enjoyed the invaluable privileges of full inclusion in our economic system but all of the Federal revenues from the island have been assigned to the island treasury and now a large measure of the Federal welfare services in public works, public roads, education, agriculture and public health, are being extended to the island without cost to its people."

"Basically what we are all striving for in our economic life is to provide, for all of our citizens on this island as well as the mainland, the opportunity to gain for themselves and their families by their own effort a fair and adequate livelihood."

"We wish to see every Porto Rican (Continued on page two)

SURVIVORS OF VIKING REACH PORT

St. John's, N. F., March 24. (AP)—The sealer Sagona, victor over the ice, pierced the darkness of the early morning hours today and steamed into St. John's port. She bore survivors of the Viking, some sick, one dead.

There were no shouts of greeting no bustle as the ship berthed. A silent crowd watched, with the prime minister and the minister of marine and fisheries.

Stretcher bearers worked swiftly, silently. Loaded ambulances began to depart as soon as the gang plank was down.

Eager ears listened for first hand stories of the Viking's fate, how she exploded on Sunday night, March 15, eight miles off Horse Island, White Bay. The stories came reluctantly.

At 8 o'clock that fateful Sunday the crew of the Viking were below singing hymns. The sealer, making (Continued on page two)

MAN ADMITS TRAIN HOLDUP

Birmingham, Ala., March 24. (AP)—A confession that he was the man who held up a train just outside of Birmingham, Ala., March 14 and took $4,500 from a railway express car was made by Arthur Burnap, 26, Chief of Detectives Norton said today.

Burnap, the police said, was traced here by railway express detectives after he had been arrested here on suspicion. Chicago police reported they found a gun in his possession.

Norton said the prisoner named three men as accomplices, asserting one of them engineered the robbery while the other two helped him to escape.

Birmingham, Ala., March 24. (AP)—A warrant for the arrest of S. J. Brock, Louisville & Nashville Railroad trainmaster, for the hold-up and robbery of an express messenger on a L. & N. train near here March 14, was sworn out today by L. H. Jackson of the Birmingham police bureau of identification.

The warrant for Brock's arrest was issued after two others implicated by Arthur Burnap in a confession in Chicago last night, were taken into custody. They gave their (Continued on page two)

GERMANY AND AUSTRIA SIGN NEW ACCORD

Economic Union Looked Upon With Distrust by Members Pan-American Com.

Paris, March 24. (AP)—The economic union projected by Austria and Germany today stole the thunder of the Pan-American committee meeting to consider further phases of Aristide Briand's scheme for an economic union of all Europe.

Members of the Briand committee assembled in an atmosphere of some distrust of the proceedings at Berlin and Vienna, and of suspicion that the projected Austro-German accord is the first step toward a political union of the two countries in violation of the peace treaties and the Geneva protocol of 1922.

The text of the accord, which is subject to ratification of the two parliaments, was made public in Berlin and telegraphed here. Its features are clauses which proclaim the equality and independence of the two nations and their willingness to have other nations join them in the union.

As seen here the effect of the accord will be to give Germany free and favored access to the markets of Austria, accomplishing the chief advantage of making German goods available to Austrian citizens at a lower price level than has been the case. If the union could be extended to certain of the Balkan countries the advantage to Germany would be inestimable.

Briand was elected temporary president and the membership of the union was extended to include Belgium, Norway and Estonia, because of the large hydro-electric power project which these countries are backing to extend across Europe.

Belgium introduced a proposal for securing equal treatment of foreigners in all countries, claiming that this fell under the scope of the union, and another proposal which would require any country which decides to increase its tariffs to notify immediately all the other members.

DR. WRIGHT IS ROTE SPEAKER

Stresses "Service" Before the Regular Weekly Gathering of Local Club

Emphasizing the transcendent importance of service in national life, Dr. R. H. Wright, president of the East Carolina Teachers college, delivered the principal address at the regular weekly meeting of the Rotary club here last night.

Referring to the meeting of the railroad officials and employees in this city the latter part of the week, the speaker called attention of the Rotarians to the service and friendship of the common carriers of the nation.

"Service," he declared, "is motivating big business throughout the country, and the spirit of service is the one bright spot in the period of gloom pervading the world."

Adjustment to the individual responsibilities of the age is the one big problem confronting the people in all walks of life today, he asserted.

Individual responsibility must come to the entire nation before service, in the true sense of the word, becomes more general than it is at the present time.

He expressed belief that the nation will continue to develop higher responsibility for individual and personal responsibility.

The program was in charge of J. H. Blount, chairman of the Service committee of the club, and J. H. Waldrop presided. The usual song and program was enjoyed.

TAKE STEPS FOR ARREST OF COL. LEA

Capias Issued for Three Tennessee Bankers At Asheville Today

Asheville, March 24. (AP)—Capiases for the arrest of Luke Lea, Nashville financier, Luke Lea, Jr., his son, and E. P. Charlet, treasurer of the Tennessee Publishing company will be sent to Tennessee tomorrow morning in bonds for the three defendants, indicted a week ago on charges of violating North Carolina banking laws, are not furnished by tonight.

It was announced this morning in the office of Solicitor Zeb V. Nettles.

Bonds had not been arranged at 11:15 o'clock this morning and Solicitor Nettles indicated that he had no definite assurance they would be at any time in the immediate future.

Meanwhile, Gen. Albert L. Cox, of Raleigh, who came to Asheville yesterday presumably to arrange bonds, continued to hold conferences with various attorneys in Asheville and to say he had no announcement to make.

Capiases for the two Lea and for Charlet are now in the hands of Sheriff Laurence E. Brown. The sheriff has received instructions from the solicitor to forward the capias to Tennessee tomorrow for service.

A bond of $10,000 is asked for the elder Lea, and $5,000 is asked for his son and for Charlet.

The three Tennessee defendants are charged with conspiring with Wallace B. Davis, president of the Central Bank and Trust Company, to defraud the bank of approximately $890,000 by wrongful use of certificates of deposits, cashiers checks and drafts.

Trial in Superior court is scheduled at a six-weeks special term which will begin here on April 27.

Nashville, Tenn., March 24.—Relations between departments of state and Colonel Luke Lea, newspaper publisher, and Rogers Caldwell, former financier, were again under the scrutiny of the legislative investigation committee today after a two-weeks' recess.

The committee first sought more information on the closed Liberty Bank and Trust company here in which $350,000 of state money was deposited when it failed. Nearly $5,000,000 of state funds are in four of the "Lea-Caldwell" institutions.

The first witness called for today was M. D. Johnson, assistant cashier of the Liberty bank.

BELVOIR MAN ARRESTED IN MURDER CASE

Five Others Held As Material Witnesses In Death of Henry Abrams

Raymond Stancill, 30, of the Belvoir community, was held in the Pitt county jail today charged with the murder of Henry Abrams, whose body was found in the front of a church in the Monkey Den section Saturday two weeks ago.

Five other men, one white and four colored, were also being held in connection with the crime. They are Thomas Hathaway, white, and Sam Lawrence, Buster Dowell, Dave Foreman, Francis Bullock, colored. All six men were arrested by sheriff's officers yesterday following investigation which has continued unremittingly since the murder was committed.

Officers said Stancill would be charged directly with the crime, while the remainder of the group would be held purely as material witnesses. Two of the party, however, will be formally charged with participation in the illicit whiskey traffic as result of evidence uncovered during the investigation.

A coroners jury which began inquiring the night the crime was committed is expected to complete hearing sometime in the near future, or as soon as officers have signified they have finished with their investigation. It was said this morning other arrests might be made.

Officers said they arrested Stancill following information that Abrams' body had been seen in Stancill's home a short time after the murder occurred. This led to the opinion that Stancill then hauled the body down the road to the church, about half a mile away, and then dumped it on the highway.

It was Stancill who discovered the body and reported it to the police about three hours after the crime was believed to have been committed. It was also stated that information had been obtained that Abrams was in Stancill's company the last time he was seen prior to his death.

Abrams, employee of a construction company erecting the new school building at Belvoir, received his pay Saturday afternoon, and told friends he was going to visit relatives, who reside in the same vicinity. His body was found on the highway three or four hours later. An ugly wound in the head led officers to believe the man had been a victim of highwaymen. This suspicion was confirmed upon the (Continued on page two)

RAY BRILEY LAID TO REST

Former High School Athlete Buried With Honors of National Guards

Ray Briley, former high school athlete, who died Sunday night, was buried this afternoon with honors of the North Carolina National Guards.

Funeral services were conducted from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey Briley on Fourth street at 3 o'clock by Rev. W. A. Ryan, pastor of the Eighth Street Church of Christ, of which the deceased was a member.

The body was then carried to Greenwood cemetery where a detachment from the local unit of National Guards, sounded taps and fired a salute as the body of the young man was being consigned to its final resting place.

Briley, who died from self-inflicted wounds early Monday morning, was considered one of the outstanding athletes of this section, two years ago he won the distinction of being one of the best backfield gridiron men in Eastern Carolina.

As a member of the Greenville high school football team several years ago, he played a stellar role and enabled his teammates to occupy an enviable position in the conference series.

LEGISLATURE WILL PROBE N. Y. AFFAIRS

Resolution for "Thorough-going Investigation" Adopted By Both Houses

Albany, N. Y., March 24. (AP)—The affairs of the City of New York are to be investigated by a legislative committee.

A resolution calling for a "thorough-going" investigation was adopted early today by a strictly party vote in both houses of the legislature after prolonged debate in which the Democratic minority vigorously assailed the proposal, while the Republicans, for the most part sat quietly by, secure in the knowledge that they had enough votes.

The action of the legislature followed closely upon the announcement of Governor Roosevelt that he had forwarded to Mayor Walker of New York now visiting at Palm Springs, California, a copy of the charges preferred against him, by the city affairs committee headed by John Haynes Holmes and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, with a request that any reply the mayor desired to make be transmitted to the governor as soon as possible after the mayor's return to New York.

The resolution calls for the appointment of a legislative committee of seven members. Three of the committee will be members of the Senate and four will be members of the Assembly. They are empowered to make a most searching investigation of all departments of the city government and of the inferior courts. They are to report their findings, with recommendations for remedial legislation, not later than February 1, 1932, are granted $250,000 for expenses.

The preamble of the resolution declared that the limited investigations into the departments of the municipal government, the departments of the government of the counties comprising the greater city and the inferior courts of the city had revealed conditions "that have impaired public confidence in the efficient and honest administration of the government of the said city."

The resolution became law upon adoption of the bill by both Houses, inasmuch as it did not require the governor's signature as in the case of other legislation.

Wilson Tobacco Man Kills Himself

Wilson, March 24. (AP)—Ben H. Cosart, prominent local tobacco and fertilizer distributor, died in a local hospital today from a bullet wound in the head, apparently self-inflicted. He was 55 years old.

Cosart was found unconscious in his home by a neighbor late yesterday. Mrs. Cosart, who had been visiting in Jacksonville, Fla., returned today.

A note Cosart had written was found in his home. It was said it direct funeral arrangements he desired, but was not made public.

In Special Message to Legislature, O. Max Gardner Also Declares Himself Against "Any Legislative Program That Finds This Principle of Taxation Necessary to Sustain It"

Raleigh, March 24. (AP)—Governor Gardner announced himself as "unalterably opposed" to any form of a sales tax and to "any legislative program that finds this principle of taxation necessary to sustain it" in a special message to the North Carolina General Assembly today.

He recommended "that so much of the MacLean bill as cannot be carried out without a sales tax be eliminated from its scope and purpose."

Standing room was at a premium in the hall of the House of Representatives as the governor delivered his message.

There was little applause during the delivery but at the conclusion members of the assembly and the galleries vigorously applauded the message.

Neither house accomplished any work before hearing the message. The Senate heard a debate on starting consideration of the congressional re-districting bill at once but set it as a special order for Wednesday night. The Seavell bill was set as a special order for Wednesday morning by the upper house.

The Senate passed the Johnson bill relating to fees to be paid by chiropractors but adjourned after passing the message without taking up the administration bill to consider the boards of trustees of the University of North Carolina, North Carolina College for Women, and North Carolina State College.

The House again resolved itself into a committee of the whole this afternoon to study the revenue bill. The governor spoke to a joint meeting of the House and Senate on the MacLean school law which committed the General Assembly to support the six months school "from sources other than ad valorem taxes on land" and the House revenue bill. "The talk was radio-cast."

The House revenue bill, estimated to raise between $7,000,000 and $29,000,000 annually is now before the House as a committee of the whole. It includes a general sales tax plan to raise approximately $9,000,000 annually for schools, necessary to carry out the mandate of the MacLean law.

"I am thoroughly convinced of the unwisdom of the adoption of the policy of levying any form of a sales tax," Governor Gardner said. "It is my profound conviction," he added, "that we would do a serious injustice to the great body of citizenship in our state, immediately and for the future, if we should establish this basis of taxation, fundamentally unsound in principle, and should incorporate it into the revenue system of the state."

"It assuredly offers a average relief for the average property owner. It relieves those whose ownership of property is well above the average and gathers from those who are below the average or who own no property at all. I am unalterably opposed to the principle of taxation, and to any legislative program that finds it necessary to sustain it."

"In speaking of the luxury sales tax plan, which has been mentioned in connection with school support, Governor Gardner said: "The same reasons that condemn a general sales tax have their application to the selection of articles of common use among the whole body of citizenship of the state, and the designation of such articles as luxuries. It seems to me a narrow comprehension of the subject to designate such articles as luxuries."

Governor Gardner said he was generally understood he did not encourage the passage of the MacLean bill, and "I hope it is equally as well understood that I did not discourage its passage."

"I did not encourage its passage," he said, "because I did not know of any means by which this tremendous additional obligation could be financed without imposing other forms of taxation more grievous and burdensome than the tax relief that would be granted by it."

"I did not know of any reasonable means by which a further additional sum of $12,000,000 per year of state revenue could be provided. I did not discourage the passage of the MacLean bill because I entertained as much anxiety as any member of this General Assembly to lighten the burden of property taxation in the state, and if this General Assembly could, within the realm of reasonable taxation, find the revenue to sustain the MacLean bill, I was ready to give my full support. ## Wealthy Pennsylvanian Believed to Have Starved to Death in Everglades

Miami, Fla., March 24.—(AP)—Following a trail of bent twigs and broken bark deep into the everglades, Seminole Indians early today found the body of Thomas H. Wentz, 47, wealthy Norristown, Pa. inter victor who disappeared on March 6.

He had been dead about 10 days. There was no evidence of violence. Officers and Indians said they believed Wentz became lost, and weakened through lack of food, starved to death.

Identification was made positive through a ring which Wentz was known to have worn when he left Westmoreland, Pa., 30 miles south of here, for an automobile drive to Miami.

The body was found about a mile from a farm house where he might have found refuge, and some distance away from the point where his automobile was found March 21.

Harry Wentz, a brother, went to take charge of the body.

Search for Wentz began in earnest more than three weeks ago when Harry Wentz, his brother, and John Deitra, his attorney, posted a reward of $5,000 for trace of him, dead or alive.

Spurred on by the reward, officers and individuals extended the search through a wide area, not only in Florida, but in other states to which it was believed he might have gone. Reports that his battered car had been found came from as far away as North Carolina.

Chief Osceola of the Seminoles, joined the search today at the request of Detective Sergeant Eddie Melchen of Miami.

Cautioning officers to keep untrained trackers from leaving false trails in the everglades, Osceola and his men carried on their own search in their own way, to be rewarded early today by discovery of the body.

Norristown, Pa., March 24.—(AP)—First information that the body of her son, Thomas H. Wentz, had been found in the everglades of Florida, came to Mrs. Henry C. Wentz through press dispatches.

"I had hoped he would be found alive," said the mother. She added she had almost given up hope when the automobile was found without any trace of him last Saturday.

Wentz was unmarried and had inherited a considerable estate from his father.

"I earnestly hope that no sales tax in any form will be imposed on the people of North Carolina," the governor said. "And I therefore recommend that so much of the purpose of the MacLean bill as cannot be carried out without a sales tax be eliminated from its scope and purpose."

He cited the road law and the establishment of the local government commission as major land tax reduction issues passed by the assembly. He estimated these measures will bring about a state-wide average reduction in the ad valorem tax of 42 cents on the $100 valuation.

The messenger, F. Meyer, was held up as the train was leaving Magalia, a Birmingham suburb.

Her stomach is easily upset. I have found that giving her Black-Draught tea will relieve her quicker than anything else."

"My whole family takes it for constipation and biliousness. It is a good thing to take it occasionally, to keep the system clean. I give it to my children for bad colds."

Mrs. Riley says that when her children had whooping cough and needed a laxative, she gave them Black-Draught to keep their bowels open and they did fine."

MacLean Group Firm For State Support Of School System

Raleigh, March 24.—(AP)—Representative Angus MacLean, author of the MacLean school law, said today upon conclusion of Governor Gardner's special message to the General Assembly that he and his group fighting for full state support of the six months schools are "firm as ever."

It is conceded that the MacLean law would necessitate a sales tax, the principle of which was bitterly assailed by the governor. Under the law the schools would be supported by means other than an ad valorem tax. "In consideration of taxation the fundamental matter is distribution," MacLean said, "a tax must not be destructive to its subject matter and must be equally distributed. Both these principles are ignored by the ad valorem levy. Both are contemplated in either the general sales tax or a luxury sales tax. "Any reasonable sacrifice is justified for the purpose of maintaining schools."

Senator Hinsdale of Wake, author of the Hindsdale "luxury tax" plan, which has been favored by many senators as against the Day general sales tax, which has MacLean backing, also said his position had not changed.

Explosion Wrecks Golf Ball Factory

Detroit, Mich. 24.—(AP)—Persons in adjoining buildings were thrown from their beds and windows were shattered for blocks around as an explosion and fire wrecked the factory of the Bon Dee Golf Ball Company, on the west side, late last night.

The explosion was caused by ignition of a 40-gallon tank of Naptha. officials of the company said. The inflammable liquid is used for cleaning rubber used in the manufacture of golf balls.

Stanley B. Nicholas, treasurer of the company, estimated damage at $100,000 and said that 75 men would be thrown out of work temporarily through destruction of the plant.

The blast shattered the rear wall of the McGraw Hotel nearby, and the flaming naptha set fire to nine residences. Families were driven from their homes and were cared for by neighbors for the rest of the night.

Only two men were injured. A. Asselin and Richard Cyriax, employees in the plant, were blown into the street. They were burned and bruised. Both expressed surprise that their injuries were so slight.

ABOUT TOWN

There seems to be no way to stop the epidemic of false fire alarms in Greenville.

The Board of Aldermen have offered a reward of $50 for information leading to the arrest and apprehension of the false alarmist, the police department has put its best sleuths on the job, yet the alarms continue.

Two were sent in from widely separated areas of the city Saturday night and the culprits escaped. It seems to be an easy matter to jump out of an automobile, send in an alarm and then get away unscathed at the disappointment of the firemen in their failure to find any fire to fight. One of these days however, somebody is going to fall into the dragnet of the police, and when the mayor gets through with him he will not feel like sending in another false alarm in many a day.

The practice not only proves expensive to the city, but it jeopardizes the life of the citizenship.

Something must be done to put a stop to the alarms even if a "spotter" has to be put on every corner in the city.

Central and Western North Carolina towns are preparing for this summer of baseball the real old league kind, while Eastern Carolina prepared to settle down to anything they can provide for in the way of the national sport.

While there is not the slightest change in the world of the formation of league ball in this section, it is quite probable some of the towns will get together, form amateur organizations and then arrange for some kind of schedule to provide diversion during the hot summer months.

There is nothing in the world like baseball when it comes to getting the public mind off of "hard times" and the other parts of the state, despite the cost of the operating the teams, should find the results beneficial.

Greenville tried to form an amateur circuit last season but for some unaccountable reason the towns could not get together on any definite schedule and the plan perished hardly before it was begun.

Baseball enthusiasts will welcome any kind of movement looking to a renaissance of the popular sport this season, and that the majority will support it both financially and morally, cannot be doubted.

Recent rainfall in this part of the state was a boon to farmers, and from now on planting will be pushed forward rapidly.

The rains furnished the ground with sufficient moisture to justify the planting of most any kind of crops, in the opinion of agricultural leaders, and before the month is over Pitt County growers will have their 1931 programs well under way.

Farmers should not forget the advice to plant more of the things which they consume at home. It is a foregone conclusion that the demand for money crops is not going to be any better than it was the past season, and this means only one thing—continued low prices.

By the production of the things home as home all the year around, the farmer will enable his family to get by in good style despite the price situation. The reduction of acreage brought about through this plan should also be conducive to improved prices for the money crops although the world market is bountifully supplied.

Three series of revival services will be conducted in the City of Greenville during the spring and summer months, and they will bring to the city men who occupy

An important niche in the religious life of the nation. That the public will co-operate with the churches in their effort to bring about a spiritual revival here is not to be doubted. Such results always have brought good service through the attracting of widespread interest among men and women in all walks of life. Although definite announcements have not been made, it is probable that other services will be conducted during the latter part of the summer, giving the city one of its most complete religious campaigns of all churches in years.

The Farm Board has given public announcement to its determination not to lend further support to the maintenance of artificial prices on the wheat market and has left two alternatives open to the farmer—that of reducing his crop for 1931 or accepting the world market price for his offering.

It is nothing in the world but a direct challenge to the farmer to shift for himself during the next year or so, and the grower that fails to accept the challenge will find himself with a big crop of wheat and heart-breaking prices. The wheat market, like several other commodities, is glutted until there is practically no demand for the offerings, and if the farmer does not awaken to the hand writing on the wall as suggested in the declaration of the Farm Board, then he has nobody to blame but himself.

Millions of dollars have been spent by the government in an effort to prevent deflation of prices, but the point has been reached when the funds to carry on the work are not to be had, and the only alternative is to call a halt and wait until supply is in keeping with consumption. It is the same old story of supply and demand and the law is so inexorable in this respect that it can not be violated for any considerable length of time without somebody having to pay the fiddler. And it is usually the farmer that pays.

SPORTS SLANTS

News From The Training Camp

The fluent typewriter of Dick Cullum, columnist of the Minneapolis Journal, contributes this significant slant to the sporting times:

"The turn in sports which had college football players going into the professional league and the wrestling trust, amateur tennis players going on to the professional circuit, professional boxing matches going into the bag and professional wrestling matches exploiting the hippodrome, is certain to bring on a reaction from the public and the press.

"It is clear that this turn from amateurism to professionalism and from professionalism to the hippodrome, is coming rapidly to a head. The whole structure is built upon a foundation that is none too strong. When the foundation begins to sag it will collapse utterly.

"The fan's interest in athletic competition is a clean and healthy interest and it will stand contamination without dying.

"The press is in the same position. It is willing to give the boys every chance but it will not be 'played for a sucker' any longer than it takes to complete the accumulation of evidence that is now pouring in from all sides.

"It is clear that professional sport has already passed its peak. The big cleanings have been made. The public mind is turning against it.

"There is only one way to salvation among the pros and that way lies in the direction baseball has already taken by its elevation of a czar to whom it has given limitless power and in whom the public has limitless confidence. The other sports must go that far, at least, or farther, for they are coming from farther back."

Jimmy Foxx, the robust young first baseman of the A's, is not talkative as ball players go, but Paul Olmes of the Fort Myers Press, recently pined Jimmy down to a serious discussion of assorted topics.

He discovered, he wrote, that Foxx "likes cigars, prefers to use an airplane to get quickly from one point to another but thinks going up in one just for the ride is taking too much of a chance. Doesn't like to speak especially well and balks at addressing a mixed group of high school students."

"He plays golf better than the average and possesses a terrific drive. He is 23 years old and has been in professional baseball since he was sixteen. He planned to enter college after his graduation from high school in 1924 but had an offer from a Class D team near his home in Easton, Maryland, and after playing with this nine for a few years was bought by the Philadelphia Athletics."

New Orleans—The Cleveland Indians will come back to New Orleans next year after all. Two weeks ago General Manager Billy Evans said the tribe would go to California next spring, but Governor-elect Huey P. Long got into action and the reversal of plans was announced at a dinner last night.

Fort Myers—Preparing to break camp here today and start homeward with the Philadelphia A's second string squad, Manager Mack said his only worry was about a pitching staff. He hopes to dig up another ace somewhere to go with Grove and Earnshaw, but admitted he hadn't found one.

St. Petersburg—Young hopefuls with the New York Yankees can breathe freely for a few more days. Manager Joe McCarthy has decided to withhold the axe until the Yankees' break camp here.

Winter Haven—Reports that Chuck Klein might be traded for Chick Hafey of the St. Louis Cardinals were laughed off today by Bart Shotton pilot of the Phillies.

West Palm Beach—Manager Bill Killefer of the St. Louis Browns, has had his sweet disposition utterly ruined by the inability of his players to hit and field on the same day.

Bradenton—With the exception of Chick Hafey, holdout, the St. Louis Cardinals today were at their full strength.

Los Angeles—The gloom which had hung over the Pittsburgh Pirates squad since their four-straight thumping at the hands of the Chicago Cubs had disappeared today and everybody was talking about yesterday's slugfest when the Bug hammered Los Angeles, 13 to 4.

Tampa—After several weeks of worry over his outfield, Manager Dan Howley of the Cincinnati Reds, believes his gardeners will give him little cause for concern henceforth.

San Antonio—There is real concern among Manager Donie Bush and all the Chicago White Sox over the condition or lack of condition of Tommy Thomas' pitching arm.

Thomas suffered with a kink in the arm last spring. He reported this spring with the news that the kink was gone and his performances to date indicate he is any better.

WARN AGAINST NEW JAIL RIOT

Prisoner Tells Legislative Committee the Danger Is Not Over At Joliet

Joliet, Ill., March 24.—(AP)—A warning has been sounded that there may be a resumption of disorders in the Illinois penitentiaries in which three convicts have already been killed in uprisings since March 14.

It was given before the legislative committee investigating unrest in the states' twin prisons by Joe Moran, a convict serving time for bank robbery, who charged that he had paid $2,000 to a member of a previous parole and parole board for his parole, but was rearrested after eleven months of freedom. He refused to give his name.

"Don't think this is the end," the witness said, in referring to the rioting in the old prison and the Statesville penitentiary. "The inmates didn't want to riot March 14 and they wouldn't have if it hadn't been for the stoolpigeon guards and inmates and their activity. Stoolpigeon guards brought on this riot and you haven't heard the last of it."

Moran's testimony yesterday given just before the committee adjourned to re-open the inquiry at Springfield today, was attacked by Thomas H. Cannon, a member of the recent board, who declared the convict was "telling only one side of the story."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Be it Resolved: That we regret that we have not had an opportunity to more effectively pay our tribute of respect and affection to the memory of our friend and comrade, the late John H. Browning, a man who was a friend to one and all with whom he came in contact. A good citizen, a brave soldier and an honest man. To us he was at all times the most delightful, pleasant, affable and agreeable.

We, his comrades and friends, only regret that we have not had an opportunity to more effectively pay our tribute of respect to affection to the memory of our comrade and friend.

Then, if we are wise, we buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and safely and surely expel the worms. Thus we avoid the danger of very serious trouble. # Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, March 24.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today 3 to 7 points lower under further scattering liquidation combined with some local selling which was promoted, by the weakness of Liverpool and declines in the market for Egyptian cotton.

Business was moderately active and offerings were absorbed on the decline by further trade buying which seemed to come partly through brokers with Japanese connections, and some covering or re-buying by sellers of yesterday. May contracts eased off to 10.77 and October to 11.32 with the market showing net declines of about 5 to 8 points at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables said there had been hedging together with continental and Bombay selling there and reported a small business in cotton cloths with India and China. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 34 to 66 points lower and the spot quotation for Indian cotton in Liverpool was 14 pnts.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 24.—(AP)—Rallies in grain prices failed to hold well today, and in the late dealings wheat and corn broke low-price records. Nevertheless, wheat trade volume broadened and some operators expressed belief that within a week they would be doing business again in the regular wheat pit vacated some time ago when corn became more active than wheat. Spreading operations between Chicago and Winnipeg to restore Chicago prices to a world parity following the new definition of policy by the Federal Farm Board was again an outstanding feature, resulting in lower price averages to day.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 24.—(AP)—The possibility that dividend disbursements to be announced tomorrow may be more favorable than expected prompted a quiet retreat of the bears in today's stock market.

As in the previous session, the list was chipped away by further selling in the morning, but rallied and some of the specialties turned upward after mid-day. Bulls harried the shorts as they sought to withdraw, and produced a few substantial advances.

Trading remained sluggish, but Union Pacific pushed up 4 points and issues moving up about 2 or more included New York Central, Atchafalaya, Norfolk & Western, Westinghouse, American Telephone and Case. Auburn moved up about 8 to another peak for the year. Early losses of 3 and 4 in Allied Chemical and Columbian Carbon were largely regained. Losses of a point or two were numerous during the morning, embracing such issues as U. S. Steel, Sears Roebuck, Eastman, Public Service of N. J., North American, Bethlehem, Anaconda, DuPont and Union Carbide.

One of the least favorable developments of the day was the soggy tone of the bond market, which may cause some further delay in planned financing. The prospect that Uncle Sam may soon be back in Wall street looking for a large loan has been an adverse factor, despite the extreme plenty of funds.

The right way to use the new HUMIDOR PACK

1 Do not tear Cellophane. Look for the convenient flap at the top and back of package

2 Simply lift this flap and you will break the specially devised air-tight seal

3 Hold package as shown and with your thumbs push it part way out of Humidor Pack

4 To avoid tearing tin foil, slip first finger of each hand under Revenue stamp and break it

5 Help yourself to a fresh cigarette, then slide package back into its Humidor Pack

6 Close package. It guards Camels from dust and germs and provides sanitary protection

THE moment you open the new Camel Humidor Pack you begin to note the advantages of this new, scientific and sanitary method of wrapping Camel cigarettes.

At once you are greeted with the delightful aroma that comes from choicest Turkish and mellowest Domestic tobaccos in prime condition.

Your sense of touch also detects the freshness of Camels, for unlike moisture-robbed cigarettes Camels are pliable to the fingers.

But the real difference comes when you light a Camel and inhale its cool, fragrant smoke.

Cigarettes brought to you so perfectly conditioned deserve to be kept that way in your pocket.

The simplest way to insure this is to open the Camel Humidor Pack as shown above.

That will keep intact the mildness and freshness that is making the whole country say: "Now I'd walk two miles for a Camel because they're twice as good."

If you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack, switch over for just one day.

Then go back tomorrow if you can.

Smoke a FRESH Cigarette!

THE GOOD HOSTESS PROVIDES CAMELS
Artificial heat in houses and apartments soon dries the moisture out of cigarettes wrapped the old-fashioned way. It is the mark of a considerate hostess, by means of the Humidor Pack, to "Serve a fresh cigarette." Buy Camels by the carton—this cigarette will remain fresh in your home and office.
